(ii) if, in the event that the value of M in subsection 20(1.1) is greater than zero,

(A) the holder certifies that the holder expects to make expenditures on medical or disability-related treatment or adaptive technology for the calendar year in excess of 20% of the holder's total expected income for that calendar year determined in accordance with the Income Tax Act, excluding withdrawals in the calendar year under this paragraph — from any restricted locked-in savings plan — or under paragraph 20(1)(d), 20.1(1)(m) or 20.3(1)(m), and

(B) a physician certifies that such medical or disability-related treatment or adaptive technology is required, and

(iii) if the holder gives a copy of Form 1 and Form 2 of Schedule V to the financial institution with whom the contract or arrangement for the restricted locked-in savings plan was entered into; and

(f) the holder of the restricted locked-in savings plan who has ceased to be a resident of Canada for at least two years may withdraw any amount from that plan.

(2) If a pension benefit credit transferred into a restricted locked-in savings plan was not varied according to the sex of the plan member, an immediate life annuity or a deferred life annuity purchased with funds accumulated in the plan shall not differentiate as to sex.

(3) A restricted locked-in savings plan shall contain a statement as to whether or not the pension benefit credit transferred under section 26 of the Act was varied according to the sex of the plan member.

(4) A restricted locked-in savings plan shall provide that, if a physician certifies that owing to mental or physical disability the life expectancy of the holder of the plan is likely to be shortened considerably, the funds may be paid to the holder in a lump sum.

(i) il certifie qu'il n'a fait ni retrait en vertu du présent alinéa d'un régime d'épargne-retraite immobilisée restreint, ni retrait en vertu des alinéas 20(1)d), 20.1(1)m) ou 20.3(1)m), pendant l'année civile, sauf au cours des trente jours précédant la date de la certification,

(ii) dans le cas où la valeur de l'élément M de la formule figurant au paragraphe 20(1.1) est supérieure à zéro :

(A) il certifie que, pendant l'année civile, il prévoit engager, pour un traitement médical, un traitement médical relié à une invalidité ou une technologie d'adaptation, des dépenses supérieures à 20 % du revenu total qu'il prévoit toucher pour l'année civile, calculé conformément à la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu sans tenir compte des sommes retirées au cours de cette année en vertu du présent alinéa de tout régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint ou retirées en vertu des alinéas 20(1)d), 20.1(1)m) ou 20.3(1)m),

(B) un médecin certifie que le traitement ou la technologie d'adaptation est nécessaire,

(iii) il remet à l'institution financière qui est partie au contrat ou à l'arrangement établissant le régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint les formules 1 et 2 de l'annexe V;

f) le détenteur du régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint peut retirer des fonds de celui-ci s'il a cessé de résider au Canada depuis au moins deux ans.

(2) Si les droits à pension transférés à un régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint n'ont pas varié selon le sexe du participant, la prestation viagère immédiate ou différée qui est achetée au moyen de fonds du régime ne peut faire de distinctions fondées sur le sexe.

(3) Le contrat ou l'arrangement établissant le régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint précise si les droits à pension transférés conformément à l'article 26 de la Loi ont varié selon le sexe du participant.

(4) Le régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint prévoit que, si un médecin certifie que l'espérance de vie du détenteur est susceptible d'être considérablement abrégée en raison d'une incapacité mentale ou physique, les fonds peuvent être versés au détenteur en une somme globale.

20.3 (1) The contract or arrangement establishing a restricted life income fund shall

(a) set out the method of determining the value of the restricted life income fund, including the valuation method used to establish its value on the death of the holder of the fund or on the transfer of assets from the fund;

(b) provide that the holder of the restricted life income fund shall, at the beginning of each calendar year or at any other time agreed on by the financial institution with whom the contract or arrangement was entered into, decide the amount to be paid out of the fund in that year;

(c) provide that, in the event that the holder of the restricted life income fund does not decide the amount to be paid out of the fund in a calendar year, the minimum amount determined in accordance with the Income Tax Act shall be paid out in that year;

(d) provide that, for any calendar year before the calendar year in which the holder of the restricted life income fund reaches 90 years of age, the amount of income paid out of the fund shall not exceed the amount determined by the formula

where

C is the balance in the restricted life income fund

(i) at the beginning of the calendar year, or

(ii) if the amount determined under subparagraph (i) is zero, on the day on which the initial amount is transferred into the fund; and

F is the value, at the beginning of the calendar year, of a pension benefit whose annual payment is $1, payable on January 1 of each year between the beginning of that calendar year and December 31 of the year in which the holder reaches 90 years of age, established using an interest rate that,

(i) for the first 15 years after January 1 of the year in which the restricted life income fund is valued, is less than or equal to the monthly average yield on Government of Canada marketable bonds of maturity over 10 years, as

20.3 (1) Le contrat ou l'arrangement établissant un fonds de revenu viager restreint :

a) établit la méthode à utiliser pour établir la valeur du fonds, notamment celle à utiliser pour établir sa valeur au moment du décès du détenteur ou du transfert d'éléments d'actif du fonds;

b) prévoit que le détenteur du fonds doit décider soit au début de chaque année civile, soit à un autre moment convenu avec l'institution financière qui est partie au contrat ou à l'arrangement, de la somme qui sera prélevée sur le fonds au cours de l'année;

c) prévoit que, si le détenteur du fonds ne décide pas de la somme qui sera prélevée sur le fonds au cours d'une année civile, la somme minimale déterminée aux termes de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu sera prélevée sur le fonds au cours de cette année;

d) prévoit que le montant du revenu prélevé sur le fonds au cours de toute année civile précédant celle où le détenteur du fonds atteint l'âge de 90 ans ne peut dépasser la somme déterminée selon la formule suivante :

C / F

où :

C représente :

(i) soit le solde du fonds au début de l'année civile,

(ii) soit, si ce solde est de zéro, le solde à la date à laquelle la somme initiale a été transférée au fonds, published by the Bank of Canada, for the month of November before the beginning of the calendar year, and

(ii) for any subsequent year, is not more than 6%;

(e) provide that, for the calendar year in which the holder of the restricted life income fund reaches 90 years of age and for all subsequent calendar years, the amount of income paid out of the fund shall not exceed the value of the funds held in the fund immediately before the time of the payment;

(f) provide that, for the calendar year in which the contract or arrangement was entered into, the amount determined under paragraph (d) or (e), as the case may be, shall be multiplied by the number of months remaining in that year and then divided by 12, with any part of an incomplete month counting as one month;

(g) provide that if, at the time the restricted life income fund was established, part of the fund was composed of funds that had been held in another restricted life income fund of the holder earlier in the calendar year in which the fund was established, the amount determined under paragraph (d) or (e), as the case may be, is deemed to be zero in respect of that part of the fund for that calendar year;

(h) provide that the funds in the restricted life income fund may only be

(i) transferred to another restricted life income fund,

(ii) transferred to a restricted locked-in savings plan, or

(iii) used to purchase an immediate life annuity or a deferred life annuity;

(i) provide that, on the death of the holder of the restricted life income fund, the funds in that fund shall be paid to the survivor of the holder by

(i) transferring the funds to another restricted life income fund or to a life income fund,

(ii) transferring the funds to a locked-in registered retirement savings plan or to a restricted locked-in savings plan, or

(iii) using the funds to purchase an immediate life annuity or a deferred life annuity;

ans, pour le mois de novembre précédant le début de l'année civile,

(ii) pour les années subséquentes, est d'au plus 6 % ;

e) prévoit que le montant du revenu prélevé sur le fonds au cours de l'année civile où le détenteur du fonds atteint l'âge de 90 ans et des années civiles subséquentes ne peut dépasser la valeur des sommes détenues dans le fonds immédiatement avant le moment du versement;

f) prévoit que, pour l'année civile initiale du contrat ou de l'arrangement, le montant déterminé selon les alinéas d) ou e) est multiplié par le quotient de la division du nombre de mois non encore écoulés dans l'année par douze, toute partie d'un mois incomplet comptant pour un mois;

g) prévoit que si, au moment où le fonds a été constitué, il a été composé en partie de sommes qui, plus tôt dans l'année civile en cause, étaient détenues dans un autre fonds de revenu viager restreint du détenteur du fonds, le montant déterminé selon les alinéas d) ou e) est réputé, pour cette année, égal à zéro à l'égard de la partie provenant de cet autre fonds;

h) prévoit que les sommes du fonds ne peuvent être :

(i) que transférées à un autre fonds de revenu viager restreint,

(ii) que transférées à un régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint,

(iii) qu'utilisées pour l'achat d'une prestation viagère immédiate ou d'une prestation viagère différée;

i) prévoit qu'au décès du détenteur du fonds, les sommes qui se trouvent dans celui-ci sont versées au survivant :

(i) soit par leur transfert à un autre fonds de revenu viager restreint ou à un fonds de revenu viager,

(ii) soit par leur transfert à un régime enregistré d'épargne-retraite immobilisée ou à un régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint,

(iii) soit par leur utilisation pour l'achat d'une prestation viagère immédiate ou différée;

j) prévoit que, sauf dans les cas prévus au paragraphe 25(4) de la Loi, les sommes du fonds ne peuvent être cédées, grevées ou faire l'objet d'une promesse de paiement ou d'une garantie, et toute transaction visant the funds of a locked-in registered retirement savings plan, a restricted locked-in savings plan, a life income fund or a restricted life income fund shall provide that

(a) except as provided in subsection 25(4) of the Act, no benefit provided under the annuity shall be assigned, charged, anticipated or given as security and any transaction purporting to assign, charge, anticipate or give the benefit as security is void;

(b) except in the case of the unexpired period of a guaranteed annuity where the annuitant is deceased, no benefit provided under the annuity shall be surrendered or commuted during the lifetime of the annuitant or the spouse or common-law partner of the annuitant and any transaction purporting to surrender or commute such a benefit is void; and

(c) where the annuitant has a spouse or common-law partner at the time that annuity benefits commence to be paid, the annuity benefit shall be paid in the form of a joint and survivor pension benefit, subject to the provisions of section 22 of the Act.

(2) A deferred life annuity referred to in subsection (1) that is purchased with a pension benefit credit or with the funds of a locked-in registered retirement savings plan, a restricted locked-in savings plan, a life income fund or a restricted life income fund shall provide that

(a) if the annuitant dies prior to the time that the annuity payments commence, the survivor is entitled, on the death of the annuitant, to an amount equal to the commuted value of the deferred life annuity; and

(b) any amount to which the survivor is entitled shall be

(i) transferred to a locked-in registered retirement savings plan,

(ii) transferred to a plan, including any pension plan referred to in subsection 26(5) of the Act, if the plan permits such a transfer and administers the benefit attributed to the transferred funds as if the benefit were that of a plan member with two years of membership in the plan,

(iii) used to purchase an immediate life annuity or a deferred life annuity, or enregistré d'épargne-retraite immobilisée, d'un régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint, d'un fonds de revenu viager ou d'un fonds de revenu viager restreint prévoit que :

a) sauf dans les cas prévus au paragraphe 25(4) de la Loi, aucune prestation prévue par la prestation viagère ne peut être cédée, grevée ou faire l'objet d'une promesse de paiement ou d'une garantie, et toute transaction visant à céder la prestation, à la grever ou à en faire l'objet d'une promesse de paiement ou d'une garantie est nulle;

b) sauf dans le cas de la période qui reste à courir d'une prestation viagère garantie lorsque le rentier meurt, aucune prestation prévue dans le cadre de la prestation viagère ne peut être rachetée pendant la vie du rentier ou de son époux ou conjoint de fait et toute transaction visant le rachat d'une telle prestation est nulle;

c) si le prestataire a un époux ou conjoint de fait à la date du début du service de la prestation, la prestation viagère doit être versée sous forme de prestation de pension réversible et est à ce titre assujettie à l'article 22 de la Loi.

(2) La prestation viagère différée visée au paragraphe (1) qui est achetée au moyen de droits à pension ou des fonds d'un régime enregistré d'épargne-retraite immobilisée, d'un régime d'épargne immobilisée restreint, d'un fonds de revenu viager ou d'un fonds de revenu viager restreint prévoit que :

a) si le rentier décède avant le début du service de la prestation, son survivant a droit, dès la date du décès, à un montant égal à la valeur escomptée de la prestation viagère différée;

b) tout montant auquel le survivant a droit est transféré ou utilisé de l'une des façons suivantes :

(i) transféré à un régime enregistré d'épargne-retraite immobilisée,

(ii) transféré à un régime, notamment un régime de pension visé au paragraphe 26(5) de la Loi, pourvu que celui-ci permette un tel transfert et considère les prestations imputables aux fonds transférés comme celles d'un participant comptant deux années de participation au régime,

(iii) utilisé pour l'achat d'une prestation viagère immédiate ou d'une prestation viagère différée,

(iv) transféré à un fonds de revenu viager ou à un fonds de revenu viager restreint.

Prestation variable

21.1 (1) Le participant ou l'ancien participant qui a choisi de recevoir une prestation variable peut décider de la somme à recevoir à titre de prestation variable pour toute année civile.

(2) La prestation variable n'est pas inférieure au minimum déterminé selon le paragraphe 8506(5) du Règlement de l'impôt sur le revenu et, pour toute année civile antérieure à l'année où l'ancien participant ou son survivant, selon le cas, atteint l'âge de quatre-vingt-dix ans, n'est pas supérieure à la somme calculée selon la formule suivante :

où :

C représente le solde du compte de l'ancien participant :

- a) soit au début de l'année civile;
- b) soit, s'il est alors de zéro, à la date à laquelle le choix est fait;

F la valeur, au début de l'année civile, d'une prestation de pension annuelle de 1 $, payable le 1^{er} janvier de chaque année comprise entre le début de cette année civile et le 31 décembre de l'année où le participant, l'ancien participant ou son survivant, selon le cas, atteint l'âge de quatre-vingt-dix ans, établie par l'application d'un taux d'intérêt qui :

- a) pour les quinze premières années, est inférieur ou égal au rendement mensuel moyen, publié par la Banque du Canada, des obligations négociables du gouvernement du Canada d'un terme de plus de dix ans, pour le mois de novembre précédant le début de l'année civile;
- b) pour les années subséquentes, est inférieur ou égal à 6 %.

(3) Le montant de prestation variable versé au cours de l'année civile où l'ancien participant ou son survivant, selon le cas, atteint l'âge de quatre-vingt-dix ans et pour les variable benefit shall not exceed the value of the funds held in the fund immediately before the time of the payment.

(4) The minimum amount determined under subsection 8506(5) of the Income Tax Regulations shall be paid as a variable benefit for a calendar year if

(a) the member or former member or their survivor, as the case may be, has not notified the administrator of the amount to be paid as a variable benefit for a calendar year by the beginning of that year, or

(b) the amount determined by the formula set out in subsection (2) for that year is less than that minimum amount.

(5) If, for the calendar year in which the variable benefit is established, part of the account was composed of funds that had been held in a life income fund of the holder earlier in the calendar year in which the variable benefit was established, the amount determined by the formula set out in subsection (2) and the value of the funds referred to in subsection (3) is deemed to be zero in respect of that part of the account for that calendar year.

(6) For the first calendar year that the variable benefit is paid, the amount to be paid shall be multiplied by the number of months remaining in that year and then divided by 12, with any part of an incomplete month counting as one month.

Information to Be Provided

22 The written explanation, information and written statement to be provided pursuant to paragraphs 28(1)(a) and (b) of the Act shall be addressed to the plan member or the employee and that person's spouse or common-law partner as shown on the records of the administrator and shall be

(a) given to the plan member or the employee at the place of employment; or

(b) mailed to the residence of the plan member or employee.

SOR/95-171, s. 6(F); SOR/2001-194, s. 5.

22.1 For the purpose of subparagraph 28(1)(a)(ii) of the Act, the written explanation shall include, in the case of a negotiated contribution plan, a description of the funding arrangement, including an indication that années subséquentes ne peut dépasser la valeur des sommes détenues dans le fonds immédiatement avant le versement.

(4) Le montant de la prestation variable à payer pour une année civile correspond au minimum déterminé selon le paragraphe 8506(5) du Règlement de l'impôt sur le revenu dans les cas suivants :

a) le participant, l'ancien participant ou son survivant, selon le cas, n'avise pas l'administrateur du montant de la prestation variable à payer pour l'année civile avant le début de celle-ci;

b) la somme calculée selon la formule prévue au paragraphe (2) pour cette année est inférieure à ce minimum.

(5) Si, au cours de l'année civile pendant laquelle le participant ou l'ancien participant choisit de recevoir la prestation variable, le compte a été composé en partie de sommes qui, plus tôt dans l'année, étaient détenues dans un autre fonds de revenu viager de son détenteur, la somme calculée selon la formule prévue au paragraphe (2) et la valeur des sommes visées au paragraphe (3) sont réputées égales à zéro à l'égard de cette partie pour cette année.

(6) Pour la première année civile à l'égard de laquelle la prestation variable est versée, le montant est multiplié par le quotient du nombre de mois non encore écoulés dans l'année par douze, tout mois incomplet comptant pour un mois.

Report on Termination of Plan

24 A report filed pursuant to subsection 29(9) of the Act on the termination of a plan or part of a plan shall be prepared

(a) by an actuary, accountant or other professional advisor, in the case of

(i) a defined contribution plan where the contributions under the plan are allocated to individual plan members, or

(ii) a defined benefit plan that is an insured plan; and

(b) by an actuary, in the case of any other plan.

24.1 (1) For the purposes of this section, solvency deficit means the amount by which the solvency liabilities as at the date of termination of a plan or the valuation date, as the case may be, exceeds the sum of the solvency assets at that date and the amounts required to be paid under subsection 29(6) of the Act.

(2) For the purposes of subsection 29(6.1) of the Act,

(a) an employer shall pay an amount equal to the solvency deficit as at the date of termination of the plan either in a lump sum or by equal annual payments sufficient to liquidate the solvency deficit over a period of five years from the date of termination;

(b) the interest rate used to determine the annual payments is the same as the interest rate used to determine the solvency liabilities of the plan at the date of termination; and

(c) the annual payments shall be paid by equal monthly instalments no later than 30 days after the end of each month.

Renseignements à fournir — cessation

(2) Le relevé exigé à l'alinéa 28(2.1)b) de la Loi est remis au moyen de la formule 2.2 de l'annexe IV.

DORS/2015-60, art. 16.

Rapport lors de la cessation

24 Le rapport relatif à la cessation totale ou partielle d'un régime qui doit être déposé conformément au paragraphe 29(9) de la Loi est établi :

a) par un actuaire, un comptable ou autre expert-conseil, dans le cas :

(i) d'un régime à cotisations déterminées aux termes duquel les cotisations sont attribuées individuellement aux participants;

(ii) d'un régime à prestations déterminées qui est un régime assuré;

b) par un actuaire, dans le cas de tout autre régime.

24.1 (1) Pour l'application du présent article, déficit de solvabilité s'entend de l'excédent du passif de solvabilité, établi à la date de cessation du régime ou à la date d'évaluation, selon le cas, sur le total de l'actif de solvabilité établi à la même date et des sommes à verser au titre du paragraphe 29(6) de la Loi.

(2) Pour l'application du paragraphe 29(6.1) de la Loi :

a) la somme que l'employeur est tenu de verser est égale au déficit de solvabilité établi à la date de cessation du régime et consiste en un paiement forfaitaire ou en paiements annuels égaux suffisants pour éliminer le déficit sur une période de cinq ans à partir de la date de cessation;

b) le taux d'intérêt servant au calcul des paiements annuels est le même que celui ayant servi au calcul du passif de solvabilité du régime à la date de cessation;

c) les paiements annuels sont faits en versements mensuels égaux au plus tard le trentième jour suivant la fin de chaque mois.

(3) The annual payment determined under paragraph (2)(a) that is to be paid in the plan year in which the plan is terminated may be reduced by the amounts required to be paid under subsection 29(6) of the Act.

(4) An actuarial report, filed after termination of the plan but before it is wound up, shall set out the remaining solvency assets, solvency liabilities, solvency deficit and remaining payments required to liquidate the solvency deficit as at the valuation date. The solvency assets and solvency deficit shall not include the face value of any letters of credit.

(5) If the present value of remaining payments determined in accordance with paragraph (2)(a) exceeds the remaining solvency deficit established as at the valuation date in accordance with the actuarial report referred to in subsection (4), the payments remaining to be made in respect of the solvency deficit are reduced pro rata.

(6) If the remaining solvency deficit established as at the valuation date in accordance with the actuarial report referred to in subsection (4) exceeds the present value of remaining payments determined in accordance with paragraph (2)(a), the remaining payments are increased pro rata such that the remaining payments will liquidate the remaining solvency deficit over the remainder of the five-year period beginning on the date of termination.

(7) Any solvency deficit that arises five or more years after the date of termination of the plan shall be immediately paid down.

(8) For the purposes of subsection 29(6.3) of the Act, the portion of the remaining amount that is attributable to the payments made under subsection 29(6.1) of the Act is equal to the lesser of

(a) the amount remaining in the pension fund at the date of winding-up, and

(b) the accumulated value at the date of winding-up, with interest at the rates earned by the pension fund, of the payments made under subsection 29(6.1) of the Act.

SOR/2011-85, s. 9.

Electronic Communications

25 (1) For the purposes of paragraph 31.1(1)(a) of the Act, the addressee may consent in writing, in paper or electronic form, or orally.

(2) Before an addressee consents, the administrator shall notify the addressee

(3) Le paiement annuel établi en vertu de l'alinéa (2)a), qui doit être effectué au cours de l'exercice visé par la cessation du régime, peut être réduit des montants à verser aux termes du paragraphe 29(6) de la Loi.

(4) Tout rapport actuariel déposé après la date de cessation du régime mais avant sa liquidation fait état, à la date d'évaluation, du solde de l'actif de solvabilité, du passif de solvabilité et du déficit de solvabilité ainsi que du solde des paiements à verser pour éliminer le déficit de solvabilité. L'actif de solvabilité et le déficit de solvabilité ne tiennent pas compte de la valeur nominale des lettres de crédits.

(5) Si la valeur actualisée du solde des paiements restants établie conformément à l'alinéa (2)a) dépasse le solde du déficit de solvabilité établi à la date d'évaluation selon le rapport actuariel visé au paragraphe (4), le solde des paiements à verser au chapitre du déficit de solvabilité est réduit en proportion.

(6) Si le solde du déficit de solvabilité établi à la date d'évaluation selon le rapport actuariel visé au paragraphe (4) dépasse la valeur actualisée du solde des paiements à verser, établie conformément à l'alinéa (2)a), le solde des paiements à verser est augmenté, en proportion, de manière à liquider le solde du déficit de solvabilité sur le reste de la période de cinq ans qui commence à la date de cessation.

(7) Si un déficit de solvabilité survient au cours de la cinquième année suivant la cessation du régime ou ultérieurement, il doit être remboursé sans délai en totalité.

(8) Pour l'application du paragraphe 29(6.3) de la Loi, la partie du solde qui est attribuable aux paiements versés en application du paragraphe 29(6.1) de la Loi est égale au moindre des montants suivants :

a) le solde du fonds de pension à la date de liquidation du régime;

b) la valeur cumulative à la date de liquidation, majorée de l'intérêt couru par le fonds de pension, des paiements versés en application du paragraphe 29(6.1) de la Loi.

(a) of the addressee's right to revoke their consent at any time;

(b) of the addressee's responsibility to inform the administrator of any changes the addressee makes to the designated information system, including any changes made to the contact information for the designated information system; and

(c) of the date when the consent takes effect.

(3) The addressee shall revoke their consent in writing, in paper or electronic form, or orally.

SOR/2015-60, s. 17.

25.1 If an electronic document is provided on a generally accessible information system, such as a website, the administrator shall provide to the addressee written notice, in paper or electronic form, of the electronic document's availability and location.

SOR/2015-60, s. 17.

25.2 An electronic document is considered to have been provided to an addressee when it is entered into or made available on the information system designated by the addressee.

SOR/2015-60, s. 17.

25.3 (1) If an administrator has reason to believe that an addressee has not received an electronic document or the notice required under section 25.1, the administrator shall mail a paper copy of the document to the addressee.

(2) The mailing of a paper copy does not affect when the electronic document is considered to have been provided under section 25.2.

election to vary the pension benefit under subsection 16(6) of the Act.

27 For the purposes of the Act,

(a) a pension benefit granted after December 31, 1986 in respect of membership in a plan prior to January 1, 1987 shall be attributed to membership in the plan after December 31, 1986; and

(b) where a pension benefit is based on a rate of remuneration of a plan member as of the date the plan member retires, or is based on an average of the rates of remuneration of a plan member over a specified and limited period, up to and including the date the plan member retires, the portion of the pension benefit attributable to membership in a plan after December 31, 1986 is

(i) the pension benefit,

less

(ii) the pension benefit calculated as of December 31, 1986 using the rate of remuneration of the plan member as of the date the member ceases membership in the plan or retires, or the average of the rates of remuneration of the plan member over a specified and limited period, as of the date the member ceases membership in the plan or retires, as the case may be.

28 Where a plan provides for pension benefits for an employee who is not employed in included employment and the employee is employed in a designated province referred to in section 3, the plan is exempt from the application of the Act in respect of any benefits for the employee.

28.1 A pension plan that was established by a provincial statute in respect of a work, undertaking or business that is within the exclusive legislative authority of that province and in which an employee who is employed in included employment participates is exempt from the application of the Act.

SOR/93-109, s. 7.

28.2 A pension plan that was established in respect of a telephone company that was not registered under the Act or under the Pension Benefits Standards Act, chapter P-7 of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985 before August 14, 1989 is exempt from the application of the Act in respect of any benefits that are derived from membership in the pension plan before that date.

SOR/93-109, s. 7.

la Loi sur la sécurité de la vieillesse, du Régime de pensions du Canada ou d'un régime provincial de pensions au sens de l'article 3 du Régime de pensions du Canada.

27 Pour l'application de la Loi :

a) toute prestation de pension accordée après le 31 décembre 1986 à l'égard de la participation à un régime antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 1987 est imputable à la participation au régime postérieure au 31 décembre 1986;

b) lorsque la prestation de pension se fonde sur le taux de rémunération du participant à la date à laquelle il prend sa retraite ou sur la moyenne des taux de rémunération du participant pour une période déterminée s'étendant jusqu'à la date de la retraite, la partie de la prestation de pension imputable à la participation au régime postérieure au 31 décembre 1986 est la différence entre les montants suivants :

(i) la prestation de pension,

(ii) la prestation de pension calculée au 31 décembre 1986 à l'aide du taux de rémunération du participant, à la date à laquelle le participant met fin à sa participation au régime ou prend sa retraite, selon le cas, ou à l'aide de la moyenne des taux de rémunération du participant pour une période déterminée, à la même date.

28 Lorsqu'un régime prévoit des prestations de pension à l'intention d'un salarié qui n'occupe pas un emploi inclus et que le salarié travaille dans une province désignée qui est visée à l'article 3, le régime est exempté de l'application de la Loi en ce qui concerne les prestations de pension à l'intention du salarié.

28.1 Un régime de pension établi par une loi provinciale à l'égard de tout ouvrage, entreprise ou activité qui relève de la compétence législative exclusive de la province et auquel participe un salarié occupant un emploi inclus est exclu de l'application de la Loi.

28.2 Un régime de pension établi à l'égard d'une compagnie de téléphone qui, avant le 14 août 1989, n'était pas enregistré ou agréé en application de la Loi ou de la Loi sur les normes des prestations de pension, L.R.C. 1985, ch. P-7, est exclu de l'application de la Loi en ce qui concerne les prestations liées à la participation au régime de pension avant cette date.

28.3 Section 18 of the Act does not apply in respect of an amount of a pension benefit credit that exceeds the maximum transfer that may be made from a pension plan to another pension plan or to a registered retirement savings plan under the Income Tax Act.

SOR/93-109, s. 7.

28.4 (1) Where a plan provides pension benefits for a plan member or former member who has ceased to be a resident of Canada for at least two calendar years and has ceased employment with the employer who is a party to the plan or ceased membership in a multi-employer pension plan, the pension benefits or pension benefit credits applicable to that member or former member are exempt from the application of section 18 of the Act.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a plan member or former member shall be deemed to have been a resident of Canada throughout a calendar year if that member or former member has sojourned in Canada in the year for a period of, or periods the total of which is, 183 days or more.

SOR/94-384, s. 6.

28.5 A supplemental pension plan is exempt from the application of the Act if, under the terms of the pension plan to which it is supplemental, all the members of the supplemental pension plan are entitled to benefits at least equal to the maximum benefit or contribution limit under the Income Tax Act.

SOR/94-384, s. 6; SOR/2002-78, s. 16.

28.6 Bridging benefits are exempt from the application of sections 22 and 23 of the Act.

29 An employee who is receiving a pension benefit from a plan is exempt from the application of sections 14 and 15 of the Act in respect of that plan.

30 The Superintendent may request an administrator to provide to the Superintendent an up-to-date consolidation of a plan and any amendments thereto.

Forms

30.1 A written consent referred to in paragraph 16.1(3)(b) of the Act shall be in the form set out in Form 6 of Schedule IV.

SOR/2009-100, s. 2.

31 A written agreement referred to in subsection 22(5) of the Act shall be in the form set out in Form 4 of Schedule II.

28.3 Tout montant de droits à pension qui excède la valeur maximale de transfert d'un régime de pension à un autre régime de pension ou à un régime enregistré d'épargne-retraite selon la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu est exclu de l'application de l'article 18 de la Loi.

DORS/93-109, art. 7.

28.4 (1) Si un régime prévoit le versement de prestations de pension à un participant ou à un participant ancien qui a cessé de résider au Canada depuis au moins deux années civiles et qui a mis fin à son emploi auprès de l'employeur qui cotise au régime ou à sa participation à un régime interentreprises, les prestations de pension ou les droits à pension de ce participant ou de ce participant ancien sont exclus de l'application de l'article 18 de la Loi.

(2) Pour l'application du présent article, le participant ou le participant ancien qui a séjourné au Canada au cours de l'année civile pendant une période ou des périodes dont l'ensemble est de 183 jours ou plus est réputé avoir résidé au Canada tout au long de l'année.

DORS/94-384, art. 6.

28.5 Un régime de pension complémentaire est exclu de l'application de la Loi si le régime dont il est le complément prévoit que tous les participants au régime complémentaire ont droit à des prestations au moins égales aux prestations maximales ou au plafond des cotisations prévus par la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu.

DORS/94-384, art. 6; DORS/2002-78, art. 16.

Spouse's or Common-Law Partner's Consent for the Transfer of a Pension Benefit Credit

I, _____, hereby certify that I am the spouse or common-law partner as defined by the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985, of _____.

I understand that my spouse or common-law partner has elected to transfer their pension benefit credit and that my written consent is required to enable my spouse or common-law partner to do so.

I understand that

- (a) transferring the pension benefit credit will allow my spouse or common-law partner to manage their own pension fund and will allow flexibility in determining the amount that will be paid to my spouse or common-law partner in each calendar year;
- (b) the transferred funds may be used to purchase a life annuity at a later date, but there is no requirement that the funds be used to purchase a life annuity;
- (c) if the transferred funds are used to purchase a life annuity, the life annuity must be in the joint and survivor form unless I waive my entitlements by signing a separate waiver form within 90 days before the day on which the annuity payments begin.

I further understand that transferring the pension benefit credit to a retirement savings plan of the prescribed kind will allow my spouse or common-law partner to withdraw some of the funds each year, subject to any minimum and maximum withdrawal limits. I understand, however, that the amount of pension income or survivor benefit available to me in later years may be significantly reduced if

- (a) my spouse or common-law partner elects to withdraw the maximum amount permitted each year; or
- (b) the investment performance is poor.

Nevertheless, I consent to the transfer of the pension benefit credit to a retirement savings plan of the prescribed kind and certify that

- (a) I have read this form and understand it;
- (b) neither my spouse or common-law partner nor anyone else has put any pressure on me to sign this form;
- (c) I realize that
 - (i) this form only gives a general description of the legal rights I have under the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985 and the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, and
 - (ii) if I wish to understand exactly what my legal rights are I must read the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985 and the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985 or seek legal advice; and
- (d) I realize that I am entitled to keep a copy of this consent form.

To consent to the transfer, I sign this consent form at _____ on _____, 20__.

Consentement de l'époux ou du conjoint de fait au transfert de droits à pension

Moi, _____, je certifie être l'époux ou le conjoint de fait, au sens de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, de _____.

Je comprends que mon époux ou mon conjoint de fait a choisi de transférer son droit à pension et que mon consentement écrit est requis à cette fin.

Je comprends que :

- a) le transfert du droit à pension permettra à mon époux ou conjoint de fait de gérer ses propres fonds de pension et lui confère une certaine latitude quant à la détermination du montant qui lui sera versé au cours de chaque année civile;
- b) les fonds transférés pourront être affectés à l'achat d'une prestation viagère à une date ultérieure, mais que rien n'exige que les fonds transférés soient affectés à l'achat d'une prestation viagère;
- c) si les fonds transférés sont affectés à l'achat d'une prestation viagère, celle-ci doit être une prestation réversible, sauf si je renonce à mes droits en signant une formule de renonciation distincte au plus tard quatre-vingt-dix jours précédant le premier versement de la prestation.

Je comprends également que le fait de transférer le droit à pension à un régime d'épargne-retraite prévu par règlement permettra à mon époux ou conjoint de fait d'en retirer des fonds chaque année, sous réserve des limites de retrait minimal et de retrait maximal. Cependant, je comprends que le montant du revenu de pension ou de la prestation au survivant auquel j'aurai droit ultérieurement pourrait être considérablement réduit dans les cas suivants :

- a) mon époux ou conjoint de fait choisit de retirer le montant maximal permis chaque année;
- b) le rendement du placement est faible.

Néanmoins, je consens au transfert du droit à pension à un régime d'épargne-retraite prévu par règlement et je certifie que :

- a) j'ai lu la présente formule et je la comprends;
- b) ni mon époux ou mon conjoint de fait, ni personne d'autre n'a exercé de pression afin que je signe la présente formule;
- c) je suis conscient que :
 - (i) la présente formule ne constitue qu'une description générale de mes droits au titre de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension et du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension,
 - (ii) si je souhaite comprendre précisément tous mes droits, je dois lire la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension et le Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension ou demander l'avis d'un conseiller juridique;
- d) je sais que j'ai le droit de conserver une copie de la présente formule de consentement.

SCHEDULE III Permitted Investments

Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension
ANNEXE III Placements admissibles

2 For the purposes of this Schedule, the making, holding or acquiring of an investment indirectly by an administrator on behalf of a plan, the holding, acquiring or owning of property indirectly by an administrator on behalf of a plan or the lending of money indirectly by an administrator on behalf of a plan includes the holding, making, acquiring, owning or lending of an investment, a property or money, as the case may be, by

(a) a real estate corporation, resource corporation or investment corporation in which the moneys of the plan have been invested in accordance with section 12, 13 or 14;

(b) a real estate corporation, resource corporation or investment corporation of which a corporation referred to in paragraph (a) holds securities to which are attached more than 30 per cent of the votes that may be cast to elect the directors of the real estate corporation, resource corporation or investment corporation; or

(c) an investment fund, a segregated fund or a trust fund in which the moneys of the plan have been invested.

3 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule,

(a) a person or plan controls a corporation if securities of the corporation to which are attached more than 50 per cent of the votes that may be cast to elect the directors of the corporation are beneficially owned by the person or plan and the votes attached to those securities are sufficient, if exercised, to elect a majority of the directors of the corporation;

(b) a person or plan controls an unincorporated entity, other than a limited partnership, if more than 50 per cent of the ownership interests into which the unincorporated entity is divided are beneficially owned by the person or plan and the person or plan is able to direct the business and affairs of the unincorporated entity;

(c) the general partner of a limited partnership controls the limited partnership; and

(d) a trustee of a trust controls the trust.

(2) For the purposes of this Schedule, a person or plan who controls an entity controls any other entity that is controlled by the entity.

4 [Repealed, SOR/2015-60, s. 22]

5 For the purposes of this Schedule, one entity is affiliated with another entity if the entity is controlled by the other entity or if both entities are controlled by the same person.

6 For the purposes of this Schedule, a person or plan has a substantial investment in

(a) an unincorporated entity if the person, the plan or an entity controlled by the person or plan beneficially owns more than 25 per cent of the ownership interests in the unincorporated entity; and

(b) a corporation if

2 Pour l'application de la présente annexe, l'administrateur d'un régime, pour le compte du régime, fait, détient ou acquiert indirectement un placement, détient ou acquiert indirectement un bien ou en est indirectement le propriétaire, ou prête indirectement des sommes, notamment dans les cas où l'entité qui, effectivement, fait, détient ou acquiert le placement, détient ou acquiert le bien ou en est propriétaire, ou prête les sommes, est :

a) une société immobilière, une société minière ou une société de placement dans laquelle l'administrateur a investi conformément aux articles 12, 13 ou 14;

b) une société immobilière, une société minière ou une société de placement dans laquelle une société visée à l'alinéa a) détient des titres lui conférant plus de 30 pour cent des droits de vote requis pour élire les administrateurs de la société;

c) un fonds de placement, une caisse séparée ou un fonds en fiducie dans lesquels les fonds du régime ont été investis.

3 (1) Pour l'application de la présente annexe :

a) a le contrôle d'une personne morale la personne ou le régime qui détient la propriété effective de titres de la personne morale lui conférant plus de 50 pour cent des droits de vote dont l'exercice lui permet d'élire la majorité des administrateurs de la personne morale;

b) a le contrôle d'une entité non constituée en personne morale, à l'exception d'une société en commandite, la personne ou le régime qui en détient, à titre de véritable propriétaire, plus de 50 pour cent des titres de participation et qui a la capacité d'en diriger tant les activités commerciales que les affaires internes;

c) a le contrôle d'une société en commandite le commandité;

d) a le contrôle d'une fiducie le fiduciaire.

(2) Pour l'application de la présente annexe, la personne ou le régime qui contrôle une entité est réputé contrôler toute autre entité contrôlée par celle-ci.

4 [Abrogée, DORS/2015-60, art. 22]

5 Pour l'application de la présente annexe, sont du même groupe les entités dont l'une est contrôlée par l'autre ou les entités qui sont contrôlées par la même personne.

6 Pour l'application de la présente annexe, une personne ou un régime a un intérêt de groupe financier :

a) dans une entité non constituée en personne morale, si l'un ou l'autre ou une entité qu'il contrôle détient la propriété effective de plus de 25 pour cent de l'ensemble des titres de participation de l'entité non constituée en personne morale;

(i) the voting rights attached to voting shares of the corporation that are beneficially owned by the person or plan, or by an entity controlled by the person or plan, exceed 10 per cent of the voting rights attached to all of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation, or

(ii) shares of the corporation that are beneficially owned by the person or plan, or by an entity controlled by the person or plan, represent ownership of more than 25 per cent of the shareholders' equity of the corporation.

7 For the purposes of this Schedule, a person or plan is associated with

(a) a corporation that the person or plan controls and every affiliate of every such corporation;

(b) a person who controls the person or plan;

(c) a partner who has a substantial investment in a partnership in which the person or plan has a substantial investment;

(d) a trust or estate in which the person or plan has a substantial investment or for which the person or plan serves as trustee or in a similar capacity to a trustee;

(e) the spouse or common-law partner of the person; and

(f) a brother, sister or child or other descendant of the person, or the spouse or common-law partner thereof.

Application

8 This Schedule does not apply in respect of

(a) an insured plan or a plan in respect of which all benefits are provided through an annuity contract issued by the Government of Canada; or

(b) investments held in an unallocated general fund of a person authorized to carry on a life insurance business in Canada.

Quantitative Limits

9 (1) The administrator of a plan shall not, directly or indirectly, lend or invest moneys of the plan to or in any one person, any associated persons or any affiliated corporations if

(a) 10% or more of the total market value of the plan's assets has already been lent or invested, in total, to or in the person, the associated persons or the affiliated corporations; or

(b) 10% or more of the total market value of the plan's assets would be lent or invested, in total, to or in the person, the associated persons or the affiliated corporations as a result of the loan or investment.

b) dans une personne morale, si l'un ou l'autre ou une entité qu'il contrôle détient la propriété effective :

(i) soit d'un nombre total d'actions avec droit de vote de la personne morale comportant plus de 10 pour cent des droits de vote attachés à l'ensemble des actions avec droit de vote en circulation de celle-ci,

(ii) soit d'un nombre total d'actions de la personne morale représentant plus de 25 pour cent de l'avoir des actionnaires de celle-ci.

7 Pour l'application de la présente annexe, une personne ou un régime est réputé associé, selon le cas :

a) à toute personne morale qu'il contrôle et à toutes les entités membres du groupe de cette personne morale;

b) à toute personne qui le contrôle;

c) à tout associé qui a un intérêt de groupe financier dans une société de personnes dans laquelle la personne ou le régime a un intérêt de groupe financier;

d) à toute fiducie ou succession dans laquelle il a un intérêt de groupe financier ou pour laquelle il agit comme fiduciaire ou assume des fonctions analogues;

e) à son époux ou conjoint de fait;

f) à ses frères, sœurs, enfants ou autres descendants ou à leur époux ou conjoint de fait.

Application

8 La présente annexe ne s'applique pas :

a) aux régimes assurés et aux régimes dont toutes les prestations sont versées au moyen d'un contrat de rente émis par le gouvernement du Canada;

b) aux placements détenus dans un fonds général non réparti d'une personne autorisée à effectuer des opérations d'assurance-vie au Canada.

Plafonds

9 (1) L'administrateur d'un régime ne peut faire un placement, directement ou indirectement, auprès d'une seule personne, de personnes associés ou de personnes morales faisant partie du même groupe — ou leur faire un prêt — si, selon le cas :

a) 10 % ou plus du total de la valeur marchande des actifs du régime fait déjà l'objet d'un placement ou d'un prêt à l'égard de ces personnes;

b) en raison du placement ou du prêt, 10% ou plus du total de la valeur marchande des actifs du régime ferait l'objet d'un placement ou d'un prêt à l'égard de ces personnes.

(1.1) The administrator of a plan shall not, directly or indirectly, lend or invest funds that are in a member choice account to or in any one person, any associated persons or any affiliated corporations if

(a) 10% or more of the total market value of the account's assets has already been lent or invested, in total, to or in the person, the associated persons or the affiliated corporations; or

(b) 10% or more of the total market value of the account's assets would be lent or invested, in total, to or in the person, the associated persons or the affiliated corporations as a result of the loan or investment.

(2) Subsections (1) and (1.1) do not apply in respect of moneys of a plan held by a bank, trust company or other financial institution to the extent that the moneys are fully insured by the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation, by Assuris or by any similar provincial body established for the purpose of providing insurance against loss of deposits with trust companies or other financial institutions.

(3) Subsections (1) and (1.1) do not apply in respect of investments in

(a) an investment fund or a segregated fund that complies with

(i) in the case of investments applicable to a member choice account, section 11 of this Schedule, and

(ii) in the case of any other investments, the requirements applicable to a plan that are set out in this Schedule;

(b) an unallocated general fund of a person authorized to carry on a life insurance business in Canada;

(c) an investment corporation, real estate corporation or resource corporation;

(d) securities issued or fully guaranteed by the Government of Canada, the government of a province, or an agency thereof;

(e) a fund composed of mortgage-backed securities that are fully guaranteed by the Government of Canada, the government of a province, or an agency thereof; or

(f) a fund that replicates the composition of a widely recognized index of a broad class of securities traded at a marketplace.

(4) Subsections (1) and (1.1) do not apply in respect of investments that involve the purchase of a contract or agreement in respect of which the return is based on the performance of a widely recognized index of a broad class of securities traded at a marketplace.

(1.1) L'administrateur d'un régime ne peut placer, directement ou indirectement, des fonds d'un compte accompagné de choix auprès d'une seule personne, de personnes associés ou de personnes morales faisant partie du même groupe — ou leur prêter — si, selon le cas :

a) 10 % ou plus du total de la valeur marchande des actifs de ce compte fait déjà l'objet d'un placement ou d'un prêt à l'égard de ces personnes;

b) en raison du placement ou du prêt, 10% ou plus du total de la valeur marchande des actifs de ce compte accompagné de choix ferait l'objet d'un placement ou d'un prêt à l'égard de ces personnes.

(2) Les paragraphes (1) et (1.1) ne s'appliquent pas aux fonds d'un régime détenus par une banque, une société de fiducie ou une autre institution financière si ces fonds sont entièrement assurés par la Société d'assurance-dépôts du Canada, par Assuris ou par un organisme provincial analogue constitué pour fournir une assurance contre les risques de perte des dépôts auprès de sociétés de fiducie ou d'autres institutions financières.

(3) Les paragraphes (1) et (1.1) ne s'appliquent pas aux placements effectués :

a) dans un fonds de placement ou une caisse séparée qui satisfait :

(i) dans le cas de placements dans un compte accompagné de choix, à l'article 11 de la présente annexe,

(ii) dans le cas de tout autre placement, aux exigences applicables à un régime prévues à la présente annexe;

b) dans un fonds général non réparti d'une personne autorisée à effectuer des opérations d'assurance-vie au Canada;

c) dans une société de placement, une société immobilière ou une société minière;

d) dans des titres émis ou entièrement garantis par le gouvernement du Canada ou d'une province ou par un de ses organismes;

e) dans un fonds composé de titres hypothécaires entièrement garantis par le gouvernement du Canada ou d'une province ou par un de ses organismes;

f) dans un fonds dont la composition reproduit à celle d'un indice généralement reconnu comptant une vaste gamme de titres négociés sur un marché.

(4) Les paragraphes (1) et (1.1) ne s'appliquent pas aux placements effectués dans l'achat d'un contrat ou d'un accord à l'égard desquels le rendement est fondé sur un indice généralement reconnu comptant une vaste gamme de titres négociés sur un marché.

- (b) permit the Superintendent or an authorized member of the Superintendent's staff to visit its head office and to examine its books and records;
- (c) hold at least 98 per cent of its assets in cash, investments and loans;
- (d) not issue debt obligations;
- (e) obtain at least 98 per cent of its income from investments and loans;
- (f) not lend any of its assets to, or invest any of its moneys in, a related party of the plan; and
- (g) not invest, or hold an investment, in securities of any other investment corporation if there are attached to those securities more than 30 per cent of the votes that may be cast to elect the directors of that corporation, unless the corporation first obtains and deposits with the Superintendent an undertaking by the other investment corporation not to invest, or hold an investment, in the securities of any other investment corporation.

15 For the purposes of sections 16 and 17,

(a) where a transaction is entered into by, or on behalf of, a plan with a person who the administrator of the plan, or any person acting on the administrator's behalf, knows will become a related party to the plan, the person shall be considered to be a related party of the plan in respect of the transaction; and

(b) the fulfilment of an obligation under the terms of any transaction, including the payment of interest on a loan or deposit, is part of the transaction and not a separate transaction.

16 (1) Subject to sections 17 and 18, the administrator of a plan shall not, directly or indirectly,

(a) lend the moneys of the plan to a related party or use those moneys to hold an investment in the securities of a related party; or

(b) enter into a transaction with a related party on behalf of the plan.

(2) Subject to sections 17 and 18, during the period of twelve months after the day on which a person ceases to be a related party of a plan, the administrator of the plan shall not, directly or indirectly,

(a) lend the moneys of the plan to that person or invest those moneys in the securities of that person; or

(b) enter into a transaction with that person on behalf of the plan.

17 (1) The administrator of a plan may enter into a transaction with a related party for the operation or administration of the plan if

b) à permettre au surintendant ou à un membre autorisé du personnel de celui-ci de se rendre au siège social et d'examiner ses livres et registres;

c) à détenir au moins 98 pour cent de son actif en espèces, en placements et en prêts;

d) à ne pas émettre de titres de créance;

e) à tirer au moins 98 pour cent de son revenu de placements et de prêts;

f) à ne prêter aucun de ses éléments d'actif à une personne apparentée au régime et à ne pas investir ses fonds dans une telle personne;

g) à ne pas faire ni détenir de placement dans les titres d'une autre société de placement comportant plus de 30 pour cent des droits de vote requis pour élire les administrateurs de celle-ci, à moins d'avoir préalablement obtenu et remis au surintendant un engagement de cette autre société de placement par lequel celle-ci s'engage à ne pas faire ni détenir de placement dans les titres d'une autre société de placement.

15 Pour l'application des articles 16 et 17 :

a) lorsque le régime, ou quiconque agit pour celui-ci, prend part à une transaction avec une personne dont l'administrateur, ou quiconque agit pour celui-ci, sait qu'elle deviendra apparentée au régime, cette personne est réputée y être apparentée en ce qui touche la transaction;

b) l'exécution d'une obligation liée à une transaction, y compris le paiement d'intérêts sur un prêt ou un dépôt, fait partie de celle-ci et ne constitue pas une transaction distincte.

16 (1) Sous réserve des articles 17 et 18, l'administrateur d'un régime ne peut, directement ou indirectement :

a) prêter les fonds du régime à un apparenté ou les détenir dans les titres de celui-ci;

b) prendre part à une transaction avec un apparenté pour le compte du régime.

(2) Sous réserve des articles 17 et 18, l'administrateur d'un régime ne peut, directement ou indirectement, dans les 12 mois suivant la date où une personne cesse d'être apparentée au régime :

a) prêter les fonds du régime à cette personne ou les investir dans les valeurs mobilières de celle-ci;

b) prendre part à une transaction avec cette personne pour le compte du régime.

17 (1) L'administrateur d'un régime peut prendre part à une transaction avec un apparenté pour la gestion ou le fonctionnement du régime, pourvu que la transaction :

- (a) it is under terms and conditions that are not less favourable to the plan than market terms and conditions; and
- (b) it does not involve the making of loans to, or investments in, the related party.
- (2) Section 16 does not apply in respect of investments
- (a) in an investment fund or a segregated fund in which investors other than the administrator and its affiliates may invest and that complies with
- (i) in the case of investments applicable to a member choice account, section 11 of this Schedule, and
- (ii) in the case of any other investments, the requirements applicable to a plan that are set out in section 9 and 11 of this Schedule;
- (b) in an unallocated general fund of a person authorized to carry on a life insurance business in Canada;
- (c) in securities issued or fully guaranteed by the Government of Canada, the government of a province, or an agency of either one of them;
- (d) in a fund composed of mortgage-backed securities that are fully guaranteed by the Government of Canada, the government of a province, or an agency of either one of them;
- (e) in a fund that replicates the composition of a widely recognized index of a broad class of securities traded at a marketplace; or
- (f) that involve the purchase of a contract or agreement in respect of which the return is based on the performance of a widely recognized index of a broad class of securities traded at a marketplace.
- (3) The administrator of a plan may enter into a transaction with a related party on behalf of the plan if the value of the transaction is nominal or the transaction is immaterial to the plan.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), in assessing whether the value of a transaction is nominal or whether a transaction is immaterial, two or more transactions with the same related party shall be considered as a single transaction.
- (5) If an administrator of a plan is in contravention of section 16 as a result of a transaction that was entered into by someone other than the administrator or an entity controlled by the administrator, the administrator has five years to comply with section 16 from the day of the contravention.
- 17.1 An administrator of a plan who does not comply with section 16 on the day on which this section comes into force shall comply with that section before the end of the five-year period that begins on that day.
- a) soit effectuée à des conditions aussi favorables que celles du marché pour le régime;
- b) n'implique pas un prêt à l'apparenté ou un investissement auprès de ce dernier.
- (2) L'article 16 ne s'applique pas aux placements effectués, selon le cas :
- a) dans un fonds de placement ou une caisse séparée — qui est offert aux investisseurs autres que l'administrateur et les entités faisant partie de son groupe — qui satisfait :
- (i) dans le cas d'investissements dans un compte accompagné de choix, à l'article 11 de la présente annexe,
- (ii) dans le cas de tout autre placement, aux exigences applicables à un régime prévues aux articles 9 et 11 de la présente annexe;
- b) dans un fonds général non réparti d'une personne autorisée à effectuer des opérations d'assurance-vie au Canada;
- c) dans des valeurs mobilières émises ou entièrement garanties par le gouvernement du Canada ou d'une province ou par un de ses organismes;
- d) dans un fonds composé de titres hypothécaires entièrement garantis par le gouvernement du Canada ou d'une province ou par un de ses organismes;
- e) dans un fonds dont la composition reproduit celle d'un indice généralement reconnu comptant une vaste gamme de titres négociés sur un marché;
- f) dans l'achat d'un contrat ou d'un accord à l'égard duquel le rendement est fondé sur un indice généralement reconnu comptant une vaste gamme de titres négociés sur un marché.
- (3) L'administrateur d'un régime peut, pour le compte du régime, prendre part à une transaction avec un apparenté si la transaction est peu importante pour le régime.
- (4) Pour l'application du paragraphe (3), deux ou plusieurs transactions avec le même apparenté sont considérées comme une seule transaction lorsqu'il s'agit de déterminer si la transaction est peu importante.
- (5) L'administrateur qui, par suite d'une transaction — autre qu'une transaction à laquelle lui ou une entité dont il a le contrôle prend part —, se trouve en contravention de l'article 16 dispose de cinq années à compter de la date de celle-ci pour se conformer à nouveau à cet article.
- 17.1 L'administrateur d'un régime qui, à la date d'entrée en vigueur du présent article, ne satisfait pas aux exigences de l'article 16 a cinq ans pour y satisfaire.

(Section 23.3)

Spouse's or Common-Law Partner's Consent to the Election To Receive a Variable Benefit from a Defined Contribution Provision

I, _____, hereby certify that I am the spouse or the common-law partner, as defined in the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985, of _____.

I understand that my spouse or common-law partner has elected to receive a variable benefit directly from the pension plan, and that my written consent is required to enable my spouse or common-law partner to do so.

I understand that

- (a) electing to receive a variable benefit directly from the pension plan will allow my spouse or common-law partner to manage his or her own pension fund and will allow some flexibility in determining the amount that will be paid as a variable benefit in each calendar year;
- (b) the remaining funds may be used to purchase a life annuity at a later date, but there is no requirement that the remaining funds be used to purchase a life annuity;
- (c) if the remaining funds are used to purchase a life annuity, the life annuity must be joint unless I waive my entitlements by signing a separate waiver form within 90 days before the day on which the annuity payments begin; and
- (d) a variable benefit paid directly from the pension plan is not paid in the joint and survivor form.

I further understand that before purchasing a life annuity, the pension plan will allow my spouse or common-law partner to withdraw some of the funds each year, subject to minimum and maximum withdrawal limits. I understand, however, that the amount of pension income or survivor benefit available to me in later years may be significantly reduced if

- (a) my spouse or common-law partner elects to withdraw the maximum amount permitted each year; or
- (b) the investment performance is poor.

Nevertheless, I consent to the receipt of variable benefits directly from the pension plan, and certify that

- (a) I have read this form and understand it;
- (b) neither my spouse or common-law partner nor anyone else has put any pressure on me to sign this form;
- (c) I realize that

FORM 6

(Section 30.1)

Consent of Spouse or Common-Law Partner to the Cessation of the Payment of the Joint and Survivor Pension Benefit

I, _____, hereby certify that I am (a) the spouse or (b) the common-law partner, as defined in subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985, of _____, a retired former member of the pension plan known as _____.

Under the terms of that pension plan

(a) the amount of the joint and survivor pension benefit payable to my spouse or common-law partner as a retired former member is $ _____ per year; and

(b) the amount of the survivor benefit that would be payable to me on the death of my spouse or common-law partner is $ _____ per year.

I understand that:

My consent to the cessation of the payment of the joint and survivor pension benefit described in paragraph (a) is required to allow the payment of a phased retirement benefit to my spouse or common-law partner.

By giving my consent, I am no longer entitled to the survivor benefit described in paragraph (b) that currently would be payable to me on the death of my spouse or common-law partner.

If my spouse or common-law partner dies while receiving a phased retirement benefit, the survivor benefit will be payable to the person who is at that time his or her spouse or common-law partner.

A new election as to the form of the immediate pension benefit that will commence after the phased retirement period may be made when that benefit commences, in accordance with subsection 22(5) of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985.

Based on the above, and in accordance with paragraph 16.1(3)(b) of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985, I hereby consent to the cessation of the payment of the joint and survivor pension benefit described in paragraph (a).

REMARQUE : Aux termes de l'alinéa 16.1(4)g) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, si l'ancien participant reçoit une prestation de pension immédiate au titre d'un régime de pension qui prévoit le versement d'une prestation de retraite progressive, l'administrateur du régime cesse de verser la prestation de pension immédiate lorsque le versement de la prestation de retraite progressive débute, et la renonciation applicable à la prestation réversible est nulle, sauf si elle a été accordée conformément à une ordonnance du tribunal ou à une entente relative à la répartition des biens lors du divorce, de l'annulation du mariage, de la séparation ou de l'échec de l'union de fait. Si le versement d'une prestation de pension immédiate doit débiter après la période de retraite progressive, un nouveau choix peut être fait quant à la forme de cette prestation, aux termes du paragraphe 22(5) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension.

(article 23.3)

Consentement de l'époux ou du conjoint de fait au choix de recevoir une prestation variable au titre d'une disposition à cotisations déterminées

Moi, _____, je certifie être l'époux ou le conjoint de fait, au sens de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, de _____.

Je comprends que mon époux ou mon conjoint de fait a choisi de recevoir une prestation variable directement du régime de pension et que mon consentement écrit est requis pour que mon époux ou mon conjoint de fait puisse toucher cette prestation.

Je comprends que :

- le fait de recevoir une prestation variable directement du régime de pension permettra à mon époux ou à mon conjoint de fait de gérer ses propres fonds de pension et lui confère une certaine latitude quant à la détermination du montant de la prestation variable qui sera versée chaque année civile;
- le solde des fonds pourrait servir à l'achat d'une prestation viagère à une date ultérieure, mais que rien n'exige que ces fonds servent à l'achat d'une prestation viagère;
- la prestation viagère achetée avec le solde des fonds doit être une prestation réversible, sauf si je renonce à mes droits en signant un formulaire de renonciation distinct dans les quatre-vingt-dix jours précédant le premier versement de la prestation viagère;
- une prestation variable versée directement d'un régime de pension n'est pas réversible.

Je comprends également que, préalablement à l'achat d'une prestation viagère, le régime de pension permettra à mon époux ou à mon conjoint de fait d'en retirer des fonds chaque année, sous réserve des limites de retrait maximal et de retrait minimal. Cependant, je comprends que le montant du revenu de pension ou de la prestation de survivant auquel j'aurai droit ultérieurement pourrait être considérablement réduit dans les cas suivants :

- mon époux ou conjoint de fait choisit de retirer le montant maximal permis chaque année;
- le rendement du placement est faible.

Néanmoins, je consens au versement de prestations variables provenant directement du régime de pension et je certifie que :

- a) j'ai lu la présente formule et que je la comprends;
- b) ni mon époux ou mon conjoint de fait, ni personne d'autre n'a exercé de pression afin que je signe la présente formule;
- c) je suis conscient que :
 - (i) la présente formule ne constitue qu'une description générale de mes droits au titre de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension et du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension,
 - (ii) si je souhaite comprendre précisément tous mes droits, je dois lire la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension et le Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension ou demander l'avis d'un conseiller juridique;
- d) je sais que j'ai le droit de conserver une copie de la présente formule de consentement.

Consentement de l'époux ou du conjoint de fait à la cessation du versement de la prestation réversible

Moi, _____, je certifie être a) l'époux ou b) le conjoint de fait, au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, de _____, participant ancien au régime de pension connu sous le nom de _____, qui a pris sa retraite.

Ce régime de pension prévoit ce qui suit :

- a) le montant de la prestation réversible à verser à mon époux ou à mon conjoint de fait en sa qualité de participant ancien qui a pris sa retraite est de _____ $ par année;
- b) le montant de la prestation au survivant qui me serait versée au décès de mon époux ou de mon conjoint de fait est de _____ $ par année.

Je comprends :

que je dois consentir à la cessation du paiement de la prestation réversible mentionnée en a) pour qu'une prestation de retraite progressive puisse être versée à mon époux ou à mon conjoint de fait; qu'en donnant mon consentement, je renonce à la prestation au survivant mentionnée en b) qui, à l'heure actuelle, me serait versée si mon époux ou mon conjoint de fait décédait; que si mon époux ou mon conjoint de fait décède durant la période de versement de la prestation de retraite progressive, la prestation au survivant sera versée à la personne qui est alors son époux ou son conjoint de fait;

qu'un nouveau choix quant à la forme de la prestation qui débutera après la période de retraite progressive pourra être fait lorsque cette prestation débutera, conformément au paragraphe 22(5) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension.

Compte tenu de ce qui précède, et conformément à l'alinéa 16.1(3)b) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, je consens par les présentes à la cessation du paiement de la prestation réversible mentionnée en a).

3 Attestation of applicant

I, (insert name) _____, of (insert address) _____, in the city of _____, in the province of _____, attest to the following:

I own the federally regulated locked-in plan(s) identified in item 2. I intend to withdraw or transfer $ _____ from the plan(s). On the day on which I sign this Attestation (check one):

- (a) _____ I do not have a spouse or common-law partner, as defined in section 2 of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985;
- (b) _____ I have a spouse or common-law partner, as defined in section 2 of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985, and my spouse or common-law partner consents to the withdrawal of the amount specified above from the locked-in plan(s) identified in item 2. (If you check this box, your spouse or common-law partner must complete the Attestation of Spouse or Common-law Partner, in item 6 below.)

4 Acknowledgements

I understand that when funds are withdrawn or transferred from any federally regulated locked-in plan, the funds may lose the creditor protection provided by the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985 and the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985.

I understand that when funds are withdrawn or transferred from any federally regulated locked-in plan, the funds may be taxable under the Income Tax Act or other legislation.

I understand that I may need to seek professional advice about the financial and legal implications of such a withdrawal or transfer.

6 Attestation of Spouse or Common-law Partner

I, (insert name) _____, of (insert address) _____, in the city of _____, in the Province of _____, attest to the following:

I am the spouse or common-law partner of the owner of the locked-in plan(s) identified in item 2.

I understand that

(a) the applicant intends to withdraw or transfer funds from the federally regulated locked-in plans identified in item 2, which withdrawal or transfer is not permitted under the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985 unless the applicant obtains my consent;

(b) as long as these funds are kept in that federally regulated locked-in plan, I may have a right to a share of these funds if there is a breakdown in our relationship or if the owner dies;

(c) if any funds are withdrawn or transferred from that federally regulated locked-in plan, I may lose any right that I have to a share of the funds withdrawn or transferred;

(d) when funds are withdrawn or transferred from any federally regulated locked-in plan the funds may lose the creditor protection provided by the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985 and the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985;

(e) when funds are withdrawn or transferred from any federally regulated locked-in plan the funds may be taxable under the Income Tax Act or other legislation; and

(f) I may need to seek professional advice about the financial and legal implications of such a withdrawal or transfer.

7 Consent of Spouse or Common-law Partner

I consent to the withdrawal or transfer specified in item 3.

3 Attestation du demandeur

Moi, (nom du demandeur) _____, du (adresse du demandeur) _____, ville de _____, (province de) _____, je certifie ce qui suit :

Je détiens les régimes immobilisés régis par une loi fédérale indiqués à l'article 2. J'ai l'intention de retirer ou de transférer _____ $ de ces régimes.

À la date où je signe la présente attestation (cochez une seule affirmation) :

- a) _____ je n'ai pas d'époux ou de conjoint de fait, au sens de l'article 2 de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension.
 b) _____ j'ai un époux ou un conjoint de fait, au sens de l'article 2 de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, et il consent à ce que je retire des fonds du régime immobilisé indiqué à l'article 2. (Si vous cochez cette affirmation, votre époux ou conjoint de fait devra remplir la section au point 6 ci-dessous « Attestation de l'époux ou du conjoint de fait ».)

4 Reconnaissance des faits

Je comprends que, lorsque des fonds sont retirés ou transférés de régimes immobilisés régis par une loi fédérale, il se pourrait qu'ils ne soient plus à l'abri des créanciers puisqu'ils ne bénéficient plus de la protection prévue par la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension et par le Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension.

Je comprends que, lorsque des fonds sont retirés ou transférés de régimes immobilisés régis par une loi fédérale, il se peut qu'ils constituent des revenus imposables en vertu de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu ou de toute autre loi applicable.

Je comprends qu'il serait judicieux de recourir à un spécialiste en mesure de me renseigner sur les conséquences financières ou légales des tels retraits ou transferts.

RELATED PROVISIONS

— SOR/2008-144, s. 9

9 (1) Despite sections 3 and 4, a contract or arrangement for a locked-in registered retirement savings plan or a life income fund that is entered into within six months after the day on which these Regulations come into force may be made under sections 20 and 20.1 of the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985 respectively, as those sections read on the day before the day on which these Regulations come into force.

(2) Form 3 of Schedule II to the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, as it read before the day on which these Regulations come into force, may continue to be used for the purpose referred to in subsection 18(3) of those Regulations for six months after the day on which these Regulations come into force.

— SOR/2010-149, s. 27

27 A plan may continue to be funded under section 9 of the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, as they read immediately before this section comes into force, until the day on which the first actuarial report is filed after this section comes into force.

— SOR/2010-149, s. 28

28 A reference to an “unfunded liability” in these Regulations includes a reference to an “initial unfunded liability” as defined in subsection 9(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, as it read immediately before this section comes into force.

— SOR/2010-149, s. 29

29 (1) For the purpose of determining the average solvency ratio for the first actuarial report required to be filed after this section comes into force, the solvency ratio that is determined on the valuation date, without the adjustments made under subsections 9(8) and 9(9), may be used as the solvency ratio for

(a) the prior valuation date and the prior second valuation date; or

(b) the prior second valuation date.

(2) If the average solvency ratio is determined under paragraph (1)(a), the solvency assets means the value of the assets of the plan, determined on the basis of market value or of a value related to the market value by means of a method using market values over a period of not more than five years to stabilize short-term fluctuations.

(3) For the purpose of determining the average solvency ratio for the second actuarial report required to be filed after this section comes into force, if the average solvency ratio for the first actuarial report was determined under paragraph (1)(a),

DISPOSITIONS CONNEXES

— DORS/2008-144, art. 9

9 (1) Malgré les articles 3 et 4, le contrat ou l'arrangement établissant un régime enregistré d'épargne-retraite immobilisée ou un fond de revenu viager qui est conclu dans les six mois suivant la date d'entrée en vigueur du présent règlement peut l'être en vertu des articles 20 ou 20.1 du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension dans leur version antérieure à l'entrée en vigueur du présent règlement.

(2) La formule 3 de l'annexe II du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, dans sa version antérieure à l'entrée en vigueur du présent règlement, peut continuer d'être utilisée, pour l'application du paragraphe 18(3) du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, pendant une période de six mois suivant la date d'entrée en vigueur du présent règlement.

28 La mention de « passif non capitalisé » dans le présent règlement vaut mention de « passif initial non capitalisé » au sens du paragraphe 9(1) du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, dans sa version antérieure à l'entrée en vigueur du présent article.

— DORS/2010-149, art. 29

29 (1) Dans le calcul du ratio de solvabilité moyen pour le premier rapport actuariel à déposer après l'entrée en vigueur du présent article, le ratio de solvabilité qui est établi à la date d'évaluation compte non tenu des rajustements prévus aux paragraphes 9(8) et (9) peut être utilisé comme ratio de solvabilité, selon le cas :

a) à la date d'évaluation antérieure et à la deuxième date d'évaluation antérieure;

b) à la deuxième date d'évaluation antérieure.

(3) Dans le calcul du ratio de solvabilité moyen du deuxième rapport actuariel à déposer après l'entrée en vigueur du présent article, le ratio de solvabilité établi à la date d'évaluation compte on tenu des rajustements prévus aux paragraphes

OFFICIAL STATUS OF CONSOLIDATIONS

Subsections 31(1) and (2) of the Legislation Revision and Consolidation Act, in force on June 1, 2009, provide as follows:

Published consolidation is evidence

31 (1) Every copy of a consolidated statute or consolidated regulation published by the Minister under this Act in either print or electronic form is evidence of that statute or regulation and of its contents and every copy purporting to be published by the Minister is deemed to be so published, unless the contrary is shown.

Inconsistencies in Acts

(2) In the event of an inconsistency between a consolidated statute published by the Minister under this Act and the original statute or a subsequent amendment as certified by the Clerk of the Parliaments under the Publication of Statutes Act, the original statute or amendment prevails to the extent of the inconsistency.

NOTE

This consolidation is current to December 11, 2017. The last amendments came into force on February 26, 2015. Any amendments that were not in force as of December 11, 2017 are set out at the end of this document under the heading "Amendments Not in Force".

CARACTÈRE OFFICIEL DES CODIFICATIONS

Les paragraphes 31(1) et (2) de la Loi sur la révision et la codification des textes législatifs, en vigueur le 1^{er} juin 2009, prévoient ce qui suit :

Codifications comme élément de preuve

31 (1) Tout exemplaire d'une loi codifiée ou d'un règlement codifié, publié par le ministre en vertu de la présente loi sur support papier ou sur support électronique, fait foi de cette loi ou de ce règlement et de son contenu. Tout exemplaire donné comme publié par le ministre est réputé avoir été ainsi publié, sauf preuve contraire.

Incompatibilité – lois

(2) Les dispositions de la loi d'origine avec ses modifications subséquentes par le greffier des Parlements en vertu de la Loi sur la publication des lois l'emportent sur les dispositions incompatibles de la loi codifiée publiée par le ministre en vertu de la présente loi.

NOTE

Cette codification est à jour au 11 décembre 2017. Les dernières modifications sont entrées en vigueur le 26 février 2015. Toutes modifications qui n'étaient pas en vigueur au 11 décembre 2017 sont énoncées à la fin de ce document sous le titre « Modifications non en vigueur ».

Application

3 (1) La présente loi ne s'applique à une compagnie débitrice ou aux compagnies débitrices qui appartiennent au même groupe qu'elle que si le montant des réclamations contre elle ou les compagnies appartenant au même groupe, établi conformément à l'article 20, est supérieur à cinq millions de dollars ou à toute autre somme prévue par les règlements.

Application

(2) Pour l'application de la présente loi :

a) appartiennent au même groupe deux compagnies dont l'une est la filiale de l'autre ou qui sont sous le contrôle de la même personne;

b) sont réputées appartenir au même groupe deux compagnies dont chacune appartient au groupe d'une même compagnie.

Application

(3) Pour l'application de la présente loi, ont le contrôle d'une compagnie la personne ou les compagnies :

(a) securities of the company to which are attached more than fifty per cent of the votes that may be cast to elect directors of the company are held, other than by way of security only, by or for the benefit of that person or by or for the benefit of those companies; and

(b) the votes attached to those securities are sufficient, if exercised, to elect a majority of the directors of the company.

Subsidiary

(4) For the purposes of this Act, a company is a subsidiary of another company if

(a) it is controlled by

(i) that other company,

(ii) that other company and one or more companies each of which is controlled by that other company, or

(iii) two or more companies each of which is controlled by that other company; or

(b) it is a subsidiary of a company that is a subsidiary of that other company.

PART I

Compromises and Arrangements

Compromise with unsecured creditors

4 Where a compromise or an arrangement is proposed between a debtor company and its unsecured creditors or any class of them, the court may, on the application in a summary way of the company, of any such creditor or of the trustee in bankruptcy or liquidator of the company, order a meeting of the creditors or class of creditors, and, if the court so determines, of the shareholders of the company, to be summoned in such manner as the court directs.

R.S., c. C-25, s. 4.

Compromise with secured creditors

5 Where a compromise or an arrangement is proposed between a debtor company and its secured creditors or any class of them, the court may, on the application in a summary way of the company or of any such creditor or of the trustee in bankruptcy or liquidator of the company, order a meeting of the creditors or class of creditors, and,

a) qui détiennent — ou en sont bénéficiaires —, autrement qu'à titre de garantie seulement, des valeurs mobilières conférant plus de cinquante pour cent du maximum possible des voix à l'élection des administrateurs de la compagnie;

b) dont lesdites valeurs mobilières confèrent un droit de vote dont l'exercice permet d'élire la majorité des administrateurs de la compagnie.

Application

(4) Pour l'application de la présente loi, une compagnie est la filiale d'une autre compagnie dans chacun des cas suivants :

a) elle est contrôlée :

(i) soit par l'autre compagnie,

(ii) soit par l'autre compagnie et une ou plusieurs compagnies elles-mêmes contrôlées par cette autre compagnie,

(iii) soit par des compagnies elles-mêmes contrôlées par l'autre compagnie;

b) elle est la filiale d'une filiale de l'autre compagnie.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-36, art. 3; 1997, ch. 12, art. 121; 2005, c. 47, art. 125.

PARTIE I

Transactions et arrangements

Transaction avec les créanciers chirographaires

4 Lorsqu'une transaction ou un arrangement est proposé entre une compagnie débitrice et ses créanciers chirographaires ou toute catégorie de ces derniers, le tribunal peut, à la requête sommaire de la compagnie, d'un de ces créanciers ou du syndic en matière de faillite ou liquidateur de la compagnie, ordonner que soit convoquée, de la manière qu'il prescrit, une assemblée de ces créanciers ou catégorie de créanciers, et, si le tribunal en décide ainsi, des actionnaires de la compagnie.

Transaction avec les créanciers garantis

5 Lorsqu'une transaction ou un arrangement est proposé entre une compagnie débitrice et ses créanciers garantis ou toute catégorie de ces derniers, le tribunal peut, à la requête sommaire de la compagnie, d'un de ces créanciers ou du syndic en matière de faillite ou liquidateur de la compagnie, ordonner que soit convoquée, de la if the court so determines, of the shareholders of the company, to be summoned in such manner as the court directs.

R.S., c. C-25, s. 5.

Claims against directors — compromise

5.1 (1) A compromise or arrangement made in respect of a debtor company may include in its terms provision for the compromise of claims against directors of the company that arose before the commencement of proceedings under this Act and that relate to the obligations of the company where the directors are by law liable in their capacity as directors for the payment of such obligations.

Exception

(2) A provision for the compromise of claims against directors may not include claims that

(a) relate to contractual rights of one or more creditors; or

(b) are based on allegations of misrepresentations made by directors to creditors or of wrongful or oppressive conduct by directors.

Powers of court

(3) The court may declare that a claim against directors shall not be compromised if it is satisfied that the compromise would not be fair and reasonable in the circumstances.

Resignation or removal of directors

(4) Where all of the directors have resigned or have been removed by the shareholders without replacement, any person who manages or supervises the management of the business and affairs of the debtor company shall be deemed to be a director for the purposes of this section.

1997, c. 12, s. 122.

Compromises to be sanctioned by court

6 (1) If a majority in number representing two thirds in value of the creditors, or the class of creditors, as the case may be — other than, unless the court orders otherwise, a class of creditors having equity claims, — present and voting either in person or by proxy at the meeting or meetings of creditors respectively held under sections 4 and 5, or either of those sections, agree to any compromise or arrangement either as proposed or as altered or modified at the meeting or meetings, the compromise or arrangement may be sanctioned by the court and, if so sanctioned, is binding manière qu'il prescrit, une assemblée de ces créanciers ou catégorie de créanciers, et, si le tribunal en décide ainsi, des actionnaires de la compagnie.

S.R., ch. C-25, art. 5.

Transaction — réclamations contre les administrateurs

5.1 (1) La transaction ou l'arrangement visant une compagnie débitrice peut comporter, au profit de ses créanciers, des dispositions relativement à une transaction sur les réclamations contre ses administrateurs qui sont antérieures aux procédures intentées sous le régime de la présente loi et visent des obligations de celle-ci dont ils peuvent être, ès qualités, responsables en droit.

Restriction

(2) La transaction ne peut toutefois viser des réclamations portant sur des droits contractuels d'un ou de plusieurs créanciers ou fondées sur la fausse représentation ou la conduite injustifiée ou abusive des administrateurs.

Pouvoir du tribunal

(3) Le tribunal peut déclarer qu'une réclamation contre les administrateurs ne peut faire l'objet d'une transaction s'il est convaincu qu'elle ne serait ni juste ni équitable dans les circonstances.

Démission ou destitution des administrateurs

(4) Si tous les administrateurs démissionnent ou sont destitués par les actionnaires sans être remplacés, quiconque dirige ou supervise les activités commerciales et les affaires internes de la compagnie débitrice est réputé un administrateur pour l'application du présent article.

Homologation par le tribunal

6 (1) Si une majorité en nombre représentant les deux tiers en valeur des créanciers ou d'une catégorie de créanciers, selon le cas, — mise à part, sauf ordonnance contraire du tribunal, toute catégorie de créanciers ayant des réclamations relatives à des capitaux propres — présents et votant soit en personne, soit par fondé de pouvoir à l'assemblée ou aux assemblées de créanciers respectivement tenues au titre des articles 4 et 5, acceptent une transaction ou un arrangement, proposé ou modifié à cette ou ces assemblées, la transaction ou l'arrangement peut être homologué par le tribunal et, le cas échéant, lie :

(a) on all the creditors or the class of creditors, as the case may be, and on any trustee for that class of creditors, whether secured or unsecured, as the case may be, and on the company; and

(b) in the case of a company that has made an authorized assignment or against which a bankruptcy order has been made under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act or is in the course of being wound up under the Winding-up and Restructuring Act, on the trustee in bankruptcy or liquidator and contributories of the company.

Court may order amendment

(2) If a court sanctions a compromise or arrangement, it may order that the debtor's constating instrument be amended in accordance with the compromise or arrangement to reflect any change that may lawfully be made under federal or provincial law.

Restriction — certain Crown claims

(3) Unless Her Majesty agrees otherwise, the court may sanction a compromise or arrangement only if the compromise or arrangement provides for the payment in full to Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province, within six months after court sanction of the compromise or arrangement, of all amounts that were outstanding at the time of the application for an order under section 11 or 11.02 and that are of a kind that could be subject to a demand under

(a) subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act;

(b) any provision of the Canada Pension Plan or of the Employment Insurance Act that refers to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act and provides for the collection of a contribution, as defined in the Canada Pension Plan, an employee's premium, or employer's premium, as defined in the Employment Insurance Act, or a premium under Part VII.1 of that Act, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts; or

(c) any provision of provincial legislation that has a purpose similar to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act, or that refers to that subsection, to the extent that it provides for the collection of a sum, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts, and the sum

(i) has been withheld or deducted by a person from a payment to another person and is in respect of a tax similar in nature to the income tax imposed on individuals under the Income Tax Act, or

a) tous les créanciers ou la catégorie de créanciers, selon le cas, et tout fiduciaire pour cette catégorie de créanciers, qu'ils soient garantis ou chirographaires, selon le cas, ainsi que la compagnie;

b) dans le cas d'une compagnie qui a fait une cession autorisée ou à l'encontre de laquelle une ordonnance de faillite a été rendue en vertu de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité ou qui est en voie de liquidation sous le régime de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations, le syndic en matière de faillite ou liquidateur et les contributeurs de la compagnie.

Modification des statuts constitutifs

(2) Le tribunal qui homologue une transaction ou un arrangement peut ordonner la modification des statuts constitutifs de la compagnie conformément à ce qui est prévu dans la transaction ou l'arrangement, selon le cas, pourvu que la modification soit légale au regard du droit fédéral ou provincial.

Certaines réclamations de la Couronne

(3) Le tribunal ne peut, sans le consentement de Sa Majesté, homologuer la transaction ou l'arrangement qui ne prévoit pas le paiement intégral à Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province, dans les six mois suivant l'homologation, de toutes les sommes qui étaient dues lors de la demande d'ordonnance visée aux articles 11 ou 11.02 et qui pourraient, de par leur nature, faire l'objet d'une demande aux termes d'une des dispositions suivantes :

a) le paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu;

b) toute disposition du Régime de pensions du Canada ou de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi qui renvoie au paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu et qui prévoit la perception d'une cotisation, au sens du Régime de pensions du Canada, d'une cotisation ouvrière ou d'une cotisation patronale, au sens de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi, ou d'une cotisation prévue par la partie VII.1 de cette loi ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités ou autres charges afférents;

c) toute disposition législative provinciale dont l'objet est semblable à celui du paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, ou qui renvoie à ce paragraphe, et qui prévoit la perception d'une somme, ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités ou autres charges afférents, laquelle somme :

(i) soit a été retenue par une personne sur un paiement effectué à une autre personne, ou déduite

(ii) is of the same nature as a contribution under the Canada Pension Plan if the province is a province providing a comprehensive pension plan as defined in subsection 3(1) of the Canada Pension Plan and the provincial legislation establishes a provincial pension plan as defined in that subsection.

Restriction — default of remittance to Crown

(4) If an order contains a provision authorized by section 11.09, no compromise or arrangement is to be sanctioned by the court if, at the time the court hears the application for sanction, Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province satisfies the court that the company is in default on any remittance of an amount referred to in subsection (3) that became due after the time of the application for an order under section 11.02.

Restriction — employees, etc.

(5) The court may sanction a compromise or an arrangement only if

(a) the compromise or arrangement provides for payment to the employees and former employees of the company, immediately after the court's sanction, of

(i) amounts at least equal to the amounts that they would have been qualified to receive under paragraph 136(1)(d) of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act if the company had become bankrupt on the day on which proceedings commenced under this Act, and

(ii) wages, salaries, commissions or compensation for services rendered after proceedings commence under this Act and before the court sanctions the compromise or arrangement, together with, in the case of travelling salespersons, disbursements properly incurred by them in and about the company's business during the same period; and

(b) the court is satisfied that the company can and will make the payments as required under paragraph (a).

Restriction — pension plan

(6) If the company participates in a prescribed pension plan for the benefit of its employees, the court may sanction a compromise or an arrangement in respect of the company only if d'un tel paiement, et se rapporte à un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à l'impôt sur le revenu auquel les particuliers sont assujettis en vertu de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu,

(ii) soit est de même nature qu'une cotisation prévue par le Régime de pensions du Canada, si la province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) de cette loi et si la loi provinciale a institué un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe.

Défaut d'effectuer un versement

(4) Lorsqu'une ordonnance comporte une disposition autorisée par l'article 11.09, le tribunal ne peut homologuer la transaction ou l'arrangement si, lors de l'audition de la demande d'homologation, Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province le convainc du défaut de la compagnie d'effectuer un versement portant sur une somme visée au paragraphe (3) et qui est devenue exigible après le dépôt de la demande d'ordonnance visée à l'article 11.02.

Restriction — employés, etc.

(5) Le tribunal ne peut homologuer la transaction ou l'arrangement que si, à la fois :

a) la transaction ou l'arrangement prévoit le paiement aux employés actuels et anciens de la compagnie, dès son homologation, de sommes égales ou supérieures, d'une part, à celles qu'ils seraient en droit de recevoir en application de l'alinéa 136(1)d) de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité si la compagnie avait fait faillite à la date à laquelle des procédures ont été introduites sous le régime de la présente loi à son égard et, d'autre part, au montant des gages, salaires, commissions ou autre rémunération pour services fournis entre la date de l'introduction des procédures et celle de l'homologation, y compris les sommes que le voyageur de commerce a régulièrement déboursées dans le cadre de l'exploitation de la compagnie entre ces dates;

b) il est convaincu que la compagnie est en mesure d'effectuer et effectuera les paiements prévus à l'alinéa a).

Restriction — régime de pension

(6) Si la compagnie participe à un régime de pension réglementaire institué pour ses employés, le tribunal ne peut homologuer la transaction ou l'arrangement que si, à la fois :

(a) the compromise or arrangement provides for payment of the following amounts that are unpaid to the fund established for the purpose of the pension plan:

(i) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that were deducted from the employees' remuneration for payment to the fund,

(ii) if the prescribed pension plan is regulated by an Act of Parliament,

(A) an amount equal to the normal cost, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, that was required to be paid by the employer to the fund, and

(B) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that were required to be paid by the employer to the fund under a defined contribution provision, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985,

(C) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that were required to be paid by the employer to the administrator of a pooled registered pension plan, as defined in subsection 2(1) of the Pooled Registered Pension Plans Act, and

(iii) in the case of any other prescribed pension plan,

(A) an amount equal to the amount that would be the normal cost, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, that the employer would be required to pay to the fund if the prescribed plan were regulated by an Act of Parliament, and

(B) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that would have been required to be paid by the employer to the fund under a defined contribution provision, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985, if the prescribed plan were regulated by an Act of Parliament,

(C) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that would have been required to be paid by the employer in respect of a prescribed plan, if it were regulated by the Pooled Registered Pension Plans Act; and

(b) the court is satisfied that the company can and will make the payments as required under paragraph (a).

a) la transaction ou l'arrangement prévoit que seront effectués des paiements correspondant au total des sommes ci-après qui n'ont pas été versées au fonds établi dans le cadre du régime de pension :

(i) les sommes qui ont été déduites de la rémunération des employés pour versement au fonds,

(ii) dans le cas d'un régime de pension réglementaire régi par une loi fédérale :

(A) les coûts normaux, au sens du paragraphe 2(1) du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, que l'employeur est tenu de verser au fonds,

(B) les sommes que l'employeur est tenu de verser au fonds au titre de toute disposition à cotisations déterminées au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension,

(C) les sommes que l'employeur est tenu de verser à l'administrateur d'un régime de pension agréé collectif au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi sur les régimes de pension agréés collectifs,

(iii) dans le cas de tout autre régime de pension réglementaire :

(A) la somme égale aux coûts normaux, au sens du paragraphe 2(1) du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, que l'employeur serait tenu de verser au fonds si le régime était régi par une loi fédérale,

(B) les sommes que l'employeur serait tenu de verser au fonds au titre de toute disposition à cotisations déterminées au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension si le régime était régi par une loi fédérale,

(C) les sommes que l'employeur serait tenu de verser à l'égard du régime s'il était régi par la Loi sur les régimes de pension agréés collectifs;

b) il est convaincu que la compagnie est en mesure d'effectuer et effectuera les paiements prévus à l'alinéa a).

Non-application of subsection (6)

(7) Despite subsection (6), the court may sanction a compromise or arrangement that does not allow for the payment of the amounts referred to in that subsection if it is satisfied that the relevant parties have entered into an agreement, approved by the relevant pension regulator, respecting the payment of those amounts.

Payment — equity claims

(8) No compromise or arrangement that provides for the payment of an equity claim is to be sanctioned by the court unless it provides that all claims that are not equity claims are to be paid in full before the equity claim is to be paid.

Court may give directions

7 Where an alteration or a modification of any compromise or arrangement is proposed at any time after the court has directed a meeting or meetings to be summoned, the meeting or meetings may be adjourned on such term as to notice and otherwise as the court may direct, and those directions may be given after as well as before adjournment of any meeting or meetings, and the court may in its discretion direct that it is not necessary to adjourn any meeting or to convene any further meeting of any class of creditors or shareholders that in the opinion of the court is not adversely affected by the alteration or modification proposed, and any compromise or arrangement so altered or modified may be sanctioned by the court and have effect under section 6.

R.S., c. C-25, s. 7.

Scope of Act

8 This Act extends and does not limit the provisions of any instrument now or hereafter existing that governs the rights of creditors or any class of them and has full force and effect notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in that instrument.

R.S., c. C-25, s. 8.

Non-application du paragraphe (6)

(7) Par dérogation au paragraphe (6), le tribunal peut homologuer la transaction ou l'arrangement qui ne prévoit pas le versement des sommes mentionnées à ce paragraphe s'il est convaincu que les parties en cause ont conclu un accord sur les sommes à verser et que l'autorité administrative responsable du régime de pension a consenti à l'accord.

Paiement d'une réclamation relative à des capitaux propres

(8) Le tribunal ne peut homologuer la transaction ou l'arrangement qui prévoit le paiement d'une réclamation relative à des capitaux propres que si, selon les termes de celle-ci, le paiement intégral de toutes les autres réclamations sera effectué avant le paiement de la réclamation relative à des capitaux propres.

Le tribunal peut donner des instructions

7 Si une modification d'une transaction ou d'un arrangement est proposée après que le tribunal a ordonné qu'une ou plusieurs assemblées soient convoquées, cette ou ces assemblées peuvent être ajournées aux conditions que peut prescrire le tribunal quant à l'avis et autrement, et ces instructions peuvent être données tant après qu'avant l'ajournement de toute ou toutes assemblées, et le tribunal peut, à sa discrétion, prescrire qu'il ne sera pas nécessaire d'ajourner quelque assemblée ou de convoquer une nouvelle assemblée de toute catégorie de créanciers ou actionnaires qui, selon l'opinion du tribunal, n'est pas défavorablement atteinte par la modification proposée, et une transaction ou un arrangement ainsi modifié peut être homologué par le tribunal et être exécutoire en vertu de l'article 6.

S.R., ch. C-25, art. 7.

Champ d'application de la loi

8 La présente loi n'a pas pour effet de limiter mais d'étendre les stipulations de tout instrument actuellement ou désormais existant relativement aux droits de créanciers ou de toute catégorie de ces derniers, et elle est pleinement exécutoire et effective nonobstant toute stipulation contraire de cet instrument.

S.R., ch. C-25, art. 8.

PART II

Jurisdiction of Courts

Jurisdiction of court to receive applications

9 (1) Any application under this Act may be made to the court that has jurisdiction in the province within which the head office or chief place of business of the company in Canada is situated, or, if the company has no place of business in Canada, in any province within which any assets of the company are situated.

Single judge may exercise powers, subject to appeal

(2) The powers conferred by this Act on a court may, subject to appeal as provided for in this Act, be exercised by a single judge thereof, and those powers may be exercised in chambers during term or in vacation.

R.S., c. C-25, s. 9.

Form of applications

10 (1) Applications under this Act shall be made by petition or by way of originating summons or notice of motion in accordance with the practice of the court in which the application is made.

Documents that must accompany initial application

- (2) An initial application must be accompanied by
- (a) a statement indicating, on a weekly basis, the projected cash flow of the debtor company;
 - (b) a report containing the prescribed representations of the debtor company regarding the preparation of the cash-flow statement; and
 - (c) copies of all financial statements, audited or unaudited, prepared during the year before the application or, if no such statements were prepared in that year, a copy of the most recent such statement.

Publication ban

(3) The court may make an order prohibiting the release to the public of any cash-flow statement, or any part of a cash-flow statement, if it is satisfied that the release would unduly prejudice the debtor company and the making of the order would not unduly prejudice the company's creditors, but the court may, in the order, direct that the cash-flow statement or any part of it be made

PARTIE II

Juridiction des tribunaux

Le tribunal a juridiction pour recevoir des demandes

9 (1) Toute demande prévue par la présente loi peut être faite au tribunal ayant juridiction dans la province où est situé le siège social ou le principal bureau d'affaires de la compagnie au Canada, ou, si la compagnie n'a pas de bureau d'affaires au Canada, dans la province où est situé quelque actif de la compagnie.

Un seul juge peut exercer les pouvoirs, sous réserve d'appel

(2) Les pouvoirs conférés au tribunal par la présente loi peuvent être exercés par un seul de ses juges, sous réserve de l'appel prévu par la présente loi. Ces pouvoirs peuvent être exercés en chambre, soit durant une session du tribunal, soit pendant les vacances judiciaires.

S.R., ch. C-25, art. 9.

Forme des demandes

10 (1) Les demandes prévues par la présente loi peuvent être formulées par requête ou par voie d'assignation introductive d'instance ou d'avis de motion conformément à la pratique du tribunal auquel la demande est présentée.

Documents accompagnant la demande initiale

- (2) La demande initiale doit être accompagnée :
- a) d'un état portant, projections à l'appui, sur l'évolution hebdomadaire de l'encaisse de la compagnie débitrice;
 - b) d'un rapport contenant les observations réglementaires de la compagnie débitrice relativement à l'établissement de cet état;
 - c) d'une copie des états financiers, vérifiés ou non, établis au cours de l'année précédant la demande ou, à défaut, d'une copie des états financiers les plus récents.

Interdiction de mettre l'état à la disposition du public

(3) Le tribunal peut, par ordonnance, interdire la communication au public de tout ou partie de l'état de l'évolution de l'encaisse de la compagnie débitrice s'il est convaincu que sa communication causerait un préjudice indu à celle-ci et que sa non-communication ne causerait pas de préjudice indu à ses créanciers. Il peut toutefois préciser dans l'ordonnance que tout ou partie de cet état

11.01 No order made under section 11 or 11.02 has the effect of

(a) prohibiting a person from requiring immediate payment for goods, services, use of leased or licensed property or other valuable consideration provided after the order is made; or

(b) requiring the further advance of money or credit.

2005, c. 47, s. 128.

Stays, etc. — initial application

11.02 (1) A court may, on an initial application in respect of a debtor company, make an order on any terms that it may impose, effective for the period that the court considers necessary, which period may not be more than 30 days,

(a) staying, until otherwise ordered by the court, all proceedings taken or that might be taken in respect of the company under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act or the Winding-up and Restructuring Act;

(b) restraining, until otherwise ordered by the court, further proceedings in any action, suit or proceeding against the company; and

(c) prohibiting, until otherwise ordered by the court, the commencement of any action, suit or proceeding against the company.

Stays, etc. — other than initial application

(2) A court may, on an application in respect of a debtor company other than an initial application, make an order, on any terms that it may impose,

Pouvoir général du tribunal

11 Malgré toute disposition de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité ou de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations, le tribunal peut, dans le cas de toute demande sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard d'une compagnie débitrice, rendre, sur demande d'un intéressé, mais sous réserve des restrictions prévues par la présente loi et avec ou sans avis, toute ordonnance qu'il estime indiquée.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-36, art. 11; 1992, ch. 27, art. 90; 1996, ch. 6, art. 167; 1997, ch. 12, art. 124; 2005, ch. 47, art. 128.

11.01 L'ordonnance prévue aux articles 11 ou 11.02 ne peut avoir pour effet :

a) d'empêcher une personne d'exiger que soient effectués sans délai les paiements relatifs à la fourniture de marchandises ou de services, à l'utilisation de biens loués ou faisant l'objet d'une licence ou à la fourniture de toute autre contrepartie de valeur qui ont lieu après l'ordonnance;

b) d'exiger le versement de nouvelles avances de fonds ou de nouveaux crédits.

2005, ch. 47, art. 128.

Suspension : demande initiale

11.02 (1) Dans le cas d'une demande initiale visant une compagnie débitrice, le tribunal peut, par ordonnance, aux conditions qu'il peut imposer et pour la période maximale de trente jours qu'il estime nécessaire :

a) suspendre, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, toute procédure qui est ou pourrait être intentée contre la compagnie sous le régime de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité ou de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations;

b) surseoir, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, à la continuation de toute action, poursuite ou autre procédure contre la compagnie;

c) interdire, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, l'introduction de toute action, poursuite ou autre procédure contre la compagnie.

Suspension : demandes autres qu'initiales

(2) Dans le cas d'une demande, autre qu'une demande initiale, visant une compagnie débitrice, le tribunal peut, par ordonnance, aux conditions qu'il peut imposer et pour la période qu'il estime nécessaire :

(a) staying, until otherwise ordered by the court, for any period that the court considers necessary, all proceedings taken or that might be taken in respect of the company under an Act referred to in paragraph (1)(a);

(b) restraining, until otherwise ordered by the court, further proceedings in any action, suit or proceeding against the company; and

(c) prohibiting, until otherwise ordered by the court, the commencement of any action, suit or proceeding against the company.

Burden of proof on application

(3) The court shall not make the order unless

(a) the applicant satisfies the court that circumstances exist that make the order appropriate; and

(b) in the case of an order under subsection (2), the applicant also satisfies the court that the applicant has acted, and is acting, in good faith and with due diligence.

Restriction

(4) Orders doing anything referred to in subsection (1) or (2) may only be made under this section.

2005, c. 47, s. 128, 2007, c. 36, s. 62(F).

Stays – directors

11.03 (1) An order made under section 11.02 may provide that no person may commence or continue any action against a director of the company on any claim against directors that arose before the commencement of proceedings under this Act and that relates to obligations of the company if directors are under any law liable in their capacity as directors for the payment of those obligations, until a compromise or an arrangement in respect of the company, if one is filed, is sanctioned by the court or is refused by the creditors or the court.

Exception

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply in respect of an action against a director on a guarantee given by the director relating to the company's obligations or an action seeking injunctive relief against a director in relation to the company.

Persons deemed to be directors

(3) If all of the directors have resigned or have been removed by the shareholders without replacement, any person who manages or supervises the management of

b) surseoir, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, à la continuation de toute action, poursuite ou autre procédure contre la compagnie;

c) interdire, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, l'introduction de toute action, poursuite ou autre procédure contre la compagnie.

Preuve

(3) Le tribunal ne rend l'ordonnance que si :

a) le demandeur le convainc que la mesure est opportune;

b) dans le cas de l'ordonnance visée au paragraphe (2), le demandeur le convainc en outre qu'il a agi et continue d'agir de bonne foi et avec la diligence voulue.

Restriction

(4) L'ordonnance qui prévoit l'une des mesures visées aux paragraphes (1) ou (2) ne peut être rendue qu'en vertu du présent article.

2005, ch. 47, art. 128, 2007, ch. 36, art. 62(F).

Suspension – administrateurs

11.03 (1) L'ordonnance prévue à l'article 11.02 peut interdire l'introduction ou la continuation de toute action contre les administrateurs de la compagnie relativement aux réclamations qui sont antérieures aux procédures intentées sous le régime de la présente loi et visent des obligations de la compagnie dont ils peuvent être, ès qualités, responsables en droit, tant que la transaction ou l'arrangement, le cas échéant, n'a pas été homologué par le tribunal ou rejeté par celui-ci ou les créanciers.

Exclusion

(2) La suspension ne s'applique toutefois pas aux actions contre les administrateurs pour les garanties qu'ils ont données relativement aux obligations de la compagnie ni aux mesures de la nature d'une injonction les visant au sujet de celle-ci.

Présomption : administrateurs

- (i) soit a été retenue par une personne sur un paiement effectué à une autre personne, ou déduite d'un tel paiement, et se rapporte à un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à l'impôt sur le revenu auquel les particuliers sont assujettis en vertu de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu,
- (ii) soit est de même nature qu'une cotisation prévue par le Régime de pensions du Canada, si la province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) de cette loi et si la loi provinciale institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe.

When order ceases to be in effect

(2) The portions of an order made under section 11.02 that affect the exercise of rights of Her Majesty referred to in paragraph (1)(a) or (b) cease to be in effect if

(a) the company defaults on the payment of any amount that becomes due to Her Majesty after the order is made and could be subject to a demand under

(i) subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act,

(ii) any provision of the Canada Pension Plan or of the Employment Insurance Act that refers to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act and provides for the collection of a contribution, as defined in the Canada Pension Plan, an employee's premium, or employer's premium, as defined in the Employment Insurance Act, or a premium under Part VII.1 of that Act, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts, or

(iii) any provision of provincial legislation that has a purpose similar to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act, or that refers to that subsection, to the extent that it provides for the collection of a sum, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts, and the sum

(A) has been withheld or deducted by a person from a payment to another person and is in respect of a tax similar in nature to the income tax imposed on individuals under the Income Tax Act, or

(B) is of the same nature as a contribution under the Canada Pension Plan if the province is a province providing a comprehensive pension plan as defined in subsection 3(1) of the Canada Pension Plan and the provincial legislation establishes a provincial pension plan as defined in that subsection; or

(b) any other creditor is or becomes entitled to realize a security on any property that could be claimed by Her Majesty in exercising rights under

(i) subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act,

(ii) any provision of the Canada Pension Plan or of the Employment Insurance Act that refers to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act and provides for the collection of a contribution, as defined in the Canada Pension Plan, an employee's premium, or employer's premium, as defined in the Employment Insurance Act, or a premium under Part VII.1

Cessation d'effet

(2) Les passages de l'ordonnance qui suspendent l'exercice des droits de Sa Majesté visés aux alinéas (1)a) ou b) cessent d'avoir effet dans les cas suivants :

a) la compagnie manque à ses obligations de paiement à l'égard de toute somme qui devient due à Sa Majesté après le prononcé de l'ordonnance et qui pourrait faire l'objet d'une demande aux termes d'une des dispositions suivantes :

(i) le paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu,

(ii) toute disposition du Régime de pensions du Canada ou de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi qui renvoie au paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu et qui prévoit la perception d'une cotisation, au sens du Régime de pensions du Canada, d'une cotisation ouvrière ou d'une cotisation patronale, au sens de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi, ou d'une cotisation prévue par la partie VII.1 de cette loi ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents,

(iii) toute disposition législative provinciale dont l'objet est semblable à celui du paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, ou qui renvoie à ce paragraphe, et qui prévoit la perception d'une somme, ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents, laquelle :

(A) soit a été retenue par une personne sur un paiement effectué à une autre personne, ou déduite d'un tel paiement, et se rapporte à un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à l'impôt sur le revenu auquel les particuliers sont assujettis en vertu de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu,

(B) soit est de même nature qu'une cotisation prévue par le Régime de pensions du Canada, si la province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) de cette loi et si la loi provinciale institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe;

b) un autre créancier a ou acquiert le droit de réaliser sa garantie sur un bien qui pourrait être réclamé par Sa Majesté dans l'exercice des droits que lui confère l'une des dispositions suivantes :

(A) soit a été retenue par une personne sur un paiement effectué à une autre personne, ou déduite d'un tel paiement, et se rapporte à un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à l'impôt sur le revenu auquel les particuliers sont assujettis en vertu de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu,

(B) soit est de même nature qu'une cotisation prévue par le Régime de pensions du Canada, si la province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) de cette loi et si la loi provinciale institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe.

Effet

(3) L'ordonnance prévue à l'article 11.02, à l'exception des passages de celle-ci qui suspendent l'exercice des droits de Sa Majesté visés aux alinéas (1)a) ou b), n'a pas pour effet de porter atteinte à l'application des dispositions suivantes :

a) les paragraphes 224(1.2) et (1.3) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu;

b) toute disposition du Régime de pensions du Canada ou de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi qui renvoie au paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu et qui prévoit la perception d'une cotisation, au sens du Régime de pensions du Canada, d'une cotisation ouvrière ou d'une cotisation patronale, au sens de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi, ou d'une cotisation prévue par la partie VII.1 de cette loi ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents;

Meaning of regulatory body

11.1 (1) In this section, regulatory body means a person or body that has powers, duties or functions relating to the enforcement or administration of an Act of Parliament or of the legislature of a province and includes a person or body that is prescribed to be a regulatory body for the purpose of this Act.

Regulatory bodies — order under section 11.02

(2) Subject to subsection (3), no order made under section 11.02 affects a regulatory body's investigation in respect of the debtor company or an action, suit or proceeding that is taken in respect of the company by or before the regulatory body, other than the enforcement of a payment ordered by the regulatory body or the court.

Exception

(3) On application by the company and on notice to the regulatory body and to the persons who are likely to be affected by the order, the court may order that subsection (2) not apply in respect of one or more of the actions, suits or proceedings taken by or before the regulatory body if in the court's opinion paragraphe, et qui prévoit la perception d'une somme, ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents, laquelle :

(i) soit a été retenue par une personne sur un paiement effectué à une autre personne, ou déduite d'un tel paiement, et se rapporte à un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à l'impôt sur le revenu auquel les particuliers sont assujettis en vertu de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu,

(ii) soit est de même nature qu'une cotisation prévue par le Régime de pensions du Canada, si la province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) de cette loi et si la loi provinciale institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe.

Pour l'application de l'alinéa c), la disposition législative provinciale en question est réputée avoir, à l'encontre de tout créancier et malgré tout texte législatif fédéral ou provincial et toute autre règle de droit, la même portée et le même effet que le paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu quant à la somme visée au sous-alinéa c)(i), ou que le paragraphe 23(2) du Régime de pensions du Canada quant à la somme visée au sous-alinéa c)(ii), et quant aux intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents, quelle que soit la garantie dont bénéficie le créancier.

Définition de organisme administratif

11.1 (1) Au présent article, organisme administratif s'entend de toute personne ou de tout organisme chargé de l'application d'une loi fédérale ou provinciale; y est assimilé toute personne ou tout organisme désigné à ce titre par règlement.

Organisme administratif — ordonnance rendue en vertu de l'article 11.02

(2) Sous réserve du paragraphe (3), l'ordonnance prévue à l'article 11.02 ne porte aucunement atteinte aux mesures — action, poursuite ou autre procédure — prises à l'égard de la compagnie débitrice par ou devant un organisme administratif, ni aux investigations auxquelles il procède à son sujet. Elles n'ont d'effet que sur l'exécution d'un paiement ordonné par lui ou le tribunal.

Exception

(3) Le tribunal peut par ordonnance, sur demande de la compagnie et sur préavis à l'organisme administratif et à toute personne qui sera vraisemblablement touchée par l'ordonnance, déclarer que le paragraphe (2) ne s'applique pas à l'une ou plusieurs des mesures prises par ou devant celui-ci, s'il est convaincu que, à la fois :

Articles 11.1-11.2

(a) a viable compromise or arrangement could not be made in respect of the company if that subsection were to apply; and

(b) it is not contrary to the public interest that the regulatory body be affected by the order made under section 11.02.

Declaration — enforcement of a payment

(4) If there is a dispute as to whether a regulatory body is seeking to enforce its rights as a creditor, the court may, on application by the company and on notice to the regulatory body, make an order declaring both that the regulatory body is seeking to enforce its rights as a creditor and that the enforcement of those rights is stayed.

11.11 [Repealed, 2005, c. 47, s. 128]

Interim financing

11.2 (1) On application by a debtor company and on notice to the secured creditors who are likely to be affected by the security or charge, a court may make an order declaring that all or part of the company's property is subject to a security or charge — in an amount that the court considers appropriate — in favour of a person specified in the order who agrees to lend to the company an amount approved by the court as being required by the company, having regard to its cash-flow statement. The security or charge may not secure an obligation that exists before the order is made.

Priority — secured creditors

(2) The court may order that the security or charge rank in priority over the claim of any secured creditor of the company.

Priority — other orders

(3) The court may order that the security or charge rank in priority over any security or charge arising from a previous order made under subsection (1) only with the consent of the person in whose favour the previous order was made.

Factors to be considered

(4) In deciding whether to make an order, the court is to consider, among other things,

(a) the period during which the company is expected to be subject to proceedings under this Act;

a) il ne pourrait être fait de transaction ou d'arrangement viable à l'égard de la compagnie si ce paragraphe s'appliquait;

b) l'ordonnance demandée au titre de l'article 11.02 n'est pas contraire à l'intérêt public.

Déclaration : organisme agissant à titre de créancier

(4) En cas de différend sur la question de savoir si l'organisme administratif cherche à faire valoir ses droits à titre de créancier dans le cadre de la mesure prise, le tribunal peut déclarer, par ordonnance, sur demande de la compagnie et sur préavis à l'organisme, que celui-ci agit effectivement à ce titre et que la mesure est suspendue.

1997, ch. 12, art. 124; 2001, ch. 9, art. 576; 2005, ch. 47, art. 128; 2007, ch. 29, art. 106, ch. 36, art. 65.

Financement temporaire

11.2 (1) Sur demande de la compagnie débitrice, le tribunal peut par ordonnance, sur préavis de la demande aux créanciers garantis qui seront vraisemblablement touchés par la charge ou sûreté, déclarer que tout ou partie des biens de la compagnie sont grevés d'une charge ou sûreté — d'un montant qu'il estime indiqué — en faveur de la personne nommée dans l'ordonnance qui accepte de prêter à la compagnie la somme qu'il approuve compte tenu de l'état de l'évolution de l'encaisse et des besoins de celle-ci. La charge ou sûreté ne peut garantir qu'une obligation postérieure au prononcé de l'ordonnance.

Priorité — créanciers garantis

(2) Le tribunal peut préciser, dans l'ordonnance, que la charge ou sûreté a priorité sur toute réclamation des créanciers garantis de la compagnie.

Priorité — autres ordonnances

(3) Il peut également y préciser que la charge ou sûreté n'a priorité sur toute autre charge ou sûreté grevant les biens de la compagnie au titre d'une ordonnance déjà rendue en vertu du paragraphe (1) que sur consentement de la personne en faveur de qui cette ordonnance a été rendue.

Facteurs à prendre en considération

(4) Pour décider s'il rend l'ordonnance, le tribunal prend en considération, entre autres, les facteurs suivants :

a) la durée prévue des procédures intentées à l'égard de la compagnie sous le régime de la présente loi;

(c) whether the company's management has the confidence of its major creditors;

(d) whether the loan would enhance the prospects of a viable compromise or arrangement being made in respect of the company;

(e) the nature and value of the company's property;

(f) whether any creditor would be materially prejudiced as a result of the security or charge; and

(g) the monitor's report referred to in paragraph 23(1)(b), if any.

1997, c. 12, s. 124; 2005, c. 47, s. 128; 2007, c. 36, s. 65.

Assignment of agreements

11.3 (1) On application by a debtor company and on notice to every party to an agreement and the monitor, the court may make an order assigning the rights and obligations of the company under the agreement to any person who is specified by the court and agrees to the assignment.

Exceptions

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply in respect of rights and obligations that are not assignable by reason of their nature or that arise under

(a) an agreement entered into on or after the day on which proceedings commence under this Act;

(b) an eligible financial contract; or

(c) a collective agreement.

Factors to be considered

(3) In deciding whether to make the order, the court is to consider, among other things,

(a) whether the monitor approved the proposed assignment;

(b) whether the person to whom the rights and obligations are to be assigned would be able to perform the obligations; and

(c) whether it would be appropriate to assign the rights and obligations to that person.

Restriction

(4) The court may not make the order unless it is satisfied that all monetary defaults in relation to the

(e) la nature et la valeur des biens de la compagnie;

(f) la question de savoir si la charge ou sûreté causera un préjudice sérieux à l'un ou l'autre des créanciers de la compagnie;

(g) le rapport du contrôleur visé à l'alinéa 23(1)b).

1997, ch. 12, art. 124; 2005, ch. 47, art. 128; 2007, ch. 36, art. 65.

Cessions

11.3 (1) Sur demande de la compagnie débitrice et sur préavis à toutes les parties au contrat et au contrôleur, le tribunal peut, par ordonnance, céder à toute personne qu'il précise et qui y a consenti les droits et obligations de la compagnie découlant du contrat.

Exceptions

(2) Le paragraphe (1) ne s'applique pas aux droits et obligations qui, de par leur nature, ne peuvent être cédés ou qui découlent soit d'un contrat conclu à la date à laquelle une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi ou par la suite, soit d'un contrat financier admissible, soit d'une convention collective.

Facteurs à prendre en considération

(3) Pour décider s'il rend l'ordonnance, le tribunal prend en considération, entre autres, les facteurs suivants :

(a) l'acquiescement du contrôleur au projet de cession, le cas échéant;

(b) la capacité de la personne à qui les droits et obligations seraient cédés d'exécuter les obligations;

(c) l'opportunité de lui céder les droits et obligations.

Restriction

(4) Il ne peut rendre l'ordonnance que s'il est convaincu qu'il sera remédié, au plus tard à la date qu'il fixe, à tous

Critical supplier

11.4 (1) On application by a debtor company and on notice to the secured creditors who are likely to be affected by the security or charge, the court may make an order declaring a person to be a critical supplier to the company if the court is satisfied that the person is a supplier of goods or services to the company and that the goods or services that are supplied are critical to the company's continued operation.

Obligation to supply

(2) If the court declares a person to be a critical supplier, the court may make an order requiring the person to supply any goods or services specified by the court to the company on any terms and conditions that are consistent with the supply relationship or that the court considers appropriate.

Security or charge in favour of critical supplier

(3) If the court makes an order under subsection (2), the court shall, in the order, declare that all or part of the property of the company is subject to a security or charge in favour of the person declared to be a critical supplier, in an amount equal to the value of the goods or services supplied under the terms of the order.

Priority

(4) The court may order that the security or charge rank in priority over the claim of any secured creditor of the company.

11.31 [Abrogé, 2005, ch. 47, art. 128]

Fournisseurs essentiels

11.4 (1) Sur demande de la compagnie débitrice, le tribunal peut par ordonnance, sur préavis de la demande aux créanciers garantis qui seront vraisemblablement touchés par la charge ou sûreté, déclarer toute personne fournisseur essentiel de la compagnie s'il est convaincu que cette personne est un fournisseur de la compagnie et que les marchandises ou les services qu'elle lui fournit sont essentiels à la continuation de son exploitation.

Obligation de fourniture

(2) S'il fait une telle déclaration, le tribunal peut ordonner à la personne déclarée fournisseur essentiel de la compagnie de fournir à celle-ci les marchandises ou services qu'il précise, à des conditions compatibles avec les modalités qui régissaient antérieurement leur fourniture ou aux conditions qu'il estime indiquées.

Charge ou sûreté en faveur du fournisseur essentiel

(3) Le cas échéant, le tribunal déclare dans l'ordonnance que tout ou partie des biens de la compagnie sont grevés d'une charge ou sûreté, en faveur de la personne déclarée fournisseur essentiel, d'un montant correspondant à la valeur des marchandises ou services fournis en application de l'ordonnance.

Priorité

(4) Il peut préciser, dans l'ordonnance, que la charge ou sûreté a priorité sur toute réclamation des créanciers garantis de la compagnie.

Révocation des administrateurs

11.5 (1) Sur demande d'un intéressé, le tribunal peut, par ordonnance, révoquer tout administrateur de la compagnie débitrice à l'égard de laquelle une ordonnance a été rendue sous le régime de la présente loi s'il est convaincu que ce dernier, sans raisons valables, compromet ou compromettra vraisemblablement la possibilité de conclure une transaction ou un arrangement viable ou company or is acting or is likely to act inappropriately as a director in the circumstances.

Filling vacancy

(2) The court may, by order, fill any vacancy created under subsection (1).

1997, c. 12, s. 124; 2005, c. 47, s. 128.

Security or charge relating to director's indemnification

11.51 (1) On application by a debtor company and on notice to the secured creditors who are likely to be affected by the security or charge, the court may make an order declaring that all or part of the property of the company is subject to a security or charge — in an amount that the court considers appropriate — in favour of any director or officer of the company to indemnify the director or officer against obligations and liabilities that they may incur as a director or officer of the company after the commencement of proceedings under this Act.

Priority

(2) The court may order that the security or charge rank in priority over the claim of any secured creditor of the company.

Restriction — indemnification insurance

(3) The court may not make the order if in its opinion the company could obtain adequate indemnification insurance for the director or officer at a reasonable cost.

Negligence, misconduct or fault

(4) The court shall make an order declaring that the security or charge does not apply in respect of a specific obligation or liability incurred by a director or officer if in its opinion the obligation or liability was incurred as a result of the director's or officer's gross negligence or wilful misconduct or, in Quebec, the director's or officer's gross or intentional fault.

Court may order security or charge to cover certain costs

11.52 (1) On notice to the secured creditors who are likely to be affected by the security or charge, the court may make an order declaring that all or part of the property of a debtor company is subject to a security or charge — in an amount that the court considers appropriate — in respect of the fees and expenses of

(a) the monitor, including the fees and expenses of any financial, legal or other experts engaged by the monitor in the performance of the monitor's duties;

Vacance

(2) Le tribunal peut, par ordonnance, combler toute vacance découlant de la révocation.

1997, ch. 12, art. 124; 2005, ch. 47, art. 128.

Biens grevés d'une charge ou sûreté en faveur d'administrateurs ou de dirigeants

11.51 (1) Sur demande de la compagnie débitrice, le tribunal peut par ordonnance, sur préavis de la demande aux créanciers garantis qui seront vraisemblablement touchés par la charge ou sûreté, déclarer que tout ou partie des biens de celle-ci sont grevés d'une charge ou sûreté, d'un montant qu'il estime indiqué, en faveur d'un ou de plusieurs administrateurs ou dirigeants pour l'exécution des obligations qu'ils peuvent contracter en cette qualité après l'introduction d'une procédure sous le régime de la présente loi.

Priorité

(2) Il peut préciser, dans l'ordonnance, que la charge ou sûreté a priorité sur toute réclamation des créanciers garantis de la compagnie.

Restriction — assurance

(3) Il ne peut toutefois rendre une telle ordonnance s'il estime que la compagnie peut souscrire, à un coût qu'il estime juste, une assurance permettant d'indemniser adéquatement les administrateurs ou dirigeants.

Négligence, inconduite ou faute

(4) Il déclare, dans l'ordonnance, que la charge ou sûreté ne vise pas les obligations que l'administrateur ou le dirigeant assume, selon lui, par suite de sa négligence grave ou de son inconduite délibérée ou, au Québec, par sa faute lourde ou intentionnelle.

Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act matters

11.6 Notwithstanding the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act,

(a) proceedings commenced under Part III of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act may be taken up and continued under this Act only if a proposal within the meaning of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act has not been filed under that Part; and

(b) an application under this Act by a bankrupt may only be made with the consent of inspectors referred to in section 116 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act but no application may be made under this Act by a bankrupt whose bankruptcy has resulted from

(i) the operation of subsection 50.4(8) of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, or

(ii) the refusal or deemed refusal by the creditors or the court, or the annulment, of a proposal under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act.

1997, c. 12, s. 124.

Court to appoint monitor

11.7 (1) When an order is made on the initial application in respect of a debtor company, the court shall at the same time appoint a person to monitor the business and financial affairs of the company. The person so appointed must be a trustee, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act.

Restrictions on who may be monitor

(2) Except with the permission of the court and on any conditions that the court may impose, no trustee may be appointed as monitor in relation to a company

— dont il retient les services dans le cadre de ses fonctions;

b) ceux des experts dont la compagnie retient les services dans le cadre de procédures intentées sous le régime de la présente loi;

c) ceux des experts dont tout autre intéressé retient les services, si, à son avis, la charge ou sûreté était nécessaire pour assurer sa participation efficace aux procédures intentées sous le régime de la présente loi.

Priorité

(2) Il peut préciser, dans l'ordonnance, que la charge ou sûreté a priorité sur toute réclamation des créanciers garantis de la compagnie.

2005, ch. 47, art. 128; 2007, ch. 36, art. 66.

Lien avec la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité

11.6 Par dérogation à la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité :

a) les procédures intentées sous le régime de la partie III de cette loi ne peuvent être traitées et continuées sous le régime de la présente loi que si une proposition au sens de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité n'a pas été déposée au titre de cette même partie;

b) le failli ne peut faire une demande au titre de la présente loi qu'avec l'aval des inspecteurs visés à l'article 116 de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, aucune demande ne pouvant toutefois être faite si la faillite découle, selon le cas :

(i) de l'application du paragraphe 50.4(8) de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité,

(ii) du rejet — effectif ou présumé — de sa proposition par les créanciers ou le tribunal ou de l'annulation de celle-ci au titre de cette loi.

Nomination du contrôleur

11.7 (1) Le tribunal qui rend une ordonnance sur la demande initiale nomme une personne pour agir à titre de contrôleur des affaires financières ou autres de la compagnie débitrice visée par la demande. Seul un syndic au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité peut être nommé pour agir à titre de contrôleur.

Personnes qui ne peuvent agir à titre de contrôleur

(2) Sauf avec l'autorisation du tribunal et aux conditions qu'il peut fixer, ne peut être nommé pour agir à titre de contrôleur le syndic :

(i) a director, an officer or an employee of the company,

(ii) related to the company or to any director or officer of the company, or

(iii) the auditor, accountant or legal counsel, or a partner or an employee of the auditor, accountant or legal counsel, of the company; or

(b) if the trustee is

(i) the trustee under a trust indenture issued by the company or any person related to the company, or the holder of a power of attorney under an act constituting a hypothec within the meaning of the Civil Code of Quebec that is granted by the company or any person related to the company, or

(ii) related to the trustee, or the holder of a power of attorney, referred to in subparagraph (i).

Court may replace monitor

(3) On application by a creditor of the company, the court may, if it considers it appropriate in the circumstances, replace the monitor by appointing another trustee, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, to monitor the business and financial affairs of the company.

1997, c. 12, s. 124; 2005, c. 47, s. 129.

No personal liability in respect of matters before appointment

11.8 (1) Despite anything in federal or provincial law, if a monitor, in that position, carries on the business of a debtor company or continues the employment of a debtor company's employees, the monitor is not by reason of that fact personally liable in respect of a liability, including one as a successor employer,

(a) that is in respect of the employees or former employees of the company or a predecessor of the company or in respect of a pension plan for the benefit of those employees; and

(b) that exists before the monitor is appointed or that is calculated by reference to a period before the appointment.

Status of liability

(2) A liability referred to in subsection (1) shall not rank as costs of administration.

a) qui est ou, au cours des deux années précédentes, a été :

(i) administrateur, dirigeant ou employé de la compagnie,

(ii) lié à la compagnie ou à l'un de ses administrateurs ou dirigeants,

(iii) vérificateur, comptable ou conseiller juridique de la compagnie, ou employé ou associé de l'un ou l'autre;

b) qui est :

(i) le fondé de pouvoir aux termes d'un acte constitutif d'hypothèque — au sens du Code civil du Québec — émanant de la compagnie ou d'une personne liée à celle-ci ou le fiduciaire aux termes d'un acte de fiducie émanant de la compagnie ou d'une personne liée à celle-ci,

(ii) lié au fondé de pouvoir ou au fiduciaire visé au sous-alinéa (i).

Remplacement du contrôleur

(3) Sur demande d'un créancier de la compagnie, le tribunal peut, s'il l'estime indiqué dans les circonstances, remplacer le contrôleur en nommant un autre syndic, au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, pour agir à ce titre à l'égard des affaires financières et autres de la compagnie.

1997, ch. 12, art. 124; 2005, ch. 47, art. 129.

Immunité

11.8 (1) Par dérogation au droit fédéral et provincial, le contrôleur qui, en cette qualité, continue l'exploitation de l'entreprise de la compagnie débitrice ou lui succède comme employeur est dégagé de toute responsabilité personnelle découlant de quelque obligation de la compagnie, notamment à titre d'employeur successeur, si celle-ci, à la fois :

a) l'oblige envers des employés ou anciens employés de la compagnie, ou de l'un de ses prédécesseurs, ou découle d'un régime de pension pour le bénéfice de ces employés;

b) existait avant sa nomination ou est calculée par référence à une période la précédant.

Obligation exclue des frais

(2) L'obligation visée au paragraphe (1) ne fait pas partie des frais d'administration.

Liability of other successor employers

(2.1) Subsection (1) does not affect the liability of a successor employer other than the monitor.

Liability in respect of environmental matters

(3) Notwithstanding anything in any federal or provincial law, a monitor is not personally liable in that position for any environmental condition that arose or environmental damage that occurred

(a) before the monitor's appointment; or

(b) after the monitor's appointment unless it is established that the condition arose or the damage occurred as a result of the monitor's gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

Reports, etc., still required

(4) Nothing in subsection (3) exempts a monitor from any duty to report or make disclosure imposed by a law referred to in that subsection.

Non-liability re certain orders

(5) Notwithstanding anything in any federal or provincial law but subject to subsection (3), where an order is made which has the effect of requiring a monitor to remedy any environmental condition or environmental damage affecting property involved in a proceeding under this Act, the monitor is not personally liable for failure to comply with the order, and is not personally liable for any costs that are or would be incurred by any person in carrying out the terms of the order,

(a) if, within such time as is specified in the order, within ten days after the order is made if no time is so specified, within ten days after the appointment of the monitor, if the order is in effect when the monitor is appointed or during the period of the stay referred to in paragraph (b), the monitor

(i) complies with the order, or

(ii) on notice to the person who issued the order, abandons, disposes of or otherwise releases any interest in any real property affected by the condition or damage;

(b) during the period of a stay of the order granted, on application made within the time specified in the order referred to in paragraph (a) or within ten days after the order is made or within ten days after the appointment of the monitor, if the order is in effect when the monitor is appointed, by

Responsabilité de l'employeur successeur

(2.1) Le paragraphe (1) ne dégage aucun employeur successeur, autre que le contrôleur, de sa responsabilité.

Responsabilité en matière d'environnement

(3) Par dérogation au droit fédéral et provincial, le contrôleur est, ès qualités, dégage de toute responsabilité personnelle découlant de tout fait ou dommage lié à l'environnement survenu, avant ou après sa nomination, sauf celui causé par sa négligence grave ou son inconduite délibérée.

Rapports

(4) Le paragraphe (3) n'a pas pour effet de soustraire le contrôleur à l'obligation de faire rapport ou de communiquer des renseignements prévus par le droit applicable en l'espèce.

Immunité — ordonnances

(5) Par dérogation au droit fédéral et provincial, mais sous réserve du paragraphe (3), le contrôleur est, ès qualités, dégage de toute responsabilité personnelle découlant du non-respect de toute ordonnance de réparation de tout fait ou dommage lié à l'environnement et touchant un bien visé par des procédures intentées au titre de la présente loi, et de toute responsabilité personnelle relativement aux frais engagés par toute personne exécutant l'ordonnance :

a) si, dans les dix jours suivant l'ordonnance ou dans le délai fixé par celle-ci, dans les dix jours suivant sa nomination si l'ordonnance est alors en vigueur ou pendant la durée de la suspension visée à l'alinéa b) :

(i) il s'y conforme,

(ii) il abandonne, après avis à la personne ayant rendu l'ordonnance, tout intérêt dans l'immeuble en cause, en dispose ou s'en dessaisit;

b) pendant la durée de la suspension de l'ordonnance qui est accordée, sur demande présentée dans les dix jours suivant l'ordonnance visée à l'alinéa a) ou dans le délai fixé par celle-ci, ou dans les dix jours suivant sa nomination si l'ordonnance est alors en vigueur :

PARTIE II Juridiction des tribunaux
Article 11.8

(i) the court or body having jurisdiction under the law pursuant to which the order was made to enable the monitor to contest the order, or

(ii) the court having jurisdiction under this Act for the purposes of assessing the economic viability of complying with the order; or

(c) if the monitor had, before the order was made, abandoned or renounced any interest in any real property affected by the condition or damage.

Stay may be granted

(6) The court may grant a stay of the order referred to in subsection (5) on such notice and for such period as the court deems necessary for the purpose of enabling the monitor to assess the economic viability of complying with the order.

Costs for remedying not costs of administration

(7) Where the monitor has abandoned or renounced any interest in real property affected by the environmental condition or environmental damage, claims for costs of remedying the condition or damage shall not rank as costs of administration.

Priority of claims

(8) Any claim by Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province against a debtor company in respect of which proceedings have been commenced under this Act for costs of remedying any environmental condition or environmental damage affecting real property of the company is secured by a charge on the real property and on any other real property of the company that is contiguous thereto and that is related to the activity that caused the environmental condition or environmental damage, and the charge

(a) is enforceable in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction in which the real property is located, in the same way as a mortgage, hypothec or other security on real property; and

(b) ranks above any other claim, right or charge against the property, notwithstanding any other provision of this Act or anything in any other federal or provincial law.

Claim for clean-up costs

(9) A claim against a debtor company for costs of remedying any environmental condition or environmental damage affecting real property of the company shall be a claim under this Act, whether the condition arose or the

c) si, avant que l'ordonnance ne soit rendue, il avait abandonné tout intérêt dans le bien immeuble en cause ou y avait renoncé, ou s'en était dessaisi.

Suspension

(6) En vue de permettre au contrôleur d'évaluer les conséquences économiques du respect de l'ordonnance, le tribunal peut en ordonner la suspension après avis et pour la période qu'il estime indiqués.

Frais

(7) Si le contrôleur a abandonné tout intérêt dans le bien immeuble en cause ou y a renoncé, les réclamations pour les frais de réparation du fait ou dommage lié à l'environnement et touchant le bien ne font pas partie des frais d'administration.

Priorité des réclamations

(8) Dans le cas où des procédures ont été intentées au titre de la présente loi contre une compagnie débitrice, toute réclamation de Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province contre elle pour les frais de réparation du fait ou dommage lié à l'environnement et touchant un de ses biens immeubles est garantie par une sûreté sur le bien immeuble en cause et sur ceux qui sont contigus à celui où le dommage est survenu et qui sont liés à l'activité ayant causé le fait ou le dommage; la sûreté peut être exécutée selon le droit du lieu où est situé le bien comme s'il s'agissait d'une hypothèque ou autre garantie sur celui-ci et, par dérogation aux autres dispositions de la présente loi et à toute règle de droit fédéral et provincial, a priorité sur tout autre droit, charge ou réclamation visant le bien.

Précision

(9) La réclamation pour les frais de réparation du fait ou dommage lié à l'environnement et touchant un bien immeuble de la compagnie débitrice constitue une réclamation, que la date du fait ou dommage soit antérieure ou

Leave to appeal

13 Except in Yukon, any person dissatisfied with an order or a decision made under this Act may appeal from the order or decision on obtaining leave of the judge appealed from or of the court or a judge of the court to which the appeal lies and on such terms as to security and in other respects as the judge or court directs.

R.S., 1985, c. C-36, s. 13; 2002, c. 7, s. 134.

Court of appeal

14 (1) An appeal under section 13 lies to the highest court of final resort in or for the province in which the proceeding originated.

Practice

(2) All appeals under section 13 shall be regulated as far as possible according to the practice in other cases of the court appealed to, but no appeal shall be entertained unless, within twenty-one days after the rendering of the order or decision being appealed, or within such further time as the court appealed from, or, in Yukon, a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, allows, the appellant has taken proceedings therein to perfect his or her appeal, and within that time he or she has made a deposit or given sufficient security according to the practice of the court appealed to that he or she will duly prosecute the appeal and pay such costs as may be awarded to the respondent and comply with any terms as to security or otherwise imposed by the judge giving leave to appeal.

Cour d'appel

14 (1) Cet appel doit être porté au tribunal de dernier ressort de la province où la procédure a pris naissance.

Pratique

(2) Tous ces appels sont régis autant que possible par la pratique suivie dans d'autres causes devant le tribunal saisi de l'appel; toutefois, aucun appel n'est recevable à moins que, dans le délai de vingt et un jours après qu'a été rendue l'ordonnance ou la décision faisant l'objet de l'appel, ou dans le délai additionnel que peut accorder le tribunal dont il est interjeté appel ou, au Yukon, un juge de la Cour suprême du Canada, l'appelant n'y ait pris des procédures pour parfaire son appel, et à moins que, dans ce délai, il n'ait fait un dépôt ou fourni un cautionnement suffisant selon la pratique du tribunal saisi de l'appel pour garantir qu'il poursuivra dûment l'appel et payera les frais qui peuvent être adjugés à l'intimé et se conformera aux conditions relatives au cautionnement ou autres qu'impose le juge donnant la permission d'en appeler.

Jurisdiction of Supreme Court of Canada

(2) The Supreme Court of Canada shall have jurisdiction to hear and to decide according to its ordinary procedure any appeal under subsection (1) and to award costs.

Stay of proceedings

(3) No appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada shall operate as a stay of proceedings unless and to the extent ordered by that Court.

Security for costs

(4) The appellant in an appeal under subsection (1) shall not be required to provide any security for costs, but, unless he provides security for costs in an amount to be fixed by the Supreme Court of Canada, he shall not be awarded costs in the event of his success on the appeal.

Decision final

PART III

General

Claims

Claims that may be dealt with by a compromise or arrangement

19 (1) Subject to subsection (2), the only claims that may be dealt with by a compromise or arrangement in respect of a debtor company are

(a) claims that relate to debts or liabilities, present or future, to which the company is subject on the earlier of

(i) the day on which proceedings commenced under this Act, and

(ii) if the company filed a notice of intention under section 50.4 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act or commenced proceedings under this Act with the consent of inspectors referred to in section 116 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, the date of the initial bankruptcy event within the meaning of section 2 of that Act; and

(b) claims that relate to debts or liabilities, present or future, to which the company may become subject before the compromise or arrangement is sanctioned by reason of any obligation incurred by the company before the earlier of the days referred to in subparagraphs (a)(i) and (ii).

Exception

(2) A compromise or arrangement in respect of a debtor company may not deal with any claim that relates to any of the following debts or liabilities unless the compromise or arrangement explicitly provides for the claim's compromise and the creditor in relation to that debt has voted for the acceptance of the compromise or arrangement:

(a) any fine, penalty, restitution order or other order similar in nature to a fine, penalty or restitution order, imposed by a court in respect of an offence;

PARTIE III

Dispositions générales

Réclamations

Réclamations considérées dans le cadre des transactions ou arrangements

19 (1) Les seules réclamations qui peuvent être considérées dans le cadre d'une transaction ou d'un arrangement visant une compagnie débitrice sont :

a) celles se rapportant aux dettes et obligations, présentes ou futures, auxquelles la compagnie est assujettie à celle des dates ci-après qui est antérieure à l'autre :

(i) la date à laquelle une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard de la compagnie,

(ii) la date d'ouverture de la faillite, au sens de l'article 2 de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, si elle a déposé un avis d'intention sous le régime de l'article 50.4 de cette loi ou qu'elle a intenté une procédure sous le régime de la présente loi avec le consentement des inspecteurs visés à l'article 116 de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité;

b) celles se rapportant aux dettes et obligations, présentes ou futures, auxquelles elle peut devenir assujettie avant l'acceptation de la transaction ou de l'arrangement, en raison d'une obligation contractée antérieurement à celle des dates mentionnées aux sous-alinéas a)(i) et (ii) qui est antérieure à l'autre.

Exception

(2) La réclamation se rapportant à l'une ou l'autre des dettes ou obligations ci-après ne peut toutefois être ainsi considérée, à moins que la transaction ou l'arrangement ne prévoie expressément la possibilité de transiger sur cette réclamation et que le créancier intéressé n'ait voté en faveur de la transaction ou de l'arrangement proposé :

a) toute ordonnance d'un tribunal imposant une amende, une pénalité, la restitution ou une autre peine semblable;

(b) any award of damages by a court in civil proceedings in respect of

(i) bodily harm intentionally inflicted, or sexual assault, or

(ii) wrongful death resulting from an act referred to in subparagraph (i);

(c) any debt or liability arising out of fraud, embezzlement, misappropriation or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity or, in Quebec, as a trustee or an administrator of the property of others;

(d) any debt or liability resulting from obtaining property or services by false pretences or fraudulent misrepresentation, other than a debt or liability of the company that arises from an equity claim; or

(e) any debt for interest owed in relation to an amount referred to in any of paragraphs (a) to (d).

R.S., 1985, c. C-36, s. 19; 1996, c. 6, s. 167; 2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 69.

b) toute indemnité accordée en justice dans une affaire civile :

(i) pour des lésions corporelles causées intentionnellement ou pour agression sexuelle,

(ii) pour décès découlant d'un acte visé au sous-alinéa (i);

c) toute dette ou obligation résultant de la fraude, du détournement, de la concussion ou de l'abus de confiance alors que la compagnie agissait, au Québec, à titre de fiduciaire ou d'administrateur du bien d'autrui ou, dans les autres provinces, à titre de fiduciaire;

d) toute dette ou obligation résultant de l'obtention de biens ou de services par des faux-semblants ou la présentation erronée et frauduleuse des faits, autre qu'une dette ou obligation de la compagnie qui découle d'une réclamation relative à des capitaux propres;

e) toute dette relative aux intérêts dus à l'égard d'une somme visée à l'un des alinéas a) à d).

L.R. (1985), ch. C-36, art. 19; 1996, ch. 6, art. 167; 2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 69.

Determination of amount of claims

20 (1) For the purposes of this Act, the amount represented by a claim of any secured or unsecured creditor is to be determined as follows:

(a) the amount of an unsecured claim is the amount

(i) in the case of a company in the course of being wound up under the Winding-up and Restructuring Act, proof of which has been made in accordance with that Act,

(ii) in the case of a company that has made an authorized assignment or against which a bankruptcy order has been made under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, proof of which has been made in accordance with that Act, or

(iii) in the case of any other company, proof of which might be made under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, but if the amount so provable is not admitted by the company, the amount is to be determined by the court on summary application by the company or by the creditor; and

(b) the amount of a secured claim is the amount, proof of which might be made under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act if the claim were unsecured, but the amount if not admitted by the company is, in the case of a company subject to pending proceedings

Détermination du montant de la réclamation

20 (1) Pour l'application de la présente loi, le montant de la réclamation d'un créancier garanti ou chirographaire est déterminé de la façon suivante :

a) le montant d'une réclamation non garantie est celui :

(i) dans le cas d'une compagnie en voie de liquidation sous le régime de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations, dont la preuve a été établie en conformité avec cette loi,

(ii) dans le cas d'une compagnie qui a fait une cession autorisée ou à l'encontre de laquelle une ordonnance de faillite a été rendue sous le régime de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, dont la preuve a été établie en conformité avec cette loi,

(iii) dans le cas de toute autre compagnie, dont la preuve peut être établie sous le régime de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, mais si le montant ainsi prouvable n'est pas admis par la compagnie, il est déterminé par le tribunal sur demande sommaire de celle-ci ou du créancier;

b) le montant d'une réclamation garantie est celui dont la preuve pourrait être établie sous le régime de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité si la réclamation n'était pas garantie, mais ce montant, s'il n'est pas under the Winding-up and Restructuring Act or the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, to be established by proof in the same manner as an unsecured claim under the Winding-up and Restructuring Act or the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, as the case may be, and, in the case of any other company, the amount is to be determined by the court on summary application by the company or the creditor.

Admission of claims

(2) Despite subsection (1), the company may admit the amount of a claim for voting purposes under reserve of the right to contest liability on the claim for other purposes, and nothing in this Act, the Winding-up and Restructuring Act or the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act prevents a secured creditor from voting at a meeting of secured creditors or any class of them in respect of the total amount of a claim as admitted.

R.S., 1985, c. C-36, s. 20; 2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 70.

Law of set-off or compensation to apply

21 The law of set-off or compensation applies to all claims made against a debtor company and to all actions instituted by it for the recovery of debts due to the company in the same manner and to the same extent as if the company were plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be.

1997, c. 12, s. 126; 2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Classes of Creditors

Company may establish classes

22 (1) A debtor company may divide its creditors into classes for the purpose of a meeting to be held under section 4 or 5 in respect of a compromise or arrangement relating to the company and, if it does so, it is to apply to the court for approval of the division before the meeting is held.

Factors

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1), creditors may be included in the same class if their interests or rights are sufficiently similar to give them a commonality of interest, taking into account

- (a) the nature of the debts, liabilities or obligations giving rise to their claims;
- (b) the nature and rank of any security in respect of their claims;
- (c) the remedies available to the creditors in the absence of the compromise or arrangement being admis par la compagnie, est, dans le cas où celle-ci est assujettie à une procédure pendante sous le régime de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations ou de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, établi par preuve de la même manière qu'une réclamation non garantie sous le régime de l'une ou l'autre de ces lois, selon le cas, et, s'il s'agit de toute autre compagnie, il est déterminé par le tribunal sur demande sommaire de celle-ci ou du créancier.

Admission des réclamations

(2) Malgré le paragraphe (1), la compagnie peut admettre le montant d'une réclamation aux fins de votation sous réserve du droit de contester la responsabilité quant à la réclamation pour d'autres objets, et la présente loi, la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations et la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité n'ont pas pour effet d'empêcher un créancier garanti de voter à une assemblée de créanciers garantis ou d'une catégorie de ces derniers à l'égard du montant total d'une réclamation ainsi admis.

Compensation

21 Les règles de compensation s'appliquent à toutes les réclamations produites contre la compagnie débitrice et à toutes les actions intentées par elle en vue du recouvrement de ses créances, comme si elle était demanderesse ou défenderesse, selon le cas.

1997, ch. 12, art. 126; 2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Catégories de créanciers

Établissement des catégories de créanciers

22 (1) La compagnie débitrice peut établir des catégories de créanciers en vue des assemblées qui seront tenues au titre des articles 4 ou 5 relativement à une transaction ou un arrangement la visant; le cas échéant, elle demande au tribunal d'approuver ces catégories avant la tenue des assemblées.

Critères

(2) Pour l'application du paragraphe (1), peuvent faire partie de la même catégorie les créanciers ayant des droits ou intérêts à ce point semblables, compte tenu des critères énumérés ci-après, qu'on peut en conclure qu'ils ont un intérêt commun :

- a) la nature des créances et obligations donnant lieu à leurs réclamations;
- b) la nature et le rang de toute garantie qui s'y rattache;

sanctioned, and the extent to which the creditors would recover their claims by exercising those remedies; and

(d) any further criteria, consistent with those set out in paragraphs (a) to (c), that are prescribed.

Related creditors

(3) A creditor who is related to the company may vote against, but not for, a compromise or arrangement relating to the company.

1997, c. 12, s. 126; 2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 71.

Class — creditors having equity claims

22.1 Despite subsection 22(1), creditors having equity claims are to be in the same class of creditors in relation to those claims unless the court orders otherwise and may not, as members of that class, vote at any meeting unless the court orders otherwise.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 71.

Monitors

Duties and functions

23 (1) The monitor shall

(a) except as otherwise ordered by the court, when an order is made on the initial application in respect of a debtor company,

(i) publish, without delay after the order is made, once a week for two consecutive weeks, or as otherwise directed by the court, in one or more newspapers in Canada specified by the court, a notice containing the prescribed information, and

(ii) within five days after the day on which the order is made,

(A) make the order publicly available in the prescribed manner,

(B) send, in the prescribed manner, a notice to every known creditor who has a claim against the company of more than $1,000 advising them that the order is publicly available, and

(C) prepare a list, showing the names and addresses of those creditors and the estimated amounts of those claims, and make it publicly available in the prescribed manner;

c) les voies de droit ouvertes aux créanciers, abstraction faite de la transaction ou de l'arrangement, et la mesure dans laquelle il pourrait être satisfait à leurs réclamations s'ils s'en prévalaient;

d) tous autres critères réglementaires compatibles avec ceux énumérés aux alinéas a) à c).

Créancier lié

(3) Le créancier lié à la compagnie peut voter contre, mais non pour, l'acceptation de la transaction ou de l'arrangement.

1997, ch. 12, art. 126; 2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 71.

Catégorie de créanciers ayant des réclamations relatives à des capitaux propres

22.1 Malgré le paragraphe 22(1), les créanciers qui ont des réclamations relatives à des capitaux propres font partie d'une même catégorie de créanciers relativement à ces réclamations, sauf ordonnance contraire du tribunal, et ne peuvent à ce titre voter à aucune assemblée, sauf ordonnance contraire du tribunal.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 71.

Contrôleurs

Attributions

23 (1) Le contrôleur est tenu :

a) à moins que le tribunal n'en ordonne autrement, lorsqu'il rend une ordonnance à l'égard de la demande initiale visant une compagnie débitrice :

(i) de publier, sans délai après le prononcé de l'ordonnance, une fois par semaine pendant deux semaines consécutives, ou selon les modalités qui y sont prévues, dans le journal ou les journaux au Canada qui y sont précisés, un avis contenant les renseignements réglementaires,

(ii) dans les cinq jours suivant la date du prononcé de l'ordonnance :

(A) de rendre l'ordonnance publique selon les modalités réglementaires,

(B) d'envoyer un avis, selon les modalités réglementaires, à chaque créancier connu ayant une réclamation supérieure à mille dollars les informant que l'ordonnance a été rendue publique,

(C) d'établir la liste des nom et adresse de chacun de ces créanciers et des montants estimés des réclamations et de la rendre publique selon les modalités réglementaires;

(k) carry out any other functions in relation to the company that the court may direct.

Monitor not liable

(2) If the monitor acts in good faith and takes reasonable care in preparing the report referred to in any of paragraphs (1)(b) to (d.1), the monitor is not liable for loss or damage to any person resulting from that person's reliance on the report.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 72.

Right of access

24 For the purposes of monitoring the company's business and financial affairs, the monitor shall have access to the company's property, including the premises, books, records, data, including data in electronic form, and other financial documents of the company, to the extent that is necessary to adequately assess the company's business and financial affairs.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Obligation to act honestly and in good faith

25 In exercising any of his or her powers or in performing any of his or her duties and functions, the monitor must act honestly and in good faith and comply with the Code of Ethics referred to in section 13.5 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Powers, Duties and Functions of Superintendent of Bankruptcy

Public records

26 (1) The Superintendent of Bankruptcy must keep, or cause to be kept, in the form that he or she considers présente loi relativement à la compagnie et aux assemblées de créanciers de celle-ci, s'il estime que sa présence est nécessaire à l'exercice de ses attributions;

h) dès qu'il conclut qu'il serait plus avantageux pour les créanciers qu'une procédure visant la compagnie soit intentée sous le régime de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, d'en aviser le tribunal;

i) de conseiller le tribunal sur le caractère juste et équitable de toute transaction ou de tout arrangement proposés entre la compagnie et ses créanciers;

j) de rendre publics selon les modalités réglementaires, de temps et autres, les documents réglementaires et de fournir aux créanciers de la compagnie des renseignements sur les modalités d'accès à ces documents;

k) d'accomplir à l'égard de la compagnie tout ce que le tribunal lui ordonne de faire.

Non-responsabilité du contrôleur

(2) S'il agit de bonne foi et prend toutes les précautions voulues pour bien établir le rapport visé à l'un ou l'autre des alinéas (1)b) à d.1), le contrôleur ne peut être tenu pour responsable des dommages ou pertes subis par la personne qui s'y fie.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 72.

Droit d'accès aux biens

24 Dans le cadre de la surveillance des affaires financières et autres de la compagnie et dans la mesure où cela s'impose pour lui permettre de les évaluer adéquatement, le contrôleur a accès aux biens de celle-ci, notamment les locaux, livres, données sur support électronique ou autre, registres et autres documents financiers.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Diligence

25 Le contrôleur doit, dans l'exercice de ses attributions, agir avec intégrité et de bonne foi et se conformer au code de déontologie mentionné à l'article 13.5 de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité.

Other records

(2) The Superintendent of Bankruptcy must keep, or cause to be kept, in the form that he or she considers appropriate and for the prescribed period, any other records relating to the administration of this Act that he or she considers appropriate.

Agreement to provide compilation

(3) The Superintendent of Bankruptcy may enter into an agreement to provide a compilation of all or part of the information that is contained in the public record.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 73.

Applications to court and right to intervene

27 The Superintendent of Bankruptcy may apply to the court to review the appointment or conduct of a monitor and may intervene, as though he or she were a party, in any matter or proceeding in court relating to the appointment or conduct of a monitor.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Complaints

28 The Superintendent of Bankruptcy must receive and keep a record of all complaints regarding the conduct of monitors.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Investigations

29 (1) The Superintendent of Bankruptcy may make, or cause to be made, any inquiry or investigation regarding the conduct of monitors that he or she considers appropriate.

Rights

(2) For the purpose of the inquiry or investigation, the Superintendent of Bankruptcy or any person whom he or she appoints for the purpose

(a) shall have access to and the right to examine and make copies of the books, records, data, documents or papers — including those in electronic form — in the possession or under the control of a monitor under this Act; and

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 73.

Demande au tribunal et intervention

27 Le surintendant des faillites peut demander au tribunal d'examiner la nomination ou la conduite de tout contrôleur et intervenir dans toute affaire ou procédure devant le tribunal se rapportant à ces nomination ou conduite comme s'il y était partie.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Plaintes

28 Le surintendant des faillites reçoit et note toutes les plaintes sur la conduite de tout contrôleur.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Investigations et enquêtes

29 (1) Le surintendant des faillites effectue ou fait effectuer au sujet de la conduite de tout contrôleur les investigations ou les enquêtes qu'il estime indiquées.

Droit d'accès

(2) Pour les besoins de ces investigations ou enquêtes, le surintendant des faillites ou la personne qu'il nomme à cette fin :

a) a accès aux livres, registres, données, documents ou papiers, sur support électronique ou autre, se trouvant, en vertu de la présente loi, en la possession ou sous la responsabilité du contrôleur et a droit de les examiner et d'en tirer des copies;

b) peut, avec la permission du tribunal donnée ex parte, examiner les livres, registres, données, documents ou papiers, sur support électronique ou autre, form — relating to any compromise or arrangement in respect of which this Act applies that are in the possession or under the control of any other person designated in the order granting the leave, and for that purpose may under a warrant from the court enter and search any premises.

Staff

(3) The Superintendent of Bankruptcy may engage the services of persons having technical or specialized knowledge, and persons to provide administrative services, to assist the Superintendent of Bankruptcy in conducting an inquiry or investigation, and may establish the terms and conditions of their engagement. The remuneration and expenses of those persons, when certified by the Superintendent of Bankruptcy, are payable out of the appropriation for the office of the Superintendent.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 74.

Powers in relation to licence

30 (1) If, after making or causing to be made an inquiry or investigation into the conduct of a monitor, it appears to the Superintendent of Bankruptcy that the monitor has not fully complied with this Act and its regulations or that it is in the public interest to do so, the Superintendent of Bankruptcy may

- (a) cancel or suspend the monitor's licence as a trustee under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act; or
- (b) place any condition or limitation on the licence that he or she considers appropriate.

Notice to trustee

(2) Before deciding whether to exercise any of the powers referred to in subsection (1), the Superintendent of Bankruptcy shall send the monitor written notice of the powers that the Superintendent may exercise and the reasons why they may be exercised and afford the monitor a reasonable opportunity for a hearing.

Summons

(3) The Superintendent of Bankruptcy may, for the purpose of the hearing, issue a summons requiring the person named in it

- (a) to appear at the time and place mentioned in it;
- (b) to testify to all matters within their knowledge relative to the subject matter of the inquiry or investigation into the conduct of the monitor; and
- (c) to bring and produce any books, records, data, documents or papers — including those in electronic form — in their possession or under their control qui sont en la possession ou sous la responsabilité de toute autre personne désignée dans l'ordonnance et se rapportent aux transactions ou arrangements auxquels la présente loi s'applique et peut, en vertu d'un mandat du tribunal et aux fins d'examen, pénétrer dans tout lieu et y faire des perquisitions.

Personnel

(3) Le surintendant des faillites peut retenir les services des experts ou autres personnes et du personnel administratif dont il estime le concours utile à l'investigation ou l'enquête et fixer leurs fonctions et leurs conditions d'emploi. La rémunération et les indemnités dues à ces personnes sont, une fois certifiées par le surintendant, imputables sur les crédits affectés à son bureau.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 74.

Décision relative à la licence

30 (1) Si, au terme d'une investigation ou d'une enquête sur la conduite du contrôleur, il estime que ce dernier n'a pas observé la présente loi ou les règlements ou que l'intérêt public le justifie, le surintendant des faillites peut annuler ou suspendre la licence que le contrôleur détient, en vertu de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, à titre de syndic ou soumettre sa licence aux conditions ou restrictions qu'il estime indiquées.

Avis au syndic

(2) Avant de prendre l'une des mesures visées au paragraphe (1), le surintendant des faillites envoie au syndic un avis écrit et motivé de la ou des mesures qu'il peut prendre et lui donne la possibilité de se faire entendre.

Convocation de témoins

(3) Le surintendant des faillites peut, aux fins d'audition, convoquer des témoins par assignation leur enjoignant :

- a) de comparaître aux date, heure et lieu indiqués;
- b) de témoigner sur tous faits connus d'eux se rapportant à l'investigation ou à l'enquête sur la conduite du contrôleur;
- c) de produire tous livres, registres, données, documents ou papiers, sur support électronique ou autre, qui sont pertinents et dont ils ont la possession ou la responsabilité.

relative to the subject matter of the inquiry or investigation.

Effect throughout Canada

(4) A person may be summoned from any part of Canada by virtue of a summons issued under subsection (3).

Fees and allowances

(5) Any person summoned under subsection (3) is entitled to receive the like fees and allowances for so doing as if summoned to attend before the Federal Court.

Procedure at hearing

(6) At the hearing, the Superintendent of Bankruptcy

- (a) has the power to administer oaths;
- (b) is not bound by any legal or technical rules of evidence in conducting the hearing;
- (c) shall deal with the matters set out in the notice of the hearing as informally and expeditiously as the circumstances and a consideration of fairness permit; and
- (d) shall cause a summary of any oral evidence to be made in writing.

Record

(7) The notice referred to in subsection (2) and, if applicable, the summary of oral evidence referred to in paragraph (6)(d), together with any documentary evidence that the Superintendent of Bankruptcy receives in evidence, form the record of the hearing, and that record and the hearing are public unless the Superintendent of Bankruptcy is satisfied that personal or other matters that may be disclosed are of such a nature that the desirability of avoiding public disclosure of those matters, in the interest of a third party or in the public interest, outweighs the desirability of the access by the public to information about those matters.

Decision

(8) The decision of the Superintendent of Bankruptcy after the hearing, together with the reasons for the decision, must be given in writing to the monitor not later than three months after the conclusion of the hearing, and is public.

Effet

(4) Les assignations visées au paragraphe (3) ont effet sur tout le territoire canadien.

Frais et indemnités

(5) Toute personne assignée reçoit les frais et indemnités accordés aux témoins assignés devant la Cour fédérale.

Procédure de l'audition

(6) Lors de l'audition, le surintendant :

- a) peut faire prêter serment;
- b) n'est lié par aucune règle de droit ou de procédure en matière de preuve;
- c) règle les questions exposées dans l'avis d'audition avec célérité et sans formalisme, eu égard aux circonstances et à l'équité;
- d) fait établir un résumé écrit de toute preuve orale.

Dossier et audition

(7) L'audition et le dossier de celle-ci sont publics à moins que le surintendant ne juge que la nature des révélations possibles sur des questions personnelles ou autres est telle que, en l'occurrence, l'intérêt d'un tiers ou l'intérêt public l'emporte sur le droit du public à l'information. Le dossier comprend l'avis prévu au paragraphe (2), le résumé de la preuve orale prévu à l'alinéa (6)d) et la preuve documentaire reçue par le surintendant des faillites.

Décision

(8) La décision du surintendant des faillites est rendue par écrit, motivée et remise au contrôleur dans les trois mois suivant la clôture de l'audition, et elle est publique.

Review by Federal Court

(9) A decision of the Superintendent of Bankruptcy given under subsection (8) is deemed to be a decision of a federal board, commission or other tribunal that may be reviewed and set aside under the Federal Courts Act.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 75.

Delegation

31 (1) The Superintendent of Bankruptcy may, in writing, authorize any person to exercise or perform, subject to any terms and conditions that he or she may specify in the authorization, any of the powers, duties or functions of the Superintendent of Bankruptcy under sections 29 and 30.

Notification to monitor

(2) If the Superintendent of Bankruptcy delegates in accordance with subsection (1), the Superintendent or the delegate must give notice of the delegation in the prescribed manner to any monitor who may be affected by the delegation.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Agreements

Disclaimer or rescission of agreements

32 (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), a debtor company may — on notice given in the prescribed form and manner to the other parties to the agreement and the monitor — disclaim or rescind any agreement to which the company is a party on the day on which proceedings commence under this Act. The company may not give notice unless the monitor approves the proposed disclaimer or rescission.

Court may prohibit disclaimer or rescission

(2) Within 15 days after the day on which the company gives notice under subsection (1), a party to the agreement may, on notice to the other parties to the agreement and the monitor, apply to a court for an order that the agreement is not to be disclaimed or rescinded.

Court-ordered disclaimer or rescission

(3) If the monitor does not approve the proposed disclaimer or rescission, the company may, on notice to the other parties to the agreement and the monitor, apply to a court for an order that the agreement be disclaimed or rescinded.

Factors to be considered

(4) In deciding whether to make the order, the court is to consider, among other things,

Examen de la Cour fédérale

(9) La décision du surintendant, rendue et remise conformément au paragraphe (8), est assimilée à celle d'un office fédéral et est soumise au pouvoir d'examen et d'annulation prévu par la Loi sur les Cours fédérales.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 75.

Pouvoir de délégation

31 (1) Le surintendant des faillites peut, par écrit, selon les modalités qu'il précise, déléguer les attributions que lui confèrent les articles 29 et 30.

Notification

(2) En cas de délégation, le surintendant des faillites ou le délégué en avise, de la manière réglementaire, tout contrôleur qui pourrait être touché par cette mesure.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Contrats et conventions collectives

Résiliation de contrats

32 (1) Sous réserve des paragraphes (2) et (3), la compagnie débitrice peut — sur préavis donné en la forme et de la manière réglementaires aux autres parties au contrat et au contrôleur et après avoir obtenu l'acquiescement de celui-ci relativement au projet de résiliation — résilier tout contrat auquel elle est partie à la date à laquelle une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi.

Contestation

(2) Dans les quinze jours suivant la date à laquelle la compagnie donne le préavis mentionné au paragraphe (1), toute partie au contrat peut, sur préavis aux autres parties au contrat et au contrôleur, demander au tribunal d'ordonner que le contrat ne soit pas résilié.

Absence d'acquiescement du contrôleur

(3) Si le contrôleur n'acquiesce pas au projet de résiliation, la compagnie peut, sur préavis aux autres parties au contrat et au contrôleur, demander au tribunal d'ordonner la résiliation du contrat.

Facteurs à prendre en considération

(4) Pour décider s'il rend l'ordonnance, le tribunal prend en considération, entre autres, les facteurs suivants :

Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-36

(a) whether the monitor approved the proposed disclaimer or resiliation;

(b) whether the disclaimer or resiliation would enhance the prospects of a viable compromise or arrangement being made in respect of the company; and

(c) whether the disclaimer or resiliation would likely cause significant financial hardship to a party to the agreement.

Date of disclaimer or resiliation

(5) An agreement is disclaimed or resiliated

(a) if no application is made under subsection (2), on the day that is 30 days after the day on which the company gives notice under subsection (1);

(b) if the court dismisses the application made under subsection (2), on the day that is 30 days after the day on which the company gives notice under subsection (1) or on any later day fixed by the court; or

(c) if the court orders that the agreement is disclaimed or resiliated under subsection (3), on the day that is 30 days after the day on which the company gives notice or on any later day fixed by the court.

Intellectual property

(6) If the company has granted a right to use intellectual property to a party to an agreement, the disclaimer or resiliation does not affect the party's right to use the intellectual property — including the party's right to enforce an exclusive use — during the term of the agreement, including any period for which the party extends the agreement as of right, as long as the party continues to perform its obligations under the agreement in relation to the use of the intellectual property.

Loss related to disclaimer or resiliation

(7) If an agreement is disclaimed or resiliated, a party to the agreement who suffers a loss in relation to the disclaimer or resiliation is considered to have a provable claim.

Reasons for disclaimer or resiliation

(8) A company shall, on request by a party to the agreement, provide in writing the reasons for the proposed disclaimer or resiliation within five days after the day on which the party requests them.

a) l'acquiescement du contrôleur au projet de résiliation, le cas échéant;

b) la question de savoir si la résiliation favorisera la conclusion d'une transaction ou d'un arrangement viable à l'égard de la compagnie;

c) le risque que la résiliation puisse vraisemblablement causer de sérieuses difficultés financières à une partie au contrat.

Résiliation

(5) Le contrat est résilié :

a) trente jours après la date à laquelle la compagnie donne le préavis mentionné au paragraphe (1), si aucune demande n'est présentée en vertu du paragraphe (2);

b) trente jours après la date à laquelle la compagnie donne le préavis mentionné au paragraphe (1) ou à la date postérieure fixée par le tribunal, si ce dernier rejette la demande présentée en vertu du paragraphe (2);

c) trente jours après la date à laquelle la compagnie donne le préavis mentionné au paragraphe (3) ou à la date postérieure fixée par le tribunal, si ce dernier ordonne la résiliation du contrat en vertu de ce paragraphe.

Propriété intellectuelle

(6) Si la compagnie a autorisé par contrat une personne à utiliser un droit de propriété intellectuelle, la résiliation n'empêche pas la personne de l'utiliser ni d'en faire respecter l'utilisation exclusive, à condition qu'elle respecte ses obligations contractuelles à l'égard de l'utilisation de ce droit, et ce pour la période prévue au contrat et pour toute période additionnelle dont elle peut et décide de se prévaloir de son propre gré.

Pertes découlant de la résiliation

(7) En cas de résiliation du contrat, toute partie à celui-ci qui subit des pertes découlant de la résiliation est réputée avoir une réclamation prouvable.

Motifs de la résiliation

(8) Dans les cinq jours qui suivent la date à laquelle une partie au contrat le lui demande, la compagnie lui expose par écrit les motifs de son projet de résiliation.

Collective agreements

33 (1) If proceedings under this Act have been commenced in respect of a debtor company, any collective agreement that the company has entered into as the employer remains in force, and may not be altered except as provided in this section or under the laws of the jurisdiction governing collective bargaining between the company and the bargaining agent.

Application for authorization to serve notice to bargain

(2) A debtor company that is a party to a collective agreement and that is unable to reach a voluntary agreement with the bargaining agent to revise any of the provisions of the collective agreement may, on giving five days notice to the bargaining agent, apply to the court for an order authorizing the company to serve a notice to bargain under the laws of the jurisdiction governing collective bargaining between the company and the bargaining agent.

Conditions for issuance of order

(3) The court may issue the order only if it is satisfied that

- (a) a viable compromise or arrangement could not be made in respect of the company, taking into account the terms of the collective agreement;
- (b) the company has made good faith efforts to renegotiate the provisions of the collective agreement; and
- (c) a failure to issue the order is likely to result in irreparable damage to the company.

No delay on vote

(4) The vote of the creditors in respect of a compromise or an arrangement may not be delayed solely because the period provided in the laws of the jurisdiction governing

Conventions collectives

33 (1) Si une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard d'une compagnie débitrice, toute convention collective que celle-ci a conclue à titre d'employeur demeure en vigueur et ne peut être modifiée qu'en conformité avec le présent article ou les règles de droit applicables aux négociations entre les parties.

Demande pour que le tribunal autorise le début de négociations en vue de la révision

(2) Si elle est partie à une convention collective à titre d'employeur et qu'elle ne peut s'entendre librement avec l'agent négociateur sur la révision de celle-ci, la compagnie débitrice peut, après avoir donné un préavis de cinq jours à l'agent négociateur, demander au tribunal de l'autoriser, par ordonnance, à donner à l'agent négociateur un avis de négociations collectives pour que celui-ci entame les négociations collectives en vue de la révision de la convention collective conformément aux règles de droit applicables aux négociations entre les parties.

Cas où l'autorisation est accordée

(3) Le tribunal ne rend l'ordonnance que s'il est convaincu, à la fois :

- a) qu'une transaction ou un arrangement viable à l'égard de la compagnie ne pourrait être fait compte tenu des dispositions de la convention collective;
- b) que la compagnie a tenté de bonne foi d'en négocier de nouveau les dispositions;
- c) qu'elle subirait vraisemblablement des dommages irréparables si l'ordonnance n'était pas rendue.

Vote sur la proposition

(4) Le vote des créanciers sur la transaction ou l'arrangement ne peut être retardé pour la seule raison que le délai imparti par les règles de droit applicables aux collective bargaining between the company and the bargaining agent has not expired.

Claims arising from termination or amendment

(5) If the parties to the collective agreement agree to revise the collective agreement after proceedings have been commenced under this Act in respect of the company, the bargaining agent that is a party to the agreement is deemed to have a claim, as an unsecured creditor, for an amount equal to the value of concessions granted by the bargaining agent with respect to the remaining term of the collective agreement.

Order to disclose information

(6) On the application of the bargaining agent and on notice to the person to whom the application relates, the court may, subject to any terms and conditions it specifies, make an order requiring the person to make available to the bargaining agent any information specified by the court in the person's possession or control that relates to the company's business or financial affairs and that is relevant to the collective bargaining between the company and the bargaining agent. The court may make the order only after the company has been authorized to serve a notice to bargain under subsection (2).

Parties

(7) For the purpose of this section, the parties to a collective agreement are the debtor company and the bargaining agent that are bound by the collective agreement.

Unrevised collective agreements remain in force

(8) For greater certainty, any collective agreement that the company and the bargaining agent have not agreed to revise remains in force, and the court shall not alter its terms.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Certain rights limited

34 (1) No person may terminate or amend, or claim an accelerated payment or forfeiture of the term under, any agreement, including a security agreement, with a debtor company by reason only that proceedings commenced under this Act or that the company is insolvent.

Lease

(2) If the agreement referred to in subsection (1) is a lease, the lessor may not terminate or amend the lease by reason only that proceedings commenced under this Act, that the company is insolvent or that the company has not paid rent in respect of any period before the commencement of those proceedings.

négociations collectives entre les parties à la convention collective n'est pas expiré.

Réclamation consécutive à la révision

(5) Si les parties parviennent à une entente sur la révision de la convention collective après qu'une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard d'une compagnie, l'agent négociateur en cause est réputé avoir une réclamation à titre de créancier chirographaire pour une somme équivalant à la valeur des concessions accordées à l'égard de la période non écoulée de la convention.

Ordonnance de communication

(6) Sur demande de l'agent négociateur partie à la convention collective et sur avis aux personnes qui ont un intérêt, le tribunal peut ordonner à celles-ci de communiquer au demandeur, aux conditions qu'il précise, tout renseignement qu'elles ont en leur possession ou à leur disposition sur les affaires et la situation financière de la compagnie pertinent pour les négociations collectives. Le tribunal ne peut rendre l'ordonnance qu'après l'envoi à l'agent négociateur de l'avis de négociations collectives visé au paragraphe (2).

Parties

(7) Pour l'application du présent article, les parties à la convention collective sont la compagnie débitrice et l'agent négociateur liés par elle.

Maintien en vigueur des conventions collectives

(8) Il est entendu que toute convention collective que la compagnie et l'agent négociateur n'ont pas convenu de réviser demeure en vigueur et que les tribunaux ne peuvent en modifier les termes.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Limitation de certains droits

34 (1) Il est interdit de résilier ou de modifier un contrat — notamment un contrat de garantie — conclu avec une compagnie débitrice ou de se prévaloir d'une clause de déchéance du terme figurant dans un tel contrat au seul motif qu'une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard de la compagnie ou que celle-ci est insolvable.

Baux

(2) Lorsque le contrat visé au paragraphe (1) est un bail, l'interdiction prévue à ce paragraphe vaut également dans le cas où la compagnie est insolvable ou n'a pas payé son loyer à l'égard d'une période antérieure à l'introduction de la procédure.

Public utilities

(3) No public utility may discontinue service to a company by reason only that proceedings commenced under this Act, that the company is insolvent or that the company has not paid for services rendered or goods provided before the commencement of those proceedings.

Certain acts not prevented

(4) Nothing in this section is to be construed as

(a) prohibiting a person from requiring payments to be made in cash for goods, services, use of leased property or other valuable consideration provided after the commencement of proceedings under this Act;

(b) requiring the further advance of money or credit; or

(c) [Repealed, 2012, c. 31, s. 421]

Provisions of section override agreement

(5) Any provision in an agreement that has the effect of providing for, or permitting, anything that, in substance, is contrary to this section is of no force or effect.

Powers of court

(6) On application by a party to an agreement or by a public utility, the court may declare that this section does not apply — or applies only to the extent declared by the court — if the applicant satisfies the court that the operation of this section would likely cause the applicant significant financial hardship.

Eligible financial contracts

(7) Subsection (1) does not apply

(a) in respect of an eligible financial contract; or

(b) to prevent a member of the Canadian Payments Association from ceasing to act as a clearing agent or group clearer for a company in accordance with the Canadian Payments Act and the by-laws and rules of that Association.

Permitted actions

(8) The following actions are permitted in respect of an eligible financial contract that is entered into before proceedings under this Act are commenced in respect of the company and is terminated on or after that day, but only in accordance with the provisions of that contract:

Entreprise de service public

(3) Il est interdit à toute entreprise de service public d'interrompre la prestation de ses services auprès d'une compagnie débitrice au seul motif qu'une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard de la compagnie, que celle-ci est insolvable ou qu'elle n'a pas payé des services ou marchandises fournis avant l'introduction de la procédure.

Exceptions

(4) Le présent article n'a pas pour effet :

a) d'empêcher une personne d'exiger que soient effectués des paiements en espèces pour toute contrepartie de valeur — marchandises, services, biens loués ou autres — fournie après l'introduction d'une procédure sous le régime de la présente loi;

b) d'exiger la prestation de nouvelles avances de fonds ou de nouveaux crédits.

c) [Abrogé, 2012, ch. 31, art. 421]

Incompatibilité

(5) Le présent article l'emporte sur les dispositions incompatibles de tout contrat, celles-ci étant sans effet.

Pouvoirs du tribunal

(6) À la demande de l'une des parties à un contrat ou d'une entreprise de service public, le tribunal peut déclarer le présent article inapplicable, ou applicable uniquement dans la mesure qu'il précise, s'il est établi par le demandeur que son application lui causerait vraisemblablement de sérieuses difficultés financières.

Contrats financiers admissibles

(7) Le paragraphe (1) ne s'applique pas aux contrats financiers admissibles et n'a pas pour effet d'empêcher un membre de l'Association canadienne des paiements de cesser d'agir, pour une compagnie, à titre d'agent de compensation ou d'adhérent correspondant de groupe conformément à la Loi canadienne sur les paiements et aux règles et règlements administratifs de l'association.

Opérations permises

(8) Si le contrat financier admissible conclu avant qu'une procédure soit intentée sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard de la compagnie est résilié à la date d'introduction de la procédure ou par la suite, il est permis d'effectuer les opérations ci-après en conformité avec le contrat :

(a) the netting or setting off or compensation of obligations between the company and the other parties to the eligible financial contract; and

(b) any dealing with financial collateral including

(i) the sale or foreclosure or, in the Province of Quebec, the surrender of financial collateral, and

(ii) the setting off or compensation of financial collateral or the application of the proceeds or value of financial collateral.

Restriction

(9) No order may be made under this Act if the order would have the effect of staying or restraining the actions permitted under subsection (8).

Net termination values

(10) If net termination values determined in accordance with an eligible financial contract referred to in subsection (8) are owed by the company to another party to the eligible financial contract, that other party is deemed to be a creditor of the company with a claim against the company in respect of those net termination values.

Priority

(11) No order may be made under this Act if the order would have the effect of subordinating financial collateral.

Obligations and Prohibitions

Obligation to provide assistance

35 (1) A debtor company shall provide to the monitor the assistance that is necessary to enable the monitor to adequately carry out the monitor's functions.

Obligation to duties set out in section 158 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act

(2) A debtor company shall perform the duties set out in section 158 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act that are appropriate and applicable in the circumstances.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Restriction on disposition of business assets

36 (1) A debtor company in respect of which an order has been made under this Act may not sell or otherwise dispose of assets outside the ordinary course of business unless authorized to do so by a court. Despite any requirement for shareholder approval, including one under federal or provincial law, the court may authorize the sale

a) la compensation des obligations entre la compagnie et les autres parties au contrat;

b) toute opération à l'égard de la garantie financière afférente, notamment :

(i) la vente, la demande en forclusion ou, dans la province de Québec, la demande en délaissement,

(ii) la compensation, ou l'affectation de son produit ou de sa valeur.

Restriction

(9) Aucune ordonnance rendue au titre de la présente loi ne peut avoir pour effet de suspendre ou de restreindre le droit d'effectuer les opérations visées au paragraphe (8).

Valeurs nettes dues à la date de résiliation

(10) Si, aux termes du contrat financier admissible visé au paragraphe (8), des sommes sont dues par la compagnie à une autre partie au contrat au titre de valeurs nettes dues à la date de résiliation, cette autre partie est réputée être un créancier de la compagnie relativement à ces sommes.

Rang

(11) Il ne peut être rendu, au titre de la présente loi, aucune ordonnance dont l'effet serait d'assigner un rang inférieur à toute garantie financière.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 29, art. 109, ch. 36, art. 77 et 112; 2012, ch. 31, art. 421.

or disposition even if shareholder approval was not obtained.

Notice to creditors

(2) A company that applies to the court for an authorization is to give notice of the application to the secured creditors who are likely to be affected by the proposed sale or disposition.

Factors to be considered

(3) In deciding whether to grant the authorization, the court is to consider, among other things,

- (a) whether the process leading to the proposed sale or disposition was reasonable in the circumstances;
- (b) whether the monitor approved the process leading to the proposed sale or disposition;
- (c) whether the monitor filed with the court a report stating that in their opinion the sale or disposition would be more beneficial to the creditors than a sale or disposition under a bankruptcy;
- (d) the extent to which the creditors were consulted;
- (e) the effects of the proposed sale or disposition on the creditors and other interested parties; and
- (f) whether the consideration to be received for the assets is reasonable and fair, taking into account their market value.

Additional factors — related persons

(4) If the proposed sale or disposition is to a person who is related to the company, the court may, after considering the factors referred to in subsection (3), grant the authorization only if it is satisfied that

- (a) good faith efforts were made to sell or otherwise dispose of the assets to persons who are not related to the company; and
- (b) the consideration to be received is superior to the consideration that would be received under any other offer made in accordance with the process leading to the proposed sale or disposition.

Related persons

(5) For the purpose of subsection (4), a person who is related to the company includes des actionnaires, et ce malgré toute exigence à cet effet, notamment en vertu d'une règle de droit fédérale ou provinciale.

Avis aux créanciers

(2) La compagnie qui demande l'autorisation au tribunal en avise les créanciers garantis qui peuvent vraisemblablement être touchés par le projet de disposition.

Facteurs à prendre en considération

(3) Pour décider s'il accorde l'autorisation, le tribunal prend en considération, entre autres, les facteurs suivants :

- a) la justification des circonstances ayant mené au projet de disposition;
- b) l'acquiescement du contrôleur au processus ayant mené au projet de disposition, le cas échéant;
- c) le dépôt par celui-ci d'un rapport précisant que, à son avis, la disposition sera plus avantageuse pour les créanciers que si elle était faite dans le cadre de la faillite;
- d) la suffisance des consultations menées auprès des créanciers;
- e) les effets du projet de disposition sur les droits de tout intéressé, notamment les créanciers;
- f) le caractère juste et raisonnable de la contrepartie reçue pour les actifs compte tenu de leur valeur marchande.

Autres facteurs

(4) Si la compagnie projette de disposer d'actifs en faveur d'une personne à laquelle elle est liée, le tribunal, après avoir pris ces facteurs en considération, ne peut accorder l'autorisation que s'il est convaincu :

- a) d'une part, que les efforts voulus ont été faits pour disposer des actifs en faveur d'une personne qui n'est pas liée à la compagnie;
- b) d'autre part, que la contrepartie offerte pour les actifs est plus avantageuse que celle qui découlerait de toute autre offre reçue dans le cadre du projet de disposition.

Personnes liées

(5) Pour l'application du paragraphe (4), les personnes ci-après sont considérées comme liées à la compagnie :

- (a) a director or officer of the company;
- (b) a person who has or has had, directly or indirectly, control in fact of the company; and
- (c) a person who is related to a person described in paragraph (a) or (b).

Assets may be disposed of free and clear

(6) The court may authorize a sale or disposition free and clear of any security, charge or other restriction and, if it does, it shall also order that other assets of the company or the proceeds of the sale or disposition be subject to a security, charge or other restriction in favour of the creditor whose security, charge or other restriction is to be affected by the order.

Restriction — employers

(7) The court may grant the authorization only if the court is satisfied that the company can and will make the payments that would have been required under paragraphs 6(4)(a) and (5)(a) if the court had sanctioned the compromise or arrangement.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 78.

Preferences and Transfers at Undervalue

Application of sections 38 and 95 to 101 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act 36.1 (1) Sections 38 and 95 to 101 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act apply, with any modifications that the circumstances require, in respect of a compromise or arrangement unless the compromise or arrangement provides otherwise.

Interpretation

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a reference in sections 38 and 95 to 101 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act

- (a) to “date of the bankruptcy” is to be read as a reference to “day on which proceedings commence under this Act”;
- (b) to “trustee” is to be read as a reference to “monitor”; and
- (c) to “bankrupt”, “insolvent person” or “debtor” is to be read as a reference to “debtor company”.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 78.

- a) le dirigeant ou l'administrateur de celle-ci;
- b) la personne qui, directement ou indirectement, en a ou en a eu le contrôle de fait;
- c) la personne liée à toute personne visée aux alinéas a) ou b).

Autorisation de disposer des actifs en les libérant de restrictions

(6) Le tribunal peut autoriser la disposition d'actifs de la compagnie, purgés de toute charge, sûreté ou autre restriction, et, le cas échéant, est tenu d'assujettir le produit de la disposition ou d'autres de ses actifs à une charge, sûreté ou autre restriction en faveur des créanciers touchés par la purge.

Restriction à l'égard des employeurs

(7) Il ne peut autoriser la disposition que s'il est convaincu que la compagnie est en mesure d'effectuer et effectuera les paiements qui auraient été exigés en vertu des alinéas 6(4)a) et (5)a) s'il avait homologué la transaction ou l'arrangement.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 78.

Traitements préférentiels et opérations sous-évaluées

Application des articles 38 et 95 à 101 de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité

36.1 (1) Les articles 38 et 95 à 101 de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité s'appliquent, avec les adaptations nécessaires, à la transaction ou à l'arrangement sauf disposition contraire de ceux-ci.

Interprétation

(2) Pour l'application du paragraphe (1), la mention, aux articles 38 et 95 à 101 de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité, de la date de la faillite vaut mention de la date à laquelle une procédure a été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi, celle du syndic vaut mention du contrôleur et celle du failli, de la personne insolvable ou du débiteur vaut mention de la compagnie débitrice.

Her Majesty

Deemed trusts

37 (1) Subject to subsection (2), despite any provision in federal or provincial legislation that has the effect of deeming property to be held in trust for Her Majesty, property of a debtor company shall not be regarded as being held in trust for Her Majesty unless it would be so regarded in the absence of that statutory provision.

Exceptions

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply in respect of amounts deemed to be held in trust under subsection 227(4) or (4.1) of the Income Tax Act, subsection 23(3) or (4) of the Canada Pension Plan or subsection 86(2) or (2.1) of the Employment Insurance Act (each of which is in this subsection referred to as a “federal provision”), nor does it apply in respect of amounts deemed to be held in trust under any law of a province that creates a deemed trust the sole purpose of which is to ensure remittance to Her Majesty in right of the province of amounts deducted or withheld under a law of the province if

(a) that law of the province imposes a tax similar in nature to the tax imposed under the Income Tax Act and the amounts deducted or withheld under that law of the province are of the same nature as the amounts referred to in subsection 227(4) or (4.1) of the Income Tax Act, or

(b) the province is a province providing a comprehensive pension plan as defined in subsection 3(1) of the Canada Pension Plan, that law of the province establishes a provincial pension plan as defined in that subsection and the amounts deducted or withheld under that law of the province are of the same nature as amounts referred to in subsection 23(3) or (4) of the Canada Pension Plan, and for the purpose of this subsection, any provision of a law of a province that creates a deemed trust is, despite any Act of Canada or of a province or any other law, deemed to have the same effect and scope against any creditor, however secured, as the corresponding federal provision.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Fiducies présumées

37 (1) Sous réserve du paragraphe (2) et par dérogation à toute disposition législative fédérale ou provinciale ayant pour effet d'assimiler certains biens à des biens détenus en fiducie pour Sa Majesté, aucun des biens de la compagnie débitrice ne peut être considéré comme tel par le seul effet d'une telle disposition.

Exceptions

(2) Le paragraphe (1) ne s'applique pas à l'égard des sommes réputées détenues en fiducie aux termes des paragraphes 227(4) ou (4.1) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, des paragraphes 23(3) ou (4) du Régime de pensions du Canada ou des paragraphes 86(2) ou (2.1) de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi (chacun étant appelé « disposition fédérale » au présent paragraphe) ou à l'égard des sommes réputées détenues en fiducie aux termes de toute loi d'une province créant une fiducie présumée dans le seul but d'assurer à Sa Majesté du chef de cette province la remise de sommes déduites ou retenues aux termes d'une loi de cette province, si, dans ce dernier cas, se réalise l'une des conditions suivantes :

a) la loi de cette province prévoit un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à celui prévu par la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, et les sommes déduites ou retenues au titre de cette loi provinciale sont de même nature que celles visées aux paragraphes 227(4) ou (4.1) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu;

b) cette province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) du Régime de pensions du Canada, la loi de cette province institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe, et les sommes déduites ou retenues au titre de cette loi provinciale sont de même nature que celles visées aux paragraphes 23(3) ou (4) du Régime de pensions du Canada.

Pour l'application du présent paragraphe, toute disposition de la loi provinciale qui crée une fiducie présumée est réputée avoir, à l'encontre de tout créancier de la compagnie et malgré tout texte législatif fédéral ou provincial et toute règle de droit, la même portée et le même effet que la disposition fédérale correspondante, quelle que soit la garantie dont bénéficie le créancier.

Exceptions

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply

(a) in respect of claims that are secured by a security or charge of a kind that can be obtained by persons other than Her Majesty or a workers’ compensation body

(i) pursuant to any law, or

(ii) pursuant to provisions of federal or provincial legislation if those provisions do not have as their sole or principal purpose the establishment of a means of securing claims of Her Majesty or a workers’ compensation body; and

(b) to the extent provided in subsection 39(2), to claims that are secured by a security referred to in subsection 39(1), if the security is registered in accordance with subsection 39(1).

Operation of similar legislation

(3) Subsection (1) does not affect the operation of

(a) subsections 224(1.2) and (1.3) of the Income Tax Act,

(b) any provision of the Canada Pension Plan or of the Employment Insurance Act that refers to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act and provides for the collection of a contribution, as defined in the Canada Pension Plan, an employee’s premium, or employer’s premium, as defined in the Employment Insurance Act, or a premium under Part VII.1 of that Act, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts, or

(c) any provision of provincial legislation that has a purpose similar to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act, or that refers to that subsection, to the extent that it provides for the collection of a sum, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts if the sum

(i) has been withheld or deducted by a person from a payment to another person and is in respect of a tax similar in nature to the income tax imposed on individuals under the Income Tax Act, or

(ii) is of the same nature as a contribution under the Canada Pension Plan if the province is a province providing a comprehensive pension plan as defined in subsection 3(1) of the Canada Pension Plan and the provincial legislation

compris les réclamations garanties, prennent rang comme réclamations non garanties.

Exceptions

(2) Sont soustraites à l’application du paragraphe (1) :

a) les réclamations garanties par un type de charge ou de sûreté dont toute personne, et non seulement Sa Majesté ou l’organisme, peut se prévaloir au titre de dispositions législatives fédérales ou provinciales n’ayant pas pour seul ou principal objet l’établissement de mécanismes garantissant les réclamations de Sa Majesté ou de l’organisme, ou au titre de toute autre règle de droit;

b) les réclamations garanties et enregistrées aux termes du paragraphe 39(1), dans la mesure prévue au paragraphe 39(2).

Effet

(3) Le paragraphe (1) n’a pas pour effet de porter atteinte à l’application des dispositions suivantes :

a) les paragraphes 224(1.2) et (1.3) de la Loi de l’impôt sur le revenu;

b) toute disposition du Régime de pensions du Canada ou de la Loi sur l’assurance-emploi qui renvoie au paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l’impôt sur le revenu et qui prévoit la perception d’une cotisation, au sens du Régime de pensions du Canada, d’une cotisation ouvrière ou d’une cotisation patronale, au sens de la Loi sur l’assurance-emploi, ou d’une cotisation prévue par la partie VII.1 de cette loi ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents;

c) toute disposition législative provinciale dont l’objet est semblable à celui du paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l’impôt sur le revenu, ou qui renvoie à ce paragraphe, et qui prévoit la perception d’une somme, ainsi que des intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents, laquelle :

(i) soit a été retenue par une personne sur un paiement effectué à une autre personne, ou déduite d’un tel paiement, et se rapporte à un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à l’impôt sur le revenu auquel les particuliers sont assujettis en vertu de la Loi de l’impôt sur le revenu,

Statutory Crown securities

39 (1) In relation to proceedings under this Act in respect of a debtor company, a security provided for in federal or provincial legislation for the sole or principal purpose of securing a claim of Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province or a workers' compensation body is valid in relation to claims against the company only if, before the day on which proceedings commence, the security is registered under a system of registration of securities that is available not only to Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province or a workers' compensation body, but also to any other creditor who holds a security, and that is open to the public for information or the making of searches.

Effect of security

(2) A security referred to in subsection (1) that is registered in accordance with that subsection

(a) is subordinate to securities in respect of which all steps necessary to setting them up against other creditors were taken before that registration; and

(b) is valid only in respect of amounts owing to Her Majesty or a workers' compensation body at the time of that registration, plus any interest subsequently accruing on those amounts.

2005, c. 47, s. 131; 2007, c. 36, s. 79.

Act binding on Her Majesty

40 This Act is binding on Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

(ii) soit est de même nature qu'une cotisation prévue par le Régime de pensions du Canada, si la province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) de cette loi et si la loi provinciale institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe.

Pour l'application de l'alinéa c), la disposition législative provinciale en question est réputée avoir, à l'encontre de tout créancier et malgré tout texte législatif fédéral ou provincial et toute autre règle de droit, la même portée et le même effet que le paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu quant à la somme visée au sous-alinéa c)(i), ou que le paragraphe 23(2) du Régime de pensions du Canada quant à la somme visée au sous-alinéa c)(ii), et quant aux intérêts, pénalités et autres charges afférents, quelle que soit la garantie dont bénéficie le créancier.

Garanties créées par législation

39 (1) Dans le cadre de toute procédure intentée à l'égard d'une compagnie débitrice sous le régime de la présente loi, les garanties créées aux termes d'une loi fédérale ou provinciale dans le seul but — ou principalement dans le but — de protéger des réclamations de Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province ou d'un organisme compétent au titre d'une loi sur les accidents du travail ne sont valides que si elles ont été enregistrées avant la date d'introduction de la procédure et selon un système d'enregistrement des garanties qui est accessible non seulement à Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou de la province ou à l'organisme, mais aussi aux autres créanciers détenant des garanties, et qui est accessible au public à des fins de consultation ou de recherche.

Rang

(2) Les garanties enregistrées conformément au paragraphe (1) :

a) prennent rang après toute autre garantie à l'égard de laquelle les mesures requises pour la rendre opposable aux autres créanciers ont toutes été prises avant l'enregistrement;

b) ne sont valides que pour les sommes dues à Sa Majesté ou à l'organisme lors de l'enregistrement et les intérêts échus depuis sur celles-ci.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131; 2007, ch. 36, art. 79.

Obligation de Sa Majesté

40 La présente loi lie Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Miscellaneous

Certain sections of Winding-up and Restructuring Act do not apply

41 Sections 65 and 66 of the Winding-up and Restructuring Act do not apply to any compromise or arrangement to which this Act applies.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Act to be applied conjointly with other Acts

42 The provisions of this Act may be applied together with the provisions of any Act of Parliament, or of the legislature of any province, that authorizes or makes provision for the sanction of compromises or arrangements between a company and its shareholders or any class of them.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Claims in foreign currency

43 If a compromise or an arrangement is proposed in respect of a debtor company, a claim for a debt that is payable in a currency other than Canadian currency is to be converted to Canadian currency as of the date of the initial application in respect of the company unless otherwise provided in the proposed compromise or arrangement.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

PART IV

Cross-border Insolvencies

Purpose

Purpose

44 The purpose of this Part is to provide mechanisms for dealing with cases of cross-border insolvencies and to promote

- (a) cooperation between the courts and other competent authorities in Canada with those of foreign jurisdictions in cases of cross-border insolvencies;
- (b) greater legal certainty for trade and investment;
- (c) the fair and efficient administration of cross-border insolvencies that protects the interests of creditors and other interested persons, and those of debtor companies;

Dispositions diverses

41 Les articles 65 et 66 de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations ne s'appliquent à aucune transaction ni à aucun arrangement auxquels la présente loi est applicable.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Application concurrente d'autres lois

42 Les dispositions de la présente loi peuvent être appliquées conjointement avec celles de toute loi fédérale ou provinciale, autorisant ou prévoyant l'homologation de transactions ou arrangements entre une compagnie et ses actionnaires ou une catégorie de ces derniers.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Créances en monnaies étrangères

43 Dans le cas où une transaction ou un arrangement est proposé à l'égard d'une compagnie débitrice, la réclamation visant une créance en devises étrangères doit être convertie en monnaie canadienne au taux en vigueur à la date de la demande initiale, sauf disposition contraire de la transaction ou de l'arrangement.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

PARTIE IV

Insolvabilité en contexte international

Objet

Objet

44 La présente partie a pour objet d'offrir des moyens pour traiter des cas d'insolvabilité en contexte international et de promouvoir les objectifs suivants :

- a) assurer la coopération entre les tribunaux et les autres autorités compétentes du Canada et ceux des ressorts étrangers intervenant dans de tels cas;
- b) garantir une plus grande certitude juridique dans le commerce et les investissements;
- c) administrer équitablement et efficacement les affaires d'insolvabilité en contexte international, de manière à protéger les intérêts des créanciers et des

Interpretation

Definitions

45 (1) The following definitions apply in this Part.

foreign court means a judicial or other authority competent to control or supervise a foreign proceeding. (tribunal étranger) foreign main proceeding means a foreign proceeding in a jurisdiction where the debtor company has the centre of its main interests. (principale) foreign non-main proceeding means a foreign proceeding, other than a foreign main proceeding. (secondaire) foreign proceeding means a judicial or an administrative proceeding, including an interim proceeding, in a jurisdiction outside Canada dealing with creditors' collective interests generally under any law relating to bankruptcy or insolvency in which a debtor company's business and financial affairs are subject to control or supervision by a foreign court for the purpose of reorganization. (instance étrangère) foreign representative means a person or body, including one appointed on an interim basis, who is authorized, in a foreign proceeding respect of a debtor company, to

(a) monitor the debtor company's business and financial affairs for the purpose of reorganization; or

(b) act as a representative in respect of the foreign proceeding. (représentant étranger)

Centre of debtor company's main interests

(2) For the purposes of this Part, in the absence of proof to the contrary, a debtor company's registered office is deemed to be the centre of its main interests.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Définitions

Définitions

45 (1) Les définitions qui suivent s'appliquent à la présente partie.

instance étrangère Procédure judiciaire ou administrative, y compris la procédure provisoire, régie par une loi étrangère relative à la faillite ou à l'insolvabilité qui touche les droits de l'ensemble des créanciers et dans le cadre de laquelle les affaires financières et autres de la compagnie débitrice sont placées sous la responsabilité ou la surveillance d'un tribunal étranger aux fins de réorganisation. (foreign proceeding)

principale Qualifie l'instance étrangère qui a lieu dans le ressort où la compagnie débitrice a ses principales affaires. (foreign main proceeding) représentant étranger Personne ou organe qui, même à titre provisoire, est autorisé dans le cadre d'une instance étrangère à surveiller les affaires financières ou autres de la compagnie débitrice aux fins de réorganisation, ou à agir en tant que représentant. (foreign representative) secondaire Qualifie l'instance étrangère autre que l'instance étrangère principale. (foreign non-main proceeding) tribunal étranger Autorité, judiciaire ou autre, compétente pour contrôler ou surveiller des instances étrangères. (foreign court)

Lieu des principales affaires

(2) Pour l'application de la présente partie, sauf preuve contraire, le siège social de la compagnie débitrice est présumé être le lieu où elle a ses principales affaires.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Recognition of Foreign Proceeding

Application for recognition of a foreign proceeding

46 (1) A foreign representative may apply to the court for recognition of the foreign proceeding in respect of which he or she is a foreign representative.

Documents that must accompany application

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the application must be accompanied by

(a) a certified copy of the instrument, however designated, that commenced the foreign proceeding or a certificate from the foreign court affirming the existence of the foreign proceeding;

(b) a certified copy of the instrument, however designated, authorizing the foreign representative to act in that capacity or a certificate from the foreign court affirming the foreign representative's authority to act in that capacity; and

(c) a statement identifying all foreign proceedings in respect of the debtor company that are known to the foreign representative.

Documents may be considered as proof

(3) The court may, without further proof, accept the documents referred to in paragraphs (2)(a) and (b) as evidence that the proceeding to which they relate is a foreign proceeding and that the applicant is a foreign representative in respect of the foreign proceeding.

Other evidence

(4) In the absence of the documents referred to in paragraphs (2)(a) and (b), the court may accept any other evidence of the existence of the foreign proceeding and of the foreign representative's authority that it considers appropriate.

Translation

(5) The court may require a translation of any document accompanying the application.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Order recognizing foreign proceeding

47 (1) If the court is satisfied that the application for the recognition of a foreign proceeding relates to a foreign proceeding and that the applicant is a foreign representative in respect of that foreign proceeding, the court shall make an order recognizing the foreign proceeding.

Reconnaissance des instances étrangères

Demande de reconnaissance de l'instance étrangère

46 (1) Le représentant étranger peut demander au tribunal de reconnaître l'instance étrangère dans le cadre de laquelle il a qualité.

Documents accompagnant la demande de reconnaissance

(2) La demande de reconnaissance est accompagnée des documents suivants :

a) une copie certifiée conforme de l'acte — quelle qu'en soit la désignation — introductif de l'instance étrangère ou le certificat délivré par le tribunal étranger attestant l'introduction de celle-ci;

b) une copie certifiée conforme de l'acte — quelle qu'en soit la désignation — autorisant le représentant étranger à agir à ce titre ou le certificat délivré par le tribunal étranger attestant la qualité de celui-ci;

c) une déclaration faisant état de toutes les instances étrangères visant la compagnie débitrice qui sont connues du représentant étranger.

Documents acceptés comme preuve

(3) Le tribunal peut, sans preuve supplémentaire, accepter les documents visés aux alinéas (2)a) et b) comme preuve du fait qu'il s'agit d'une instance étrangère et que le demandeur est le représentant étranger dans le cadre de celle-ci.

Autre preuve

(4) En l'absence des documents visés aux alinéas (2)a) et b), il peut accepter toute autre preuve — qu'il estime indiquée — de l'introduction de l'instance étrangère et de la qualité du représentant étranger.

Traduction

(5) Il peut exiger la traduction des documents accompagnant la demande de reconnaissance.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Ordonnance de reconnaissance

47 (1) S'il est convaincu que la demande de reconnaissance vise une instance étrangère et que le demandeur est un représentant étranger dans le cadre de celle-ci, le tribunal reconnaît, par ordonnance, l'instance étrangère en cause.

Nature of foreign proceeding to be specified

(2) The court shall specify in the order whether the foreign proceeding is a foreign main proceeding or a foreign non-main proceeding.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Order relating to recognition of a foreign main proceeding

48 (1) Subject to subsections (2) to (4), on the making of an order recognizing a foreign proceeding that is specified to be a foreign main proceeding, the court shall make an order, subject to any terms and conditions it considers appropriate,

(a) staying, until otherwise ordered by the court, for any period that the court considers necessary, all proceedings taken or that might be taken against the debtor company under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act or the Winding-up and Restructuring Act;

(b) restraining, until otherwise ordered by the court, further proceedings in any action, suit or proceeding against the debtor company;

(c) prohibiting, until otherwise ordered by the court, the commencement of any action, suit or proceeding against the debtor company; and

(d) prohibiting the debtor company from selling or otherwise disposing of, outside the ordinary course of its business, any of the debtor company's property in Canada that relates to the business and prohibiting the debtor company from selling or otherwise disposing of any of its other property in Canada.

Scope of order

(2) The order made under subsection (1) must be consistent with any order that may be made under this Act.

When subsection (1) does not apply

(3) Subsection (1) does not apply if any proceedings under this Act have been commenced in respect of the debtor company at the time the order recognizing the foreign proceeding is made.

Application of this and other Acts

(4) Nothing in subsection (1) precludes the debtor company from commencing or continuing proceedings under this Act, the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act or the Winding-up and Restructuring Act in respect of the debtor company.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Nature de l'instance

(2) Il précise dans l'ordonnance s'il s'agit d'une instance étrangère principale ou secondaire.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Effets de la reconnaissance d'une instance étrangère principale

48 (1) Sous réserve des paragraphes (2) à (4), si l'ordonnance de reconnaissance précise qu'il s'agit d'une instance étrangère principale, le tribunal, par ordonnance, selon les modalités qu'il estime indiquées :

a) suspend, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, toute procédure qui est ou pourrait être intentée contre la compagnie sous le régime de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité ou de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations;

b) surseoit, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, à la continuation de toute action, poursuite ou autre procédure contre la compagnie;

c) interdit, jusqu'à nouvel ordre, l'introduction de toute action, poursuite ou autre procédure contre la compagnie;

d) interdit à la compagnie de disposer, notamment par vente, des biens de son entreprise situés au Canada hors du cours ordinaire des affaires ou de ses autres biens situés au Canada.

Compatibilité

(2) L'ordonnance visée au paragraphe (1) doit être compatible avec les autres ordonnances rendues sous le régime de la présente loi.

Non-application du paragraphe (1)

(3) Le paragraphe (1) ne s'applique pas si au moment où l'ordonnance de reconnaissance est rendue une procédure a déjà été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi contre la compagnie débitrice.

Application de la présente loi et d'autres lois

(4) Le paragraphe (1) n'a pas pour effet d'empêcher la compagnie débitrice d'intenter ou de continuer une procédure sous le régime de la présente loi, de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité ou de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations.

Other orders

49 (1) If an order recognizing a foreign proceeding is made, the court may, on application by the foreign representative who applied for the order, if the court is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of the debtor company's property or the interests of a creditor or creditors, make any order that it considers appropriate, including an order

- (a) if the foreign proceeding is a foreign non-main proceeding, referred to in subsection 48(1);
- (b) respecting the examination of witnesses, the taking of evidence or the delivery of information concerning the debtor company's property, business and financial affairs, debts, liabilities and obligations; and
- (c) authorizing the foreign representative to monitor the debtor company's business and financial affairs in Canada for the purpose of reorganization.

Restriction

(2) If any proceedings under this Act have been commenced in respect of the debtor company at the time an order recognizing the foreign proceeding is made, an order made under subsection (1) must be consistent with any order that may be made in any proceedings under this Act.

Application of this and other Acts

(3) The making of an order under paragraph (1)(a) does not preclude the commencement or the continuation of proceedings under this Act, the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act or the Winding-up and Restructuring Act in respect of the debtor company.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Terms and conditions of orders

50 An order under this Part may be made on any terms and conditions that the court considers appropriate in the circumstances.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Commencement or continuation of proceedings

51 If an order is made recognizing a foreign proceeding, the foreign representative may commence and continue proceedings under this Act in respect of a debtor company as if the foreign representative were a creditor of the debtor company, or the debtor company, as the case may be.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Autre ordonnance

49 (1) Une fois l'ordonnance de reconnaissance rendue, le tribunal, sur demande présentée par le représentant étranger demandeur, peut, s'il est convaincu que la mesure est nécessaire pour protéger les biens de la compagnie débitrice ou les intérêts d'un ou plusieurs créanciers, rendre toute ordonnance qu'il estime indiquée, notamment pour :

- a) s'il s'agit d'une instance étrangère secondaire, imposer les interdictions visées au paragraphe 48(1);
- b) régir l'interrogatoire des témoins et la manière de recueillir des preuves ou fournir des renseignements concernant les biens, affaires financières et autres, dettes, obligations et engagements de la compagnie débitrice;
- c) autoriser le représentant étranger à surveiller les affaires financières et autres de la compagnie débitrice qui se rapportent à ses opérations au Canada.

Restriction

(2) Si, au moment où l'ordonnance de reconnaissance est rendue, une procédure a déjà été intentée sous le régime de la présente loi contre la compagnie débitrice, l'ordonnance prévue au paragraphe (1) doit être compatible avec toute ordonnance qui peut être rendue dans le cadre de cette procédure.

Application de la présente loi et d'autres lois

(3) L'ordonnance rendue au titre de l'alinéa (1)a) n'a pas pour effet d'empêcher que soit intentée ou continuée, contre la compagnie débitrice, une procédure sous le régime de la présente loi, de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité ou de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Conditions

50 Le tribunal peut assortir les ordonnances qu'il rend au titre de la présente partie des conditions qu'il estime indiquées dans les circonstances.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Début et continuation de la procédure

51 Une fois l'ordonnance de reconnaissance rendue, le représentant étranger en cause peut intenter ou continuer la procédure visée par la présente loi comme s'il était créancier de la compagnie débitrice ou la compagnie débitrice elle-même, selon le cas.

Multiple Proceedings

Concurrent proceedings

54 If any proceedings under this Act in respect of a debtor company are commenced at any time after an order recognizing the foreign proceeding is made, the court shall review any order made under section 49 and, if it determines that the order is inconsistent with any orders made in the proceedings under this Act, the court shall amend or revoke the order.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Instances multiples

Instances concomitantes

54 Si, après qu'a été rendue une ordonnance de reconnaissance à l'égard d'une instance étrangère visant une compagnie débitrice, une procédure est intentée sous le régime de la présente loi contre cette compagnie, le tribunal examine toute ordonnance rendue au titre de l'article 49 et, s'il conclut qu'elle n'est pas compatible avec toute ordonnance rendue dans le cadre des procédures intentées sous le régime de la présente loi, il la modifie ou la révoque.

Multiple foreign proceedings

55 (1) If, at any time after an order is made in respect of a foreign non-main proceeding in respect of a debtor company, an order recognizing a foreign main proceeding is made in respect of the debtor company, the court shall review any order made under section 49 in respect of the foreign non-main proceeding and, if it determines that the order is inconsistent with any orders made under that section in respect of the foreign main proceedings, the court shall amend or revoke the order.

Multiple foreign proceedings

(2) If, at any time after an order is made in respect of a foreign non-main proceeding in respect of the debtor company, an order recognizing another foreign non-main proceeding is made in respect of the debtor company, the court shall, for the purpose of facilitating the coordination of the foreign non-main proceedings, review any order made under section 49 in respect of the first recognized proceeding and amend or revoke the order if it considers it appropriate.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Plusieurs instances étrangères

55 (1) Si, après qu'a été rendue une ordonnance de reconnaissance à l'égard d'une instance étrangère secondaire visant une compagnie débitrice, une ordonnance de reconnaissance est rendue à l'égard d'une instance étrangère principale visant la même compagnie, toute ordonnance rendue au titre de l'article 49 dans le cadre de l'instance étrangère secondaire doit être compatible avec toute ordonnance qui peut être rendue au titre de cet article dans le cadre de l'instance étrangère principale.

Plusieurs instances étrangères

(2) Si, après qu'a été rendue une ordonnance de reconnaissance à l'égard d'une instance étrangère secondaire visant une compagnie débitrice, une autre ordonnance de reconnaissance est rendue à l'égard d'une instance étrangère secondaire visant la même compagnie, le tribunal examine, en vue de coordonner les instances étrangères secondaires, toute ordonnance rendue au titre de l'article 49 dans le cadre de la première procédure reconnue et la modifie ou la révoque s'il l'estime indiqué.

Presumption of insolvency

59 For the purposes of this Part, if an insolvency or a reorganization or a similar order has been made in respect of a debtor company in a foreign proceeding, a certified copy of the order is, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, proof that the debtor company is insolvent and proof of the appointment of the foreign representative made by the order.

2005, c. 47, s. 131.

Credit for recovery in other jurisdictions

60 (1) In making a compromise or an arrangement of a debtor company, the following shall be taken into account in the distribution of dividends to the company's creditors in Canada as if they were a part of that distribution:

(a) the amount that a creditor receives or is entitled to receive outside Canada by way of a dividend in a foreign proceeding in respect of the company; and

(b) the value of any property of the company that the creditor acquires outside Canada on account of a provable claim of the creditor or that the creditor acquires outside Canada by way of a transfer that, if it were subject to this Act, would be a preference over other creditors or a transfer at undervalue.

Restriction

(2) Despite subsection (1), the creditor is not entitled to receive a dividend from the distribution in Canada until every other creditor who has a claim of equal rank in the vue d'obtenir la reconnaissance de celle-ci dans un ressort étranger.

Statut du représentant étranger

57 Le représentant étranger n'est pas soumis à la juridiction du tribunal pour le motif qu'il a présenté une demande au titre de la présente partie, sauf en ce qui touche les frais de justice; le tribunal peut toutefois subordonner toute ordonnance visée à la présente partie à l'observation par le représentant étranger de toute autre ordonnance rendue par lui.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Instance étrangère : appel

58 Le fait qu'une instance étrangère fait l'objet d'un appel ou d'une révision n'a pas pour effet d'empêcher le représentant étranger de présenter toute demande au tribunal au titre de la présente partie; malgré ce fait, le tribunal peut, sur demande, accorder des redressements.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Présomption d'insolvabilité

59 Pour l'application de la présente partie, une copie certifiée conforme de l'ordonnance d'insolvabilité ou de réorganisation ou de toute ordonnance semblable, rendue contre une compagnie débitrice dans le cadre d'une instance étrangère, fait foi, sauf preuve contraire, de l'insolvabilité de celle-ci et de la nomination du représentant étranger au titre de l'ordonnance.

2005, ch. 47, art. 131.

Sommes reçues à l'étranger

60 (1) Lorsqu'une transaction ou un arrangement visant la compagnie débitrice est proposé, les éléments énumérés ci-après doivent être pris en considération dans la distribution des dividendes aux créanciers d'un débiteur au Canada comme s'ils faisaient partie de la distribution :

a) les sommes qu'un créancier a reçues — ou auxquelles il a droit — à l'étranger, à titre de dividende, dans le cadre d'une instance étrangère le visant;

b) la valeur de tout bien de la compagnie que le créancier a acquis à l'étranger au titre d'une créance prouvable ou par suite d'un transfert qui, si la présente loi lui était applicable, procurerait à un créancier une préférence sur d'autres créanciers ou constituerait une opération sous-évaluée.

Restriction

(2) Le créancier n'a toutefois pas le droit de recevoir un dividende dans le cadre de la distribution faite au Canada tant que les titulaires des créances venant au même rang

Application de règles étrangères

61 (1) La présente partie n'a pas pour effet d'empêcher le tribunal d'appliquer, sur demande faite par le représentant étranger ou tout autre intéressé, toute règle de droit ou d'équité relative à la reconnaissance des ordonnances étrangères en matière d'insolvabilité et à l'assistance à prêter au représentant étranger, dans la mesure où elle n'est pas incompatible avec les dispositions de la présente loi.

Exception relative à l'ordre public

(2) La présente partie n'a pas pour effet d'empêcher le tribunal de refuser de prendre une mesure contraire à l'ordre public.

OFFICIAL STATUS OF CONSOLIDATIONS

Subsections 31(1) and (2) of the Legislation Revision and Consolidation Act, in force on June 1, 2009, provide as follows:

Published consolidation is evidence

31 (1) Every copy of a consolidated statute or consolidated regulation published by the Minister under this Act in either print or electronic form is evidence of that statute or regulation and of its contents and every copy purporting to be published by the Minister is deemed to be so published, unless the contrary is shown.

Inconsistencies in Acts

(2) In the event of an inconsistency between a consolidated statute published by the Minister under this Act and the original statute or a subsequent amendment as certified by the Clerk of the Parliaments under the Publication of Statutes Act, the original statute or amendment prevails to the extent of the inconsistency.

NOTE

This consolidation is current to December 11, 2017. The last amendments came into force on September 21, 2017. Any amendments that were not in force as of December 11, 2017 are set out at the end of this document under the heading "Amendments Not in Force".

CARACTÈRE OFFICIEL DES CODIFICATIONS

Les paragraphes 31(1) et (2) de la Loi sur la révision et la codification des textes législatifs, en vigueur le 1^{er} juin 2009, prévoient ce qui suit :

Codifications comme élément de preuve

31 (1) Tout exemplaire d'une loi codifiée ou d'un règlement codifié, publié par le ministre en vertu de la présente loi sur support papier ou sur support électronique, fait foi de cette loi ou de ce règlement et de son contenu. Tout exemplaire donné comme publié par le ministre est réputé avoir été ainsi publié, sauf preuve contraire.

Incompatibilité – lois

(2) Les dispositions de la loi d'origine avec ses modifications subséquentes par le greffier des Parlements en vertu de la Loi sur la publication des lois l'emportent sur les dispositions incompatibles de la loi codifiée publiée par le ministre en vertu de la présente loi.

NOTE

Cette codification est à jour au 11 décembre 2017. Les dernières modifications sont entrées en vigueur le 21 septembre 2017. Toutes modifications qui n'étaient pas en vigueur au 11 décembre 2017 sont énoncées à la fin de ce document sous le titre « Modifications non en vigueur ».

on all the unsecured claims provable against the debtor's estate or such percentage thereof as the court may direct.

Court may order amendment

(4) If a court approves a proposal, it may order that the debtor's constating instrument be amended in accordance with the proposal to reflect any change that may lawfully be made under federal or provincial law.

R.S., 1985, c. B-3, s. 59; 1997, c. 12, s. 36; 2000, c. 12, s. 10; 2007, c. 36, s. 21.

Priority of claims

60 (1) No proposal shall be approved by the court that does not provide for the payment in priority to other claims of all claims directed to be so paid in the distribution of the property of a debtor and for the payment of all proper fees and expenses of the trustee on and incidental to the proceedings arising out of the proposal or in the bankruptcy.

Certain Crown claims

(1.1) Unless Her Majesty consents, no proposal shall be approved by the court that does not provide for the payment in full to Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province, within six months after court approval of the proposal, of all amounts that were outstanding at the time of the filing of the notice of intention or of the proposal, if no notice of intention was filed, and are of a kind that could be subject to a demand under

- (a) subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act;
- (b) any provision of the Canada Pension Plan or of the Employment Insurance Act that refers to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act and provides for the collection of a contribution, as defined in the Canada Pension Plan, an employee's premium, or employer's premium, as defined in the Employment Insurance Act, or a premium under Part VII.1 of that Act, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts; or
- (c) any provision of provincial legislation that has a similar purpose to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act, or that refers to that subsection, to the extent that it provides for the collection of a sum, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts, where the sum cents par dollar sur toutes les réclamations non garanties prouvables contre l'actif du débiteur ou pour le paiement de tel pourcentage en l'espèce que le tribunal peut déterminer.

Modification des statuts constitutifs

(4) Le tribunal qui approuve une proposition peut ordonner la modification des statuts constitutifs du débiteur conformément à ce qui est prévu dans la proposition, pourvu que la modification soit légale au regard du droit fédéral ou provincial.

L.R. (1985), ch. B-3, art. 59; 1997, ch. 12, art. 36; 2000, ch. 12, art. 10; 2007, ch. 36, art. 21.

Priorité des réclamations

60 (1) Le tribunal ne peut approuver aucune proposition qui ne prescrive pas le paiement, en priorité sur les autres réclamations, de toutes les réclamations dont le paiement est ainsi ordonné dans la distribution des biens d'un débiteur, et le paiement de tous les honoraires et dépenses convenables du syndic relatifs et connexes aux procédures découlant de la proposition ou survenant dans la faillite.

Certaines réclamations de la Couronne

(1.1) Le tribunal ne peut, sans le consentement de Sa Majesté, approuver une proposition qui ne prévoit pas le paiement intégral à Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province, dans les six mois suivant l'approbation, de tous les montants qui étaient dus lors du dépôt de l'avis d'intention ou, à défaut, de la proposition et qui sont de nature à faire l'objet d'une demande aux termes d'une des dispositions suivantes :

- a) le paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu;
- b) toute disposition du Régime de pensions du Canada ou de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi qui renvoie au paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu et qui prévoit la perception d'une cotisation, au sens du Régime de pensions du Canada, d'une cotisation ouvrière ou d'une cotisation patronale, au sens de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi, ou d'une cotisation prévue par la partie VII.1 de cette loi et des intérêts, pénalités ou autres montants y afférents;
- c) toute disposition législative provinciale dont l'objet est semblable à celui du paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, ou qui renvoie à ce paragraphe, dans la mesure où elle prévoit la perception d'une somme, et des intérêts, pénalités ou autres montants y afférents, qui :

(ii) is of the same nature as a contribution under the Canada Pension Plan if the province is a "province providing a comprehensive pension plan" as defined in subsection 3(1) of the Canada Pension Plan and the provincial legislation establishes a "provincial pension plan" as defined in that subsection.

Idem

(1.2) No proposal shall be approved by the court if, at the time the court hears the application for approval, Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province satisfies the court that the debtor is in default on any remittance of an amount referred to in subsection (1.1) that became due after the filing

(a) of the notice of intention; or

(b) of the proposal, if no notice of intention was filed.

Proposals by employers

(1.3) No proposal in respect of an employer shall be approved by the court unless

(a) it provides for payment to the employees and former employees, immediately after court approval of the proposal, of amounts at least equal to the amounts that they would be qualified to receive under paragraph 136(1)(d) if the employer became bankrupt on the date of the filing of the notice of intention, or proposal if no notice of intention was filed, as well as wages, salaries, commissions or compensation for services rendered after that date and before the court approval of the proposal, together with, in the case of travelling salespersons, disbursements properly incurred by them in and about the bankrupt's business during the same period; and

(b) the court is satisfied that the employer can and will make the payments as required under paragraph (a).

Voting on proposal

(1.4) For the purpose of voting on any question relating to a proposal in respect of an employer, no person has a claim for an amount referred to in paragraph (1.3)(a).

Idem

(1.2) Le tribunal ne peut approuver la proposition si, lors de l'audition de la demande d'approbation, Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province le convainc du défaut du débiteur d'effectuer un versement portant sur un montant visé au paragraphe (1.1) et qui est devenu exigible après le dépôt de l'avis d'intention ou, à défaut d'avis d'intention, après le dépôt de la proposition.

Propositions d'employeurs

(1.3) Le tribunal ne peut approuver la proposition visant un employeur que si, à la fois :

a) celle-ci prévoit que sera effectué le paiement aux employés — actuels et anciens —, dès son approbation, de sommes égales ou supérieures, d'une part, à celles qu'ils seraient en droit de recevoir en application de l'alinéa 136(1)d) si l'employeur avait fait faillite à la date du dépôt de l'avis d'intention ou, à défaut, de la proposition et, d'autre part, au montant des gages, salaires, commissions ou rémunérations pour services fournis entre cette date et celle de son approbation, y compris les sommes que le voyageur de commerce a régulièrement déboursées dans l'entreprise du failli ou relativement à celle-ci entre ces dates;

b) il est convaincu que l'employeur est en mesure d'effectuer, et effectuera, les paiements prévus à l'alinéa a).

Vote sur la proposition

(1.4) Aux fins du vote sur toute question relative à la proposition visant un employeur, personne n'a de réclamation à faire valoir pour les montants mentionnés à l'alinéa (1.3)a).

Proposals by employers — prescribed pension plans

(1.5) No proposal in respect of an employer who participates in a prescribed pension plan for the benefit of its employees shall be approved by the court unless

(a) the proposal provides for payment of the following amounts that are unpaid to the fund established for the purpose of the pension plan:

(i) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that were deducted from the employees' remuneration for payment to the fund,

(ii) if the prescribed pension plan is regulated by an Act of Parliament,

(A) an amount equal to the normal cost, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, that was required to be paid by the employer to the fund, and

(B) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that were required to be paid by the employer to the fund under a defined contribution provision, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985,

(C) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that were required to be paid by the employer to the administrator of a pooled registered pension plan, as defined in subsection 2(1) of the Pooled Registered Pension Plans Act, and

(iii) in the case of any other prescribed pension plan,

(A) an amount equal to the amount that would be the normal cost, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985, that the employer would be required to pay to the fund if the prescribed plan were regulated by an Act of Parliament, and

(B) an amount equal to the sum of all amounts that would have been required to be paid by the employer to the fund under a defined contribution provision, within the meaning of subsection 2(1) of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985, if the prescribed plan were regulated by an Act of Parliament,

Propositions d'employeurs — régime de pension

(1.5) Le tribunal ne peut approuver la proposition visant un employeur qui participe à un régime de pension prescrit institué pour ses employés que si, à la fois :

a) la proposition prévoit que seront effectués des paiements correspondant au total des sommes ci-après qui n'ont pas été versées au fonds établi dans le cadre du régime de pension :

(i) les sommes qui ont été déduites de la rémunération des employés pour versement au fonds,

(ii) dans le cas d'un régime de pension prescrit régi par une loi fédérale :

(A) les coûts normaux, au sens du paragraphe 2(1) du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, que l'employeur est tenu de verser au fonds,

(B) les sommes que l'employeur est tenu de verser au fonds au titre de toute disposition à cotisations déterminées au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension,

(C) les sommes que l'employeur est tenu de verser à l'administrateur d'un régime de pension agréé collectif au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi sur les régimes de pension agréés collectifs,

(iii) dans le cas de tout autre régime de pension prescrit :

(A) la somme égale aux coûts normaux, au sens du paragraphe 2(1) du Règlement de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension, que l'employeur serait tenu de verser au fonds si le régime était régi par une loi fédérale,

(B) la somme égale au total des sommes que l'employeur serait tenu de verser au fonds au titre de toute disposition à cotisations déterminées au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi de 1985 sur les normes de prestation de pension si le régime était régi par une loi fédérale,

(C) la somme égale au total des sommes que l'employeur serait tenu de verser à l'égard du régime s'il était régi par la Loi sur les régimes de pension agréés collectifs;

(b) the court is satisfied that the employer can and will make the payments as required under paragraph (a).

Non-application of subsection (1.5)

(1.6) Despite subsection (1.5), the court may approve a proposal that does not allow for the payment of the amounts referred to in that subsection if it is satisfied that the relevant parties have entered into an agreement, approved by the relevant pension regulator, respecting the payment of those amounts.

Payment — equity claims

(1.7) No proposal that provides for the payment of an equity claim is to be approved by the court unless the proposal provides that all claims that are not equity claims are to be paid in full before the equity claim is to be paid.

Payment to trustee

(2) All moneys payable under the proposal shall be paid to the trustee and, after payment of all proper fees and expenses mentioned in subsection (1), shall be distributed by him to the creditors.

Distribution of promissory notes, stock, etc., of debtor

(3) Where the proposal provides for the distribution of property in the nature of promissory notes or other evidence of obligations by or on behalf of the debtor or, when the debtor is a corporation, shares in the capital stock of the corporation, the property shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed in subsection (2) as nearly as may be.

Section 147 applies

(4) Section 147 applies to all distributions made to the creditors by the trustee pursuant to subsection (2) or (3).

Power of court

(5) Subject to subsections (1) to (1.7), the court may either approve or refuse to approve the proposal.

Non-application du paragraphe (1.5)

(1.6) Par dérogation au paragraphe (1.5), le tribunal peut approuver la proposition qui ne prévoit pas le versement des sommes mentionnées à ce paragraphe s'il est convaincu que les parties en cause ont conclu un accord sur les sommes à verser et que l'autorité administrative responsable du régime de pension a consenti à l'accord.

Paiement d'une réclamation relative à des capitaux propres

(1.7) Le tribunal ne peut approuver la proposition qui prévoit le paiement d'une réclamation relative à des capitaux propres que si, selon les termes de celle-ci, le paiement intégral de toutes les autres réclamations sera effectué avant le paiement de la réclamation relative à des capitaux propres.

Paiement au syndic

(2) Tout montant payable aux termes de la proposition est payé au syndic et, après le paiement de tous les honoraires et dépenses convenables mentionnés au paragraphe (1), distribué par lui aux créanciers.

Distribution de billets à ordre, d'actions, etc. du débiteur

(3) Lorsque la proposition prévoit la distribution des biens sous forme de billets à ordre ou d'autres titres d'obligations souscrites par le débiteur ou en son nom ou, si le débiteur est une personne morale, sous forme d'actions du capital social de la personne morale, ces biens sont traités dans la mesure du possible conformément au paragraphe (2).

L'art. 147 s'applique

(4) L'article 147 s'applique à toutes les distributions faites aux créanciers par le syndic conformément au paragraphe (2) ou (3).

Pouvoirs du tribunal

(5) Sous réserve des paragraphes (1) à (1.7), le tribunal peut approuver ou refuser la proposition.

(c) the failure to issue the order is likely to result in irreparable damage to the insolvent person.

No delay on vote on proposal

(3) The vote of the creditors in respect of a proposal may not be delayed solely because the period provided in the laws of the jurisdiction governing collective bargaining between the insolvent person and the bargaining agent has not expired.

Claims arising from revision of collective agreement

(4) If the parties to the collective agreement agree to revise the collective agreement after proceedings have been commenced under this Act in respect of the insolvent person, the bargaining agent that is a party to the agreement has a claim, as an unsecured creditor, for an amount equal to the value of concessions granted by the bargaining agent with respect to the remaining term of the collective agreement.

Order to disclose information

(5) On the application of the bargaining agent and on notice to the person to whom the application relates, the court may, subject to any terms and conditions it specifies, make an order requiring the person to make available to the bargaining agent any information specified by the court in the person's possession or control that relates to the insolvent person's business or financial affairs and that is relevant to the collective bargaining between the insolvent person and the bargaining agent. The court may make the order only after the insolvent person has been authorized to serve a notice to bargain under subsection (1).

Unrevised collective agreements remain in force

(6) For greater certainty, any collective agreement that the insolvent person and the bargaining agent have not agreed to revise remains in force.

Parties

(7) For the purpose of this section, the parties to a collective agreement are the insolvent person and the bargaining agent who are bound by the collective agreement.

2005, c. 47, s. 44.

Restriction on disposition of assets

65.13 (1) An insolvent person in respect of whom a notice of intention is filed under section 50.4 or a proposal is filed under subsection 62(1) may not sell or otherwise dispose of assets outside the ordinary course of business unless authorized to do so by a court. Vote sur la proposition

(3) Le vote des créanciers sur la proposition ne peut être retardé pour la seule raison que le délai imparti par les règles de droit applicables aux négociations collectives entre les parties à la convention collective n'a pas expiré.

Réclamation consécutive à la révision

(4) Si les parties acceptent de réviser la convention collective après que des procédures ont été intentées sous le régime de la présente loi à l'égard d'une personne insolvable, l'agent négociateur en cause est réputé avoir une réclamation à titre de créancier non garanti pour une somme équivalant à la valeur des concessions accordées pour la période non écoulée de la convention.

Ordonnance visant la communication de renseignements

(5) Sur demande de l'agent négociateur partie à la convention collective et sur avis aux personnes intéressées, le tribunal peut ordonner à celles-ci de communiquer au demandeur, aux conditions qu'il précise, tous renseignements qu'elles ont en leur possession ou à leur disposition — sur les affaires et la situation financière de la personne insolvable — qui ont un intérêt pour les négociations collectives. Le tribunal ne peut rendre l'ordonnance qu'après l'envoi à l'agent négociateur de l'avis de négociations collectives visé au paragraphe (1).

Maintien en vigueur des conventions collectives

(6) Il est entendu que toute convention collective que la personne insolvable et l'agent négociateur n'ont pas convenu de réviser demeure en vigueur.

Parties

(7) Pour l'application du présent article, les parties à la convention collective sont la personne insolvable et l'agent négociateur liés par elle.

(2) In the case of an individual who is carrying on a business, the court may authorize the sale or disposition only if the assets were acquired for or used in relation to the business.

Notice to secured creditors

(3) An insolvent person who applies to the court for an authorization shall give notice of the application to the secured creditors who are likely to be affected by the proposed sale or disposition.

Factors to be considered

(4) In deciding whether to grant the authorization, the court is to consider, among other things,

- (a) whether the process leading to the proposed sale or disposition was reasonable in the circumstances;
- (b) whether the trustee approved the process leading to the proposed sale or disposition;
- (c) whether the trustee filed with the court a report stating that in their opinion the sale or disposition would be more beneficial to the creditors than a sale or disposition under a bankruptcy;
- (d) the extent to which the creditors were consulted;
- (e) the effects of the proposed sale or disposition on the creditors and other interested parties; and
- (f) whether the consideration to be received for the assets is reasonable and fair, taking into account their market value.

Additional factors — related persons

(5) If the proposed sale or disposition is to a person who is related to the insolvent person, the court may, after considering the factors referred to in subsection (4), grant the authorization only if it is satisfied that

- (a) good faith efforts were made to sell or otherwise dispose of the assets to persons who are not related to the insolvent person; and
- (b) the consideration to be received is superior to the consideration that would be received under any other des actionnaires, et ce malgré toute exigence à cet effet, notamment en vertu d'une règle de droit fédérale ou provinciale.

Personne physique

(2) Toutefois, lorsque l'autorisation est demandée par une personne physique qui exploite une entreprise, elle ne peut viser que les actifs acquis ou utilisés dans le cadre de l'exploitation de celle-ci.

Avis aux créanciers

(3) La personne insolvable qui demande l'autorisation au tribunal en avise les créanciers garantis qui peuvent vraisemblablement être touchés par le projet de disposition.

Facteurs à prendre en considération

(4) Pour décider s'il accorde l'autorisation, le tribunal prend en considération, entre autres, les facteurs suivants :

- a) la justification des circonstances ayant mené au projet de disposition;
- b) l'acquiescement du syndic au processus ayant mené au projet de disposition, le cas échéant;
- c) le dépôt par celui-ci d'un rapport précisant que, à son avis, la disposition sera plus avantageuse pour les créanciers que si elle était faite dans le cadre de la faillite;
- d) la suffisance des consultations menées auprès des créanciers;
- e) les effets du projet de disposition sur les droits de tout intéressé, notamment les créanciers;
- f) le caractère juste et raisonnable de la contrepartie reçue pour les actifs compte tenu de leur valeur marchande.

Autres facteurs

(5) Si la personne insolvable projette de disposer d'actifs en faveur d'une personne à laquelle elle est liée, le tribunal, après avoir pris ces facteurs en considération, ne peut accorder l'autorisation que s'il est convaincu :

- a) d'une part, que les efforts voulus ont été faits pour disposer des actifs en faveur d'une personne qui n'est pas liée à la personne insolvable;
- b) d'autre part, que la contrepartie offerte pour les actifs est plus avantageuse que celle qui découlerait de offer made in accordance with the process leading to the proposed sale or disposition.

Related persons

(6) For the purpose of subsection (5), a person who is related to the insolvent person includes

- (a) a director or officer of the insolvent person;
- (b) a person who has or has had, directly or indirectly, control in fact of the insolvent person; and
- (c) a person who is related to a person described in paragraph (a) or (b).

Assets may be disposed of free and clear

(7) The court may authorize a sale or disposition free and clear of any security, charge or other restriction and, if it does, it shall also order that other assets of the insolvent person or the proceeds of the sale or disposition be subject to a security, charge or other restriction in favour of the creditor whose security, charge or other restriction is to be affected by the order.

Restriction — employers

(8) The court may grant the authorization only if the court is satisfied that the insolvent person can and will make the payments that would have been required under paragraphs 60(1.3)(a) and (1.5)(a) if the court had approved the proposal.

Insolvent person may disclaim or resiliate commercial lease

65.2 (1) At any time between the filing of a notice of intention and the filing of a proposal, or on the filing of a proposal, in respect of an insolvent person who is a commercial lessee under a lease of real property or an immovable, the insolvent person may disclaim or resiliate the lease on giving thirty days notice to the lessor in the prescribed manner, subject to subsection (2).

Lessor may challenge

(2) Within fifteen days after being given notice of the disclaimer or resiliation of a lease under subsection (1), the lessor may apply to the court for a declaration that subsection (1) does not apply in respect of that lease, and the court, on notice to any parties that it may direct, shall, subject to subsection (3), make that declaration.

toute autre offre reçue dans le cadre du projet de disposition.

Personnes liées

(6) Pour l'application du paragraphe (5), les personnes ci-après sont considérées comme liées à la personne insolvable :

- a) le dirigeant ou l'administrateur de celle-ci;
- b) la personne qui, directement ou indirectement, en a ou en a eu le contrôle de fait;
- c) la personne liée à toute personne visée aux alinéas a) ou b).

Autorisation de disposer des actifs en les libérant de restrictions

(7) Le tribunal peut autoriser la disposition d'actifs de la personne insolvable, purgés de toute charge, sûreté ou autre restriction, et, le cas échéant, est tenu d'assujettir le produit de la disposition ou d'autres de ses actifs à une charge, sûreté ou autre restriction en faveur des créanciers touchés par la purge.

Restriction à l'égard des employeurs

(8) Il ne peut autoriser la disposition que s'il est convaincu que la personne insolvable est en mesure d'effectuer et effectuera les paiements qui auraient été exigés en vertu des alinéas 60(1.3)a) et (1.5)a) s'il avait approuvé la proposition.

Résiliation d'un bail commercial

65.2 (1) Entre le dépôt d'un avis d'intention et celui d'une proposition relative à une personne insolvable qui est un locataire commercial en vertu d'un bail sur un immeuble ou un bien réel, ou lors du dépôt d'une telle proposition, cette personne peut, sous réserve du paragraphe (2), résilier son bail sur préavis de trente jours donné de la manière prescrite.

Contestation

(2) Sur demande du locateur, faite dans les quinze jours suivant le préavis, et sur préavis aux parties qu'il estime indiquées, le tribunal déclare le paragraphe (1) inapplicable au bail en question.

Property of the Bankrupt

Property of bankrupt

67 (1) The property of a bankrupt divisible among his creditors shall not comprise

(a) property held by the bankrupt in trust for any other person;

(b) any property that as against the bankrupt is exempt from execution or seizure under any laws applicable in the province within which the property is situated and within which the bankrupt resides;

(b.1) goods and services tax credit payments that are made in prescribed circumstances to the bankrupt and that are not property referred to in paragraph (a) or (b);

(b.2) prescribed payments relating to the essential needs of an individual that are made in prescribed circumstances to the bankrupt and that are not property referred to in paragraph (a) or (b); or

(b.3) without restricting the generality of paragraph (b), property in a registered retirement savings plan or a registered retirement income fund, as those expressions are defined in the Income Tax Act, or in any prescribed plan, other than property contributed to any such plan or fund in the 12 months before the date of bankruptcy, but it shall comprise

(c) all property wherever situated of the bankrupt at the date of the bankruptcy or that may be acquired by or devolve on the bankrupt before their discharge, including any refund owing to the bankrupt under the Income Tax Act in respect of the calendar year — or the fiscal year of the bankrupt if it is different from the calendar year — in which the bankrupt became a bankrupt, except the portion that

(i) is not subject to the operation of this Act, or

(ii) in the case of a bankrupt who is the judgment debtor named in a garnishee summons served on Her Majesty under the Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance Act, is garnishable money that is payable to the bankrupt and is to be paid under the garnishee summons, and

(d) such powers in or over or in respect of the property as might have been exercised by the bankrupt for his own benefit.

Biens du failli

Biens du failli

67 (1) Les biens d'un failli, constituant le patrimoine attribué à ses créanciers, ne comprennent pas les biens suivants :

a) les biens détenus par le failli en fiducie pour toute autre personne;

b) les biens qui, selon le droit applicable dans la province dans laquelle ils sont situés et où réside le failli, ne peuvent faire l'objet d'une mesure d'exécution ou de saisie contre celui-ci;

b.1) dans les circonstances prescrites, les paiements qui sont faits au failli au titre de crédits de taxe sur les produits et services et qui ne sont pas des biens visés aux alinéas a) ou b); b.2) dans les circonstances prescrites, les paiements prescrits qui sont faits au failli relativement aux besoins essentiels de personnes physiques et qui ne sont pas des biens visés aux alinéas a) ou b); b.3) sans restreindre la portée générale de l'alinéa b), les biens détenus dans un régime enregistré d'épargne-retraite ou un fonds enregistré de revenu de retraite, au sens de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, ou dans tout régime prescrit, à l'exception des cotisations au régime ou au fonds effectuées au cours des douze mois précédant la date de la faillite, mais ils comprennent :

c) tous les biens, où qu'ils soient situés, qui appartiennent au failli à la date de la faillite, ou qu'il peut acquérir ou qui peuvent lui être dévolus avant sa libération, y compris les remboursements qui lui sont dus au titre de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu relativement à l'année civile — ou à l'exercice lorsque celui-ci diffère de l'année civile — au cours de laquelle il a fait faillite, mais à l'exclusion de la partie de ces remboursements qui :

(i) soit sont des sommes soustraites à l'application de la présente loi,

(ii) soit sont des sommes qui lui sont dues et qui sont saisissables en vertu d'un bref de saisie-arrêt signifié à Sa Majesté en application de la Loi d'aide à l'exécution des ordonnances et des ententes familiales dans lequel il est nommé comme débiteur;

Deemed trusts

(2) Subject to subsection (3), notwithstanding any provision in federal or provincial legislation that has the effect of deeming property to be held in trust for Her Majesty, property of a bankrupt shall not be regarded as held in trust for Her Majesty for the purpose of paragraph (1)(a) unless it would be so regarded in the absence of that statutory provision.

Exceptions

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply in respect of amounts deemed to be held in trust under subsection 227(4) or (4.1) of the Income Tax Act, subsection 23(3) or (4) of the Canada Pension Plan or subsection 86(2) or (2.1) of the Employment Insurance Act (each of which is in this subsection referred to as a “federal provision”) nor in respect of amounts deemed to be held in trust under any law of a province that creates a deemed trust the sole purpose of which is to ensure remittance to Her Majesty in right of the province of amounts deducted or withheld under a law of the province where

(a) that law of the province imposes a tax similar in nature to the tax imposed under the Income Tax Act and the amounts deducted or withheld under that law of the province are of the same nature as the amounts referred to in subsection 227(4) or (4.1) of the Income Tax Act, or

(b) the province is a province providing a comprehensive pension plan as defined in subsection 3(1) of the Canada Pension Plan, that law of the province establishes a provincial pension plan as defined in that subsection and the amounts deducted or withheld under that law of the province are of the same nature as amounts referred to in subsection 23(3) or (4) of the Canada Pension Plan, and for the purpose of this subsection, any provision of a law of a province that creates a deemed trust is, notwithstanding any Act of Canada or of a province or any other law, deemed to have the same effect and scope against any creditor, however secured, as the corresponding federal provision.

d) les pouvoirs sur des biens ou à leur égard, qui auraient pu être exercés par le failli pour son propre bénéfice.

Fiducies présumées

(2) Sous réserve du paragraphe (3) et par dérogation à toute disposition législative fédérale ou provinciale ayant pour effet d'assimiler certains biens à des biens détenus en fiducie pour Sa Majesté, aucun des biens du failli ne peut, pour l'application de l'alinéa (1)a), être considéré comme détenu en fiducie pour Sa Majesté si, en l'absence de la disposition législative en question, il ne le serait pas.

Exceptions

(3) Le paragraphe (2) ne s'applique pas à l'égard des montants réputés détenus en fiducie aux termes des paragraphes 227(4) ou (4.1) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, des paragraphes 23(3) ou (4) du Régime de pensions du Canada ou des paragraphes 86(2) ou (2.1) de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi (chacun étant appelé « disposition fédérale » au présent paragraphe) ou à l'égard des montants réputés détenus en fiducie aux termes de toute loi d'une province créant une fiducie présumée dans le seul but d'assurer à Sa Majesté du chef de cette province la remise de sommes déduites ou retenues aux termes d'une loi de cette province, dans la mesure où, dans ce dernier cas, se réalise l'une des conditions suivantes :

a) la loi de cette province prévoit un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à celui prévu par la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, et les sommes déduites ou retenues aux termes de la loi de cette province sont de même nature que celles visées aux paragraphes 227(4) ou (4.1) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu;

b) cette province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) du Régime de pensions du Canada, la loi de cette province institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe, et les sommes déduites ou retenues aux termes de la loi de cette province sont de même nature que celles visées aux paragraphes 23(3) ou (4) du Régime de pensions du Canada.

Pour l'application du présent paragraphe, toute disposition de la loi provinciale qui crée une fiducie présumée est réputée avoir, à l'encontre de tout créancier du failli et malgré tout texte législatif fédéral ou provincial et toute règle de droit, la même portée et le même effet que la disposition fédérale correspondante, quelle que soit la garantie dont bénéficie le créancier.

General Provisions

Precedence of bankruptcy orders and assignments

70 (1) Every bankruptcy order and every assignment made under this Act takes precedence over all judicial or other attachments, garnishments, certificates having the effect of judgments, judgments, certificates of judgment, legal hypothecs of judgment creditors, executions or other process against the property of a bankrupt, except those that have been completely executed by payment to the creditor or the creditor's representative, and except the rights of a secured creditor.

Costs

(2) Despite subsection (1), one bill of costs of a barrister or solicitor or, in the Province of Quebec, an advocate, including the executing officer's fees and land registration fees, shall be payable to the creditor who has first attached by way of garnishment or filed with the executing officer an attachment, execution or other process against the property of the bankrupt.

Vesting of property in trustee

71 On a bankruptcy order being made or an assignment being filed with an official receiver, a bankrupt ceases to have any capacity to dispose of or otherwise deal with their property, which shall, subject to this Act and to the rights of secured creditors, immediately pass to and vest in the trustee named in the bankruptcy order or assignment, and in any case of change of trustee the property shall pass from trustee to trustee without any assignment or transfer.

R.S., 1985, c. B-3, s. 71; 1997, c. 12, s. 67; 2004, c. 25, s. 44.

Application of other substantive law

72 (1) The provisions of this Act shall not be deemed to abrogate or supersede the substantive provisions of any other law or statute relating to property and civil rights that are not in conflict with this Act, and the trustee is entitled to avail himself of all rights and remedies provided by that law or statute as supplementary to and in addition to the rights and remedies provided by this Act.

Operation of provincial law re documents executed under Act

(2) No bankruptcy order, assignment or other document made or executed under the authority of this Act shall, except as otherwise provided in this Act, be within the operation of any legislative enactment in force at any time in any province relating to deeds, mortgages, hypothecs, judgments, bills of sale, chattel mortgages,

Dispositions générales

Priorité des ordonnances de faillite et cessions

70 (1) Toute ordonnance de faillite rendue et toute cession faite en conformité avec la présente loi ont priorité sur toutes saisies, saisies-arrêts, certificats ayant l'effet de jugements, jugements, certificats de jugements, hypothèques légales résultant d'un jugement, procédures d'exécution ou autres procédures contre les biens d'un failli, sauf ceux qui ont été complètement réglés par paiement au créancier ou à son représentant, et sauf les droits d'un créancier garanti.

Frais

(2) Malgré le paragraphe (1), un seul mémoire de frais émanant d'un avocat, y compris les honoraires de l'huissier-exécutant et les droits d'enregistrement fonciers, est à payer au créancier qui a le premier mis la saisie-arrêt ou déposé entre les mains de l'huissier-exécutant une saisie, une procédure d'exécution ou une autre procédure contre les biens du failli.

Dévolution des biens au syndic

71 Lorsqu'une ordonnance de faillite est rendue, ou qu'une cession est produite auprès d'un séquestre officiel, le failli cesse d'être habile à céder ou autrement aliéner ses biens qui doivent, sous réserve des autres dispositions de la présente loi et des droits des créanciers garantis, immédiatement passer et être dévolus au syndic nommé dans l'ordonnance de faillite ou dans la cession, et advenant un changement de syndic, les biens passent de syndic à syndic sans cession ni transfert quelconque.

Application d'autres lois positives

72 (1) La présente loi n'a pas pour effet d'abroger ou de remplacer les dispositions de droit substantif d'une autre loi ou règle de droit concernant la propriété et les droits civils, non incompatibles avec la présente loi, et le syndic est autorisé à se prévaloir de tous les droits et recours prévus par cette autre loi ou règle de droit, qui sont supplémentaires et additionnels aux droits et recours prévus par la présente loi.

Application de lois provinciales

(2) Nulle ordonnance de faillite, cession ou autre document fait ou souscrit sous l'autorité de la présente loi n'est, sauf disposition contraire de celle-ci, assujéti à l'application de toute loi en vigueur à toute époque dans une province relativement aux actes, hypothèques, jugements, actes de vente, biens ou enregistrements de pièces

Purchaser in good faith at sale protected

73 (1) An execution levied by seizure and sale of the property of a bankrupt is not invalid by reason only of its being an act of bankruptcy, and a person who purchases the property in good faith under a sale by the executing officer acquires a good title to the property against the trustee.

Executing officer to deliver property of bankrupt to trustee

(2) If an assignment or a bankruptcy order has been made, the executing officer or other officer of any court or any other person having seized property of the bankrupt under execution or attachment or any other process shall, on receiving a copy of the assignment or the bankruptcy order certified by the trustee as a true copy, immediately deliver to the trustee all the property of the bankrupt in their hands.

In case of executing officer's sale

(3) If the executing officer has sold the property or any part of the property of a bankrupt, the executing officer shall deliver to the trustee the money so realized less the executing officer's fees and the costs referred to in subsection 70(2).

Effect of bankruptcy on seizure of property for rent or taxes

(4) Any property of a bankrupt under seizure for rent or taxes shall on production of a copy of the bankruptcy order or the assignment certified by the trustee as a true copy be delivered without delay to the trustee, but the payment of the costs of distress or, in the Province of Quebec, the costs of seizure, is secured by a security on the property ranking ahead of any other security on it, and, if the property or any part of it has been sold, the money realized from the sale less the costs of distress, or seizure, and sale shall be paid to the trustee.

Registration of bankruptcy order or assignment

74 (1) Every bankruptcy order, or a true copy certified by the registrar or other officer of the court that made it, and every assignment, or a true copy certified by the official receiver, may be registered by or on behalf of the trustee in respect of the whole or any part of any real property in which the bankrupt has any interest or estate, affectant le titre afférent aux biens, meubles ou immeubles, personnels ou réels, ou les privilèges ou charges sur ces biens.

Protection de l'acheteur de bonne foi à la vente

73 (1) Une exécution exercée par saisie et vente des biens d'un failli n'est pas invalide pour le seul motif qu'elle est un acte de faillite, et une personne qui achète de bonne foi ces biens à une vente faite par l'huissier-exécutant acquiert un titre valable à ces biens contre le syndic.

Remise par l'huissier-exécutant des biens au syndic

(2) Lorsqu'il a été fait une cession ou qu'il a été rendu une ordonnance de faillite, l'huissier-exécutant ou tout autre fonctionnaire d'un tribunal ou toute autre personne ayant saisi des biens du failli en vertu d'une procédure d'exécution, d'une saisie-arrêt ou de toute autre procédure, sur réception d'une copie de la cession ou de l'ordonnance de faillite certifiée conforme par le syndic, livre immédiatement au syndic tous les biens du failli qu'il a en sa possession.

Dans le cas de vente par l'huissier-exécutant

(3) Lorsque l'huissier-exécutant a vendu les biens du failli ou une partie de ces biens, il remet au syndic les sommes d'argent qu'il a ainsi réalisées, moins ses honoraires et les frais mentionnés au paragraphe 70(2).

Effet d'une faillite sur la saisie de biens pour loyer ou taxes

(4) Sur production d'une copie de l'ordonnance de faillite ou de la cession, que le syndic a certifiée conforme, tout bien d'un failli saisi pour loyer ou pour taxes est remis sans délai au syndic; mais le paiement des frais de saisie est garanti par une sûreté de premier rang sur ces biens et, en cas de vente de tout ou partie des biens, le produit de celle-ci, moins les frais de la saisie et de la vente, est remis au syndic.

Partnership Property

Application to limited partnerships

85 (1) This Act applies to limited partnerships in like manner as if limited partnerships were ordinary partnerships, and, on all the general partners of a limited partnership becoming bankrupt, the property of the limited partnership vests in the trustee.

Actions by trustee and bankrupt's partner

(2) If a member of a partnership becomes bankrupt, the court may authorize the trustee to commence and prosecute any action in the names of the trustee and of the bankrupt's partner, and any release by the partner of the debt or demand to which the action relates is void or, in the Province of Quebec, null.

Notice to partner

(3) Notice of the application for authority to commence an action under subsection (2) shall be given to the bankrupt's partner, who may show cause against it, and on his application the court may, if it thinks fit, direct that he shall receive his proper share of the proceeds of the action, and, if he does not claim any benefit therefrom, he shall be indemnified against costs in respect thereof as the court directs.

Crown Interests

Status of Crown claims

86 (1) In relation to a bankruptcy or proposal, all provable claims, including secured claims, of Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province or of any body under an Act respecting workers' compensation, in this section and in section 87 called a "workers' compensation body", rank as unsecured claims.

Exceptions

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply

(a) to claims that are secured by a security or charge of a kind that can be obtained by persons other than Her Majesty or a workers' compensation body

(i) pursuant to any law, or

(ii) pursuant to provisions of federal or provincial legislation, where those provisions do not have as their sole or principal purpose the establishment of a means of securing claims of Her Majesty or of a workers' compensation body; and

Biens de sociétés de personnes

Application aux sociétés de personnes en commandite

85 (1) La présente loi s'applique aux sociétés de personnes en commandite de la même manière que si elles étaient des sociétés en nom collectif; et, lorsque tous les membres d'une telle société deviennent en faillite, les biens de celle-ci sont dévolus au syndic.

Actions par le syndic et l'associé du failli

(2) Lorsqu'un membre d'une société de personnes fait faillite, le tribunal peut autoriser le syndic à intenter et à poursuivre une action au nom du syndic et de l'associé du failli; et toute remise, par cet associé, de la dette ou revendication à laquelle se rapporte l'action, est nulle.

Avis à l'associé

(3) Avis de la demande d'autorisation d'intenter l'action est donné à l'associé du failli, et l'associé peut exposer les motifs qu'il a de s'opposer à cette action, et, à sa demande, le tribunal peut, s'il l'estime utile, enjoindre qu'il reçoive sa juste part du produit de l'action; et, s'il ne réclame aucun profit de cette action, il est indemnisé de tous frais à cet égard, suivant que le tribunal l'ordonne.

Droits de la Couronne

Réclamations de la Couronne

86 (1) Dans le cadre d'une faillite ou d'une proposition, les réclamations prouvables — y compris les réclamations garanties — de Sa Majesté du chef du Canada ou d'une province ou d'un organisme compétent au titre d'une loi sur les accidents du travail prennent rang comme réclamations non garanties.

Exceptions

(2) Sont soustraites à l'application du paragraphe (1) :

a) les réclamations garanties par un type de charge ou de sûreté dont toute personne, et non seulement Sa Majesté ou l'organisme, peut se prévaloir au titre de dispositions législatives fédérales ou provinciales n'ayant pas pour seul ou principal objet l'établissement de mécanismes garantissant les réclamations de Sa Majesté ou de l'organisme, ou au titre de toute autre règle de droit;

b) les réclamations garanties aux termes de l'article 87, dans la mesure prévue à cet article.

(3) Subsection (1) does not affect the operation of

(a) subsections 224(1.2) and (1.3) of the Income Tax Act;

(b) any provision of the Canada Pension Plan or of the Employment Insurance Act that refers to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act and provides for the collection of a contribution, as defined in the Canada Pension Plan, an employee's premium, or employer's premium, as defined in the Employment Insurance Act, or a premium under Part VII.1 of that Act, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts; or

(c) any provision of provincial legislation that has a similar purpose to subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act, or that refers to that subsection, to the extent that it provides for the collection of a sum, and of any related interest, penalties or other amounts, where the sum

(i) has been withheld or deducted by a person from a payment to another person and is in respect of a tax similar in nature to the income tax imposed on individuals under the Income Tax Act, or

and for the purpose of paragraph (c), the provision of provincial legislation is, despite any Act of Canada or of a province or any other law, deemed to have the same effect and scope against any creditor, however secured, as subsection 224(1.2) of the Income Tax Act in respect of a sum referred to in subparagraph (c)(i), or as subsection 23(2) of the Canada Pension Plan in respect of a sum referred to in subparagraph (c)(ii), and in respect of any related interest, penalties or other amounts.

Effet

(3) Le paragraphe (1) n'a pas pour effet de porter atteinte à l'application des dispositions suivantes :

a) les paragraphes 224(1.2) et (1.3) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu;

b) toute disposition du Régime de pensions du Canada ou de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi qui renvoie au paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu et qui prévoit la perception d'une cotisation, au sens du Régime de pensions du Canada, d'une cotisation ouvrière ou d'une cotisation patronale, au sens de la Loi sur l'assurance-emploi, ou d'une cotisation prévue par la partie VII.1 de cette loi et des intérêts, pénalités ou autres montants y afférents;

c) toute disposition législative provinciale dont l'objet est semblable à celui du paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu, ou qui renvoie à ce paragraphe, dans la mesure où elle prévoit la perception d'une somme, et des intérêts, pénalités ou autres montants y afférents, qui :

(i) soit a été retenue par une personne sur un paiement effectué à une autre personne, ou déduite d'un tel paiement, et se rapporte à un impôt semblable, de par sa nature, à l'impôt sur le revenu auquel les particuliers sont assujettis en vertu de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu,

(ii) soit est de même nature qu'une cotisation prévue par le Régime de pensions du Canada, si la province est une province instituant un régime général de pensions au sens du paragraphe 3(1) de cette loi et si la loi provinciale institue un régime provincial de pensions au sens de ce paragraphe.

Pour l'application de l'alinéa c), la disposition législative provinciale en question est réputée avoir, à l'encontre de tout créancier et malgré tout texte législatif fédéral ou provincial et toute règle de droit, la même portée et le même effet que le paragraphe 224(1.2) de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu quant à la somme visée au sous-alinéa c)(i), ou que le paragraphe 23(2) du Régime de pensions du Canada quant à la somme visée au sous-alinéa c)(ii), et quant aux intérêts, pénalités ou autres montants y afférents, quelle que soit la garantie dont bénéficie le créancier.

Statutory Crown securities

87 (1) A security provided for in federal or provincial legislation for the sole or principal purpose of securing a claim of Her Majesty in right of Canada or of a province or of a workers' compensation body is valid in relation to a bankruptcy or proposal only if the security is registered under a prescribed system of registration before the date of the initial bankruptcy event.

Idem

(2) In relation to a bankruptcy or proposal, a security referred to in subsection (1) that is registered in accordance with that subsection

(a) is subordinate to securities in respect of which all steps necessary to make them effective against other creditors were taken before that registration; and

(b) is valid only in respect of amounts owing to Her Majesty or a workers' compensation body at the time of that registration, plus any interest subsequently accruing on those amounts.

Worker's wage claims

(2) Proofs of claims for wages of workers and others employed by the bankrupt may be made in one proof by the bankrupt, by someone on the bankrupt's behalf, by a representative of a federal or provincial ministry responsible for labour matters, by a representative of a union representing workers and others employed by the bankrupt or by a court-appointed representative, and that proof is to be made by attaching to it a schedule setting out the names and addresses of the workers and others and the amounts severally due to them, but that proof does not disentitle any worker or other wage earner to file a separate proof on his or her own behalf.

R.S., 1985, c. B-3, s. 126; 1997, c. 12, s. 88; 2005, c. 47, s. 87.

Proof by Secured Creditors

Proof by secured creditor

127 (1) Where a secured creditor realizes his security, he may prove the balance due to him after deducting the net amount realized.

May prove whole claim on surrender

(2) Where a secured creditor surrenders his security to the trustee for the general benefit of the creditors, he may prove his whole claim.

R.S., 1985, c. B-3, s. 127; 2004, c. 25, s. 67(F).

Proof may be requested

128 (1) Where the trustee has knowledge of property that may be subject to a security, the trustee may, by serving notice in the prescribed form and manner, require any person to file, in the prescribed form and manner, a proof of the security that gives full particulars of the security, including the date on which the security was given and the value at which that person assesses it.

Where reply not received

(1.1) Where the trustee serves a notice pursuant to subsection (1), and the person on whom the notice is served does not file a proof of security within thirty days after the day of service of the notice, the trustee may thereupon, with leave of the court, sell or dispose of any property that was subject to the security, free of that security.

Dividend on balance

(2) A creditor is entitled to receive a dividend in respect only of the balance due to him after deducting the assessed value of his security.

Réclamations d'ouvriers pour gages

(2) Les preuves de réclamations pour gages d'ouvriers et d'autres personnes employées par le failli peuvent être établies en une seule preuve par celui-ci ou pour son compte, par le représentant soit d'un ministère fédéral ou provincial responsable des questions liées au travail, soit d'un syndicat représentant les ouvriers et autres employés, ou par le représentant nommé par le tribunal; la preuve est accompagnée d'une annexe énumérant les noms et adresses des ouvriers et des autres personnes, ainsi que les sommes qui leur sont respectivement dues. Une telle preuve n'enlève pas à l'ouvrier ou à tout autre salarié le droit de produire pour son propre compte une preuve distincte.

Preuve des créanciers garantis

Preuve du créancier garanti

127 (1) Lorsqu'un créancier garanti réalise sa garantie, il peut prouver le reliquat qui lui est dû, après avoir déduit la somme nette réalisée.

Peut prouver sa réclamation entière sur renonciation

(2) Lorsqu'un créancier garanti renonce à sa garantie en faveur du syndic au profit des créanciers en général, il peut établir la preuve de sa réclamation entière.

128 (1) S'il a connaissance de biens qui peuvent être assujettis à une garantie, le syndic peut, par signification d'un avis en la forme et de la manière prescrites, enjoindre à quiconque de produire, en la forme et de la manière prescrites, une preuve de la garantie énonçant la date à laquelle elle a été donnée, la valeur que cette personne lui attribue et tous autres renseignements à son égard.

Défaut de réponse

(1.1) Faute par la personne à laquelle le syndic a fait signifier l'avis d'avoir produit une preuve de sa garantie dans les trente jours suivant cette signification, le syndic peut, sur permission du tribunal, aliéner les biens visés, ceux-ci étant dès lors libres de toute garantie.

Dividende sur le reliquat

(2) Un créancier n'est admis à recevoir un dividende que relativement au reliquat qui lui est dû après déduction de la valeur attribuée à sa garantie.

May order security to be sold

129 (1) Where the trustee is dissatisfied with the value at which a security is assessed, the trustee may require that the property the security comprises be offered for sale at such time and on such terms and conditions as may be agreed on between the creditor and the trustee or, in default of such an agreement, as the court may direct.

Sale by public auction

(2) Where a sale under subsection (1) is by public auction the creditor or the trustee on behalf of the estate may bid or purchase.

(3) [Repealed, 1992, c. 27, s. 52]

Costs of sale

(4) The costs and expenses of a sale made under this section are in the discretion of the court.

Creditor may require trustee to elect to exercise power

130 Notwithstanding subsection 128(3) and section 129, the creditor may, by notice in writing, require the trustee to elect whether he will exercise the power of redeeming the security or requiring it to be realized, and if the trustee does not, within one month after receiving the notice or such further time or times as the court may allow, signify in writing to the creditor his election to exercise the power, he is not entitled to exercise it, and the equity of redemption or any other interest in the property comprised in the security that is vested in the trustee shall vest in the creditor, and the amount of his claim shall be reduced by the amount at which the security has been valued.

R.S., c. B-3, s. 101.

Amended valuation by creditor

131 Where a creditor after having valued his security subsequently realizes it, or it is realized under section 129, the net amount realized shall be substituted for the amount of any valuation previously made by the creditor and shall be treated in all respects as an amended valuation made by the creditor.

R.S., c. B-3, s. 102.

Peut ordonner la vente de la garantie

129 (1) S'il n'est pas satisfait de la valeur attribuée à une garantie, le syndic peut exiger que le bien visé par la garantie soit mis en vente à la date et selon les modalités pouvant être convenues entre le créancier et lui, ou que le tribunal peut ordonner à défaut de pareille convention.

Vente à l'enchère publique

(2) Lorsque la vente s'opère par enchère publique, le créancier, ou le syndic agissant au nom de l'actif, peut enchérir ou se porter acquéreur.

Un créancier peut exiger du syndic qu'il choisisse d'exercer son pouvoir

130 Nonobstant le paragraphe 128(3) et l'article 129, le créancier peut, au moyen d'un avis écrit, exiger du syndic qu'il choisisse s'il exercera son pouvoir de racheter la garantie ou de la faire réaliser; si, au cours du mois suivant la réception de l'avis ou dans le ou les délais supplémentaires que le tribunal peut accorder, le syndic ne signifie pas, par écrit au créancier, son choix d'exercer ce pouvoir, il n'a pas le droit de l'exercer; la faculté de réméré ou autre intérêt dans les biens compris dans la garantie qui est dévolue au syndic sont attribués au créancier, et le montant de sa réclamation est diminué du montant auquel la garantie a été évaluée.

S.R., ch. B-3, art. 101.

Évaluation modifiée par le créancier

131 Lorsqu'un créancier, après avoir évalué sa garantie, la réalise subséquemment, ou qu'elle est réalisée sous le régime de l'article 129, le montant net réalisé est substitué au montant de toute évaluation antérieurement faite par le créancier et il est traité à tous égards comme une évaluation modifiée faite par le créancier.

Secured creditor may amend

132 (1) Where the trustee has not elected to acquire the security as provided in this Act, a creditor may at any time amend the valuation and proof on showing to the satisfaction of the trustee or the court that the valuation and proof were made in good faith on a mistaken estimate or that the security has diminished or increased in value since its previous valuation.

Amendment at cost of creditor

(2) An amendment pursuant to subsection (1) shall be made at the cost of the creditor and on such terms as the court orders, unless the trustee allows the amendment without application to the court.

Rights and liabilities of creditor where valuation amended

(3) Where a valuation has been amended pursuant to this section, the creditor

(a) shall forthwith repay any surplus dividend that he may have received in excess of that to which he would have been entitled on the amended valuation; or

(b) is entitled to be paid out of any money for the time being available for dividend any dividend or share of dividend that he may have failed to receive by reason of the amount of the original valuation before that money is made applicable to the payment of any future dividend, but he is not entitled to disturb the distribution of any dividend declared before the amendment is filed with the trustee.

Admission and Disallowance of Proofs of Claim and Proofs of Security

Trustee shall examine proof

135 (1) The trustee shall examine every proof of claim or proof of security and the grounds therefor and may require further evidence in support of the claim or security.

Le créancier garanti peut modifier l'évaluation

132 (1) Lorsque le syndic n'a pas choisi d'acquiescer la garantie dans les conditions prévues à la présente loi, un créancier peut modifier l'évaluation et la preuve en démontrant, à la satisfaction du syndic ou du tribunal, que l'évaluation et la preuve ont été faites de bonne foi sur une estimation erronée, ou que la garantie a diminué ou augmenté en valeur depuis son évaluation précédente.

Modification aux frais du créancier

(2) Une modification conforme au paragraphe (1) est faite aux frais du créancier et selon les modalités que le tribunal prescrit, à moins que le syndic ne permette la modification sans requête au tribunal.

Droits et obligations du créancier lorsque l'évaluation est modifiée

(3) Lorsqu'une évaluation a été modifiée conformément au présent article, le créancier, selon le cas :

a) doit rembourser sans retard tout surplus de dividende qu'il peut avoir reçu en sus du montant auquel il aurait eu droit sur l'évaluation modifiée;

b) a droit de recevoir, sur les deniers alors applicables à des dividendes, tout dividende ou part de dividende qu'il peut ne pas avoir reçu à cause du montant de l'évaluation primitive, avant que ces montants soient attribués au paiement d'un dividende futur; il n'a toutefois pas le droit de déranger la distribution d'un dividende déclaré avant que la modification soit déposée chez le syndic.

S.R., ch. B-3, art. 103.

Exclusion pour défaut de se conformer

133 Lorsqu'un créancier garanti ne se conforme pas aux articles 127 à 132, il est exclu de tout dividende.

S.R., ch. B-3, art. 104.

Aucun créancier ne peut recevoir plus de cent cents par dollar

134 Sous réserve de l'article 130, un créancier ne peut dans aucun cas recevoir plus de cent cents par dollar avec l'intérêt prévu par la présente loi.

Determination of provable claims

(1.1) The trustee shall determine whether any contingent claim or unliquidated claim is a provable claim, and, if a provable claim, the trustee shall value it, and the claim is thereafter, subject to this section, deemed a proved claim to the amount of its valuation.

Disallowance by trustee

(2) The trustee may disallow, in whole or in part,

- (a) any claim;
- (b) any right to a priority under the applicable order of priority set out in this Act; or
- (c) any security.

Notice of determination or disallowance

(3) Where the trustee makes a determination under subsection (1.1) or, pursuant to subsection (2), disallows, in whole or in part, any claim, any right to a priority or any security, the trustee shall forthwith provide, in the prescribed manner, to the person whose claim was subject to a determination under subsection (1.1) or whose claim, right to a priority or security was disallowed under subsection (2), a notice in the prescribed form setting out the reasons for the determination or disallowance.

Determination or disallowance final and conclusive

(4) A determination under subsection (1.1) or a disallowance referred to in subsection (2) is final and conclusive unless, within a thirty day period after the service of the notice referred to in subsection (3) or such further time as the court may on application made within that period allow, the person to whom the notice was provided appeals from the trustee's decision to the court in accordance with the General Rules.

Expunge or reduce a proof

Réclamations éventuelles et non liquidées

(1.1) Le syndic décide si une réclamation éventuelle ou non liquidée est une réclamation prouvable et, le cas échéant, il l'évalue; sous réserve des autres dispositions du présent article, la réclamation est dès lors réputée prouvée pour le montant de l'évaluation.

Rejet par le syndic

(2) Le syndic peut rejeter, en tout ou en partie, toute réclamation, tout droit à un rang prioritaire dans l'ordre de collocation applicable prévu par la présente loi ou toute garantie.

Avis de la décision

(3) S'il décide qu'une réclamation est prouvable ou s'il rejette, en tout ou en partie, une réclamation, un droit à un rang prioritaire ou une garantie, le syndic en donne sans délai, de la manière prescrite, un avis motivé, en la forme prescrite, à l'intéressé.

Effet de la décision

(4) La décision et le rejet sont définitifs et péremptoires, à moins que, dans les trente jours suivant la signification de l'avis, ou dans tel autre délai que le tribunal peut accorder, sur demande présentée dans les mêmes trente jours, le destinataire de l'avis n'interjette appel devant le tribunal, conformément aux Règles générales, de la décision du syndic.

Rejet total ou partiel d'une preuve

(5) Le tribunal peut rayer ou réduire une preuve de réclamation ou de garantie à la demande d'un créancier ou du débiteur, si le syndic refuse d'intervenir dans l'affaire.

OFFICIAL STATUS OF CONSOLIDATIONS

Subsections 31(1) and (2) of the Legislation Revision and Consolidation Act, in force on June 1, 2009, provide as follows:

Published consolidation is evidence

31 (1) Every copy of a consolidated statute or consolidated regulation published by the Minister under this Act in either print or electronic form is evidence of that statute or regulation and of its contents and every copy purporting to be published by the Minister is deemed to be so published, unless the contrary is shown.

Inconsistencies in Acts

(2) In the event of an inconsistency between a consolidated statute published by the Minister under this Act and the original statute or a subsequent amendment as certified by the Clerk of the Parliaments under the Publication of Statutes Act, the original statute or amendment prevails to the extent of the inconsistency.

NOTE

This consolidation is current to December 11, 2017. The last amendments came into force on February 26, 2015. Any amendments that were not in force as of December 11, 2017 are set out at the end of this document under the heading "Amendments Not in Force".

CARACTÈRE OFFICIEL
DES CODIFICATIONS

Les paragraphes 31(1) et (2) de la Loi sur la révision et la codification des textes législatifs, en vigueur le 1^{er} juin 2009, prévoient ce qui suit :

Codifications comme élément de preuve

31 (1) Tout exemplaire d'une loi codifiée ou d'un règlement codifié, publié par le ministre en vertu de la présente loi sur support papier ou sur support électronique, fait foi de cette loi ou de ce règlement et de son contenu. Tout exemplaire donné comme publié par le ministre est réputé avoir été ainsi publié, sauf preuve contraire.

Incompatibilité – lois

(2) Les dispositions de la loi d'origine avec ses modifications subséquentes par le greffier des Parlements en vertu de la Loi sur la publication des lois l'emportent sur les dispositions incompatibles de la loi codifiée publiée par le ministre en vertu de la présente loi.

NOTE

Cette codification est à jour au 11 décembre 2017. Les dernières modifications sont entrées en vigueur le 26 février 2015. Toutes modifications qui n'étaient pas en vigueur au 11 décembre 2017 sont énoncées à la fin de ce document sous le titre « Modifications non en vigueur ».

Canada Business Corporations
PART XVII Compulsory and Compelled Acquisitions
Sections 206-208

Sociétés par actions
PARTIE XVII Acquisitions forcées
Articles 206-208

(d) order that any money payable to a shareholder who cannot be found be paid to the Receiver General and subsection 227(3) applies in respect thereof.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 206; 2001, c. 14, ss. 99, 135(E); 2011, c. 21, s. 61.

Obligation to acquire shares

206.1 (1) If a shareholder holding shares of a distributing corporation does not receive an offeror's notice under subsection 206(3), the shareholder may

(a) within ninety days after the date of termination of the take-over bid, or

(b) if the shareholder did not receive an offer pursuant to the take-over bid, within ninety days after the later of

(i) the date of termination of the take-over bid, and

(ii) the date on which the shareholder learned of the take-over bid, require the offeror to acquire those shares.

Conditions

(2) If a shareholder requires the offeror to acquire shares under subsection (1), the offeror shall acquire the shares on the same terms under which the offeror acquired or will acquire the shares of the offerees who accepted the take-over bid.

2001, c. 14, s. 100.

PART XVIII

Liquidation and Dissolution

Definition of court

207 In this Part, court means a court having jurisdiction in the place where the corporation has its registered office.

1974-75-76, c. 33, s. 200; 1978-79, c. 9, s. 1(F).

Application of Part

208 (1) This Part, other than sections 209 and 212, does not apply to a corporation that is an insolvent person or a bankrupt as those terms are defined in subsection 2(1) of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act.

Staying proceedings

(2) Any proceedings taken under this Part to dissolve or to liquidate and dissolve a corporation shall be stayed if

d) prévoir le versement, au receveur général, des fonds payables aux actionnaires introuvables, auquel cas le paragraphe 227(3) s'applique.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 206; 2001, ch. 14, art. 99 et 135(A); 2011, ch. 21, art. 61.

Acquisition forcée à la demande d'un actionnaire

206.1 (1) L'actionnaire qui détient des actions d'une société ayant fait appel au public et qui n'a pas reçu du pollicitant l'avis visé au paragraphe 206(3) peut exiger de ce dernier l'acquisition de ces actions :

a) soit dans les quatre-vingt-dix jours suivant la date d'expiration de l'offre d'achat visant à la mainmise;

b) soit, s'il n'a pas reçu une telle offre, dans le délai visé à l'alinéa a) ou dans les quatre-vingt-dix jours suivant la date où il a pris connaissance de l'offre si ce délai est plus long.

Conditions

(2) Le pollicitant est alors tenu d'acquérir les actions aux mêmes conditions que celles faites aux pollicités acceptants.

2001, ch. 14, art. 100.

PARTIE XVIII

Liquidation et dissolution

Définition de tribunal

207 Dans la présente partie, tribunal désigne le tribunal compétent du ressort du siège social de la société.

1974-75-76, ch. 33, art. 200; 1978-79, ch. 9, art. 1(F).

Application de la présente partie

208 (1) La présente partie, sauf les articles 209 et 212, ne s'applique pas aux sociétés qui sont des personnes insolubles ou des faillies au sens du paragraphe 2(1) de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité.

Suspension des procédures

(2) Toute procédure soit de dissolution, soit de liquidation et de dissolution, engagée en vertu de la présente partie, est suspendue dès la constatation de l'insolvabilité

Revival

209 (1) When a body corporate is dissolved under this Part or under section 268 of this Act, section 261 of chapter 33 of the Statutes of Canada, 1974-75-76, or subsection 297(6) of the Canada Not-for-profit Corporations Act, any interested person may apply to the Director to have the body corporate revived as a corporation under this Act.

Articles of revival

(2) Articles of revival in the form that the Director fixes shall be sent to the Director.

Certificate of revival

(3) On receipt of articles of revival, the Director shall issue a certificate of revival in accordance with section 262, if

- (a) the body corporate has fulfilled all conditions precedent that the Director considers reasonable; and
- (b) there is no valid reason for refusing to issue the certificate.

Date of revival

(3.1) A body corporate is revived as a corporation under this Act on the date shown on the certificate of revival.

Rights preserved

(4) Subject to any reasonable terms that may be imposed by the Director, to the rights acquired by any person after its dissolution and to any changes to the internal affairs of the corporation after its dissolution, the revived corporation is, in the same manner and to the same extent as if it had not been dissolved,

- (a) restored to its previous position in law, including the restoration of any rights and privileges whether arising before its dissolution or after its dissolution and before its revival; and
- (b) liable for the obligations that it would have had if it had not been dissolved whether they arise before its dissolution or after its dissolution and before its revival.

de la société au cours de procédures intentées en vertu de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité.

Reconstitution

209 (1) Tout intéressé peut demander au directeur la reconstitution en société régie par la présente loi d'une personne morale dissoute en vertu de la présente partie, de l'article 268 de la présente loi, de l'article 261 de la Loi sur les sociétés commerciales canadiennes, chapitre 33 des Statuts du Canada de 1974-75-76, ou du paragraphe 297(6) de la Loi canadienne sur les organisations à but non lucratif.

Clauses de reconstitution

(2) Les clauses de reconstitution sont envoyées au directeur en la forme établie par lui.

Certificat de reconstitution

(3) Sur réception des clauses de reconstitution, le directeur doit délivrer un certificat de reconstitution conformément à l'article 262 si :

- a) la personne morale a rempli les conditions préalables à la délivrance qu'il estime raisonnables;
- b) il n'y a aucun motif valable d'en refuser la délivrance.

Reconstitution

(3.1) La personne morale est reconstituée en société régie par la présente loi à la date figurant sur le certificat.

Maintien des droits et obligations

(4) Sous réserve des modalités raisonnables imposées par le directeur, des droits acquis par toute personne après sa dissolution et de tout changement aux affaires internes de la société survenu après sa dissolution, la société reconstituée recouvre, comme si elle n'avait jamais été dissoute :

- a) la même situation juridique, notamment ses droits et privilèges, indépendamment de leur date d'acquisition;
- b) la responsabilité des obligations qui seraient les siennes si elle n'avait pas été dissoute, indépendamment de la date où elles ont été contractées.

Articles 209-210

Legal actions

(5) Any legal action respecting the affairs of a revived corporation taken between the time of its dissolution and its revival is valid and effective.

Definition of interested person

(6) In this section, interested person includes

- (a) a shareholder, a director, an officer, an employee and a creditor of the dissolved corporation;
- (b) a person who has a contractual relationship with the dissolved corporation;
- (c) a person who, although at the time of dissolution of the corporation was not a person described in paragraph (a), would be such a person if a certificate of revival is issued under this section; and
- (d) a trustee in bankruptcy for the dissolved corporation.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 209; 2001, c. 14, s. 102; 2009, c. 23, s. 310.

Dissolution before commencing business

210 (1) A corporation that has not issued any shares may be dissolved at any time by resolution of all the directors.

Dissolution if no property

(2) A corporation that has no property and no liabilities may be dissolved by special resolution of the shareholders or, where it has issued more than one class of shares, by special resolutions of the holders of each class whether or not they are otherwise entitled to vote.

Dissolution where property disposed of

(3) A corporation that has property or liabilities or both may be dissolved by special resolution of the shareholders or, where it has issued more than one class of shares, by special resolutions of the holders of each class whether or not they are otherwise entitled to vote, if

- (a) by the special resolution or resolutions the shareholders authorize the directors to cause the corporation to distribute any property and discharge any liabilities; and
- (b) the corporation has distributed any property and discharged any liabilities before it sends articles of dissolution to the Director pursuant to subsection (4).

Articles of dissolution

(4) Articles of dissolution in the form that the Director fixes shall be sent to the Director.

Action en justice

(5) Est valide toute action en justice concernant les affaires internes de la société reconstituée intentée entre le moment de sa dissolution et celui de sa reconstitution.

Définition

(6) Pour l'application du présent article, « intéressé » s'entend notamment :

- a) des actionnaires, administrateurs, dirigeants, employés et créanciers de la société dissoute;
- b) de toute personne ayant un lien contractuel avec elle;
- c) de toute personne qui, bien que non visée par l'alinéa a) à la date de la dissolution, le deviendrait si la société était reconstituée;
- d) du syndic de faillite de la société dissoute.

Dissolution avant le début des opérations

210 (1) La société n'ayant émis aucune action peut être dissoute par résolution de tous les administrateurs.

Dissolution lorsqu'il n'y a pas de biens

(2) La société sans biens ni dettes peut être dissoute par résolution spéciale soit des actionnaires soit, en présence de plusieurs catégories d'actions, des détenteurs d'actions de chaque catégorie assorties ou non du droit de vote.

Dissolution après répartition des biens

(3) La société, qui a des biens ou des dettes ou les deux à la fois, peut être dissoute par résolution spéciale soit des actionnaires soit, en présence de plusieurs catégories d'actions, des détenteurs d'actions de chaque catégorie assorties ou non du droit de vote, pourvu que :

- a) d'une part, les résolutions autorisent les administrateurs à effectuer une répartition de biens et un règlement de dettes;
- b) d'autre part, la société ait effectué une répartition de biens et un règlement de dettes avant d'envoyer les clauses de dissolution au directeur conformément au paragraphe (4).

Clauses de dissolution

(4) Les clauses de dissolution sont envoyées au directeur en la forme établie par lui.

Effect of certificate

(6) The corporation ceases to exist on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 210; 2001, c. 14, s. 103.

Proposing liquidation and dissolution

211 (1) The directors may propose, or a shareholder who is entitled to vote at an annual meeting of shareholders may, in accordance with section 137, make a proposal for, the voluntary liquidation and dissolution of a corporation.

Notice of meeting

(2) Notice of any meeting of shareholders at which voluntary liquidation and dissolution is to be proposed shall set out the terms thereof.

Shareholders resolution

(3) A corporation may liquidate and dissolve by special resolution of the shareholders or, where the corporation has issued more than one class of shares, by special resolutions of the holders of each class whether or not they are otherwise entitled to vote.

Statement of intent to dissolve

(4) A statement of intent to dissolve in the form that the Director fixes shall be sent to the Director.

Certificate of intent to dissolve

(5) On receipt of a statement of intent to dissolve, the Director shall issue a certificate of intent to dissolve in accordance with section 262.

Effect of certificate

(6) On issue of a certificate of intent to dissolve, the corporation shall cease to carry on business except to the extent necessary for the liquidation, but its corporate existence continues until the Director issues a certificate of dissolution.

Liquidation

(7) After issue of a certificate of intent to dissolve, the corporation shall

- (a) immediately cause notice thereof to be sent to each known creditor of the corporation;

Certificat de dissolution

(5) Sur réception des clauses de dissolution, le directeur délivre un certificat de dissolution en conformité avec l'article 262.

Effet du certificat

(6) La société cesse d'exister à la date figurant sur le certificat de dissolution.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 210; 2001, ch. 14, art. 103.

Proposition de liquidation et dissolution

211 (1) La liquidation et la dissolution volontaires de la société peuvent être proposées par les administrateurs ou, conformément à l'article 137, par tout actionnaire habile à voter à l'assemblée annuelle.

Avis d'assemblée

(2) L'avis de convocation de l'assemblée, qui doit statuer sur la proposition de liquidation et de dissolution volontaires, doit en exposer les modalités.

Résolution des actionnaires

(3) La société peut prononcer sa liquidation et sa dissolution par résolution spéciale des actionnaires ou, le cas échéant, par résolution spéciale des détenteurs de chaque catégorie d'actions, assorties ou non du droit de vote.

Déclaration d'intention

(4) Une déclaration d'intention de dissolution est envoyée au directeur en la forme établie par lui.

Certificat d'intention

(5) Sur réception de la déclaration d'intention de dissolution, le directeur délivre, en conformité avec l'article 262, un certificat d'intention de dissolution.

Effet du certificat

(6) Dès la délivrance du certificat, la société doit cesser toute activité commerciale, sauf dans la mesure nécessaire à la liquidation, mais sa personnalité morale ne cesse d'exister qu'à la délivrance du certificat de dissolution.

Liquidation

(7) À la suite de la délivrance du certificat d'intention de dissolution, la société doit :

- a) en envoyer immédiatement avis à chaque créancier connu;

(b) without delay take reasonable steps to give notice of it in each province in Canada where the corporation was carrying on business at the time it sent the statement of intent to dissolve to the Director;

(c) proceed to collect its property, to dispose of properties that are not to be distributed in kind to its shareholders, to discharge all its obligations and to do all other acts required to liquidate its business; and

(d) after giving the notice required under paragraphs (a) and (b) and adequately providing for the payment or discharge of all its obligations, distribute its remaining property, either in money or in kind, among its shareholders according to their respective rights.

Supervision by court

(8) The Director or any interested person may, at any time during the liquidation of a corporation, apply to a court for an order that the liquidation be continued under the supervision of the court as provided in this Part, and on such application the court may so order and make any further order it thinks fit.

Notice to Director

(9) An applicant under this section shall give the Director notice of the application, and the Director is entitled to appear and be heard in person or by counsel.

Revocation

(10) At any time after issue of a certificate of intent to dissolve and before issue of a certificate of dissolution, a certificate of intent to dissolve may be revoked by sending to the Director a statement of revocation of intent to dissolve in the form that the Director fixes, if such revocation is approved in the same manner as the resolution under subsection (3).

Certificate of revocation of intent to dissolve

(11) On receipt of a statement of revocation of intent to dissolve, the Director shall issue a certificate of revocation of intent to dissolve in accordance with section 262.

Effect of certificate

(12) On the date shown in the certificate of revocation of intent to dissolve, the revocation is effective and the corporation may continue to carry on its business or businesses.

Right to dissolve

(13) If a certificate of intent to dissolve has not been revoked and the corporation has complied with subsection (7), the corporation shall prepare articles of dissolution.

b) prendre sans délai toute disposition utile pour en donner avis dans chaque province où la société exerçait ses activités commerciales au moment de l'envoi au directeur de la déclaration d'intention de dissolution;

c) accomplir tous actes utiles à la dissolution, notamment recouvrer ses biens, disposer des biens non destinés à être répartis en nature entre les actionnaires et honorer ses obligations;

d) après avoir donné les avis exigés aux alinéas a) et b) et constitué une provision suffisante pour honorer ses obligations, répartir le reliquat de l'actif, en numéraire ou en nature, entre les actionnaires, selon leurs droits respectifs.

Surveillance judiciaire

(8) Le tribunal, sur demande présentée à cette fin et au cours de la liquidation par le directeur ou par tout intéressé, peut, par ordonnance, décider que la liquidation sera poursuivie sous sa surveillance conformément à la présente partie, et prendre toute autre mesure pertinente.

Avis au directeur

(9) L'intéressé qui présente la demande prévue au présent article doit en donner avis au directeur; celui-ci peut comparaître en personne ou par ministère d'avocat.

Révocation

(10) Le certificat d'intention de dissolution peut, après sa délivrance et avant celle du certificat de dissolution, être révoqué par résolution adoptée conformément au paragraphe (3) et sur envoi au directeur d'une déclaration de renonciation à dissolution en la forme établie par lui.

Certificat

(11) Sur réception de la déclaration de renonciation à dissolution, le directeur délivre, en conformité avec l'article 262, le certificat à cet effet.

Effet du certificat

(12) Le certificat de renonciation à dissolution prend effet à la date qui y figure et la société peut dès lors continuer à exercer ses activités commerciales.

Droit de dissolution

(13) En l'absence de renonciation à dissolution, la société, après avoir observé le paragraphe (7), rédige les clauses régissant la dissolution.

Articles of dissolution

(14) Articles of dissolution in the form that the Director fixes shall be sent to the Director.

Certificate of dissolution

(15) On receipt of articles of dissolution, the Director shall issue a certificate of dissolution in accordance with section 262.

Effect of certificate

(16) The corporation ceases to exist on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 211; 2001, c. 14, s. 104.

Dissolution by Director

212 (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), the Director may

(a) dissolve a corporation by issuing a certificate of dissolution under this section if the corporation

(i) has not commenced business within three years after the date shown in its certificate of incorporation,

(ii) has not carried on its business for three consecutive years,

(iii) is in default for a period of one year in sending to the Director any fee, notice or document required by this Act, or

(iv) does not have any directors or is in the situation described in subsection 109(4); or

(b) apply to a court for an order dissolving the corporation, in which case section 217 applies.

Publication

(2) The Director shall not dissolve a corporation under this section until the Director has

(a) given one hundred and twenty days notice of the decision to dissolve the corporation to the corporation and to each director thereof; and

(b) published notice of that decision in a publication generally available to the public.

Certificate of dissolution

(3) Unless cause to the contrary has been shown or an order has been made by a court under section 246, the Director may, after the expiration of the period referred

Clauses de dissolution

(14) Les clauses de dissolution sont envoyées au directeur en la forme établie par lui.

Certificat de dissolution

(15) Sur réception des clauses de dissolution, le directeur délivre un certificat de dissolution en conformité avec l'article 262.

Effet du certificat

(16) La société cesse d'exister à la date figurant sur le certificat de dissolution.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 211; 2001, ch. 14, art. 104.

Dissolution par le directeur

212 (1) Sous réserve des paragraphes (2) et (3), le directeur peut :

a) soit dissoudre, par la délivrance du certificat de dissolution prévu au présent article, toute société qui, selon le cas :

(i) n'a pas commencé ses opérations dans les trois ans suivant la date figurant sur son certificat de constitution,

(ii) n'a pas exercé ses activités commerciales pendant trois ans consécutifs,

(iii) omet, pendant un délai d'un an, d'envoyer au directeur les droits, avis ou documents exigés par la présente loi,

(iv) est sans administrateur ou se trouve dans la situation visée au paragraphe 109(4);

b) soit demander au tribunal sa dissolution par voie d'ordonnance, auquel cas l'article 217 s'applique.

Publication

(2) Le directeur ne peut dissoudre, en vertu du présent article, une société avant :

a) de lui avoir donné, ainsi qu'à chacun de ses administrateurs, un préavis de cent vingt jours de sa décision;

b) d'avoir publié un avis de son intention dans une publication accessible au grand public.

Certificat de dissolution

(3) En l'absence d'opposition justifiée ou d'ordonnance rendue en vertu de l'article 246, le directeur peut, à l'expiration du délai visé au paragraphe (2), délivrer le certificat de dissolution en la forme établie par lui.

to in subsection (2), issue a certificate of dissolution in the form that the Director fixes.

Exception — non-payment of incorporation fee

(3.1) Despite anything in this section, the Director may dissolve a corporation by issuing a certificate of dissolution if the required fee for the issuance of a certificate of incorporation has not been paid.

Effect of certificate

(4) The corporation ceases to exist on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 212; 1994, c. 24, s. 25; 2001, c. 14, ss. 105, 135(E).

Grounds for dissolution

213 (1) The Director or any interested person may apply to a court for an order dissolving a corporation if the corporation has

- (a) failed for two or more consecutive years to comply with the requirements of this Act with respect to the holding of annual meetings of shareholders;
- (b) contravened subsection 16(2) or section 21, 157 or 159; or
- (c) procured any certificate under this Act by misrepresentation.

Notice to Director

(2) An applicant under this section shall give the Director notice of the application, and the Director is entitled to appear and be heard in person or by counsel.

Dissolution order

(3) On an application under this section or section 212, the court may order that the corporation be dissolved or that the corporation be liquidated and dissolved under the supervision of the court, and the court may make any other order it thinks fit.

Certificate

(4) On receipt of an order under this section, section 212 or 214, the Director shall

- (a) if the order is to dissolve the corporation, issue a certificate of dissolution in the form that the Director fixes; or

Non-paiement des droits de constitution

(3.1) Malgré toute autre disposition du présent article, le directeur peut dissoudre une société par la délivrance du certificat de dissolution lorsque les droits requis pour la délivrance d'un certificat de constitution n'ont pas été payés.

Effet du certificat

(4) La société cesse d'exister à la date figurant sur le certificat de dissolution.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 212; 1994, ch. 24, art. 25; 2001, ch. 14, art. 105 et 135(A).

213 (1) Le directeur ou tout intéressé peut demander au tribunal de prononcer, par ordonnance, la dissolution de la société qui, selon le cas :

- a) n'a pas observé pendant au moins deux ans consécutifs les dispositions de la présente loi en matière de tenue des assemblées annuelles;
- b) a enfreint les dispositions du paragraphe 16(2) ou des articles 21, 157 ou 159;
- c) a obtenu un certificat sur présentation de faits erronés.

Avis au directeur

(2) L'intéressé qui présente la demande prévue au présent article doit en donner avis au directeur; celui-ci peut comparaître en personne ou par ministère d'avocat.

Ordonnance de dissolution

(3) Sur demande présentée en vertu du présent article ou de l'article 212, le tribunal peut rendre toute ordonnance qu'il estime pertinente et, notamment, prononcer la dissolution de la société ou en prescrire la dissolution et la liquidation sous sa surveillance.

Certificat

(4) Sur réception de l'ordonnance visée au présent article ou aux articles 212 ou 214, le directeur délivre, en la forme établie par lui, un certificat :

- a) de dissolution, s'il s'agit d'une ordonnance à cet effet;
- b) d'intention de dissolution, s'il s'agit d'une ordonnance de liquidation et de dissolution sous surveillance judiciaire; il en fait publier un avis dans une publication accessible au grand public.

(5) The corporation ceases to exist on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 213; 2001, c. 14, s. 106.

Further grounds

214 (1) A court may order the liquidation and dissolution of a corporation or any of its affiliated corporations on the application of a shareholder,

(a) if the court is satisfied that in respect of a corporation or any of its affiliates

(i) any act or omission of the corporation or any of its affiliates effects a result,

(ii) the business or affairs of the corporation or any of its affiliates are or have been carried on or conducted in a manner, or

(iii) the powers of the directors of the corporation or any of its affiliates are or have been exercised in a manner that is oppressive or unfairly prejudicial to or that unfairly disregards the interests of any security holder, creditor, director or officer; or

(b) if the court is satisfied that

(i) a unanimous shareholder agreement entitles a complaining shareholder to demand dissolution of the corporation after the occurrence of a specified event and that event has occurred, or

(ii) it is just and equitable that the corporation should be liquidated and dissolved.

Alternative order

(2) On an application under this section, a court may make such order under this section or section 241 as it thinks fit.

Application of s. 242

(3) Section 242 applies to an application under this section.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 214; 2001, c. 14, s. 107(F).

Effet du certificat

(5) La société cesse d'exister à la date figurant sur le certificat de dissolution.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 213; 2001, ch. 14, art. 106.

214 (1) À la demande d'un actionnaire, le tribunal peut ordonner la liquidation et la dissolution de la société ou de toute autre société de son groupe dans l'un ou l'autre des cas suivants :

a) il constate qu'elle abuse des droits de tout détenteur de valeurs mobilières, créancier, administrateur ou dirigeant, ou se montre injuste à leur égard en leur portant préjudice ou en ne tenant pas compte de leurs intérêts :

(i) soit en raison de son comportement,

(ii) soit par la façon dont elle conduit ou a conduit ses activités commerciales ou ses affaires internes,

(iii) soit par la façon dont ses administrateurs exercent ou ont exercé leurs pouvoirs;

b) il constate :

(i) soit la survenance d'un événement qui, selon une convention unanime des actionnaires permet à l'actionnaire mécontent d'exiger la dissolution,

(ii) soit le caractère juste et équitable de cette mesure.

Ordonnance subsidiaire

(2) Sur demande présentée en vertu du présent article, le tribunal peut rendre, conformément à cet article ou à l'article 241, toute ordonnance qu'il estime pertinente.

Application de l'art. 242

(3) L'article 242 s'applique aux demandes visées au présent article.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 214; 2001, ch. 14, art. 107(F).

Application for supervision

215 (1) An application to a court to supervise a voluntary liquidation and dissolution under subsection 211(8) shall state the reasons, verified by an affidavit of the applicant, why the court should supervise the liquidation and dissolution.

Court supervision

(2) If a court makes an order applied for under subsection 211(8), the liquidation and dissolution of the corporation shall continue under the supervision of the court in accordance with this Act.

1974-75-76, c. 33, s. 208; 1978-79, c. 9, s. 1(F).

Application to court

216 (1) An application to a court under subsection 214(1) shall state the reasons, verified by an affidavit of the applicant, why the corporation should be liquidated and dissolved.

Show cause order

(2) On an application under subsection 214(1), the court may make an order requiring the corporation and any person having an interest in the corporation or claim against it to show cause, at a time and place specified in the order, within four weeks after the date of the order, why the corporation should not be liquidated and dissolved.

Powers of court

(3) On an application under subsection 214(1), the court may order the directors and officers of the corporation to furnish the court with all material information known to or reasonably ascertainable by them, including

- (a) financial statements of the corporation;
- (b) the name and address of each shareholder of the corporation; and
- (c) the name and address of each known creditor or claimant, including any creditor or claimant with unliquidated, future or contingent claims, and any person with whom the corporation has a contract.

Publication

(4) A copy of an order made under subsection (2) shall be

- (a) published as directed in the order, at least once in each week before the time appointed for the hearing, in a newspaper published or distributed in the place where the corporation has its registered office; and

Demande de surveillance

215 (1) La demande de surveillance présentée au tribunal conformément au paragraphe 211(8) doit être motivée, avec l'affidavit du demandeur à l'appui.

Surveillance

(2) La liquidation et la dissolution doivent se poursuivre, conformément à la présente loi, sous la surveillance du tribunal, si l'ordonnance prévue au paragraphe 211(8) est rendue.

1974-75-76, ch. 33, art. 208; 1978-79, ch. 9, art. 1(F).

Demande au tribunal

216 (1) La demande de liquidation et de dissolution visée au paragraphe 214(1) doit être motivée, avec l'affidavit du demandeur à l'appui.

Ordonnance préliminaire

(2) Après le dépôt de la demande visée au paragraphe 214(1), le tribunal peut, par ordonnance, requérir la société ainsi que tout intéressé ou créancier d'expliquer, dans les quatre semaines de l'ordonnance et aux lieux, dates et heures indiqués, pourquoi la liquidation et la dissolution seraient inopportunes.

Pouvoirs du tribunal

(3) Après le dépôt de la demande visée au paragraphe 214(1), le tribunal peut ordonner aux administrateurs et dirigeants de lui fournir tous les renseignements pertinents en leur possession ou qu'ils peuvent raisonnablement obtenir, y compris :

- a) les états financiers de la société;
- b) les noms et adresses des actionnaires;
- c) les noms et adresses des créanciers ou réclamants connus, y compris ceux qui ont des créances non liquidées, futures ou éventuelles, et des cocontractants de la société.

Publication

(4) L'ordonnance rendue en vertu du paragraphe (2) est à la fois :

- a) insérée de la manière y indiquée, une fois au moins chaque semaine précédant la date de l'audience, dans un journal publié ou diffusé au lieu du siège social de la société;

(b) served on the Director and each person named in the order.

Person responsible

(5) Publication and service of an order under this section shall be effected by the corporation or by such other person and in such manner as the court may order.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 216; 1999, c. 31, s. 64(E).

Powers of court

217 In connection with the dissolution or the liquidation and dissolution of a corporation, the court may, if it is satisfied that the corporation is able to pay or adequately provide for the discharge of all its obligations, make any order it thinks fit including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing,

- (a) an order to liquidate;
- (b) an order appointing a liquidator, with or without security, fixing the liquidator's remuneration and replacing a liquidator;
- (c) an order appointing inspectors or referees, specifying their powers, fixing their remuneration and replacing inspectors or referees;
- (d) an order determining the notice to be given to any interested person, or dispensing with notice to any person;
- (e) an order determining the validity of any claims made against the corporation;
- (f) an order, at any stage of the proceedings, restraining the directors and officers from
 - (i) exercising any of their powers, or
 - (ii) collecting or receiving any debt or other property of the corporation, and from paying out or transferring any property of the corporation, except as permitted by the court;
- (g) an order determining and enforcing the duty or liability of any present or former director, officer or shareholder
 - (i) to the corporation, or
 - (ii) for an obligation of the corporation;
- (h) an order approving the payment, satisfaction or compromise of claims against the corporation and the retention of assets for such purpose, and determining the adequacy of provisions for the payment or

b) signifiée au directeur et aux personnes y désignées.

Personne responsable

(5) La publication et la signification des ordonnances visées au présent article sont faites, selon les modalités que prescrit le tribunal, par la société ou la personne qu'il désigne.

Pouvoirs du tribunal

217 À l'occasion de la dissolution ou de la liquidation et de la dissolution, le tribunal peut, s'il constate la capacité de la société de payer ou de constituer une provision pour honorer ses obligations, rendre les ordonnances qu'il estime pertinentes et en vue, notamment :

- a) de procéder à la liquidation;
- b) de nommer un liquidateur et d'exiger de lui une garantie, de fixer sa rémunération et de le remplacer;
- c) de nommer des inspecteurs ou des arbitres, de préciser leurs pouvoirs, de fixer leur rémunération et de les remplacer;
- d) de décider s'il y a lieu de donner avis aux intéressés ou à toute autre personne;
- e) de juger de la validité des réclamations faites contre la société;
- f) d'interdire, à tout stade de la procédure, aux administrateurs et aux dirigeants :
 - (i) soit d'exercer tout ou partie de leurs pouvoirs,
 - (ii) soit de percevoir toute créance de la société ou de payer, céder ou recevoir tout bien de celle-ci, sauf de la manière autorisée par le tribunal;
- g) de préciser et de mettre en jeu la responsabilité des administrateurs, dirigeants ou actionnaires ou de leurs prédécesseurs :
 - (i) soit envers la société,
 - (ii) soit envers les tiers pour les obligations de la société;
- h) d'approuver, en ce qui concerne les dettes de la société, tout paiement, règlement, transaction ou rétention d'éléments d'actif, et de juger si les provisions constituées suffisent à acquitter les obligations de la société, qu'elles soient ou non liquidées, futures ou éventuelles; discharge of obligations of the corporation, whether liquidated, unliquidated, future or contingent;

(i) an order disposing of or destroying the documents and records of the corporation;

(j) on the application of a creditor, the inspectors or the liquidator, an order giving directions on any matter arising in the liquidation;

(k) after notice has been given to all interested parties, an order relieving a liquidator from any omission or default on such terms as the court thinks fit and confirming any act of the liquidator;

(l) subject to section 223, an order approving any proposed interim or final distribution to shareholders in money or in property;

(m) an order disposing of any property belonging to creditors or shareholders who cannot be found;

(n) on the application of any director, officer, security holder, creditor or the liquidator,

(i) an order staying the liquidation on such terms and conditions as the court thinks fit,

(ii) an order continuing or discontinuing the liquidation proceedings, or

(iii) an order to the liquidator to restore to the corporation all its remaining property; and

(o) after the liquidator has rendered a final account to the court, an order dissolving the corporation.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 217; 2001, c. 14, ss. 108, 135(E); 2011, c. 21, s. 62(F).

Effect of order

218 The liquidation of a corporation commences when a court makes an order therefor.

1974-75-76, c. 33, s. 211; 1978-79, c. 9, s. 1(F).

Cessation of business and powers

219 (1) If a court makes an order for liquidation of a corporation,

(a) the corporation continues in existence but shall cease to carry on business, except the business that is, in the opinion of the liquidator, required for an orderly liquidation; and

(b) the powers of the directors and shareholders cease and vest in the liquidator, except as specifically authorized by the court.

i) de fixer l'usage qui sera fait des documents et registres de la société ou de les détruire;

j) sur demande d'un créancier, des inspecteurs ou du liquidateur, de donner des instructions sur toute question touchant à la liquidation;

k) sur avis à tous les intéressés, de décharger le liquidateur de ses manquements, selon les modalités que le tribunal estime pertinentes, et de confirmer ses actes;

l) sous réserve de l'article 223, d'approuver tout projet de répartition provisoire ou définitive entre les actionnaires, en numéraire ou en nature;

m) de fixer la destination des biens appartenant aux créanciers ou aux actionnaires introuvables;

n) sur demande de tout administrateur, dirigeant, détenteur de valeurs mobilières ou créancier ou du liquidateur :

(i) de surseoir à la liquidation, selon les modalités que le tribunal estime pertinentes,

(ii) de poursuivre ou d'interrompre la procédure de liquidation,

(iii) d'enjoindre au liquidateur de restituer à la société le reliquat des biens de celle-ci;

o) après la reddition de comptes définitive du liquidateur devant le tribunal, de dissoudre la société.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 217; 2001, ch. 14, art. 108 et 135(A); 2011, ch. 21, art. 62(F).

Effet de l'ordonnance

218 La liquidation de la société commence dès que le tribunal rend une ordonnance à cet effet.

1974-75-76, ch. 33, art. 211; 1978-79, ch. 9, art. 1(F).

Cessation d'activité et perte de pouvoirs

219 (1) À la suite de l'ordonnance de liquidation :

a) la société, tout en continuant à exister, cesse d'exercer ses activités commerciales, à l'exception de celles que le liquidateur estime nécessaires au déroulement normal des opérations de la liquidation;

b) les pouvoirs des administrateurs et des actionnaires sont dévolus au liquidateur, sauf indication contraire et expresse du tribunal.

Delegation by liquidator

(2) The liquidator may delegate any powers vested in the liquidator by paragraph (1)(b) to the directors or shareholders.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 219; 2001, c. 14, s. 135(E).

Appointment of liquidator

220 (1) When making an order for the liquidation of a corporation or at any time thereafter, the court may appoint any person, including a director, an officer or a shareholder of the corporation or any other body corporate, as liquidator of the corporation.

Vacancy

(2) Where an order for the liquidation of a corporation has been made and the office of liquidator is or becomes vacant, the property of the corporation is under the control of the court until the office of liquidator is filled.

1974-75-76, c. 33, s. 213; 1978-79, c. 9, ss. 1(F), 67.

Duties of liquidator

221 A liquidator shall

(a) forthwith after appointment give notice thereof to the Director and to each claimant and creditor known to the liquidator;

(b) without delay publish notice by insertion once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published or distributed in the place where the corporation has its registered office and take reasonable steps to give notice of the appointment in each province where the corporation carries on business, requiring any person

(i) indebted to the corporation, to render an account and pay to the liquidator at the time and place specified any amount owing,

(ii) possessing property of the corporation, to deliver it to the liquidator at the time and place specified, and

(iii) having a claim against the corporation, whether liquidated, unliquidated, future or contingent, to present particulars thereof in writing to the liquidator not later than two months after the first publication of the notice;

(c) take into custody and control the property of the corporation;

(d) open and maintain a trust account for the moneys of the corporation;

Délégation par le liquidateur

(2) Le liquidateur peut déléguer aux administrateurs ou aux actionnaires la totalité ou une partie des pouvoirs qui lui sont dévolus en vertu de l'alinéa (1)b).

Nomination du liquidateur

220 (1) Le tribunal peut, en rendant l'ordonnance de liquidation ou par la suite, nommer en qualité de liquidateur toute personne et notamment l'un des administrateurs, dirigeants ou actionnaires de la société ou une autre personne morale.

Vacance

(2) Les biens de la société sont placés sous la garde du tribunal durant toute vacance du poste de liquidateur survenant après le prononcé de l'ordonnance de liquidation.

1974-75-76, ch. 33, art. 213; 1978-79, ch. 9, art. 1(F) et 67.

Obligations du liquidateur

221 Le liquidateur doit :

a) donner avis, sans délai, de sa nomination au directeur et aux réclamants et créanciers connus de lui;

b) insérer sans délai, une fois par semaine pendant deux semaines consécutives, dans un journal publié ou diffusé au lieu du siège social de la société, tout en prenant des mesures raisonnables pour en faire une certaine publicité dans chaque province où la société exerce ses activités commerciales, un avis obligeant :

(i) les débiteurs de la société à lui rendre compte et à lui payer leurs dettes, aux date et lieu précisés dans cet avis,

(ii) les personnes en possession des biens de la société à les lui remettre aux date et lieu précisés dans l'avis,

(iii) les créanciers de la société à lui fournir par écrit un relevé détaillé de leur créance, qu'elle soit ou non liquidée, future ou éventuelle, dans les deux mois de la première publication de l'avis;

c) prendre sous sa garde et sous son contrôle tous les biens de la société;

d) ouvrir un compte en fiducie pour les fonds de la société;

e) tenir une comptabilité des recettes et déboursés de la société; person would have exercised in comparable circumstances, including reliance in good faith on

(a) financial statements of the corporation represented to the liquidator by an officer of the corporation or in a written report of the auditor of the corporation fairly to reflect the financial condition of the corporation; or

(b) a report of a person whose profession lends credibility to a statement made by the professional person.

Application for examination

(3) If a liquidator has reason to believe that any person has in their possession or under their control, or has concealed, withheld or misappropriated any property of the corporation, the liquidator may apply to the court for an order requiring that person to appear before the court at the time and place designated in the order and to be examined.

Power of court

(4) If the examination referred to in subsection (3) discloses that a person has concealed, withheld or misappropriated property of the corporation, the court may order that person to restore it or pay compensation to the liquidator.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 222; 2001, c. 14, ss. 110, 135(E); 2011, c. 21, s. 63(E).

Costs of liquidation

223 (1) A liquidator shall pay the costs of liquidation out of the property of the corporation and shall pay or make adequate provision for all claims against the corporation.

Final accounts

(2) Within one year after appointment, and after paying or making adequate provision for all claims against the corporation, the liquidator shall apply to the court

(a) for approval of the final accounts and for an order permitting the liquidator to distribute in money or in kind the remaining property of the corporation to its shareholders according to their respective rights; or

(b) for an extension of time, setting out the reasons therefor.

Shareholder application

(3) If a liquidator fails to make the application required by subsection (2), a shareholder of the corporation may apply to the court for an order for the liquidator to show cause why a final accounting and distribution should not be made.

prudente, notamment le fait de s'appuyer de bonne foi sur :

a) les états financiers de la société qui, d'après l'un de ses dirigeants ou d'après le rapport écrit du vérificateur, reflètent équitablement sa situation;

b) les rapports des personnes dont la profession permet d'accorder foi à leurs déclarations.

Demande d'interrogatoire

(3) Le liquidateur qui a de bonnes raisons de croire qu'une personne a en sa possession ou sous son contrôle ou a dissimulé, retenu ou détourné des biens de la société peut demander au tribunal de l'obliger, par ordonnance, à comparaître pour interrogatoire aux date, heure et lieu que celle-ci précise.

Pouvoirs du tribunal

(4) Le tribunal peut ordonner à la personne dont l'interrogatoire visé au paragraphe (3) révèle qu'elle a dissimulé, retenu ou détourné des biens de la société de les restituer au liquidateur ou de lui verser une indemnité compensatoire.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 222; 2001, ch. 14, art. 110 et 135(A); 2011, ch. 21, art. 63(A).

Frais de liquidation

223 (1) Le liquidateur acquitte les frais de liquidation sur les biens de la société; il acquitte également toutes les dettes de la société ou constitue une provision suffisante à cette fin.

Comptes définitifs

(2) Dans l'année de sa nomination et après avoir acquitté toutes les dettes de la société ou constitué une provision suffisante à cette fin, le liquidateur demande au tribunal :

a) soit d'approuver ses comptes définitifs et de l'autoriser, par ordonnance, à répartir en numéraire ou en nature le reliquat des biens entre les actionnaires selon leurs droits respectifs;

b) soit, avec motifs à l'appui, de prolonger son mandat.

Demande des actionnaires

(3) Tout actionnaire peut demander au tribunal d'obliger, par ordonnance, le liquidateur qui néglige de présenter la demande exigée par le paragraphe (2) à expliquer pourquoi un compte définitif ne peut être dressé et une répartition effectuée.

Publication

(4) A liquidator shall give notice of their intention to make an application under subsection (2) to the Director, to each inspector appointed under section 217, to each shareholder and to any person who provided a security, fidelity bond or fidelity insurance for the liquidation, and shall publish the notice in a newspaper published or distributed in the place where the corporation has its registered office, or as otherwise directed by the court.

Final order

(5) If the court approves the final accounts rendered by a liquidator, the court shall make an order

- (a) directing the Director to issue a certificate of dissolution;
- (b) directing the custody or disposal of the documents and records of the corporation; and
- (c) subject to subsection (6), discharging the liquidator.

Delivery of order

(6) The liquidator shall forthwith send a certified copy of the order referred to in subsection (5) to the Director.

Certificate of dissolution

(7) On receipt of the order referred to in subsection (5), the Director shall issue a certificate of dissolution in accordance with section 262.

Effect of certificate

(8) The corporation ceases to exist on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 223; 2001, c. 14, ss. 111(E), 135(E); 2011, c. 21, s. 64.

Right to distribution in money

224 (1) If in the course of liquidation of a corporation the shareholders resolve or the liquidator proposes to

- (a) exchange all or substantially all the property of the corporation for securities of another body corporate that are to be distributed to the shareholders, or
- (b) distribute all or part of the property of the corporation to the shareholders in kind, a shareholder may apply to the court for an order requiring the distribution of the property of the corporation to be in money.

Publication

(4) Le liquidateur doit donner avis de son intention de présenter la demande prévue au paragraphe (2) au directeur, à chaque inspecteur nommé en vertu de l'article 217, à chaque actionnaire et aux personnes ayant fourni une sûreté ou une assurance détournement et vol pour les besoins de la liquidation, et faire insérer cet avis dans un journal publié ou diffusé au lieu du siège social de la société ou le faire connaître par tout autre moyen choisi par le tribunal.

Ordonnance définitive

(5) Le tribunal, s'il approuve les comptes définitifs du liquidateur, doit, par ordonnance :

- a) demander au directeur de délivrer un certificat de dissolution;
- b) donner des instructions quant à la garde des documents et des livres de la société et à l'usage qui en sera fait;
- c) sous réserve du paragraphe (6), le libérer.

Copie

(6) Le liquidateur doit, sans délai, envoyer au directeur une copie certifiée de l'ordonnance visée au paragraphe (5).

Certificat de dissolution

(7) Sur réception de l'ordonnance visée au paragraphe (5), le directeur délivre un certificat de dissolution en conformité avec l'article 262.

Effet du certificat

(8) La société cesse d'exister à la date figurant sur le certificat de dissolution.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 223; 2001, ch. 14, art. 111(A) et 135(A); 2011, ch. 21, art. 64.

Droit à la répartition en numéraire

224 (1) Si, au cours de la liquidation, les actionnaires décident, par résolution, ou si le liquidateur propose :

- a) soit d'échanger la totalité ou la quasi-totalité des biens de la société contre des valeurs mobilières d'une autre personne morale à répartir entre les actionnaires;
- b) soit de répartir tout ou partie des biens de la société, en nature, entre les actionnaires, tout actionnaire peut demander au tribunal d'imposer, par ordonnance, la répartition en numéraire des biens de la société.

Canada Business Corporations
PART XVIII Liquidation and Dissolution
Sections 224-226

Sociétés par actions
PARTIE XVIII Liquidation et dissolution
Articles 224-226

Powers of court

(2) On an application under subsection (1), the court may order

(a) all the property of the corporation to be converted into and distributed in money; or

(b) the claims of any shareholder applying under this section to be satisfied by a distribution in money, in which case subsections 190(20) to (22) apply.

1974-75-76, c. 33, s. 217; 1978-79, c. 9, s. 1(F).

Custody of records

225 (1) A person who has been granted custody of the documents and records of a dissolved corporation remains liable to produce such documents and records for six years following the date of its dissolution or until the expiration of such other shorter period as may be ordered under subsection 223(5).

Offence

(2) A person who, without reasonable cause, contravenes subsection (1) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to both.

1974-75-76, c. 33, s. 218; 1978-79, c. 9, s. 1(F).

Definition of shareholder

226 (1) In this section, shareholder includes the heirs and personal representatives of a shareholder.

Continuation of actions

(2) Notwithstanding the dissolution of a body corporate under this Act,

(a) a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding commenced by or against the body corporate before its dissolution may be continued as if the body corporate had not been dissolved;

(b) a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding may be brought against the body corporate within two years after its dissolution as if the body corporate had not been dissolved; and

(c) any property that would have been available to satisfy any judgment or order if the body corporate had not been dissolved remains available for such purpose.

Pouvoirs du tribunal

(2) Sur demande présentée en vertu du paragraphe (1), le tribunal peut ordonner :

a) soit la réalisation de tous les biens de la société et la répartition du produit;

b) soit le règlement en numéraire des créances des actionnaires qui en font la demande en vertu du présent article, auquel cas les paragraphes 190(20) à (22) s'appliquent.

1974-75-76, ch. 33, art. 217; 1978-79, ch. 9, art. 1(F).

Garde des documents

225 (1) La personne qui s'est vu confier la garde des documents et livres d'une société dissoute peut être tenue de les produire jusqu'à la date fixée dans l'ordonnance rendue en vertu du paragraphe 223(5) et, au maximum, dans les six ans suivant la date de la dissolution.

Infraction

(2) La personne qui, sans motif raisonnable, contrevient au paragraphe (1) commet une infraction et encourt, sur déclaration de culpabilité par procédure sommaire, une amende maximale de cinq mille dollars et un emprisonnement maximal de six mois, ou l'une de ces peines.

1974-75-76, ch. 33, art. 218; 1978-79, ch. 9, art. 1(F).

Définition de actionnaire

226 (1) Au présent article, actionnaire s'entend notamment des héritiers et des représentants personnels de l'actionnaire.

Continuation des actions

(2) Nonobstant la dissolution d'une personne morale conformément à la présente loi :

a) les procédures civiles, pénales ou administratives intentées par ou contre elle avant sa dissolution peuvent être poursuivies comme si la dissolution n'avait pas eu lieu;

b) dans les deux ans suivant la dissolution, des procédures civiles, pénales ou administratives peuvent être intentées contre la personne morale comme si elle n'avait pas été dissoute;

c) les biens qui auraient servi à satisfaire tout jugement ou ordonnance, à défaut de la dissolution, demeurent disponibles à cette fin.

Service

(3) Service of a document on a corporation after its dissolution may be effected by serving the document on a person shown in the last notice filed under section 106 or 113.

Idem

(3.1) Service of a document on a company to which the Canada Corporations Act, chapter C-32 of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1970, applied that has been dissolved by subsection 261(8) of the Canada Business Corporations Act, chapter 33 of the Statutes of Canada, 1974-75-76 and chapter 9 of the Statutes of Canada, 1978-79, may be effected by serving the document on a person shown as a director in the last annual summary filed by the company pursuant to the Canada Corporations Act.

Reimbursement

(4) Notwithstanding the dissolution of a body corporate under this Act, a shareholder to whom any of its property has been distributed is liable to any person claiming under subsection (2) to the extent of the amount received by that shareholder on such distribution, and an action to enforce such liability may be brought within two years after the date of the dissolution of the body corporate.

Representative action

(5) A court may order an action referred to in subsection (4) to be brought against the persons who were shareholders as a class, subject to such conditions as the court thinks fit and, if the plaintiff establishes a claim, the court may refer the proceedings to a referee or other officer of the court who may

(a) add as a party to the proceedings each person who was a shareholder found by the plaintiff;

(b) determine, subject to subsection (4), the amount that each person who was a shareholder shall contribute towards satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim; and

(c) direct payment of the amounts so determined.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 226; 1992, c. 1, s. 57; 2001, c. 14, ss. 112, 135(E); 2011, c. 21, s. 65(F).

Unknown claimants

227 (1) On the dissolution of a body corporate under this Act, the portion of the property distributable to a creditor or shareholder who cannot be found shall be converted into money and paid to the Receiver General.

Signification

(3) Après la dissolution, la signification des documents peut se faire à toute personne figurant sur la dernière liste enregistrée conformément aux articles 106 ou 113.

Idem

(3.1) La signification des documents à une compagnie qui était régie par la Loi sur les corporations canadiennes, chapitre C-32 des Statuts révisés du Canada de 1970, et qui a été dissoute par suite de l'application du paragraphe 261(8) de la Loi sur les sociétés commerciales canadiennes, chapitre 33 des Statuts du Canada de 1974-75-76 et chapitre 9 des Statuts du Canada de 1978-79, peut se faire à toute personne figurant comme dirigeant dans le dernier sommaire déposé par la compagnie conformément à la Loi sur les corporations canadiennes.

Remboursement

(4) Nonobstant la dissolution d'une personne morale, conformément à la présente loi, les actionnaires entre lesquels sont répartis les biens engagent leur responsabilité, à concurrence de la somme reçue, envers toute personne invoquant le paragraphe (2), toute action en recouvrement pouvant alors être engagée dans les deux ans suivant la dissolution.

Action en justice collective

(5) Le tribunal peut ordonner que soit intentée, collectivement contre les actionnaires, l'action visée au paragraphe (4), sous réserve des conditions qu'il juge pertinentes, et peut, si le demandeur établit le bien-fondé de sa demande, renvoyer l'affaire devant un arbitre ou un autre officier de justice qui a le pouvoir :

a) de joindre comme partie à l'instance chaque ancien actionnaire retrouvé par le demandeur;

b) de déterminer, sous réserve du paragraphe (4), la part que chaque ancien actionnaire doit verser pour dédommager le demandeur;

c) d'ordonner le versement des sommes déterminées.

L.R. (1985), ch. C-44, art. 226; 1992, ch. 1, art. 57; 2001, ch. 14, art. 112 et 135(A); 2011, ch. 21, art. 65(F).

Créanciers inconnus

227 (1) La partie des biens à remettre, par suite de la dissolution d'une personne morale en vertu de la présente loi, à tout créancier ou actionnaire introuvable doit être réalisée en numéraire et le produit versé au receveur général.

Constructive satisfaction

(2) A payment under subsection (1) is deemed to be in satisfaction of a debt or claim of such creditor or shareholder.

Recovery

(3) A person who establishes an entitlement to any moneys paid to the Receiver General under this Act shall be paid by the Receiver General an equivalent amount out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

R.S., 1985, c. C-44, s. 227; 2001, c. 14, s. 135(E).

Vesting in Crown

228 (1) Subject to subsection 226(2) and section 227, property of a body corporate that has not been disposed of at the date of its dissolution under this Act vests in Her Majesty in right of Canada.

Return of property on revival

(2) If a body corporate is revived as a corporation under section 209, any property, other than money, that vested in Her Majesty pursuant to subsection (1), that has not been disposed of shall be returned to the corporation and there shall be paid to the corporation out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund

(a) an amount equal to any money received by Her Majesty pursuant to subsection (1); and

(b) where property other than money vested in Her Majesty pursuant to subsection (1) and that property has been disposed of, an amount equal to the lesser of

(i) the value of any such property at the date it vested in Her Majesty, and

(ii) the amount realized by Her Majesty from the disposition of that property.

PART XIX

Investigation

Investigation

229 (1) A security holder or the Director may apply, ex parte or on such notice as the court may require, to a court having jurisdiction in the place where the corporation has its registered office for an order directing an investigation to be made of the corporation and any of its affiliated corporations.

Dédommagement

(2) Le versement prévu au paragraphe (1) est réputé régler le créancier ou dédommager l'actionnaire.

Recouvrement

(3) Le receveur général doit verser, sur le Trésor, une somme égale à celle qu'il a reçue, à toute personne qui la réclame à bon droit selon la présente loi.

Dévolution à la Couronne

228 (1) Sous réserve du paragraphe 226(2) et de l'article 227, les biens dont il n'a pas été disposé à la date de la dissolution d'une personne morale en vertu de la présente loi sont dévolus à Sa Majesté du chef du Canada.

Restitution des biens

(2) Les biens dévolus à Sa Majesté conformément au paragraphe (1) et dont il n'a pas été disposé, à l'exclusion des sommes d'argent, sont restitués à la personne morale reconstituée en société en vertu de l'article 209; lui sont versées, sur le Trésor :

a) une somme égale à celles qu'a reçues Sa Majesté conformément au paragraphe (1);

b) en cas de disposition de biens autres qu'en numéraire dévolus à Sa Majesté conformément au paragraphe (1), une somme égale au moins élevé des montants suivants :

(i) la valeur de ces biens à la date de leur dévolution,

(ii) le produit tiré par Sa Majesté de cette disposition.

1974-75-76, ch. 33, art. 221; 1978-79, ch. 9, art. 1(F) et 70.

Powers and duties of superintendent

- 6. (1) The Lieutenant-Governor in Council shall appoint a Superintendent of Pensions.
 - (1.1) The Lieutenant-Governor in Council may appoint a Deputy Superintendent of Pensions
 - (a) to act in place of the superintendent in his or her absence or incapacity; and

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

(b) to exercise the powers and perform the duties of the superintendent under an Act or regulations that may be assigned by the superintendent.

(2) The superintendent, subject to the approval of the minister, has the control and supervision of the administration of this Act, and has the following powers and duties:

(a) to examine all pension plans and all amendments to those plans that are filed for registration under this Act;

(b) to register and issue certificates of registration in respect of all pension plans that are filed for registration under this Act and comply with the standards for registration;

(c) to refuse to register a pension plan that does not comply with this Act;

(d) to carry out periodic or other inspections and audits of registered pension plans;

(e) to revoke the registration and cancel the certificate of registration for a pension plan that ceases to comply with the requirements of this Act;

(f) to direct the administrator of a pension plan to provide information to plan members at a time and in a manner specified by the superintendent;

(g) to assess and collect fees for the registration and annual supervision of pension plans; and

(h) to perform other functions and duties that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may assign.

(3) On receipt of a written request and if satisfied reasonable grounds exist for the extension, the superintendent may extend a time limit imposed under this Act to a maximum of 6 months.

(4) The superintendent may place a pension plan under trusteeship and appoint one or more persons to act as trustee of the plan where, in the opinion of the superintendent, it is necessary to do so.

(5) The cost of administering a pension plan by a trustee under subsection (4) is to be paid

(a) by the employer; or

(b) by the plan fund where, in the opinion of the superintendent, special circumstances exist.

Inspection of documents

7. (1) The superintendent may inspect the books, documents and other records respecting a pension plan kept by an employer, an insurance company, a trustee of the plan or other person and require that person to furnish information which the superintendent considers necessary.

(2) Where the superintendent believes that a person has contravened this Act, the superintendent or an authorized representative may, with a warrant issued under subsection (3), enter the business premises and investigate and examine the affairs of the person in respect of whom the investigation is being made, and any books, documents and other records in relation to that person.

(3) A Provincial Court judge, who is satisfied by information upon oath that there are reasonable grounds to believe that there has been a contravention of this Act, may issue a warrant authorizing the superintendent or an authorized representative to enter and search any business and to make inquiries and copies of books, documents and other records considered necessary, subject to conditions specified in the warrant.

(4) The owner, or person in charge of the premises referred to in this section, and every person found on the premises shall furnish information requested by the superintendent or an authorized representative and shall assist him or her to carry out his or her functions under this section.

Agreements

8. (1) The minister may

- (a) subject to the Executive Council Act , enter into agreements;
- (b) authorize the Canadian association of pension supervisory authorities to exercise or perform powers and functions of the superintendent;
- (c) delegate to a pension supervisory authority or the government of a designated province or of Canada , powers and functions under this Act; and
- (d) authorize the superintendent to accept a delegation of powers and functions from a pension supervisory authority or the government of a designated province or of Canada .

(2) The minister may, subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, enter into an agreement with the government of a designated province or of Canada , or with more than one of them, to provide that where a pension plan is subject to both this Act and an Act of one or more of those other jurisdictions, either

- (a) this Act or a part of it is not to apply and the legislation or part of the legislation of the other jurisdiction is to apply to the plan; or
- (b) this Act or a part of it is to apply and the legislation or part of the legislation of the other jurisdiction is not to apply to the plan, and to establish conditions for the application of the laws referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b).

(3) An agreement entered into under subsection (2) shall specify the date on which it comes into force and the agreement acquires the force of law in the province as of that date.

PART III
ADMINISTRATION OF PENSION PLANS

Back to Top

Administrators of pension plans

12. (1) Except in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, the administrator of a plan shall be

- (a) the employer;
- (b) a pension committee composed of one or more representatives of
 - (i) the employer or a person other than the employer required to make contributions under the plan, and
 - (ii) the members;
- (c) a pension committee composed only of representatives of the members;
- (d) the insurance company that provides the pension benefits where all the benefits under the plan are guaranteed by the insurance company; or
- (e) a board, agency, commission or other body responsible for the administration of the plan.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where a pension plan has more than 49 members and the majority of members so request in writing, the employer shall establish a pension advisory committee, which shall consist of at least one representative who is a member of the plan and one former member who is in receipt of a pension benefit under the plan.

- (3) A pension advisory committee may review and provide advice on
 - (a) the financial, actuarial and administrative aspects of the plan; and
 - (b) any other matters relating to the plan as requested by the employer or administrator.

1996 cP-4.01 s12

Back to Top

Administrator of multi-employer pension plan

13. (1) In the case of a multi-employer pension plan established under one or more collective agreements, the administrator of the plan shall be a board of trustees or other similar body constituted in accordance with the terms of the plan to manage the affairs of the plan and, unless otherwise determined under the collective agreement, at least one half of the representatives of the board or other body shall be representatives of the members of the plan.

(2) In the case of a multi-employer pension plan not described in subsection (1), the administrator of the plan shall be a pension committee constituted in accordance with the terms of the plan to manage the affairs of the plan.

(3) The powers and duties of a board of trustees or other body that acts as an administrator of a multi-employer pension plan shall be in writing and shall be as approved by the superintendent.

1996 cP-4.01 s13

Back to Top

Duties of administrator

14. (1) An administrator shall administer a pension plan and pension fund as a trustee for the employer, the members and former members of the plan, and other persons with an entitlement under the plan.

(2) An administrator of a pension plan is responsible for administering the plan and the pension fund and for filing the required documents in accordance with this Act.

(3) An employer, who is not the administrator of a pension plan, shall provide the administrator with the information required by that administrator in order to comply with the terms of the plan and discharge the responsibilities under subsection (2).

(4) An administrator of a pension plan shall, within 30 days of becoming the administrator, inform the superintendent of

- (a) the administrator's name and address;
- (b) the names and addresses of the persons who constitute the body that is the administrator; and
- (c) a change in the membership of the body that is the administrator.

Filing requirements

16. (1) An administrator of a pension plan shall file with the superintendent an information return for the plan in the form and containing the information required by the superintendent and as prescribed by the regulations.

(2) An administrator of a pension plan shall file other information required by the superintendent and as prescribed by the regulations.

(3) The contents and the method of preparation of the reports and qualifications of the persons or classes of persons by whom the report must be prepared shall be as required by the superintendent and as prescribed by the regulations.

1996 cP-4.01 s16

Back to Top

Conflict of interest

17. (1) A person shall not be appointed to a body referred to in paragraph 12(1)(b), (c) or (e) or subsections 13(1) and (2) if there is a conflict of interest between the person's role as a member of the body and the person's role in any other capacity.

(2) Where a person described in subsection (1) has a conflict of interest he or she shall, within 30 days after becoming aware of the conflict, declare the conflict to the body and, as the body directs,

- (a) abstain from the matter of the conflict;
- (b) eliminate the conflict; or
- (c) resign as a member of the body.

(3) Where the employer is the administrator of a pension plan under paragraph 12(1)(a), if there is a conflict of interest between the employer's role as administrator and the employer's role in any other capacity, the employer shall

- (a) within 30 days after becoming aware of the conflict, declare the conflict to the pension committee or to the members of the plan; and
- (b) act in the best interests of the members of the plan.

1996 cP-4.01 s17

PART IV REGISTRATION AND AMENDMENT OF PENSION PLANS

Back to Top

Registration requirements

18. (1) An administrator of a pension plan applying for registration of the plan, or an amendment to the plan, shall do so as required by the superintendent and shall provide the information required by the superintendent.

(2) The superintendent shall issue a certificate of registration for each pension plan registered under this Act and a notice of registration for each amendment registered under this Act.

(3) An administrator of a pension plan shall not administer the plan unless it is filed for registration under this Act.

(4) Where registration of a pension plan has been refused or revoked by the superintendent, a person shall not administer the plan except for the purpose of a wind-up of the plan.

1996 cP-4.01 s18

Back to Top

Eligibility for registration

19. (1) A pension plan is not eligible for registration unless

- (a) it provides for the accrual of pension benefits in a gradual and uniform manner; and
- (b) the formula for computation of the employer's contributions to the pension fund or the pension benefit provided under the plan is not variable at the discretion of the employer.

(2) A pension plan that contains a defined contribution provision is not eligible for registration if the formula governing allocation of contributions to the pension fund among members of the plan is variable at the discretion of the employer.

(3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), the superintendent may register a pension plan if the superintendent is of the opinion that registration is justified in the circumstances of the plan and the members.

1996 cP-4.01 s19

Back to Top

Void amendments

20. (1) An amendment to a pension plan is void if the amendment reduces the amount or the commuted value of a pension benefit or a deferred pension benefit accrued under the plan with respect to employment before the effective date of the amendment.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to

- (a) a multi-employer pension plan established under a collective agreement; or

- (b) a pension plan that contains a defined benefit provision if the obligation of the employer to contribute to the pension fund is limited to a fixed amount set out in a collective agreement.

(3) Subject to the approval of the superintendent, subsection (1) does not apply where the amendment is required for the purpose of maintaining registration as a registered plan under the Income Tax Act (Canada).

1996 cP-4.01 s20

Back to Top

Revocation of registration

21. (1) The revocation of registration of a pension plan shall be considered to constitute termination of the plan.

(2) The superintendent may revoke registration of a pension plan if he or she reasonably believes that the

- (a) plan or pension fund is not being administered in accordance with this Act or the plan;
- (b) plan does not comply with this Act; or
- (c) administrator of the plan, the employer or another person is in contravention of this Act.

1996 cP-4.01 s21

PART V STANDARDS FOR REGISTRATION

Back to Top

Contents of pension plan documents

22. (1) The documents that create and support a pension plan shall set out

- (a) the method of appointment and the details of appointment of the administrator;
- (b) if the plan is a multi-employer pension plan under a collective agreement, the powers and duties of the board of trustees or other body that is the administrator of the multi-employer pension plan;
- (c) the conditions for membership;
- (d) the benefits and rights that are to accrue upon termination of employment, cessation of membership, termination of the plan, retirement or death, and the division of pension benefits on marriage breakdown;
- (e) the normal retirement date;
- (f) the contributions or the method of calculating the contributions required;
- (g) the method of determining pension benefits payable;
- (h) the method of calculating interest to be credited on contributions in accordance with section 36;
- (i) the means for payment of the cost of administration of the plan and pension fund;
- (j) the means for establishing and maintaining the pension fund;

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

- (k) the treatment of surplus during the continuation of the plan and on termination of the plan;
- (l) the obligation of the administrator to provide members with information and documents required to be disclosed under the section 25;
- (m) a provision for funding of pension benefits provided under the plan which sets out the obligation of the employer, or any person required to make contributions on behalf of an employer, to contribute both in respect of the normal cost of those benefits and any going concern unfunded liabilities and solvency deficiencies under the plan; and
- (n) where the plan is a multi-employer pension plan established under a collective agreement or contains a defined benefit provision where the obligation of an employer to contribute to the plan is limited to a fixed amount set out in a collective agreement, a provision for the funding of pension benefits and any other benefits provided under the plan which sets out the obligation of an employer, or a person required to make contributions on behalf of the employer, to contribute to the pension fund.

(2) Unless otherwise provided by a pension plan, the fiscal year of a pension plan shall be considered to commence on January 1 and end on December 31 and, except as otherwise approved by the superintendent, the fiscal year of a pension plan shall not exceed 12 months.

1996 cP-4.01 s22; 2001 c22 s21

Back to Top

Eligibility for full-time employees

23. Each employee who works on a full-time basis and is a member of a class of employees prescribed by the regulations for which a pension plan is provided shall be eligible to become a member of that plan after

- (a) the employee completes 24 months of continuous employment with the employer, or a lesser period of employment, whether continuous or not, as the plan provides; or
- (b) in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, the day on which both the following requirements have been fulfilled:
 - (i) 24 months have elapsed since the employee was first employed with a participating employer, and
 - (ii) the employee has earned, in respect of employment with a participating employer, at least 35% of the YMPE in each of 2 consecutive calendar years or as approved by the superintendent.

1996 cP-4.01 s23

Back to Top

Eligibility for part-time employees

24. (1) Where a pension plan is provided for members of a class of full-time employees prescribed by the regulations, each employee who works part-time for that employer and is a member of that prescribed class shall be eligible to become a member of that plan on or after the day on which both the following requirements have been fulfilled:

- (a) completion of 24 months of continuous employment with the employer; and
- (b) the employee has earned, in respect of employment with the employer, at least 35% of the YMPE in each of 2 consecutive calendar years,

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

or as approved by the superintendent.

(2) An administrator of a pension plan may meet the requirements of subsection (1) by providing a separate pension plan for part-time employees.

(3) A separate pension plan under subsection (2) shall be reasonably comparable to the plan covering full-time employees in terms of the average value of pension benefits provided or the average rates or amounts of contributions considering the differences in the number of hours worked in the relevant period of employment.

1996 cP-4.01 s24

Back to Top

Disclosure of information

25. (1) An administrator of a pension plan shall provide in writing to a person eligible or required to become a member of the plan

- (a) an explanation of the terms and conditions and any subsequent amendments of the plan applicable to the person;
- (b) an explanation of that person's rights and obligations in respect of the plan; and
- (c) other information that the superintendent requires to be provided.

(2) The information referred to in subsection (1) shall be provided,

- (a) to a person who becomes a member of a pension plan on the date the plan is established, within 60 days after the date the plan is established;
- (b) to an employee who will become eligible to become a member of a pension plan, at least 60 days before the date on which the person will become eligible; and
- (c) to a person who is eligible to become a member of a pension plan upon commencing employment, within 60 days after the person's commencement of employment.

(3) Where an amendment to a pension plan which affects the member's or former member's rights and obligations in respect of the plan is registered under this Act, the administrator of the plan shall, within 60 days after registration, provide a written notice and an explanation of the amendment to each member, former member or other person who is or will be affected by the amendment.

(4) An administrator of a pension plan shall, at least once every 3 years or at the written request of a member or former member, provide each member, or that member or former member, with a written statement as required by the superintendent.

(5) Where a member of a pension plan retires, ceases membership in the plan or dies, the administrator of the plan shall provide a written statement as required by the superintendent.

(6) Where an employer applies to the superintendent to withdraw surplus from a pension plan, the employer shall provide a written notice, as required by the superintendent, to persons required by the superintendent.

(7) Each member or former member or principal beneficiary of a member or former member of a pension plan, once in each fiscal year of the plan may, personally or by an agent authorized in writing for that purpose, request in writing to examine documents filed with the superintendent under section 16, subsection 18(1) or a regulation or requirement of the superintendent under this Act, at the office of the administrator of the plan or at another place as agreed, and may request a photocopy of those documents.

Termination of membership

26. (1) A member of a pension plan shall be considered to cease membership in the plan when the member's employment with the employer terminates and the member is not in receipt of an immediate pension benefit, whether or not contributions by the employer in respect of that member have ceased previously.

(2) A member of a multi-employer pension plan is entitled to cease membership in the plan when no contributions have been made in respect of that member by a participating employer for a period of 24 months, or a shorter period as provided under the plan, and the member is not in receipt of an immediate pension benefit.

(3) For the purpose of determining a pension benefit for a member or former member of a pension plan under this Act, a person who ceases membership in the plan is considered to have terminated employment.

(4) An employee who is a member of a pension plan shall continue as a member of the plan as long as the employee's employment in respect of which the plan is maintained continues.

Retirement date

28. (1) A pension plan shall provide for normal retirement calculated with reference to the age when a member is normally eligible to start receiving a pension in accordance with the plan without reduction or increase and normal retirement age shall be not later than the date the member or former member attains age 65.

(2) A pension plan shall provide that a member who continues in employment after reaching normal retirement age and who is not receiving a pension under the plan shall be entitled to continue to participate in the plan on the same basis that applied before the member reached normal retirement age.

(3) A pension plan may provide that where a member continues in employment after reaching normal retirement age, one or more of the following options may be available to the member:

- (a) the member may cease to contribute to the plan and no additional benefits shall be accrued but on the member's pension commencing, the pension shall be increased, taking into account the period of time during which the pension was not paid, to at least the actuarial equivalent of the pension accrued at normal retirement age;
- (b) the member may commence receipt of a pension while continuing in employment and no further contributions to the plan are payable and no additional benefits may be accrued; or
- (c) another arrangement, with the approval of the superintendent.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (2), a member's or former member's pension benefit shall commence before the end of the calendar year in which the member or former member attains the age at which a pension benefit is required to begin under the Income Tax Act (Canada).

Early retirement

29. (1) A pension plan shall provide for early retirement beginning any time on or after the date on which the member attains age 55.

(2) A former member of a pension plan is entitled to elect early retirement under the plan where the former member

- (a) terminated employment with the employer before January 1, 1997;
- (b) is entitled to a deferred pension benefit under this Act; and
- (c) has attained age 55 or an earlier age permitted by the plan.

(3) An election under subsection (2) shall be made in writing by the former member and delivered to the administrator of the plan.

(4) A pension benefit on early retirement may be reduced provided the commuted value of the reduced pension benefit is not less than the commuted value of the pension benefit that would have been payable at normal retirement of the member or former member.

Remittance

30. (1) An employer shall, within the period prescribed by the regulations, remit employer and member contributions due under a pension plan, and other payments required under this Act,

- (a) in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, to the administrator of the plan; and
- (b) in the case of another pension plan, to the fundholder.

(2) Where the administrator of a multi-employer pension plan is not the trustee, the administrator shall, immediately on receipt of contributions, remit them to the trustee, and where the trustee is not the fundholder, the trustee shall immediately remit them to the fundholder.

(3) Where an employer fails to remit contributions in accordance with subsection (1), subsequent payment of contributions shall include interest on the contributions as prescribed by the regulations.

Amounts to be held in trust

32. (1) An employer or a participating employer in a multi-employer plan shall ensure, with respect to a pension plan, that

- (a) the money in the pension fund;
- (b) an amount equal to the aggregate of
 - (i) the normal actuarial cost, and
 - (ii) any special payments prescribed by the regulations, that have accrued to date; and
- (c) all
 - (i) amounts deducted by the employer from the member's remuneration, and
 - (ii) other amounts due under the plan from the employer that have not been remitted to the pension fund are kept separate and apart from the employer's own money, and shall be considered to hold the amounts referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c) in trust for members, former members, and other persons with an entitlement under the plan.

(2) In the event of a liquidation, assignment or bankruptcy of an employer, an amount equal to the amount that under subsection (1) is considered to be held in trust shall be considered to be separate from and form no part of the estate in liquidation, assignment or bankruptcy, whether or not that amount has in fact been kept separate and apart from the employer's own money or from the assets of the estate.

(3) Where a pension plan is terminated in whole or in part, an employer who is required to pay contributions to the pension fund shall hold in trust for the member or former member or other person with an entitlement under the plan an amount of money equal to employer contributions due under the plan to the date of termination.

(4) An administrator of a pension plan has a lien and charge on the assets of the employer in an amount equal to the amount required to be held in trust under subsections (1) and (3).

Refund of contributions

34. On cessation of membership in a pension plan, a member is entitled to withdraw from the plan an amount equal to the aggregate of the member's own contributions, together with interest as prescribed by the regulations, in respect of a period of membership for which the member is not entitled to a pension benefit under section 28, 29, or 43.

1996 cP-4.01 s34Back to TopFunding

35. (1) A pension plan shall provide for funding, in accordance with the requirements for solvency as prescribed by the regulations, which is adequate to provide for payment of all pension benefits required to be paid under the plan.

(2) In the case of an actuarial report required under section 16, where the superintendent is of the opinion that the report has not been prepared

- (a) on the basis of actuarial assumptions or methods that are adequate and appropriate; and
- (b) in accordance with accepted actuarial practice, the superintendent shall notify the administrator of the plan in writing of this opinion and shall direct the administrator to have the appropriate changes made to the report, and the administrator shall immediately comply with that direction.

(3) A pension plan shall be funded in accordance with the report referred to in subsection (2) as amended in accordance with the direction of the superintendent.

1996 cP-4.01 s35Back to TopInterest on contributions

36. (1) In the case of a defined contribution plan, the members' accounts shall be credited with interest, gains and losses that can reasonably be attributed to the operation of the pension fund.

- (2) In the case of a defined benefit plan,
 - (a) interest shall be credited on members' contributions at a rate equal to or greater than the rate required by the superintendent; or
 - (b) members' contributions shall be credited with interest, gains and losses that can reasonably be attributed to the operation of the pension fund, and the plan shall specify which of paragraph (a) or (b) operates, but the plan may specify that one of those paragraphs applies to required contributions and the other paragraph applies to additional voluntary contributions, in which case the reference in paragraph (b) to "the operation of the pension fund" shall be read as either "the operation of that portion of the pension fund that relates to required contributions" or "the operation of that portion of the pension fund that relates to additional voluntary contributions", whichever is appropriate.

(3) The rate required by the superintendent under subsection (2) shall be determined to reflect current interest rates.

(4) Interest, gains and losses referred to in subsections (1) and (2) shall be calculated and applied to contributions as prescribed by the regulations.

1996 cP-4.01 s36Back to TopInvestments

37. Assets of a pension plan shall be invested as prescribed by the regulations.

1996 cP-4.01 s37Back to TopSurplus

38. (1) Except in circumstances prescribed by the regulations, a pension plan shall provide, with respect to surplus accrued after December 31, 1996, for

- (a) the treatment of surplus during continuation of the plan; and
- (b) the allocation of surplus on termination of the plan.

(2) A pension plan shall provide, with respect to surplus accrued after December 31, 1996, for the allocation of surplus on termination of the plan to

- (a) the members, former members or their surviving principal beneficiaries or estates;
- (b) the employer; or
- (c) a combination of the persons referred to in paragraph (a) or paragraphs (a) and (b).

1996 cP-4.01 s38; 2001 c22 s23Back to TopFifty percent rule

39. (1) In the case of a defined benefit plan where a member is required to make contributions and

- (a) the member retires;
- (b) the member ceases membership in the plan;
- (c) the member dies; or
- (d) the plan is terminated, in whole or in part,

not more than 50% of the commuted value of the pension benefit with respect to the member's membership in the plan after December 31, 1996 may be provided by the member's contributions with interest.

(2) Where the value of a former member's contributions with interest exceeds 50% of the commuted value of the pension benefit with respect to his or her membership in the plan after December 31, 1996 the excess value shall, at the option of the former member, be

- (a) returned to the former member;
- (b) transferred to a retirement savings arrangement;
- (c) transferred to another pension plan, if and to the extent the other plan permits the transfer;
- (d) transferred to an insurance company to purchase a life annuity; or
- (e) used to increase the amount of the pension, if and to the extent the plan permits the increase.

(3) For the purpose of subsections (1) and (2), the following shall not be taken in account:

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

- (a) contributions made with respect to a defined contribution provision of a defined benefit plan and a part of the commuted value of the pension benefit attributable to those contributions; and
- (b) the commuted value of a portion of a member or former member's pension benefit attributable to past service pension benefits purchased voluntarily by the member or former member.

Portability

40. (1) A pension plan shall provide that where a member of a pension plan, before becoming eligible to retire under sections 28 and 29, ceases membership in the plan or dies and is entitled to a deferred pension benefit, the member, or the surviving principal beneficiary of the member or former member, is entitled

- (a) in the case of the member, to
 - (i) transfer the commuted value of the member's pension benefit to another pension plan, if the other plan permits and the administrator of the other plan agrees to accept the payment,
 - (ii) transfer the commuted value of the member's pension benefit to a class or type of retirement savings arrangement as approved by the superintendent, or
 - (iii) use the commuted value of the member's pension benefit to purchase a deferred life annuity of the kind approved by the superintendent for the member or the surviving principal beneficiary; and
- (b) in the case of the surviving principal beneficiary, to transfer or use the commuted value of the surviving principal beneficiary's pension benefit in the manner provided for the member's pension benefit under subparagraph (i), (ii) or (iii), if the member or the surviving principal beneficiary makes an election as prescribed by the regulations.

(2) Where a member of a pension plan, after becoming eligible to retire under sections 28 and 29 but before beginning payment of a pension benefit, ceases membership in the plan or dies, the plan may permit the member, or the surviving principal beneficiary of the member or former member,

- (a) in the case of the member, to
 - (i) transfer the commuted value of the member's pension benefit to another pension plan, if the other plan permits and the administrator of the other plan agrees to accept the payment,
 - (ii) transfer the commuted value of the member's pension benefit to a class or type of retirement savings arrangement as approved by the superintendent, or
 - (iii) use the commuted value of the member's pension benefit to purchase a life annuity of the kind approved by the superintendent for the member or the surviving principal beneficiary; and
- (b) in the case of the surviving principal beneficiary, to transfer or use the commuted value of the surviving principal beneficiary's pension benefit in the manner provided for the member's pension benefit under subparagraph (i), (ii) or (iii).

(3) For the purpose of a transfer or purchase under subsection (1) or (2), a contract to establish a retirement savings arrangement or an insurance contract to provide a life annuity shall be in the form required by the superintendent.

(4) The administrator of a pension plan shall transfer money out of the pension fund under this section except where the transfer is not permitted under this Act.

(5) Where a member ceases to be a member of a pension plan and becomes a member of another plan that requires the same employer to make contributions on the member's behalf, the member's membership in the first plan shall continue until the member ceases membership in the second plan.

(6) Where a member or former member of a multi-employer pension plan terminates employment with an employer but continues to be a member of the same multi-employer pension plan, the member is not considered to have ceased membership until the member is no longer employed with an employer in the multi-employer pension plan.

Pre-retirement death benefit

41. (1) Where a member or former member of a pension plan, who under section 43 is entitled to a deferred pension benefit attributable to the member's or former member's membership in the plan after December 31, 1996 dies, the surviving principal beneficiary of the member or former member, or, where there is no surviving principal beneficiary, the estate of the member or former member, is entitled to receive the commuted value of the deferred pension benefit calculated, as of the day of death, as if the member or former member had not died but had ceased membership in the plan on that day, in accordance with section 43.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a pension plan may provide an immediate pension benefit equal to or greater than that provided in subsection (1) to the surviving principal beneficiary of a member or former member.

(3) A surviving principal beneficiary of a member or former member may transfer the commuted value of a deferred pension benefit in accordance with subsections 40(1) and (2).

(4) A member or former member of a pension plan who is entitled to a deferred pension benefit under section 43 and who dies before the start of payment of the pension benefit, but after becoming eligible for retirement in accordance with section 29, shall be considered

- (a) to have retired for the purpose of the survivor benefit; and
- (b) to have been entitled to the joint and survivor pension benefit payable under section 45 without regard to subsection 45(4) in respect of the deferred pension benefit.

CPP, QPP and OAS reduction

42. (1) A pension plan may provide that a pension benefit or a deferred pension benefit may be reduced by reason of payments under the Canada Pension Plan, the Quebec Pension Plan, or under the Old Age Security Act (Canada), but a reduction shall not exceed the reduction calculated in accordance with the formula approved by the superintendent.

(2) The reduction referred to in subsection (1) shall be applied before any other adjustment under the plan.

(3) The amount of the reduction referred to in subsection (1) shall not be increased by reason of an increase in payments under the Canada Pension Plan, the Quebec Pension Plan or the Old Age Security Act (Canada) after the date on which the member ceases membership in the plan or dies.

(4) The value of a bridging benefit, for receipt of which a member or former member has satisfied all eligibility requirements of a pension plan, shall not be reduced by reason only of the eligibility of the member or former member to receive a payment before he or she attains age 65 under the Canada Pension Plan, Quebec Pension Plan or Old Age Security Act (Canada).

(5) Where a pension plan provides for variation of a pension benefit because of a benefit payable under the Canada Pension Plan or the Quebec Pension Plan without specifically stating the age at which the variation is to occur, the plan is considered to provide that the variation is to occur when the recipient of the pension benefit attains age 65.

(6) A pension plan shall not permit the reduction of a pension or deferred pension benefit based on a person's entitlement under the Old Age Security Act (Canada) in respect of a pension benefit accrued after December 31, 1996.

Vesting

43. (1) A pension plan shall provide that a member of the plan who has been a member for a continuous period of 2 years is entitled, on retirement or cessation of membership in the plan,

- (a) to a deferred pension benefit equal to the pension benefit provided under the terms of the plan in respect of membership in the plan after December 31, 1996; and
- (b) to any other pension or other benefit to which the member is entitled under the terms of the plan in respect of membership in the plan after December 31, 1996.

(2) A pension plan shall provide that a member of a plan who has been employed by the employer for a continuous period of 10 years, or has been a member of the plan for a continuous period of 10 years, whichever occurs first, and who has attained 45 years of age, is entitled, on retirement or cessation of membership in the plan, to a deferred pension benefit equal to the pension benefit provided

- (a) under the terms of the plan in respect of membership in the plan from January 1, 1985 and ending on December 31, 1996; and
- (b) by virtue of any amendments to the plan made from January 1, 1985 and ending on December 31, 1996 in respect of membership in the plan up to December 31, 1996.

Required terms

44. (1) A pension plan shall provide

- (a) that no pension benefit provided under the plan is capable of being assigned, charged, anticipated or given as security, or confers on a member or former member, the personal representative or dependant of the member or former member, or other person, a right or interest that is capable of being assigned, charged, anticipated or given as security;
- (b) that, except in the case of the unexpired period of a guaranteed annuity and subsection 41(1), no benefit described in section 43 is capable of being surrendered or commuted during the lifetime of the member or former member, or that person's principal

beneficiary, or confers on a member or former member, the personal representative or dependant of the member or former member, or other person, a right or interest that is capable of being surrendered or commuted during the lifetime of the member or former member or the member's or former member's principal beneficiary; and

- (c) a member or former member who is entitled to a benefit under section 43, or would be so entitled if the member reached normal retirement or ceased membership in the plan, is not permitted to withdraw any part of the member's or former member's contributions to the plan, other than additional voluntary contributions, in respect of a period after December 31, 1984.
- (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a pension plan may provide
- (a) that a member or former member who is entitled to a deferred pension benefit under section 43 may, before the start of payment, elect or be authorized to receive a payment or series of payments by reason of a disability prescribed by the regulations, partly or wholly instead of the deferred pension benefit described in section 43;
 - (b) that, where the annual pension benefit payable is less than 4% of the YMPE for the calendar year in which a member ceased membership in the plan or dies, the member or former member or the member's principal beneficiary or the former member's principal beneficiary or surviving principal beneficiary is entitled to receive a lump sum payment instead of the deferred pension benefit described in section 43; and
 - (c) that, where the commuted value of a deferred pension benefit is less than 10% of the YMPE for the calendar year in which a member ceased membership in the plan or dies, the member or former member or the member's principal beneficiary or the former member's principal beneficiary or surviving principal beneficiary is entitled to receive a lump sum payment instead of the deferred pension benefit described in section 43.

Joint and survivor pensions

45. (1) A pension benefit that begins being paid after December 31, 1996 to a member or former member of a pension plan who has a principal beneficiary at the time the pension benefit begins to be paid, shall be in the form of a joint and survivor benefit, subject to Part VI.

(2) A pension benefit described in subsection (1) may be reduced by reason of death of the member or former member, to an amount not less than 60% of the amount of the pension benefit that would have been payable in respect of the member or former member had the death not occurred.

(3) Where the commuted value of the pension benefit described in subsection (1) is not less than the commuted value of the normal form of the pension benefit, the initial amount of that pension benefit may be adjusted.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (1), (2) and (3), a pension plan shall provide that in respect of a pension benefit that begins to be paid after December 31, 1996, a member or former member may elect to receive

- (a) the normal form of the pension benefit; or
- (b) the pension benefit in another form provided under the plan, but if the member or former member has a principal beneficiary, the joint and survivor pension required by subsection (1) may be waived by both the member or former member and his or her principal beneficiary.

PART VI
MARRIAGE BREAKDOWN

Back to Top

Pension entitlement on marriage breakdown

47. (1) In this Part

- (a) "date of marriage breakdown" means the date of separation or other date specified in a court order or separation agreement as the date on which matrimonial property of the member is to be valued or divided;
- (b) "limited member" means a person designated as a limited member of a pension plan under subsection 49(1);
- (c) "matured pension" means a pension benefit being paid to a member and includes a disability pension benefit when the member attains the age at which he or she is entitled to receive an unreduced pension;
- (d) "member" includes a former member;
- (e) "proportionate share" means a fraction of the commuted value of a pension benefit calculated as prescribed by the regulations or a court order;
- (f) "separate pension" means the proportionate share of a member's pension benefit which is established in a separate account in favour of a spouse;
- (g) "spouse" means a spouse, as defined in the Family Law Act, of a member and includes a former spouse of a member; and
- (h) "transfer" means, when referring to the payment of a proportionate share of the commuted value of a pension benefit to the credit of a spouse, a transfer made in accordance with section 40 and the regulations.

(2) Notwithstanding another provision of this Act, an administrator of a pension plan shall, on the breakdown of marriage of a member, divide a pension or other benefit under the plan to which the member is entitled, in accordance with this Part.

(3) A pension or other benefit shall be divided

- (a) where a court has made an order for the division of matrimonial property under the Family Law Act or a similar order of a court outside the province enforceable in the province, in accordance with the court order; or
- (b) where the member or his or her spouse have entered into a separation agreement within the meaning of the Family Law Act to divide their matrimonial property, in accordance with the separation agreement.

(4) The value of a pension or other benefit to be divided shall be calculated by the administrator of a pension plan as prescribed by the regulations, but shall not reduce that member's commuted value to less than 50% of the member's commuted value before the division.

(5) If a member of a pension plan is not entitled to a deferred pension benefit under section 43 at the date of marriage breakdown, the portion of the member's contributions and interest to be credited to the spouse shall be paid, in cash, from the plan to the spouse.

(6) If a spouse is entitled to a share of a pre-retirement death benefit or a post-retirement death benefit paid to another person, the recipient holds the share in trust for the spouse.

1996 cP-4.01 s47

Back to Top

Types of pension plans

48. (1) In the case of a defined contribution plan, where a pension benefit is to be divided and the member is not eligible to receive a pension benefit under the plan, a spouse is entitled to have a proportionate share of the pension benefit transferred from the plan to the credit of the spouse.

(2) In the case of a defined benefit plan, where a pension benefit is to be divided, a spouse is entitled

- (a) where the member is not eligible to receive a pension without reduction, to have, until the member is eligible to receive a pension without reduction, a proportionate share of the pension benefit transferred from the plan to the credit of the spouse; or
- (b) where the member is eligible to receive a pension without reduction, to receive, from the time the member is eligible to receive a pension without reduction until the time the member retires, a separate pension from the plan as prescribed by the regulations.

(3) In the case of a pension plan containing defined contribution and defined benefit provisions, where the pension benefit is to be divided and the member is not entitled to receive a pension without reduction

- (a) to the extent that the plan is based on principles applicable to a defined contribution plan, the pension benefit shall be divided in accordance with this Part and the regulations as if the plan were a defined contribution plan; and
- (b) the remainder of the pension benefit shall be divided in accordance with this Part and the regulations as if the plan were a defined benefit plan.

(4) Notwithstanding the nature of a pension plan, where a pension is to be divided and has matured, a spouse is entitled to receive, as a limited member, a proportionate share of benefits paid as a separate pension under the plan until the earlier of the

- (a) death of the limited member; or
- (b) termination of the pension under the plan.

1996 cP-4.01 s48

Limited membership

49. (1) If a pension benefit to be divided is an unmatured pension in a defined benefit plan or a matured pension in a pension plan and a spouse elects to receive a separate pension from the plan under this Part, the spouse shall be designated as a limited member of the plan.

- (2) A limited member of a pension plan has the following rights:
- (a) to receive from the plan a separate pension or a proportionate share of benefits paid under the plan as determined under this Part and the regulations;
 - (b) to receive from the plan a proportionate share, calculated as prescribed by the regulations, of a pre-retirement death benefit or a post-retirement death benefit until the limited member ceases to be a limited member or is entitled to receive a separate pension under the plan;
 - (c) to enforce rights against the plan and recover damages for losses as a result of a breach of a duty owed by the plan to the limited member;
 - (d) except as modified by this Part and the regulations, all rights of a member under this Act; and
 - (e) those additional rights prescribed by the regulations.

(3) A separate pension of a limited member of a pension plan shall be based on the normal form of a pension under the plan but shall not be a joint and survivor pension.

(4) An administrator of a pension plan shall make separate source deductions required under the Income Tax Act (Canada) for the spouse's share and the member's share of a pension benefit.

(5) If the proportionate share of the spouse is transferred from a pension plan to the credit of the spouse under this Part, the spouse ceases to be a limited member of the plan.

(6) Notwithstanding paragraph (2)(b) and subsection (5), a spouse who is entitled to a post-retirement death benefit is entitled to the whole of that benefit.

(7) Where a limited member of a pension plan dies before the member and at the time of death is not entitled to receive a separate pension under the plan, the plan shall transfer the proportionate share of the commuted value of the member's pension to the estate of the limited member.

(8) Where a limited member of a pension plan dies and at the time of death is receiving a separate pension under the plan, the estate of the limited member is entitled to receive any post-retirement death benefit payable under the plan in respect of the separate pension.

Adjustment of member's pension benefit

50. Where an amount has been transferred from a pension plan or used to provide a separate pension to a spouse in accordance with an order or agreement under subsection 47(3),

- (a) a member's pension benefit, or the interest of a person claiming an interest in a pension benefit through the member, shall be adjusted as prescribed by the regulations;
- (b) the spouse has no further claim or entitlement to a further benefit under the plan; and
- (c) neither the administrator nor the plan is liable to a person by reason of having complied with an order or agreement mentioned in subsection 47(3) in accordance with this Part.

Considered election

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

51. Where a spouse fails to direct the administrator of a pension plan as to how a pension benefit is to be divided as prescribed by the regulations, the spouse is considered to have elected to receive a separate pension under the plan.

1996 cP-4.01 s51

Back to Top

Revocation of election

52. (1) Where a spouse elects to take a separate pension from a pension plan under paragraph 48(2)(b), the spouse may, before the commencement of a separate pension, revoke the election and elect to transfer the proportionate share from the plan.

(2) The value of the spouse's share of the pension benefit available for re-election under subsection (1) is the commuted value calculated at the date of re-election.

Back to Top

Clarification or objection

53. (1) An administrator of a pension plan shall not effect a division of a pension benefit where he or she

- (a) reasonably believes that a court order or a separation agreement relating to division of a pension benefit is incomplete or does not provide clear or sufficient direction to administer a division of the pension benefit; or
- (b) has notice of a member's objection to a division of a pension benefit as prescribed by the regulations.

(2) Where subsection (1) applies, the administrator shall, as prescribed by the regulations, but not later than 30 days after the receipt of a member's objection, give written notice of the inability to comply to the member and spouse and

- (a) require that the matter be determined by a court or otherwise determined between the member and his or her spouse, as evidenced by filing with the administrator a court order or a written agreement between the member and his or her spouse; or
- (b) apply to the court for directions.

(3) Where the administrator applies to the court under subsection (2), the court may make or vary an order as it considers appropriate in the circumstances but no order as to costs shall be made against the administrator of the plan.

1996 cP-4.01 s53

Regulations prescribe procedure to divide pension

54. When dividing a pension benefit or satisfying a spouse's entitlement to a pension benefit the

- (a) procedures to be followed by a spouse, member and administrator of a pension plan;
- (b) information to be provided to a spouse or limited member by an administrator of a pension plan;
- (c) form, content and manner of giving a notice or waiver under this Part; and

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

(d) maximum fee that may be charged by an administrator of a plan shall be as prescribed in the regulations.

1996 cP-4.01 s54

Back to Top

Application

55. (1) Subsection 47(3) applies to a court order or separation agreement mentioned in that subsection, regardless of the date of the order or separation agreement.

(2) A spouse who before January 1, 1997 was entitled to receive from a member a proportionate share of benefits paid under a matured pension may, as prescribed by the regulations, require an administrator of a pension plan to effect the division of the pension benefit in accordance with subsection 48(4).

(3) This Part applies to a life annuity purchased by an administrator of a pension plan upon the retirement of a member and held by a third party insurance company.

(4) If a member's pension benefit to be divided under this Act includes or consists of an annuity that is payable under an insurance contract that prohibits the annuity from being commuted and if the commuted value of the pension benefit under the plan, if credited to, paid to or otherwise delivered to the credit of the spouse, would be insufficient to fulfil the spouse's entitlement on a division under this Act, the annuity is a class of pension plan that is exempt from the application of this Part and, if ordered by the court or agreed to in writing by the member and the spouse, the actual pension benefit shall be divided in accordance with the applicable court order or separation agreement and the portion of the pension payable to the spouse shall be subject to the terms and conditions of the annuity contract.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply to a life annuity described in that subsection purchased after December 31, 1996.

Family Law Act prevails

56. If a provision of this Part conflicts with a provision of the Family Law Act, the Family Law Act shall prevail.

1996 cP-4.01 s56

PART VII SURPLUS AND TRANSFER OF PLAN ASSETS

Back to Top

Surplus payment

57. (1) No part of surplus may be paid to the employer unless

- (a) the payment is permitted by the regulations; and
- (b) the superintendent consents in writing to the payment.

(2) Where an employer requests payment of the surplus, the superintendent shall consider criteria prescribed by the regulations and provide written reasons for his or her decision to the employer.

- (3) The superintendent may attach conditions to the consent required under subsection (1).

1996 cP-4.01 s57

Back to Top

Transfer of plan assets

58. A transfer of assets of a pension plan shall not be made from the pension fund of the plan to the pension fund of another pension plan unless

- (a) the contract or trust agreement of the receiving fundholder is filed with the superintendent and the receiving plan is registered under this Act; and
- (b) the superintendent has approved the transfer in writing.

1996 cP-4.01 s58

PART VIII TERMINATION, WIND-UP AND DISPOSAL OF BUSINESS

Back to Top

Plan termination

59. (1) The superintendent may declare the whole or part of a pension plan terminated where

- (a) there is a suspension or cessation of employer contributions in respect of all or part of the plan membership, except where surplus is used to meet funding requirements;
- (b) the employer has discontinued or is in the process of discontinuing all of its business operation or a part in which a substantial portion of its employees who are members of the plan are employed;
- (c) the employer is bankrupt within the meaning of the Bankruptcy Act (Canada);
- (d) the superintendent is of the opinion that the plan has failed to meet the requirements prescribed by the regulations for solvency in respect of funding; or
- (e) all or part of the business or assets of a predecessor employer's business are sold, assigned or otherwise disposed of and the successor employer who acquired the business or assets does not provide a pension plan for the members of the predecessor employer's plan who become employees of the successor employer.

(2) A declaration made under subsection (1) shall declare the whole or part of a pension plan to be terminated as of a date determined by the superintendent.

1996 cP-4.01 s59

Back to Top

Plan termination requirements

60. (1) An employer, or, in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, the administrator, who intends to terminate the whole or part of a pension plan shall notify in writing the superintendent and any other person or body who is affected of that intention at least 60 days before the date of the intended termination.

(2) On the termination of the whole or part of a pension plan, the administrator of the plan shall file with the superintendent

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

(a) a report required by the superintendent, within 6 months after the effective date of termination; and

(b) all outstanding annual information returns up to the effective date of the termination, within 3 months after that date.

(3) The wind-up of a pension plan shall commence immediately after the termination of the plan unless the superintendent gives written approval to postpone the wind-up.

1996 cP-4.01 s60

Back to Top

Termination payments

61. (1) On termination of a pension plan, the employer shall pay into the pension fund all amounts that would otherwise have been required to be paid to meet the requirements prescribed by the regulations for solvency, including

(a) an amount equal to the aggregate of

(i) the normal actuarial cost, and

(ii) special payments prescribed by the regulations, that have accrued to the date of termination; and

(b) all

(i) amounts deducted by the employer from members' remuneration, and

(ii) other amounts due to the pension fund from the employer that have not been remitted to the pension fund at the date of termination.

(2) Where, on the termination, after April 1, 2008, of a pension plan, other than a multi-employer pension plan, the assets in the pension fund are less than the value of the benefits provided under the plan, the employer shall, as prescribed by the regulations, make the payments into the pension fund, in addition to the payments required under subsection (1), that are necessary to fund the benefits provided under the plan.

1996 cP-4.01 s61; 2008 c16 s1

Back to Top

Distribution of plan assets

62. (1) On termination or wind-up of a pension plan, no part of the assets of the plan shall revert to the benefit of the employer until the superintendent's consent has been obtained and provision has been made for the payment to members or former members, the principal beneficiary, beneficiary or estate of a member or former member of a pension benefit, accrued or payable, in respect of membership to the date of termination or wind-up and, for that purpose, those pension benefits shall be treated as if the members or former members were entitled to a deferred pension benefit.

(2) Where a notice of intention to terminate a pension plan has been given, the assets of the plan may not be applied toward the provision of a pension benefit until the superintendent has approved the report required by subsection 60(2), but the administrator of the plan may continue to pay a pension benefit which began before the notice of intention to terminate and any other payment approved by the superintendent.

(3) On termination of a pension plan all assets of the plan that are to be used for the purpose of providing a pension benefit or another benefit continue to be subject to this Act.

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

(4) Where a pension plan is terminated in part, the rights of members affected shall not be less than what they would have been if the whole of the plan had been terminated on the same date as the partial termination.

1996 cP-4.01 s62; 2001 c22 s29

Back to Top

Appointment of administrator

63. Where the whole of a pension plan has been terminated and the superintendent is of the opinion that no action or insufficient action has been taken to wind up the plan, the superintendent may appoint an administrator of the plan and direct the administrator to distribute the assets of the plan as prescribed by the regulations and may direct that expenses incurred in connection with that distribution be paid out of the pension fund, and the administrator shall immediately comply with that direction.

1996 cP-4.01 s63

Back to Top

Notice of entitlement

64. On termination of a pension plan, in whole or in part, the administrator shall provide a notice of entitlement required by the superintendent.

1996 cP-4.01 s64

Back to Top

Failure to elect

65. Each person in receipt of a notice of entitlement under section 64 shall elect from the options given, within the time required by the superintendent, or shall be considered to have elected, to transfer the money to a class or type of retirement savings arrangement approved by the superintendent in accordance with subparagraph 40(1)(a)(ii) or (2)(a)(ii).

1996 cP-4.01 s65; 2004 c47 s29

Back to Top

Reduction of pension benefits

66. Where a pension plan is terminated in whole or in part and the assets of the pension fund are not sufficient to pay all pension and other benefits on the wind-up of the plan, the pension and other benefits shall be reduced as prescribed by the regulations.

1996 cP-4.01 s66

Back to Top

Successor employer

67. (1) Where

- (a) employees of a predecessor employer become employees of a successor employer; and
- (b) the successor employer does not assume responsibility for accrued pension benefits of the predecessor employer's pension plan, the employees continue to be entitled to the pension benefits provided under the predecessor employer's plan in respect of the period of membership in that plan, without further accrual.

Pension Benefits Act, 1997, S.N.L. 1996, c. P-4.01

(2) The superintendent may terminate the pension plan of a predecessor employer, in whole or in part, where

(a) employees of the predecessor employer become employees of the successor employer; and

(b) the successor employer does not assume responsibility for accrued pension benefits of the predecessor employer's plan.

(3) An employee's employment with both a predecessor employer and a successor employer shall be taken into account for the purposes of determining

(a) the length of employment with respect to an eligibility condition of the successor employer's plan;

(b) whether a member is entitled to a deferred pension benefit under a pension plan of either employer; or

(c) whether the benefits under a pension plan of either employer meets the requirements of section 43.

(4) A change in employment from a predecessor employer to a successor employer does not constitute a break in employment for the purpose of this Act.

(5) No transfer of assets shall be made from the pension fund of a predecessor employer's pension plan to the pension fund of a successor employer's pension plan without the prior written consent of the superintendent.

1996 cP-4.01 s67

PART IX RECONSIDERATION AND APPEALS

Back to Top

Reconsideration

68. (1) The superintendent shall by registered mail give written notice to an administrator of a pension plan and other affected persons of a decision under paragraphs 6(2)(c) and (e) and section 21 and that notice shall contain the reasons upon which the decision is based.

(2) Within 60 days after the mailing of the notification, the administrator may serve on the superintendent a notice of administrator's objection which shall state the reasons for the objection and include a request for the superintendent to reconsider the decision.

(3) On receipt of a notice of administrator's objection, the superintendent shall reconsider the decision and may vary or confirm the decision and shall, by registered mail, give notice to the administrator of the results of the reconsideration.

1996 cP-4.01 s68

Back to Top

Application to court

69. Where a provision of this Act is contravened, the superintendent may apply to the Trial Division for an order prohibiting the continuation or repetition of the contravention or the carrying on of any activity specified.

1996 cP-4.01 s69

Back to Top

Service of documents

70. (1) A notice or other document under this Act is sufficiently given, served or delivered if delivered personally or sent by registered mail addressed to the person to whom it is to be given, served or delivered at the person's last known address.

(2) A notice or other document sent by registered mail in accordance with subsection (1) shall be considered to be given, served or delivered on the seventh day after the day of mailing, unless the person to whom it is sent establishes that, acting in good faith, the person did not receive the notice or other document, or did not receive it until a later date, through absence, accident, illness or other cause beyond that person's control.

1996 cP-4.01 s70

Back to Top

Appeal

71. (1) Where an administrator of a pension plan has served a notice of administrator's objection under subsection 68(2), the administrator may,

- (a) within 60 days after the superintendent has confirmed the action taken as described in subsection 68(3); or
- (b) where the superintendent does not confirm or vary the action as provided for in paragraph (a), within a further 60 days, appeal to the Trial Division for an order described in subsection (2).

- (2) The court may dispose of an appeal under subsection (1)
 - (a) by dismissing it and ordering the appellant to effect the compliance of a pension plan with requirements for registration;
 - (b) by allowing it and ordering the superintendent to register a pension plan or to reinstate the registration of a pension plan, and to issue a certificate of registration in that respect; or
 - (c) as the court otherwise considers appropriate.

(3) An order made as described in paragraph (2)(b) may include conditions imposed upon the appellant that are conditions precedent to the registration or reinstatement of registration of a pension plan.

 - (v) Government Money Purchase Pension Plan, and
 - (vi) Memorial University Pension Plan;
- (t) "review date" means the date as of which a report is or was required to be made under section 5;

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (u) [Rep. by 29/13 s1]
- (v) "solvency assets" means the market value of investments held by a pension plan plus any cash balances of the plan and accrued or receivable income items of the plan, less any amounts payable by the plan;
- (w) "solvency deficiency" means the deficiency determined by a solvency valuation performed in accordance with section 11;
- (x) "solvency gain" means the sum, if positive, as of a review date of a solvency valuation performed in accordance with section 11, of the following:
 - (i) the gain to a pension plan during the period since the last review date of the solvency valuation resulting from the difference between actual experience and the experience expected by the actuarial assumptions on which that valuation was based, and
 - (ii) the amount by which the solvency liabilities increase or decrease or the solvency assets increase or decrease as a result of a change in the actuarial methods or assumptions upon which the current solvency valuation is based;
- (y) "solvency ratio" means the lesser of one and the fraction obtained by dividing the solvency assets of a pension plan by the liabilities of the plan calculated on a plan termination basis as of the latest review date and as required by the superintendent; and
- (z) "special payment" means a payment or one of a series of payments determined for the purpose of liquidating a going concern unfunded liability or solvency deficiency in accordance with section 12.

(2) For the purpose of these regulations, money in a pension plan, an RRSP, a life annuity contract or a retirement income fund as defined in the Income Tax Act (Canada) that meets the requirements of these regulations is locked in if its withdrawal, surrender or commutation is prohibited by any of the following:

- (a) subsection 43(2) of the Act;
- (b) a contract as set out in a directive of the superintendent; and
- (c) any legislation of a designated province that is similar to paragraph (a) or (b) of these regulations.

(3) The definitions in paragraphs (1)(e) and (w) shall apply wherever those terms are used in the Act.

Reporting

5. (1) This section applies only to a pension plan that contain one or more defined benefit provisions.

(2) An administrator of a pension plan shall have the plan reviewed as follows:

(a) in the case of a new pension plan, as of the effective date of the plan;

(b) where the superintendent sends a notice to the administrator requesting that a review be made of the plan, as of the date specified in the notice; and

(c) subject to paragraphs (a) and (b) and subsection (3), as of the end of a fiscal year of the plan and at intervals not exceeding 3 fiscal years after the preceding review date.

(3) Actuarial valuation reports and cost certificates resulting from reviews required by subsection (1) shall be filed with the superintendent, by the administrator

(a) in the case of a new pension plan, within 60 days after the date of establishment of the plan; and

(b) in the case of a review date occurring after the effective date of the plan, not later than 9 months after the review date.

(4) In the case of a defined benefit plan, where an amendment to the plan affects the cost of benefits provided by the plan, creates an unfunded liability or otherwise affects the solvency or funding of the plan, the administrator of the plan shall have the plan reviewed or the latest review revised as of the date of the amendment.

(5) Where the plan is reviewed under subsection (4), the review date shall be considered to be the last day of the fiscal year preceding that in which the amendment was made.

(6) Subsection (4) does not apply if an actuary certifies that no change in contributions to the plan is required before the next review date.

Review of defined benefit pension plans

6. (1) In the case of a defined benefit plan, other than a defined benefit plan that is a fully insured plan, a review of the plan required by section 5 shall be in the form of an actuarial valuation report prepared by an actuary in a manner consistent with the accepted standards of practice for the preparation of actuarial valuation reports for pension plans issued by the Canadian Institute of Actuaries.

(2) In the case of a defined benefit plan that is a fully insured plan, an actuarial valuation report or a cost certificate required under section 5, may be prepared and signed by any person so authorized by the insurance company.

(3) An actuarial valuation report required under subsection (1) shall be prepared on the basis of a going concern valuation containing information required by the superintendent and a solvency valuation under section 11.

(4) Where a going concern valuation is made in respect of a pension plan that provides a pension benefit based on a rate of salary at retirement date or on average rates of salary over a specified and limited period, a projection of the current salary of each member shall be used to estimate the salary on which the pension benefit payable at retirement date shall be based.

(5) Where an escalated adjustment has been made from the pension fund, the amounts, to the extent that they have not been prefunded, are considered to be part of the normal actuarial cost.

(6) Where a person authorized to prepare and sign an actuarial valuation report or cost certificate respecting an insured plan under subsection (2) certifies that

- (a) all pension benefits relating to a defined benefit provision of the plan, are insured by a contract with an insurance company under which that company is obligated to pay those benefits; and
- (b) all future benefits shall accrue under a defined contribution provision of the plan, the administrator is not required to file any further actuarial valuation reports or cost certificates until the plan again provides for benefits to accrue under a defined benefit provision.

Review of multi-employer defined benefit pension plans

7. (1) In the case of a multi-employer pension plan containing a defined benefit provision, the actuary shall, as part of the actuarial report required under section 5 and in addition to the requirements of section 6 and any directives of the superintendent,

- (a) perform those tests that shall demonstrate the sufficiency of the contributions required by the collective agreement or agreements to provide for the pension benefits set out in the plan, without consideration of any provision for reduction of benefits set out in the plan; and
- (b) where the contributions are not sufficient to provide the pension benefits under the plan, propose options available to the administrator of the plan for required contributions to meet funding requirements.

(2) Where an actuary proposes options in accordance with paragraph (1)(b), he or she shall file a copy of the report with the superintendent within 30 days of submitting the report to the administrator and the time period referred to in subsection 5(3).

(3) Where an actuary has proposed options in accordance with paragraph (1)(b), an administrator of a pension plan shall take action to have in the plan meet the funding requirements of this section within 180 days following the date on which the actuary submitted the report to the administrator.

(4) Where options have been proposed under paragraph (1)(b), an administrator of a pension plan shall advise the superintendent of the action taken for the plan to meet the funding requirements of this section within 180 days following the date the actuary submitted the report to the administrator and the administrator shall file all documents relevant to the action taken.

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

7.1 (1) An administrator of a multi-employer pension plan may elect that subsections (3) to (7), instead of subsections 7(1) to (4), apply to a report filed under sections 5, 6, 11 and 12 where the period covered by the report is between January 1, 2016 and December 31, 2020 inclusive.

(2) [Rep. by 125/13 s1]

(3) The required contributions to a multi-employer pension plan are sufficient if, for each year of the period covered by the report, they are not less than the sum of the following amounts determined under a going concern valuation:

- (a) the normal cost of the plan;
- (b) the special payments set out in a previous report that remain to be paid with respect to any going concern unfunded liability; and
- (c) the special payments to be paid with respect to a going concern unfunded liability that is determined in the report.

(3.1) Notwithstanding paragraph 12(3)(c), the maximum period for liquidating a going concern unfunded liability for a multi-employer pension plan is within 12 years of the review date for actuarial reports prepared with review dates between December 31, 2015 and December 31, 2020 inclusive.

(4) Within 60 days after electing to have this section apply to a report filed under sections 5, 6, 11 and 12, the administrator of a multi-employer pension plan shall give written notice of the election to each member and former member of the plan.

(5) The written notice required by subsection (4) shall contain all the following information:

- (a) the name and provincial registration number of the multi-employer pension plan;
- (b) the name and contact of the administrator;
- (c) the solvency ratio of the plan and, where the plan is amended to increase benefits, the solvency ratio before and after the amendment, effective on the valuation date of the report; and
- (d) an explanation of how the security of pension benefits for members and former members might be affected as a result of the election made under this section.

(6) Within 60 days after filing a report to which this section applies, an administrator shall

- (a) file a copy of the notice required by subsection (4) with the superintendent; and
- (b) give a copy of the notice required by subsection (4) to every employer who makes contributions to a multi-employer pension plan and to every bargaining agent who represents members of the plan.

(7) In addition to the requirements of subsection (6), an administrator who files a report to which this section applies shall give a copy of the notice required by subsection (4) to each person who, after the report is filed and before the next report is filed, will be eligible or is required to become a member of the multi-employer pension plan, and the notice shall accompany the information required to be given to the person under subsection 25(1) of the Act.

Remittance of contributions

8. (1) For the purpose of section 30 of the Act, all contributions shall be remitted to the pension fund within the following time periods:

- (a) in the case of member contributions, all sums received by the employer from an employee or deducted from an employee's pay as the employee's contribution to the plan, within 30 days following the month in which the sum was received or deducted;
- (b) in the case of employer contributions determined in accordance with a formula respecting
 - (i) a defined contribution provision that relates to profits of the employer, other than minimum required contributions, 90 days after the end of the fiscal year, or
 - (ii) a defined contribution provision that does not relate to profits of the employer or that are minimum required contributions, 30 days after the end of the month for which those contributions are payable;
- (c) in the case of employer contributions to a defined benefit multi-employer pension plan or a pension plan where employer contributions are based on a fixed rate of dollars and portion of dollars per hour of employment, 30 days after the end of the month for which those contributions are payable; and
- (d) subject to paragraph (c), in the case of employer contributions relating to normal actuarial costs and special payments in respect of a defined benefit provision that are payable on at least a quarterly basis, 30 days after the end of each period in respect of which they are payable.

(2) In the case of a multi-employer pension plan established under a collective agreement or a pension plan that contains one or more defined benefit provisions where the obligation of an employer to contribute to the plan is limited to a fixed amount set out in a collective agreement, an employer, or any person required to make contributions on behalf of an employer, shall pay to the fundholder amounts which are not less than the sum of

- (a) any contributions received from employees, including money withheld from an employee, whether by payroll deduction or otherwise as the employee's contribution to the plan within 30 days following the month in which the sum was received or deducted; and
- (b) the amounts set out in the applicable collective agreement required to be paid by the employer or the person required to make contributions on behalf of the employer within the time limit specified by the applicable collective agreement but in any event, within 30 days following the month in which the period of employment giving rise to those payments occurred.

Interest on contributions

9. (1) For the purpose of subsection 36(2) of the Act, the method first selected under that subsection to calculate the rate of interest may not be changed without the prior written consent of the superintendent.

(2) Subject to this section, the rate of interest to be applied to contributions for the purpose of subsection 36(1) and (2)(b) of the Act is the amount determined under a pension plan as the gross rate of interest earned by the pension fund that holds those contributions, for the most recently completed period for which interest is to be applied, less the rate attributable to any expenses of administering the plan fund that holds those contributions relating to that period that are not required to be paid by the employer.

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (3) Interest shall be calculated at least annually, promptly after the end of each fiscal year.
- (4) Interest shall be applied at least annually as follows:
- (a) to member contributions, additional voluntary contributions, and if applicable, employer contributions made to the end of the fiscal year immediately preceding the most recently completed fiscal year, together with prior interest credited on those contributions, at the applicable interest rate described in subsection 36(1) and (2) of the Act; and
 - (b) to member contributions, additional voluntary contributions and if applicable, the employer contributions made during the most recently completed fiscal year at one half of the applicable interest rate prescribed by subsections 36(1) and (2) of the Act.
- (5) If a person becomes entitled to have a refund of contributions, interest shall be applied, with respect to all member contributions, additional voluntary contributions and if applicable, employer contributions, to the end of the month immediately preceding the date of payment or return of contributions or the first payment in a series of payments, at whichever of the following rates is provided for in the plan:
- (a) the rate calculated by dividing 365 into the product of the number of days in the uncompleted fiscal year with respect to which interest is to be paid and the applicable rate provided for by section 36 of the Act at the end of the immediately preceding fiscal year;
 - (b) the actual net rate of interest earned by the plan during that portion of the uncompleted fiscal year as determined under subsection (2); and
 - (c) an estimate of the actual net rate of interest determined solely on the basis of information regarding the performance of the investments of the assets of the plan during that portion of the uncompleted fiscal year, as reported to the administrator by the fund holder or the person making the plan investments.
- (6) Where in a defined benefit provision the rate determined under subsection (5) would result in a negative interest rate, the interest rate to be applied under that subsection is zero.
- (7) Once the method of calculating the rate under subsection (5) has been chosen in respect of a fiscal year, that method shall be used for all pension benefit payments from the plan during that fiscal year.
- (8) Notwithstanding subsections (4) and (5), a pension plan may provide for interest on contributions referred to in those subsections to be calculated in another manner and at other rates as the superintendent considers reasonable.
- (9) For the purpose of subsection 36(1) and (2) of the Act, "contributions" does not include contributions returned to a member of a pension plan or to an employer who participated in a pension plan if the contributions are returned to avoid revocation of the plan's registration under the Income Tax Act (Canada).

Tests for solvency

11. In the preparation of an actuarial valuation report to determine the existence of a solvency deficiency, a solvency valuation shall be performed in the following manner:

- (a) the solvency liabilities of a pension plan shall be determined on the basis that the plan is terminated or on a basis that is certified by an actuary to be reasonably approximate to that, taking into account any significant increases or decreases in pension benefits to the plan members as a result of the termination;
- (b) notwithstanding paragraph (a), solvency liabilities of a multi-employer pension plan established under one or more collective agreements or a trust agreement or a pension plan that contains one or more defined benefit provisions where the obligation of an employer to contribute to the pension fund is limited to a fixed amount set out in a collective agreement shall be determined on the basis of the pension benefit structure set out in the plan at the date of the solvency valuation, without consideration of the possible reduction of those pension benefits;
- (c) the solvency assets shall be the sum of
 - (i) the market value of investments of the pension fund or a value related to the market value by means of an averaging method which stabilizes short-term fluctuations over a period of not more than 5 years, plus any cash balances and accrued or receivable income,
 - (ii) the present value of any remaining special payments established before January 1, 1997,
 - (iii) the present value of any special payments required to liquidate any solvency deficiencies that emerged after December 31, 1996 as a result of pension benefits granted for a period of employment before the effective date of the plan, where the employment had not previously been recognized by the plan, created under the Act and established on or after January 1, 1997, and
 - (iv) the present value of any other special payments established on or after January 1, 1997 which are scheduled for payment within 5 years of the review date;
- (d) the present values referred to in subparagraphs (c)(ii), (iii) and (iv) shall be determined on the basis of the assumed interest rate used in the solvency valuation; and
- (e) where there is not a market value for an investment of a pension plan and the investment is issued or guaranteed by a government, the book value of the investment may be used instead of market value in paragraph (c)(i).

Funding

12. (1) This section applies only to a pension plan that contains one or more defined benefit provisions.

(2) For the purpose of section 30 and 35 of the Act, every pension plan to which this section applies shall be funded in accordance with the funding requirements of this section.

(3) Subject to subsections (5) and (6) and section 13, every employer shall pay to a pension fund

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (a) employer contributions, within 30 days following the end of each period in respect of which contributions are payable, equal to the normal actuarial cost allocated to the employer as stated in the most recent actuarial valuation report or cost certificate filed;
 - (b) special payments determined in accordance with subsection (7) with respect to an "initial unfunded liability" or "experience deficiency" as defined under the former Act;
 - (c) special payments required to liquidate by equal payments made at least quarterly, with interest at the going concern valuation rate, any other going concern unfunded liability within 15 years of the review date of the actuarial valuation in which the liability is identified; and
 - (d) the amount required to liquidate any solvency deficiency by equal payments made at least quarterly, with interest at the solvency valuation interest rate, within 5 years of the review date of the solvency valuation in which solvency deficiency is identified.
- (4) Each going concern unfunded liability or solvency deficiency shall be funded separately and not combined with any other going concern unfunded liability or solvency deficiency.
- (5) Where a solvency deficiency has been amortized, the reviewer may recalculate any special payments for any going concern unfunded liability that has not been amortized and the employer may make the special payments as recalculated instead of the special payments calculated at the review date relating to the establishment of the going concern unfunded liability.
- (6) As an alternative to the calculation of minimum special payments under paragraphs (3) (c) and (d), the payments may be determined by reference to a schedule of payments determined as follows:
- (a) each scheduled payment shall be a constant percentage of the projected future payroll of members determined using the same actuarial assumptions as used in the going concern valuation, on the date of original establishment of the going concern unfunded liability or the solvency deficiency;
 - (b) the present value of the scheduled payments over time at the date of establishment of the unfunded liability or the solvency deficiency using the interest rate assumed in the going concern valuation or solvency valuation, as applicable, shall be equal to the amount of the liability being liquidated; and
 - (c) the amortization periods for each series of scheduled payments shall be the same as the respective periods under paragraphs (3)(c) and (d).
- (7) The minimum remaining special payments referred to in paragraph (3)(a) shall be determined after utilizing any unused actuarial gains existing on January 1, 1997 .
- (8) Where the rate of special payments has been greater than the minimum rate required under subsection (3) by the making of special payments in advance or any additional payments, the amount of special payments for subsequent periods may be reduced provided that the outstanding balance of any going concern unfunded liability or solvency deficiency shall at no time be greater than it would have been had the special payments required under subsection 12(3) been made, taking into account the effect of any application of an actuarial gain or a solvency gain in accordance with section 13.
- (9) Where the period covered by a report filed under section 5 has passed and no new report has been filed with the superintendent, an employer shall continue to make payments in accordance with the requirements of the most recent report filed until a new report is filed.
- (10) In the event of over contribution by the employer, an employer shall receive a refund of the over contribution.
- (11) In the event of under contribution by the employer, an employer is required to, within 60 days of the filing of the report, remit all monthly amounts that have not yet been paid into the pension fund, calculated from the date on which they are required to be made to the date of filing the report with the superintendent, plus interest at the going concern valuation rate or the solvency valuation rate, as applicable.

 - (iii) A2, from Moody's Investors Service, or
 - (iv) A, from Standard & Poor's Ratings Services;
 - (b) "credit union" means
 - (i) a credit union to which the Credit Union Act, 2009 applies,
 - (ii) a cooperative credit society, or
 - (iii) a credit union incorporated and regulated by or under an Act of Canada or another province;
 - (c) "issuer" means a bank or credit union that has an acceptable rating by 2 credit rating agencies;
 - (d) "pension plans" means
 - (i) the Pension Plan for Unionized Employees of Corner Brook Pulp and Paper Limited, and
 - (ii) the Pension Plan for Non-Union Salaried Employees of Corner Brook Pulp and Paper Limited;
 - (e) "trust fund" means the settled property, letters of credit, cash, securities or other property and all proceeds thereof, held by the Corner Brook Pulp and Paper Limited Pension Trust, the beneficiaries of which are the pension plans;
 - (f) "trustees" means the trustees of the trust fund; and
 - (g) "value of letter of credit" means the lesser of
 - (i) the combined solvency deficiency where there is a solvency deficiency in both pension plans and where there is a solvency deficiency in only one pension plan, the solvency deficiency in that pension plan, and
 - (ii) the face amount of the letter of credit as approved by the superintendent;
- (2) Corner Brook Pulp and Paper Limited shall obtain a letter of credit for the pension plans.

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (3) The letter of credit shall be an irrevocable, unconditional standby letter of credit that
- (a) is in accordance with the rules of International Standby Practices 1998 (publication No. 590 of the International Chamber of Commerce);
 - (b) is payable only in Canadian currency;
 - (c) is issued or confirmed by an issuer who is a member of the Canadian Payments Association ;
 - (d) has a face amount that shall not exceed $88,000,000.00; and
 - (e) provides that
 - (i) the letter of credit is issued to the trust for the benefit of the pension plans,
 - (ii) the issuer will pay the face amount of the letter of credit on demand from the trustees without inquiring whether the trustees have a right to make the demand,
 - (iii) the insolvency, liquidation or bankruptcy of Corner Brook Pulp and Paper Limited shall have no effect on the rights and obligations of the issuer and the trustees, and
 - (iv) the letter of credit may not be amended during the term of the letter of credit.
- (4) Notwithstanding subparagraph (3)(e)(iv), during the term of the letter of credit the face amount may be increased or decreased in accordance with the trust and the approval of the superintendent.
- (5) The letter of credit shall stay in force until a deficit no longer exists in the pension plans.
- (6) At least 30 days before the expiry date of the term or any renewal term of the letter of credit, Corner Brook Pulp and Paper Limited shall provide written confirmation to the superintendent stating
- (a) that the letter of credit has been renewed or replaced;
 - (b) the name of the issuer;
 - (c) the face amount; and
 - (d) the term of the letter of credit.
- (7) The solvency assets of the pension plans shall, in addition to the assets referred to in subparagraphs 11(c)(i) to (iv), include the value of the letter of credit which shall be allocated between the pension plans in the manner required by the superintendent.
- (8) For the purposes of an actuarial review required under section 5, the value of the letter of credit may be applied to reduce the special payments required under subparagraph 12(3)(d) that have accrued before the review date of the actuarial valuation but have not been remitted to the pension funds of the pension plans.
- (9) Where the pension plans are terminated by the superintendent or otherwise, the proceeds of the trust fund shall be allocated between the pension plans in the manner required by the superintendent.
- (10) Notwithstanding subsection (9), the proceeds of the trust fund shall only be allocated to one or both of the pension plans if the assets in the pension fund for that plan are less than the value of benefits provided under that pension plan.
- (11) Where the proceeds of the trust fund are allocated to one or both of the pensions plans under subsection (9) and surplus assets remain in that plan after the payment of all benefits provided under the pensions plan, the surplus assets shall be paid to Corner Brook Pulp and Paper Limited.

(12) Notwithstanding this section, for the purposes of subparagraph 32(1)(b)(ii) of the Act, the amount of special payments accrued is considered to be the amount by which

- (a) the aggregate amount of special payments that would have been remitted to the pension fund exceeds

- (b) the aggregate amount of special payments made to the pension funds.

Utilization of actuarial gain and solvency gain

13. (1) Where an actuarial report with a review dated on or after January 1, 1997 reveals

- (a) an actuarial gain under a pension plan with respect to a period which begins on or after January 1, 1997 ; and
- (b) there is no new solvency deficiency nor any unamortized balance of any previous solvency deficiency first established on or after the January 1, 1997 the actuarial gain shall first be applied to reduce the outstanding balance of any going concern unfunded liability with the oldest established going concern unfunded liabilities being amortized or reduced before the later ones.

(2) Where the outstanding balance of a going concern unfunded liability is reduced under subsection (1), the balance remaining may be reamortized over the same or a shorter period.

(3) Where there is no going concern unfunded liability or solvency deficiency, the actuarial gain referred to in subsection (1) may, subject to sections 21 and 22, be applied to reduce the contribution of the employer to the normal actuarial cost of the plan, be applied to increase benefits under the plan, be left in the fund, or paid or transferred to the employer.

(4) Where an actuarial gain is not utilized as of the review date on which the actuarial gain is reported, any subsequent utilization of the actuarial gain is subject to the requirements of subsections (1), (2) and (3).

(5) Where a report with a review date on or after January 1, 1997 discloses a solvency gain, the special payments referred to in paragraph 12(3)(d) shall be adjusted as follows:

- (a) if the solvency gain is greater than or equal to the present value of the special payments under paragraph 12(3)(d), the special payments may be reduced to zero; and
- (b) if the solvency gain is less than the present value of the special payments under paragraph 12(3)(d), the monthly rate of the special payments shall not be changed but the amortization period or periods for the special payments may be reduced so as to reduce the excess to zero.

PART IV COMMUTED VALUE AND TRANSFER

Back to Top

Commuted value

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

14. (1) The commuted value of a pension benefit determined under a defined benefit provision shall, at a minimum,
- (a) be determined in a manner that complies with the Canadian Institute of Actuaries Recommendations for the Computation of Transfer Values from Registered Pension Plans, as amended, or another method as determined or approved by the superintendent;
 - (b) be determined as of the date of cessation of membership, death, retirement, or termination of a pension plan; and
 - (c) be adjusted, in respect of the period between the date determined under paragraph (a), at a date not earlier than the end of the month immediately preceding the payment or transfer of the commuted value out of the plan, with interest at a rate not less than the rate of interest that was assumed in determining the commuted value over the same period of time.
- (2) The commuted value of a pension benefit determined under a defined contribution provision, shall be the value of the accumulated contributions with interest made to the pension fund by or in respect of a member of former member.
- (3) If at the date of determination of the commuted value the former member has an unconditional entitlement to optional forms of a pension benefit or to optional commencement dates, the option that has the greatest value shall be used to determine the commuted value.

Transfer

15. (1) For the purpose of this section, any transfer considered to impair the solvency of a pension plan is not permitted under the Act.
- (2) The transfer value of a pension benefit as of a given date shall be determined by multiplying the commuted value, as determined in accordance with section 14 by the most recently determined solvency ratio.
- (3) Payment out of the fund of the transfer value calculated in subsection (2) shall not be considered to impair the solvency of the plan and is permitted under this Act.
- (4) Subject to subsection (5), where a pension plan has a solvency ratio that is equal to 1.00, a transfer shall not be considered to impair the solvency of the plan for the purpose of section 40(4) of the Act but the superintendent may, on the written request of an administrator, permit an administrator to refuse the transfer if the superintendent agrees with the administrator's assessment that the transfer would materially impair the solvency of the plan.
- (5) Where an administrator of a pension plan has reason to believe that the solvency ratio of the plan may have been reduced to a value less than 0.9 since the last valuation, the administrator shall not permit any transfers without the prior approval of the superintendent and have a new solvency ratio determined by an actuary.
- (6) Where the commuted value is calculated on a basis more generous than the minimum basis prescribed by section 14, the actuary shall confirm that the transfer will not impair the solvency ratio of the plan.
- (7) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where a pension plan has a solvency ratio that is less than 1.00, the administrator of the plan may transfer the whole of the commuted value of a pension benefit if
- (a) the administrator is satisfied that an amount equal to the solvency deficiency for the individual transfer has been remitted to the pension fund; or

- (b) the solvency deficiency for the individual transfer is less than 5% of the Year's Maximum Pensionable Earnings for that year and the aggregate of transfer deficiencies for all transfers made since the last review date do not exceed 5% of the market value of the assets of the plan at that time.

(8) Where the transfer value calculated in (2) is less than the commuted value, the balance including interest, calculated at the rate credited to member contributions under section 9, shall be transferred by the administrator within 5 years of the date of the initial transfer and any transfer subsequent to the initial transfer shall be in accordance with subsection (7).

(9) Any amounts transferred under a reciprocal transfer agreement that has been filed with the superintendent is subject to subsections (2) through (8).

(10) For the purpose of determining a transfer value under Part VI of the Act, the value of any pension benefit payable to a spouse of a member shall be based on the age of the spouse of the member at the date of termination, and no allowance need be made for the possibility of the member acquiring a different spouse after the date of termination.

(11) An administrator of a pension plan shall not make payment

- (a) under subparagraphs 40(1)(a)(ii) and 40(2)(a)(ii) of the Act, unless the retirement savings arrangement meets the requirements of the superintendent; or
- (b) under subparagraphs 40(1)(a)(iii) and 40(2)(a)(iii) of the Act, unless the contract to purchase the deferred life annuity meets the requirements of the superintendent and payments under the deferred life annuity shall not commence before the earliest date that the member may retire under the plan.

(12) The payment or transfer of the transfer value shall be made within 180 days of the date of determination of the commuted value.

Exercise of options

16. (1) A member or former member of a pension plan who makes an election under section 40 of the Act shall deliver a completed direction to the administrator within 60 days following cessation of membership or a person entitled to make an election under Part VI of the Act shall deliver a completed direction to the administrator, within 60 days following receipt of notice of entitlement of member.

(2) The administrator shall comply with an election made under subsection (1) within 60 days of receipt of all information required by the administrator to comply with the election.

(3) The administrator shall not transfer the commuted value or a portion of a pension benefit except where the transferee agrees to administer the amount transferred as a pension benefit in accordance with the Act.

Retirement savings arrangement

18. (1) The superintendent shall, for the purpose of this section, establish and maintain a list that contains

(a) the name of every savings institution and insurance company that has filed a certified specimen contract that complies with the Act, these regulations and the requirements of the superintendent; and

(b) a description of each certified specimen contract filed with the superintendent that complies with the Act, these regulations and the requirements of the superintendent.

(2) A savings institution or insurance company shall not transfer or accept a transfer unless

(a) the contract used for the transfer is in the form of a certified specimen contract, as amended where applicable, that has been filed with the superintendent and complies with the Act, these regulations and the requirements of the superintendent; and

(b) the savings institution or insurance company

(i) has been notified in writing by the superintendent that the name and specimen contract are on the list, and

(ii) has not been notified in writing by the superintendent that either its name or its specimen contract has been removed from the list.

(3) For the purpose of this section, a certified specimen contract, or an amendment to a certified specimen contract, is considered to meet the requirements of subsection (2) if the superintendent has provided written notice of compliance to the savings institution or insurance company that filed it.

(4) The superintendent may, without affecting the duties or liability of a savings institution or insurance company in relation to any transfer or contract, remove the savings institution or insurance company, or any certified specimen contract in name, from the list established under subsection (1) if

(a) the savings institution or insurance company is using a contract or an amendment to a contract, that is not in the form of the certified specimen contract; or

(b) the savings institution or insurance company has acted in breach of any of its obligations under this section.

(5) A copy of the contract, including contractual obligations required by the superintendent, shall be provided to the applicant at the time the application to transfer the locked in money is completed.

Surplus withdrawal application continuing plan

20. (1) An application by an employer for the consent of the superintendent to a surplus withdrawal from a continuing pension plan shall be accompanied by

- (a) a certified copy of the notice as required by the superintendent, details on the classes of persons who received notice, and the date the last notice was distributed; and
- (b) a current report prepared on the basis of a going concern valuation demonstrating that a surplus exists and that there are no special payments required to be made to the pension fund.

(2) The superintendent shall not consent to surplus withdrawal by the employer from a continuing pension plan unless

- (a) the superintendent is satisfied, based on reports provided with the application, that the plan has a surplus;
- (b) the plan provides for the withdrawal of surplus by the employer while the plan continues in existence, or the applicant satisfies the superintendent that the applicant is otherwise entitled to withdraw the surplus;
- (c) funds amounting to the greater of
 - (i) an amount equal to at least 2 years of the employer's current service costs, and
 - (ii) an amount equal to 25% of the liabilities of the pension plan calculated on the basis of a solvency valuation is retained in the pension fund as surplus; and

- (d) the applicant and the plan are in compliance with all other requirements under the Act regarding the payment of surplus money out of a pension fund.

Surplus withdrawal application - plan termination

22. The superintendent shall not consent to an application for surplus withdrawal in respect of a pension plan that is being terminated, in whole or in part, unless

- (a) the superintendent is satisfied, based on the reports provided that the plan has a surplus;

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (b) the plan provides for payment of surplus to the employer on termination of the plan;
- (c) all liabilities of the plan, calculated for the purpose of the termination of the plan, have been paid;
- (d) the application is accompanied by a certified copy of the notice as required by the superintendent, details on the classes of persons who received the notice, and the date the last notice was distributed; and
- (e) the applicant and the plan are in compliance with all other requirements under the Act in respect of the payment of surplus money out of a pension fund.

Entitlement on plan termination

23. (1) An administrator of a pension plan shall comply with an election made by a person on the termination of the plan no later than 30 days following receipt of the election or, if later, 30 days following receipt of notice that the termination report has been approved by the superintendent.

(2) Where a person entitled to receive a notice of entitlement as directed by the superintendent dies before receipt of the statement or forwarding of the election to the administrator of the plan and the date of death is before the expiry date of the period during which the recipient was entitled to elect an option, the spouse of the recipient on the date of death is entitled

- (a) to receive a lump sum payment equal to the commuted value which the recipient was entitled to transfer under subsection 40(3) of the Act; or
- (b) to an immediate or deferred pension benefit, the commuted value of which is at least equal to the commuted value referred to in paragraph (a).

(3) If the person entitled to a statement referred to in subsection (2) does not have a spouse on the date of death, the recipient's named beneficiary or personal representative is entitled to be paid an amount equal to the lump sum payment referred to in paragraph (2)(a).

Reduction of benefits upon termination of plan

24. For the purpose of section 66 of the Act, the basis for the reduction of benefits, the methods of allocating and distributing assets, and the priorities for determining benefits is one of the following:

- (a) a method that meets the following conditions:
 - (i) assets shall be allocated firstly to provide for benefits equal to the value of contributions, with interest made by and transferred from another plan in respect of members and former members,
 - (ii) to the extent that assets have not been allocated under subparagraph (i), assets shall be allocated to provide for accrued benefits in respect of which no unfunded liability was established or, if an unfunded liability was established, that liability has been amortized at the date of termination of the plan, and

- (iii) to the extent that assets have not been allocated under subparagraphs (i) and (ii), assets shall be allocated to provide for accrued benefits in respect of which a going concern unfunded liability or solvency deficiency has not been amortized at the date of the termination of the plan;
- (b) a method that meets the following conditions:
 - (i) assets shall be allocated firstly to provide for benefits equal to the value of contributions, with interest made by and transferred from another plan in respect of members and former members,
 - (ii) to the extent that assets have not been allocated under subparagraph (i), assets shall be allocated to provide for accrued benefits established 2 or more years before the date of termination, provided that the superintendent may relegate the priority of any benefit improvements made in the last 5 years to a more recent effective date selected by the superintendent, and
 - (iii) to the extent that assets have not been allocated under subparagraphs (i) and (ii), assets shall be allocated to provide for the accrued benefits in order of the date in which the benefits were established, starting with the earliest date; and
- (c) a method that is approved in writing by the superintendent.

Payments upon plan termination to fund benefits

25.1 (1) The amount required to be paid under subsection 61(2) of the Act shall be divided into equal payments that are calculated over a period of not more than 5 years commencing from the date of termination of the pension plan.

(2) Payments shall be made at least quarterly, with interest at the solvency valuation rate, commencing from the date of termination of the pension plan.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), the first payment is due no later than 2 weeks following the date that the report required by the superintendent under subsection 60(2) of the Act is filed by the administrator of the pension plan.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (2) and (3), where the report required by the superintendent under subsection 60(2) of the Act is filed by the administrator of the pension plan later than 6 months after the date of termination of the pension plan, the payment for the quarter in which the report is filed and earlier quarters is due no later than 2 weeks following the date that the report is filed.

(5) An administrator of a pension plan shall continue to file annual information returns and actuarial valuation reports as required under the Act until the amount under subsection (1) has been paid in full.

(6) A report under subsection (5) shall show

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (a) the gain or the loss in the pension plan since the valuation date of the immediately preceding report as a result of differences between the actual experience and the experience anticipated by the assumptions made in the previous report; and
 - (b) where a loss referred to in paragraph (a) is shown, the amount required to liquidate the loss within the remainder of the period of not more than 5 years commencing from the date of termination of the pension plan.
- (7) The loss shown in a report under subsection (6) shall be
- (a) funded separately under subsection 61(2) of the Act and not combined with the amount under subsection (1) of these regulations; and
 - (b) paid by equal payments made at least quarterly, with interest at the solvency valuation rate, within the remainder of the period of not more than 5 years commencing from the date of termination of the pension plan.

PART VII
MARRIAGE BREAKDOWN

Back to TopInterpretation

26. (1) In this Part words and phrases have the same meaning as in Part VI of the Act.

(2) Where all or part of a pension benefit under a pension plan of a member is required to be distributed to that person's spouse under a court order or separation agreement, a notice of intention and a certified copy of the court order or agreement shall be filed with the administrator before the administrator may effect a division or distribution.

(3) In the case of a court order, an administrator shall not administer a division of a pension benefit in accordance with a court order until all appeals have been finally determined or the time for appealing has expired.

114/96 s26Back to TopDivision

27. (1) Except where a claim of a spouse has been filed jointly by the member and his or her spouse, on receiving a claim of spouse, an administrator shall, within 30 days of receipt of the claim, provide a copy of the claim to the member and provide, to both the member and his or her spouse, a notice of entitlement of spouse containing the following information:

- (a) where the member is not entitled to a deferred pension benefit under a pension plan, the value of the pension benefit available for transfer as of the date of marriage breakdown;
- (b) for a defined benefit plan, where a pension benefit has not matured, the commuted value of the pension benefit available for transfer as of the date of marriage breakdown;
- (c) for a defined contribution plan, where a pension benefit has not matured, the accumulated value of the member's account available for transfer as of the date of marriage breakdown;
- (d) for a defined benefit plan, where a pension benefit has matured, the commuted value of the pension benefit available for transfer as of the date of marriage breakdown;
- (e) transfer options available to the spouse;

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

(f) options to take a separate pension from the plan available to the spouse; and

(g) a copy of the last annual statement sent to the member.

(2) Within 60 days of receiving the notice of entitlement of spouse, the spouse shall deliver a completed direction to the administrator indicating the election chosen.

(3) Where a member objects to the division on one of the grounds set out in subsection (4), a member shall deliver, within 60 days of receiving the notice of entitlement of spouse, a notice of objection of member to the administrator including documentary evidence to establish the grounds for objection.

(4) The grounds for objection under subsection (3) are that

(a) the court order or separation agreement has been varied or is of no force or effect;

(b) the terms of the court order or separation agreement have been or are being satisfied by other means; and

(c) proceedings have been commenced in a court of competent jurisdiction in Canada to appeal or review the court order or to challenge the terms of the separation agreement.

(5) Subject to subsection (3), an administrator shall comply with the direction made under subsection (2) within 60 days of receipt of all information required by the administrator to comply with the direction.

(6) Where section 53 of the Act applies, an administrator shall comply with the joint direction of the spouse and member or court order within 60 days of receipt of all information required by the administrator to comply with the direction or court order.

Back to TopProportionate share

30. (1) The proportionate share of a matured pension under a defined contribution plan or of a matured or unmatured pension under a defined benefit plan shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{proportionate share} = P(A/B)$$

where:

A = pensionable service accumulated by the member from the date of marriage to the date of marriage breakdown, excluding any pensionable service for that period purchased by and credited to the member after the date of marriage breakdown;

B = total pensionable service accumulated by the member to the date that is the earlier of

- (a) the date the spouse's share was transferred,
 - (b) the date the limited member begins to receive a separate pension, and
 - (c) the date the limited member begins to receive a payment of benefits from the plan;
- and

P = percentage of the pension benefit to be credited to the spouse under the court order or separation agreement.

(2) The proportionate share of an unmatured pension under a defined contribution plan shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{proportionate share} = P(A - B)$$

where:

A = the total of

- (a) contributions to the plan to the credit of the member on the date of marriage breakdown, and
- (b) net investment returns allocated, or that are to be allocated, in respect of those contributions to the date the spouse's share is transferred by the plan;

B = the total of

- (c) contributions to the credit of the member on the date of marriage of the member and spouse, and
- (d) the net investment returns allocated, or that are to be allocated, in respect of those contributions to the date the spouse's share is transferred by the plan; and

P = percentage of the pension benefit to be credited to the spouse under the court order or separation agreement.

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

31. (1) An administrator may pay out a cash settlement, instead of a division of a pension benefit, to a limited member where the value of the annual benefit payable to the limited member meets the requirements of paragraphs 44(2)(b) and (c) of the Act.

- (2) An administrator is required, at the time of the member's retirement to
 - (a) obtain the commuted value of the member's pension as of the pension commencement date of the member;
 - (b) determine the limited member's share by applying the proportionate share, calculated in accordance with these regulations, of the commuted value of the member's pension benefit;
 - (c) transfer the limited member's share of the member's pension benefit to a separate account in the plan in the name of the limited member;
 - (d) adjust the value of the member's pension benefit in accordance with these regulations; and
 - (e) provide an accounting to both the member and limited member with respect to the recalculation of the pension benefits.

(3) Where a member terminates employment prior to the pension commencement date of the limited member, the limited member is entitled to a share of a termination benefit under the plan based on the limited member's proportionate share of the member's pension benefit calculated in accordance with these regulations.

(4) In the event of the wind-up of a pension plan before the pension commencement date of the limited member, the limited member is entitled to a payment of a share of any wind-up benefit paid to the member based on the limited member's proportionate share of the member's pension benefit in accordance with these regulations.

Adjustment of pension

33. (1) Where a spouse has transferred his or her share from a pension plan or becomes a limited member of the plan, a member's pension or pension benefit shall be adjusted as follows:

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (a) if the member is entitled to a deferred pension under the plan, the member's pensionable service shall be reduced by the following amount of service:

$$R = P \times S$$

where

R = amount total service is to be reduced in calculating the member's benefit after the transfer or division of the pension benefit;

P = the proportionate share calculated in accordance with these regulations; and

S = the total service of the member including service before, during and after the marriage; and

- (b) if the member is not entitled to a deferred pension benefit under the plan, the amount paid or transferred to the credit of the spouse or spouse's estate is deducted from the commuted value of the pension or pension benefit at the time of adjustment.

(2) An adjustment under subsection (1) does not affect a member's eligibility in relation to a pension or pension benefit under a pension plan.

Information from plan

35. (1) A limited member or a spouse who has filed a notice of intention is entitled to receive from the administrator

- (a) at the time of marriage breakdown; and
 (b) on an annual basis

information in respect of a pension plan in accordance with these regulations and as required by the superintendent.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), on or before December 31, 1997, an administrator is not required to provide information under subsection (1) unless the spouse or limited member requests the information in writing or a pension plan provides for the disclosure of information on an annual basis.

(3) An administrator shall give a limited member, until the limited member is entitled to receive a separate pension under a pension plan, 30 days' advance written notice of any transaction relating to the member's pension benefit under the plan by reason of the retirement or death of the member or a direction given to the plan by the member.

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

(4) When a limited member is entitled to receive a separate pension from a pension plan, the limited member shall be treated as a member of the plan for information, disclosure and reporting purposes and is no longer entitled to information under subsection (1) regarding the pension benefit of the member.

Interpretation of investment regulations

38.1 (1) In this section and section 39,

- (a) "federal regulations" means the Pension Benefits Standards Regulations, 1985 (Canada); and
- (b) "Schedule III" means Schedule III to the federal regulations.

(2) In interpreting Schedule III for the purpose of section 39, expressions used in Schedule III and defined in the Pension Benefits Standards Act, 1985 (Canada) or the federal regulations have the meanings assigned to them by that federal Act or those federal regulations, as the case may be, except for the references in subsection (3).

(3) A reference in Schedule III to

- (a) "administrator" shall be read as a reference to "administrator" as defined in the Act;
- (b) "employee" shall be read as a reference to "employee" as defined in the Act;
- (c) "employer" shall be read as a reference to "employer" as defined in the Act;
- (d) "insured plan" shall be read as a reference to "insured plan" as defined in these regulations;
- (e) "member" shall be read as a reference to "member" as defined in the Act;
- (f) "pension benefit" shall be read as a reference to "pension benefit" as defined in the Act;
- (g) "plan" shall be read as a reference to "pension plan" as defined in the Act;
- (h) "spouse or common-law partner" shall be read as a reference to "principal beneficiary" as defined in the Act; and
- (i) "superintendent" shall be read as a reference to "superintendent" as defined in the Act.

(4) The references to "1994" in subparagraphs 12(1)(a)(ii), 13(1)(a)(ii) and 14(a)(ii) of Schedule III shall be read as "1996".

(5) The references to "filed under subsection 12(2) of the Act" in subsections 12(3) and 13(3) of Schedule III shall be read as "filed with the superintendent".

Investment regulations

39. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of a pension plan or any instrument governing a pension plan, the assets of the plan shall be invested and the investments made in accordance with Schedule III and this section.

(2) Where a provision of Schedule III differs from a corresponding provision under the laws of a designated province, the superintendent may, in the case of a pension plan having members in that designated province, apply, in whole or in part, that corresponding provision instead of the provision of Schedule III.

(3) An administrator or fundholder of a pension plan shall maintain a current record clearly identifying each of the plan's investment and the name in which each investment is registered.

- (4) Every pension plan shall provide that the money of the pension fund are to be
 - (a) invested in accordance with Schedule III; and

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

(b) invested

- (i) in a name that clearly indicates that the investment is held in trust for the plan and, where the investment is capable of being registered, registered in that name,
- (ii) in the name of a financial institution or a nominee of it, in accordance with a custodial agreement or trust agreement, entered into on behalf of the plan with the financial institution, that clearly indicates that the investment is held for the plan, or
- (iii) in the name of The Canadian Depository for Securities Limited, or a nominee of it, in accordance with a custodial agreement or trust agreement, entered into on behalf of the plan with a financial institution, that clearly indicates that the investment is held for the plan.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4), "custodial agreement" means an agreement providing that

- (a) an investment made or held on behalf of a pension plan under the agreement
 - (i) constitutes part of the plan's pension fund, and
 - (ii) shall not constitute an asset of the custodian or nominee; and
- (b) records shall be maintained by the custodian that are sufficient to allow the ownership of any investment to be traced to the plan.

(6) The administrator of a pension plan shall, before the later of July 1, 1997 and the day on which the plan is registered, establish, on behalf of the plan, a written statement of investment policies and procedures in respect of the plan's portfolio of investments and loans, having regard to all factors that may affect the funding and solvency of the plan and the ability of the plan to meet its financial obligations, including all of the following:

- (a) categories of investments and loans, including derivatives, options and futures;
- (b) diversification of the investment portfolio;
- (c) asset mix and rate of return expectations;
- (d) liquidity of investments;
- (e) the lending of cash or securities;
- (f) the retention or delegation of voting rights acquired through investments;
- (g) the method of, and the basis for, the valuation of investments that are not regularly traded at a public exchange; and
- (h) related party transactions permitted under section 17 of Schedule III and the criteria to be used to establish whether a transaction is nominal or immaterial to the plan.

(7) The statement of investment policies and procedures referred to in subsection (6) shall include a description of the factors referred to in that subsection and the relationship of those factors to those policies and procedures.

(8) If a pension plan is a defined benefit plan, the administrator shall submit the statement of investment policies and procedures referred to in subsection (6) to the actuary of the plan on or before the later of

- (a) 60 days after the day on which the statement is established; and
- (b) the day on which the actuary is appointed.

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

(9) Investments made on or before January 1, 1997 that are not in compliance with this section, Schedule III and the investment policy of the plan

- (a) may be retained until the earlier of the fixed maturity date or January 1, 2000 if they are investments with a fixed maturity date; and
- (b) must be in compliance no later than January 1, 2000 if they are not investments with a fixed maturity date.

(10) Every investment made after January 1, 1997 must comply with this section, Schedule III and the investment policy of the plan.

(11) An administrator of a pension plan shall review and confirm or amend the statement of investment policies referred to in subsection (6) at least once in each plan year.

(12) Where a pension plan is a defined benefit plan, the administrator shall submit any amendments to the investment policy statement to the actuary within 60 days of an amendment to the statement.

Application to public sector plans

41. (1) The Act applies to all public sector pension plans.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the following provisions of the Act shall not apply to the Uniformed Services Pension Plan and Teachers' Pension Plan:

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

- (a) subsection 20(1) with respect to void amendments;
- (b) section 35 with respect to funding;
- (c) section 39 with respect to the 50% rule;
- (d) section 40 with respect to portability;
- (e) section 41 with respect to pre-retirement death benefits;
- (f) the 2 year period of time prescribed for required vesting under subsection 43(1); and
- (g) paragraph 48(2)(a) with respect to marriage breakdown.

(2.1) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the following provisions of the Act shall not apply to the Members of the House of Assembly Pension Plan:

- (a) subsection 20(1) with respect to void amendments;
- (b) section 35 with respect to funding;
- (c) section 39 with respect to the 50% rule;
- (d) the 2 year period of time prescribed for required vesting under subsection 43(1); and
- (e) section 29 with respect to early retirement for members elected for the first time on or after November 30, 2015.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the following provisions of the Act shall not apply to the Public Service Pension Plan:

- (a) subsection 20(1) with respect to void amendments;
- (b) section 35 with respect to funding;
- (c) section 39 with respect to the 50% rule; and
- (d) the 2 year period of time prescribed for required vesting under subsection 43(1).
- (4) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the Memorial University Pension Plan is
 - (a) exempt for the period from April 1, 2016 to December 31, 2018 from the requirement that the employer pay an amount under paragraph 12(3)(d) of these regulations;
 - (b) exempt from the requirement under paragraph 12(3)(c) of these regulations to liquidate the going concern unfunded liability arising from the cost of providing indexed benefits in relation to past service under section 24.1 of the Memorial University Pensions Act within the prescribed 15 year period and is instead permitted to liquidate this liability within 40 years from the day that indexing is effective; and
 - (c) exempt for the period from April 1, 2016 to March 31, 2017 from the requirement that the employer pay an amount under paragraph 12(3)(c) of these regulations.

(4.1) Notwithstanding paragraphs (4)(a) and (c), in the event of the termination of the Memorial University Pension Plan, an amount that would have been payable under paragraphs 12(3)(c) and (d) had the exemptions not been given shall be paid by the employer to the fund.

(4.2) Notwithstanding paragraph (4)(c), money required to be paid by the employer during the period from April 1, 2016 to March 31, 2017 shall be added to the end of the going concern special payment schedules in effect on April 1, 2016.

Pension Benefits Act Regulations, N.L.R. 114/96

(4.3) The going concern special payment schedules in effect on April 1, 2016 based on the actuarial report of December 31, 2015 shall recommence on April 1, 2017 and shall be adjusted to add

- (a) one year of accrued interest; and
- (b) one additional year for payment.

(4.4) The interest referred to in subsection (4.3) shall be based on the going concern discount rate from the December 31, 2015 actuarial report.

(5) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the following provisions of the Act shall not apply to the Provincial Court Judges' Pension Plan:

- (a) section 35 with respect to funding; and
- (b) section 39 with respect to the 50% rule.

Exemptions from the Act or regulations

42. (1) A pension plan established before January 1, 1997 is exempt from the requirements of section 38 of the Act where the superintendent considers, and notifies the administrator in writing, that the provisions of the plan relating to the allocation and distribution of its surplus assets during the continuation of the plan or on termination, or both are sufficiently unclear to enable amendment of the plan in order that the plan may comply with section 38 of the Act.

- (2) Where
 - (a) a plan provides a benefit in respect of a person entitled to a benefit and the benefit is in excess of the maximum benefit or contribution limit that could be applicable to the plan under the Income Tax Act (Canada); or
 - (b) the commuted value of a benefit is in excess of the maximum limit that can be transferred to another plan or to a retirement savings arrangement under the Income Tax Act (Canada), the amount of the pension benefit, surplus asset allocation or commuted value that is in excess of that maximum limit is exempt from section 44 of the Act and shall not be treated as locked in for the purpose of these regulations.

(3) Where a plurality of the members of a pension plan is employed in a designated province that plan may be excepted, subject to agreement with the designated province from a registration or audit under the Act, and for the purpose of ascertaining where the plurality of the members is employed, members not employed in the province or a designated province shall not be counted.

Interpretation

2. (1) In these Regulations,
 - (a) "acceptable rating" means the rating given by a credit rating agency to an issuer at the time of the issuance or renewal of a letter of credit that is at least equal to one of the following ratings:

Solvency Funding Relief Regulations, N.L.R. 30/08

- (i) A, from Dominion Bond Rating Service Limited,
 - (ii) A, from Fitch Ratings,
 - (iii) A2, from Moody's Investors Service, or
 - (iv) A, from Standard & Poor's Ratings Services;
- (b) "Act" means the Pension Benefits Act, 1997 ;
- (c) "bank" means a bank or authorized foreign bank within the meaning of section 2 of the Bank Act (Canada) ;
- (d) "credit union" means a credit union to which the Credit Union Act applies or a cooperative credit society or credit union incorporated and regulated by or under an Act of Canada or another province;
- (e) "default" means the occurrence of one of the following:
- (i) the written notification to the superintendent that the administrator intends to terminate or wind up the whole plan under subsection 60(1) of the Act,
 - (ii) the amendment of the plan, resolution by the employer or coming into force of any other measure that effects the termination of the whole plan,
 - (iii) the superintendent's declaration under subsection 59(1) of the Act that terminates the whole plan,
 - (iv) the filing of any application or petition by the employer, or against the employer, under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (Canada) , the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada) or the Winding-up and Restructuring Act (Canada),
 - (v) the termination of the whole plan,
 - (vi) the non-renewal of a letter of credit referred to in Part III for its full face amount unless
 - (A) it has been replaced by another letter of credit for the same face amount at least 30 days before the beginning of the following plan year,
 - (B) an amount equal to the face amount of the letter of credit has been remitted to the pension fund at least 30 days before the beginning of the following plan year, or
 - (C) the face amount has been reduced in accordance with section 23 , or
 - (vii) the failure by an employer to comply with a direction issued by the superintendent under section 11 of the Act with respect to the face amount of the letters of credit required by subsection 16 (2);
- (f) "holder" means a trust company that is licensed to carry on business in Canada and that has entered into a trust agreement with the employer or, if the employer is not the administrator, with the employer and the administrator;
- (g) "initial solvency deficiency" means the solvency deficiency of a plan that emerged on the date on which the valuation that identified the deficiency was performed, as reported in an actuarial report filed with the Superintendent of Pensions that values the plan as of a date between
- (i) January 1, 2007 to January 1, 2009, or

(ii) January 1, 2010 to January 1, 2013;

(h) "issuer" means a bank or credit union that has an acceptable rating and that is not the employer or affiliated with the employer within the meaning of subsection 2(2) of the Canada Business Corporations Act ; and

(i) "special payment" means a payment or one of a series of payments that is determined in accordance with section 12 of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, or section 6 , 7 or 16 of these Regulations.

(2) Except as otherwise provided, expressions used in these Regulations have the same meaning as in the Pension Benefits Act Regulations .

30/08 s2; 110/11 s1

Back to Top

Application

3. (1) These Regulations apply to the funding of a defined benefit plan and, except as otherwise provided, the Pension Benefits Act Regulations also apply to the funding of a plan under these Regulations.

(2) For the purposes of these Regulations, an initial solvency deficiency shall be calculated in accordance with the solvency deficiency in section 11 of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, except that

(a) the present value of any special payment referred to in subparagraphs 11 (c)(ii), (iii) and (iv) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations calculated in respect of the funding of a solvency deficiency that emerged before the emergence of the initial solvency deficiency shall be zero; and

(b) for the purposes of Parts II and III , that definition shall be interpreted as including the present value of the special payments calculated with respect to an initial unfunded liability that are due in the next 10 years.

(3) For the purposes of these Regulations, any special payment that would have been required to be made under paragraph 12(3)(d) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, with respect to the funding of a solvency deficiency that emerged before the emergence of the initial solvency deficiency is not required to be made.

(4) In the case of an inconsistency between these Regulations and the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, these Regulations shall prevail.

30/08 s3

Back to Top

Non-application

4. These Regulations do not apply to

(a) a plan that is established after January 1, 2007 unless the plan is formed as a result of a merger of plans one or more of which was established before January 1, 2007 or is formed as a result of a splitting of a plan that was established before January 1, 2007 ; or

(b) a plan defined as a multi-employer pension plan under the Pensions Benefits Act, 1997 .

Filing date application

5. (1) Plans may only be funded under these Regulations if all of the payments that are owed to the pension fund before the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerges, as required by section 8 of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, have been made as of the filing date of the actuarial report that shows the emergence of that initial solvency deficiency.

(2) Notwithstanding section 12 of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, the funding of a plan shall be considered to meet the standards for solvency if the funding is in accordance with Part I, II or III of these Regulations.

30/08 s5

PART I NEW 5 YEAR FUNDING

Back to Top

General funding rules

6. (1) Notwithstanding paragraph 12(3)(d) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, an initial solvency deficiency of a plan may be funded by special payments sufficient to liquidate the initial solvency deficiency by equal annual payments over a period not exceeding 5 years from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged.

(2) Where the initial solvency deficiency is funded in accordance with this Part, the administrator of the plan shall notify the superintendent in writing at the time of filing of an actuarial report after the coming into force of these Regulations.

(3) Where a solvency deficiency emerges after the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged, the new solvency deficiency shall be calculated, for the purpose of paragraph 12(3)(d) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, in accordance with a solvency valuation in section 11 of those Regulations and that valuation shall be interpreted as including the present value of the special payments referred to in subsection (1).

30/08 s6

PART II NEW 10 YEAR FUNDING

Back to Top

General funding rules

7. (1) Notwithstanding paragraph 12(3)(d) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, an initial solvency deficiency of a plan may be funded in accordance with Part I, but the remittance to the pension fund of a portion of the special payments determined under that Part may be deferred as if the initial solvency deficiency were funded by special payments sufficient to liquidate the initial solvency deficiency by equal annual payments over a period not exceeding 10 years from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged.

(2) The initial solvency deficiency may be funded in accordance with this Part only if less than one third of the members and less than one third of the former members excluding members object before the date indicated in the statement referred to in paragraph 8 (1)(j).

(3) Notwithstanding the fact that the special payments set out in subsection (1) may be made over a period that exceeds the period applicable under Part I, for the purposes of subsection 32(1) of the Act, the amount by which the aggregate amount of special payments that would have been remitted to the pension fund in accordance with that Part from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged, as adjusted to take into account the actuarial gains that were applied under subsection 13(1) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, plus interest, exceeds the aggregate amount of special payments made to the pension fund in accordance with this Part, plus interest, shall be considered to be an amount accrued to the pension fund.

(4) Interest shall be calculated by using the interest rate that was assumed in valuing the liabilities of the plan for the purpose of calculating the initial solvency deficiency.

30/08 s7

Back to Top

Information to be provided

8. (1) The administrator shall provide the following information to the members and former members:

- (a) the solvency ratio of the plan as of the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged;
- (b) the amount of the initial solvency deficiency;
- (c) a description of the extent to which the members and former members' benefits would be reduced if the plan were fully terminated and wound up with the solvency ratio referred to in paragraph (a);
- (d) a statement indicating that extending the period for funding the initial solvency deficiency as permitted by this Part may result in a lower value of the plan assets during the funding period than would be the case if the deficiency were funded over a period not exceeding 5 years and that the longer funding period may also extend the period during which the plan assets are less than the plan liabilities;
- (e) the special payments that would have been made during the first plan year covered by the actuarial report referred to in paragraph 9 (b) if the initial solvency deficiency were to be funded in accordance with Part I;
- (f) the special payments that are to be made during the first plan year covered by the actuarial report referred to in paragraph 9 (b) if the initial solvency deficiency is funded in accordance with this Part;
- (g) a statement indicating that an actuarial report is to be filed at least annually with the superintendent while the plan is being funded in accordance with this Part;
- (h) a statement indicating that the plan may be funded in accordance with this Part only if less than one third of the members object and less than one third of the former members object;
- (i) a statement indicating that the superintendent's approval is not required to fund the initial solvency deficiency in accordance with this Part;
- (j) a statement indicating that the members and former members may object to the proposal to fund the plan in accordance with this Part by sending an objection to the administrator at the address and by the date indicated in the statement, and that date shall not be less than 30 days after the day on which the other information required to be provided under this section is provided by the administrator;
- (k) a statement indicating that if the plan is funded in accordance with this Part, amendments to the plan that increase the pension benefits will be restricted for the first 5 plan years of funding in accordance with this Part; and

- (l) a statement setting out the right of access to the documents described in subsection 25(7) of the Act.

30/08 s8

Back to Top

Documents etc. to be filed

9. The administrator shall file the following documents and information with the superintendent:

- (a) written notification that the initial solvency deficiency is to be funded in accordance with this Part;
- (b) the actuarial report valuing the plan as of the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged;
- (c) a written statement confirming that a resolution of the board of directors of the employer has been passed, if the employer is a corporation, or, if the employer is not a corporation, an approval of the persons who have the authority to direct or authorize the actions of that body, has been given, authorizing the special payment schedule calculated in accordance with this Part; and
- (d) a written statement confirming that the information set out in section 8 has been provided to the members and former members and that less than one third of the members have objected and less than one third of the former members have objected.

30/08 s9

Back to Top

New solvency deficiency

10. Where a solvency deficiency emerges after the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged, the new solvency deficiency shall be calculated, for the purposes of paragraph 12(3)(d) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, in accordance with a solvency valuation in section 11 of those Regulations, and that the valuation shall be interpreted as including

- (a) the present value of the special payments referred to in section 7 ; and
- (b) the present value of the special payments calculated with respect to an initial unfunded liability that are due in the period that is the greater of
 - (i) the 5 years following the emergence of the new solvency deficiency, and
 - (ii) the period then remaining of the 10 years following the emergence of the initial solvency deficiency.

30/08 s10

Back to Top

Termination of plan

11. Where a plan is fully terminated and on the day on which it terminates the liabilities of the plan exceed its assets, the lesser of the amount determined in subsection 7 (3) and the amount by which the liabilities of the plan exceed its assets shall immediately be remitted to the pension fund.

Back to Top

Plan without surplus

15. (1) Where a plan ceases to be funded in accordance with this Part and the plan does not have a surplus as of the first day of the plan year, section 12 of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations applies except as follows:

- (a) when funding ceases before the sixth plan year,
 - (i) the administrator shall have an actuarial report prepared in which the present value of the special payments referred to in section 7 shall be zero valuing the plan as of the first day of the plan year in which funding ceases,
 - (ii) the amount by which the aggregate amount of special payments that would have been made to the pension fund in accordance with Part I from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged to the day on which funding ceases, as adjusted to take into account the actuarial gains that were applied under subsection 13(1) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, plus interest, exceeds the aggregate amount of special payments made to the pension fund in accordance with this Part, plus interest, shall immediately be remitted to the pension fund,
 - (iii) a remaining initial solvency deficiency disclosed by the actuarial report, which shall be calculated by including the amount remitted in accordance with subparagraph (ii) as an asset of the pension fund, shall be considered to have emerged as of the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged,

Solvency Funding Relief Regulations, N.L.R. 30/08

- (iv) the remaining initial solvency deficiency calculated under subparagraph (iii) shall be funded by special payments sufficient to liquidate that initial solvency deficiency by equal annual payments over a period not exceeding 5 years minus the number of years that the plan was funded in accordance with this Part, and
 - (v) the special payments set out in section 7 shall continue to be made until the first special payment required to fund the remaining initial solvency deficiency referred to in subparagraph (iii) is made to the pension fund; and
- (b) when funding ceases after the fifth plan year,
- (i) the administrator shall have an actuarial report prepared as of the first day of the plan year in which funding ceases, and
 - (ii) the amount by which the aggregate amount of special payments that would have been made to the pension fund in accordance with Part I from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged to the day on which funding ceases, as adjusted to take into account the actuarial gains that were applied under subsection 13(1) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, plus interest, exceeds the aggregate amount of special payments made to the pension fund in accordance with this Part, plus interest, shall immediately be remitted to the pension fund.
- (2) Interest shall be calculated by using the interest rate that was assumed in valuing the liabilities of the plan for the purpose of calculating the initial solvency deficiency.

PART III 10 YEAR FUNDING WITH LETTERS OF CREDIT

Back to Top

General funding rules

16. (1) Notwithstanding paragraph 12(3)(d) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, an initial solvency deficiency of a plan may be funded by special payments sufficient to liquidate the initial solvency deficiency by equal annual payments over a period not exceeding 10 years from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged.

- (2) The initial solvency deficiency may be funded in accordance with this Part where the employer
- (a) obtains letters of credit for each of the first 5 plan years of funding under this Part, for the amount representing the difference between the present value, at the end of each plan year, of the remaining special payments under this Part and the present value of the remaining special payments that would have been required to be made to liquidate the initial solvency deficiency as if it had been funded under Part I; and
 - (b) maintains letters of credit for the sixth plan year of funding and for each plan year after that year, representing the present value at the beginning of each plan year of the remaining special payments under this Part.
- (3) The present value of the remaining special payments shall be determined by using the interest rate that was assumed in valuing the liabilities of the plan for the purpose of calculating the initial solvency deficiency.

Letter of credit

17. (1) A letter of credit required by this Part shall be an irrevocable, unconditional standby letter of credit that

- (a) is in accordance with the rules of International Standby Practices 1998 (publication No. 590 of the International Chamber of Commerce) ;
- (b) is payable only in Canadian currency;
- (c) is issued or confirmed by an issuer who is a member of the Canadian Payments Association that has been assigned an acceptable rating; and
- (d) provides that
 - (i) the letter of credit is made out to the holder's benefit,
 - (ii) the issuer will pay the face amount of the letter of credit on demand from the holder without inquiring whether the holder has a right to make the demand,
 - (iii) the bankruptcy of the employer shall have no effect on the rights and obligations of the issuer and the holder set out in the letter of credit,
 - (iv) the letter of credit will expire on the day on which the plan's year ends,
 - (v) the letter of credit will automatically be renewed for the full face amount for further one-year periods on the expiry date referred to in subparagraph (iv) unless the issuer notifies the holder, in writing, of the non-renewal not less than 90 days before the expiry date, and
 - (vi) the letter of credit may not be amended during the term of the letter of credit and may not be assigned except to another holder.

(2) A letter of credit shall be obtained not later than the day on which the actuarial report is filed with the superintendent, under subsection 16(2) of the Act, for the first plan year of funding, and at least 30 days before the beginning of each subsequent plan year that is covered by it.

(3) The letter of credit shall immediately be provided to the holder.

30/08 s17

Back to Top

When letter of credit not required

18. Where separate letters of credit have been obtained for each plan year, a letter of credit is not required to be automatically renewed after the fifth year following the plan year for which it was obtained.

30/08 s18

Back to Top

Where face amount less than amount required

19. Where the face amount of a letter of credit obtained or maintained in accordance with this Part for a plan year is less than the amount required by subsection 16 (2) for that plan year, the employer shall make up the difference either by increasing the amount of letters of credit or by making additional payments to the pension fund no later than on the day on which the next quarterly

Trust agreement

20. (1) The employer and, where the employer is not the administrator of the plan, the administrator shall enter into a trust agreement or shall amend any existing trust agreement it may have with the holder regarding the letters of credit referred to in this Part.

- (2) The trust agreement shall provide that
 - (a) the holder shall hold the letters of credit in Canada in trust for the plan;
 - (b) the definition "default" in section 2 applies to the agreement;
 - (c) the employer shall immediately notify, in writing, the holder and the superintendent and, where the employer is not the administrator of the plan, the administrator of a default;
 - (d) where not otherwise notified under paragraph (c), the administrator shall notify, in writing, the holder and the superintendent of a default immediately after becoming aware of it;
 - (e) on receipt of the notice referred to in paragraph (c) or (d), the holder shall immediately make a demand for payment of the face amount of all of the letters of credit held in respect of the plan;
 - (f) on receipt of a written notice of default from a person other than the employer or the administrator, the holder shall
 - (i) immediately notify, in writing, the employer, the administrator and the superintendent of the notice, and
 - (ii) make a demand for payment of the face amount of all of the letters of credit held in respect of the plan unless the administrator provides a written notice to the holder within 30 days after receipt of the notice that the default has not occurred;
 - (g) where a holder makes a demand for payment of a letter of credit held for the plan, it shall notify, in writing, the employer, the administrator and the superintendent that it has made the demand;
 - (h) the holder shall immediately notify, in writing, the employer, the administrator and the superintendent where the issuer does not pay the face amount of a letter of credit after a demand for payment has been made;
 - (i) the holder shall not make a demand for payment where a letter of credit expires without being renewed, or the face amount is being reduced, in accordance with this Part;
 - (j) the administrator shall notify the holder of a circumstance when a letter of credit may expire, or when the face amount of a letter of credit may be reduced, in accordance with this Part; and
 - (k) the administrator shall provide the holder with a copy of the statements referred to in paragraph 21 (1)(e) and subsection 21 (2) and with a copy of the written notice referred to in paragraph 27 (a).

Back to Top

Documents etc. to be filed

21. (1) The administrator shall file the following documents and information with the superintendent for the first plan year of funding of the initial solvency deficiency:

- (a) written notification that the initial solvency deficiency is to be funded in accordance with this Part;
- (b) the actuarial report valuing the plan as of the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged;
- (c) a written statement confirming that a resolution of the board of directors of the employer has been passed, if the employer is a corporation, or, if the employer is not a corporation, an approval of the persons who have the authority to direct or authorize the actions of that body, has been given, authorizing the special payment schedule calculated in accordance with this Part;
- (d) a copy of each letter of credit in effect for the plan year;
- (e) a written statement from the administrator that the letters of credit comply with this Part; and
- (f) a copy of the trust agreement set out in section 20 together with the name and address of the holder of the letters of credit.

(2) For each subsequent plan year of funding, the administrator shall file with the superintendent copies of all subsequent letters of credit that have been obtained by the employer and a written statement, for each letter of credit filed, that it complies with this Part.

30/08 s21

Back to Top

Statement to members

22. Where the administrator provides the written statement under subsection 25(4) of the Act, the administrator shall also provide the following information:

- (a) the amount of the initial solvency deficiency;
- (b) the fact that the deficiency is to be funded in accordance with this Part by equal annual payments over a period not exceeding 10 years; and
- (c) the aggregate face amount of all of the letters of credit that are held by the holder in respect of the plan.

30/08 s22

Back to Top

Reduction of the face amount of a letter of credit

23. (1) The face amount of a letter of credit may be reduced, effective the beginning of a plan year, by

- (a) the amount by which the aggregate amount of payments that the employer has made to the pension fund in the previous plan year exceeds the total of the required special payments and the normal cost of the plan for that year as shown in an actuarial report that was filed with the superintendent for that year in accordance with subsection 16(2) of the Act; or

- (b) the amount by which the aggregate face amount of all of the letters of credit that are held by the holder in respect of the plan exceeds the amount set out in paragraph 16 (2)(a) or (b).

- (2) The face amount of the letter of credit shall not be reduced following a default.

30/08 s23

Back to Top

New solvency deficiency

24. Where a solvency deficiency emerges after the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged, the new solvency deficiency shall be calculated, for the purposes of paragraph 12(3)(d) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, in accordance with a solvency valuation in section 11 of those Regulations and that valuation shall be interpreted as including

- (a) the present value of the special payments referred to in subsection 16 (1); and
- (b) the present value of the special payments calculated with respect to an initial unfunded liability that are due in the period that is the greater of
 - (i) the 5 years following the emergence of the new solvency deficiency, and
 - (ii) the period then remaining of the 10 years following the emergence of the initial solvency deficiency.

30/08 s24

Back to Top

Failure to pay letter of credit

25. On receipt of the notice from a holder that an issuer has not paid the face amount of a letter of credit after a demand for payment has been made, the employer shall remit to the pension fund no later than 30 days after the day on which the demand for payment was made, an amount equal to the face amount of that letter of credit.

30/08 s25

Back to Top

Occurrence of default

26. (1) Where a default occurs, the amount by which the aggregate amount of special payments that would have been remitted to the pension fund in accordance with Part I from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged, as adjusted to take into account the actuarial gains that were applied under subsection 13(1) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, plus interest, exceeds the aggregate amount of special payments made to the pension fund in accordance with this Part, plus interest, shall immediately be remitted to the pension fund.

(2) Except where a plan is fully terminated, the administrator shall have an actuarial report prepared in which the present value of the special payments referred to in subsection 16 (1) shall be zero valuing the plan as of the last day of the plan year in which the default occurs and shall file a copy of the report with the superintendent in accordance with subsection 16(2) of the Act.

(3) A remaining initial solvency deficiency disclosed by the actuarial report prepared in accordance with subsection (2) shall be calculated by including as an asset an amount remitted to the pension fund in accordance with subsection (1) and the remaining initial solvency deficiency shall be considered to have emerged as of the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged.

(4) The remaining initial solvency deficiency calculated under subsection (3) shall be funded by special payments sufficient to liquidate that initial solvency deficiency by equal annual payments over a period not exceeding 5 years minus the number of years that the plan was funded in accordance with this Part.

30/08 s26

Back to Top

Ceasing 10 year funding

27. A plan may cease to be funded in accordance with this Part, beginning on the first day of a plan year, where

- (a) the administrator gives written notice to the superintendent not later than 6 months after the beginning of that plan year;
- (b) the amount by which the aggregate amount of special payments that would have been remitted to the pension fund in accordance with Part I from the day on which the initial solvency deficiency emerged, as adjusted to take into account the actuarial gains that were applied under paragraph 13(1) of the Pension Benefits Act Regulations, plus interest, exceeds the aggregate amount of special payments made to the pension fund in accordance with this Part, plus interest, is remitted to the pension fund at least 30 days before the plan's year end; and
- (c) an actuarial report is prepared in accordance with subsection 26 (2) and any remaining initial solvency deficiency is calculated and funded in accordance with subsections 26 (3) and (4) as if a default occurred, except that the actuarial report shall be prepared valuing the plan as of the first day of the plan year in which funding ceases.

Back to TopPowers of court

328. (1) Upon an application to a court under section 324, the court may determine whether another person is a dissenting offeree who should be joined as a party, and the court shall then fix a fair value for the shares of all dissenting offerees.

(2) A court may appoint 1 or more appraisers to help the court to fix a fair value for the shares of a dissenting offeree.

(3) The final order of the court shall be made against the offeror in favour of each dissenting offeree and for the amount of his or her shares as fixed by the court.

1986 c12 s324

Back to TopAdditional powers of court

329. In connection with proceedings under this Part, a court may make an order it thinks appropriate and it may

- (a) fix the amount of money or other consideration that is required to be held in trust under section 322;
- (b) order that the money or other consideration be held in trust by a person other than the offeree-corporation;
- (c) allow a reasonable rate of interest on the amount payable to each dissenting offeree from the date the dissenting offeree sends or delivers the dissenting offeree's share certificates under section 320 until the date of payment; or
- (d) order that money payable to a shareholder who cannot be found be paid to the Minister of Finance and in that case subsection 356(3) shall apply.

- (c) fails to send a return, notice, document or prescribed fee to the registrar as required under this Act; or
- (d) is in default for a period of 1 year in sending to the registrar a fee, notice or document required by this Act, the registrar may dissolve the corporation by issuing a certificate of dissolution under this section or the registrar may apply to a court for an order dissolving the corporation, in which case section 346 applies.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the registrar shall not dissolve a corporation under this section until the registrar has

Corporations Act, R.S.N.L. 1990, c. C-36, Part XVI

- (a) given to the corporation 120 days' notice of the registrar's decision to dissolve the corporation; and
 - (b) published in the Gazette notice of the registrar's decision to dissolve the corporation.
- (3) Notwithstanding subsection (1), unless cause to the contrary has been shown or an order has been made by the court under section 377 the registrar may, after expiry of the period referred to in subsection (2), issue a certificate of dissolution in prescribed form.
- (4) The corporation stops existing on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

Dissolution by court

342. (1) The registrar or an interested person may apply to a court for an order dissolving a corporation where the corporation has

- (a) failed for 2 or more consecutive years to comply with the requirements of this Act with respect to the holding of annual meetings of shareholders;
- (b) contravened section 28, sections 42 to 45, or section 260 or 262; or
- (c) obtained a certificate under this Act by misrepresentation.

(2) An applicant under this section shall give the registrar notice of the application, and the registrar is entitled to appear and be heard in person or by counsel.

(3) Upon an application under this section or section 341, the court may order that the corporation be dissolved or that the corporation be liquidated and dissolved under the supervision of the court, and the court may make another order it thinks appropriate.

- (4) Upon receipt of an order under this section, section 341 or section 343, the registrar shall
- (a) where the order is to dissolve the corporation, issue a certificate of dissolution in prescribed form; or
 - (b) where the order is to liquidate and dissolve the corporation under the supervision of the court, issue a certificate of intent to dissolve in prescribed form and publish notice of the order in the Gazette.

(5) The corporation stops existing on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

Further grounds

343. (1) A court may order the liquidation and dissolution of a corporation or an affiliated corporation upon the application of a shareholder or security holder, creditor, director or officer

- (a) where the court is satisfied that, in respect of a corporation or an affiliate,
 - (i) an act or omission of the corporation or an affiliate effects a result,
 - (ii) the business or affairs of the corporation or an affiliate are or have been carried on or conducted in a manner, or

Corporations Act, R.S.N.L. 1990, c. C-36, Part XVI

- (iii) the powers of the directors of the corporation or an affiliate are or have been exercised in a manner that is oppressive or unfairly prejudicial to or that unfairly disregards the interests of a security holder, creditor, director or officer; or

- (b) where the court is satisfied that

- (i) a unanimous shareholder agreement entitles a complaining shareholder to demand dissolution of the corporation after the occurrence of a specified event and that event has occurred, or

- (ii) it is just and equitable that the corporation should be liquidated and dissolved.

(2) Upon an application under this section, a court may make the order under this section or section 371 that it thinks appropriate.

- (3) Sections 371 and 372 apply to an application under this section.

Court supervision

344. (1) An application to a court to supervise a voluntary liquidation and dissolution under section 338 shall state the reasons, verified by an affidavit of the applicant, why the court should supervise the liquidation and dissolution.

(2) Where a court makes an order applied for under section 338, the liquidation and dissolution of the corporation shall be continued under the supervision of the court in accordance with this Act.

1986 c12 s340

Application to court

345. (1) An application to a court under section 343 shall state the reasons, verified by an affidavit of the applicant, why the corporation should be liquidated and dissolved.

(2) Upon an application under section 343, the court may make an order requiring the corporation and a person having an interest in the corporation or claim against it to show cause, at a time and place specified in the order, not less than 4 weeks after the date of the order, why the corporation should not be liquidated and dissolved.

(3) Upon an application under section 343, the court may order the directors and officers of the corporation to provide to the court all material information known to or reasonably ascertainable by them, including

- (a) financial statements of the corporation;
- (b) the name and address of each shareholder of the corporation; and
- (c) the name and address of each known creditor or claimant, including a creditor or claimant with unliquidated, future or contingent claims, and a person with whom the corporation has a contract.

- (4) A copy of an order made under subsection (2) shall be

Corporations Act, R.S.N.L. 1990, c. C-36, Part XVI

- (a) published as directed in the order, at least once in each week before the time appointed for the hearing, in a newspaper published or distributed in the place where the corporation has its registered office; and
 - (b) served upon the registrar and each person named in the order.
- (5) Publication and service of an order under this section shall be effected by the corporation or by another person and in the manner that the court may order.

346. In connection with the dissolution or the liquidation and dissolution of a corporation, the court may, where it is satisfied that the corporation is able to pay or adequately provide for the discharge of all its obligations, make an order it thinks appropriate including

- (a) an order to liquidate;
- (b) an order appointing a liquidator, with or without security, fixing his or her remuneration and replacing a liquidator;
- (c) an order appointing inspectors or referees, specifying their powers, fixing their remuneration and replacing inspectors or referees;
- (d) an order determining the notice to be given to an interested person, or dispensing with notice to a person;
- (e) an order determining the validity of claims made against the corporation;
- (f) an order, at any stage of the proceedings, restraining the directors and officers from
 - (i) exercising their powers, or
 - (ii) collecting or receiving a debt or other property of the corporation, and from paying out or transferring property of the corporation, except as permitted by the court;
- (g) an order determining and enforcing the duty or liability of a present or former director, officer or shareholder,
 - (i) to the corporation, or
 - (ii) for an obligation of the corporation;
- (h) an order approving the payment, satisfaction or compromise of claims against the corporation and the retention of assets for the purpose, and determining the adequacy of provisions for the payment or discharge of obligations of the corporation, whether liquidated, unliquidated, future or contingent;
- (i) an order disposing of or destroying the documents and records of the corporation;
- (j) upon the application of a creditor, the inspectors or the liquidator, an order giving directions on a matter arising in the liquidation;
- (k) after notice has been given to all interested parties, an order relieving a liquidator from an omission or default on the terms that the court thinks appropriate and confirming an act of the liquidator;

Corporations Act, R.S.N.L. 1990, c. C-36, Part XVI

- (l) an order approving a proposed interim or final distribution to shareholders in money or in property;
- (m) an order disposing of property belonging to creditors or shareholders who cannot be found;
- (n) upon the application of a director, officer, security holder, creditor or the liquidator,
 - (i) an order staying the liquidation on the terms and conditions that the court thinks appropriate,
 - (ii) an order continuing or discontinuing the liquidation proceedings, or
 - (iii) an order to the liquidator to restore to the corporation all its remaining property; and
- (o) after the liquidator has rendered his or her final account to the court, an order dissolving the corporation.

Duties of liquidator

350. A liquidator shall,

- (a) immediately after his or her appointment, give notice of the appointment to the registrar and to each claimant and creditor known to the liquidator;
- (b) immediately publish notice in the Gazette and by insertion once a week for 2 consecutive weeks in a newspaper published or distributed in the place where the corporation has its registered office and take reasonable steps to give notice of it in every jurisdiction where the corporation carried on business, requiring a person
 - (i) indebted to the corporation, to render an account and pay to the liquidator at the time and place specified an amount owing,
 - (ii) possessing property of the corporation, to deliver it to the liquidator at the time and place specified, and
 - (iii) having a claim against the corporation, whether liquidated, unliquidated, future or contingent, to present particulars of the claim in writing to the liquidator not later than 2 months after the 1st publication of the notice;
- (c) take into his or her custody and control the property of the corporation;
- (d) open and maintain a trust account for the money of the corporation;
- (e) keep accounts of the money of the corporation received and paid out by the liquidator;
- (f) maintain separate lists of the shareholders, creditors and other persons having claims against the corporation;
- (g) where the liquidator determines that the corporation is unable to pay or adequately provide for the discharge of its obligations, apply to the court for directions;
- (h) deliver to the court and to the registrar, at least once in every 12 month period after his or her appointment or more often as the court may require, financial statements of the corporation in the form required by section 258 or in another form that the liquidator may think appropriate or that the court may require;
- (i) pay the costs of liquidation out of the property of the corporation and pay or make adequate provision for all claims against the corporation; and
- (j) after his or her final accounts are approved by the court, distribute the remaining property of the corporation among the shareholders according to their respective rights.

1986 c12 s346

Powers of liquidator

351. (1) A liquidator may

- (a) retain lawyers, accountants, engineers, appraisers and other professional advisers;
- (b) bring, defend or take part in a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding in the name and on behalf of the corporation;
- (c) carry on the business of the corporation as required for an orderly liquidation;
- (d) sell by public auction or private sale property of the corporation;

Corporations Act, R.S.N.L. 1990, c. C-36, Part XVI

- (e) do all acts and execute documents in the name and on behalf of the corporation;
- (f) borrow money on the security of the property of the corporation;
- (g) settle or compromise claims by or against the corporation; and
- (h) do all other things necessary for the liquidation of the corporation and distribution of its property.

(2) A liquidator is not liable where the liquidator relies in good faith upon

- (a) financial statements of the corporation represented to the liquidator by an officer of the corporation or in a written report of the auditor of the corporation to reflect fairly the financial condition of the corporation; or
- (b) an opinion, a report or a statement of a lawyer, an accountant, an engineer, an appraiser or other professional adviser retained by the liquidator.

(3) Where a liquidator has reason to believe that a person has in his or her possession or under his or her control, or has concealed, withheld or misappropriated property of the corporation, the liquidator may apply to the court for an order requiring that person to appear before the court at the time and place designated in the order and to be examined.

(4) Where the examination referred to in subsection (3) discloses that a person has concealed, withheld or misappropriated property of the corporation, the court may order that person to restore it or pay compensation to the liquidator.

1986 c12 s347

Final accounts and dissolution

352. (1) Within 1 year after his or her appointment, and after paying or making adequate provision for all claims against the corporation, the liquidator shall apply to the court

- (a) for approval of the liquidator's final accounts and for an order permitting the liquidator to distribute in money or in kind the remaining property of the corporation to its shareholders according to their respective rights; or
- (b) for an extension of time, setting out the reasons for the extension.

(2) Where a liquidator fails to make the application required by subsection (1), a shareholder of the corporation may apply to the court for an order for the liquidator to show cause why a final accounting and distribution should not be made.

(3) A liquidator shall give notice of the liquidator's intention to make application under subsection (1) to the registrar, each inspector appointed under section 346, each shareholder and a person who provided a security or fidelity bond for the liquidation, and the liquidator shall publish the notice in a newspaper published or distributed in the place where the corporation has its registered office or as otherwise directed by the court.

(4) Where the court approves the final accounts rendered by a liquidator, the court shall make an order

- (a) directing the registrar to issue a certificate of dissolution;
- (b) directing the custody or disposal of the documents and records of the corporation; and
- (c) discharging the liquidator.

Corporations Act, R.S.N.L. 1990, c. C-36, Part XVI

(5) The liquidator shall immediately send a certified copy of the order referred to in subsection (4) to the registrar.

(6) Upon receipt of the order referred to in subsection (4), the registrar shall issue a certificate of dissolution in accordance with section 393.

(7) The corporation stops existing on the date shown in the certificate of dissolution.

Right to distribution in money

353. (1) Where, in the course of liquidation of a corporation, the shareholders resolve or the liquidator proposes

- (a) to exchange all or substantially all the property of the corporation for securities of another body corporate that are to be distributed to the shareholders; or
- (b) to distribute all or part of the property of the corporation to the shareholders in kind,

a shareholder may apply to the court for an order requiring the distribution of the property of the corporation to be in money.

(2) Upon application under subsection (1), the court may order

- (a) that all the property of the corporation be converted into and distributed in money; or
- (b) that the claims of a shareholder applying under this section be satisfied by a distribution in money, in which case section 310 applies.

Continuation of actions after dissolution

355. (1) In this section "shareholder" includes the heirs and legal representatives of a shareholder.

(2) Notwithstanding the dissolution of a corporation under this Act,

- (a) a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding started by or against the corporation before its dissolution may be continued as if the corporation had not been dissolved;
- (b) a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding may be brought against the corporation within 2 years after its dissolution as if the corporation had not been dissolved; and
- (c) notwithstanding subsection 357(1), property that would have been available to satisfy a judgment or order if the corporation had not been dissolved remains available for that purpose.

(3) Service of a document on a corporation after its dissolution may be effected by serving the document upon a person shown in the last notice filed under section 175 or 183.

(4) Notwithstanding the dissolution of a corporation, a shareholder to whom its property has been distributed is liable to a person claiming under subsection (2) to the extent of the amount received by that shareholder upon the distribution, and an action to enforce that liability may be brought within 2 years after the date of the dissolution of the corporation.

(5) A court may order an action referred to in subsection (4) to be brought against the persons who were shareholders as a class, subject to the conditions that the court thinks appropriate and, where the plaintiff establishes his or her claim, the court may refer the proceedings to a referee or other officer of the court who may

- (a) add as a party to the proceedings before the referee or other officer of the court each person who was a shareholder found by the plaintiff;
- (b) determine the amount that each person who was a shareholder should contribute towards satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim; and
- (c) direct payment of the amounts so determined.

Vesting of property in Crown

357. (1) Property of a body corporate that has not been disposed of at the date of its dissolution vests in the Crown.

(2) The Lieutenant-Governor in Council upon the report of the Attorney General may dispose of property vested in the Crown under subsection (1).

(3) Where a body corporate is revived under section 331, property other than money that vested in the Crown under subsection (1) and that has not been disposed of shall be returned to the body corporate; and there may be paid to the body corporate out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund

- (a) an amount equal to money received by the Crown under subsection (1); and
- (b) where property other than money vested in the Crown under subsection (1) and that property has been disposed of, an amount equal to the lesser of
 - (i) the value of that property at the date it vested in the Crown, and

(ii) the amount realized by the Crown from the disposition of that property.

(4) This section applies to bodies corporate whether incorporated or registered in Newfoundland and Labrador or the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador or not, dissolved before as well as to those dissolved after January 1, 1987 .

(5) The property of a body corporate which was dissolved before January 1, 1987 and which has not come into the ownership of another person is considered to have vested in the Crown on January 1, 1987 .

Property automatically reverts

358. (1) Notwithstanding section 357, where a body corporate that is dissolved for failure to apply for a certificate of continuance applies to be revived before January 1, 1990 ownership of that body corporate's property other than money that vested in the Crown and property that has been disposed of by the Crown shall automatically revert in the body corporate, when it is revived.

(2) Where a body corporate under subsection (1) is revived, the Crown shall pay to that body corporate out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund an amount equal to money received by the Crown under subsection 357(1).

(3) Where the Crown has disposed of property before a body corporate under subsection (1) is revived there shall be paid to the body corporate out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, where property other than money vested in the Crown under subsection 357(1) and that property has been disposed of, an amount equal to the lesser of

- (a) the value of the property at the date it vested in the Crown; and
- (b) the amount realized by the Crown from the disposition of that property.

(4) Where the property of a body corporate vests in the Crown, the Crown is not liable in tort by reason only of the property being so vested, but this subsection does not affect the liability of the Crown in respect of a period after the Crown, or a person acting for the Crown, has in fact taken possession or control of the property.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

CHAPTER I

APPLICATION AND INTERPRETATION

1. This Act applies to pension plans provided

(1) for employees who report for work at an establishment of their employer located in Québec or, if not, who receive their remuneration from such an establishment, provided, in the latter case, they do not report for work at any other establishment of their employer;

(2) for employees not referred to in paragraph 1 who, while residing in Québec and being employed by an employer whose main establishment is located in Québec, work outside Québec, provided the plans are not governed by an Act of a legislative body other than the Parliament of Québec which provides for a deferred pension.

1989, c. 38, s. 1.

2. This Act does not apply to

(1) a pension plan to which the employer is not required to make contributions. However, it applies to a pension plan where membership therein is a condition precedent to membership in another plan to which an employer is required to make contributions or, conversely, where membership therein is conditioned by membership in that other plan; where that is the case, such pension plans are deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to constitute a single pension plan;

(2) a pension plan established for employees who are also members of a plan governed by this Act, if their employer makes contributions to both plans in their respect and if, under the terms of the other plan, they are entitled to benefits at least equal to the maximum benefits which may be paid under the terms of a registered pension plan defined in section 1 of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3);

(3) a profit sharing plan or a deferred profit sharing plan referred to in Titles I and II of Book VII of Part I of the Taxation Act;

(4) a pension plan established by an Act, the Government or the Office of the National Assembly, unless the Act, the Government or the Office of the National Assembly renders the plan subject to this Act;

(5) (subparagraph repealed);

(6) a voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1).

The Government may, by regulation and on the conditions it determines, exempt any pension plan or category of pension plan it designates from the application of all or part of this Act, particularly by reason of the special characteristics of the plan or category or by reason of the complexity of the Act in relation to the number of members in the plan. The Government may also prescribe special rules applicable to the plan or category.

A regulation made under the second paragraph may, if it so provides, have retroactive effect from a date that is prior to the date of its coming into force but not prior to 31 December of the penultimate year preceding the year in which it was published in the Gazette officielle du Québec under section 8 of the Regulations Act (chapter R-18.1). The regulation, if it is made in relation to a pension plan administered by the Commission de la construction du Québec or a mandatary of the Commission de la construction du Québec may, if it so provides, have retroactive effect from a date that is prior to the date of its coming into force.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

2.1. This Act, except sections 6, 64 and 107, the first paragraph of section 110 and section 171.1, which apply with the necessary modifications, does not apply to a pension plan if

(1) all the members of the pension plan are persons connected with the employer within the meaning of subsection 3 of section 8500 of the Income Tax Regulations (Consolidated Regulations of Canada, 1978, chapter 945) and membership in the plan is optional and is restricted to those persons;

(2) only employees described in section 1 may become members of the pension plan; and

(3) active membership in the plan ceases when the member ceases to be a person connected with the employer

Moreover, such a pension plan is deemed, for the purposes of section 98, not to be a pension plan governed by this Act.

A pension plan to which the first paragraph applies becomes subject to this Act upon being amended to allow other persons to become members.

2000, c. 41, s. 2.

3. For the purposes of this Act,

“actuary” means any member of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries having the title of “Fellow” or a status recognized as equivalent by such Institute;

“accountant” means any person who, being a member of the professional order of accountants listed in Schedule I to the Professional Code (chapter C-26), is authorized under the Act constituting the order to act as an accountant for the purposes of a provision of this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 3; 1994, c. 40, s. 457; 2012, c. 11, s. 32.

4. For the purposes of this Act, any person who avails himself of the services of a worker who is not an employee and makes contributions to a pension plan in respect of such worker is deemed to be the worker’s employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 4; 1999, c. 40, s. 254.

5. Any provision of a pension plan which is incompatible with this Act is without effect.

However, a pension plan may contain provisions that are more advantageous to members or beneficiaries than those contained in this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 5; 1999, c. 40, s. 254.

CHAPTER II

PENSION PLANS

DIVISION I

NATURE

§ 1. — General provisions

6. A pension plan is a contract under which retirement benefits are provided to the member, under given conditions and at a given age, the funding of which is ensured by contributions payable either by the employer only, or by both the employer and the member.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Every pension plan, with the exception of insured plans, shall have a pension fund into which, in particular, contributions and the income derived therefrom are paid. The pension fund shall constitute a trust patrimony appropriated mainly to the payment of the refunds and pension benefits to which the members and beneficiaries are entitled.

1989, c. 38, s. 6.

§ 2. — Types of plans

7. A defined contribution pension plan is a plan under which employer contributions and, where applicable, member contributions, or the method used for calculating them, are set in advance and the normal pension payable is based on the amounts credited to the member.

A defined benefit pension plan is a plan under which the normal pension payable is either a set amount, independent of the member's remuneration, or an amount corresponding to a percentage of the member's remuneration.

A defined benefit-defined contribution pension plan is a plan under which employer contributions and, where applicable, member contributions and the normal pension, or the method used for calculating them, are set in advance.

1989, c. 38, s. 7.

8. A contributory pension plan is a plan to which member contributions are paid by the members.

1989, c. 38, s. 8.

9. An insured pension plan is a plan under which refunds and pension benefits are at all times guaranteed by an insurer.

1989, c. 38, s. 9.

10. Only an insurer who is authorized to carry on life insurance business in Québec or elsewhere in Canada where an agreement referred to in section 249 is applicable may guarantee the refunds or pension benefits provided under a pension plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 10.

11. A multi-employer pension plan is a plan in which the members are the employees of two or more employers.

However, a plan is not considered to be a multi-employer pension plan if the following conditions are met:

(1) the employers who are parties to the plan are either subsidiaries of the same parent company or a parent company and its subsidiaries;

(2) the plan provides that the subsidiaries that are parties to the plan and the parent company agree that the plan not be considered to be a multi-employer pension plan.

The employers party to a plan to which the second paragraph applies are solidarily liable for the obligations incumbent upon each employer under the plan or under this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 11; 2000, c. 41, s. 3.

12. A parent company is a legal person which controls another company, which is, by that fact, a subsidiary of the parent company.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

A legal person controls another legal person if it holds, directly or indirectly, otherwise than as security, securities entitling it to elect in all cases a majority of the directors of that other legal person.

1989, c. 38, s. 12.

DIVISION II

ESTABLISHMENT AND EFFECTIVE DATE

13. A pension plan becomes effective on the earlier of the following dates:

(1) the date from which, for the purposes of determining the normal pension, the employees' service is taken into account as it is completed;

(2) the date on which member contributions begin to be collected.

1989, c. 38, s. 13.

14. Unless an extension is granted by Retraite Québec, any person who establishes a pension plan shall set it down in writing not later than 90 days after the day on which the plan becomes effective.

The text of the plan shall indicate

(1) the name of the employer who is a party to the plan:

(2) the number of members required to constitute the pension committee responsible for the administration of the plan, together with the conditions and time limits applicable to the designation or replacement of the members;

(3) the requirements for membership and withdrawal;

(4) the contributory or non-contributory nature of the plan;

(5) the optional or compulsory nature of membership in the plan;

(6) in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, the conditions for participation and for withdrawal of an employer;

(7) the normal retirement age;

(8) where the plan is guaranteed, the name of the insurer;

(9) the member and employer contributions, or the method used for calculating the contributions;

(9.1) whether or not the members contribute to amortization payments and, if applicable, the method for calculating them;

(10) in the case of a defined benefit plan or a defined benefit-defined contribution pension plan, the normal pension or the method used for calculating the normal pension;

(11) the nature of the refunds and pension benefits, the method used for calculating benefits or refunds, if any, and the conditions to be met to be entitled thereto;

(12) if applicable, the powers under which the pension committee is authorized to transfer benefits accumulated by a member under the plan or any asset of the plan to another plan, and the rules applicable to such a transfer;

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(12.1) if applicable, the powers under which the pension committee is authorized to make the final payment of all or part of the benefits of a member or beneficiary by purchasing an annuity from an insurer under the conditions provided for by the plan's annuity purchasing policy, and the rules applicable to such a payment;

(13) the effective date of the plan;

(14) the fiscal year of the plan;

(15) the conditions on which and the person or persons by whom the plan may be amended;

(16) the conditions and procedure for allocating surplus assets or, in the case of a pension plan to which Chapter X applies, the balance of surplus assets referred to in the third paragraph of section 230.2, in the event of termination of the plan;

(16.1) (subparagraph replaced);

(17) in the case of a pension plan to which Chapter X applies, the conditions and procedure for appropriating all or part of the balance of surplus assets referred to in the third paragraph of section 146.8, either to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the plan, to the refund of member contributions or to the transfer of amounts to the employer or to a combination of those appropriation methods and, if applicable, the nature of the amendments that may be the object of such an appropriation;

(18) in the cases referred to in section 146.9.2, the conditions and procedure for appropriating all or part of the surplus assets, either to the payment of employer contributions, to the payment of the value of additional obligations arising from an amendment to the plan or to a combination of these appropriation methods and, if applicable, the nature of the amendments that may be the object of such an appropriation.

1989, c. 38, s. 14; 1992, c. 60, s. 1; 2000, c. 41, s. 4; 2006, c. 42, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 1.

14.1. Unless expressly provided by this Act, no provision of a defined benefit plan or defined benefit-defined contribution pension plan may operate to make the following conditional on an extrinsic factor so that they are limited or reduced:

(1) the crediting of service or the accumulation of benefits under the plan;

(2) the amount or value of the benefits accumulated in respect of service prior to the date on which the value of the obligations arising from the plan are established with regard to the member or beneficiary whose rights are at stake.

The following, in particular, are considered to be extrinsic factors:

(1) the financial position of the pension fund;

(2) employer contributions paid in relation to the obligations arising from the pension plan with regard to the member or beneficiary;

(3) the exercised discretionary powers attributed exclusively to a person other than a member or beneficiary;

(4) certification or cancellation of the certification of an association of employees;

(5) technological or economic changes in the employer's enterprise or the division, merger, alienation or closing down of the enterprise; and

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(6) the withdrawal of an employer from the pension plan or the termination of the pension plan.

2008, c. 21, s. 1.

15. Any insurance contract under which an insurer guarantees refunds and pension benefits provided under a pension plan is an integral part of the plan; however, where a plan is not insured, the contract is part of the plan only to the extent that the recipient of the insured refunds or pension benefits continues to be a member of the said plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 15.

16. Where a pension plan becomes effective before it is registered with Retraite Québec, the employer or, where a pension committee has been formed, the pension committee shall notify Retraite Québec thereof in writing within 30 days.

The notice shall indicate, in addition to the name and address of the employer who is a party to the plan, the effective date of the plan and, if applicable, the date on which member contributions began to be collected. The notice shall also indicate in a concise manner

- (1) the type of plan established;
- (2) the normal pension or the method used for calculating the normal pension;
- (3) the member or employer contributions or the method used for calculating the contributions;
- (4) where applicable, the name and address of the person to whom powers have been delegated.

1989, c. 38, s. 16; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

17. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 17; 2000, c. 41, s. 5.

18. A pension plan whose registration is revoked by Retraite Québec under section 32 shall cease to be effective on the date of revocation.

A pension plan which is not registered or whose registration is deemed to be revoked under section 32.1 shall cease to be effective as soon as

- (1) the plan is terminated and has no assets; and
- (2) no member or beneficiary has any rights or benefits remaining under the plan or under this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 18; 2000, c. 41, s. 6; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

DIVISION III

AMENDMENT

19. No amendment to a pension plan may become effective before the date it is registered with Retraite Québec, except in the following cases:

(1) where the object of the amendment is the participation of another employer in a pension plan, in which case the amendment becomes effective on the date determined pursuant to section 13;

(1.1) where the object of the amendment is the withdrawal of a bankrupt employer from the multi-employer pension plan, in which case the amendment becomes effective on the date of the bankruptcy;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) where the amendment is to become effective on a given date prior to its registration, in which case the amendment may, provided it is registered, become effective on that date.

1989, c. 38, s. 19; 2000, c. 41, s. 7; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

20. No amendment to a pension plan which cancels refunds or pension benefits, limits eligibility therefor or reduces the amount or value of the benefits of members or beneficiaries may become effective, if made under a collective agreement or an arbitration award in lieu thereof or rendered compulsory by an order or decree, before the date on which the collective agreement, award or order becomes effective and, in other cases, before the date the notice provided for in section 26 is sent.

However, the limit set under the first paragraph in respect of the effective date of an amendment reducing benefits does not apply

(1) where the amendment is made to allow the plan to remain a registered pension plan within the meaning of section 1 of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3);

(2) where the affected members or beneficiaries have agreed to the amendment and where the effective date of the amendment is the date of the bankruptcy pursuant to subparagraph 1.1 of the first paragraph of section 19, provided Retraite Québec has authorized the amendment.

If an amendment reducing pension benefits pertains to the normal pension, the method used for calculating the normal pension or any other pension benefit established on the basis of such pension or method, it may only apply to the service that is subsequent to the effective date of the amendment and if such an amendment pertains to the assumptions referred to in the second paragraph of section 61, it may only apply to the determination of the benefits accrued to a member at a date that is subsequent to the effective date of the amendment. These restrictions are not applicable, however, in the cases mentioned in the second paragraph.

1989, c. 38, s. 20; 1991, c. 25, s. 179; 1992, c. 60, s. 2; 2000, c. 41, s. 8; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

21. No amendment to a pension plan may reduce a pension benefit the payment of which began prior to the date on which the amendment became effective.

1989, c. 38, s. 21.

21.1. (Repealed).

2000, c. 41, s. 9; 2006, c. 42, s. 2; 2015, c. 29, s. 2.

21.2. (Repealed).

2000, c. 41, s. 9; 2015, c. 29, s. 2.

21.3. (Repealed).

22. Any amendment made to a pension plan for the purpose of converting the plan into a plan of another type or substituting a new employer for the former employer is subject to the authorization of Retraite Québec and the conditions it may fix.

In addition, if the amendment is intended to convert benefits resulting from the application of provisions which grant members defined benefits for service credited to them under the plan up to the date on which the amendment becomes effective, into amounts which, credited as defined contributions, will be used to purchase a pension of an indeterminate amount, such an amendment may be authorized only if the value of the benefits of every member who agrees to the conversion is equal to or greater than the value to which he would have been entitled had the plan been terminated on the date on which the amendment is to become effective. However, the latter value shall be established without taking into account the rights which may result from the application of subdivision 4.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII.

1989, c. 38, s. 22; 1992, c. 60, s. 3; 2000, c. 41, s. 10; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

23. The remuneration received or, as the case may be, the hours of work completed prior to an amendment mentioned in section 22 shall be taken into account for the application of section 34.

1989, c. 38, s. 23; 2000, c. 41, s. 11.

CHAPTER III

REGISTRATION OF PENSION PLANS AND AMENDMENTS

24. Every pension plan and every amendment to a pension plan shall be registered with Retraite Québec.

The employer or, where a pension committee has been formed, the pension committee shall file an application for registration with Retraite Québec, accompanied with

(1) a copy of the plan or amendment, certified by the employer or by the committee, and, where the plan is insured, a copy of the insurance contract, certified by the insurer;

(2) where the application is for the registration of the plan, the name and address of the employer or, in the case of a pension committee, the names and addresses of the committee members;

(3) the employer's written acknowledgment of the obligations incumbent upon the employer under the plan or amendment, unless

(a) the committee attests that it has obtained such acknowledgment from the employer and that the acknowledgment may, on request, be filed with Retraite Québec;

(b) the amendment has been made mandatory by a new legislative or regulatory provision giving no latitude to the employer; or

(c) the amendment is being made pursuant to Chapter X.1 or results from the application of section 199;

(4) (subparagraph repealed);

(5) (subparagraph repealed);

(6) any other document or information prescribed by regulation;

(7) the fees prescribed by regulation.

1989, c. 38, s. 24; 2000, c. 41, s. 12; 2006, c. 42, s. 3; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

25. Unless an extension is granted by Retraite Québec, every application for the registration of a pension plan shall be filed not later than 90 days after the date on which the plan becomes effective; every application for the registration of an amendment whose object is the participation of another employer in a pension plan shall be filed not later than the last day of the twelfth month following the month in which the amendment becomes effective.

1989, c. 38, s. 25; 2000, c. 41, s. 13; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

26. A pension committee which proposes to apply for the registration of an amendment shall inform the members thereof

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) by transmitting to each member a written notice setting out the object of the proposed amendment and its effective date, and stating that the text of the amendment may be examined at the committee's office and at the employer's establishment specified, which must be located within 150 km of the member's place of employment or, where the employer has no establishment within that distance, that the text may be obtained, without charge, on written request; or

(2) by publishing the notice in a newspaper circulated in the localities where at least half of the members reside or, only as concerns active members, by sending the notice to the employer who, on receipt thereof, shall post it in a conspicuous place within the establishment, in an area ordinarily frequented by the members. However, the means of information provided for in this subparagraph cannot be used if the object of the proposed amendment is

- the cancellation of refunds or pension benefits, new conditions limiting eligibility therefor or a reduction in the amount or value of the benefits of members or beneficiaries;
- an amendment to the plan pertaining to the appropriation or allocation of surplus assets;
- the merging of the assets and liabilities of several plans;
- the division of the plan's assets and liabilities among several plans.

A copy of the notice shall also be transmitted to Retraite Québec.

Where the amendment is made pursuant to a collective agreement or an arbitration award in lieu thereof, or is rendered compulsory by an order or decree, this section does not apply in respect of active members who are subject to the collective agreement, arbitration award or order or decree and represented by a certified association within the meaning of the Labour Code (chapter C-27).

1989, c. 38, s. 26; 1992, c. 60, s. 4; 2000, c. 41, s. 14; 2006, c. 42, s. 4; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 3.

27. Retraite Québec shall send, to the applicant whose application for registration meets the requirements prescribed by this Act, an acknowledgment of receipt showing the date of receipt of the application.

If the application for registration is incomplete, Retraite Québec shall forthwith notify the applicant, and specify the information which remains to be filed.

1989, c. 38, s. 27; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

28. Retraite Québec may, after giving the interested parties an opportunity to present observations, refuse to register a pension plan, or part thereof, or an amendment which, in its opinion, is not in conformity with this Act. It shall inform the parties by means of a written notice specifying the reasons for its refusal.

1989, c. 38, s. 28; 1997, c. 43, s. 649; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

29. Upon registering a pension plan or an amendment, Retraite Québec shall notify the applicant. Retraite Québec shall assign a number to each plan it registers.

1989, c. 38, s. 29; 2000, c. 41, s. 15; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

30. Every pension plan or amendment in respect of which an application for registration has been acknowledged is deemed to be registered if, 90 days after the date indicated in the acknowledgment, the applicant has not received from Retraite Québec a request for additional information, a notice extending the period of examination of the application, a notice of refusal or a notice of registration.

1989, c. 38, s. 30; 2000, c. 41, s. 16; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

31. The registration of a pension plan or of an amendment does not constitute proof of its conformity with this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 31.

32. Retraite Québec may revoke the registration of a pension plan in either of the following cases:

(1) if, by reason of a merger under Chapter XII, the members or beneficiaries no longer have any benefits under the plan or this Act, and the plan no longer holds any assets;

(2) if the plan ceases to be governed by this Act.

Moreover, Retraite Québec may, after giving the interested parties an opportunity to present observations, revoke the registration of any part of the plan or of an amendment which is not in conformity with this Act.

Retraite Québec shall notify the interested parties of any revocation of registration by means of a written notice specifying the reasons therefor.

1989, c. 38, s. 32; 1997, c. 43, s. 650; 2000, c. 41, s. 17; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

32.1. The registration of a terminated pension plan is deemed to be revoked 60 days after the later of

(1) the date of expiry of the time limits provided for in sections 210 and 210.1 or determined by Retraite Québec for the satisfaction of the rights of the employer, the members and the beneficiaries under the plan and under this Act; and

(2) the date on which the orders of Retraite Québec concerning the plan are complied with.

2000, c. 41, s. 18; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

CHAPTER IV

MEMBERSHIP

33. An employee eligible for membership in a pension plan becomes a member of the plan from the first of the following:

(1) when contributions to the plan are paid by the employee or by the employer on behalf of the employee;

(2) when the employee meets the membership requirements set out in the plan.

The employee shall remain a member until all benefits accumulated by him under the plan are paid, in particular, by means of a transfer to another plan, by the replacement of his pension pursuant to section 92 or upon termination of the plan.

The holder of an insured annuity purchased directly from an insurer, otherwise than pursuant to section 98 or to the plan's annuity purchasing policy established in accordance with Division II.1 of Chapter XI, using benefits accrued under the plan shall remain a member of the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 33; 1992, c. 60, s. 5; 2000, c. 41, s. 19; 2015, c. 29, s. 4.

34. Unless another plan providing similar benefits in which he is eligible for membership is established, an employee is entitled to become a member of a pension plan, on the same conditions as those applicable to other members, if his employment is similar or identical to that of members belonging to the class of employees for whom the plan is established and if, in the calendar year preceding his application for membership, he met either of the following requirements:

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) he received from the employer a remuneration equal to or greater than 35% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings, established for the reference year in accordance with the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9);

(2) he completed at least 700 hours of employment with the employer.

The optional or compulsory nature of the membership does not constitute a requirement for the purposes of the first paragraph.

Where an employee has been employed by two or more employers participating in a multi-employer pension plan, the minimum remuneration required shall be determined on the basis of the overall remuneration from, or the overall hours of work for, each of the participating employers, in either of the following cases:

(1) the employees eligible for membership in the plan are governed by the same collective agreement or arbitration award in lieu thereof;

(2) the participating employers are a parent company and its subsidiaries or subsidiaries of the same parent company.

1989, c. 38, s. 34; 2000, c. 41, s. 20.

35. Retraite Québec may order a pension committee to accept, as member of the plan, every employee who meets the requirements set out in section 34

(1) where it is of the opinion that, in view, in particular, of the nature and requirements of the employment concerned, those of the elements serving to determine the class of employees for whom the plan is established which are invoked as grounds to dismiss the employee's application for membership are unreasonable;

(2) where there is a dispute as to whether or not the employee belongs to the class of employees for whom the plan is established.

1989, c. 38, s. 35; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

36. For the purposes of this Act, every member of a pension plan is deemed to be an active member

(1) until he ceases to be a member in accordance with the withdrawal requirements or until he no longer meets the eligibility requirements fixed by the plan;

(2) until his period of continuous employment, as defined in section 54, is terminated;

(3) until he dies.

The plan may, however, provide that the member remains an active member for a given period after the end of his period of continuous employment. Notwithstanding the second paragraph of section 5, the said period, increased by any period of layoff with a right of recall referred to in section 54, shall not exceed 24 consecutive months.

1989, c. 38, s. 36; 1994, c. 24, s. 1; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 21.

CHAPTER V

CONTRIBUTIONS

DIVISION I

TYPE OF CONTRIBUTIONS

2015, c. 29, s. 5.

37. The member contribution is the contribution that an active member is required to pay or the amount he elects to pay with a concurrent contribution by the employer.

The employer contribution is the contribution that the employer is required to pay.

An additional voluntary contribution is the amount that a member elects to pay without a concurrent contribution by the employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 37.

38. A current service contribution is the amount that the employer and, as the case may be, the active members are required to pay to ensure payment of the refunds and pension benefits provided under the pension plan in respect of service completed during a fiscal year of the plan and credited under the plan and, in the case of a plan to which Chapter X applies, to establish a stabilization provision, determined in accordance with section 125, in respect of those obligations.

The part of the current service contribution intended to establish the stabilization provision is to be called a current service stabilization contribution.

1989, c. 38, s. 38; 2015, c. 29, s. 6.

38.1. The following are amortization payments:

(1) the technical amortization payment, intended to amortize the unfunded actuarial liability determined in accordance with section 131;

(2) the stabilization amortization payment, intended to amortize the unfunded actuarial liability determined in accordance with section 132; and

(3) improvement amortization payments, intended to amortize any unfunded actuarial liability determined in accordance with section 134.

2015, c. 29, s. 7.

38.2. The special improvement payment is a payment that, in respect of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the pension plan, must be paid in accordance with section 139.

2015, c. 29, s. 7.

38.3. The special annuity purchasing payment is a payment that may be required on a payment of benefits made in accordance with the annuity purchasing policy and that, if applicable, must be calculated and paid in accordance with the provisions provided for in section 142.4.

2015, c. 29, s. 7.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION II

PAYMENT OF CONTRIBUTIONS

2015, c. 29, s. 8.

39. The employer shall, in each fiscal year of the pension plan, pay as employer contributions an amount which, when added to the member contributions, is equal to or greater than,

- (1) in the case of an insured plan, the current service contribution as established in section 40;
- (2) in the case of an uninsured plan, the sum of the following amounts:
 - (a) the current service contribution determined in accordance with sections 128 and 129; and
 - (b) the sum of the amortization payments determined for the fiscal year and the special improvement payments payable during the fiscal year.

In the case of a multi-employer plan, the employer contribution shall be paid jointly by the employers who are parties to the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 39; 2006, c. 42, s. 5; 2008, c. 21, s. 30; 2015, c. 29, s. 9.

39.1. Notwithstanding section 39, Retraite Québec may authorize an employer, to the extent and for the period determined by Retraite Québec, to pay a lesser contribution into the pension fund than would otherwise be required if

- (1) the pension plan is a designated plan within the meaning of section 8515 of the Income Tax Regulations (C.R.C., c. 945) on the date on which the amount of contribution to be paid is determined;
- (2) the said Regulations exclude the payment as an eligible contribution of all or part of the contribution that should be paid by the employer pursuant to section 39; and
- (3) all members and beneficiaries agree thereto.

The agreement referred to in subparagraph 3 of the first paragraph is not required if the contribution reduction is less than or equal to the sum of the current service stabilization contribution and the stabilization amortization payment.

2000, c. 41, s. 22; 2006, c. 42, s. 6; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 10.

40. In the case of an insured plan, the current service contribution shall correspond to the premium required by the insurer to guarantee the refunds and pension benefits to which the members are entitled in respect of service completed in any fiscal year of the plan and credited under the plan.

Furthermore, where an insurer guarantees refunds and pension benefits in respect of service credited for a period prior to the current fiscal year of the plan, the required premium shall, to ensure that the plan remains insured, be paid to the insurer in a lump sum as soon as the service is credited or the related benefits are improved under the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 40.

41. The employer contribution, less the portion the employer is relieved of paying under section 42.1 or that relates to a special improvement payment, must be paid in as many instalments as there are months in the fiscal year of the plan, each being paid not later than the last day of the month following the month for which it is made.

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The monthly payments shall be of equal amounts. However, if they relate to the current service contribution, the monthly payments may represent an hourly rate or a rate of the remuneration of or a percentage of the total payroll for the active members; the rate or proportion shall be uniform unless it is established by reference to a variable authorized by Retraite Québec.

In the case of a pension plan to which Chapter X applies, where the employer contribution is not determined at the beginning of the fiscal year, the employer shall, until an actuarial valuation report is transmitted to Retraite Québec, continue to pay the monthly amounts fixed for the preceding fiscal year. If the contribution so paid is less than what should have been paid according to the report, the first monthly amount payable after the transmission of the report to Retraite Québec shall be increased by the difference between the monthly amounts paid and the amounts that should have been paid according to the report, plus any portion of the contribution the employer is relieved of paying under section 42.1 and the interest provided for in section 48 where applicable. The amount of the contribution may also be adjusted if the contribution that should have been paid according to the report is less than what was paid.

42. If the amortization period for an unfunded actuarial liability begins in the course of a fiscal year of the plan, the amortization payment determined in relation to that liability for that year must be paid in as many monthly payments as there are months in the portion of the fiscal year included in the amortization period.

1989, c. 38, s. 42; 2006, c. 42, s. 8; 2015, c. 29, s. 12.

42.1. Under the conditions prescribed by regulation, an employer may, on providing the pension committee with a letter of credit established in accordance with the regulation, be relieved of paying all or part of the portion of the employer contribution determined for the current fiscal year of the pension plan in respect of the stabilization amortization payment payable during the year.

The total amount of such letters of credit may not exceed 15% of the liabilities of the plan, determined on a funding basis.

2006, c. 42, s. 9; 2008, c. 21, s. 32; 2010, c. 41, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 13.

42.2. Employer contributions that are technical amortization payments or stabilization amortization payments, except those paid by letter of credit, must be the subject of special monitoring. Employer contributions paid in excess of the contributions required must be included as well.

Member contributions that are technical amortization payments or stabilization amortization payments must also be the subject of special monitoring.

Interest on those contributions, at the rate of return obtained on the investment of the plan assets, reduced by the investment and administration fees, must be included as well.

2015, c. 29, s. 13.

43. Every person or body who or which collects member contributions or additional voluntary contributions shall, on or before the last day of the month following the month in which they are received, pay such contributions into the pension fund on behalf of the members or, in the case of an insured plan, to the insurer.

1989, c. 38, s. 43.

44. All member contributions and additional voluntary contributions and, in the case of a defined contribution plan, all employer contributions shall bear interest, from the first day of the month following the month in which they are payable into the pension fund or to the insurer,

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) in the case of an uninsured plan other than a defined contribution plan, at the rate of return derived from the investment of the plan assets, less investment expenses and administration costs, or, if the plan so provides and to the extent that the contribution relates to refunds or pension benefits that remain insured, at the monthly rate of return on personal five-year term deposits with chartered banks, as compiled by the Bank of Canada;

(2) in the case of a defined contribution plan, at the rate of return derived from the investment of all the assets of the plan or, where the plan so provides, of only such part of the assets as may be related to a particular group of members, less investment expenses and administration costs;

(3) in the case of an insured plan, at the monthly rate referred to in subparagraph 1 or, if the plan so provides, at the rate of return derived from the investment of the insurer's assets that are not included in the separate groups of assets constituted by the insurer, less, in the last case, investment expenses and administration costs.

However, if the plan provides that the members may direct what investments are made with all or part of the contributions credited to their accounts or if additional voluntary contributions are invested into a separate uninsured plan, all such investments shall be excluded from the plan assets for the purposes of subparagraphs 1 and 2 of the first paragraph, and the contributions so invested shall bear interest at the rate of return on such investments.

The provisions of this section which are applicable to the contributions paid under a defined contribution plan also apply to the contributions paid under terms in a defined benefit plan that are identical to those of a defined contribution plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 44; 2000, c. 41, s. 24.

45. Despite subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 44, employer contributions paid under a defined contribution pension plan may, if the plan so provides, bear interest at the rate of return on the investment of the contributions paid by the members under that plan or another pension plan which may or may not be governed by this Act, insofar as the investment is decided by the members.

1989, c. 38, s. 45.

45.1. Where the interest due on the amounts credited to a member is to be calculated on the basis of the return obtained on the assets invested, and the investment results in a loss, such amounts may be reduced proportionally to the fraction that the amount of the loss is of such assets.

1992, c. 60, s. 6.

46. Unless provided in the plan, the method used for calculating the rates of return and the method used for applying the monthly rate of interest shall, for the purposes of sections 44 and 45, be determined by the actuary or the accountant selected by the pension committee; in the case of an insured plan, the methods shall be determined by the insurer.

The method used to calculate the loss incurred by the assets and the resulting reduction of the value of the contributions shall, for the purposes of section 45.1, be determined in the same way.

1989, c. 38, s. 46; 1992, c. 60, s. 7.

47. Where a member or beneficiary has become entitled to a benefit under the terms of the pension plan,

— additional voluntary contributions,

— member or employer contributions paid under a defined contribution plan or under terms in a defined benefit plan that are identical to those of a defined contribution plan, and

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

— member contributions above the limit set by section 60, shall continue, subject to the provisions of section 45.1, to bear interest at the rate prescribed by section 44 or 45 until such contributions are used to replace a pension under section 92, are transferred in accordance with section 98 or are refunded, or until an additional pension is purchased with such contributions as provided in section 83.

1989, c. 38, s. 47; 1992, c. 60, s. 8; 2000, c. 41, s. 25.

48. Unless a pension plan or, in the case of an insured plan, an insurance contract sets a higher rate of interest, any contribution which has not been paid into the pension fund or to the insurer shall bear interest, from the last day of the month following the month for which it should have been paid or, as the case may be, the last day of the month following the month in which it was collected, at the rate prescribed by section 44 or 45 or, in the case of the employer contribution under a defined benefit plan, at the rate of return of the pension fund.

1989, c. 38, s. 48; 2000, c. 41, s. 26.

49. Until contributions and accrued interest are paid into the pension fund or to the insurer, they are deemed to be held in trust by the employer, whether or not the latter has kept them separate from his property.

1989, c. 38, s. 49.

50. The employer shall, on remitting the contributions, inform the pension committee or, in the case of an insured pension plan, the insurer, of the reason for any significant variation in the contributions payable into the pension fund or to the insurer.

1989, c. 38, s. 50.

51. The pension committee or, in the case of an insured pension plan, the insurer shall notify Retraite Québec of any unpaid contribution within 60 days after it becomes due.

1989, c. 38, s. 51; 2000, c. 41, s. 27; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

52. Unless they have exercised the prudence, diligence and care that a reasonable person would have exercised in comparable circumstances or unless, in the same circumstances they were unaware of the default, the directors of a legal person which, as an employer, is a party to a pension plan, shall be solidarily liable for contributions which become due and remain unpaid during their term in office, with interest, up to a contributory period of six months.

In the case of a multi-employer pension plan that is not considered as such pursuant to section 11, the directors of a subsidiary are liable for the contributions only if the parent company fails to pay the contributions referred to in the first paragraph. Where the directors of the subsidiary also fail to pay the contributions for which they are liable under this paragraph, the directors of the parent company become liable for the contributions.

The six-month limit set out in the first paragraph does not apply where the pension fund is managed by the employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 52.

53. A director shall be liable under section 52 only in either of the following cases:

(1) where the legal person has been prosecuted within two years after the date the unpaid contribution became due and full satisfaction of the amount awarded by judgment was not obtained upon execution;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) where the legal person was, within two years of the date the unpaid contribution became due, the subject of a winding-up order or became bankrupt within the meaning of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter B-3) and the claim filed has not been discharged.

1989, c. 38, s. 53.

CHAPTER VI

REFUNDS AND PENSION BENEFITS

DIVISION I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

54. The period of continuous employment of an employee is the period during which the employee is employed by an employer, regardless of periods of temporary interruption and periods of disability during which the member continues to accumulate benefits. A period of layoff with a right of recall shall not, for the purposes of this paragraph and notwithstanding the second paragraph of section 5, be considered to be a period of temporary interruption beyond 24 consecutive months, unless the plan so permits and the employee consents thereto.

A change of employer does not, for the purposes of a pension plan, interrupt the period of continuous employment of an employee, provided Retraite Québec authorized the transfer of obligations in the cases referred to in section 22 or in Chapter XII.

In the case of a multi-employer pension plan, even where it is not considered as such pursuant to section 11, a change of employer does not interrupt the period of continuous employment of an employee if the former employer and the successor employer are parties to the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 54; 1994, c. 24, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

55. The credited service of a member is the service counted under the terms of a pension plan for the vesting or calculation of pension benefits.

1989, c. 38, s. 55.

56. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 56; 2000, c. 41, s. 28.

57. Unless approved by Retraite Québec,

- employer contributions paid under a defined contribution plan or under terms in a defined benefit plan which are identical to those of a defined contribution plan,
- the method used for calculating the employer contributions, and
- the method used for calculating the normal pension payable under the terms of a defined benefit plan or a defined contribution-defined benefit plan, shall not, with respect to members of the same class of employees and for the same period of credited service, vary according to the number of years of employment or of credited service.

1989, c. 38, s. 57; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

58. Except in the following cases, a pension paid under a pension plan must be a life pension and may not be paid in any other form during the lifetime of the member or, in the case of a spouse's pension, during the lifetime of the spouse:

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) the temporary pension provided for in section 91.1 and the pension derived from that pension;

(2) a pension provided for in section 67.2; and

(3) the bridging benefit representing the fraction of a pension which, under the terms of the pension plan, must be paid to the member or beneficiary until a date that is neither earlier than the date on which the member becomes eligible for an early retirement pension payable under the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9), the Canada Pension Plan (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter C-8), the Old Age Security Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter O-9) or an income security program prescribed by regulation, nor later than the date on which the member becomes eligible for a retirement pension under such an Act or program.

A plan to which Chapter X applies, however, may provide that payment of a pension may be suspended for a given period at the request of the member when the member is re-employed by the employer party to the plan or, in the case of a multi-employer plan, even a plan not considered to be a multi-employer plan pursuant to section 11, by one of the employers who are parties to the plan, subject to the following conditions:

(1) if the suspension begins before the first day of the month following the month during which the member attains 65 years of age or, in the case of a member who attains 65 years of age on the first day of a month, before that day, the member accumulates new benefits in respect of his work during the period of suspension preceding that day, in accordance with the terms and conditions provided under the plan for employees of his class, up to the maximum period of service that may be credited to him under the pension plan for the purpose of calculating the normal pension;

(2) if the pension suspended is a retirement pension reduced by reason of payment having begun before the normal retirement age, the reduction must be recalculated at the end of the suspension;

(3) if the suspension continues or begins after the day referred to in subparagraph 1, the pension of which payment was suspended shall be adjusted to take account of any recalculation of the reduction pursuant to subparagraph 2 and of any new accumulated benefits referred to in subparagraph 1. The adjustment formula shall be the same as that prescribed in the plan, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 79, for the amount of pension not paid during a postponement period.

Furthermore, the additional pension resulting from the contributions paid during suspension of the pension shall be established in accordance with the rules set forth in section 78 for the calculation of the minimum value of the pension resulting from contributions paid during a postponement period.

A member who is entitled to a retirement pension, other than the normal pension, the payment of which is suspended under the second paragraph may, after the day mentioned in subparagraph 1 of that paragraph, apply for the payment of the pension as provided in section 77, which applies with the necessary modifications.

Suspension of the pension ends upon termination of the member's period of continuous employment or at the time established under paragraph 2 of section 80.

1989, c. 38, s. 58; 1994, c. 24, s. 3; 1997, c. 19, s. 5; 2000, c. 41, s. 29; 2008, c. 21, s. 3.

59. The periodic amounts payable as pension benefits, except in the case of the pension provided for in section 67.2, shall be equal unless

(0.1) the pension is adjusted under the second paragraph of section 58 or the second or third paragraph of section 67.4;

(1) the pension is replaced

(a) by a temporary pension provided for in section 91.1 or a pension derived therefrom, in which cases only the periodic amounts relating to that part of the pension that is not replaced must be equal;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(b) by a pension referred to in section 92;

(2) each payable amount is uniformly increased by reason of the application, in determining the pension, of an index or rate specified in the plan, by reason of a redetermination of the pension pursuant to section 89.1 or by reason of the option authorized by subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 93 or is uniformly modified by reason of a redetermination of the pension pursuant to the fifth paragraph of section 87, by reason of options authorized by section 91.1 or by subparagraphs 3, 4 and 6 of the first paragraph of section 93 or by reason of the partition of benefits between the member and the member's spouse in accordance with Chapter VIII;

(3) the pension is replaced by a lump sum payment or by a series of payments made pursuant to subparagraph 4 or 6 of the first paragraph of section 93;

(4) the pension is increased by reason of the termination of a disability pension under the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) when the member reaches 65 years of age; or

(5) the amounts payable as a bridging benefit referred to in the first paragraph of section 58 are reduced pursuant to the plan on a date that occurs between the dates mentioned in that paragraph.

1989, c. 38, s. 59; 1997, c. 19, s. 6; 2000, c. 41, s. 30; 2008, c. 21, s. 4.

60. The member contributions described in section 38 paid by a member, including accrued interest, established at the time of the earliest of the following events, shall not be used to pay more than 50% of the value

(1) of any pension benefit to which the member becomes entitled, including benefits related thereto;

(1.1) of any benefit to which the member would have become entitled, including benefits related thereto, if the member had retired on the date of application for payment of the benefit, in the case of a benefit paid under subdivision 0.1 of Division III of Chapter VI;

(2) of any benefit to which a beneficiary becomes entitled, where the member dies before becoming entitled to a pension pursuant to subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 86.

In addition, if the member contributes to amortization payments, the member's member contributions, with accrued interest, reduced by the excess contributions calculated in accordance with the first paragraph may not be used to pay more than the value referred to in that paragraph.

This section does not apply

(1) to pension benefits accrued under the terms of a defined contribution pension plan;

(2) to pension benefits accrued under terms in a defined benefit pension plan which are identical to those of a defined contribution pension plan;

(3) to benefits resulting from a transfer of benefits or assets, even a transfer other than a transfer under Chapter VII;

(4) to the additional pension referred to in the third paragraph of section 58, in the second paragraph of section 67.4 or in section 78 or 83;

(5) to that part of any pension benefits accrued for a period of service which, even though no employer contributions were paid in respect of the member, was nevertheless credited by reason of the exercise by the member of an election offered to him under the plan for that purpose, insofar as it is provided that all the obligations arising from the election, as estimated at the date the election is exercised, are to be borne by the member. In such a case, the value of the obligations, determined on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61, must be equal, at that date, to the amount paid by the member;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(6) to a benefit to which subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph applies and which was purchased with amounts to be refunded, or is the result of the conversion of a benefit other than a life pension;

(7) (subparagraph repealed);

(8) to a pension provided for in section 67.2.

1989, c. 38, s. 60; 1992, c. 60, s. 9; 1994, c. 24, s. 4; 2000, c. 41, s. 31; 2008, c. 21, s. 5; 2015, c. 29, s. 14.

60.1. (Repealed).

2000, c. 41, s. 32; 2015, c. 29, s. 15.

61. The value of a pension benefit to which section 60 applies shall be determined at the date of vesting on the basis of the actuarial assumptions determined by regulation.

However, with the authorization of Retraite Québec and on the conditions it fixes, the value may be determined on the basis of the actuarial assumptions determined by the plan, provided the resulting value is always equal to or greater than the value that would result from the application of the first paragraph.

1989, c. 38, s. 61; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 33; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 16.

62. Any benefit determined on the basis of the normal pension shall, where the pension is established with reference to the progression of the member's remuneration in the course of his period of employment, take into account the progression until the end of the member's period of continuous employment, except

(1) where the pension plan provides that the pension will cease to be established with reference to the progression of the member's remuneration before the end of the member's period of continuous employment, provided that date is not prior to the date on which the member ceases to be an active member;

(2) where the pension plan is amended to provide that, in respect of service credited to the member from the effective date of the amendment, the pension shall cease to be established with reference to the progression of the member's remuneration.

1989, c. 38, s. 62.

63. In the case of an insured plan, or of an uninsured plan under which refunds or pension benefits are guaranteed by an insurer, coverage for service completed in the course of a fiscal year of the plan and credited under such plan shall be granted as the insurer receives contributions from the employer or from the pension committee.

Coverage for service credited in respect of any period prior to the current fiscal year of the plan shall be granted upon receipt of the total amount of the premium required by the insurer.

1989, c. 38, s. 63.

63.1. Where a pension plan cannot continue to be a registered pension plan as defined in section 1 of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3), either because the value of the benefits accrued to a member or a beneficiary under defined-benefit provisions exceeds the amount which may be transferred directly to another plan or because the amount of contributions paid each year into the pension fund under defined-contribution provisions exceeds the limits imposed, the pension committee must refund the excess to the member or beneficiary concerned.

1992, c. 60, s. 10; 2000, c. 41, s. 34.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

64. The designation of beneficiaries and the revocation thereof are governed by articles 2445 to 2459 of the Civil Code, with the necessary modifications.

1989, c. 38, s. 64; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 35.

65. With the exception of sections 63, 63.1, 64, 67, 83, 84, 86 and 93, this chapter does not apply to additional voluntary contributions.

1989, c. 38, s. 65; 2000, c. 41, s. 36.

DIVISION II

REFUNDS

66. A member who ceases to be an active member is entitled to a refund of the value of the benefits accrued to the member if less than 20% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings established pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) for the year in which the member ceases to be an active member. This right may be exercised, before a pension commences to be paid to the member under the plan, by applying within 90 days after receiving the statement provided for in section 113 and, subsequently, every five years from the date on which the member ceased to be an active member, within 90 days after the date of expiry of the fifth year.

Where the requirements set out in the first paragraph are met, the pension committee may refund the value of the member's pension to the member in satisfaction of the member's rights under the plan. The committee must first send a notice to the member requesting instructions as to the refund formula; where no reply is received within 30 days of the sending of the notice, the committee may make the refund, which possibility shall be mentioned in the notice.

1989, c. 38, s. 66; 2000, c. 41, s. 37.

66.1. A member who has ceased to be an active member, whose period of continuous employment has ceased and who has not been residing in Canada for at least two years is entitled to a refund of the value of the benefits accrued to the member.

2000, c. 41, s. 38.

67. Every member who ceases to be an active member is entitled to withdraw the value of additional voluntary contributions credited to his account, with accrued interest, except if the contributions have been used to purchase a pension or, subject to section 102, if the amounts come from a transfer, even otherwise than under section 98.

The right to withdraw contributions may be exercised by applying within 90 days after receiving the statement provided for in section 113 and, subsequently, every five years from the date on which the member ceased to be an active member, within 90 days after the date of expiry of the fifth year.

1989, c. 38, s. 67; 2000, c. 41, s. 39.

67.1. Notwithstanding the second paragraph of section 5, no pension plan may provide for refunds contrary to the provisions of this Act.

However, this section does not prevent a plan from allowing more time for the exercise of the right to a refund.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION III

PENSION BENEFITS

§ 0.1. — Phased retirement benefits

2008, c. 21, s. 6.

67.2. A pension plan to which Chapter X applies or which is referred to in paragraph 1 of section 116 may provide that a pension be paid, on application, to a member who is employed by an employer party to the plan and who meets the following conditions:

- (1) the member makes an agreement to that effect with the employer;
- (2) the member is at least 60 years of age or, if under 60 years of age, the member is at least 55 years of age and, if the period of continuous employment ended on the date payment of the pension begins, would be entitled to an early retirement pension without any reduction by reason of payment having begun before the normal retirement age; and
- (3) the member is under 65 years of age.

2008, c. 21, s. 6.

67.3. The details of the pension paid under section 67.2 are set under the agreement referred to in that section. However, the annual amount of the pension may not exceed,

- (1) in the case of a member who receives a retirement pension under the plan or is entitled to a retirement pension that is suspended at the time the member applies for payment of the pension, 60% of the annual amount of the pension to which the member is entitled at that time, not considering any benefits referred to in section 83 or 104; or,
- (2) in the case of a member not referred to in subparagraph 1 who is not receiving a retirement pension under the plan on the date the member applies for payment of the pension, 60% of the annual amount of any pension to which the member would have been entitled if the member had retired on that date, not considering any benefits referred to in section 83 or 104, the spouse's right to a pension referred to in section 87, or the options provided for in the plan.

In case of conflict, the details set out in the agreement prevail over those set out in the plan.

Neither the agreement nor, despite the second paragraph of section 5, the plan may contain provisions that allow the payment of the pension payable under section 67.2 if the member is 65 years of age or over. In addition, the member may not receive, for the same period, that pension and another benefit payable under the plan, except benefits referred to in section 67.5, 83 or 104.

The payment of any benefit, other than benefits referred to in section 67.5, 83 or 104, that the member receives at the time the member applies for payment of a pension provided for in section 67.2, is suspended for the period during which the member receives that pension. The plan may provide that the payment of benefits provided for in section 67.5, 83 or 104 is suspended at the request of the member who receives a pension provided for in section 67.2.

2008, c. 21, s. 6.

67.4. The remuneration paid during the period beginning with the payment of a benefit referred to in this subdivision and ending on the date on which the payment of the retirement pension begins or begins again, or the date the member reaches 65 years of age, whichever occurs first, may not be taken into consideration for the calculation of the benefits relating to credited service that does not relate to that period, unless it is to the advantage of the member.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Also, the following adjustments apply:

(1) in the case referred to in subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 67.3, if contributions are paid during that period, the member is entitled to an additional pension determined in accordance with the rules set forth in section 78 for the calculation of the minimum value of the pension resulting from the contributions paid during a postponement period. In addition, if the retirement pension of the member was reduced by reason of payment having begun before the normal retirement age, the reduction must be recalculated at the end of the suspension of payment provided for in section 67.3; and

(2) in the case referred to in subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 67.3, if contributions were paid during that same period, the member is entitled to a pension that cannot be less than the pension resulting from the application of the rules set forth in section 78.

The adjustments provided for in the second paragraph also apply to the benefits referred to in section 83 or 104, the payment of which was suspended under the fourth paragraph of section 67.3.

2008, c. 21, s. 6.

67.5. A pension plan which, without being a defined contribution plan, includes provisions identical to those of that type of plan, and a plan referred to in paragraph 2 or 3 of section 116 may provide that a benefit other than a pension be paid, on application, to a member at least 55 years of age but under 65 years of age who is employed by an employer party to the plan with whom the active member makes an agreement to that effect.

The details of the benefit are set under the agreement, with the proviso that the annual amount of the benefit may not exceed 60% of the ceiling on the life income the member could receive under a replacement pension purchased under section 92. That amount is established at the beginning of the year during which payment of the benefit begins, based on the amounts credited to the member at that date and the age of the member at the end of the preceding year. The amount must be redetermined at the beginning of each year. Neither the agreement nor, despite the second paragraph of section 5, the plan may contain provisions that are more advantageous than those contained in this section.

In case of conflict, the details set out in the agreement prevail over those set out in the plan.

The value of the benefits to which the member is entitled, established on the date the benefit is paid, is reduced by the amount of that benefit.

2008, c. 21, s. 6.

§ 1. — Deferred pension

68. A deferred pension is a retirement pension, payment of which is deferred until normal retirement age.

A deferred pension shall have the same characteristics as the normal pension, except

(1) those relating to a postponed pension referred to in sections 76 to 80;

(2) the pension supplement provided by the pension plan for the payment of a minimum normal pension, which may, with the authorization of Retraite Québec, not be counted for the purpose of determining the deferred pension.

1989, c. 38, s. 68; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

69. Every member who ceases to be an active member is entitled to a deferred pension equal to or greater than the normal pension.

1989, c. 38, s. 69; 2000, c. 41, s. 41.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

§ 1.1. — Early benefit

1997, c. 19, s. 7.

69.1. Any active member whose working time is reduced pursuant to an agreement with his employer and who is 10 years or less under normal retirement age or who has attained or exceeded that age is entitled, on request, for each year covered by the agreement, to the payment, in a lump sum, of a benefit equal to the lowest of the following amounts:

- (1) 70% of the reduction in his remuneration resulting from the reduction in his working time during the year;
- (2) 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings for the year concerned established pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9);
- (3) the value of his benefits under the plan, established on the assumption that he ceases to be an active member on the date on which he applies for the payment of the benefit.

Notwithstanding the second paragraph of section 5, the plan may not contain provisions that are more advantageous than those contained in the first paragraph. Moreover, an active member may not receive, in the same year, the benefit provided for in this section and that provided for in section 67.5 or a pension payable under section 77 or replacing that pension.

The reduction in the member's pension resulting from the payment of the benefit provided for in this section may not exceed the amount of the benefit. Moreover, the remuneration paid during the period in which the member is entitled to the benefit shall not be taken into consideration for the computation of the benefits relating to credited service that does not relate to that period, unless it is to the advantage of the member.

The employer shall, within 60 days of the date on which he becomes party to an agreement referred to in the first paragraph, transmit to the pension committee the name of every member to whom that paragraph applies.

1997, c. 19, s. 7; 2000, c. 41, s. 42; 2008, c. 21, s. 7.

§ 2. — Early retirement pension

70. An early retirement pension is a retirement pension, payment of which begins before normal retirement age.

1989, c. 38, s. 70.

71. Every member whose period of continuous employment is terminated within 10 years of the date on which the member will attain normal retirement age is entitled to an early retirement pension.

However, a member who is entitled to a deferred pension may, whether or not he has terminated continuous employment, receive early payment of that pension if he applies therefor within 10 years of attaining the normal retirement age fixed by the plan giving him entitlement to the deferred pension.

1989, c. 38, s. 71; 1992, c. 60, s. 11; 2000, c. 41, s. 43.

72. The value of the early retirement pension shall be equal to or greater than the value of the normal pension, discounted on the date on which payment of the early retirement pension begins.

1989, c. 38, s. 72.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

§ 3. — Normal pension

73. A normal pension is a retirement pension, payment of which begins at normal retirement age.

Normal retirement age shall not be later than the first day of the month following the month in which the member attains 65 years of age.

1989, c. 38, s. 73.

74. Unless section 76 prescribes the postponement of the normal pension, every active member, except an active member who has received a retirement pension under the pension plan, is entitled to the normal pension on attaining normal retirement age.

1989, c. 38, s. 74; 2008, c. 21, s. 8.

§ 4. — Postponed pension

75. A postponed pension is a retirement pension, payment of which begins after normal retirement age.

1989, c. 38, s. 75.

76. The normal pension of a member shall be postponed if, after normal retirement age, he remains employed by the employer by whom he was employed at normal retirement age.

1989, c. 38, s. 76.

77. Every member is entitled, on application, to the payment of all or part of his normal pension during the postponement period but only to the extent necessary to offset any permanent reduction in remuneration that occurred during such period.

However, unless otherwise stipulated in the pension plan, the member may, following an agreement with his employer, receive all or part of his pension, regardless of the limit set by the first paragraph.

No member may exercise this right more than once per twelve-month period, except pursuant to an agreement with the pension committee.

1989, c. 38, s. 77.

78. If contributions are paid during the postponement period, the resulting additional amount of pension shall be of a value equal to or greater than that of the benefits that could be purchased, at the end of the postponement period, with the member contributions paid during such period, including accrued interest. The additional pension must also meet the requirements set out in section 84.

1989, c. 38, s. 78; 2000, c. 41, s. 44.

79. Where all or part of a normal pension is postponed, the amount of pension not paid during the postponement period shall be adjusted at the end of the postponement.

The pension plan shall prescribe the adjustment formula.

1989, c. 38, s. 79.

80. Postponement of the normal pension ends

(1) upon termination of the member's period of continuous employment with the employer by whom he was employed at normal retirement age;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) when, by reason of the postponement, the plan no longer qualifies as a registered pension plan as defined in section 1 of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3).

1989, c. 38, s. 80; 1991, c. 25, s. 180.

81. Where a normal pension is postponed under this Act or where a pension plan allows a member who is entitled to a pension that has become payable to replace all or part of it, if he decides to postpone it until after normal retirement age, by an adjusted pension, the adjustment shall be made so as to ensure that the pension payable at the end of the postponement is actuarially equivalent to the pension the payment of which would have begun at normal retirement age, had the pension not been postponed.

The actuarially equivalent pension shall be determined on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 and which, at the date the member attained normal retirement age, were used to determine the value of the pension benefits to which section 60 applies and to which the member is entitled on that date.

1989, c. 38, s. 81; 2000, c. 41, s. 45.

§ 5. — Disability pension

82. The value of the pension granted under the pension plan to a member who has become disabled and who, for that reason, had to terminate his employment with an employer who is a party to the plan or cease to be an active member, shall be equal to or greater than the value of the benefits to which the member would have been entitled had he not become disabled, discounted on the date payment of the pension begins.

1989, c. 38, s. 82.

82.1. Notwithstanding section 58, the plan may provide that payment of the disability pension is interrupted when the member ceases to be disabled within the meaning of the plan.

The value of the benefits accumulated by the member in respect of service credited under the plan before payment of the disability pension begins shall not, at the time payment of the pension is interrupted, be less than the amount m calculated according to the following formula:

$$a \times \frac{b}{c} = m$$

where

“a” represents the value of the benefits accumulated by the member on the date on which payment of the disability pension begins, established regardless of the value of that pension;

“b” represents the value of a pension of $1 paid annually beginning on the date on which payment of the disability pension is interrupted and on each anniversary date thereafter;

“c” represents the value of a pension of $1 paid annually beginning on the date on which payment of the disability pension begins and on each anniversary date thereafter.

Values are established on the date on which payment of the disability pension is interrupted, on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 and used on that date to determine the value of the pension benefits to which section 60 applies.

1994, c. 24, s. 5; 2000, c. 41, s. 46.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

§ 6. — Additional pension

83. Except in the case of a defined contribution plan, every member whose member contributions, with accrued interest, exceed the limit set by section 60, or who is credited with voluntary additional contributions, is entitled, from the date on which a pension other than a pension provided for in section 67.2 begins to be paid to him under the pension plan, to purchase an additional pension with such excess amount or contributions and accrued interest.

The plan may, however, allow the member to choose between the additional pension purchased with his additional voluntary contributions and any other benefits of equal value determined by the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 83; 2008, c. 21, s. 9.

84. The additional pension shall be determined on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 and which, at the date of determination of the pension, are used to determine the value of other benefits to which section 60 applies and which are vested on that date.

In addition, the additional pension shall have the same characteristics as the normal pension, except the pension supplement provided by the pension plan for the payment of a minimum normal pension.

1989, c. 38, s. 84; 2000, c. 41, s. 47.

§ 7. — Survivor benefits

85. For the purposes of this subdivision, the spouse of a member is the person who, on the day of reference defined in the second paragraph,

(1) is married to or in a civil union with the member;

(2) has been living in a conjugal relationship with a member who is neither married nor in a civil union, whether the person is of the opposite or the same sex, for a period of not less than three years, or for a period of not less than one year if

— at least one child is born, or to be born, of their union;

— they have adopted, jointly, at least one child while living together in a conjugal relationship; or — one of them has adopted at least one child who is the child of the other, while living together in a conjugal relationship.

Spousal status is established as at either the day a member begins receiving payment of a retirement or disability pension, a pension that replaces it or a bridging benefit, or the day preceding the death of the member, whichever date is adopted by the pension plan, or, if neither is adopted, whichever date occurs first. However, if the member dies without having received payment of such a pension or benefit, spousal status is established as at the day preceding the death.

For the purposes of subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph, the birth or adoption of a child prior to the period of conjugal relationship existing on the day as of which spousal status is established may qualify a person as a spouse.

Notwithstanding subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph, a person who is legally separated from bed and board on the day as of which spousal status is established is not entitled to any benefit under this subdivision unless the person is the member's successor or was named in a notice sent by the member under section 89.

1989, c. 38, s. 85; 1999, c. 14, s. 26; 2000, c. 41, s. 48; 2002, c. 6, s. 194; 2008, c. 21, s. 10.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

86. Where a member dies without having received payment of a retirement or disability pension, a pension that replaces it or a bridging benefit, the member's spouse or, if there is no spouse, the member's successors shall be entitled to a lump sum benefit equal to or greater than

- (1) the value of any retirement or disability pension to which the member was entitled prior to death; or
- (2) if the member was not entitled to a retirement or disability pension prior to death, the value of the deferred pension to which the member would have been entitled had the member ceased to be an active member on that day and not died.

The value of the benefit provided for in the first paragraph shall be determined without reference to the assumptions as to survival or mortality for the period prior to the first payment of the pension. Moreover, the following shall be added, where applicable, to the value of the benefit:

- (1) any voluntary additional contribution credited to the account of the member and any member contribution paid in excess of the limit set in section 60, with accrued interest, as well as any amounts previously transferred, even otherwise than under section 98, with accrued interest, or the value of the pension purchased with those amounts without reference to the death of the member; and
- (2) any interest accrued between the date of death and the date of payment of the lump sum benefit, at the rate used for determining the value thereof.

This section does not apply if the surviving spouse of the member is entitled, upon the member's death, to a pension equal to or greater than the benefit provided for in this section.

1989, c. 38, s. 86; 1997, c. 19, s. 8; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 49; 2008, c. 21, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 17.

87. The spouse of a member is entitled to a pension from the death of the member if, before his death, the member was receiving any of the following pensions:

- (1) a retirement or disability pension or a pension that replaces it;
- (2) a pension the amount of which is adjusted to take into account an amount equal to the benefits determined under the Old Age Security Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter O-9), the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) or a similar plan within the meaning of paragraph u of section 1 of the latter Act;
- (3) (subparagraph repealed);
- (4) a bridging benefit referred to in the first paragraph of section 58.

The spouse is also entitled to a pension as of the death of the member if, before the death, the member was entitled to a pension referred to in the first paragraph, the payment of which was suspended under the second paragraph of section 58 or under section 67.3.

The amount of the spouse's pension must be equal to or greater than 60% of the amount of the member's pension, including,

- (1) when the member dies during the period during which payment of the pension was suspended under section 58 or 67.3, the proceeds of the adjustment of the pension required by section 58 or 67.4 at the end of the period of suspension; and
- (2) during the period of replacement, the amount of any temporary pension and, until the date on which the member, had the member survived, would have ceased receiving it, the amount of any bridging benefit.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The amount calculated in accordance with the third paragraph is increased by an amount equal to or greater than 60% of the amount of the pension provided for in section 83 or 104 that the member was receiving before the member's death or the payment of which was suspended under section 58 or 67.3, adjusted, if the member died while the pension was suspended, as provided for in section 58 or 67.4, with the necessary modifications.

The sum of the pension provided for the spouse and the member's pension, reduced accordingly, shall, on the date payment of the pension begins, be at least actuarially equivalent to the pension the member would have received had it not been for the benefit granted to the spouse by this section. In addition, if payment of a pension provided for in section 83 or 104 began before the date a person acquired the status of spouse of the member, the pension must be redetermined at that date to take into account the spouse's entitlement to the pension provided for in this section.

1989, c. 38, s. 87; 1997, c. 19, s. 9; 2000, c. 41, s. 50; 2008, c. 21, s. 12.

88. Where a member whose pension was postponed dies during the postponement period, his spouse shall be entitled to a pension the value of which shall be equal to or greater than the higher of

(1) the value of the pension the spouse would have been entitled to receive pursuant to section 87 if payment of the postponed pension had begun on the day preceding the death of the member, unless the spouse has waived such pension; and

(2) the value of the death benefit the spouse would have been entitled to receive pursuant to section 86.

Where only part of the pension has been postponed, the spouse is entitled, in addition to the pension to which he is entitled pursuant to section 87 in respect of the partial pension the member was receiving, to a pension the value of which must be equal to or greater than the higher of the values described in the first paragraph, reduced by multiplying it by the fraction that the part of the postponed pension is of the total pension.

Where the member does not have a spouse, his successors shall be entitled to the pension benefit referred to in section 86, reduced as provided in the second paragraph of this section in the case of partial postponement of the pension.

1989, c. 38, s. 88; 1994, c. 24, s. 6; 1999, c. 40, s. 254.

88.1. The spouse of a member may waive the rights conferred by this subdivision by transmitting to the pension committee a statement containing the information prescribed by regulation. The spouse may also revoke the waiver provided the committee is notified in writing before the member's death or, in the case of the pension referred to in the second paragraph of section 87, before the first payment of the member's pension.

A waiver under this section does not entail a waiver of the rights which may devolve upon the spouse as the member's successor. In addition, notwithstanding such a waiver, the pension plan is deemed, for the purposes of article 415 of the Civil Code, to be governed by an Act which grants a right to death benefits to the surviving spouse.

2000, c. 41, s. 51.

89. The right of a member's spouse to benefits under this subdivision is terminated by separation from bed and board, divorce or marriage annulment, by the dissolution or annulment of their civil union or by the cessation of conjugal relationship except if the member has notified the pension committee in writing to pay the pension to the spouse notwithstanding the divorce, annulment of marriage, separation from bed and board, dissolution or annulment of the civil union or cessation of conjugal relationship.

1989, c. 38, s. 89; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 52; 2002, c. 6, s. 195.

89.1. Where a member's pension has been established having regard to the right of the member's spouse to a pension under section 87 and the spouse's right is terminated pursuant to section 89, the member is entitled, on request to the pension committee, to a pension redetermination as of the effective date of the judgment granting the separation from bed and board, the divorce or the annulment of marriage, as of the date of dissolution of the civil union or as of the date of the cessation of the conjugal relationship. The redetermined pension shall be in the same amount and have the same characteristics as the pension that would be payable to the member at the date of redetermination had the member not had a spouse on the date the payment of the pension began.

Unless the pension committee has received the notice provided for in section 89, it must also redetermine the member's pension if the benefits accrued to the member under the plan are partitioned, pursuant to section 107 or 110, subsequent to the first payment to the member of a pension established having regard to the spouse's right to a pension under section 87.

The redetermination of a pension under this section cannot alone operate to reduce the amount of a pension paid to the member.

2000, c. 41, s. 52; 2002, c. 6, s. 196.

90. Payment of a pension to a spouse shall not cease by reason of the fact that the spouse has remarried, has contracted a civil union or is living in a conjugal relationship with another person of the opposite or the same sex.

1989, c. 38, s. 90; 1999, c. 14, s. 27; 2002, c. 6, s. 197.

DIVISION III.1

VARIABLE BENEFITS

2015, c. 29, s. 18.

90.1. A pension plan that includes defined contribution provisions may allow a member who has ceased to be an active member or, on the death of such a member, the member's spouse to elect to receive variable benefits from the funds the member or spouse holds under the defined contribution provisions, on the conditions and within the time prescribed by regulation.

2015, c. 29, s. 18.

DIVISION IV

OPTIONS

91. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 91; 1991, c. 25, s. 181; 2000, c. 41, s. 53.

91.1. Every member or spouse who has become entitled to a pension under a pension plan is entitled, under conditions prescribed by regulation, to replace the pension, in whole or in part, before payment begins, by a temporary pension the amount of which is fixed by him before payment begins and which meets the following requirements:

(1) the annual amount of the pension must not exceed 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings established pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) for the year in which payment of the pension begins, that limit being reduced, where applicable, by the annual amount of any other temporary benefit to which he is entitled under the plan;

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) payment of the temporary pension must not begin more than 10 years before the member or spouse attains normal retirement age, and must end no later than the last day of the month following the month in which the member or spouse attains 65 years of age.

Notwithstanding subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph, the pension plan may allow a member or spouse who is more than 10 years under normal retirement age and who has become entitled to a pension to elect, before payment of the pension begins, to replace it by a pension the amount of which is adjusted by reference to the benefits determined under the Old Age Security Act, the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan or a similar plan within the meaning of paragraph u of section 1 of the latter Act. In such a case, the annual amount of the replacement pension increased, where applicable, by the annual amount of any other temporary benefit to which the member or the spouse is entitled under the plan shall not exceed the lesser of

(1) 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings established pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan for the year in which payment of the pension begins; and

(2) the amount of the temporary benefit to which the member or spouse would be entitled if the entire life pension were converted into a temporary pension ceasing on the last day of the month following the month in which the member or the spouse attains 65 years of age.

Upon attaining the age which is 10 years under normal retirement age, a member or spouse who is receiving a pension under the second paragraph is entitled to elect to replace it by a temporary pension which meets the conditions set out in the first paragraph.

Notwithstanding the second paragraph of section 5, the plan may not contain provisions that are more advantageous than those contained in this section.

The value of the temporary pension shall be equal to or greater than the value of the pension or of the part of the pension it replaces, discounted on the date of the replacement.

1997, c. 19, s. 10; 2000, c. 41, s. 54.

92. Every member or spouse who has become entitled to a pension under a pension plan is entitled, under conditions prescribed by regulation, to replace the pension by a life or temporary pension, purchased under a contract, the amount of which may vary each year. The pension may also, in the cases determined by regulation, be replaced by a lump-sum payment.

1989, c. 38, s. 92; 1997, c. 19, s. 11.

92.1. Unless payment of the pension is guaranteed for a longer period, a member who has become entitled to a pension under a pension plan is entitled to elect, before payment of the pension begins, to replace it by a pension the payment of which is guaranteed for 10 years.

2000, c. 41, s. 55.

93. The pension plan may permit a member or the spouse of a member who has become entitled to a pension to elect, before payment of the pension begins, to replace all or part of the pension

(1) (subparagraph repealed);

(2) by a pension the amount of which is increased periodically according to an index or at a rate provided in the plan;

(3) by a pension the amount of which is adjusted by reason of provisions relating to the payment of benefits payable after the death of the member or his spouse, or by reason of amendments to such provisions; unless the spouse consents thereto, before the date on which payment of the member's pension begins, the amount of the spouse's pension which results from the election shall not be less than 60% of the amount of the member's pension;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(4) by a single payment or a series of payments in the event of a physical or mental disability that reduces life expectancy;

(5) (subparagraph repealed);

(6) by other benefits prescribed by regulation.

The replacement value shall be equal to or greater than the value of the replaced pension, discounted at the time of replacement.

No option other than those mentioned in the first paragraph may be permitted by the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 93; 1997, c. 19, s. 12; 2000, c. 41, s. 56.

93.1. Despite sections 91.1 to 93, a member who has become entitled to a pension provided for in section 67.2 may not replace it.

2008, c. 21, s. 13.

DIVISION V

INTEGRATION

94. Where a pension plan provides that, for the purpose of determining the normal pension, all or part of the benefits payable under the public plan established by the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) or the Canada Pension Plan (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter C-8) will serve to reduce the member's benefits, the reduction shall not be greater than the amount m calculated according to the following formula:

$$r \times \frac{a}{35} = m$$

where

“ r ” represents all or part of the benefit payable under the public plan;

“ a ” represents the number of years of service credited under the pension plan.

The fraction $a/35$ shall not be greater than 1.

No reduction other than the reduction made by reference to the retirement benefit payable under the public plan may be made in determining the normal pension.

1989, c. 38, s. 94; 2000, c. 41, s. 57.

95. The amount of the benefit payable under a public plan that is required to be deducted under a pension plan shall, if necessary, be established on the basis of an estimation from the time the member becomes entitled to a pension under the plan and without reference to any reduction of that benefit subsequent to a partition of benefits between spouses.

If, under the plan, the deferred pension is determined with reference to the remuneration paid to the member after he became entitled to a deferred pension, the amount shall be established at a date not subsequent to the date of the last remuneration included in the calculation.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Moreover, where the amount is an estimation, it shall be based on data that are compatible with those used for the determination of the benefits paid under the public plan at the date of estimation.

1989, c. 38, s. 95; 2000, c. 41, s. 58.

96. In no case may benefits derived from an amendment to a public plan referred to in section 94 be taken into account for the determination of a benefit if that results in a reduction of the benefits of the member, except

(1) where the member applies therefor, provided the resulting benefit is of an equal or greater value;

(2) where the pension plan is amended to take into account the new benefits derived from the public plan, provided only the pension benefits relating to service credited after the amendment are reduced;

(3) where the benefit concerned is not determined on the basis of the normal pension, or where the value of the benefit exceeds the value of the deferred pension, provided the plan is amended to provide for the reduction of the benefit or excess value and only the benefits the payment of which begins after the amendment are reduced.

1989, c. 38, s. 96; 2000, c. 41, s. 59.

97. The normal pension determined with reference to a benefit payable under the terms of a public plan referred to in section 94 shall not be reduced again to take into account an amendment to the public plan or an increase of the benefit.

The same rule applies in respect of any other benefit determined with reference to the benefit payable under the terms of a social security program established by law.

1989, c. 38, s. 97.

CHAPTER VII

TRANSFERS OF BENEFITS AND ASSETS

98. Every plan member is entitled, subject to the conditions and time limits set out in this chapter, to transfer to such pension plan as he indicates

(1) the additional voluntary contributions credited to his account, with accrued interest;

(2) the amount corresponding to the value of any pension benefit, including a benefit guaranteed by an insurer, to which the member is entitled but of which payment has not begun. Such value must be equal to or greater than,

(a) where the transfer is applied for within the time limit set out in subparagraph 1 of the second paragraph of section 99, the value of the member's pension benefit determined pursuant to section 61;

(b) where the transfer is not applied for within that time limit, the value of the member's pension benefit determined with reference to related benefits and on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 which are used, on the day the transfer is applied for, to determine the value of other pension benefits to which section 60 applies and which are vested on that date;

(3) the member contributions which exceed the limit set by section 60, with accrued interest;

(4) the amounts previously transferred, even otherwise than under this chapter, with accrued interest, or the amount corresponding to the value of the pension purchased with the amounts transferred; that value must be determined on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 which are used, at the date of vesting of the pension if the transfer is applied for within the time limit set out in subparagraph 1 of the second paragraph of section 99 or at the date the transfer is applied for in other cases, to determine the value of other pension benefits to which section 60 applies and which are vested on that date.

Interest calculated, until the date of transfer, at the rate used to determine the value of the pension benefit to which the member is entitled shall be added to the values referred to in subparagraphs a and b of subparagraph 2 and in subparagraph 4 of the first paragraph.

For the purposes of this section, the expression “pension plan” includes, in addition to the pension plans governed by this Act, any pension plan or annuity contract prescribed by regulation.

1989, c. 38, s. 98; 2000, c. 41, s. 60.

99. The right to a transfer under section 98 may be exercised by a member who is at least 10 years under the normal retirement age set by the plan. However, a pension plan may prohibit members who, upon termination of continuous employment, would be entitled to an early retirement pension equal to or greater than the normal pension from making transfers to another pension plan.

Moreover, this right may be exercised within one of the following time limits:

- (1) within 90 days from receipt of a statement pursuant to section 113;
- (2) subsequently and not later than the date provided for in paragraph 3, every five years from the date on which the member ceased to be an active member, within 90 days from the date of expiry of every fifth year;
- (3) within 90 days from the date on which a member who ceased to be an active member attains an age which is 10 years under normal retirement age.

The age restriction in respect of the member and the prohibition referred to in the first paragraph, and the time limit fixed in subparagraph 3 of the second paragraph do not apply to the transfer of amounts from a defined contribution plan or to the transfer of contributions paid under terms in a defined benefit plan that are identical to those of a defined contribution plan. A member who is less than 10 years under normal retirement age or who has attained or exceeded normal retirement age is entitled to transfer those amounts at all times, insofar as payment of the pension has not begun.

The pension committee has 60 days from the receipt of a transfer application to effect the transfer.

1989, c. 38, s. 99; 2000, c. 41, s. 61.

100. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 100; 2000, c. 41, s. 62.

101. The conditions set out in sections 143 to 146 for the payment of the benefits of members and beneficiaries apply to the payment of transferred amounts.

1989, c. 38, s. 101; 2006, c. 42, s. 10.

102. Unless the pension plan provides that the amount must be used for the purchase of a pension, a member who ceases to be an active member is entitled to the refund of any amount transferred, even otherwise than under this chapter, which would have been refundable under the pension plan from which it was transferred.

1989, c. 38, s. 102; 1997, c. 19, s. 13; 2000, c. 41, s. 63.

103. Unless the pension plan sets a higher rate of interest, and subject to the provisions of section 45.1, any amount transferred, even otherwise than under this chapter, bears interest, from the date of the transfer and until a pension is purchased with such amount or such amount is refunded under section 102, at the rate prescribed by section 44 or 45 if the amount is transferred to a pension plan governed by this Act.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

1989, c. 38, s. 103; 1992, c. 60, s. 12; 2000, c. 41, s. 64.

104. From the date payment of a pension other than a pension provided for in section 67.2 begins, a member is entitled to the pension purchased with amounts transferred, even otherwise than under this chapter, which were not refunded pursuant to section 102.

1989, c. 38, s. 104; 2000, c. 41, s. 65; 2008, c. 21, s. 14.

105. The amount of the pension paid under a pension plan governed by this Act and purchased with amounts transferred, even otherwise than under this chapter, shall be determined on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 which, at the date of determination of the pension, are used to determine the value of other pension benefits to which section 60 applies and which are vested on that date.

The pension shall have the same characteristics as the normal pension, except the pension supplement provided by the plan for the payment of a minimum normal pension.

This section does not apply to a pension purchased with amounts transferred under section 106.

1989, c. 38, s. 105; 2000, c. 41, s. 66.

106. Where the transfer is made at the request of a member who availed himself of a general agreement prescribing the conditions of transfer, between pension plans, of benefits or assets in respect of a given group of members, the benefits attributed to the member following the transfer shall be equal to or greater than the benefits which, determined on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 which, at the date of the transfer, are used to determine the value of other pension benefits to which section 60 applies and which are vested on that date, would have resulted from the transfer to a plan not governed by this Act of the assets related to the benefits that the member had accumulated before the transfer.

1989, c. 38, s. 106; 2000, c. 41, s. 67.

CHAPTER VIII

TRANSFER OF BENEFITS BETWEEN SPOUSES

107. In the event of separation from bed and board, divorce or marriage annulment or the dissolution otherwise than by death or the annulment of a civil union, the benefits accumulated by a member under a plan shall, upon application in writing to the pension committee, be partitioned between the member and his spouse to the extent provided in the Civil Code or by a court judgment or a notarized joint declaration dissolving a civil union.

Where the court or the notarized declaration awards to the spouse of a member, in payment for a compensatory allowance, benefits accumulated by the member under a pension plan, the benefits shall, upon application in writing to the pension committee, be transferred to the spouse to the extent provided by the court judgment or by the notarized declaration.

1989, c. 38, s. 107; 2002, c. 6, s. 198.

108. Upon presentation of an application for separation from bed and board, divorce or marriage annulment, for the dissolution or annulment of a civil union or for the payment of a compensatory allowance, the member and his or her spouse are entitled, upon application in writing to the pension committee, to obtain a statement of the benefits accumulated by the member under the plan and the value thereof at the date of the institution of the action; the statement shall also contain any other information prescribed by regulation. The benefits and the value thereof shall be determined according to the rules fixed by regulation.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The spouse may thereupon examine the text of the pension plan and the documents referred to in section 114, on the conditions provided therein.

The member and the member's spouse are also entitled to receive a statement of benefits, upon an application in writing to the pension committee, for the purposes of pre-hearing mediation concerning a family matter or of a joint procedure before a notary for the dissolution of their civil union. The statement shall contain the information determined by regulation.

1989, c. 38, s. 108; 2000, c. 41, s. 68; 2002, c. 6, s. 199.

109. Except as provided by regulation, the benefits awarded to the spouse following partition of the benefits of the member or as payment for a compensatory allowance can only be used for the purchase of a life pension, whether or not the benefits have been transferred to a pension plan contemplated in section 98.

However, the benefits awarded to the spouse following a seizure for non-payment of support in accordance with articles 694 and following of the Code of Civil Procedure (chapter C-25.01) shall be paid in a lump sum, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by regulation.

1989, c. 38, s. 109; 2000, c. 41, s. 69; I.N. 2016-01-01 (NCCP).

110. In the event of cessation of conjugal relationship between a spouse, within the meaning of subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 85, and a member of the plan, the member and spouse may, in the ensuing year, agree in writing to a partition of the benefits accumulated by the member under the pension plan; such an agreement cannot, however, confer on the spouse more than 50% of the value of such benefits.

For that purpose, the member and the spouse shall be entitled to obtain, upon application in writing to the pension committee, the statement described in section 108 and established at the date on which they ceased to live together in a conjugal relationship.

An agreement under the first paragraph may also apply to the amounts transferred to another pension plan pursuant to section 98.

Section 109 applies to benefits conferred on the spouse pursuant to an agreement referred to above. In addition, articles 694 and following of the Code of Civil Procedure (chapter C-25.01) apply, with the necessary modifications, to the partition of benefits agreed upon between the spouses for the purposes of this section.

1989, c. 38, s. 110; 2000, c. 41, s. 70; I.N. 2016-01-01 (NCCP).

110.1. The cost of producing the statement referred to in section 108 and the expenses incurred for effecting the transfer of benefits between spouses may be claimed from the spouses only up to the limit fixed by the Minister, after consultation with Retraite Québec, and published in the Gazette officielle du Québec. The limit may vary according to the type of plan.

The costs and expenses claimed from the spouses shall be divided equally between them, unless they decide to opt for another form of apportionment. Payment of the amount that must be borne by each spouse may be effected by the pension committee through a reduction of the value of the spouse's benefits, unless that spouse chooses another method of payment.

1994, c. 24, s. 7; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

CHAPTER IX

INFORMATION TO MEMBERS

111. The pension committee shall provide to each member or employee eligible for membership a written summary of the pension plan, including each of the particulars referred to in the second paragraph of section

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

14, together with a brief description of a member's rights and obligations under the plan and this Act and a statement of the principal advantages of membership in the pension plan.

The documents shall be provided within 90 days following

- (1) the date on which the employee becomes eligible for membership under the plan or becomes a member; or
- (2) the date of registration of the pension plan.

The employer shall transmit, in writing, to the pension committee such information concerning employees eligible for membership as is necessary for the purposes of this section.

1989, c. 38, s. 111; 2000, c. 41, s. 71.

111.1. If a pension plan provides that the pension paid to members is reduced by direct or indirect reference to the benefits payable under a public plan referred to in section 94, any document provided to a member, a beneficiary or an eligible employee concerning the benefits payable under the pension plan or the manner of calculating them must mention the reduction and the manner of calculating it.

2000, c. 41, s. 72.

112. Within nine months after the end of every fiscal year, the pension committee shall transmit to each member and beneficiary a document containing a summary of the provisions of the pension plan that were amended during the last fiscal year and a brief description of the rights and obligations arising therefrom, together with an annual statement containing the information prescribed by regulation in particular with respect to

- (1) the benefits accrued to the member during the last fiscal year and from the beginning of membership in the plan until the end of the last fiscal year; and
- (2) the financial position of the pension plan.

The pension committee is not required to send an annual statement to members to whom a statement was sent under section 113 indicating their accrued benefits as of a more recent date.

1989, c. 38, s. 112; 2000, c. 41, s. 73; 2008, c. 21, s. 15.

112.1. The pension committee shall, within 60 days of the payment of the benefit referred to in section 69.1, provide the member with a statement containing the information determined by regulation and concerning, in particular, the effect of the payment on the annual amount of normal pension resulting from the service credited to him.

1997, c. 19, s. 13.

113. Within 60 days after the date on which the pension committee is informed that a member has ceased to be an active member, it shall provide to the member, or to any other person entitled to a refund or pension benefit, a statement setting out the information prescribed by regulation and specifying, as of the date of the event giving entitlement thereto, the amount of the refund or the nature and value of the benefit, and the nature of and the requirements for entitlement to other benefits provided under the plan.

In addition, within 60 days of a written request therefor, the pension committee shall, without charge, provide the member with the aforementioned statement, updated on the basis of the most recent data available; the updating shall include a new determination of the value of the member's benefits only where the member may exercise the right of transfer provided for in section 98.

Moreover, within 30 days of a written request therefor, the pension committee shall, without charge, provide the member with the data used to prepare the statement or to update it, in particular the data used to calculate the benefits to which he is entitled.

1989, c. 38, s. 113; 2000, c. 41, s. 74.

113.1. When it has been notified that an association has been formed to represent, for the purposes of the pension plan, active members not represented by a certified association, non-active members or beneficiaries of the plan, the pension committee must enclose a notice giving such information as it possesses with respect to the name and address of the association, its purpose and admission procedures with the following documents sent to the persons the association is mandated to represent:

- (1) the annual statement sent out under section 112; and
- (2) the notice sent to the members and beneficiaries under the second paragraph of section 146.4, the third paragraph of section 196 or the first paragraph of section 230.4.

The exemption provided by the second paragraph of section 112 does not dispense the pension committee from sending members the notice provided for in the first paragraph.

2008, c. 21, s. 16; I.N. 2016-05-15.

113.2. If an association referred to in section 113.1 requests the name and address of the persons it is meant to represent, the pension committee must inform each person concerned of the request in a notice enclosed with the first of the following documents to be sent to the person after the committee receives the request:

- (1) the annual statement sent under section 112; or
- (2) the statement provided under the first paragraph of section 113.

The notice must include a note explaining that the person concerned may, within 30 days of receiving the notice, consent to the committee's sending the information in question to the association concerned.

The committee must provide the association with the name and address of the persons who gave their consent

- (1) within 30 days following the expiry of the deadline given in the second paragraph, as regards persons who gave their consent after receiving a notice enclosed with the annual statement sent out under section 112; or
- (2) at the latest 30 days after the end of the fiscal year of the plan during which consent was given, as regards persons who gave their consent after receiving a notice enclosed with the statement provided for under the first paragraph of section 113.

The committee is not required to comply more than once with a request made under the first paragraph by the same association. If it does, it may charge a fee.

2008, c. 21, s. 16.

114. Within 30 days of a written request therefor, the pension committee shall permit an employee eligible for membership or a member or beneficiary to examine, without charge, during usual working hours, the text of the pension plan or any other document prescribed by regulation. The pension committee shall, subject to the same conditions, permit a member or beneficiary to examine the terms of the plan as they stood on any date included in the period during which the employee concerned was a member.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The examination shall take place either at the office of the pension committee or at the establishment of the employer designated by the committee, whichever is closer to the applicant's residence.

Where a copy of a document for which an examination request was made is sent without charge, within 30 days of the request, to the person who made the request, the pension committee is dispensed from the obligation to permit examination of the document.

1989, c. 38, s. 114; 2000, c. 41, s. 75.

115. The pension committee is not required to provide documents without charge to any one person more than once within a period of 12 months.

The same applies in respect of requests for the examination of documents.

1989, c. 38, s. 115.

CHAPTER X

SOLVENCY AND FUNDING

2006, c. 42, s. 11.

DIVISION I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

2006, c. 42, s. 11.

116. This chapter does not apply

(1) to an insured pension plan in respect of which the insurer has undertaken to pay all costs and satisfy all rights arising from the termination of the plan;

(2) to an uninsured pension plan under which the benefits to which the members and beneficiaries are entitled derive only and at all times from amounts credited to them; or

(3) to an uninsured pension plan under which the benefits to which the members and beneficiaries are entitled are either pension benefits and refunds that are insured at all times or benefits described in paragraph 2.

1989, c. 38, s. 116; 2000, c. 41, s. 76; 2006, c. 42, s. 11.

117. For the purposes of this chapter, a defined benefit-defined contribution plan shall be considered to be a defined benefit plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 117; 2006, c. 42, s. 11.

118. Every pension plan must be the subject of an actuarial valuation

(1) at the date on which it becomes effective;

(2) no later than at the date of the end of the last fiscal year of the plan occurring within three years after the date of the last complete actuarial valuation of the plan;

(3) at the date of the agreement with the insurer for the purposes of a payment of benefits made in accordance with the plan's annuity purchasing policy;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(4) in the case of an amendment having an impact on the funding of the plan, at the date determined under section 121;

(5) at the date of the end of the fiscal year of the plan that precedes a fiscal year in which surplus assets are appropriated to the payment of employer contributions under section 146.8; or

(6) whenever required by Retraite Québec, at the date set by Retraite Québec.

If an actuarial valuation referred to in subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph determines that the funding level of the plan is less than 90%, the plan must be the subject of a complete actuarial valuation not later than the end date of the following fiscal year and the end date of each subsequent fiscal year, until the funding level reaches at least 90%.

An actuarial valuation required under the first or second paragraph must be complete. However, the valuations required under subparagraphs 3, 4 and 5 of the first paragraph may be partial, but only if, in the case of a valuation referred to in subparagraph 4 or 5, the date of the valuation corresponds to the date of the end of the fiscal year of the plan and no complete actuarial valuation is required under this Act or by Retraite Québec at that date.

1989, c. 38, s. 118; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 19; I.N. 2016-04-01.

119. The pension committee must transmit a report to Retraite Québec on every actuarial valuation referred to in section 118

(0.1) not later than the expiry of the time granted under section 25 for filing the application for registration of the plan in the case of an actuarial valuation required under subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 118;

(1) within nine months after the date of the actuarial valuation in the case of an actuarial valuation required under subparagraph 2, 4 or 5 of the first paragraph or the second paragraph of that section; or

(1.1) within four months after the date of the actuarial valuation in the case of an actuarial valuation required under subparagraph 3 of the first paragraph of that section;

(2) within the time fixed by Retraite Québec, which shall be at least 60 days, in the case of an actuarial valuation required under subparagraph 6 of the first paragraph of that section.

A report on an actuarial valuation not referred to in section 118 must be transmitted to Retraite Québec within nine months after the date of the actuarial valuation.

All reports on an actuarial valuation transmitted to Retraite Québec must be accompanied by a summary drawn up on the form provided by Retraite Québec, along with the attestations and documents mentioned in the form.

1989, c. 38, s. 119; 2000, c. 41, s. 77; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2009, c. 1, s. 4; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 20.

119.1. If, at the date of the end of a fiscal year of the pension plan, no actuarial valuation is required under subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 118, the pension committee must send Retraite Québec, no later than four months after that date, a notice informing it of the financial position of the pension plan at that date.

The information to be contained in the notice and the attestations and documents to be included with it are prescribed by regulation.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Any certification required for the purposes of the notice must be carried out in accordance with the first paragraph of section 122, which applies with the necessary modifications.

2015, c. 29, s. 21; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

120. The funding of a pension plan must be based on an actuarial valuation report prepared at the request of the pension committee and transmitted to Retraite Québec. Unless the report concerns a partial actuarial valuation carried out under the conditions set out in the third paragraph of section 118, it must refer to a complete actuarial valuation of the plan.

Except in the case provided for in section 121, an actuarial valuation report that has been transmitted to Retraite Québec can be amended or replaced only at the request of or with the authorization of Retraite Québec and subject to the conditions fixed by Retraite Québec. If a report is amended or replaced, any unfunded actuarial liability determined by the valuation must be re-established and any actuarial certification required for the purposes of such valuation must be renewed.

1989, c. 38, s. 120; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; I.N. 2016-04-01.

121. Any amendment to a pension plan having an impact on the funding of the plan must be considered for the first time not later than the latest of the following dates:

(1) the date of the end of the last fiscal year of the plan, the date of which is not later than the date the amendment is made; or

(2) the date of the end of the last fiscal year of the plan, the date of which is not later than the date the amendment becomes effective.

If the actuarial valuation report was transmitted to Retraite Québec and an amendment which should have been considered under the first paragraph was not taken into account, the report must be amended or replaced.

However, an amendment resulting in a reduction of the obligations of the plan must be considered for the first time at the date it becomes effective.

1989, c. 38, s. 121; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 22.

122. Every certification required for the purpose of a partial actuarial valuation must reflect the financial position of the plan at the date of the actuarial valuation, estimated on the basis, in particular, of the actual rate of return of the pension fund, changes in interest rates determined on a solvency basis and the contributions actually paid into the pension fund since the last complete actuarial valuation of the plan.

If a partial actuarial valuation pertains to the amendments to a pension plan, it is limited to the determination of the value of the additional obligations arising from any amendment considered for the first time in the valuation or to the determination, on a funding basis, of the variation in the current service contribution arising from the amendment. The determination of the value or of the variation must be based on the same assumptions and methods as were used for the most recent complete actuarial valuation, unless those assumptions and methods are not appropriate in view of the nature of the amendment made to the pension plan.

However, if the amendment to the pension plan increases the pensions already in payment and the additional obligations arising from the amendment are guaranteed by an insurer at the date on which the actuarial valuation report is prepared, the value of the obligations may be assumed to correspond to the premium paid to the insurer, discounted at the date of actuarial valuation according to the rate of return of the pension fund.

1989, c. 38, s. 122; 2006, c. 42, s. 11.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

122.1. For the purposes of this chapter, the assets and liabilities of a pension plan are both reduced by an amount corresponding to the sum of the following values:

- (1) the value of any additional voluntary contributions paid into the pension fund, with accrued interest;
- (2) the value of the contributions paid into the pension fund under provisions which, in a defined benefit plan, are identical to those of a defined contribution plan, with accrued interest;
- (3) the value of amounts received by the pension plan following a transfer, even otherwise than under Chapter VII, with accrued interest.

However, in the case of a floor plan, the assets and liabilities of a plan are not to be reduced by the value referred to in subparagraph 2.

2015, c. 29, s. 23.

122.2. For the purposes of this chapter, the letters of credit provided by the employer under section 42.1 that may be considered in the plan's assets cannot exceed 15% of the liabilities of the plan.

2015, c. 29, s. 23.

DIVISION II

FUNDING

2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

§ 1. — Determination of funding

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

123. For the purpose of determining the funding level of a pension plan at the date of an actuarial valuation, the plan's liabilities must be equal to the value of the obligations arising from the plan taking into account the service credited to the members.

A pension plan is funded if, at the date of the actuarial valuation, the plan's assets are equal to or greater than its liabilities.

1989, c. 38, s. 123; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2008, c. 21, s. 33; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

124. For the sole purpose of establishing the funding level of a pension plan at the date of an actuarial valuation,

- (1) the plan's assets must be increased by the special improvement payment prescribed in section 139; and
- (2) the plan's liabilities must be increased by the value of the additional obligations arising from any amendment to the plan considered for the first time at the date of the valuation, calculated on the assumption that the effective date of the amendment is the valuation date.

The funding level of a pension plan at the date of the actuarial valuation is the percentage that the plan's assets are of its liabilities.

1989, c. 38, s. 124; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24; I.N. 2016-04-01.

125. Every pension plan must provide for the establishment of a stabilization provision whose target level is determined in the manner prescribed by regulation, in particular by using a scale that is to be applied according to certain criteria, including the target set out in the plan's investment policy in effect at the date of each actuarial valuation required under section 118.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

1989, c. 38, s. 125; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

126. The funding method used in an actuarial valuation must be consistent with generally accepted actuarial principles and be based on the assumption that the pension plan is perpetual.

The actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine the funding level of a plan must be suited, in particular, to the type of plan concerned, its obligations and the position of the pension fund.

1989, c. 38, s. 126; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

127. The method for smoothing the market value of the assets of the pension plan may not level the short-term fluctuations in that value over a period exceeding five years.

1989, c. 38, s. 127; 1994, c. 24, s. 8; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

128. The current service contribution must be equal to or greater than the sum of

(1) the value of the obligations arising from the pension plan in respect of credited service completed over the course of the fiscal year or the part of the fiscal year referred to in paragraph 1 of section 140; and

(2) the value of the stabilization provision in respect of those obligations, according to the target level determined in accordance with section 125.

The contribution may, however, be less if it is determined using a method which, at all times, keeps the plan partially funded or fully funded at the required funding level taking into account the plan stabilization provision target level less five percentage points.

1989, c. 38, s. 128; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24; 2016, c. 13, s. 68

129. The value of the obligations referred to in sections 123, 124 and 128 which, under the plan, are to increase according, in particular, to the progression of the members' remuneration must include the estimated amount of those obligations when they become payable, assuming that contingencies based on actuarial assumptions as to survival, morbidity, mortality, employee turnover, eligibility for benefits or other factors will occur.

Furthermore, any pension benefit increase provided for by the plan which becomes effective after the benefits begin to be paid must be taken into account in determining that value.

1989, c. 38, s. 129; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

§ 2. — Funding deficiencies

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

130. There are three types of funding deficiencies: the technical actuarial deficiency, the stabilization actuarial deficiency and the improvement unfunded actuarial liability.

1989, c. 38, s. 130; 2000, c. 41, s. 78; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

131. The technical actuarial deficiency corresponds, at the date of an actuarial valuation, to the amount by which the plan's liabilities exceed its assets, increased by the value of any amortization payments remaining to be paid to amortize any improvement unfunded actuarial liability determined in a prior actuarial valuation.

1989, c. 38, s. 131; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

132. The actuarial stabilization deficiency corresponds, at the date of an actuarial valuation, to the amount by which the plan's liabilities, reduced by the technical actuarial deficiency determined in accordance with section 131 and increased by the value of the stabilization provision target level less five percentage points, exceed its assets, increased by the value of the amortization payments remaining to be paid to amortize any improvement unfunded actuarial liability determined in a prior actuarial valuation.

1989, c. 38, s. 132; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

133. The interest rate used to establish the value of the improvement amortization payments referred to in sections 131 and 132 is the same as the one used to establish the liabilities of the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 133; 2000, c. 41, s. 79; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

134. An improvement unfunded actuarial liability corresponds, at the date of an actuarial valuation, to the value of the additional obligations arising from any amendment to the plan, except for the amendment referred to in section 139, considered for the first time in the valuation, increased by the value of the stabilization provision target level in respect of those obligations and reduced, if applicable, by the amount corresponding to the part of the value of those obligations that is paid for by appropriation of the plan's surplus assets.

2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

135. The amortization payments that, if applicable, remain to be paid in relation to any improvement unfunded actuarial liability determined in a prior actuarial valuation may only be eliminated if, at the date of the actuarial valuation, the assets of the pension plan are equal to or greater than its liabilities, increased by the value of the stabilization provision target level less five percentage points.

1989, c. 38, s. 135; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

 § 3. — Amortization of funding deficiencies

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

136. Every funding deficiency must be amortized by dividing it into as many amounts as there are full months included in the amortization period.

1989, c. 38, s. 136; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

137. The monthly amortization payable for any fiscal year of the pension plan, and any part of such a fiscal year, included in the amortization period must be established as a set amount at the date the unfunded actuarial liability is determined. However, if the members contribute to amortization payments, the monthly payments may represent an hourly rate or a rate of the remuneration of or a percentage of the total payroll for the active members; the rate or percentage must be uniform unless it is established by reference to a variable authorized by Retraite Québec.

1989, c. 38, s. 137; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

138. The amortization period for an unfunded actuarial liability begins at the date of the actuarial valuation in which the unfunded liability is determined. It expires at the end of a fiscal year of the pension plan that ends

- (1) no later than 10 years after the date of the valuation, if the liability is a technical actuarial deficiency;
- (2) no later than 10 years after the date of the valuation, if the liability is a stabilization actuarial deficiency; or
- (3) no later than five years after the date of the valuation, if the liability is an improvement unfunded actuarial liability.

1989, c. 38, s. 138; 2000, c. 41, s. 81; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

 § 4. — Special improvement payment

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

139. If the actuarial valuation used to determine the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the pension plan shows that the plan's funding level, determined without reference to the amendment, is less than 90%, a special improvement payment equal to the value of the additional obligations, at the date of the valuation, increased by the value of the stabilization provision target level in respect of those obligations, must be paid into the pension fund.

The special improvement payment is payable in full as of the day following the date of the valuation.

1989, c. 38, s. 139; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

 § 5. — Miscellaneous provisions

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

140. In addition to the other elements prescribed by regulation, an actuarial valuation must determine

- (1) the current service contribution, expressed in currency or as a rate or percentage of the remuneration of active members, for the fiscal year or the part of the fiscal year of the pension plan that immediately follows the date of the valuation and for every fiscal year that follows until the date of the next actuarial valuation to which it is subject under subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 118;

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (2) the total amount of the current service contribution and the amount of the part of that contribution referred to in subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 128;
- (3) the plan's assets and liabilities;
- (4) the amount of each deficiency and that of the related amortization payment; and
- (5) the amounts recorded under section 42.2.

1989, c. 38, s. 140; 2000, c. 41, s. 82; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

DIVISION IIISOLVENCY

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

141. For the purpose of determining the solvency of a pension plan at the date of an actuarial valuation, the plan's assets must be established according to their liquidation value, or an estimate of that value, and be reduced by the estimated amount of the administration costs to be paid out of the pension fund, assuming that the pension plan is terminated on the valuation date.

The pension plan's liabilities must be equal to the value of the obligations arising from the plan, assuming that the plan is terminated on the valuation date.

A pension plan is solvent if its assets are equal to or greater than its liabilities.

1989, c. 38, s. 141; 2006, c. 42, s. 50; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

142. For the sole purpose of establishing the degree of solvency of a pension plan at the date of an actuarial valuation,

- (1) the plan's assets must be increased by the special improvement payment prescribed in section 139; and
- (2) the plan's liabilities must be increased by the value of the additional obligations arising from any amendment to the plan considered for the first time on the date of the valuation, calculated on the assumption that the effective date of the amendment is the valuation date.

The degree of solvency of a pension plan at the date of an actuarial valuation is the percentage that the plan's assets are of its liabilities.

1989, c. 38, s. 142; 1997, c. 19, s. 15; 2006, c. 42, s. 50; 2008, c. 21, s. 17; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 24.

142.1. If the plan expressly provides that the amount of a member's pension is to be established with reference to the progression of the member's remuneration after termination, the value of the pension must be established assuming that the plan is terminated in such circumstances that the benefits accrued to the member in respect of the pension must be estimated at their maximum value. If the plan provides for other obligations whose value depends on the circumstances in which the plan is terminated, they must be included in the liabilities to the extent provided in the scenario used for that purpose by the actuary in charge of the valuation.

If the liabilities established in accordance with subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 142 and with the first paragraph of this section are less than the value of the obligations arising from the pension plan, assuming that the plan is terminated on the valuation date in such circumstances that the benefits accrued to the members must be estimated at their maximum value, the valuation report must also indicate the latter value.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

142.2. The liabilities of a pension plan under which refunds or benefits are guaranteed by an insurer must, for the purpose of determining the plan's solvency, include the value corresponding to those benefits, and the plan's assets must include an amount equal to that value.

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

142.3. The values referred to in subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 142 and in section 142.1 are determined by applying sections 211 and 212 and subparagraph 1 of the second paragraph of section 212.1, with the necessary modifications. In the case of pensions already in payment, inasmuch as they are not guaranteed by an insurer at the valuation date, those values must be determined according to an estimation of the premium that an insurer would charge to guarantee the pensions at the valuation date.

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

DIVISION III.1

FUNDING RELATING TO ANNUITY PURCHASING POLICY

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

142.4. A payment of benefits made in accordance with the annuity purchasing policy of a pension plan must meet the funding requirements prescribed by regulation.

If those requirements are not met, a special annuity purchasing payment, calculated in the manner determined by regulation, must be paid as prescribed in that regulation.

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

DIVISION IV

FUNDING POLICY

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

142.5. The person or body who may amend the pension plan must establish a written funding policy that meets the requirements prescribed by regulation, review it regularly and send it to the pension committee without delay.

2015, c. 29, s. 24.

DIVISION V

CONDITIONS GOVERNING THE PAYMENT OF BENEFITS

2006, c. 42, s. 11.

143. The value of any benefit to which a member or a beneficiary becomes entitled under a pension plan and which corresponds to the following amounts must be paid in full:

- (1) additional voluntary contributions credited to the member's account, with accrued interest;

(2) member or employer contributions paid in respect of a member under terms in a defined benefit plan that are identical to those of a defined contribution plan, with accrued interest; and

(3) amounts credited to a member's account following a transfer, even a transfer other than a transfer under Chapter VII, with accrued interest.

The benefit provided for in section 67.5, the one provided for in section 69.1 and the periodic amounts payable as pension benefits must also be paid in full.

The value of any other benefit may be paid out of the pension fund only in proportion to the degree of solvency of the plan, up to 100%, as established in the last actuarial valuation report transmitted to Retraite Québec or, if the degree of solvency is more recent, in the notice prescribed by section 119.1 sent to Retraite Québec. A pension plan may however provide that the 100% limit does not apply or establish a limit of more than 100%

1989, c. 38, s. 143; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2008, c. 21, s. 33; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 25.

144. The actuary responsible for preparing the actuarial valuation report of the pension plan must determine whether the payment of the benefits that are transferable under an agreement referred to in section 106 could reduce the degree of solvency of the plan or, where that degree exceeds 100%, reduce it to a percentage lower than 100%.

If so, the payment of benefits is permitted only in the proportion fixed by the actuary to avoid such a consequence.

1989, c. 38, s. 144; 2006, c. 42, s. 11.

145. The value of the benefits which, under section 143 or 144, cannot be paid may be paid up to 5% of the maximum pensionable earnings established under the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) for the year during which the payment is to be made; the total amounts so paid since the last actuarial valuation may not, however, exceed 5% of the assets determined at the time of the actuarial valuation to ascertain the solvency of the pension plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 145; 2000, c. 41, s. 83; 2006, c. 42, s. 11.

145.1. Despite the limits set in sections 143 to 145, the value of the benefits paid must be equal to or greater than the sum of the contributions paid by the member concerned and the amounts credited to the member's account following a transfer, even a transfer other than a transfer under Chapter VII, with accrued interest.

2006, c. 42, s. 11.

146. The balance of the value of the benefits which, under the terms of sections 143 to 145.1, cannot be paid must be funded and paid within five years after the date of the initial payment or not later than the date on which the member concerned attains normal retirement age if that age is attained before the expiry of the five-year period, in the following cases:

(1) the member or beneficiary does not have the option of maintaining his benefits in the pension plan;

(2) the plan provides for the payment of the value of members' and beneficiaries' benefits in a proportion that is greater than the degree of solvency of the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 146; 2006, c. 42, s. 11; 2015, c. 29, s. 26.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

CHAPTER X.1APPROPRIATION OF SURPLUS ASSETS

2006, c. 42, s. 12.

DIVISION IPROVISIONS OF THE PENSION PLAN

2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.1. Surplus assets may, during the life of a pension plan, be appropriated to the refund or payment of benefits or the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the plan, but only in accordance with this chapter and in compliance with the plan provisions required under subparagraph 17 or 18 of the second paragraph of section 14.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2006, c. 42, s. 13; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.2. All provisions concerning the appropriation of surplus assets during the life of a pension plan must be grouped in an easily identifiable section of the plan.

The same applies to any provision concerning the allocation of surplus assets in the event of termination of the plan.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2006, c. 42, s. 13; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.3. The members and beneficiaries must be informed and consulted before any amendment to the plan under section 146.2.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2006, c. 42, s. 13; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.3.1. (Replaced).

2006, c. 42, s. 13; 2008, c. 21, s. 34; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.3.6. (Replaced).

2006, c. 42, s. 13; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.4. For the purposes of the consultation, the pension committee shall send every member and beneficiary of the plan a written notice which, in addition to containing the information required under subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 26, indicates

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (1) the plan provisions relating to the allocation or appropriation of surplus assets in force on the date of the notice;
- (2) the text of the plan provisions arising from the amendment; and
- (3) any other information prescribed by regulation.

The notice must also inform the members and beneficiaries that they may notify the pension committee in writing of their opposition to the proposed amendment to the plan provisions within 60 days after the notice is sent or, as applicable, after the date on which the notice required under the third paragraph is published, whichever is later.

Unless all members and beneficiaries have been personally advised, the pension committee must also publish a notice of the proposed amendment in a daily newspaper circulated in the region in Québec where the greatest number of active members reside. The notice must also specify that persons who have not received a personal notice but believe they must be consulted may declare their status to the pension committee within 60 days after the notice is published and that, if they are able to establish their status, they are entitled to receive a copy of the notice required under the second paragraph and, if applicable, to notify the committee in writing of their opposition to the proposed amendment.

The notice given under this section is considered to be the notice referred to in section 26.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2006, c. 42, s. 15; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.5. On the expiry of the time for expressing opposition, the pension committee shall count the notices of opposition received.

If 30% or more of the members and beneficiaries are opposed to the proposed amendment, it is deemed rejected and cannot be made.

The pension committee shall immediately inform the employer concerned, as well as each of the plan members and beneficiaries and the person or body who may amend the pension plan, of the results.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2005, c. 5, s. 1; 2006, c. 42, s. 16; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

DIVISION IIPLANS TO WHICH CHAPTER X APPLIES

2006, c. 42, s. 14; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.6. The appropriation, under this division, of the surplus assets of a pension plan to which Chapter X applies, determined without reference to the portion of the assets and that of the liabilities described in section 122.1, is only permitted if, according to the actuarial valuation of the plan, the following conditions are met:

- (1) on a funding basis, the plan's assets are equal to or greater than its liabilities, increased by the value of the stabilization provision target level plus five percentage points; and
- (2) on a solvency basis, the plan's assets are equal to or greater than 105% of its liabilities.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2006, c. 42, s. 17; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.7. The maximum amount of surplus assets that may be used is equal to the lesser of the following amounts, determined at the date of the actuarial valuation:

- (1) the amount by which the surplus assets determined on a funding basis exceed the minimum set under paragraph 1 of section 146.6; and

(2) the amount by which the surplus assets determined on a solvency basis exceed the minimum set under paragraph 2 of that section.

In the case of a partial actuarial valuation, the maximum amount of surplus assets is equal to the lesser of the amounts given by the actuary who certifies that a complete actuarial valuation carried out at the date of the valuation would have allowed the determination, in accordance with the first paragraph, of amounts equal to or greater than the amounts given.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2006, c. 42, s. 18; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.8. The amount of surplus assets that may be used over the course of a fiscal year must first be appropriated to the payment of the employer and member current service contributions, up to the lesser of the amount of the employer or member contributions recorded, respectively, under the first and second paragraphs of section 42.2 and the amount of the employer or member current service contributions.

If the amount of surplus assets that may be used is less than the total amount of employer and member contributions recorded under section 42.2, the appropriation under the first paragraph must be proportional to the contributions recorded, respectively, under the first and second paragraphs of that section.

If there is a balance of surplus assets, up to 20% of the balance may, per fiscal year of the plan and in accordance with its provisions, be appropriated to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the plan or to the payment of member contributions or be transferred to the employer.

Any amount appropriated to the payment of the employer current service contributions or to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment or transferred to the employer must be deducted from the amounts recorded under section 42.2. The same applies to any amount appropriated to the payment of member current service contributions.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.9. The pension plan may provide that the appropriation of surplus assets to the payment of current service contributions may, despite the caps provided for in the first paragraph of section 146.8, apply beyond the amount of the contributions recorded under section 42.2.

2000, c. 41, s. 84; 2006, c. 42, s. 19; 2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.9.1. The appropriation of surplus assets to the payment of employer contributions and, if applicable, member contributions ceases on the date of the end of a fiscal year for which an actuarial valuation or a notice referred to in section 119.1 shows that the conditions set out in section 146.6 are no longer met.

2015, c. 29, s. 27.

DIVISION IIIOTHER PLANS

2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.9.2. This division concerns the pension plans to which Chapter X does not apply.

It also concerns the portion of the assets and that of the liabilities of a pension plan to which Chapter X applies that are excluded under section 122.1.

2015, c. 29, s. 27.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

146.9.3. The surplus assets of a pension plan may be appropriated to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the plan, provided that the amount applied for that purpose is limited to the part of the assets that exceeds the value of the obligations arising from the plan, established without reference to the additional obligations arising from the amendment, assuming that the plan is terminated.

2015, c. 29, s. 27.

146.9.4. The portion of the assets of the pension plan that exceeds the value of the obligations arising from the plan, assuming that the plan is terminated, may be appropriated to the payment of employer contributions.

The appropriation of the surplus assets of a pension plan to the payment of employer contributions ceases as soon as the condition set out in the first paragraph is no longer met.

2015, c. 29, s. 27.

CHAPTER X.2

 SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO CERTAIN MULTI-EMPLOYER PENSION PLANS

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

DIVISION I

 SCOPE

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.10. This chapter applies to multi-employer defined benefit-defined contribution pension plans, in force on 18 February 2015, that may not be amended unilaterally by a participating employer. Such plans are called “negotiated contribution plans”.

This chapter does not apply to multi-employer pension plans governed by a regulation under the second paragraph of section 2, other than the Regulation providing new relief measures for the funding of solvency deficiencies of pension plans in the private sector (chapter R-15.1, r. 4.1), but does apply to pension plans subject to Division III.3 of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (chapter R-15.1, r. 8).

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

DIVISION II

 CONTRIBUTIONS AND BENEFITS

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.11. Despite the first paragraph of section 39, the employer is only required to pay, in each fiscal year of the plan, the employer contribution stipulated in the plan.

Despite the third paragraph of section 41, the employer contribution may not be adjusted unless the adjustment has been negotiated with the employer.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.12. The sum of the employer contribution and the member contributions payable in each fiscal year of the pension plan must be equal to or greater than the sum of the following amounts:

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (1) the current service contribution determined in accordance with sections 128 and 129;
- (2) the estimated amount of the administration costs to be paid out of the pension fund during the fiscal year; and
- (3) the sum of the amortization payments determined for the fiscal year and the special improvement payments payable during the fiscal year.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 28.

146.13. No employer may appropriate the surplus assets of the pension plan to the payment of the employer contribution unless a fiscal rule so requires, nor may an employer, despite section 42.1, be relieved of paying the employer contribution by a letter of credit.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.14. (Repealed).

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 29.

146.15. Section 60 does not apply to negotiated contribution plans.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 30.

DIVISION III

FUNDING RULES

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

§ 1. — Special provisions

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.16. Despite subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 118 and subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 119, a negotiated contribution plan must be the subject of an actuarial valuation at the date of the end of each fiscal year and the valuation report must be sent to Retraite Québec within six months after the date of the valuation.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 31.

146.17. Any amendment to a negotiated contribution plan having an impact on the obligations arising from the plan must be considered for the first time according to the rules set out in section 121.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.18. The provisions of section 125, concerning the establishment of a stabilization provision, do not apply to negotiated contribution plans.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 32.

146.18.1. Section 134, except the exception it provides for, applies to all plan amendments considered for the first time.

Section 139 applies on a solvency basis.

2015, c. 29, s. 33.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

146.19. Despite section 138, the maximum amortization period of any actuarial deficiency is 12 years.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 33.

§ 2. — Conditions governing payment of benefits

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.20. The value of the benefits accrued to a member or a beneficiary and referred to in the third paragraph of section 143 must be paid in proportion to the degree of solvency of the plan as established in the last actuarial valuation that precedes the date of the application for transfer and for which the report has been sent to Retraite Québec.

Sections 145 and 146 do not apply to negotiated contribution plans. An employer may however, before the date of payment, pay an additional amount into the pension fund for the payment of all or part of the value of the benefits that cannot be paid under the first paragraph.

Despite sections 20 and 21, a pension plan may be amended to provide that, in cases when the degree of solvency of the plan exceeds 100%, the value of the benefits must be paid in a proportion that is less than the degree of solvency of the plan but equal to or greater than 100%. Such an amendment may only be made in the circumstances described in section 146.35, which applies with the necessary modifications.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

146.21. A payment made in accordance with section 146.20 constitutes a final payment of the benefits accrued to a member or beneficiary.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.22. For the purposes of the assignment of a member's benefits or the seizure of such benefits for non-payment of support, the degree of solvency of the plan as established in the last actuarial valuation that precedes the date of their valuation and for which the report has been sent to Retraite Québec must be taken into account in determining the value of the member's benefits.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

DIVISION IV

RESTRUCTURING

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

§ 1. — Recovery plan

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.23. When the report on an actuarial valuation of a negotiated contribution plan indicates that the contributions provided for in the pension plan are insufficient, a recovery plan must be prepared by the person or body who may amend the plan.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.24. The recovery plan must set out the measures to be taken to ensure that the funding of the pension plan is in conformity with the law.

These measures may include an increase in the employer contribution, an increase in member contributions, or the establishment of such contributions in the case of a non-contributory plan, or an amendment reducing benefits that is applicable to service completed before or after the effective date of the amendment.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.25. No measure set out in a recovery plan may reduce, on a funding basis, the value of the benefits in payment in a proportion greater than that applicable to the value of the benefits of active members.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.26. The measures in the recovery plan must not reduce the pension plan's liabilities below the value of its assets either on a solvency basis or on a funding basis.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.27. The recovery plan must include certification by an actuary that implementing the measures set out in the plan, as of the date of the actuarial valuation showing insufficient contributions, would result in sufficient contributions being made to the plan.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.28. The recovery plan must be sent to Retraite Québec by the pension committee within 18 months after the date of the actuarial valuation.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

§ 2. — Amendment reducing benefits

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.29. An amendment reducing pension benefits set out in a recovery plan may, without being agreed to as required under section 20, become effective before the date set under the first paragraph of that section or apply to service completed before the effective date of the amendment.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.30. The effective date of an amendment reducing benefits set out in a recovery plan may not precede the date following that of the actuarial valuation showing insufficient contributions.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.31. Despite section 21, an amendment set out in a recovery plan may reduce a pension benefit the payment of which began before the effective date of the amendment.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.32. No amendment reducing benefits may have an effect on amounts or benefits already paid at the date of its registration.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

§ 3. — Adoption of recovery plan

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.33. The recovery plan is adopted if, at the end of the consultation process set out in this section, less than 30% of the members and beneficiaries of the pension plan are opposed to it.

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The pension committee must send every member and beneficiary a written notice informing them of the purpose and effective date of the amendments set out in the recovery plan, and the consequences set out in sections 146.39 and 146.40 for failure to adopt a recovery plan. The notice must also inform them that they may notify the pension committee of their opposition to the recovery plan within 60 days after the notice is sent or after the notice required under the third paragraph is published, whichever is later.

Unless all members and beneficiaries of the pension plan have been personally notified, the pension committee must publish a notice containing the information required under the second paragraph. The rules set out in the third paragraph of section 146.4 apply with the necessary modifications.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; I.N. 2016-05-15.

146.34. The consultation set out in section 146.33 is not required in the following circumstances:

(1) the text of the pension plan or an ancillary document registered with a body similar to Retraite Québec includes, as of 18 February 2015, a provision allowing the reduction of benefits accrued to members and beneficiaries;

(2) the pension plan was amended in accordance with section 146.35 after 2 April 2015 to allow, within the scope of a recovery plan, the reduction of benefits accrued to members and beneficiaries.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

146.35. A pension plan may only be amended as described in paragraph 2 of section 146.34 if, at the end of the consultation process set out in this section, less than 30% of the members and beneficiaries are opposed to it.

The pension committee must send every member and beneficiary of the pension plan a written notice, separate from the notice required under section 146.33, that states, in addition to the information required under subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 26, the consultation process required in the absence of a pension plan provision allowing the reduction of benefits when contributions are insufficient. The notice must also inform them that they may notify the pension committee of their opposition to the proposed amendment within 60 days after the notice is sent or after the notice required under the third paragraph is published, whichever is later.

Unless all members and beneficiaries of the pension plan have been personally notified, the pension committee must publish a notice containing the information required under the second paragraph. The rules set out in the third paragraph of section 146.4 apply with the necessary modifications.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 34.

146.36. A notice given under section 146.33 or 146.35 is considered to be the notice required under section 26.

Section 113.1 applies to such a notice.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.37. An application for the registration of amendments set out in the recovery plan must be filed with Retraite Québec not later than 24 months after the date of the actuarial valuation showing insufficient contributions.

Registration of such amendments is not subject to the authorization of Retraite Québec required under subparagraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 20.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

§ 4. — Failure to produce a recovery plan

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.38. In a case of failure to produce a recovery plan or a required accompanying document, fees equal to those payable in a case of failure to produce the report on the actuarial valuation showing insufficient contributions must be paid to Retraite Québec for each full month of delay.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

146.39. In a case of failure to produce an application for the registration of an amendment to the pension plan for the purpose of implementing a recovery plan or a required accompanying document, active members cease to accumulate benefits on the date of default.

Such termination does not constitute termination of active membership.

The plan must be amended to specify the period during which benefits are not accumulated under the first paragraph.

Restoring these benefits constitutes an amendment to the plan.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.40. If no recovery plan or amendment for the purpose of increasing contributions or reducing member and beneficiary benefits under such a plan is filed with Retraite Québec within 60 months after the date of the actuarial valuation showing insufficient contributions, the person or body who may amend the pension plan must terminate it.

The date of termination is the date of expiry of that 60-month time limit.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

DIVISION V

RIGHTS OF MEMBERS AND BENEFICIARIES ON WINDING-UP

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.41. The benefits accrued under a pension plan to a member or beneficiary affected by the withdrawal of an employer from a negotiated contribution plan shall be paid in accordance with sections 236 and 237, which apply with the necessary modifications.

The notice referred to in section 200 must not include the information required under paragraph 2 of that section. However, it must mention, if applicable, the cap referred to in the third paragraph.

Despite sections 20 and 21, the pension plan may provide for a cap on the degree of solvency applicable to the payment of the value of the benefits, such as the cap permitted by section 146.20, in the circumstances described in that section, which applies with the necessary modifications.

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 35.

146.42. Sections 240.2 and 308.3 do not apply to negotiated contribution plans.

However, the members and beneficiaries of the plan whose benefits were paid under the third paragraph of section 146.20 are considered, in the event of the withdrawal of the employer or the termination of the plan within three years of the date of payment of their benefits, to be members for the sole purpose of the distribution of surplus assets with respect to the value of their accrued benefits that is equal to the difference between the degree of solvency of the plan on the date of withdrawal or termination and the degree of solvency of the plan applied on the payment of their benefits.

The same applies if the plan is terminated within three years after the date of a payment made under the third paragraph of section 146.41.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.43. Surplus assets determined on the withdrawal of an employer or the termination of the plan may only be allocated to the members and beneficiaries and shall be distributed among them proportionately to the value of their accrued benefits.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.44. The provisions of subdivision 4 of Division II of Chapter XIII, concerning the debts of an employer in the event of the withdrawal of the employer or the termination of the plan, apply to negotiated contribution plans only with respect to contributions provided for in the plan that are unpaid at the date of the withdrawal or termination.

However, an employer may, before the date of payment, pay into the pension fund an additional amount to cover all or part of the amount to be funded to ensure full payment of the benefits of the members or beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal of an employer or the termination of a pension plan.

The amounts paid by an employer under the second paragraph must be applied to paying the benefits of the members or beneficiaries which relate to that employer.

2015, c. 7, s. 1.

146.45. (Repealed).

2015, c. 7, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 36.

CHAPTER XIADMINISTRATION OF A PENSION PLAN*DIVISION I*ADMINISTRATION

147. Every pension plan shall, from its registration, be administered by a pension committee composed of at least one member, designated as and when provided in the pension plan, who is neither a party to the plan nor a third person to whom, under section 176, a loan may not be granted, and the following members:

(1) one member designated by the active members at the meeting held pursuant to section 166 or, in the absence of such a designation, one plan member designated as and when provided in the plan; and

(2) one member designated by the non-active members and beneficiaries at that meeting or, in the absence of such a designation, one plan member or beneficiary designated as and when provided in the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 147; 2000, c. 41, s. 85.

147.1. At the meeting held pursuant to section 166, the active members as a group and the non-active members and beneficiaries as a group may each designate a pension committee member in addition to those designated under section 147.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

An additional member designated under the first paragraph has the same rights as other committee members except the right to vote. Section 156 does not apply in respect of an additional member.

2000, c. 41, s. 86.

148. The term of office of a member of a pension committee shall not exceed three years.

A member of the committee, whose term of office has expired, shall remain in office until he is reappointed or replaced.

1989, c. 38, s. 148.

149. Until its registration, a pension plan which is effective and for which a pension committee has yet to be formed shall be administered by the employer.

The employer shall, for the administration of the pension plan, have the powers, obligations and liability of a pension committee.

1989, c. 38, s. 149.

150. Except in the case of an insured plan, the pension committee shall act in the capacity of a trustee.

1989, c. 38, s. 150.

150.1. The pension committee may, at any time, submit its recommendations to the person or body who may amend the pension plan as to any eventual amendments to the pension plan.

2000, c. 41, s. 87.

151. The pension committee shall exercise the prudence, diligence and skill that a reasonable person would exercise in similar circumstances; it must also act with honesty and loyalty in the best interest of the members or beneficiaries.

The members of the pension committee shall use in the administration of the pension plan all relevant knowledge or skill that they possess or, by reason of their profession or business, ought to possess.

1989, c. 38, s. 151.

151.1. The pension committee is presumed to have acted with prudence where it acted in good faith on the basis of an expert's opinion.

2006, c. 42, s. 20.

151.2. The pension committee may adopt internal by-laws establishing its rules of operation and governance. The committee ensures that they are complied with and reviews them regularly.

The internal by-laws determine, in particular,

- (1) the duties and obligations of the committee members;
- (2) the rules of ethics to which those persons are subject;
- (3) the rules governing the appointment of the chair, vice-chair and secretary;
- (4) the procedure for meetings and the frequency of meetings;
- (5) the measures to be taken to provide professional development to committee members;

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1*SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (6) the measures to be taken to quantify and manage risks;
- (7) internal controls;
- (8) the books and registers to be kept;
- (9) the rules to be followed when selecting, remunerating, supervising or evaluating delegates, representatives or service providers; and
- (10) the standards that apply to the services rendered by the committee, namely the standards on communicating with plan members and beneficiaries.

In the event of a discrepancy between the text of the pension plan and the text of the internal by-laws as regards the operation and governance of the committee, the latter prevails. However, in the case of the following subjects, the internal by-laws prevail only if the text of the pension plan expressly so provides:

- (1) the rules governing the appointment of the chair, vice-chair and secretary of the pension committee as well as their duties and obligations;
- (2) quorum and the granting of a casting vote at committee meetings; and
- (3) the proportion of committee members who must participate in a decision in order for it to be valid.

2006, c. 42, s. 20; 2015, c. 29, s. 37.

151.3. The secretary of the pension committee or any other person appointed by the committee provides the committee members with the documents and information needed to administer the pension plan.

Committee members have access to all information on the plan and may obtain a copy of any document. However, they may not have access to personal information unless it is required in the performance of their duties.

2006, c. 42, s. 20.

152. Subject to such limitations or prohibitions as may be set out in the pension plan, the pension committee may delegate all or part of its powers, except those conferred by sections 243.3 and 243.7, or be represented by a third person for a specific act.

To such extent as is permitted by the instrument of delegation, the person or body to whom or which the pension committee has delegated powers may subdelegate all or part of such powers.

1989, c. 38, s. 152; 2000, c. 41, s. 88.

153. The person or body exercising delegated powers shall assume the same obligations and incur the same liability as those the pension committee or one of its members would have had to assume or have incurred if the powers had been exercised by the pension committee. The same applies to service providers and representatives who exercise a discretionary power belonging to the committee.

1989, c. 38, s. 153; 2006, c. 42, s. 21.

154. The pension committee is accountable for the person to whom it has delegated powers if, among other things, it was not authorized to do so; if it was so authorized, it is accountable only for the care with which it selected the delegatee and gave him instructions.

Service providers and representatives who exercise a discretionary power belonging to the pension committee are considered to be delegates.

1989, c. 38, s. 154; 1994, c. 24, s. 11; 2006, c. 42, s. 22.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

154.1. The pension committee selects and hires the the delegates, representatives and service providers.

2006, c. 42, s. 23.

154.2. Delegates, representatives and service providers must submit reports on their work to the pension committee.

Delegates, representatives and service providers must report to the pension committee in writing any situation noted in the normal course of their duties that might adversely affect the financial interests of the pension fund and that requires correction.

If the pension committee fails to take immediate corrective measures, the delegatee, representative or service provider must send a copy of the report to Retraite Québec.

A person who, acting in good faith, sends a report to the committee or Retraite Québec under the second or third paragraph may not be held liable.

2006, c. 42, s. 23; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

154.3. Delegates, representatives and service providers must provide the pension committee with the documents and information they receive from government authorities and that call into question the conformity of the plan or its administration with this Act.

2006, c. 42, s. 23.

154.4. Delegates, representatives and service providers may not exclude or limit their liability. Any clause to that effect is null.

Any clause to that effect in a contract terminated or in effect on 13 December 2006 is null if it is abusive.

The abusive nature of such a clause is assessed, with the necessary modifications, with reference to the articles of the Civil Code on consumer contracts and contracts of adhesion.

2006, c. 42, s. 23.

155. Except in the case of the renewal of a designation or the designation of a new member under section 167, the pension committee shall, within 30 days after a member having the right to vote takes office, reexamine the delegations of powers to determine those that are to be maintained and those that are to be revoked.

The revocation of a delegation carries with it the revocation of every subdelegation made by the delegatee, if any.

1989, c. 38, s. 155; 2000, c. 41, s. 89.

156. Every member of the pension committee is presumed to have approved any decision made by the other members. He shall be solidarily liable therefor with the other members unless he expresses his dissent without delay.

He is also presumed to have approved any decision made in his absence unless he makes his dissent known to the other members, in writing, within a reasonable time after becoming aware of the decision.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

156.1. In the cases provided for by regulation, and for the amounts and on the conditions prescribed therein, the pension committee must furnish a guarantee securing the pension fund against losses which may result from theft or embezzlement and a guarantee covering the liability, except that which derives from the failure to act with honesty and loyalty, that may be incurred by a member of the pension committee or the person to whom the committee has delegated a power or given a mandate by reason of his functions.

1993, c. 45, s. 2.

157. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 157; 1994, c. 24, s. 12; 2000, c. 41, s. 90.

158. No member of a pension committee may exercise his powers in his own interest or in the interest of a third person nor may he place himself in a situation of conflict between his personal interest and the duties of his office.

If the committee member is himself a member or a beneficiary of the plan, he shall exercise his powers in the common interest, considering his own interest to be the same as that of the other members or beneficiaries of the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 158.

159. Every member of a pension committee shall, without delay, notify the committee in writing of any interest he has in an enterprise that is susceptible of causing his personal interest to conflict with the duties of his office, and of any rights, other than those arising from the plan, he may have in or may invoke against the pension fund, specifying, where such is the case, the nature and value of the rights.

The pension committee shall keep at its office a register in which every interest or right notified to it pursuant to the first paragraph shall be recorded. Any interested person may examine the register without charge during usual working hours, and the limit set out in section 115 does not apply to such an examination.

1989, c. 38, s. 159.

160. Unless otherwise stipulated, the fiscal year of a pension plan ends on 31 December each year; the fiscal year shall not exceed or include less than 12 months unless authorized by Retraite Québec.

1989, c. 38, s. 160; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

161. The pension committee shall, within six months after the end of each fiscal year of the pension plan or, in the case of the first fiscal year of the plan, within any additional period granted by Retraite Québec, transmit to Retraite Québec an annual statement drawn up on the form it provides, along with the attestations and documents mentioned in the form.

It shall cause to be prepared, within the same time limit, a financial report containing a statement of the plan's assets and a statement of revenues and expenditures for the fiscal year just ended. The report must be audited by an accountant, except in the cases prescribed by regulation.

1989, c. 38, s. 161; 1994, c. 24, s. 13; 2000, c. 41, s. 91; 2006, c. 42, s. 24; 2008, c. 21, s. 18; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

161.1. (Repealed).

1994, c. 24, s. 14; 2000, c. 41, s. 92; 2006, c. 42, s. 25.

161.2. (Repealed).

1994, c. 24, s. 14; 2000, c. 41, s. 93.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

162. Unless otherwise stipulated, the members of the pension committee are not entitled to any remuneration and the administration costs shall be borne by the pension fund. The cost of the professional development of committee members is an administration cost.

1989, c. 38, s. 162; 2006, c. 42, s. 26.

162.1. The pension committee compensates members who sustain a loss in the performance of their duties and who have committed no fault.

If a member has committed a fault other than a deliberate or gross fault and is covered by liability insurance, the committee may compensate up to the amount of the deductible. Before making a decision, the committee must take the adverse effect of the fault on the financial interests of the pension assets and other circumstances into consideration.

2006, c. 42, s. 27.

163. Every refund or payment of pension benefits made by the pension committee shall constitute a full discharge where the committee has grounds to believe, on the basis of the information at its disposal, that the persons to whom they are made are the persons who are entitled thereto and the refunds or payments are, in other respects, in conformity with the law and the terms of the plan.

Such discharge is valid only with respect to the sums actually paid, or the value thereof.

1989, c. 38, s. 163.

163.1. The pension committee may, in the course of the general administration of the pension plan, offset a debt of a member or beneficiary toward the pension fund against a pension benefit or refund payable to the member or beneficiary up to the greater of

- (1) 25% of the pension benefit or refund; and
- (2) 1/12 of the amount to be recovered, without exceeding 50% of the pension benefit or refund.

However, the offset may be applied against up to 100% of a pension benefit or refund if the debtor consents thereto in writing.

As well, a debt of a deceased member may be offset by the committee against the total amount of the death benefit payable to the member's successors.

2000, c. 41, s. 94.

164. Where several persons claim the same benefit under a pension plan, the pension committee may be fully discharged by depositing the amount due with the General Deposit Office of Québec or with a trust company which is, in that case, required to fulfil the obligations prescribed by article 216 of the Code of Civil Procedure (chapter C-25.01), which applies adapted as required.

1989, c. 38, s. 164; I.N. 2016-01-01 (NCCP).

165. The pension committee shall transmit to Retraite Québec the name and last-known address of every untraceable member or beneficiary who is entitled to a refund or to the payment of pension benefits or other amounts due to him following the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan or the termination of a pension plan.

If Retraite Québec is able, with the information at its disposal, to locate the member or beneficiary, it shall notify him to communicate with the pension committee at the address indicated.

1989, c. 38, s. 165; 2000, c. 41, s. 95; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

165.1. As soon as it is informed thereof, the pension committee shall notify Retraite Québec in writing of any effective or proposed division or merger of the pension plan.

1992, c. 60, s. 13; 2000, c. 41, s. 96; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

166. Within six months after the end of each fiscal year of the plan, or within such additional period as may be granted by Retraite Québec, the pension committee shall, by written notice, call each member and beneficiary and the employer to a meeting held to

(1) allow the members, the beneficiaries and the employer to be informed of the amendments made to the plan, the entries recorded in the register kept pursuant to section 159 and the financial position of the plan;

(2) enable the group formed of active members, on the one hand, and the group formed of non-active members and beneficiaries, on the other hand, to decide whether or not to designate a pension committee member under section 147 or 147.1 and, if the decision is affirmative, to proceed with the designation either in the manner proposed by the committee or, if none is proposed or if the group refuses the manner proposed, in a manner, determined by the group, which allows the designation to be made at that meeting;

(3) (subparagraph repealed);

A decision relating to a matter mentioned in subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph shall be made, for each group, by a majority of the votes cast by its members.

The subjects determined by regulation must, in addition, appear on the agenda of the meeting.

The pension committee shall, in addition, render an account of its administration at that meeting.

1989, c. 38, s. 166; 1994, c. 24, s. 15; 2000, c. 41, s. 97; 2005, c. 5, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 38.

166.1. (Repealed).

2005, c. 5, s. 3; 2015, c. 29, s. 39.

167. If a member of the pension committee designated pursuant to section 166 having the right to vote is absent or unable to act or if such a seat on the committee is vacant, the other members of the committee shall designate a new member to fill the seat until the next meeting held pursuant to that section.

The committee may act likewise in case of a delay in replacing any other member having the right to vote that must be designated as and when provided for in the pension plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 167; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 98.

DIVISION II

INVESTMENTS

168. Only the pension committee, the person or body to whom or which that power has been delegated or, if the pension plan so provides, the members of the plan may decide how the assets of the plan are to be invested. Where the plan authorizes members to distribute all or part of the amounts credited to them among various investments, it must offer a minimum of three investment options which not only are diversified and involve varying degrees of risk and expected return but also allow the creation of portfolios that are generally well-adapted to the needs of the members.

Investments shall be made according to law and investments selected by the pension committee or the delegatee shall, in addition, be made in conformity with the investment policy.

1989, c. 38, s. 168; 2000, c. 41, s. 99.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

169. The pension committee shall establish and adopt a written investment policy, giving particular consideration to the type of pension plan and its characteristics, financial obligations and funding policy.

1989, c. 38, s. 169; 2015, c. 29, s. 40.

170. Unless Retraite Québec authorizes, on the conditions it fixes, that the investment policy be simplified, the policy must set out

- (1) the expected rate of return;
- (2) the degree of risk involved in the investment portfolio, particularly as regards price fluctuations;
- (3) liquidity requirements;
- (4) the proportion of assets that may be invested in debt securities and equity securities, respectively;
- (5) the permitted categories and sub-categories of investments;
- (6) investment portfolio diversification measures conducive to an overall reduction of the degree of risk;
- (7) rules and a time schedule applicable to the valuation of the investment portfolio and to the monitoring of the management of the investment portfolio and those applicable to the review of the investment policy.

Unless they are already set out in the plan, the policy must also include

- (1) rules regarding the solvency of borrowers and the security required for granting loans out of the assets, in particular the lending of securities and hypothecary loans;
- (2) rules applicable to the exercise of the voting rights attached to the securities forming part of the assets;
- (3) the basis for the valuation of investments that are not traded on an organized market;
- (4) rules applicable to the use of futures contracts, options, share purchase warrants or share rights or other financial instruments;
- (5) rules regarding the loans that may be raised by the pension committee.

In the event of a discrepancy between the internal by-laws and the investment policy as regards any matter mentioned in this section, the latter prevails.

1989, c. 38, s. 170; 2006, c. 42, s. 28; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

171. All deposits and investments of the assets of the pension plan must be made in the name of the pension fund or for its account.

Moreover, the assets of the plan may not serve to secure any obligations other than those of the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 171; 2000, c. 41, s. 100.

171.1. Unless it is reasonable in the circumstances to act otherwise, the pension committee must endeavour to constitute a diversified portfolio so as to minimize the risk of major losses.

2000, c. 41, s. 101.

172. The assets of the pension plan may not be invested, directly or indirectly, in securities controlled by the employer in a proportion greater than 10% of their book value.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

For the purposes of the first paragraph, the letter of credit provided by an employer under section 42.1 is considered to be a security in which the assets of the pension plan are invested and whose book value is equal to the amount of the letter of credit.

For the purposes of this section, a security is controlled by the employer in particular if it is issued by the employer or by a partnership or legal person more than 50% of the voting rights of which are held by the employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 172; 2000, c. 41, s. 102; 2006, c. 42, s. 29.

173. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 173; 1994, c. 24, s. 16; 2000, c. 41, s. 103.

174. Except in the case of securities traded on an organized market, the assets of the pension plan shall not be invested in securities issued by a legal person to whom a loan out of such assets is prohibited under sections 176 and 177.

1989, c. 38, s. 174.

175. The assets of a pension plan shall not be invested, directly or indirectly, in shares carrying more than 30% of the voting rights attached to the shares of a legal person.

The 30% limit does not apply to the shares of a legal person referred to in paragraph c.1, c.2 or c.3 of section 998 of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3).

1989, c. 38, s. 175.

176. No loan out of the assets of the pension plan may be granted

(1) to a member of a pension committee, a delegatee or, where that member or delegatee is a legal person or group without juridical personality, to the directors, officers or employees of the legal person or group;

(2) to an employees' association representing members or to its directors, officers or employees;

(3) to the spouse or child of any person referred to in paragraph 1 or 2;

(4) where the employer is a legal person and administers all or part of the plan,

(a) to a shareholder, associate or member who holds directly or indirectly more than 10% of the capital stock of the legal person or to his spouse or child;

(b) to a shareholder, associate or member or to his spouse or child if, together, they hold directly or indirectly more than 10% of the capital stock of the legal person;

(5) where the employer administers all or part of the plan, to any legal person more than 10% of the capital stock of which is directly or indirectly held by the employer;

(6) to a legal person, other than the employer, more than 10% of the capital stock of which is held by a person referred to in paragraph 1, 2, 3 or 4;

(7) to a legal person, other than the employer, more than 50% of the capital stock of which is held by a group composed exclusively of persons referred to in paragraph 1, 2 or 4, of the employer where he administers all or part of the plan, or of the spouse or child of any of them;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(8) to a legal person, other than the employer, controlled by a person referred to in paragraph 1, 2, 3 or 4, or by the employer where he administers all or part of the plan, or by a group composed exclusively of such persons.

1989, c. 38, s. 176.

177. Despite section 176, a loan secured in the manner prescribed by regulation may be granted

(1) to a member or to the spouse or child of a member;

(2) to the employer;

(3) to a parent company and a subsidiary provided that one of the companies is the employer and that the total loans granted to them do not exceed 10% of the total book value of the assets of the pension plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 177.

178. For the purposes of sections 176 and 177, spouses are persons married to or in a civil union with each other or persons of opposite sex or the same sex who have been living in a conjugal relationship for a period of not less than three years, or for a period of not less than one year if

— at least one child is born, or to be born, of their union;

— they have adopted, jointly, at least one child while living in a conjugal relationship; or — one of them has adopted at least one child who is the child of the other, while living in a conjugal relationship.

For the purposes of the same sections, a natural or legal person is deemed to hold the shares held, directly or indirectly, by a legal person controlled by such natural or legal person. A person who holds, directly or indirectly, otherwise than as security, securities entitling him to elect in all cases a majority of the directors of a legal person controls that legal person.

1989, c. 38, s. 178; 1999, c. 14, s. 28; 2002, c. 6, s. 200.

179. If, as a result of an unforeseen or uncontrollable event, the assets of the pension plan cease to be invested according to law, the pension committee shall, within a reasonable time after it has knowledge of the event, take every step necessary to regularize the situation.

1989, c. 38, s. 179.

180. Every person who makes an investment otherwise than according to law is, by that sole fact and without further proof of wrongdoing, liable for any resulting loss.

The members of a pension committee who approved such an investment are, by that sole fact and without further proof of wrongdoing, solidarily liable for any resulting loss.

However, such persons incur no liability under this section if they acted in good faith on the basis of an expert's opinion.

1989, c. 38, s. 180; 2006, c. 42, s. 30.

181. Any investment made in contravention of the law may be annulled by judicial action on the application of Retraite Québec or any interested person.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The court may order any person who is liable under section 180 to pay to the pension fund an amount equal to the resulting loss or to the sums so invested.

1989, c. 38, s. 181; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

182. No fee, commission or other benefit in respect of any transaction relating to the investment of the assets of the pension plan may be paid or granted

- (1) to the members of a pension committee, to a delegatee or to the spouse or children of any of them;
- (2) to the employer, to the employer's employees responsible for the administration of all or part of the plan, or, where the employer is a legal person, to the directors or officers of the legal person;
- (3) to the persons or groups referred to in section 176.

The first paragraph does not apply, however, to a person or group referred to therein if such benefit is ordinarily granted to him or it in the performance of his or its duties and if it corresponds to what is usually granted in respect of such a transaction.

1989, c. 38, s. 182.

DIVISION II.1

ANNUITY PURCHASING POLICY

2015, c. 29, s. 41.

182.1. If a pension plan has an annuity purchasing policy that meets the requirements prescribed by regulation, payment of all or part of a pension benefit in accordance with that policy constitutes, on the date of the first payment by the insurer, as stipulated in the agreement entered into for that purpose, final payment of the benefits of the members and beneficiaries covered by that agreement.

The annuity purchasing policy only applies to pensions if, on the date of the agreement with the insurer, they are in payment or an application for payment of benefits has been filed.

2015, c. 29, s. 41.

182.2. The members and beneficiaries whose benefits have been paid in accordance with section 182.1 retain, for three years, their status as a member or beneficiary under the plan for the purposes of the provisions relating to the allocation of surplus assets in the event of termination of the plan. They also retain their status, for the same period, in the event of the employer's bankruptcy or insolvency which, following the employer's withdrawal from the plan or the termination of the plan, results in a reduction of the members' or beneficiaries' benefits.

Whenever the first paragraph must be applied, the notice required under section 207.4 must also state the rules set out in this section.

2015, c. 29, s. 41.

DIVISION III

PROVISIONAL ADMINISTRATION

183. Retraite Québec may, for the period it fixes, assume the administration of all or part of a pension plan or entrust it to the person or body it designates in any of the following cases:

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) where Retraite Québec or the investigator it has designated is making an inquiry into the plan's conformity with the law or into its administration;

(2) where, in the opinion of Retraite Québec, the plan or the administration thereof is not in conformity with this Act;

(3) where, in the opinion of Retraite Québec, the pension committee, a member of that committee, a delegatee or, where the member or delegatee is a legal person or a group without juridical personality, any of its directors has committed a malversation, a breach of trust or other form of misconduct;

(4) where Retraite Québec becomes aware that the pension committee or a person to whom it has delegated powers has failed to comply with an order issued by Retraite Québec.

1989, c. 38, s. 183; 2000, c. 41, s. 104; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

184. Before deciding to place the pension plan under provisional administration, Retraite Québec shall give the pension committee and, where such is the case, the person or body whose administration or conduct is questioned an opportunity to present observations. However, in cases of emergency, Retraite Québec may make its decision before giving them such an opportunity, provided it does so within 15 days of the decision.

1989, c. 38, s. 184; 1997, c. 43, s. 651; 2000, c. 41, s. 105; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

185. Retraite Québec shall transmit its decision to the pension committee and, where such is the case, the person or body whose administration or conduct is questioned and to the employer. It shall also, where the decision contemplates the provisional administration of the whole pension plan, transmit it to the members and to every certified association representing members.

1989, c. 38, s. 185; 2000, c. 41, s. 106; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

186. The provisional administrator shall, to the extent set out in the decision of Retraite Québec, exercise the powers of the pension committee; the committee, or the person or body to whom or which such powers have been delegated, becomes, to the same extent, disqualified from exercising such powers.

The provisional administrator shall have the same obligations and liability as the pension committee.

1989, c. 38, s. 186; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

187. After having decided to place the pension plan under provisional administration on any of the grounds set out in subparagraph 2 or 3 of the first paragraph of section 183 and having given the person or body whose administration or conduct is questioned an opportunity to present observations, Retraite Québec may dismiss that person or body and disqualify him or it from exercising such functions for a period of five years. In that case, Retraite Québec may, on the conditions and in the manner it determines, see to the replacement of the dismissed person or body.

Section 185 applies to every decision of Retraite Québec made under this section.

1989, c. 38, s. 187; 1997, c. 43, s. 652; 2000, c. 41, s. 107; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

188. Retraite Québec, where it assumes the provisional administration of all or part of the pension plan, or the provisional administrator designated by it may amend the plan to bring it into conformity with the law or to protect the rights of members or beneficiaries.

Before amending the plan, Retraite Québec shall give the employer, the members and every certified association representing members an opportunity to present observations. Retraite Québec shall register every amendment made under this section.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Where the designated provisional administrator proposes to amend the pension plan, he shall, before amending the plan, transmit the notice provided for in section 26 to the pension committee, to the employer, to the members and to every certified association representing members. In that case, Retraite Québec may, in addition to the grounds set out in section 28, refuse to register the amendment applied for if it is of the opinion that the amendment is not in the interest of the members or beneficiaries.

1989, c. 38, s. 188; 1997, c. 43, s. 653; 2000, c. 41, s. 108; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

189. Every amendment to the plan whether it is made by Retraite Québec or by the designated provisional administrator shall become effective on the date it is registered and shall be binding on the employer and members.

1989, c. 38, s. 189; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

190. Retraite Québec, where it assumes the provisional administration of all or part of the pension plan or, with the approval of Retraite Québec, the designated provisional administrator may terminate the plan or, where two or more employers are parties to the plan, amend the plan to allow for the withdrawal of an employer in accordance with Chapter XIII, which applies with the necessary modifications.

Notice of the date of termination or of the effective date of the amendment with an indication of the members affected shall be given to the pension committee, to the employer, to the members affected and to every certified association representing members.

1989, c. 38, s. 190; 2000, c. 41, s. 109; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

191. Retraite Québec shall determine the remuneration and the allowances and indemnities, if any, to be paid to the designated provisional administrator.

Retraite Québec is entitled to the reimbursement of expenses it has incurred for the provisional administration or for lending any of its officers to the designated provisional administrator.

1989, c. 38, s. 191; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

192. At the request of Retraite Québec, the designated provisional administrator shall make an inventory.

In addition, the designated provisional administrator shall, on the conditions and in the manner determined by Retraite Québec, take out liability insurance or give any other security to guarantee his administration.

1989, c. 38, s. 192; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

193. Without prejudice to the right to claim reimbursement before the court, the expenses relating to the provisional administration shall be borne by the pension fund unless Retraite Québec elects to assume them.

1989, c. 38, s. 193; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

CHAPTER XII

DIVISION AND MERGER

194. Any division of the assets and liabilities of a pension plan among several plans or any merger of all or part of the assets and liabilities of several pension plans into a single plan, in particular where an employer sells, assigns or otherwise disposes of his enterprise, is subject to the authorization of Retraite Québec and to such conditions as it may prescribe.

1989, c. 38, s. 194; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

195. Retraite Québec shall not authorize a division of the assets and liabilities of a pension plan unless the value of the assets to be transferred is equal to the sum of

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) the market value of the assets which, assuming that the plan is terminated on the effective date of the proposed division, should be allocated, pursuant to sections 220 to 225, to the group of benefits to which the members or beneficiaries affected are entitled; and

(2) the market value of the additional share of assets that would be allocated to that group of benefits if the surplus remaining after the distribution of assets were itself distributed between the groups of benefits constituted pursuant to subdivision 3 of Division II of Chapter XIII, in such manner that the assets of the plan were distributed among the groups proportionately to the value of the obligations arising from the plan from which the benefits in each of the groups derive.

The value of the obligations referred to in subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph must be determined as provided in Division II of Chapter X and be reduced by the value of the obligations arising from the plan with respect to any portion of a funding deficiency remaining to be paid at the date of division.

Any contribution which, at the date of division, an employer that is a party to a multi-employer pension plan has failed to pay into the pension fund or, as the case may be, to the insurer must be deducted from the share of the assets which is allocated to the group of benefits pertaining to that employer pursuant to the first paragraph. Moreover, the amount determined under the first paragraph must be adjusted to take into account the return on the investment of the plan assets, calculated according to the change in the market value of the assets from the effective date of the division to the date of the transfer, and the contributions paid in respect of and the pension benefits paid to the members and beneficiaries affected during that period.

Furthermore, Retraite Québec may not authorize such a division except where the plan into which a portion of the assets to be divided is to be transferred includes provisions which, in respect of the allocation of any surplus assets in case of termination and to their appropriation during the life of the plan, are identical as to their effects to the provisions of the plan from which such assets are to be transferred. In verifying whether the effects are identical as required by this paragraph, only the terms in force when the application for authorization is made shall be considered.

Moreover, where, in the hypothetical situation described in the first paragraph, the value of the allocated assets is not sufficient to pay all the benefits of the affected members or beneficiaries and where a new employer will be required, after the division, to assume responsibility for the obligations related to such benefits, the authorization of Retraite Québec may be made conditional to mandatory payment into the pension fund by the employer then responsible for those obligations of an amount to form part of the assets to be transferred, equal to the amount to be funded to ensure full payment of such benefits.

1989, c. 38, s. 195; 1992, c. 60, s. 14; 2000, c. 41, s. 110; 2006, c. 42, s. 31; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 42.

195.0.1. In the event of division of a pension plan, the amounts recorded under section 42.2 are distributed among the pension plans resulting from the division proportionately to their respective liabilities.

2015, c. 29, s. 43.

195.1. In addition, where a pension plan is governed both by this Act and by an Act of a legislative body other than the Parliament of Québec, Retraite Québec may, if it considers it is necessary to protect the rights of the members and beneficiaries subject to this Act, order the division of the assets and liabilities of the plan, on the date, within the time and on the conditions it fixes, so that the assets pertaining to those members and beneficiaries are transferred to another pension plan.

The order is issued to the person or body who may amend the pension plan involved, to the person or body who administers the plan and to the person or body who may establish a pension plan for the members and beneficiaries mentioned in the first paragraph. The rights of those members and beneficiaries are established on the date of the division and according to the provisions of the plan that are registered and in force on that date.

2010, c. 41, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

196. Retraite Québec may only authorize the merger of all or part of the assets and liabilities of several plans if the degree of solvency of the absorbing plan after the merger

(1) is at least 85% or, in the case of the merger of plans to which the same employer is a party, at least 100%; or

(2) is not more than five percentage points below the degree of solvency, before the merger, of the absorbing plan or the absorbed plan.

In addition, Retraite Québec may only authorize the merger if all the plans include terms which, in relation to the allocation of surplus assets determined upon termination, have identical effects or unless the applicable terms of the absorbing plan are more advantageous for the members and beneficiaries than the applicable terms of the absorbed plan. Nor shall Retraite Québec authorize the merger unless all the plans include terms which, in relation to the appropriation of surplus assets during the life of the plan, have identical effects. In verifying the effects of the applicable terms, only the terms in force when the application for authorization is made shall be considered.

In other cases, the merger may still be authorized if all the members and beneficiaries of the absorbed plan who are affected by the merger are informed by the pension committee by means of a notice in writing and if less than 30% of them are opposed to the merger. The provisions of sections 146.4 and 146.5 apply, with the necessary modifications, in respect of the procedure to be followed to inform and consult the said members and beneficiaries.

Moreover, if the proposed merger is to affect all the members or beneficiaries of the plans concerned, Retraite Québec shall not grant its authorization unless all of the assets of every plan concerned are merged. If that is not the case, the authorization shall be granted only on the condition that the assets to be merged from any plan only part of the members or beneficiaries of which are affected be determined, as far as their benefits are concerned, in accordance with the provisions of section 195, which apply with the necessary modifications.

If the merger is authorized, only the terms of the absorbing plan shall, as far as the employer's right to appropriate surplus assets of the plan to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from any amendment to the plan or to the payment of employer contributions and the allocation of surplus assets in the case of termination are concerned, be applicable to the members and beneficiaries of the absorbed plan who are affected by the merger.

1989, c. 38, s. 196; 1992, c. 60, s. 15; 2000, c. 41, s. 111; 2006, c. 42, s. 32; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 44.

197. Any remuneration received or, as the case may be, any hours of employment completed before a division or merger must be taken into account for the purposes of section 34.

1989, c. 38, s. 197; 2000, c. 41, s. 112.

CHAPTER XIII

RIGHTS OF MEMBERS AND BENEFICIARIES ON WINDING-UP

DIVISION I

WITHDRAWAL FROM MULTI-EMPLOYER PLAN AND TERMINATION OF PLAN

§ 1. — Withdrawal from multi-employer pension plan

198. The withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan is conditional upon the amendment of the plan to that effect. The amendment of the plan is subject to authorization by Retraite Québec.

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1*SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The date of withdrawal is the effective date of the amendment. If the amendment is made following the bankruptcy of the employer, the effective date of the amendment is the date of the bankruptcy. If the amendment is made because the employer no longer has active members in its employ, the amendment becomes effective not later than on the end date of the fiscal year in which the last member ceases to accumulate benefits.

The persons affected by the withdrawal are

- (1) the active members in the employ of the employer at the date of withdrawal;
- (2) the non-active members at that date whose active membership ended while they were in the employ of the employer; and
- (3) the beneficiaries at that date of a pension benefit that derives from the benefit of a member whose active membership ended while the member was in the employ of the employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 198; 2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 45.

199. If an employer that is a party to a multi-employer pension plan is bankrupt or becomes insolvent, within the meaning of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter B-3), the plan must be amended to allow for the withdrawal of the employer and, where applicable, for substitution of another employer. If the person authorized under the plan to make such an amendment fails to do so within 30 days after the pension committee is informed of the insolvency or bankruptcy, the pension committee shall proceed with the amendment.

199.1. If an employer that is a party to a multi-employer pension plan no longer has active members in its employ, the plan must be amended to allow for the withdrawal of the employer. If the person authorized under the plan to make such an amendment fails to do so within 30 days after the pension committee is informed of the fact that the employer no longer has active members in its employ, the pension committee shall proceed with the amendment.

In the case of an employer all of whose employees covered by the plan are hired on an ad hoc, fixed term basis, the plan need only be amended if 12 months have elapsed since the employer ceased to have active members in its employ.

2015, c. 29, s. 46.

200. Before applying for the registration of an amendment allowing for the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan, the pension committee shall, in addition to informing the members as required by section 26, send to every member and beneficiary affected by the withdrawal a notice informing them

- (1) of the degree of solvency of the plan as established in the last actuarial valuation or, if more recent, in the notice sent to Retraite Québec under section 119.1;
- (2) of the effect of full payment of benefits under the plan, particularly as concerns the application of the plan provisions required under subparagraph 16 of the second paragraph of section 14 and, if applicable, section 240.2;
- (3) that the benefits of non-active members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal and whose pension is in payment at the date of withdrawal will be paid by means of a pension paid, as prescribed by regulation, by an insurer selected by the pension committee; and
- (4) that the benefits of members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal, other than those to whom paragraph 3 applies, will be paid by means of a transfer under section 98, which applies with the necessary modifications, or, as applicable, by means of the payment in a lump sum or the transfer into a registered retirement savings plan of the portion of their accrued benefits that is refundable.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

1989, c. 38, s. 200; 1992, c. 60, s. 17; 2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 29, s. 47; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

201. An application for registration of an amendment allowing for the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan must include, in addition to what is required by section 24,

- (1) the name of the withdrawing employer and the effective date of the amendment;
- (2) the names of the members and beneficiaries affected, with the status of each, at the date referred to in paragraph 1, as an active member, a non-active member whose pension is not in payment, a non-active member whose pension is in payment or a beneficiary; and
- (3) a copy of the notice provided for in section 200, together with a declaration of the pension committee certifying that the notice has been sent to every member and beneficiary affected.

1989, c. 38, s. 201; 2000, c. 41, s. 114.

202. Within 60 days after the application for registration is filed with Retraite Québec, the pension committee shall require the withdrawing employer to pay any contribution the employer has failed to pay into the pension fund or, as the case may be, to the insurer.

Within the same time or within such additional time as Retraite Québec may grant, the pension committee shall file with Retraite Québec a report establishing the benefits accrued to each member and beneficiary affected and the value thereof, and containing the information prescribed by regulation. The report must be prepared by an actuary; in the case of a plan referred to in paragraph 2 of section 116, it can be prepared by the pension committee. The value of the benefits accrued to the members and beneficiaries must be determined at the effective date of the amendment allowing for the withdrawal of the employer or, with the authorization of and subject to the conditions determined by Retraite Québec, at the date of the next full actuarial valuation of the plan.

If, within the time prescribed in the second paragraph, the pension committee sends a notice to Retraite Québec certifying that the employer has paid all unpaid contributions in full and, where Chapter X applies to the pension plan, a declaration of an actuary attesting that the plan is solvent at the effective date of the amendment, the pension committee is dispensed from filing the report provided for in the second paragraph.

1989, c. 38, s. 202; 1992, c. 60, s. 18; 2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

203. Retraite Québec may not authorize the amendment of a multi-employer pension plan to allow for the withdrawal of an employer, unless

- (1) the report or, as the case may be, the notice and declaration sent to Retraite Québec pursuant to section 202 are in conformity with this Act; and
- (2) the pension committee attests that the contributions referred to in the first paragraph of section 202 have been paid into the pension fund or to the insurer or will not likely be recovered, despite the pension committee's demands, by reason of the bankruptcy or insolvency of the employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 203; 1992, c. 60, s. 19; 1997, c. 43, s. 655; 2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

§ 2. — Termination of pension plan

204. Except if termination is precluded by agreement or the pension plan is a plan rendered compulsory by an order or decree which does not authorize termination, an employer — or, in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, even not considered as such under section 11, the employers jointly, — may terminate the plan by means of a written notice of termination to the members and beneficiaries affected, to every certified association representing members, to the pension committee and, where applicable, to the insurer.

The notice shall indicate the date of termination and the names of the members and beneficiaries affected. The date of termination may in no case be subsequent to the day preceding the day on which the benefits of the last member or beneficiary under the plan have been paid in full. Moreover, unless every member whose active membership in the plan is to cease upon or after the termination of the plan consents thereto in writing, the date of termination may not precede the date on which member contributions cease to be collected or the date occurring 30 days before the date on which the notice of termination is given to the active members.

1989, c. 38, s. 204; 1992, c. 60, s. 20; 2000, c. 41, s. 114.

205. Retraite Québec may terminate a pension plan

(1) if, without having transmitted a notice of termination, the employer — or, in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, even not considered as such under section 11, every employer — fails to collect member contributions or to pay employer contributions or the member contributions collected into the pension fund or to the insurer;

(2) where the pension committee, a person or body to whom powers have been delegated or any party to the plan fails to comply with an order issued by Retraite Québec under this Act; or

(3) where the plan has no more active members.

Before terminating the plan, Retraite Québec must allow the pension committee at least 10 days to present observations.

1989, c. 38, s. 205; 1992, c. 60, s. 21; 1997, c. 43, s. 656; 2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

205.1. (Replaced).

1992, c. 60, s. 22; 2000, c. 41, s. 114.

206. A decision of Retraite Québec terminating a pension plan shall indicate the date of termination and the names of the members and beneficiaries affected.

The decision shall be communicated to the pension committee, which shall forthwith transmit it to every member and beneficiary affected, to every certified association representing members affected, to the employer and, where applicable, to the insurer.

1989, c. 38, s. 206; 1992, c. 60, s. 23; 2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

207. In addition to the members and beneficiaries whose benefits under the plan have not been paid in full before the date of termination, the members referred to in the second paragraph of section 211 are persons affected by the termination of a pension plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 207; 1992, c. 60, s. 24; 2000, c. 41, s. 114.

207.1. Within 15 days after receipt of a notice of termination from the employer or a decision of Retraite Québec terminating the pension plan, the pension committee shall transmit to Retraite Québec, to the employer and to every certified association representing members a declaration of termination containing the information prescribed by regulation, together with the attestations and documents prescribed by regulation.

1992, c. 60, s. 25; 2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

207.2. Within 90 days after receipt of a notice of termination or a decision terminating the pension plan, the pension committee shall transmit to Retraite Québec a termination report establishing the benefits accrued to each member and beneficiary affected and the value thereof, and containing the information prescribed by regulation. The report must be prepared by an actuary; in the case of a plan referred to in paragraph 2 of section 116, the report can be prepared by the pension committee. Retraite Québec shall forthwith send an acknowledgment of receipt to the pension committee, indicating the date on which it received the report.

The pension committee shall also provide a copy of the report to the employer and to every certified association representing members, informing them that they may present written observations to the committee within the time limit set out in the first paragraph. The committee must send the report in a timely manner so as to allow the employer and the certified associations at least 10 days to present observations.

If applicable, the copy of the report sent to the employer must be accompanied by a notice, a copy of which must be sent to Retraite Québec, indicating that any amount due by the employer according to the report must be paid into the pension fund or to the insurer, as applicable.

2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 48.

207.3. The pension committee shall transmit to each member and beneficiary affected a copy of the termination declaration, a statement of benefits and of the value thereof, together with the following information:

- (1) the various methods for full payment of benefits, including, where applicable, an indication of the pension fund to which benefits could be transferred, and the other options available to the member or beneficiary;
- (2) the procedure for choosing a method, including, where applicable, that applicable to a share of the surplus assets;
- (3) the indication that the termination report and the data used to establish the benefits and the value thereof can be consulted, free of charge, either at the office of the pension committee or at the employer's establishment designated by the committee, whichever is closer to the applicant's residence;
- (4) the indication that the member or beneficiary must make choices and exercise options among those referred to in subparagraphs 1 and 2 before the expiry of the time limit set out in the first paragraph of section 207.2 and may present written observations to the pension committee; and
- (5) any other information determined by regulation.

The committee must transmit the statements in a timely manner so as to allow the members and beneficiaries at least 10 days to make choices, exercise options and present observations to the pension committee pursuant to subparagraph 4 of the first paragraph.

2000, c. 41, s. 114.

207.4. Unless all members and beneficiaries who may have rights under the pension plan or under this Act have been personally advised, the pension committee shall publish in a daily newspaper circulated in the region in Québec where the greatest number of active members reside at the date of termination a notice inviting all persons who, though they did not receive the statement provided for in section 207.3, believe they have rights under the plan or under this Act to present their claim to the pension committee before the expiry of the time limit set out in the first paragraph of section 207.2.

The committee must make sure that the notice is published in a timely manner so as to allow interested persons at least 10 days to present their claim pursuant to the first paragraph. In the case of a multi-employer pension plan, even not considered as such under section 11, the notice must be published with respect to each employer that is a party to the plan in the region in Québec where the greatest number of members in the employ of the employer reside at the date of termination.

207.5. (Repealed).

2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 29, s. 49.

207.6. A pension plan may not be amended after the date of termination, except to allow any increase in pension benefits resulting from the allocation of surplus assets.

This section shall not operate to prevent Retraite Québec from registering an amendment to the plan made before the date of termination after that date.

2000, c. 41, s. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 50.

DIVISION II

WINDING-UP

§ 1. — Interpretation and scope

208. In this division, the term “date of termination”, where used in relation to a multi-employer pension plan that is amended to allow for the withdrawal of an employer, means the date at which the value of the benefits accrued to the members and beneficiaries affected is determined.

1989, c. 38, s. 208; 1992, c. 60, s. 26; 2000, c. 41, s. 116.

209. Sections 216 and 218 do not apply to the payment in full of the benefits of members or beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan or by the termination of a pension plan where the value of the plan assets is equal to or greater than the value of its liabilities, both values being established in accordance with this chapter at the date of termination. If the plan assets nevertheless do not permit payment in full of the benefits of the members and beneficiaries affected, the payment shall be proportional to the value of their accrued benefits.

§ 2. — Calculation of benefits and order of priority for their payment

209.1. Within 30 days after Retraite Québec authorizes an amendment allowing for the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan, the pension committee shall pay in full the benefits of each member and beneficiary affected who has applied therefor, in accordance with the terms of the report transmitted pursuant to the second paragraph of section 202, if any.

2000, c. 41, s. 117; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

210. No earlier than 30 and no later than 60 days after the date on which the termination report is received by Retraite Québec, unless additional time is granted by Retraite Québec, the pension committee shall pay in full the benefits of each member and beneficiary affected in accordance with the termination report and this Act.

However, the committee may not proceed under the first paragraph if, within 30 days after receipt of the termination report, Retraite Québec orders the pension committee to postpone the operation for the period determined by Retraite Québec or if Retraite Québec orders pursuant to section 240.4 that an irregularity found in the report be remedied within a specified time. In the latter case, the pension committee shall submit a revised termination report to Retraite Québec, which shall acknowledge receipt thereof. The committee shall proceed to make full payment within 30 days after the expiry of the postponement period or within 30 days after the date on which Retraite Québec receives the revised report.

Notwithstanding the first paragraph, the payment in full of the benefits of a member or beneficiary in accordance with the termination report may be deferred to the date of the satisfaction of the entitlement to surplus assets where the member so requests or where, given the method chosen by the member or beneficiary, the Taxation Act (chapter I-3) prescribes that all benefits under the plan be paid in a lump sum. Moreover, where Retraite Québec permits the employer to spread the payment of an amount due by the employer over a period of time pursuant to section 229, Retraite Québec may determine terms and conditions whereby benefits may be paid in full when payment by the employer is completed.

The pension committee may, however, at any time if the plan is solvent and with the authorization of Retraite Québec if the plan is not solvent, pay, in whole or in part and subject to the conditions it fixes, a pension, other than a pension provided for in section 67.2, that is in payment or suspended at the date of termination of the pension plan or a pension the first instalment of which becomes payable after that date. Where the amount of pension benefits paid exceeds the benefits allocated to the recipient in the termination report for the period covered by the pension benefits, the recipient shall repay the overpayment; otherwise, the overpayment may be deducted from the benefits that remain to be paid to him.

210.1. The share of the surplus assets to which a member or beneficiary is entitled may be paid in a lump sum or, to the extent permitted by the Taxation Act (chapter I-3), be transferred as provided for in section 98, which applies with the necessary modifications, or be used for the purchase of an annuity or another benefit, according to the option specified by the member or beneficiary to the pension committee.

2000, c. 41, s. 119; 2015, c. 29, s. 51.

211. Every member affected by the termination of a pension plan who was still active on the date of termination is entitled, in respect of the service credited to him under the plan to the date of termination, to the value of the normal pension, including benefits ancillary to any pension to which he would have been entitled if he had retired on the day preceding the date of termination.

Where the termination of the plan is brought about by the division, merger, alienation or closing down of an enterprise or part of an enterprise, the same applies to every member whose active membership in the plan ceased during the period extending from the date the members were informed of the event and the date of termination.

The amount of the pension shall, where the pension plan provides that it is to be calculated according to the progression of the member's remuneration, be determined so as to take the progression into account until the date of termination, unless the plan provides expressly that it must be taken into account beyond the date of termination.

212. The value of the benefits accrued to the members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan or by the termination of a pension plan shall be determined at either of the following dates, on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 that were used at that date to determine the value of the pension benefits to which section 60 applies that were vested at that date:

(1) the date the member ceased to be an active member, if the benefits whose value is being determined are those accrued to

(a) a member whose active membership ended before the withdrawal or termination and who, at the date of termination, had already opted, within the time limit set out in subparagraph 1 of the second paragraph of section 99, for the satisfaction of his or her rights under the plan or still had time to exercise such an option, or a beneficiary whose rights under the plan derive from the service credited to such a member; or

(b) a member to whom the second paragraph of section 211 applies; or

(2) the date of termination, if the benefits whose value is being determined are those accrued to any other member or beneficiary affected by the withdrawal or termination.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The benefits accrued to the members and beneficiaries referred to in subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph shall bear interest, from the date their value is determined to the date of termination, at the rate used for the purposes of the determination.

The first paragraph does not apply to a pension that must be insured pursuant to section 237 or to a pension referred to in paragraph 3 of section 200.

1989, c. 38, s. 212; 1994, c. 24, s. 18; 2000, c. 41, s. 121.

212.1. The value of the assets of a terminated pension plan at the date of termination shall be established according to their liquidation value or an estimate thereof, reduced by the estimated amount of the costs to be paid out of the pension fund upon termination.

The liabilities of a terminated pension plan at the date of termination shall comprise, in addition to the value of the benefits determined under section 212, the value of any pension that must be insured pursuant to section 237, such value being determined

(1) in cases where the pension was insured before the date of termination, on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 that were used at that date;

(2) in cases where the pension was insured after the date of termination but before the preparation of the termination report, by discounting at the date of termination the premium paid to the insurer, according to the estimated rate of return of the pension fund from the date of termination to the date on which the pension was insured; and

(3) in all other cases, by discounting at the date of termination according to the estimated rate of return of the pension fund, for the period extending from the date of termination to the date of the termination report, the premium that would have been paid to an insurer at the date of the termination report, increased by a margin that allows for any variation in the cost of purchasing the pension between the latter date and the probable date of purchase.

In the cases referred to in subparagraphs 2 and 3 of the second paragraph, the liabilities shall also comprise the value of the pension payments to be made to a member by the pension fund between the date of termination and the date the pension begins to be paid by an insurer, such value being determined according to the rate referred to in the relevant subparagraph.

216. Any benefit derived from obligations arising from an amendment to the pension plan related to service completed in a period preceding the effective date of the amendment shall, for payment purposes, be reduced

(1) by 100%, if the period from the effective date of the amendment to the date of termination is less than one year;

(2) by 80%, if the period is one year or more, but less than two years;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (3) by 60%, if the period is two years or more, but less than three years;
- (4) by 40%, if the period is three years or more, but less than four years;
- (5) by 20%, if the period is four years or more, but less than five years.

1989, c. 38, s. 216; 1992, c. 60, s. 29; 2000, c. 41, s. 124.

217. Except in the case of a share of the surplus assets, any amount due to a member or beneficiary which, pursuant to the pension plan and the provisions of this Act, must be paid following the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan or the termination of the plan shall bear interest, from the date of termination to the date of payment, at the rate used to determine the value of the person's accrued benefits. The rate of interest must be the rate mentioned in section 44 or 45 and which is applicable to the contributions paid under the plan if the amount due is due

- (1) under a defined contribution plan;
- (2) under provisions of the plan which relate to additional voluntary contributions;
- (3) under provisions which, in a defined benefit plan, are identical to those of a defined contribution plan;
- (4) as member contributions that exceed the limits set under section 60; or
- (5) as amounts credited to the plan following a transfer, even a transfer other than a transfer under Chapter VII.

1989, c. 38, s. 217; 1992, c. 60, s. 30; 2000, c. 41, s. 125; 2006, c. 42, s. 33.

218. Where an employer withdraws from a multi-employer pension plan or a pension plan is terminated, the amounts to which the members and beneficiaries affected are entitled shall be paid out in the following order:

- (1) amounts corresponding to the following values, concurrently:
 - (a) the value of the additional voluntary contributions paid into the pension fund or to the insurer;
 - (b) the value of the member or employer contributions paid into the pension fund under provisions which, in a defined benefit plan, are identical to those of a defined contribution plan; and
 - (c) the value of amounts received by the pension plan following a transfer, even a transfer other than a transfer under Chapter VII;
- (2) the value of other benefits, excluding those referred to in subparagraph 4, accrued under the plan and reduced under section 216;
- (3) the value of any benefit reduction under section 216; and
- (4) the value of benefits payable to members under pension plan terms granting them compensation for cessation of continuous employment due to technological or economic changes in the employer's enterprise or to the division, merger, alienation or closing down of the enterprise.

If the assets are insufficient for the full satisfaction of the rights that are collocated in the same rank, payment shall be made proportionately to the value of the benefits concerned.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The benefits referred to in the first and second paragraphs are the benefits accrued under the plan at the date of termination. The value of those benefits must be established at that date, and is increased by the interest calculated in accordance with section 217.

1989, c. 38, s. 218; 1992, c. 60, s. 31; 2000, c. 41, s. 126; 2006, c. 42, s. 34.

§ 3. — Distribution of the assets

219. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 219; 1992, c. 60, s. 32.

220. Where an employer withdraws from a multi-employer pension plan or a multi-employer pension plan is terminated, the assets of the plan shall be distributed among the groups of benefits constituted pursuant to this subdivision, according to the value of the benefits in each group and the order of payment established by this Act.

The assets of the plan shall, for the purpose of such distribution, be increased by the amount representing the contributions that any employer who is a party to the plan has, at the date of termination, failed to pay into the pension fund or to the insurer.

1989, c. 38, s. 220; 2000, c. 41, s. 127.

221. The benefits of the members or beneficiaries not affected by the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan shall be determined at the date of termination, in accordance with sections 211 to 216.

1989, c. 38, s. 221; 2000, c. 41, s. 128.

222. Where an employer withdraws from a multi-employer pension plan, the benefits accumulated under the plan by the members or beneficiaries shall be divided into two groups, one of which shall consist of the benefits of the persons affected by the withdrawal.

Where two or more employers withdraw simultaneously from a multi-employer pension plan, the group of benefits of the members or beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal shall be distributed in accordance with section 223.

1989, c. 38, s. 222; 2000, c. 41, s. 129.

223. In the event of termination of a multi-employer plan, the benefits accumulated under the plan by the members or beneficiaries shall be divided into as many groups as there are employers, each group consisting of the benefits accumulated by members in respect of employment with the employer to whom the group of benefits pertains.

1989, c. 38, s. 223; 2000, c. 41, s. 203.

224. Where a member has been employed by more than one participating employer of a multi-employer pension plan, the benefits accumulated under the plan by that member shall, upon the withdrawal of one of the employers or upon the termination of the plan, be included in the group of benefits pertaining to the last employer by whom he was employed while he was an active member.

However, the first paragraph does not apply if the plan provides that, in such a case, the benefits accumulated by the member in respect of his employment with one of the employers shall be included in the group of benefits pertaining to that employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 224; 2000, c. 41, s. 130.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

225. Upon the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan or upon the termination of a multi-employer pension plan, the remainder of the benefits accrued to the members and beneficiaries affected by the previous withdrawal of an employer shall form a separate group of benefits.

1989, c. 38, s. 225; 2000, c. 41, s. 131.

226. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 226; 2000, c. 41, s. 131; 2015, c. 29, s. 52.

227. Any contribution which, at the date of termination of the pension plan, an employer who is a party to a multi-employer plan has failed to pay into the pension fund or to the insurer, as the case may be, must be deducted from that portion of the assets which is allocated to the group of benefits pertaining to that employer.

1989, c. 38, s. 227; 2000, c. 41, s. 132.

§ 4. — Debts of the employer

228. The amount to be funded to ensure full payment of the benefits of the members or beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan or the termination of a pension plan shall constitute a debt of the employer. The amount to be funded shall be established at the date of termination.

If, at the date of termination, the employer has failed to pay contributions into the pension fund or to the insurer, as the case may be, the debt shall be the amount by which the amount to be funded exceeds such contributions.

In the case of a multi-employer plan, this section applies to every employer who is a party to the plan and to whom a group of benefits under subdivision 3 consisting of the benefits of the members or beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal or termination pertains.

1989, c. 38, s. 228; 1992, c. 60, s. 33; 2000, c. 41, s. 133.

228.1. No provision of a defined benefit plan or defined benefit-defined contribution pension plan may operate to limit or reduce the obligations of an employer towards the plan because of the withdrawal of the employer from the pension plan or the termination of the pension plan.

2008, c. 21, s. 20.

229. Any amount owed by an employer under section 228 must, upon its determination, be paid into the pension fund or to the insurer, as the case may be. However, Retraite Québec may, on the conditions it determines, allow any employer to spread the payment of such amount over a period of not more than five years.

Any amount not paid into the pension fund or to the insurer shall bear interest from the date of default, at the rate determined pursuant to section 61 that was applicable at the date of termination.

1989, c. 38, s. 229; 2000, c. 41, s. 134; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

230. Any amount paid by an employer under this subdivision, including any amount recovered after the date of termination, particularly in respect of contributions outstanding and unpaid at the date of termination, shall be applied to the payment of benefits of members or beneficiaries in the order of priority established under this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 230; 2000, c. 41, s. 135.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

§ 4.0.1. — Payment options in the event of insufficient assets

2009, c. 1, s. 2.

230.0.0.1. This subdivision applies to pension plans to which Chapter X applies if

(1) the pension plan is amended to allow for the withdrawal of a participating employer or it is terminated;

(1.1) the employer who is a party to the plan is bankrupt or subject to an order or judgment under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. C-36), Part III of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. B-3) or the Winding-up Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. W-11);

(2) the date of withdrawal of the employer or the date of termination of the plan is subsequent to 30 December 2008 and the date of the employer's bankruptcy or the date of the order or the judgment referred to in paragraph 1.1;

(2.1) (paragraph repealed);

(3) on the date of withdrawal of the employer or termination of the plan, the assets do not permit payment in full of the benefits of the members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal or termination; and

(4) the assets necessary to pay the benefits are not likely to be recovered.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2010, c. 41, s. 3; 2011, c. 32, s. 1; 2015, c. 29, s. 53.

230.0.0.2. (Repealed).

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 29, s. 54.

230.0.0.3. A member or beneficiary affected by the withdrawal of an employer or the termination of a plan, to whom a pension is being paid on the date of withdrawal or termination and whose benefits are reduced by reason of insufficient assets, may request that his or her pension be guaranteed by an insurer or choose a pension paid out of the assets administered by Retraite Québec under section 230.0.0.4.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 55.

230.0.0.4. Retraite Québec shall exercise the powers of the pension committee with respect to the members and beneficiaries of a pension plan who chose the method of payment provided for in section 230.0.0.3 and over the assets of the plan that correspond to the part of the benefits of the members and beneficiaries payable under section 218. The pension committee, or the person or body to which such powers have been delegated or granted, becomes, to the same extent, disqualified from exercising such powers.

Retraite Québec may administer all or some of the plans together. In such a case, the plans administered together are deemed, for that purpose, to constitute a single plan.

In the exercise of such powers, Retraite Québec shall have the same obligations and liability as the pension committee.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 56.

230.0.0.5. Despite any other provision, with regard to the assets of a pension plan administered by Retraite Québec, only the members referred to in section 230.0.0.4 are considered members of the plan.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

230.0.0.6. Unless Retraite Québec elects to assume them, the expenses relating to the administration of the plan by Retraite Québec are borne by the part of the pension fund it administers.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

230.0.0.7. Retraite Québec may, in accordance with the terms and conditions prescribed by regulation of the Government, amend the pension plan to improve the benefits of the members and beneficiaries referred to in section 230.0.0.4.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

230.0.0.8. Section 243 does not apply to a decision made by Retraite Québec in the capacity of a trustee or while exercising the powers conferred on it by this subdivision.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

230.0.0.9. Retraite Québec must have an insurer guarantee the pension it pays to the members and beneficiaries referred to in section 230.0.0.4 not later than the end of the tenth fiscal year of the pension plan that follows the fiscal year during which Retraite Québec began exercising the powers of the pension committee with respect to those members and beneficiaries.

The second, third and fourth paragraphs of section 237 then apply, with the necessary modifications.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2011, c. 32, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 57.

230.0.0.10. If the assets of the plan administered by Retraite Québec are insufficient to pay the pensions as required, to have them guaranteed by an insurer or to pay the expenses relating to the administration, Retraite Québec may reduce the pensions of the members and beneficiaries.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 58.

230.0.0.11. The Government may make any regulation required for the purposes of this subdivision. It may, in particular,

(1) set the rules applicable to the determination of the value of the benefits accrued to the members and beneficiaries and to the distribution of the assets and liabilities of a pension plan to determine which part of the pension fund of the plan must be administered by Retraite Québec;

(2) prescribe the terms and conditions that make it possible to improve the benefits of the members and beneficiaries referred to in section 230.0.0.4; and

(3) prescribe the terms and conditions for reducing the pensions paid by Retraite Québec.

2009, c. 1, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 59.

230.0.0.12. (Repealed).

2010, c. 41, s. 4; 2015, c. 29, s. 60.

§ 4.1. — Distribution of surplus assets in the event of termination

230.0.1. (Section renumbered).

2000, c. 41, s. 136; 2015, c. 29, s. 61.

See section 230.1.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

230.1. The surplus assets of a terminated pension plan shall be equal to the amount by which the value of its assets as determined in accordance with section 212.1 exceeds the value of its liabilities as determined in accordance with that section.

In the case of a multi-employer pension plan, even not considered as such under section 11, or of a multi-employer pension plan that has already been amended to allow for the withdrawal of an employer, the surplus assets must be determined in respect of each employer as provided in subdivision 3.

1992, c. 60, s. 34; 2000, c. 41, s. 137; 2015, c. 29, s. 62; 2000, c. 41, s. 136; 2015, c. 29, s. 61.

230.1.1. (Replaced).

2000, c. 41, s. 138; 2015, c. 29, s. 62.

230.2. Any surplus assets of a terminated pension plan are first allocated concurrently to the employer and to the members and beneficiaries with benefits under defined benefit provisions, up to the amount of the contributions recorded, respectively, under the first and second paragraphs of section 42.2.

If the amount of surplus assets is less than the total amount of employer and employee contributions recorded under section 42.2, they must be allocated proportionately to the contributions recorded, respectively, under the first and second paragraphs of that section.

Any remaining surplus assets must be allocated in accordance with the conditions and procedure set out in the plan.

The portion allocated to the members and beneficiaries is apportioned among them proportionately to the value of their accrued benefits or according to another method set out in the plan.

1992, c. 60, s. 34; 2000, c. 41, s. 139; 2015, c. 29, s. 62.

235. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 235; 2000, c. 41, s. 144.

236. The right to benefits, other than a pension referred to in section 237, accrued under a pension plan to a member affected by the termination of the plan, shall be satisfied by means of a transfer under section 98, which applies with the necessary modifications. However, if a member whose pension was not in payment at the date of termination dies before the transfer is effected, the member's rights, except any entitlement to surplus assets, shall instead be satisfied by the payment of a lump sum benefit to the member's spouse or, if there is no spouse, to the member's successors.

For the purposes of this section, a member's spouse is the person who meets the requirements set out in section 85.

1989, c. 38, s. 236; 2000, c. 41, s. 145.

237. With the exception of a pension provided for in section 67.2 and the variable benefits provided for in section 90.1, the vested pension of a member or beneficiary affected by the termination of the pension plan, which is in payment or suspended on the date of the termination, shall be guaranteed by an insurer, according to the conditions prescribed by regulation.

The pension shall, subject to the exceptions prescribed by regulation, be a life pension and shall not be paid in any form other than that authorized by this Act.

If no pension of the type to which the member is entitled under the pension plan is available on the market, the pension committee may, in order to have an insurer guarantee the pension, replace the characteristics of the pension that make it unavailable on the market by similar characteristics that do not entail such a result.

The pension thus modified must, on the date payment begins, be of a value equal to that of the member's vested pension; however, if equal value cannot be attained because of the limits set under the Taxation Act (chapter I-3), an amount equal to the difference between the value of the pension to which the member is entitled and the value of the modified pension must be paid to the member in a lump sum. These values must be established on the basis of the actuarial assumptions referred to in section 61.

238. Any amount due to a member or beneficiary affected by the termination of the pension plan that is not claimed within three years after the expiry of the time limit provided in the first paragraph of section 207.2, shall be transferred to the Minister of Revenue; the amount may, however, be transferred before the expiry of that time if the only benefits remaining to be settled are due to untraceable members or beneficiaries. The transfer shall be accompanied by a statement setting out the amount due and indicating, where applicable, the name and last known address of the member or beneficiary.

The Unclaimed Property Act (chapter B-5.1) applies to the amount so transferred to the Minister of Revenue.

1989, c. 38, s. 238; 1997, c. 80, s. 76; 2000, c. 41, s. 147; 2005, c. 44, s. 54; 2011, c. 10, s. 98.

238.1. Subject to the provisions of section 238, failure by a person to assert his rights within the time prescribed by this Act shall deprive that person of the right to claim payment of the corresponding benefits out of the assets of the pension plan, unless that person shows, before the payment of the benefits of the affected members or beneficiaries begins, that it was impossible for him to act sooner or that he did not receive the information to which he was entitled under this Act for a reason outside his control.

1992, c. 60, s. 35.

239. The assets of an uninsured plan under which certain refunds or pension benefits are guaranteed by an insurer shall, where the plan is terminated or, in the case of a multi-employer pension plan, where an employer withdraws, include the value of the pension benefits guaranteed by the insurer, for the purposes of the settlement of the pension benefits of the members or beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal or termination.

1989, c. 38, s. 239; 2000, c. 41, s. 148.

240. If, in the case referred to in section 239, the value of the insured benefits accrued to the members or beneficiaries affected by a withdrawal from or the termination of a pension plan which the insurer would have to assume were it not for the withdrawal or termination exceeds the value of such benefits as established pursuant to this chapter, the insurer, at the request of the pension committee, must reduce its obligations towards those members and beneficiaries accordingly and insure the uninsured benefits of the members or beneficiaries, up to the amount of the excess.

This section shall not apply to impair the degree of solvency of the plan.

240.2. The members whose active membership ended three years or less before the date of termination of the plan and whose rights were satisfied before that date shall remain members, notwithstanding the provisions of the second paragraph of section 33, for the sole purpose of the apportionment of any surplus assets which may be made pursuant to this Act.

Whenever the first paragraph must be applied, the notice required under section 207.4 must also state the rules set out in this section.

240.3. Retraite Québec may, where it considers it in the best interests of the members and beneficiaries, exempt a terminated pension plan or a pension plan that is amended to allow for the withdrawal of an employer from the application of any provision of this chapter, subject to the specified conditions.

240.4. If the content, transmission or publication of a document provided for in this chapter is not in conformity with the prescriptions of this Act or the regulations, Retraite Québec may order the application, within the time and on the conditions it fixes, of any remedial measure it indicates. The order extends the time

CHAPTER XV

REGULATIONS OF RETRAITE QUÉBEC

244. Retraite Québec may, by regulation,

(1) determine the form and content of any document, certificate or attestation prescribed by this Act and the regulations;

(2) determine the documents and information that must accompany every application for registration of a pension plan or amendment;

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1*SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2.1) specify the conditions under which an employer may provide the pension committee with a letter of credit, as well as the form, amount and terms of such a letter;

(3) determine what income security programs are contemplated by section 58;

(3.0.1) (subparagraph repealed);

(3.1) determine the rules applicable to the establishment of the benefits of the member to whom a benefit has been paid under section 69.1;

(3.1.1) determine, for the purposes of section 90.1, the conditions and time limits applicable to the payment of the variable benefits;

(3.2) determine, for the purposes of section 91.1, under what conditions a pension may be replaced by a temporary pension;

(4) determine, for the purposes of section 92, under what conditions a pension may be replaced, the terms and conditions of the replacement pension contract and the methods, assumptions, rules or factors applicable in computing the maximum annual amount of pension;

(5) determine the benefits which, pursuant to paragraph 6 of section 93, may replace a pension to which a member or his spouse has become entitled, and the conditions attached to such a replacement;

(6) determine, for the purposes of section 98, the plans or annuity contracts not governed by this Act that are included in the expression “pension plan” and the norms applicable to such plans or contracts, or make all or part of this Act and the regulations applicable to them;

(7) determine, for the purposes of section 108, 109 or 110, the rules applicable to the determination of the benefits of the member and their value before and after partition of such benefits, a seizure for non-payment of support or payment of a compensatory allowance, and to the payment of benefits awarded to the spouse, in particular, the rules governing the transfer of the sums of money to which the spouse is entitled, the interest payable thereon and the information to be provided to the spouse within the prescribed time, and the obligations incumbent upon the person responsible for managing the sums thus transferred;

(8) determine any document which may be examined pursuant to section 114;

(8.0.1) determine the information to be contained in the notice required under section 119.1 and the attestations and documents to be included with it;

(8.0.2) determine the manner for setting the target level of the stabilization provision required under section 125, and the criteria according to which any scale established is to be applied;

(8.0.3) for the purposes of section 142.4, determine the funding requirements to be met by a payment of benefits in accordance with the annuity purchasing policy and the method for calculating and paying the special annuity purchasing payment;

(8.0.4) prescribe the requirements regarding the funding policy required under section 142.5;

Not in force

(8.1) determine the cases where a pension committee must furnish the guarantees described in section 156.1, and prescribe the amounts and the terms and conditions of such guarantees;

(8.2) prohibit that the assets of a pension plan be encumbered with an immovable hypothec or determine the maximum proportion of the book value of the assets of a plan that may be encumbered with an immovable hypothec;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (8.3) (subparagraph repealed);
- (8.4) determine the cases in which the audit of the financial report referred to in section 161 is not required;
- (8.5) determine the subjects, other than those mentioned in the first paragraph of section 166, that must be placed on the agenda of the annual meeting;
- (9) limit or prohibit the investment of the assets of a pension plan in certain forms of investments;
- (10) determine the security which must be furnished by persons or bodies to whom or which a loan may be granted under section 177;
- (10.1) prescribe the requirements regarding the annuity purchasing policy referred to in section 182.1;
- (11) determine the methods, assumptions, rules or factors which are applicable or prohibited for the purpose of calculating any contribution or benefit, refund, interest rate or rate of return and, where applicable, their actuarial value;
- (12) determine the methods, assumptions, rules or factors which are applicable or prohibited for the purpose of calculating the assets and liabilities of a plan and distributing them among the groups of benefits in particular upon the withdrawal of an employer from or the termination of a multi-employer plan, for the purpose of determining the value of the benefits of members and beneficiaries in particular for the purposes of Chapter XIII, and for the purposes of a conversion of the plan into a plan of another type, the division of the assets and liabilities of a plan among several plans or the merger of the assets and liabilities of several plans;
- (12.0.1) determine the conditions to be met by a pension insured pursuant to paragraph 3 of section 200 or section 237;
- (12.1) (subparagraph repealed);
- (13) determine the procedure for any matter within its competence, the applicable time limits and the required documents;
- (14) prescribe the fees payable for the financing of expenses incurred by Retraite Québec for the administration of this Act and the regulations and for any formality prescribed by this Act or the regulations, including fees which may be imposed as a penalty for a delay in carrying out such a formality or failure to provide within the time allotted any information or document provided for in this Act or required by Retraite Québec;
- (15) determine, among the provisions of any regulation made under this section, those provisions the contravention of which is punishable under Chapter XVII.

A regulation under subparagraph 4 of the first paragraph relating to factors applicable in computing the maximum annual amount of a replacement pension is not subject to the requirements of sections 8 and 17 of the Regulations Act (chapter R-18.1) as regards publication and the date of coming into force where Retraite Québec is of the opinion that the urgency of the situation justifies that it be so exempted.

A regulation made under subparagraph 8.2 or 9 may prescribe the cases in which and the types of plans to which it applies. It may also prescribe the conditions on which it applies to loans or investments existing on the date it comes into force.

To the extent that it relates to the application, with or without amendment, of a standard of practice of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries, a regulation under this section is not subject to the requirements of sections 8 and 17 of the Regulations Act (chapter R-18.1) as regards publication and the date of coming into force and may, if it so provides, have retroactive effect to a date that is prior to the date of its coming into force but not prior to the date the standard is approved by the Actuarial Standards Board of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The regulations of Retraite Québec shall be submitted to the Government for approval.

CHAPTER XVI

FUNCTIONS AND POWERS OF RETRAITE QUÉBEC

245. In addition to the other functions conferred on it by this Act, Retraite Québec shall ensure that pension plans are administered and operated according to law.

1989, c. 38, s. 245; 2011, c. 36, s. 25; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

246. To exercise its functions under this Act, Retraite Québec, in addition to the other powers conferred on it by this Act, the Act respecting Retraite Québec (chapter R-26.3) and the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9), may

- (1) (paragraph repealed);
- (2) provide information in the form of general or specific instructions regarding the administration of this Act;
- (3) carry out the inspection of any pension plan;
- (4) prepare, or cause to be prepared, any document prescribed or required by this Act and not furnished in accordance with this Act or the requirements of Retraite Québec, at the expense of the person who is required to furnish it;
- (5) in the case of a pension plan to which Chapter X does not apply, require from the pension committee or the insurer, on the conditions and within the time limits established by Retraite Québec, any document or information it considers necessary to measure the funding or solvency of the plan;
- (6) require from the pension committee or the insurer, on the conditions and within the time limits established by Retraite Québec, any document or information it considers necessary to ascertain whether a pension plan, an actuarial valuation or a document required under this Act or required by Retraite Québec is in conformity with this Act or with the requirements of Retraite Québec;
 - (6.1) require, subject to the conditions and within the time it fixes, that the pension committee or any party to a contract referred to in section 92 or to a pension plan or annuity contract to which sums may be transferred under section 98 provide it with any document or information Retraite Québec considers necessary for ascertaining that the requirements imposed by this Act in respect of the plan or contract are complied with;

(7) (paragraph repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 246; 1992, c. 60, s. 39; 1997, c. 19, s. 17; 2000, c. 41, s. 163; 2002, c. 52, s. 8; 2015, c. 20, s. 56; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

247. For the purpose of inspecting a pension plan, any inspector appointed by Retraite Québec may, at any reasonable time, enter any premises where the pension committee, the person exercising a delegated power or any party to the plan keeps a document relating to the plan, examine such document, and take an extract therefrom or make a copy thereof.

Whoever has custody, possession or control of the document shall, on request, make it available to the inspector and facilitate his examination of it.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

On request, the inspector shall identify himself and exhibit a certificate, issued by Retraite Québec, attesting his capacity.

1989, c. 38, s. 247; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

247.1. Retraite Québec, on the conditions it fixes, may authorize a departure from the limits established by a regulation made under subparagraph 8.2 or, with respect to immovable property investments, under subparagraph 9 of the first paragraph of section 244.

1994, c. 24, s. 25; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

248. Retraite Québec may make an order directing the pension committee, the person exercising a delegated power or any party to the pension plan to take any remedial measure determined by Retraite Québec within the time and on the conditions it fixes, where it is of the opinion that

- (1) his or its action is contrary to sound financial practices;
- (2) the assumptions, methods or scenarios used
 - for the actuarial valuation of the plan,
 - for the fixing of the interest rate applicable to contributions, or
 - in the preparation of a report or any other document required by Retraite Québec, do not accord with generally accepted actuarial or accounting principles;

(3) the assumptions, methods or scenarios used are inappropriate for the type of plan concerned or in view of its obligations, the financial position of the pension fund or the investment policy;

(4) (subparagraph repealed);

(5) the pension plan or its administration is not in compliance with this Act, for instance by reason of the fact that the plan is not being wound up in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XIII; or

(6) the content of a document provided for in this Act or required by Retraite Québec is not in compliance with the requirements of this Act or of Retraite Québec.

In addition, if Retraite Québec considers it necessary in the best interests of the members and beneficiaries, it may order any person who has custody, possession or control of funds, securities or other assets of a pension plan not to dispose of them without the authorization of Retraite Québec or otherwise than in accordance with the conditions it fixes.

1989, c. 38, s. 248; 2000, c. 41, s. 164; 2006, c. 42, s. 41; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 69.

249. The Minister or Retraite Québec may enter into agreements according to law with any government, government department, international body or agency of a government or international body for the purposes of this Act or any other Act applicable, in whole or in part, to pension plans.

The agreements may, in particular,

(1) where a pension plan is governed both by this Act and by an Act of a legislative body other than the Parliament of Québec, determine on what conditions and to what extent each Act applies to the plan in respect of the employees referred to in section 1 who are parties to the plan and prescribe any other rule applicable to the plan;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) determine on what conditions and to what extent this Act applies to benefits or assets transferred from a pension plan governed by this Act to a pension plan governed by an Act of a legislative body other than the Parliament of Québec;

(3) provide for the delegation of powers that this Act confers on Retraite Québec or that an Act of a legislative body other than the Parliament of Québec confers on a similar agency.

Every agreement bearing on a matter referred to in the second paragraph must be tabled in the National Assembly within 15 days after the date on which it is entered into if the Assembly is in session or, if not, within 15 days after the opening of the next session or resumption. The agreement acquires force of law from the time it is tabled in the National Assembly.

For the purposes of such an agreement, Retraite Québec may act as the mandatary of the department or agency with which the agreement has been made.

1989, c. 38, s. 249; 2000, c. 41, s. 165; 2015, c. 7, s. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

250. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 250; 1992, c. 60, s. 40; 2000, c. 41, s. 166; 2006, c. 42, s. 42; 2015, c. 20, s. 57.

251. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 251; 2009, c. 41, s. 8; 2015, c. 20, s. 57.

252. Every decision, order or notice of Retraite Québec that must be notified to the members or beneficiaries may be

(1) sent to the employer who shall, as soon as he receives it, post it conspicuously in his establishment in Québec employing the largest number of members concerned, in an area ordinarily frequented by them;

(2) published in a daily newspaper circulated in the locality where that establishment is situated; or

(3) sent to the members of the pension committee who are either plan members or persons designated by the plan members and beneficiaries and to every certified association representing plan members.

Where Retraite Québec uses either of the modes of transmission provided for in subparagraphs 1 and 2 of the first paragraph, a summary of the decision or order may be substituted for the integral text thereof.

1989, c. 38, s. 252; 2000, c. 41, s. 167; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

253. Retraite Québec shall periodically post a bulletin on its website, containing information on its activities and the general instructions it provides pursuant to paragraph 2 of section 246.

1989, c. 38, s. 253; 2006, c. 42, s. 43; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

254. Where, for the purposes of a decision, a problem arises as to the interpretation of this Act or a pension plan, Retraite Québec may, where it is of the opinion that the interest of the parties to the plan warrants a prompt solution of the problem, postpone its decision and submit the problem to the court by way of an application.

Article 142 of the Code of Civil Procedure (chapter C-25.01) applies, adapted as required.

1989, c. 38, s. 254; 1997, c. 43, s. 662; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; I.N. 2016-01-01 (NCCP).

255. Retraite Québec may apply to a judge of the Superior Court to obtain an injunction in respect of any matter contemplated by this Act.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The application for an injunction shall in itself constitute an action.

The procedure provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure (chapter C-25.01) applies except that Retraite Québec cannot be required to give security.

1989, c. 38, s. 255; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; I.N. 2016-01-01 (NCCP).

256. Retraite Québec may, of its own initiative and without notice, intervene in any civil action or arbitration proceedings pertaining to this Act to participate in the trial.

1989, c. 38, s. 256; 1992, c. 60, s. 41; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; I.N. 2016-01-01 (NCCP).

256.1. Retraite Québec may intervene before the Administrative Tribunal of Québec in any proceeding relating to this Act at any time until the end of the hearing.

If it wishes to intervene, Retraite Québec shall send a notice to each of the parties and to the Tribunal; Retraite Québec is thereupon considered to be a party to the proceeding.

2000, c. 41, s. 168; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

CHAPTER XVII

PENAL PROVISIONS

257. Every person is liable to a fine of $500 to $25,000 who:

(1) contravenes any provision of the first paragraph of section 14 or 16, sections 17, 25, 26, 39, 41, 42, 43, 51, 58, 119, 119.1, 142.5, 158, 159, 161, 166, 168, 169, 171.1 to 176, 179 and 210, subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 252 and section 307;

(1.1) permits the allocation of all or part of the surplus assets determined upon termination of a pension plan otherwise than as provided in subdivision 4.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII;

(2) contravenes any regulatory provision made under subparagraph 9 of the first paragraph of section 244 where, for the purposes of subparagraph 15 of the first paragraph of the said section, such contravention is punishable by a penalty;

(3) contravenes any order issued by Retraite Québec under section 35, 240.4 or 248;

(4) makes a false declaration, hinders or attempts to hinder Retraite Québec, a member of its personnel, a provisional administrator, any person to whom Retraite Québec has delegated a power or any inspector appointed by Retraite Québec, in the carrying out of its or his duties;

(5) makes a false declaration for the purpose of obtaining

(a) a temporary pension under section 91.1;

(b) a temporary or life pension or a lump-sum payment under section 92;

(c) a temporary or life pension or a lump-sum payment payable under a pension plan or annuity contract prescribed by regulation pursuant to the third paragraph of section 98.

1989, c. 38, s. 257; 1992, c. 60, s. 42; 1997, c. 19, s. 18; 2000, c. 41, s. 169; 2006, c. 42, s. 44; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, s. 70.

258. Every person is liable to a fine of not over $2,000 who

(1) contravenes any provision of sections 111 to 114, 143 to 145, 165.1, 182, 200, 202, 207.1 to 207.4, 209.1, the second paragraph of section 310.1 and sections 313 and 314;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) contravenes any regulatory provision other than the provision referred to in paragraph 2 of section 257, where, for the purposes of subparagraph 15 of the first paragraph of section 244, such contravention is punishable by a penalty.

1989, c. 38, s. 258; 1992, c. 60, s. 43; 2000, c. 41, s. 170; 2006, c. 42, s. 45; 2015, c. 29, s. 71.

259. Where any of the offences under sections 257 and 258 is committed by a legal person, the amount of the fine is three times the amount prescribed.

1989, c. 38, s. 259.

260. Every person who, through encouragement or advice or by his orders, incites another person to commit an offence under section 257 or 258 is guilty of the offence and of any other offence committed by the other person as a result of such encouragement, advice or orders, if he knew or ought to have known that it would probably result in the commission of the offence.

1989, c. 38, s. 260.

261. Every person who, by his act or omission, aids another person to commit an offence under section 257 or 258 is guilty of the offence as if he had committed it himself, if he knew or ought to have known that his act or omission would probably result in aiding the commission of the offence.

1989, c. 38, s. 261.

262. In the event of a subsequent offence, the fine is twice the amount prescribed for a first offence.

1989, c. 38, s. 262.

263. In determining the fines, the court shall take into account the prejudice involved and the benefits derived from the offence, if any.

1989, c. 38, s. 263.

CHAPTER XVIII

MISCELLANEOUS AND TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

264. Unless otherwise provided by law, the following amounts or contributions are unassignable and unseizable:

- (1) all contributions paid or payable into the pension fund or to the insurer, with accrued interest;
- (2) all amounts refunded or pension benefits paid under a pension plan or this Act;
- (3) all amounts awarded to the spouse of a member following partition or any other transfer of benefits effected pursuant to Chapter VIII, with accrued interest, and the benefits deriving from such amounts.

Except as far as they derive from additional voluntary contributions or represent a portion of the surplus assets allocated after termination of the plan, any of the above-mentioned amounts that have been transferred to a pension plan contemplated by section 98, with accrued interest, any refunds of and benefits resulting from such amounts, and any pension or payment having replaced a pension pursuant to section 92 are also unassignable and unseizable.

281. (Amendment integrated into c. S-40, s. 25).

1989, c. 38, s. 281.

282. Every provision of another Act requiring the approval of the Régie as a condition precedent to the coming into force of a plan, an amendment or an agreement with respect to the transfer of benefits, obligations or assets is hereby repealed as to that requirement.

1989, c. 38, s. 282.

283. This Act replaces the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17).

1989, c. 38, s. 283; 1992, c. 60, s. 45; 2000, c. 41, s. 172.

284. Every registration of a plan made and every certificate of registration issued under the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) remain valid.

The same applies to every other decision rendered under the said Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 284.

285. Every agreement entered into pursuant to section 74 of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) remains effective.

Such agreements may, however, be amended, replaced or repealed in accordance with this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 285.

286. Subject to section 311.1, the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) continues to apply to matters pending on 31 December 1989 before Retraite Québec, except matters related to the approval of amendments to a pension plan reducing the amounts or values of the benefits of the members or beneficiaries or concerning — the conversion of the plan into a plan of another type,

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- the substitution of the employer who is a party to the plan,
- the division of the plan's assets and liabilities among several plans, or
- the merging of the assets and liabilities of several plans, to which sections 20 to 23 and Chapter XII apply.

Any application for review filed after 31 December 1989 with respect to a decision rendered by Retraite Québec before that date shall be decided in accordance with the Act respecting supplemental pension plans.

This section shall not be construed as invalidating any thing that has been validly done.

1989, c. 38, s. 286; 1992, c. 60, s. 46; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

286.1. With the exception of the application for review referred to in section 286 which remain subject to the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17), and subject to the provisions of sections 308.2 and 311.1, any applications for review pending before the Régie on 1 January 1993, or introduced after that date and relating to decisions rendered before that date, shall be decided according to the provisions of this Act as they read before that date.

Likewise, applications for review before the Régie and contestations before the Administrative Tribunal of Québec pending on 31 December 2000 or introduced after that date but relating to decisions rendered before that date shall be decided according to the provisions of this Act as they read before that date.

1992, c. 60, s. 47; 2000, c. 41, s. 173.

287. Proceedings for an offence against the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) are instituted or continued in accordance with the said Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 287.

288. Unless otherwise provided by this chapter, this Act also applies in respect of service credited under a pension plan before 1 January 1990.

1989, c. 38, s. 288.

288.0.1. The orders made by the Government under section 2 as it read before 5 December 2000 are deemed to be regulations.

2000, c. 41, s. 174.

288.0.2. Section 2.1 only applies to a pension plan registered before 5 December 2000 if

- (1) the pension committee has made a written application to that effect to the Régie;
- (2) the pension plan has been amended, if necessary, to satisfy the requirements set out in the first paragraph of section 2.1;
- (3) all members and beneficiaries at the date of the application under subparagraph 1 have been notified in writing that their pension plan would no longer be subject to this Act and have consented thereto;
- (4) the fees prescribed by regulation have been fully paid to the Régie in respect of the last complete fiscal year of the plan; and
- (5) the Régie has revoked the registration of the plan, after making sure that all the conditions of this section were fulfilled.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Section 2.1 only applies to a pension plan registered after 4 December 2000 that does not satisfy the requirements set out in that section at the date of its registration if the requirements set out in the first paragraph of this section are satisfied after the benefits that were transferred into the pension plan are transferred into another plan in accordance with section 98.

2000, c. 41, s. 174.

288.1. The provisions of any defined contribution pension plan that are in force on 31 December 2015 and that pertain to the allocation or appropriation of surplus assets apply, as of 1 January 2016, to the balance of surplus assets referred to in subparagraphs 16 and 17 of the second paragraph of section 14.

1992, c. 60, s. 48; 2000, c. 41, s. 203; 2015, c. 29, s. 72.

288.1.1. (Replaced).

2008, c. 21, s. 23; 2015, c. 29, s. 72.

288.2. The letters of credit provided in accordance with section 42.1 before 1 January 2016 are, as of that date, considered to be provided under that section as it applies from that date.

1992, c. 60, s. 48; 1997, c. 43, s. 664; 2000, c. 41, s. 175; 2015, c. 29, s. 72.

288.3. If contributions paid before 1 January 2016 were, in accordance with the plan, the subject of special monitoring to allow for the subsequent appropriation or allocation of surplus assets, those contributions must be recorded in accordance with section 42.2 as of that date. The special monitoring must be shown in the actuarial valuation of the plan as at 31 December 2015.

2008, c. 21, s. 24; 2015, c. 29, s. 72.

288.4. The conditions set out in section 20 do not apply to an amendment to a pension plan made before 1 January 2017 to remove the additional pension benefit referred to in section 60.1 or the equivalent benefit or portion of benefit offered by the plan to replace the additional pension benefit.

2015, c. 29, s. 72.

289. Subject to the provisions of section 45.1, member contributions or additional voluntary contributions paid by a member into the pension fund or to the insurer, as the case may be, before 1 January 1990, with accrued interest, if any, shall bear interest from 1 January 1990 at the rate referred to in section 44 or 45.

1989, c. 38, s. 289; 1992, c. 60, s. 49; 2000, c. 41, s. 176.

289.0.1. Where, before 1 January 2001, an uninsured pension plan other than a defined contribution plan provided that interest would be credited to member contributions or additional voluntary contributions at the monthly rate of return on personal five-year term deposits with chartered banks, as compiled by the Bank of Canada, such contributions, with interest accrued, shall bear interest, from that date and notwithstanding section 20, at the rate of return obtained on the investment of the plan assets, less investment expenses and administration costs.

The first paragraph applies to the contributions referred to therein to the extent that they relate to uninsured benefits or refunds.

2000, c. 41, s. 177.

289.1. Section 59, as it read prior to 5 June 1997, shall continue to apply to a pension to which the member or spouse is entitled on that same date the amount of which is adjusted to take into account an amount equal to the benefits determined under the Old Age Security Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter O-9), the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) or a similar plan within the meaning of paragraph u of section 1 of the latter Act.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

1997, c. 19, s. 20.

289.2. Paragraph 4 of section 59 does not apply to a member whose pension was in payment before 1 January 2001.

2000, c. 41, s. 178.

290. Unless otherwise stipulated, section 60 does not apply to the benefit to which a member or beneficiary is entitled in respect of service credited under the plan for a period of employment prior to 1 January 1990, without prejudice to the application to that benefit of section 61.

1989, c. 38, s. 290; 1992, c. 60, s. 50.

290.1. (Repealed).

2000, c. 41, s. 179; 2015, c. 29, s. 73.

291. The value of the benefits to which section 60 does not apply and to which a member or a beneficiary is entitled in respect of service credited under the plan before 1 January 1990 shall be equal to or greater than the member contributions paid into the plan by the member before that date, with interest accrued to the date on which the value of the benefit is determined, calculated at the rate provided under the plan for the period prior to 1 January 1990 and, subject to the provisions of section 45.1, at the rate referred to in section 44 for the subsequent period.

The value of the benefit shall be determined at the date on which the member or beneficiary becomes entitled thereto, on the basis of the assumptions referred to in section 61 which are applicable to determine the value of other benefits vested at that date in respect of service credited after 31 December 1989.

1989, c. 38, s. 291; 1992, c. 60, s. 51; 2000, c. 41, s. 180.

291.1. Section 61, as it read before 1 January 2001, continues to apply to the determination of the value of the benefits accrued to members or beneficiaries made on the basis of an earlier date.

2000, c. 41, s. 181.

292. Articles 2445 to 2459 of the Civil Code apply, with the necessary modifications, to the revocation of the designation of any person who, on 31 December 1989, is a beneficiary designated by a member.

A member may, however, where the beneficiary is his spouse and the designation has been made without a stipulation as to the revocability or irrevocability of the designation, render the designation revocable by way of a writing to that effect transmitted to the pension committee or to the insurer before 1 January 1992. If the member dies before that date and had not transmitted such a writing, the designation of his spouse is deemed to be revocable.

Within 12 months after 31 December 1989, the pension committee or the insurer shall transmit a copy of this section to every member to whom the second paragraph applies.

1989, c. 38, s. 292; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 182.

292.1. With respect to a pension plan to which a municipality is a party, subdivision 0.1 of Division III of Chapter VI does not apply to members in the employ of the municipality unless the council of the municipality adopts a resolution explicitly providing that it applies to them.

296. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 296; 2000, c. 41, s. 183.

297. Any pension postponed before 1 April 1982 or between 1 April 1982 and 1 January 1990 shall be adjusted in such a manner as to ensure that the pension payable at the end of the postponement is actuarially equivalent, in the former case, to the pension the payment of which would have begun on 1 April 1982 had the pension not been postponed and, in the latter case, to the pension the payment of which would have begun on the date on which the member would have attained normal retirement age had the pension not been postponed.

Such adjustment must not create only surpluses in the pension fund of the plan nor must it create only unfunded liabilities.

1989, c. 38, s. 297.

298. The provisions of subdivision 7 of Division III of Chapter VI relating to the rights of a surviving spouse prevail, where the death of a member occurs after 31 December 1989, over any inconsistent provision which, before that date, gave entitlement to death benefits.

1989, c. 38, s. 298.

299. Service credited to a member under the pension plan before 1 January 1990 shall not be taken into account for the purposes of section 86, unless the plan is amended after 1 January 1990 to increase the benefits accumulated in respect of service credited before that date, in which case section 86 applies to the benefits resulting from the increase.

In addition, the successors of a member who dies between 31 December 1989 and 1 January 2001 shall be entitled to a lump sum benefit equal to or greater than the member contributions and additional voluntary contributions paid by the member before 31 December 1989, with interest accrued to the date of payment of the benefit, calculated at the rate provided in the plan for the period prior to 1 January 1990 and, subject to the provisions of section 45.1, at the rate referred to in section 44 for the subsequent period.

Where the death occurs after 31 December 2000, the benefit provided for in the second paragraph shall be made to the member's spouse or, if there is no surviving spouse, to the member's successors. However, the spouse may waive entitlement to such benefit, in which case section 88.1 applies, with the necessary modifications. Moreover, this paragraph does not apply if the surviving spouse is entitled, as of the member's death, to a pension the value of which is equal to or greater than the benefit provided for in the second paragraph.

For the purposes of this section, a member's spouse is the person who meets the requirements set out in section 85.

1989, c. 38, s. 299; 1992, c. 60, s. 53; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 184.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

299.1. A lump sum benefit payable under section 86 in respect of a death having occurred before 1 January 2001 shall bear interest, from that date until the date of payment, at the rate used to determine the amount of the benefit.

2000, c. 41, s. 185.

300. Section 87 does not apply to the spouse of a member where the member began to receive, before 1 January 1990, a pension the amount of which is adjusted to take into account an amount equal to the benefits determined under the Old Age Security Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter O-9), the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) or a similar plan within the meaning of paragraph u of section 1 of the latter Act or a pension under Division III of Chapter VI or subparagraph 2 or 3 of the first paragraph of section 93.

1989, c. 38, s. 300; 1997, c. 19, s. 21.

300.1. If a member dies during the period in which all or part of his pension is postponed, the second paragraph of section 299 does not apply; however, the value of the benefit provided for in that paragraph shall, in determining the spouse's benefits, be added to the value established under subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 88 or, where there is no spouse, to the value of the benefit referred to in the third paragraph of that section.

1994, c. 24, s. 27.

300.2. Section 89, as it read before 1 January 2001, continues to apply to the exceptions provided for therein where the court judgment became effective or, as the case may be, the conjugal relationship ended after 31 August 1990 but before 1 January 2001.

2000, c. 41, s. 186.

300.3. The last paragraph of section 85 applies to a person separated from bed and board from a member who dies or whose pension begins to be paid, as the case may be, after 31 December 2000 regardless of the date on which the judgment granting separation from bed and board was rendered or became effective.

2000, c. 41, s. 186.

300.4. Section 89.1 only applies to divorces, marriage annulments, separations from bed and board, dissolutions or annulments of a civil union and cessations of conjugal relationship having become effective after 31 December 2000. However, whether or not benefits have been partitioned, an application under that section may be submitted by a member whose divorce, marriage annulment, separation from bed and board or cessation of conjugal relationship became effective before that date; the member's pension is established as of the date of the application and not as of the effective date of the judgment or cessation of conjugal relationship.

2000, c. 41, s. 186; 2002, c. 6, s. 201.

301. Notwithstanding section 94, an amount equal to the benefits determined under the Old Age Security Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, chapter O-9) may serve, in determining the normal pension, to reduce the benefits accumulated by a member in respect of service credited under the plan before 1 January 1990 to the extent provided for in the plan before that date.

In no case may the reduction exceed 1/35 of that amount in respect of any year of service credited to the member.

1989, c. 38, s. 301.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

302. The amount referred to in the first paragraph of section 95 shall be determined as of 1 January 1990 if, before that date, the member becomes entitled to a pension the amount of which is not determined before that date.

1989, c. 38, s. 302.

303. Notwithstanding subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 98, a member is entitled to transfer the amount representing the value of a pension benefit to which he has become entitled before 1 January 1990 only if the plan so provides.

1989, c. 38, s. 303; 2000, c. 41, s. 187.

304. (Repealed).

1989, c. 38, s. 304; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 188.

305. Where an insurer has guaranteed, before 2 June 1989, refunds or pension benefits accrued to a member in respect of service credited to him under a pension plan before that date, the transfer of such benefits pursuant to section 98 may, if the member was an active member at that date, be made by subrogating the member in the rights of the pension fund as regards the contract entered into with the insurer.

The value of the guaranteed benefits so transferred shall not exceed the value of the refunds or pension benefits that would result therefrom if the latter value were determined on the basis of actuarial assumptions and methods identical to those which, on the date of the subrogation made in favour of the member, are used to determine the value of unguaranteed pension benefits to which section 60 applies and that are vested on that date.

1989, c. 38, s. 305; 2000, c. 41, s. 189.

305.1. For the purposes of its application before 1 January 2010, section 113.1 reads as if “the second paragraph of section 146.3.1,” were struck from subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph.

2008, c. 21, s. 26.

305.2. The date of the actuarial valuation referred to in section 121 must be later than 14 December 2009.

306.7. Sections 119, 130, 133, 134 and 138, as they read before 1 January 2001, continue to apply to actuarial valuations dated prior to 15 December 2000.

2000, c. 41, s. 190.

306.7.1. In the case of members or beneficiaries of a pension plan who have given the required consent to the application of the procedures set out in section 8 of the Act respecting the funding of certain pension plans (2005, chapter 25), as long as amortization amounts remain to be paid with respect to the amount or balance for which the amortization procedures are set out in that section, no amendment concerning the benefits of the members or beneficiaries whose consent was required may be made to the plan unless a special amortization payment equal to the value of the additional obligations arising from the amendment and determined on a solvency basis, is paid into the pension fund.

The special amortization payment must be paid as soon as the report on the first actuarial valuation to take the amendment into consideration is sent to the Régie. Any interest accrued since the valuation date is added, calculated at the rate referred to in section 48 of this Act.

The amortization amounts referred to in the first paragraph include those considered to be amortization payments under section 49 of the Act to amend the Supplemental Pension Plans Act, particularly with respect to the funding and administration of pension plans (2006, chapter 42).

2008, c. 21, s. 27.

306.8. Where an agreement or an arbitration award pursuant to the Act respecting the negotiation of agreements concerning the reduction of labour costs in the municipal sector (1998, chapter 2) provides for the appropriation of the surplus assets of a pension plan to the payment of employer contributions, Chapter X.1 can only apply in respect of the pension plan before the expiry of the agreement or award if the municipal body concerned and all certified associations representing members so agree.

2000, c. 41, s. 190.

306.9. Except in the case of a pension plan resulting from the division of a pension plan that was not amended pursuant to section 146.5, the provisions of a pension plan that comes into force after 31 December 2009 pertaining to the employer's right to appropriate all or part of the surplus assets to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from any amendment to the plan and those of a pension plan that comes into force after 31 December 2000 pertaining to the employer's right to appropriate all or part of the surplus assets to the payment of employer contributions prevail over any other provision of the plan or of an agreement and are binding on every party having rights or obligations under the plan.

No amendment to a pension plan resulting from the division of a pension plan that was amended under section 146.5 in relation to the employer's right to appropriate all or part of the surplus assets to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from any amendment to the plan or to the payment of employer contributions may pertain to the subject of that amendment unless all the requirements set out in the first paragraph of section 146.5 and in section 146.6 are satisfied.

2000, c. 41, s. 190; 2006, c. 42, s. 47.

306.10. Only refunds and pension benefits that become payable after 31 December 2000 are subject to offsetting pursuant to section 163.1.

2000, c. 41, s. 190.

306.11. Sections 18, 32, 56, 165, 190, Chapter XIII except section 240.2 and paragraphs 1 and 3 of section 240.3, paragraph 12 of section 244, paragraph 6 of section 246 and sections 309 to 311.1, as they read on 31 December 2000, continue to apply

(1) to matters pending before the Régie on 31 December 2000;

(2) to total terminations having occurred before 1 January 2001 and partial terminations affecting members whose active membership ended before that date, whether or not the termination results from the withdrawal of an employer from a multi-employer pension plan, provided that

(a) if the employer decided to terminate the plan, the members were duly advised in writing, as provided by law; and

(b) if the Régie decided to terminate the plan by reason of the employer's failure to collect member contributions or to pay employer contributions or the member contributions collected into the pension fund or to the insurer, or by reason of a decrease in the number of active members, the event that warranted the Régie's decision occurred between 31 December 1999 and 1 January 2001.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, a partial termination can only affect members whose active membership ended before 1 January 2001.

Section 32.1 does not apply to terminations to which this section applies.

2000, c. 41, s. 190.

306.12. Section 230.1.1 applies to any pension plan whose assets are not entirely liquidated on 1 January 2001 insofar as the employer did not transmit a draft agreement before that date to the pension committee concerning the allocation of surplus assets in accordance with section 230.2 as it read before that date.

2000, c. 41, s. 190.

306.13. Section 240.2 only applies to members whose active membership ended after 31 December 2000.

2000, c. 41, s. 190.

306.14. Section 240.3 applies even to terminations having occurred before 1 January 2001 and to terminations pending before the Régie on that date, except partial terminations referred to in section 306.11, in whose respect paragraph 2 of section 240.3, as it read before 1 January 2001, continues to apply.

2000, c. 41, s. 190.

307. Every person or body administering a pension plan shall, within five years from the date the plan becomes subject to this Act or within any extension of that period that may be granted by the Régie, regularize any investment of the assets of the plan made before that date which is not in conformity with this Act.

An additional period of 12 months shall be granted for the adoption of an investment policy which is in conformity with sections 169 and 170.

However, any investment made before 1 January 1990 in the name of the plan may, notwithstanding section 171, remain in the name of the plan.

1989, c. 38, s. 307.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

307.1. Every person or body administering a pension plan shall, within five years from 1 January 2001 or before the expiry of such extension as may be granted by the Régie, regularize any investment of the assets of the plan made before 1 January 2001 that was in conformity with this Act as it read before that date but is not in conformity with this Act as it reads from that date.

Where a pension plan in force on 31 December 2000 authorizes members to distribute all or part of the amounts credited to them among various investments, the investment options offered must, if need be, be brought into conformity with the provisions of section 168 as it reads from 1 January 2001 within one year from that date.

The right to a transfer provided for and the applicable conditions set out respectively in subparagraph b of subparagraph 3 of the first paragraph and the second paragraph of section 173 as it read before 1 January 2001 shall continue to apply until 31 December 2001 to deposits to which those provisions are applicable.

1994, c. 24, s. 29; 2000, c. 41, s. 191.

308. Where a pension plan is under trusteeship on 1 January 1990, the curator appointed under section 56 of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) shall continue to act as the provisional administrator as if he had been appointed under this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 308.

308.1. Any pension plan to which the second paragraph of section 288.1 applies and of which division of the assets and liabilities must be authorized by the Régie is deemed, for the purposes of the second paragraph of section 195, to include a provision which, in case of termination, allocates the surplus assets to the members and beneficiaries only.

1992, c. 60, s. 54; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 203.

308.2. Members affected by the partial termination of a pension plan whose settlement is pending before the Régie on 1 January 1993, shall, notwithstanding the repeal of section 213 as it read before that date, retain the rights in the surplus assets that the draft termination report proposes to allocate to them, provided that

(1) where the date of the termination occurs before 14 May 1992, the pension committee has, before that date, sent the statement provided for in section 203 to the affected members or, if it did not do so, provided that the prescribed period for so doing expired before that date;

(2) where the date of the termination occurs before 1 January 1993, the employer has, before that date, agreed in writing to grant such rights to the affected members, even where the statement provided for in section 203 has not been sent to them before that date.

1992, c. 60, s. 54.

308.3. In cases where, before 1 January 1993, the Régie has only approved in part the draft termination report relating to the partial termination of a plan occurring on a date before 1 January 1993, thus postponing its decision regarding the allocation of all or part of the surplus assets, and in cases where the Régie rendered a decision relating to a notice of termination or a decision partially terminating a pension plan, provided its decision approving the draft termination report or the termination report itself was rendered after 31 December 1992, those members affected by the termination whose benefits were paid shall remain members, notwithstanding the second paragraph of section 33, for the sole purpose of the apportionment of any surplus of assets which may be determined in the event of termination of the plan.

However, if the date of the partial termination precedes the date of the total termination of the plan by seven years or more, members whose rights were thus satisfied shall only retain their status as members for the said purpose if they present their claim to the pension committee within the prescribed time.

Whenever the provisions of the second paragraph are to be applied, the notice required to be published under the second paragraph of section 230.4 must set out the rules established by this section. However, where a case has been referred to arbitration under section 230.7 without publication of the notice, the pension committee shall, upon being informed of the referral to arbitration, cause to be published in a daily newspaper circulated in the region in Québec where the greatest number of members who were active at the date of termination reside, a notice of the application for arbitration setting out the rules established by this section, and informing interested parties that, until the matter is taken under advisement, they may present their claim to the pension committee. A copy of the public notice must be sent without delay to the Régie.

The pension committee is exempted from the obligation to publish the notice if all members and beneficiaries who may have rights under the pension plan or under this Act have been personally advised.

310.1. For the purposes of the provisions of subdivision 4.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII, persons whose benefits under a pension plan have been paid before 1 January 1990 by means of an annuity contract entered into with an insurer, and persons designated as beneficiaries under the terms of such a contract who are still entitled to benefits thereunder, are deemed to be members or beneficiaries, as the case may be, provided that, in all cases, the interested parties have acted within the prescribed time limits.

In addition, each time the provisions of the said sections are to be applied following the termination of a pension plan which was in force on 1 January 1990, the notice of which publication is required under section 230.4 shall also state the rule established by the first paragraph of this section. However, if the matter was submitted to arbitration under section 230.7 without publication of the notice, the pension committee shall, as soon as it is informed that the matter will be submitted to arbitration, cause to be published in a daily newspaper circulated in the region of Québec in which the greatest number of members who were active at the date of termination reside, a notice mentioning the application for arbitration and the rule established by the first paragraph of this section, and informing the interested parties that they may, until the matter is taken under advisement, assert their rights with the committee. A copy of the notice shall be sent forthwith to the Régie.

The pension committee is exempted from the obligation to publish the notice if all the members and beneficiaries who may be entitled to assert rights under the plan or under this Act have been notified personally.

1992, c. 60, s. 55; 1999, c. 40, s. 254; 2000, c. 41, s. 194.

310.2. An employer that is required to send to the members the notice provided for in the first paragraph of section 230.4 or to publish the notice provided for in the second paragraph of that section must, except where exercising powers delegated by the pension committee, indicate therein that any opposition to the draft agreement on the part of the members and beneficiaries concerned must be filed in writing with the Régie.

Section 230.6 shall apply in such cases having regard to any opposition communicated to the Régie under this section.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

311.1. The provisions of subdivision 4.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII also apply to the apportionment of the surplus assets of any pension plan in force on 1 January 1993, except where that surplus is the subject of

(1) legal proceedings pending on 14 May 1992;

(2) an apportionment proposed in a draft termination report which grants all the surplus to the members and beneficiaries, if one of the following conditions is met:

— the Régie has, before 14 May 1992, considered the draft report to be in conformity with this Act, and the pension committee has, before that date, sent a statement of benefits to the members and beneficiaries or, where it has neglected to do so, provided that the time limit for doing so expires before that date;

— the draft termination report has been sent to the Régie before 1 January 1993, and the employer has consented in writing to such an apportionment; the apportionment must also be in conformity with the law applicable before the above date;

(3) an apportionment provided for in an agreement made before 1 January 1993, pursuant to subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 43 of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17), provided, however, — that the Régie has been informed of the agreement before that date and that it has subsequently judged that the apportionment is fair for all the members affected by the termination and the information pertaining thereto to be given to them is adequate;

— that the members have been informed of the agreement before the expiry of the sixth month following the decision of the Régie on the apportionment provided for therein;

— that less than 30% of the members have, within 60 days after the date on which they were informed of the agreement, informed the Régie, in writing, of their opposition thereto.

Where the conditions prescribed by this paragraph are satisfied, the agreement is binding on the parties and on every member who has rights under plan. The same has always applied to any such agreement when the conditions prescribed in subparagraphs a and b of paragraph 2 of section 43 of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans have been satisfied;

(4) an order made by the Government under section 43.1 of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans has authorized payment to the employer of all or part of the surplus assets.

Where the surplus assets to be apportioned in accordance with the provisions of subdivision 4.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII result from a terminated pension plan which continues to be governed by the Act respecting supplemental pension plans pursuant to section 286, the Régie may require, as a condition for approval of the report relating to the termination, that it be provided, in the conditions and within the period it fixes, with any information or document in addition to the said report and relating to the apportionment of such surplus assets.

311.5. Except in cases to which section 266 applies, sections 243.3, 243.6 and 243.7, as they read before 1 January 2001, continue to apply to pension plans whose administrator is not a pension committee whose composition is in accordance with section 147.

2000, c. 41, s. 199.

311.6. The first paragraph of section 23, sections 56, 66, 69 and 71, paragraph 3 of section 86, paragraph 1 of section 98, the first paragraph of section 197 and sections 293 to 296 and 303, as they read before 1 January 2001, continue to apply to the rights and benefits of members whose active membership ended before that date.

Section 66, as it reads subsequent to 31 December 2000, also applies to the rights and benefits referred to in the first paragraph.

2000, c. 41, s. 199.

311.7. The list of possible arbitrators drawn up in accordance with section 243.17 as it read before 1 January 2001 is deemed to have been drawn up by the Minister in accordance with that section as it reads from that date.

2000, c. 41, s. 199.

312. In addition to the transitional provisions contained in this chapter, the Régie may, by regulation, make any other transitional provision to facilitate the administration of this Act; the regulations may, in particular, determine on what conditions and to what extent this Act applies to a pension plan that is also governed by an Act of a legislative body other than the Parliament of Québec and prescribe any other rule applicable to such plan.

The regulations shall be submitted to the Government for approval; they may have retroactive effect to any date prior to the date on which they come into force, but not prior to 15 November 1988.

The Régie may, by regulation and before 1 January 2003, adopt any transitional provision for the carrying out of this Act as it stands on 1 January 2001. Regulations made under this section shall be submitted to the Government for approval. They may have retroactive effect from a date not prior to 1 January 2001.

1989, c. 38, s. 312; 1992, c. 60, s. 57; 2000, c. 41, s. 200.

313. Every amendment required to bring the provisions of any pension plan that is effective on 1 January 1990 into conformity with this Act shall be filed with the Régie for registration, within 12 months after 1 January 1990 or within any extension of that period which may be granted by the Régie.

1989, c. 38, s. 313.

314. Notwithstanding section 313, the amendments required to bring the provisions of a pension plan of which all or part of the members are governed by a collective agreement, an arbitration award in lieu thereof or an order or decree imposing a collective agreement which are in force on 1 January 1990 into conformity with this Act shall be submitted to the Régie for registration within three months after the date of the signing of a new collective agreement, of the rendering of the arbitration award in lieu thereof, of the extension or renewal of the order or decree or of the coming into force of an order or decree replacing an order or decree which has expired.

The Régie may grant an extension of time.

1989, c. 38, s. 314.

315. From such time as the amendments referred to in sections 313 and 314 are registered in accordance with this Act, they have effect

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) in the case of section 313, from 1 January 1990;

(2) in the case of section 314,

(a) with respect to employees governed by a collective agreement, an arbitration award in lieu thereof or an order or decree in force on 1 January 1990, from the date of expiry of the agreement or award or from the date of expiry, extension or renewal of the order or decree;

(b) with respect to employees not governed by a collective agreement, an arbitration award or an order or decree referred to in subparagraph a, from 1 January 1990.

1989, c. 38, s. 315.

316. The provisions of a collective agreement, of an arbitration award in lieu thereof or of an order or decree imposing a collective agreement and the terms of a pension plan applicable to employees governed by the agreement, award, order or decree, in force on 1 January 1990, which are incompatible with the provisions of this Act shall prevail over the provisions of this Act until the date of expiry of the agreement or award or until the date of expiry, extension or renewal of the order or decree.

The Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) shall continue, for the same period, to apply to the plan, to the extent that the employees concerned are governed by the said collective agreement, award, order or decree.

1989, c. 38, s. 316.

317. Any unfunded actuarial liability resulting

(1) from an amendment to the plan that is an amendment referred to in section 313 or 314 made for the purpose of bringing the plan into conformity with Chapter IV, V or VI, or

(2) from an amendment to the plan made for the purposes of the application of section 44, 45, 60, 69 or 86 to benefits accumulated in respect of service credited under the plan before 1 January 1990, constitutes an improvement unfunded actuarial liability.

Such an improvement unfunded actuarial liability may be considered to be an initial unfunded actuarial liability.

1989, c. 38, s. 317.

317.1. Any unfunded actuarial liability resulting from an amendment to a pension plan for the purpose of bringing the pension plan into conformity with this Act as it stands on 1 January 2001 may be considered to be an initial unfunded actuarial liability.

The Régie may require that a pension committee submit to it, within a specified time, a report prepared by an actuary and containing the information and attestations the Régie considers necessary to ascertain that the determination of employer and member contributions is in conformity with the pension plan and with this Act as it stands on 1 January 2001.

For the purposes of this Act, the report provided for in the second paragraph is considered to be an actuarial valuation report of a pension plan prepared under section 119.

2000, c. 41, s. 201.

318. Every person or body who or which, on 31 December 1989, administers a pension plan, may, despite the fact that he or it is not a pension committee established as prescribed by section 147, continue to administer the plan either until the expiry of the time prescribed in section 313 or 314 for the filing of amendments or until such later date that may be set by the Régie, or, if the plan cannot be amended within that time by reason of its termination, until it ceases to be in force. In such a case, the person or body shall, during his or its administration, be regarded as a pension committee.

1989, c. 38, s. 318; 1992, c. 60, s. 58; 2000, c. 41, s. 203.

318.1. The amendments needed to bring the provisions of a pension plan that is in force on 31 December 2000 into conformity with this Act as it stands on 1 January 2001 must be presented to the Régie for registration within 12 months after 31 December 2000 or within such additional time as the Régie may grant.

Amendments registered under this section have effect from 1 January 2001.

However, as concerns employees governed by a collective agreement, an arbitration award in lieu thereof or an order or decree making a collective agreement compulsory in force on 1 January 2001, the adjustment of pensions under section 60.1 has effect only as of the date of expiry of the collective agreement or arbitration award or as of the date of expiry, extension or renewal of the order or decree.

2000, c. 41, s. 202.

318.2. Any pension plan to which Chapter X applies must be the subject of a complete actuarial valuation on 31 December 2015 in accordance with the provisions in force on 1 January 2016.

For the purposes of the valuation, the amortization payments required, on a solvency basis and a funding basis, for an unfunded actuarial liability determined in a prior actuarial valuation, are eliminated.

2015, c. 29, s. 74.

318.3. Despite paragraphs 1 and 2 of section 138, the amortization period of any technical actuarial deficiency or any stabilization actuarial deficiency that begins on the date of an actuarial valuation prior to 31 December 2016 expires on the date of the end of the fiscal year of a pension plan that ends no later than 15 years after the date of the valuation. The maximum amortization period of such an actuarial deficiency beginning after 30 December 2016 is reduced by one year for every full year of deviation between 31 December 2015 and the date on which the amortization period of the deficiency begins.

The amortization period of any technical actuarial deficiency or any stabilization actuarial deficiency that begins after 30 December 2020 is determined in accordance with section 138.

2015, c. 29, s. 74.

318.4. If the employer contributions that are determined in the actuarial valuation required under section 318.2 or a subsequent actuarial valuation and that are payable for every fiscal year or part of a fiscal year after the valuation date are greater than those that would have been payable from 1 January 2016 to 31 December 2016 under the provisions in force on 31 December 2015, the difference is only payable at a rate of one third per 12-month period as of 1 January 2017.

For the purposes of the first paragraph, the employer current service contributions corresponding to the value of the obligations arising from the pension plan in relation to credited service completed during the fiscal year are to be excluded.

To determine the contributions that would have been payable, any instruction given in relation to the period including the pension plan's fiscal year in progress on 31 December 2015 under the Regulation providing new relief measures for the funding of solvency deficiencies of pension plans in the private sector (chapter R-15.1, r. 4.1) and applied on that date must be taken into account.

If applicable, section 42.1 applies taking into account only the portion of the stabilization amortization payment payable under the first paragraph.

*Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1*SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

This section ceases to apply on 31 December 2018.

2015, c. 29, s. 74.

318.5. A pension plan that is exempted, under a regulation made under section 2, from the application of the funding rules set out in this Act is subject to the provisions of this Act that are in force on 1 January 2016 but only to the extent prescribed by the regulation applicable to the plan.

Sections 90.1, 142.5 and 237 apply, however, to a plan referred to in the first paragraph.

Sections 60, 119.1, 143 and 146 apply to pension plans that are subject to the Regulation respecting the funding of pension plans of the municipal and university sectors (chapter R-15.1, r. 2). Those sections do not apply, however, to a pension plan referred to in Division I or I.1 of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (chapter R-15.1, r. 8).

For the purposes of section 119.1, the actuarial valuation required is the one referred to in subparagraph 2 of section 118, as replaced by section 7 of the Regulation respecting the funding of pension plans of the municipal and university sectors.

If such a regulation ceases to apply to a pension plan, sections 318.2 to 318.4 apply to such a plan, and in applying those sections, the date of 1 January 2016 is replaced by the date following the date on which the regulation ceases to apply and the other dates mentioned in those sections are replaced accordingly.

The provisions of Chapter X, as they read on 31 December 2015, continue to apply to any pension plan administered by Retraite Québec under subdivision 4.0.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII.

2015, c. 29, s. 74; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2016, c. 13, s. 69

318.6. The fact that the Regulation respecting supplemental pension plans affected by the arrangement regarding AbitibiBowater Inc. under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (chapter R-15.1, r. 6.1) ceases to apply before 31 December 2020 does not cause Division IV of the Regulation to cease to apply.

2015, c. 29, s. 74.

318.7. The provisions of subdivision 4.0.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII that are in force on 31 December 2015 continue to apply to pensions being paid by the Régie under those provisions at 31 December 2015.

In addition, a pension plan to which Chapter X applies and that meets all the conditions set out in section 230.0.0.1, as it read on 31 December 2015, is subject to the provisions mentioned in the first paragraph, unless it was liquidated before 1 January 2016.

2015, c. 29, s. 74.

318.8. If the termination report regarding a pension plan referred to in the provisions of subdivision 4.0.1 of Division II of Chapter XIII that come in force on 1 January 2016 was sent to the Régie before that date, the rights of the members and beneficiaries are established based on that report.

2015, c. 29, s. 74.

319. In any other Act and in any regulation, decree, order, agreement, contract or other document, unless otherwise required by the context, and taking into account any necessary changes,

(1) a reference to a provision of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) is a reference to the corresponding provision of this Act;

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) the expression “Act respecting supplemental pension plans” is replaced by “Supplemental Pension Plans Act” and the expression “régime supplémentaire de rentes” is replaced by the expression “régime complémentaire de retraite”.

1989, c. 38, s. 319.

319.1. Sections 14.1 and 228.1 are declaratory.

2008, c. 21, s. 28.

319.2. The time limit set by section 146.16 for sending the Régie the report on the actuarial valuation as at 31 December 2014 of a plan subject to Chapter X.2 runs from 30 April 2015 instead of from 31 December 2014.

The same applies to the time limit for sending the recovery plan and the time limit for filing an application for registration of an amendment to the plan for the purpose of implementing the recovery plan, which time limits are set by sections 146.28 and 146.37, respectively.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.3. The payment made in accordance with section 143 and, if applicable, section 145.1 before 31 December 2014 in respect of a plan subject to Chapter X.2 constitutes the final payment of the benefits accrued to the member or beneficiary concerned.

The employer may however pay an additional amount into the pension fund for the payment of all or part of any amount that is no longer required to be paid under the first paragraph.

A pension plan may also be amended to provide for the payment, in any fiscal year of the plan ending before 1 January 2020, of amounts whose payability is extinguished under the first paragraph. The amount of such a payment, added to the sum of the amounts referred to in section 146.12, must not result in insufficient contributions being made to the plan.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.4. All amounts due, at 31 December 2014, by an employer that is a party to a pension plan subject to Chapter X.2 as contributions receivable, under the applicable legal provisions in force on 30 December 2014, in excess of the contributions provided for in the pension plan that have not been paid at that date are eliminated.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.5. No amount required to be paid by an employer that is a party to a pension plan subject to Chapter X.2 pursuant to a judgment that has become final before 18 February 2015 or in connection with a case pending before a court of justice or an administrative tribunal on that date may, in any way, be recovered by the administrator of the pension plan or by an employer that is a party to the pension plan.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.6. A pension plan subject to Chapter X.2 must be amended to allow for the withdrawal from the plan of any employer that no longer has active members in its employ on 31 December 2014. The date of withdrawal must be 31 December 2014.

The benefits accrued to the members or beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal must, not later than 2 April 2016, be paid in accordance with the first paragraph of section 146.41.

The value of the members’ or beneficiaries’ benefits shall be established as at 31 December 2014.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The members or beneficiaries referred to in the second paragraph may request that their benefits be maintained in the plan.

The pension committee must inform the members or beneficiaries of the measures set out in this section so as to give them at least three months to exercise their rights. The notice must mention that the benefits of members and beneficiaries who remain with the plan might later be reduced.

This section only applies, with respect to an employer all of whose employees covered by the plan are hired on an ad hoc, fixed term basis, if, on 31 December 2014, at least 12 months have elapsed since the employer ceased to have active members in its employ.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.7. The benefits accrued to members and beneficiaries who, on 31 December 2014, work for none of the employers who are a party to the plan must, not later than 2 April 2016, be paid in accordance with the first paragraph of section 146.41.

For that purpose, the third, fourth and fifth paragraphs of section 319.6 apply.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.8. Despite sections 20 and 21, the pension plan may provide for a cap on the degree of solvency applicable to the payments made under sections 319.6 and 319.7, such as the cap permitted by section 146.20, in the circumstances described in that section, which applies with the necessary modifications.

Section 146.42 applies to such payments.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.9. On the withdrawal of an employer that is a party to a pension plan subject to Chapter X.2 or on the termination of such a plan before 2 April 2020, the following rules apply:

- (1) any reduction after 31 December 2014 of benefits accrued to members or beneficiaries shall be annulled;
- (2) the debt of each employer concerned by the withdrawal or termination shall be established as if Chapter X.2 and section 319.4 did not apply; and
- (3) any such employer debt extinguished under section 319.3 shall become payable once again.

The first paragraph does not apply, however, if the employer's withdrawal from the pension plan or the termination of the pension plan results from the impossibility of adopting a recovery plan, the alienation or closing down of all or part of the enterprise, the insolvency of the employer or a change in union affiliation.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.10. When a negotiated contribution plan ceases to be governed by a regulation giving rise to exclusion from the application of the provisions of Chapter X.2 in accordance with the second paragraph of section 146.10, those provisions apply from the date that follows that on which the regulation ceases to apply. Sections 319.3 to 319.9 apply to such a plan, and in applying those sections, the date of 31 December 2014 is replaced by the date on which those provisions begin to apply and the other dates mentioned in those sections are replaced accordingly.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

However, section 319.9 does not apply to such a plan if the regulation described in the first paragraph included a provision exempting the negotiated contribution plan from the application of the provisions of this Act that relate to employer debts.

2015, c. 7, s. 3.

319.11. For the sole purpose of allocating the assets of a pension plan under the Agreement Respecting Multi-Jurisdictional Pension Plans, which came into force on 1 July 2011, the members' benefits accrued before 1 January 2016 are included in the benefits funded on a solvency basis.

2015, c. 29, s. 75.

320. The appropriations allocated to the administration of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) shall be transferred to permit the administration of this Act.

Supplementary appropriations allocated to the administration of this Act for the fiscal year during which this Act comes into force shall be taken out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the extent determined by the Government.

1989, c. 38, s. 320.

321. The Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity is responsible for the administration of this Act.

1989, c. 38, s. 321; 1992, c. 44, s. 81; 1994, c. 12, s. 67; 1997, c. 63, s. 128; 2001, c. 44, s. 30.

The Minister of Finance exercises the functions of the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity provided for in this Act. Order in Council 412-2016 dated 25 May 2016, (2016) 148 G.O. 2 (French), 2923.

322. (Omitted).

1989, c. 38, s. 322.

Supplemental Pension Plans Act, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

REPEAL SCHEDULES

In accordance with section 9 of the Act respecting the consolidation of the statutes and regulations (chapter R-3), chapter 38 of the statutes of 1989, in force on 1 March 1990, is repealed, except section 322, effective from the coming into force of chapter R-15.1 of the Revised Statutes.

In accordance with section 9 of the Act respecting the consolidation of the statutes and regulations (chapter R-3), sections 34, 35, 89, 107 to 110, subparagraph 7 of the first paragraph of section 244 and subparagraph 3 of the first paragraph of section 264 of chapter 38 of the statutes of 1989, in force on 1 September 1990, are repealed effective from the coming into force of the updating to 1 September 1990 of chapter R-15.1 of the Revised Statutes.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

CHAPITRE I

DOMAINE D'APPLICATION ET DÉFINITIONS

1. La présente loi s'applique aux régimes de retraite relatifs:

1° à des travailleurs qui, pour leur travail, se présentent à un établissement de leur employeur situé au Québec ou, à défaut, reçoivent leur rémunération de cet établissement pourvu que, dans ce dernier cas, ils ne se présentent à aucun autre établissement de leur employeur;

2° à des travailleurs non visés au paragraphe 1° qui, domiciliés au Québec et travaillant pour un employeur dont l'établissement principal y est situé, exécutent un travail hors du Québec, pourvu que ces régimes ne soient pas régis par une loi émanant d'une autorité législative autre que le Parlement du Québec et accordant droit à une rente différée.

1989, c. 38, a. 1.

2. La présente loi ne s'applique pas:

1° à un régime de retraite auquel l'employeur n'est pas tenu de cotiser. Toutefois, elle s'y applique si l'adhésion à ce régime conditionne l'adhésion à un autre régime de retraite auquel l'employeur est tenu de cotiser ou, au contraire, est conditionnée par l'adhésion à cet autre régime; dans ce cas, ces régimes sont réputés, pour l'application de la présente loi, ne former qu'un seul régime de retraite;

2° à un régime de retraite établi pour des travailleurs qui adhèrent également à un régime régi par la présente loi, si leur employeur cotise pour leur compte aux deux régimes et s'ils ont droit, au titre de l'autre régime, à des prestations au moins égales aux prestations maximales qui peuvent être payées au titre d'un régime de pension agréé défini à l'article 1 de la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3);

3° à un régime d'intéressement ou un régime de participation différée aux bénéficies visé aux titres I et II du livre VII de la partie I de la Loi sur les impôts;

4° à un régime de retraite établi par une loi, par le gouvernement ou par le Bureau de l'Assemblée nationale, sauf si l'un ou l'autre l'assujettit à la présente loi;

5° (paragraphe abrogé);

6° à un régime volontaire d'épargne-retraite régi par la Loi sur les régimes volontaires d'épargne-retraite (chapitre R-17.0.1).

Le gouvernement peut, par règlement et aux conditions qu'il fixe, soustraire à l'application de la totalité ou d'une partie de la présente loi tout régime ou toute catégorie de régime de retraite qu'il désigne en raison, notamment, de ses caractéristiques particulières ou de la complexité de la loi eu égard au nombre de participants qu'il comporte. Le gouvernement peut également prescrire les règles particulières qui lui sont applicables.

Un règlement pris en vertu du deuxième alinéa peut, s'il en dispose ainsi, rétroagir à une date antérieure à celle de son entrée en vigueur, mais non antérieure au 31 décembre de la deuxième année qui précède celle où il a été publié à la Gazette officielle du Québec en application de l'article 8 de la Loi sur les règlements (chapitre R-18.1). Un tel règlement, s'il est pris relativement à un régime de retraite administré par la Commission de la construction du Québec ou par une personne mandatée par elle peut, s'il en dispose ainsi, rétroagir à une date antérieure à celle de son entrée en vigueur.

1989, c. 38, a. 2; 1991, c. 25, a. 178; 1995, c. 46, a. 30; 1993, c. 45, a. 1; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 1; 2002, c. 52, a. 7; 2009, c. 1, a. 1; 2011, c. 8, a. 1; 2013, c. 26, a. 135; 2015, c. 20, a. 55.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2.1. À l'exception des articles 6, 64 et 107, du premier alinéa de l'article 110 et de l'article 171.1 qui s'y appliquent compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires, la présente loi ne s'applique pas au régime de retraite qui satisfait aux conditions suivantes:

1° tous les participants sont des personnes rattachées à l'employeur au sens du paragraphe 3 de l'article 8500 du Règlement de l'impôt sur le revenu (Codification des Règlements du Canada (1978), chapitre 945) et l'adhésion est facultative et limitée à de telles personnes;

2° seuls des travailleurs visés à l'article 1 peuvent y adhérer;

3° le participant cesse sa participation active au régime dès qu'il ne se qualifie plus comme personne rattachée à l'employeur.

De plus, pour l'application de l'article 98, un tel régime est réputé ne pas être un régime régi par la présente loi.

Un régime visé au premier alinéa est toutefois assujéti à la présente loi dès qu'il est modifié pour permettre l'adhésion d'autres personnes.

2000, c. 41, a. 2.

3. Pour l'application de la présente loi:

«actuaire» s'entend de toute personne membre de l'Institut canadien des actuaires, qui a le titre de «fellow» ou un statut que cet institut reconnaît comme équivalent;

«comptable» s'entend de toute personne qui, étant membre de l'ordre professionnel de comptables visé à l'Annexe I du Code des professions (chapitre C-26), est autorisée, en vertu de la loi constituant cet ordre à exercer l'activité professionnelle de nature comptable que requiert l'application d'une disposition de la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 3; 1994, c. 40, a. 457; 2012, c. 11, a. 32.

4. Celui qui bénéficie des services d'un travailleur non salarié et cotise pour son compte à un régime de retraite est réputé, pour l'application de la présente loi, son employeur.

1989, c. 38, a. 4; 1999, c. 40, a. 254.

5. Toute disposition d'un régime de retraite qui est inconciliable avec la présente loi est sans effet.

Cependant, un régime de retraite peut prévoir pour le participant ou bénéficiaire des dispositions plus avantageuses que celles prévues par la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 5; 1999, c. 40, a. 254.

CHAPITRE II

RÉGIME DE RETRAITE

SECTION I

NATURE

§ 1. — Dispositions générales

6. Un régime de retraite est un contrat en vertu duquel le participant bénéficie d'une prestation de retraite dans des conditions et à compter d'un âge donnés, dont le financement est assuré par des cotisations à la charge soit de l'employeur seul, soit de l'employeur et du participant.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

À moins qu'il ne soit garanti, tout régime de retraite doit avoir une caisse de retraite où sont notamment versés les cotisations ainsi que les revenus qui en résultent. Cette caisse constitue un patrimoine fiduciaire affecté principalement au versement des remboursements et prestations auxquels ont droit les participants et bénéficiaires.

1989, c. 38, a. 6.

§ 2. — Types

7. Le régime de retraite est à cotisation déterminée s'il détermine à l'avance les cotisations patronales et, le cas échéant, les cotisations salariales, ou la méthode pour les calculer, et si la rente normale est fonction des sommes portées au compte du participant.

Il est à prestations déterminées si la rente normale est soit un montant déterminé, indépendant de la rémunération du participant, soit un montant qui correspond à un pourcentage de cette rémunération.

Il est à cotisation et prestations déterminées s'il détermine à l'avance les cotisations patronales et, le cas échéant, les cotisations salariales, ainsi que la rente normale, ou la méthode pour les calculer.

1989, c. 38, a. 7.

8. Le régime de retraite est contributif si le participant y verse des cotisations salariales.

1989, c. 38, a. 8.

9. Est garanti le régime de retraite dont les remboursements et prestations sont à tout moment garantis par un assureur.

1989, c. 38, a. 9.

10. Seul un assureur autorisé à pratiquer l'assurance sur la vie, au Québec ou dans un autre endroit au Canada où s'applique une entente visée à l'article 249, peut garantir des remboursements ou prestations prévus par un régime de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 10.

11. Le régime de retraite interentreprises est celui auquel adhèrent des travailleurs relevant d'employeurs différents.

Toutefois, ce régime n'est pas considéré comme interentreprises si les conditions suivantes sont remplies:

1° les employeurs parties au régime sont soit des sociétés filiales d'une même société mère, soit une société mère et ses filiales;

2° il y est prévu que les filiales parties au régime et la société mère consentent à ce que le régime ne soit pas considéré comme interentreprises.

Les employeurs parties à un régime visé au deuxième alinéa sont solidairement responsables des obligations qui incombent à chacun d'entre eux en vertu du régime ou de la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 11; 2000, c. 41, a. 3.

12. La société mère est la personne morale qui en contrôle une autre, cette dernière étant de ce fait la filiale de la première.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Une personne morale en contrôle une autre si elle détient, directement ou indirectement, autrement qu'à titre de garantie, des titres lui permettant en tout état de cause d'élire la majorité des administrateurs de cette autre personne morale.

1989, c. 38, a. 12.

SECTION IIÉTABLISSEMENT ET ENTRÉE EN VIGUEUR

13. Un régime de retraite entre en vigueur à l'une des dates suivantes, selon la première éventualité:

1° la date à compter de laquelle les services des travailleurs sont, au fur et à mesure qu'ils sont effectués, pris en compte pour la détermination de la rente normale;

2° la date à laquelle débute la perception des cotisations salariales.

1989, c. 38, a. 13.

14. À moins que Retraite Québec n'accorde un délai supplémentaire, celui qui établit un régime de retraite doit le mettre par écrit au plus tard le 90^e jour qui suit celui de son entrée en vigueur.

Le texte du régime doit indiquer:

1° le nom de l'employeur partie au régime;

2° le nombre de membres que doit comporter le comité de retraite chargé d'administrer le régime ainsi que les conditions et délais applicables à leur désignation ou remplacement;

3° les conditions d'adhésion et de retrait;

4° le caractère contributif ou non contributif du régime;

5° le caractère facultatif ou obligatoire de l'adhésion;

6° dans le cas d'un régime interentreprises, les conditions d'adhésion et de retrait d'un employeur;

7° l'âge normal de la retraite;

8° si le régime est garanti, le nom de l'assureur;

9° les cotisations salariales ou patronales, ou la méthode pour les calculer;

9.1° si les participants contribuent au versement de cotisations d'équilibre et, le cas échéant, la méthode pour les calculer;

10° dans le cas d'un régime à prestations déterminées ou d'un régime à cotisation et prestations déterminées, la rente normale ou la méthode pour la calculer;

11° la nature des remboursements et prestations, le cas échéant la méthode pour les calculer, ainsi que les conditions à remplir pour y avoir droit;

12° le cas échéant, les pouvoirs qui habilitent le comité de retraite à effectuer le transfert dans un autre régime de droits accumulés par un participant au titre du régime ou de tout actif du régime, ainsi que les règles applicables à ce transfert;

12.1° le cas échéant, les pouvoirs qui habilitent le comité de retraite à procéder à l'acquittement final de tout ou partie de la prestation d'un participant ou d'un bénéficiaire par l'achat d'une rente auprès d'un

assureur dans les conditions prévues par la politique d'achat de rentes du régime, ainsi que les règles applicables à cet acquittement;

13° la date d'entrée en vigueur du régime;

14° l'exercice financier du régime;

15° à quelles conditions et par qui le régime peut être modifié;

16° les conditions et modalités d'attribution d'un excédent d'actif ou, dans le cas d'un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X, du solde d'un excédent d'actif visé au troisième alinéa de l'article 230.2, en cas de terminaison du régime;

16.1° (paragraphe remplacé);

17° dans le cas d'un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X, les conditions et modalités d'affectation de tout ou partie du solde d'un excédent d'actif visé au troisième alinéa de l'article 146.8, soit à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime, au remboursement de cotisations salariales ou à la remise de sommes à l'employeur, soit selon une combinaison de ces modes d'affectation ainsi que, le cas échéant, la nature des modifications pouvant faire l'objet d'une telle affectation;

18° dans les cas visés à l'article 146.9.2, les conditions et modalités d'affectation de tout ou partie d'un excédent d'actif soit à l'acquittement des cotisations patronales, soit à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime, soit selon une combinaison de ces modes d'affectation ainsi que, le cas échéant, la nature des modifications pouvant faire l'objet d'une telle affectation.

1989, c. 38, a. 14; 1992, c. 60, a. 1; 2000, c. 41, a. 4; 2006, c. 42, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 1.

14.1. À moins qu'une disposition de la présente loi ne le permette expressément, aucune disposition d'un régime de retraite à prestations déterminées ou à cotisation et prestations déterminées ne peut avoir pour effet de faire dépendre d'un facteur extrinsèque, de sorte qu'ils en soient limités ou réduits :

1° la reconnaissance de services ou l'accumulation de droits au titre du régime ;

2° le montant ou la valeur de droits accumulés au titre de services antérieurs à la date où est établie la valeur des engagements du régime à l'égard du participant ou du bénéficiaire dont les droits sont en cause.

Sont notamment considérés comme des facteurs extrinsèques :

1° la situation financière de la caisse de retraite ;

2° les cotisations patronales versées relativement aux engagements du régime à l'égard du participant ou du bénéficiaire ;

3° l'exercice d'une discrétion attribuée exclusivement à une personne autre que le participant ou le bénéficiaire ;

4° l'accréditation ou la révocation de l'accréditation d'une association de salariés ;

5° un changement d'ordre technologique ou économique survenu dans l'entreprise de l'employeur partie au régime ou une division, une fusion, une aliénation ou une fermeture de cette entreprise ;

6° le retrait d'un employeur partie au régime ou la terminaison de celui-ci.

2008, c. 21, a. 1.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

15. Fait partie intégrante du régime de retraite tout contrat d'assurance en vertu duquel un assureur garantit des remboursements et prestations prévus par ce régime; cependant, dans le cas d'un régime non garanti, ce contrat n'en fait partie que dans la mesure où le titulaire des remboursements ou prestations garantis continue d'être participant au régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 15.

16. Lorsqu'un régime de retraite entre en vigueur avant son enregistrement auprès de Retraite Québec, l'employeur ou, s'il en est un de formé, le comité de retraite doit, dans les 30 jours, en aviser Retraite Québec par écrit.

Cet avis indique, outre les nom et adresse de l'employeur partie au régime, la date d'entrée en vigueur du régime et, le cas échéant, la date où a débuté la perception des cotisations salariales. L'avis fait aussi état, de façon succincte:

- 1° du type de régime établi;
- 2° de la rente normale ou de la méthode pour la calculer;
- 3° des cotisations salariales ou patronales, ou de la méthode pour les calculer;
- 4° le cas échéant, des nom et adresse de celui à qui ont été délégués des pouvoirs.

1989, c. 38, a. 16; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

17. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 17; 2000, c. 41, a. 5.

18. Un régime de retraite dont Retraite Québec radie l'enregistrement en vertu de l'article 32 cesse d'être en vigueur à la date de la radiation.

Un régime de retraite qui n'est pas enregistré, ou dont l'enregistrement est réputé radié en vertu de l'article 32.1, cesse d'être en vigueur dès qu'il est satisfait aux conditions suivantes:

- 1° le régime est terminé et ne comporte aucun actif;
- 2° aucun participant ni bénéficiaire ne conserve de droits au titre du régime ou de la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 18; 2000, c. 41, a. 6; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

SECTION III

MODIFICATION

19. Aucune modification d'un régime de retraite ne peut entrer en vigueur avant la date de son enregistrement auprès de Retraite Québec, sauf dans les cas suivants:

1° lorsque la modification a pour objet l'adhésion d'un employeur à un régime de retraite, elle entre en vigueur à la date déterminée en application de l'article 13;

1.1° lorsque la modification a pour objet le retrait du régime interentreprises d'un employeur devenu failli, elle entre en vigueur à la date de la faillite;

2° lorsque la modification prévoit avoir effet à compter d'une date donnée qui est antérieure à son enregistrement, elle peut, à condition d'être enregistrée, entrer en vigueur à cette date.

1989, c. 38, a. 19; 2000, c. 41, a. 7; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

20. Aucune modification d'un régime de retraite qui supprime des remboursements ou prestations, en limite l'admissibilité ou réduit le montant ou la valeur des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires ne peut prendre effet, lorsqu'elle est établie par convention collective ou sentence arbitrale en tenant lieu ou lorsqu'elle est rendue obligatoire par décret, avant la date de prise d'effet de la convention, de la sentence ou du décret et, dans les autres cas, avant la date d'envoi de l'avis prévu à l'article 26.

Cette limite fixée pour la prise d'effet d'une modification réductrice ne s'applique toutefois pas:

1° dans le cas où la modification est faite pour permettre au régime de demeurer un régime de pension agréé au sens de l'article 1 de la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3);

2° dans le cas où les participants ou bénéficiaires visés y ont consenti et dans celui où l'entrée en vigueur de la modification est fixée à la date de la faillite suivant le paragraphe 1.1° du premier alinéa de l'article 19, pourvu que Retraite Québec ait par ailleurs autorisé la modification.

Si elle concerne la rente normale, la méthode pour la calculer ou toute autre prestation établie sur la base de cette rente ou méthode, une modification réductrice ne peut porter que sur les services effectués après la date où elle a pris effet ou, dans le cas d'une modification aux hypothèses visées au deuxième alinéa de l'article 61, ne peut s'appliquer qu'à une évaluation des droits d'un participant faite en fonction d'une date subséquente à sa prise d'effet. Ces restrictions ne sont toutefois pas applicables dans les cas mentionnés au deuxième alinéa.

1989, c. 38, a. 20; 1991, c. 25, a. 179; 1992, c. 60, a. 2; 2000, c. 41, a. 8; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

21. Aucune modification d'un régime de retraite ne peut réduire une prestation dont le service a débuté avant la date de prise d'effet de cette modification.

21.3. (Abrogé).

2008, c. 21, a. 2; 2015, c. 29, a. 2.

22. Toute modification d'un régime de retraite ayant pour objet d'en transformer le type ou de substituer un nouvel employeur à l'ancien est subordonnée à l'autorisation de Retraite Québec et aux conditions qu'elle peut fixer.

En outre, si la modification vise à convertir des droits qui résultent de l'application de dispositions accordant aux participants des prestations déterminées au titre des services que leur reconnaît le régime jusqu'à la date de prise d'effet de la modification, en sommes qui, portées à leur compte à titre de cotisations déterminées, sont destinées à la constitution d'une rente d'un montant indéterminé, une telle modification ne pourra être autorisée que si la valeur des droits des participants qui acceptent la conversion est au moins égale à la valeur à laquelle ils auraient eu droit à supposer que le régime se soit terminé à la date où doit prendre effet la modification. Cette dernière valeur est toutefois établie sans qu'il soit tenu compte des droits pouvant résulter de l'application de la sous-section 4.1 de la section II du chapitre XIII.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

23. La rémunération reçue ou, selon le cas, les heures de travail effectuées avant une modification mentionnée à l'article 22 doivent être prises en compte pour l'application de l'article 34.

1989, c. 38, a. 23; 2000, c. 41, a. 11.

CHAPITRE III

ENREGISTREMENT D'UN RÉGIME DE RETRAITE ET DE SES MODIFICATIONS

24. Tout régime de retraite doit être enregistré auprès de Retraite Québec, ainsi que chacune de ses modifications.

L'employeur ou, s'il en est un de formé, le comité de retraite présente à Retraite Québec la demande d'enregistrement, accompagnée:

1° d'une copie du régime ou de la modification qu'il certifie conforme et, si le régime est garanti, d'une copie du contrat d'assurance certifiée conforme par l'assureur;

2° dans le cas où la demande vise l'enregistrement du régime, de ses nom et adresse ou, s'il s'agit d'un comité de retraite, des noms et adresses de ses membres;

3° du consentement écrit de l'employeur aux obligations qui lui incombent en vertu du régime ou de la modification, sauf dans les cas suivants:

a) le comité atteste qu'il a obtenu ce consentement de l'employeur et qu'il peut le présenter à Retraite Québec sur demande;

b) la modification est rendue obligatoire par application d'une nouvelle disposition législative ou réglementaire n'accordant aucune latitude à l'employeur;

c) la modification a été apportée en application du chapitre X.1 ou résulte de l'application de l'article 199;

4° (paragraphe abrogé);

5° (paragraphe abrogé);

6° des autres documents ou renseignements déterminés par règlement;

7° des frais prescrits par règlement.

1989, c. 38, a. 24; 2000, c. 41, a. 12; 2006, c. 42, a. 3; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

25. À moins que Retraite Québec n'accorde un délai supplémentaire, la demande d'enregistrement d'un régime de retraite doit être présentée au plus tard le quatre-vingt-dixième jour qui suit celui de son entrée en vigueur; celle visant l'enregistrement d'une modification qui a pour objet l'adhésion d'un employeur à un régime de retraite, doit l'être au plus tard à la fin du douzième mois qui suit celui au cours duquel est entrée en vigueur cette modification.

1989, c. 38, a. 25; 2000, c. 41, a. 13; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

26. Le comité de retraite qui projette de demander l'enregistrement d'une modification doit en informer les participants:

1° soit en fournissant à chacun d'eux un avis écrit qui, énonçant l'objet de la modification projetée et la date de sa prise d'effet, indique que le texte de cette modification peut être examiné tant à son bureau qu'à l'établissement de l'employeur qu'il désigne et situé au plus à 150 km de son lieu de travail ou, si l'employeur n'a pas d'établissement ainsi situé, que ce texte peut être obtenu sans frais, sur demande écrite;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2° soit en faisant publier cet avis dans un quotidien distribué dans les localités où résident au moins la moitié d'entre eux ou, mais uniquement en ce qui concerne les participants actifs, en le faisant parvenir à l'employeur qui, sur réception, doit l'afficher bien en vue dans son établissement, à un endroit où ils circulent ordinairement. Les modes d'information prévus au présent paragraphe ne peuvent toutefois être utilisés si la modification projetée est relative:

- à la suppression de remboursements ou de prestations, à de nouvelles conditions qui en limitent l'admissibilité ou à la réduction du montant ou de la valeur des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires;
- à la modification d'une disposition du régime relative à l'affectation ou à l'attribution d'un excédent d'actif;
- à la fusion des actifs et des passifs de plusieurs régimes;
- à la scission de l'actif et du passif du régime entre plusieurs régimes.

Copie de cet avis doit aussi être fournie à Retraite Québec.

Lorsque la modification est établie par convention collective ou sentence arbitrale en tenant lieu ou est rendue obligatoire par décret, le présent article ne s'applique pas à l'égard des participants actifs visés par la convention, la sentence ou le décret et représentés par une association accréditée au sens du Code du travail (chapitre C-27).

1989, c. 38, a. 26; 1992, c. 60, a. 4; 2000, c. 41, a. 14; 2006, c. 42, a. 4; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 3.

27. Retraite Québec fait parvenir à celui dont la demande d'enregistrement satisfait aux conditions prescrites par la présente loi, un accusé de réception indiquant la date où elle a été reçue.

Si la demande d'enregistrement est incomplète, elle en avise sans délai le demandeur et lui précise les renseignements manquants à fournir.

1989, c. 38, a. 27; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

28. Retraite Québec peut, après avoir donné aux intéressés l'occasion de présenter leurs observations, refuser l'enregistrement de tout ou partie d'un régime de retraite ou d'une modification qu'elle estime non conforme à la présente loi. Elle les informe de son refus au moyen d'un avis écrit en précisant les motifs.

1989, c. 38, a. 28; 1997, c. 43, a. 649; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

29. Lorsque Retraite Québec enregistre un régime de retraite ou une modification, elle en informe celui qui a présenté la demande d'enregistrement. Retraite Québec attribue un numéro à chaque régime qu'elle enregistre.

1989, c. 38, a. 29; 2000, c. 41, a. 15; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

30. Tout régime de retraite ou toute modification dont la demande d'enregistrement a fait l'objet d'un accusé de réception est réputé enregistré si, dans les 90 jours qui suivent la date indiquée dans cet accusé, celui qui l'a présentée n'a pas reçu de Retraite Québec une demande de renseignements complémentaires, un avis de prolongation de l'examen de la demande, un avis de refus ou un avis d'enregistrement.

1989, c. 38, a. 30; 2000, c. 41, a. 16; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

31. L'enregistrement d'un régime de retraite ou d'une modification ne fait pas foi de sa conformité avec la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 31.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

32. Retraite Québec peut radier l'enregistrement d'un régime de retraite dans l'un ou l'autre des cas suivants:

1° si, en raison d'une fusion visée au chapitre XII, aucun participant ou bénéficiaire ne conserve de droits au titre du régime ou de la présente loi et si le régime n'a plus d'actif;

2° si le régime cesse d'être régi par la présente loi.

Elle peut aussi, après avoir donné aux intéressés l'occasion de présenter leurs observations, radier l'enregistrement de toute partie du régime ou d'une modification qui n'est pas conforme à la présente loi.

Retraite Québec avise les intéressés de toute radiation d'enregistrement au moyen d'un avis écrit en précisant les motifs.

1989, c. 38, a. 32; 1997, c. 43, a. 650; 2000, c. 41, a. 17; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

32.1. L'enregistrement d'un régime de retraite terminé est réputé radié 60 jours après la plus tardive des dates suivantes:

1° celle de l'expiration des délais prévus aux articles 210 et 210.1 ou impartis par Retraite Québec pour l'acquittement des droits de l'employeur, des participants et des bénéficiaires au titre du régime ou de la présente loi;

2° celle où il est satisfait aux ordonnances de Retraite Québec concernant ce régime.

2000, c. 41, a. 18; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

CHAPITRE IV

ADHÉSION

33. Le travailleur admissible à un régime de retraite en devient participant, selon la première éventualité:

1° dès qu'il y cotise ou que son employeur y cotise pour son compte;

2° dès qu'il satisfait aux conditions d'adhésion prévues au régime.

Il demeure participant jusqu'à ce que les droits qu'il acquiert au titre du régime soient acquittés, notamment au moyen d'un transfert dans un autre régime, par le remplacement de sa rente en application de l'article 92 ou par suite de sa terminaison.

Continue d'être participant au régime, le titulaire d'une rente garantie constituée directement auprès d'un assureur, autrement qu'en application de l'article 98 ou de la politique d'achat de rentes du régime établie conformément à la section II.1 du chapitre XI, avec les droits accumulés au titre du régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 33; 1992, c. 60, a. 5; 2000, c. 41, a. 19; 2015, c. 29, a. 4.

34. À moins que soit établi un autre régime auquel ils peuvent adhérer et prévoyant des droits équivalents, ont droit d'adhérer à un régime de retraite, aux mêmes conditions que les participants, les travailleurs qui exécutent un travail similaire ou identique à celui exécuté par les participants appartenant à la catégorie de travailleurs en faveur de laquelle le régime est établi et qui, pendant l'année civile ayant précédé celle au cours de laquelle a été faite la demande d'adhésion, ont satisfait à l'une ou l'autre des conditions suivantes:

1° avoir reçu de l'employeur une rémunération au moins égale à 35% du maximum des gains admissibles établi, pour l'année de référence, conformément à la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9);

2° avoir été au service de l'employeur pendant au moins 700 heures.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Pour l'application du premier alinéa, ne constitue pas une condition le caractère facultatif ou obligatoire de l'adhésion.

Si le travailleur a été au service de plusieurs employeurs parties à un régime de retraite interentreprises, le minimum requis est établi en cumulant la rémunération reçue de chaque employeur ou les heures de travail accomplies auprès de chacun d'eux, dans l'un ou l'autre des cas suivants:

1° lorsque les travailleurs admissibles au régime sont régis par la même convention collective ou sentence arbitrale en tenant lieu;

2° lorsque les employeurs sont une société mère et ses filiales ou des filiales d'une même société mère.
1989, c. 38, a. 34; 2000, c. 41, a. 20.

35. Retraite Québec peut ordonner à un comité de retraite d'accepter l'adhésion au régime d'un travailleur qui remplit les conditions fixées par l'article 34:

1° dans le cas où elle estime déraisonnables, en regard notamment de la nature ou des exigences du travail visé, certains éléments qui, servant à définir la catégorie de travailleurs que vise le régime, ont fondé le rejet de la demande d'adhésion de ce travailleur;

2° dans le cas où il y a mésentente sur l'appartenance de ce travailleur à la catégorie de travailleurs que vise le régime.
1989, c. 38, a. 35; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

36. Pour l'application de la présente loi, tout participant à un régime de retraite est réputé actif:

1° jusqu'à ce qu'il cesse d'y adhérer suivant les conditions de retrait, ou qu'il ne satisfasse plus aux conditions fixées par le régime pour être un travailleur admissible;

2° jusqu'à ce que se termine sa période de travail continu telle que définie à l'article 54;

3° jusqu'à ce qu'il décède.

Le régime peut cependant prévoir que le participant demeure actif pour une période donnée après la fin de sa période de travail continu. Malgré le deuxième alinéa de l'article 5, la période ainsi prévue, augmentée le cas échéant de la période de mise à pied avec droit de rappel visée à l'article 54, ne peut excéder 24 mois consécutifs.

1989, c. 38, a. 36; 1994, c. 24, a. 1; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 21.

CHAPITRE V

COTISATIONS

SECTION I

TYPES DE COTISATIONS

2015, c. 29, a. 5.

37. La cotisation salariale est la quote-part que le participant actif est tenu de verser ou la somme qu'il choisit de verser, avec contrepartie de l'employeur.

La cotisation patronale est la quote-part que l'employeur est tenu de verser.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

La cotisation volontaire est la somme que le participant choisit de verser, sans contrepartie de l'employeur.
1989, c. 38, a. 37.

38. La cotisation d'exercice est la somme que doivent verser l'employeur et, le cas échéant, les participants actifs pour permettre l'acquittement des remboursements et prestations prévus par le régime de retraite au titre de services effectués pendant un exercice financier du régime et reconnus par ce dernier et, dans le cas d'un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X, pour constituer la provision de stabilisation relative à ces engagements établie selon l'article 125.

La partie de la cotisation d'exercice visant à constituer la provision de stabilisation est dite cotisation d'exercice de stabilisation.
1989, c. 38, a. 38; 2015, c. 29, a. 6.

38.1. Les cotisations d'équilibre sont les suivantes:

1° la cotisation d'équilibre technique, qui vise l'amortissement du déficit actuariel déterminé selon l'article 131;

2° la cotisation d'équilibre de stabilisation, qui vise l'amortissement du déficit actuariel déterminé selon l'article 132;

3° les cotisations d'équilibre de modification, qui visent l'amortissement de tout déficit actuariel déterminé selon l'article 134.
2015, c. 29, a. 7.

38.2. La cotisation spéciale de modification est celle qui, relative aux engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime de retraite, doit être acquittée conformément à l'article 139.
2015, c. 29, a. 7.

38.3. La cotisation spéciale d'achat de rentes est celle qui peut être requise lors d'un acquittement de droits effectué selon la politique d'achat de rentes et qui, le cas échéant, doit être calculée et acquittée conformément aux dispositions prévues à l'article 142.4.
2015, c. 29, a. 7.

SECTION II

VERSEMENT DES COTISATIONS

2015, c. 29, a. 8.

39. L'employeur doit, au cours de chaque exercice financier du régime de retraite, verser une cotisation patronale qui, ajoutée aux cotisations salariales, égale au moins:

- 1° dans le cas d'un régime garanti, la cotisation d'exercice telle qu'établie à l'article 40;
- 2° dans le cas d'un régime non garanti, la somme des montants suivants:
 - a) la cotisation d'exercice établie conformément aux articles 128 et 129;
 - b) le total des cotisations d'équilibre déterminées pour l'exercice financier et des cotisations spéciales de modification exigibles au cours de l'exercice.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Dans le cas d'un régime interentreprises, cette cotisation patronale est versée par l'ensemble des employeurs parties au régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 39; 2006, c. 42, a. 5; 2008, c. 21, a. 30; 2015, c. 29, a. 9.

39.1. Malgré l'article 39, Retraite Québec peut autoriser l'employeur, dans la mesure et pour la période qu'elle fixe, à verser à la caisse de retraite une cotisation moindre que celle autrement requise, si les conditions suivantes sont réunies:

1° le régime de retraite est, à la date de la détermination du montant de cotisation à verser, un régime désigné au sens de l'article 8515 du Règlement de l'impôt sur le revenu (C.R.C., c. 945);

2° ce règlement interdit le versement, à titre de cotisation admissible, de tout ou partie de la cotisation qui devrait être versée par l'employeur en application de l'article 39;

3° tous les participants et bénéficiaires y consentent.

Le consentement visé au paragraphe 3° du premier alinéa n'est pas requis si la réduction de la cotisation est inférieure ou égale au montant que représente le total de la cotisation d'exercice de stabilisation et de la cotisation d'équilibre de stabilisation.

2000, c. 41, a. 22; 2006, c. 42, a. 6; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 10.

40. Dans le cas d'un régime de retraite garanti, la cotisation d'exercice correspond à la prime exigée par l'assureur pour garantir les remboursements et prestations auxquels ont droit les participants au titre de leurs services effectués au cours d'un exercice financier du régime et reconnus par ce dernier.

En outre, si l'assureur garantit des remboursements et prestations au titre des services reconnus relatifs à une période antérieure à l'exercice financier en cours, la prime exigible doit, pour que le régime puisse demeurer garanti, être versée à l'assureur en un seul versement dès que le régime reconnaît ces services ou améliore les droits qui leur sont afférents.

1989, c. 38, a. 40.

41. La cotisation patronale, déduction faite de la part de cette cotisation dont l'employeur est libéré en vertu de l'article 42.1 ou qui se rapporte à une cotisation spéciale de modification, doit être versée en autant de mensualités qu'il y a de mois dans l'exercice financier du régime de retraite et au plus tard le dernier jour du mois qui suit chacun de ces mois.

Ces mensualités doivent être égales. Toutefois, si elles se rapportent à la cotisation d'exercice, les mensualités peuvent représenter un tarif horaire ou un taux de la rémunération ou un pourcentage de la masse salariale versée aux participants actifs; ce taux ou pourcentage doit être uniforme à moins qu'il ne soit établi en fonction d'une variable autorisée par Retraite Québec.

Dans le cas d'un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X, lorsque la cotisation patronale n'est pas déterminée en début d'exercice, l'employeur doit, jusqu'à ce qu'un rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle du régime soit transmis à Retraite Québec, continuer à verser les mensualités fixées pour l'exercice précédent. Si la cotisation ainsi versée est inférieure à celle qui aurait dû être versée conformément au rapport, la première mensualité due après la date de la transmission du rapport à Retraite Québec doit être augmentée de la différence entre les mensualités ainsi versées et celles qui auraient dû l'être selon le rapport en tenant compte, le cas échéant, de la part de la cotisation patronale dont l'employeur est libéré en vertu de l'article 42.1 et des intérêts visés à l'article 48. La cotisation qui doit être versée selon le rapport peut aussi être ajustée si elle est inférieure à celle qui a été versée.

1989, c. 38, a. 41; 2000, c. 41, a. 23; 2006, c. 42, a. 7; 2008, c. 21, a. 31; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 11.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

42. Lorsque la période d'amortissement d'un déficit actuariel débute au cours d'un exercice financier du régime de retraite, la cotisation d'équilibre déterminée relativement à ce déficit pour cet exercice doit être versée en autant de mensualités qu'il y a de mois dans la portion de l'exercice comprise dans la période d'amortissement.

1989, c. 38, a. 42; 2006, c. 42, a. 8; 2015, c. 29, a. 12.

42.1. Dans les conditions prévues par règlement, un employeur peut, en fournissant au comité de retraite une lettre de crédit établie conformément au règlement, se libérer, en totalité ou en partie, du paiement de la part de la cotisation patronale déterminée pour l'exercice financier courant du régime de retraite qui se rapporte à la cotisation d'équilibre de stabilisation exigible au cours de l'exercice.

Le montant total de telles lettres de crédit ne peut excéder 15% du passif du régime selon l'approche de capitalisation.

2006, c. 42, a. 9; 2008, c. 21, a. 32; 2010, c. 41, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 13.

42.2. Les cotisations patronales d'équilibre technique et d'équilibre de stabilisation, à l'exception de celles acquittées au moyen d'une lettre de crédit, font l'objet d'une comptabilisation particulière. Sont également comptabilisées les cotisations patronales versées en excédent de celles requises.

Les cotisations salariales d'équilibre technique et d'équilibre de stabilisation font aussi l'objet d'une comptabilisation particulière.

Est comptabilisé, relativement à ces cotisations, un intérêt au taux de rendement obtenu sur le placement de l'actif du régime, déduction faite des frais de placement et d'administration.

2015, c. 29, a. 13.

43. Celui qui perçoit des cotisations salariales ou volontaires doit, au plus tard le dernier jour du mois qui suit celui de leur perception, les verser pour le compte du participant à la caisse de retraite ou, dans le cas d'un régime de retraite garanti, à l'assureur.

1989, c. 38, a. 43.

44. Toute cotisation salariale ou volontaire ainsi que, dans le cas d'un régime de retraite à cotisation déterminée, toute cotisation patronale portent intérêt, à compter du premier jour du mois qui suit celui au cours duquel elles doivent être versées à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur:

1° dans le cas d'un régime de retraite non garanti autre qu'un régime à cotisation déterminée, au taux de rendement obtenu sur le placement de l'actif du régime, déduction faite des frais de placement et d'administration ou, si le régime le prévoit et dans la mesure où la cotisation est relative à des remboursements ou prestations qui demeurent garantis, au taux obtenu mensuellement sur les dépôts personnels à terme de cinq ans dans les banques à charte et tel que compilé par la Banque du Canada;

2° dans le cas d'un régime de retraite à cotisation déterminée, au taux de rendement obtenu sur le placement soit de tout l'actif du régime soit, si celui-ci le prévoit, d'une partie seulement de cet actif se rapportant à un groupe donné de participants, déduction faite des frais de placement et d'administration;

3° dans le cas d'un régime de retraite garanti, au taux mensuel visé au paragraphe 1° ou, si le régime le prévoit, au taux de rendement obtenu sur le placement de l'actif de l'assureur non compris dans les groupes distincts d'avoirs constitués par ce dernier, déduction faite dans ce dernier cas des frais de placement et d'administration.

Toutefois, si le régime prévoit que des participants peuvent décider des placements à faire avec tout ou partie des cotisations portées à leur compte, ou si des cotisations volontaires font l'objet d'un placement distinct dans un régime non garanti, doivent être exclus de l'actif du régime, pour l'application des paragraphes 1° et 2° du premier alinéa, les placements faits avec ces cotisations, celles-ci portant alors intérêt au taux de rendement obtenu sur ces placements.

Les dispositions du présent article applicables aux cotisations versées au titre d'un régime de retraite à cotisation déterminée s'appliquent également aux cotisations versées en vertu de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles de ce régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 44; 2000, c. 41, a. 24.

45. Par dérogation au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 44, les cotisations patronales versées au titre d'un régime de retraite à cotisation déterminée peuvent, si le régime le prévoit, porter intérêt au taux de rendement obtenu sur le placement de cotisations versées par les participants au titre de ce régime ou d'un autre régime de retraite régi ou non par la présente loi, pour autant que ce placement soit décidé par les participants.

1989, c. 38, a. 45.

45.1. Lorsque l'intérêt dû sur les sommes portées au compte d'un participant est calculé sur la base du rendement obtenu sur l'actif placé et que le placement s'est soldé par une perte, il peut y avoir réduction de ces sommes dans la proportion que représente le montant de la perte sur celui de cet actif.

1992, c. 60, a. 6.

46. À moins qu'elles ne soient déjà prévues au régime, la méthode de calcul des taux de rendement ainsi que la méthode d'application du taux d'intérêt mensuel sont, pour l'application des articles 44 et 45, déterminées par l'actuaire ou le comptable choisi par le comité de retraite; dans le cas d'un régime garanti, ces méthodes sont déterminées par l'assureur.

Il en va de même, aux fins de l'application de l'article 45.1, pour la détermination de la méthode de calcul de la perte subie par l'actif ainsi que de la réduction consécutive de la valeur des cotisations.

1989, c. 38, a. 46; 1992, c. 60, a. 7.

47. Lorsque le participant ou bénéficiaire a acquis droit à une prestation au titre du régime de retraite,

- les cotisations volontaires,
- les cotisations salariales ou patronales versées au titre d'un régime à cotisation déterminée ou en vertu de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles de ce régime,
- les cotisations salariales qui excèdent le plafond fixé par l'article 60, continuent, sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 45.1, de porter intérêt au taux visé à l'article 44 ou 45 jusqu'à ce que, selon le cas, elles fassent l'objet d'un remplacement de rente en application de l'article 92, d'un transfert prévu à l'article 98 ou d'un remboursement, ou jusqu'à ce qu'une rente additionnelle prévue à l'article 83 soit constituée avec ces cotisations.

1989, c. 38, a. 47; 1992, c. 60, a. 8; 2000, c. 41, a. 25.

48. À moins que le régime de retraite ou, dans le cas d'un régime garanti, le contrat d'assurance ne fixe un taux d'intérêt supérieur, les cotisations qui ne sont pas versées à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur portent intérêt, à compter du dernier jour du mois qui suit celui pour lequel elle devait être versée ou, selon le cas, du dernier jour du mois qui suit celui au cours duquel elle a été perçue, au taux visé à l'article 44 ou 45 ou, dans le cas de la cotisation patronale versée au titre d'un régime à prestations déterminées, au taux de rendement de la caisse de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 48; 2000, c. 41, a. 26.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

49. Jusqu'à leur versement à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur, les cotisations et les intérêts accumulés sont réputés détenus en fiducie par l'employeur, que ce dernier les ait ou non gardés séparément de ses biens.

1989, c. 38, a. 49.

50. L'employeur doit, lors de leur versement, informer le comité de retraite ou, dans le cas d'un régime de retraite garanti, l'assureur du motif de toute variation importante des cotisations à verser à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur.

1989, c. 38, a. 50.

51. Le comité de retraite ou, dans le cas d'un régime de retraite garanti, l'assureur doit, dans les 60 jours qui suivent son échéance, aviser Retraite Québec de toute cotisation non versée.

1989, c. 38, a. 51; 2000, c. 41, a. 27; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

52. Sauf s'ils ont agi avec prudence, diligence et compétence, comme l'auraient fait en pareilles circonstances des personnes raisonnables ou s'ils n'ont pu, dans ces mêmes circonstances, avoir connaissance du défaut, les administrateurs d'une personne morale partie à un régime de retraite à titre d'employeur sont solidairement responsables des cotisations échues et non versées au cours de leur mandat, avec les intérêts, jusqu'à concurrence de six mois de cotisation.

Dans le cas d'un régime de retraite interentreprises non considéré comme tel par application de l'article 11, cette responsabilité n'incombe aux administrateurs d'une filiale que si la société mère fait défaut de verser les cotisations visées. Si ceux-ci font également défaut de verser des cotisations dont ils sont responsables aux termes du présent alinéa, les administrateurs de la société mère en deviennent à leur tour responsables.

Le plafond de six mois prévu au premier alinéa ne s'applique pas lorsque l'employeur gère la caisse de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 52.

53. La responsabilité prévue à l'article 52 n'est engagée que dans l'un ou l'autre des cas suivants:

1° la personne morale a été poursuivie dans les deux ans qui ont suivi l'échéance de la cotisation non versée et l'exécution n'a pu satisfaire au montant accordé par jugement;

2° la personne morale, dans les deux ans qui ont suivi l'échéance de la cotisation non versée, a fait l'objet d'une ordonnance de mise en liquidation ou est devenue faillie au sens de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre B-3) et la réclamation déposée n'a pu être satisfaite.

1989, c. 38, a. 53.

CHAPITRE VI

REMBOURSEMENT ET PRESTATIONS

SECTION I

DISPOSITIONS GÉNÉRALES

54. La période de travail continu d'un travailleur est celle durant laquelle il exécute un travail pour son employeur, sans égard aux périodes d'interruption temporaire ni aux périodes d'invalidité pendant lesquelles le participant continue d'accumuler des droits. La mise à pied avec droit de rappel d'un travailleur ne peut, aux fins du présent alinéa et malgré le deuxième alinéa de l'article 5, être considérée comme une période d'interruption temporaire au delà de 24 mois consécutifs, à moins que le régime ne le permette et que le travailleur n'y consente.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Le changement d'employeurs, pourvu que Retraite Québec ait autorisé le transfert d'engagements dans les cas visés à l'article 22 ou au chapitre XII, n'a pas pour effet d'interrompre la période de travail continu pour l'application du régime de retraite.

Dans le cas d'un régime de retraite interentreprises, même non considéré comme tel par application de l'article 11, le fait pour le travailleur de changer d'employeur n'a pas non plus pour effet d'interrompre la période de travail continu si l'ancien employeur et le nouveau sont parties au régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 54; 1994, c. 24, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

55. Les services reconnus à un participant sont les services qui, aux termes d'un régime de retraite, sont comptés pour l'acquisition du droit à des prestations ou pour leur calcul.

1989, c. 38, a. 55.

56. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 56; 2000, c. 41, a. 28.

57. À moins d'être approuvées par Retraite Québec,

— les cotisations patronales versées au titre d'un régime à cotisation déterminée ou en vertu de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles de ce régime.

— la méthode de calcul de ces cotisations patronales,

— la méthode de calcul de la rente normale payable au titre d'un régime à prestations déterminées ou à cotisation et prestations déterminées, ne peuvent varier, pour les participants appartenant à une même catégorie de travailleurs et pour une même période de services reconnus, en fonction du nombre d'années de travail ou de services reconnus.

1989, c. 38, a. 57; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

58. Toute rente servie en vertu d'un régime de retraite doit être viagère et ne peut être payée sous une autre forme du vivant du participant ou, dans le cas d'une rente au conjoint, du vivant du conjoint sauf :

1° la rente temporaire prévue à l'article 91.1 et celle qui en est dérivée ;

2° la rente prévue à l'article 67.2 ;

3° la prestation de raccordement qui correspond à la fraction d'une rente dont le régime prévoit le service au participant ou bénéficiaire jusqu'à une date qui n'est ni antérieure à celle où le participant devient admissible à une rente anticipée payable en vertu de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9), du Régime de pensions du Canada (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre C-8), de la Loi sur la sécurité de la vieillesse (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre O-9) ou d'un programme relatif à la sécurité du revenu déterminé par règlement, ni postérieure à celle où il devient admissible à une autre prestation de retraite payable en vertu d'une telle loi ou d'un tel programme.

Un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X peut toutefois prévoir que le service d'une rente peut être suspendu pour une période donnée à la demande du participant lorsqu'il recommence à travailler pour l'employeur partie au régime ou, s'il s'agit d'un régime interentreprises même non considéré comme tel par application de l'article 11, pour l'un des employeurs partie à ce régime, sous réserve des conditions suivantes :

1° si la suspension débute avant le premier jour du mois qui suit celui au cours duquel le participant atteint l'âge de 65 ans ou, dans le cas d'un participant qui atteint cet âge le premier jour d'un mois, si elle débute avant ce jour, le participant accumule, pour le travail effectué durant la période de suspension qui précède ce jour, de nouveaux droits selon les modalités et conditions prévues au régime pour les travailleurs

de sa catégorie, jusqu'à concurrence seulement de la période maximale de services que peut lui reconnaître ce régime pour le calcul de la rente normale;

2° si la suspension vise une rente de retraite réduite en raison du début de son service avant l'âge normal de la retraite, cette réduction doit être calculée de nouveau à la fin de la suspension de la rente;

3° si la suspension continue ou débute après le jour visé au paragraphe 1°, la rente dont le service a été suspendu doit être revalorisée en tenant compte, le cas échéant, du nouveau calcul de la réduction en application du paragraphe 2° et des nouveaux droits accumulés visés au paragraphe 1°. Cette revalorisation s'effectue de la même manière que celle qui, visée au deuxième alinéa de l'article 79, est prévue par le régime pour le montant de la rente non versé durant une période d'ajournement.

En outre, la rente additionnelle qui résulte des cotisations versées pendant la suspension de la rente doit être établie suivant les règles prévues à l'article 78 pour le calcul de la valeur minimale de la rente résultant des cotisations versées durant une période d'ajournement.

Le participant qui a droit à une rente de retraite, autre que la rente normale, dont le service est suspendu en application du deuxième alinéa peut, après le jour visé au paragraphe 1° de cet alinéa, demander le service de la rente selon les modalités prévues à l'article 77, qui s'applique compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

La suspension de la rente prend fin dès que se termine la période de travail continu du participant ou au moment prévu au paragraphe 2° de l'article 80.

1989, c. 38, a. 58; 1994, c. 24, a. 3; 1997, c. 19, a. 5; 2000, c. 41, a. 29; 2008, c. 21, a. 3.

59. Les montants périodiques payables au titre d'une rente autre que celle prévue à l'article 67.2 doivent être égaux, à moins:

0.1° que cette rente ne soit ajustée en application du deuxième alinéa de l'article 58 ou du deuxième ou troisième alinéa de l'article 67.4 ;

1° que cette rente ne soit remplacée:

a) par une rente temporaire prévue à l'article 91.1 ou une rente qui en est dérivée, auxquels cas doivent seuls être égaux les montants périodiques qui se rapportent à la partie de la rente qui n'est pas remplacée;

b) par une rente visée à l'article 92;

2° que chaque montant à verser ne soit uniformément augmenté en raison de l'utilisation, pour la détermination de cette rente, d'un indice ou taux prévu au régime, en raison du nouvel établissement de la rente conformément à l'article 89.1 ou en raison de l'option autorisée par le paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 93 ou qu'il ne soit uniformément modifié en raison du nouvel établissement de la rente conformément au cinquième alinéa de l'article 87, en raison des options autorisées par l'article 91.1 ou par les paragraphes 3°, 4° et 6° du premier alinéa de l'article 93 ou en raison du partage des droits du participant avec son conjoint effectué conformément au chapitre VIII;

3° que cette rente ne soit remplacée par un paiement en un seul versement ou par une série de paiements faits en application des paragraphes 4° ou 6° du premier alinéa de l'article 93;

4° que cette rente ne soit majorée pour tenir compte de la cessation de la rente d'invalidité payable en vertu de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9) lorsque le participant atteint l'âge de 65 ans;

5° que les montants à verser au titre d'une prestation de raccordement visée au premier alinéa de l'article 58 ne soient réduits selon le régime à une date qui se situe entre les dates limites prévues à cet alinéa.

1989, c. 38, a. 59; 1997, c. 19, a. 6; 2000, c. 41, a. 30; 2008, c. 21, a. 4.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

60. Les cotisations salariales visées à l'article 38 versées par un participant, avec les intérêts accumulés, établies lorsque survient la première des éventualités suivantes, ne peuvent servir à acquitter plus de 50% de la valeur:

1° de toute prestation à laquelle il acquiert droit et des droits qui en sont dérivés;

1.1° dans le cas où une prestation est versée en application de la sous-section 0.1 de la section III du chapitre VI, de toute prestation à laquelle le participant aurait acquis droit, et des droits qui en seraient dérivés, s'il avait pris sa retraite à la date où il a demandé le versement de cette prestation ;

2° si le participant est décédé sans avoir acquis droit à une rente, de toute prestation à laquelle un bénéficiaire acquiert droit en application du paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 86.

En outre, si le participant contribue au versement de cotisations d'équilibre, les cotisations salariales versées par celui-ci, avec les intérêts accumulés et réduites du montant des cotisations excédentaires calculées selon le premier alinéa, ne peuvent servir à acquitter plus que la valeur mentionnée à cet alinéa.

Le présent article ne s'applique pas:

1° aux prestations acquises au titre d'un régime de retraite à cotisation déterminée;

2° aux prestations acquises au titre de dispositions qui, dans un régime de retraite à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée;

3° aux prestations qui résultent de droits ou d'actifs ayant fait l'objet d'un transfert, même non visé au chapitre VII;

4° à la rente additionnelle visée au troisième alinéa de l'article 58, au deuxième alinéa de l'article 67.4 ou à l'article 78 ou 83;

5° à la partie de toute prestation acquise au titre de services qui, bien que se rapportant à une période de travail au cours de laquelle aucune cotisation patronale ne fut versée pour le compte du participant, sont néanmoins reconnus en raison de l'exercice par le participant d'une option que lui offre le régime à cette fin, pour autant qu'il soit prévu que les engagements nés de cette option, tels qu'estimés à la date où elle est exercée, sont entièrement à la charge du participant; dans un tel cas, la valeur de ces engagements, établie suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61, doit être égale, à cette date, à la somme versée par le participant;

6° à une prestation qui, visée au paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa, a été constituée à partir de sommes à rembourser, ou est résultée de la conversion d'une prestation non viagère;

7° (paragraphe abrogé);

8° à une rente prévue à l'article 67.2.

1989, c. 38, a. 60; 1992, c. 60, a. 9; 1994, c. 24, a. 4; 2000, c. 41, a. 31; 2008, c. 21, a. 5; 2015, c. 29, a. 14.

60.1. (Abrogé).

2000, c. 41, a. 32; 2015, c. 29, a. 15.

61. La valeur des prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 doit être déterminée à la date d'acquisition du droit à ces prestations, suivant les hypothèses actuarielles déterminées par règlement.

*Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite, R.L.R.Q. c R-15.1RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Cette valeur peut toutefois, sur autorisation de Retraite Québec et aux conditions qu'elle fixe, être déterminée suivant les hypothèses actuarielles déterminées par le régime, pourvu qu'elle soit toujours au moins égale à celle qui résulterait de l'application du premier alinéa.

1989, c. 38, a. 61; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 33; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 16.

62. Toute prestation déterminée sur la base de la rente normale doit, si cette rente est établie d'après l'évolution de la rémunération du participant au cours de son emploi, tenir compte de cette évolution jusqu'à la fin de sa période de travail continu, sauf:

1° lorsque le régime de retraite prévoit que cette rente cesse de tenir compte de l'évolution de la rémunération du participant avant la fin de sa période de travail continu, pourvu que ce ne soit pas avant la date où ce dernier cesse d'être participant actif;

2° lorsque le régime de retraite est modifié pour prévoir qu'à l'égard des services reconnus au participant à compter de la date de prise d'effet de la modification, cette rente n'est plus établie d'après l'évolution de sa rémunération.

1989, c. 38, a. 62.

63. Dans le cas d'un régime de retraite garanti, ou d'un régime de retraite non garanti aux termes duquel des remboursements ou prestations sont garantis par un assureur, la garantie doit, pour les services effectués au cours d'un exercice financier du régime et reconnus par ce dernier, être accordée au fur et à mesure que l'assureur reçoit des cotisations de l'employeur ou du comité de retraite.

Quant aux services reconnus au titre d'une période antérieure à l'exercice financier en cours, la garantie doit être accordée dès réception du montant total de la prime exigée par l'assureur.

1989, c. 38, a. 63.

63.1. Lorsqu'un régime de retraite n'est plus en mesure de demeurer un régime de pension agréé défini à l'article 1 de la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3), soit parce que la valeur des droits d'un participant ou d'un bénéficiaire au titre de dispositions à prestations déterminées excède la somme qui peut être transférée directement dans un autre régime, soit parce que le montant annuel des cotisations versées à la caisse de retraite au titre de dispositions à cotisation déterminée excède les limites imposées, le comité de retraite doit rembourser au participant ou bénéficiaire concerné la partie excédentaire de ses droits.

1992, c. 60, a. 10; 2000, c. 41, a. 34.

64. La désignation de bénéficiaires et sa révocation sont régies par les articles 2445 à 2459 du Code civil, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

1989, c. 38, a. 64; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 35.

65. À l'exception des articles 63, 63.1, 64, 67, 83, 84, 86 et 93, le présent chapitre ne s'applique pas aux cotisations volontaires.

1989, c. 38, a. 65; 2000, c. 41, a. 36.

SECTION IIREMBOURSEMENT

66. Le participant qui cesse d'être actif a droit au remboursement de la valeur de ses droits si elle est inférieure à 20% du maximum des gains admissibles établi conformément à la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9) pour l'année au cours de laquelle il a cessé sa participation active. Le participant peut, avant qu'une rente ne lui soit servie en vertu du régime, exercer ce droit dans les 90 jours qui suivent la date où il a reçu le relevé visé à l'article 113 et, par la suite, à tous les cinq ans à compter de la date où il a cessé d'être actif, dans les 90 jours qui suivent la date d'expiration de chaque cinquième année.

Lorsque les conditions prévues au premier alinéa sont remplies, le comité de retraite peut également procéder à l'acquittement des droits du participant en lui remboursant la somme représentant la valeur de sa rente. Au préalable, le comité doit demander par écrit au participant de lui faire connaître ses instructions quant au mode de remboursement; à défaut d'avoir reçu une réponse dans les 30 jours de l'envoi de cet avis, le comité peut procéder au remboursement. L'avis envoyé au participant doit faire état de cette éventualité.

1989, c. 38, a. 66; 2000, c. 41, a. 37.

66.1. Le participant qui a cessé d'être actif et dont la période de travail continu a pris fin a droit au remboursement de la valeur de ses droits s'il a cessé de résider au Canada depuis au moins deux ans.

2000, c. 41, a. 38.

67. Sauf si ces cotisations ont servi à constituer une rente ou, sous réserve de l'article 102, s'il s'agit de sommes qui proviennent d'un transfert, même non visé à l'article 98, le participant qui cesse d'être actif a droit de retirer la valeur des cotisations volontaires portées à son compte, avec les intérêts accumulés.

Ce droit de retrait peut être exercé dans les 90 jours qui suivent la date où le participant a reçu le relevé visé à l'article 113 et, par la suite, à tous les cinq ans à compter de la date où le participant a cessé d'être actif, dans les 90 jours qui suivent la date d'expiration de chaque cinquième année.

1989, c. 38, a. 67; 2000, c. 41, a. 39.

67.1. Malgré le deuxième alinéa de l'article 5, le régime ne peut prévoir aucun remboursement de droits contrairement aux dispositions de la présente loi.

Le présent article n'a toutefois pas pour effet d'empêcher un régime de prévoir un délai plus avantageux pour l'exercice du droit au remboursement.

2000, c. 41, a. 40.

SECTION III

PRESTATIONS

§ 0.1. — Prestations de retraite progressive

2008, c. 21, a. 6.

67.2. Un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X ou qui est visé au paragraphe 1° de l'article 116 peut prévoir qu'une rente est servie, sur demande, au participant qui exécute un travail pour un employeur partie au régime et qui remplit les conditions suivantes :

1° il conclut une entente à cet effet avec son employeur ;

2° il est âgé d'au moins 60 ans ou, s'il est âgé de moins de 60 ans, il est âgé d'au moins 55 ans et aurait droit, si sa période de travail continu prenait fin à la date où la rente commence à lui être servie, à une rente anticipée ne faisant l'objet d'aucune réduction attribuable au début de son service avant l'âge normal de la retraite ;

3° il est âgé de moins de 65 ans.

2008, c. 21, a. 6.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

67.3. Les modalités de la rente servie en application de l'article 67.2 sont fixées dans l'entente visée par cet article. Toutefois, le montant annuel de cette rente ne peut excéder :

1° dans le cas où le participant reçoit une rente de retraite au titre du régime ou a droit à une rente de retraite dont le service est suspendu au moment où il demande le service de la rente, 60% du montant annuel de la rente à laquelle il a droit à cette date, compte non tenu d'une prestation visée à l'article 83 ou à l'article 104 ;

2° dans le cas où le participant non visé au paragraphe 1° ne reçoit aucune rente de retraite au titre du régime de retraite à la date où il demande le service de cette rente, 60% du montant annuel de toute rente à laquelle il aurait eu droit s'il avait pris sa retraite à cette date, compte non tenu d'une prestation visée à l'article 83 ou à l'article 104, du droit du conjoint à la rente visée à l'article 87 ni des options prévues par le régime.

En cas de conflit, les modalités de l'entente prévalent sur celles du régime.

Ni l'entente ni, malgré le deuxième alinéa de l'article 5, le régime de retraite ne peuvent prévoir de dispositions permettant le versement de la rente prévue à l'article 67.2 lorsque le participant est âgé de 65 ans ou plus. De plus, un participant ne peut recevoir, pour une même période, cette rente et une autre prestation payable au titre du régime, à l'exception d'une prestation visée à l'article 67.5, 83 ou 104.

Le service de toute prestation, autre qu'une prestation visée à l'article 67.5, 83 ou 104, que le participant reçoit au moment où il demande le service de la rente prévue à l'article 67.2 est suspendu pendant la période où le participant reçoit cette dernière rente. Le régime peut par ailleurs prévoir que le service d'une prestation visée à l'article 67.5, 83 ou 104 est suspendu sur demande du participant qui reçoit la rente prévue à l'article 67.2.

2008, c. 21, a. 6.

67.4. À moins que cela n'avantage le participant, la rémunération versée pendant la période débutant avec le service d'une prestation visée à la présente sous-section et cessant à la date à laquelle débute ou recommence le service d'une rente de retraite ou celle où il atteint l'âge de 65 ans, selon le premier de ces événements, ne peut être prise en considération pour le calcul des prestations relatives aux services reconnus qui ne se rapportent pas à cette période.

En outre, les ajustements suivants s'appliquent :

1° dans le cas visé au paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa de l'article 67.3, le participant a droit, si des cotisations sont versées durant cette période, à une rente additionnelle établie suivant les règles prévues à l'article 78 pour le calcul de la valeur minimale de la rente résultant des cotisations versées durant une période d'ajournement. De plus, si la rente de retraite de ce participant était réduite en raison du début de son service avant l'âge normal de la retraite, cette réduction doit être calculée de nouveau à la fin de la suspension de service prévue par l'article 67.3 ;

2° dans le cas visé au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 67.3, le participant a droit, si des cotisations ont été versées pendant la même période, à une rente qui ne peut être inférieure à celle qui résulterait de l'application des règles prévues à l'article 78.

Les ajustements prévus au deuxième alinéa s'appliquent également à la prestation visée à l'article 83 ou 104 dont le service a été suspendu en application du quatrième alinéa de l'article 67.3.

2008, c. 21, a. 6.

67.5. Un régime de retraite qui, sans être un régime à cotisation déterminée, comporte des dispositions identiques à celles d'un tel régime, de même qu'un régime visé au paragraphe 2° ou 3° de l'article 116 peut prévoir qu'une prestation autre qu'une rente est versée, sur demande, au participant âgé d'au moins 55 ans mais de moins de 65 ans qui exécute un travail pour un employeur partie au régime et avec lequel il conclut une entente à cet effet.

Les modalités de la prestation sont fixées dans l'entente, sous réserve que le montant annuel de la prestation ne peut excéder 60% du plafond du revenu viager que le participant pourrait recevoir au titre d'une rente de remplacement constituée en application de l'article 92. Ce montant est établi au début de l'année au cours de laquelle débute le versement de la prestation en fonction des sommes portées au compte du participant à cette date et de son âge à la fin de l'année précédente. Il doit être établi de nouveau au début de chaque année. Ni l'entente ni, malgré le deuxième alinéa de l'article 5, le régime de retraite ne peuvent prévoir de dispositions plus avantageuses que celles prévues au présent article.

En cas de conflit, les modalités de l'entente prévalent sur celles du régime.

La valeur des droits du participant, établie à la date du versement de la prestation, est réduite du montant de la prestation versée.

2008, c. 21, a. 6.

§ 1. — Rente différée

68. La rente différée est la rente de retraite dont le service est différé à l'âge normal de la retraite.

Elle doit comporter les mêmes caractéristiques que la rente normale, à l'exception:

1° de celles relatives à la rente ajournée prévues aux articles 76 à 80;

2° du complément de rente prévu par le régime de retraite pour le versement d'une rente normale minimale qui peut, avec l'autorisation de Retraite Québec, ne pas être compté pour la détermination de la rente différée.

1989, c. 38, a. 68; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

69. Tout participant qui cesse d'être actif a droit à une rente différée au moins égale à la rente normale.

1989, c. 38, a. 69; 2000, c. 41, a. 41.

§ 1.1. — Prestation anticipée

1997, c. 19, a. 7.

69.1. Le participant actif dont le temps de travail est réduit en application d'une entente conclue avec son employeur et dont l'âge est inférieur de 10 ans ou moins à l'âge normal de la retraite ou qui a atteint ou dépassé cet âge a droit, sur demande, à chaque année couverte par l'entente, au paiement en un seul versement d'une prestation égale au moindre des montants suivants:

1° 70% de la réduction de sa rémunération entraînée par la réduction de son temps de travail durant l'année;

2° 40% du maximum des gains admissibles pour l'année concernée établi en application de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9);

3° la valeur de ses droits au titre du régime établie en supposant qu'il cesse d'être actif à la date où il demande le paiement de la prestation.

Malgré le deuxième alinéa de l'article 5, le régime ne peut prévoir de dispositions plus avantageuses que celles prévues au premier alinéa. De plus, un participant actif ne peut recevoir, au cours d'une même année, la prestation prévue au présent article et celle prévue à l'article 67.5 ou une rente payable en vertu de l'article 77 ou en remplacement de celle-ci.

La valeur de la réduction de la rente du participant consécutive au paiement de la prestation prévue au présent article ne peut être supérieure au montant de la prestation. De plus, à moins que cela n'avantage le participant, la rémunération versée pendant la période où il a droit à cette prestation ne peut être prise en considération pour le calcul des prestations relatives aux services reconnus qui ne se rapportent pas à cette période.

L'employeur doit, dans les 60 jours de la date où il devient partie à une entente visée au premier alinéa, informer le comité de retraite du nom de tout participant visé par cet alinéa.

1997, c. 19, a. 7; 2000, c. 41, a. 42; 2008, c. 21, a. 7.

§ 2. — Rente anticipée

70. La rente anticipée est la rente de retraite dont le service débute avant l'âge normal de la retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 70.

71. Tout participant dont la période de travail continu s'est terminée dans les 10 ans qui précèdent la date où il atteindra l'âge normal de la retraite a droit à une rente anticipée.

Cependant, le participant qui a droit à une rente différée peut, qu'il ait ou non terminé sa période de travail continu, anticiper le service de cette rente s'il en fait la demande dans les 10 ans qui précèdent la date où il atteindra l'âge normal de la retraite fixé par le régime lui accordant droit à cette rente.

1989, c. 38, a. 71; 1992, c. 60, a. 11; 2000, c. 41, a. 43.

72. La valeur de la rente anticipée doit être au moins égale à la valeur de la rente normale, actualisée à la date où débute le service de la rente anticipée.

1989, c. 38, a. 72.

§ 3. — Rente normale

73. La rente normale est la rente de retraite dont le service débute à l'âge normal de la retraite.

L'âge normal de la retraite ne peut excéder le premier jour du mois qui suit celui au cours duquel le participant atteint l'âge de 65 ans.

1989, c. 38, a. 73.

74. Sauf lorsque l'article 76 prescrit l'ajournement de cette rente, tout participant actif, à l'exception de celui qui a reçu une rente de retraite au titre du régime de retraite, a droit à la rente normale dès qu'il atteint l'âge normal de la retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 74; 2008, c. 21, a. 8.

§ 4. — Rente ajournée

75. La rente ajournée est la rente de retraite dont le service débute après l'âge normal de la retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 75.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

76. La rente normale d'un participant doit être ajournée lorsque, après l'âge normal de la retraite, il demeure au travail auprès de l'employeur pour lequel il travaillait à cet âge.

1989, c. 38, a. 76.

77. Le participant a droit, sur demande, au service de tout ou partie de sa rente normale pendant la période d'ajournement, mais seulement dans la mesure nécessaire pour compenser toute réduction de rémunération à caractère permanent survenue au cours de cette période.

Toutefois, sauf stipulations contraires, le participant peut, après entente avec l'employeur, recevoir tout ou partie de sa rente sans égard à la limite prévue par le premier alinéa.

Le participant ne peut exercer ce droit plus d'une fois par période de 12 mois, sauf entente avec le comité de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 77.

78. Si des cotisations sont versées durant la période d'ajournement, la rente additionnelle qui en résulte doit être au moins égale en valeur à la rente que constitueraient, à la fin de la période d'ajournement, les cotisations salariales versées au cours de cette période, avec les intérêts accumulés. Elle doit également satisfaire aux exigences de l'article 84.

1989, c. 38, a. 78; 2000, c. 41, a. 44.

79. S'il y a ajournement de tout ou partie de la rente normale, le montant de la rente non versé durant la période d'ajournement doit être revalorisé à la fin de l'ajournement.

Le régime de retraite doit prévoir comment s'effectue cette revalorisation.

1989, c. 38, a. 79.

80. L'ajournement de la rente normale prend fin:

1° dès que se termine la période de travail continu du participant auprès de l'employeur pour lequel il travaillait à l'âge normal de la retraite;

2° dès que le régime de retraite n'est plus en mesure, en raison de cet ajournement, de demeurer un régime de pension agréé défini à l'article 1 de la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3).

1989, c. 38, a. 80; 1991, c. 25, a. 180.

81. Lorsqu'il y a ajournement de la rente normale en vertu de la présente loi ou lorsque le régime de retraite permet au participant qui a droit à une rente devenue payable de la remplacer en tout ou en partie, s'il décide de l'ajourner après l'âge normal de la retraite, par une rente revalorisée, la revalorisation doit être telle que la rente payable à la fin de l'ajournement soit actuariellement équivalente à celle dont le service aurait débuté à l'âge normal de la retraite, n'eût été de son ajournement.

Cette équivalence actuarielle doit être effectuée sur la base des hypothèses visées à l'article 61 qui, à la date où le participant a atteint l'âge normal de la retraite, ont été utilisées pour déterminer la valeur des prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit a été acquis à cette date.

1989, c. 38, a. 81; 2000, c. 41, a. 45.

§ 5. — Rente d'invalidité

82. La valeur de la rente qu'accorde le régime de retraite au participant devenu invalide et qui, de ce fait, a dû cesser de travailler pour l'employeur partie au régime ou d'être participant actif, doit être au moins égale à la valeur des droits qu'aurait acquis ce participant sans invalidité, actualisée à la date où débute le service de cette rente.

1989, c. 38, a. 82.

82.1. Malgré l'article 58, le régime peut prévoir que le service de la rente d'invalidité est interrompu lorsque le participant cesse d'être invalide au sens du régime.

La valeur des droits accumulés par le participant au titre des services reconnus par le régime avant le début du service de la rente d'invalidité ne peut, au moment où le service de cette rente est interrompu, être inférieure au montant m de la formule suivante:

$$a \times \frac{b}{c} = m$$

« a » représente la valeur des droits accumulés par le participant à la date du début du service de la rente d'invalidité, établie sans tenir compte du droit à cette rente;

« b » représente la valeur d'une rente de 1 $ versée annuellement à compter de la date de l'interruption de la rente d'invalidité et, par la suite, à chaque date anniversaire de cette interruption;

« c » représente la valeur d'une rente de 1 $ versée annuellement à compter de la date du début du service de la rente d'invalidité et, par la suite, à chaque date anniversaire du début de ce service.

Ces valeurs sont établies à la date de l'interruption du service de la rente d'invalidité suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui, à cette date, étaient utilisées pour la détermination de la valeur des prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60.

1994, c. 24, a. 5; 2000, c. 41, a. 46.

§ 6. — Rente additionnelle

83. Sauf dans le cas d'un régime à cotisation déterminée, tout participant dont les cotisations salariales, avec les intérêts accumulés, excèdent le plafond fixé par l'article 60 ou au compte duquel sont portées des cotisations volontaires a droit, à compter de la date à laquelle une rente autre que celle prévue à l'article 67.2 commence à lui être servie au titre du régime de retraite, à la constitution d'une rente additionnelle avec cet excédent ou ces cotisations et les intérêts accumulés.

Le régime peut toutefois permettre au participant de choisir entre la rente additionnelle constituée avec ses cotisations volontaires et toute autre prestation d'égale valeur que détermine le régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 83; 2008, c. 21, a. 9.

84. La rente additionnelle doit être déterminée suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui, à la date de sa détermination, sont utilisées pour déterminer la valeur d'autres prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit s'acquiert à cette date.

Cette rente additionnelle doit en outre comporter les mêmes caractéristiques que la rente normale, à l'exception du complément de rente prévu par le régime de retraite pour le versement d'une rente normale minimale.

1989, c. 38, a. 84; 2000, c. 41, a. 47.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

§ 7. — Prestations après décès

85. Pour l'application de la présente sous-section, le conjoint est la personne qui, au jour considéré en vertu du deuxième alinéa:

1° est liée par un mariage ou une union civile à un participant;

2° vit maritalement avec un participant non marié ni uni civilement, qu'elle soit de sexe différent ou de même sexe, depuis au moins trois ans ou, dans les cas suivants, depuis au moins un an:

— un enfant au moins est né ou à naître de leur union;

— ils ont conjointement adopté au moins un enfant durant leur période de vie maritale;

— l'un d'eux a adopté au moins un enfant de l'autre durant cette période.

La qualité de conjoint s'établit soit au jour où une rente de retraite ou d'invalidité, une rente la remplaçant ou une prestation de raccordement commence à être servie au participant, soit au jour qui précède son décès, suivant celle de ces options que retient le régime de retraite ou, à défaut, suivant la première de ces éventualités. Toutefois, dans le cas où le participant décède sans qu'une telle rente ou prestation ne lui ait été servie, la qualité de conjoint s'établit au jour qui précède le décès.

Pour l'application du paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa, la naissance ou l'adoption d'un enfant avant la période de vie maritale en cours au jour où s'établit la qualité de conjoint peut permettre de qualifier une personne comme conjoint.

Malgré le paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa, la personne qui est judiciairement séparée de corps du participant au jour où s'établit la qualité de conjoint n'a droit à aucune prestation en vertu de la présente sous-section, à moins qu'elle ne soit l'ayant cause du participant ou que celui-ci n'ait transmis l'avis prévu à l'article 89.

1989, c. 38, a. 85; 1999, c. 14, a. 26; 2000, c. 41, a. 48; 2002, c. 6, a. 194; 2008, c. 21, a. 10.

86. Lorsqu'un participant décède sans qu'une rente de retraite ou d'invalidité, une rente la remplaçant ou une prestation de raccordement ne lui ait été servie, son conjoint ou, à défaut, ses ayants cause ont droit à une prestation, payable en un seul versement, dont la valeur doit être au moins égale:

1° à la valeur de toute rente de retraite ou d'invalidité à laquelle le participant avait droit avant son décès;

2° si le participant n'avait pas droit à une rente de retraite ou d'invalidité avant son décès, à la valeur de la rente différée à laquelle il aurait eu droit s'il avait cessé d'être actif le jour du décès pour une raison autre que ce décès.

La valeur de la prestation prévue au premier alinéa est établie sans tenir compte des hypothèses de survie ou de mortalité pour la période qui précède le début du service de la rente. De plus, doivent être ajoutés, le cas échéant, à la valeur de cette prestation:

1° les cotisations volontaires portées au compte du participant et les cotisations salariales qui excèdent le plafond fixé par l'article 60, avec les intérêts accumulés, ainsi que les sommes qui ont déjà fait l'objet d'un transfert, même non visé à l'article 98, avec les intérêts accumulés, ou le montant que représente la valeur de la rente constituée avec ces sommes sans tenir compte du décès du participant ;

2° des intérêts calculés, entre la date du décès et la date du versement de la prestation, au taux utilisé pour la détermination de cette valeur.

Le présent article ne s'applique pas si le conjoint survivant du participant a droit, à compter du décès, à une rente dont la valeur est au moins égale à celle de la prestation prévue à cet article.

1989, c. 38, a. 86; 1997, c. 19, a. 8; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 49; 2008, c. 21, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 17.

87. Le conjoint d'un participant a droit à une rente à compter du décès de ce dernier si le participant recevait, avant son décès, l'une des rentes suivantes:

1° une rente de retraite ou d'invalidité ou une rente la remplaçant;

2° une rente dont le montant est modifié pour tenir compte d'un montant équivalant aux prestations déterminées en vertu de la Loi sur la sécurité de la vieillesse (L.R.C.1985, c. O-9), de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9) ou d'un régime équivalent au sens du paragraphe u de l'article 1 de cette dernière loi;

3° (paragraphe abrogé);

4° une prestation de raccordement visée au premier alinéa de l'article 58.

Le conjoint a également droit à une rente à compter du décès du participant si ce dernier avait droit, avant son décès, à une rente visée au premier alinéa dont le service était suspendu en application du deuxième alinéa de l'article 58 ou de l'article 67.3.

Le montant de la rente au conjoint doit être au moins égal à 60% du montant de la rente du participant incluant :

1° lorsque le participant décède durant la période au cours de laquelle le service de sa rente était suspendu en application de l'article 58 ou de l'article 67.3, le produit de l'ajustement de la rente requis par l'article 58 ou l'article 67.4 à la fin de la période de suspension ;

2° le cas échéant, pendant la durée du remplacement, le montant de la rente temporaire et, jusqu'à la date où, s'il avait survécu, le participant aurait cessé de la recevoir, le montant de la prestation de raccordement.

Le montant calculé conformément au troisième alinéa est augmenté d'un montant au moins égal à 60% de celui de la rente prévue à l'article 83 ou 104 que le participant recevait avant son décès ou dont le service était alors suspendu en application de l'article 58 ou de l'article 67.3, ajusté, si le participant décède durant la période de suspension, de la manière prévue par l'article 58 ou l'article 67.4, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

La somme de la rente prévue pour le conjoint et de la rente du participant réduite en conséquence doit, à la date où débute le service de cette dernière, être au moins actuariellement équivalente à la rente que le participant aurait reçue n'eût été du droit accordé au conjoint par le présent article. De plus, dans le cas où une rente prévue à l'article 83 ou 104 a commencé à être servie au participant avant la date à laquelle une personne a acquis la qualité de conjoint de ce participant, cette rente doit être établie de nouveau à cette date de manière à tenir compte du droit du conjoint à la rente prévue par le présent article.

1989, c. 38, a. 87; 1997, c. 19, a. 9; 2000, c. 41, a. 50; 2008, c. 21, a. 12.

88. Lorsque le participant dont la rente a été ajournée décède durant la période d'ajournement, son conjoint a droit à une rente dont la valeur doit être au moins égale à la plus élevée des valeurs suivantes:

1° à moins d'avoir renoncé à cette rente, la valeur de la rente qu'il aurait pu recevoir en application de l'article 87 si le service de la rente ajournée avait débuté le jour qui a précédé le décès du participant;

2° la valeur de la prestation après décès qu'il aurait pu recevoir en application de l'article 86.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Si la rente n'a été ajournée qu'en partie, en outre de la rente à laquelle il a droit en application de l'article 87 au titre de la partie de rente que recevait le participant, le conjoint a droit à une rente dont la valeur doit être au moins égale à la plus élevée des valeurs visées au premier alinéa, réduite en la multipliant par la fraction que représente la partie de la rente ajournée sur la rente totale.

À défaut de conjoint, les ayants cause ont droit à la prestation visée à l'article 86, réduite de la manière prévue au deuxième alinéa du présent article en cas d'ajournement partiel de la rente.

1989, c. 38, a. 88; 1994, c. 24, a. 6; 1999, c. 40, a. 254.

88.1. Le conjoint d'un participant peut renoncer aux droits que lui accorde la présente sous-section en transmettant au comité de retraite une déclaration contenant les renseignements prescrits par règlement. Le conjoint peut également révoquer cette renonciation pourvu que le comité en soit informé par écrit avant le décès du participant ou, dans le cas de la rente visée au deuxième alinéa de l'article 87, avant le début du service de la rente du participant.

La renonciation prévue au présent article n'entraîne pas renonciation aux droits qui peuvent échoir au conjoint à titre d'ayant cause du participant. De plus, malgré une telle renonciation, le régime de retraite est, pour l'application de l'article 415 du Code civil, réputé régi par une loi qui accorde au conjoint survivant le droit à des prestations de décès.

2000, c. 41, a. 51.

89. Le droit aux prestations qu'accorde la présente sous-section au conjoint du participant s'éteint, selon le cas, par la séparation de corps, le divorce, l'annulation du mariage, la dissolution ou l'annulation de l'union civile ou la cessation de la vie maritale, sauf lorsque le participant a avisé par écrit le comité de retraite de verser la rente à ce conjoint malgré le divorce, l'annulation du mariage, la séparation de corps, la dissolution ou l'annulation de l'union civile ou la cessation de la vie maritale.

1989, c. 38, a. 89; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 52; 2002, c. 6, a. 195.

89.1. Lorsque la rente d'un participant a été établie de manière à tenir compte du droit de son conjoint à la rente visée à l'article 87 et que ce conjoint n'a plus droit à cette rente en vertu de l'article 89, le participant a droit, sur demande au comité de retraite, d'obtenir que sa rente soit établie de nouveau à la date de prise d'effet du jugement de séparation de corps, de divorce ou d'annulation de mariage, à la date de dissolution ou d'annulation de l'union civile ou à la date de cessation de vie maritale. Le montant et les caractéristiques de la rente ainsi établie sont ceux de la rente qui serait payable au participant à la date du nouvel établissement s'il n'avait pas eu de conjoint à la date où a débuté le service de sa rente.

À moins qu'il n'ait reçu l'avis prévu à l'article 89, le comité de retraite doit aussi procéder au nouvel établissement de la rente du participant lorsque le partage des droits accumulés par le participant au titre du régime intervient, en application de l'article 107 ou 110, après le début du service au participant d'une rente établie de manière à tenir compte du droit accordé au conjoint par l'article 87.

Le seul établissement d'une rente en vertu du présent article ne peut avoir pour effet de réduire le montant de la rente servie au participant.

2000, c. 41, a. 52; 2002, c. 6, a. 196.

90. Le service d'une rente au conjoint ne cesse pas du fait que ce dernier se marie, s'unit civilement ou vit maritalement avec une autre personne de sexe différent ou de même sexe.

1989, c. 38, a. 90; 1999, c. 14, a. 27; 2002, c. 6, a. 197.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

SECTION III.1PRESTATIONS VARIABLES

2015, c. 29, a. 18.

90.1. Un régime de retraite qui comporte des dispositions à cotisation déterminée peut permettre à un participant qui a cessé d'être actif ou, au décès d'un tel participant, à son conjoint de choisir de recevoir des prestations variables sur les fonds qu'il détient au titre des dispositions à cotisation déterminée, aux conditions et dans les délais prévus par règlement.

2015, c. 29, a. 18.

SECTION IVOPTIONS*91. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 91; 1991, c. 25, a. 181; 2000, c. 41, a. 53.

91.1. Le participant ou conjoint qui a acquis droit à une rente au titre du régime de retraite a droit, dans les conditions prévues par règlement, de la remplacer en tout ou en partie, avant que n'en commence le service, par une rente temporaire dont il fixe le montant avant qu'elle soit servie et qui satisfait aux conditions suivantes:

1° le montant annuel de la rente ne peut excéder 40% du maximum des gains admissibles établi en application de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9) pour l'année au cours de laquelle commence son service, ce plafond étant réduit, le cas échéant, du montant annuel de toute autre prestation temporaire à laquelle il a droit au titre du régime;

2° le service de la rente ne peut débuter plus de 10 ans avant que le participant ou conjoint atteigne l'âge normal de la retraite et doit prendre fin au plus tard le dernier jour du mois qui suit celui au cours duquel il atteint l'âge de 65 ans.

Malgré le paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa, le régime de retraite peut permettre au participant ou conjoint dont l'âge est inférieur de plus de 10 ans à l'âge normal de la retraite et qui a acquis droit à une rente de choisir, avant qu'elle soit servie, de la remplacer par une rente dont le montant est modifié pour tenir compte d'un montant équivalant aux prestations déterminées en vertu de la Loi sur la sécurité de la vieillesse, de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec ou d'un régime équivalent au sens du paragraphe u de l'article 1 de cette dernière loi. En pareil cas, le montant annuel de la rente de remplacement augmenté, le cas échéant, du montant annuel de toute autre prestation temporaire à laquelle il a droit au titre du régime, ne peut excéder le moindre des montants suivants:

1° 40% du maximum des gains admissibles établi en application de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec pour l'année au cours de laquelle commence son service;

2° le montant de la prestation temporaire auquel il aurait droit si la totalité de sa rente viagère était convertie en une rente temporaire dont le service prendrait fin le dernier jour du mois qui suit celui au cours duquel il atteint 65 ans.

À compter du moment où il atteint un âge inférieur à 10 ans de l'âge normal de la retraite, le participant ou conjoint qui reçoit une rente visée au deuxième alinéa a le droit de la remplacer par une rente temporaire qui satisfait aux conditions énoncées au premier alinéa.

Malgré le deuxième alinéa de l'article 5, le régime ne peut prévoir de dispositions plus avantageuses que celles prévues au présent article.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

La valeur de la rente temporaire doit être au moins égale à la valeur, actualisée au moment du remplacement, de la rente ou de la partie de rente qu'elle remplace.

1997, c. 19, a. 10; 2000, c. 41, a. 54.

92. Le participant ou conjoint qui a acquis droit à une rente au titre d'un régime de retraite a droit, dans les conditions prévues par règlement, de la remplacer par une rente viagère ou temporaire, constituée par contrat, dont le montant peut varier annuellement. La rente peut également, dans les cas prévus par règlement, être remplacée par un paiement en un seul versement.

1989, c. 38, a. 92; 1997, c. 19, a. 11.

92.1. À moins que le paiement de sa rente ne soit garanti pour une période plus longue, le participant qui a acquis droit à une rente au titre d'un régime de retraite a droit, avant qu'elle soit servie, de la remplacer par une rente dont le paiement est garanti pendant 10 ans.

2000, c. 41, a. 55.

93. Le régime de retraite peut permettre au participant ou conjoint qui a acquis droit à une rente de choisir, avant qu'elle soit servie, de la remplacer en tout ou en partie:

1° (paragraphe abrogé);

2° par une rente dont le montant est augmenté périodiquement en fonction d'un indice ou taux prévu au régime;

3° par une rente dont le montant est modifié en raison de dispositions relatives au paiement de prestations payables après le décès du participant ou de son conjoint, ou en raison de modifications à ces dispositions. Cependant le montant de la rente au conjoint qui résulte de cette option ne peut, sauf s'il y consent avant la date où débute le service de la rente du participant, être inférieur à 60% du montant de cette rente;

4° par un paiement ou une série de paiements en cas d'invalidité physique ou mentale réduisant l'espérance de vie;

5° (paragraphe abrogé);

6° par d'autres prestations déterminées par règlement.

La valeur de remplacement doit être au moins égale à la valeur de la rente remplacée, actualisée au moment du remplacement.

Le régime ne peut permettre d'autres choix que ceux visés au premier alinéa.

1989, c. 38, a. 93; 1997, c. 19, a. 12; 2000, c. 41, a. 56.

93.1. Malgré les articles 91.1 à 93, le participant qui a acquis droit à la rente prévue par l'article 67.2 ne peut la remplacer.

2008, c. 21, a. 13.

SECTION V
COORDINATION

94. Lorsque le régime de retraite prévoit que, pour la détermination de la rente normale, tout ou partie de la prestation payable en vertu du régime général établi par la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre

Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite, R.L.R.Q. c R-15.1

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

R-9) ou le Régime de pensions du Canada (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre C-8) sert à réduire les droits du participant, la réduction ne peut être supérieure au montant m de la formule suivante:

$$r \times \frac{a}{35} = m$$

« r » représente tout ou partie de la prestation payable en vertu du régime général;

« a » représente le nombre d'années de services reconnus par le régime.

La fraction $a/35$ ne peut être supérieure à 1.

Aucune autre réduction que celle effectuée en fonction de la prestation de retraite payable en vertu de ce régime général ne peut être faite pour la détermination de la rente normale.

1989, c. 38, a. 94; 2000, c. 41, a. 57.

95. Le montant de la prestation payable en vertu du régime général et dont le régime de retraite prévoit la déduction doit être établi, le cas échéant sur la base d'une estimation, dès que le participant acquiert droit à une rente en vertu du régime et sans tenir compte d'aucune réduction de cette prestation consécutive à un partage de droits entre conjoints.

Si le régime tient compte, pour la détermination de la rente différée, de la rémunération du participant après qu'il a acquis droit à cette rente, ce montant doit être établi à une date qui n'excède pas celle de la dernière rémunération comptée.

En outre, ce montant doit, lorsqu'il fait l'objet d'une estimation, être fondé sur des données compatibles avec celles utilisées pour la détermination des prestations payées en vertu du régime général à la date de cette estimation.

1989, c. 38, a. 95; 2000, c. 41, a. 58.

96. Aucun droit résultant d'une modification à un régime général visé à l'article 94 ne peut être pris en compte pour la détermination d'une prestation s'il s'ensuit une réduction des droits du participant, sauf:

1° lorsque le participant le demande, pourvu que la prestation ainsi réduite soit au moins d'égale valeur;

2° lorsque le régime de retraite est modifié pour tenir compte du nouveau droit prévu par le régime général, pourvu que seules les prestations relatives aux services reconnus après cette modification soient ainsi réduites;

3° lorsque la prestation visée n'est pas déterminée sur la base de la rente normale ou lorsque sa valeur excède celle de la rente différée, pourvu que le régime soit modifié pour prévoir la réduction de cette prestation ou de cet excédent et que seules les prestations dont le service débute après cette modification soient ainsi réduites.

1989, c. 38, a. 96; 2000, c. 41, a. 59.

97. La rente normale déterminée en tenant compte de la prestation payable au titre d'un régime général visé à l'article 94 ne peut être réduite à nouveau pour tenir compte d'une modification du régime général ou d'une hausse de cette prestation.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Il en va de même pour toute autre prestation déterminée en tenant compte de la prestation payable au titre d'un régime de sécurité sociale établi en vertu de la loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 97.

CHAPITRE VII
TRANSFERT DE DROITS ET D'ACTIFS

98. Tout participant a droit, dans les conditions et délais prévus au présent chapitre, de transférer dans le régime de retraite qu'il indique:

1° les cotisations volontaires portées à son compte, avec les intérêts accumulés;

2° le montant que représente la valeur de toute prestation, même garantie par un assureur, à laquelle le participant a droit et dont le service n'est pas commencé. Cette valeur doit être au moins égale:

a) lorsque le transfert est demandé dans le délai prévu au paragraphe 1° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 99, à la valeur de la prestation du participant déterminée en application de l'article 61;

b) lorsque le transfert est demandé dans tout autre délai, à la valeur de la prestation du participant déterminée en tenant compte des droits qui en sont dérivés et suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui, à la date de la demande de transfert, sont utilisées pour déterminer la valeur d'autres prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit s'acquiert à cette date;

3° les cotisations salariales qui excèdent le plafond fixé par l'article 60, avec les intérêts accumulés;

4° les sommes qui ont déjà fait l'objet d'un transfert, même non visé par le présent chapitre, avec les intérêts accumulés, ou le montant que représente la valeur de la rente constituée avec ces sommes; cette valeur doit être déterminée suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui, à la date d'acquisition du droit à cette rente si le transfert est demandé dans le délai prévu au paragraphe 1° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 99 et à la date de la demande de transfert dans les autres cas, sont utilisées pour déterminer la valeur d'autres prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit s'acquiert à cette date.

Doivent être ajoutés aux valeurs visées aux sous-paragraphes a et b du paragraphe 2° et au paragraphe 4° du premier alinéa des intérêts calculés, jusqu'à la date du transfert, au taux utilisé pour la détermination de la valeur de la prestation à laquelle a droit le participant.

Pour l'application du présent article, l'expression «régime de retraite» comprend, outre les régimes régis par la présente loi, tout régime ou contrat de rente déterminé par règlement.

1989, c. 38, a. 98; 2000, c. 41, a. 60.

99. Le droit au transfert prévu à l'article 98 peut être exercé par le participant dont l'âge est inférieur d'au moins 10 ans à l'âge normal de la retraite fixé par le régime. Un régime peut toutefois interdire au participant qui aurait droit, s'il cessait sa période de travail continu, à une rente anticipée dont le montant serait au moins égal à celui de la rente normale, de transférer ses droits dans un autre régime.

Par ailleurs, ce droit s'exerce dans l'un ou l'autre des délais suivants:

1° dans les 90 jours suivant la réception du relevé visé à l'article 113;

2° par la suite et au plus tard à la date prévue au paragraphe 3°, tous les cinq ans à compter de la date où le participant a cessé d'être actif, dans les 90 jours qui suivent la date d'expiration de chaque cinquième année;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

3° dans les 90 jours suivant la date où le participant, qui a cessé d'être actif, atteint un âge inférieur de 10 ans à l'âge normal de la retraite.

La restriction concernant l'âge du participant et l'interdiction visées au premier alinéa, de même que le délai maximal fixé au paragraphe 3° du deuxième alinéa ne s'appliquent pas au transfert de sommes qui proviennent d'un régime à cotisation déterminée ni au transfert des cotisations versées en vertu de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée. Le participant dont l'âge est inférieur de moins de 10 ans à l'âge normal de la retraite ou qui a atteint ou dépassé cet âge a droit, en tout temps, de transférer ces sommes, pour autant que le service de la rente n'ait pas débuté.

Le comité de retraite a 60 jours à compter de la réception d'une demande de transfert pour y donner suite.

1989, c. 38, a. 99; 2000, c. 41, a. 61.

100. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 100; 2000, c. 41, a. 62.

101. Les conditions fixées par les articles 143 à 146 pour l'acquittement des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires s'appliquent à l'acquittement des sommes qui font l'objet d'un transfert.

1989, c. 38, a. 101; 2006, c. 42, a. 10.

102. À moins que le régime de retraite ne prévoie qu'elle doit servir à la constitution d'une rente, le participant qui cesse d'être actif a droit au remboursement de toute somme qui, ayant fait l'objet d'un transfert même non visé au présent chapitre, aurait pu être remboursée au participant en vertu du régime de retraite d'où elle provient.

1989, c. 38, a. 102; 1997, c. 19, a. 13; 2000, c. 41, a. 63.

103. À moins que le régime de retraite ne fixe un taux d'intérêt supérieur et sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 45.1, toute somme qui a fait l'objet d'un transfert, même non visé par le présent chapitre, porte intérêt, à compter de la date du transfert et jusqu'à ce qu'une rente soit constituée avec cette somme ou qu'elle soit remboursée en vertu de l'article 102, au taux visé à l'article 44 ou 45 s'il s'agit d'un transfert dans un régime régi par la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 103; 1992, c. 60, a. 12; 2000, c. 41, a. 64.

104. À compter de la date à laquelle une rente, autre que celle prévue par l'article 67.2, commence à lui être servie, le participant a droit à la rente constituée avec les sommes qui, ayant fait l'objet d'un transfert même non visé par le présent chapitre, ne lui ont pas été remboursées en application de l'article 102.

1989, c. 38, a. 104; 2000, c. 41, a. 65; 2008, c. 21, a. 14.

105. Le montant de la rente versée en vertu d'un régime de retraite régi par la présente loi et constituée avec des sommes qui ont fait l'objet d'un transfert, même non visé par le présent chapitre, doit être déterminé suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui, à la date de sa détermination, sont utilisées pour déterminer la valeur d'autres prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit s'acquiert à cette date.

Cette rente doit en outre comporter les mêmes caractéristiques que la rente normale, à l'exception du complément de rente prévu par le régime pour le versement d'une rente normale minimale.

Le présent article ne s'applique pas dans le cas d'une rente constituée avec des sommes qui ont fait l'objet d'un transfert visé à l'article 106.

1989, c. 38, a. 105; 2000, c. 41, a. 66.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

106. Lorsque le transfert est intervenu à la demande d'un participant qui s'est prévalu d'une entente-cadre prévoyant les conditions de transfert entre régimes de retraite de droits ou d'actifs relatifs à un groupe donné de participants, les droits attribués au participant suite au transfert doivent être au moins égaux à ceux qui — établis suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui, à la date du transfert, sont utilisées pour déterminer la valeur d'autres prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit s'acquiert à cette date — auraient résulté du transfert dans un régime non régi par la présente loi des actifs afférents aux droits que le participant avait accumulés avant ce transfert.

1989, c. 38, a. 106; 2000, c. 41, a. 67.

CHAPITRE VIIICESSION DE DROITS ENTRE CONJOINTS

107. En cas de séparation de corps, de divorce, de nullité du mariage ou en cas de dissolution autrement que par décès ou de nullité de l'union civile, les droits accumulés par le participant au titre d'un régime sont, sur demande faite par écrit au comité de retraite, partagés avec son conjoint dans la mesure prévue au Code civil ou par le jugement du tribunal ou une déclaration commune notariée de dissolution d'une union civile.

Pareillement, lorsque le tribunal ou la déclaration notariée attribue au conjoint d'un participant, en paiement d'une prestation compensatoire, des droits que ce dernier a accumulés au titre d'un régime de retraite, ces droits sont, sur demande faite par écrit au comité de retraite, cédés au conjoint dans la mesure prévue par le jugement du tribunal ou par la déclaration notariée.

1989, c. 38, a. 107; 2002, c. 6, a. 198.

108. Dès l'introduction d'une demande en séparation de corps, en divorce, en annulation de mariage, en dissolution ou en annulation d'union civile ou en paiement d'une prestation compensatoire, le participant et son conjoint ont droit, sur demande faite par écrit au comité de retraite, d'obtenir un relevé faisant état des droits accumulés par le participant au titre du régime et de leur valeur en date de l'introduction de l'instance; ce relevé contient en outre les autres renseignements déterminés par règlement. Ces droits et leur valeur sont établis suivant les règles que fixent les règlements.

Le conjoint peut dès lors consulter le texte du régime ainsi que les documents visés à l'article 114, aux conditions qui y sont prévues.

Le participant et son conjoint ont également droit d'obtenir un relevé à l'occasion d'une médiation effectuée préalablement à des procédures en matière familiale ou au cours d'une démarche commune de dissolution de leur union civile devant notaire, sur demande faite par écrit au comité de retraite. Ce relevé fait état des renseignements déterminés par règlement.

1989, c. 38, a. 108; 2000, c. 41, a. 68; 2002, c. 6, a. 199.

109. Sauf dans les cas prévus par règlement, les droits attribués au conjoint à la suite du partage des droits du participant ou pour le paiement d'une prestation compensatoire ne peuvent servir qu'à la constitution d'une rente viagère et ce, qu'ils aient été ou non transférés dans un régime de retraite visé à l'article 98.

Toutefois, les droits attribués au conjoint à la suite d'une saisie pour dette alimentaire conformément aux articles 694 et suivants du Code de procédure civile (chapitre C-25.01) doivent être acquittés par un paiement en un seul versement, selon les modalités prévues par règlement.

1989, c. 38, a. 109; 2000, c. 41, a. 69; N.I. 2016-01-01 (NCPC).

110. Lorsqu'il y a cessation de la vie maritale entre un conjoint qui se trouve dans les conditions fixées au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 85 et le participant, ceux-ci peuvent, dans l'année qui suit, convenir par écrit de partager entre eux les droits qu'a accumulés le participant au titre du régime de retraite; une telle convention ne peut toutefois avoir pour effet d'attribuer au conjoint plus de 50% de la valeur de ces droits.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

À cette fin, le participant et le conjoint ont droit d'obtenir, sur demande faite par écrit au comité de retraite, le relevé prévu à l'article 108, établi à la date où a cessé leur vie maritale.

Une convention conclue en vertu du premier alinéa peut aussi viser les sommes qui ont fait l'objet d'un transfert dans un régime de retraite visé à l'article 98.

L'article 109 s'applique aux droits attribués au conjoint en vertu d'une convention visée ci-dessus. En outre, les articles 694 et suivants du Code de procédure civile (chapitre C-25.01) s'appliquent, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires, à l'exécution du partage de droits convenu entre conjoints en application du présent article.

1989, c. 38, a. 110; 2000, c. 41, a. 70; N.I. 2016-01-01 (NCPC).

110.1. Les frais de production du relevé visé à l'article 108 ainsi que ceux engagés pour l'exécution de la cession de droits entre conjoints ne peuvent leur être réclamés qu'à concurrence du plafond fixé par le ministre, après consultation de Retraite Québec, et publié à la Gazette officielle du Québec. Ce plafond peut varier suivant le type de régime.

Les frais réclamés aux conjoints sont divisés à parts égales entre eux, sauf s'ils décident d'une autre répartition. Le paiement des frais qui incombe à chacun des conjoints peut être opéré par le comité de retraite en réduisant la valeur des droits de ce conjoint, à moins que ce dernier ne choisisse de les payer autrement.

1994, c. 24, a. 7; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

CHAPITRE IX

INFORMATION DES PARTICIPANTS

111. Le comité de retraite doit fournir à chaque participant ou travailleur admissible un sommaire écrit du régime de retraite décrivant notamment chacun des sujets énoncés au deuxième alinéa de l'article 14, accompagné d'une brève description des droits et obligations du participant au titre du régime et de la présente loi et d'un énoncé des principaux avantages que procure la participation au régime de retraite.

Ces documents sont fournis dans les 90 jours qui suivent, selon le cas:

- 1° la date où le travailleur est devenu admissible au régime ou participant;
- 2° la date d'enregistrement du régime.

L'employeur transmet par écrit au comité de retraite l'information relative aux travailleurs admissibles qui est nécessaire pour l'application du présent article.

1989, c. 38, a. 111; 2000, c. 41, a. 71.

111.1. Un document fourni à un participant, un bénéficiaire ou un travailleur admissible à un régime de retraite et relatif aux prestations payables en vertu de ce régime ou à la façon de les calculer doit, si le régime prévoit la réduction de la rente servie au participant pour tenir compte, directement ou non, des prestations payables en vertu d'un régime général visé à l'article 94, faire état de cette réduction et de la méthode pour la calculer.

2000, c. 41, a. 72.

112. Le comité de retraite doit transmettre à chaque participant et bénéficiaire, dans les neuf mois de la fin de chaque exercice financier, un document contenant un exposé sommaire des dispositions du régime qui ont été modifiées au cours du dernier exercice ainsi qu'une brève description des droits et obligations qui en découlent. Il doit, en outre, transmettre à cette occasion un relevé annuel qui contient les renseignements déterminés par règlement concernant notamment:

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

1° les droits qu'il a accumulés durant le dernier exercice et depuis son adhésion au régime jusqu'à la fin de cet exercice;

2° la situation financière du régime.

Le comité de retraite n'est pas tenu de faire parvenir un relevé annuel au participant à qui il a fait parvenir le relevé prévu à l'article 113, lorsque ce dernier établit les droits du participant à une date plus récente.

1989, c. 38, a. 112; 2000, c. 41, a. 73; 2008, c. 21, a. 15.

112.1. Le comité de retraite doit, dans les 60 jours du paiement de la prestation visée à l'article 69.1, fournir au participant un relevé contenant les renseignements déterminés par règlement et portant notamment sur l'effet de ce paiement sur le montant annuel de la rente normale résultant des services qui lui sont reconnus.

1997, c. 19, a. 13.

113. Le comité de retraite doit, dans les 60 jours de la date où il est informé qu'un participant a cessé d'être actif, lui fournir ou fournir à toute autre personne qui a droit à un remboursement ou à une prestation un relevé contenant les renseignements déterminés par règlement et établissant, en date de l'événement qui y donne ouverture, le montant de ce remboursement ou la nature et la valeur de cette prestation, ainsi que la nature et les conditions d'acquisition des autres droits prévus par le régime de retraite.

Il doit, en outre, dans les 60 jours d'une demande écrite à cet effet et sans frais, lui fournir ce relevé mis à jour suivant les données les plus récentes disponibles; cette mise à jour ne comporte une nouvelle détermination de la valeur des droits du participant que dans le cas où ce dernier peut exercer le droit au transfert prévu à l'article 98.

Il doit enfin, dans les 30 jours d'une demande écrite à cet effet et sans frais, leur fournir les données qui ont servi à établir ce relevé ou sa mise à jour, notamment celles utilisées pour le calcul de leurs droits.

1989, c. 38, a. 113; 2000, c. 41, a. 74.

113.1. S'il est avisé de la formation d'une association représentant aux fins du régime de retraite des participants actifs non représentés par une association accréditée, des participants non actifs ou des bénéficiaires du régime, le comité de retraite doit joindre un avis indiquant les informations qu'il possède concernant les nom et adresse de l'association, l'objet qu'elle poursuit et les modalités pour y être admis aux documents suivants qu'il transmet aux personnes que cette association a pour mission de représenter :

1° le relevé annuel transmis en application de l'article 112 ;

2° l'avis transmis aux participants et bénéficiaires en application du deuxième alinéa de l'article 146.4, du troisième alinéa de l'article 196 ou du premier alinéa de l'article 230.4.

L'exemption prévue au deuxième alinéa de l'article 112 ne dispense pas le comité de son obligation de transmettre au participant l'avis prévu par le premier alinéa.

2008, c. 21, a. 16; N.I. 2016-05-15.

113.2. Dans le cas où une association visée à l'article 113.1 demande au comité de retraite qu'il lui transmette les noms et adresses des personnes qu'elle a pour mission de représenter, le comité doit informer de cette demande chacune des personnes visées en joignant un avis à ce sujet au premier document parmi les suivants qu'il transmet à cette personne après réception de la demande :

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

- 1° le relevé annuel transmis en application de l'article 112 ;
- 2° le relevé fourni en application du premier alinéa de l'article 113.

Cet avis doit être accompagné d'une note expliquant à la personne visée qu'elle peut, dans les 30 jours de la date de réception de l'avis, faire connaître au comité son consentement à la communication des renseignements en question à l'association concernée.

Le comité doit communiquer à l'association les noms et adresses des personnes qui ont consenti à la communication :

1° dans les 30 jours suivant l'expiration du délai prévu au deuxième alinéa, en ce qui concerne les personnes ayant manifesté leur consentement après réception de l'avis joint au relevé annuel transmis en application de l'article 112 ;

2° au plus tard 30 jours après la fin de l'exercice financier du régime au cours duquel elles ont manifesté leur consentement, en ce qui concerne celles qui ont manifesté leur consentement après réception de l'avis joint au relevé fourni en application du premier alinéa de l'article 113.

Le comité n'est pas tenu de donner suite plus d'une fois à une demande faite en vertu du premier alinéa par une même association. S'il le fait, il peut en exiger des frais.

2008, c. 21, a. 16.

114. Le comité de retraite doit, dans les 30 jours d'une demande écrite à cet effet et sans frais, permettre au travailleur admissible ainsi qu'au participant ou bénéficiaire de consulter, pendant les heures habituelles de travail, le texte du régime de retraite ou tout autre document déterminé par règlement. Il doit, dans les mêmes conditions, permettre au participant ou bénéficiaire de consulter une disposition du régime telle qu'en vigueur à toute date comprise dans la période pendant laquelle le travailleur visé est participant.

Cette consultation a lieu soit au bureau du comité de retraite, soit à l'établissement de l'employeur que désigne le comité, selon l'endroit le plus rapproché de la résidence du demandeur.

L'envoi au demandeur, sans frais et dans le délai de 30 jours, d'une copie du document faisant l'objet de la demande de consultation dispense le comité de retraite d'en permettre la consultation.

1989, c. 38, a. 114; 2000, c. 41, a. 75.

115. Le comité de retraite n'est pas tenu de satisfaire sans frais à la demande de documents faite par une même personne plus d'une fois par période de 12 mois.

Il en va de même à l'égard des demandes de consultation de documents.

1989, c. 38, a. 115.

CHAPITRE X

FINANCEMENT

2006, c. 42, a. 11.

SECTION I

DISPOSITIONS GÉNÉRALES

2006, c. 42, a. 11.

116. Le présent chapitre ne s'applique pas:

1° à un régime de retraite garanti à l'égard duquel l'assureur s'est engagé à assumer tous les frais et droits relatifs à la terminaison du régime;

2° à un régime non garanti où les droits de tous les participants et bénéficiaires ne résultent, à tout moment, que de sommes portées à leur compte;

3° à un régime non garanti où les droits des participants et bénéficiaires ne sont constitués que de prestations et remboursements garantis à tout moment par un assureur et de droits décrits au paragraphe 2°.

1989, c. 38, a. 116; 2000, c. 41, a. 76; 2006, c. 42, a. 11.

117. Pour l'application du présent chapitre, le régime de retraite à cotisation et prestations déterminées doit être considéré comme un régime à prestations déterminées.

1989, c. 38, a. 117; 2006, c. 42, a. 11.

118. Tout régime de retraite doit faire l'objet d'une évaluation actuarielle:

1° à la date de son entrée en vigueur;

2° au plus tard à la date de la fin du dernier exercice financier du régime se situant dans les trois ans qui suivent la date de la dernière évaluation actuarielle complète du régime;

3° à la date de l'entente avec l'assureur aux fins d'un acquittement de droits effectué conformément à la politique d'achat de rentes du régime;

4° en cas de modification ayant une incidence sur le financement du régime, à la date déterminée conformément à l'article 121

5° à la date de la fin de l'exercice financier du régime qui précède un exercice financier au cours duquel un excédent d'actif est affecté à l'acquittement de cotisations patronales en application de l'article 146.8;

6° lorsque Retraite Québec le requiert, à la date qu'elle fixe.

Si une évaluation actuarielle visée au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa détermine que le degré de capitalisation du régime est inférieur à 90%, le régime doit faire l'objet d'une évaluation actuarielle au plus tard à la date de fin de l'exercice financier suivant et à la date de fin de chacun des exercices financiers subséquents, jusqu'à ce que le degré de capitalisation atteigne au moins 90%.

Une évaluation actuarielle prévue au premier ou au deuxième alinéa doit être complète. Toutefois, celles visées aux paragraphes 3°, 4° et 5° du premier alinéa peuvent être partielles, mais seulement si, dans le cas d'une évaluation visée au paragraphe 4° ou 5°, la date de l'évaluation correspond à celle de la fin d'un exercice financier du régime et qu'aucune évaluation actuarielle complète n'est requise par la présente loi ou par Retraite Québec à cette date.

1989, c. 38, a. 118; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 19.

119. Le comité de retraite doit transmettre à Retraite Québec un rapport relatif à toute évaluation actuarielle visée à l'article 118:

0.1° au plus tard à l'expiration du délai prévu à l'article 25 pour présenter la demande d'enregistrement du régime si le rapport est relatif à une évaluation prévue au paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa de l'article 118;

1° dans les neuf mois de la date de l'évaluation si le rapport est relatif à une évaluation actuarielle prévue au paragraphe 2°, 4° ou 5° du premier alinéa ou au deuxième alinéa de cet article;

1.1° dans les quatre mois de la date de l'évaluation si le rapport est relatif à une évaluation prévue au paragraphe 3° du premier alinéa de cet article;

2° dans le délai d'au moins 60 jours fixé par Retraite Québec si le rapport est relatif à une évaluation actuarielle prévue au paragraphe 6° du premier alinéa de cet article.

Un rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle qui n'est pas visée à l'article 118 doit être transmis à Retraite Québec dans les neuf mois de la date de l'évaluation.

Tout rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle doit, lors de sa transmission à Retraite Québec, être accompagné d'un sommaire établi sur le formulaire fourni par Retraite Québec et des attestations et documents prévus dans le formulaire.

1989, c. 38, a. 119; 2000, c. 41, a. 77; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2009, c. 1, a. 4; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 20.

119.1. Si, à la date de la fin d'un exercice financier du régime de retraite, aucune évaluation actuarielle n'est requise par le paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 118, le comité de retraite doit transmettre à Retraite Québec, au plus tard quatre mois après cette date, un avis l'informant de la situation financière du régime à cette date.

Les informations que doit inclure cet avis et les attestations et documents qui doivent l'accompagner sont prévus par règlement.

Toute certification requise aux fins de cet avis doit être faite conformément au premier alinéa de l'article 122, qui s'applique compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

2015, c. 29, a. 21; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

120. Le financement d'un régime de retraite doit être basé sur un rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle du régime qui a été préparé à la demande du comité de retraite et transmis à Retraite Québec. À moins qu'il ne concerne une évaluation partielle faite dans les conditions prévues au troisième alinéa de l'article 118, ce rapport doit rendre compte d'une évaluation actuarielle complète du régime.

Sauf dans le cas prévu à l'article 121, une fois qu'il a été transmis à Retraite Québec, un rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle ne peut être modifié ou remplacé qu'à la demande de Retraite Québec ou avec son autorisation, aux conditions qu'elle fixe. En cas de modification ou de remplacement d'un rapport, doivent notamment être établis de nouveau tout déficit actuariel déterminé par l'évaluation et toute certification actuarielle requise aux fins de celle-ci.

1989, c. 38, a. 120; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; N.I. 2016-04-01.

121. Une modification d'un régime de retraite ayant une incidence sur le financement de celui-ci doit être considérée pour la première fois au plus tard à celle des dates suivantes qui est la plus tardive:

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

1° la date de la fin du dernier exercice financier du régime dont la date n'est pas postérieure à celle où la modification intervient;

2° la date de la fin du dernier exercice financier du régime dont la date n'est pas postérieure à celle où la modification prend effet.

Si le rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle a été transmis à Retraite Québec sans qu'il soit tenu compte d'une modification qui devait être considérée aux termes du premier alinéa, le rapport doit être modifié ou remplacé.

Toutefois, une modification ayant pour effet de réduire les engagements du régime doit être considérée pour la première fois à la date où elle prend effet.

1989, c. 38, a. 121; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 22.

122. Toute certification requise aux fins d'une évaluation actuarielle partielle doit être faite en fonction de la situation financière probable du régime à la date de l'évaluation, en tenant compte, notamment, du taux de rendement réel de la caisse de retraite, de l'évolution des taux d'intérêt selon l'approche de solvabilité et des cotisations qui y ont été effectivement versées depuis la dernière évaluation actuarielle complète du régime.

En tant qu'elle concerne les modifications apportées à un régime de retraite, une évaluation actuarielle partielle du régime se limite à déterminer soit la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de toute modification considérée pour la première fois lors de l'évaluation, soit, selon l'approche de capitalisation, la variation de la cotisation d'exercice qui découle de telle modification. La détermination de cette valeur ou de cette variation doit se baser sur les mêmes hypothèses et méthodes que celles utilisées pour la plus récente évaluation actuarielle complète du régime, à moins que celles-ci ne soient pas appropriées compte tenu de la nature de la modification.

Toutefois, lorsque la modification du régime a pour effet d'augmenter les rentes dont le service a débuté et que les engagements supplémentaires qui en résultent sont, à la date de la préparation du rapport relatif à l'évaluation actuarielle, garantis par un assureur, ces engagements peuvent être évalués en prenant pour acquis qu'ils correspondent à la prime payée à cet assureur, actualisée à la date de l'évaluation selon le taux de rendement de la caisse de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 122; 2006, c. 42, a. 11.

122.1. Pour l'application du présent chapitre, l'actif d'un régime de retraite et son passif sont tous deux réduits d'un montant représentant la somme des valeurs suivantes:

1° celle des cotisations volontaires versées à la caisse de retraite, avec les intérêts accumulés;

2° celle des cotisations versées à la caisse de retraite en vertu de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée, avec les intérêts accumulés;

3° celle des sommes reçues par le régime par suite d'un transfert même non visé au chapitre VII, avec les intérêts accumulés.

Toutefois, la valeur visée au paragraphe 2° ne doit pas être soustraite dans le cas d'un régime à prestation plancher.

2015, c. 29, a. 23.

122.2. Pour l'application du présent chapitre, les lettres de crédit fournies par l'employeur en vertu de l'article 42.1 ne sont prises en compte dans l'actif du régime qu'à concurrence de 15% du passif du régime.

2015, c. 29, a. 23.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

SECTION II

CAPITALISATION

2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

§ 1. — Détermination de la capitalisation

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

123. Pour la détermination de la capitalisation d'un régime de retraite à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle, le passif du régime doit être égal à la valeur des engagements nés du régime compte tenu des services reconnus aux participants.

Est capitalisé le régime de retraite dont l'actif est, à la date de l'évaluation actuarielle, au moins égal au passif.

1989, c. 38, a. 123; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2008, c. 21, a. 33; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

124. À seule fin d'établir le degré de capitalisation d'un régime de retraite à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle:

1° l'actif du régime doit être augmenté de la cotisation spéciale de modification prévue à l'article 139;

2° le passif du régime doit être augmenté de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de toute modification du régime considérée pour la première fois à la date de l'évaluation, calculée en faisant l'hypothèse que la date de prise d'effet de la modification est celle de l'évaluation.

Le degré de capitalisation d'un régime de retraite à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle correspond au pourcentage que représente l'actif du régime par rapport à son passif.

1989, c. 38, a. 124; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

125. Tout régime de retraite doit prévoir la constitution d'une provision de stabilisation dont le niveau visé est déterminé selon les modalités prévues par règlement, notamment selon une grille qui doit s'appliquer en fonction, entre autres critères, de la cible de la politique de placement du régime en vigueur à la date de chaque évaluation actuarielle requise en vertu de l'article 118.

1989, c. 38, a. 125; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

126. La méthode de capitalisation utilisée dans une évaluation actuarielle doit être conforme aux principes actuariels généralement reconnus et présumer l'existence perpétuelle du régime de retraite.

Les hypothèses et méthodes actuarielles utilisées pour déterminer la capitalisation du régime doivent être appropriées, notamment au type de régime en cause, à ses engagements et à la situation de la caisse de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 126; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

127. La méthode de lissage de la valeur marchande de l'actif du régime ne peut niveler les fluctuations à court terme de cette valeur sur une période supérieure à cinq ans.

1989, c. 38, a. 127; 1994, c. 24, a. 8; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

128. La cotisation d'exercice doit être au moins égale au total de:

1° la valeur des engagements nés du régime de retraite et relatifs aux services reconnus effectués au cours de l'exercice ou de la partie d'exercice visés au paragraphe 1° de l'article 140;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2° la valeur de la provision de stabilisation relative à ces engagements, selon le niveau établi conformément à l'article 125.

Cette cotisation peut toutefois être moindre si elle résulte d'une méthode qui, à tout moment, maintient le régime capitalisé au degré de capitalisation requis en tenant compte du niveau visé de la provision de stabilisation du régime moins cinq points de pourcentage.

1989, c. 38, a. 128; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24; 2016, c. 13, a. 68

129. La valeur des engagements visés aux articles 123, 124 et 128 et dont le régime de retraite prévoit l'augmentation suivant notamment l'évolution de la rémunération des participants doit comprendre le montant estimé de ces engagements lorsqu'ils deviendront payables, en présumant que se réaliseront les éventualités déterminées au moyen d'hypothèses actuarielles relatives, entre autres, à la survie, à la morbidité, à la mortalité, à l'attrition ou à l'admissibilité aux prestations.

Cette valeur doit en outre être déterminée en tenant compte de toute augmentation des prestations que le régime prévoit après le début de leur service.

1989, c. 38, a. 129; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

§ 2. — Déficits actuariels de capitalisation

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

130. Les déficits actuariels de capitalisation sont de trois types: le déficit actuariel technique, le déficit actuariel de stabilisation et le déficit actuariel de modification.

1989, c. 38, a. 130; 2000, c. 41, a. 78; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

131. Le déficit actuariel technique correspond, à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle, au montant par lequel le passif du régime excède son actif additionné de la valeur des cotisations d'équilibre qui restent à verser pour amortir tout déficit actuariel de modification déterminé lors d'une évaluation actuarielle antérieure.

1989, c. 38, a. 131; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

132. Le déficit actuariel de stabilisation correspond, à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle, au montant par lequel le passif du régime, réduit du déficit actuariel technique établi selon l'article 131 et additionné de la valeur du niveau visé de la provision de stabilisation moins cinq points de pourcentage, excède l'actif du régime additionné de la valeur des cotisations d'équilibre qui restent à verser pour amortir tout déficit actuariel de modification déterminé lors d'une évaluation actuarielle antérieure.

1989, c. 38, a. 132; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

133. La valeur des cotisations d'équilibre de modification visées aux articles 131 et 132 est établie en utilisant un taux d'intérêt identique à celui utilisé pour établir le passif du régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 133; 2000, c. 41, a. 79; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

134. Un déficit actuariel de modification correspond, à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle, à la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de toute modification du régime, à l'exception d'une modification visée à l'article 139, considérée pour la première fois lors de l'évaluation, additionnée de la valeur du niveau visé de la provision de stabilisation relatif à ces engagements et réduite, le cas échéant, du montant représentant la part de la valeur de ces engagements qui est acquittée par affectation de l'excédent d'actif du régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 134; 1994, c. 24, a. 9; 2000, c. 41, a. 80; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

134.1. (Remplacé).

2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

135. Les cotisations d'équilibre qui, le cas échéant, restent à verser relativement à tout déficit actuariel de modification déterminé lors d'une évaluation actuarielle antérieure ne peuvent être éliminées que si, à la date de l'évaluation actuarielle, l'actif du régime de retraite est au moins égal à son passif, additionné de la valeur du niveau visé de la provision de stabilisation diminué de cinq points de pourcentage.

1989, c. 38, a. 135; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

§ 3. — Amortissement des déficits actuariels de capitalisation

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

136. Tout déficit actuariel de capitalisation doit être amorti en l'étalant en autant de mensualités qu'il y a de mois complets dans la période d'amortissement.

1989, c. 38, a. 136; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

137. Les mensualités relatives à une cotisation d'équilibre à verser pour tout exercice financier du régime de retraite, et pour toute partie d'un tel exercice, compris dans la période d'amortissement doivent être établies à la date de détermination du déficit actuariel sous la forme d'une somme fixe. Toutefois, si les participants contribuent au versement de cotisations d'équilibre, ces mensualités peuvent représenter un tarif horaire ou un taux de la rémunération ou un pourcentage de la masse salariale versée aux participants actifs; ce taux ou pourcentage doit être uniforme à moins qu'il ne soit établi en fonction d'une variable autorisée par Retraite Québec.

1989, c. 38, a. 137; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

138. La période d'amortissement d'un déficit actuariel débute à la date de l'évaluation actuarielle qui détermine le déficit. Elle expire à la fin d'un exercice financier du régime de retraite qui se termine:

1° au plus tard 10 ans après la date de l'évaluation, en tant qu'elle concerne un déficit actuariel technique;

2° au plus tard 10 ans après la date de l'évaluation, en tant qu'elle concerne un déficit actuariel de stabilisation;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

3° au plus tard cinq ans après la date de l'évaluation, en tant qu'elle concerne un déficit actuariel de modification.

1989, c. 38, a. 138; 2000, c. 41, a. 81; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

§ 4. — Cotisation spéciale de modification

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

139. Dans le cas où l'évaluation actuarielle qui détermine la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime de retraite montre que le degré de capitalisation du régime, établi en faisant abstraction de la modification, est inférieur à 90%, il doit être versé à la caisse de retraite une cotisation spéciale de modification dont le montant est égal à la valeur de ces engagements supplémentaires, à la date de l'évaluation, additionnée de la valeur du niveau visé de la provision de stabilisation qui est relatif à ces engagements.

La cotisation spéciale de modification est payable en entier dès le jour qui suit la date de l'évaluation.

1989, c. 38, a. 139; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

§ 5. — Dispositions diverses

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

140. En outre des autres éléments exigés par règlement, toute évaluation actuarielle doit établir:

1° la cotisation d'exercice, exprimée en numéraire ou en taux ou pourcentage de la rémunération des participants actifs, pour l'exercice financier du régime de retraite, ou la partie de cet exercice, qui suit immédiatement la date de cette évaluation et pour chacun des exercices financiers suivants jusqu'à la date de la prochaine évaluation actuarielle dont le régime doit faire l'objet selon le paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 118;

2° le montant total de la cotisation d'exercice et le montant de la partie de celle-ci qui est visée au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 128;

3° l'actif du régime et son passif;

4° le montant de chacun des déficits et celui de la cotisation d'équilibre qui y est relative;

5° les sommes comptabilisées en vertu de l'article 42.2.

1989, c. 38, a. 140; 1994, c. 24, a. 10; 2000, c. 41, a. 82; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

SECTION III

SOLVABILITÉ

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

141. Pour la détermination de la solvabilité d'un régime de retraite à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle, l'actif doit être établi selon la valeur de liquidation, ou son estimation, et être réduit du montant estimé des frais d'administration que la caisse de retraite devrait assumer en supposant que le régime se termine à la date de l'évaluation.

Quant au passif, il doit être égal à la valeur des engagements nés du régime en supposant qu'il se termine à la date de l'évaluation.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Est solvable le régime de retraite dont l'actif est au moins égal à son passif.

1989, c. 38, a. 141; 2006, c. 42, a. 50; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

142. À seule fin d'établir le degré de solvabilité d'un régime de retraite à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle:

1° l'actif du régime doit être augmenté de la cotisation spéciale de modification prévue à l'article 139;

2° le passif du régime doit être augmenté de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de toute modification du régime considérée pour la première fois à la date de l'évaluation, calculée en faisant l'hypothèse que la date de prise d'effet de la modification est celle de l'évaluation.

Le degré de solvabilité d'un régime de retraite à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle correspond au pourcentage que l'actif du régime représente par rapport à son passif.

1989, c. 38, a. 142; 1997, c. 19, a. 15; 2006, c. 42, a. 50; 2008, c. 21, a. 17; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 24.

142.1. Dans le cas où le régime prévoit expressément que le montant de la rente d'un participant doit être établi en tenant compte de l'évolution de la rémunération du participant après la terminaison, la valeur de cette rente doit être établie en supposant que le régime se termine dans des circonstances telles que les droits du participant au titre de cette rente doivent être estimés à leur valeur maximale. Dans le cas où le régime prévoit d'autres engagements dont la valeur dépend des circonstances dans lesquelles il se termine, ils doivent être compris dans le passif dans la mesure prévue au scénario retenu à cette fin par l'actuaire responsable de l'évaluation.

Si le passif établi conformément au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 142 et au premier alinéa du présent article est inférieur à la valeur des engagements nés du régime en supposant qu'il se termine à la date de l'évaluation dans des circonstances telles que les droits des participants doivent être estimés à leur valeur maximale, le rapport relatif à l'évaluation actuarielle doit également indiquer cette dernière valeur.

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

142.2. Le passif d'un régime de retraite dont un assureur garantit des remboursements ou prestations doit, pour la détermination de la solvabilité du régime, comprendre la valeur qui correspond à ces droits, et son actif doit inclure un montant égal à cette valeur.

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

142.3. Les valeurs visées au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 142 et à l'article 142.1 sont déterminées en appliquant les articles 211 et 212 et le paragraphe 1° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 212.1, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires. Dans le cas des rentes dont le service a débuté, pour autant qu'à la date de l'évaluation elles ne soient pas garanties par un assureur, ces valeurs doivent être déterminées selon l'estimation de la prime qu'aurait exigée un assureur pour garantir ces rentes à la date de l'évaluation.

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

SECTION III.1

FINANCEMENT LIÉ À LA POLITIQUE D'ACHAT DE RENTES

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

142.4. Un acquittement de droits selon la politique d'achat de rentes d'un régime de retraite doit satisfaire aux exigences de financement prévues par règlement.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

À défaut, une cotisation spéciale d'achat de rentes, calculée selon les modalités déterminées par règlement, doit être versée selon les modalités prévues à ce règlement.

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

SECTION IV

POLITIQUE DE FINANCEMENT

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

142.5. Celui qui a le pouvoir de modifier le régime doit établir une politique écrite de financement qui satisfait aux exigences prévues par règlement et la réviser régulièrement. Il doit, sans délai, la transmettre au comité de retraite.

2015, c. 29, a. 24.

SECTION V

CONDITIONS D'ACQUITTEMENT DES DROITS

2006, c. 42, a. 11.

143. Doit être acquittée intégralement la valeur des droits qu'un participant ou un bénéficiaire acquiert au titre d'un régime de retraite et qui correspond:

- 1° aux cotisations volontaires portées au compte du participant, avec les intérêts accumulés;
- 2° aux cotisations salariales ou patronales versées à l'égard du participant en vertu de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée, avec les intérêts accumulés;
- 3° aux montants portés au compte du participant par suite d'un transfert, même non visé au chapitre VII, avec les intérêts accumulés.

La prestation prévue à l'article 67.5, celle prévue à l'article 69.1 et les montants périodiques payables au titre d'une rente doivent également être acquittés intégralement.

Quant à tout autre droit, la valeur ne peut en être acquittée à même la caisse de retraite qu'en proportion, à concurrence de 100%, du degré de solvabilité du régime établi lors de la dernière évaluation actuarielle dont le rapport a été transmis à Retraite Québec ou, s'il est plus récent, dans l'avis visé à l'article 119.1 transmis à Retraite Québec. Un régime de retraite peut toutefois prévoir que le plafond de 100% ne s'applique pas ou l'établir à un degré supérieur à 100%.

1989, c. 38, a. 143; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2008, c. 21, a. 33; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 25.

144. L'actuaire chargé de préparer le rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle du régime de retraite doit établir dans ce rapport si l'acquittement des droits transférables aux termes d'une entente visée à l'article 106 peut avoir pour effet de diminuer le degré de solvabilité du régime ou, lorsque ce degré est supérieur à 100%, de l'abaisser au-dessous de ce niveau.

Dans l'affirmative, il ne peut y avoir aucun acquittement de ces droits si ce n'est dans la proportion que fixe l'actuaire pour éviter cet effet.

1989, c. 38, a. 144; 2006, c. 42, a. 11.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

145. La valeur des droits qui, par application de l'article 143 ou 144, ne peut être acquittée peut l'être jusqu'à concurrence de 5% du maximum des gains admissibles établi en vertu de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9) pour l'année au cours de laquelle doit s'effectuer l'acquittement; toutefois, la somme des montants ainsi acquittés depuis la dernière évaluation actuarielle du régime de retraite ne peut être supérieure à 5% de l'actif établi lors de cette évaluation pour en vérifier la solvabilité.

1989, c. 38, a. 145; 2000, c. 41, a. 83; 2006, c. 42, a. 11.

145.1. Malgré les plafonds fixés par les articles 143 à 145, la valeur des droits acquittés doit être au moins égale à la somme des cotisations versées par le participant et des montants portés à son compte par suite d'un transfert, même non visé au chapitre VII, avec les intérêts accumulés.

2006, c. 42, a. 11.

146. Le solde de la valeur des droits qui, aux termes des articles 143 à 145.1, ne peut être acquittée doit être capitalisé et payé dans les cinq ans de l'acquittement initial ou au plus tard à l'âge normal de la retraite si le participant atteint cet âge avant l'expiration de ces cinq ans, dans les cas suivants:

1° le participant ou le bénéficiaire n'a pas la possibilité de demander que ses droits soient maintenus dans le régime de retraite;

2° le régime prévoit l'acquittement de la valeur des droits des participants et bénéficiaires selon une proportion supérieure au degré de solvabilité du régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 146; 2006, c. 42, a. 11; 2015, c. 29, a. 26.

CHAPITRE X.1AFFECTATION DE L'EXCÉDENT D'ACTIF

2006, c. 42, a. 12.

SECTION IDISPOSITIONS DU RÉGIME

2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.1. Un excédent d'actif d'un régime de retraite ne peut, en cours d'existence du régime, être affecté au remboursement ou à l'acquittement de cotisations ou à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime que conformément aux dispositions du présent chapitre et selon les dispositions du régime visées au paragraphe 17° ou 18° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 14.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2006, c. 42, a. 13; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.2. Toutes les dispositions relatives à l'affectation de l'excédent d'actif en cours d'existence du régime de retraite doivent être intégrées dans une section particulière du régime, facilement identifiable.

Il en est de même de toute disposition relative à l'attribution de l'excédent d'actif en cas de terminaison du régime.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2006, c. 42, a. 13; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.3. Les participants et bénéficiaires doivent être informés et consultés avant qu'intervienne toute modification d'une disposition du régime visée à l'article 146.2.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2006, c. 42, a. 13; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.3.6. (Remplacé).

2006, c. 42, a. 13; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.4. Aux fins de cette consultation, le comité de retraite transmet à chacun des participants et des bénéficiaires du régime un avis écrit qui, en plus de contenir les renseignements prévus au paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa de l'article 26, indique:

- 1° les dispositions du régime relatives à l'attribution ou à l'affectation de l'excédent d'actif qui sont en vigueur à la date de l'avis;
- 2° le texte des dispositions du régime résultant de la modification;
- 3° tout autre renseignement déterminé par règlement.

L'avis doit également informer les participants et les bénéficiaires qu'ils peuvent, dans les 60 jours de sa date d'envoi ou, le cas échéant, de la date de publication de l'avis prévu au troisième alinéa, selon la plus tardive, faire connaître par écrit au comité de retraite leur opposition à la modification projetée des dispositions du régime.

À moins que tous les participants et les bénéficiaires du régime n'aient été personnellement avisés, le comité de retraite doit, en outre, faire publier dans un quotidien distribué dans la région où résident, au Québec, le plus grand nombre de participants actifs au régime un avis faisant état de la modification envisagée. Cet avis informe également toute personne qui, sans avoir reçu un avis personnel, croit être de celles qui doivent être consultées qu'elle peut, dans les 60 jours de cette publication, faire valoir sa qualité auprès du comité de retraite et, dans la mesure où elle a établi sa qualité, recevoir une copie de l'avis prévu au deuxième alinéa et, le cas échéant, manifester par écrit au comité son opposition à la modification projetée.

L'avis donné en vertu du présent article est assimilé à l'avis prévu à l'article 26.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2006, c. 42, a. 15; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.5. À l'expiration des délais d'opposition, le comité de retraite procède au décompte des avis d'opposition exprimés.

Si 30% ou plus des participants et bénéficiaires s'opposent à la modification projetée, celle-ci est réputée rejetée et ne peut intervenir.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Le comité de retraite informe immédiatement des résultats l'employeur concerné et chacun des participants et des bénéficiaires du régime ainsi que celui qui a le pouvoir de modifier le régime.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2005, c. 5, a. 1; 2006, c. 42, a. 16; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

SECTION IIRÉGIMES AUXQUELS S'APPLIQUE LE CHAPITRE X

2006, c. 42, a. 14; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.6. L'affectation, en application de la présente section, de l'excédent d'actif d'un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X, établi en excluant la portion de l'actif et celle du passif visées à l'article 122.1, n'est permise que si, selon l'évaluation actuarielle du régime, les conditions suivantes sont réunies:

1° selon l'approche de capitalisation, l'actif du régime de retraite est au moins égal à son passif, additionné de la valeur du niveau visé de la provision de stabilisation majoré de cinq points de pourcentage;

2° selon l'approche de solvabilité, l'actif du régime est égal à au moins 105% de son passif.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2006, c. 42, a. 17; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.7. Le montant maximum d'excédent d'actif qui peut être utilisé est égal au moindre des montants suivants, établis à la date de l'évaluation actuarielle:

1° celui par lequel l'excédent d'actif déterminé selon l'approche de capitalisation excède le minimum fixé selon le paragraphe 1° de l'article 146.6;

2° celui par lequel l'excédent d'actif déterminé selon l'approche de solvabilité excède le minimum fixé selon le paragraphe 2° de cet article.

S'il s'agit d'une évaluation actuarielle partielle, ce montant est égal au moindre des montants indiqués dans une certification de l'actuaire attestant que, si une évaluation actuarielle complète était effectuée à la date de l'évaluation, elle permettrait l'établissement, conformément au premier alinéa, de montants au moins égaux aux montants indiqués.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2006, c. 42, a. 18; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.8. Le montant d'excédent d'actif pouvant être utilisé au cours d'un exercice financier doit d'abord être affecté à l'acquittement des cotisations patronales et salariales d'exercice, jusqu'à concurrence du moindre du montant des cotisations patronales ou salariales comptabilisées respectivement selon le premier ou le deuxième alinéa de l'article 42.2 ou du montant des cotisations patronales ou salariales d'exercice.

Si le montant d'excédent d'actif pouvant être utilisé est inférieur au montant total des cotisations patronales et salariales comptabilisées selon l'article 42.2, l'affectation visée au premier alinéa doit être effectuée en proportion des cotisations comptabilisées respectivement selon le premier et le deuxième alinéa de cet article.

S'il subsiste un solde d'excédent d'actif, celui-ci peut, jusqu'à concurrence de 20% par exercice financier du régime, être affecté, selon ce que prévoit le régime, à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime, à l'acquittement de cotisations salariales ou à la remise de sommes à l'employeur.

Toute somme affectée à l'acquittement des cotisations patronales d'exercice, affectée à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification ou remise à l'employeur doit être déduite des sommes comptabilisées selon l'article 42.2. Il en est de même de toute somme affectée à l'acquittement de cotisations salariales d'exercice.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.9. Le régime de retraite peut prévoir que l'affectation de l'excédent d'actif à l'acquittement de cotisations d'exercice peut, malgré les plafonds prévus au premier alinéa de l'article 146.8, s'appliquer au-delà du montant des cotisations comptabilisées en vertu de l'article 42.2.

2000, c. 41, a. 84; 2006, c. 42, a. 19; 2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.9.1. L'affectation de l'excédent d'actif à l'acquittement des cotisations patronales et, le cas échéant, des cotisations salariales cesse à la date de la fin de tout exercice financier pour lequel une évaluation actuarielle ou un avis visé à l'article 119.1 montre que les conditions prévues à l'article 146.6 ne sont plus réunies.

2015, c. 29, a. 27.

SECTION III
AUTRES RÉGIMES

2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.9.2. Les dispositions de la présente section visent les régimes de retraite auxquels les dispositions du chapitre X ne s'appliquent pas.

Elles visent également la portion de l'actif et celle du passif d'un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X qui sont soustraites selon l'article 122.1.

2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.9.3. L'excédent d'actif d'un régime peut être affecté à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime pourvu que le montant affecté à cette fin se limite à la part de l'actif qui excède la valeur des engagements nés du régime, déterminée en faisant abstraction des engagements supplémentaires résultant de la modification et en supposant que le régime se termine.

2015, c. 29, a. 27.

146.9.4. La partie de l'actif du régime qui excède la valeur des engagements nés du régime, en supposant qu'il se termine, peut être affectée à l'acquittement de cotisations patronales.

L'affectation de l'excédent d'actif d'un régime de retraite à l'acquittement des cotisations patronales cesse dès que la condition prévue au premier alinéa cesse d'être respectée.

2015, c. 29, a. 27.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

CHAPITRE X.2DISPOSITIONS PARTICULIÈRES RELATIVES À CERTAINS RÉGIMES DE RETRAITE INTERENTREPRISES

2015, c. 7, a. 1.
SECTION I

CHAMP D'APPLICATION

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.10. Le présent chapitre s'applique à un régime de retraite interentreprises à cotisation et prestations déterminées, en vigueur le 18 février 2015, qui ne peut être modifié de façon unilatérale par aucun employeur qui y est partie. Un tel régime est dit «régime à cotisations négociées».

Les régimes interentreprises visés par un règlement pris en vertu du deuxième alinéa de l'article 2, autre que le Règlement prévoyant de nouvelles mesures d'allègement relatives au financement de déficits actuariels de solvabilité des régimes de retraite du secteur privé (chapitre R-15.1, r. 4.1), sont toutefois exclus de l'application du présent chapitre. Est par contre visé le régime de retraite auquel s'applique la section III.3 du Règlement sur la soustraction de certains régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite (chapitre R-15.1, r. 8).

2015, c. 7, a. 1.
SECTION II

COTISATIONS ET PRESTATIONS

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.11. Malgré le premier alinéa de l'article 39, l'employeur n'est tenu de verser, au cours de chaque exercice financier du régime, que la cotisation patronale stipulée au régime.

Malgré le troisième alinéa de l'article 41, aucun ajustement de la cotisation de l'employeur ne peut être effectué, à moins qu'il n'ait été négocié avec celui-ci.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.12. Le total de la cotisation patronale et des cotisations salariales qui doivent être versées au cours de chaque exercice financier du régime doit être au moins égal à la somme des montants suivants:

- 1° la cotisation d'exercice établie conformément aux articles 128 et 129;
- 2° le montant estimé des frais d'administration que la caisse de retraite doit assumer au cours de l'exercice financier;
- 3° le total des cotisations d'équilibre déterminées pour l'exercice financier et des cotisations spéciales de modification exigibles au cours de l'exercice.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 28.

146.13. Un employeur ne peut utiliser l'excédent d'actif du régime pour acquitter sa cotisation, sauf si les règles fiscales l'y obligent. Il ne peut, non plus, malgré l'article 42.1, se libérer du paiement de sa cotisation au moyen d'une lettre de crédit.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

146.14. (Abrogé).

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 29.

146.15. Les dispositions de l'article 60 ne s'appliquent pas à un régime à cotisations négociées.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 30.

SECTION III

RÈGLES DE FINANCEMENT

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

§ 1. — Dispositions spécifiques

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.16. Malgré le paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 118 et le paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa de l'article 119, un régime à cotisations négociées doit faire l'objet d'une évaluation actuarielle à la date de la fin de chaque exercice financier et le rapport relatif à celle-ci doit être transmis à Retraite Québec dans les six mois de la date de l'évaluation.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 31.

146.17. Toute modification d'un régime à cotisations négociées ayant une incidence sur les engagements de celui-ci doit être considérée pour la première fois selon les règles prévues à l'article 121.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.18. Les dispositions de l'article 125, relatives à la constitution d'une provision de stabilisation, ne s'appliquent pas à un régime à cotisations négociées.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 32.

146.18.1. L'article 134 s'applique à toute modification du régime considérée pour la première fois, sans application de l'exception qui y est prévue.

L'article 139 s'applique selon l'approche de solvabilité.

2015, c. 29, a. 33.

146.19. Malgré l'article 138, la période maximale d'amortissement de tout déficit actuariel est de 12 ans.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 33.

§ 2. — Conditions d'acquittement des droits

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.20. La valeur des droits d'un participant ou d'un bénéficiaire visés au troisième alinéa de l'article 143 doit être acquittée en proportion du degré de solvabilité du régime établi lors de la dernière évaluation actuarielle dont le rapport a été transmis à Retraite Québec et qui précède la date de la demande de transfert.

Les dispositions des articles 145 et 146 ne s'appliquent pas à un régime à cotisations négociées. Un employeur peut toutefois, avant la date d'acquittement, verser une somme additionnelle à la caisse de retraite pour l'acquittement, en tout ou en partie, de la valeur des droits qui ne peut être acquittée aux termes du premier alinéa.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Malgré les articles 20 et 21, un régime de retraite peut être modifié pour prévoir que, dans les cas où le degré de solvabilité du régime est supérieur à 100%, la valeur des droits est acquittée dans une proportion inférieure au degré de solvabilité du régime, mais au moins égale à 100%. Une telle modification ne peut intervenir que dans les conditions prévues à l'article 146.35, qui s'applique en y faisant les adaptations nécessaires.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

146.21. Un acquittement effectué conformément à l'article 146.20 constitue un acquittement final des droits du participant ou du bénéficiaire.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.22. Aux fins d'une cession des droits d'un participant ou d'une saisie de ces droits pour dette alimentaire, la valeur des droits du participant est établie en tenant compte du degré de solvabilité du régime établi lors de la dernière évaluation actuarielle dont le rapport a été transmis à Retraite Québec et qui précède la date de leur évaluation.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

SECTION IV

RESTRUCTURATION

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

§ 1. — Plan de redressement

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.23. Lorsque le rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle d'un régime à cotisations négociées indique que les cotisations qui y sont prévues sont insuffisantes, un plan de redressement doit être préparé par celui qui a le pouvoir de modifier le régime.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.24. Le plan de redressement indique les mesures requises pour assurer un financement du régime conforme à la loi.

Ces mesures peuvent consister notamment en une augmentation de la cotisation patronale, en une augmentation des cotisations salariales ou l'établissement de telles cotisations, si le régime est non contributif, ou en une modification réductrice portant sur les services effectués avant ou après la date de prise d'effet de la modification.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.25. Aucune mesure prévue par un plan de redressement ne peut avoir pour effet de réduire, selon l'approche de capitalisation, la valeur des prestations en service dans une proportion supérieure à celle applicable à la valeur des droits des participants actifs.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.26. Les mesures du plan de redressement ne doivent pas avoir pour effet de réduire le passif en deçà de la valeur de l'actif à la fois selon l'approche de solvabilité et selon l'approche de capitalisation.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

146.27. Le plan de redressement doit être accompagné d'une certification d'un actuaire que l'application des mesures prévues par ce plan, à la date de l'évaluation actuarielle dont le rapport a constaté l'insuffisance des cotisations, aurait pour effet de rendre suffisantes ces cotisations.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.28. Le plan de redressement doit être transmis à Retraite Québec par le comité de retraite dans les 18 mois suivant la date de l'évaluation.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

§ 2. — Modification réductrice

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.29. Une modification réductrice peut, sans les consentements prévus à l'article 20, prendre effet avant la date fixée par le premier alinéa de cet article ou porter sur des services effectués avant sa date de prise d'effet, si elle est prévue par un plan de redressement.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.30. La date de prise d'effet d'une modification réductrice prévue par un plan de redressement ne peut être antérieure à la date suivant celle de l'évaluation actuarielle dont le rapport a constaté l'insuffisance des cotisations.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.31. Malgré l'article 21, une modification prévue par un plan de redressement peut réduire une prestation dont le service a débuté avant la date de prise d'effet de la modification.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.32. Aucune modification réductrice ne peut avoir d'effet sur des sommes déjà acquittées ou des prestations déjà versées à la date de son enregistrement.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

§ 3. — Adoption du plan de redressement

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.33. Le plan de redressement est adopté si, à l'issue du processus de consultation prévu au présent article, moins de 30% des participants et bénéficiaires s'y opposent.

Le comité de retraite transmet à chacun des participants et bénéficiaires un avis écrit l'informant de l'objet des modifications prévues par le plan de redressement, de leur date de prise d'effet et des conséquences prévues aux articles 146.39 et 146.40 en cas de défaut d'adopter un plan de redressement. L'avis doit également informer les participants et bénéficiaires qu'ils peuvent, dans les 60 jours de sa date d'envoi ou, le cas échéant, de la publication de l'avis prévu au troisième alinéa, selon la plus tardive, faire connaître au comité de retraite leur opposition au plan de redressement.

À moins que tous les participants et bénéficiaires du régime n'aient été personnellement avisés, le comité de retraite doit faire publier un avis contenant les renseignements prévus au deuxième alinéa. Les règles prévues au troisième alinéa de l'article 146.4 s'appliquent avec les adaptations nécessaires.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; N.I. 2016-05-15.

146.34. La consultation prévue à l'article 146.33 n'est pas requise dans les situations suivantes:

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

1° le texte du régime ou un document accessoire enregistré auprès d'un organisme analogue à Retraite Québec comporte, le 18 février 2015, une disposition permettant la réduction des droits et des prestations des participants et bénéficiaires;

2° le régime a été modifié conformément à l'article 146.35, après le 2 avril 2015, pour permettre la réduction des droits et des prestations des participants et bénéficiaires dans le cadre d'un plan de redressement.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

146.35. La modification du régime visée au paragraphe 2° de l'article 146.34 ne peut intervenir que si, à l'issue du processus de consultation prévu au présent article, moins de 30% des participants et bénéficiaires s'y opposent.

Le comité de retraite transmet à chacun des participants et bénéficiaires du régime de retraite un avis écrit, distinct de celui visé à l'article 146.33, qui indique, en plus des renseignements prévus au paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa de l'article 26, le processus de consultation requis en l'absence d'une disposition du régime permettant la réduction des droits et prestations en cas d'insuffisance des cotisations. L'avis doit également informer les participants et bénéficiaires qu'ils peuvent, dans les 60 jours de sa date d'envoi ou, le cas échéant, de la publication de l'avis prévu au troisième alinéa, selon la plus tardive, faire connaître au comité de retraite leur opposition à la modification projetée.

À moins que tous les participants et bénéficiaires du régime n'aient été personnellement avisés, le comité de retraite doit faire publier un avis contenant les renseignements prévus au deuxième alinéa. Les règles prévues au troisième alinéa de l'article 146.4 s'appliquent avec les adaptations nécessaires.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 34.

146.36. L'avis donné en vertu de l'article 146.33 ou 146.35 est assimilé à l'avis prévu à l'article 26.

Les dispositions de l'article 113.1 s'appliquent à un tel avis.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.37. La demande d'enregistrement des modifications prévues par le plan de redressement doit être présentée à Retraite Québec dans les 24 mois suivant la date de l'évaluation actuarielle dont le rapport a constaté une insuffisance des cotisations.

L'enregistrement de ces modifications n'est pas soumis à l'autorisation de Retraite Québec prévue au paragraphe 2° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 20.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

§ 4. — Défaut de production

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.38. En cas de défaut de production du plan de redressement ou d'un document qui doit l'accompagner, sont versés à Retraite Québec pour chaque mois complet de retard des droits égaux à ceux qui auraient été exigibles en cas de défaut de production du rapport ayant constaté l'insuffisance des cotisations.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

146.39. En cas de défaut de production de la demande d'enregistrement de toute modification au régime visant à donner suite à un plan de redressement ou d'un document qui doit l'accompagner, les droits des participants actifs cessent de s'accumuler à la date du défaut.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Une telle cessation d'accumulation de droits ne constitue pas une cessation de participation active.

Le texte du régime doit être modifié pour indiquer la période pendant laquelle il n'y a pas accumulation de droits par application du premier alinéa.

Le rétablissement de ces droits constitue une modification du régime.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.40. Si aucun plan de redressement ou aucune modification visant à augmenter les cotisations ou à réduire les droits ou les prestations des participants et bénéficiaires conformément à un tel plan n'est présenté à Retraite Québec dans les 60 mois qui suivent la date de l'évaluation actuarielle dont le rapport a constaté une insuffisance des cotisations, celui qui a le pouvoir de modifier le régime doit le terminer.

La date de terminaison est celle de l'expiration de ce délai de 60 mois.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

SECTION V
LIQUIDATION DES DROITS DES PARTICIPANTS ET BÉNÉFICIAIRES

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.41. Les droits des participants et bénéficiaires visés par le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime à cotisations négociées sont acquittés selon les articles 236 et 237, lesquels s'appliquent compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

L'avis visé à l'article 200 ne doit pas inclure l'information visée au paragraphe 2° de cet article. Il doit toutefois mentionner, le cas échéant, le plafonnement visé au troisième alinéa.

Malgré les articles 20 et 21, un plafonnement du degré de solvabilité applicable à l'acquittement de la valeur des droits, tel celui permis par l'article 146.20, peut être prévu par le régime de retraite aux conditions prévues à cet article, qui s'applique en y faisant les adaptations nécessaires.

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 35.

146.42. Les articles 240.2 et 308.3 ne s'appliquent pas à un régime à cotisations négociées.

Toutefois, les participants et bénéficiaires dont les droits ont été acquittés selon le troisième alinéa de l'article 146.20 sont considérés, en cas de retrait de leur employeur ou de terminaison du régime de retraite dans les trois ans suivant la date de l'acquittement de leurs droits, comme des participants à seule fin de la répartition d'un excédent d'actif en ce qui concerne la valeur de leurs droits qui équivaut à la différence entre le degré de solvabilité du régime à la date du retrait ou de la terminaison et celui appliqué lors de l'acquittement de leurs droits.

Il en est de même en cas de terminaison du régime dans les trois ans suivant la date d'un acquittement effectué selon le troisième alinéa de l'article 146.41.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.43. Les participants et bénéficiaires seuls ont droit à l'excédent d'actif déterminé lors d'un retrait d'employeur ou de la terminaison du régime et celui-ci est réparti entre eux au prorata de la valeur de leurs droits.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

146.44. Les dispositions de la sous-section 4 de la section II du chapitre XIII, relatives à la dette de l'employeur en cas de retrait d'un employeur ou de terminaison du régime, ne s'appliquent pas à un régime à cotisations négociées, sauf en ce qui concerne les cotisations prévues par le régime non versées à la date du retrait ou de la terminaison.

Un employeur peut toutefois, avant la date d'acquittement, verser une somme additionnelle à la caisse de retraite pour combler, en tout ou en partie, le manque d'actif nécessaire à l'acquittement des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés par le retrait d'un employeur ou la terminaison du régime.

Les sommes versées par un employeur selon le deuxième alinéa doivent être affectées à l'acquittement des droits des participants et bénéficiaires dont les droits se rapportent à cet employeur.

2015, c. 7, a. 1.

146.45. (Abrogé).

2015, c. 7, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 36.

CHAPITRE XI

ADMINISTRATION D'UN RÉGIME

SECTION I

ADMINISTRATION

147. Tout régime de retraite doit, à compter de son enregistrement, être administré par un comité de retraite composé au moins d'un membre qui, désigné dans les conditions et délais prévus au régime, n'est ni partie au régime ni un tiers à qui l'article 176 interdit de consentir un prêt, et des membres suivants:

1° un membre désigné par les participants actifs lors de l'assemblée tenue en application de l'article 166 ou, à défaut de telle désignation, un participant désigné dans les conditions et délais prévus au régime;

2° un membre désigné par les participants non actifs et les bénéficiaires lors de cette assemblée ou, à défaut de telle désignation, un participant ou un bénéficiaire désigné dans les conditions et délais susmentionnés.

1989, c. 38, a. 147; 2000, c. 41, a. 85.

147.1. Le groupe formé des participants actifs et celui formé des participants non actifs et des bénéficiaires peuvent, lors de l'assemblée tenue en application de l'article 166, désigner chacun un membre additionnel qui se joint aux membres visés à l'article 147.

Un membre additionnel visé au premier alinéa jouit des mêmes droits que les autres membres du comité à l'exception du droit de vote. L'article 156 ne s'applique pas à son égard.

2000, c. 41, a. 86.

148. La durée du mandat d'un membre du comité de retraite ne peut excéder trois ans.

Le membre dont le mandat est expiré demeure en fonction jusqu'à ce qu'il soit désigné de nouveau ou remplacé.

1989, c. 38, a. 148.

149. Jusqu'à ce qu'il soit enregistré, tout régime de retraite en vigueur pour lequel il n'a pas été pourvu à la formation d'un comité de retraite est administré par l'employeur.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Pour l'exercice de cette fonction, l'employeur possède les pouvoirs, assume les obligations et encourt la responsabilité d'un comité de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 149.

150. Sauf dans le cas d'un régime de retraite garanti, le comité de retraite agit à titre de fiduciaire.

1989, c. 38, a. 150.

150.1. Le comité de retraite peut, en tout temps, présenter à celui qui a le pouvoir de modifier le régime de retraite ses recommandations quant aux modifications qui pourraient être apportées au régime.

2000, c. 41, a. 87.

151. Le comité de retraite doit agir avec prudence, diligence et compétence, comme le ferait en pareilles circonstances une personne raisonnable; il doit aussi agir avec honnêteté et loyauté dans le meilleur intérêt des participants ou bénéficiaires.

Les membres du comité de retraite qui ont ou devraient avoir, compte tenu de leur profession ou de leur entreprise, des connaissances ou aptitudes utiles en l'occurrence, sont tenus de les mettre en oeuvre dans l'administration du régime de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 151.

151.1. Le comité de retraite est présumé agir avec prudence s'il agit de bonne foi en se fondant sur l'avis d'un expert.

2006, c. 42, a. 20.

151.2. Le comité de retraite établit un règlement intérieur qui régit son fonctionnement et sa gouvernance. Il veille à son respect et le révisé régulièrement.

Le règlement intérieur fixe notamment:

- 1° les fonctions et obligations respectives des membres du comité;
- 2° les règles de déontologie qui régissent ces personnes;
- 3° les règles à suivre pour désigner le président, le vice-président et le secrétaire;
- 4° la procédure applicable lors des réunions et la fréquence de celles-ci;
- 5° les mesures à prendre pour former les membres du comité;
- 6° les mesures à prendre pour quantifier et gérer les risques;
- 7° les contrôles internes;
- 8° les livres et registres à tenir;
- 9° les règles à suivre pour choisir, rémunérer, surveiller et évaluer les délégués, les représentants et les prestataires de services;
- 10° les normes concernant les services que rend le comité, entre autres celles relatives aux communications avec les participants et les bénéficiaires.

En cas de divergence entre le texte du régime de retraite et le règlement intérieur en ce qui concerne le fonctionnement et la gouvernance du comité, le règlement intérieur prévaut. Toutefois, quant aux sujets suivants, le règlement intérieur ne prévaut que si le texte du régime le prévoit expressément:

1° les règles à suivre pour désigner le président, le vice-président et le secrétaire du comité de retraite ainsi que les fonctions et obligations respectives de ceux-ci;

2° le quorum et l'attribution d'un droit de vote prépondérant lors des réunions du comité;

3° la proportion des membres du comité qui doivent participer à une décision pour qu'elle soit valide.

2006, c. 42, a. 20; 2015, c. 29, a. 37.

151.3. Le secrétaire du comité de retraite, ou toute autre personne que le comité désigne, donne aux membres du comité les documents et renseignements utiles pour administrer le régime de retraite.

Les membres du comité ont accès à tout renseignement concernant le régime et peuvent obtenir copie de tout document. Toutefois, ils ne peuvent consulter des renseignements personnels que si l'exercice de leurs fonctions le requiert.

2006, c. 42, a. 20.

152. Sous réserve des restrictions ou interdictions que peut prévoir le régime de retraite, le comité de retraite peut déléguer tout ou partie de ses pouvoirs, exception faite de ceux qui lui sont conférés par les articles 243.3 et 243.7, ou se faire représenter par un tiers pour un acte déterminé.

Celui à qui le comité de retraite a délégué des pouvoirs peut, dans la mesure où il y est autorisé par l'acte de délégation, les déléguer lui-même en tout ou en partie.

1989, c. 38, a. 152; 2000, c. 41, a. 88.

153. Celui qui exerce des pouvoirs délégués assume les mêmes obligations et la même responsabilité que celles qu'aurait eu à assumer le comité de retraite ou chacun de ses membres si le comité avait exercé lui-même ces pouvoirs. Il en est de même du prestataire de services et du représentant qui exercent un pouvoir discrétionnaire du comité de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 153; 2006, c. 42, a. 21.

154. Le comité de retraite répond de celui à qui il a délégué des pouvoirs, entre autres, lorsqu'il n'était pas autorisé à le faire; s'il l'était, il ne répond alors que du soin avec lequel il a choisi ce délégué et lui a donné ses instructions.

Le prestataire de services et le représentant qui exercent un pouvoir discrétionnaire du comité de retraite sont assimilés au délégué.

1989, c. 38, a. 154; 1994, c. 24, a. 11; 2006, c. 42, a. 22.

154.1. Le comité de retraite choisit et engage les délégués, les représentants et les prestataires de services.

2006, c. 42, a. 23.

154.2. Le délégué, le représentant ou le prestataire de services remet au comité de retraite les rapports relatifs à sa mission.

S'il constate dans le cours normal de sa mission une situation dont les incidences financières peuvent nuire aux intérêts de la caisse de retraite et qui exige d'être corrigée, il la rapporte par écrit au comité.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Si le comité ne corrige pas la situation sans retard, le délégataire, le représentant ou le prestataire de services envoie une copie de son rapport à Retraite Québec.

La personne qui, de bonne foi, informe le comité ou Retraite Québec comme le prévoit le deuxième ou le troisième alinéa n'engage pas sa responsabilité.

2006, c. 42, a. 23; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

154.3. Le délégataire, le représentant ou le prestataire de services fournit au comité de retraite les documents et renseignements que les autorités gouvernementales lui communiquent et qui mettent en cause la conformité du régime de retraite ou de son administration avec la loi.

2006, c. 42, a. 23.

154.4. Le délégataire, le représentant ou le prestataire de services ne peut exclure ou limiter sa responsabilité. Toute clause visant ce but est nulle.

Toute clause visant ce but et stipulée dans un contrat terminé ou en cours le 13 décembre 2006 est nulle si elle est abusive.

Le caractère abusif d'une telle clause s'apprécie, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires, suivant les règles du Code civil relatives aux clauses abusives d'un contrat de consommation ou d'adhésion.

2006, c. 42, a. 23.

155. Sauf en cas de renouvellement de mandat ou en cas de désignation d'un nouveau membre en vertu de l'article 167, le comité de retraite doit, dans les 30 jours suivant l'entrée en fonction d'un membre ayant droit de vote, réexaminer les délégations de pouvoirs afin de déterminer celles qui doivent être maintenues ou révoquées.

La révocation d'une délégation comporte, le cas échéant, celle de la sous-délégation faite par le délégataire.

1989, c. 38, a. 155; 2000, c. 41, a. 89.

156. Chaque membre du comité de retraite est présumé avoir approuvé toute décision prise par les autres membres. Il en est solidairement responsable avec eux, à moins qu'il ne manifeste immédiatement sa dissidence.

Il est aussi présumé avoir approuvé toute décision prise en son absence, à moins qu'il ne transmette par écrit sa dissidence aux autres membres dans un délai raisonnable après en avoir pris connaissance.

1989, c. 38, a. 156; 1999, c. 40, a. 254.

Non en vigueur

156.1. Le comité de retraite doit, dans les cas prévus par règlement et selon les montants et les conditions qui y sont prescrits, fournir une garantie qui prémunit la caisse de retraite contre les pertes pouvant résulter d'un vol ou d'un détournement ainsi qu'une garantie qui couvre la responsabilité, à l'exception de celle découlant du défaut d'agir avec honnêteté et loyauté, que peut encourir en raison de ses fonctions un membre du comité de retraite ou celui à qui ce comité a délégué un pouvoir ou confié un mandat.

1993, c. 45, a. 2.

157. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 157; 1994, c. 24, a. 12; 2000, c. 41, a. 90.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

158. Un membre d'un comité de retraite ne peut exercer ses pouvoirs dans son propre intérêt ni dans celui d'un tiers; il ne peut non plus se placer dans une situation de conflit entre son intérêt personnel et les devoirs de ses fonctions.

S'il est lui-même participant ou bénéficiaire, il doit exercer ses pouvoirs dans l'intérêt commun, en considérant son intérêt au même titre que celui des autres participants ou bénéficiaires.

1989, c. 38, a. 158.

159. Tout membre d'un comité de retraite doit, sans délai, notifier par écrit à ce comité l'intérêt qu'il a dans une entreprise et qui est susceptible de mettre en conflit son intérêt personnel et les devoirs de ses fonctions, ainsi que les droits, autres que ceux résultant du régime, qu'il peut avoir dans la caisse de retraite ou faire valoir contre celle-ci, en spécifiant le cas échéant leur nature et leur valeur.

Le comité de retraite tient à son bureau un registre sur lequel doivent être indiqués les intérêts ou droits qui lui sont notifiés en application du premier alinéa. Tout intéressé peut, sans frais, consulter ce registre pendant les heures habituelles de travail; en outre la limite prévue à l'article 115 ne s'applique pas à cette consultation.

1989, c. 38, a. 159.

160. Sauf stipulations contraires, l'exercice financier du régime de retraite se termine le 31 décembre de chaque année; il ne peut, sans l'autorisation de Retraite Québec, excéder 12 mois ni être inférieur à cette période.

1989, c. 38, a. 160; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

161. Le comité de retraite doit, dans les six mois de la fin de chaque exercice financier du régime de retraite ou, dans le cas du premier exercice financier du régime, dans le délai supplémentaire que peut accorder Retraite Québec, transmettre à celle-ci une déclaration annuelle établie sur le formulaire qu'elle fournit ainsi que les attestations et documents prévus dans le formulaire.

Il doit, dans le même délai, faire préparer un rapport financier contenant l'état de l'actif du régime ainsi que l'état des revenus et dépenses pour le dernier exercice terminé. Ce rapport doit être vérifié par un comptable, sauf dans les cas prévus par règlement.

1989, c. 38, a. 161; 1994, c. 24, a. 13; 2000, c. 41, a. 91; 2006, c. 42, a. 24; 2008, c. 21, a. 18; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

161.1. (Abrogé).

1994, c. 24, a. 14; 2000, c. 41, a. 92; 2006, c. 42, a. 25.

161.2. (Abrogé).

1994, c. 24, a. 14; 2000, c. 41, a. 93.

162. Sauf stipulations contraires, les membres du comité de retraite n'ont droit à aucune rémunération et les dépenses d'administration sont à la charge de la caisse de retraite. Les dépenses pour former les membres du comité constituent des dépenses d'administration.

1989, c. 38, a. 162; 2006, c. 42, a. 26.

162.1. Le comité de retraite indemnise ses membres du préjudice subi dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions si aucune faute ne leur est imputable.

Si une faute leur est imputable, autre qu'une faute intentionnelle ou lourde, et qu'ils bénéficient d'une assurance responsabilité, le comité peut les indemniser jusqu'à concurrence de la franchise de l'assurance.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Pour prendre sa décision, le comité tient compte des incidences financières sur l'actif du régime de retraite et des autres circonstances.

2006, c. 42, a. 27.

163. Les remboursements ou les paiements de prestation qu'effectue le comité de retraite sont libératoires lorsqu'il est fondé à croire, sur la base des renseignements dont il dispose, que les personnes à qui ils sont faits sont celles qui y ont droit, et que ces remboursements ou paiements sont par ailleurs faits conformément à la loi et au régime.

Cette libération ne vaut toutefois qu'à l'égard des sommes effectivement versées, ou de leur valeur.

1989, c. 38, a. 163.

163.1. Le comité de retraite peut opérer compensation entre une dette encourue par un participant ou bénéficiaire envers la caisse de retraite dans le cadre de l'administration courante du régime et une prestation ou un remboursement dus à ce participant ou bénéficiaire jusqu'à concurrence du plus élevé des montants suivants:

- 1° 25% de la prestation ou du remboursement payable;
- 2° 1/12 de la somme recouvrable sans excéder 50% de la prestation ou du remboursement payable.

La compensation peut toutefois s'opérer jusqu'à 100% de la prestation ou du remboursement payable si le débiteur y consent par écrit.

Le comité peut en outre opérer compensation d'une dette d'un participant décédé sur le montant total de la prestation de décès payable à ses ayants cause.

2000, c. 41, a. 94.

164. Lorsque plusieurs personnes revendiquent un même droit au titre du régime de retraite, le comité de retraite peut se libérer en déposant la somme due auprès du Bureau général de dépôts pour le Québec ou auprès d'une société de fiducie, laquelle est en ce cas tenue aux obligations prescrites par l'article 216 du Code de procédure civile (chapitre C-25.01) qui s'applique compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

1989, c. 38, a. 164; N.I. 2016-01-01 (NCPC).

165. Le comité de retraite doit communiquer à Retraite Québec le nom et la dernière adresse connue de tout participant ou bénéficiaire qui, étant introuvable, a droit à un remboursement, au service d'une prestation ou à d'autres sommes qui lui reviennent par suite du retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ou de la terminaison d'un régime de retraite.

Si Retraite Québec parvient, avec les informations dont elle dispose, à retrouver ce participant ou bénéficiaire, elle l'avise de communiquer avec le comité de retraite, à l'adresse qu'elle indique.

1989, c. 38, a. 165; 2000, c. 41, a. 95; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

165.1. Le comité de retraite doit aviser Retraite Québec par écrit de toute scission ou fusion effective ou projetée du régime, dès qu'il en est informé.

1992, c. 60, a. 13; 2000, c. 41, a. 96; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

166. Le comité de retraite doit, dans les six mois de la fin de chaque exercice financier du régime ou dans tout délai supplémentaire que peut accorder Retraite Québec, convoquer par avis écrit chacun des participants et des bénéficiaires ainsi que l'employeur à une assemblée en vue de:

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

1° permettre aux participants, aux bénéficiaires et à l'employeur de prendre connaissance des modifications apportées au régime, des indications portées au registre tenu en application de l'article 159 et de la situation financière du régime;

2° permettre au groupe des participants actifs et, indépendamment, au groupe des participants non actifs et des bénéficiaires de décider s'il désigne ou non un membre du comité de retraite visé à l'article 147 ou 147.1 et, dans l'affirmative, de procéder à sa désignation soit suivant le mode que peut proposer le comité soit, s'il n'en est aucun de proposé ou si le groupe refuse celui proposé, suivant le mode qui, décidé par le groupe, permet de procéder à cette désignation à l'assemblée même;

3° (paragraphe abrogé);

Toute décision relative à une matière mentionnée au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa est prise, pour chaque groupe, à la majorité des voix exprimées par ses membres.

Doivent en outre être portés à l'ordre du jour de cette assemblée les sujets déterminés par règlement.

Le comité de retraite rend également compte de son administration à cette assemblée.

1989, c. 38, a. 166; 1994, c. 24, a. 15; 2000, c. 41, a. 97; 2005, c. 5, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 38.

166.1. (Abrogé).

2005, c. 5, a. 3; 2015, c. 29, a. 39.

167. Si un membre du comité de retraite désigné en application de l'article 166 et ayant droit de vote est absent ou empêché d'agir, ou en cas de vacance de son poste, les autres membres du comité doivent désigner un nouveau membre pour remplir le mandat jusqu'à la prochaine assemblée tenue en application de ce même article.

Le comité peut aussi agir de même lorsqu'il y a retard à remplacer tout autre membre ayant droit de vote qui doit être désigné dans les conditions et délais prévus au régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 167; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 98.

SECTION II

PLACEMENTS

168. Seuls le comité de retraite, celui à qui a été délégué ce pouvoir ou, si le régime le prévoit, les participants peuvent décider des placements à faire avec l'actif du régime. Si le régime autorise les participants à répartir entre divers placements tout ou partie des sommes portées à leur compte, il doit offrir au moins trois choix de placement qui, en plus d'être diversifiés et de présenter des degrés de risque et des rendements espérés différents, permettent la création de portefeuilles généralement adaptés aux besoins des participants.

Outre que les placements doivent être faits conformément aux dispositions de la loi, ceux décidés par le comité de retraite ou le délégataire doivent également l'être en conformité avec la politique de placement.

1989, c. 38, a. 168; 2000, c. 41, a. 99.

169. Le comité de retraite doit se doter d'une politique écrite de placement, élaborée en tenant compte notamment du type de régime de retraite en cause, de ses caractéristiques et de ses engagements financiers ainsi que de la politique de financement du régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 169; 2015, c. 29, a. 40.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

170. À moins que Retraite Québec n'en autorise la simplification, aux conditions qu'elle fixe, la politique de placement doit faire état:

- 1° du rendement espéré;
- 2° du degré de risque attaché au portefeuille, eu égard notamment à la fluctuation des cours;
- 3° des besoins de liquidités;
- 4° de la proportion de l'actif qui peut être placée respectivement dans des titres d'emprunt et dans des titres de participation;
- 5° des catégories et sous-catégories de placements autorisées;
- 6° des mesures qui, assurant la diversification du portefeuille, tendent à en réduire globalement le degré de risque;
- 7° des règles et de la périodicité applicables tant à l'évaluation du portefeuille qu'au contrôle de sa gestion, ainsi que de celles applicables à la révision de la politique de placement.

Sauf s'il en est déjà fait état au régime de retraite, cette politique doit en outre prévoir:

- 1° les règles relatives à la solvabilité d'un emprunteur, ainsi que celles relatives aux garanties exigibles pour consentir des prêts sur l'actif, notamment des prêts de titres ou des prêts hypothécaires;
- 2° les règles applicables à l'exercice du droit de vote que comportent les titres faisant partie de l'actif;
- 3° la méthode d'évaluation des placements qui ne font pas l'objet d'un marché organisé;
- 4° les règles applicables à l'utilisation des contrats à terme, des options, des bons ou droits de souscription ou d'autres instruments financiers;
- 5° les règles applicables aux emprunts que peut faire le comité de retraite.

En cas de divergence entre le règlement intérieur et la politique de placement en ce qui concerne les sujets mentionnés au présent article, la politique de placement prévaut.

1989, c. 38, a. 170; 2006, c. 42, a. 28; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

171. Tout dépôt ou placement fait à même l'actif du régime de retraite doit l'être au nom de la caisse de retraite, ou porté à son compte.

De plus, l'actif du régime ne peut servir à garantir d'autres obligations que celles du régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 171; 2000, c. 41, a. 100.

171.1. À moins que les circonstances n'indiquent qu'il est raisonnable d'agir autrement, le comité de retraite doit tendre à composer un portefeuille diversifié de façon à minimiser les risques de pertes importantes.

2000, c. 41, a. 101.

172. L'actif d'un régime de retraite ne peut, directement ou indirectement, être placé pour une proportion supérieure à 10% de sa valeur comptable dans des titres contrôlés par l'employeur.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Aux fins du premier alinéa, la lettre de crédit fournie par un employeur en vertu de l'article 42.1 est considérée comme un titre dans lequel est placé l'actif du régime et dont la valeur comptable est égale à son montant.

Pour l'application du présent article, un titre est contrôlé par l'employeur, notamment, s'il est émis par celui-ci ou s'il est émis par une société ou une personne morale dont l'employeur détient plus de 50% des droits de vote.

1989, c. 38, a. 172; 2000, c. 41, a. 102; 2006, c. 42, a. 29.

173. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 173; 1994, c. 24, a. 16; 2000, c. 41, a. 103.

174. Sauf s'il s'agit de titres négociés sur un marché organisé, l'actif du régime de retraite ne peut être placé dans des titres émis par une personne morale à qui il ne peut être consenti un prêt sur cet actif en application des articles 176 et 177.

1989, c. 38, a. 174.

175. L'actif du régime de retraite ne peut, directement ou indirectement, être placé dans des actions comportant plus de 30% des droits de vote rattachés aux actions d'une personne morale.

Cette limite ne s'applique pas aux actions émises par une personne morale visée aux paragraphes c.1, c.2 ou c.3 de l'article 998 de la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3).

1989, c. 38, a. 175.

176. Il ne peut être consenti sur l'actif du régime de retraite aucun prêt:

1° à un membre d'un comité de retraite, à un délégué ni, lorsque ce membre ou ce délégué est une personne morale ou un groupement dépourvu de la personnalité juridique, à ses administrateurs, dirigeants ou employés;

2° à une association de travailleurs qui représente des participants, ni à ses administrateurs, dirigeants ou employés;

3° au conjoint ou à l'enfant d'une personne visée au paragraphe 1° ou 2°;

4° lorsque l'employeur est une personne morale et administre tout ou partie du régime:

a) à un actionnaire, associé ou membre qui détient directement ou indirectement plus de 10% du capital social de cette personne morale, ni à son conjoint ou enfant;

b) à un actionnaire, associé ou membre, ni à son conjoint ou enfant si, ensemble, ils détiennent directement ou indirectement plus de 10% du capital social de cette personne morale;

5° lorsque l'employeur administre tout ou partie du régime, à toute personne morale dont il détient directement ou indirectement plus de 10% du capital social;

6° à une personne morale, autre que l'employeur, dont une personne visée au paragraphe 1°, 2°, 3° ou 4° détient plus de 10% du capital social;

7° à une personne morale, autre que l'employeur, dont plus de 50% du capital social est détenu par un groupe formé exclusivement de personnes visées au paragraphe 1°, 2° ou 4°, de l'employeur lorsqu'il administre tout ou partie du régime, ou de leur conjoint ou enfant;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

8° à une personne morale, autre que l'employeur, contrôlée par une personne visée au paragraphe 1°, 2°, 3° ou 4°, par l'employeur lorsqu'il administre tout ou partie du régime, ou par un groupe formé exclusivement de ces personnes.

1989, c. 38, a. 176.

177. Par dérogation à l'article 176, il peut être consenti un prêt garanti de la manière prescrite par règlement:

1° au participant, à son conjoint ou enfant;

2° à l'employeur;

3° à une société mère ou filiale pourvu que l'une de ces sociétés soit l'employeur et que le total des prêts qui leur sont consentis n'excède pas 10% de la valeur comptable de l'actif du régime de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 177.

178. Pour l'application des articles 176 et 177, sont des conjoints soit les personnes liées par un mariage ou une union civile, soit les personnes, de sexe différent ou de même sexe, vivant maritalement depuis au moins trois ans ou, dans les cas suivants, depuis au moins un an:

— un enfant au moins est né ou à naître de leur union;

— elles ont conjointement adopté au moins un enfant durant leur période de vie maritale;

— l'une d'elles a adopté au moins un enfant de l'autre durant cette période.

Pour l'application de ces mêmes articles, toute personne physique ou morale est réputée détenir les actions que détient directement ou indirectement, une personne morale dont elle a le contrôle. A le contrôle d'une personne morale celui qui détient, directement ou indirectement, autrement qu'à titre de garantie, des titres lui permettant en tout état de cause d'élire la majorité des administrateurs de cette personne morale.

1989, c. 38, a. 178; 1999, c. 14, a. 28; 2002, c. 6, a. 200.

179. S'il survient un événement imprévu ou incontrôlable qui a pour effet de rendre le placement de l'actif du régime de retraite non conforme à la loi, le comité de retraite doit, dans un délai raisonnable après en avoir pris connaissance, prendre toute mesure nécessaire pour régulariser la situation.

1989, c. 38, a. 179.

180. Celui qui effectue un placement non conforme à la loi est, par ce seul fait et sans autre preuve de faute, responsable des pertes qui en résultent.

Les membres du comité de retraite qui ont approuvé un tel placement sont, par ce seul fait et sans autre preuve de faute, solidairement responsables des pertes qui en résultent.

Ces personnes n'encourent toutefois aucune responsabilité aux termes du présent article si elles ont agi de bonne foi en se fondant sur l'avis d'un expert.

1989, c. 38, a. 180; 2006, c. 42, a. 30.

181. Tout placement fait en violation de la loi peut être annulé par voie de justice, à la demande de Retraite Québec ou d'un intéressé.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Le tribunal peut alors ordonner à toute personne dont la responsabilité est engagée aux termes de l'article 180, de verser à la caisse de retraite un montant équivalant aux pertes qui en sont résultées ou aux sommes ainsi placées.

1989, c. 38, a. 181; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

182. Ne peuvent recevoir des honoraires, commissions ou autres avantages pour une transaction relative au placement de l'actif du régime de retraite:

1° les membres d'un comité de retraite, un délégué, leurs conjoints ou enfants;

2° l'employeur, le cas échéant ceux de ses employés chargés de l'administration de tout ou partie du régime ni, s'il est une personne morale, ses administrateurs ou dirigeants;

3° les personnes ou groupements visés à l'article 176.

Toutefois, le premier alinéa ne s'applique pas à une personne ou à un groupement qui y est visé si de tels avantages lui sont habituellement accordés dans l'exercice de ses fonctions et s'ils correspondent à ce qui est normalement consenti pour une telle transaction.

1989, c. 38, a. 182.

SECTION II.1POLITIQUE D'ACHAT DE RENTES

2015, c. 29, a. 41.

182.1. Lorsqu'un régime de retraite est doté d'une politique d'achat de rentes répondant aux exigences prévues par règlement, l'acquittement de tout ou partie d'une prestation effectué conformément à cette politique constitue, à la date prévue par l'entente conclue à cette fin pour le premier versement par l'assureur, un acquittement final des droits des participants et des bénéficiaires visés par cette entente.

Seules peuvent être visées par la politique d'achat de rentes les rentes dont le service est en cours ou a été demandé à la date de l'entente avec l'assureur.

2015, c. 29, a. 41.

182.2. Les participants et bénéficiaires dont les droits ont été acquittés conformément à l'article 182.1 conservent pendant trois ans, pour l'application des dispositions relatives à l'attribution d'un excédent d'actif en cas de terminaison du régime, leur qualité de participant ou de bénéficiaire du régime. Ils conservent également leur qualité, pendant la même période, en cas de faillite ou d'insolvabilité de l'employeur entraînant, par suite du retrait de l'employeur ou de la terminaison du régime, la réduction des droits des participants et des bénéficiaires.

Chaque fois que les dispositions du premier alinéa devront recevoir application, l'avis dont l'article 207.4 exige la publication devra aussi faire état des règles établies au présent article.

2015, c. 29, a. 41.

SECTION IIIADMINISTRATION PROVISOIRE

183. Retraite Québec peut, pour la période qu'elle fixe, assumer l'administration provisoire de tout ou partie d'un régime de retraite, ou la confier à celui qu'elle désigne:

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

1° lorsqu'elle-même, ou l'enquêteur qu'elle a désigné, enquête sur la conformité du régime avec la loi ou sur son administration;

2° lorsqu'elle estime que le régime ou son administration n'est pas conforme à la présente loi;

3° lorsqu'elle estime qu'il y a malversation, abus de confiance ou autre inconduite du comité de retraite, d'un membre de ce comité, d'un délégué ou, lorsque ce membre ou délégué est une personne morale ou un groupement dépourvu de la personnalité juridique, d'un de ses administrateurs;

4° lorsqu'elle constate que le comité de retraite ou celui à qui a été délégué des pouvoirs omet de se conformer à une ordonnance qu'elle a rendue.

1989, c. 38, a. 183; 2000, c. 41, a. 104; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

184. Retraite Québec doit, avant de décider l'administration provisoire, donner au comité de retraite et, le cas échéant, à celui dont la gestion ou la conduite est en cause l'occasion de présenter leurs observations. Toutefois, dans les cas d'urgence, elle peut en décider sans leur avoir donné une telle occasion, à condition de le faire dans les 15 jours de la décision.

1989, c. 38, a. 184; 1997, c. 43, a. 651; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

185. Retraite Québec transmet sa décision au comité de retraite, le cas échéant à celui dont la gestion ou la conduite est en cause ainsi qu'à l'employeur. Elle doit aussi, lorsque sa décision vise l'administration provisoire de tout le régime, la transmettre aux participants et à toute association accréditée qui représente des participants.

1989, c. 38, a. 185; 2000, c. 41, a. 106; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

186. L'administrateur provisoire exerce, dans la mesure prévue par la décision de Retraite Québec, les pouvoirs du comité de retraite; ce comité, ou celui à qui ont été délégués ces pouvoirs, devient, dans la même mesure, inhabile à les exercer.

L'administrateur provisoire est tenu aux mêmes obligations et encourt la même responsabilité que le comité de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 186; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

187. Après avoir décidé l'administration provisoire pour un motif prévu au paragraphe 2° ou 3° du premier alinéa de l'article 183 et après avoir donné à celui dont la gestion ou la conduite est en cause l'occasion de présenter ses observations, Retraite Québec peut le déchoir de ses fonctions et le rendre inhabile à exercer de telles fonctions pendant cinq ans. Dans ce cas, Retraite Québec peut, aux conditions et selon les modalités qu'elle détermine, pourvoir à son remplacement.

L'article 185 s'applique à toute décision de Retraite Québec prise en vertu du présent article.

1989, c. 38, a. 187; 1997, c. 43, a. 652; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

188. Retraite Québec, lorsqu'elle assume l'administration provisoire de tout ou partie du régime de retraite, ou l'administrateur provisoire qu'elle a désigné, peut modifier le régime pour le rendre conforme à la loi ou pour protéger les droits des participants ou bénéficiaires.

Retraite Québec doit auparavant donner à l'employeur, aux participants et à toute association accréditée qui représente des participants, l'occasion de présenter leurs observations. Elle procède à l'enregistrement de toute modification ainsi effectuée.

Quant à l'administrateur provisoire désigné, il doit, avant de modifier le régime, transmettre l'avis prévu à l'article 26 au comité de retraite, à l'employeur, aux participants et à toute association accréditée qui représente des participants. Dans ce cas, Retraite Québec peut, outre pour les motifs prévus à l'article 28, refuser l'enregistrement de la modification demandée si, à son avis, elle n'est pas dans l'intérêt des participants ou bénéficiaires.

1989, c. 38, a. 188; 1997, c. 43, a. 653; 2000, c. 41, a. 108; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

189. Toute modification d'un régime de retraite, qu'elle soit effectuée par Retraite Québec ou par l'administrateur provisoire désigné, prend effet à la date de son enregistrement et lie l'employeur ainsi que les participants.

1989, c. 38, a. 189; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

190. Retraite Québec, lorsqu'elle assume l'administration provisoire de tout ou partie du régime de retraite ou, avec son approbation, l'administrateur provisoire désigné peut terminer le régime ou, dans le cas où plusieurs employeurs sont parties à un régime, le modifier afin qu'il soit procédé au retrait d'un employeur en conformité avec le chapitre XIII, qui s'applique compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

Avis de la date de la terminaison ou de celle de l'entrée en vigueur de la modification et des participants qu'elle vise doit être donné au comité de retraite, à l'employeur, aux participants visés et à toute association accréditée qui représente des participants.

1989, c. 38, a. 190; 2000, c. 41, a. 109; 2015, c. 20, s. 61.

191. Retraite Québec détermine la rémunération et, le cas échéant, les allocations et indemnités à verser à l'administrateur provisoire désigné.

Elle a aussi droit au remboursement des frais qu'elle engage pour l'administration provisoire ou pour mettre un membre de son personnel à la disposition de l'administrateur provisoire désigné.

1989, c. 38, a. 191; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

192. L'administrateur provisoire désigné est tenu, sur demande de Retraite Québec, de faire inventaire.

En outre, il doit, aux conditions et selon les modalités fixées par Retraite Québec, souscrire à une assurance couvrant sa responsabilité ou fournir toute autre sûreté garantissant son administration.

1989, c. 38, a. 192; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

193. Sans préjudice du droit d'en réclamer le remboursement en justice, ou à moins que Retraite Québec ne choisisse de les prendre à sa charge, les dépenses relatives à l'administration provisoire sont supportées par la caisse de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 193; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

CHAPITRE XIISCISSION ET FUSION

194. Est subordonnée à l'autorisation de Retraite Québec et aux conditions qu'elle peut fixer toute scission de l'actif et du passif d'un régime de retraite entre plusieurs régimes, ou toute fusion dans un même régime de retraite de la totalité ou d'une partie des actifs et des passifs de plusieurs régimes, notamment lorsque l'employeur vend, cède ou aliène autrement son entreprise.

1989, c. 38, a. 194; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

195. Retraite Québec ne peut autoriser la scission de l'actif et du passif d'un régime de retraite que si la valeur de l'actif à transférer est égale à la somme des valeurs marchandes suivantes:

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

1° celle de l'actif qui, en supposant que le régime se termine à la date où la scission doit prendre effet, devrait, en application des articles 220 à 225, être attribué au groupe de droits composé de ceux des participants et bénéficiaires visés;

2° celle de la part additionnelle qui serait attribuée à ce groupe de droits si l'excédent restant après répartition de l'actif était lui-même réparti entre les groupes de droits formés selon la sous-section 3 de la section II du chapitre XIII, de telle façon que l'actif du régime soit réparti entre ces groupes au prorata de la valeur des engagements nés du régime et d'où résultent les droits compris dans chacun de ces groupes.

La valeur des engagements visés au paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa doit être évaluée de la façon prévue à la section II du chapitre X et être réduite de celle des engagements nés du régime auxquels se rapporte toute portion d'un déficit actuariel de capitalisation qui reste à payer à la date de la scission.

Toute cotisation qu'un employeur partie à un régime de retraite interentreprises a, à la date de la scission, omis de verser à la caisse de retraite ou, selon le cas, à l'assureur, doit être déduite de la part d'actif qui est attribuée au groupe de droits se rapportant à cet employeur en application du premier alinéa. De plus, la somme visée au premier alinéa doit être ajustée pour tenir compte du rendement obtenu sur le placement de l'actif du régime, calculé suivant l'évolution de sa valeur marchande depuis la date de la prise d'effet de la scission jusqu'à celle du transfert, ainsi que des cotisations et des prestations versées durant cette même période quant aux participants ou bénéficiaires visés.

Retraite Québec ne peut par ailleurs autoriser une telle scission que si le régime dans lequel sera transférée une partie de l'actif à scinder comporte des dispositions qui, relativement à l'attribution d'un excédent d'actif en cas de terminaison et à son affectation en cours d'existence du régime, sont identiques, quant à leurs effets, à celles du régime d'où provient cet actif. Afin de vérifier s'il y a identité d'effets ainsi que l'exige le présent alinéa, il n'est tenu compte que des dispositions en vigueur lors de la demande d'autorisation.

En outre lorsque, dans l'hypothèse prévue au premier alinéa, la valeur de l'actif attribué est insuffisante pour acquitter intégralement les droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés, et qu'un nouvel employeur devra assumer, après la scission, les engagements afférents à ces droits, l'autorisation de Retraite Québec pourra être subordonnée à l'obligation pour l'employeur alors tenu à ces engagements de verser à la caisse de retraite, pour faire partie de l'actif à transférer, la somme que représente le manque d'actif nécessaire à l'acquittement intégral de ces droits.

1989, c. 38, a. 195; 1992, c. 60, a. 14; 2000, c. 41, a. 110; 2006, c. 42, a. 31; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 42.

195.0.1. En cas de scission d'un régime de retraite, les sommes comptabilisées selon l'article 42.2 sont réparties entre les régimes issus de la scission en proportion de leurs passifs respectifs.

2015, c. 29, a. 43.

195.1. Par ailleurs, en ce qui concerne un régime de retraite régi à la fois par la présente loi et par une loi émanant d'une autorité législative autre que le Parlement du Québec, Retraite Québec peut, si elle l'estime nécessaire pour protéger les droits des participants et des bénéficiaires du régime assujettis à la présente loi, ordonner que l'actif et le passif du régime soient scindés, à la date et dans les délais et les conditions qu'elle fixe, de sorte que l'actif se rapportant à ces participants et bénéficiaires soit transféré dans un autre régime de retraite.

L'ordonnance s'adresse à celui qui a le pouvoir de modifier le régime visé, à celui qui l'administre et à celui qui a le pouvoir d'établir un régime de retraite relatif aux participants et aux bénéficiaires visés au premier alinéa. Les droits de ceux-ci sont établis à la date de la scission et selon les dispositions du régime qui sont enregistrées et en vigueur à cette date.

2010, c. 41, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

196. Retraite Québec ne peut autoriser la fusion de tout ou partie des actifs et des passifs de plusieurs régimes que si le degré de solvabilité du régime absorbant, après la fusion, satisfait à l'une des conditions suivantes:

1° il est d'au moins 85% ou, dans le cas d'une fusion de régimes auxquels est partie le même employeur, d'au moins 100%;

2° il n'est pas inférieur de plus de cinq points de pourcentage au degré de solvabilité, avant la fusion, tant du régime absorbant que du régime absorbé.

Retraite Québec ne peut non plus autoriser la fusion que si chacun d'eux comporte des dispositions qui, relativement à l'attribution de l'excédent d'actif déterminé lors de sa terminaison, sont identiques quant à leurs effets ou que les effets des dispositions pertinentes du régime absorbant sont, pour les participants et bénéficiaires, plus avantageuses que ceux des dispositions pertinentes du régime absorbé. En outre, Retraite Québec ne peut autoriser la fusion que si chacun des régimes comporte des dispositions qui, relativement à l'affectation de l'excédent d'actif en cours d'existence du régime, sont identiques quant à leurs effets. Pour vérifier les effets des dispositions visées, il n'est tenu compte que des dispositions en vigueur lors de la demande d'autorisation.

Dans les autres cas, la fusion pourra encore être autorisée si tous les participants et les bénéficiaires du régime absorbé, qui sont visés par la fusion, sont informés par le comité de retraite au moyen d'un avis écrit et si moins de 30% d'entre eux se sont opposés à la fusion. Les dispositions des articles 146.4 et 146.5 s'appliquent, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires, quant à la procédure à suivre pour informer et consulter ces participants et bénéficiaires.

En outre, dans le cas où la fusion vise tous les participants et bénéficiaires des régimes concernés, l'autorisation ne sera accordée que s'il y a fusion de la totalité de l'actif de chacun de ces régimes. Dans le cas contraire, l'autorisation devra être subordonnée à ce que l'actif du régime à fusionner dont seulement une partie des participants ou bénéficiaires sont visés, soit déterminé, pour ce qui se rapporte à leurs droits, conformément aux dispositions de l'article 195 qui s'appliquent compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

Si la fusion est autorisée, seules les dispositions du régime absorbant sont, pour ce qui a trait au droit de l'employeur d'affecter l'excédent d'actif du régime à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de toute modification du régime ou à l'acquittement des cotisations patronales et à l'attribution d'excédent d'actif en cas de terminaison, applicables aux participants et aux bénéficiaires du régime absorbé qui sont visés par la fusion.

1989, c. 38, a. 196; 1992, c. 60, a. 15; 2000, c. 41, a. 111; 2006, c. 42, a. 32; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 44.

197. Doivent être prises en compte, pour l'application de l'article 34, la rémunération reçue ou, selon le cas, les heures de travail effectuées avant la date d'une scission ou d'une fusion.

1989, c. 38, a. 197; 2000, c. 41, a. 112.

CHAPITRE XIIILIQUIDATION DES DROITS DES PARTICIPANTS ET DES BÉNÉFICIAIRES*SECTION I*CAS DE LIQUIDATION*§ 1. — Retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises

198. Le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises est conditionnel à la modification du régime en ce sens. Cette modification est subordonnée à l'autorisation de Retraite Québec.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

La date du retrait de l'employeur est celle de la prise d'effet de la modification qui y donne lieu. Si cette modification fait suite à la faillite de l'employeur, elle prend effet à la date de la faillite. Si elle résulte du fait que l'employeur ne compte plus de participants actifs à son service, elle prend effet au plus tard à la date de fin de l'exercice financier au cours duquel le dernier participant a cessé d'accumuler des droits.

Sont visés par le retrait:

- 1° les participants actifs au service de l'employeur à la date de son retrait;
- 2° les participants non actifs, à cette date, dont la participation active a pris fin alors qu'ils étaient au service de cet employeur;
- 3° les bénéficiaires, à cette date, dont la prestation est dérivée de celle d'un participant dont la participation active a pris fin alors qu'il était au service de cet employeur.

1989, c. 38, a. 198; 2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 20, s. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 45.

199. Lorsqu'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises fait faillite ou devient insolvable au sens de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre B-3), le régime doit être modifié afin qu'il soit procédé au retrait de cet employeur du régime ou, le cas échéant, à la substitution d'un nouvel employeur. À défaut par celui à qui le régime en confie le pouvoir de procéder à une telle modification dans les 30 jours de la date à laquelle le comité de retraite est informé de l'insolvabilité ou de la faillite, le comité doit le faire lui-même.

1989, c. 38, a. 199; 1997, c. 43, a. 654; 2000, c. 41, a. 114.

199.1. Lorsqu'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ne compte plus de participants actifs à son service, le régime doit être modifié afin qu'il soit procédé au retrait de cet employeur du régime. À défaut par celui à qui le régime en confie le pouvoir de procéder à une telle modification dans les 30 jours de la date à laquelle le comité de retraite est informé du fait que l'employeur ne compte plus de participants actifs à son service, le comité doit le faire lui-même.

Dans le cas d'un employeur dont tous les travailleurs visés par le régime sont engagés de façon ponctuelle et pour une durée déterminée, la modification du régime n'est requise que si l'employeur ne compte plus de participants actifs à son service depuis 12 mois.

2015, c. 29, a. 46.

200. Le comité de retraite qui projette de demander l'enregistrement d'une modification visant le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises doit, en plus d'en aviser les participants ainsi que le prévoit l'article 26, transmettre à chacun des participants et des bénéficiaires visés par le retrait un avis les informant:

- 1° du degré de solvabilité du régime établi lors de la plus récente évaluation actuarielle de celui-ci ou, s'il est plus récent, dans l'avis visé à l'article 119.1 transmis à Retraite Québec;
- 2° de l'effet de l'acquittement des droits d'un participant ou d'un bénéficiaire, notamment en ce qui concerne l'application des dispositions du régime visées au paragraphe 16° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 14 ainsi que, le cas échéant, des dispositions et de l'article 240.2;
- 3° que les droits des participants non actifs et des bénéficiaires qui sont visés par le retrait et pour lesquels une rente est servie à la date du retrait seront acquittés au moyen d'une rente servie par un assureur, selon les conditions prévues par règlement, choisi par le comité de retraite;
- 4° que les droits des participants et des bénéficiaires visés par le retrait, autres que ceux auxquels s'applique le paragraphe 3°, seront acquittés au moyen d'un transfert visé à l'article 98, lequel s'applique

compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires, ou, le cas échéant, par le paiement en un seul versement ou le transfert dans un régime enregistré d'épargne-retraite de la partie de leurs droits qui peut leur être remboursée.

1989, c. 38, a. 200; 1992, c. 60, a. 17; 2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 29, a. 47; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

201. Le comité de retraite qui demande l'enregistrement d'une modification visant le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises doit joindre à sa demande, outre ce que prévoit l'article 24, les renseignements suivants:

1° le nom de l'employeur visé et la date d'entrée en vigueur de la modification;

2° les noms des participants et des bénéficiaires visés, chacun devant être identifié comme étant, à la date visée au paragraphe 1°, un participant actif, un participant non actif pour lequel aucune rente n'est servie, un participant non actif pour lequel une rente est servie ou un bénéficiaire;

3° une copie de l'avis prévu à l'article 200 accompagnée d'une déclaration du comité de retraite attestant qu'il a transmis un tel avis à chacun des participants et des bénéficiaires visés.

1989, c. 38, a. 201; 2000, c. 41, a. 114.

202. Dans les 60 jours qui suivent la présentation de la demande d'enregistrement à Retraite Québec, le comité de retraite doit exiger de l'employeur visé le paiement de toute cotisation que celui-ci a omis de verser à la caisse de retraite ou, selon le cas, à l'assureur.

Il doit en outre, dans le même délai ou dans le délai supplémentaire que Retraite Québec peut accorder, transmettre à celle-ci un rapport établissant les droits de chacun des participants et bénéficiaires visés ainsi que leur valeur et contenant les renseignements déterminés par règlement. Ce rapport est préparé par un actuaire; il peut aussi l'être par le comité de retraite dans le cas d'un régime visé au paragraphe 2° de l'article 116. L'évaluation des droits des participants et bénéficiaires doit être effectuée à la date de la prise d'effet de la modification visant le retrait de l'employeur visé ou, avec l'autorisation de Retraite Québec et aux conditions qu'elle fixe, à celle de la prochaine évaluation actuarielle complète du régime.

Est dispensé de transmettre le rapport prévu au deuxième alinéa le comité qui, dans le délai prévu à cet alinéa, transmet à Retraite Québec un avis certifiant que l'employeur a entièrement payé les cotisations qu'il devait et, lorsque le chapitre X s'applique au régime de retraite, une déclaration d'un actuaire certifiant qu'à son avis le régime est solvable à la date de la prise d'effet de la modification.

1989, c. 38, a. 202; 1992, c. 60, a. 18; 2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

203. Retraite Québec ne peut autoriser la modification d'un régime de retraite interentreprises en vue du retrait d'un employeur partie à ce régime que s'il est satisfait aux conditions suivantes:

1° le rapport ou l'avis et la déclaration, selon le cas, qui lui sont transmis en application de l'article 202 sont conformes à la présente loi;

2° le comité de retraite atteste que les cotisations visées au premier alinéa de l'article 202 ont été versées à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur ou qu'elles ne pourront vraisemblablement être recouvrées malgré ses demandes en ce sens, en raison de la faillite ou de l'insolvabilité de l'employeur.

1989, c. 38, a. 203; 1992, c. 60, a. 19; 1997, c. 43, a. 655; 2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

§ 2. — Terminaison d'un régime de retraite

204. À moins d'en être empêché par convention, ou à moins qu'il ne s'agisse d'un régime de retraite qui, rendu obligatoire par décret, ne comporte pas de disposition l'y autorisant, l'employeur — ou, dans le cas d'un régime interentreprises, même non considéré comme tel en vertu de l'article 11, l'ensemble des employeurs qui y sont parties — peut terminer le régime auquel il est partie au moyen d'un avis écrit de terminaison transmis aux participants et bénéficiaires visés, à chaque association accréditée qui représente des participants, au comité de retraite et, le cas échéant, à l'assureur.

Cet avis indique la date de la terminaison ainsi que les participants et bénéficiaires visés. La date de la terminaison ne peut en aucun cas être postérieure au jour qui précède celui où les droits du dernier participant ou bénéficiaire que compte le régime sont acquittés. De plus, à moins que chacun des participants dont la participation active prend fin à l'occasion de la terminaison ou par la suite n'y consente par écrit, cette date ne peut être antérieure ni à celle de la cessation de la perception des cotisations salariales ni à celle qui précède de 30 jours la transmission de l'avis de terminaison aux participants actifs.

1989, c. 38, a. 204; 1992, c. 60, a. 20; 2000, c. 41, a. 114.

205. Retraite Québec peut terminer un régime de retraite:

1° lorsque, sans avoir transmis un avis de terminaison, l'employeur — ou, s'il s'agit d'un régime interentreprises, même non considéré comme tel en vertu de l'article 11, chacun des employeurs qui y est partie — fait défaut de percevoir des cotisations salariales ou de verser à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur les cotisations patronales ou les cotisations salariales qu'il perçoit;

2° lorsque le comité de retraite, celui à qui a été délégué des pouvoirs ou toute partie au régime omet de se conformer à une ordonnance que Retraite Québec a rendue en application de la présente loi;

3° lorsque le régime ne compte plus de participant actif.

Retraite Québec doit, avant de terminer le régime, donner au comité de retraite un délai d'au moins 10 jours pour présenter ses observations.

1989, c. 38, a. 205; 1992, c. 60, a. 21; 1997, c. 43, a. 656; 2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

205.1. (Remplacé).

1992, c. 60, a. 22; 2000, c. 41, a. 114.

206. Toute décision de Retraite Québec terminant un régime de retraite indique la date de la terminaison et les participants et bénéficiaires visés.

Retraite Québec communique sa décision au comité de retraite qui la transmet sans délai à chacun des participants et bénéficiaires visés, à chaque association accréditée qui représente des participants, à l'employeur et, le cas échéant, à l'assureur.

1989, c. 38, a. 206; 1992, c. 60, a. 23; 2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

207. Sont visés par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite, outre les participants et les bénéficiaires dont les droits n'ont pas été acquittés avant la date de la terminaison, les participants visés au deuxième alinéa de l'article 211.

1989, c. 38, a. 207; 1992, c. 60, a. 24; 2000, c. 41, a. 114.

207.1. Dans les 15 jours qui suivent la réception d'un avis de terminaison ou d'une décision de Retraite Québec terminant le régime de retraite, le comité de retraite doit transmettre à Retraite Québec, à l'employeur et à chaque association accréditée qui représente des participants, une déclaration de terminaison qui contient les renseignements prescrits par règlement, accompagnée des attestations et des documents ainsi prescrits.

1992, c. 60, a. 25; 2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

207.2. Dans les 90 jours qui suivent la réception d'un avis de terminaison ou d'une décision terminant le régime de retraite, le comité de retraite doit transmettre à Retraite Québec un rapport de terminaison établissant entre autres les droits de chacun des participants ou bénéficiaires visés ainsi que leur valeur et contenant les renseignements déterminés par règlement. Ce rapport est préparé par un actuaire; il peut aussi l'être par le comité de retraite dans le cas d'un régime visé au paragraphe 2° de l'article 116. Retraite Québec envoie sans délai au comité de retraite un accusé de réception indiquant la date à laquelle elle a reçu le rapport.

Le comité de retraite doit également fournir un exemplaire du rapport à l'employeur et à chaque association accréditée qui représente des participants en les informant qu'ils peuvent, avant l'expiration du délai prévu au premier alinéa, lui présenter par écrit leurs observations. Le comité doit transmettre le rapport dans un délai tel que l'employeur et chaque association accréditée disposent d'au moins 10 jours pour lui présenter leurs observations.

L'exemplaire fourni à l'employeur doit, le cas échéant, être accompagné d'un avis, dont copie doit aussi être transmise à Retraite Québec, qui indique que toute somme due par l'employeur selon le rapport doit être versée à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur, selon le cas.

2000, c. 41, a. 114; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 48.

207.3. Le comité de retraite doit transmettre à chaque participant ou bénéficiaire visé une copie de la déclaration de terminaison ainsi qu'un relevé de ses droits et de leur valeur accompagnés des informations suivantes:

1° les modes d'acquittement de ses droits, notamment le régime de retraite dans lequel le participant ou bénéficiaire pourrait, le cas échéant, les transférer ainsi que les options qu'il peut exercer;

2° les modalités fixées pour le choix du mode d'acquittement de ses droits, y compris, le cas échéant, celles relatives au droit à une part de l'excédent d'actif;

3° que le rapport de terminaison ainsi que les données utilisées pour l'établissement de ses droits ou de leur valeur peuvent être consultés, sans frais, soit au bureau du comité de retraite soit à l'établissement de l'employeur que désigne le comité, selon l'endroit le plus rapproché de la résidence du demandeur;

4° qu'avant l'expiration du délai prévu au premier alinéa de l'article 207.2, le participant ou bénéficiaire doit indiquer ses choix et exercer ses options parmi ceux visés aux paragraphes 1° et 2° et qu'il peut en outre présenter par écrit ses observations au comité de retraite;

5° tout autre renseignement déterminé par règlement.

Le comité doit transmettre les relevés dans un délai tel que les participants et bénéficiaires disposent d'au moins 10 jours pour indiquer leurs choix, exercer leurs options et, le cas échéant, lui présenter leurs observations conformément au paragraphe 4° du premier alinéa.

2000, c. 41, a. 114.

207.4. À moins que tous les participants et les bénéficiaires susceptibles de faire valoir des droits au titre du régime ou de la présente loi aient été personnellement avisés, le comité de retraite doit en outre faire publier dans un quotidien distribué dans la région où résident, au Québec, le plus grand nombre de participants actifs à la date de la terminaison, un avis invitant toute personne qui, sans avoir reçu le relevé prévu à l'article 207.3, croit avoir des droits au titre du régime ou de la présente loi à les faire valoir auprès du comité avant l'expiration du délai prévu au premier alinéa de l'article 207.2.

Le comité doit s'assurer que la publication soit faite dans un délai tel que les intéressés disposent d'au moins 10 jours pour faire valoir leurs droits conformément au premier alinéa. Dans le cas d'un régime interentreprises, même non considéré comme tel par application de l'article 11, la publication doit être faite pour chaque employeur partie au régime dans la région où résident, au Québec, le plus grand nombre de participants à son service à la date de la terminaison.

207.6. Un régime de retraite ne peut être modifié après la date de sa terminaison, sauf pour permettre l'augmentation de prestations qui peut résulter de l'attribution d'un excédent d'actif.

Le présent article n'a pas pour effet d'empêcher Retraite Québec de procéder, après cette date, à l'enregistrement d'une modification du régime intervenue avant cette même date.

SECTION IIPROCESSUS DE LIQUIDATION§ 1. — Interprétation et application

208. Dans la présente section, l'expression «date de la terminaison», lorsqu'elle est utilisée à l'égard d'un régime de retraite interentreprises qui fait l'objet d'une modification visant le retrait d'un employeur, s'entend de la date à laquelle est effectuée l'évaluation des droits des participants et des bénéficiaires visés par cette modification.

1989, c. 38, a. 208; 1992, c. 60, a. 26; 2000, c. 41, a. 116.

209. Les articles 216 et 218 ne s'appliquent pas à l'acquittement des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés par le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ou par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite lorsque la valeur de l'actif du régime est au moins égale à celle de son passif, toutes deux étant, à la date de la terminaison, établies conformément au présent chapitre. Dans ce cas, si l'actif du régime ne permet pas l'acquittement intégral des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés, l'acquittement se fait au prorata de la valeur des droits de chacun.

1989, c. 38, a. 209; 2000, c. 41, a. 116.

§ 2. — Établissement et collocation des droits

209.1. Le comité de retraite doit, dans les 30 jours qui suivent l'autorisation par Retraite Québec d'une modification visant le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime de retraite interentreprises, procéder, conformément à ce que prévoit, le cas échéant, le rapport visé au deuxième alinéa de l'article 202, à l'acquittement des droits des participants et bénéficiaires visés qui en ont fait la demande.

2000, c. 41, a. 117; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

210. À moins que Retraite Québec ne lui accorde un délai additionnel, le comité de retraite doit, au moins 30 mais pas plus de 60 jours après la date à laquelle Retraite Québec a reçu le rapport de terminaison, procéder à l'acquittement des droits des participants et des bénéficiaires visés conformément à ce rapport et à la présente loi.

Le comité ne peut par ailleurs procéder à cet acquittement si, dans les 30 jours qui suivent la réception du rapport de terminaison, Retraite Québec lui ordonne de surseoir à l'acquittement pendant la période additionnelle qu'elle détermine ou si elle ordonne en vertu de l'article 240.4 la correction, dans le délai qu'elle fixe, d'une irrégularité qu'elle constate dans le rapport. Dans ce dernier cas, le comité de retraite doit présenter à Retraite Québec, qui en accuse réception, un rapport de terminaison révisé. Dans ces cas, le comité procède à l'acquittement dans les 30 jours qui suivent l'expiration de la période de sursis ou de l'expiration d'un délai de 30 jours à compter de la date à laquelle Retraite Québec a reçu le rapport révisé.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Malgré le premier alinéa, l'acquittement des droits d'un participant ou bénéficiaire conformément au rapport de terminaison peut être reporté à la date de l'acquittement des droits dans l'excédent d'actif lorsque le participant le demande ou que, compte tenu du mode d'acquittement choisi par ce participant ou bénéficiaire, la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3) prescrit le paiement en un seul versement de la totalité des droits de celui-ci au titre du régime. De plus, Retraite Québec peut, lorsqu'elle autorise l'étalement du versement d'une somme due par l'employeur conformément à l'article 229, fixer les modalités suivant lesquelles l'acquittement des droits des participants et des bénéficiaires peut être complété en tenant compte de cet étalement.

Le comité de retraite peut cependant, en tout temps si le régime est solvable et avec l'autorisation de Retraite Québec dans le cas contraire, verser en tout ou en partie, aux conditions qu'elle fixe, une rente, autre que celle prévue par l'article 67.2, dont le service est en cours ou suspendu à la date de terminaison du régime ou dont le premier versement devient exigible après cette date. S'il advient que les prestations ainsi versées excèdent les droits qu'attribue le rapport terminal au prestataire pour la période couverte par ces prestations, ce dernier doit rembourser l'excédent; à défaut, l'excédent peut être déduit des droits qui restent à lui acquitter.

1989, c. 38, a. 210; 1992, c. 60, a. 27; 2000, c. 41, a. 118; 2008, c. 21, a. 19; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

210.1. La part de l'excédent d'actif à laquelle a droit un participant ou un bénéficiaire peut lui être payée en un seul versement ou, dans la mesure permise par la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3), être acquittée au moyen d'un transfert visé à l'article 98, lequel s'applique compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires, ou servir à la constitution d'une rente ou d'une autre prestation, suivant l'option qu'il communique au comité de retraite.

2000, c. 41, a. 119; 2015, c. 29, a. 51.

211. Le participant visé par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite, qui était encore actif à la date de cette terminaison, a droit, au titre des services que lui reconnaît le régime jusqu'à la date de terminaison, à la valeur de la rente normale, inclusion faite des avantages accessoires à toute rente à laquelle il aurait eu droit s'il avait pris sa retraite le jour précédant cette date.

Lorsque la terminaison du régime est occasionnée par la division, la fusion, l'aliénation ou la fermeture d'une entreprise ou d'une partie d'une entreprise, le même droit est reconnu au participant dont la participation active a cessé au cours de la période comprise entre la date où les participants ont été informés de l'événement en question et celle de la terminaison.

Le montant de cette rente doit, dans le cas où le régime en prévoit le calcul suivant l'évolution de la rémunération du participant, être établi en tenant compte de cette évolution jusqu'à la date de la terminaison, à moins que le régime ne prévoit expressément en tenir compte après cette date.

1989, c. 38, a. 211; 1994, c. 24, a. 17; 2000, c. 41, a. 120.

212. Les droits des participants et bénéficiaires visés par le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ou par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite doivent être évalués à l'une ou l'autre des dates qui suivent, en utilisant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui, à cette date, étaient utilisées pour la détermination de la valeur des prestations auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit était acquis à cette date:

1° à la date où le participant a cessé d'être actif, si les droits à évaluer sont ceux des participants ou des bénéficiaires suivants:

a) le participant qui a cessé d'être actif avant le retrait ou la terminaison et qui, à la date de la terminaison, avait déjà opté pour l'acquittement de ses droits dans le délai prévu au paragraphe 1° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 99 ou était encore dans le délai pour exercer une telle option, ainsi que les bénéficiaires dont les droits résultent des services reconnus à un tel participant;

b) le participant visé au deuxième alinéa de l'article 211;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2° à la date de la terminaison, si les droits à évaluer sont ceux de tout autre participant ou bénéficiaire visé par le retrait ou la terminaison.

Les droits des participants et des bénéficiaires visés au paragraphe 1° portent intérêt, de la date à laquelle ils sont évalués jusqu'à la date de la terminaison, au taux utilisé aux fins de cette évaluation.

Le premier alinéa ne s'applique pas à la rente qui doit être garantie par un assureur en application de l'article 237 ni à une rente visée au paragraphe 3° de l'article 200.

1989, c. 38, a. 212; 1994, c. 24, a. 18; 2000, c. 41, a. 121.

212.1. À la date de la terminaison, l'actif d'un régime de retraite terminé doit être établi selon la valeur de liquidation ou son estimation, et être réduit du montant estimé des frais que la caisse de retraite doit assumer à l'occasion de la terminaison.

À la même date, le passif d'un tel régime comprend, outre la valeur des droits visés par l'article 212, celle de la rente qui doit être garantie par un assureur en vertu de l'article 237, cette valeur étant déterminée:

1° dans les cas où la rente a été garantie avant la date de la terminaison, en utilisant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 qui étaient utilisées à cette date;

2° dans les cas où la rente a été garantie après la date de la terminaison mais avant celle de la préparation du rapport de terminaison, en actualisant à la date de la terminaison la prime payée à l'assureur, selon un taux correspondant au taux estimé du rendement de la caisse de retraite depuis la date de la terminaison jusqu'à la date où la rente a été garantie;

3° dans les autres cas, en actualisant à la date de la terminaison et selon un taux correspondant au taux estimé du rendement de la caisse de retraite depuis cette date jusqu'à celle de la préparation du rapport de terminaison, la prime qui aurait été payée à un assureur à la date de la préparation du rapport, augmentée d'une marge destinée à tenir compte de la variation possible du coût d'achat de la rente entre cette dernière date et la date probable de l'achat.

Dans les cas visés aux paragraphes 2° et 3° du deuxième alinéa, le passif comprend également la valeur des montants de rente versés à un participant par la caisse de retraite entre la date de la terminaison et celle où le service de la rente est effectué par un assureur, cette valeur étant déterminée selon le taux visé au paragraphe pertinent.

216. Les droits résultant d'engagements nés d'une modification du régime de retraite relative à des services se rapportant à une période antérieure à la date de sa prise d'effet, doivent, pour leur acquittement, être réduits ainsi qu'il suit:

1° de 100%, si la période comprise entre la date de prise d'effet de cette modification et la date de la terminaison est de moins d'un an;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

- 2° de 80%, si cette période est d'un an ou plus mais de moins de deux ans;
- 3° de 60%, si cette période est de deux ans ou plus mais de moins de trois ans;
- 4° de 40%, si cette période est de trois ans ou plus mais de moins de quatre ans;
- 5° de 20%, si cette période est de quatre ans ou plus mais de moins de cinq ans.

1989, c. 38, a. 216; 1992, c. 60, a. 29; 2000, c. 41, a. 124.

217. Sauf s'il s'agit d'une part d'un excédent d'actif, toute somme due à un participant ou bénéficiaire et qui, aux termes du régime de retraite et de la présente loi, doit être acquittée par suite du retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ou par suite de la terminaison d'un régime porte intérêt, entre la date de terminaison et celle de son acquittement, au taux utilisé pour la détermination de la valeur de ses droits. Ce taux doit être celui dont il est fait mention à l'article 44 ou 45 et qui est applicable aux cotisations versées au titre du régime dans le cas où la somme due l'est au titre:

- 1° d'un régime à cotisation déterminée;
- 2° de dispositions du régime relatives aux cotisations volontaires;
- 3° de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée;
- 4° de cotisations salariales qui excèdent le plafond fixé par l'article 60;
- 5° de sommes reçues par le régime à la suite d'un transfert même non visé au chapitre VII.

1989, c. 38, a. 217; 1992, c. 60, a. 30; 2000, c. 41, a. 125; 2006, c. 42, a. 33.

218. Les droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés par le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ou par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite sont acquittés dans l'ordre suivant:

- 1° ceux qui correspondent aux valeurs suivantes, acquittées concurremment:
 - a) la valeur des cotisations volontaires versées à la caisse de retraite ou, selon le cas, à l'assureur;
 - b) la valeur des cotisations salariales ou patronales versées en application de dispositions qui, dans un régime à prestations déterminées, sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée;
 - c) la valeur des sommes reçues par le régime à la suite d'un transfert même non visé au chapitre VII;
- 2° la valeur des autres droits, à l'exclusion de ceux visés au paragraphe 4°, accumulés au titre du régime et réduits en application de l'article 216;
- 3° la valeur de toute réduction de droits effectuée en application de l'article 216;
- 4° la valeur des prestations qui sont dues aux participants au titre des dispositions du régime leur attribuant une indemnité pour le cas où cessera leur période de travail continu en raison de changements d'ordre technologique ou économique survenus dans l'entreprise de l'employeur partie au régime, ou en raison d'une division, d'une fusion, d'une aliénation ou d'une fermeture de cette entreprise.

Si l'actif est insuffisant pour l'acquittement intégral des droits qui sont colloqués au même rang, l'acquittement se fait au prorata de la valeur des droits concernés.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Les droits visés aux premier et deuxième alinéas sont ceux accumulés à la date de la terminaison. Leur valeur s'établit à cette date et est augmentée des intérêts calculés conformément à l'article 217.

1989, c. 38, a. 218; 1992, c. 60, a. 31; 2000, c. 41, a. 126; 2006, c. 42, a. 34.

§ 3. — Répartition de l'actif

219. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 219; 1992, c. 60, a. 32.

220. L'actif d'un régime de retraite interentreprises doit, lors du retrait d'un employeur qui y est partie ou lors de la terminaison du régime, être réparti entre les groupes de droits formés en application de la présente sous-section, suivant la valeur des droits compris dans chacun de ces groupes et l'ordre d'acquiescement établi par la présente loi.

L'actif du régime est, en vue de cette répartition, augmenté du montant que représente la somme des cotisations que tout employeur partie au régime a, en date de la terminaison, omis de verser à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur, selon le cas.

1989, c. 38, a. 220; 2000, c. 41, a. 127.

221. Les droits des participants ou bénéficiaires qui ne sont pas visés par le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises doivent être établis à la date de la terminaison conformément aux articles 211 à 216.

1989, c. 38, a. 221; 2000, c. 41, a. 128.

222. Lors du retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises, les droits accumulés au titre de ce régime par les participants ou bénéficiaires sont répartis en deux groupes, dont l'un est composé des droits de ceux visés par ce retrait.

En cas de retraits simultanés de plusieurs employeurs parties à un même régime de retraite interentreprises, le groupe composé des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés par ces retraits est lui-même réparti conformément à l'article 223.

1989, c. 38, a. 222; 2000, c. 41, a. 129.

223. En cas de terminaison d'un régime de retraite interentreprises, les droits accumulés au titre de ce régime par les participants ou bénéficiaires doivent être répartis en autant de groupes qu'il y a d'employeurs, chaque groupe étant composé des droits accumulés par les participants au titre de leur travail auprès de l'employeur auquel ce groupe se rapporte.

1989, c. 38, a. 223; 2000, c. 41, a. 203.

224. Lorsqu'un participant a travaillé pour plusieurs employeurs parties à un régime de retraite interentreprises, les droits qu'il a accumulés au titre de ce régime doivent, lors du retrait d'un employeur partie au régime ou lors de la terminaison de celui-ci, être comptabilisés dans le groupe de droits se rapportant au dernier employeur pour lequel il a travaillé alors qu'il était participant actif.

Toutefois, le premier alinéa ne s'applique pas si le régime prévoit qu'en pareil cas, tout droit accumulé par ce participant au titre de son travail auprès d'un employeur est comptabilisé dans le groupe de droits se rapportant à cet employeur.

1989, c. 38, a. 224; 2000, c. 41, a. 130.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

225. Lors du retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime de retraite interentreprises ou lors de la terminaison d'un tel régime, forme un groupe de droits distinct le reliquat des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés par le retrait antérieur d'un employeur.

1989, c. 38, a. 225; 2000, c. 41, a. 131.

226. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 226; 1994, c. 24, a. 19; 2000, c. 41, a. 131; 2015, c. 29, a. 52.

227. Toute cotisation qu'un employeur partie à un régime de retraite interentreprises a, en date de la terminaison du régime, omis de verser à la caisse de retraite ou, selon le cas, à l'assureur, doit être déduite de la part d'actif qui est allouée au groupe de droits se rapportant à cet employeur.

1989, c. 38, a. 227; 2000, c. 41, a. 132.

§ 4. — Dette de l'employeur

228. Constitue une dette de l'employeur le manque d'actif nécessaire à l'acquittement des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés par le retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ou par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite. Ce manque d'actif doit être établi à la date de la terminaison.

Si l'employeur a, à la date de la terminaison, omis de verser des cotisations à la caisse de retraite ou, selon le cas, à l'assureur, cette dette est l'excédent du manque d'actif sur ces cotisations.

Dans le cas d'un régime interentreprises, le présent article s'applique à chaque employeur partie au régime et auquel se rapporte un groupe de droits formé en application de la sous-section 3 et composé des droits de participants ou bénéficiaires visé par le retrait ou la terminaison.

1989, c. 38, a. 228; 1992, c. 60, a. 33; 2000, c. 41, a. 133.

228.1. Aucune disposition d'un régime de retraite à prestations déterminées ou à cotisation et prestations déterminées ne peut avoir pour effet de limiter ou réduire les obligations d'un employeur à l'égard du régime en raison de son retrait du régime ou de la terminaison de celui-ci.

2008, c. 21, a. 20.

229. Toute somme due par un employeur aux termes de l'article 228 doit, dès sa détermination, être versée à la caisse de retraite ou, selon le cas, à l'assureur. Retraite Québec peut toutefois, aux conditions qu'elle fixe, permettre à l'employeur d'étaler sur une période d'au plus cinq ans le versement de cette somme.

Toute somme non versée à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur porte intérêt, à compter de la date du défaut, au taux déterminé en application de l'article 61 et qui s'appliquait à la date de la terminaison.

1989, c. 38, a. 229; 2000, c. 41, a. 134; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

230. Toute somme versée par un employeur en vertu de la présente sous-section, y compris une somme recouvrée après la date de la terminaison, notamment au titre de cotisations échues mais non versées à cette date, est utilisée pour l'acquittement des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires selon l'ordre de priorité établi par la présente loi.

 § 4.0.1. — Options d'acquittement en cas d'insuffisance de l'actif

2009, c. 1, a. 2.

230.0.0.1. La présente sous-section vise un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X, si les conditions suivantes sont réunies:

1° le régime fait l'objet d'une modification visant le retrait d'un employeur qui y est partie ou est terminé;

1.1° l'employeur partie au régime est en faillite ou est sous l'effet d'une ordonnance ou d'un jugement en vertu de la Loi sur les arrangements avec les créanciers des compagnies (L.R.C. 1985, c. C-36), de la partie III de la Loi sur la faillite et l'insolvabilité (L.R.C. 1985, c. B-3) ou de la Loi sur les liquidations et les restructurations (L.R.C. 1985, c. W-11);

2° la date du retrait de l'employeur ou de la terminaison du régime est postérieure au 30 décembre 2008, de même que la date de la faillite de l'employeur ou celle de l'ordonnance ou du jugement visé au paragraphe 1.1°;

2.1° (paragraphe abrogé);

3° à la date du retrait de l'employeur ou de la terminaison du régime, l'actif est insuffisant pour acquitter intégralement les droits des participants et bénéficiaires visés par le retrait ou la terminaison;

4° le manque d'actif nécessaire à l'acquittement des droits ne pourra vraisemblablement être recouvré.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2010, c. 41, a. 3; 2011, c. 32, a. 1; 2015, c. 29, a. 53.

230.0.0.2. (Abrogé).

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 29, a. 54.

230.0.0.3. Un participant ou un bénéficiaire visé par le retrait d'un employeur ou par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite, à qui une rente est servie à la date du retrait ou de la terminaison et dont les droits sont réduits en raison de l'insuffisance de l'actif, peut demander que sa rente soit garantie par un assureur ou opter pour une rente servie sur l'actif administré par Retraite Québec en vertu de l'article 230.0.0.4.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 55.

230.0.0.4. Retraite Québec exerce les pouvoirs du comité de retraite à l'égard des participants et des bénéficiaires d'un régime de retraite qui ont choisi le mode d'acquittement prévu à l'article 230.0.0.3 et sur l'actif de ce régime qui correspond à la partie des droits de ces participants et bénéficiaires qui peut être acquittée conformément à l'article 218. Le comité de retraite, ou celui à qui ont été délégués ou attribués ces pouvoirs, devient, dans cette mesure, inhabile à les exercer.

L'administration de Retraite Québec peut s'exercer globalement à l'égard de l'ensemble de ces régimes ou d'une partie de ceux-ci. Les régimes administrés globalement sont alors réputés, à cette fin, constituer un seul régime.

Dans l'exercice de ces pouvoirs, Retraite Québec assume les obligations et encourt la responsabilité d'un comité de retraite.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 56.

230.0.0.5. Malgré toute autre disposition, en ce qui concerne l'actif d'un régime de retraite administré par Retraite Québec, seuls sont considérés comme participants au régime ceux visés à l'article 230.0.0.4.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

230.0.0.6. À moins que Retraite Québec ne choisisse de les prendre à sa charge, les dépenses relatives à l'administration du régime par Retraite Québec sont supportées par la partie de la caisse de retraite qu'elle administre.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

230.0.0.7. Retraite Québec peut, conformément aux conditions et modalités prescrites par règlement du gouvernement, modifier le régime de retraite pour améliorer les droits des participants et des bénéficiaires visés à l'article 230.0.0.4.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

230.0.0.8. L'article 243 ne s'applique pas à une décision prise par Retraite Québec à titre de fiduciaire ou dans l'exercice des pouvoirs que lui attribue la présente sous-section.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

230.0.0.9. Retraite Québec doit, au plus tard à la fin du dixième exercice financier du régime de retraite qui suit l'exercice au cours duquel elle a commencé à exercer à l'égard des participants et des bénéficiaires du régime visés à l'article 230.0.0.4 les pouvoirs du comité de retraite, faire garantir par un assureur les rentes qu'elle sert à ceux-ci.

Les deuxième, troisième et quatrième alinéas de l'article 237 s'appliquent alors, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2011, c. 32, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 57.

230.0.0.10. Si l'actif du régime administré par Retraite Québec est insuffisant pour verser les rentes au fur et à mesure, pour obtenir qu'elles soient garanties par un assureur ou pour payer les dépenses relatives à l'administration, Retraite Québec peut réduire les rentes des participants et bénéficiaires.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 58.

230.0.0.11. Le gouvernement peut prendre tout règlement nécessaire à l'application de la présente sous-section. Il peut notamment:

1° fixer les règles applicables à l'évaluation des droits des participants et des bénéficiaires et à la répartition de l'actif et du passif d'un régime de retraite aux fins de déterminer la partie de la caisse de retraite du régime qui doit être administrée par Retraite Québec;

2° prescrire les conditions et les modalités permettant l'amélioration des droits des participants et des bénéficiaires visés à l'article 230.0.0.4;

3° prescrire les conditions et les modalités de réduction des rentes servies par Retraite Québec.

2009, c. 1, a. 2; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 59.

§ 4.1. — Répartition de l'excédent d'actif en cas de terminaison

230.0.1. (Article renuméroté).

2000, c. 41, a. 136; 2015, c. 29, a. 61.

Voir article 230.1.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

230.1. L'excédent d'actif d'un régime terminé est égal à l'excédent de la valeur de l'actif du régime sur celle de son passif, celles-ci étant établies conformément à l'article 212.1.

Dans le cas d'un régime de retraite interentreprises, même non considéré comme tel par application de l'article 11, et d'un régime qui a déjà fait l'objet d'une modification visant le retrait d'un employeur qui y était partie, l'excédent d'actif doit être déterminé à l'égard de chaque employeur de la manière prévue à la sous-section 3.

1992, c. 60, a. 34; 2000, c. 41, a. 137; 2015, c. 29, a. 62; 2000, c. 41, a. 136; 2015, c. 29, a. 61.

230.1.1. (Remplacé).

2000, c. 41, a. 138; 2015, c. 29, a. 62.

230.2. Tout excédent d'actif que peut comporter un régime de retraite terminé est d'abord attribué concurremment à l'employeur et aux participants et bénéficiaires ayant des droits en vertu de dispositions à prestations déterminées, jusqu'à concurrence du montant des cotisations comptabilisées respectivement selon les premier et deuxième alinéas de l'article 42.2.

Si l'excédent d'actif est d'un montant inférieur au montant total des cotisations patronales et salariales comptabilisées selon l'article 42.2, il doit être attribué en proportion des cotisations comptabilisées respectivement selon le premier et le deuxième alinéa de cet article.

L'attribution du solde de l'excédent d'actif, le cas échéant, doit être conforme aux conditions et modalités prévues par le régime.

La part attribuée aux participants et aux bénéficiaires est répartie entre eux au prorata de la valeur de leurs droits ou selon une autre méthode prévue par le régime.

235. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 235; 2000, c. 41, a. 144.

236. Les droits, à l'exclusion d'une rente visée à l'article 237, qu'un participant visé par la terminaison d'un régime de retraite a accumulés au titre du régime doivent être acquittés au moyen d'un transfert visé à l'article 98, lequel s'applique compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires. Si toutefois un participant dont la rente n'était pas en service à la date de la terminaison décède avant que le transfert soit effectué, ses droits, mis à part ceux relatifs à l'excédent d'actif, le cas échéant, doivent plutôt être acquittés au moyen d'une prestation payable en un seul versement à son conjoint ou, à défaut, à ses ayants cause.

Pour l'application du présent article, le conjoint du participant est la personne qui satisfait aux conditions prévues à l'article 85.

1989, c. 38, a. 236; 2000, c. 41, a. 145.

237. À l'exception de la rente prévue par l'article 67.2 et des prestations variables prévues à l'article 90.1, doit être garantie par un assureur, selon les conditions prévues par règlement, la rente acquise au titre d'un régime de retraite par tout participant ou bénéficiaire visé par la terminaison du régime et dont le service est en cours ou suspendu à la date de la terminaison.

Cette rente doit, sous réserve des exceptions prévues par règlement, demeurer viagère et ne peut être versée sous une forme autre que celle autorisée par la présente loi.

Dans le cas où, en raison de sa nature, la rente à laquelle le participant a acquis droit n'est pas disponible sur le marché, le comité de retraite peut, dans le but de la faire garantir par un assureur, remplacer les caractéristiques de cette rente qui ont pour effet de la rendre non disponible sur le marché par des caractéristiques similaires qui n'emportent pas un tel effet.

La rente ainsi modifiée doit, à la date où débute son service, être d'une valeur égale à celle de la rente acquise par le participant; toutefois, si cette égalité de valeur ne peut être réalisée en raison des limites fixées par la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3), il doit être payé au participant, en un seul versement, une somme représentant la différence entre la valeur de la rente à laquelle le participant a acquis droit et celle de la rente modifiée. Ces valeurs sont établies suivant les hypothèses visées à l'article 61.

1989, c. 38, a. 237; 2000, c. 41, a. 146; 2006, c. 42, a. 36; 2008, c. 21, a. 21; 2015, c. 29, a. 63.

238. Toute somme qui doit revenir au participant ou bénéficiaire visé par la terminaison du régime de retraite est, à défaut d'être réclamée dans les trois ans suivant l'expiration du délai prévu au premier alinéa de l'article 207.2, remise au ministre du Revenu; cette remise peut toutefois être faite avant l'expiration de ce délai si les seuls droits qui restent à liquider reviennent à des participants ou bénéficiaires introuvables. La remise doit être accompagnée d'un état décrivant la somme due et indiquant, le cas échéant, les nom et dernière adresse connue du participant ou du bénéficiaire.

La Loi sur les biens non réclamés (chapitre B-5.1) s'applique à la somme ainsi remise au ministre du Revenu.

1989, c. 38, a. 238; 1997, c. 80, a. 76; 2000, c. 41, a. 147; 2005, c. 44, a. 54; 2011, c. 10, a. 98.

238.1. Sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 238, le défaut de faire valoir des droits dans les délais prescrits par la présente loi prive leur titulaire du droit d'en réclamer l'acquittement sur l'actif du régime de retraite, à moins que ce dernier ne démontre, avant le début de l'acquittement des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés, qu'il a été dans l'impossibilité d'agir plus tôt ou qu'il n'a pas reçu l'information à laquelle il avait droit en vertu de cette loi pour une cause étrangère à son fait.

1992, c. 60, a. 35.

239. L'actif d'un régime de retraite non garanti dont certains remboursements ou prestations sont garantis par un assureur doit, lorsque ce régime se termine ou, s'il s'agit d'un régime interentreprises, lors du retrait d'un employeur qui y est partie, comprendre, aux fins de la liquidation des droits des participants ou bénéficiaires visés par le retrait ou la terminaison, la valeur des droits garantis par cet assureur.

1989, c. 38, a. 239; 2000, c. 41, a. 148.

240. Si, dans le cas visé à l'article 239, le montant des droits garantis qu'ont accumulés les participants ou bénéficiaires visés par le retrait ou la terminaison du régime de retraite et que l'assureur aurait à assumer en l'absence de ce retrait ou de cette terminaison, excède le montant de ces droits tel qu'établi en application du présent chapitre, cet assureur est tenu, sur demande du comité de retraite, de réduire en conséquence ses engagements envers ces participants et bénéficiaires et de garantir jusqu'à concurrence de la valeur de cet excédent les droits non garantis des participants et bénéficiaires.

L'application du présent article ne peut avoir pour effet de réduire le degré de solvabilité du régime.

1989, c. 38, a. 240; 2000, c. 41, a. 149.

240.1. (Abrogé).

1992, c. 60, a. 36; 1994, c. 24, a. 21; 2000, c. 41, a. 150.

240.2. Les participants ayant cessé leur participation active dans les trois ans précédant la date de la terminaison du régime et dont les droits ont été acquittés avant cette date demeurent, malgré les dispositions du second alinéa de l'article 33, des participants à seules fins de la répartition d'un excédent d'actif devant intervenir en application de la présente loi.

Chaque fois que les dispositions du premier alinéa devront recevoir application, l'avis dont l'article 207.4 exige la publication devra aussi faire état des règles établies au présent article.

240.3. Lorsqu'elle le juge dans l'intérêt des participants et des bénéficiaires, Retraite Québec peut, selon les conditions qu'elle fixe, soustraire un régime terminé ou faisant l'objet d'une modification visant le retrait d'un employeur à l'application de toute disposition du présent chapitre.

1992, c. 60, a. 36; 1994, c. 24, a. 23; 2000, c. 41, a. 152; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 65.

240.4. Lorsque le contenu, la transmission ou la publication d'un document prévu par le présent chapitre n'est pas conforme aux prescriptions de la présente loi ou de ses règlements, Retraite Québec peut ordonner que soit prise, dans les délais et conditions qu'elle fixe, toute mesure régulatrice qu'elle indique.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

L'ordonnance interrompt tout délai imparti par le présent chapitre pour donner suite au document jusqu'à la date fixée par Retraite Québec ou, à défaut, jusqu'à ce que celle-ci atteste à celui que vise l'ordonnance qu'il a été satisfait à celle-ci.

CHAPITRE XVRÈGLEMENTS DE RETRAITE QUÉBEC*244. Retraite Québec peut, par règlement:

1° déterminer la forme et le contenu de tout document ou attestation prévu par la présente loi ou les règlements;

2° déterminer les documents ou renseignements qui doivent accompagner la demande d'enregistrement d'un régime de retraite ou d'une modification;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2.1° préciser les conditions dans lesquelles un employeur peut fournir une lettre de crédit au comité de retraite ainsi que la forme, le montant, les modalités et les conditions d'une telle lettre;

3° déterminer quels programmes relatifs à la sécurité du revenu sont visés à l'article 58;

3.0.1° (paragraphe abrogé);

3.1° déterminer les règles applicables à l'établissement des droits du participant à qui une prestation a été payée en vertu de l'article 69.1;

3.1.1° déterminer, pour l'application de l'article 90.1, les conditions et délais pour le versement des prestations variables;

3.2° déterminer, pour l'application de l'article 91.1, dans quelles conditions une rente peut être remplacée par une rente temporaire;

4° déterminer, pour l'application de l'article 92, les conditions de remplacement d'une rente, les conditions et modalités du contrat constitutif de la rente de remplacement ainsi que les méthodes, hypothèses, règles ou facteurs applicables au calcul du montant maximum annuel de cette rente;

5° déterminer les prestations qui, par application du paragraphe 6° de l'article 93, peuvent remplacer une rente à laquelle a acquis droit le participant ou son conjoint, ainsi que les conditions de ce remplacement;

6° déterminer, pour l'application de l'article 98, les régimes ou contrats de rente non régis par la présente loi qui sont compris dans l'expression «régime de retraite» et les normes qui s'appliquent à ces régimes ou contrats, ou leur rendre applicable tout ou partie de la présente loi ou des règlements;

7° déterminer, pour l'application de l'article 108, 109 ou 110, les règles applicables à l'établissement des droits du participant et de leur valeur avant et après le partage de ces droits, la saisie pour dette alimentaire ou le paiement d'une prestation compensatoire, ainsi qu'à l'acquittement des droits attribués au conjoint, notamment celles qui se rapportent au transfert des sommes auxquelles a droit le conjoint, aux intérêts à verser sur ces sommes, ainsi que les renseignements à fournir à ce dernier dans les délais fixés et les obligations qui incombent à celui qui assume la gestion des sommes ainsi transférées;

8° déterminer tout document qui peut être consulté en vertu de l'article 114;

8.0.1° déterminer les informations que doit inclure l'avis prévu à l'article 119.1 ainsi que les attestations et documents qui doivent l'accompagner;

8.0.2° déterminer les modalités permettant d'établir le niveau visé de la provision de stabilisation requise par l'article 125, ainsi que les critères en fonction desquels la grille établie, le cas échéant, doit s'appliquer;

8.0.3° pour l'application de l'article 142.4, déterminer les exigences financières auxquelles doit satisfaire un acquittement de droits selon la politique d'achat de rentes ainsi que les modalités de calcul et de versement de la cotisation spéciale d'achat de rentes;

8.0.4° prévoir les exigences relatives à la politique de financement requise par l'article 142.5;

Non en vigueur

8.1° déterminer les cas où un comité de retraite doit fournir les garanties prévues à l'article 156.1 et prescrire les montants et les conditions de ces garanties;

8.2° interdire que l'actif d'un régime de retraite soit grevé d'une hypothèque immobilière ou déterminer dans quelle proportion maximale de sa valeur comptable l'actif d'un régime peut être grevé d'une telle hypothèque;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

8.3° (paragraphe abrogé);

8.4° prévoir les cas où la vérification comptable du rapport financier visé à l'article 161 n'est pas obligatoire;

8.5° déterminer les sujets qui, outre ceux prévus au premier alinéa de l'article 166, doivent être portés à l'ordre du jour de l'assemblée annuelle;

9° limiter ou prohiber le placement de l'actif d'un régime de retraite dans certaines formes de placement;

10° déterminer les garanties que doivent fournir ceux à qui il peut être consenti un prêt aux termes de l'article 177;

10.1° prévoir les exigences relatives à la politique d'achat de rentes visée à l'article 182.1;

11° déterminer les méthodes, hypothèses, règles ou facteurs qui s'appliquent ou qui sont prohibés pour le calcul de toute cotisation ou prestation, de tout remboursement, taux d'intérêt ou taux de rendement et, le cas échéant, de leur valeur actuarielle;

12° déterminer les méthodes, hypothèses, règles ou facteurs qui s'appliquent ou qui sont prohibés pour le calcul de l'actif et du passif d'un régime, pour leur répartition entre des groupes de droits notamment lors du retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises ou lors de la terminaison d'un tel régime, pour l'évaluation des droits des participants et bénéficiaires notamment aux fins du chapitre XIII, pour toute transformation du type de régime, pour la scission de l'actif et du passif d'un régime entre plusieurs régimes ainsi que pour la fusion des actifs et des passifs de plusieurs régimes;

12.0.1° déterminer à quelles conditions doit satisfaire une rente garantie par un assureur en application du paragraphe 3° de l'article 200 ou de l'article 237;

12.1° (paragraphe abrogé);

13° déterminer la procédure relative à toute matière de sa compétence, les délais applicables et les documents requis;

14° prescrire les droits exigibles pour le financement des frais engagés par Retraite Québec pour l'application de la présente loi et des règlements et pour toute formalité prévue par cette loi ou ces règlements, y compris les droits qui peuvent être imposés comme pénalité en cas de retard à accomplir une telle formalité ou en cas d'omission de transmettre dans le délai imparti un renseignement ou un document prévu par la présente loi ou exigé par Retraite Québec;

15° déterminer, parmi les dispositions d'un règlement pris en vertu du présent article, celles dont la contravention est punissable aux termes du chapitre XVII.

Un règlement pris en vertu du paragraphe 4° et relatif aux facteurs applicables au calcul du montant maximum annuel d'une rente de remplacement n'est pas soumis à l'obligation de publication ni au délai d'entrée en vigueur prévus aux articles 8 et 17 de la Loi sur les règlements (chapitre R-18.1) lorsque Retraite Québec estime que l'urgence de la situation impose qu'il en soit exempté.

Un règlement pris en vertu du paragraphe 8.2° ou 9° peut prévoir dans quels cas et à quelles catégories de régimes il s'applique. Il peut aussi prévoir les conditions de son application à des emprunts et à des placements existant à la date de son entrée en vigueur.

Dans la mesure où il vise l'application, avec ou sans modification, d'une norme de pratique établie par l'Institut canadien des actuaires, un règlement pris en vertu du présent article n'est pas soumis à l'obligation de publication ni au délai d'entrée en vigueur prévus aux articles 8 et 17 de la Loi sur les règlements (chapitre R-18.1) et peut, s'il en dispose ainsi, rétroagir à une date antérieure à celle de son entrée en vigueur, mais non antérieure à celle de l'approbation de la norme par le Conseil des normes actuarielles de l'Institut canadien des actuaires.

Les règlements pris par Retraite Québec sont soumis au gouvernement pour approbation.

FONCTIONS ET POUVOIRS DE RETRAITE QUÉBEC

245. Outre les autres fonctions que lui attribue la présente loi, Retraite Québec s'assure que l'administration et le fonctionnement des régimes de retraite sont conformes à cette loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 245; 2011, c. 36, a. 25; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

246. Pour l'exercice des fonctions que lui attribue la présente loi, Retraite Québec peut, en outre des autres pouvoirs que lui accorde cette loi, la Loi sur Retraite Québec (chapitre R-26.3) et la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9):

1° (paragraphe abrogé);

2° donner, à titre d'information, des instructions générales ou particulières relativement à l'application de la présente loi;

3° faire l'inspection de tout régime de retraite;

4° préparer ou faire préparer, aux frais de celui qui est tenu de le fournir, tout document prévu par la présente loi ou qu'elle exige et qui n'est pas fourni conformément à cette loi ou aux exigences de Retraite Québec;

5° dans le cas d'un régime de retraite auquel ne s'applique pas le chapitre X, exiger du comité de retraite ou de l'assureur, aux conditions et dans les délais qu'elle fixe, tout document ou renseignement qu'elle estime nécessaire pour vérifier la capitalisation ou la solvabilité du régime;

6° exiger du comité de retraite ou de l'assureur, aux conditions et dans les délais qu'elle fixe, tout document ou renseignement qu'elle estime nécessaire pour vérifier si un régime de retraite, une évaluation actuarielle ou un document prévu par la présente loi ou qu'elle exige est conforme à cette loi ou aux exigences de Retraite Québec;

6.1° exiger, aux conditions et dans les délais qu'elle fixe, du comité de retraite ou de toute partie à un contrat visé à l'article 92 ou à un régime ou contrat de rente dans lequel des sommes peuvent être transférées en application de l'article 98, tout document ou renseignement qu'elle estime nécessaire pour s'assurer de l'exécution des obligations que la présente loi impose à l'égard de ces contrats ou régimes;

7° (paragraphe abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 246; 1992, c. 60, a. 39; 1997, c. 19, a. 17; 2000, c. 41, a. 163; 2002, c. 52, a. 8; 2015, c. 20, a. 56; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

247. Un inspecteur nommé par Retraite Québec peut, pour faire l'inspection d'un régime de retraite, pénétrer, à toute heure raisonnable, dans un lieu où le comité de retraite, celui à qui a été délégué des pouvoirs ou toute partie au régime détient un document relatif au régime, l'examiner et en prendre un extrait ou une copie.

Celui qui a la garde, la possession ou le contrôle de ce document doit, sur demande, en donner communication à l'inspecteur et lui en faciliter l'examen.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Sur demande, un inspecteur doit s'identifier et exhiber un certificat délivré par Retraite Québec attestant sa qualité.

1989, c. 38, a. 247; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

247.1. Retraite Québec peut, aux conditions qu'elle fixe, autoriser une dérogation aux limites établies par un règlement pris en vertu du paragraphe 8.2° ou, en ce qui concerne les placements immobiliers, du paragraphe 9° du premier alinéa de l'article 244.

1994, c. 24, a. 25; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

248. Retraite Québec peut rendre une ordonnance prescrivant au comité de retraite, à celui à qui a été délégué des pouvoirs ou à toute partie au régime de retraite de prendre, dans les délais et conditions fixés, toute mesure régulatrice qu'elle indique lorsqu'elle est d'avis que:

- 1° sa conduite est contraire à de saines pratiques financières;
- 2° ne sont pas conformes aux principes actuariels ou comptables généralement reconnus les hypothèses, méthodes ou scénarios utilisés:
 - pour l'évaluation actuarielle du régime;
 - pour la fixation du taux d'intérêt applicable aux cotisations;
 - pour l'élaboration d'un rapport ou de tout autre document qu'elle exige;
- 3° ces hypothèses, méthodes ou scénarios ne sont pas appropriés, notamment au type de régime en cause, à ses engagements, à la situation financière de la caisse de retraite ou à la politique de placement de l'actif;
- 4° (paragraphe abrogé);
- 5° le régime ou son administration n'est pas conforme à la présente loi, notamment en raison du fait que la liquidation du régime ne s'effectue pas en conformité avec les dispositions du chapitre XIII;
- 6° le contenu d'un document prévu par la présente loi ou exigé par Retraite Québec n'est pas conforme aux exigences de cette loi ou à celles de Retraite Québec.

Retraite Québec peut aussi, lorsqu'elle l'estime nécessaire dans l'intérêt des participants et des bénéficiaires, ordonner à une personne qui a en sa possession, sous sa garde ou sous son contrôle des fonds, titres ou autres biens qui font partie de l'actif d'un régime de retraite, de ne s'en départir qu'avec son autorisation et aux conditions qu'elle fixe.

1989, c. 38, a. 248; 2000, c. 41, a. 164; 2006, c. 42, a. 41; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; 2015, c. 29, a. 69.

249. Le ministre ou Retraite Québec peut, conformément à la loi, conclure des ententes avec tout gouvernement, l'un de ses ministères, une organisation internationale ou un organisme de ce gouvernement ou de cette organisation, pour l'application de la présente loi ou d'une autre loi applicable, en tout ou en partie, aux régimes de retraite.

Ces ententes peuvent notamment prévoir:

- 1° pour le cas où un régime de retraite est régi à la fois par la présente loi et une loi émanant d'une autorité législative autre que le Parlement du Québec, à quelles conditions et dans quelle mesure chacune de ces lois s'applique à ce régime pour ce qui concerne les travailleurs visés à l'article 1 et parties à ce régime, ainsi que toute autre règle applicable à ce régime;

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2° à quelles conditions et dans quelle mesure la présente loi s'applique aux droits ou aux actifs qui ont fait l'objet d'un transfert entre un régime de retraite régi par la présente loi et un régime de retraite régi par une loi émanant d'une autorité législative autre que le Parlement du Québec;

3° la délégation de pouvoirs que la présente loi confère à Retraite Québec ou qu'une loi émanant d'une autorité législative autre que le Parlement du Québec confère à un organisme analogue.

Toute entente portant sur une matière visée au deuxième alinéa doit être déposée à l'Assemblée nationale dans les 15 jours qui suivent la date de sa conclusion si l'Assemblée est en session ou, si elle ne siège pas, dans les 15 jours de l'ouverture de la session suivante ou de la reprise de ses travaux. L'entente acquiert force de loi dès son dépôt à l'Assemblée nationale.

Pour l'application d'une telle entente, Retraite Québec peut agir comme mandataire du ministère ou de l'organisme avec lequel est conclue l'entente.

251. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 251; 2009, c. 41, a. 8; 2015, c. 20, a. 57.

252. Toute décision, ordonnance ou avis de Retraite Québec qui doit être notifié aux participants ou bénéficiaires peut l'être:

1° soit en le faisant parvenir à l'employeur qui doit, dès réception, l'afficher bien en vue dans son établissement où travaillent, au Québec, le plus grand nombre de participants visés, à un endroit où ils circulent ordinairement;

2° soit en le faisant publier dans un quotidien distribué dans la localité où est situé cet établissement;

3° soit en le faisant parvenir aux membres du comité de retraite qui sont des participants ou des personnes désignées par les participants ou bénéficiaires et à chaque association accréditée qui représente des participants.

Retraite Québec peut, lorsqu'elle choisit l'un des modes de transmission prévus aux paragraphes 1° et 2°, substituer au texte intégral de la décision ou de l'ordonnance un sommaire de celle-ci.

1989, c. 38, a. 252; 2000, c. 41, a. 167; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

253. Retraite Québec publie périodiquement dans son site Internet un bulletin contenant des informations sur ses activités et les instructions générales qu'elle donne en application du paragraphe 2° de l'article 246.

1989, c. 38, a. 253; 2006, c. 42, a. 43; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

254. Lorsqu'aux fins de rendre une décision, il se soulève une difficulté relative à l'interprétation de la présente loi ou d'un régime de retraite, Retraite Québec peut, si elle estime que l'intérêt des parties au régime commande une solution prompte de cette difficulté, surseoir à sa décision et soumettre cette difficulté au tribunal.

L'article 142 du Code de procédure civile (chapitre C-25.01) s'applique, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

255. Retraite Québec peut demander à un juge de la Cour supérieure de prononcer une injonction dans toute matière visée par la présente loi.

La demande d'injonction constitue une instance par elle-même.

La procédure prévue au Code de procédure civile (chapitre C-25.01) s'applique, sauf que Retraite Québec ne peut être tenue de fournir un cautionnement.

1989, c. 38, a. 255; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; N.I. 2016-01-01 (NCPC).

256. Retraite Québec peut, d'office et sans avis, intervenir dans toute instance civile ou arbitrale touchant la présente loi pour participer à l'instruction.

1989, c. 38, a. 256; 1992, c. 60, a. 41; 2015, c. 20, a. 61; N.I. 2016-01-01 (NCPC).

256.1. Retraite Québec peut intervenir devant le Tribunal administratif du Québec dans toute instance touchant la présente loi et à tout moment jusqu'à la fin de l'enquête et de l'audition.

Lorsqu'elle désire intervenir, elle transmet un avis à cet effet à chacune des parties et au Tribunal; elle est alors considérée partie à l'instance.

2000, c. 41, a. 168; 2015, c. 20, a. 61.

CHAPITRE XVII

DISPOSITIONS PÉNALES

257. Est passible d'une amende de 500 $ à 25 000 $ celui qui:

1° contrevient à une disposition du premier alinéa de l'article 14 ou 16, des articles 17, 25, 26, 39, 41, 42, 43, 51, 58, 119, 119.1, 142.5, 158, 159, 161, 166, 168, 169, 171.1 à 176, 179, 210, du paragraphe 1° du premier alinéa de l'article 252 ou de l'article 307;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

258. Est passible d'une amende d'au plus 2 000 $ celui qui:

1° contrevient à une disposition des articles 111 à 114, 143 à 145, 165.1, 182, 200, 202, 207.1 à 207.4, 209.1, du deuxième alinéa de l'article 310.1 ou des articles 313 ou 314;

2° contrevient à une disposition réglementaire, autre que celle visée au paragraphe 2° de l'article 257, lorsque, par application du paragraphe 15° de l'article 244, cette contravention est passible d'une peine.

1989, c. 38, a. 258; 1992, c. 60, a. 43; 2000, c. 41, a. 170; 2006, c. 42, a. 45; 2015, c. 29, a. 71.

259. Lorsque les infractions visées aux articles 257 et 258 sont commises par une personne morale, l'amende est portée au triple.

1989, c. 38, a. 259.

260. Celui qui, par des encouragements, des conseils ou des ordres, en amène un autre à commettre une infraction visée à l'article 257 ou 258 est coupable de cette infraction ainsi que de toute autre infraction que l'autre commet en conséquence de ces encouragements, conseils ou ordres, s'il savait ou aurait dû savoir que ceux-ci auraient comme conséquence probable la commission de l'infraction.

1989, c. 38, a. 260.

261. Celui qui, par son acte ou son omission, en aide un autre à commettre une infraction visée à l'article 257 ou 258 est coupable de cette infraction comme s'il l'avait commise lui-même, s'il savait ou aurait dû savoir que son acte ou son omission aurait comme conséquence probable d'aider à la commission de l'infraction.

1989, c. 38, a. 261.

262. En cas de récidive, l'amende prévue pour une première infraction est portée au double.

1989, c. 38, a. 262.

263. Dans la détermination des amendes, le tribunal tient compte, le cas échéant, du préjudice en cause et des avantages tirés de l'infraction.

1989, c. 38, a. 263.

CHAPITRE XVIIIDISPOSITIONS DIVERSES ET TRANSITOIRES

264. Sauf dispositions contraires de la loi, est incessible et insaisissable:

1° toute cotisation versée ou qui doit être versée à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur, ainsi que les intérêts accumulés;

2° toute somme remboursée ou toute prestation versée en vertu d'un régime de retraite ou de la présente loi;

3° toute somme attribuée au conjoint du participant à la suite d'un partage ou d'une autre cession de droits visés au chapitre VIII, avec les intérêts accumulés, ainsi que les prestations constituées avec ces sommes.

Sauf dans la mesure où elles proviennent de cotisations volontaires ou représentent une part d'excédent d'actif attribuée après la terminaison d'un régime de retraite, l'incessibilité et l'insaisissabilité valent également à l'égard des sommes susmentionnées qui ont fait l'objet d'un transfert dans un régime de retraite

1989, c. 38, a. 282.

283. La présente loi remplace la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17).

1989, c. 38, a. 283; 1992, c. 60, a. 45; 2000, c. 41, a. 172.

284. Les enregistrements de régimes qui ont été effectués et les certificats d'enregistrement qui ont été délivrés en vertu de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) demeurent valides.

Il en est de même des autres décisions rendues en vertu de cette loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 284.

285. Les ententes conclues en vertu de l'article 74 de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) demeurent en vigueur.

Elles peuvent toutefois être modifiées, remplacées ou abrogées conformément à la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 285.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

286. Sous réserve de l'article 311.1, la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) continue de s'appliquer aux questions pendantes le 31 décembre 1989 devant la Régie, à l'exception de celles qui se rapportent à l'approbation de modifications du régime de retraite réduisant les droits des participants ou bénéficiaires, ou relatives

- à la transformation du type de régime,
- à la substitution de l'employeur partie au régime,
- à la scission de l'actif et du passif du régime entre plusieurs régimes,
- à la fusion des actifs et des passifs de plusieurs régimes, auxquelles s'appliquent les articles 20 à 23 et le chapitre XII.

Toute demande en révision faite après le 31 décembre 1989 et relative à une décision de la Régie rendue avant cette date est décidée suivant la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes.

Le présent article ne peut avoir pour effet d'invalider ce qui aurait déjà été valablement fait.

1989, c. 38, a. 286; 1992, c. 60, a. 46; 1997, c. 43, a. 663.

286.1. Exclusion faite de celles qui, déjà visées à l'article 286, demeurent régies par la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17), et réserve faite des dispositions des articles 308.2 et 311.1, les demandes en révision qui sont pendantes devant la Régie le 1^{er} janvier 1993 ou qui, ayant été introduites après cette date, se rapportent à des décisions rendues avant la même date, sont décidées suivant les dispositions de la présente loi, dans leur version antérieure à la date susdite.

De même, les demandes en révision qui sont pendantes devant la Régie et les contestations qui sont pendantes devant le Tribunal administratif du Québec le 31 décembre 2000 ou qui, ayant été introduites après cette date, se rapportent à des décisions rendues avant cette même date, sont décidées selon les dispositions de la présente loi dans leur version antérieure à cette date.

1992, c. 60, a. 47; 2000, c. 41, a. 173.

287. Toute poursuite pour infraction à la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) est intentée ou continuée suivant cette loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 287.

288. Sauf dispositions contraires du présent chapitre, la présente loi s'applique même aux services reconnus au titre d'un régime de retraite avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990.

1989, c. 38, a. 288.

288.0.1. Les décrets pris par le gouvernement en vertu de l'article 2 tel qu'il se lisait avant le 5 décembre 2000 sont réputés être des règlements.

2000, c. 41, a. 174.

288.0.2. L'article 2.1 ne s'applique à un régime de retraite enregistré avant le 5 décembre 2000 que si les conditions suivantes sont satisfaites:

- 1° le comité de retraite présente à la Régie une demande écrite à cet effet;
- 2° le régime est modifié afin de satisfaire, le cas échéant, aux conditions prévues au premier alinéa de l'article 2.1;

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

3° tous les participants et bénéficiaires du régime à la date de la demande visée au paragraphe 1° ont été avisés, au moyen d'un avis écrit, que leur régime ne sera plus assujéti à la présente loi et y consentent;

4° tous les droits exigibles, fixés par règlement, relatifs à la dernière année financière complète du régime ont été versés à la Régie;

5° la Régie a radié l'enregistrement du régime après s'être assurée que toutes les conditions énoncées au présent article ont été remplies.

L'article 2.1 ne s'applique à un régime de retraite qui, enregistré après le 4 décembre 2000, ne satisfait pas aux conditions prévues à cet article à la date de son enregistrement, que s'il est satisfait aux conditions énoncées au premier alinéa du présent article après que les droits des participants qui résultent d'un transfert dans ce régime aient été transférés dans un autre régime de retraite conformément à l'article 98.

2000, c. 41, a. 174.

288.1. Les dispositions de tout régime de retraite à prestations déterminées, qui sont en vigueur le 31 décembre 2015 et qui sont relatives à l'attribution ou à l'affectation d'un excédent d'actif, s'appliquent, à compter du 1^{er} janvier 2016, au solde de l'excédent d'actif visé aux paragraphes 16° et 17° du deuxième alinéa de l'article 14.

1992, c. 60, a. 48; 2000, c. 41, a. 203; 2015, c. 29, a. 72.

288.1.1. (Remplacé).

2008, c. 21, a. 23; 2015, c. 29, a. 72.

288.2. Les lettres de crédit fournies conformément à l'article 42.1 antérieurement au 1^{er} janvier 2016 sont, à compter de cette date, considérées fournies en application de cet article tel qu'applicable à compter de cette date.

1992, c. 60, a. 48; 1997, c. 43, a. 664; 2000, c. 41, a. 175; 2015, c. 29, a. 72.

288.3. Si des cotisations versées avant le 1^{er} janvier 2016 ont fait l'objet, conformément au régime, d'une comptabilisation particulière en vue d'une éventuelle affectation ou attribution d'un excédent d'actif, ces cotisations sont comptabilisées selon l'article 42.2 à compter de cette date. L'évaluation actuarielle du régime au 31 décembre 2015 doit faire état de cette comptabilisation.

2008, c. 21, a. 24; 2015, c. 29, a. 72.

288.4. Les conditions prévues à l'article 20 ne s'appliquent pas à une modification du texte d'un régime de retraite qui intervient avant le 1^{er} janvier 2017 pour supprimer la prestation additionnelle visée à l'article 60.1 ou la prestation ou portion de prestation équivalente offerte par le régime en remplacement de celle-ci.

2015, c. 29, a. 72.

289. Sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 45.1, les cotisations salariales ou volontaires versées par un participant à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur, selon le cas, avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990, avec les intérêts accumulés le cas échéant, portent intérêt à compter de cette date au taux visé à l'article 44 ou 45.

1989, c. 38, a. 289; 1992, c. 60, a. 49; 2000, c. 41, a. 176.

289.0.1. Lorsque, avant le 1^{er} janvier 2001, un régime de retraite non garanti autre qu'un régime à cotisation déterminée prévoyait créditer sur les cotisations salariales ou volontaires le taux d'intérêt obtenu mensuellement sur les dépôts personnels à terme de cinq ans dans les banques à charte et tel que compilé par la Banque du Canada, ces cotisations, avec les intérêts accumulés, portent intérêt, à compter de cette date et malgré l'article 20, au taux de rendement obtenu sur le placement de l'actif du régime, déduction faite des frais de placement et d'administration.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Le premier alinéa s'applique aux cotisations qu'il vise dans la mesure où celles-ci se rapportent à des prestations ou remboursement qui ne sont pas garantis.

2000, c. 41, a. 177.

289.1. L'article 59, dans sa version antérieure au 5 juin 1997, continue de s'appliquer à une rente à laquelle le participant ou conjoint a droit à cette même date et dont le montant est modifié pour tenir compte d'un montant équivalant aux prestations déterminées en vertu de la Loi sur la sécurité de la vieillesse (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre O-9), de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9) ou d'un régime équivalent au sens du paragraphe u de l'article 1 de cette dernière loi.

1997, c. 19, a. 20.

289.2. Le paragraphe 4° de l'article 59 ne s'applique pas au participant dont le service de la rente a débuté avant le 1^{er} janvier 2001.

2000, c. 41, a. 178.

290. Sauf stipulations contraires, l'article 60 ne s'applique pas à une prestation acquise par le participant ou bénéficiaire au titre des services reconnus par le régime qui se rapportent à une période de travail antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 1990, cette exclusion ne préjudiciant en rien à l'application de l'article 61 à cette prestation.

1989, c. 38, a. 290; 1992, c. 60, a. 50.

290.1. (Abrogé).

2000, c. 41, a. 179; 2015, c. 29, a. 73.

291. La valeur de la prestation à laquelle ne s'applique pas l'article 60 et qui est acquise par le participant ou bénéficiaire au titre des services reconnus par le régime avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990, doit être au moins égale aux cotisations salariales versées au régime par le participant avant cette date, avec les intérêts accumulés jusqu'à la date à laquelle cette valeur est déterminée, calculés au taux prévu par le régime pour la période précédant le 1^{er} janvier 1990 et, sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 45.1, au taux visé à l'article 44 pour la période subséquente.

La valeur de cette prestation doit être déterminée à la date à laquelle le participant ou bénéficiaire y acquiert droit, selon les hypothèses visées à l'article 61 et qui s'appliquent pour la détermination de la valeur d'autres prestations dont le droit s'acquiert à cette date au titre de services reconnus après le 31 décembre 1989.

1989, c. 38, a. 291; 1992, c. 60, a. 51; 2000, c. 41, a. 180.

291.1. L'article 61, dans sa version antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001, continue de s'appliquer aux évaluations des droits de participants ou bénéficiaires faites en fonction d'une date antérieure.

2000, c. 41, a. 181.

292. Les articles 2445 à 2459 du Code civil s'appliquent, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires, à la révocation de la désignation de celui qui, le 31 décembre 1989, est le bénéficiaire désigné par le participant.

Toutefois, le participant peut, lorsque ce bénéficiaire est son conjoint et que sa désignation a été faite sans stipulation de révocabilité ou d'irrévocabilité, rendre celle-ci révocable par un écrit à cet effet transmis au comité de retraite ou à l'assureur, selon le cas, avant le 1^{er} janvier 1992. Si le participant décède avant cette date sans avoir transmis cet écrit, la désignation de son conjoint est réputée révocable.

Le comité de retraite ou l'assureur doit, dans les 12 mois qui suivent le 31 décembre 1989, transmettre à chaque participant auquel s'applique le deuxième alinéa une copie du présent article.

1989, c. 38, a. 292; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 182.

292.1. En ce qui concerne un régime de retraite auquel une municipalité est partie, les dispositions de la sous-section 0.1 de la section III du chapitre VI n'ont pas d'effet à l'égard des participants au service de la municipalité à moins que le conseil de celle-ci n'adopte une résolution prévoyant expressément que ces dispositions s'appliquent à leur égard.

296. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 296; 2000, c. 41, a. 183.

297. La revalorisation d'une rente ajournée avant le 1^{er} avril 1982 ou entre le 1^{er} avril 1982 et le 1^{er} janvier 1990 doit être telle que la rente payable à la fin de l'ajournement soit actuariellement équivalente, dans le premier cas, à celle dont le service aurait débuté le 1^{er} avril 1982 n'eût été de l'ajournement et, dans le second cas, à celle dont le service aurait débuté à l'âge normal de la retraite n'eût été de l'ajournement.

Cette revalorisation ne doit pas créer que des surplus dans la caisse de retraite du régime; elle ne doit pas non plus y créer que des déficits.

1989, c. 38, a. 297.

298. Les dispositions de la sous-section 7 de la section III du chapitre VI relatives aux droits du conjoint survivant prévalent, lorsque le décès du participant survient après le 31 décembre 1989, sur toute disposition inconciliable qui, avant cette date, a accordé droit à des prestations de décès.

1989, c. 38, a. 298.

299. Les services reconnus par le régime de retraite au participant avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990 ne sont pas pris en compte pour l'application de l'article 86, à moins que le régime ne soit modifié après cette date pour augmenter les droits accumulés au titre de services reconnus avant cette date, auquel cas l'article 86 s'applique à la prestation qui résulte de cette augmentation.

De plus, les ayants cause d'un participant décédé entre le 31 décembre 1989 et le 1^{er} janvier 2001 ont droit à une prestation, payable en un seul versement, au moins égale aux cotisations salariales et volontaires qu'il a versées avant le 31 décembre 1989, avec les intérêts accumulés jusqu'à la date du versement de la prestation, calculés au taux prévu par le régime pour la période précédant le 1^{er} janvier 1990 et, sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 45.1, au taux visé à l'article 44 pour la période subséquente.

Pour les décès survenus après le 31 décembre 2000, la prestation prévue au deuxième alinéa est versée en priorité au conjoint du participant et, à défaut, à ses ayants cause. Le conjoint peut toutefois renoncer à cette prestation, auquel cas l'article 88.1 s'applique, compte tenu des adaptations nécessaires. De plus, le présent alinéa ne s'applique pas si le conjoint survivant du participant a droit, à compter du décès, à une rente dont la valeur est au moins égale à celle de la prestation prévue au deuxième alinéa.

Pour l'application du présent article, le conjoint du participant est la personne qui satisfait aux conditions prévues à l'article 85.

1989, c. 38, a. 299; 1992, c. 60, a. 53; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 184.

299.1. Toute prestation payable en vertu de l'article 86 pour un décès survenu avant le 1^{er} janvier 2001 porte intérêt, à compter de cette date et jusqu'à son versement, au taux utilisé pour en déterminer la valeur.

2000, c. 41, a. 185.

300. L'article 87 ne s'applique pas au conjoint d'un participant lorsque celui-ci a commencé à recevoir avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990 une rente dont le montant est modifié pour tenir compte d'un montant équivalant aux prestations déterminées en vertu de la Loi sur la sécurité de la vieillesse (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre O-9), de la Loi sur le régime de rentes du Québec (chapitre R-9) ou d'un régime équivalent au sens du paragraphe u de l'article 1 de cette dernière loi ou une rente prévue par la section III du chapitre VI ou par le paragraphe 2^o ou 3^o de l'article 93.

1989, c. 38, a. 300; 1997, c. 19, a. 21.

300.1. Si le participant décède durant la période d'ajournement de tout ou partie de sa rente, le deuxième alinéa de l'article 299 ne s'applique pas; cependant, la valeur de la prestation qui y est prévue doit être ajoutée, pour la détermination des droits du conjoint, à la valeur établie en vertu du paragraphe 2^o du premier alinéa de l'article 88 ou, à défaut de conjoint, à celle de la prestation visée au troisième alinéa du même article.

1994, c. 24, a. 27.

300.2. L'article 89, dans sa version antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001, continue de s'appliquer aux exceptions qui y sont prévues lorsque le jugement du tribunal a pris effet ou, selon le cas, lorsque la cessation de la vie maritale est survenue après le 31 août 1990 mais avant le 1^{er} janvier 2001.

2000, c. 41, a. 186.

300.3. Le dernier alinéa de l'article 85 s'applique à la personne séparée de corps d'un participant dont le décès ou le début du service de la rente, selon le cas, est postérieur au 31 décembre 2000, quelle que soit la date à laquelle le jugement de séparation de corps a été rendu ou a pris effet.

2000, c. 41, a. 186.

300.4. L'article 89.1 ne s'applique qu'aux divorces, annulations de mariage, séparations de corps, dissolutions ou annulations d'union civile et cessations de vie maritale ayant pris effet après le 31 décembre 2000. Toutefois, qu'il y ait eu ou non partage des droits, une demande prévue à cet article peut être présentée par un participant dont le divorce, l'annulation du mariage, la séparation de corps ou la cessation de la vie maritale a pris effet avant cette date; la rente du participant s'établit alors à la date de la demande et non à la date de prise d'effet du jugement ou de la cessation de vie maritale.

2000, c. 41, a. 186; 2002, c. 6, a. 201.

301. Malgré l'article 94, un montant équivalant aux prestations déterminées en vertu de la Loi sur la sécurité de la vieillesse (Lois révisées du Canada (1985), chapitre O-9) peut servir, lors de la détermination de la rente normale, à réduire les droits du participant accumulés au titre des services reconnus par le régime avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990 dans la mesure prévue par le régime avant cette date.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Toutefois, cette réduction ne peut, pour une année de services reconnus au participant, excéder 1/35 de ce montant.

1989, c. 38, a. 301.

302. Le montant visé au premier alinéa de l'article 95 doit être établi en date du 1^{er} janvier 1990 si le participant a, avant cette date, acquis droit à une rente dont le montant n'a pas été déterminé avant cette date.

1989, c. 38, a. 302.

303. Malgré le paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 98, le participant n'a droit au transfert du montant que représente la valeur d'une prestation à laquelle il a acquis droit avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990 que si le régime le prévoit.

1989, c. 38, a. 303; 2000, c. 41, a. 187.

304. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 304; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 188.

305. Lorsqu'un assureur a garanti avant le 2 juin 1989 des remboursements ou prestations acquis par un participant au titre des services qu'un régime de retraite lui a reconnus avant cette date, le transfert de ces droits en application de l'article 98 peut, si le participant était actif à cette date, être réalisé en subrogeant le participant dans les droits que détient la caisse de retraite au titre du contrat conclu avec l'assureur.

La valeur des droits garantis ainsi transférés ne peut excéder celle des remboursements ou prestations qui en résulteraient si cette dernière valeur était déterminée sur la base d'hypothèses et de méthodes actuarielles identiques à celles qui, à la date de la subrogation faite au profit du participant, sont utilisées pour déterminer la valeur de prestations non garanties auxquelles s'applique l'article 60 et dont le droit s'acquiert à cette date.

1989, c. 38, a. 305; 2000, c. 41, a. 189.

305.1. Aux fins de son application avant le 1^{er} janvier 2010, l'article 113.1 se lit en supprimant, dans le paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa, les mots « du deuxième alinéa de l'article 146.3.1, ».

2008, c. 21, a. 26.

305.2. La date d'une évaluation actuarielle visée à l'article 121 doit être postérieure au 14 décembre 2009.

306.7. Les dispositions des articles 119, 130, 133, 134 et 138 dans leur version antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001 continuent de s'appliquer aux évaluations actuarielles dont la date est antérieure au 15 décembre 2000.

2000, c. 41, a. 190.

306.7.1. Dans le cas où des participants ou des bénéficiaires d'un régime de retraite ont donné le consentement requis pour l'application des modalités prévues à l'article 8 de la Loi concernant le financement de certains régimes de retraite (2005, chapitre 25), tant que des montants d'amortissement restent à verser relativement à la somme ou au solde dont les modalités d'amortissement sont prévues à cet article, aucune modification concernant les droits des participants ou des bénéficiaires dont le consentement était requis ne peut être apportée au régime à moins qu'il ne soit versé à la caisse de retraite une cotisation d'équilibre spéciale égale à la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de la modification, déterminée selon l'approche de solvabilité.

La cotisation d'équilibre spéciale doit être versée dès qu'est transmis à la Régie le rapport relatif à l'évaluation actuarielle prenant la modification en considération pour la première fois. S'y ajoutent les intérêts courus, s'il y a lieu, depuis la date de l'évaluation, calculés au taux visé à l'article 48 de la présente loi.

Les montants d'amortissement visés au premier alinéa incluent ceux assimilés à des cotisations d'équilibre par l'effet de l'article 49 de la Loi modifiant la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite, notamment en matière de financement et d'administration (2006, chapitre 42).

2008, c. 21, a. 27.

306.8. Lorsque l'affectation de l'excédent d'actif d'un régime de retraite à l'acquittement de cotisations patronales a fait l'objet d'une entente ou d'une sentence arbitrale en vertu de la Loi concernant la négociation d'ententes relatives à la réduction des coûts de main-d'oeuvre dans le secteur municipal (1998, chapitre 2), le chapitre X.1 ne peut s'appliquer, à l'égard de ce régime, avant l'expiration de cette entente ou sentence que si l'organisme municipal intéressé et toutes les associations accréditées qui représentent des participants en conviennent.

2000, c. 41, a. 190.

306.9. À moins qu'il ne s'agisse d'un régime de retraite issu de la scission d'un régime qui n'a pas été modifié en application de l'article 146.5, les dispositions d'un régime entré en vigueur après le 31 décembre 2009 relatives au droit de l'employeur d'affecter tout ou partie de l'excédent d'actif à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de toute modification du régime et celles d'un régime entré en vigueur après le 31 décembre 2000 relatives au droit de l'employeur d'affecter tout ou partie de l'excédent d'actif à l'acquittement de ses cotisations prévalent sur toute disposition du régime ou d'une convention et lient quiconque a des droits ou obligations en vertu du régime.

Aucune modification d'un régime de retraite issu de la scission d'un régime qui a été modifié en application de l'article 146.5 relativement au droit de l'employeur d'affecter tout ou partie de l'excédent d'actif à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de toute modification du régime ou à l'acquittement des cotisations patronales ne peut porter sur la question qui a fait l'objet d'une telle modification sans que toutes les exigences prévues au premier alinéa de l'article 146.5 et à l'article 146.6 ne soient satisfaites.

2000, c. 41, a. 190; 2006, c. 42, a. 47.

306.10. Seuls les remboursements et prestations qui deviennent payables après le 31 décembre 2000 peuvent servir à la compensation prévue à l'article 163.1.

2000, c. 41, a. 190.

306.11. Les articles 18, 32, 56, 165, 190, le chapitre XIII à l'exception de l'article 240.2 et des paragraphes 1^o et 3^o de l'article 240.3, le paragraphe 12^o de l'article 244, le paragraphe 6^o de l'article 246 et les articles 309 à 311.1, tels qu'ils se lisaient le 31 décembre 2000, continuent de s'appliquer:

1^o aux questions pendantes devant la Régie le 31 décembre 2000;

2^o aux terminaisons totales dont la date est antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001 et aux terminaisons partielles visant des participants dont la participation active a pris fin avant cette date, que ces terminaisons résultent ou non du retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime interentreprises, pour autant que:

a) dans le cas où la terminaison a été décidée par l'employeur, les participants en aient dûment été avisés par écrit, conformément à la loi;

b) dans le cas où la Régie a décidé de terminer le régime en raison du défaut de l'employeur de percevoir des cotisations salariales ou de verser à la caisse de retraite ou à l'assureur ses cotisations patronales ou les cotisations salariales qu'il percevait, ou en raison d'une diminution du nombre de participants actifs, l'événement fondant la décision de la Régie se situe entre le 31 décembre 1999 et le 1^{er} janvier 2001.

Malgré toute disposition contraire, une terminaison partielle ne peut viser que des participants dont la participation active a pris fin avant le 1^{er} janvier 2001.

L'article 32.1 ne s'applique pas aux terminaisons de régimes visées au présent article.

2000, c. 41, a. 190.

306.12. L'article 230.1.1 s'applique à tout régime de retraite dont l'actif n'est pas entièrement liquidé le 1^{er} janvier 2001, dans la mesure où l'employeur n'a pas, avant cette date, transmis au comité de retraite un projet d'entente sur l'attribution de l'excédent d'actif conformément à l'article 230.2 tel qu'il se lisait avant cette date.

2000, c. 41, a. 190.

306.13. L'article 240.2 ne s'applique qu'aux participants ayant cessé leur participation active après le 31 décembre 2000.

2000, c. 41, a. 190.

306.14. L'article 240.3 s'applique même aux terminaisons dont la date est antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001 et aux terminaisons pendantes devant la Régie à cette date, sauf s'il s'agit d'une terminaison partielle visée à l'article 306.11 auquel cas le paragraphe 2^o de l'article 240.3 dans sa version antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001 continue de s'y appliquer.

2000, c. 41, a. 190.

307. Celui qui administre un régime de retraite dont l'actif a, avant la date à laquelle le régime est devenu régi par la présente loi, fait l'objet d'un placement non conforme à cette loi doit, dans les cinq ans qui suivent cette date ou dans tout délai supplémentaire que peut accorder la Régie, régulariser ce placement.

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

Il bénéficie en outre d'un délai de 12 mois à compter de cette date pour se doter d'une politique de placement conforme aux dispositions des articles 169 et 170.

Cependant, un placement fait avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990 au nom du régime peut, malgré l'article 171, demeurer à ce nom.

1989, c. 38, a. 307.

307.1. Celui qui administre un régime de retraite dont l'actif a, avant le 1^{er} janvier 2001, fait l'objet d'un placement qui, bien que conforme à la présente loi telle qu'elle se lisait avant cette date, n'est toutefois pas conforme à cette loi dans sa version applicable à compter du 1^{er} janvier 2001 doit, dans les cinq ans qui suivent cette date ou dans tout délai supplémentaire que peut accorder la Régie, régulariser ce placement.

Dans le cas d'un régime de retraite qui, en vigueur le 31 décembre 2000, autorise à cette date les participants à répartir entre divers placements tout ou partie des sommes portées à leur compte, les choix de placement offerts doivent, le cas échéant, être rendus conformes aux dispositions de l'article 168 dans sa version applicable à compter du 1^{er} janvier 2001 dans l'année qui suit cette date.

Le droit de transfert et les modalités de son exercice prévus au sous-paragraphe b du paragraphe 3^o du premier alinéa et au deuxième alinéa de l'article 173 dans sa version antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001 continueront de s'appliquer aux dépôts qu'ils visent jusqu'au 31 décembre 2001.

1994, c. 24, a. 29; 2000, c. 41, a. 191.

308. Dans le cas où un régime de retraite est sous tutelle le 1^{er} janvier 1990, le curateur désigné en vertu de l'article 56 de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) continue d'agir à titre d'administrateur provisoire, comme s'il avait été désigné en vertu de la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 308.

308.1. Tout régime de retraite visé au second alinéa de l'article 288.1 et dont la scission de l'actif et du passif doit faire l'objet d'une autorisation de la Régie est réputé, pour l'application du deuxième alinéa de l'article 195, comporter une disposition qui attribue l'excédent d'actif en cas de terminaison aux seuls participants et bénéficiaires.

1992, c. 60, a. 54; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 203.

308.2. Les participants visés par la terminaison partielle d'un régime de retraite dont le règlement est en cours devant la Régie le 1^{er} janvier 1993, conservent, malgré l'abrogation de l'article 213 dans sa version antérieure à cette date, les droits dans l'excédent d'actif que le projet de rapport terminal relatif à cette terminaison a prévu leur accorder, pour autant que:

1^o dans le cas où la date de terminaison se situe avant le 14 mai 1992, le comité de retraite ait avant cette date transmis aux participants visés le relevé prévu à l'article 203 ou, s'il a négligé de le faire, que le délai prévu pour ce faire ait expiré avant cette même date;

2^o dans le cas où la date de terminaison se situe avant le 1^{er} janvier 1993, l'employeur ait avant cette date consenti par écrit à accorder ces droits aux participants visés, lors même que le relevé prévu à l'article 203 ne leur a pas été transmis avant cette même date.

1992, c. 60, a. 54.

308.3. Dans le cas où, avant le 1^{er} janvier 1993, la Régie n'a approuvé qu'en partie le projet de rapport terminal se rapportant à la terminaison partielle d'un régime dont la date se situe avant le 1^{er} janvier 1993, sursoyant ainsi à sa décision sur l'attribution de tout ou partie de l'excédent d'actif, ainsi que dans le cas où la Régie a rendu une décision portant sur l'avis de terminaison ou terminant partiellement un régime, pourvu que sa décision approuvant le projet de rapport terminal ou le rapport lui-même ait été rendue après le 31

décembre 1992, tous ceux qui, parmi les participants visés par cette terminaison, ont vu leurs droits acquittés demeureront, malgré le second alinéa de l'article 33, des participants à seules fins de la répartition de tout excédent d'actif qui pourrait être déterminé lors d'une éventuelle terminaison du régime.

Toutefois, si la date de cette terminaison partielle est antérieure d'au moins sept ans à celle de la terminaison du régime, les participants dont les droits ont ainsi été acquittés ne conservent leur qualité de participant à ces fins que s'ils font valoir leurs droits auprès du comité de retraite dans les délais prescrits.

En outre, chaque fois que les dispositions du deuxième alinéa devront recevoir application, l'avis dont le second alinéa de l'article 230.4 exige la publication devra aussi faire état des règles établies par le présent article. Cependant, si on a recouru à l'arbitrage prévu à l'article 230.7 sans qu'ait été publié cet avis, le comité de retraite devra, aussitôt après avoir été informé du recours, faire publier dans un quotidien distribué dans la région où résident au Québec le plus grand nombre de participants qui étaient actifs à la date de terminaison du régime, un avis faisant état de la demande d'arbitrage, des règles établies par le présent article et informant les intéressés qu'ils peuvent, jusqu'à ce que l'affaire soit prise en délibéré, faire valoir en conséquence leurs droits auprès du comité. Copie de cet avis public devra sans délai être transmise à la Régie.

Le comité de retraite est toutefois exempté de cette obligation de publier si tous les participants et les bénéficiaires susceptibles de faire valoir des droits au titre du régime ou de la présente loi ont été personnellement avisés.

1989, c. 38, a. 310; 2000, c. 41, a. 193.

310.1. Pour l'application des dispositions de la sous-section 4.1 de la section II du chapitre XIII, sont réputés participants ou bénéficiaires, selon le cas, ceux dont les droits au titre d'un régime de retraite ont été acquittés, avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990, par le biais d'un contrat constitutif de rente conclu avec un assureur, et ceux qui, désignés comme bénéficiaires aux termes d'un tel contrat, conservent encore des droits en vertu de ce contrat, pourvu que, dans tous les cas, les intéressés aient agi dans les délais prescrits.

En outre, chaque fois que les dispositions des articles susmentionnés devront recevoir application par suite de la terminaison d'un régime de retraite qui était en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 1990, l'avis dont le second alinéa de l'article 230.4 exige la publication devra aussi faire état de la règle établie par le premier alinéa du présent article. Cependant, si on a recouru à l'arbitrage prévu à l'article 230.7 sans qu'ait été publié cet avis, le comité de retraite devra, aussitôt après avoir été informé du recours, faire publier dans un quotidien distribué dans la région où résident, au Québec, le plus grand nombre de participants qui étaient actifs à la date de terminaison du régime un avis faisant état de la demande d'arbitrage, de la règle établie par le premier alinéa du présent article et informant les intéressés qu'ils peuvent, jusqu'à ce que l'affaire soit prise en délibéré, faire valoir en conséquence leurs droits auprès du comité. Copie de cet avis public devra sans délai être transmise à la Régie.

Le comité de retraite est toutefois exempté de cette obligation de publier si tous les participants et les bénéficiaires susceptibles de faire valoir des droits au titre du régime ou de la présente loi ont été personnellement avisés.

1992, c. 60, a. 55; 1999, c. 40, a. 254; 2000, c. 41, a. 194.

310.2. Sauf s'il agit dans l'exercice des pouvoirs que le comité de retraite lui a délégués, l'employeur qui est tenu de transmettre aux participants l'avis prévu au premier alinéa de l'article 230.4 ou qui doit faire publier l'avis prévu au deuxième alinéa du même article doit y indiquer que c'est à la Régie que les participants et les bénéficiaires concernés doivent, le cas échéant, faire connaître par écrit leur opposition au projet d'entente.

L'article 230.6 s'applique dans ces cas compte tenu des oppositions communiquées à la Régie en vertu du présent article.

311. (Abrogé).

1989, c. 38, a. 311; 2000, c. 41, a. 196.

311.1. Les dispositions de la sous-section 4.1 de la section II du chapitre XIII s'appliquent même à la répartition de l'excédent d'actif de tout régime de retraite en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 1993, sauf si cet excédent fait l'objet:

1° d'une procédure judiciaire qui est en cours le 14 mai 1992;

2° d'une répartition prévue dans un projet de rapport terminal accordant la totalité de cet excédent aux participants et aux bénéficiaires, pour autant que se rencontre l'une ou l'autre des éventualités suivantes:

— la Régie a, avant le 14 mai 1992, jugé ce projet de rapport conforme à la présente loi et le comité de retraite a aussi, avant cette date, transmis aux participants et aux bénéficiaires visés le relevé de leurs droits ou, s'il a négligé de le faire, le délai prescrit pour ce faire a expiré avant la date susdite;

— le projet de rapport terminal a été transmis à la Régie avant le 1^{er} janvier 1993 et l'employeur a consenti par écrit à une telle répartition, laquelle doit par ailleurs être conforme à la loi applicable avant la date susmentionnée;

3° d'une répartition prévue dans une convention intervenue, avant le 1^{er} janvier 1993, en application du paragraphe 2° du premier alinéa de l'article 43 de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17), pourvu cependant:

— que la Régie ait été informée de cette convention avant cette date et qu'elle ait par la suite estimé la répartition juste pour tous les participants visés par la terminaison, et l'information à leur être donnée sur ce sujet adéquate;

— que ces participants aient été informés de la convention avant l'expiration du sixième mois qui suit la décision de la Régie portant sur la répartition qui y est prévue; — que moins de 30% de ces participants aient, dans les 60 jours de la date à laquelle ils en ont été informés, notifié par écrit à la Régie leur opposition à la convention.

Dans le cas où il est satisfait aux conditions prescrites par le présent paragraphe, la convention lie, outre les parties, tout participant qui a des droits au titre du régime. Il en a toujours été de même pour toute telle convention, dès lors qu'ont été satisfaites les conditions prévues aux sous-paragraphes a et b du paragraphe 2° de l'article 43 de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes;

4° d'un décret qui, pris par le gouvernement en application de l'article 43.1 de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes, a autorisé le versement à l'employeur de tout ou partie de l'excédent d'actif.

Lorsque l'excédent d'actif à répartir suivant les dispositions de la sous-section 4.1 de la section II du chapitre XIII provient d'un régime de retraite terminé qui continue d'être régi par la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes en application de l'article 286, la Régie peut exiger, comme condition d'approbation du rapport relatif à cette terminaison, que lui soit fourni, dans les conditions et délais qu'elle 311.5. À moins qu'il ne s'agisse d'un cas visé à l'article 266, les dispositions des articles 243.3, 243.6 et 243.7 dans leur version antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001, continuent de s'appliquer aux régimes pour lesquels l'administrateur n'est pas un comité de retraite constitué ainsi que le prescrit l'article 147.

2000, c. 41, a. 199.

311.6. Le premier alinéa de l'article 23, les articles 56, 66, 69 et 71, le paragraphe 3^o de l'article 86, le paragraphe 1^o de l'article 98, le premier alinéa de l'article 197, les articles 293 à 296 et 303, tels qu'ils existaient dans leur version antérieure au 1^{er} janvier 2001, continuent de s'appliquer aux droits des participants qui ont cessé d'être actifs avant cette date.

L'article 66 dans sa version postérieure au 31 décembre 2000 s'applique également aux droits visés par le premier alinéa.

2000, c. 41, a. 199.

311.7. La liste des personnes qui peuvent être désignées comme arbitre, laquelle a été dressée conformément à l'article 243.17, tel qu'il se lisait avant le 1^{er} janvier 2001, est réputée avoir été dressée par le ministre conformément à cet article tel qu'il se lit à compter de cette date.

2000, c. 41, a. 199.

312. En outre des dispositions transitoires prévues par le présent chapitre, la Régie peut, par règlement, prendre toutes autres dispositions transitoires pour assurer l'application de la présente loi; ces règlements peuvent notamment prévoir à quelles conditions et dans quelle mesure la présente loi s'applique à un régime de retraite qui est aussi régi par une loi émanant d'une autorité législative autre que le Parlement du Québec, ainsi que toute autre règle applicable à ce régime.

Ces règlements sont soumis au gouvernement pour approbation; ils peuvent rétroagir à une date antérieure à celle de leur entrée en vigueur mais non antérieure au 15 novembre 1988.

La Régie peut, avant le 1^{er} janvier 2003, prendre par règlement toutes dispositions transitoires pour assurer l'application de la présente loi telle que modifiée le 1^{er} janvier 2001. Ces règlements sont soumis au gouvernement pour approbation. Ils peuvent rétroagir à une date non antérieure à cette date.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

313. Les modifications nécessaires pour rendre conformes à la présente loi les dispositions de tout régime de retraite en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 1990 doivent être présentées à la Régie pour enregistrement dans les 12 mois qui suivent cette date ou dans le délai supplémentaire qu'elle peut accorder.

1989, c. 38, a. 313.

314. Malgré l'article 313, si un régime de retraite concerne, en tout ou en partie, des travailleurs régis, selon le cas, par une convention collective, par une sentence arbitrale en tenant lieu ou par un décret rendant obligatoire une convention collective qui sont en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 1990, les modifications nécessaires pour rendre les dispositions du régime conformes à celles de la présente loi doivent être présentées à la Régie pour enregistrement dans les trois mois qui suivent la date, selon le cas, de la signature d'une nouvelle convention collective, du prononcé d'une sentence arbitrale qui en tient lieu, de la prolongation ou du renouvellement de ce décret ou de l'entrée en vigueur d'un décret qui remplace ce décret expiré.

La Régie peut accorder un délai supplémentaire.

1989, c. 38, a. 314.

315. Dès qu'elles ont été enregistrées conformément à la présente loi, les modifications visées aux articles 313 et 314 ont effet:

1° dans le cas de l'article 313, depuis le 1^{er} janvier 1990;

2° dans le cas de l'article 314:

a) à l'égard des travailleurs régis, selon le cas, par une convention collective, par une sentence arbitrale ou par un décret en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 1990, depuis la date d'expiration de cette convention ou de cette sentence ou depuis la date d'expiration, de prolongation ou de renouvellement de ce décret;

b) à l'égard des travailleurs qui ne sont pas régis par la convention collective, la sentence arbitrale ou le décret visés au sous-paragraphe a, depuis le 1^{er} janvier 1990.

1989, c. 38, a. 315.

316. Les dispositions d'une convention collective, d'une sentence arbitrale en tenant lieu ou d'un décret rendant obligatoire une convention collective, de même que celles d'un régime de retraite relatifs à des travailleurs régis par cette convention ou sentence ou par ce décret, qui, en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 1990, sont incompatibles avec celles de la présente loi prévalent sur celles-ci jusqu'à la date d'expiration de la convention ou sentence, ou jusqu'à la date d'expiration, de prolongation ou de renouvellement du décret.

La Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) continue de s'appliquer à ce régime, pour la même période, dans la mesure où il concerne des travailleurs régis par cette convention ou sentence ou par ce décret.

1989, c. 38, a. 316.

317. Constitue un déficit actuariel de modification tout déficit actuariel résultant:

1° d'une modification du régime qui, visée à l'article 313 ou 314, a pour objet de rendre celui-ci conforme au chapitre IV, V ou VI;

2° d'une modification du régime qui a pour objet d'appliquer l'article 44, 45, 60, 69 ou 86 à des droits accumulés au titre des services reconnus par le régime avant le 1^{er} janvier 1990.

Ce déficit actuariel de modification peut être considéré comme un déficit actuariel initial.

1989, c. 38, a. 317.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

317.1. Tout déficit actuariel résultant d'une modification au régime qui a pour objet de le rendre conforme à la présente loi telle que modifiée le 1^{er} janvier 2001 peut être considéré comme un déficit actuariel initial.

La Régie peut exiger qu'un comité de retraite lui fournisse, dans le délai qu'elle fixe, un rapport préparé par un actuaire et comportant les informations et les attestations qu'elle estime nécessaires pour s'assurer que la détermination des cotisations patronales et salariales est conforme au régime de retraite et à la présente loi telle que modifiée le 1^{er} janvier 2001.

Pour l'application de la présente loi, le rapport prévu au deuxième alinéa est assimilé à un rapport relatif à l'évaluation actuarielle d'un régime de retraite visé à l'article 119.

2000, c. 41, a. 201.

318. Celui qui, le 31 décembre 1989, administre un régime de retraite peut, malgré le fait qu'il ne soit pas un comité de retraite constitué ainsi que le prescrit l'article 147, continuer d'administrer le régime soit jusqu'à la date d'expiration du délai prévu à l'article 313 ou 314 pour la présentation de modifications ou jusqu'à toute date postérieure que peut fixer la Régie, soit, si le régime ne peut plus être modifié dans ces délais en raison du fait qu'il s'est terminé, jusqu'à ce qu'il cesse d'être en vigueur. Il est en ce cas, pour la durée de son administration, assimilé à un comité de retraite.

1989, c. 38, a. 318; 1992, c. 60, a. 58; 2000, c. 41, a. 203.

318.1. Les modifications nécessaires pour rendre conformes à la présente loi, telle que modifiée le 1^{er} janvier 2001, les dispositions de tout régime de retraite en vigueur le 31 décembre 2000 doivent être présentées à la Régie pour enregistrement dans les 12 mois qui suivent cette dernière date ou dans le délai supplémentaire qu'elle peut accorder.

Dès qu'elles sont enregistrées, ces modifications ont effet depuis le 1^{er} janvier 2001.

Toutefois, à l'égard des travailleurs régis, selon le cas, par une convention collective, par une sentence arbitrale en tenant lieu ou par un décret rendant obligatoire une convention collective qui sont en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 2001, l'indexation de la rente prévue à l'article 60.1 n'a effet qu'à compter de la date d'expiration de cette convention ou de cette sentence ou qu'à compter de la date d'expiration, de prolongation ou de renouvellement de ce décret.

2000, c. 41, a. 202.

318.2. Tout régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X doit faire l'objet d'une évaluation actuarielle complète au 31 décembre 2015 conformément aux dispositions en vigueur le 1^{er} janvier 2016.

Aux fins de cette évaluation, les cotisations d'équilibre requises, selon l'approche de solvabilité et l'approche de capitalisation, relativement à un déficit actuariel déterminé lors d'une évaluation actuarielle antérieure, sont éliminées.

2015, c. 29, a. 74.

318.3. Malgré les paragraphes 1^o et 2^o de l'article 138, la période d'amortissement de tout déficit actuariel technique ou de stabilisation qui débute à la date d'une évaluation actuarielle antérieure au 31 décembre 2016 expire à la date de la fin d'un exercice financier du régime de retraite qui se termine au plus tard 15 ans après la date de l'évaluation. La période maximale d'amortissement d'un tel déficit actuariel qui débute après le 30 décembre 2016 est réduite d'une année pour chaque année complète d'écart entre le 31 décembre 2015 et la date du début de la période d'amortissement du déficit.

Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite, R.L.R.Q. c R-15.1

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

La période d'amortissement de tout déficit actuariel technique ou de stabilisation qui débute après le 30 décembre 2020 est déterminée conformément à l'article 138.

2015, c. 29, a. 74.

318.4. Si les cotisations patronales déterminées selon l'évaluation actuarielle visée à l'article 318.2 ou une évaluation actuarielle subséquente et qui sont exigibles pour chaque exercice financier ou partie d'exercice financier postérieur à la date de l'évaluation sont supérieures à celles qui auraient été exigibles pour la période du 1^{er} janvier 2016 au 31 décembre 2016 en application des dispositions en vigueur le 31 décembre 2015, la différence n'est exigible qu'à raison de un tiers par période de 12 mois à compter du 1^{er} janvier 2017.

Pour l'application du premier alinéa, doivent être exclues les cotisations patronales d'exercice correspondant à la valeur des engagements nés du régime de retraite qui sont relatifs aux services reconnus effectués au cours de l'exercice.

Pour déterminer les cotisations qui auraient été exigibles, il doit être tenu compte de toute instruction donnée relativement à la période incluant l'exercice financier du régime en cours le 31 décembre 2015 en vertu du Règlement prévoyant de nouvelles mesures d'allègement relatives au financement de déficits actuariels de solvabilité des régimes de retraite du secteur privé (chapitre R-15.1, r. 4.1) et appliquée à cette date.

Le cas échéant, l'article 42.1 s'applique en tenant uniquement compte de la portion de la cotisation d'équilibre de stabilisation qui est exigible selon le premier alinéa.

Les dispositions du présent article cessent de s'appliquer le 31 décembre 2018.

2015, c. 29, a. 74.

318.5. Un régime de retraite soustrait à l'application de règles de financement prévues par la présente loi selon un règlement pris en vertu de l'article 2 n'est assujéti aux dispositions de la présente loi en vigueur à compter du 1^{er} janvier 2016 que dans la mesure prévue par le règlement qui lui est applicable.

Les dispositions des articles 90.1, 142.5 et 237 s'appliquent toutefois aux régimes visés au premier alinéa.

Les dispositions des articles 60, 119.1, 143 et 146 s'appliquent aux régimes de retraite visés par le Règlement concernant le financement des régimes de retraite des secteurs municipal et universitaire (chapitre R-15.1, r. 2). Ces dispositions ne s'appliquent toutefois pas aux régimes de retraite visés aux sections I et I.1 du Règlement sur la soustraction de certains régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite (chapitre R-15.1, r. 8).

Pour l'application de l'article 119.1, l'évaluation actuarielle requise est celle visée au paragraphe 2 de l'article 118 tel que remplacé par l'article 7 du Règlement concernant le financement des régimes de retraite des secteurs municipal et universitaire.

Lorsqu'un tel règlement cesse de s'appliquer à un régime de retraite, les dispositions des articles 318.2 à 318.4 s'appliquent à ce régime en substituant la date suivant celle de la cessation d'application du règlement à celle du 1^{er} janvier 2016 et en y adaptant les autres dates mentionnées à ces articles.

Les dispositions du chapitre X, dans leur rédaction en vigueur le 31 décembre 2015, continuent de s'appliquer à tout régime de retraite administré par Retraite Québec en vertu de la sous-section 4.0.1 de la section II du chapitre XIII.

compagnies (chapitre R-15.1, r. 6.1) avant le 31 décembre 2020 n'a pas pour effet de mettre fin à l'application des dispositions de la section IV de ce règlement.

2015, c. 29, a. 74.

318.7. L'application des dispositions de la sous-section 4.0.1 de la section II du chapitre XIII, en vigueur le 31 décembre 2015, est maintenue à l'égard des rentes servies par la Régie en vertu de celles-ci le 31 décembre 2015.

De plus, un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X qui satisfait à toutes les conditions prévues à l'article 230.0.0.1 tel qu'il se lisait le 31 décembre 2015 est assujéti aux dispositions mentionnées au premier alinéa, sauf s'il a été liquidé avant le 1^{er} janvier 2016.

2015, c. 29, a. 74.

318.8. Si le rapport de terminaison relatif à un régime de retraite visé par les dispositions de la sous-section 4.0.1 de la section II du chapitre XIII en vigueur à compter du 1^{er} janvier 2016 a été transmis à la Régie avant cette date, les droits des participants et des bénéficiaires sont établis selon ce rapport.

2015, c. 29, a. 74.

319. Dans toute autre loi, dans tout règlement, décret, arrêté, entente, contrat ou autre document, à moins que le contexte ne s'y oppose et compte tenu des adaptations de circonstance:

1° un renvoi à une disposition de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) est un renvoi à la disposition correspondante de la présente loi;

2° les expressions «Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes» et «régime supplémentaire de rentes» sont respectivement remplacées par les expressions «Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite» et «régime complémentaire de retraite».

1989, c. 38, a. 319.

319.1. Les articles 14.1 et 228.1 sont déclaratoires.

2008, c. 21, a. 28.

319.2. Le délai prévu à l'article 146.16 pour la transmission à la Régie du rapport relatif à l'évaluation actuarielle au 31 décembre 2014 d'un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X.2 est calculé à partir du 30 avril 2015 plutôt qu'à partir du 31 décembre 2014.

Il en est de même du délai de transmission du plan de redressement et du délai de présentation de la demande d'enregistrement de toute modification au régime visant à donner suite à ce plan, respectivement prévus aux articles 146.28 et 146.37.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.3. L'acquiescement effectué conformément à l'article 143 et, le cas échéant, à l'article 145.1 avant le 31 décembre 2014 relativement à un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X.2 constitue un acquiescement final des droits du participant ou du bénéficiaire visé.

Un employeur peut toutefois verser une somme additionnelle à la caisse de retraite pour l'acquiescement, en tout ou en partie, de toute somme qui n'a plus à être acquiescée aux termes du premier alinéa.

En outre, un régime de retraite peut être modifié pour prévoir le versement, au cours de tout exercice financier du régime se terminant avant le 1^{er} janvier 2020, de sommes dont l'exigibilité est éteinte par l'effet du premier alinéa. Le montant d'un tel versement, ajouté à la somme des montants visés à l'article 146.12, ne doit pas avoir pour effet de rendre insuffisantes les cotisations.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.4. Les sommes dues, le 31 décembre 2014, par un employeur partie à un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X.2 à titre de cotisations à recevoir, en vertu des dispositions de la loi en vigueur le 30 décembre 2014, en excédent des cotisations prévues par le régime non versées à cette date sont éliminées.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.5. Aucune somme qui doit être versée par un employeur partie à un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X.2 par suite d'un jugement passé en force de chose jugée avant le 18 février 2015 ou relatif à une affaire pendante devant un tribunal judiciaire ou administratif à cette date ne peut, d'aucune façon, faire l'objet d'une récupération par l'administrateur du régime de retraite ou par un employeur qui y est partie.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.6. Un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X.2 doit être modifié pour procéder au retrait de tout employeur qui ne compte plus de participants actifs à son service le 31 décembre 2014. La date du retrait doit être le 31 décembre 2014.

Les droits des participants et bénéficiaires visés par un tel retrait doivent, au plus tard le 2 avril 2016, être acquittés conformément aux dispositions du premier alinéa de l'article 146.41.

La valeur des droits des participants et bénéficiaires est établie au 31 décembre 2014.

Un participant ou bénéficiaire visé au deuxième alinéa peut demander que ses droits soient maintenus dans le régime.

Le comité de retraite doit informer les participants et bénéficiaires des mesures prévues par le présent article, de sorte qu'ils disposent d'un délai d'au moins trois mois pour exercer leur droit. L'avis doit indiquer la possibilité que les droits des participants et bénéficiaires demeurant dans le régime soient ultérieurement réduits.

Les dispositions du présent article ne s'appliquent, relativement à un employeur dont tous les travailleurs visés par le régime sont engagés de façon ponctuelle et pour une durée déterminée, que si, au 31 décembre 2014, il ne compte plus de participants actifs à son service depuis au moins 12 mois.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.7. Les droits des participants et bénéficiaires qui, le 31 décembre 2014, ne relèvent d'aucun employeur partie au régime doivent, au plus tard le 2 avril 2016, être acquittés conformément aux dispositions du premier alinéa de l'article 146.41.

À cette fin, les dispositions des troisième, quatrième et cinquième alinéas de l'article 319.6 s'appliquent.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.8. Malgré les articles 20 et 21, pour les acquittements faits en vertu des articles 319.6 et 319.7, un plafonnement du degré de solvabilité, tel celui permis par l'article 146.20, peut être prévu par le régime de retraite aux conditions prévues à cet article, qui s'applique en y faisant les adaptations nécessaires.

Les dispositions de l'article 146.42 s'appliquent à un tel acquittement.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

319.9. En cas de retrait d'un employeur partie à un régime de retraite auquel s'applique le chapitre X.2 ou en cas de terminaison d'un tel régime, avant le 2 avril 2020, les règles suivantes s'appliquent:

1° toute réduction de droits des participants et bénéficiaires intervenue depuis le 31 décembre 2014 est annulée;

2° la dette de chaque employeur visé par le retrait ou la terminaison est établie comme si les dispositions du chapitre X.2 et de l'article 319.4 ne s'étaient pas appliquées;

3° la dette de chaque employeur visé par le retrait ou la terminaison éteinte par les dispositions de l'article 319.3 redevient exigible.

Les dispositions du premier alinéa ne s'appliquent toutefois pas si le retrait de l'employeur ou la terminaison du régime résulte de l'impossibilité d'adopter un plan de redressement, de l'aliénation ou de la fermeture de l'entreprise ou d'une partie de celle-ci, de l'insolvabilité de l'employeur ou d'un changement d'affiliation syndicale.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.10. Lorsqu'un régime à cotisations négociées cesse d'être visé par un règlement donnant lieu à l'exclusion de l'application des dispositions du chapitre X.2 selon le deuxième alinéa de l'article 146.10, ces dispositions s'appliquent à compter de la date suivant celle de la cessation d'application du règlement. Les dispositions des articles 319.3 à 319.9 s'appliquent à ce régime en substituant cette date de début d'application à celle du 31 décembre 2014 et en adaptant les autres dates mentionnées à ces articles en fonction de cette date de début d'application.

Les dispositions de l'article 319.9 ne s'appliquent toutefois pas à un tel régime si le règlement visé au premier alinéa comportait une disposition le soustrayant à l'application des dispositions de la présente loi relatives à la dette de l'employeur.

2015, c. 7, a. 3.

319.11. Pour seule fin de la répartition de l'actif d'un régime de retraite visé par l'Entente sur les régimes de retraite relevant de plus d'une autorité gouvernementale, entrée en vigueur le 1^{er} juillet 2011, les droits des participants accumulés avant le 1^{er} janvier 2016 sont inclus dans les droits financés selon l'approche de solvabilité.

2015, c. 29, a. 75.

320. Les crédits affectés à l'application de la Loi sur les régimes supplémentaires de rentes (chapitre R-17) sont transférés pour permettre l'application de la présente loi.

Les crédits supplémentaires affectés à l'application de la présente loi pour l'exercice financier au cours duquel la présente loi entre en vigueur sont, dans la mesure déterminée par le gouvernement, pris sur le fonds consolidé du revenu.

1989, c. 38, a. 320.

321. Le ministre de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale est responsable de l'application de la présente loi.

1989, c. 38, a. 321; 1992, c. 44, a. 81; 1994, c. 12, a. 67; 1997, c. 63, a. 128; 2001, c. 44, a. 30.

Le ministre des Finances exerce les fonctions ministre de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale prévues à la présente loi. Décret 412-2016 du 25 mai 2016, (2016) 148 G.O. 2, 2923.

322. (Omis).

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION I

REGISTRATION AND REPORTS

1. An application for registration of a pension plan must, in addition to the documents and information required under the second paragraph of section 24 of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (chapter R-15.1), contain the following information:

(1) the name of each employer party to the plan and the nature of the enterprise of the principal employer party to the plan;

(2) the name of the plan and the date on which it becomes effective;

(3) a list of any other plans to which an employer referred to in subparagraph 1 is required to contribute;

(4) (subparagraph revoked);

(5) (subparagraph revoked);

(6) with respect to the active members:

(a) the number of those exercising included employment within the meaning of section 4 of the Pension Benefits Standards Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. 32 (2nd Suppl.)), distributed by sex;

(b) the number of active members working outside Canada, distributed by sex;

(c) the number of the other active members, distributed by sex and, according to the place where the work is carried out, by Canadian province and territory;

(6.1) with respect to the non-active members and beneficiaries:

(a) their total number;

(b) the number of those among them who are referred to in section 12;

(7) the date of the end of the fiscal year of the plan;

(8) (subparagraph revoked);

(9) the name and office address of the signatory of the application;

(10) (subparagraph revoked);

The signatory of the application must certify:

(1) that he is the administrator of the plan or that he is authorized to act on the administrator's behalf;

(2) that the person who certified the copy of the plan that accompanies the application to be a true copy is qualified to do so;

(3) that the information contained in the application is exact to the best of his knowledge.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 1; O.C. 173-2002, s. 1.

1.1. A simplified pension plan, governed by Division IV of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain categories of pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (chapter R-15.1, r. 7), prescribes, on the one hand, the registration of the provisions applicable to all the employers that are parties to the plan in accordance with this section and, on the other hand, the registration of an amendment to the plan for the provisions specific to each employer in accordance with section 2.1.

An application for the registration of the provisions applicable to all the employers that are parties to the plan must contain the following information, in addition to the documents and information required under subparagraphs 1, 6 and 7 of the second paragraph of section 24 of the Act:

- (1) the name of the plan, the name of the financial institution that administers it, the address of its head office and, where applicable, the address of its principal establishment in Québec;
- (2) the effective date of those provisions and the number of active plan members on that date;
- (3) the name and office address of the signatory of the application.

The application must also contain an attestation by the signatory that:

(1) the financial institution that administers the plan has obtained the employer's written acknowledgement of the obligations incumbent upon it under the plan;

(2) the financial institution has obtained the employer's and the employees' association's written acknowledgement of the fact that the provisions to be registered correspond to what they agreed upon, where the employer has delegated powers to the association relating to the plan under the terms of an agreement referred to in paragraph 27 of section 10 of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain categories of pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act;

(3) the signatory is authorized to prepare and sign that application on behalf of that financial institution;

(4) the person who certified the copy of the plan that accompanies the application to be a true copy is qualified to do so;

(5) the information contained in the application are exact to the best of his knowledge.

O.C. 658-94, s. 1; O.C. 173-2002, s. 2; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 50.

2. An application for registration of an amendment to a pension plan must, in addition to the documents and information required under the second paragraph of section 24 of the Act, contain the following information:

- (1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (2) the object of the amendment and the date on which it becomes effective;
- (3) where the amendment has the effect of reducing the benefits of members or beneficiaries, as the case may be:
 - (a) the date on which the collective agreement, arbitration award in lieu thereof, or order or decree making that amendment or rendering it compulsory becomes effective;
 - (b) the date of sending of the notice prescribed in the first paragraph of section 26 of the Act;
- (4) the name and office address of the signatory of the application;
- (5) a copy of the pertinent part of any collective agreement, arbitration award, order or decree under which the amendment was made.

The signatory of the application must certify:

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (1) that he is the administrator of the plan or is authorized to act on the administrator's behalf;
- (2) that the person who certified the copy of the amendment that accompanies the application to be a true copy is qualified to do so;
- (3) that the information contained in the application is exact to the best of his knowledge.

The application for registration shall also be accompanied with a declaration in conformity with the declaration provided in Schedule 0.0.1.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 2; O.C. 173-2002, s. 3.

2.1. An application for the registration of an amendment to a simplified pension plan must contain the following information, in addition to the documents and information required under subparagraphs 1, 6 and 7 of the second paragraph of section 24 of the Act:

- (1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (2) the object of the amendment and its effective date and, where the amendment has the effect of reducing the benefits of members or beneficiaries, as the case may be:
 - (a) the date on which the collective agreement establishing the amendment was signed;
 - (b) the effective date of the arbitration award standing in lieu of a collective agreement or the effective date of the decree or order rendering the amendment compulsory;
 - (c) the date of sending of the notice provided for in the first paragraph of section 26 of the Act;
- (3) in the case of the provisions specific to an employer and to members working for that employer, the name of the employer;
- (4) the name and office address of the signatory of the application.

The application must also contain the attestation provided for in the third paragraph of section 1.1, adapted as required to take into account the fact that the application concerns an amendment to the plan.

O.C. 658-94, s. 2; O.C. 173-2002, s. 4.

3. (Revoked).

O.C. 1158-90, s. 3; O.C. 173-2002, s. 5.

3.1. The notice that the pension committee must send Retraite Québec under section 119.1 of the Act shall contain the following information:

- (1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (2) the date of the end of the plan's last fiscal year;
- (3) the degree of solvency of the plan as at that date.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 1

3.2. The notice must be accompanied with a document, prepared by an actuary, containing the following information:

- (1) the data, assumptions and methods used to determine the financial position of the plan on a solvency basis;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) a certification of the actuary certifying the plan's degree of solvency at the end of the plan's last fiscal year;

(3) the name of the signatory, his professional title, the name and address of his office and the date of signing.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 1

4. A report on a complete actuarial valuation referred to in section 120 of the Act must contain the information and statements of the actuary provided for in Section 3260 of the standards of practice of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries, the information provided for in sections 4.1 to 4.6 and the following information:

(1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;

(2) the date of the actuarial valuation;

(3) the number of active members apportioned, where applicable, according to whether their benefits are accumulated under defined benefit provisions or money purchase provisions within the meaning of section 965.0.1 of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3) or both types of provisions, the number of non-active members to whom no pension is being paid and the number of the other non-active members and beneficiaries whose benefits are covered by the actuarial valuation;

(4) a summary of the provisions of the plan that must be taken into account for the purposes of the valuation, including those bearing on contributions, normal retirement age, conditions to be met to be entitled to an early pension, pension indexation formula, assumptions used in accordance with the second paragraph of section 61 of the Act and the refunds and benefits payable under the pension plan;

(5) the name of the signatory, the signatory's professional title, the name and address of the signatory's office and the date of signing.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 4; O.C. 173-2002, s. 6; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 1; O.C. 978-2011, s. 1; O.C. 800-2015, s. 1.

4.1. With respect to the portion of the actuarial valuation of the plan performed on a solvency basis, the report must contain the following information:

(1) the value of the plan's assets, the value of the plan's liabilities established without reference, if applicable, to any amendment to the plan considered for the first time at the valuation date, and the actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine those values;

(2) the value of the plan's liabilities distributed among the group of active members of the plan, the group of non-active members to whom no pension is paid and the group of the other non-active members and beneficiaries, the actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine the value, and the degree of solvency of the plan;

(3) the estimated amount of the administration costs referred to in the first paragraph of section 123 of the Act;

(4) where the plan provides for obligations to which the last sentence of the first paragraph of section 124 of the Act applies:

(a) a description of the obligations;

(b) the scenario used by the actuary to determine the plan's liabilities and, where that scenario results in liabilities that are less than the value of the obligations arising from the plan assuming that the plan is terminated on the valuation date in such circumstances that the benefits accrued to the members must be estimated at their maximum value, such maximum value;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(5) the description of the approach used to estimate the premium referred to in section 126 of the Act;

(6) where the plan is both solvent and funded, that amortization payments remain to be paid in connection with an improvement unfunded actuarial liability determined in a prior actuarial valuation and that the provision for adverse deviation provided for in section 128 of the Act is not calculated at the valuation date, certification from the actuary certifying that a calculation of the provision at that date would have determined that the plan's assets were lower than the liabilities increased by the provision for adverse deviation.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 1.

4.2. Where the provision for adverse deviation is calculated, the report must contain the following information:

(1) its amount, with an indication of the shares attributable to elements "R" and "S" of section 60.3;

(2) the amount of elements "R" and "S" of section 60.3 and the amount of element "D" determined in accordance with section 60.4;

(3) element d^R of section 60.4 and the actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine the element;

(4) the amount determined in accordance with paragraph 1 of element "V" of section 60.4 and element " d^M " of that section;

(5) the maximum amount of surplus assets that may be appropriated to the payment of employer contributions, determined in accordance with section 146.3.4 of the Act;

(6) the maximum amount of the reduction to which the pension committee may agree under section 15.0.0.5;

(7) the maximum amount of the reduction to which the pension committee may agree under the first paragraph of section 15.0.0.6, specifying that the amount is established on the assumption that the surplus assets of the plan will be in no way appropriated to the payment of employer contributions.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 1.

4.3. With respect to the portion of the plan's actuarial valuation performed on a funding basis, the report must contain the following information:

(1) the value of the plan's assets, the value of the liabilities determined without reference to any amendment to the plan considered for the first time at the valuation date and the actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine those values;

(2) the value of the plan's liabilities distributed among the group of active members of the plan, the group of non-active members to whom no pension is paid and the group of the other non-active members and beneficiaries, and the actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine the value;

(3) the amount established in accordance with the first paragraph of section 135 of the Act.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 1.

4.4. Where the actuarial valuation determines the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the plan considered for the first time, the report must also contain the following information:

(1) a summary of the amendment covered by the valuation and the date and effective date of the amendment;

(2) the value, determined on a solvency basis, of the additional obligations arising from the amendment;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (3) where the provision for adverse deviation is calculated, the amount of surplus assets determined on a solvency basis that may be appropriated to the payment of that value;
- (4) the special amortization payment determined under section 132 of the Act, where applicable;
- (5) the value, determined on a funding basis, of the additional obligations arising from the amendment;
- (6) the amount of surplus assets determined on a funding basis that may be appropriated to the payment of that value.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 1.

4.5. With respect to unfunded actuarial liabilities, the report must contain the following information:

- (1) for each solvency deficiency determined under section 130 of the Act:
 - (a) the type;
 - (b) the date of its determination and the date of the end of the period provided for its amortization;
 - (c) the monthly amounts related to the amortization payments to be paid until the end of that period and their present value;
- (2) a description of the amendments made under section 131 of the Act to the solvency deficiencies indicated in the last report on an actuarial valuation of the plan;
- (3) the amount of the funding deficiency, the date of the end of the period provided for its amortization and the monthly amounts related to the amortization payments to be paid until that date.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 1.

4.6. The report must contain the following financial information:

- (1) the service contribution projected for the fiscal year or part of a fiscal year immediately following the actuarial valuation and the rule used to determine the service contribution;
- (2) the rule used to determine the service contributions for the 2 subsequent fiscal years;
- (3) the amounts to be paid respectively by the employer and by the members, and, for each amount, in the case of a defined benefit plan for which certain provisions are identical to those of a defined contribution plan, the share that must be paid for those provisions and the share that must be paid for the defined benefit provisions;
- (4) the employer contribution provided for in the plan, if it is greater than the contribution provided for in section 39 of the Act;
- (5) a description of the adjustments to the contributions arising from the application of the third paragraph of section 41 of the Act;
- (6) the amount of the letter of credit, or the total amount of such letters, and the amount taken into account in the assets to determine the plan's solvency.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 1.

5. A report on a partial actuarial valuation carried out under the conditions provided for in the second paragraph of section 118 of the Act must contain the information provided for in sections 5.1 to 5.4 and the following information:

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (2) the date of the actuarial valuation;
- (3) the name of the signatory, the signatory's professional title, the name and address of the signatory's office and the date of signing;
- (4) a certification of the actuary certifying that a complete actuarial valuation of the plan carried out at the valuation date would have shown that the plan is both solvent and funded.

The certifications provided for in this section and in sections 5.1 and 5.2 must be established on the basis of a conservative estimate made by the actuary.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 5; O.C. 568-91, s. 1; O.C. 173-2002, s. 7; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 2.

5.1. Where the provision for adverse deviation is calculated on the basis of estimates authorized by section 60.5, the report must contain the following information:

- (1) the amount;
- (2) a certification of the actuary certifying that a complete actuarial valuation of the plan carried out at the valuation date would have established an amount for the provision for adverse deviation equal to or less than the amount indicated in paragraph 1;
- (3) the maximum amount of surplus assets that may be appropriated to the payment of employer contributions;
- (4) the maximum amount of the reduction to which the pension committee may agree under section 15.0.0.5;
- (5) the maximum amount of the reduction to which the pension committee may agree under the first paragraph of section 15.0.0.6, specifying that the amount is established on the assumption that the surplus assets of the plan will be in no way appropriated to the payment of employer contributions;
- (6) a certification of the actuary certifying that, should complete actuarial valuation be carried out, the resulting amounts would be at least equal to those indicated in paragraphs 3 to 5.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 2.

5.2. Where the actuarial valuation determines the value of the additional obligations arising from an amendment to the plan considered for the first time, the report must also contain the following information:

- (1) a summary of the amendment that is the subject of the valuation, the date and effective date of the amendment;
- (2) the value of the additional obligations arising from the amendment, determined on a solvency basis and on a funding basis;
- (3) where the provision for adverse deviation is calculated on the basis of estimates authorized by section 60.5,
 - (a) the amount of surplus assets that may be appropriated to the payment of the value of the additional obligations arising from the amendment, determined on a solvency basis, and the amount determined on a funding basis;
 - (b) a certification of the actuary certifying that a complete actuarial valuation carried out at the valuation date would have established amounts at least equal to the amounts referred to in subparagraph a;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(4) where the provision for adverse deviation is not calculated, a certification of the actuary certifying that a calculation of the provision carried out at the valuation date would have established that the plan's assets are less than the liabilities increased by the provision for adverse deviation.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 2.

5.3. With respect to unfunded actuarial liabilities, the report must contain the following information:

(1) for each improvement unfunded actuarial liability determined under section 130 of the Act,

(a) the date on which it was determined and the date of the end of the period provided for its amortization;

(b) the monthly amounts related to the amortization payments to be paid until the end of that period and their present value;

(2) a description of the amendments made under section 131 of the Act to the solvency deficiencies indicated in the last report on an actuarial valuation of the plan.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 2.

5.4. The report must contain the following financial information:

(1) any adjustment made to the rule referred to in paragraph 2 of section 4.6 that is related to the fiscal year immediately following the actuarial valuation, to take into account any amendment considered for the first time upon that valuation;

(2) the amounts that must be paid respectively by the employer and by the members, and, for each amount, in the case of a defined benefit plan for which certain provisions are identical to the provisions of a defined contribution plan, the share that must be paid for those provisions and the share that must be paid for the defined benefit provisions;

(3) the employer contribution provided for in the plan, if the contribution is greater than the contribution provided for in section 39 of the Act;

(4) the amount of the letter of credit, or the total amount of such letters, and the amount taken into account in the assets for the purpose of determining the plan's solvency;

(5) a description of the adjustments to the contributions arising from the application of the third paragraph of section 41 of the Act.

DIVISION II

FEES

12. For the purposes of paragraphs 2, 3 and 4 of sections 13.0.1, 13.0.2 and 13.0.3, only members and beneficiaries in respect of whom Retraite Québec may exercise the powers granted to it by the Act or an act of delegation shall be taken into consideration.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 12; O.C. 173-2002, s. 9.

13. The following applications for registration shall, at the time they are filed with Retraite Québec, be accompanied with the fees indicated with respect thereto:

(1) an application concerning a standard contract for a life income fund referred to in section 19 or a locked-in retirement account referred to in section 29: $1,000;

(2) an application concerning a simplified pension plan referred to in Division IV of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain categories of pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (chapter R-15.1, r. 7), with respect to the provisions common to all the employers party to the plan: $1,500;

(3) an application concerning a pension plan that is not referred to in paragraph 2 or 4: $250 or, in the case of a plan to which chapter X of the Act applies: $500, to which shall be added $9.85 for each plan member or beneficiary on the date of the application, to a maximum of $100,000;

(4) an application concerning a flexible pension plan referred to in Division VII of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain categories of pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act: $1,000 plus fees calculated in accordance with paragraph 3;

(5) an application concerning an amendment to a pension plan referred to in section 31 of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain categories of pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act: $1,000.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 13; O.C. 1895-93, s. 1; O.C. 658-94, s. 7; O.C. 173-2002, s. 9; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 50; O.C. 500-2014, s. 1.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

13.0.1. The annual statement provided for in section 161 of the Act shall, when transmitted to Retraite Québec, be accompanied with fees determined as follows: $250 or in the case of a plan to which chapter X of the Act applies: $500, to which shall be added $9.85 for each plan member or beneficiary on the ending date of the fiscal year to which the statement pertains, to a maximum of $100,000.

However, where the annual statement concerns a simplified pension plan, the fees are determined as follows: $1,000 plus $4.50 for each active plan member on the ending date of the fiscal year to which the statement pertains.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 9; O.C. 500-2014, s. 2.

With regard to the fiscal year ending after 30 December 2018, the amount “$4.50” is replaced by “$5.00”.

13.0.2. From 31 December 2002, the amount payable for an active member or for a member or beneficiary under paragraph 3 or 4 of section 13 or pursuant to the first paragraph of section 13.0.1 shall be adjusted on 31 December of each year by multiplying the amount payable before that date by the ratio that the average, for the 12-month period ending on 30 June of the current year, of the average weekly salaries and wages for the Industrial Composite in Canada for each of the months comprised in that period, as published by Statistics Canada pursuant to the Statistics Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. S-19) bears to the average, for the 12-month period ending at the end of June of the year immediately preceding the current year, of the average weekly salaries and wages for the Industrial Composite in Canada, as published by Statistics Canada pursuant to the Statistics Act. The product of the multiplication shall be increased or decreased to the next multiple of $0.05.

The amount thus determined may not be less than the amount that was payable before the adjustment.

Retraite Québec gives public notice of the result of the adjustment made under this section in Part 1 of the Gazette officielle du Québec and, if Retraite Québec considers it expedient, by any other means.

The adjustment provided for in the first paragraph applies to any annual statement pertaining to a fiscal year ending during the 12-month period for which the adjustment is made.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 9; O.C. 500-2014, s. 3.

The striking out “the first paragraph of” in the first paragraph after “of section 13 pursuant to” applies to the fiscal year ending after 30 December 2019.

13.0.3. The termination report referred to in section 207.2 of the Act shall, when it is transmitted to Retraite Québec, be accompanied with fees determined as follows: $250 or, in the case of a plan to which chapter X of the Act applies, $500, plus, for each plan member and beneficiary on the date which precedes the termination date, an amount equal to twice the amount set for a member or beneficiary under paragraph 3 of section 13 and section 13.0.2 for the period in which the plan is terminated, to a maximum of $100,000.

The termination report provided for in paragraph 2 of section 15 of the Regulation respecting the exemption of certain categories of pension plans from the application of provisions of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (chapter R-15.1, r. 7), shall when it is submitted to Retraite Québec, be accompanied by fees of $1,000.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 9; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 50.

13.1. Before distributing the surplus assets of a terminated pension plan, the administrator of the plan shall pay Retraite Québec a fee equal to 1% of the surplus assets; that fee may not be less than $500 without however exceeding the surplus assets, or more than $50,000.

This section also applies to the pension plans referred to in the second paragraph of section 311.1 of the Act. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this section does not apply where the surplus assets of the plan are the subject of proceedings, of an apportionment or of an order referred to in the first paragraph of that section, or of a judgment having compulsory effect prior to 1 January 1993.

O.C. 1895-93, s. 2; O.C. 173-2002, s. 10.

14. In the event of failure to produce a document referred to in section 13.0.1 or 13.0.3, additional fees equal to 10% of the fees initially due pursuant to the relevant provision must be paid for each complete month of delay, to a maximum of the fees initially due.

In the event of failure to pay the fees that must accompany a document referred to in the first paragraph, additional fees equal to 10% of the unpaid balance at the expiry of the time allotted for submitting the document to Retraite Québec must be paid for each complete month of delay, to a maximum of the said balance.

No additional fee is due pursuant to the second paragraph with respect to a month for which additional fees must be paid in application of the first paragraph. Moreover, in the event of failure to submit a termination report or failure to pay the fees that must accompany it, no additional fee is due with respect to a period prior to the latest of the following dates:

- (1) the date of expiry of the time allotted in section 207.2 of the Act;
- (2) the date that falls 90 days after the date of the plan's termination.

In the event of failure to produce the report referred to in section 120 of the Act or a document that must accompany the report, additional fees equal to 20% of the fees calculated in the manner prescribed by section 13.0.1 taking into account the number of members and beneficiaries indicated in the annual statement of information related to the last fiscal year of the plan ended on the date of the actuarial valuation, must be paid to Retraite Québec for each complete month of delay, up to the amount of the latter fees.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 14; O.C. 1681-97, s. 1; O.C. 173-2002, s. 11; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 4.

14.1. A financial institution shall pay Retraite Québec, before 31 December of each year, fees of $250 for each standard contract for a life income fund or locked-in retirement account registered in its name. In case of failure to pay, additional fees equal to 10% of the balance owing at that date shall be paid to Retraite Québec.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 2; O.C. 173-2002, s. 12.

15. Any communication referred to in section 165 of the Act and concerning untraceable members or beneficiaries must be accompanied by payment of a fee of $20 for each name mentioned therein.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 15; O.C. 173-2002, s. 13.

DIVISION II.0.0.1
LETTER OF CREDIT

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.1. The letter of credit referred to in section 42.1 of the Act is an irrevocable standby letter of credit. It is established in accordance with form 3.

Despite any stipulation to the contrary, such a letter of credit is subject to the statutes of Québec and is governed by the International Standby Practices, 1998 (ICC, N^o. 590) insofar as those practices are compatible with the provisions of this Regulation.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

15.0.0.2. The letter of credit must be issued by a financial institution that meets the following requirements:

(1) it is authorized to issue letters of credit in Québec or elsewhere in Canada where an agreement referred to in section 249 of the Act applies;

(2) any of the following credit rating organizations gives it the rating indicated on the same line as the organization's name in the following table, or a higher rating:

Credit rating organization	Rating
Dominion Bond Rating Service	A
Fitch Ratings	A
Moody's Investors Service	A2
Standard & Poor's	A

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.3. The date of expiry of the letter of credit must correspond to the date of the end of a fiscal year of the pension plan.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.4. The pension committee must, at the written request of the employer, agree to reduce the amount of the letter of credit in the following cases:

(1) the employer pays to the pension fund an amount at least equal to the amount of the reduction requested;

(2) the report on the last actuarial valuation of the pension plan the date of which is not prior to the date of the end of the last fiscal year of the plan shows that the assets, alone or increased by the amount by which the amount of the letter of credit exceeds the amount taken into account pursuant to the third paragraph of section 123 of the Act, are greater than liabilities increased by the provision for adverse deviation.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.5. Where the plan's assets increased by the amount by which the amount of the letter of credit exceeds the amount taken into account pursuant to the third paragraph of section 123 of the Act are greater than the plan's liabilities increased by the provision for adverse deviation, the reduction provided for in paragraph 2 of section 15.0.0.4 may not be greater than the lesser of the following amounts:

(1) the amount by which the amount of the letter of credit exceeds the amount taken into account pursuant to the third paragraph of section 123 of the Act;

(2) the amount by which the plan's assets increased by that excess amount exceeds the plan's liabilities increased by the provision for adverse deviation.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.6. Where the plan's assets alone exceeds the liabilities increased by the provision for adverse deviation, the reduction provided for in paragraph 2 of section 15.0.0.4 may not be greater than that excess amount.

However, if the employer appropriates all or part of the excess assets to the payment of employer contributions, the maximum amount of that reduction is equal to the remaining assets after deduction from the

liabilities of the provision for adverse deviation and the total amounts indicated in a written notice that the employer must send to the pension committee with the reduction request and in which the employer specifies

(1) the amount that will be appropriated to the payment of employer contributions for the period comprised between the date of the latest actuarial valuation of the plan and the date on which the first fiscal year of the plan ends following the date of that valuation, taking into account section 41 of the Act;

(2) the amount that will be appropriated to the payment of employer contributions for the first 9 months of the fiscal year that follows the fiscal year referred to in subparagraph 1.

If the amount of the letter of credit may be reduced under the provisions of both section 15.0.0.5 and this section, the reduction requested must be carried out in accordance with section 15.0.0.5.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.7. Where the reduction in the amount of the letter of credit to which the pension committee agreed pursuant to paragraph 2 of section 15.0.0.4 has an effect on the amount taken into account under the third paragraph of section 123 of the Act and the report on the last actuarial valuation referred to in paragraph 2 of section 15.0.0.4 is subsequently amended or replaced, the value of the plan's assets determined on a solvency basis must be established, for the purposes of the amendment or replacement, taking into account the reduction of the amount of the letter of credit.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.8. In the event of non-renewal of the letter of credit, the financial institution that has issued the letter must pay the amount of the letter to the pension fund. The payment is not required if the pension committee sends, at least 30 days before the date of expiry of the letter, a written notice to that effect to the financial institution. A copy of that notice must immediately be sent to Retraite Québec.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.9. Where the pension committee becomes aware that a letter of credit provided to the committee no longer meets the standards of this Regulation, the committee must immediately inform the employer. The employer may, within 30 days of the notice, provide the pension committee with a new letter of credit or an amount equivalent to the amount of the letter. In such cases, the pension committee must agree to the cancellation of the non-complying letter of credit. In any other case, it must require payment thereof from the expiry of the 30-day period.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

15.0.0.10. Without prejudice to the provisions of section 15.0.0.4, in the event of termination of a pension plan, the pension committee must, within the time prescribed in the first paragraph of section 207.2 of the Act and after a 10-day notice to the employer, request the payment of the letter of credit up to the amount by which the plan's liabilities exceed the assets at the termination date, increased by the interest calculated at the rate determined pursuant to section 61 of the Act and that applied on that date.

The pension committee must agree to the cancellation of the letter of credit for the amount remaining to be paid.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 5.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION II.0.1

ADDITIONAL PENSION BENEFIT

O.C. 173-2002, s. 14.

15.0.1. For the purposes of applying the first paragraph of section 60.1 of the Act:

(1) the value of the member contributions referred to by A is determined by taking into account the value of the pension resulting from the member's credited service for any period of work during which the rules set out in section 60 of the Act apply to him by supposing that he is entitled, under the plan, to a pension whose value is determined in accordance with the second paragraph of section 60.1 of the Act for service credited to him for any period of work during which the indexation provided for in that section applies to him;

(2) the value of the member contributions referred to by B is determined by taking into account the value of the pension to which the member is entitled for service credited to him for any period of work during which, under the provisions of the plan, the rules set out in section 60 of the Act apply to him.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 14.

15.0.2. The additional pension benefit is, at the date on which the member ceased to be an active member, determined in one or the other of, or a combination of, the following forms, in accordance with the provisions of the pension plan:

(1) a life annuity;

(2) a lump-sum payment at the date on which the member ceased to be an active member.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 14; O.C. 204-2005, s. 1.

15.0.3. The life annuity purchased with the additional pension benefit is determined, on the date on which the member ceased to be an active member, using the assumptions referred to in section 61 of the Act that are used at that date to determine the value of the pension benefits to which section 60 of the Act applies and to which entitlement is obtained on that date.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 14.

DIVISION II.1

MEMBER BENEFITS AND PAYMENT OF AN EARLY BENEFIT

O.C. 1681-97, s. 3.

15.1. Unless provisions of the pension plan provide otherwise, payment of the early benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act is made from the benefits of the member that, accumulated as refunds or benefits, are related to amounts credited to the member's account as contributions paid, assets transferred and interest on such contributions and assets but that have not yet been used to provide a benefit.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 3.

15.2. Where payment of the early benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act is made from the benefits referred to in section 15.1, the value of such benefits, determined as at the date of payment, is reduced by the amount of the benefit paid.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 3.

15.3. Where payment of the early benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act is made from pension plan benefits accumulated by the member that are not referred to in section 15.1, the pension committee shall determine the amount of the portion of the normal pension that would have been payable to the member at the normal retirement age and that is equivalent to the benefit paid.

That amount, as well as the value of the benefits referred to in subparagraph 3 of the first paragraph of section 69.1 of the Act, shall be determined, as at the date of payment, according to the conditions or characteristics provided for the normal pension and according to the assumptions referred to in section 61 of the Act, other than those related to early or postponed payment of the pension which are used at that date to determine the value of the other benefits to which section 60 of the Act applies and to which entitlement is vested as at that date.

The benefits referred to in the first paragraph are then reduced in the following manner:

(1) The pension paid is reduced either by the amount determined in the second paragraph or, if its requirements and characteristics, with the exception of those related to early or postponed payment, are different from those used to determine such amount or, if its payment begins on a date other than that of the normal retirement age, by a sum equivalent to such amount;

(2) any other benefit, excluding the one referred to in section 69.1 of the Act and any refund that are payable to the member are reduced by the value of that portion of the pension of which the valuated amount is referred to in the second paragraph.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 3; O.C. 173-2002, s. 15.

DIVISION II.2
TEMPORARY PENSION

O.C. 1681-97, s. 3.

15.4. A member or spouse is entitled to the replacement of the pension to which he is entitled under a pension plan by the temporary pension referred to in section 91.1 of the Act only if he provides the pension committee with a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.1.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 3.

DIVISION III
OPTION TO REPLACE A PENSION

16. For the purposes of this Division, the spouse of a purchaser who is a former member or a member is a person who fulfills the conditions prescribed in the first and third paragraphs of section 85 of the Act, with the necessary modifications in the case of a former member.

Spousal status is established on the day of conversion of all or part of the balance of the fund into a life pension or, in the case of the benefit referred to in subparagraph 4 of the first paragraph of section 19, on the day preceding the day of the purchaser's death. The fourth paragraph of section 85 of the Act applies, with the necessary modifications, with respect to the spouse.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 16; O.C. 173-2002, s. 16.

16.1. A member or spouse who has become entitled to a pension under a defined contribution pension plan or under provisions that, in a defined benefit plan or defined benefit-defined contribution plan, are similar to those of a defined contribution plan is entitled, upon an application to the pension committee accompanied with a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.2, to replace it, before payment of it begins, by a lump-sum payment under the following conditions:

(1) he is at least 65 years of age;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) the total of the sums credited to his account in the retirement savings instruments referred to in Schedule 0.2 do not exceed 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings determined in accordance with the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) for the year in which he applies for the payment.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 4.

16.2. On application to the pension committee accompanied with a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.3, a member or spouse at least 55 years of age but less than 65 years of age who has become entitled to a pension under a pension plan is entitled to replace it partially, before it comes into payment, by the payment in a lump sum of an amount equal to “Y” in the following formula:

$$G - W = Y$$

“G” is equal to 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings determined, for the year in which the application is made, pursuant to the Act Respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9);

“W” is equal to the total temporary income that the purchaser has received or must receive during the year under a supplemental pension plan subject to or created by law from the locked-in account of a voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1) or the locked-in account of an equivalent voluntary retirement savings plan emanating from a legislative authority other than the Parliament of Québec and offering temporary variable payments, an annuity purchase contract of which the capital originates directly or not in such plan or a contract establishing a life income fund.

The member or spouse may not make the application provided for in the first paragraph more than once a year.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 4; O.C. 500-2014, s. 4.

16.3. Sections 15.1 to 15.3 apply, with the necessary modifications, with respect to the allocation of benefits and the determination of residual benefits of the member or spouse to whom a payment referred to in section 16.2 has been paid.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 4.

17. A member or spouse who has become entitled to a pension under a pension plan may replace such pension with a life or temporary annuity purchased with funds from the life income fund referred to in section 18. The exercise of this option involves the transfer to a life income fund of the value of the pension to be replaced.

Unless the pension plan has a more advantageous provision, the pension under the plan is not replaced by an annuity purchased from the funds of a life income fund, unless the pension to be replaced may, under the provisions of the Act, the pension plan or the Regulation, be transferred in whole or in part to another pension plan.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 17; O.C. 1681-97, s. 5.

18. A life income fund is a fund established under a contract entered into by a financial institution duly authorized for that purpose and a purchaser who is a former member, a member or the spouse thereof, and under the terms of which the institutions, in return for the capital that it receives, must pay the purchaser an income of which the amount may vary annually. That contract must fulfil the requirements of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3) to be a registered retirement income fund.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 18; O.C. 1681-97, s. 6.

19. Replacement of the pension referred to in section 92 of the Act by a life pension is authorized only where the provisions of the contract establishing the life income fund are in conformity with provisions of the standard contract previously registered with Retraite Québec that provide:

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(0.1) that the only amounts that may be transferred to a life income fund are amounts coming directly or initially from the fund of a pension plan subject to the Act or referred to in subparagraphs 1, 2, 2.1, 2.2, 4 or 5 of section 28, or another life income fund;

(1) the fiscal year of the fund must end on 31 December of each year and may not exceed 12 months;

(2) that the amount of the income paid during a fiscal year must, subject to the upper limits referred to in section 20.1 and the lower limit referred to in section 20.2, be set by the purchaser each year, or at another agreed to interval of more than one year if the financial institution guarantees the balance of the fund at the end of that interval and if the purchaser is not entitled to payment of the income in a form other than a life income; such an interval must, in every case, terminate at the end of a fiscal year of the fund;

(3) (subparagraph revoked);

(4) that, where the purchaser who is a former member or a member dies before conversion of the total balance of the fund into a life pension, his spouse or, failing that, his successors are, entitled to a benefit of which the amount is equal to the balance;

(5) that the spouse of the purchaser who is a former member or beneficiary may, by giving notice in writing to the financial institution, waive his entitlement to receive the pension benefit provided for in paragraph 4 above or the life pension provided for in paragraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 23 and may, in the case of the pension benefit, revoke such a waiver by giving notice in writing to the financial institution to that effect before the death of the purchaser and, in the case of the life pension, before the date of conversion, in whole or in part, of the life income fund;

(6) that the spouse of the purchaser who is a former member or a member ceases to be entitled to the pension benefit provided for in paragraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 23 upon separation from bed and board, divorce, nullity of marriage, nullity or dissolution of a civil union or, in the case of a spouse who is not a married or civil union spouse, upon cessation of the conjugal relationship, unless the purchaser has transmitted to the financial institution the notice provided for in section 89 of the Act;

(6.0.1) that the seizable portion of the balance of the fund may be paid in a lump sum in execution of a judgment rendered in favour of the purchaser's spouse that gives entitlement to a seizure for unpaid alimony;

(6.1) that the entire balance of the fund may be paid in a lump-sum to the purchaser upon an application to the financial institution accompanied with a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.2 under the following conditions:

(a) the purchaser is at least 65 years of age at the end of the year preceding the application;

(b) the total sums credited to his account in the retirement savings instruments referred to in Schedule 0.2 do not exceed 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings determined in accordance with the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) for the year in which the purchaser applies for the payment;

(7) that the purchaser may transfer, in whole or in part, the balance of the fund to a pension plan governed by the Act or referred to in paragraph 1, 2, 2.1, 2.2, 3.1, 4 or 5 of section 28, unless the agreed to term of the investments has not expired;

(7.1) that the purchaser may, unless the agreed to term of the investments has not expired, require that the total balance of the fund be paid to him in a lump sum if he has not resided in Canada since at least 2 years;

(8) the name and address of the financial institution;

(9) the powers that, where applicable, are granted to the purchaser with respect to investment of the capital;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(10) the method and factors used to establish the value of the fund or of the balance of the fund, for the purpose of a transfer of assets or a conversion into a pension, or upon a death;

(10.1) that if the income paid to the purchaser during a fiscal year of the fund exceeds the maximum amount that may be paid to him in accordance with the provisions of the contract of the Regulation, the purchaser may, unless the payment is attributable to a false declaration by him, require that the financial institution pay him, as a penalty, a sum equal to the surplus income paid;

(11) that the financial institution may not make any amendment that would have the effect of reducing benefits under the contract unless, before the date of the amendment, the purchaser has the right to transfer the balance of the fund and receives, not less than 90 days before the date on which he may exercise that right, a notice indicating the nature of the amendment and the date from which he may exercise that right;

(12) that the transfer referred to in subparagraphs 7 and 11 may, at the option of the financial institution and unless otherwise stipulated, be effected by remittance of the investment securities of the fund;

(13) that the financial institution may not, except to fulfil requirements under law, make any amendment other than the amendment provided for in subparagraph 11 without having given prior notice to the purchaser;

(14) that the financial institution may amend the contract only to the extent that it remains in conformity with the standard contract amended and registered with Retraite Québec.

Sections 27 to 31 of the Act and the second and third paragraphs of section 32 of the Act apply, with the necessary modifications, to the registration of a standard contract designed to propose the establishment of a life income fund and to amendments thereto. The registration of a standard contract may, in addition, be cancelled where no contract establishing a life income fund in conformity with it exists and where the financial institution attests that it no longer intends to make any contracts in conformity with that standard contract.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 19; O.C. 1681-97, s. 7; O.C. 173-2002, s. 17; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 6; O.C. 500-2014, s. 5.

19.1. The standard contract referred to in section 19 may also provide that the purchaser is entitled to the payment of a temporary income that he determines if he meets the following requirements:

(1) makes an application to the financial institution to that effect, accompanied with a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.4;

(2) is at least 54 years of age but under 65 years at the end of the year preceding the application.

In such case, the contract must also provide:

(1) that if the payment of a portion of the income is made in the form of a transfer to a retirement savings instrument of which the balance is not to be converted to a life annuity, such portion may not exceed the upper limit referred to in section 20, determined by assuming that the purchaser is not entitled to payment of a temporary income;

(2) that the temporary income may not be paid after the end of the year in which the purchaser reaches 65 years of age.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 8; I.N. 2014-03-01.

19.2. The standard contract that includes the provisions referred to in section 19.1 shall provide that the purchaser may, during a fiscal year of the life income fund, receive on application the balance of the fund, in whole or in part, in the form of a temporary income payable in monthly payments, none of which may exceed $\frac{1}{12}$ of the difference between the following amounts:

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(1) 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings determined, for the year in which the payment is made, pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9);

(2) 75% of the purchaser's income for the 12 months that follow, excluding the income provided for in this section, provided the following conditions are met:

— the income of the purchaser for the 12 months that follow, excluding the income provided for in this section, does not exceed the amount referred to in subparagraph 1 hereinbefore;

— the purchaser makes an application to the financial institution to that effect, accompanied with a declaration in conformity to the one prescribed in Schedule 0.5 and his written undertaking to request a suspension of payments as soon as his income, excluding the income provided for in this section, reaches the amount referred to in subparagraph 1 hereinbefore;

— the purchaser was less than 54 years of age at the end of the year that precedes his application.

In such case, the contract shall stipulate:

(1) that the income provided for in this section may not be paid to the purchaser where he has requested a suspension of payments nor after the end of the year in which he reaches 54 years of age;

(2) that the purchaser who is entitled to receive the income referred to in this section and who is a member or spouse who has become entitled to a pension under a pension plan may, for the purposes of replacing such pension by a temporary income, apply once a year for the transfer from the pension plan to the life income fund of an amount equal to the lesser of the following amounts:

(a) the additional amount required for the balance of the life income fund to allow, until the end of the year, the payment of the monthly payments provided for in the first paragraph;

(b) the value of his benefits under the plan.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 8; O.C. 577-98, s. 1.

19.3. Replacement of the pension referred to in section 92 of the Act by a temporary pension is authorized only where the contract establishing the life income fund contains the provisions required in sections 19, 19.1 and 19.2.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 8.

20. The maximum amount of the life income for a fiscal year of the life income fund is equal to the amount "E" in the following formula:

$$F \times C - \frac{A}{D} = E$$

"F" represents the factor provided for in Schedule 0.6 with respect to the reference rate for the year covered by the fiscal year and the purchaser's age at the end of the preceding year;

"C" represents the balance of the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year, increased by any sums transferred to the fund after that date and reduced by any sums originating directly or not during the same year from a life income fund or the locked-in account of a voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1) and offering variable payments of the purchaser;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

“A” represents the maximum temporary income for the fiscal year determined in accordance with section 20.4 or 20.5 or, if no amount was determined, the figure zero;

“D” represents the factor provided for in Schedule 0.7 with respect to the purchaser’s age at the end of the year preceding the one covered by the fiscal year.

The amount “E” may not be less than zero.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 20; O.C. 1681-97, s. 9; O.C. 577-98, s. 2; O.C. 500-2014, s. 6.

20.1. The amount of the income paid during a fiscal year of the life income fund may not exceed the amount “M” in the following formula:

$$A + E = M$$

“A” represents the maximum temporary income for the fiscal year determined in accordance with section 20.4 or 20.5 or, if no amount was determined, the figure zero;

“E” represents the maximum life income determined in accordance with section 20.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 9; O.C. 577-98, s. 2.

20.2. The amount of the income paid during the fiscal year of the life income fund may not be less than the minimum amount prescribed by the Taxation Act (chapter I-3), determined on the basis of the purchaser’s age. That amount may be determined on the basis of the age of the purchaser’s spouse where he is younger than the purchaser.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 9.

20.3. Where the purchaser of a life income fund established by a contract that provides for payment of a temporary income was at least 54 years of age but less than 65 years of age at the end of the year preceding the one covered by a fiscal year of the fund, the financial institution that manages the fund shall establish a reference temporary income the amount of which shall be equal to the lesser of the following amounts:

(1) 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings, determined for the year covered by the fiscal year, pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9);

(2) the amount “R” in the following formula:

$$F \times C \times D = R$$

“F” represents the factor provided for in Schedule 0.6 with respect to the reference rate for the year covered by the fiscal year and the purchaser’s age at the end of the preceding year;

“C” represents the balance of the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year, increased by the sums transferred to the fund after that date and reduced by the sums originating directly or not during the same year from a life income fund of the purchaser, or from a locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1) and offering variable payments;

“D” represents the factor provided for in Schedule 0.7 with respect to the purchaser’s age at the end of the year preceding the one covered by the fiscal year.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 9; O.C. 500-2014, s. 7.

20.4. A purchaser who is entitled to payment of the temporary income referred to in section 19.1 may determine, for each fiscal year of the life income fund, a maximum temporary income that may not exceed the lesser of the following amounts:

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (1) the reference temporary income determined in accordance with section 20.3;
- (2) the amount “X” in the following formula:

$$G - T = X$$

“G” is equal to 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings determined, for the year covered by the fiscal year, pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9);

“T” represents the sum of the following amounts:

- (a) the total temporary income that the purchaser must receive during the year covered by the fiscal year under a pension plan subject to or established by law or under a contract creating a pension of which the capital comes directly or not from such a plan;
- (b) the total of the amounts that the purchaser has determined or that he must determine for his other life income funds, in the form of a maximum temporary income for the current fiscal year;
- (c) the total of the amounts that the member has determined or that he must determine for the locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1) for the maximum temporary variable payments for the current fiscal year.

However, in the event that the reference temporary income determined in accordance with section 20.3 is less than the amount “X” in the first paragraph, where the purchaser provides to the financial institution a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.8, the purchaser may determine, as the maximum temporary income, an amount that does not exceed the lesser of the following amounts:

- (1) the amount “X” in the first paragraph;
- (2) the balance of the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year, increased by any sums transferred to the fund and any income earned by the fund after that date and reduced by any sums originating directly or not during the same year from a life income fund of the purchaser, or from a locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act and offering variable payments.

The purchaser may, at any time before the end of the fiscal year, determine a new, increased, maximum temporary income for the fiscal year. In such event, he shall send to the financial institution declarations in conformity with the ones prescribed in Schedules 0.4 and 0.8.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 9; O.C. 500-2014, s. 8.

20.5. The financial institution determines the maximum temporary income for the fiscal year of the life income fund following presentation of an application in accordance with section 19.2. The said income shall be equal to the product of multiplying the maximum monthly payment set in accordance with section 19.2 by the number of months remaining in the year as of the first day of the month of the application or, where the purchaser is entitled, for that month, to a temporary income by reason of a prior application, as of the first day of the following month; the product is increased where necessary by any income provided for in section 19.2 and paid to the purchaser during the year but prior to payment of the income payable as a consequence of the application and reduced by any income paid to the purchaser, during the same period, from another life income fund.

The maximum temporary income for the fiscal year may not be less than zero.

O.C. 577-98, s. 3.

21. The reference rate for a year is determined on the basis of the month-end, nominal rate of interest earned on long-term bonds issued by the Government of Canada for the month of November preceding the beginning of the fiscal year, as compiled monthly by Statistics Canada and published in the Bank of Canada Banking and Financial Statistics, Series V122487 in the CANSIM system, by applying successively to that rate the following adjustments:

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (1) an increase of 0.5%;
- (2) the conversion of the increased rate, based on interest compounded semi-annually, to an effective annual rate of interest;
- (3) the rounding of the effective interest rate to the nearest multiple of 0.5%.

The reference rate thus determined may not, however, be less than 6%.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 21; Erratum, 1991 G.O. 2, 41; O.C. 1681-97, s. 10; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 7.

22. Where, in application of subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 19, the amount of the life income paid to the purchaser is set at an interval of more than one year, the maximum income amount that may be paid during each of the fiscal years comprised in the interval is determined, on the date of the beginning of the first of those fiscal years, so as to be equal:

- (1) for the initial fiscal year, to the upper limit determined in accordance with section 20;
- (2) for each of the subsequent fiscal years, to the amount “L” in the following formula:

$$M \times \frac{J}{K} = L$$

“M” represents the upper limit determined for the initial fiscal year;

“J” represents the balance of the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year;

“K” represents the fund’s reference balance at the beginning of the fiscal year and is equal to the reference balance of the preceding fiscal year, reduced as of the first day of the said preceding fiscal year by the upper limit calculated for the initial fiscal year and increased by the earnings determined by applying, in the case of the first 16 fiscal years, the reference rate, and, in all other cases, a rate of interest of 6%.

For the application of subparagraph 2, the fund’s reference balance at the beginning of the initial fiscal year shall be equal to the balance of the fund at that date.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 22; O.C. 1681-97, s. 11.

22.1. Where a sum is transferred from a pension plan to a life income fund in accordance with subparagraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 19.2, sections 15.1 to 15.3 shall apply, with the necessary modifications, with respect to the allocation of benefits and the determination of the residual benefits of the member or spouse in the pension plan.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 12.

22.2. The sums transferred to a life income fund are deemed to come in their entirety from a life income fund of a given purchaser, or from the locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1) and offering variable payments, unless he sends to the financial institution that manages the fund to which the sums are transferred a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.9 or 0.9.1, as the situation requires.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 12; O.C. 577-98, s. 4; O.C. 500-2014, s. 9.

23. To be registered with Retraite Québec, a standard contract referred to in section 19 must, in addition to the provisions required by sections 19, 19.1 and 19.2, provide that the financial institution that manages the life income fund undertake to provide the statements prescribed in sections 24 to 26 at the times determined therein.

That contract must also provide that all or a part of the balance of the life pension fund may be converted only upon the following conditions:

(1) the insurer guarantees payment of that pension in periodic, equal amounts that may not vary unless each of them is uniformly increased in accordance with an index or rate provided for in the annuity contract or uniformly adjusted by reason of a seizure effected on the purchaser's benefits, a redetermination of the purchaser's pension, a partition of the purchaser's benefits in favour of his spouse, the payment of a temporary pension in accordance with the conditions provided for in section 91.1 of the Act or the option provided for in subparagraph 3 of the first paragraph of section 93 of the Act;

(2) in the event of the death of a purchaser who is a former member or a member, the insurer guarantees to the purchaser's spouse who has not waived it a life pension equal to at least 60% of the amount of purchaser's pension, including, during the replacement period, the amount of any temporary pension.

The provisions required by this section shall be included in any contract that establishes a life income fund.
O.C. 1158-90, s. 23; O.C. 1681-97, s. 13; O.C. 173-2002, s. 18.

24. The financial institution shall, at the beginning of each fiscal year of a life income fund that it manages, provide the purchaser with a statement that indicates:

(1) the balance of the fund at the said date and, where required, the reconciliation of that balance with the balance indicated on the previous statement pertinent thereto with, notably, an indication of the sums on deposit, the accumulated earnings, the withdrawals made and the fees charged;

(2) where the beginning of the fiscal year is later than the beginning of the year, the sums coming directly or initially during the year from another life income fund of the purchaser, or from the locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1) and offering variable payments;

(3) the maximum amount that may be paid to the purchaser as income a life during the current fiscal year;

(4) the minimum amount that must be paid to the purchaser as income during the current fiscal year;

(5) where the contract that establishes the fund provides for the payment of a temporary income and the purchaser was at least 54 years of age but less than 65 years of age at the end of the preceding year:

(a) the terms and conditions that the purchaser must meet to be entitled to payment of the temporary income referred to in section 19.1;

(b) the reference temporary income for the current fiscal year;

(c) the effect of payment of an income greater than the amount referred to in paragraph 3, for each year until the end of the year in which the purchaser reaches 65 years of age, on the income that may be paid to him after that date;

(d) under what conditions the purchaser may obtain payment of a temporary income greater than the reference temporary income;

(6) where the contract establishing the funds provides for payment of a temporary income and the purchaser was less than 54 years of age at the end of the preceding year, the terms and conditions that the purchaser must meet to be entitled to payment of the temporary income referred to in section 19.2;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(7) that the transfer to the fund of sums originating directly or not from a life income fund of the purchaser, or from the locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act and offering variable payments during a given year may not result in a revision of the maximum amount that may be paid to the purchaser by the fund during the fiscal year;

(8) that if the purchaser wishes to transfer, in whole or in part, the balance of the fund and still receive from the fund the income that he determined for the fiscal year, he must ensure that the balance of the fund after the transfer is at least equal to the difference between the income determined for the fiscal year and the income that he has already received since the beginning of the fiscal year.

Where the contract establishing the fund provides for payment of a temporary income and the purchaser was at least 54 years of age but less than 65 years of age at the end of the preceding year, the financial institution shall accompany the statement with a copy of the declarations that are prescribed in Schedules 0.4 and 0.8.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 24; O.C. 1681-97, s. 14; O.C. 173-2002, s. 19; O.C. 500-2014, s. 10.

24.1. Where sums that do not originate, during the same year, directly or indirectly from a life income fund of the purchaser, or from the locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1) and offering variable payments are deposited in a fund that it manages or the purchaser informs it of the maximum temporary income that he determines, the financial institution shall, within the following 30 days, supply the purchaser with a statement that indicates the following:

(1) the balance of the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year and the sums that have been deposited therein, identifying any amounts coming directly or not during that year from a life income fund of the purchaser, or from the locked-in account of his voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act and offering variable payments, as well as the balance of the fund for the purpose of calculating the maximum amount that may be paid to the purchaser as income during the fiscal year;

(2) the maximum amount that may be paid to the purchaser as income during the fiscal year;

(3) the minimum amount that must be paid to the purchaser as income during the fiscal year;

(4) where the contract establishing the fund provides for payment of a temporary income and the purchaser is at least 54 years of age but less than 65 years of age at the end of the preceding year:

(a) the reference temporary income for the current fiscal year;

(b) the maximum temporary income, if any, determined by the purchaser.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 15; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 8; O.C. 500-2014, s. 11.

25. Where the purchaser who is a former member or a member dies before the total balance of the life income fund has been converted into a life pension, the financial institution that manages that fund must provide to the purchaser's spouse or, failing that, to his successors a statement established at the date of death and containing the information prescribed in paragraph 1 of section 24 and established at the date of the member's death.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 25; O.C. 173-2002, s. 20.

26. Where the total balance of the life income fund is transferred to another financial institution or converted into a life pension with an insurer, the institution that manages the fund must provide to the purchaser a statement containing the information prescribed in paragraph 1 of section 24 and established at the date of the transfer or of the annuity contract.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 26.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION IV

TRANSFER OF BENEFITS AND ASSETS

27. For the purposes of this Division, the spouse is the person who fulfils the conditions prescribed in the first and third paragraphs of section 85 of the Act.

Spousal status is established on the day on which payment of the pension to the purchaser begins or on the day preceding his death, whichever comes first. The fourth paragraph of section 85 of the Act applies, with the necessary modifications, with respect to the spouse referred to in this section.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 27; O.C. 173-2002, s. 21.

28. The pension plans not governed by the Act and to which transfers may be made under section 98 of the Act are:

(1) a supplemental pension plan governed by an act emanating from a legislative authority other than the Parliament of Québec and granting entitlement to a deferred pension;

(2) a supplemental pension plan established by an act emanating from the Parliament of Québec or from another legislative authority;

(2.1) the locked-in account of a voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act (chapter R-17.0.1);

(2.2) the locked-in account of an equivalent voluntary retirement savings plan emanating from a legislative authority other than the Parliament of Québec, provided the member joins that plan as part of his employment;

(3) for sums that may be refunded to the member or paid to him in a lump sum, with accrued interest, a registered retirement savings plan or the not locked-in account of a voluntary retirement savings plan governed by the Voluntary Retirement Savings Plans Act;

(3.1) a life income fund referred to in section 18;

(4) a locked-in retirement account referred to in section 29;

(5) an annuity contract referred to in section 30.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 28; O.C. 1681-97, s. 16; O.C. 173-2002, s. 22; O.C. 500-2014, s. 12.

29. A locked-in retirement account is an account established under an agreement in writing entered into by a purchaser who is a former member, a member or the spouse thereof and a financial institution authorized for that purpose in order to pay a retirement pension to the purchaser. That agreement must fulfil the requirements of the Taxation Act (chapter I-3) in order to be a registered retirement savings plan.

An agreement establishing a locked-in retirement account must be in conformity with the standard contract previously registered with Retraite Québec, which must provide:

(1) that the only sums that may be transferred into the locked-in retirement account are the sums originating, directly or initially, from the fund of a pension plan governed by the Act or referred to in paragraph 1, 2, 2.1, 2.2, 3.1 or 5 of section 28, or from another locked-in retirement account;

(2) that, with the exception of the cases referred to in paragraphs 3 and 8 to 9.1, the balance of the account may only be converted into a life pension guaranteed by an insurer and established for the duration of the life of the purchaser alone or for the duration of the life of the purchaser and the life of his spouse; the periodic amounts paid under that pension must be equal, unless each amount to be paid is uniformly increased by reason of an index or a rate provided for in the contract or uniformly adjusted by reason of a seizure effected on the benefits of the purchaser, a redetermination of the purchaser's pension, partition of the purchaser's benefits with his spouse, the payment of a temporary pension under the conditions provided for in section 91.1 of the Act or the election provided for under paragraph 3 of the first paragraph of section 93 of the Act.

(3) that where the purchaser who is a former member or a member dies before the conversion of the balance of the account into a pension, that balance is paid to his spouse or, failing that, to his successors;

(4) that the purchaser may require the conversion of the balance of the account into a life pension at any time, unless the term agreed to for the investments has not expired;

(5) that the balance of the account may not be converted into a pension guaranteed by an insurer unless, at the death of the purchaser who is a former member or a member, a life pension equal to at least 60% of the amount of the purchaser's pension, including, during the replacement period, the amount of any temporary pension is granted to his spouse who has not waived it;

(6) that the purchaser's spouse may, by giving written notice to the financial institution, waive his right to receive the payment provided for in paragraph 3 or the pension provided for in paragraph 5 and may revoke such a waiver by transmitting to the financial institution a written notice to that effect before, in the case referred to in paragraph 3, the death of the purchaser or, in the case referred to in paragraph 5, the date of conversion, in whole or in part, of the balance of the account into a life pension;

(7) that the spouse of the purchaser ceases to be entitled to the benefit provided for in paragraph 3 or, as the case may be, in paragraph 5 upon separation from bed and board, divorce, nullity of marriage, dissolution or nullity of civil union or, in the case of a spouse who is not a married or civil union spouse, upon cessation of conjugal relationship, unless the purchaser has transmitted to the financial institution the notice provided for in paragraph 7 of the second paragraph section 89 of the Act;

(7.1) that the seizable portion of the balance of the fund may be paid in a lump sum in execution of a judgment rendered in favour of the purchaser's spouse that gives entitlement to a seizure for unpaid alimony;

(8) that the purchaser may transfer, in whole or in part, the balance of the account to a pension plan governed by the Act or referred to in paragraph 1, 2, 2.1, 2.2, 3.1, 4 or 5 of section 28, unless the agreed to term of the investments has not expired;

(8.1) that the purchaser may, unless the agreed to term of the investments has not expired, require that the total balance of the fund be paid to him in a lump sum if he has not resided in Canada since at least 2 years;

(9) that the purchaser may withdraw all or a part of the balance of the account and receive a payment or a series of payments where a physician certifies that his physical or mental disability reduces his life expectancy;

(9.1) that the entire balance of the account may be paid in a lump-sum to a purchaser on application to the financial institution accompanied with a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.2, on the following conditions:

(a) the purchaser was at least 65 years of age at the end of the year preceding the application;

(b) the total of the sums credited to him in the retirement savings instruments mentioned in Schedule 0.2 does not exceed 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings, for the year in which the purchaser applies for payment, pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9);

(10) that the purchaser is entitled to receive, at least once a year, a statement indicating the sums deposited, their source, the accumulated earnings, the fees debited since the last statement and the balance of the account;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(10.1) that where a sum is paid from the account contrary to the provisions of the contract or the Regulation purchaser may, unless the payment is attributable to a false declaration by him, require that the financial institution pay him, as a penalty, a sum equal to the irregular payment;

(11) that the financial institution may make no amendment that would entail a reduction of the benefits resulting from the agreement unless the purchaser is entitled, before the date of the amendment, to a transfer of the balance of the account and has received, at least 90 days before the date on which he may exercise that entitlement, a notice indicating to him the subject of the amendment and the date from which he may exercise that entitlement;

(12) that the transfer referred to in subparagraphs 8 and 11 may, at the option of the financial institution and unless otherwise stipulated, be effected by remittance of the investment securities respecting the account;

(13) that the financial institution may not, except to fulfil requirements under law, make any amendment other than that provided for in subparagraph 11 without having previously notified the purchaser;

(14) that the financial institution may amend the agreement only to the extent that it remains in conformity with the standard contract amended and registered with Retraite Québec.

Sections 27 to 31 of the Act and the second and third paragraphs of section 32 of the Act apply, with the necessary modifications, to the registration of a standard contract designed to propose the establishment of a locked-in retirement account and to amendments thereto. The registration of a standard contract may, in addition, be cancelled where no contract establishing a life income fund in conformity with it exists and where the financial institution attests that it no longer intends to make any contracts in conformity with that standard contract.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 29; O.C. 1681-97, s. 17; O.C. 173-2002, s. 23; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 9; O.C. 500-2014, s. 13.

30. An annuity contract is a contract under which, in consideration for capital originating directly or initially from the fund of a supplemental pension plan, an insurer guarantees to the purchaser who is a former member, a member or the spouse thereof a life pension of which payment begins immediately after the transfer of the capital or is deferred to a later date. The text of that contract must provide that:

(1) the insurer may, for the purposes of purchasing the pension, accept only sums originating directly or initially from the pension fund of a plan governed by the Act or referred to in paragraphs 1, 2, 2.1, 2.2, 3.1 or 4 of section 28, or from another insurer who is a party to a similar annuity contract;

(2) with the exception of the cases referred to in paragraph 3 or in section 31, the pension benefit resulting from the contract may not be paid to the purchaser or to his spouse except in the form of a life pension established for the duration of the life of the purchaser alone or for the duration of the life of the purchaser and the life of his spouse; the periodic amounts paid under that pension must be equal, unless each amount to be paid is increased by reason of an index or rate provided for in the contract or uniformly adjusted by reason of a seizure effected on the benefits of the purchaser, a redetermination of the purchaser's pension, the partition of the benefits of the purchaser with his spouse, the payment of a temporary pension under the conditions provided for in section 91.1 of the Act or the election provided for in subparagraph 3 of the first paragraph of section 93 of the Act;

(3) where the purchaser who is a former member or a member dies before the beginning of payment of the pension, his spouse or, failing that, his successors are entitled to a benefit at least equal to the capital transferred to the insurer with interest accrued at the rate obtained monthly on 5-year personal term deposits in chartered banks, as compiled by the Bank of Canada;

(4) where the purchaser who is a former member or a member dies after the beginning of payment of his pension, the insurer grants to the purchaser's spouse who has not waived it a life pension equal to at least 60% of the amount of the purchaser's pension, including, during the period of replacement, the amount of any temporary pension;

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(5) the spouse of the purchaser may, by giving written notice to the insurer, waive his entitlement to receive the benefit provided for in paragraph 3 or the pension provided for in paragraph 4 and may revoke such a waiver by giving written notice to that effect to the insurer before, in the case of the benefit, the death of the purchaser or, in the case of the pension, the beginning of payment of the purchaser's pension;

(6) the spouse of the purchaser ceases to be entitled to the benefit provided for in paragraph 3 or, as the case may be, in paragraph 4 upon separation from bed and board, divorce, nullity of marriage, dissolution or nullity of civil union or, in the case of a spouse who is not a married or civil union spouse, upon cessation of conjugal relationship, unless the purchaser has transmitted to the insurer the notice provided for in section 89 of the Act;

(7) where the pension paid to the purchaser was determined by taking into account his spouse's entitlement to the pension provided for in paragraph 4, the purchaser may, if the spouse is no longer entitled to that pension pursuant to paragraph 6, require that his pension be replaced by another pension, which has the same characteristics as the replaced pension, with the exception of the benefit granted to the spouse under paragraph 4, and whose value is equal to the value that pension commuted to the date of the purchaser's application for replacement;

(8) the seizable portion of the capital accrued to pay the pension may be paid in a lump sum in execution of a judgment rendered in favour of the purchaser's spouse that gives entitlement of a seizure for unpaid alimony.

31. Notwithstanding section 30, the annuity contract may provide that:

(1) the purchaser may transfer, in whole or in part, the commuted value of the pension that he receives or his deferred pension to a pension plan governed by the Act or referred to in paragraph 1, 2, 2.1, 2.2, 3.1, 4 or 5 of section 28;

(2) the purchaser may, if a physician certifies that his physical or mental disability reduces his life expectancy, replace all or a part of his deferred pension by a payment or a series of payments; that payment or, as the case may be the sum of those payments must at least equal the discounted value of the pension or of the part thereof replaced;

(3) that the purchaser, if he meets the following conditions:

— make an application to this effect to the insurer, accompanied with a declaration in conformity with the one prescribed in Schedule 0.10, prior to the beginning of payment of the pension to be replaced;

— be at least 55 years of age but less than 65 years of age,

may replace, in whole or in part, the pension referred to in paragraph 2 of section 30 with a temporary pension the annual amount of which may not, for the year in which payment begins, exceed 40% of the Maximum Pensionable Earnings determined pursuant to the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9).

DIVISION IV.1

TRANSFER, PARTITION AND SEIZURE OF THE PURCHASER'S BENEFITS

O.C. 173-2002, s. 26.

31.1. The benefits accrued in behalf of the purchaser in a life income fund or a locked-in retirement account or under an annuity contract referred to in section 30, which, following their partition or transfer in the cases and under the conditions referred to in sections 107 and 110 of the Act, are granted to the spouse of the purchaser, are paid by transferring their value to a plan governed by the Act or referred to in paragraph 1, 2, 2.1, 2.2, 3.1, 4 or 5 of section 28.

A sum granted to the spouse of the purchaser following a seizure for unpaid alimony effected on the benefits or sums accrued on behalf of the purchaser in a life income fund or a locked-in retirement account or under an annuity contract referred to in section 30 shall be paid in a lump sum. That sum may, moreover, be paid without taking into account any conditions or time periods related to the purchaser's benefits.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 26; O.C. 500-2014, s. 16.

DIVISION V

TRANSFER OF BENEFITS BETWEEN SPOUSES

§ 1. — Application and interpretation

32. This Division applies only to pension plans governed by Chapter I of the Act.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 32.

33. For the purposes of this Division:

“capital benefits” means benefits that have been accumulated by the member in the form of refunds, pensions or other pension benefits where those capital benefits are a function of the amounts which, credited to his account in the form of contributions paid, assets transferred and interest on those contributions and assets, have not yet been used for the purchase of a pension or other pension benefit; (droits en capital)

“pension benefits” means benefits that have been accumulated by the member in the form of refunds, pensions or other benefits and that, taking into account the obligations prescribed by the pension plan or the elections exercised by the member, are expressed as a pension or other pension benefits of a determined amount or of an amount corresponding to a percentage of the member's remuneration and includes benefits relative to excess member contributions, with accrued interest, up to the ceiling set in section 60 of the Act, and benefits relative to the additional pension benefit provided for in section 60.1 of the Act; (droits en rente)

“date of institution of the action” means the date of the application for separation from bed and board, for divorce, for annulment of marriage, dissolution or nullity of a civil union, or for payment of a compensatory allowance, according to the procedure at the origin of the partition or transfer of benefits; (date de l'introduction de l'instance)

“period of membership” means, unless provided otherwise in this Regulation, the number of whole months or parts of months between the date of which the member became a member of the pension plan and the date on which he ceased to be an active member, without taking into account the months during which he did not work for an employer who is a party to the plan; where the member is active on the valuation date, the date on which the member ceased to be an active member corresponds to the valuation date; in the case of transfer of benefits or assets, the contribution period also comprises the period relative to membership in the plans from which the rights and assets were transferred. (période de participation)

“valuation date” means

- (1) for the purposes of preparing the statement referred to in section 108 of the Act,
 - (a) the date of the institution of the action, if the application for the statement is made after the institution of an action provided for in the first paragraph of section 108;
 - (b) the date the member and the member's spouse ceased to live together, if the application for the statement is made on the occasion of mediation concerning a family matter;

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(c) the date set for determining the net value of family patrimony, if the application for the statement is made during a joint procedure before a notary for the dissolution of a civil union;

(d) the date of the cessation of the conjugal relationship, if the application for the statement is made following the cessation of the conjugal relationship of spouses who are not married or civil union spouses;

(2) for any other purposes, the date set for the valuation of the member's benefits in the pension plan by the judgment, transaction contract or agreement giving rise to the partition or transfer of the benefits or, if there is no provision in the judgment, contract or agreement, the date provided for by the act governing the partition of the spouses' property. (date de l'évaluation).

The period of membership defined in the first paragraph may, if the pension plan so stipulates, be determined in days instead of months. In such case, this section as well as sections 35, 39 to 42 and 44 apply by substituting the word "days" for the word "months".

O.C. 1158-90, s. 33; Erratum, 1991 G.O. 2, 41; O.C. 173-2002, s. 27; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 11.

33.1. For the purposes of sections 34 to 45 regarding married spouses whose marriage entailed the dissolution of their civil union:

- (1) the date of the marriage is replaced by the date of the civil union;
- (2) the period of the marriage begins on the date of the civil union.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 12.

§ 2. — Statement of the member's benefits

34. The application for the statement provided for in section 108 of the Act shall contain the following documents and information:

- (1) the name and address of the member or of his spouse;
- (2) in the case of married spouses, a proof of the date of their marriage and either a proof of the date on which proceedings were instituted or, where the application is made on the occasion of a mediation, a joint declaration of the date on which they ceased to live together;
 - (2.1) in the case of civil union spouses:
 - (a) proof of the date of their civil union;
 - (b) any of the following documents, as the case may be:
 - i. proof of the date on which the action was instituted;
 - ii. where the application is made on the occasion of a mediation, a joint declaration of the date on which the spouses ceased to live together;
 - iii. where the application is made during a joint procedure before a notary for the dissolution of the civil union, a joint declaration of the date set for determining the net value of family patrimony;
- (3) in the case of spouses who are not married or civil union spouses, an attestation from the member as to his spousal status as well as an attestation from the member and his spouse of the dates on which their conjugal relationship began and ended and, if they lived in a conjugal relationship for at least 1 year but less than 3 years, a proof of one or the other of the cases referred to in paragraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 85 of the Act.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The application made on the occasion of a mediation shall also contain the written confirmation of an accredited mediator to the effect that he received a mandate within the context of a family mediation. The application made during a joint procedure before a notary for the dissolution of the civil union must also contain a written confirmation of a notary to the effect that he or she received a mandate in connection with the joint procedure.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 34; O.C. 173-2002, s. 28; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 13.

35. The pension committee must, within 60 days of receiving the application, provide the applicant and his spouse with the statement referred to in section 108 of the Act.

That statement is divided into 2 parts, the first of which must contain the following information:

(1) the total benefits accumulated by the member from the date on which he or she became a member of the plan until the valuation date, and the value of those benefits;

(2) the benefits and value referred to in subparagraph 1, with an indication as to whether they are capital benefits or pension benefits;

(3) (subparagraph revoked);

(4) in the case of married or civil union spouses:

(a) the value of the benefits accrued during the marriage or civil union, distributed according to their nature as capital benefits or pension benefits;

(b) except where the value referred to in subparagraph a is calculated in accordance with paragraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 39, the number of months in the period of membership which began on the date on which the member joined the plan concerned as well as the number of those months in the period of the marriage or civil union and, where such information is available, the number of months in the period of membership in any other plan from which benefits or assets were transferred as well as the number of such months in the period of marriage or civil union;

(c) (subparagraph replaced);

(5) the residual value of the member's benefits after the final partition of benefits or the final transfer granted to a former spouse of the member that had the effect of reducing the member's benefits, where the pension committee has that residual value.

The first part of the statement shall be signed by the person who prepared it. Unless it the Court is shown that the benefits and periods appearing on the statement must be corrected or that the values appearing on the statement were not determined according to the rules provided for in this Division, the statement shall constitute proof of its content.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 35; O.C. 568-91, s. 4; O.C. 173-2002, s. 29; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 14.

35.1. The second part of the statement shall contain the following information:

(1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;

(2) in the case of married or civil union spouses, the date of the marriage or civil union and the valuation date;

(3) in the case of spouses who are not married or civil union spouses, the dates of the beginning and end of the conjugal relationship of the member and his spouse;

(4) the date on which the member joined the plan;

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(5) the personnel information relative to a member and his spouse and taken into account in determining the first part of the statement, with a mention that it may be in their interest to have the information corrected if it is erroneous;

(6) the name and address of the person to be contacted for any information concerning the plan;

(7) the terms, conditions and periods applicable to payment of the share that goes to the spouse, taking into account in particular, the plan's degree of solvency;

(8) the rules governing the calculation of the interest that is added to the amount granted to the spouse;

(9) in the event that the member's benefits include benefits or assets transferred from another plan and where the pension committee does not have the information required for the application of section 41, a mention of the fact that the value of the member's benefits given in the statement could be different if the committee was provided with the lacking information;

(10) in the event that, before producing the statement, the member's pension was determined to take into account entitlement of his or her spouse to the pension referred to in section 87 of the Act, a brief description of the rights and obligations arising from section 89.1 of the Act.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 30; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 15.

35.2. (Revoked).

O.C. 173-2002, s. 30; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 16.

§ 3. — Total benefits accumulated by the member

36. The total benefits accumulated by the member must be distributed according to their nature as capital benefits or pension benefits.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 36; O.C. 568-91, s. 5; O.C. 173-2002, s. 31; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 17.

36.1. The total benefits accumulated by the member correspond either to the bridging benefit, to the retirement, disability or replacement pension to which the member is entitled at the valuation date, or, if the member is not entitled to one of the pensions at the valuation date, to the deferred pension to which the member would be entitled if he or she terminated active membership on that date.

Where applicable, the following amounts established on the valuation date with accrued interest or the benefit that may be constituted by those amounts and interest and to which the member is entitled on that date or would be entitled if he or she terminated active membership on that date are included in the total benefits accumulated by the member:

(1) voluntary contributions credited to the member;

(2) excess member contributions over the limit set in section 60 of the Act;

(3) the additional pension benefit provided for in section 60.1 of the Act;

(4) the amounts previously transferred even otherwise than under section 98 of the Act.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 17.

37. The value of the member's total benefits corresponds to the value of the capital benefits and of the pension benefits accumulated at the valuation date.

The value of the pension benefits must be determined according to assumptions referred to in section 61 of the Act which, at that date, are used to establish the value of other benefits to which section 60 of the Act applies and to which entitlement is acquired at that date, it being understood that the progression of the member's remuneration after that date is not taken into account to determine that value.

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

The value of a deferred pension whose payment has not begun is determined according to the following formula:

$$\frac{O + P}{2}$$

“O” represents the value of the pension to which the member is entitled and the benefits resulting therefrom by supposing that payment of the pension begins on date on which the member reaches the normal retirement age;

“P” represents the value of the pension to which the member is entitled and the benefits resulting therefrom by supposing that the member acts so as to maximize it.

However, in the case of a member whose benefits correspond to a deferred pension to which the member would be entitled if the member terminated active membership on the valuation date, the value of the benefits related to the additional benefit referred to in section 60.1 of the Act and, unless the member has received payment of the benefit provided for in subdivision 0.1 of Division III of Chapter VI of the Act, the value of the benefits related to member contributions, with accrued interest, in excess of the limit set in section 60 of the Act are established assuming that the value of the deferred pension to which the member is entitled in accordance with the terms of subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 60 of the Act and, for the purpose of calculating elements A and B of section 60.1 of the Act, is, with respect to the member's service credited for the period during which section 60 of the Act applied with respect to the member, the value established according to the formula provided for in the third paragraph of this section.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 37; O.C. 173-2002, s. 32; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 18.

37.1. Where the valuation date corresponds to a date other than the date of the institution of the action and the value of the member's benefits at the valuation date is not known, the value of the member's total benefits corresponds to amount E in the following formula:

$$V \times p/X = E$$

“V” represents the value established in accordance with section 37 on the date of the institution of the action or on the date on which the transaction contract has been executed before a notary or, failing that, on the date of application for the statement;

“p” represents the number of months in the period of membership relative to the benefits included between the date on which the member's membership began and the valuation date;

“X” represent the number of months in the period of membership relative to the benefits included between the date on which the member's membership began and the date on which value “V” is established.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 19.

§ 4. — Value of benefits accumulated during the marriage or civil union

O.C. 1158-90, Sd. 4; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 20.

38. Where the member is entitled to a retirement, disability or replacement pension at the valuation date, the value of the benefits accumulated by the member on the date of his or her marriage or civil union is established assuming that the member is also entitled to such a pension for the service credited until that latter date.

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

O.C. 1158-90, s. 38; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 21.

39. The value of the capital benefits accumulated during the marriage or civil union is, depending on the circumstances, determined as follows:

(1) where the pension committee has information related to the sum accumulated as at the date of the marriage or civil union:

(a) if no benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act was paid or if no transfer referred to in subparagraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 19.2 of the Regulation was made between the date of the marriage or civil union and the valuation date, the value corresponds to the difference between the value of the capital benefits accumulated as at the valuation date and the sum accumulated as at the date of the marriage or civil union, increased by interest for the period included between the date of the marriage or civil union and the valuation date;

(b) if a benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act was paid or if a transfer referred to in subparagraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 19.2 of the Regulation was made between the date of the marriage or civil union and the valuation date and the pension committee has information related, as the case may be, to the amount accumulated to the date of payment of the benefit or the amount and the date of the transfer, the value is equal to the amount “W” in the following formula:

$$W = Y - Z \times \frac{Y}{Y + S}$$

“Y” represents the accumulated sum as at the valuation date;

“Z” represents the accumulated sum as at the date of the marriage or civil union, increased by the interest for the period included between the date of the marriage or civil union and the valuation date.

“S” represents the amount of the benefit paid, increased by interest for the period included between the date of payment and the valuation date;

(2) where the pension committee does not have information relative to the amount accumulated at the date of marriage or civil union or, where required, those related to the amount or to the date of payment of a benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act or to the date of a transfer referred to in subparagraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 19.2 of the Regulation, that value is equal to the amount obtained by multiplying the value of the capital benefits accumulated at the valuation date by the fraction represented by the number of months in the period of membership relative to those benefits between the date of marriage or civil union and the valuation date over the number of months in the period of membership relative to those benefits.

The interest referred to in subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph is calculated at the rates of return used during the period in question to calculate interest on the member contributions or, in the case of a non-contributory plan, on the employer contributions. Where that rate is not available, interest is calculated at the yearly rates provided for in Schedule I for the years indicated and, for the subsequent period, at the average annual rates of return on 5-year personal term deposits with chartered banks.

The average annual rates of return referred to in the second paragraph are determined by taking the average of the rates of return on those terms deposits, as compiled monthly by Statistics Canada and published in the

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Bank of Canada Banking and Financial Statistics, Series V122515 in CANSIM system. However, where the annual rates of return published monthly and available for the current year are fewer than 6 in number, that average is taken on the basis of the last 6 rates of return available.

Where the result of the calculation made in accordance with the third paragraph is not a multiple of one-quarter of one percent, the average is rounded down to the nearest one-quarter.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 39; O.C. 1681-97, s. 19; O.C. 173-2002, s. 33; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 22.

40. The value of the pension benefits accumulated during the marriage or civil union is equal to the amount obtained by multiplying the total value of the pension benefits by the fraction represented by the number of months in the period of membership relative to those benefits between the date of marriage or civil union and the valuation date over the number of months in the period of membership relative to those benefits.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 40; O.C. 173-2002, s. 34; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 23.

41. Where all or part of the capital benefits or of the pension benefits, as the case may be, consists of benefits or assets transferred from another pension plan and where the sums or benefits transferred, as well as the period of membership related thereto, are known, the value of the capital benefits or of the pension benefits accumulated during the marriage or civil union is, notwithstanding section 39 or section 40, equal to amount “V” in the following formula:

$$[G - T] \times \frac{a/p}{P} + T \times \frac{P - A}{P} = V$$

“G” represents the total value of the capital benefits or of the pension benefits, as the case may be, accumulated at the valuation date;

“T” represents, in the case of capital benefits, the amounts transferred plus interest calculated at the rates provided for in the second paragraph of section 39, for the period between the date of transfer and the valuation date and, in the case of pension benefits, the value of those transferred benefits, discounted at the valuation date;

“p” represents the number of months in the period of membership, excluding the months relative to all benefits or assets transferred;

“a” represents the number of months in the period of membership represented by “p” between the date of marriage or civil union and the valuation date;

“A” represents the number of months previous to the marriage or civil union in the period of membership in the plan from which the amounts or benefits were transferred;

“P” represents the number of months in the period of membership in the plan from which the sums or benefits were transferred.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 41; O.C. 173-2002, s. 35; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 24.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

42. Where the member's benefits have been partitioned or transferred to a spouse on a date prior to the valuation date, the value of the benefits accumulated during the most recent marriage or civil union must be determined as follows:

(1) where the residual value of the capital benefits or the amount of the residual pension arising from the partition or transfer is known, it corresponds to amount "N" in the following formula:

$$[G - R] \times M/Q = N$$

"G" represents the total residual value of the capital benefits or, in the case of pension benefits, the value of the total residual pension, at the valuation date;

"R" represents:

(1) in the case of capital benefits, their residual value at the date of the valuation of the previous partition or transfer, increased by interest calculated at the rate provided for in the second paragraph of section 39, for the period between that date and the valuation date;

(2) in the case of pension benefits, the value, at the valuation date, of the residual pension calculated at the date of the valuation of the previous partition or transfer;

"M" represents the number of months of membership in the period of the most recent marriage or civil union;

"Q" represents the number of months of membership between the date of the valuation of the previous partition or transfer and the valuation date;

(2) where the residual value of the capital benefits or the amount of the residual pension arising from that partition or transfer is not known, it corresponds to the total residual value of the member's benefits, adjusted pro rata to the number of months of the most recent marriage or civil union included in the period of membership over the total number of months elapsed before and during that marriage or civil union and included in that period of membership.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 42; O.C. 173-2002, s. 36; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 25.

43. Where the residual value of the capital benefits accumulated at the date of the member's most recent marriage or civil union is known, the value of the benefits accumulated during that marriage or civil union is, notwithstanding the rules provided for in section 42, calculated in accordance with subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 39 by substituting the residual value of the benefits for the value of the benefits.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 43; O.C. 173-2002, s. 37; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 26.

44. Where the valuation date corresponds to a date other than the date of institution of the action and the value of the member's benefits at the valuation date is not known, the value of the benefits accumulated by the member during the marriage or civil union is established by taking into account the following rules:

(1) the value of the capital benefits accumulated during the marriage or civil union is determined in the manner provided for in subparagraph 2 of the first paragraph of section 39 or, where applicable, section 42;

(2) for any purposes other than calculating the number of months in the period of membership included between the date of the marriage or civil union and the valuation date, the date of institution of the action, the date on which the transaction contract is executed before a notary or, failing that, the date of the application for the statement is considered the valuation date for the purposes of sections 36.1 to 43.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 44; O.C. 173-2002, s. 38; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 27.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

45. The total value of the benefits accumulated by the member during the member's marriage or civil union is equal to the sum of the value of the capital benefits and of the pension benefits accumulated during the marriage or civil union.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 45; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 28.

§ 5. — Execution of partition or of transfer of benefits

46. The application for partition or transfer of the member's benefits must be submitted with a copy of the following documents:

(1) if it follows a judgment pronouncing separation from bed and board, divorce, nullity of marriage or dissolution or nullity of civil union or ordering payment of a compensatory allowance,

(a) that judgment and any other judgment related to the partition or transfer of the member's benefits;

(b) the certificate of non-appeal;

(c) where applicable, the agreement entered into by the spouses on the partition or transfer of the member's benefits;

(2) if it follows the dissolution of a civil union by notarized joint declaration, the declaration and the transaction contract;

(3) if it follows the cessation of the conjugal relationship of spouses who are not married or civil union spouses, the agreement entered into by the spouses on the partition of the member's benefits.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 46; O.C. 173-2002, s. 39; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 29.

47. Unless the application for partition or for execution of the transfer is a joint application, the pension committee must, upon receipt, send the applicant's spouse a written notice informing him of that application and of the amount claimed by his spouse.

The pension committee may not execute the partition or transfer before the expiry of a 60-day period following the sending of that notice to the applicant's spouse, nor may the pension committee do so if it is advised that the member's spouse has duly waived his entitlement or that the member has filed a judicial application in order to oppose the partition or transfer.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 47; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 30.

48. Where the partitioned or transferred benefits were part of the capital benefits, interest calculated at the rates provided for in the second paragraph of section 39 fits or, where the benefits were part of the pension benefits, at the rate used to determine their value, must be added to the sum granted to the spouse.

Interest accrues from the valuation date.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 48; O.C. 173-2002, s. 40; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 31.

49. Unless the Court indicates otherwise, the pension committee may partition the member's benefits or execute the transfer of part of those benefits only to the extent that that partition or that transfer does not have the effect of depriving the member of more than half of the total value of the benefits that he accumulated before and during his marriage or civil union.

Where the judgment, the agreement entered into by married or civil union spouses, or the notarized transaction contract does not provide for the amount or the portion of the value of the member's benefits allocated to the spouse, the value of the benefits that the member accumulated during the marriage or civil union is divided equally between the spouses.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 49; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 32.

50. The pension committee shall, within 60 days following either receipt of a joint application concerning partition or execution of a transfer, or the expiry of the period provided for in the second paragraph of section 47 and, except in the latter case, unless it has been notified of the spouse's waiver or of a judicial opposition to the partition or transfer of the member's benefits take, with respect to the sum allocated to the spouse, increased by the interest, one of the following measures:

(1) transfer the sum to another pension plan of which the spouse is a member or to a plan referred to in paragraph 2.1, 2.2, 3.1, 4 or 5 of section 28;

(2) provided that the plan so allows,

(a) where the spouse already has benefits under the plan, transfer the sum to the account of the spouse;

(b) where the spouse does not have benefits under the plan, grant to the spouse, who then becomes a member, benefits under the plan;

(3) pay the sum to the spouse or transfer it to a plan referred to in paragraphs 3 of section 28, in the following cases:

(a) the partitioned or transferred benefits correspond to a refund to which the member would have been entitled at the valuation date, it being understood that subject to subparagraph b, the amount granted to the spouse may not be paid to the spouse in a proportion greater than the proportion in which the member's benefits could have been refunded to the member;

(b) on the date of the application, that amount in question is less than 20% of the maximum pensionable earnings determined under the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) for the year in which the transfer of partition is applied for;

(c) the spouse has ceased to live in Canada since at least 2 years.

Where the spouse fails to indicate to the pension committee the payment method selected from those mentioned in the first paragraph,

(1) the interest referred to in section 48 ceases to accrue on the expiry of the period during which the committee must act according to that paragraph and begins to accrue again, if applicable, only at the date on which the spouse indicates his or her selection;

(2) the pension committee may, on its own initiative and as soon as the period expires, transfer on behalf of the spouse the sum to be paid into one of the plans referred to in subparagraph 1, 2 or 3 of the first paragraph, as the case may be.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 50; O.C. 173-2002, s. 41; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 33; O.C. 500-2014, s. 17.

51. (Revoked).

O.C. 1158-90, s. 51; O.C. 173-2002, s. 42.

52. Sections 143 and 145 to 146 of the Act apply, with the necessary modifications, to the sum that may be the subject of a measure provided for in subparagraph 1 or 3 of the first paragraph of section 50.

The sum paid or transferred in accordance with subparagraph 1 or 3 of the first paragraph of section 50 must bear, to the sum granted to the spouse increased by interest, a proportion at least equivalent to the proportion that the contributions, amounts and interest referred to in section 145.1 of the Act bear to the total value of the member's benefits.

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

O.C. 1158-90, s. 52; O.C. 173-2002, s. 43; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 34.

53. The partition or transfer of a member's benefits executed in the year of a judgment pronouncing divorce, separation from bed and board, nullity of marriage or dissolution or nullity of civil union or ordering payment of a compensatory allowance may be revoked or annulled only for one of the causes provided for in article 424 of the Civil Code.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 53; O.C. 173-2002, s. 44; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 35.

54. The pension committee must, where no retirement, disability or replacement pension is being paid to the member at the date of execution of the partition or transfer of pension benefits, determine at that date the amount of the part of the normal pension which, determined according to the sum paid to the spouse or transferred to the spouse's account, would have been payable to the member at normal retirement age according to the conditions and characteristics provided for by the plan for that pension. The pension committee must keep a record of that amount.

Where the pension benefits correspond to a postponed pension, the amount provided for in first paragraph is determined on the basis of the value of the retirement pension recalculated at the date of execution of the partition or transfer in accordance with section 79 of the Act.

The amount provided for in the first paragraph is determined, if the plan so provides, by taking into account the periodic increase of the pension amount, before payment begins, in relation to an index of rate provided for in the plan. It is determined in all cases by using the assumptions provided for in the second paragraph of section 37.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 54; O.C. 173-2002, s. 45; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 36.

§ 6. — Residual benefits of the member

55. Execution of the partition or transfer of the member's benefits shall reduce his benefits as follows:

(1) where the benefits partitioned or transferred are part of the capital benefits, the value of those benefits shall be reduced by the sum paid to the spouse or transferred to the spouse's account;

(2) where the benefits partitioned or transferred are part of the pension benefits,

— any retirement, disability or replacement pension of which payment has begun is, after having been, where required, re-determined under section 89.1 of the Act, reduced by the proportion represented by the sum paid to the spouse or transferred to the spouse's account over the value that the pension paid to the member on the day preceding the effective date of the judgment, dissolution of the civil union or cessation of conjugal relationship would have had on the date of execution of the partition or transfer, it being understood that the latter value is determined by using the same assumptions as those used to determine the value of the benefits attributed to the spouse;

— any retirement, disability or replacement pension of which payment begins after the execution of the partition or transfer must be reduced by the amount referred to in section 54 or, if payment of that pension begins on a date other than the date of normal retirement age, by a sum equal to that amount;

— any other benefits, with the exception of a phased retirement benefit and a benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act, and any benefit or refund that must be paid or transferred must be reduced, up to its amount or value by the value of the pension of which the amount is referred to in section 54.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

The pension plan may provide for reducing the member's benefits in a different manner, provided that manner leads to a lesser reduction of such benefits.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 55; O.C. 1681-97, s. 20; O.C. 173-2002, s. 46; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 37.

56. Where the member's benefits that may be partitioned or transferred to the spouse include both an entitlement to a refund and an entitlement to receive a pension benefit, each of those entitlements must be reduced by the sum paid to the spouse or transferred to the spouse's account over the total value of such refund and benefit.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 56; O.C. 568-91, s. 6; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 38.

DIVISION V.1SEIZURE OF THE MEMBER'S BENEFITS

O.C. 173-2002, s. 47.

56.0.1. This division applies with respect to a seizure referred to in the second paragraph of section 109 of the Act that is effected by the member's spouse or on his behalf.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 47.

56.0.2. The value of the benefits accrued by the member at the date on which the seizure is carried out is determined pursuant to sections 36 to 37.1, which are applied by replacing the valuation date with the date of seizure.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 47; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 39.

56.0.3. Where the benefits attributed to the spouse are paid from the benefits of the member that are pension benefits within the meaning of section 33 and no pension is being paid to the member at the date on which the seizure is effected, the pension committee shall determine at that date the amount of the portion of the normal pension that, determined according to the value of the benefits attributed to the spouse, would have been paid to the member by the plan for that pension. The pension committee must conserve a mention of that amount in its records.

Where the pension benefits correspond to a postponed pension, the amount provided for in the first paragraph is determined on the basis of the value of the pension recalculated at the date of the seizure, pursuant to section 79 of the Act.

In every case, the amount provided for in the first paragraph shall be determined by using the same assumptions as those used to determine the value of the member's benefits at the date of the seizure.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 47.

56.0.4. Where the member's benefits include both entitlement to a refund and entitlement to receive a pension benefit, both of them must be reduced in the proportion that represents the value of the benefits attributed to the spouse upon seizure over the total value of those benefits.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 47.

56.0.5. Subject to section 56.0.4 and any contrary provision of the pension plan, capital benefits within the meaning of section 33 are the first to be used to pay the benefits attributed to the spouse.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 47.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

56.0.6. The benefits allocated to the spouse may be paid without taking into account the conditions or time periods that affect the member's benefits. Such payment reduces the member's benefits in the following manner:

(1) where the benefits attributed to the spouse are paid from capital benefits, the value of the capital benefits is reduced by the amount paid;

(2) where the benefits attributed to the spouse are paid from pension benefits:

— any retirement, disability or replacement pension of which payment has begun is reduced in proportion to the amount paid to the spouse over the value of the pension being paid at the date of the seizure;

— any retirement, disability or replacement pension of which payment begins after the payment to the spouse must be reduced by the amount referred to in section 56.0.3 or, where the payment of the pension begins on a date other than the date of the normal retirement age, by a sum equal to the amount of the payment to the spouse;

— any other pension benefit, except for a phased retirement benefit and a pension benefit referred to in section 69.1 of the Act, as well as any benefit or refund that must be paid or transferred must be reduced, up to its amount or its value, by the value of the pension of which the amount is referred to in section 56.0.3.

The pension plan may provide for reducing the member's benefits in a different manner, provided that manner leads to a lesser reduction of such benefits.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 47; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 40.

DIVISION VI

INFORMATION FOR MEMBERS AND BENEFICIARIES

56.1. The summary of the pension plan provided for in section 111 of the Act must contain, in addition to the information provided for in that section, the following information:

- (1) the index or rate provided for in the plan for indexation of the pension before and during its payment;
- (2) the rules applicable to the transfer of the member's benefits to another pension plan;
- (3) the plans referred to by any general agreement allowing the member's benefits or assets to be transferred to them;
- (4) the nature of the fees that may be charged to the member;
- (5) the rules that apply where members decide investments that may be made with the plan's assets;
- (6) in the case of a plan to which chapter X of the Act applies, a mention that for members who cease to be active members, only those whose benefits are not paid before the plan's termination or who cease to be active members less than 3 years prior to that date remain members for the purposes of the eventual allocation of surplus assets upon the plan's termination.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 48.

56.2. The annual statement provided for in section 112 of the Act shall have 2 parts, of which the first concerns the benefits of the member or beneficiary to whom the statement is sent and the second the financial situation of the pension plan.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 48.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

57. The first part of the annual statement referred to in section 112 of the Act and transmitted to an active member must contain the following information:

- (1) the member's name;
- (2) the name of the pension plan and the number that Retraite Québec assigned to it;
- (3) the fiscal year in question;
- (4) the name and address of the person to contact for any information concerning the plan;
- (5) the address of the office of the pension committee;
- (6) the name of any person entered in the records of the plan as the spouse or beneficiary of the member or, where necessary, a mention of the absence of an entry related to either of those capacities;
- (7) the date on which the member became a member of the plan;
- (8) (subparagraph revoked);
- (9) the date on which the normal pension becomes payable to the member;
- (10) the member contributions and the additional voluntary contributions entered in the member's account during the fiscal year as well as the total of such contributions, distributed by type, with the interest accrued since the member joined the plan up to the end of the said fiscal year, less, in the case of contributions paid under a defined contribution pension plan or under provisions similar to those of such a plan contained in a defined benefit plan, any sums applied to payment of an early pension benefit or the execution of a seizure, transfer or partition of benefits;
- (11) (subparagraph revoked);
- (12) the employer contributions entered in the member's account during the fiscal year under a defined contribution plan or under provisions identical to the provisions of such a plan contained in a defined benefit plan, as well as the total of the employer contributions entered in that member's account at the end of the fiscal year, including accrued interest, less any sums applied to payment of an early pension benefit or to the execution of a seizure, transfer or partition of benefits;
- (13) the benefits and sums transferred to the member's account and the sums paid into the account during the fiscal year to purchase past service, the total of such benefits and sums thus transferred or paid to the member's account since the date on which he became a member of the plan, with accrued interest, and distributed according as the benefits or amounts must or must not be used to constitute a pension as well as any credited service added or the amount of the normal pension constituted with such benefits and sums;
- (14) the rate applied during the fiscal year for the calculation of interest on the contributions and on the sums referred to in paragraphs 10 to 13, or the method used to calculate that interest;
- (15) in the case of any plan other than a defined contribution plan:
 - (a) the service, including that referred to in paragraph 13, credited to the member for the calculation of the normal pension and appearing in the records of the plan at the end of the fiscal year;
 - (b) the annual amount of the normal pension that would be payable to the member for his recognised credited service at the end of the fiscal year;
 - (c) the amount of the reduction of that pension resulting from the payment, if any, of an early pension benefit or the execution of a seizure, a transfer or a partition of benefits;

*Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6*SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(d) where the normal pension is determined on the basis of the member's annual remuneration or average remuneration, the remuneration or, where necessary, the average remuneration that the committee took into account to determine the amount provided for in subparagraph b;

(16) (subparagraph revoked);

(17) (subparagraph revoked).

At least once every 3 years, the first part of the statement sent to a person who, as an active member of a pension plan other than a defined contribution plan would have been entitled to transfer the value of his benefits at the end of the preceding fiscal year if he had then ceased to be an active member, shall also include the following information:

(1) the value of the benefits that the member would have been able to transfer at the end of that fiscal year, accompanied with a mention explaining that the value is provided for information purposes and that the value of the benefits is subject to large variations by reason in particular of fluctuations in the interest rates used to determine the value as well as the payment conditions of the pension benefits;

(2) the latest date on which the member will be able to cease to be an active member and still have a transfer right;

(3) the personal information relative to the member and his spouse which were taken into account in determining the value referred to in paragraph 1, with a mention that it may be in the interest of the member and his spouse to have that information correct if it is erroneous.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 57; Erratum, 1991 G.O. 2, 41; O.C. 568-91, s. 7; O.C. 173-2002, s. 49.

57.1. The statement provided to a member in application of section 112.1 of the Act shall contain the following information:

(1) the name of the member;

(2) the name of the pension plan and the number that Retraite Québec assigned to it;

(3) the date of payment of the early benefit;

(4) in the event that the benefits referred to in section 15.1 were used to pay the benefit:

(a) the amount of the benefit paid;

(b) the balance of the value of the benefits after payment of the benefit;

(5) in the event that the benefits referred to in section 15.3 were used to pay the benefit:

(a) the amount of the benefit paid;

(b) the amount of the reduction of the member's pension following payment of the said benefit;

(c) a mention that the amount will be adjusted if the conditions or characteristics of the pension paid under the plan, with the exception of those related to early or postponed payment, are different from those used to determine the amount or if payment of the pension begins on a date other than the date of the normal retirement age.

O.C. 1681-97, s. 21; O.C. 173-2002, s. 50.

58. The statement referred to in the first paragraph of section 113 of the Act shall, in addition to what is stated in that paragraph with respect to a refund, the pension benefit or other benefits provided for under the pension plan, contain the following information:

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (1) the date on which the member ceased to be an active member;
- (2) the amount that may be refunded to him;
- (3) for the period elapsed since the end of the fiscal year covered by the last annual statement sent to the member affected until the date on which he ceased to be an active member, the information provided for in paragraphs 1 to 15 of the first paragraph of section 57;
- (4) in the event that the member is entitled to payment of a retirement pension in respect of which he exercised an option provided for in the plan, the following information:
 - (a) the date on which payment of the retirement pension began;
 - (b) the amount of that pension, excluding the amounts referred to in subparagraphs c to h;
 - (c) the amount by which that pension is reduced by reason of payment of an early pension benefit or execution of a seizure, a transfer or partition of benefits, as well as the amount of any adjustments related to joint and survivor rights, an early pension, a postponement or the exercise of an option provided for in section 93 of the Act;
 - (d) in the case of a temporary pension or pension fraction, the amount thereof and the date on which it will cease to be paid;
 - (e) the member contributions which exceed the maximum set in section 60 of the Act and the amount of the additional pension constituted with that excess;
 - (f) the value of the additional pension benefit to which the member is entitled pursuant to section 60.1 of the Act, the amount of the pension constituted with that benefit and the portion, if any, of the value of the additional pension benefit that must be paid to him in a lump sum;
 - (g) the amount of the additional pension constituted with the member's additional voluntary contributions or contributions paid during the period of postponement of the pension and the interest accrued thereon;
 - (h) the amount of the pension constituted following a transfer of benefits or assets or a purchase of past service for the member;
- (5) where the member is entitled to payment of a retirement pension without exercising the choices provided for under the plan, the following information:
 - (a) the date on which payment of the retirement pension may begin;
 - (b) the amount of that pension, excluding pension amounts referred to in subparagraphs c to g, with a mention of the adjustments made following payment of an early pension benefit or execution of a seizure, transfer or partition of benefits and the adjustments related to integration, early payment or postponement of the normal pension;
 - (c) a description of the choices provided for under the plan;
 - (d) the member contributions that exceed the maximum set in article 60 of the Act, and the amount of the additional pension constituted with that excess;
 - (e) the value of the additional pension benefit to which the member is entitled in accordance with section 60.1 of the Act, the amount of the pension constituted with that benefit and the portion, if any, of the value of the additional pension benefit that must be paid to him in a lump sum;
 - (f) the amount of the additional pension constituted with the member's additional voluntary contributions and the interest accrued thereon;

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(g) the amount of any pension constituted following a transfer of benefits or assets or the purchase of past service to the advantage of the member;

(6) where the member is entitled to payment of a disability pension, the information referred to in subparagraphs e to h of paragraph 4, as well as the following information:

(a) the date on which payment of the disability pension begins;

(b) the amount of the disability pension or the amount of the payment or series of payments resulting from the option provided for in paragraph 4 of the first paragraph of section 93 of the Act, with, the latter case, the due date of each payment;

(c) the amount of the reduction of the disability pension resulting from payment of an early pension benefit or execution of a seizure, transfer or partition of benefits;

(d) in the case of a temporary pension or pension fraction, the amount thereof and the date on which it will cease to be paid;

(7) in the event of the member's death, the nature and amount of the death benefit;

(8) in all other cases, the following information:

(a) the value of the deferred pension vested to the member;

(b) the member contributions that exceed the maximum set in section 60 of the Act;

(c) the value of the additional pension benefit to which the member is entitled pursuant to section 60.1 of the Act, the amount of the pension constituted with that benefit and the portion, if any, of the value of the additional pension benefit that must be paid to the member in a lump sum;

(d) the value and amount, if any, of the pension constituted following a transfer of benefits or assets or the purchase of past service to the advantage of the member;

(e) the amount of the reduction of the deferred pension resulting from payment of an early pension benefit or execution of a seizure, transfer or partition of benefits;

(9) the pension plan's degree of solvency determined at the date of the last actuarial valuation of the entire plan;

(10) the personal information related to the member and his spouse, which was taken into account in determining the amounts shown on the statement, with a mention that it may be in the member's interest to have any erroneous information corrected.

59. The first part of the annual statement referred to in section 112 of the Act and sent to a non-active member must contain the following information:

(1) that provided for in paragraphs 1 to 6 of the first paragraph of section 57;

(2) where a member has begun receiving a retirement pension:

(a) the amount of the pension;

(b) where a pension must be reduced to take into account, in whole or in part, benefits payable under a public plan, the beginning date of the reduction and its amount;

(c) in the case of a pension or a fraction of a temporary pension, the date on which payment will cease;

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(d) the nature of the death benefit payable by supposing that the member had died on the date of the statement.

(3) where a member has begun receiving a disability pension, the information referred to in subparagraphs a and c of paragraph 2, with the necessary modifications, where the pension is not a life pension, as well as, in the latter case, the anticipated date of the final payment;

(4) where a member is entitled to a deferred pension:

(a) the date on which he ceased to be an active member;

(b) the anticipated amount of the pension, where the plan is not a defined contribution plan;

(c) the amount of the reduction of the pension resulting from payment of an early pension benefit or execution of a seizure, transfer, or partition of benefits;

(d) the amount of the member contributions and employer contributions paid under the plan where the plan is a defined contribution plan, or under provisions similar to those of a defined contribution plan where the plan is a defined benefit plan, with accrued interest;

(e) the amount of the member contributions that exceed the ceiling set in section 60 of the Act and the amount of the additional voluntary contributions, with, in each case, accrued interest;

(f) the amount of the pension constituted with the additional pension benefit to which the member is entitled under section 60.1 of the Act;

(g) the benefits and sums transferred to the member's account and the sums paid to his account for the purchase of past service during the fiscal year, the total of the benefits and sums thus transferred or paid to the member's account since the date on which he became a member of the plan, with accrued interest, distributed according as they must or must not be used to constitute a pension and any credited service added or the amount of the normal pension constituted with such benefits and sums;

(h) the rate applied or the method used during the fiscal year to calculate the interest referred to in subparagraphs d to g;

(5) where the value of the member's benefits has been paid only in part by the application of section 142 or 143 of the Act, the balance owing and an indication of each year in which a payment will be made.

At least once every 3 years, the first part of the statement sent to a non-active member who is entitled to a deferred pension under a plan other than a defined contribution plan and who, on a date subsequent to the sending of the statement, will be able to transfer the value of his benefits to another pension plan, shall also contain the following information:

(1) the value, at the end of the fiscal year, of the benefits that may be transferred, accompanied with a mention explaining that the value is provided for information purposes and that the value of the benefits is subject to large variations by reason in particular of fluctuations in the interest rates used to determine the value as well as the payment conditions of the deferred pension;

(2) the latest date on which the member will be able to exercise his transfer right;

(3) the personnel information relative to a member and his spouse and taken into account in determining the value referred to in paragraph 1 with a mention that it may be in their interest to have the information corrected if it is erroneous.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

59.0.1. The first part of the annual statement referred to in section 112 of the Act and sent to the beneficiary must contain the following information:

- (1) the beneficiary's name;
- (2) the information provided for in paragraphs 2 to 5 of the first paragraph of section 57;
- (3) the amount of the pension benefit paid;
- (4) where there is provision for a reduction of the pension benefit, the amount of the reduction and the date on which the reduction may be effective;
- (5) in the case of a temporary pension benefit, the date on which the benefit will cease to be paid;
- (6) the index or rate used for the indexation of the pension benefit.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 52.

59.0.2. The second part of an annual statement referred to in section 112 of the Act shall, where the statement is sent to a member or beneficiary of a pension plan to which chapter X of the Act applies, contain the following information:

- (1) the degree of solvency of the pension plan determined at the date of the most recent actuarial valuation of the whole plan, and where the degree is less than 100%, the measures taken to bring it up to 100%;
- (2) the lesser of the pension plan's surplus assets determined on a funding basis and those assets determined on a solvency basis on the occasion of the last actuarial valuation of the whole plan;
- (3) the employer contribution that the employer paid during the fiscal year concerned;
- (4) the member contributions paid by the members during the fiscal year concerned;
- (5) the portion of the plan's excess assets used to pay the employer contribution during the fiscal year and the portion used during that year to fund additional commitments resulting from an amendment to the plan.

Where the statement is sent to a member or beneficiary not referred to in the first paragraph, this part must indicate the plan's surplus assets and the portion thereof used to pay the employer contribution during the fiscal year.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 52.

59.1. In the case of a simplified pension plan, the statements referred to in paragraph 1 of section 112 and in section 113 of the Act must indicate whether the administration costs, are borne in whole or in part by the members or by the pension fund, as well as the amount, per member, of those costs or the formula for determining them, showing separately the portion of those costs borne by the member, the pension fund and the employer.

O.C. 658-94, s. 8; O.C. 173-2002, s. 53.

60. The other documents that may, under section 114 of the Act, be consulted by an eligible employee, a member or a beneficiary are:

- (1) any provision forming part of a document providing for working conditions relative to the pension plan;
 - (1.1) the internal by-laws of the pension committee;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (2) the investment policy of the pension committee;
- (3) the deeds of delegation of powers by the pension committee;
- (4) any general agreement permitting the members to transfer benefits or assets into another plan;
- (5) the annual statements and financial reports referred to in section 161 of the Act;
- (6) the reports transmitted to Retraite Québec relative to the actuarial valuations of the plan;
- (7) the documents referred to in paragraph 3 of section 24 of the Act;
- (7.1) in the case of an insured pension plan, any report prepared by the insurer relative to the plan;
- (8) the correspondence between Retraite Québec and the pension committee during the 60 months preceding the date of the application for consultation, with the exception of correspondence concerning another employee, member or beneficiary;
- (9) (paragraph revoked).

DIVISION VI.1

RESERVE AND PROVISION FOR ADVERSE DEVIATION

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

§ 1. — Elements establishing the reserve

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

60.1. The following elements are likely to contribute to the establishment of the reserve provided for in section 128 of the Act:

- (1) the contributions paid into the pension fund that exceed the contributions required for the pension plan to be solvent, including the contributions the employer is relieved from paying pursuant to section 42.1 of the Act;
- (2) the favourable variances arising from the changes made to the actuarial assumptions and methods or the differences between the assumptions used and the results obtained, taking into account the return derived from the variances;
- (3) the amendments to the plan that reduced the value of the members' benefits.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

§ 2. — Provision for adverse deviation

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

60.2. In addition to the cases where it must be determined under the Act, the provision for adverse deviation provided for in section 128 of the Act is calculated during the last actuarial valuation of a pension plan on the basis of which

- (1) amortization payments must be paid with respect to an improvement unfunded actuarial liability determined in a prior actuarial valuation while a complete actuarial valuation shows that the plan is both solvent and funded, unless an actuary certifies that the plan's assets are less than the liabilities increased by the provision for adverse deviation;

(2) the amortization payments remaining to be paid in connection with any improvement unfunded actuarial liability determined in a prior actuarial valuation are eliminated pursuant to section 131 of the Act;

(3) the surplus assets are appropriated to the payment of employer contributions under section 146.3.4 of the Act;

(4) the employer applies for the reduction of the amount of the letter of credit under section 15.0.0.4.

The value of the liabilities taken into account for calculating the provision for adverse deviation is established without reference, where applicable, to any amendment to the plan considered for the first time in the valuation.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

60.3. The provision for adverse deviation is equal to amount "P" in the following formula:

$$(T \times R) + (7\% \times S) + X = P$$

"T" represents the rate, expressed in percentage, obtained by multiplying "D" determined in accordance with section 60.4 by 0.0175;

"R" represents the value of the liabilities associated to the pensions being paid, excluding guaranteed pensions, increased, if the policies established by the pension committee so provide, by the value of the benefits of the members in the pension plan who are less than 10 years under normal retirement age and to whom no pension is paid, the latter value excluding here the value of the contributions referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of "S" paid by those members and the value of the guaranteed pensions constituted in their respect;

"S" represents the value of the plan's liabilities reduced by an amount representing the sum of the following values:

(1) the value of the additional voluntary contributions and optional ancillary contributions paid into the pension fund, with interest accrued;

(2) the value of the contributions paid under a defined contribution plan to which Chapter X of the Act applies or under provisions that, in a defined benefit plan, are identical to the provisions of a defined contribution plan, with interest accrued;

(3) the value of the liabilities associated to the pensions being paid increased, if the policies established by the pension committee so provide, by the value of the benefits of the members in the plan who are less than 10 years under normal retirement age and to whom no pension is paid, the latter value excluding here the value of the contributions referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 paid by those members;

(4) the value of the liabilities associated to the guaranteed deferred pensions not referred to in paragraph 3;

"X" represents

(1) in the case where the rate represented by "T" is less than 7%, the result of the formula

$$(R-V) \times (7\% - T)$$ in which "V" is equal to the element "V" in section 60.4;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) in the other cases, zero.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

60.4. Where the value represented by “R” of section 60.3 is null, “D” of that section is equal to zero.

In other cases, “D” corresponds to the result, in absolute value, of the following formula:

$$\frac{R \times d^R - V \times d^M}{R}$$

R

“R” represents element “R” of section 60.3;

“d^R” represents the duration of the liabilities constituting “R”;

“V” represents the lesser of

(1) the amount that is equivalent to the product of the assets of the pension plan at the date of the actuarial valuation and the average of the percentages represented by the amount of the fixed-income investments taken into account for that calculation over the assets of the plan at the valuation date and the last day of each of the 11 months preceding the day of the valuation or, in the case of a plan effective for less than a year, the last day of each month included between the date of coming into force of the plan and the valuation date;

(2) the amount that is equivalent to the value represented by element “R”;

“d^M” represents the result of the sum of each amount used to calculate the average referred to in paragraph 1 of element “V” multiplied by its term, divided by the total of those amounts.

For the purposes of paragraph 1 of element “V”:

(1) the plan’s assets are reduced by the value of guaranteed pensions and the value of the contributions referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of element “S” of section 60.3 which are the subject of a separate investment;

(2) the amount of the fixed-income investments of a pension plan is determined by including the amount of any variable income investment associated with a financial instrument that converts it into a fixed income investment but excluding the amount of any fixed income investment associated with a financial instrument that converts it into a variable income investment.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

60.5. Element “d^M” of section 60.4 is determined by the actuary responsible for the actuarial valuation using the terms calculated by the person who invests any part of the plan’s assets.

For the purposes of a partial actuarial valuation, the actuary may estimate elements “R” and “S” of section 60.3 and the duration of liabilities constituting element “R”.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 42.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION VI.2

STABILIZATION PROVISION

O.C. 608-2016, s. 2

60.6. The target level of the stabilization provision provided for under section 125 of the Act is determined using the following scale, based on the percentage of the assets allocated to variable-yield investments in accordance with the target set out in the plan's investment policy in effect at the date of the actuarial valuation of the plan, and the ratio between the duration of the assets and the duration of the liabilities at that date:

TARGET LEVEL OF THE STABILIZATION PROVISION (%)

		Duration of the assets/Duration of the liabilities (%)
		0	25	50	75	100
Assets allocated to variable- yield investments (%)	0	12	10	8	6	5
	20	14	12	10	8	6
	40	16	14	12	10	8
	50	17	15	13	11	9
	60	19	17	15	13	11
	70	22	20	18	16	14
	80	24	22	20	18	16
	100	27	25	23	21	20

Assets allocated to variable-yield investments are those not allocated to fixed-income investments.

Where the percentage of the assets of the plan allocated to variable-yield investments or the ratio between the duration of the assets and the duration of the liabilities is between two percentage points indicated on the scale, the target level of the stabilization provision is calculated using a linear interpolation and rounded off to the first decimal.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 2

60.7. Derivatives may not be considered assets for the purpose of establishing the target level of the stabilization provision.

However, derivatives that increase the pension fund's exposure to stock market risks shall be added to assets allocated to variable-yield investments.

Furthermore, derivatives may be taken into consideration for the purpose of establishing the duration of the assets.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 2

60.8. For the purposes of this Division, fixed-income investments are:

- (1) cash on hand;

Regulation Respecting Supplemental Pension Plans, C.Q.L.R., c. R-15.1, r. 6

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(2) money market securities whose rating, attributed by a rating agency referred to in the third paragraph, is the one indicated with regard to that agency or a higher rating;

(3) bond market securities whose rating, attributed by a rating agency referred to in the third paragraph, is the one indicated with regard to that agency or a higher rating;

(4) first or second mortgages the amount of which is not more than 75% of the value of the property that is used as a security for the payment.

Up to 50% of the assets invested in infrastructure or in immovables (real estate) can be considered fixed-income investments. Investments in stock market securities are excluded.

The minimum ratings, by rating agency and type of investment, are as follows:

Rating agency	Rating
	Bond market securities	Money market securities
Dominion Bond Rating Service	BBB	R-2 (middle)
Fitch Ratings	BBB-	F-3
Moody's Investors Service	Baa3	P-3
Standard & Poor's	BBB-	A-3

Money market or bond market securities whose rating attributed by another rating agency recognized by a competent authority is at least equal to the one indicated for the agencies mentioned in the third paragraph can also be considered as fixed-income investments.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 2

60.9. The duration of the assets is determined by the actuary who is responsible for carrying out the actuarial valuation. It is equal to the total of the durations of each of the fixed-income investments provided for in the investment policy weighted on the basis of the target determined for that investment in the policy.

The duration of each investment is established according to the benchmark index provided in the investment policy for the investment. The duration of an investment for which no index is provided in the investment policy is calculated by the person or body who invests any part of the plan's assets.

The duration attributed to an investment in infrastructure or in immovables (real estate) shall not exceed 6.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 2

60.10. The duration of the liabilities is established by the actuary responsible for carrying out the actuarial valuation using the following formula:

$$(P - P_+) / (2 * P * 0,01)$$

where

“P” is the value of the liabilities on a funding basis, as at the date of the actuarial valuation, established using the discount rate determined by the actuary;

“P₋” is the same value of the liabilities established using the discount rate minus 1%;

“P₊” is the same value of the liabilities established using the same discount rate plus 1%.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

For the application of this section, the liabilities of the plan must be increased by the value of the additional obligations resulting from any amendment considered for the first time at the date of the actuarial valuation of the plan.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 2

60.11. Where no target is set out in the investment policy of the plan in effect on 31 December 2015, the target provided for in the investment policy in effect on the date on which the actuarial valuation report referred to under section 318.2 of the Act is produced shall be used.

O.C. 608-2016, s. 2

DIVISION VII

INVESTMENTS

61. A loan cannot be granted to an employer, a partnership or a person referred to in section 177 of the Act unless that loan is fully secured by any of the following types of security:

- (1) in the case of a member, his spouse or his child, a hypothec on an immovable;
- (2) in other cases:
 - (a) a hypothec of the first rank;
 - (b) a hypothec of an investment presumed sure and referred to in section 1339 of the Civil Code or the pledge of a gilt-edged security referred to in section 3 of the Securities Regulation (chapter V-1.1, r. 50);
 - (c) the hypothec of a security guaranteed by a security of the first rank;
 - (d) the guarantee of the gouvernement du Québec, of the Government of Canada, of a Canadian province, of any of their agencies or of a financial institution empowered to guarantee borrowings in Canada.

DIVISION VII.1

MERGER OF THE ASSETS AND LIABILITIES OF SEVERAL PENSION PLANS

O.C. 173-2002, s. 56.

61.1. The notice provided for in section 196 of the Act must contain:

- (1) the name of the absorbed plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (2) the name of the absorbing plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (3) the number of members and beneficiaries of the absorbed plan at the effective date of the amendment intended to merge the assets and liabilities of the affected plans;
- (4) where a merger does not include the total assets of the absorbed plan, a description of the group constituted by the members and beneficiaries whose benefits would be transferred to the absorbing plan and their number;
- (5) the provisions of the affected plans relative to the allocation of the surplus assets determined upon termination and, where one of the plans has no provisions of that nature, a mention of that fact and of the rule set out in the second paragraph of section 288.1 of the Act;

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(6) in the case provided for in the fourth paragraph of section 196 of the Act, a mention of the rule therein set out, the identity of those whose consent is required under section 146.5 of the Act for an amendment to the absorbed plan and a mention that the consents have or have not already been obtained;

(7) where Retraite Québec authorizes a merger, a mention that only the provisions of the absorbing plan will apply, with respect to the employer's entitlement to appropriate the surplus assets of the plan to the payment of his contributions as well as the allocation of surplus assets upon termination in respect of the members and beneficiaries of the absorbed plan who are affected by the merger;

(8) a mention that the members and beneficiaries whose benefits may be transferred from the absorbed plan to the absorbing plan may, within 60 days following receipt of the notice or of the publication, if any, of the notice provided for in the second paragraph of section 230.4 of the Act, according to the latest of them, to make known in writing to the pension committee their opposition to the merger of the plans;

(9) the address of the pension committee;

(10) the name of the signatory, the attestation that he is duly authorized by the pension committee to give the notice and the date of signing.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 56.

DIVISION VIII
LIQUIDATION OF THE BENEFITS OF THE MEMBERS AND BENEFICIARIES

O.C. 1158-90, Div. VIII; O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

62. The report provided for in the second paragraph of section 202 of the Act must contain the following information:

(1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;

(2) the effective date of the amendment giving rise to the withdrawal and the name of the affected employer;

(3) the value of the plan's assets at the date of the valuation of the members' and beneficiaries' benefits;

(4) the employer and member contributions required and those paid for the period between the date of the plan's last fiscal year and the year of the withdrawal, distinguishing the contributions relative to the affected employer from the total contributions of the other employers;

(5) the assets allocated to the group constituted of the benefits of the affected members and beneficiaries and the assets allocated to all the other groups, in accordance with sections 220 to 227 of the Act as well as the description and method used;

(6) where required, the assumptions and methods used to determine the value of the assets and of the benefits of the plan's members and beneficiaries;

(7) the value of the benefits of the members and beneficiaries not affected by the withdrawal;

(8) the names of the members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal, grouped according to the categories provided for in paragraph 2 of section 201 of the Act, as well as the nature and the value of their benefits at the date of their valuation;

(9) the degree of solvency of the plan at the date of the valuation of the members' and beneficiaries' benefits;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(10) where, with respect to the employer and the members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal, the contributions paid are less than the contributions required, the report must, in addition, indicate the distribution of the total contributions required and the total contributions paid among those members and beneficiaries, with a mention for each of them of the portion related to employer contributions, member contributions and additional voluntary contributions;

(11) the debt, if any, of the employer affected by the withdrawal, a description of the measures put into effect to ensure the collection of the debt and its distribution among the members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal;

(12) where, at the date of the valuation of the benefits of the members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal, the assets allocated to the group consisting of the benefits are, after deducting any contribution relative to that group and referred to in section 227 of the Act, less than the value of the benefits of those members and beneficiaries, the amount of the reduction in benefits that each of them will sustain if the employer's debt and the unpaid contributions are not collected;

(13) a description of the payment methods offered to each category of members and beneficiaries affected by the withdrawal;

(14) a certificate by the author of the report that it was prepared in conformity with the provisions of the Act and the Regulation;

(15) the name and address of the author of the report, his professional title and the date of signing.

In the case provided for in paragraph 12 of the first paragraph, the value of the members' and beneficiaries' benefits affected by the withdrawal shall be distributed in accordance with each item of the payment order provided for in section 218 of the Act.

63. The termination declaration that the pension committee sends in application of section 207.1 of the Act must be in conformity with that provided in Schedule II where the termination follows a notice by the employer and that provided in Schedule III where the termination follows a decision of Retraite Québec. The pension committee that sends a declaration in conformity with that provided in Schedule II must attach to it a copy of the termination notice.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 63; O.C. 1895-93, s. 3; O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

64. The termination report provided for in section 207.2 of the Act must contain the following information, subject to the adaptations required in the case of an insured plan or a plan referred to in paragraph 2 of section 116 of the Act:

- (1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (2) the plan's termination date;
- (3) the value of the plan's assets at the date of termination, distributed according to the nature of each element of which it is constituted;
- (4) the employer and member contributions required and those paid for the period between the end of the preceding fiscal year of the plan and the date of termination;
- (5) in the case of a plan is referred to in the second paragraph of section 230.0.1 of the Act:
 - (a) the assets allocated to each group of benefits, determined in accordance with sections 220 to 227 and 230.0.1 of the Act;

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(b) the share of surplus assets, if any, allocated to each group of benefits and the proportion of the surplus assets at the termination date represented by that share;

(c) the description of the method used to determine the sums referred to in subparagraphs a and b;

(6) where required, the assumptions and methods used to determine the value of the assets and the value of the benefits of the plan's members and beneficiaries;

(7) the names of the members and beneficiaries affected by the termination, distributed by employer and according to the categories referred to in section 207 of the Act, as well as the nature and value of their benefits at the date of termination;

(8) in the case of a plan to which Chapter X of the Act applies, the ratio of the value of the assets to the value of liabilities determined in accordance with section 212.1 of the Act, each value being reduced by an amount representing the sum of the following values:

(a) the value of additional voluntary contributions paid into the pension fund, with interest accrued;

(b) the value of contributions paid into the pension fund under provisions that, in a defined benefit plan, are identical to the provisions of a defined contribution plan, with interest accrued;

(c) the value of the sums received by the plan following a transfer even not covered by Chapter VII of the Act, with interest accrued;

(8.1) if applicable, the amount which must be paid under section 15.0.0.10;

(9) where, with respect to the employer affected by the termination, the contributions paid are less than the contributions required, a mention of the unpaid portion related to employer contributions, member contributions and additional voluntary contributions;

(10) the debt, if any, of each employer affected by the termination, determined in accordance with section 228 of the Act;

(11) where, at the date of termination, the assets allocated to a group of benefits of members and beneficiaries affected by the termination is, after reduction of any contribution relative to that group and referred to in section 227 of the Act, less than the value of the benefits of the those members and beneficiaries, the amount of the reduction of benefits that each of them will sustain if the employer's debt and the unpaid contributions are not collected;

(12) the list of the payment methods offered to each category of members and beneficiaries affected by the termination;

(13) a certificate by the author of the report:

(a) that the report was prepared in conformity with the provisions of the Act and the Regulation;

(b) where the report must be prepared by an actuary, that it is in conformity with the standards of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries;

(c) where the report may be prepared by the pension committee, that the author is a member of the committee or that he is mandated by the committee to prepare the report;

(14) the name of the author of the report, his professional title and the date of signing.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

In the case provided for in paragraph 11 of the first paragraph, the value of the benefits of the affected members and beneficiaries shall be distributed in accordance with each item of the payment order provided for in section 218 of the Act.

66. The supplement to the termination report referred to in section 207.5 of the Act must contain the following information:

(1) the name of the pension plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;

(2) the plan's surplus assets at the date of termination and at the latest date at which its value is known;

(3) a description of the method of apportionment for the surplus assets, in accordance with any declaration, agreement, arbitration decision referred to in the first paragraph of section 230.1 of the Act, or to any increase or allocation provided for in the second or third paragraph of section 230.1 of the Act or in section 230.3 or the Act;

(4) the name of each employer who is party to the plan and, for each of them, the surplus assets allocated to the group of benefits connected to each, the portion of the surplus assets granted to each at the dates referred to in paragraph 2 and the proportion that such portion represents at the same dates with respect to the total surplus assets of the plan;

(5) where a portion of the surplus assets is granted to persons who remain or who are considered to be members or beneficiaries under section 240.2, 308.3 or 310.1 of the Act, the actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine the presumed value of their benefits for the purposes of determining their share of the surplus assets;

(6) where a portion of the surplus assets is granted to the members or beneficiaries:

(a) their names;

(b) the share that each of them would have received had the surplus assets been allocated at the date of termination;

(c) an estimate of the share that each will receive, determined at the latest date referred to in paragraph 2;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

(d) the methods for payment of the surplus assets thus allocated;

(7) the author's certificate:

(a) that the supplement to the termination report was prepared in conformity with the provisions of the Law and the Regulation;

(b) where the supplement must be prepared by an actuary, that it is in conformity with the standards of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries;

(c) where the supplement may be prepared by the pension committee, that the author is a member of the committee or that he is mandated by the committee to prepare the supplement;

(8) the name of the author, his professional title and the date of signing.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 66; O.C. 1895-93, s. 5; O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67. Except where otherwise indicated, the benefits of a member or beneficiary that are referred to in sections 62 to 66 do not include the share that he may have in the surplus assets.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 67; O.C. 1895-93, s. 6; O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67.1. The draft agreement referred to in section 230.1 of the Act must indicate, in addition to the information prescribed in that section, the following information:

(1) the name of the plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;

(2) the date of termination of the plan;

(3) the name of each employer who is party to the draft agreement;

(4) the share of the surplus assets at the date of termination that would be granted to each employer who is party to the draft agreement;

(5) the share of the surplus assets at the date of termination that would be granted to the members and beneficiaries, as a whole, who are affected by the draft agreement;

(6) where the agreement does not allocate the total surplus assets that it covers to the employer and where persons remain or are deemed to be members or beneficiaries in accordance with section 240.2, 308.3 or 310.1 of the Act, the actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine the presumed value of the benefits of such persons for the purpose of determining the portion of the surplus due to them.

A draft agreement that does not cover all the members and beneficiaries of the plan must stipulate that it covers only some of them.

Where the draft agreement proposes that the share of the surplus assets apportioned to a member or beneficiary be determined according to a method that has a distribution formula specific to a group members or beneficiaries determined in the report, the report must indicate the share of the surplus assets at the date of termination to be granted to each group.

O.C. 1895-93, s. 7; O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67.2. The actuary's certificate required under the third paragraph of section 230.2 of the Act for a specific method of apportionment of the surplus assets must:

(1) define the group of members or beneficiaries that the method affects;

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

- (2) describe the circumstances justifying that those members or beneficiaries receive a share of the surplus assets that is greater than that which they would have received prorata;
- (3) determine the portion of the surplus assets that results from those circumstances;
- (4) be attached to the draft agreement so as to be a part thereof.

O.C. 1895-93, s. 7; O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67.3. The notice provided for in section 230.4 of the Act must indicate, in addition to the information prescribed in that paragraph, the following information:

- (1) the name of the pension plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (2) in the case of a multi-employer plan, the surplus assets determined in application of section 230.0.1 of the Act with respect to each employer who is party to the draft agreement and the proportion of the surplus assets at the date of termination represented by that portion;
- (3) the number of members and beneficiaries for the purposes of distributing the surplus assets referred to in the draft agreement as well as the value of their benefits;
- (4) the plan's assets, the liabilities and the surplus indicated in the termination report provided for in section 207.2 of the Act;
- (5) where the plan has no provision relative to allocation of surplus assets determined upon termination, a mention of that fact and of the rule set out in the second paragraph of section 288.1 of the Act;
- (6) a mention of the rule set out in paragraph 1 or 2 of section 230.6 of the Act that applies to the draft agreement in view of the method of apportionment proposed;
- (7) the address of the pension committee;
- (8) the name of the signatory, the certificate that he is duly authorized by the pension committee to give the notice and the date of signing.

Where the draft agreement does not cover all plan's the members and beneficiaries, the notice must contain the following additional information:

- (1) the total number of members and beneficiaries for the purposes of apportioning the plan's surplus assets and the value of their benefits;
- (2) where a portion of the surplus assets is not covered by the draft agreement but has already been apportioned in conformity with the Act, the proportion of the total surplus assets that was thus granted to any group members or beneficiaries and to any employer.

Where the draft agreement proposes that the share of the surplus assets apportioned to a member or beneficiary be determined according to a method that has a distribution formula specific to a group members or beneficiaries determined in the report, the report must indicate the share of the surplus assets at the date of termination to be granted to each group.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION VIII.1

ACTUARIAL ASSUMPTIONS

O.C. 1895-93, s. 7; O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67.4. The assumptions referred to in the first paragraph of section 61 of the Act are those described in subsections 3530 and 3540 of the Standards of Practice of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries. The mortality table promulgated by the Actuarial Standards Board of the Institute on 9 June 2015, whose date of coming into force is 1 October 2015, must be used. The mortality table must be sex-specific.

These assumptions apply taking into account the rules set out in paragraphs 3520.09 to 3520.11 of Section 3520 of the standards of practice.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 57; O.C. 204-2005, s. 2; S.Q. 2009, c. 1, s. 5; O.C. 978-2011, s. 2; O.C. 800-2015, s. 2.

67.5. Where the value of the member's benefits for the purposes of section 66 or 66.1 of the Act is determined more than 90 days after the date on which the member received the statement referred to in section 113 of the Act but before payment of a pension to him begins, the assumptions referred to in section 61 of the Act that are used at the date of the application for a refund to determine the value of the pension benefits to which section 60 of the Act applies and to which entitlement is acquired at that date shall be used. That value is increased by interest calculated at the rate used to determine it between the date of the application for a refund and the date of the refund.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67.6. For determining the value of the pension referred to in paragraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 86 of the Act, the assumptions referred to in section 61 of the Act that are used at the date of the member's death to determine the value of the pension benefits to which section 60 of the Act and to which entitlement was acquired at that date shall be used.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

DIVISION VIII.2

SPOUSE'S WAIVER

O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67.7. The declaration provided for in section 88.1 of the Act is made in written form, signed by the waiving spouse and contains:

- (1) the date of the declaration;
- (2) the names and addresses of the member and the waiving spouse;
- (3) the name of the member's pension plan and the number assigned to it by Retraite Québec;
- (4) the name of the member's employer;
- (5) an indication of each benefit that the spouse declares to be waived, that is, the benefit provided for in section 86 of the Act or the pension provided for in section 87 or 88 of the Act.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

 SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

DIVISION VIII.3

REPLACEMENT VALUE

O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

67.8. The value of the replacement pension that the member elected to receive under section 92.1 of the Act must be at least equal to the value of the replaced pension, commuted to the date of replacement.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 57.

DIVISION IX

MISCELLANEOUS AND TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

O.C. 1158-90, Div. IX; O.C. 568-91, s. 10.

68. (Revoked).

O.C. 1158-90, s. 68; O.C. 658-94, s. 9; O.C. 1465-95, s. 3.

69. This Regulation replaces the General Regulation respecting supplemental pension plans (R.R.Q., 1981, c. R-17, r. 1), except with respect to:

(1) matters pending referred to in section 286 of the Act and matters governed by the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) under the first paragraph of section 73, to the extent that that Act applies to those matters;

(2) (paragraph revoked);

(3) pension plans governed by an agreement concluded with the representatives of a government other than the gouvernement du Québec under section 74 of the Act respecting supplemental pension plans, for which sections 21, 53 and 92 of that General Regulation continue to apply, notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of the Act, until the date of tabling in the National Assembly of a new agreement concluded under section 249 of the Act.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 69; O.C. 173-2002, s. 58.

69.1. Until it is determined under an actuarial valuation the date of which is after 14 December 2009, the portion of the employer contribution of which an employer may be relieved under section 42.1 of the Act may not exceed an amount corresponding to the amount obtained by multiplying by 20% the difference, established at the date of the last actuarial valuation of the pension plan, between the assets and liabilities of the plan, determined on a solvency basis.

O.C. 1073-2009, s. 45.

70. The provisions of section 87 of the Act, as it read as of 1 January 2001, that are relative to the bridge benefit do not apply to the spouse of a member where the member began to receive such a benefit prior to that date.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 70; O.C. 173-2002, s. 59.

70.0.1. Where the application provided for in section 89.1 of the Act is made by a member referred to in section 300.4 of the Act, the amount of the pension resulting from the new determination is calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$A \times B$$

“A” represents the amount of the pension being paid to the member at the date of the application;

“B” represents the amount of the pension that would be paid to the member at the date of the application if he had not had a spouse at the date on which payment of his pension began;

“C” represents the amount of the pension that would be paid to the member at the date of the application were no account take of the judgment or the cessations of the conjugal relationship following which the application was made as well as any partition or transfer of benefits that followed such judgment or cessation.

O.C. 173-2002, s. 60; O.C. 1073-2009, s. 46.

70.1. The provisions of a pension plan that, where such provisions were in effect on 4 June 1997, allowed a member or spouse who had become entitled to a pension to choose, before it comes into payment, to replace it, in whole or in part, by a pension of which the amount is changed in accordance with the Act in order to take into account an amount similar to the benefits determined under the Old Age Security Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. O-9), the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (chapter R-9) or a similar plan within the meaning of subparagraph u of section 1 of that Act, continue to apply with respect to any person who was a member of the plan on the date mentioned hereinabove and to that member’s spouse.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 72; O.C. 568-91, s. 11; O.C. 173-2002, s. 61.

73. Any amendment, division or merger referred to in sections 20 to 23 of the Act or Chapter XII of that Act and submitted to the Régie before 23 March 1989 is governed by the Act respecting supplemental pension plans (chapter R-17) if the Régie, before that date, had subordinated its approval to conditions met before 1 January 1990.

Those sections and that Chapter apply to any matter that they cover and that is pending before the Régie at 22 March 1989.

This section has effect from 23 March 1989.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 73; O.C. 173-2002, s. 62.

74. Subject to the provisions of section 45.1 of the Act, the employer contributions paid before 1 January 1990 under a defined contribution plan or under provisions which, in a defined benefit plan, are identical to the provisions of a defined contribution plan, with accrued interest where applicable, shall bear interest from that date at the rate referred to in section 44 or 45 of the Act.

O.C. 1158-90, s. 74; O.C. 173-2002, s. 63.

75. Where a member ceased to be an active member before 1 January 2001 and where the valuation date is prior to that date, the first paragraph of section 36.1 must be applied with respect to the service credited to the member before 1 January 1990 separately from the service credited after that date, taking into account the transitional provisions of the Act and assuming that, for the purposes of section 293 of the Act as it read before 1 January 2001, the period of continuous employment of the member ended on the valuation date.

SUPPLEMENTAL PENSION PLANS

Moreover, where the member is not entitled to a pension on the date on which the member ceased to be an active member or on the valuation date, as the case may be, the member's total benefits correspond to a refund.

DECLARATION ACCOMPANYING THE APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION OF AN AMENDMENT TO A PENSION PLAN

(The administrator of the pension plan affected by the application for registration or his mandatary must:

— either complete section A that follows;

— or have section B completed by an actuary who is a member of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries and has the title of “Fellow” or who has a status that the Institute recognizes as equivalent.)

Section A

I, _____, declare that I have read the application for application attached herewith and I certify to the best of my knowledge that:

(Only one box may be checked.)

- The report on the actuarial valuation of the plan attached to this declaration takes into account the amendment(s) made to the plan.
- The amendment(s) made to the plan does not (do not) have the effect of changing the contribution required from the employer or the members or the other sums to be paid into the pension fund, nor the effect of changing the benefits or refunds payable by the fund.
- The plan, as amended, is an uninsured plan under which the benefits of all the members and beneficiaries arise at all times from the sums credited to their accounts.
- The plan, as amended, is an uninsured plan under which the benefits of the members and beneficiaries are constituted solely of benefits or refunds guaranteed at all times by an insurer and of benefits arising, at all times, solely from the sums credited to their accounts.
- The plan as amended is an insured plan for which the insurer undertakes to assume all the costs and fees relative to its termination.

_____ (signature) _____ (date)

Section B

I, _____ (actuary FCIA) _____, declare that I have read the application for registration and the amendment(s) to the plan cover thereunder and I certify that:

(Only one box may be checked.)

- The effect of the amendment(s) has already been valued in the report on the actuarial valuation of the plan dated _____,
- The amendment(s) does not give rise to any change in the employer contribution, the member contribution, if any, the liabilities or the assets of the plan as determined in the report dated _____ on the actuarial valuation of the plan as at _____.

SCHEDULE II

(s. 63)

DECLARATION OF TERMINATION OF A PENSION PLAN

(following notice given by the employer who is party to the plan)

Name of the plan: _____

Number: _____

I, _____, being duly authorized to act as the administrator or mandatary of the administrator of the plan mentioned above, declare that the plan is being terminated and that the date of its termination is _____.

I certify that:

(1) the termination follows a decision of the employer who is party to the plan (or, in the case of a multi-employer plan, the unanimous decision of the employers who are parties to the plan);

(2) to the best of my knowledge, no agreement prevents the employer or the employers from terminating the plan;

(3) the employer or the employers communicated their decision to terminate the plan by giving written notice, a copy of which is attached hereto, that, to the best of my knowledge, was transmitted to all the affected members and beneficiaries (that is, all the plan's members and beneficiaries whose benefits were not paid in full before the termination date and, if the termination resulted from a division, merger, disposal or closure of the enterprise or a part of the enterprise, all the members whose active membership ceased during the period between the date on which the members were informed of the event in question and the date of termination), the accredited association representing the members, the pension committee and the insurer, if any;

(4) the notice mentioned in paragraph 3 indicates the plan's date of termination as well as the members and beneficiaries affected;

(5) the date of termination mentioned above is not subsequent to the day preceding the day on which the benefits of the plan's last member or beneficiary were paid in full;

(6) to the best of my knowledge, the date of termination (check, as appropriate, one of the following boxes):

is not prior to the date of the cessation of collection of member contributions nor the date preceding by 30 days the transmittal of the notice of termination to the active members; is prior to the date of the cessation of collection of member contributions or the date preceding by 30 days the transmittal of the notice of termination to the active members, but each of the members whose active membership ended on the occasion of the termination or thereafter has consented in writing to the termination of the plan at the date mentioned above and the pension committee is able to produce those consents at the request of Retraite Québec;

(7) the pension committee received the written notice of termination from the employer (or employers) on

 _____ (signature) _____ (date) _____

SECTION I

ENREGISTREMENT ET RAPPORTS

1. La demande d'enregistrement d'un régime de retraite doit contenir, outre les documents et renseignements requis en vertu du deuxième alinéa de l'article 24 de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite (chapitre R-15.1), les suivants:

1° le nom de chaque employeur partie au régime et la nature de l'entreprise du principal employeur partie au régime;

2° le nom du régime et la date de son entrée en vigueur;

3° la liste des autres régimes auxquels tout employeur visé au paragraphe 1 est tenu de cotiser;

4° (paragraphe abrogé);

5° (paragraphe abrogé);

6° en ce qui concerne les participants actifs:

a) le nombre de ceux qui exercent un emploi inclus au sens de l'article 4 de la Loi sur les normes de prestation de pension (L.R.C. 1985, c. 32 (2^e Suppl.)), ventilé par sexe;

b) le nombre de ceux qui travaillent hors du Canada, ventilé par sexe;

c) le nombre des autres participants actifs, ventilé par sexe et, selon l'endroit où le travail est exécuté, par province et territoire canadiens;

6.1° en ce qui concerne les participants non actifs et les bénéficiaires:

a) leur nombre total;

b) le nombre de ceux d'entre eux qui sont visés par l'article 12;

7° la date de la fin de l'exercice financier du régime;

8° (paragraphe abrogé);

9° le nom du signataire de la demande ainsi que l'adresse de son bureau;

10° (paragraphe abrogé);

Le signataire de la demande doit attester:

1° qu'il est celui qui administre le régime ou qu'il est autorisé à agir en son nom;

2° que la personne qui a certifié la conformité de la copie du régime accompagnant la demande était habilitée à le faire;

3° que les renseignements contenus dans la demande sont exacts au meilleur de sa connaissance.

D. 1158-90, a. 1; D. 173-2002, a. 1.

1.1. Un régime de retraite simplifié, régi par la section IV du Règlement sur la soustraction de certaines catégories de régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite (chapitre R-15.1, r. 7), requiert d'une part, l'enregistrement des dispositions applicables à tous les employeurs parties au régime conformément au présent article et, d'autre part, l'enregistrement d'une modification au régime pour les dispositions particulières à chaque employeur conformément à l'article 2.1.

La demande d'enregistrement des dispositions applicables à tous les employeurs parties au régime doit contenir, outre les documents et renseignements requis en vertu des paragraphes 1, 6 et 7 du deuxième alinéa de l'article 24 de la Loi, les renseignements suivants:

1° le nom du régime, le nom de l'établissement financier qui l'administre et l'adresse de son siège et, le cas échéant, celui de son principal établissement au Québec;

2° la date d'entrée en vigueur de ces dispositions ainsi que le nombre des participants actifs au régime à cette date;

3° le nom du signataire de la demande et l'adresse de son bureau.

La demande doit également contenir une attestation du signataire selon laquelle:

1° l'établissement financier qui administre le régime a obtenu le consentement écrit de l'employeur aux obligations qui lui incombent en vertu du régime;

2° cet établissement financier a obtenu le consentement écrit de l'employeur et de l'association de travailleurs comme quoi les dispositions à enregistrer correspondent à ce qu'ils ont convenu, lorsque l'employeur a délégué à l'association des pouvoirs relatifs au régime aux termes d'une convention visée au paragraphe 27 de l'article 10 du Règlement sur la soustraction de certaines catégories de régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite;

3° il est autorisé à faire et à signer cette demande au nom de cet établissement financier;

4° la personne qui a certifié la conformité de la copie du régime accompagnant la demande était habilitée à le faire;

5° les renseignements contenus dans la demande sont exacts au meilleur de sa connaissance.

D. 658-94, a. 1; D. 173-2002, a. 2; D. 1073-2009, a. 50.

2. La demande d'enregistrement d'une modification d'un régime de retraite doit contenir, outre les documents et renseignements requis en vertu du deuxième alinéa de l'article 24 de la Loi, les suivants:

1° le nom du régime et le numéro que lui a attribué Retraite Québec;

2° l'objet de la modification et sa date de prise d'effet;

3° lorsque la modification a pour effet de réduire les droits des participants ou bénéficiaires, selon le cas:

a) la date de la prise d'effet de la convention collective, de la sentence arbitrale en tenant lieu ou du décret établissant ou rendant obligatoire cette modification;

b) la date d'envoi de l'avis prévu au premier alinéa de l'article 26 de la Loi;

4° le nom du signataire de la demande ainsi que l'adresse de son bureau;

5° le cas échéant, copie de la partie pertinente de la convention collective, de la sentence arbitrale ou du décret en vertu duquel la modification a été établie.

Le signataire de la demande doit attester:

1° qu'il est celui qui administre le régime ou qu'il est autorisé à agir en son nom;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2° que la personne qui a certifié la conformité de la copie de la modification accompagnant la demande était habilitée à le faire;

3° que les renseignements contenus dans la demande sont exacts au meilleur de sa connaissance.

La demande d'enregistrement doit également être accompagnée d'une déclaration conforme à celle prévue à l'annexe 0.0.1.

D. 1158-90, a. 2; D. 173-2002, a. 3.

2.1. La demande d'enregistrement d'une modification à un régime de retraite simplifié doit contenir, outre les documents et renseignements requis en vertu des paragraphes 1, 6 et 7 du deuxième alinéa de l'article 24 de la Loi, les renseignements suivants:

1° le nom du régime et le numéro que lui a attribué Retraite Québec;

2° l'objet de la modification et la date de sa prise d'effet et, lorsque la modification a pour effet de réduire les droits des participants ou bénéficiaires, selon le cas:

a) la date de la signature de la convention collective établissant cette modification;

b) la date de prise d'effet de la sentence arbitrale tenant lieu de convention collective ou du décret rendant obligatoire cette modification;

c) la date d'envoi de l'avis prévu au premier alinéa de l'article 26 de la Loi;

3° dans le cas des dispositions particulières à un employeur et aux participants qui travaillent pour lui, le nom de l'employeur;

4° le nom du signataire de la demande et l'adresse de son bureau.

La demande doit également contenir l'attestation prévue au troisième alinéa de l'article 1.1 modifiée pour tenir compte du fait que la demande vise une modification du régime.

D. 658-94, a. 2; D. 173-2002, a. 4.

3. (Abrogé).

D. 1158-90, a. 3; D. 173-2002, a. 5.

3.1. L'avis que doit transmettre le comité de retraite à Retraite Québec en application de l'article 119.1 de la Loi doit contenir les renseignements suivants:

1° le nom du régime et le numéro que lui a attribué Retraite Québec;

2° la date de fin du dernier exercice financier du régime;

3° le degré de solvabilité du régime à cette date.

D. 608-2016, a. 1

3.2. L'avis doit être accompagné d'un document, préparé par un actuaire, qui contient les renseignements suivants:

1° les données, hypothèses et méthodes utilisées pour établir la situation financière probable du régime selon l'approche de solvabilité;

 RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

2° une certification de l'actuaire attestant le degré de solvabilité du régime à la date de fin du dernier exercice financier du régime;

3° le nom du signataire, son titre professionnel, le nom et l'adresse de son bureau ainsi que la date de sa signature.

D. 608-2016, a. 1

4. Un rapport relatif à une évaluation actuarielle complète visé à l'article 120 de la Loi doit contenir les renseignements et les déclarations de l'actuaire prévus à la section 3260 des normes de pratique de l'Institut canadien des actuaires, les renseignements prévus aux articles 4.1 à 4.6 ainsi que les renseignements suivants:

1° le nom du régime et le numéro que lui a attribué Retraite Québec;

2° la date de l'évaluation actuarielle;

3° le nombre des participants actifs réparti, le cas échéant, selon que leurs droits sont accumulés en vertu de dispositions à cotisations déterminées ou de dispositions à prestations déterminées au sens de l'article 965.0.1 de la Loi sur les impôts (chapitre I-3) ou en vertu de ces 2 types de dispositions, le nombre des participants non actifs à qui aucune rente n'est servie et celui des autres participants non actifs et bénéficiaires dont les droits sont visés par l'évaluation actuarielle;

4° un résumé des dispositions du régime devant être prises en compte aux fins de l'évaluation, notamment celles portant sur les cotisations, l'âge normal de retraite, les conditions à remplir pour avoir droit à une rente anticipée, la formule d'indexation des rentes, les hypothèses utilisées conformément au deuxième alinéa de l'article 61 de la Loi et les remboursements et prestations payables au titre du régime;

5° le nom du signataire, son titre professionnel, le nom et l'adresse de son bureau ainsi que la date de la signature.

D. 1158-90, a. 4; D. 173-2002, a. 6; D. 1073-2009, a. 1; D. 978-2011, a. 1; D. 800-2015, a. 1.

4.1. En ce qui concerne la partie de l'évaluation actuarielle du régime réalisée selon l'approche de solvabilité, le rapport doit contenir les renseignements suivants:

1° la valeur de l'actif du régime, celle du passif établie en faisant abstraction, le cas échéant, de toute modification du régime considérée pour la première fois à la date de l'évaluation ainsi que les hypothèses et méthodes actuarielles utilisées pour établir ces valeurs;

2° la valeur du passif du régime ventilée entre le groupe des participants actifs au régime, celui des participants non actifs à qui aucune rente n'est servie et celui des autres participants non actifs et des bénéficiaires, les hypothèses et méthodes actuarielles utilisées pour établir cette valeur ainsi que le degré de solvabilité du régime;

3° le montant estimé des frais d'administration visé au premier alinéa de l'article 123 de la Loi;

4° dans le cas où le régime prévoit des engagements auxquels s'applique la dernière phrase du premier alinéa de l'article 124 de la Loi:

a) une description de ces engagements;

b) le scénario retenu par l'actuaire pour établir le passif du régime et, si ce scénario établit un passif inférieur à la valeur des engagements nés du régime en supposant qu'il se termine à la date de l'évaluation dans des circonstances telles que les droits des participants doivent être estimés à leur valeur maximale, cette dernière valeur;

5° la description de l'approche utilisée pour estimer la prime visée à l'article 126 de la Loi;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

6° dans le cas où le régime est à la fois solvable et capitalisé, que des cotisations d'équilibre restent à verser relativement à un déficit actuariel de modification déterminé lors d'une évaluation actuarielle antérieure et que la provision pour écarts défavorables prévue à l'article 128 de la Loi n'est pas calculée à la date de l'évaluation, une certification de l'actuaire attestant que, si cette provision était calculée à cette date, l'actif du régime serait inférieur au passif augmenté de la provision pour écarts défavorables.

D. 1073-2009, a. 1.

4.2. Dans le cas où la provision pour écarts défavorable est calculée, le rapport doit, de plus, contenir les renseignements suivants:

- 1° son montant, avec indication des quotes-parts attribuables aux éléments «R» et «S» de l'article 60.3;
- 2° le montant des éléments «R» et «S» de l'article 60.3 et celui de l'élément «D» déterminé conformément à l'article 60.4;
- 3° l'élément «d^R» de l'article 60.4, ainsi que les hypothèses et méthodes actuarielles utilisées pour l'établir;
- 4° le montant déterminé conformément au paragraphe 1 de l'élément «V» de l'article 60.4, ainsi que l'élément «d^M» du même article;
- 5° le montant maximum d'excédent d'actif qui peut être affecté à l'acquittement de cotisations patronales, établi conformément à l'article 146.3.4 de la Loi;
- 6° le montant maximum de la réduction à laquelle le comité de retraite peut consentir selon l'article 15.0.0.5;
- 7° le montant maximum de la réduction à laquelle le comité de retraite peut consentir selon le premier alinéa de l'article 15.0.0.6, en précisant que ce montant est établi en présumant que l'excédent d'actif du régime ne sera aucunement affecté à l'acquittement de cotisations patronales.

D. 1073-2009, a. 1.

4.3. En ce qui concerne la partie de l'évaluation actuarielle du régime réalisée selon l'approche de capitalisation, le rapport doit contenir les renseignements suivants:

- 1° la valeur de l'actif du régime, celle du passif établie en faisant abstraction, le cas échéant, de toute modification du régime considérée pour la première fois à la date de l'évaluation, ainsi que les hypothèses et méthodes actuarielles utilisées pour établir ces valeurs;
- 2° la valeur du passif du régime ventilée entre le groupe des participants actifs au régime, celui des participants non actifs à qui aucune rente n'est servie et celui des autres participants non actifs et des bénéficiaires, ainsi que les hypothèses et méthodes actuarielles utilisées pour établir cette valeur;
- 3° le montant établi conformément au premier alinéa de l'article 135 de la Loi.

D. 1073-2009, a. 1.

4.4. Lorsque l'évaluation actuarielle détermine la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime considérée pour la première fois, le rapport doit, de plus, contenir les renseignements suivants:

- 1° le résumé de la modification qui fait l'objet de l'évaluation, la date où la modification est intervenue ainsi que celle de sa prise d'effet;
- 2° la valeur, déterminée selon l'approche de solvabilité, des engagements supplémentaires qui résultent de la modification;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

3° dans le cas où la provision pour écarts défavorable est calculée, le montant d'excédent d'actif déterminé selon l'approche de solvabilité qui peut être affecté à l'acquittement de cette valeur;

4° la cotisation d'équilibre spéciale déterminée en application de l'article 132 de la Loi, le cas échéant;

5° la valeur, déterminée selon l'approche de capitalisation, des engagements supplémentaires qui résultent de la modification;

6° le montant d'excédent d'actif déterminé selon l'approche de capitalisation qui peut être affecté à l'acquittement de cette valeur.

D. 1073-2009, a. 1.

4.5. En ce qui concerne les déficits actuariels, le rapport doit contenir les renseignements suivants:

1° pour chaque déficit actuariel de solvabilité déterminé en application de l'article 130 de la Loi:

a) son type;

b) la date où il a été déterminé ainsi que celle de la fin de la période prévue pour l'amortir;

c) les mensualités relatives aux cotisations d'équilibre à verser jusqu'à la fin de cette période et leur valeur actualisée;

2° une description des modifications apportées en application de l'article 131 de la Loi aux déficits actuariels de solvabilité indiqués dans le dernier rapport portant sur une évaluation actuarielle du régime;

3° le montant du déficit actuariel de capitalisation, la date de la fin de la période prévue pour l'amortir et les mensualités relatives aux cotisations d'équilibre à verser jusqu'à cette date.

D. 1073-2009, a. 1.

4.6. Le rapport doit contenir les autres renseignements financiers suivants:

1° la cotisation d'exercice prévue pour l'exercice financier ou la partie d'exercice financier qui suit immédiatement l'évaluation actuarielle et la règle qui sert à la déterminer;

2° la règle qui sert à déterminer les cotisations d'exercice pour les 2 exercices financiers subséquents;

3° les montants qui doivent être versés respectivement par l'employeur et par les participants avec, pour chacun de ces montants, dans le cas d'un régime à prestations déterminées dont certaines dispositions sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée, la quote-part qui doit être versée pour ces dispositions et celle qui doit l'être pour les dispositions à prestations déterminées;

4° la cotisation patronale prévue au régime, si elle est supérieure à celle prévue à l'article 39 de la Loi;

5° une description des ajustements aux cotisations résultant de l'application du troisième alinéa de l'article 41 de la Loi;

6° le montant de la lettre de crédit ou le montant total de telles lettres et celui pris en compte dans l'actif aux fins de déterminer la solvabilité du régime.

D. 1073-2009, a. 1.

5. Un rapport qui concerne une évaluation actuarielle partielle faite dans les conditions prévues au deuxième alinéa de l'article 118 de la Loi doit contenir les renseignements prévus aux articles 5.1 à 5.4 ainsi que les renseignements suivants:

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

- 1° le nom du régime et le numéro que lui a attribué Retraite Québec;
- 2° la date de l'évaluation actuarielle;
- 3° le nom du signataire, son titre professionnel, le nom et l'adresse de son bureau ainsi que la date de la signature;
- 4° une certification de l'actuaire attestant qu'une évaluation actuarielle complète du régime faite à la même date montrerait que le régime est à la fois solvable et capitalisé.

Les certifications prévues au présent article et aux articles 5.1 et 5.2 doivent être établies sur la base d'une estimation prudente faite par l'actuaire.

D. 1158-90, a. 5; D. 173-2002, a. 7; D. 1073-2009, a. 2.

5.1. Dans le cas où la provision pour écarts défavorables est calculée sur la base d'estimations autorisées par l'article 60.5, le rapport doit contenir les renseignements suivants:

- 1° son montant;
- 2° une certification de l'actuaire attestant que, si une évaluation actuarielle complète était effectuée à la date de l'évaluation, elle permettrait l'établissement d'un montant de provision pour écarts défavorables égal ou inférieur à celui indiqué au paragraphe 1;
- 3° le montant maximum d'excédent d'actif qui peut être affecté à l'acquittement de cotisations patronales;
- 4° le montant maximum de la réduction à laquelle le comité de retraite peut consentir selon l'article 15.0.0.5;
- 5° le montant maximum de la réduction à laquelle le comité de retraite peut consentir selon le premier alinéa de l'article 15.0.0.6, en précisant que ce montant est établi en présumant que l'excédent d'actif du régime ne sera aucunement affecté à l'acquittement de cotisations patronales;

6° une certification de l'actuaire attestant que, si une évaluation actuarielle complète était effectuée à la date de l'évaluation, elle permettrait l'établissement de montants au moins égaux à ceux indiqués aux paragraphes 3 à 5.

D. 1073-2009, a. 2.

5.2. Lorsque l'évaluation actuarielle détermine la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant d'une modification du régime considérée pour la première fois, le rapport doit, de plus, contenir les renseignements suivants:

- 1° le résumé de la modification qui fait l'objet de l'évaluation, la date où la modification est intervenue ainsi que celle de sa prise d'effet;
- 2° la valeur des engagements supplémentaires qui résultent de la modification, déterminée selon l'approche de solvabilité et selon l'approche de capitalisation;
- 3° dans le cas où la provision pour écarts défavorables est calculée sur la base d'estimations autorisées par l'article 60.5:

a) le montant d'excédent d'actif qui peut être affecté à l'acquittement de la valeur des engagements supplémentaires résultant de la modification, établi selon l'approche de solvabilité, de même que celui établi selon l'approche de capitalisation;

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

b) une certification de l'actuaire attestant que, si une évaluation actuarielle complète était effectuée à la date de l'évaluation, elle permettrait l'établissement de montants au moins égaux aux montants visés au sous-paragraphe a;

4° dans le cas où la provision pour écarts défavorables n'est pas calculée, une certification de l'actuaire attestant que si cette provision était calculée à la date de l'évaluation, l'actif du régime serait inférieur au passif augmenté de la provision pour écarts défavorables.

D. 1073-2009, a. 2.

5.3. En ce qui concerne les déficits actuariels, le rapport doit contenir les renseignements suivants:

1° pour chaque déficit actuariel de modification déterminé en application de l'article 130 de la Loi:

- a) la date où il a été déterminé ainsi que celle de la fin de la période prévue pour l'amortir;
- b) les mensualités relatives aux cotisations d'équilibre à verser jusqu'à la fin de cette période et leur valeur actualisée;

2° une description des modifications apportées en application de l'article 131 de la Loi aux déficits actuariels de solvabilité indiqués dans le dernier rapport portant sur une évaluation actuarielle du régime.

D. 1073-2009, a. 2.

5.4. Le rapport doit contenir les autres renseignements financiers suivants:

1° les ajustements apportés, le cas échéant, à la règle visée au paragraphe 2 de l'article 4.6 qui se rapporte à l'exercice financier qui suit immédiatement l'évaluation actuarielle, pour tenir compte de toute modification considérée pour la première fois lors de cette évaluation;

2° les montants qui doivent être versés respectivement par l'employeur et par les participants avec, pour chacun de ces montants, dans le cas d'un régime à prestations déterminées dont certaines dispositions sont identiques à celles d'un régime à cotisation déterminée, la quote-part qui doit être versée pour ces dispositions et celle qui doit l'être pour les dispositions à prestations déterminées;

3° la cotisation patronale prévue au régime, si celle-ci est supérieure à la cotisation prévue à l'article 39 de la Loi;

4° le montant de la lettre de crédit ou le montant total de telles lettres et celui pris en compte dans l'actif aux fins de déterminer la solvabilité du régime;

5° une description des ajustements aux cotisations résultant de l'application du troisième alinéa de l'article 41 de la Loi.

SECTION IIDROITS

12. Pour les fins des paragraphes 2, 3 et 4 de l'article 13 et des articles 13.0.1, 13.0.2 et 13.0.3, il n'est tenu compte que des participants et des bénéficiaires à l'égard desquels Retraite Québec peut exercer des pouvoirs qui lui sont conférés par la Loi ou par un acte de délégation.

D. 1158-90, a. 12; D. 173-2002, a. 9.

13. Les demandes d'enregistrement suivantes doivent, au moment de leur présentation à Retraite Québec, être accompagnées des droits indiqués à leur égard:

1° celle concernant le contrat type d'un fonds de revenu viager visé à l'article 19 ou d'un compte de retraite immobilisé visé à l'article 29: 1 000 $;

2° celle concernant un régime de retraite simplifié visé par la section IV du Règlement sur la soustraction de certaines catégories de régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite (chapitre R-15.1, r. 7), pour ce qui concerne les dispositions communes à l'ensemble des employeurs parties à ce régime: 1 500 $;

3° celle concernant un régime de retraite qui n'est pas visé au paragraphe 2 ou 4: 250 $ ou, dans le cas d'un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X de la Loi, 500 $, auxquels s'ajoutent 9,85 $ pour chaque participant ou bénéficiaire du régime à la date de la demande, sous réserve d'un maximum de 100 000 $;

4° celle concernant un régime de retraite flexible visé par la section VII du Règlement sur la soustraction de certaines catégories de régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite: 1 000 $ auxquels s'ajoutent les droits calculés conformément au paragraphe 3;

Règlement sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite, R.L.R.Q. c. R-15.1, r. 6

RÉGIMES COMPLÉMENTAIRES DE RETRAITE

5° celle concernant une modification d'un régime de retraite visée à l'article 31 du Règlement sur la soustraction de certaines catégories de régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite: 1 000 $.

D. 1158-90, a. 13; D. 1895-93, a. 1; D. 658-94, a. 7; D. 173-2002, a. 9; D. 1073-2009, a. 50; D. 500-2014, a. 1.

13.0.1. La déclaration annuelle prévue à l'article 161 de la Loi doit, au moment de sa transmission à Retraite Québec, être accompagnée de droits s'établissant comme suit: 250 $ ou, dans le cas d'un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X de la Loi, 500 $, auxquels s'ajoutent 9,85 $ pour chaque participant ou bénéficiaire du régime à la date de la fin de l'exercice financier sur lequel porte la déclaration, sous réserve d'un maximum de 100 000 $.

Toutefois, dans le cas d'une déclaration annuelle qui se rapporte à un régime de retraite simplifié, les droits s'établissent comme suit: 1 000 $ plus 4,50 $ par participant actif du régime à la date de la fin de l'exercice financier sur lequel porte la déclaration.

D. 173-2002, a. 9; D. 500-2014, a. 2.

Pour l'exercice financier se terminant après le 30 décembre 2018, le montant de «4,50 $» sera remplacé par «5,00 $».

13.0.2. À compter du 31 décembre 2002, le montant payable pour un participant actif ou pour un participant ou un bénéficiaire selon le paragraphe 3 ou 4 de l'article 13 ou en vertu du premier alinéa de l'article 13.0.1 est ajusté le 31 décembre de chaque année en multipliant le montant payable avant cette date par le rapport entre la moyenne, pour la période de 12 mois se terminant le 30 juin de l'année en cours, des traitement et salaire hebdomadaires moyens de l'ensemble des industries au Canada pour chacun des mois compris dans cette période, tels que les publie Statistique Canada en vertu de la Loi sur la statistique (L.R.C. 1985, c. S-19), et la moyenne, pour la période de 12 mois se terminant à la fin du mois de juin de l'année qui précède immédiatement l'année en cours, des traitement et salaire hebdomadaires moyens de l'ensemble des industries au Canada pour chacun des mois compris dans cette période, tels que les publie Statistique Canada en vertu de la Loi sur la statistique. Le produit de ce calcul est augmenté ou diminué au multiple de 0,05 $ le plus près.

Le montant ainsi fixé ne peut être inférieur au montant qui était payable avant l'ajustement.

Retraite Québec informe le public du résultat de l'ajustement fait en vertu du présent article dans la Partie 1 de la Gazette officielle du Québec et, si elle le juge approprié, par tout autre moyen.

L'ajustement prévu au premier alinéa s'applique à toute déclaration annuelle se rapportant à un exercice financier qui se termine durant la période de 12 mois pour laquelle l'ajustement est fait.

D. 173-2002, a. 9; D. 500-2014, a. 3.

La suppression, dans le premier alinéa et après «de l'article 13 ou en vertu», de «du premier alinéa», s'applique à l'égard de l'exercice financier se terminant après le 30 décembre 2019.

13.0.3. Le rapport de terminaison visé à l'article 207.2 de la Loi doit, au moment de sa transmission à Retraite Québec, être accompagné de droits s'établissant comme suit: 250 $ ou, dans le cas d'un régime auquel s'applique le chapitre X de la Loi, 500 $, auxquels s'ajoutent, pour chaque participant ou bénéficiaire du régime à la date qui précède celle de la terminaison, un montant équivalent au double de celui fixé pour un participant ou un bénéficiaire selon le paragraphe 3 de l'article 13 et l'article 13.0.2 pour la période au cours de laquelle le régime se termine, sous réserve d'un maximum de 100 000 $.

Le rapport de terminaison prévu au paragraphe 2 de l'article 15 du Règlement sur la soustraction de certaines catégories de régimes de retraite à l'application de dispositions de la Loi sur les régimes complémentaires de retraite (chapitre R-15.1, r. 7) doit, au moment de sa production à Retraite Québec, être accompagné d'un droit de 1 000 $.

D. 173-2002, a. 9; D. 1073-2009, a. 50.

13.1. Avant de distribuer l'excédent d'actif d'un régime de retraite terminé, celui qui l'administre doit payer à Retraite Québec un droit égal à 1% de l'excédent d'actif; ce droit ne peut toutefois pas être inférieur à 500 $, sans cependant dépasser l'excédent d'actif, ni être supérieur à 50 000 $.

Le présent article s'applique même aux régimes de retraite visés au second alinéa de l'article 311.1 de la Loi. Il ne s'applique toutefois pas si l'excédent d'actif du régime fait l'objet soit d'une procédure, d'une répartition ou d'un décret visé au premier alinéa de cet article, soit d'un jugement qui a force de chose jugée avant le 1^{er} janvier 1993.

D. 1895-93, a. 2; D. 173-2002, a. 10.

14. En cas de défaut de production d'un écrit visé à l'article 13.0.1 ou 13.0.3, sont versés à Retraite Québec, pour chaque mois complet de retard, des droits additionnels égaux à 10% des droits initialement dus en vertu de la disposition pertinente, jusqu'à concurrence du montant des droits initialement dus.

En cas de défaut de paiement des droits qui doivent accompagner un écrit auquel s'applique le premier alinéa, sont versés à Retraite Québec, pour chaque mois complet de retard, des droits additionnels égaux à 10% du solde impayé à l'expiration du délai prévu pour la présentation de l'écrit à Retraite Québec, jusqu'à concurrence du montant de ce solde.

Aucun droit additionnel n'est dû en vertu du deuxième alinéa à l'égard d'un mois pour lequel des droits additionnels doivent être versés en application du premier alinéa. De plus, en cas de défaut de production d'un rapport de terminaison ou de défaut de paiement des droits qui doivent l'accompagner, aucun droit additionnel n'est dû à l'égard d'une période antérieure à la plus tardive des dates suivantes:

1° celle de l'expiration du délai prévu à l'article 207.2 de la Loi;

2° celle qui suit de 90 jours la date de la terminaison du régime.

En cas de défaut de production du rapport visé à l'article 120 de la Loi ou d'un document qui doit l'accompagner, sont versés à Retraite Québec, pour chaque mois complet de retard, des droits égaux à 20% des droits calculés de la manière prescrite par l'article 13.0.1 en tenant compte du nombre de participants et de bénéficiaires indiqué dans la déclaration annuelle de renseignements relative au dernier exercice financier du régime terminé à la date de l'évaluation actuarielle, jusqu'à concurrence du montant de ces droits.

D. 1158-90, a. 14; D. 1681-97, a. 1; D. 173-2002, a. 11; D. 1073-2009, a. 4.

14.1. Un établissement financier doit verser à Retraite Québec, avant le 31 décembre de chaque année, un droit de 250 $ pour chaque contrat type de fonds de revenu viager ou de compte de retraite immobilisé enregistré à son nom. En cas de défaut de paiement, sont versés à Retraite Québec, pour chaque mois complet de retard, des droits additionnels égaux à 10% du solde impayé à la date précitée.

D. 1681-97, a. 2; D. 173-2002, a. 12.

15. Toute communication visée à l'article 165 de la Loi et concernant des participants ou bénéficiaires introuvables doit être accompagnée du paiement d'un droit de 20 $ pour chaque nom qui y est mentionné.

D. 1158-90, a. 15; D. 173-2002, a. 13.

SECTION II.0.0.1

LETTRE DE CRÉDIT

D. 1073-2009, a. 5.

15.0.0.1. La lettre de crédit prévue à l'article 42.1 de la Loi est une lettre de crédit de soutien irrévocable. Elle est établie selon le formulaire 3.

Malgré toute stipulation contraire, une telle lettre de crédit est soumise aux lois du Québec et est régie par les normes prévues aux Règles et pratiques internationales relatives aux standby, 1998 (CCI, n° 590), dans la mesure où ces normes sont compatibles avec les dispositions du présent règlement.

D. 1073-2009, a. 5.

15.0.0.2. La lettre de crédit doit être émise par un établissement financier qui répond aux conditions suivantes:

1° il est autorisé à émettre des lettres de crédit au Québec ou dans un autre endroit au Canada où s'applique une entente visée à l'article 249 de la Loi;

2° l'une ou l'autre des agences de notation suivantes lui attribue la cote indiquée en regard de son nom dans le tableau qui suit ou encore une cote supérieure:

Agence de notation	Cote
Dominion Bond Rating Service	A
Fitch Ratings	A
Moody's Investors Service	A2
Standard & Poor's	A

D. 1073-2009, a. 5.

15.0.0.3. La date d'expiration de la lettre de crédit doit coïncider avec celle de la fin d'un exercice financier du régime de retraite.

D. 1073-2009, a. 5.

15.0.0.4. Le comité de retraite doit, sur demande écrite de l'employeur, consentir à la réduction du montant de la lettre de crédit dans les cas suivants:

1° l'employeur verse à la caisse de retraite une somme au moins égale à la réduction demandée;
