Proceeding under the Class Proceedings Act, 1992

AFFIDAVIT OF JOSEPH REDSHAW

I, JOSEPH REDSHAW, of the Town of Waterdown, in the Province of Ontario, SWEAR:

1. I am President of the IUOE Local 793 and a trustee of the Board of Trustees of the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 793 Pension Plan (the "OE Fund"), one of the plaintiffs in this action, and I have knowledge of the matters herein deposed. Where I make statements in this affidavit that are not within my personal knowledge, I have been informed by Mark Zigler and Kirk Baert of Koskie Minsky LLP, counsel to the OE Fund and to the plaintiffs in this action, and I believe that such information is true.

The OE Fund

- 2. The OE Fund was established November 1, 1973. It is a specified multi-employer pension plan registered with the Financial Services Commission on Ontario, No. 3890890 and is regulated by the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) and the Income Tax Act (Canada). The OE Fund was established pursuant to collective agreements between Local 793 and employer associations and individual employers. The OE Fund is administered by a Board of Trustees, one half of whom are appointed by the union and one half by the participating employers.
- 3. As of the commencement of these proceedings, the OE Fund has approximately 8,487 members in active employment and 12,380 retired, inactive and deferred vested members. The OE Fund has approximately 1,001 participating employers. The OE Fund has approximately $1.5 billion in assets.
- 4. The trustees are all either union representatives or negotiators or representatives of management with extensive experience in commercial and labour matters, and with the assistance of legal and financial advisors, regularly deal with contentious matters and litigation. We are also familiar with working in a regulatory environment, given the extensive regulation of pension plans under the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) and Income Tax Act (Canada).

Background

- 5. The OE Fund retained Koskie Minsky LLP and Siskinds LLP ("Class Counsel") to advance the class action on behalf of the OE Fund and on behalf of other class members.
- 6. Class Counsel retained Paliare Roland Rosenberg Rothstein LLP for purposes of the above-captioned proceeding (the "Insolvency Proceeding") under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act, who act for the Ad Hoc Committee of Purchasers of Applicant's Securities, of which the Engineers are an active member.
- 7. The class action was commenced on July 20, 2011 against Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino") and other defendants.
- 8. On March 19, 2012, my fellow trustee, Michael Gallagher, swore an affidavit in support of the plaintiffs' motion for leave to amend the statement of claim in this action to advance the causes of action under Part XXIII.1 of the Ontario Securities Act. That affidavit sets out a description of the OE Fund's investments in Sino, the nature of the claim asserted against the defendants to this action, his understanding of the litigation process and the trustees' agreement to be put forward as representative plaintiffs. Attached hereto and marked as Exhibit "A" is a copy of such affidavit, without exhibits. I rely on and adopt the statements made in Mr. Gallagher's affidavit regarding the trustees' role and responsibilities as representative plaintiffs. We still do not have, on any of the proposed common issues in the class action, any conflict with the interests of any other class members, as proposed in the Statement of Claim in this action, and I believe that we fairly and adequately represent the interests of the class.

9. I now swear this affidavit in support of an order approving the settlement entered into with Ernst & Young LLP (and other Ernst & Young entities) in accordance with the Minutes of Settlement dated November 29, 2012, which is attached hereto as Exhibit "B".

My Involvement in the Action

10. Throughout this litigation, Class Counsel has consulted with me and our Board of Trustees and has provided me with regular updates on the status of the litigation, being both the class proceeding and the Insolvency Proceeding. Class Counsel has provided updates to the trustees of the OE Fund by way of periodic conference call and through reports presented at the OE Fund quarterly Board meetings, and I and members of our Board have provided Class Counsel with instructions with respect to the conduct of this litigation.

Settlement Discussions

- 11. I have been consulted by, and provided instructions to, Class Counsel with respect to settlement discussions with the defendants. An all-parties mediation occurred on September 4 and 5, 2012. The mediation was conducted with the assistance of the Honourable Justice Newbould, acting as mediator. I attended the mediation and participated in full and frank discussions about the case with counsel and others. That mediation did not result in a settlement with any of the parties, including Ernst & Young, at that time. Given the defendants' negotiating stance at the mediation, it is my belief that Class Counsel could not have negotiated a significant all-party settlement at that mediation.
- 12. Following the global mediation, I was informed by Mark Zigler that settlement discussions continued with all defendants and in particular with Ernst & Young.

13. While I did not attend the subsequent bilateral mediation with Ernst & Young on November 27, 28 and 29, 2012, Class Counsel kept me apprised of the events and I provided instructions to Class Counsel to settle with Ernst & Young within a particular monetary range. Before the final settlement was concluded, I spoke with Class Counsel and provided my instructions to settle with Ernst & Young.

The Settlement is Fair and Reasonable

- 14. Mr. Zigler and Kirk Baert of Koskie Minsky LLP discussed the settlement with me and members of our pension fund investment committee and we are satisfied that it is fair and reasonable. I understand that there are many defences to our claims and damages calculations available to Ernst & Young, although I do not understand all the details of the legal argument. I also understand that a significant part of why Ernst & Young was willing to offer to pay the amount of CAD $117,000,000 was because of the Insolvency Proceeding of Sino. I understand that as part of this motion, a full release of all claims against Ernst & Young, in respect of its involvement with Sino is sought. I understand that the settlement and the release must be approved by the courts before Ernst & Young will pay the settlement funds.
- 15. I support the proposed settlement, and have instructed Class Counsel to seek approval of the Settlement Agreement.
- 16. In all the circumstances, I believe that an excellent settlement was reached. This settlement provides compensation for persons who purchased Sino securities, now, at an early stage of the litigation, rather than following what Mr. Zigler has informed me and I believe would be a long litigation process, even before a trial of the proposed common issues and any award of damages. Further, I have been informed by Messrs. Zigler and Baert and believe that it is possible that many of those securities purchasers would not have recovered anything from Ernst & Young or Sino's insolvency.

17. I swear this affidavit in support of the plaintiffs' motion for approval of the proposed settlement with Ernst & Young and for no improper purpose.

Proceeding under the Class Proceedings Act, 1992

AFFIDAVIT OF MICHAEL GALLAGHER

I, MICHAEL GALLAGHER, of the City of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, MAKE OATH AND SAY:

1. I am the chair of the Board of Trustees of the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 793 Pension Plan (the "OE Fund"), one of the plaintiffs in this action, and I have knowledge of the matters herein deposed. Where I make statements in this affidavit that are not within my personal knowledge, I have been informed by Mark Zigler of Koskie

Minsky LLP, counsel to the OE Fund, and Chris Brisebois of Eckler Ltd., actuaries and investment counsel to the OE Fund, and I believe that such information is true.

- 2. I swear this affidavit in support of the plaintiffs' motion for leave to amend the statement of claim in this action to advance the causes of action under Part XXIII.1 of the Ontario Securities Act and for no other or improper purpose.
- 3. No portion of this affidavit is meant to waive, nor should it be construed as a waiver of, solicitor-client, litigation, or any other privilege.

THE OF FUND

- 4. I have been a member of the OE Fund since May 31, 1985 and a Trustee since April 8, 1997. The OE Fund was established November 1, 1973. It is a specified multi-employer pension plan registered with the Financial Services Commission on Ontario, No. 3890890 and is regulated by the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) and the Income Tax Act (Canada). The OE Fund was established pursuant to collective agreements between Local 793 and employer associations and individual employers. The OE Fund is administered by a board of trustees.
- 5. The OE Fund has approximately 8,487 members in active employment and 12,380 retired, inactive and deferred vested members. The OE Fund has approximately 1,001 participating employers. The OE Fund has approximately $1.5 billion in assets.
- 6. The trustees are all either union representatives or negotiators or representatives of management with extensive experience in commercial and labour matters, and with the assistance of legal and financial advisors, regularly deal with contentious matters and litigation. We are also familiar with working in a regulatory environment, given the extensive regulation of pension plans under the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) and Income Tax Act (Canada).

NATURE OF THE ACTION

- 7. This action was commenced on July 20, 2011 against Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino") and other defendants. Sino is a publicly traded company, and its shares were traded at all material times on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol "TRE".
- 8. In this action, the plaintiffs allege, on their own behalf and on behalf of the class of investors that acquired Sino's securities, that Sino misstated its financials, substantially overstated the value of its assets, and concealed material information about its business and operations from the investors in its public filings. As a result of these alleged misrepresentations, Sino's securities traded at artificially inflated prices.
- 9. On June 2, 2011, Muddy Waters Research released a research report alleging fraud against Sino-Forest and alleging that it "massively exaggerates its assets". This was followed by a significant decline Sino-Forest's share price. As set out below, the trustees of the OE Fund held 324,100 shares at the time of this report.
- 10. The trustees brought this claim to recover investor losses, including those of the OE Fund, and in the interests of proper disclosure from issuers. The trustees have a strong interest in the health and proper function of the Canadian capital markets.
- 11. The alleged conduct in this action undermines the confidence in and proper functioning of capital markets in Canada.

- 12. The trustees chose to advance this action as a class proceeding in light of the significant cost of prosecuting a securities action on this scale. The losses of the OE Fund, while significant, do not justify the legal and expert costs of advancing these claims as an individual action. Furthermore, the potential adverse cost awards do not justify pursuing this action individually. I am advised by Mark Zigler of Koskie Minsky LLP and I believe that adverse cost awards after a trial could be in the millions of dollars.
- 13. Finally, I appreciate that Sino securities were held by a wide range of investors in different financial positions. Some investors, such as my co-plaintiff Mr. Grant, had very small investments, and undoubtedly do not have the ability to advance expensive complex commercial litigation of this nature. They could not afford it, and for those that can, such as the OE Fund, it would not make financial sense to do so.

OE FUND'S INVESTMENT IN SINO-FOREST CORPORATION

- 14. The trustees invested in Sino shares through four asset managers: McLean Budden Ltd., Morrison Williams Investment Management Ltd., Greystone Managed Investment Inc., and TD Asset Management Inc. ("TDAM"). I am advised by Chris Brisebois of Eckler Ltd. and I believe that the following reflects the trustees' transactions in Sino shares. Attached and marked as Exhibit "A" is a summary of these transactions in Sino's shares.
- 15. The fund's assets were invested on a segregated fund basis by Morrison Williams, Greystone and McLean Budden, and on a pooled fund basis by TDAM.
- 16. On the trustees' behalf, McLean Budden purchased 42,000 Sino shares between February 1, 2011 and May 24, 2011, which had a market value of $18.21 per share or $764,820 at the close of trading on June 1, 2011. The trustees sold their holdings on June 21, 2011 at a share price of $1.84 for net proceeds $77,170.80.

- 17. On the trustees' behalf, Morrison Williams purchased 181,700 Sino shares between January 20, 2011 and June 1, 2011, which had a market value of $18.21 per share or $3,308,757 at the close of trading on June 1, 2011. The trustees sold their holdings on June 3, 2011 at an average share price of $5.147 for net proceeds of $1,524,026.70.
- 18. On the trustees' behalf, Greystone purchased 100,400 Sino shares between July 5, 2007 and May 26, 2011, which had a market value of $18.21 per share or $1,828,384 at the close of trading on June 1, 2011. The trustees sold many of these shares in July and August and continue to hold approximately 37,350 Sino shares. The market price for these shares at the imposition of the cease-trade order by the Ontario Securities Commission on August was $4.91.
- 19. The trustees also purchased units of a pooled fund managed by TDAM that held Sino shares between June 15, 2007 and June 9, 2011.

ACTING AS REPRESENTATIVE PLAINTIFF

20. I and the other trustees of the OE Fund are prepared to act as representative plaintiffs in this class action. I understand that as representative plaintiffs we would be obligated to direct this litigation and to act in the best interests of class members. For example, I understand that any settlement discussions with the defendants cannot relate only to the losses of the OE Fund, but must relate to the claims of the class members as a whole.

21. The trustees seek to represent the following persons as class members in this action:

all persons and entities, wherever they may reside, who acquired Sino-Forest Corporation common shares, notes or other securities, as defined in the Ontario Securities Act, during the period from and including March 19, 2007 to and including June 2, 2011

- (a) by distribution in Canada or on the Toronto Stock Exchange or other secondary market in Canada, which includes securities acquired over-the-counter or
- (b) who are resident of Canada or were resident of Canada at the time of acquisition, excluding the defendants, their past and present subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors, senior employees, partners, legal representatives, heirs, predecessors, successors and assigns, and any individual who is a member of the immediate family of an individual defendant

- 22. Counsel for the trustees and the other plaintiffs in this litigation are Koskie Minsky LLP and Siskinds LLP. Mark Zigler of Koskie Minsky LLP has provided the trustees with frequent updates regarding this class action.
- 23. Mark Zigler of Koskie Minsky LLP has explained the major steps in a class action. I understand these major steps include:
  - (a) preparing and serving a statement of claim;
  - (b) a motion for leave to proceed with the statutory claims under Part XXIII.1 of the Securities Act, which will likely include extensive cross-examinations;
  - (c) a motion for certification, which I understand involves the court's consideration of whether this action is appropriate to proceed as a class action. I also understand there will be cross-examinations for this motion and that my and the other trustees' ability to fairly and adequately represent the class will be in issue;

- (d) if the action is certified, there would be notice to the class of the certification and the right to opt-out (i.e. a chance for class members not to participate in the class action);
- (e) the disclosure and exchange of relevant documents;
- (f) examinations for discovery, where the defendants can examine the plaintiffs about their claims and those of the class and our counsel can examine the defendants' representatives;
- (g) a pre-trial conference where a judge can help the parties towards a settlement of the case;
- (h) a trial of the common issues (i.e. a trial that only deals with the certified common issues as opposed to the issues individual to the trustees and other class members);
- (i) notice to the class if individual hearings or participation is required;
- (j) the determination of individual issues, if required;
- (k) the distribution of proceeds (if any) of a money award by judgment or settlement;
- (l) appeals, which might include appeals from the certification motion, leave motion, other motions or the trial of the common issues; and
- (m) settlement discussions, which could happen at any time.
- 24. I understand that as representative plaintiffs the trustees would have, among others, the following responsibilities:
  - (a) review and keep ourselves informed of the steps in this litigation;
  - (b) familiarize ourselves with the issues to be decided at the common issues stage and other issues in the action;
  - (c) help prepare the affidavits and other materials in support of certification, other motions and the materials that would be used at a common issues trial;
  - (d) attend any cross-examination on my affidavits or otherwise;
  - (e) attend the examinations for discovery;

- (f) assist in preparing and executing an affidavit of documents, which will list the relevant documents that the OE Fund has in its possession, power or control;
- (g) attend at the common issues trial, providing any direction or assistance to class counsel and give evidence regarding the case;
- (h) express the trustees' views on any settlement offers that we receive or that we make on behalf of class members; and
- (i) assist in preparing materials in support of a court approving any settlement.
- 25. The trustees of the OE Fund are committed to actively directing this litigation and maximizing the recovery for the class. The trustees have been advised by Mark Zigler and accept that we owe a duty to all members of the proposed class to provide fair and adequate representation. The trustees intend to work with their co-plaintiffs and counsel to obtain the best recovery for the whole class, consistent with good faith and meritorious advocacy.
- 26. I believe that I and the other trustees can fairly and adequately represent the interests of class members and we are committed to fulfilling our obligations as their representatives.

LITIGATION PLAN

27. I have reviewed the draft litigation plan, which I understand will be attached to a separate affidavit of one of our lawyers. I understand that the litigation plan provides for notice to the class members if the action is certified. I and the other trustees do not have the expertise to evaluate the legal aspects of the plan, but our lawyers have formulated this plan and I understand from them that it is designed to provide a workable method of determining the issues in this action. I understand from our lawyers and believe that the court has approved similar litigation plans in Canadian securities class actions.

28. I am not aware of a conflict of interest between the trustees and the proposed class members with respect to any issues in this case.

The Trustees of the Labourers' Pension Fund of Central and Eastern Canada,
The Trustees of the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 793 Pension Plan for Operating Engineers in Ontario, Sjunde AP-Fonden, David Grant, Robert Wong, Guining Liu, and any other proposed representative plaintiffs in Ontario Superior Court Action No. CV-11431153-00CP and in Ouebec Superior Court No. 200-06-000132-111, in their personal and proposed representative capacities (the "Plaintiffs")

-and-

Ernst & Young LLP, on behalf of itself and Ernst & Young Global Limited and all member firms thereof ("EY", together with the Plaintiffs the "Parties")

MINUTES OF SETTLEMENT

- 1. These Minutes of Settlement represent the agreement between the Plaintiffs and EY reached on November 28, 2012 to resolve in accordance with the terms more particularly set out herein the actions, causes of action, claims and/or demands, on all counts howsoever arising and in all jurisdictions, made against EY or which could have been made concerning any claims related to Sino-Forest Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries, whether or not captured by the "Class" or the "Class Period", as variously defined, including the actions (the "Actions") listed on Schedule "A" hereto (the "Claims");
- The terms of these Minutes of Settlement are binding on the Parties;
- 3. These Minutes of Settlement are and shall remain confidential, and neither party shall publicly disclose or include in a court filing the terms hereof without the prior written consent of the other;
- 4. EY makes no admissions of liability and waives no defences available to it with respect to the Claims or otherwise;
- 5. A settlement amount of CDN $117,000,000 (the "Settlement Fund") shall be paid by EY in accordance with the applicable orders of the courts (Ontario Superior Court of Justice, Ontario Superior Court of Justice Commercial List (supervising CCAA judge), Province of Quebec Superior Court, United States District Court and the United States Bankruptcy Court) ("Courts") on the Effective Date (save for any amounts payable in advance of the Effective Date as set out in paragraph 7), being the date that all requisite approvals and orders are obtained from the Courts and are final and non-appealable;

- 6. The Settlement Fund represents the full monetary contribution or payment of any kind to be made by EY in settlement of the Claims, inclusive of claims, costs, interest, legal fees, taxes (inclusive of any GST, HST, or any other taxes which may be payable in respect of this settlement), any payments to Claims Funding International, all costs associated with the distribution of benefits, all costs of any necessary notice, all costs associated with the administration of the settlement and any other monetary costs or amounts associated with the settlement or otherwise;
- 7. No payment of the Settlement Fund shall be made by EY until all conditions herein and set out in Schedule B hereto have been met. However, with respect to notice and administration costs which are incurred in advance of the Effective Date, as a result of an Order of the Court, the Plaintiffs will incur and pay such costs up to $200,000 (the "Initial Plaintiffs Costs"), which costs are to be immediately reimbursed from the Settlement Fund after the Effective Date. EY will incur and pay such notice and administration costs which are incurred in advance of the Effective Date, as a result of an Order of the Court, over and above the Initial Plaintiffs Costs up to a further $200,000 (the "Initial EY Costs"). The Initial EY Costs shall be deducted from the amount of the Settlement Fund payable to the Plaintiffs. Should any costs in excess of the cumulative amount of the Initial Plaintiffs Costs and the Initial EY Costs, being a total of $400,000, in respect of notice and administration be incurred prior to the Effective Date, as a result of an Order of the Court, such amounts are to be borne equally between the Plaintiffs and EY, which amounts are to be reimbursed or deducted as the case may be from the Settlement Fund, on the terms set out above in this section. Should the settlement not proceed, the Parties shall bear their respective costs paid to that time;
- 8. No further proceedings shall be commenced or continued by the Plaintiffs or their counsel against EY in respect of any Claims, other than as necessary to complete the settlement herein;
- 9. The Plaintiffs agree not to claim from the non-settling defendants in the Actions, that portion of any damages that corresponds to the proportionate share of liability of EY, proven at trial or otherwise, such that EY is not further exposed to the Claims;
- 10. It is the intention of the Parties that this settlement shall be approved and implemented in the Sino-Forest Corporation CCAA proceedings. The settlement shall be conditional upon full and final releases and claims bar orders in favour of EY and which satisfy and extinguish all Claims against EY, and without opt-outs, and as contemplated by the additional terms attached hereto as Schedule B hereto and incorporated as part of these Minutes of Settlement;
- 11. This settlement is conditional upon obtaining appropriate orders from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice Commercial List (supervising CCAA judge) and the United States Bankruptcy Court that provide that the payment of the Settlement Fund is in full satisfaction of any and all claims that could be brought in connection with the claims of any security holder or creditor of Sino-Forest Corporation, including claims over for contribution and indemnity or otherwise, howsoever arising in Canada and the United States;

- 12. The releases in the Sino-Forest Corporation CCAA proceedings shall include Ernst & Young LLP (Canada) and Ernst & Young Global Limited and all member firms thereof, and all present and former affiliates, partners, associates, employees, servants, agents, contractors, directors, officers, insurers and successors, administrators, heirs and assigns of each, but does not include any non-settling defendants in the Actions or their respective present or former affiliates, partners, associates, employees, servants, agents, contractors, directors, officers, insurers or successors, administrators, heirs and assigns of each in their capacity as officers or directors of Sino-Forest Corporation ("EY Global"). The releases to be provided to EY by the Plaintiffs shall include EY Global and will release all Claims of the Plaintiffs' counsels' clients in all jurisdictions;
- 13. It is the intention of the Parties that the Settlement Fund shall be distributed in a claims process satisfactory to the CCAA Court, with a prior claims bar order;
- 14. The Parties shall use all reasonable efforts to obtain all Court approvals and/or orders necessary for the implementation of these Minutes of Settlement, including an order in the CCAA proceedings granting the plaintiffs appropriate representative status to effect the terms herein;
- 15. If the settlement between the Parties or any terms hereof are not approved by order(s) of the applicable Courts fulfilling all conditions precedent in paragraph 10 hereto the settlement between the Parties and these Minutes of Settlement are null and void;
- 16. These terms shall be further reduced to a written agreement reflecting the terms of the agreement between the Parties hereto with such additional terms agreed to by the Parties consistent herewith or as agreed to give efficacy in Quebec and the United States. Should the Parties be unable to agree on the form of written agreement, the Parties agree to appoint Clifford Lax as mediator/arbitrator to assist the Parties and his decision as arbitrator shall be final and binding on the Parties, in accordance with the terms herein but subject to the terms of Schedule B hereof, and not subject to appeal;
- 17. The Parties will agree on a level of disclosure by EY for the purposes of reasonably assisting in the approval process of the applicable Courts, consistent with the Parties' obligations under the relevant class proceedings legislation. Should the Parties be unable to agree on the level of disclosure after good faith efforts to do so, the Parties agree to appoint Clifford Lax as mediator to assist the Parties. If the Parties after mediation are still unable to reach an agreement, then either Party may terminate the settlement;
- 18. Pending the implementation of this settlement, including the distribution of the Settlement Fund, EY shall advise the plaintiffs of any agreements reached by it with the Ad Hoc Committee of Noteholders, Sino-Forest, the Litigation Trustee, or counsel or representatives of any of these parties, to pay any monetary consideration to any of them.

AFFIDAVIT OF ADAM C. PRITCHARD

I, Adam C. Pritchard, of the City of Ann Arbor, in the State of Michigan, in the United States of America, MAKE OATH AND SAY:

I. INTRODUCTION AND SUMMARY OF OPINIONS

- 1. I am the Frances and George Skestos Professor of Law and Director of Empirical Legal Studies at the University of Michigan Law School in Ann Arbor. I have been retained by Siskinds LLP and Koskie Minsky LLP, co-counsel in the above-captioned securities litigation against Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest") and others, to assess the claims asserted in Leapard, et al., v. Chan, et al., No. 12-cv-1726 (S.D.N.Y. removed Mar. 8, 2012) ("Leapard") against Sino-Forest's auditor, Ernst & Young LLP ("E&Y"), for the purposes of a hearing to approve a settlement with E&Y to resolve all claims against it in connection with Sino-Forest. The opinions expressed herein are based on the specific facts of this case. Thus, nothing expressed or concluded herein can be applied to any other litigation or controversy.
- 2. I understand the recognition of any order granted by an Ontario court approving a settlement will be sought from a court in the United States. Attached hereto as Exhibit "A" is a copy of the Amended Complaint filed in Leapard on September 28, 2012. Attached as Exhibit "B" is a copy of the Declaration of Richard A. Speirs ("Lead Plaintiff Materials") filed in support of David Leapard, IMF Finance SA, and Myong Hyon Yoo's motion for appointment as lead plaintiffs (the "Lead Plaintiffs") in that action. Attached as Exhibit "C" is the Order of the US District Court for the Southern District of New York ("Lead Plaintiff Order") appointing the Lead Plaintiffs and their counsel, Cohen Milstein Sellers and Toll PLLC as lead counsel in that action.
- 3. The primary claim against E&Y is based on Rule 10b-5 promulgated under section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act. A common law claim is also asserted against E&Y for aiding and abetting fraud. In my view, discussed more fully below, both claims face significant obstacles to any recovery. I understand E&Y denies all allegations against it. The principal obstacles to success of the litigation are likely to be: 1) pleading scienter and reliance; 2) establishing market efficiency for the fraud-on-the-market presumption of reliance; and 3) limits on damages for third-party defendants.

4. For ease of exposition, I will consider obstacles to these claims that are likely to be raised at three points in the litigation: 1) the motion to dismiss stage; 2) the class certification stage; and 3) summary judgment and/or trial.

II. QUALIFICATIONS AND COMPENSATION

- 5. I teach corporate law and securities regulation at the University of Michigan. Among the topics that I cover in those classes are class action procedures, disclosure requirements under the federal securities laws, and securities fraud class actions. Securities fraud class actions are an important topic in my two books, as well as my principal research area. My articles include doctrinal, empirical and theoretical analysis of securities class actions. My curriculum vitae, including recent publications, is attached hereto as Exhibit "D."
- 6. The opinions set forth in this affidavit are based on my knowledge of and experience with US securities laws and US class action securities litigation which I have acquired as a scholar and teacher in these areas, as well as an attorney at the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC").
- 7. My compensation is based on the number of hours worked on this assignment, as well as out-of-pocket expenses. My hourly rate is US$650.

III. MATERIALS REVIEWED

8. For the purpose of this expert opinion, I have reviewed the Amended Complaint, Lead Plaintiff Materials, and the Lead Plaintiff Order. Specific information relied upon are cited in the text of this affidavit.

IV. OPINION

1. The Claims

- 9. The Lead Plaintiffs assert claims on behalf of a class of persons who, from March 19, 2007 through August 26, 2011, purchased Sino-Forest's common stock on the Over-the-Counter ("OTC") market and/or purchased Sino-Forest's debt securities outside of Canada. Specifically excluded from the class are purchasers who purchased Sino-Forest securities on the Toronto Stock Exchange or in Canada.<sup>1</sup>
- 10. These proceedings are at an early stage. The court has recently approved the appointment of the Lead Plaintiffs and their counsel. After a lead plaintiff has been appointed, lawsuits are typically met with a motion to dismiss, meaning that the action is effectively stayed until the court decides the motion, which may take months or years. If the motion is granted, it will typically be granted without prejudice, affording the plaintiffs another opportunity to plead an adequate complaint. The amended complaint will typically be met with a motion to dismiss, which may again takes months or years to resolve. If the complaint survives the motion to dismiss, the case will then proceed to preliminary discovery with an eye toward issues likely to be raised at the class certification stage, which will also take months or years. Class certification is the next significant hurdle for plaintiffs. If the class is certified, discovery on merits issues is then completed. After discovery is completed, motions for summary judgment would typically follow. If the case survives summary judgment, it can then be set for trial.

- 11. The primary claims asserted against E&Y are based on Rule 10b-5. To state a claim for fraud under Rule 10b-5, a private plaintiff must show: "(1) a material misrepresentation or omission by the defendant; (2) scienter; (3) a connection between the misrepresentation or omission and the purchase or sale of a security; (4) reliance upon the misrepresentation or omission; (5) economic loss; and (6) loss causation."<sup>2</sup>
- 12. The common law claim for fraud requires these elements under New York law: "(1) a material representation or omission of fact; (2) made with knowledge of its falsity; (3) with scienter or an intent to defraud; (4) upon which the plaintiff reasonably relied; and (5) such reliance caused damage to the plaintiff."<sup>3</sup>
- 13. Most of the requirements for establishing common law fraud overlap with the Rule 10b-5 claims' criteria.<sup>4</sup> Therefore, I will discuss them in the Rule 10b-5 claims context (with the exception of reliance, which I will discuss separately).
- 14. Aiding and abetting fraud requires the plaintiff to plead and prove: "(1) a violation by the primary wrongdoer, (2) knowledge of the wrongful conduct by the aider and abettor, and (3) substantial assistance by the aider and abettor in achieving the violation." Thus, plaintiffs will need to establish liability for common law fraud before they can establish liability under the aiding and abetting fraud claim. In addition, plaintiffs will need to prove "substantial assistance," which requires proof that the "defendant affirmatively assist[ed], help[ed] conceal, or by virtue of failing to act when required to do so enable[d] the fraud to proceed."6

2. Motion to dismiss

- 15. In practice, complaints are routinely met by a motion to dismiss, and there is no reason to believe that E&Y will not move to dismiss the complaint in Leapard. Defendants have been very successful in gaining dismissal of complaints subject to these restrictions imposed by the PSLRA. Most estimates put the rate of dismissal at around 40%. Steve Choi, looking at lawsuits filed between 2003 and 2005, found a dismissal rate of 43%. NERA, looking at cases filed between 2001 and 2006, found an overall dismissal rate in the US of around 45%.8 In earlier work, looking at cases filed between 1996 and 2002, Hillary Sale and I found a dismissal rate of 36% for cases filed in the Second Circuit.<sup>9</sup>
- 16. In order to survive a motion to dismiss, plaintiffs must meet the standards explained in detail below.

a. Pleading standard

- 17. In the US, plaintiffs are not required to seek leave of the court before filing an action, but their complaint must plead the facts relating to the alleged fraud. Complaints that do not plead facts sufficient to satisfy each of the elements noted above are subject to dismissal. Claims alleging fraud, which would include both the Rule 10b-5 and common law claims asserted in Leapard, "must state with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud." To satisfy this particularity requirement, a plaintiff must "(1) specify the statements that the plaintiff contends were fraudulent, (2) identify the speaker, (3) state where and when the statements were made, and (4) explain why the statements were fraudulent."
- 18. Rule 10b-5 claims face additional, more demanding pleading standards. The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995<sup>12</sup> ("PSLRA"), requires that facts "giving rise to a strong inference that the defendant acted with the required state of mind," must be pled with particularity.<sup>13</sup> The rule that fraud must be plead with particularity "is applied assiduously to securities fraud" in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals, which encompasses the S.D.N.Y.<sup>14</sup> The challenge posed for the plaintiff of pleading the alleged fraud with sufficient particularity is heightened by a stay of discovery that applies while a motion to dismiss is pending.<sup>15</sup> The discovery stay is particularly important with respect to claims against auditors, as it precludes access to the auditor's work papers and communications with the client, which makes it exceptionally difficult to collect the facts needed to demonstrate that the auditor acted with the requisite scienter.

b. Material misstatement

- 19. The Leapard claim against E&Y is primarily based on Sino-Forest's alleged overstatement of its assets, revenues, and income. Materiality is an objective question "involving the significance of an omitted or misrepresented fact to a reasonable investor." Specifically, materiality turns on whether a "reasonable investor" would view the misstatement or omission at issue as altering the "total mix" of available information. Materiality thus trains on the objective importance of the misstatements (or omissions) made by the defendant to the reasonable investor. Materiality determinations are disfavored on motions to dismiss, however, as they "determination require] delicate assessments of the inferences a 'reasonable shareholder' would draw from a given set of facts and the significance of those inferences to him"—assessments that are "peculiarly... for the trier of fact." Given that Sino-Forest has advised investors not to rely on its financial statements, a motion to dismiss based on materiality grounds is unlikely to succeed.
- 20. The plaintiff must show that the alleged misstatement was publicly attributed to the defendant at the time of the misstatement; the plaintiff cannot rely on allegations that the defendants assisted in its drafting or acquiesced in its dissemination.<sup>20</sup> E&Y expressed its opinion that Sino-Forest's financial statements presented fairly the financial position of Sino-Forest in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, so the plaintiffs should not have difficulty satisfying this element for the purposes of a motion to dismiss.

c. Scienter

- 21. In addition to the foregoing, the plaintiff must plead facts giving rise to a strong inference that the defendant made the misstatement with scienter, generally held to require at least recklessness.<sup>21</sup> Recklessness is defined as "an extreme departure from the standards of ordinary care to the extent that the danger was either known to the defendant or so obvious that the defendant must have been aware of it."<sup>22</sup> Complaints must be plead with particularity, which requires the plaintiff to "(1) specify the statements that the plaintiff contends were fraudulent, (2) identify the speaker, (3) state where and when the statements were made, and (4) explain why the statements were fraudulent."<sup>23</sup>
- 22. The scienter requirement poses potentially the greatest obstacle for the Leapard plaintiffs; motions to dismiss are commonly granted in securities fraud cases based on the failure to adequately plead scienter.
- 23. In the S.D.N.Y., "the standard for pleading auditor scienter is demanding."<sup>24</sup> In this context, recklessness is defined as "conduct that is highly unreasonable, representing an extreme departure from the standards of ordinary care" and "approximat[ing] an actual intent to aid in the fraud being perpetrated by the audited company."<sup>25</sup> Plaintiffs must allege sufficient facts to show that "[t]he accounting practices were so deficient that the audit amounted to no audit at all, or an egregious refusal to see the obvious, or to investigate the doubtful, or that the accounting judgments which were made were such that no reasonable accountant would have made the same decisions if confronted with the same facts."<sup>26</sup>

- 24. Although "allegations of accounting errors by themselves do not meet" the standard for pleading scienter "when coupled with sufficiently attention-grabbing 'red-flags,' pervasive 'GAAP and GAAS violations ... are sufficient to support a strong inference of scienter." Thus, in order to withstand a motion to dismiss on scienter grounds, the Leapard plaintiff class will have to show that E&Y recklessly ignored "red flags" when conducting the audits and certifying the financial statements.
- 25. Recent cases from the S.D.N.Y. show that recklessness determinations with respect to auditors are extremely fact specific.
- 26. In In re Bear Stearns Companies, Inc. Sec., Deriv., and ERISA Litig., <sup>28</sup> the court found that the plaintiffs' claims against Bear Stearns' outside auditor could survive a motion to dismiss. Deloitte had audited Bear Stearns' financial statements in the time period leading up to Bear Stearns' collapse. The court found that the complaint adequately alleged that Deloitte knowingly or recklessly ignored numerous signs that should have led it to question whether Bear Stearns was engaged in wrongdoing. The alleged red flags included allegations that Deloitte ignored warning signs that Bear Stearns (1) used mortgage valuation models that the SEC had criticized as inaccurate; (2) had been warned by the SEC that its valuation models did not reflect key housing indicators; (3) received collateral from one of its hedge funds that was worth far less than the value of the loan that Bear Stearns made to the fund; (4) lacked adequate internal controls, and (5) failed to disclose weaknesses in financial models and risk management procedures.

- 27. In Stephenson v. PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP, <sup>29</sup> the court found that the plaintiff failed to adequately allege scienter against PricewaterhouseCoopers, the outside auditor of a Madoff feeder fund. The plaintiff alleged that PricewaterhouseCoopers ignored multiple red flags about the operation of Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities, LLC—its client's general partner—that should have prompted closer scrutiny of the client's financial statements. The court rejected the plaintiff's alleged "red flags" as merely showing that PricewaterhouseCoopers had "access to information by which it could have discovered warning signs of fraud." The plaintiff did not adequately plead that PricewaterhouseCoopers actually knew of the red flags, and an auditor cannot intentionally or recklessly disregard red flags of which it is unaware.
- 28. In Dobina v. Weatherford International Ltd., a district court in the S.D.N.Y. rejected a long list of purported red flags in connection with Rule 10b-5 claims asserted against Ernst & Young LLP.<sup>30</sup> The Dobina plaintiffs alleged that Ernst & Young LLP ignored the following issues with its audit client: "compliance: (1) the sudden drop in Weatherford's tax rate in 2007, (2) the magnitude of the error as ultimately revealed in 2010, (3) the frequency and consistency of the tax entries, (4) the fact that Weatherford's apparent tax rate was much lower than that of its rivals and permitted Weatherford to beat earnings forecasts, (5) the fact that Ernst & Young LLP received fees for "non-U.S. tax compliance, planning and U.S./non-U.S. tax related consultation," (6) Weatherford's prior history of accounting improprieties, (7) the discrepancy between Weatherford's cash tax rate and reported tax rate, (8) Ernst & Young LLP's access to a spreadsheet containing intercompany reconciliations and (9) the discrepancy between Ernst & Young LLP's representations about internal controls and Weatherford's March 2011 admissions."<sup>31</sup> These red flags failed, according to the court, either because the plaintiffs failed to allege that Ernst & Young LLP was aware of the problems, or the issues failed to distinguish Weatherford from any other public company.

29. The most recent case from the S.D.N.Y. addressing scienter and auditors is also the one with the facts closest to those alleged in the Leapard Amended Complaint. In Longtop Fin. Tech. Ltd. Sec. Litig., the district court dismissed the Rule 10b-5 claims against Deloitte arising out of its audit of Longtop Financial, a Chinese information technology company.<sup>32</sup> The plaintiff alleged that Deloitte ignored red flags in not identifying related party transactions that Longtop was using to conceal costs, which had the effect of inflating Longtop's profits substantially above those of its peers. The complaint alleged that even a cursory audit would have uncovered the red flags, and that discovery of the red flags would have led to the unraveling of Longtop's alleged fraud. Despite the magnitude of the alleged fraud, the district court found that the complaint failed to plead a strong inference of scienter with respect to the auditors because it did not plead that Deloitte was actually aware of the red flags. According to the court, "[i]n order for a complaint founded on the theory that an auditor should have uncovered red flags to survive a motion to dismiss, the red flags must be 'so obvious that knowledge of them by the auditor can be presumed."<sup>33</sup> The alleged red flags in Longtop fell short of this standard.

- 30. The Amended Complaint in Leapard alleges that "the fraudulent practices at Sino-Forest were so widespread and material that numerous red flags should have alerted E&Y to the materially misleading financial statements issued by Sino-Forest. That E&Y certified Sino-Forest's Financial Statements year after year and never once alerted investors or regulators to these fraudulent transactions shows that their audits were extremely reckless."<sup>34</sup>
- 31. These allegations may be found inadequate because there is little in the Amended Complaint to suggest that E&Y knew of the alleged fraudulent statements. To allege that the auditors "must have known" that the financial statements were fraudulent at the time of their preparation on the basis of their subsequent restatement no matter how large the restatement is conclusory. Conclusory allegations of this sort are a form of the "fraud by hindsight" that is recurringly rejected by district courts assessing the adequacy of securities fraud complaints. In my opinion, these allegations of scienter against E&Y face a substantial risk of dismissal. The only countervailing consideration here is the sheer magnitude of the misstatements in the financial statements, but the pleading standard was adopted to discourage courts from being unduly swayed by such salient facts.
- 32. In my opinion, E&Y may well succeed with its motion to dismiss based on scienter.

d. Other elements

33. The other elements of the Rule 10b-5 claims – the "in connection" requirement, reliance, damages and loss causation – do not need to be plead with particularity in the complaint, they need only be "plausible."<sup>36</sup> In my view, the general allegations in the complaint meet this standard, although E&Y may move to dismiss the complaint on any one of them.

34. The same may not be true of the common law fraud claim. Courts in the S.D.N.Y. have construed common law fraud under New York law as requiring actual reliance, rejecting the use of the fraud-on-the-market presumption of reliance commonly invoked in Rule 10b-5 cases.<sup>37</sup> To the best of my knowledge, no state court has accepted the fraud-on-the-market presumption in connection with a common law cause of action for deceit. As the Leapard plaintiffs have not plead actual reliance, but only a presumption of reliance,<sup>38</sup> their common law claims of fraud, and thus, their claim against E&Y for aiding and abetting fraud, are likely to be dismissed.

3. Class Certification

35. If the complaint were to withstand a motion to dismiss, the next substantial obstacle would be class certification. The requirements for certifying a class action are set forth in Rule 23 of the Federal Rule Civil Procedure.

a. Certification standards

36. For all class actions, Rule 23 requires: (a) numerosity; (b) common questions of law or fact; (c) that claims of the class representative by typical of the claims of the class; (d) that the representative party fairly and adequately protect the class's interest.<sup>39</sup> In addition, for cases seeking primarily money damages (such as securities class actions like Leapard), the court must also find that "the questions of law or fact common to class members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available

methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy."<sup>40</sup> In making this finding, courts are instructed to consider: (a) class members' interests in individually controlling a separate action; (b) any litigation already undertaken by class members; (c) whether the claims should be concentrated in a particular forum; and (d) difficulties likely to arise in managing a class action.<sup>41</sup>

37. The Second Circuit requires district judges to determine that each of the Rule 23 requirements have been met, resolving any factual disputes relevant to those requirements.<sup>42</sup> Moreover, the burden is on the plaintiff to demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence that the Rule 23 requirements have been satisfied.<sup>43</sup> The defendant can appeal from a decision certifying a class if granted leave by the court of appeal.<sup>44</sup>

b. Typicality

38. There may be a typicality question with respect to the named plaintiff, David Leapard. His certification alleges that he purchased his Sino-Forest common shares on August 5, 2011. Myong Hyong Yoo's certification alleges that he bought his Sino-Forest common shares in July and August of 2011. The Amended Complaint alleges, however, that the facts of the fraud were largely known by June 18, 2011, when the Globe and Mail published an article raising numerous questions about the veracity of Sino-Forest's financial statements. This raises the possibility that the class has been extended to include Leapard and Yoo as class members. If so, their ability to represent the class would be open to challenge at the class certification stage: "To establish typicality under Rule 23(a)(3), the party seeking certification must show that each class member's claim arises from the same course of events and each class member makes similar legal arguments to prove the defendant's liability."

c. Fraud-on-the-market presumption of reliance

- 39. In a securities class action, among the elements that must be demonstrated at the class certification stage are the requirements of the fraud-on-the-market presumption of reliance.<sup>49</sup> Reasonable reliance by the plaintiff on the alleged misstatement is a requirement of Rule 10b-5.<sup>50</sup> The reliance element of a Rule 10b-5 private action, also called transaction causation, requires proof of a "connection between a defendant's misrepresentation and a plaintiff's injury."<sup>51</sup> The fraud-on-the-market presumption, adopted by the Supreme Court in Basic, Inc. v. Levinson,<sup>52</sup> allows plaintiffs to plead and prove the reliance required for the private cause of action under Rule 10b-5 of the Securities Exchange Act without alleging that the plaintiff read or heard the misstatement alleged to have caused the loss.
- 40. As noted above, it is plaintiffs' burden to show that common questions of reliance predominate over reliance questions affecting individual class members. Demonstrating applicability of the fraud-on-the-market presumption is therefore plaintiffs' burden.<sup>53</sup> In order to invoke the presumption, the plaintiff must demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has "(1) publicly made (2) a material misrepresentation (3) about stock traded on an impersonal, well-developed (i.e., efficient) market" and that the plaintiff traded the shares during the period that the material misrepresentation was influencing the market.<sup>54</sup> This showing must be made before certification.<sup>55</sup>

- 41. Critically, in the Second Circuit, a plaintiff must demonstrate that the alleged misstatements were material; a prima facie showing will not suffice.<sup>56</sup> Moreover, plaintiffs are required to demonstrate market "efficiency" at the class-certification stage.<sup>57</sup> Defendants have successfully opposed the application of the presumption at the class-certification stage by demonstrating that the relevant market is not efficient.<sup>58</sup>
- 42. Lower courts applying Basic have developed various multi-factor tests to determine whether a particular market is efficient.<sup>59</sup> The best known of these cases, Cammer, examined the following proxies for market efficiency: the percentage of shares traded weekly; whether "a significant number" of analysts follow and report on the stock; the existence of market makers trading the stock; whether the issuer was qualified to use an S-3 registration statement with the SEC; and whether the plaintiff can "allege empirical facts showing a cause and effect relationship between unexpected corporate events or financial releases and an immediate response in the stock price." The Second Circuit has approved the use of the Cammer factors. Other courts have also looked to other proxies, including market capitalization, bid-ask spread, percentage of stock held by insiders, <sup>62</sup> and volume of trading by institutional investors. These factors have been widely relied upon by a variety of courts. <sup>64</sup>

<sup>56</sup> Salomon, 544 F.3d at 486 n. 9. This requirement may change; the Supreme Court is considering this question in Amgen Inc. v. Conn. Ret. Plans & Trust Funds, No. 11-1085 (OT-2012). The Court heard oral argument in this case on November 5, 2012. A decision should be handed down sometime early in 2013.

- 43. The Second Circuit has emphasized the critical importance of "[e]vidence that unexpected corporate events or financial releases cause an immediate response in the price of a security," and observed that "[w]ithout the demonstration of such a causal relationship, it is difficult to presume that the market will integrate the release of material information about a security into its price."
- 44. Based on these factors, the stock of large companies trading on major exchanges (NYSE, NASDAQ), have been routinely held to satisfy the market efficiency required to invoke the fraud-on-the-market presumption. The presumption does not apply, however, in markets lacking in informational efficiency, thereby excluding smaller companies in thinly-traded markets from substantial exposure to securities fraud class actions. 66 Class certification has been denied for common stock trading in less developed markets 67 even when the false statement at issue is significant. As a result, a class-action remedy is frequently unavailable because the class cannot show informational efficiency in the relevant market.

- 45. The need to show market efficiency poses a substantial obstacle for the Leapard plaintiffs. They must establish that the over-the-counter ("OTC") market where they purchased Sino-Forest stock and the private placement context in which they purchased Sino-Forest notes constitute open and efficient markets before benefiting from the fraud-on-the-market presumption. The OTC market is generally not regarded by the courts as satisfying Basic's requirement of informational efficiency.<sup>68</sup> This issue is complicated, however, by the fact that Sino-Forest's stock also traded on the Toronto Stock Exchange. The TSX is closer to the model of the NYSE and NASDAQ, which are generally regarded as informationally efficient. It is an empirical question, however, how closely the OTC market for Sino-Forest's shares tracked trading on the TSX.
- 46. In addition, under prevailing case law in the lower courts, Basic's presumption of reliance has been held to be unavailable to investors in newly issued securities, <sup>69</sup> which would seem to preclude any purchaser of the Sino-Forest notes in the private placement from relying on the fraud-on-the-market presumption. Moreover, the obstacle of showing market efficiency has also precluded certification of a class in cases involving mortgage-backed bonds, <sup>70</sup> and other types of debt securities.<sup>71</sup> These holdings will make it difficult for the Leapard plaintiffs to show that the secondary market for the Sino-Forest notes was informationally efficient.

47. If the plaintiff succeeds in establishing the presumption, the defendant is entitled to rebut that presumption at the class certification stage.<sup>72</sup> This opens the door for potentially far-ranging factual inquiries, including arguments "that the market price was not affected by the alleged misstatements, other statements in the 'sea of voices' of market commentary were responsible for price discrepancies, or particular plaintiffs may not have relied on market price."<sup>73</sup> If the defendant succeeds in rebutting the presumption, a class cannot be certified because individual questions of reliance would predominate over common ones.<sup>74</sup>

4. Summary Judgment/Trial

48. If the case is certified as a class action, E&Y would have the option of making a motion for summary judgment after the close of discovery. The standard for summary requires that the movant establish "that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Summary judgement allows for entry of judgment "against a party who fails to make a showing sufficient to establish the existence of an element essential to that party's case, and on which that party will the burden of proof at trial." Thus, it would be open to E&Y to challenge every element of the plaintiffs' case at the summary judgment stage. Such motions, however, infrequently result in a victory for defendants in securities fraud class actions; in research that I conducted with Stephen Choi, we found that between 2003 and 2007, only 1.2% of cases resulted in summary judgment for the defendants.<sup>77</sup>

- 49. According to one recent study, a verdict is reached in only about one-third of one percent of securities-fraud class actions.<sup>78</sup> So a trial verdict is an unlikely outcome for the Leapard litigation. However, should the case get past a motion to dismiss and be certified as a class, the bargaining over a settlement would be in the shadow of a hypothetical trial outcome. Even if the plaintiff withstands the motion to dismiss, it would be required to prove each of the elements of its Rule 10b-5 claim to the jury's satisfaction, including loss causation and damages, which would not face much scrutiny earlier in the proceedings. Moreover, the plaintiffs would need to establish E&Y's scienter by a preponderance of the evidence. On this point, the PSLRA give defendants such as E&Y an important procedural protection by entitling them to a specific finding by the jury that the state of mind element has been satisfied as to him or her.<sup>79</sup>
- 50. The other provision of the PSLRA relevant to E&Y's potential legal exposure in Leapard is the damages provision. The PSLRA adopts proportionate, rather than joint and several, liability for defendants who are not found to have knowingly violated the securities laws. That protection is most important for secondary defendants, such as accountants, lawyers and investment bankers, who may be implicated in frauds that will typically be orchestrated by the insiders of their corporate clients. If those secondary defendants can show that they did not know of the fraud, their liability exposure will be limited substantially.

51. In my view, proportionate liability would be the most likely conclusion if this case were to go to trial and the auditors were to be found to have violated Rule 10b-5. Assessing the comparative fault of E&Y against the culpability of Sino-Forest's insiders – who are likely to be found to have engaged in knowing and intentional fraud – as well as Sino-Forest's underwriters, suggests that E&Y's percentage of the damages might be relatively modest. Given that Sino-Forest is insolvent, however, E&Y could face an additional fifty percent surcharge on the audit firm's assessed damages to help compensate the plaintiffs for Sino-Forest's uncollectible share of the liability. If E&Y's percentage of fault is modest, however, adding another 50% to that figure is unlikely to make a significant difference.

Plaintiffs, David Leapard and IMF Finance SA, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated (the "Class" or "Class Members"), allege the following upon personal knowledge as to themselves and their own acts and upon information and belief as to all other matters. Plaintiffs' information and belief is based on the investigation of counsel including, inter alia, review and analysis of (i) government and regulatory documents relating to Defendant Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest" or the "Company"); (ii) press releases, Company filings and other public statements by Sino-Forest; (iii) investigation related documents released by the Company and the Ontario Securities Commission ("OSC"); (iv) reports of securities analysts; and (v) court records and other publicly available materials. Many of the facts related to Plaintiffs' allegations are known only to Defendants or are exclusively within their custody or control. Plaintiffs believe that substantial additional evidentiary support for the allegations set forth below will be developed after reasonable opportunity for discovery.

I. INTRODUCTION

- 1. Plaintiffs bring this class action on behalf of (i) all persons or entities who, from March 19, 2007 through August 26, 2011 (the "Class Period") purchased the common stock of Sino-Forest on the Over-the-Counter ("OTC") market and who were damaged thereby; and (ii) all persons or entities who, during the Class Period, purchased debt securities issued by Sino-Forest other than in Canada and who were damaged thereby (the "Class").
- 2. The Class Period begins on March 19,. 2007 the date the Company's 2006 Consolidated Financial Statement was filed.
- 3. Sino-Forest is a Canadian company engaged in the commercial forest plantation business whose principal operations are in the People's Republic of China ("PRC" or "China"). Among Sino-Forest's businesses are the ownership and management of forest plantation trees, sales of standing timber and wood logs, and the manufacture of related wood products. Substantially all of the Company's sales during the Class Period were supposedly generated in the PRC. The Company maintains offices in Toronto, Hong Kong and the PRC. Its common stock is registered in Canada and traded on the Toronto Stock Exchange and in the United States on the OTC market. Sino-Forest's debt securities are also traded in the open market. As a result of the fraudulent conduct described herein, trading in Sino-Forest common stock was halted on August 26, 2011 and, to date, has not resumed trading.

4. In stark contrast to the investing public's perception of an enormously successful forestry business in the fast growing PRC market, during the Class Period Sino-Forest was, in fact, materially misleading both investors and regulators. Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, and income were all materially overstated in the Company's financial statements, and other disclosures were materially misleading because they failed to disclose that many of Sino-Forest's significant business transactions were with unknown or related parties. Further, Sino-Forest misrepresented and failed to disclose the true terms of certain agreements it entered into in the PRC for the acquisition of plantation acreage, vastly overstating the amount of timber it acquired during the Class Period. In many instances, no documentation or inadequate documentation existed to support Sino-Forest's timber holdings and related assets and the valuations attributed to those properties on Sino-Forest's financial statements. Among other things, Sino-Forest failed to disclose (1) that it engaged in multiple fraudulent transactions which resulted in the overstatement of assets, revenues and income; (2) that the Company lacked adequate internal controls to substantiate its financial performance or verify its assets and contractual relationships; (3) that its operations were permeated by unsubstantiated and undisclosed related party transactions; and (4) that its financial statements were materially misleading and not prepared in accordance with the applicable accounting standards.

- 5. The massive fraud perpetrated on investors by Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants could not have been accomplished without the abject failure of the gatekeepers (Sino-Forest's auditors and underwriters) to perform their duties to investors. Notwithstanding the fact that the fraud permeated virtually every aspect of Sino-Forest's business, and that these gatekeepers were fully aware of both the lack of transparency and lack of internal controls over financial reporting, they ignored or recklessly disregarded numerous "red flags" indicating the existence of fraudulent transactions including the simple fact that the Company did not have sufficient proof of ownership of "a majority of its standing timber assets" as described herein. As a result, during the Class Period, Sino-Forest issued years of materially false and misleading financial statements that, among other things, overstated its assets, revenues, and income. These financial statements were purportedly audited by Defendant E&Y and repeatedly published in offering documents used for billions of dollars of securities sold to investors by the Underwriter Defendants and others.
- 6. Certain information regarding Sino-Forest's questionable financial practices first came to light on June 2, 2011 when Muddy Waters, a firm specializing in the analysis of Chinese companies whose stock trades in the U.S. and Canada, published a detailed report alleging improper and illegal conduct at the Company. Over the ensuing weeks, there was a flurry of articles, investigations, and news reports about the Company's misconduct, as well as the Company's denials of the Muddy Waters allegations. On June 18, 2011, The Globe and Mail reported on its own investigation regarding some of the allegations against Sino-Forest, finding that there were "doubts about the company's public statements regarding the value of [its] assets" and "broader questions about its business practices." The Company denied the allegations in statements issued over the next two months.

- 7. Ultimately, in late August 2011, the Ontario Stock Commission ("OSC") confirmed that there was evidence of fraud at Sino-Forest and ordered a halt in trading of Sino-Forest's common stock on the Toronto Stock Exchange, effective August 26, 2011. Reportedly, the OSC accused Sino-Forest of "fraudulently inflating its revenues and exaggerating the extent of its timber holdings." The OSC also noted that the Company "engaged in significant non-arms-length transactions." Similarly, trading of Sino-Forest common stock was halted in the U.S. on the OTC Bulletin Board. Two days later it was reported that the Company's CEO, Defendant Chan, resigned; that three of the Company's vice-presidents were placed on leave; and that another senior vice-president was relieved of most of his duties. On November 15, 2011, Sino-Forest announced that it was deferring the release of its interim financial report for the third quarter of 2011.¹ To date, Sino-Forest has not filed any required periodic reports or issued financial statements for the third quarter of 2011 or later.
- 8. On November 11, 2011, the Company announced that it was also the subject of a criminal investigation by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police ("RCMP") regarding the allegations surrounding its business and finances. Sino-Forest has failed to make payments due on its outstanding debt and belatedly advised the investing public that its historical financial statements and audit reports should not be relied upon.
- 9. On March 30, 2012, Sino-Forest filed for protection under the Ontario Companies

  Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA"), which is similar to a bankruptcy filing in the United States. Numerous entities have or are conducting investigations regarding Sino-Forest's financial reporting. In addition to the OSC and RCMP, the Company appointed an Independent Committee of the Board of Directors (the "IC") to investigate, and the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission ("HKSFC") commenced an investigation. The IC issued three reports (the "IC Reports") describing its investigation (principally into the Muddy Waters allegations) and the OSC issued a Statement of Allegations ("OSC Allegations") setting forth claims of fraud against Sino-Forest and Defendants Chan and Horsley. On April 30, 2012, Defendant Ernst & Young resigned as the Company's independent auditor.

- 10. The OSC Allegations describe a fraudulent scheme that inflated the assets and revenues of Sino-Forest and resulted in the issuance of materially misleading financial statements and other misleading statements to investors. As described by the OSC, Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants engaged in fraudulent conduct with respect to (i) the assets and revenues derived from the purchase and sale of standing timber; (ii) the acquisition of Greenheart Limited Group ("Greenheart Acquisition"); (iii) false evidence of ownership of a vast majority of the Company's timber holdings; and (iv) failure to disclose that the Company's internal controls were insufficient to protect against the significant fraudulent transactions and misconduct alleged.
- 11. Notwithstanding Sino-Forest's and the Individual Defendants' fraudulent conduct, E&Y and the Underwriter Defendants were forewarned about the Company's lack of transparency and internal control weaknesses, yet allowed such misconduct to continue for years, while ignoring the inadequate processes and lack of competent evidentiary material supporting the Company's financial results. Among some of the "red flags" ignored by E&Y and the Underwriter Defendants were the following:

- a. Sino-Forest's admitted lack of segregation of duties, which created risk in terms of measurement and completeness of transactions as well as the possibility of non-compliance with existing internal controls, either of which may lead to the possibility of inaccurate financial reporting;
- b. The lack of transparency into Sino-Forest's complex corporate structure and opaque business practices and relationships with its Suppliers, AIs, and other nominee companies in the BVI Network. Sino-Forest established a collection of "nominee"/"peripheral" companies that were controlled, on its behalf, by various "caretakers." Sino-Forest conducted a significant level of its business with these companies, the true economic substance of which was misstated in Sino-Forest's financial disclosures;
- c. Sino-Forest's lack of proof of ownership for the vast majority of its timber holdings which included backdated Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts, and missing supporting documentation. Sino-Forest then relied upon these documents to evidence the purported purchase, ownership, and sale of Standing Timber in the BVI Model;
- d. The missing documentation from Sino-Forest's BVI timber purchase contracts, in particular failure to have as attachments either (i) Plantation Rights Certificates from either the Counterparty or original owner or (ii) villager resolutions, both of which are contemplated as attachments by the standard form of BVI timber purchase contract employed by Sino-Forest;

- e. Sino-Forest's BVI Subs failure to obtain certificates of ownership of Standing Timber from the PRC and the fact that purported confirmations from forestry officials were not recognized as evidence of ownership of timber assets in PRC;
- f. Sino-Forest's 2010 sale of Standing Timber, despite the fact that these same Standing Timber assets were offered as collateral for a bank loan by Sino-Forest in 2011; so the sale of those assets in 2010 could not have taken place and been recorded as revenue in that year;
- g. Circular cash flows and unusual offsetting arrangements by which money flowed between various Sino-Forest controlled companies;
- h. The lack of bank records or other adequate documentation confirming cash flows from complex and unusual transactions involving Suppliers and Authorized Intermediaries; and
- i. The recognition of revenues from sales of standing timber where sales contracts were not created until the quarter after the date of the alleged sale.
- 12. Thus, the entities who were in the best position to protect investors from the massive fraud that occurred here (E&Y and the Underwriter Defendants) missed every potential warning sign in their audits and due diligence of Sino-Forest, despite being armed with the knowledge that hundreds of millions of dollars in transactions were ultimately controlled by a handful of individuals, through a murky structure of corporate entities from around the world, while relying on a deeply flawed process for verifying transactions and business relationships. E&Y's and the Underwriter Defendants' reckless disregard for these red flags in the face of the Company's inadequate internal controls and processes constitutes gross recklessness which resulted in the publication of misleading financial statements and audit reports, and the issuance of inflated securities to investors. Strikingly, it was only after an investigation by an outside securities analyst who, unlike Defendant E&Y and the Underwriter Defendants, had no access to internal Company documents or personnel that these fraudulent activities came to light. Indeed, many of the fraudulent activities were unsophisticated and simply disregarded by E&Y and the Underwriter Defendants – e.g. the creation of purchase or sales documents after the end of a quarter and backdating of documents to support transactions; missing attachments from significant transaction documents; lack of bank statements or confirmations of off-book financial transactions, and the use of multiple related parties to facilitate fraudulent transactions.

13. The disclosures relating to Defendants' misconduct and the ultimate halt in trading occasioned by the OSC charges of fraud caused the trading prices of the Company's stock and its debt securities to decline dramatically, thereby damaging Class Members. Sino-Forest's common stock, which traded as high as $26.64, last traded at $1.38 before trading was halted in the U.S and is now virtually worthless. Moreover, Sino-Forest's debt securities are now priced at a fraction of their original value.

A. Jurisdiction and Venue

- 14. The claims asserted herein arise under and pursuant to Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder by the SEC, and Sections 12 and 15 of the Securities Act.
- 15. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, Section 27 of the Exchange Act, and Section 22 of the Securities Act. This Court also has supplemental jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) over all state law claims asserted by Plaintiffs and Class Members because they arise from the same nucleus of operative facts alleged in this Complaint, and are so related to the Exchange Act claims over which this Court has original jurisdiction that they form part of the same case or controversy.

- 16. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b), Section 27 of the Exchange Act, and Section 22 of the Securities Act. Many of the acts alleged herein, including the preparation and dissemination of materially false and misleading information, occurred in substantial part in the District.
- 17. This Court also has jurisdiction, and venue is proper, because, in connection with the sale of $600 million in notes which occurred in October 2010 (the "Note Offering" or "Offering") that will come due in 2017 (the "2017 Notes"), Sino-Forest "... irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of any New York State or United States Federal court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City over any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Indenture, any Note or any Subsidiary Guarantee." In addition, the Indenture provides that "[a]s long as any of the Notes remain Outstanding, the Company and each of the Subsidiary Guarantors will at all times have an authorized agent in New York City, upon whom process may be served in any legal action or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Indenture, any Note or any Subsidiary Guarantee." Finally, as contemplated by the Indenture, "[e]ach of the Notes, the Subsidiary Guarantees and the Indenture shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York."
- 18. In addition, the Underwriter Defendants are located in New York and all Defendants do substantial business in New York. Also, purchases and sales of Sino-Forest common stock occurred on the OTC market in the United States, including New York. Moreover, the trustee for the 2017 Notes is the Law Debenture Trust Company of New York which is located at 400 Madison Avenue, Suite 4D, New York, New York 10017.

19. In connection with the acts alleged in this Complaint, Defendants, directly or indirectly, used the means and instrumentalities of interstate commerce, including, but not limited to, the mails, interstate telephone and Internet communications, and the facilities of the national securities markets.

II. PARTIES

A. Plaintiffs

- 20. Plaintiff David Leapard is a resident of South Carolina and purchased the common stock of Sino-Forest during the Class Period in the OTC market in the United States as set forth in the attached Certification and suffered damages when the price of those shares declined as a result of Defendants' misconduct.
- 21. Plaintiff IMF Finance SA ("IMF") is an entity with offices in the British Virgin Islands ("BVI") and purchased 2017 Notes from Defendant Credit Suisse pursuant to the October 2010 Note Offering as set forth in the attached Certification and suffered damages when the price of the 2017 Notes declined as a result of Defendants' misconduct. Plaintiff IMF asserts claims on behalf of purchasers of Sino-Forest debt securities, including purchasers of the 2017 Notes.

B. Defendants

22. Defendant Sino-Forest purports to be a commercial forest plantation operator, principally based in the PRC but with additional operations in other locations. At all material times, Sino-Forest's registered office was located in Mississauga, Ontario and its common stock traded on the OTC market in the United States using the symbol "SNOFF." As a reporting issuer in Ontario, Canada, Sino-Forest was required to file certain periodic reports (described below) regarding its business and operations, including audited financial statements, which were made available to investors. Sino-Forest's common stock and various debt instruments were traded in Canada, the United States and elsewhere. Sino-Forest derives substantial revenue from interstate or international commerce.

- 23. Sino-Forest was required to file Management Discussion and Analysis Reports ("MD&As"), which are a narrative explanations of how the company performed during the period covered by the financial statements, and of the company's financial condition and future prospects. The MD&A must discuss important trends and risks that are reasonably likely to affect the company's business in the future. MD&As are filed quarterly and at fiscal year end.
- 24. Another required filing, Annual Information Forms ("AIFs"), are annual disclosure documents intended to provide material information about the company and its business at a point in time in the context of its historical and future development. The AIF describes the company, its operations and prospects, risks and other external factors that impact the company specifically.
- 25. The Company also filed its audited financial statements, which were included in Annual Reports disseminated to investors.
- 26. As directors, board members, and executives in Sino-Forest during the Class Period, the Individual Defendants controlled the contents of its MD&As, financial statements, AIFs, Annual Reports, and other documents particularized herein and the misrepresentations and omissions made therein were made by the Individual Defendants as well as the Company itself.
- 27. Defendant Allen T. Y. Chan is a co-founder of Sino-Forest and was the Chairman, Chief Executive Officer, and a director of the Company from 1994 until August 28, 2011, when he resigned in the wake of the disclosure of the misconduct described in this Complaint. As Sino-Forest's CEO, Chan certified the accuracy of the Company's securities filings, including its financial statements, during the Class Period. Chan signed each of the Company's Annual Consolidated Financial Statements issued from 2006 through 2010. Chan is a resident of Hong Kong and, on information and belief, is a citizen of the PRC.

- 28. Chan certified each of materially false and misleading annual and quarterly MD&As and financial statements issued by Sino-Forest during the Class Period. During the Class Period, Chan signed each of Sino-Forest's materially false and misleading annual financial statements. Chan reviewed and approved the financial statements, public filings, and other statements issued by the Company and caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations particularized below.
- 29. During the Class Period, Chan received substantial compensation from the Company. For example, for 2008 to 2010, Chan's total compensation was, respectively, $5.0 million, $7.6 million, and $9.3 million. In addition, during the Class Period, while in possession of material adverse information regarding the business and finances of Sino-Forest, Chan sold nearly $3 million worth of Sino-Forest common stock to unsuspecting investors. Chan also received millions in undisclosed compensation through certain hidden related party transactions, including the acquisition of Greenheart, as described below.
- 30. As of May 1, 1995, shortly after Sino-Forest became a reporting issuer, Chan held 18.3% of Sino-Forest's outstanding common shares and 37.5% of its preference shares. As of April 29, 2011, he held 2.7% of Sino-Forest's common shares.
- 31. Defendant Albert Ip is a former senior executive for Sino-Forest who engaged in a fraudulent scheme to inflate the assets and revenue of Sino-Forest and made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's public filings and other statements related to its business and financial results.

- 32. Defendant Alfred C.T. Hung is a former senior executive for Sino-Forest who engaged in a fraudulent scheme to inflate the assets and revenue of Sino-Forest and made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's public filings and other statements related to its business and financial results.
- 33. Defendant George Ho is a former senior executive for Sino-Forest who engaged in a fraudulent scheme to inflate the assets and revenue of Sino-Forest and made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's public filings and other statements related to its business and financial results.
- 34. Defendant Simon Yeung is a former senior executive for Sino-Forest who engaged in a fraudulent scheme to inflate the assets and revenue of Sino-Forest and made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's public filings and other statements related to its business and financial results.
- 35. Defendant David J. Horsley, former Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") of Sino-Forest, was responsible for the Company's accounting, internal controls, and financial reporting, including the preparation of the Company's financial statements. Horsley signed and certified the Company's disclosure documents during the Class Period. Horsley resides in Ontario.
- 36. Horsley certified each of Sino-Forest's Class Period materially false and misleading annual and quarterly MD&As and financial statements. Horsley signed each of Sino-Forest's Class Period materially false and misleading annual financial statements. As an officer, he caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations particularized below.
- 37. During the Class Period, Horsley received substantial compensation from Sino-Forest. For 2008 to 2010, Horsley's total compensation was, respectively, $1.7 million, $2.5 million, and $3.1 million. During the Class Period, while in possession of material adverse information concerning the business and finances of Sino-Forest, Horsley sold almost $11 million worth of shares of Sino-Forest common stock.

- 38. Defendant Kai Kit Poon is a co-founder of Sino-Forest, a member of its Board of Directors and has been President of the Company since 1994. Poon resides in Hong Kong and, on information and belief, is a citizen of the PRC. During the Class Period, while in possession of material adverse information concerning the business and finances of Sino-Forest, Poon sold over $30 million worth of shares of Sino-Forest common stock.
- 39. While Poon was a board member, he caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations or omit material facts particularized below.
- 40. Poon rarely attended board meetings while he was on Sino's board. From the beginning of 2006 until his resignation from the Board in 2009, he attended 5 of the 39 board meeting, or less than 13% of all board meetings held during that period.
- 41. Defendant W. Judson Martin has been a director of Sino-Forest since 2006, and was appointed vice-chairman in 2010. On or about August 25, 2011, Martin replaced Chan as Chief Executive Officer of Sino-Forest. Martin was a member of Sino-Forest's audit committee prior to early 2011 and, as a member of the audit committee, was responsible for reviewing and approving the Company's audited and unaudited financial statements. Martin has made in excess of $474,000 through the sale of Sino-Forest shares. He resides in Hong Kong. As a board member, he reviewed and approved the financial statements, public filings and other statements issued by the Company and caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations or omit material facts particularized herein.

- 42. Defendant Edmund Mak is a director of Sino-Forest and has held this position since 1994. Mak was a member of Sino-Forest's audit committee prior to early 2011 and, as a member of the audit committee, was responsible for reviewing and approving the Company's audited and unaudited financial statements. Mak and persons connected with Mak have made in excess of $6.4 million through sales of Sino-Forest shares. Mak resides in British Columbia. As a board member, he reviewed and approved the financial statements, public filings and other statements issued by the Company and caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations or omit material facts particularized below.
- 43. Defendant James M. E. Hyde is a director of Sino-Forest, and has held this position since 2004. Hyde was previously a partner of E&Y. Hyde is the chairman of Sino-Forest's Audit Committee and, as a member of the Audit Committee, was responsible for reviewing and approving the Company's audited and unaudited financial statements. Hyde is also a member of the Compensation and Nominating Committee. Hyde has made in excess of $2.4 million through the sale of Sino-Forest's shares. Hyde resides in Ontario. As a board member, he reviewed and approved the financial statements, public filings and other statements issued by the Company and caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations or omit material facts particularized below.
- 44. Defendant William E. Ardell is a director of Sino-Forest, and has held this position since January 2010. Ardell is a member of Sino-Forest's audit committee and, as a member of the Audit Committee, was responsible for reviewing and approving the Company's audited and unaudited financial statements. Ardell resides in Ontario. As a board member, he reviewed and approved the financial statements, public filings and other statements issued by the Company and caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations or omit material facts particularized below.

- 45. Defendant James P. Bowland was a director of Sino-Forest from February 2011 until his resignation from the Board of Sino-Forest in November 2011. While on Sino-Forest's board, Bowland was a member of Sino-Forest's Audit Committee and, as a member of the Audit Committee, was responsible for reviewing and approving the Company's audited and unaudited financial statements. Bowland resides in Ontario. As a board member, he reviewed and approved the financial statements, public filings and other statements issued by the Company and caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations or omit material facts particularized below.
- 46. Defendant Garry J. West is a director of Sino-Forest, and has held this position since February 2011. West was previously a partner at E&Y. West is a member of Sino-Forest's Audit Committee 2011 and, as a member of the Audit Committee, was responsible for reviewing and approving the Company's audited and unaudited financial statements. West resides in Ontario. As a board member, he reviewed and approved the financial statements, public filings and other statements issued by the Company and caused Sino-Forest to make the misrepresentations or omit material facts particularized below.
- 47. Defendants Martin, Mak, Hyde, Ardell, Bowland, and West are referred to herein as the Audit Committee Defendants. Defendants Chan, Ip, Hung, Ho, and Yeung are referred to herein as Overseas Management Defendants. The Overseas Management Defendants together with Defendant Horsley are referred to herein as the Officer Defendants. The Officer Defendants and Sino-Forest are collectively referred to as the Sino-Forest Defendants. Defendants Martin, Mak, Hyde, Ardell, Bowland, West, Chan, Ip, Hung, Ho, Yeung, and Horsley are herein referred to as the Individual Defendants.

- 48. As officer and/or directors of Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants were fiduciaries of Sino-Forest, and they made the misrepresentations or omitted material facts alleged herein, and/or caused Sino-Forest to make such misrepresentations and omissions. In addition, Defendants Chan, Poon, Horsley, Martin, Mak, and Murray were unjustly enriched in the manner and to the extent particularized below.
- 49. Defendant Poyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited ("Poyry") is an international forestry consulting firm which purported to provide certain forestry consultation services to Sino-Forest.
- 50. Poyry, in providing what it purported to be "forestry consulting" services to Sino-Forest, made statements that it knowingly intended to be, and which were, disseminated to Sino-Forest's current and prospective security holders. At all material times, Poyry was aware of that class of persons, intended to and did communicate with them, and intended that prospective investors and the market, among others, would rely on Poyry's statements relating to Sino-Forest, which they did to their detriment.
- 51. Poyry consented to the inclusion in the June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009 Prospectuses, as well as the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009, and October 2010 Offering Memoranda, of its various reports, as detailed below in paragraph 207.
- 52. Defendant Banc of America Securities LLC ("BOA") is a financial services company which, using the name "BofA Merrill Lynch" or "Merrill Lynch Canada", acted as one of two "Joint Global Coordinators and Lead Bookrunning Managers" for the October 2010 Offering. BOA's affiliate, Merrill Lynch, Canada, acted as an underwriter for the June 2007, July 2008, June 2009, and December 2009 Offerings. In this capacity, BOA acted as an underwriter in one or more of the Offerings. BOA operates in and has its principal place of business in New York County, New York. This Complaint seeks damages on behalf of the purchasers of the 2017 Notes against any and all Bank of America entities that may be liable for the misconduct described herein.

- 53. Defendant Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC ("Credit Suisse") is a financial services company which acted as one of two "Joint Global Coordinators and Lead Bookrunning Managers" for the following Note Offerings: July 2008 and October 2010. Credit Suisse's affiliate, Credit Suisse, Canada, acted as an underwriter for the June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009 Offerings. In this capacity, Credit Suisse acted as an underwriter for this and additional Offerings. Credit Suisse operates in and has offices in New York County, New York. This Complaint seeks damages on behalf of the purchasers of the 2017 Notes against any and all Credit Suisse entities that may be liable for the misconduct described herein.
- 54. BOA and Credit Suisse are collectively referred to as the Underwriter Defendants. The Underwriter Defendants who are located in New York, NY, offered and sold the 2017 Notes pursuant to a materially false and misleading Offering Memorandum dated October 14, 2010 (the "Offering Memorandum") to certain Class Members in the United States who purportedly satisfied the requirements to be considered a "qualified institutional buyer" pursuant to Rule 144 of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The Underwriter Defendants also sold certain notes in the Offering to foreign investors relying on the exemption set forth in SEC Regulation S.
- 55. In connection with the Offerings made pursuant to the June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009 Prospectuses, the Underwriters who underwrote these Offerings were paid, respectively, an aggregate of approximately $7.5 million, $14.0 million, and $14.4 million in underwriting commissions. In connection with the offerings of Sino-Forest's notes in July 2008, December 2009, and October 2010, BOA and Credit Suisse were paid, respectively, an aggregate of approximately $2.2 million, $8.5 million, and $6 million. Those commissions were paid in substantial part as consideration for the Underwriters' purported due diligence examination of Sino-Forest's business and financial condition.

- 56. None of the Underwriters conducted a reasonable due diligence into Sino-Forest in connection with any of the Offerings. None of the Underwriters had reasonable grounds to believe that there was no material misrepresentation or material omissions in any of the representations made to investors. The Underwriter Defendants ignored the existence of multiple warning signs regarding the misconduct described herein, and permitted Sino-Forest to go forward with the sale of securities inflated to investors based on materially false and misleading offering documents which the Underwriter Defendants assisted in preparing and provided to investors.
- 57. In the circumstances of this case, including the facts that Sino-Forest operated in an emerging economy, Sino-Forest entered Canada's capital markets by means of a reverse merger, and Sino-Forest reported extraordinary results over an extended period of time that far surpassed those reported by Sino-Forest's peers, the Underwriter Defendants all ought to have exercised heightened vigilance and caution in the course of discharging their duties to investors, which they did not do. Had they done so, they would have uncovered Sino-Forest's true financial results and performance, and the Class Members to whom they owed their duties would not have sustained the losses that they sustained on their Sino-Forest investments.
- 58. Defendant Ernst & Young LLP, a part of Ernst & Young Global Limited, has offices in Toronto, Canada. Ernst & Young LLP has been Sino-Forest's auditor since August 13, 2007 and was also Sino-Forest's auditor from 2000 to 2004. Sino-Forest's shareholders, including numerous Class Members, appointed E&Y as auditors of Sino-Forest by shareholder resolutions passed on various dates, including on June 21, 2004, May 26, 2008, May 25, 2009, May 31, 2010, and May 30, 2011. This Complaint seeks damages against any and all Ernst & Young entities that may be liable for the misconduct described herein.

- 59. Ernst & Young LLP Chartered Accountants is referred to as "E&Y". For Sino-Forest's 2007 through 2010 fiscal years, E&Y provided an "Auditor's Report" addressed directly to Sino-Forest's shareholders, which gave the Company a "clean" audit report on its financial statements. At all material times, E&Y knew that its audit report was directed to Sino-Forest's shareholders, prospective shareholders and prospective purchasers of Sino-Forest's securities, and that investors would and did rely on E&Y's statements relating to Sino-Forest in making their investment decisions. Each of E&Y's audit reports informed the Company's investors and the purchasers of its securities that, based on its audits, Sino-Forest's financial statements were presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP and that it had performed its audits in accordance with applicable Canadian auditing standards. E&Y's audit report was materially false and misleading and omitted material facts as described herein.
- 60. The Individual Defendants earned millions of dollars in compensation because of Sino-Forest's artificially inflated stock price. Moreover, their misleading portrayal of the Company's finances allowed Sino-Forest to raise billions of dollars by issuing debt and equity securities to investors. This was critical to the Company's survival since the Company had a negative cash flow -- it was spending more money than it was taking in -- yet was spending enormous sums purportedly to purchase new assets. Sino-Forest's inflated stock price also allowed it to use its shares as currency to acquire other companies and assets.

- 61. It was only because of Defendants' concealment of Sino-Forest's true financial condition that the Company was able to complete the $600 million Note Offering in October 2010. Investors would not have purchased these Notes or would not have purchased them at the prices they did, if the truth about Sino-Forest had been known.
- 62. Thus, during the Class Period, Defendants, acting in concert with others, made materially false statements and misleading statements and omitted material facts about the true financial condition and business operations of Sino-Forest, causing the prices of Sino-Forest's common stock and Debt Securities to be artificially inflated during the Class Period. Despite the obviously false and misleading nature of these statements, E&Y and the Underwriter Defendants facilitated the improper conduct of Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants E&Y by repeatedly ignoring red flags which would have led to the discovery of the Sino Forest Defendants' misconduct, and repeatedly certifying that the Company's financial statements were prepared in compliance with applicable accounting standards; and the Underwriter Defendants by failing to perform adequate due diligence on multiple occasions and disseminating the misleading Offering Memorandum to investors.

II. BACKGROUND

- 63. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest conducted its business through a network of approximately 137 related entities: 67 PRC incorporated entities (with 12 branch companies), 58 BVI incorporated entities, 7 Hong Kong incorporated entities, 2 Canadian entities, and 3 entities incorporated in other jurisdictions.
- 64. Sino-Forest portrayed itself as one of the world's largest and most successful forestry companies. According to the Company's Annual Information Form for the year ended December 31, 2010 (the "2010 Annual Form") Sino-Forest "had approximately 788,700 hectares of forest plantations under management which are located primarily in southern and eastern China." Between 2006 and 2010, Sino-Forest's assets (primarily plantation acreage) purportedly grew nearly five-fold from approximately $1.2 billion to over $5.7 billion, while revenues grew from $555 million to $1.9 billion and net income more than tripled from $113 million to $395 million, as reflected in the Company's financial statements<sup>3</sup>

- 65. In addition, from June 30, 2006 to March 31, 2011, Sino-Forest's share price rose from $5.04 (US) to $26.08 (US). By March 31, 2011 Sino-Forest's market capitalization was well over $6 billion dollars.<sup>4</sup>
- 66. From 2007 through 2010, the Company's annual financial statements were audited by Defendant E&Y which certified that they had been prepared in accordance with Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("Canadian GAAP") and that the audit had been conducted in conformance with Canadian Generally Accepted Auditing Standards ("Canadian GAAS").
- 67. Sino-Forest's tremendous growth was ostensibly fueled by increasingly large acquisitions of valuable tree plantations and revenues generated from operations relating to that business. In addition, the Company's escalating growth allowed it to raise enormous sums of capital from investors around the world through the sale of debt securities and common stock, including the sale of $600 million in notes which occurred in October 2010 (the "Offering") that will come due in 2017 (the "2017 Notes"). The Note Offering was underwritten by Defendants Banc of America Securities LLC and Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC. In total, the Company issued over $1.8 billion in debt instruments during the Class Period.

A. SINO-FOREST'S OPAQUE BUSINESS MODEL

- 69. Although ostensibly a forestry company, Sino-Forest's purported business was, in many respects, more that of a trader or financial intermediary than of a traditional forestry company. The Company seldom sold wood products directly to end-user customers. Instead, it claimed that most of its earnings came from buying logs and the right to harvest trees and then reselling these logs and harvesting rights at higher prices.
- 70. Sino-Forest's corporate structure is a complex web of dozens of interconnected Canadian, Chinese, Hong Kong, Cayman Islands and British Virgin Islands subsidiaries, most of which are wholly-owned or in which the Company has a majority interest. A total of 137 entities make up the Sino-Forest Companies: 67 PRC incorporated entities (with 12 branch companies), 58 BVI incorporated entities, 7 Hong Kong incorporated entities, 2 Canadian entities, and 3 entities incorporated in other jurisdictions.<sup>5</sup>.
- 71. Sino-Forest is the sole shareholder of Sino-Panel Holdings Limited (incorporated in the BVI), Sino-Global Holdings, Inc. (incorporated in the BVI), Sino-Panel Corporation (incorporated in Canada), Sino-Wood Partners Limited (incorporated in Hong Kong), Sino-Capital Global Inc. (incorporated in the BVI), and Sino-Forest International (Barbados) Corporation (incorporated in Barbados). Sino-Forest also holds all of the preference shares of

Sino-Forest Resources, Inc. (incorporated in the BVI). Some of these subsidiaries have further direct and indirect subsidiaries.

- 72. Sino-Forest's business model is further complicated by the fact that much of its business is done through "Authorized Intermediaries" ("AIs"), supposedly independent companies that are largely responsible for the actual sale of forestry products to the users of these products. Despite the critical role that these Authorized Intermediaries play in its business, little is known of the financial relationships with these AIs and Sino-Forest has, with one exception, refused to disclose the identity of these companies. As Defendant Martin acknowledged in Sino-Forest's creditors proceedings, "there has always been very little insight into the business of the AIs including their books and records, cash collections and disbursements." Martin further noted that there continue to be "on-going issues with respect to many of the business transactions between Sino-Forest and the AIs, including the nature of many of these relationships."
- 73. Because Sino-Forest principally operates in China, Sino-Forest's convoluted structure and business practices did not initially arouse investor suspicions. Because of the unusual aspects of doing business in China, where foreign investments are tightly regulated, a number of legitimate foreign companies operating in that country have unusually complex structures. But, unbeknownst to investors, there was little or no business justification for the way Sino-Forest structured itself and its operations. Sino-Forest's structure was not meant to facilitate compliance with Chinese law, but rather to make it easier for Defendants to materially mislead investors about the Company's operations, revenue, earnings, and assets.
- 74. One specific example of this complex organization is Sino-Forest's relationship with one of its most important subsidiaries, Greenheart Group Ltd. ("Greenheart"), a public company listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. In 2010, following a complex series of transactions, Sino-Forest completed the purchase of a controlling interest in Greenheart. Sino-Forest's 64% interest in Greenheart was acquired using cash and shares of Company stock.

Greenheart holds natural forest concessions, mostly in Suriname.

- 75. Greenheart controls most of Sino-Forest's supposedly substantial forestry assets outside of China. But, Sino-Forest also holds a 39.6% stake in Greenheart Resources Holdings Ltd. ("GRH"), a subsidiary of Greenheart. GRH, in turn, indirectly owns 100% of Greenheart's forest assets and operations in the western part of Suriname, supposedly one of Sino-Forest's principal timber holdings.
- 76. In its Annual Information Form ("AIF") for 2010, Sino-Forest stated that its operations were comprised of two core business segments which it titled "Wood Fibre Operations" and "Manufacturing and Other Operations." Wood Fibre Operations had two subcomponents entitled "Plantation Fibre" and "Trading of Wood Logs."
- 77. According to Sino-Forest, the Plantation Fibre subcomponent of its business was derived from the purported acquisition, cultivation, and sale of either "standing timber" or "logs" in the PRC. For the purpose of this Amended Complaint, the Plantation Fibre subcomponent of Sino-Forest's business will be referred to as "Standing Timber" as most, if not all, of the revenue from the sale of Plantation Fibre was derived from the sale of "standing timber."
- 78. From 2007 to 2010, Sino-Forest reported Standing Timber revenue totaling approximately $3.56 billion, representing about 75% of its total revenue of $4.77 billion. The following table provides a summary of Sino-Forest's stated revenue growth for the period from 2007 to 2010 and illustrate the importance of the revenue derived from the sale of Standing Timber:

| 2007 2008 2009 2010 TOT | ΓAL |

| REVENUE           | $713.9m  | $896.0m | $1,238.2m | $1,923.5m | $4,771.6m |

- 79. Standing Timber was purchased, held, and sold by Sino-Forest in two distinct legal structures or models: the "BVI Model" and the "WFOE Model."
- 80. In the BVI Model, Sino-Forest's purchases and sales of Standing Timber in the PRC were conducted using wholly owned subsidiaries of Sino-Forest incorporated in the British Virgin Islands (the "BVI Subs"). The BVI Subs purported to enter into written purchase contracts ("Purchase Contracts") with suppliers in the PRC ("Suppliers") and then purported to enter into written sales contracts ("Sales Contracts") with its AIs.
- 81. In the WFOE Model, Sino-Forest used subsidiaries incorporated in the PRC called Wholly Foreign Owned Enterprises ("WFOEs") to acquire, cultivate, and sell the Standing Timber. The Sino-Forest WFOEs also entered into Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts with other parties in the PRC.

B. SINO-FOREST'S UNDISCLOSED FRAUDULENT TRANSACTIONS

1. The Standing Timber Fraud

- 82. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants engaged in numerous deceitful and dishonest courses of conduct (the "Standing Timber Fraud") that ultimately caused the assets and revenue derived from the purchase and sale of Standing Timber (which constituted the majority of Sino-Forest's business) to be fraudulently overstated, thereby misleading Plaintiffs and Class Members.
  - 83. The Standing Timber Fraud was primarily comprised of three elements:
    - a. Sino-Forest concealed its control over Suppliers, AIs, and other nominee companies and misstated the true economic substance of the relationships in Sino-Forest's financial disclosures;
    - b. Sino-Forest falsified the evidence of ownership for the vast majority of its timber holdings by engaging in a deceitful documentation process; and
    - c. Sino-Forest concealed internal control weaknesses/failures that obscured the true nature of transactions conducted within the BVI Network.
- 84. Placed on notice of Sino-Forest's internal control weaknesses/failures and its inadequate processes E&Y (which had access to both company personnel and documents, inter alia) should have scrutinized the related parties or the transactions at issue during the course of its audit particularly the incomplete documentation process by which the purchase, sale, and ownership of Standing Timber were supposedly evidenced. Had E&Y fulfilled its obligations as an auditor in certifying the accuracy of Sino-Forest's purchase, sale, and ownership records and in determining the nature of the related parties involved in the transactions, this fraudulent scheme would likely have been detected sooner. Similarly, the Underwriter Defendants, having known of Sino Forest's internal control weaknesses, should have examined the related party transactions during the course of their due diligence.

- 85. As set out in paragraph 93, the vast majority of Sino-Forest's Standing Timber assets were held in the BVI Model. However, the available underlying documentation for these Standing Timber assets does not provide sufficient evidence of legal ownership of those assets. As of this date, the OSC has found that Sino-Forest has not been able to confirm full legal ownership of the Standing Timber assets that it claims to hold in the BVI.
- 86. The following examples detail the fraudulent course of conduct that Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants perpetrated with respect to financial transactions involving its timber assets, resulting in the issuance of materially false and misleading financial statements to investors.
  - a. "off-book" transactions and undocumented set-offs;
  - b. the Dacheng Fraud;
  - c. the 450,000 Fraud;
  - d. Gengma Fraud #1; and
  - e. Gengma Fraud #2.
- 87. On December 31, 2010, Sino-Forest reported total timber holdings of $3.1 billion, comprising 799,700 hectares. About $2.5 billion or approximately 80% of the total timber holdings (by value) were held in the BVI Model, comprising approximately 467,000 hectares of Standing Timber. The WFOE Model purportedly held approximately 97,000 hectares of Standing Timber valued at $295.6 million, or approximately 10% of the total timber holdings (by value). The timber holdings in the BVI Model and the WFOE Model comprised approximately 90% of the total timber holdings (by value) of Sino-Forest as of December 31, 2010.

2. Off-Book Transactions and Undocumented Set-Offs

- 88. The cash-flows associated with the purchase and sale of Standing Timber executed in the BVI Model took place "off-book" pursuant to a payables/receivables arrangement (the "Offsetting Arrangement"), whereby the BVI Subs would not directly receive the proceeds on the sale of Standing Timber from the purchasing AI. Rather, Sino-Forest would direct the AI that purchased the timber to pay the sales proceeds to a new Supplier in order to buy additional Standing Timber. Consequently, Sino-Forest also did not make payment directly to Suppliers for purchases of Standing Timber.
- 89. According to the OSC, Sino-Forest did not possess the appropriate records to confirm that these "off-book" cash-flows in the Offsetting Arrangement actually took place. Set-off documentation was inadequate as it did not relate to a particular sales transaction and was not a record of a BVI sales transaction. Nor did Sino-Forest have any other documentation besides the set-off to evidencing payment and sale of the earlier timber sales. This lack of transparency within the BVI Model meant that independent confirmation of these "off-book" cash-flows was reliant on the good faith and independence of Suppliers and AIs.
- 90. Further, pursuant to the terms of Sales Contracts entered into between a BVI Sub and an AI, the AI assumed responsibility for paying any PRC taxes associated with the sale that were owed by the BVI Sub. This obligation purportedly included paying the income tax and valued added tax on behalf of Sino-Forest.
- 91. Sino-Forest dealt with relatively few Suppliers and AIs in the BVI Model. For example, in 2010, six Suppliers accounted for 100% of the Standing Timber purchased in the BVI Model and five AIs accounted for 100% of Sino-Forest's revenue generated in the BVI Model.

92. From 2007 to 2010, revenue from the BVI Model totaled $3.35 billion, representing 94% of Sino-Forest's reported Standing Timber revenue and 70% of Sino-Forest's total revenue. The importance of the revenue from the BVI Model is demonstrated in the following table:

|              | 2007     | 2008     | 2009       | 2010       | TOTAL      |
|--------------|----------|----------|------------|------------|------------|
| BVI Model    |          |          |            |            |            |
| Revenue      | $501.4m | $644.9m | $882.1m   | $1,326m   | $3,354.4m |

3. Undisclosed Control Over Parties within the BVI Network

- 93. Almost all of the buying and selling of Standing Timber in the BVI Model was generated through transaction between BVI Subs and a small number of Suppliers and AIs. Sino-Forest also conducted a significant level of this buying and selling with companies that are described in various Sino-Forest documents and correspondence as "peripheral" companies. Sino-Forest established and used a network of "nominee" companies that were controlled, on its behalf, by various so-called "caretakers."
- 94. For the purpose of this Amended Complaint, the BVI Subs, Suppliers, AIs, "nominee" companies, and "peripheral" companies involved in the buying and selling of Standing Timber in the BVI Model are collectively referred to as the "BVI Network." Some of the companies within the BVI Network were also involved in the buying and selling of Standing Timber within the WFOE Model.

- 95. One Sino-Forest document (the "Caretaker Company List") lists more than 120 "peripheral" (nominee) companies that are controlled by 10 "caretakers" on behalf of Sino-Forest. The "caretakers" include Huang Ran (legal representative of Huaihua City Yuda Wood Ltd. ("Yuda Wood"), described in greater detail in paragraphs 99 to 108 below), a relative of Chan, a former Sino-Forest employee, the sole director/shareholder of Montsford Ltd. (an acquaintance of Chan and Chan's nominee in the Greenheart Transaction as outlined in paragraphs 169 to 173 below), a former shareholder of Greenheart Resources Holdings Limited ("GRHL") and a shareholder of Greenheart, and an individual associated with some of Sino-Forest's Suppliers.
- 96. The control and influence that Sino-Forest exerted over certain Suppliers, AIs, and peripheral companies within the BVI Network bring the bona fides of numerous contracts entered into in the BVI Model into question. Sino-Forest wielded this control and influence through the Overseas Management Defendants and these caretakers. Sino-Forest's control of, or influence over, certain parties within the BVI Network was not disclosed to Plaintiffs and Class Members.
- 97. Some of the counterparties to the transactions described below (Dacheng Fund, the 450,000 Fraud, Gengma Fraud #1, and Gengma Fraud #2) are companies that are included in the Caretaker Company List, as outlined in more detail in paragraphs 135 to 166 below.
- 98. Among other undisclosed relationships, Sino-Forest did not disclose the true nature of its relationship with the following two key companies in the BVI Network: Yuda Wood and Dongkou Shuanglian Wood Company Limited ("Dongkou").

i. Sino-Forest Controlled Yuda Wood, a Major Supplier

- 99. Huaihua City Yuda Wood Co. Ltd., based in Huaihua City, Hunan Province ("Yuda Wood"), was a major supplier of Sino during the Class Period. Yuda Wood was founded in April 2006 and, from 2007 until 2010, its business with Sino totaled approximately 152,164 Ha.
- 100. Yuda Wood was a Supplier that was controlled by Sino-Forest during the Class Period. In the Second Interim Report, the Independent Committee of the Board of Directors of Sino-Forest Corporation ("IC") acknowledged that "there is evidence suggesting close cooperation [between Sino and Yuda Wood] (including administrative assistance, possible payment of capital at the time of establishment, joint control of certain of Yuda Wood's RMB bank accounts and the numerous emails indicating coordination of funding and other business activities)" [emphasis added].
- 101. The fact that Yuda Wood was a related party of Sino-Forest during the Class Period was a material fact and was required to be disclosed under Canadian GAAP, but, during the Class Period, that fact was not disclosed by Sino-Forest in any of the Financial Statements, MD&As, Prospectuses, Offering Memoranda, or otherwise.
- 102. From 2007 to 2010, Yuda Wood was purportedly Sino-Forest's largest Supplier, accounting for 18% of all purchases in the BVI Model. Sino-Forest claimed to have paid Yuda Wood approximately $650 million during that time. Because Yuda Wood was Sino-Forest's largest Supplier, both E&Y (during the course of its audits)_ and the Underwriter Defendants (as part of their due diligence) should have closely scrutinized the relationship between the Yuda Wood and Sino-Forest and the transactions between the companies.

- 103. Yuda Wood was registered and capitalized by certain Individual Defendants, including Defendants Yeung, Ip, Ho, Hung, who also controlled bank accounts of Yuda Wood and key elements of its business.
- 104. The legal representative of Yuda Wood is Huang Ran, a former employee of Sino-Forest and also a shareholder and director of Hong Kong Sonic Jita Engineering Co., Ltd. ("Sonic Jita"), the sole shareholder of Yuda Wood. In addition, Huang Ran had significant interests in other Suppliers of Sino-Forest and was identified as the "caretaker" of several nominee/peripheral companies.
- 105. Yuda Wood and other companies controlled by Sino-Forest through Huang Ran were used to perpetrate portions of the Standing Timber Fraud including the Dacheng Fraud, the 450,000 Fraud, Gengma Fraud #1 and Gengma Fraud #2.
- 106. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest had at least thirteen (13) Suppliers for which former Sino-Forest employees, consultants, or others are or were directors, officers and/or shareholders. Due to these and other connections between these Suppliers and Sino-Forest, some or all of these Suppliers were, in fact, undisclosed related parties of Sino-Forest. These facts suggest that these relationships resulted in improper control over these related parties.
- 107. Including Yuda Wood, the thirteen (13) Suppliers referenced above accounted for43% of Sino-Forest's purported plantation purchases during the Class Period.
- 108. Sino-Forest failed to disclose, in Financial Statements, Offering Memoranda, MD&As, AIFs, or other documents, that any of these Suppliers were related parties, nor did it disclose sufficient information regarding its relationship with such Suppliers as would have enabled investors to ascertain that those Suppliers were related parties and that the transactions with these entities should have been identified in Sino Forest's financial statements and other disclosures as related party transactions.

ii. Sino-Forest Controlled Dongkou, a Major AI

- 109. Dongkou was an AI that was controlled by Sino-Forest during the Class Period.
- 110. In 2008, Dongkou was Sino-Forest's most significant AI, purportedly purchasing approximately $125 million in Standing Timber from Sino-Forest, constituting about 18% of Sino-Forest's Standing Timber revenue for that year. Because Dongkou was a significant AI, both E&Y and the Underwriter Defendants should have closely scrutinized the relationship between Dongkou and Sino-Forest and the transactions between the companies.
- 111. Sino-Forest controlled Dongkou through one of its WFOE subsidiaries, Shaoyang Jiading Wood Products Co. Ltd. ("Shaoyang Jiading"). Correspondence indicates that, according to an agreement dated November 18, 2006, Shaoyang Jiading purchased Dongkou for approximately $200,000.
- 112. By November 2006, the six original shareholders of Dongkou had been replaced with two Sino-Forest employees. These two people became the sole Dongkou shareholders with Shareholder #1 holding 47.5% and Shareholder #2 holding 52.5%.
- 113. Also, in 2007, at the direction of Defendant Ip and others, employees of Sino-Forest drafted purchase contracts to be entered into by Dongkou and its suppliers (other than Sino-Forest). Essentially, Sino-Forest, through Individual Defendants, controlled Dongkou's business with certain counterparties and these transactions should have been identified in Sino Forest's financial statements and other disclosures as related party transactions.

D. Creation and Backdating of Sales Contracts and Other Documents

i. Purchase Contracts in the BVI Model

- 114. As set out in paragraph 87, approximately 80% (by value) of Sino-Forest's timber assets were held in the BVI Model as of December 31, 2010.
- 115. Sino-Forest used the Purchase Contracts to acquire and evidence ownership of Standing Timber in the BVI Model. The Purchase Contracts purported to have three attachments:
  - a. Plantation Rights Certificates ("Certificates") or other ownership documents;
  - b. Farmers' Authorization Letters ("Farmers' Authorizations"); and
  - c. Timber Survey Reports ("Survey Reports").
- 116. The Purchase Contracts and their attachments were fundamentally flawed in at least four respects, thereby making those transactions suspect and unverifiable.
- 117. First, Sino-Forest did not hold Certificates evidencing ownership of the Standing Timber allegedly purchased by the BVI Subs. Instead, Sino-Forest claimed that, since the BVI Subs could not obtain Certificates from the PRC government to evidence ownership, it purported to rely on confirmations issued by the forestry bureaus in the PRC as such evidence ("Confirmations"). However, Confirmations are not legally recognized documents evidencing ownership of timber assets in the PRC. These Confirmations were purportedly granted to Sino-Forest as favors by the PRC forestry business. According to Sino-Forest, the PRC forestry bureaus did not intend that these Confirmations would be disclosed to third parties. Also, certain PRC forestry bureau employees obtained gifts and cash payments from Suppliers of Sino-Forest, further undermining the value of the Confirmations as evidence of ownership.

- 118. If E&Y had conducted a proper audit of Sino-Forest, the inadequacy of the Confirmations as proof of ownership and the questionable circumstances by which these Confirmations were issued likely would have been discovered sooner.
- 119. Second, during the Class Period, Sino-Forest employed a systematic quarterly documentation process in the BVI Model whereby the purported Purchase Contracts were not drafted and executed until the quarter after the date in which the purchase allegedly occurred, although the transaction was accounted for in the preceding fiscal quarter. This was in violation of both the Company's accounting policies and relevant accounting principles.
- 120. Like the Purchase Contracts, the Confirmations were also created by Sino-Forest and backdated to the previous quarter. These Confirmations were created contemporaneously with the creation of the corresponding Purchase Contracts. These Confirmations were then allegedly provided to the relevant PRC forestry bureau for verification and execution.
- 121. Third, the Purchase Contracts referred to Farmers' Authorizations as additional proof of Sino Forest's ownership of the assets. However, none were attached. In the absence of Farmers' Authorizations, there is no evidence that ownership to the Standing Timber was properly transferred to Sino-Forest or to the Supplier prior to the purported transfer of ownership to Sino-Forest. Ownership of the Standing Timber would have remained with the original Certificate holder and the related transaction should not have been booked.
- 122. Fourth, the Survey Reports, which purported to identify the general location of the purchased timber, were all prepared by a single firm during the Class Period. A 10% shareholder of this survey firm was also an employee of Sino-Forest. Drafts of certain Survey Reports purportedly prepared by this independent survey company were located on the computer of another employee of Sino-Forest. Like the Purchase Contracts and Confirmations, these drafts of the Survey Reports were backdated to the quarter prior to their creation.

- 123. In the absence of both Certificates and Farmers' Authorizations, Sino-Forest relied on the validity of the Purchase Contracts and the Confirmations as proof of ownership of the Standing Timber it held in the BVI Model. However, the Purchase Contracts and available attachments, including Confirmations, were prepared after the close of the quarter as outlined above, and do not constitute proof of ownership of the trees purported to have been bought by Sino-Forest in the BVI Model.
- 124. Moreover, the Purchase Contracts and readily available attachments, including the Confirmations, did not identify the precise location of the Standing Timber being purchased such that the existence of this Standing Timber could not be readily verified and valued independently.

ii. Sales Contracts in the BVI Model

- 125. Like the Purchase Contracts, many of the Sales Contracts purportedly entered into by the BVI Subs in the BVI Model were not actually created and executed until the quarter after the date of the alleged transaction.
- 126. In fact, in its 2010 Annual Report, the Company expressed the following revenue recognition policy: "The timing of recognition of revenue from plantation fibre sales is dependent on the terms and conditions of the Company's contractual arrangements with its customers. To date, substantially all of the Company's plantation fibre revenue has been recognized when the Company and the buyer enter into a binding sales agreement. In situations where the Company is harvesting the plantation fibre and is responsible for all such related harvesting costs, revenue is recognized at the point in time when the logs are delivered to the buyer." This revenue recognition policy is consistent with those reported in other Annual Reports.<sup>6</sup>

127. Accordingly, the revenue from the Sales Contracts in the BVI Model was improperly recognized in the quarter prior to the creation of the Sales Contracts. Therefore, the Financial Statements and public statements of Sino-Forest regarding its revenue from Standing Timber were materially false and misleading as revenue was improperly recognized in violation of applicable Company policies and accounting principles.

E. Undisclosed Internal Control Weaknesses/Failures

128. In its MD&A for 2010 dated March 15, 2011, Sino-Forest stated the following on page 27 regarding its "Disclosure Control and Procedures and Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting":

The success of the Company's vision and strategy of acquiring and selling forestry plantations and access to a long-term supply of wood fibre in the PRC is dependent on senior management. As such, senior management plays a significant role in maintaining customer relationships, negotiating and finalizing the purchase and sale of plantation fibre contracts and the settlement of accounts receivable and accounts payable associated with plantation fibre contracts. This concentration of authority, or lack of segregation of duties, creates risk in terms of measurement and completeness of transactions as well as the possibility of non-compliance with existing controls, either of which may lead to the possibility of inaccurate financial reporting. By taking additional steps in 2011 to address this deficiency, management will continue to monitor and work on mitigating this weakness. [Emphasis added]

129. Sino-Forest made similar disclosure in its annual MD&A from 2006 to 2009 regarding this concentration of authority or lack of segregation and the risk resulting from these weaknesses. These material weaknesses were not remedied during the Class Period by Sino-Forest, Overseas Management, the Audit Committee Defendants or Defendant Horsley.

- 130. Sino-Forest failed to disclose the extent of the concentration of duties in Overseas Management. It did not disclose that Overseas Management and their nominees had complete control over the operation of the BVI Model, including control over related parties, described in paragraphs 93 to 113, the creation and execution of the Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts, described in paragraphs 114 to 127 and the extent of the "off-book" cash flow, set out in paragraphs 88 to 92. This concentration of control in the hands of Overseas Management facilitated the fraudulent course of conduct perpetrated in the BVI Model.
- 131. Although Sino-Forest did state that the concentration of authority in Overseas Management, their improper control over significant transactions and related entities, and lack of segregation of duties created a risk in terms of "measurement and completeness of transactions," and of "non-compliance with existing controls," Defendants omitted the fact that these were not simply risks but were, in fact, actually causing the issuance of materially false and misleading financial statements in violation of Canadian GAAP.

F. Four Examples of Fraudulent Transactions within the Standing Timber Fraud

- 132. During the Class Period, the Sino-Forest Defendants engaged in significant fraudulent transactions related to their purchase and sale of Standing Timber. These fraudulent transactions overstated Sino-Forest's assets, revenue, and income during the Class Period.
- 133. By way of example, four series of fraudulent transactions are detailed below: (i) the Dacheng Fraud; (ii) the 450,000 Fraud; (iii) Gengma Fraud #1; and (iv) Gengma Fraud #2.

134. In these transactions, Sino-Forest used certain Suppliers, AIs, and other nominee companies that it controlled to falsify the financial disclosure of Sino-Forest, including the value of its Standing Timber assets, revenue, and income.<sup>7</sup>

i. The Dacheng Fraud

- 135. Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants committed fraud (the "Dacheng Fraud") in a series of purported transactions commencing in 2008, related to purchases of timber plantations (the "Dacheng Plantations") from a Supplier called Guangxi Dacheng Timber Co. Ltd. ("Dacheng"). Companies controlled by Sino-Forest through Huang Ran were used in the Dacheng Fraud.
- 136. The Dacheng Fraud involved duplicating the same Standing Timber assets within the Dacheng Plantations in the records of two Sino-Forest subsidiaries. Sino-Forest recorded the same assets once in the WFOE Model and again in the BVI Model.
- 137. In 2008, these Standing Timber assets were recorded at a value of RMB 47 million (approximately $6.3 million) in the WFOE Model and this amount was paid to Dacheng. These funds were then funneled through Dacheng back to other subsidiaries of Sino-Forest, as the purported collection of receivables.
- 138. At the same time, Sino-Forest recorded these Standing Timber assets in the BVI Model at a value of approximately $30 million. In 2009, Sino-Forest purported to sell the Standing Timber assets from the Dacheng Plantations held in the BVI Model for approximately $48 million. This revenue was recorded in Q3 of 2009.
- 139. As a result of the Dacheng Fraud, in 2008, Sino-Forest overstated the value of certain Standing Timber assets by approximately $30 million and, in 2009, Sino-Forest overstated its revenue by approximately $48 million. The effect of this revenue overstatement in Q3 of 2009 is set out in the table below:

Approximately Effect of the Dacheng Fraud on Q3 of 2009 ($ millions)

| Quarterly Reported Revenue             | 367.0 |
|----------------------------------------|-------|
| Overstated Revenue                     | 47.7  |
| Overstated Revenue as a % of Quarterly |       |
| Reported Revenue                       | 13.0% |

140. Sino-Forest improperly reported this revenue for Q3 of 2009 on page 20 of its annual MD&A for 2009 (dated March 16, 2010) and page 87 of its 2009 Annual Report, summarizing the "2009 Quarterly Highlights." Accordingly, Sino-Forest's Financial Statements for 2009 were also materially false and misleading.

ii. The 450,000 Fraud

- 141. Sino-Forest and Individual Defendants committed fraud (the "450,000 Fraud") in a complex series of transactions involving the purchase and sale of 450,000 cubic meters of timber in Q4 of 2009, again utilizing companies controlled by Sino-Forest through Huang Ran. In an email, Defendant Yeung described this purchase and sale of timber as "a pure accounting arrangement."
- 142. Three subsidiaries of Sino-Panel (the "Sino-Panel Companies") purported to purchase 450,000 cubic meters of Standing Timber at a cost of approximately $26 million from Guangxi Hezhou Yuangao Forestry Development Co. Ltd. ("Yuangao") during October 2009.
- 143. In Q4 of 2009, the Sino-Panel Companies purportedly sold this Standing Timber to the following three customers:
  - a. Gaoyao City Xinqi Forestry Development Co., Ltd. ("Xinqi");
  - b. Guangxi Rongshui Meishan Wood Products Factory ("Meishan"); and

- c. Guangxi Pingle Haosen Forestry Development Co., Ltd. ("Haosen").
- 144. The sales price for this Standing Timber was approximately $33 million for an apparent profit of approximately $7.1 million.
- 145. The purported supplier (Yuangao) and the purported customers (Xinqi, Meishan, and Haosen) are all so-called "peripheral" companies of Sino-Forest, i.e., they are nominee companies controlled by Huang Ran on behalf of Sino-Forest. Xinqi, Meishan, and Haosen are also companies included in the Caretaker Company List, and Haung Ran is identified as the "caretaker" of each company. See ¶ 93 herein.
- 146. This $33 million sale of Standing Timber was recorded in Sino-Forest's WFOE Model, as opposed to its BVI Model. As noted in paragraph 88, the BVI Model employs the Offsetting Arrangement whereby payables and receivables are made and collected "off-book." However, in the WFOE Model, Sino-Forest takes receipt of the sales proceeds directly or "onbook."
- 147. By July 2010, none of the sales proceeds had been collected and the receivable was long overdue. In order to evidence the "collection" of the $33 million in sales proceeds, Sino-Forest devised two separate "on-book" payables/receivables offsetting arrangements, one in 2010 and one in 2011, whereby Sino-Forest made payments to various companies, including Yuangao and at least two other Sino-Forest nominee companies.<sup>8</sup>
- 148. To account for the purported profit of $7.1 million, Sino-Forest had to "collect" more than just the purchase price ($26 million). Consequently, Sino-Forest created additional "payables" to complete the circular flow of funds needed to collect the sales proceeds of $33 million. These "on-book" offsetting arrangements, therefore, included the purported settlement of various accounts payable, not just the Yuangao payable arising from the 450,000 Fraud.

- 149. The companies funneled the money to Xinqi, Meishan and Haosen who, in turn, repaid the money to the Sino-Panel Companies to achieve the purported collection of the $33 million in revenue.
- 150. The "on-book" offsetting arrangements required that Suppliers and customers have bank accounts through which the funds could flow. In July and August 2010, Sino-Forest set up bank accounts for the suppliers and customers associated with the 450,000 Fraud to facilitate the circular cash flows. These bank accounts were overseen by Defendants Ip and Ho, as well as a former Sino-Forest employee and his associate.
- 151. Had the E&Y properly conducted its audit properly, utilizing procedures designed to obtain competent evidence of these transactions, the true substance of these transactions would have been revealed.
- 152. These circular cash-flows commenced in July 2010 and continued until February 2011. The circular flow of funds underlying the 450,000 Fraud demonstrates that the sales contracts purportedly entered into between the Sino-Panel Companies and Xinqi, Meishan, and Haosen are fraudulent and have no true economic substance. As a result of the 450,000 Fraud, Sino-Forest overstated the value of its revenue by approximately $30 million for Q4 of 2009. The effect of this revenue overstatement on the financial statements of Sino-Forest for Q4 of 2009 is set out in this table:

Approximately Effect of the 450,000 Fraud on Q4 of 2009 ($ millions)

| Quarterly Reported Revenue                | 469.6 |
|-------------------------------------------|-------|
| Fraudulently Overstated Revenue           | 30.1  |
| Fraudulently Overstated Revenue as a % of | 6.4%  |

Quarterly Reported Revenue

153. Sino-Forest reported its revenue for Q4 of 2009 at page 20 of its annual MD&A for 2009 (dated March 16, 2010) and page 87 of its 2009 Annual Report, summarizing the "2009 Quarterly Highlights." Accordingly, Sino-Forest's Financial Statements for 2009 were also materially false and misleading as they overstated revenue, income and assets.

iii. Gengma Fraud #1

- 154. Sino-Forest entered into a fraudulent transaction in 2007 related to Standing Timber assets purchased from Gengma Dai and Wa Tribe Autonomous Region Forestry Co., Ltd. ("Gengma Forestry") by Sino-Panel (Gengma) Co., Ltd. ("Sino-Panel Gengma"), a Sino-Forest subsidiary ("Gengma Fraud #1").
- 155. In 2007, Sino-Panel Gengma purchased certain land use rights and Standing Timber for approximately $14 million from Gengma Forestry. These contracts were signed by Chan. However, this transaction between Sino-Panel Gengma and Gengma Forestry was not recorded. Instead, Sino-Forest purported to purchase the same assets from Yuda Wood, allegedly paying approximately $68 million for the Standing Timber in 2007 and approximately $15 million for certain land use rights during the period from June 2007 to March 2009. This purchase was recorded and these Standing Timber assets remained on the books of Sino-Forest until 2010.
- 156. These fraudulent transactions resulted in an overstatement of Sino-Forest's timber holdings for 2007, 2008, and 2009.
- 157. In 2010, this Standing Timber was purportedly sold for approximately $231 million. However, these same Standing Timber assets were offered as collateral for a bank loan by Sino-Forest in 2011, so the sale of those assets in 2010 could not have taken place and been recorded as revenue in that year.

The Gengma Fraud #1's Effect on the Reported Revenue of Sino-Forest

159. Gengma Fraud #1 resulted in Sino-Forest fraudulently overstating its revenue for Q1 and Q2 of 2010 as set out in the table below:

|                         | Q1 2010 | Q2 2010 |
|-------------------------|---------|---------|
| Quarterly Reported      |         |         |
| Revenue                 | 251.0   | 305.8   |
| Amount Overstated       |         |         |
| Revenue                 | 73.5    | 157.8   |
| Fraudulently Overstated |         |         |
| Revenue as a % of       |         |         |
| Quarterly Reported      |         |         |
| Revenue                 | 29.3%   | 51.6%   |

160. This income fraudulently inflated Sino-Forest's revenue, income, and assets for Q1 and Q2 of 2010, misleading Class Members.

iv. Gengma Fraud #2

- 161. In 2007, Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants committed fraud in another series of transactions to artificially inflate its assets and revenue from the purchase and sale of Standing Timber.
- 162. In September 2007, Sino-Forest recorded the acquisition of Standing Timber from Yuda Wood at a cost of approximately $21.5 million related to Standing Timber in Yunnan Province (the "Yunnan Plantation"). However, Yuda Wood did not actually acquire these assets in the Yunnan Plantation until in September 2008 – one year later. ("Gengma Fraud #2")

- 163. In 2007, Sino-Forest also purportedly purchased the land use rights to the Yunnan Plantation from Yuda Wood at a cost of approximately $7 million, about 99% of which was paid to Yuda Wood during the period from January 2009 to April 2009. Sino-Forest then fabricated the sale of the land use rights to Guangxi Hezhou City Kun'an Forestry Co., Ltd. ("Kun'an") pursuant to a contract dated November 23, 2009. Kun'an was controlled by Sino-Forest through Person #1 and is a company included in the Caretaker Company list referred to in paragraph 93 above.
- 164. Sino-Forest then purported to sell the Standing Timber in the Yunnan Plantation in a series of transactions between March 2008 and November 2009 for approximately $49 million. As Yuda Wood did not own this Standing Timber asset until September 2008, Sino-Forest could not have recorded sales of this Standing Timber prior to that time. Accordingly, Sino-Forest's Financial Statements for 2007 through 2009 were materially false and misleading as they overstated revenues, income, and assets.

The Gengma Fraud #2's Effect on the Reported Revenue of Sino-Forest

165. The purported transactions underlying Gengma Fraud #2 resulted in Sino-Forest fraudulently overstating its revenue for Q1, Q2, Q3 of 2008, and Q4 of 2009 as set out in this table:

Approximate Effect of Gengma Fraud #2 on Q1, Q2, and Q3 of 2008 and Q4 of 2009 ($ millions)

|                    | Q1 2008 | Q2 2008 | Q3 2008 | Q4 2009 |
|--------------------|---------|---------|---------|---------|
| Quarterly Reported |         |         |         |         |
| Revenue            | 136.1   | 187.1   | 295.5   | 469.6   |
| Fraudulently       | 5.7     | 4.9     | 59      | 32.6    |

| Overstated Revenue    |      |      |      |      |

| Reported Revenue      | 4.2% | 2.6% | 2.0% | 6.9% |

G. The Greenheart Transaction

- 167. In 2010, following a complex series of transactions, Sino-Forest completed the purchase of a controlling interest in Greenheart Group Ltd. ("Greenheart"), a public company listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. Sino-Forest's 64% interest in Greenheart was acquired for approximately $120 million in cash and Company stock. Greenheart holds natural forest concessions, mostly in Suriname. Greenheart controls most of Sino-Forest's supposedly substantial forestry assets outside of China. Sino-Forest also holds a 39.6% stake in Greenheart Resources Holdings Ltd. ("GRH"), a subsidiary of Greenheart. GRH, in turn, indirectly owns 100% of Greenheart's forest assets and operations in the western part of Suriname, supposedly one of Sino-Forest's principal timber holdings.
- 168. The Sino-Forest Defendants made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's AIFs for 2008, 2009, and 2010 by not disclosing Chan's interest in the Greenheart Transaction. These misleading statements were also contained in Sino-Forest's short form prospectuses filed in 2009 (which incorporated by reference the relevant AIFs and MD&A as required by Ontario securities law).<sup>9</sup>

- 169. Two of the companies holding shares of GRHL, thus benefitting from the Greenheart Transaction, were Fortune Universe Ltd. ("Fortune Universe") and Montsford Ltd. ("Montsford"). Both Fortune and Montsford were BVI shelf companies incorporated in 2004 and subsequently acquired by, or for the benefit of, Chan in 2005.
- 170. As a result of the Greenheart Transaction, Fortune Universe and Montsford received over $22.1 million, comprised of approximately $3.7 million in cash and approximately $18.4 million in securities of Sino-Forest. The Sino-Forest securities received by Fortune Universe and Montsford appreciated in value and were subsequently sold for a total of approximately $35 million. With the help of Chan's assistant, these securities were sold through brokerage accounts of Fortune Universe and Montsford, which were opened at her direction on the instructions of Chan. However, Chan arranged for the sole director/shareholder of Fortune Universe and the sole director/shareholder of Montsford to act as Chan's nominees. Chan was the true beneficial owner of Fortune Universe and Montsford.
- 171. The sole director/shareholder of Fortune Universe was the legal representative and director of one of Sino-Forest's largest Suppliers during the Class Period. The sole director/shareholder of Montsford was an acquaintance of Chan based in the PRC.
- 172. While Sino-Forest disclosed that another director of Sino-Forest had an interest in the Greenheart Transaction in its AIFs for 2008, 2009, and 2010, it did not disclose that Chan benefitted directly or indirectly from the Greenheart Transaction through Fortune Universe and Montsford.

173. Chan failed to disclose his substantial personal interest in the Greenheart Transaction and the over $22 million received by entities under his control. Chan and Sino-Forest misled the investing public in Sino-Forest's filings and public statements. Chan falsely certified the accuracy of Sino-Forest's AIFs for 2008, 2009, and 2010, as these documents failed to disclose his interest in the Greenheart Transaction. Accordingly, Sino-Forest's Financial Statements for these years were also materially false and misleading for improperly reporting related party transactions.

IV. SINO-FOREST'S MATERIALLY FALSE AND MISLEADING STATEMENTS

174. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest made numerous statements that were materially false and misleading and which had the effect of artificially inflating the value of Sino-Forest's securities. These false statements were contained in the Company's public filings, press releases, reports and other statements to the investing public. As described above, during the Class Period, the Company reported steadily increasing holdings of timber assets (mostly in the PRC) achieved through acquisitions and purchases, and increasing revenues and earnings, all of which contributed to the Company's rising stock price and its ability to issue additional debt and equity securities to investors.

175. By omitting material facts and failing to disclose the improper recognition of revenues, overstatement of assets, and other misconduct described above, the Sino-Forest Defendants made materially misleading statements or omitted material facts in its filings to the Ontario Securities Commission during the Class Period. The materially false and misleading statements or omitted facts related to Sino-Forest's business and financial results were contained in (or absent from) the Company's public filings, including its audited annual financial statements, AIFs, prospectuses, and MD&As filed with the Ontario Securities Commission during the Class Period as required by Canadian securities law.

- 176. Besides the issuance of false and misleading financial statements, examples of other materially false and misleading statements include:
- a. Sino-Forest's statement in its 2010 AIF that the Company applied for Plantation Rights Certificates and obtained confirmation of ownership from the forestry bureaus: "For our purchased plantations, we have applied for the corresponding Plantation Rights Certificates with the relevant local forestry bureaus. As the relevant locations where we purchased our purchased plantations have not fully implemented the new form of Plantation Rights Certificate, we are not able to obtain all the corresponding Plantation Rights Certificates for our purchased plantations. Instead, we obtained confirmation of our ownership of our purchased plantations from the relevant forestry bureaus. Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations."
- b. Sino-Forest's statement in its 2010 AIF that "The PRC government is in the process of gradually implementing the issuance of the new form of certificates on a nationwide scale. However, the registration and issuance of the new form plantation rights certificates by the PRC State Forestry Administration have not been fully implemented in a timely manner in certain parts of the PRC. We have obtained the plantation rights certificates or requisite approvals for acquiring the relevant plantation rights for most of the purchased plantations and planted plantations currently under our management, and we are in the process of applying for the plantation rights certificates for those plantations for which we have not obtained such certificates."<sup>10</sup>

177. Thus, beginning at least as early as March 19, 2007, the Company's MD&A and annual filings were materially false and misleading with respect to the Company's operations and financial performance because they described the Company as a fast-growing, legitimate business that followed good corporate governance practices, while failing to disclose: (1) that the Company engaged in multiple fraudulent transactions which resulted in the overstatement of assets, revenues and income; (2) that the Company lacked adequate internal controls to substantiate its financial performance or verify its assets and contractual relationships; (3) that its operations were permeated by unsubstantiated and undisclosed related party transactions; and (4) that its financial statements were materially misleading and not prepared in accordance with the applicable accounting standards. These material facts were omitted from the Company's filings and reports listed in Paragraphs 190 and 192 herein.

178. These misleading statements and omissions, including the assets, revenue, and income recorded as a result of the Standing Timber Fraud, among other things, were material as they related to Sino-Forest's primary business in the BVI Model and the WFOE Model, representing approximately 90% of Sino-Forest's stated timber assets as of December 31, 2010 and 75% of its stated revenue from 2007 to 2010.

179. In addition, Sino-Forest's statements in its public disclosures, including its AIFs and its MD&As filed with the Ontario Securities Commission during the Class Period, regarding the extent of its internal control weaknesses and deficiencies were wholly inadequate and misleading in light of the pervasive control management had over the transactions and entities Sino-Forest conducted business with and their ability to circumvent the Company's accounting practices and policies.

C. Misrepresentations and Omissions With Respect to Sino-Forest's Financial Statements

annual basis via press releases and public filings, consistently portrayed Sino-Forest as a profitable and rapidly expanding company. As set forth in Sino-Forest's 2006 Annual Consolidated Financial Statements, dated March 19, 2007; its 2007 Annual Consolidated Financial Statements, dated March 18, 2008; its 2008 Annual Consolidated Financial Statements, dated March 16, 2009; its 2009 Annual Consolidated Financial Statements, dated March 16, 2010; and its 2010 Annual Consolidated Financial Statements, dated March 15, 2011, the Company's revenue, earnings, and assets supposedly grew during the Class Period as follows:

|---------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Assets  | $1,207,255,000 | $1,837,497,000 | $2,603,924,000 | $3,963,899,000 | $5,729,033,000 |
| Revenue | $555,480,000   | $713,866,000   | $896,045,000   | $1,238,185,000 | $1,923,536,000 |
| Net     |                 |                 |                 |                 |                 |
| Income  | $113,480,000   | $152,273,000   | $228,593,000   | $286,370,000   | $395,426,000   |

- 181. Each of the annual financial statements, except for the 2006 statements, were accompanied by an audit opinion from E&Y stating that E&Y had conducted annual audits in accordance with Canadian GAAS and that these financial statements were presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Defendant Chan signed each annual financial statement.
- 182. E&Y consented to the inclusion in the June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, as well as the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009, and October 2010 Offering Memoranda, of its audit reports on Sino's Annual Financial Statements issued during the Class Period.

- 183. Defendants Hyde and West are former E&Y partners and employees. They served on Sino-Forest's Audit Committee but purported to exercise oversight of their former E&Y colleagues. In addition, Sino-Forest's Vice-President, Finance (Corporate), Thomas M. Maradin, is a former E&Y employee. Also, during the Class Period, at least 3 other former E&Y staff members were employed by Sino-Forest.
- 184. The charter of Sino-Forest's Audit Committee required that Ardell, Bowland, Hyde, and West review and take action to eliminate all factors that might impair, or be perceived to impair, the independence of the Auditor. Sino-Forest's practice of hiring numerous former E&Y staff and appointing former E&Y partners to its board and the audit committee and paying them handsomely (for example, Hyde was paid $163,623 by Sino-Forest in 2010, $115,962 in 2009, $57,000 in 2008, and $55,875 in 2007, plus stock options and other compensation) undermined the Audit Committee's oversight of E&Y.
- 185. E&Y's independence was further impaired by the significant non-audit fees it was paid during 2008-2010, which total $712,000 in 2008, $1,225,000 in 2009, and $992,000 in 2010.
- 186. As described above, the Sino-Forest Defendants created and executed the Purchase Contracts in the BVI Model in the quarters after the assets acquired in those transactions were recognized. This made Sino-Forest's audited annual financial statements, AIFs, and MD&A for the years 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, and 2010 materially false and misleading as revenues, income, and assets were all overstated. See paragraphs 114 to 124 above.

- 187. Further, given that Sino-Forest did not have sufficient proof of ownership of the majority of its Standing Timber assets due to the conduct described above, the information regarding Sino-Forest's timber holdings in its audited annual financial statements, AIFs, and MD&As for the years 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, and 2010 were materially false and misleading. For the same reasons, the information regarding Sino-Forest's timber holdings in its short form prospectuses filed in 2007 and 2009 (which incorporated by reference the relevant audited annual financial statements, AIFs, and MD&As as required by Ontario securities law) was materially false and misleading as revenues, income, and assets were all overstated.
- 188. In addition, the creation and execution of sales contracts in the BVI model following the close of a quarter where the revenue related to those transactions was recognized, was contrary to the revenue recognition process set out in Sino-Forest's public filings including its MD&A and the notes to its audited annual financial statements making those representations therefore, materially false and misleading as revenues, income, and assets were all overstated. See paragraphs 126 to 127 above.
- 189. The Company also issued materially false and misleading unaudited "Interim Financial Statements" during the Class Period, which incorporated prior period audited financial statements and similarly overstated the Company's revenue, earnings, and assets. The Company's materially false and misleading quarterly financial statements (through 2010) which, like the annual financial statements, showed increasing revenue, earnings, and assets, were released on the following dates:

| Document                              | Date ofFiling |
|---------------------------------------|-------------------|
| 2007 Q-1 Interim Financial Statements | 5/14/2007         |
| 2007 Q-2 Interim Financial Statements | 8/13/2007         |
| 2007 Q-3 Interim Financial Statements | 11/12/2007        |

| Document                              | Date ofFiling |
|---------------------------------------|-------------------|
| 2008 Q-1 Interim Financial Statements | 5/13/2008         |
| 2008 Q-2 Interim Financial Statements | 8/12/2008         |
| 2008 Q-3 Interim Financial Statements | 11/13/2008        |
| 2009 Q-1 Interim Financial Statements | 5/11/2009         |
| 2009 Q-2 Interim Financial Statements | 8/10/2009         |
| 2009 Q-3 Interim Financial Statements | 11/12/2009        |
| 2010 Q-1 Interim Financial Statements | 5/12/2010         |
| 2010 Q-2 Interim Financial Statements | 8/10/2010         |
| 2010 Q-3 Interim Financial Statements | 11/10/2010        |

Each of the financial statements listed above, as well as the reports listed in Paragraph 192, contained materially false and misleading financial statements and statements regarding the Company's financial results that omitted material facts described in Paragraph 191.

190. Sino-Forest's quarterly and annual financial statements (through December 31, 2010) were materially false and misleading because they failed to comply with Canadian GAAP. Specifically, at the time each of these financial statements was issued, it overstated the Company's assets, inflated the reported revenue and earnings, and misled investors regarding the Company's then-current financial situation and future prospects. Defendants failed to disclose to investors that: (1) the Company engaged in multiple fraudulent transactions which resulted in the overstatement of assets, revenues, and income; (2) the Company lacked adequate internal controls to substantiate its financial performance or verify its assets and contractual relationships; (3) the Company's operations were permeated by unsubstantiated and undisclosed related party transactions; and (4) the Company's financial statements were materially misleading and not prepared in accordance with the applicable accounting standards. Sino-Forest's quarterly financial statements for the first two quarters of fiscal year 2011 also overstated the Company's assets, revenues, and net earnings at the time they were issued and were not presented in accordance with the applicable Canadian accounting standards.

D. Other Misrepresentations and Omissions In Annual And Quarterly Filings

- 191. In addition to filing false and misleading financial statements, the Company made numerous other false and misleading statements to investors in other periodic securities filings made pursuant to Canadian disclosure regulations. During the Class Period, the Sino-Forest Defendants repeatedly made statements in Sino-Forest's periodic filings that falsely and misleadingly described the Company as a fast-growing, legitimate business that followed good corporate governance practices.
- 192. The Company's periodic reports to investors included (in addition to the separately filed financial statements) a "Management Discussion and Analysis" ("MD&A") that Sino-Forest filed each quarter during the Class Period, "Annual Information Forms" ("AIFs") and annual reports. These documents provided to investors and others gave narrative explanations of the Company's business, operations and financial performance for the specific period, and of the Company's financial condition and future prospects. Canadian law specifically requires that the MD&A discuss important trends and risks that have affected the Company and that are reasonably likely to affect it in future. The dates of these false and misleading statements are set out in the table below:

| Document           | Date of Filing |
|--------------------|----------------|
| 2006 MD&A          | 3/19/2007      |
| 2006 AIF           | 3/30/2007      |
| 2006 Annual Report | 5/4/2007       |
| 2007 Q-1 MD&A      | 5/14/2007      |
| 2007 Q-2 MD&A      | 8/13/2007      |

| Document           | Date of Filing |

| 2007 Q-3 MD&A      | 11/12/2007     |
| 2007 MD&A          | 3/18/2008      |
| 2007 AIF           | 3/28/2008      |
| 2007 Annual Report | 5/6/2008       |
| 2008 Q-1 MD&A      | 5/13/2008      |
| 2008 Q-2 MD&A      | 8/12/2008      |
| 2008 Q-3 MD&A      | 11/13/2008     |
| 2008 MD&A          | 3/16/2009      |
| 2008 AIF           | 3/31/2009      |
| 2008 Annual Report | 5/4/2009       |
| 2009 Q-1 MD&A      | 5/11/2009      |
| 2009 Q-2 MD&A      | 8/10/2009      |
| 2009 Q-3 MD&A      | 11/12/2009     |
| 2009 MD&A          | 3/16/2010      |
| 2009 AIF           | 3/31/2010      |
| 2009 Annual Report | 5/11/2010      |
| 2010 Q-1 MD&A      | 5/12/2010      |
| 2010 Q-2 MD&A      | 8/10/2010      |
| 2010 Q-3 MD&A      | 11/10/2010     |
| 2010 MD&A          | 3/15/2011      |
| 2010 AIF           | 3/31/2011      |
| 2010 Annual Report | 5/10/2011      |

Each of the reports listed above contained materially false and misleading financial statements and contained statements regarding the Company's financial results that omitted material facts described in Paragraph 176.

E. False Certifications

193. Each annual financial statement, AIF, and MD&A filing was accompanied by separate certifications signed by Defendants Chan and Horsley, which asserted the following:

- 1. Review: I have reviewed the AIF, if any, annual financial statements and annual MD&A, including, for greater certainty, all documents and information that are incorporated by reference in the AIF (together, the "annual filings") of Sino-Forest Corporation (the "issuer") for the financial year ended December 31...
- 2. No misrepresentations: Based on my knowledge, having exercised reasonable diligence, the annual filings do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances under which it was made, for the period covered by the annual filings.
- 3. Fair presentation: Based on my knowledge, having exercised reasonable diligence, the annual financial statements together with the other financial information included in the annual filings fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the issuer, as of the date of and for the periods presented in the annual filings.
- 194. Similarly, each of the quarterly interim financial statements and quarterly MD&As were accompanied by separate certifications signed by Defendants Chan and Horsley, which also asserted the following:
  - 1. Review: I have reviewed the interim financial report and interim MD&A (together, the "interim filings") of Sino-Forest Corporation (the "issuer") for the interim period ended....
  - 2. No misrepresentations: Based on my knowledge, having exercised reasonable diligence, the interim filings do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances under which it was made, with respect to the period covered by the interim filings.
  - 3. Fair presentation: Based on my knowledge, having exercised reasonable diligence, the interim financial report together with the other financial information included in the interim filings fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, financial performance and cash flows of the issuer, as of the date of and for the periods presented in the interim filings.

195. However, these publicly filed certifications were materially false and misleading because the Company's quarterly and annual financial statements overstated its assets, revenues and earnings, and the narrative statements were materially false and misleading. These statements failed to disclose (1) that the Company engaged in multiple fraudulent transactions which resulted in the overstatement of assets, revenues and income; (2) that the Company lacked adequate internal controls to substantiate its financial performance or verify its assets and contractual relationships; (3) that its operations were permeated by unsubstantiated and undisclosed related party transactions; and (4) that its financial statements were materially misleading and not prepared in accordance with the applicable accounting standards.

F. Misrepresentations and Omissions Relating To Yunnan Forestry Assets

- 196. On March 23, 2007, Sino-Forest issued a press release announcing that it had entered into an agreement to sell 26 million shares to several institutional investors for gross proceeds of $200 million and that the proceeds would be used for the acquisition of standing timber including, pursuant to a new agreement, the purchase of standing timber in China's Yunnan Province. The press release further stated that Sino-Forest-Panel (Asia) Inc. ("Sino-Forest-Panel"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sino-Forest, entered into (on that same day) an agreement with Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Company Ltd., ("Gengma Forestry") in Lincang City, Yunnan Province in the PRC. Under that Agreement, Sino-Forest-Panel would acquire approximately 200,000 hectares of non-state owned commercial standing timber in Lincang City and surrounding cities in Yunnan for $700 million to $1.4 billion over a 10-year period.
- 197. Similar representations regarding the acquisition of these assets were also made in Sino-Forest's Q1 2007 MD&A. Moreover, throughout the Class Period, Sino-Forest discussed

AIF, filed on March 31, 2010, the Company asserted that "[a]s of December 31, 2010, we have acquired approximately 190,300 hectares of plantation trees for US $925.9 million under the terms of the master agreement" which was entered into in March 2007. It made a similar statement in its 2010 annual report, which was filed on May 10, 2011.

198. However, as discussed above in paragraphs above 196 to 198, Sino-Forest's and Defendants' statements concerning the acquisition of assets in Yunnan Province were materially false and misleading because, among other reasons, Sino-Forest acquired the rights to far less timber than the Company claimed and/or the value attributed to the timber assets purportedly owned by Sino-Forest was materially overstated. As a result, the Company's representations relating to its financial results and business were materially misleading as Defendants failed to disclose the true amount of timber acquired from Gengma Forestry, thereby overstating the assets carried on the balance sheet.

G. Misrepresentations and Omissions Relating to the Offering of 2017 Notes

- 199. On October 14, 2010, Sino-Forest, through the Underwriter Defendants, offered and sold the 2017 Notes. The Underwriter Defendants served as Joint Global Coordinators and Lead Bookrunning Managers. The 2017 Notes were purportedly exempt from registration requirements under the U.S. Securities Act because they were offered, pursuant to SEC Rule 144A, to qualified institutional buyers (including those in the U.S.), and in offshore transactions to investors other than U.S. persons under SEC Regulation S.
- 200. The 2017 Notes were sold pursuant to the Offering Memorandum, which was materially false and misleading as described below, and which was prepared by the Sino-Forest Defendants and the Underwriter Defendants. The Offering Memorandum specifically incorporates by reference Sino-Forest's misleading 2007, 2008, and 2009 annual financial statements, its misleading unaudited interim financial statements for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and June 30, 2010, and Defendant E&Y's audit reports dated March 13, 2009 and March 16, 2010 (with E&Y's consent). The Offering Memorandum states that the documents incorporated by reference "form [an] integral part of [the] Offering Memorandum."

- 201. As underwriters of the Note Offering, the Underwriter Defendants had a duty to investors to conduct an adequate due diligence with respect to the representations in the Offering Memorandum. The Underwriter Defendants were reckless or negligent in performing due diligence on the Note Offering by failing, among other things, to determine the legitimacy of the Company's revenues, earnings and income, its lack of internal controls, the existence of multiple related party transactions or to ascertain the true value of the assets, properties and business of Sino-Forest, resulting in the issuance of a materially false and misleading Offering Memorandum.
- 202. The Offering Document was signed by the Underwriter Defendants and contained both Sino-Forest's misleading financial statements and the misleading narrative description of the Company' results and its future prospects, including the portrayal of the Company as a fast-growing, legitimate business which followed good corporate governance practices with positive future prospects for growth. In particular, the Offering Memorandum cited the Company's competitive strengths including, among others, the following: (i) "Leading commercial forest plantation operator in the PRC with established track record;" (ii) "First mover advantage with strong track record of obtaining and developing commercial tree plantations and ability to leverage our industry foresight;" (iii) "Future growth supported by long-term master agreements at agreed capped prices;" (iv) "Strong research and development capability, with extensive forestry management expertise in the PRC;" and (v) "Diversified revenue and asset base."

203. As described above, each of these additional statements in the Offering Document were materially false and misleading because, contrary to the financial results reported in its financial statements, and contrary to the description of Company with major strengths as a forest plantation operator, the Company was engaged in fraudulent practices, resulting in the overstatement of assets, revenues and earnings, and misleading statements about its contractual relationships with certain parties in the PRC related to the purchase of timber acreage. Thus, at the time of the Note Offering, investors were misled because the Company's actual financial condition, results of operation, and future business prospects were much worse than these public statements indicated.

H. Misrepresentations and Omissions Relating to Code of Business Conduct

204. At all material times, Sino-Forest maintained it had in place a Code of Business Conduct (the "Code"), which governed its employees, officers and directors. The full text of the code was posted on the Company's Internet site and available to investors. It stated that the members of senior management "are expected to lead according to high standards of ethical conduct, in both words and actions." The Code further required that Sino-Forest representatives act in the best interests of shareholders, that corporate opportunities not be used for personal gain, that insiders not trade in Sino-Forest securities based on undisclosed knowledge stemming from their position or employment with Sino-Forest, that the Company's books and records be honest and accurate, that conflicts of interest be avoided, and that any violations or suspected violations of the Code, and any concerns regarding accounting, financial statement disclosure, internal accounting or disclosure controls or auditing matters, be reported.

205. Nonetheless, as explained in this Complaint, the publicly disclosed Code contained materially false and misleading statements because, as described herein in paragraphs 204-205 Sino-Forest's top executives placed their own interests ahead of the Company's and did not actually follow the provisions of the Code in that they sold Sino-Forest stock while in possession of material, non-public information and profited from transactions entered into with related parties.

G. Misrepresentations and Omissions Relating to Poyry's Valuation of Sino-Forest's Forestry Assets

- 206. As particularized above, Sino-Forest overstated its forestry assets in Yunnan and Jiangxi Provinces in the PRC and in Suriname. Accordingly, Sino-Forest's total assets are overstated to a material degree in all of the Financial Statements, Annual Reports, MD&As, AIFs, and other investor documents, in violation of Canadian GAAP, and each such statement of Sino's total assets constitutes a misrepresentation or omission of material fact.
- 207. In addition, during the Class Period, Poyry and entities affiliated with it made statements that are misrepresented Sino-Forest's Yunnan Province "assets," namely:
  - a. In a report dated March 14, 2008, filed on SEDAR (the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval of the Canadian Securities Administrators) on March 31, 2008, (the "2008 Valuations"), Poyry: (a) stated that it determined the valuation of the Sino-Forest assets to be $3.2 billion as of December 31, 2007; (b) provided tables and figures regarding Yunnan; (c) stated that "Stands in Yunnan range from 20 ha to 1000 ha," that "In 2007 Sino-Forest purchased an area of mixed broadleaf forest in Yunnan Province," that "Broadleaf forests already acquired in Yunnan are all mature," and that "Sino-Forest is embarking on a series of forest acquisitions/expansion efforts in Hunan, Yunnan, and Guangxi;" and (d) provided a detailed discussion of Sino-Forest's Yunnan "holdings" at Appendices 3 and 5. Poyry's 2008 Valuations were incorporated in Sino-Forest's 2007 Annual MD&A, amended 2007 annual MD&A, 2007 AIF, each of the Q1, QW2, and Q3 2008 MD&As, Annual 2008 MD&A, amended Annual 2008 MD&A, each of the Q1, Q2, and Q3 2009, annual 2009 MD&A, and July 2008 and December 2009 Offering Memoranda;

- b. In a report dated April 1, 2009 and filed on SEDAR on April 2, 2009 (the "2009 Valuations"), Poyry stated that "[t]he area of forest owned in Yunnan has quadrupled from around 10,000 ha to almost 40,000 ha over the past year," provided figures and tables regarding Yunnan, and stated that "Sino-Forest has increased its holding of broadleaf crops in Yunnan during 2008, with this province containing nearly 99% of its broadleaf resource." Poyry's 2009 Valuations were incorporated in Sino-Forest's 2008 AIF, each of the Q1, Q2, and Q3 2009 MD&As, Annual 2009 MD&A, June 2009 Offering Memorandum, and June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses;
- c. In a "Final Report" dated April 23, 2010, filed on SEDAR on April 30, 2010 ( the "2010 Valuations"), Poyry stated that "Guangxi, Hunan, and Yunnan are the three largest provinces in terms of Sino-Forest's holdings. The largest change in area by province, both in absolute and relative terms [sic] has been Yunnan, where the area of forest owned has almost tripled, from around 39,000 ha to almost 106,000 ha over the past year," provided figures and tables regarding Yunnan, stated that "Yunnan contains 106,000 ha, including 85,000 ha or 99% of the total broadleaf forest," stated that "the three provinces of Guangxi, Hunan, and Yunnan together contain 391,000 ha or about 80% of the total forest area of 491,000 ha" and that "[a]lmost 97% of the broadleaf forest is in Yunnan," and provided a detailed discussion of Sino-Forest's Yunnan "holdings" at Appendices 3 and 4. Poyry's 2010 Valuations were incorporated in Sino-Forest's 2009 AIF, the annual 2009 MD&A, each of the Q1, Q2, and Q3 2010 MD&As, and the October 2010 Offering Memorandum;

- In a "Summary Valuation Report" regarding "Valuation of Purchased Forest Crops as at 31 December 2010" and dated May 27, 2011, Poyry provided tables and figures regarding Yunnan, stated that "[t]he major changes in area by species from December 2009 to 2010 has been in Yunnan pine, with acquisitions in Yunnan and Sichuan provinces" and that "[a]nalysis of [Sino's] inventory data for broadleaf forest in Yunnan, and comparisons with an inventory that Poyry undertook there in 2008 supported the upwards revision of prices applied to the Yunnan broadleaf large size log," and stated that "[t]he yield table for Yunnan pine in Yunnan and Sichuan provinces was derived from data collected in this species in these provinces by Poyry during other work;" and
- e. In a press release titled "Summary of Sino-Forest's China Forest Asset 2010 Valuation Reports" and which was "jointly prepared by Sino-Forest and Poyry to highlight key findings and outcomes from the 2010 valuation reports," Poyry reported on Sino's "holdings" and estimated the market value of Sino's forest assets on the 754,816 ha to be approximately $3.1 billion as of December 31, 2010.

208. These Poyry reports were materially false and misleading based on the lack of evidence that Sino-Forest owned the assets described therein..

V. INITIAL DISCLOSURE OF FRAUD AT SINO-FOREST

- 209. A report published on June 2, 2011 by Muddy Waters (the "Report"), a research firm that specializes in analyzing Chinese companies traded in the United States and Canada, reported that Sino-Forest and its financial statements were permeated by fraud.
- 210. The Report detailed the extensive investigative effort and resources that Muddy Waters had undertaken to discover the truth about the Company:

In order to conduct our research, we utilized a team of 10 persons who dedicated most to all of their time over two months to analyzing [Sino-Forest]. The team included professionals who focus on China from the disciplines of accounting, law, finance, and manufacturing. Our team read over 10,000 pages of documents in Chinese pertaining to the company. We deployed professional investigators to five cities. We retained four law firms as outside counsel to assist with our analysis.

211. The Muddy Waters report concluded that the Company was extensively involved in business practices that were "blatantly illegal" and that the Company's financial statements and other reports to investors were permeated by fraud. According to the Report, Sino-Forest's remarkably consistent growth during the Class Period was illusory – simply the result of "a Ponzi scheme," rather than a real expansion in Sino-Forest's business. According to Muddy Waters, the Company used its supposed growth and profitability to raise money from private lenders and the financial markets. This money, in turn, was used to bolster an appearance of further growth and increased profitability, which in turn opened the door to additional funding from private lenders and the capital markets. According to the Report, however, the capital raised by Sino-Forest was not used to expand the Company's business, but was instead largely siphoned off by insiders in undisclosed related party transactions.

- 212. At the heart of the misconduct at Sino-Forest, according to Muddy Waters, is the Company's use of AIs. The Report noted that AIs apparently act as both buyers and sellers in Sino-Forest transactions. For example, in one case uncovered by Muddy Waters, an AI purchased logs from Sino-Forest and delivered them to a chipping facility. Once the logs reached the facility they were sold back to Sino-Forest. Sino-Forest then turned around and sold the logs back to the AI who then proceeded to turn the logs into wood chips. The purpose of these transactions, which were pointless from a business perspective, was to create the appearance of additional revenue for Sino-Forest. This type of "circular" transaction was also found by the Ontario Securities Commission during its investigation of the Company.
- 213. The Report also disclosed that Sino-Forest vastly overstated its forestry assets. In China's Yunnan Province alone, the overstatement is potentially hundreds of millions of dollars. As noted above, in March 2007 Sino-Forest publicly announced that it had entered into an agreement to purchase up to 200,000 hectares of trees in Lincang City in Yunnan for $700 million to $1.4 billion, but a review of relevant government documents by Muddy Waters indicated that the actual size of this purchase was about 40,000 hectares.
- 214. Furthermore, although Sino-Forest generally does not identify the companies from which it purchases forestry assets, Muddy Waters was able to identify many of these companies by means that included careful review of government records. Muddy Waters visited many of these entities, finding that they "generally operated out of apartments while purportedly each doing annual revenue in the hundreds of millions from TRE [Sino-Forest] alone." This discovery supports Muddy Waters' conclusion that a substantial portion of the Company's reported purchases of forestry assets were greatly exaggerated or never occurred at all.

- 215. The Report also noted that Sino-Forest had engaged in substantial transactions with undisclosed related parties, transactions which are in violation of the applicable accounting rules and which require disclosure of related party transactions. An example is Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company Ltd., which was incorporated just months before it entered into an approximately $700 million contract with Sino-Forest in June 2009. The legal representative and President of this company is Sino-Forest Executive Vice President, Lam Hong Chiu. According to Muddy Waters, Zhonggan's 2008 and 2009 audit report shows "numerous large transactions between the Company, TRE, and other parties." Separately, Muddy Waters identified Huaihua Yuda Wood Company Ltd., as "an undisclosed TRE subsidiary that has been receiving massive amounts of money from TRE's subsidiaries."
- 216. On publication of the Muddy Waters Report, the price of Sino-Forest's securities dropped dramatically. On June 2, 2011, the Company's shares, which ended trading at $18.64 on June 1, ended trading on the OTC market at $7.33 and then fell further, to $5.41 on June 3, a price drop of 71% over two days on substantially larger volume than normal. The prices of the Company's debt securities also declined significantly.

VI. SINO-FOREST'S DENIALS AND FURTHER MISLEADING STATEMENTS

217. Soon after publication of the Muddy Waters Report, Defendants began an organized campaign to further mislead investors by falsely claiming that there was no misconduct at the Company. These denials and misleading statements (¶¶ 174-179) continued to prop up the prices of Sino-Forest securities until trading was halted on August 26, 2011.

- 218. In a June 3, 2011 press release, the Company asserted that "[t]he Board of Directors and management of Sino-Forest wish to state clearly that there is no material change in its business or inaccuracy contained in its corporate reports and filings that needs to be brought to the attention of the market. Further we recommend shareholders take extreme caution in responding to the Muddy Waters report." The release also quoted Defendant Chan as saying the following: "let me say clearly that the allegations contained in this report [by Muddy Waters] are inaccurate and unfounded." The release quoted Defendant Horsley as saying "I am confident that the [Sino-Forest Board of Directors'] independent committee's examination will find these allegations to be demonstrably wrong."
- 219. In a June 6, 2011 press release, Sino-Forest further stated that "The Company believes Muddy Waters' report to be inaccurate, spurious and defamatory." The press release quoted Defendant Chan as saying the following: "I stand by our audited financial statements, including the revenue and assets shown therein. All material related party transactions are appropriately disclosed in our financial statements. We do business with the parties identified in the report at arm's length. Those parties are not related or connected to the Company or any of its management."
- 220. During a June 14 conference call with investors, Defendant Chan suggested that the Muddy Waters allegations were entirely inaccurate, accusing Muddy Waters of a "pattern of sloppy diligence and gross inaccuracy."
- 221. Moreover, even after the release of the Muddy Waters Report, the Sino-Forest Defendants continued their practice of making false and misleading statements about Sino-

Forest's financial condition and future prospects. On both June 14, 2011 and August 15, 2011, Sino-Forest filed, respectively, its Interim Financial Statements and its MD&A covering the first quarter which were materially false and misleading.

222. The August 15, 2011 MD&A also made the following false statement: "[u]nder the master agreement entered in March 2007 to acquire 200,000 hectares of plantation trees over a 10-year period in Yunnan, the Company has actually acquired 230,200 hectares of plantation trees for $1,193,459,000 as at March 31, 2011." In fact, as the Muddy Waters Report disclosed, the Company vastly overstated the value of its holdings in Yunnan under the March 2007 agreement. The statements set forth in paragraphs 196 to 198 and the financial statements and results in the June 14th and August 15th filings (which investors were later told they should not rely upon) contained material misrepresentations and omissions similar to those made in filings earlier in the Class Period: they falsely portrayed the Company as a fast-growing, legitimate business that followed good corporate governance practices with positive future prospects for growth and they materially overstated the Company's revenue, earnings, and assets.

VII. CONFIRMATION OF THE FRAUD

223. After publication of the Muddy Waters Report, additional investigations and disclosures evidence that numerous statements by Sino-Forest during the Class Period were materially false and misleading or omitted material information.

A. The Globe and Mail Investigation

224. A June 18, 2011 article in the highly respected Globe and Mail, Canada's largest-circulation national newspaper, confirmed that Sino-Forest provided materially inaccurate information about the Company's holdings in Yunnan, which comprised a substantial portion of the Company's supposed forestry assets. The article stated, in part:

The Globe's investigation raises particularly hard questions about a key agreement in March, 2007, that Sino-Forest says gave it the right to buy timber rights for up to 200,000 hectares of forest in Yunnan over a 10-year period for between $700-million (U.S.) and $1.4-billion. The trees were to be bought through a series of agreements with an entity called Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Co. Ltd., also known as Gengma Forestry.

The company says it has fulfilled virtually all of the agreement with Gengma and now owns more than 200,000 hectares in Yunnan.

But officials with Gengma Forestry, including the chairman, dispute the company's account of the deal, telling The Globe and Mail that the actual numbers are much smaller.

225. The Globe and Mail article reported that an interview with officials involved in the Sino-Forest transactions indicated that the Company acquired less than 14,000 hectares. The article went on to say:

Mr. Xie's account corroborates the assertions of senior forestry officials in the province. Speaking on condition of anonymity, these officials challenged the company's statements that it controls more than 200,000 hectares of Yunnan trees, and said they are now investigating.

226. The Globe and Mail further reported:

In a written response to questions from The Globe, Sino-Forest said it stands by its public statements regarding its Yunnan holdings. The company said it has purchased about 13,300 hectares of 'forestry assets and leased land' directly from Gengma Forestry, and another 180,000 hectares of 'forestry assets only' from other sellers, using Gengma as a purchasing agent.

'The agreement has not been yet fulfilled as we have not completed the purchase of 200,000 hectares,' the company said.<sup>11</sup>

That statement from Sino-Forest appears to contradict its own publicly filed financial reports. In its first quarter 2011 report, the company said that 'under the master agreement entered in March 2007 to acquire 200,000 hectares of plantation trees over a 10-year period in Yunnan, the Company has actually acquired 230,200 hectares of plantation trees for $1,193,459,000 as at March 31, 2011.'

The company's 2010 annual information form filed with regulators earlier this year said that as of December 31, 2010, Sino-Forest had 'acquired approximately 190,300 hectares of plantation trees for $925.9-million (U.S.) under the terms of the master agreement.'

The Globe's investigation of the company's dealings and holdings in Yunnan points to inconsistencies in the company's accounting of its timber rights and raises broader questions about its business practices.

227. In addition, it was reported that:

As of the end of 2010, the company claimed control of about 800,000 hectares of trees in nine Chinese provinces plus New Zealand. Its operation in Yunnan province, in addition to being its largest, is also the one for which it has made additional disclosures recently in an attempt to defuse the allegations made in the Muddy Waters report.

So far, however, it has disclosed purchase agreements as well as forest and woodland rights certificates for about 7,000 hectares of forest in Yunnan. The company has not disclosed significant documentation regarding its forestry holdings in other provinces.

To find Gengma Forestry, Sino-Forest's local partner in the so-called 'Yunnan master agreement' – the 2007 deal said to be worth as much as $1.4-billion – you have to duck down an alleyway behind the drugstore on the main street of this nondescript trading city, then up a dusty cement staircase.

On the landing is the litter-strewn office with an open door and a window protected by metal bars. Despite signing a deal with Sino-Forest that should guarantee a windfall, the company has clearly fallen on hard times. 'Our relations with [Sino-Forest] were not totally good. They talked about a lot of things, but in the end it was hard to get money from them,' said Zhang Ling, Gengma Forestry's office manager.

228. Statements of local officials in Yunnan province also contradict the reported size of Sino-Forest's holdings:

Senior forestry officials in the province challenged the company's assertion that it controls about 200,000 hectares of forest in the region. Speaking on condition they not be identified, they said their records showed Sino-Forest manages far less than that and said the Yunnan Forestry Bureau would begin an investigation aimed at determining the company's true holdings.

229. Not only have the size of the holdings been questioned, but so has the value as reported in The Globe and Mail:

In addition to the questions about Sino-Forest's disclosures on the size of its holdings, forestry officials, as well as local timber brokers who spoke to The Globe raised questions regarding the value Sino-Forest attributes to its Yunnan assets.

'It's very hard for anyone to say what the value of their property is,' said one forestry official, adding that forested land in Yunnan needed to be evaluated by a special body jointly appointed by the Forestry Bureau and the Ministry of Finance. Sino-Forest has not requested such an official valuation of its land, he said. '(The valuation) must have two chops (official seals) and two forestry resource evaluation experts and two licensed evaluators.... Even I can't just go there and give it a value.'

230. Subsequently, in early September 2011, The Globe and Mail reported that "A Globe investigation, based on interviews with people associated with Sino-Forest and an examination of legal and regulatory documents in Hong Kong and mainland China, has uncovered a pattern of questionable deals and disclosures from the company that date back to its earliest days."

B. Investigations and Regulatory Actions

231. On August 26, 2011 the Ontario Stock Commission issued a "Temporary Order" stating: "Sino-Forest and certain of its officers and directors including Chan appear to be engaging or participating in acts, practices or a course of conduct related to its securities which it and/or they know or reasonably ought to know perpetuate a fraud on any person or company contrary to section 126.1 of the [Ontario Securities] Act and contrary to the public interest."

- 232. The Commission halted trading in Sino-Forest's stock on the Toronto Stock Exchange effective August 26, 2011 and demanded that several of Sino-Forest's executives resign. Trading was halted in the U.S. on the OTC Bulletin Board at 5:30 p.m. on August 26, 2011.
- 233. On August 28, 2011, The Globe and Mail reported that CEO Chan had resigned. The newspaper also reported that "[t]hree Sino-Forest-Forest vice-presidents Alfred Hung, George Ho and Simon Yeung have been placed on administrative leave. Senior vice-president Albert Ip has been relieved of most of his duties but remains with the Company to assist the internal probe." The newspaper also explained why Chan's departure occurred: "According to people familiar with the case, Mr. Chan was confronted by company officials in Hong Kong last week after a review of e-mail accounts outside the company's network revealed questionable transactions and money transfers." Despite this evidence of misconduct, Chan remains with the Company, having been granted the title "Founding Chairman Emeritus."
- 234. In late August 2011, Standard & Poor's Ratings Services announced that it was withdrawing its ratings on the Company's debt because "[r]ecent developments point towards a higher likelihood that allegations of fraud at the company will be substantiated."
- 235. As a result of the suspension in the trading of Sino-Forest's common stock and disclosure of the suspected fraud by the OSC, the shares are now virtually worthless and the value of its securities, notes, bonds, etc. that were issued by the Company and outstanding during the Class Period ("Debt Securities"), including the 2017 Notes, have declined substantially. On November 11, 2011, it was announced that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police had commenced a criminal investigation.

- 236. Subsequently, on January 10, 2012, Sino-Forest announced that investors should no longer rely upon its historical financial statements and related audit reports. The Company stated that there was "no assurance" that it would be able to release third quarter financial results or audited financial statements for its 2011 fiscal year. The Company further disclosed in the January 10, 2012 announcement that it was still unable to explain or resolve outstanding issues, relating to its financial results and business relationships, including matters raised by documents identified by its auditor E&Y and the OSC.
- 237. Sino-Forest was required to file its 2011 audited annual financial statements with the Ontario Securities Commission by March 30, 2012. That same day, Sino-Forest initiated proceedings in front of the Superior Court of Justice (Ontario) requesting protection from its creditors. Sino-Forest has never filed its 2011 audited annual financial statements with the Commission.
  - 238. On April 4, 2012, the auditors of Sino-Forest, Defendant E&Y, resigned.
  - 239. On May 9, 2012, the Toronto Stock Exchange delisted the shares of Sino-Forest.
- 240. On May 22, 2012, the Ontario Securities Commission filed its Statement of Allegations in the Matter of Sino-Forest Corporation, Allen Chan, Albert Ip, Alfred C.T. Hung, George Ho, Simon Yeung, and David Horsley.

VIII. ADDITIONAL SCIENTER ALLEGATIONS

241. As alleged herein, the Sino-Forest Defendants and E&Y acted with scienter in that they knew that the public documents and statements issued or disseminated in the name of the Company or in their own names were materially false and misleading or were extremely reckless in not so knowing; knew that such statements or documents would be issued or disseminated to the investing public or were extremely reckless in not so knowing; and knowingly, or acting with extreme recklessness, substantially participated or acquiesced in the issuance or dissemination of such statements or documents as primary violations of the federal securities laws. As set forth elsewhere herein in detail, the Sino-Forest Defendants and E&Y knew or were deliberately reckless in not knowing the true facts regarding Sino-Forest that were concealed as a result of the fraud alleged herein.

242. Given the scale of the fraud alleged herein, and the degree to which it affected Sino-Forest's central business operations, there is a strong inference that the Sino-Forest Defendants and E&Y knew of the misconduct alleged herein, or, at a minimum, were deliberately reckless in not so knowing.

A. Individual Defendants Scienter Allegations

- 243. As alleged herein, each of the Individual Defendants acted with scienter in that they knew that the public documents and statements issued or disseminated in the name of the Company or in their own names were materially false and misleading or were extremely reckless in not so knowing; knew that such statements or documents would be issued or disseminated to the investing public or were extremely reckless in not so knowing; and knowingly, or acting with extreme recklessness, substantially participated or acquiesced in the issuance or dissemination of such statements or documents as primary violations of the federal securities laws.
- 244. Based on the facts specified above, the Sino-Forest Defendants participated directly in the scheme to falsify the Company's financial statements and financial results, and orchestrated the use of related parties to accomplish that scheme, which resulted in overstatement of revenues, earnings, and assets. Among other things:

- a. The Sino-Forest Defendants established a collection of "nominee"/"peripheral" companies that were controlled, on its behalf, by various "caretakers" which they utilized to engage in improper transactions. Sino-Forest conducted a significant level of its business with these companies, the true economic substance of which was misstated in Sino-Forest's financial disclosures;
- b. The Sino-Forest Defendants falsified purchase, sale, and ownership documents related to the vast majority of Sino-Forest's timber holdings, which included the creation of backdated Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts and related documentation. The Sino-Forest Defendants then relied upon these documents to evidence the purported purchase, ownership, and sale of Standing Timber in the BVI Model;
- c. The Sino-Forest Defendants bypassed or ignored internal controls and accounting processes in order to complete improper transactions;
- d. The Sino-Forest Defendants failed to properly document the BVI timber purchases, in particular by failing to obtain required proof of ownership documents including (i) Plantation Rights Certificates from either the Counterparty or original owner or (ii) villager resolutions:
- e. In 2010, Sino-Forest improperly recognized revenues from the purported sale of Standing Timber, despite the fact that these same Standing Timber assets were offered as collateral for a bank loan by Sino-Forest in 2011; so the sale of those assets in 2010 could not have taken place and been recorded as revenue in that year; and
- f. The Sino-Forest Defendants engaged in and structured "circular" cash flows and unusual offsetting arrangements by which money flowed between various Sino-Forest controlled companies.

- 245. In addition, the Audit Committee Defendants knew or were extremely reckless in not knowing of the financial misconduct occurring at the highest levels of Company management. Among other duties, members of the Audit Committee are required to oversee (i) "the accounting and financial reporting processes of the Corporation....and their appropriateness in view of the Corporation's operations and current GAAP"; (ii) "the adequacy and effectiveness of management's system of internal controls and procedures"; (iii) "the quality and integrity of the Corporation's...financial reporting and disclosure"; (iv) "the relationship with the external auditor..."; and (v) "compliance with laws, regulations and guidelines affecting the Corporation which relate to the duties and functions of the Audit Committee." In addition, the Audit Committee is "primarily responsible for satisfying itself and on behalf of the Board, that the Corporation (including its subsidiaries) fulfill all of its audit and financial reporting obligations...."
- 246. As reflected in Paragraphs 183 to 184, above, each of the Audit Committee Defendants knew of the multitude of red flags, questionable transactions, and murky corporate relationships, all of which indicated the potential for management to commit fraud and issue misleading financial statements. As directors of the Company, they had direct access to senior management and as members of the Audit Committee they had the ability and duty to investigate the "quality and integrity" of the Company's financial reporting and disclosure which, in the face of obvious red flags, they failed to do.

B. E&Y Scienter Allegations

247. In April 2012, E&Y resigned as Sino-Forest's independent auditor and took the highly unusual step of disassociating itself from Sino-Forest's financial statements, which E&Y had previously audited and given a clean opinion.

- 248. As articulated by the staff of the OSC in a report issued on March 12, 2012 related to a review of public companies in Ontario, the "[i]ntegrity of public disclosure is the bedrock of investor protection." In that regard, the "external auditor has a unique role in the reporting process for annual financial statements which are relied upon by the board, audit committee and most importantly, investors to provide an independent assessment of whether the information presented in the issuer's annual financial statements has been fairly presented." [Emphasis added].
- 249. In February 2012, the Canadian Public Accountability Board ("CPAB") issued a "Special Report" regarding auditing in foreign jurisdictions, which consisted of a "review of audit files for Canadian public companies with their primary operations in China." Audits of twenty-four higher risk issuers were reviewed. The Special Report noted that it viewed its results as "a wake-up call for Canada's auditing profession." The Special Report stated: "CPAB is disappointed by the results of its review. In too many instances, auditors did not properly apply procedures that would be considered fundamental in Canada, such as maintaining control over the confirmation process. CPAB's findings indicate that auditors often did not appropriately identify and assess the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, through a sufficient understanding of the entity and its environment. CPAB also found a lack of professional skepticism when auditors were confronted with evidence that should have raised red flags regarding potential fraud risk."
- 250. Among the significant findings, which reads like a textbook of the audit deficiencies in this case, the CPAB found the following: (i) failure to control the confirmation process; (ii) reliance on confirmations with questionable reliability; (iii) insufficient evidence to support the ownership or existence of significant assets; (iv) inadequate procedures to identify related party transactions; (v) insufficient evidence to support the recognition of revenue; and (vi) insufficient evidence to support the appropriateness of the income tax rate used. The Special Report outlines specific audit procedures that should be used in foreign jurisdictions like China to combat fraud.<sup>12</sup>

- 251. As set forth above, the fraudulent practices at Sino-Forest were so widespread and material that numerous red flags should have alerted E&Y to the materially misleading financial statements issued by Sino-Forest. That E&Y certified Sino-Forest's Financial Statements year after year and never once alerted investors or regulators to these fraudulent transactions shows that their audits were extremely reckless.
- 252. Although financial reporting requirements may vary from country to country, basic audit principles remain constant. These fundamental auditing principles require that:
  - (a) financial statements reflect the true financial condition of the company;
  - (b) financial statements are informative and complete;
  - (c) financial statements do not mischaracterize an item or omit any information if that would result in a misleading statement;
  - (d) related-party transactions are disclosed and subjected to scrutiny because the terms cannot be assumed to be the result of arms-length dealings; and
  - (e) in performing an audit, the auditor must obtain sufficient information to support a reasonable basis for an opinion regarding the truth, accuracy, and integrity of the financial statements.

- 253. E&Y ignored and/or violated applicable auditing and accounting standards including the basic auditing principles enumerated above in the face of warning signs and numerous red flags described herein. If E&Y had complied with these standards and principles, the auditors would certainly have detected and reported the multitude of improper and fraudulent and related party transactions (which involved both large transactions and important business partners). Such transactions should have received extraordinary scrutiny particularly in light of the well-known deficiencies in the Company's internal controls. A proper audit of either Sino-Forest related party transactions or its most significant transactions, would have revealed this fraud.
- 254. Despite these serious audit deficiencies, E&Y misrepresented to the investing public and regulators that it had audited Sino-Forest's Financial Statements in compliance with applicable auditing standards and that the Company's financial statements were presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP.

E&Y's Materially Misleading Auditors' Reports

255. On March 11, 2011 E&Y issued an Auditor's Report for Sino-Forest's 2010 fiscal year, addressed "To The Shareholders of Sino-Forest Corporation (the "2010 Auditors Report"). In the 2010 Auditors Report, E&Y stated:

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness on the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained in our audits is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sino-Forest Corporation as at December 31, 2010 and 2009 and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

256. On March 15, 2010, E&Y issued an Auditor's Report for Sino-Forest's 2009 fiscal year, addressed "To the Shareholders of Sino-Forest Corporation" (the "2009 Auditors Report"). In the 2009 Audit Report, E&Y stated:

We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2009 and 2008 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

257. On March 13, 2009, E&Y issued an Auditor's Report for Sino-Forest's 2008 fiscal year, addressed "To the Shareholders of Sino-Forest Corporation" (the "2008 Auditors Report"). In the 2008 Audit Report, E&Y stated:

We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2008 and 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

258. On March 12, 2008, E&Y issued an Auditor's Report for Sino-Forest's 2007 fiscal year, addressed "To the Shareholders of Sino-Forest Corporation" (the "2007 Auditors Report"). In the 2007 Audit Report, E&Y stated:

We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

- 259. These statements were materially false and misleading when made because E&Y knew, or recklessly disregarded the facts that: a) it failed to conduct its audit in compliance with Canadian GAAS; and b) Sino-Forest's financial statements were not presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP as they were materially false and misleading with respect to revenues, assets, earnings, and related party transactions.
- 260. The fact that the Company alerted its auditors to the material weaknesses in its internal controls (i.e. "This concentration of authority, or lack of segregation of duties, creates risk in terms of measurement and completeness of transactions as well as the possibility of non-compliance with existing controls, either of which may lead to the possibility of inaccurate financial reporting.") was a clear red flag to E&Y, which had a duty to expand its audit procedures to inquire further into the nature of transactions and compliance with existing controls. Similarly, Sino-Forest's declaration that these risks "may lead to the possibility of inaccurate financial reporting" should have served as an additional red flag requiring E&Y to scrutinize Sino-Forest's financial statements. All of these facts, including the red flags described in Paragraph 10, required E&Y to conduct an even more rigorous audit to confirm the accuracy Sino-Forest's financial statements and the evidentiary material supporting the Company's presentation. Defendant E&Y was extremely reckless in either failing to modify its audit procedures in light of the Company's known internal control problems and lack of transparency or recklessly disregarded the red flags existing at the time of the audit.

261. Given the nature of Sino-Forest's business and lack of transparency, E&Y was required to exercise due professional care in performing its audit; to adequately plan its audit; to obtain a sufficient understanding of Sino-Forest's internal controls; and to obtain sufficient, competent evidence in auditing Sino-Forest's revenues, assets, and related party transactions. E&Y failed to conduct its audits in compliance with these fundamental Canadian GAAS provisions. Had E&Y performed its audits in compliance with Canadian GAAS, it would have uncovered Sino-Forest's overstatements of revenues, assets, income, and improper related party transactions.

IX. MOTIVATION FOR FRAUD

262. The Sino-Forest Defendants had ample motive to commit fraud: the exaggerated revenue, earnings, and assets allowed the Company to continue to raise substantial funds from lenders and investors, inflated the Company's stock price and provided a personal financial windfall to the Individual Defendants who sold highly inflated stock to unsuspecting investors.

- 263. The purported steady and impressive growth of Sino-Forest helped fuel a series of capital raising activities by the Company. By making the Company appear to be on a much more economically sound footing than was actually the case, Sino-Forest was able to raise the funds it needed to finance its rapid expansion. Because the Company's cash flow did not cover its operating expenses, the Company would not have been able to continue to operate absent cash infusions from debt and equity investors.
- 264. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest conducted numerous debt and equity offerings, issuing over $1.8 billion in debt securities to investors and also selling investors hundreds of millions of dollars of common stock. Specifically, the following securities were issued to investors:
  - On July 17, 2008, the Company closed an offering of convertible guaranteed senior notes (the "2013 Convertible Notes") for gross proceeds of $300,000,000. On August 6, 2008, the Company issued an additional $45,000,000 of 2013 Convertible Notes pursuant to the exercise of an over-allotment option granted to the underwriters in connection with the offering, increasing the gross proceeds to $345,000,000.
  - On June 24, 2009, the Company offered to eligible holders of outstanding Senior Notes due in 2011 (the "2011 Senior Notes") to exchange these notes for up to $300,000,000 of new guaranteed senior notes due 2014 (the "2014 Senior Notes"). On July 27, 2009, the Company completed this exchange offer, issuing an aggregate principal amount of $212,330,000 of 2014 Senior Notes, Senior Notes.

- representing approximately 70.8% of the aggregate principal amount of the 2011
- In June 2009, the Company completed a public offering and international private placement of 34,500,000 common shares (including 4,500,000 common shares issued upon the exercise of the underwriters' over-allotment option) for gross proceeds of approximately $339,810,000.
- On December 17, 2009, the Company closed an offering of convertible guaranteed senior notes (the "2016 Convertible Notes") for gross proceeds of $460,000,000.
- In December 2009, the Company completed a public offering of 21,850,000 common shares (including an overallotment exercise) for gross proceeds of approximately $345,318,000.
- In May 2010, Sino-Forest issued 1,990,566 shares of common stock as a $33.3 million payment to acquire 34% of Greenheart Resources.
- In August 2010, the Company issued $2.3 million shares of common stock in partial payment of its acquisition of Mandra Forestry Holdings Limited, a company which supposedly owned the rights to technology relevant to the Company's business. In connection with this acquisition of Mandra, the Company also exchanged nearly $195 million of Mandra notes for Sino-Forest notes—the Sino-Forest notes had a longer duration and lower interest rate than the Mandra notes for which they were exchanged.
- On October 21, 2010, the Company completed the $600,000,000 Note Offering of the 2017 Notes.

- 265. Thus, during the Class Period, while Defendants were issuing materially false and misleading financial statements and other reports to investors, Sino-Forest was taking advantage of the illusory growth portrayed to investors through these large debt and equity offerings, which in less than three years, cumulatively totaled over $2.5 billion.
- 266. In addition to the billions of dollars raised by Sino-Forest during the Class Period (described above), Company insiders also benefited directly by the inflated value of Sino-Forest's stock because of their substantial stock holdings and because part of their compensation was in the form of stock options. Documents filed by the Company revealed that the Individual Defendants have sold over $44 million of Company stock since 2006.

X. CLASS ALLEGATIONS

267. Plaintiffs bring this action as a class action pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a) and (b)(3) on behalf of a class consisting of all persons or entities who purchased (i) Sino-Forest's common stock during the Class Period on the OTC market who were damaged thereby; and (ii) all persons or entities who, during the Class Period, purchased Debt Securities issued by Sino-Forest other than in Canada and who were damaged thereby. Excluded from the Class are Defendants, the officers and directors of Sino-Forest during any portion of the Class Period, members of the immediate families of the foregoing persons and the legal representatives, heirs, successors or assigns of such persons and any entity in which any Defendant has or had a controlling interest. The Class specifically excludes any investor who purchased Sino-Forest securities on the Toronto Stock Exchange or in Canada.

- 268. The claims of Plaintiffs and the members of the Class have a common origin and share a common basis. The claims of all Class Members originate from the same improper conduct and arise from securities purchases entered into on the basis of the same materially misleading statements and omissions by Defendants during the Class Period. If brought and prosecuted individually, each Class Member would necessarily be required to prove his respective claims upon the same facts, upon the same legal theories and would be seeking the same or similar relief, resulting in duplication and waste of judicial resources.
- 269. The members of the Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Although all Class Members cannot be identified without discovery, Plaintiffs believe that there are many thousands of class members. Sino-Forest has over 246 million shares outstanding which actively traded on the OTC market (as well as in Canada on the Toronto Stock Exchange) and there are approximately $1.8 billion in Debt Securities outstanding including, approximately, $600 million in 2017 Notes.
- 270. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Class and predominate over any questions solely affecting individual members of the Class. Among the questions of law and fact common to the Class are:
  - a. Whether Defendants made materially false and misleading statements or omissions regarding Sino-Forest's financial statements and operations;
  - b. Whether Defendants engaged in any acts that operated as a fraud or deceit, or negligently misrepresented the Company's financial condition to the Class;
  - c. Whether the Company issued materially false and misleading financial statements and Defendant E&Y issued materially false audit opinions regarding Sino-Forest's financial statements;

- d. Whether Defendants' acts proximately caused injury to the Class or irreparably harmed the Class, and if so, the appropriate relief to which the Class is entitled; and,
- e. Whether Defendants' acts constitute violations of law for which the Class is entitled to recover damages or other relief.
- 271. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would also create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual members of the Class which would establish incompatible rights and standards of conduct for the parties involved in this case. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would also create a risk of adjudications with respect to individual members of the Class which would, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of other members of the Class or substantially impair or impede their ability to protect their interests.
- 272. Plaintiffs have engaged counsel experienced in complex class litigation and will fairly and adequately represent the interests of the Class. Plaintiffs' interests are co-extensive with and not antagonistic to those of the absent members of the Class.
- 273. The members of the Class cannot reasonably be expected to litigate this matter individually. Whether litigated individually or as a class, the causes of action asserted in this Complaint involve complex issues of law and will likely require extensive and costly factual discovery, especially if this case proceeds to trial. The costs of successfully prosecuting such litigation will likely be beyond the resources of most members of the Class.

XI. APPLICATION OF THE FRAUD ON THE MARKET PRESUMPTION

274. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest was a high profile Company which regularly provided purportedly accurate information to investors about the Company's operations. The Company was followed by numerous securities analysts including Dundee Capital Markets, RBC, and JP Morgan. The securities at issue, Sino-Forest common stock and debt securities, were actively traded on efficient markets and publicly disclosed information about the Company was incorporated in the price of these securities within a reasonable amount of time.

A. Common Stock

- 275. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest common stock was traded on the OTC market in the United States, which is an open, well-developed and efficient market. Sino-Forest common stock was simultaneously traded on the Toronto Stock Exchange, an open, well developed and efficient market. There was a substantial volume of trading in both the United States and Canada and the price of the shares traded in the United States was affected in the same way as the price of shares traded in Canada. During the Class Period over 146 million shares of Sino-Forest common stock traded in the OTC market.
- 276. The OTC market has no fixed location, but investors throughout the United States, including in New York County, New York, can purchase OTC securities through registered brokers. The principal regulator of the OTC market is the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, which has its principal offices in New York, NY and Washington, DC.

B. 2017 Notes and Other Debt Securities

- 277. According to the Company, the 2017 Notes "offering was made on a private placement basis in Canada, the United States and internationally pursuant to available exemptions, through a syndicate of initial purchasers." The indenture agreement, which governs the 2017 Notes, provided that the notes are governed by New York law.
- 278. The 2017 Notes were initially purchased by the Underwriter Defendants and then sold to Plaintiff and other investors on the initial Offering. In the purchase agreement between the Underwriter Defendants and Sino-Forest, Banc of America Securities LLC listed its address as One Bryant Park, New York, NY 10036 and Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC listed its address as Eleven Madison Avenue New York, NY 10010. During the Class Period and after their issuance, there was an efficient market for the 2017 Notes.

- 279. The 2017 Notes could only be legally sold to non-U.S. persons and to U.S. persons who were qualified institutional buyers. There is an open and well developed market for such securities, which are issued by large and well known issuers such as Sino-Forest and, specifically, there was an active and well-developed market for the 2017 Notes and Sino-Forest's other Debt Securities during the Class Period. Class Members were able to purchase 2017 Notes and other Debt Securities in the OTC market.
- 280. Accordingly, Class Members who purchased Sino-Forest common stock or 2017 Notes, and other Debt Securities in the secondary market are entitled to a presumption of reliance on the accuracy of the prices paid.

XII. LOSS CAUSATION

281. During the Class Period, as detailed herein, Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants engaged in a scheme to deceive the market and a course of conduct that artificially inflated the prices of Sino-Forest stock by failing to disclose and misrepresenting the adverse facts detailed herein. When their misrepresentations and fraudulent conduct were disclosed and became apparent to the market, the price that purchasers were willing to pay for Sino-Forest stock fell precipitously as the prior artificial inflation came out of the stock's price. Moreover, as a direct and foreseeable result of their fraud, trading in Sino-Forest stock was halted and eventually de-listed, making the stock virtually worthless and impossible to sell. Consequently, Plaintiffs and the other Class Members suffered economic loss as a result of their conduct.

- 282. By failing to disclose to investors the adverse facts detailed herein, Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, E&Y, Poyry, and the Underwriter Defendants presented a misleading picture of Sino-Forest's business and prospects. Their false and misleading statements had the intended effect and caused Sino-Forest common stock to trade at artificially inflated levels throughout the Class Period, reaching as high as $26.08 per share on March 31, 2011.
- 283. The decline in the price of Sino-Forest shares, and the suspension in trading of these shares, was a direct result of the nature and extent of Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants' fraud. The timing and magnitude of the price decline in Sino-Forest stock negates any inference that the loss suffered by Plaintiffs and the other Class Members was caused by changed market conditions, macroeconomic or industry features or Company-specific facts unrelated to Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants' fraudulent conduct. The economic loss suffered by Plaintiffs and the other Class Members was a direct result of Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants' scheme to artificially inflate the prices of Sino-Forest stock and the subsequent significant decline in the value of Sino-Forest stock when Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants' prior misrepresentations and other fraudulent conduct were revealed and when regulators de-listed Sino-Forest stock as a result of the fraud.

XIII. CAUSES OF ACTION

COUNT ONE AGAINST SINO-FOREST, THE INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS, AND E&Y FOR VIOLATION OF SECTION 10(b) OF THE EXCHANGE ACT AND RULE 10b-5

- 284. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each of the allegations set forth above. This claim is asserted against Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, and E&Y for violation of Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5.
  - 285. Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, and E&Y:

- a. Knew or recklessly disregarded the material, adverse non-public information about Sino-Forest's financial results and then-existing business conditions, which was not disclosed; and
- b. Participated in drafting, reviewing, and/or approving the misleading financial statements, releases, reports and other public representations of and about Sino-Forest.
- 286. During the Class Period, with knowledge of or reckless disregard for the truth, Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, and/or E&Y disseminated or approved the false statements specified above, which were misleading in that they contained misrepresentations and failed to disclose material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.
- 287. As described herein, Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, and/or E&Y made or caused to be made a series of false statements and failed to disclose various material information concerning Sino-Forest. Those material misrepresentations and omissions created a false assessment of Sino-Forest, its business, and its prospects in the market, and caused the Company's securities to be overvalued and artificially inflated at all relevant times.
- 288. Sino-Forest's, the Individual Defendants', and/or E&Y's false portrayal of Sino-Forest's financial results, business operations, and prospects during the Class Period resulted in Plaintiffs and other members of the Class purchasing Sino-Forest securities at market prices in excess of the actual value of those securities.
- 289. Plaintiffs and other members of the Class would not have purchased Sino-Forest common stock and other securities at the prices they paid, if at all, had they been aware of the true facts concerning the Company's financial statements, business operations, and prospects, as well as the true facts concerning Sino-Forest's misleading audit reports.

- 290. When the market determined that Sino-Forest's financial results reported during the Class Period were falsely reported by the Company and/or Individual Defendants, and that E&Y issued materially false and misleading audit reports, the Company's stock price decreased substantially in value and thereby caused injury to Plaintiffs and members of the Class.
- 291. Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, and E&Y have violated § 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder in that they:
  - a. Employed devices, schemes and artifices to defraud;
  - b. Made untrue statements of material facts or omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; and/or
  - c. Engaged in acts, practices and a course of business that operated as a fraud or deceit upon the purchasers of Sino-Forest stock during the Class Period.
- 292. At all relevant times, the material financial statement misstatements, misrepresentations, and omissions particularized herein, directly or proximately caused or were a substantial contributing cause of the damages sustained by Plaintiffs and other members of the Class.
- 293. Plaintiffs and the Class have suffered damage because, in reliance on the integrity of the market, they paid artificially inflated prices for Sino-Forest stock.

COUNT TWO AGAINST SINO-FOREST AND THE INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS FOR FRAUD

- 294. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each of the allegations set forth in above. This claim is asserted against Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants for common law fraud.
- 295. As set forth herein, Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants knowingly or recklessly engaged and participated in a continuous course and scheme of fraudulent conduct to disseminate materially false information about Sino-Forest's financial condition or failed to disclose material information with the purpose of inflating the prices of Sino-Forest's common stock, the 2017 Notes and Sino-Forest's other debt securities. As intended by the Sino-Forest Defendants, Plaintiffs and Class Members reasonably relied on these false and misleading statements and failures to disclose and suffered substantial damages as a result.

296. As a direct and proximate result of Sino-Forest's and the Individual Defendants' fraud, Plaintiffs and the Class have suffered economic losses in an amount to be determined at trial. Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants are jointly and severally liable to the Class for common law fraud.

COUNT THREE AGAINST SINO-FOREST AND THE INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS FOR CIVIL CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD

- 297. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each of the allegations set above. This claim is asserted against Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants for civil conspiracy to commit fraud.
- 298. In furtherance of a scheme to defraud investors, the Sino-Forest Defendants corruptly agreed to combine their respective skills, expertise, resources, and reputations, thereby causing injury to Plaintiffs and the Class.
- 299. As set forth in detail above, one or more of the conspirators made false representations of material facts, with scienter, and Plaintiffs and Class Members justifiably relied upon these misrepresentations and were injured as a result.
- 300. As a direct and proximate consequence of the foregoing, Plaintiffs and the Class have suffered economic losses in an amount to be determined at trial. Because Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants conspired amongst themselves and with others to carry out this fraudulent scheme, the Sino-Forest Defendants are jointly and severally liable both for their own knowledge and conduct and for the knowledge and conduct of their co-conspirators in furtherance of the fraud.

COUNT FOUR AGAINST E&Y AND POYRY FOR AIDING AND ABETTING FRAUD

- 301. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each of the allegations set forth above. This claim is asserted against E&Y and Poyry for aiding and abetting common law fraud committed by Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants. E&Y and Poyry were aware of the fraudulent scheme that is the subject of this Complaint and each of these Defendants provided substantial assistance to the perpetrators of this scheme.
- 302. As a direct and proximate result of E&Y's and Poyry's aiding and abetting of the fraud, Plaintiffs and the Class have suffered economic losses in an amount to be determined at trial. E&Y and Poyry are jointly and severally liable to the Class for aiding and abetting common law fraud.

COUNT FIVE AGAINST THE INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS FOR VIOLATION OF SECTION 20(a) OF THE EXCHANGE ACT

- 303. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each of the allegations set forth above. This claim is asserted against the Individual Defendants for violation of Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act.
- 304. The Individual Defendants acted as controlling persons of Sino-Forest within the meaning of Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act, as alleged herein. By reason of their positions as officers or directors of Sino-Forest, and their ownership of Sino-Forest stock, the Individual Defendants had the power and authority to cause Sino-Forest to engage in the wrongful conduct complained of herein.

- 305. At the time they obtained their shares, Plaintiffs and members of the Class did so without knowledge of the facts concerning the materially false and misleading statements alleged herein.
- 306. By reason of the foregoing, the Individual Defendants are jointly and severally liable pursuant to Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act.

COUNT SIX AGAINST SINO-FOREST FOR UNJUST ENRICHMENT

- Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each of the allegations set forth above. This claim is asserted against Sino-Forest for unjust enrichment.
- In connection with the fraudulent scheme set out in this Complaint, Defendant 308. Sino-Forest received payment for the sale of the 2017 Notes. Defendant Sino-Forest would not have been able to sell the 2017 Notes or would only have been able to sell these notes at a lower price had the true facts about Sino-Forest's business and financial condition been known. Consequently, Sino-Forest unjustly received money from the Offering of its securities and it would be unjust to allow Sino-Forest to keep this improperly earned money and should be required to repay it.

AGAINST THE UNDERWRITER DEFENDANTS FOR VIOLATION OF SECTION 12(a)(2) OF THE SECURITIES ACT

309. Plaintiff IMF repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained in this Complaint as if fully set forth herein only to the extent, however, that such allegations do not allege fraud, scienter, or the intent of the Underwriter Defendants to defraud Plaintiffs or members of the Class with respect to this claim.

- 310. This Claim is brought against the Underwriter Defendants and is based on the Offering of 2017 Notes.
- 311. This Claim is brought pursuant to Section 12(a)(2) of the Securities Act and is predicated upon Underwriter Defendants' liability for material misstatements and omissions in the Offering Documents.
- 312. This Count is not based on and does not sound in fraud. Any allegations of fraud or fraudulent conduct and/or motive are specifically excluded from this Count. For purposes of asserting this claim under the Securities Act, Plaintiffs do not allege that Underwriter Defendants acted with scienter or fraudulent intent. Plaintiffs expressly exclude and disclaim any allegation that could be construed as alleging fraud or intentional or reckless misconduct, as this Count is based solely on claims of strict liability under the Securities Act.
- 313. As provided for in Section 12(a)(2) of the Securities Act, the Underwriter Defendants named in this claim are responsible for the materially false and misleading statements in the Offering Documents and failed to make a reasonable and diligent investigation of the statements contained in the Offering Documents to ensure that such statements were true and correct and that there was no omission of material facts required to be stated in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading.
- Plaintiffs and Class Members suffered significant losses and are entitled to 314. rescission or rescissionary damages under Section 12. Plaintiff and Class Members who continue to hold the 2017 notes hereby tender their shares to the Underwriter Defendants.
- At the time they obtained their shares, Plaintiffs and members of the Class did so without knowledge of the facts concerning the misstatements or omissions alleged herein.

316. By reason of the foregoing, each of the Defendants named in this claim are jointly and severally liable for violation of Section 12(a)(2) of the Securities Act.

COUNT EIGHT AGAINST SINO FOREST AND THE INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS FOR VIOLATION OF SECTION 15(a) OF THE SECURITIES ACT

- 317. Plaintiff IMF repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained in this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.
- 318. This Count is asserted against Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants and is based upon Section 15 of the Securities Act.
- 319. Sino-Forest and the Individual Defendants acted as controlling persons of the Underwriter Defendants with respect to the Offering and within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act, as alleged herein. By reason of their positions as directors and members of the board, Sino-Forest and those Individual Defendants had the power and authority to cause the Underwriter Defendants to engage in the wrongful conduct complained of herein.
- 320. The Individual Defendants at all relevant times participated directly and indirectly in the conduct of Sino-Forest's business affairs. As directors and board members of a publicly owned company, the Individuals Defendants had a duty to disseminate accurate and truthful information with respect to Sino-Forest's financial condition and results of operations. Because of their positions of control and authority as directors and board members of Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants were able to, and did, control the contents of the Offering Documents, which contained materially false and misleading statements and omissions of material facts. The Individual Defendants' control and positions made them privy to and provided them with knowledge of the material facts concealed from Plaintiffs and members of the Class.

- 321. Plaintiff and members of the Class suffered significant losses as a result of these Defendants' materially false and misleading statements and omissions of material fact in the Offering Documents.
- 322. By reason of the foregoing, Sino-Forest and each of the Individual Defendant is jointly and severally liable pursuant to Section 15 of the Securities Act.

XIV. PRAYER FOR RELIEF AND JURY DEMAND

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs and the Class hereby demands a trial by jury, and seek a judgment:

- A. Awarding Plaintiffs and the Class all compensatory damages they suffered, including lost profits and consequential and incidental damages, as a result of the wrongful conduct of the Defendants, in an amount to be determined at trial;
- B. Awarding Plaintiffs and the Class damages arising from Defendants' unjust enrichment;
- C. Awarding Plaintiffs and the Class punitive damages in an amount to be determined at trial:
- D. Awarding Plaintiffs and the Class pre-judgment and post-judgment interest;
- E. Awarding Plaintiffs and the Class their costs, expert fees, expenses and attorneys' fees incurred in connection with this action to the maximum extent permitted by law;
- F. Awarding Plaintiffs and the Class such other and further relief as the Court finds just and proper.

CERTIFICATION OF PLAINTIFF PURSUANT TO FEDERAL SECURITIES LAWS

I, IMAD M FATHALLAH, on behalf of IMF FINANCE SA, ("Plaintiff") declares, as to the claims asserted under the federal securities laws, that:

- 1. I have reviewed a class action complaint asserting securities claims against Sino Forest Corp. ("Sino-Forest" or the "Company") OTC: SNOFF, and wish to join as a plaintiff retaining Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC as my counsel.
- 2. Plaintiff did not purchase the security that is the subject of this action at the direction of plaintiff's counsel or in order to participate in this private action.
- 3. Plaintiff is willing to serve as a representative party on behalf of the class, including providing testimony at deposition and trial, if necessary.
- 4. My transactions in Sino Forest Corp. securities during the Class Period of March 19, 2007 through August 26, 2011.

Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC Announces Filing of Amended Class Action Lawsuit Against Sino-Forest Corporation

WASHINGTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC announces that it has filed an amended class action lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York on behalf of (i) all persons or entities who, from March 19, 2007 through August 26, 2011 (the "Class Period") purchased the common stock of Sino-Forest on the Over-the-Counter ("OTC") market and who were damaged thereby; and (ii) all persons or entities who, during the Class Period, purchased debt securities issued by Sino-Forest other than in Canada and who were damaged thereby.

The Amended Complaint asserts claims against Defendants Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest"), Allen T.Y. Chan, David J. Horsley, Kai Kit Poon, W. Judson Martin, William E. Ardell, James P. Bowland, James M.E. Hyde, Edmund Mak, Garry J. West, Albert Ip, Alfred C.T. Hung, George Ho, Simon Yeung, Poyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited, Banc Of America Securities LLC, Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC, and Ernst & Young LLP, for misleading investors in connection with the offer and sale of Sino-Forest common stock and debt securities.

The Amended Complaint alleges that during the Class Period, Sino-Forest and the individual defendants made materially false and misleading statements in the Company's financial statements and regulatory filings regarding Sino-Forest's business and financial condition. The Amended Complaint also alleges that the Company's auditor Ernst & Young failed to properly audit Sino-Forest's financial statements and that its audit reports misrepresented that the financial statements were presented in conformance with Canadian GAAP and that its audits complied with Canadian GAAS. In addition, the Amended Complaint alleges that, among other things, the underwriters for Sino-Forest's $600 million note offering in October 2010 failed to perform proper due diligence in connection with the offering and sale of securities to the public.

Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC has significant experience in prosecuting investor class actions and actions involving securities fraud. The firm has offices in Washington, D.C., New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and Palm Beach Gardens and is active in major litigation pending in federal and state courts throughout the nation.

If you purchased the common stock of Sino-Forest on the Over the Counter market, or its debt securities from March 19, 2007 through August 26, 2011, you may move the court no later than 60 days after the date of this notice and request that the Court appoint you as lead plaintiff. A lead plaintiff is a representative party acting on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. To be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must decide that your claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that you will adequately represent the class. Your share in any recovery will not be enhanced or diminished by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. You may retain Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC, or other attorneys, to serve as your counsel in this action.

The firm's reputation for excellence has repeatedly been recognized by courts which have appointed the firm to lead positions in complex multi-district or consolidated litigation. Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC has taken a lead role in numerous important cases on behalf of defrauded investors, and has been responsible for a number of outstanding recoveries which, in the aggregate, total in the billions of dollars.

Firm Resume

Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC

For decades, Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC has represented individuals, small businesses, institutional investors, and employees in many of the major class action cases litigated in the United States for violations of the antitrust, securities, consumer protection, civil rights/discrimination, environmental, ERISA, employment, and human rights laws. Cohen Milstein is also at the forefront of numerous innovative legal actions that are expanding the quality and availability of legal recourse for aggrieved individuals and businesses both domestic and international. Over its history, Cohen Milstein has obtained many landmark judgments and settlements for individuals and businesses in the United States and abroad. The firm's most significant past and present cases include:

- In re Vitamins Antitrust Litigation, MDL No. 1285 (D.D.C.). Cohen Milstein served as co-lead counsel for two certified classes of businesses that directly purchased bulk vitamins and were overcharged as a result of a ten year global price-fixing and market allocation conspiracy. Chief Judge Hogan approved four major settlements between certain vitamin defendants and Class Plaintiffs, including a landmark partial settlement of $1.1 billion. In a later trial before Chief Judge Hogan concerning four Class Plaintiffs' remaining unsettled Vitamin B4 (choline chloride) claims, a federal jury in Washington unanimously found Japan's second largest trading company, Mitsui & Co., Ltd., its wholly-owned U.S. subsidiary Mitsui & Co. (U.S.A.), Inc., DuCoa, LP, a choline chloride manufacturer based in Highland, Illinois, and DuCoa's general partner, DCV, Inc. liable for participating in the conspiracy and ordered them to pay $49,539,234, which is trebled to $148,617,702 under the federal antitrust laws. The case was subsequently settled against those defendants.
- Keepseagle v. Vilsack, Civil Action No. 1:99CV03119 (D.D.C.). A class of Native American farmers and ranchers allege that they have been systematically denied the same opportunities to obtain farm loans and loan servicing that have been routinely afforded white farmers by the USDA. A class was certified in 2001 by Judge Emmet Sullivan, District Judge for the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, and the D.C. Circuit declined USDA's request to review that decision. On October 19, 2010, the case reached a historic settlement, with the USDA agreeing to pay $680 million in damages to thousands of Native American farmers and ranchers and forgive up to $80 million worth of outstanding farm loan debt.
- In re Parmalat Securities Litigation, No. 04 MD 1653 (S.D.N.Y.). In this securities litigation case, Cohen Milstein has successfully negotiated two partial settlements totaling approximately $90 million. At the second partial settlement hearing, Judge Lewis A. Kaplan remarked that plaintiffs counsel "did a wonderful job here for the class and were in all respects totally professional and totally prepared. I wish I had counsel this good in front of me in every case." Our clients, four large European institutional investors, were appointed as co-lead plaintiffs and we were appointed as co-lead counsel. Most notably, this case allowed us the opportunity to demonstrate our expertise in the bankruptcy area. During the litigation, the company subsequently emerged from bankruptcy and we added "New Parmalat" as a defendant because of the egregious fraud committed by the now-bankrupt old Parmalat. New Parmalat strenuously objected and Judge Kaplan of the Southern District of New York ruled in the class plaintiffs' favor, a ruling which was affirmed on appeal. This innovative approach of adding New Parmalat enabled the class to obtain an important additional source of compensation, as we subsequently settled with New Parmalat.

- Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., No. C-01-2252 (N.D. Cal.). Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in this sex discrimination case. In 2004, the U.S. District Court certified a nationwide class action lawsuit for all female employees of Wal-Mart who worked in U.S. stores anytime after December 26, 1998. This was the largest civil rights class action ever certified against a private employer, including approximately 1.5 million current and former female employees. That ruling was appealed, and while affirmed by the Ninth Circuit, was reversed by the Supreme Court in June 2011. Cohen Milstein argued the case for the plaintiffs-respondents in the Supreme Court. Since then, the Dukes action has been amended to address only the Wal-Mart regions that include stores in California, and other regional class cases have been or are soon to be filed. This litigation to resolve the merits of the claims whether Wal-Mart discriminates against its female retail employees in pay and promotions continues.
- Rubin v. MF Global, Ltd. (08-CV-02233, S.D.N.Y.). Acting as co-lead counsel in this class action, the Firm represented the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund which was one of the co-lead plaintiffs in the case. In September 2010, as a result of Plaintiffs' decision to appeal, the U.S. Second Circuit Court of Appeals vacated in part the lower court's dismissal of the case and remanded the case for further proceedings. In overturning the District Court decision, the Second Circuit issued a decision which differentiated between a forecast or a forward looking statement accompanied by cautionary language -- which the Appellate Court said would be insulated from liability under the bespeaks caution doctrine -- from a factual statement, or non-forward-looking statement, for which liability may exist. Importantly, the Second Circuit accepted Plaintiffs' position that where a statement is mixed, the court can sever the forward-looking aspect of the statement from the non-forward looking aspect. The Court further stated that statements or omissions as to existing operations (and present intentions as to future operations) are not protected by the bespeaks caution doctrine. Mediation followed this decision and resulted in a settlement comprised of $90 million in cash.
- Hughes v. Huron Consulting Group (09-CV-04734, N.D. Ill.). Cohen Milstein represented lead plaintiffs the Public School Teachers' Pension & Retirement Fund of Chicago and the Arkansas Public Employees Retirement System ("APERS") in this case against Huron Consulting Group, founded by former Arthur Anderson personnel following its collapse in the wake of the Enron scandal. In August 2010, the District Court for the Northern District of Illinois denied defendants' motions to dismiss in their entirety and upheld plaintiffs' allegations that defendants intentionally improperly accounted for acquisition-related payments, which allowed plaintiffs to move forward with discovery. The case was settled for $40 million, comprised of $27 million in cash and 474,547 shares in Huron common stock, with an aggregate value at the time of final approval in 2011 of approximately $13 million.
- In re Lucent Technologies Securities Litigation, Civ. Action No. 00-621 (JAP) (D.N.J.). A settlement in this massive securities fraud class action was reached in late March 2003. The class portion of the settlement amounts to over $500 million in cash, stock and warrants and ranks as the second largest securities class action settlement ever completed. Cohen Milstein represented one of the co-lead plaintiffs in this action, a private mutual fund.
- RehabCare, Civil Action No. 6197 (Delaware Court of Chancery). Cohen Milstein served as co-lead counsel in this shareholder litigation challenging the acquisition of healthcare provider RehabCare Group, Inc. by Kindred Healthcare, Inc. A settlement was approved in September

2011 and provided for additional disclosures regarding the process leading up to the merger along with a $2.5 million payment for the benefit of the class of RehabCare shareholders.

- Nate Pease, et al. v. Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., et al., Civil Action No. 00-015 (Knox County Superior Court, Me.). In 2004, a state court jury from Maine found three blueberry processing companies liable for participating in a four-year price-fixing and non-solicitation conspiracy that artificially lowered the prices defendants paid to approximately 800 growers for wild blueberries. The jury ordered defendants Cherryfield Foods, Inc., Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., and Allen's Blueberry Freezer, Inc. to pay $18.68 million in damages, the amount which the growers would have been paid absent the defendants' conspiracy. After a mandatory trebling of this damage figure under Maine antitrust law, the total amount of the verdict for the plaintiffs is just over $56 million. The Firm served as co-lead counsel.
- In re StarLink Corn Products, Liability Litigation, MDL No. 1403. (N.D. Ill.). Cohen Milstein successfully represented U.S. corn farmers in a national class action against Aventis CropScience USA Holding and Garst Seed Company, the manufacturer and primary distributor of StarLink corn seeds. StarLink is a genetically modified corn variety that the United States government permitted for sale as animal feed and for industrial purposes, but never approved for human consumption. However, StarLink was found in corn products sold in grocery stores across the country and was traced to widespread contamination of the U.S. commodity corn supply. The Firm, as co-lead counsel, achieved a final settlement providing more than $110 million for U.S. corn farmers, which was approved by a federal district court in April 2003. This settlement was the first successful resolution of tort claims brought by farmers against the manufacturers of genetically modified seeds.
- In re Diet Drug Litigation (Fen-Phen), MDL No. 1203 (E.D. Pa.). As a member of the Plaintiffs' Management Committee and Sub-Class Counsel, Cohen Milstein played a major part in the success of the Fen-Phen diet drug litigation and settlement (In re: Diet Drugs (Phentermine, Fenfluramine, Dexfenfluramine) Products Liability Litigation, MDL 1203). Cohen Milstein and other plaintiffs' counsel achieved the largest settlement ever obtained in a mass tort case $3.75 billion on behalf of millions of U.S. consumers who used Pondimin (fenfluramine) or Redux (dexfenfluramine), either alone or in combination with phentermine, diet drugs that are associated with heart valve damage.
- Snyder v. Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company, No. 97/0633 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. Onondaga Cty.). Cohen Milstein served as one of plaintiffs' principal counsel in this case on behalf of persons who held life insurance policies issued by Nationwide through its captive agency force. The action alleged consumer fraud and misrepresentations. Plaintiffs obtained a settlement valued at more than $85 million. The judge praised the efforts of Cohen Milstein and its cocounsel for having done "a very, very good job for all the people." He complimented "not only the manner" in which the result was arrived at, but also the "time ... in which it was done."
- Oncology & Radiation Associates, P.A. v. Bristol Myers Squibb Co., et al., No. 1:01CV02313 (D.D.C.). Cohen Milstein has been co-lead counsel in this case since its inception in 2001. Plaintiffs alleged that Bristol-Myers Squibb unlawfully monopolized the United States market for paclitaxel, a cancer drug discovered and developed by the United States government, which Bristol sells under the brand name Taxol. Bristol's scheme included a conspiracy with American BioScience, Inc., a generic manufacturer, to block generic competition. Cohen Milstein's investigation and prosecution of this litigation on behalf of direct purchasers of Taxol led to a settlement of $65,815,000 that was finally approved by U.S. District Judge Emmet G. Sullivan on August 14, 2003 and preceded numerous Taxol-related litigations brought by the Federal Trade Commission and State Attorneys General offices.

- Kruman v. Christie's International PLC, et al., Docket No. 01-7309. A $40 million settlement on behalf of all persons who bought or sold items through Christie's or Sotheby's auction houses in non-internet actions was approved in this action. Cohen Milstein served as one of three leading counsel on behalf of foreign plaintiffs. The Court noted that approval of the settlement was particularly appropriate, given the significant obstacles that faced plaintiffs and plaintiffs' counsel in the litigation. The settlement marked the first time that claims on behalf of foreign plaintiffs under U.S. antitrust laws have been resolved in a U.S. court, a milestone in U.S. antitrust jurisprudence.
- In re Infant Formula Consumer Antitrust Litigation (multiple state courts). Cohen Milstein instituted price-fixing cases on behalf of indirect-purchasers in 17 states under state antitrust laws against three companies who conspired to drive up the price of infant formula. The cases resulted in settlements of $64 million for purchasers of infant formula.
- Domestic Air Transportation Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ga.). Plaintiffs alleged a conspiracy among major airlines to set prices. In one of the largest consumer class actions ever brought to a successful conclusion, Cohen Milstein was one of the lead counsel and obtained a settlement of travel discounts and cash totaling $458 million for the class of individuals and businesses.
- In re The Exxon Valdez Litigation, No. A89-095 Civ. (D. Ak.). The firm was selected from dozens of law firms around the country by federal and state judges in Alaska to serve as co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in the largest environmental case in United States history that resulted in a jury verdict of more than $5 billion (reversed and remanded for revised punitive damages award; further proceedings pending).
- Holocaust Litigation. In the historic Swiss Banks litigation, Cohen Milstein served, pro bono, as co-lead counsel for Holocaust survivors against the Swiss banks that collaborated with the Nazi regime during World War II by laundering stolen funds, jewelry and art treasures. Cohen Milstein obtained a $1.25 billion settlement, leading the presiding judge to call the firm's work "indispensable." See In re Holocaust Victim Assets Litig., Case No. CV 96-4849 (ERK) (MDG) (Memorandum of Chief Judge Korman dated July 26, 2002). The Firm was also a lead counsel in litigation by survivors of World War II-era forced and slave labor in litigation against the German companies that profited from using the labor of concentration camp inmates. This litigation, which resulted in an unprecedented settlement of $5.2 billion, was resolved by multinational negotiations involving the defendants, plaintiffs' counsel, and the governments of several countries for approximately two million claimants.

Cohen Milstein has contributed over tens of thousands of hours of time to human rights and pro bono cases since 1996. As an example, the Firm represented eight survivors and/or families of the victims of the September 11, 2001 attack on the Pentagon before the Federal compensation fund. Cohen Milstein has obtained a substantial recovery for each, including the highest recovery to date, $6.8 million, for an injured individual.

• Roberts v. Texaco, Inc., 94-Civ. 2015 (S.D.N.Y.). Cohen Milstein represented a class of African-American employees in this landmark litigation that resulted in the then-largest race discrimination settlement in history ($176 million in cash, salary increases and equitable relief). The Court hailed the work of class counsel for, inter alia, "framing an imaginative settlement, that may well have important ameliorative impact not only at Texaco but in the corporate context as a whole ...".

- Conanan v. Tanoue, No. 00-CV-3091 (ESH). Cohen Milstein represented African-American employees at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) in this race discrimination suit, which settled for $14 million. The settlement provides the largest payment made in an employment discrimination class action based on race against a federal agency.
- Trotter v. Perdue Farms, Inc., Case No. 99-893 (RRM) (JJF) (MPT), D. Del. This suit on behalf of hourly workers at Perdue's chicken processing facilities which employ approximately 15,000 people forced Perdue to pay employees for time spent "donning and doffing," that is, obtaining, putting on, sanitizing and removing protective equipment that they must use both for their own safety and to comply with USDA regulations for the safety of the food supply. The suit alleged that Perdue's practice of not counting donning and doffing time as hours worked violated the Fair Labor Standards Act and state law. In a separate settlement with the Department of Labor, Perdue agreed to change its pay practices. In addition, Perdue is required to issue retroactive credit under one of its retirement plans for "donning and doffing" work if the credit would improve employees' or former employees' eligibility for pension benefits. Cohen Milstein was co-lead counsel.

In addition, Cohen Milstein is an innovator in new areas of the law. Cohen Milstein was in the forefront of filing antitrust claims on behalf of indirect purchasers in 1993 and 1994, when it filed state-court actions in 18 states on behalf of indirect purchasers of infant formula. This was the first effort to systematically and simultaneously pursue treble damages claims on behalf of indirect-purchasing consumers in all states where antitrust laws permitted such claims. This approach, and variations of it, has since become the accepted model for pursuing antitrust damages on behalf of indirect-purchasing consumers. The Firm also has been in the forefront of the development of international antitrust theory and litigation of claims. As the global economy has produced worldwide conglomerates, so, too, has the nature of antitrust violations changed. For example, in Kruman v. Christie's International PLC, et al. Docket No. 01-7309 and In re Bulk Vitamins Antitrust Litigation, MDL 1285 (D.D.C.), both the parties and the anticompetitive actions were played out on a world, rather than domestic, stage. The firm also represents and won Lead Plaintiff status for domestic and foreign investors in a foreign company's bonds, in a PSLRA litigation being pursued in the United States, In re Parmalat Securities Litigation, Master Docket 04 Civ. 0030 (LAK) (S.D.N.Y.).

Cohen Milstein has also served as lead or co-lead counsel, or on Plaintiffs' Executive Committee(s), in many dozens of antitrust, securities, consumer protection or product liability, civil rights, and human rights class action cases.

Attorney Profiles – Partners

Steven J. Toll

Steven J. Toll joined the Firm in 1979 and has been lead or principal counsel in some of the most highly publicized stock fraud cases for over 30 years. He has been Managing Partner of the Firm since 1997 and is co-chair of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection practice group. Mr. Toll was profiled in the February 1996 Washington Business Journal as one of five attorneys that stand out as the "cream of the crop" in the Washington D.C. legal community. Lawdragon named him as one of the 500 Leading Lawyers in America in 2006-07-08, as well as naming him one of the 100 Lawyers You Need to Know in Securities Litigation in 2008. In 2010, Mr. Toll was named to Law360's "Most Admired Attorneys".

In July 2005, Mr. Toll was lead trial counsel in one of the few securities class actions to go to trial involving Globalstar, a satellite manufacturer. Mr. Toll successfully argued the motions before and during trial and ultimately achieved a settlement of $20 million shortly before the case was scheduled to go to the jury. In approving the settlement, U.S. District Judge Kevin Castel remarked that Mr. Toll and his colleagues had "done a terrific job in presenting the case for the plaintiffs."

Some of Mr. Toll's other notable cases include those against Lucent Technologies, which was settled in 2001 for approximately $575 million, at the time, the second largest securities class action settlement ever achieved; Converium, where he negotiated a global settlement in the U.S. courts and the courts in Amsterdam of $135 million; MF Global, where he helped negotiate a settlement of $90 million; Southmark Securities Litigation, where he helped achieve a settlement of $70 million from the company's auditors, Drexel Burnham and Michael Milken; Norman v. Salomon Smith Barney, where he negotiated a $50 million settlement on behalf of customers of Salomon's Guided Portfolio Management Program, who alleged that Salomon invested their money in companies in order to boost Salomon's investment banking business; and the mortgage-backed securities case involving Lehman Brothers where he negotiated a settlement of $40 million.

Mr. Toll also served as co-lead counsel in one of the most publicized frauds of the 1990s -- Cascade International (S.D. Fla.) where the mastermind of the fraud, Victor Incendy, is still a fugitive from justice. The case settled on the eve of trial against Raymond James Inc. -- the only securities class action ever successfully litigated against a brokerage firm for its role as a research analyst.

Mr. Toll is currently co-lead counsel in the BP Securities Litigation, a major case stemming out of the Deepwater Horizon explosion in 2010 and BP's process safety disclosures. He led the Firm's team as co-lead counsel in one of the most highly publicized fraud cases of this era, the securities fraud class action involving Parmalat, the Italian dairy manufacturer; the case is known as Europe's "Enron," because of the similarities of the fraudulent schemes and the non-existence of billions of dollars of assets that had been recorded on Parmalat's financial statements. That case was settled for $90 million. He is also lead counsel in a mortgage-backed securities case involving Countrywide and Washington Mutual.

He has written for and spoken at various conferences about securities law and corporate governance issues, including, inter alia, The Plaintiffs' Perspective, Securities Regulation and the New Law, National Legal Center for the Public Interest, No. 1, Sept. 1996; The Sarbanes-Oxley Bill Provides No Assistance To Investors Seeking To Recovery From Corporate Fraud, ABA Annual Meeting, August 2002; The Analyst Cases Involving Merrill Lynch, and Its Internet Analyst Henry Blodget, and Salomon Smith Barney and Its Telecommunications Analyst Jack Grubman, Mass Torts Made Perfect (presented January 2003); and Coming to Terms with Loss Causation after Dura: A Response to Professors Portnoy, Ferrell, and Saha, The Journal of Corporation Law, Fall 2009.

Mr. Toll is an honors graduate of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania (B.S., Accounting, cum laude, 1972). He graduated from Georgetown University Law Center (J.D., 1975) where he was Special Project Editor of the Tax Lawyer.

Mr. Toll is admitted to practice in Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Joseph M. Sellers

Joseph Sellers, a Partner at the Firm and head of the Civil Rights & Employment practice group, joined Cohen Milstein in 1997.

Mr. Sellers has represented victims of discrimination and other illegal employment practices individually and through class actions. He has tried several civil rights class actions to judgment before juries and has argued more than 25 appeals in the federal and state appellate courts, including the United States Supreme Court. He has served as class counsel, and typically lead counsel, in more than 30 civil rights and employment class actions.

Those cases have included: Beck. v. Boeing Company (W.D. Wash.), which included a class of more than 28,000 women employees at Boeing facilities in Washington state alleging sex discrimination in pay and overtime decisions; Conway, et al. v. Deutsch (E.D. Va.), for a class of all female undercover case officers at the CIA alleging sex discrimination in promotions and job assignments; Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. (N.D. Cal.), where the Court has certified the largest class in such a case: more than 1.5 million women employees at Wal-Mart stores, alleging sex discrimination in promotions and pay decisions; Johnson, et al. v. Freeh (D.D.C.), for a class of African-American FBI special agents alleging racial discrimination in promotion and job assignments; Keepseagle v. Veneman (D.D.C.), for a class of Native American farmers and ranchers denied equal credit opportunities by USDA; Neal v. Director, D.C Dept. of Corrections (D.D.C.), the first sexual harassment class action tried to a jury, for a class of women correctional employees and women and men subject to retaliation at the D.C. Department of Corrections; and Trotter, et al. v. Perdue Farms (D. Del.), for a company-wide collective action brought under the Fair Labor Standards Act for violations of federal wage and hour law.

Throughout his career, Mr. Sellers has also been active in legislative matters. He has testified more than 20 times before Committees of the United States Senate and House of Representatives on various civil rights and employment matters. He worked on the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1991, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and the Lily Ledbetter Fair Pay Restoration Act of 2009.

Mr. Sellers has trained lawyers at the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the U.S. Department of Justice on the trial of civil rights cases and has lectured extensively throughout the country on various civil rights and employment topics. He was an Adjunct Professor at the Washington College of Law at American University, where he taught Employment Discrimination law, and at the Georgetown University Law Center, where he taught a course on Professional Responsibility.

He served on the Clinton/Gore Transition Team in 1992 and 1993. He headed the teams reviewing the operations of the EEOC, the Office of the Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights, and various sections of the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice. He also served as a Co-Chair of the Task Force of the D.C. Circuit on Gender, Race and Ethnic Bias and was appointed by panels of the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals and the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

At the request of the Ford Foundation and the American Bar Association, Mr. Sellers delivered a series of lectures and designed and delivered a mock trial on civil rights law to Chinese judges, lawyers and other government officials in China.

Mr. Sellers has been recognized as one of the top lawyers in Washington and as one of the top 10 plaintiffs' employment lawyers in the country. In 2010, he was recognized as one of "The Decade's Most Influential Lawyers" by The National Law Journal. He is a professionally-trained mediator and has served as the President of the Washington Council of Lawyers.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Sellers served as head of the Employment Discrimination Project of the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights and Urban Affairs for over 15 years.

Mr. Sellers received a J.D. from Case Western Reserve School of Law (1979), where he served as Research Editor of the Case Western Reserve Law Review, and a B.A. in American History and Literature from Brown University (1975).

Mr. Sellers is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia.

Lisa M. Mezzetti

Lisa Mezzetti, a Partner at Cohen Milstein, joined the Firm in 1984, and is a member of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection and the Consumer Protection & Unsafe Products practice groups.

In her securities work, Ms. Mezzetti has represented the corporate plaintiff in a private litigation alleging damages from the purchase of a healthcare technology company; in a separate matter, she represented 1,900 plaintiffs in a series of 25 federal court suits concerning municipal bonds. Her shareholder class actions include In re VeriSign Securities Litigation (settled for approximately $78 million); Murphy, Derivatively On Behalf of Nominal Defendant National Health Laboratories Inc. v. Perelman (Cal. Super. San Diego Cty.) (global settlement of class and derivative litigations for total of $65 million); Flecker v. Hollywood Entertainment Corp. (D. Or.) ($15 million settlement, reached the day before trial was to begin); Biben v. Card (W.D. Mo.)(93% of class members' damages recovered in settlement) and, currently, In re Parmalat Securities Litigation (S.D.N.Y.), which is litigating one of the alleged largest corporate frauds in European history (thus far, settlements totaling approximately $85 million). She also has represented parties in securities arbitrations (both as claimant's counsel or defense counsel for the broker) and defended clients in investigations and enforcement actions of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In consumer cases, Ms. Mezzetti is or was one of the lead counsel in In re Lupron Marketing and Sales Practices Litigation (D. Mass.) (brought against pharmaceutical companies on pricing policies and methods; combined $150 million settlement); Howard v. Ford Motor Co. (Cal. Sup. Ct.) (order of the Court on equitable count required prospective recall of 1.7 million cars; settled immediately before scheduled second jury trial); and Fischl v. Direct Merchants Credit Card Bank, N.A. (Henn. Cnty. Minn.) (brought by credit card consumers, alleging improper charges and payment processes; settlement included credits for overpayments and changes in business practices). She has litigated class actions under the ERISA laws, and brought one of the first class actions filed under the federal Family and Medical Leave Act.

Ms. Mezzetti is a public arbitrator for FINRA (the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority), hearing disputes between customers and brokers. She regularly speaks at legal education seminars and has been quoted in the media on issues concerning both consumer law and securities class actions. On securities issues, she has spoken on foreign class actions and the protection of foreign shareholders in U.S. class actions, and on settlement concerns. She also speaks on corporate governance issues at conferences of institutional investors, and was a guest panelist on a Washington, D.C. cable television show concerning hiring and working with stock brokers and financial advisors. On consumer issues, Ms. Mezzetti has been a panelist at the Federal Trade Commission's Workshop on Consumer Class Actions and at an annual conference of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America on unfair trade practices and deceptive trade practices statutes. The transcript of the FTC workshop, and her related article, The Coupon Can Be the Ticket: The Use of "Coupon" and Other Non-Monetary Redress in Class Action Settlements (co-authored with Whitney Case) are published at 18.4 Geo. J. Legal Ethics 1431 (2005).

Before joining Cohen Milstein, Ms. Mezzetti was a litigation associate of Shea & Gould of New York City.

Ms. Mezzetti serves as a member of the Boards of Directors of The International Alliance for Women (a global umbrella organization that unites, supports and promotes professional women and their networks) and The Financial Women's Association of New York. She has served on the D.C. Advisory Board of The Joffrey Ballet of Chicago.

Ms. Mezzetti graduated from the Columbus School of Law, Catholic University of America in 1980, where she served as a Vice-Chancellor of the Moot Court Board. In 1986, she received a Master of Laws degree, with a specialty in Securities Regulation, from Georgetown University Law Center. Her bachelor's degree was awarded by Stonehill College (B.A, English., magna cum laude, 1977).

Ms. Mezzetti is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and New York.

Andrew N. Friedman

Andrew Friedman, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 1985. He is a member of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection practice group and the head of the Consumer Protection & Unsafe Products practice group.

Mr. Friedman has been involved in many successful securities class actions. In July, 2005, Mr. Friedman served as one of lead trial counsel at the trial of a certified class action in In re Globalstar Securities Litigation in the United States District court for the Southern District of New York. Near the end of the second week of trial, a cash settlement of $20 million was reached for the benefit of the certified class. The settlement was approved by Judge P. Kevin Castel, who was highly complimentary of counsel: "This case has been litigated by top trial lawyers, each of whom, as to both lead counsel and the other counsel in the case, have been exceptionally fine in their presentation of the evidence. Mr. Toll, Mr. Friedman, Mr. Shalov, their colleagues Mr. Devore, Ms. Peterson, have all done a terrific job in presenting the case for the plaintiffs."

In addition, Mr. Friedman served as one of co-lead or principal counsel in Norman Frank et al. v. David L. Paul (recovery of over $18 million); In re Jiffy Lube Securities Litigation (D. Md.) (recovery of over $12 million); and In re Immunex Securities Litigation (W.D. Wash.) (recovery of $14 million, then the largest securities class action settlement in Seattle). Mr. Friedman was one of the Firm's attorneys selected by the County of Cuyahoga, Ohio to prosecute a lawsuit that sought to recover losses from the County's Secured Assets Fund Earnings Program (S.A.F.E.). The lawsuit alleged that broker/dealers and a financial institution assisted the County in engaging in unsuitable and inappropriate investments and trading activity. The case settled favorably for $9.5 million.

In the consumer protection area, Mr. Friedman has been instrumental in securing significant recoveries on behalf of thousands of consumers. He was one of the principal counsel in Snyder v. Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company (Sup. Ct., Onondaga Cnty, N.Y.), a class action that resulted in a settlement valued at between $85 million and $103 million. As one of two co-lead counsel in a class action against Thomson Consumer Electronics, Mr. Friedman reached a court-approved agreement that made up to $100 million available for persons who paid for unreimbursed repairs to televisions. He was also part of the plaintiffs' team that secured nationwide benefits for GM vehicle purchasers as the result of defective automobile engine coolants. In re General Motors Dex-Cool Products Liability Litigation (S.D. Ill).

Mr. Friedman has been a speaker on numerous panels for legal education seminars and institutional investor conferences on the issues of securities class actions, securities fraud monitoring, accounting fraud and corporate governance. He was featured in a November 15, 1997 Washington Post article about securities class actions and profiled in the April 14, 2000 edition of The Washington Business Journal. In 2007, Lawdragon named Mr. Friedman as one of the 3,000 Leading Plaintiffs' Lawyers in America and in 2011, he was named to the Super Lawyers 2011 Business Edition for litigation.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Friedman served as an attorney with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Mr. Friedman graduated from Tufts University with a B.A. in Psychology (1980, magna cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa) and is a 1983 graduate of the National Law Center, George Washington University.

Mr. Friedman is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and New York.

Daniel S. Sommers

Daniel Sommers, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 1988. He is co-chair of the Firm's Securities Fraud practice group and is a member of the Firm's Executive Committee.

During his career at Cohen Milstein, Mr. Sommers served as lead or co-lead counsel or otherwise played a significant role in securities class actions in federal courts throughout the United States. He currently represents institutional investors including, among others, the New York State Common Retirement Fund, the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System, the State Teachers Retirement System of Ohio, and the Arkansas Public Employees Retirement System. He is one of the lead counsel for investors in significant securities litigation matters including In re BP plc Securities Litigation (S.D. Tex.) and in In re Bear Stearns Mortgage Pass Through Certificates Litigation (S.D.N.Y.), and is also currently involved in the prosecution of the In re Fannie Mae Securities Litigation (D.D.C.). In addition, Mr. Sommers serves as one of the lead U.S. counsel for investors in In re Converium (Scor) Securities Litigation, where he utilized the Dutch Collective Action Statute to obtain a groundbreaking opinion from the Amsterdam Court of Appeal approving a world-wide settlement on behalf of non-U.S. investors.

Mr. Sommers has obtained significant recoveries for investors in numerous class action cases including: Steiner v. Southmark Corporation (N.D. Tex.) (over $70 million recovery); In re PictureTel Inc. Securities Litigation (D. Mass.) ($12 million recovery); In re Physician Corporation of America Securities Litigation (S.D. Fla.) ($10.2 million recovery); In re Gilat Satellite Securities Litigation (E.D.N.Y.) ($20 million recovery); In re Pozen Inc. Securities Litigation (M.D.N.C.) ($11.2 million recovery); In re Nextel Communications Securities Litigation (D.N.J.) (up to $27 million recovery); In re PSINet Inc. Securities Litigation (E.D. Va.) ($17.8 million recovery); In re Cascade International Inc. Securities Litigation, (S.D. Fla.) (global recovery of approximately $10 million); In re GT Solar Securities Litigation (D.N.H.) (recovery of $10.5 million) and In re ECI Telecom Securities Ltd. Litigation (E.D. Va.) ($21.75 million recovery). He has also handled significant appellate matters including arguing before the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit in In re CP Ships Ltd. Securities Litigation, 578 F. 3d 1306 (2009), where he successfully opposed objections to a settlement that provided non-U.S. investors with the protections of the federal securities laws. In addition, he was co-lead counsel for investors before the United States Supreme Court in Broudo v. Dura Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 544 U.S. 336 (2005) (addressing the standards for pleading loss causation).

Mr. Sommers is also experienced in non-class action litigation. He represented TBG Inc., a multibillion dollar privately-held overseas corporation, in a multi-party, complex action alleging fraud in a corporate acquisition and represented individuals in connection with investigations brought by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. He also has represented publicly traded corporations in the prosecution and defense of claims. Mr. Sommers has litigated cases covering a wide-range of industries including the financial services, computer software, pharmaceutical, insurance, real estate and telecommunications industries among others. In addition, he has substantial experience in cases presenting complex accounting and auditing issues.

Mr. Sommers has lectured at both the Georgetown Law Center and the George Washington University Law School. He is a frequent commentator on the federal securities laws and corporate governance issues, and addresses institutional investor groups and others on these topics as illustrated below:

- Guest panelist on "It's Your Business," a nationally syndicated television program, where he spoke on investor lawsuits.
- Addressed the California State Association of County Retirement Systems, to whom he spoke on corporate governance and fiduciary duties and liabilities.
- Spoke at a District of Columbia Bar Association program in 2005 where he addressed "Attorney Liability in the Post-Enron, Post-Sarbanes-Oxley Era."
- Panelist at a 2006 presentation to Illinois-based institutional investors on the topic of "The Growing Emphasis on Fiduciary Responsibility: Implications for Illinois Pension Funds and the Emergence of Guiding Principles."

- Panelist at a 2008 District of Columbia Bar Association Program where he addressed "Developing Pleading Standards in Securities Cases."
- Spoke at a 2008 IQPC Forum on Subprime and Structured Finance Litigation on the topic of "Understanding the Plaintiff's View in the Subprime Crisis."

- Panelist at District of Columbia Bar Association Program in 2009 on "Public and Private Perspectives on the Enforcement of the Federal Securities Laws in our Global Markets."
- Panelist at a 2010 District of Columbia Bar Association Program on the topic of "Enforcement of the Federal Securities Laws in Our Global Financial Markets: Public and Private Perspectives on Morrison v. National Australia Bank and Beyond."
- Panelist at a 2010 District of Columbia Bar Association Program on the topic of "Private Securities Litigation: Critical Trends and Developments in Securities Class Actions."

Mr. Sommers was recognized in 2011 and 2012 as a Washington, D.C. "Super Lawyer" in the area of securities litigation. In 2007, Mr. Sommers was appointed to serve as the chairman of the Investor Rights Committee of the Corporation, Finance and Securities Law Section of the District of Columbia Bar, and currently serves as vice-chair of that committee. In addition, he is a member of the Securities Litigation Committee of the American Bar Association, the Council of Institutional Investors, and the National Association of Public Pension Attorneys.

He is a 1983 graduate of Union College, earning a B.A. in Political Science (magna cum laude), and a 1986 graduate of the George Washington University Law School. Mr. Sommers is admitted to practice in federal courts including the United States District Courts for the Districts of New Jersey, Maryland, Eastern District of Michigan and the District of Columbia, as well as the United States Courts of Appeals for the District of Columbia, Fourth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Circuits. Mr. Sommers is also admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Mr. Sommers is a member of the bar of the states of New Jersey and New York as well as the District of Columbia. Mr. Sommers works in the Firm's Washington, D.C. office.

Daniel A. Small

Dan Small has been a partner at Cohen Milstein for over 14 years and has chaired the firm's antitrust practice group since 2008.

Mr. Small has represented plaintiff classes, often as lead counsel, in numerous antitrust cases over the last 21 years, and has recovered hundreds of millions of dollars. He has tried cases to verdict before juries and has argued cases in several appellate courts including the United States Supreme Court.

Among the cases on which Mr. Small has worked are: In re Intel Corp. Microprocessor Antitrust Litig. (D. Del.), where he serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of a putative class of purchasers of Intelpowered PCs asserting monopolization claims; Meijer, Inc. v. 3M (E.D. Pa.), a monopolization case in which Mr. Small, as lead counsel, negotiated a $30 million settlement on behalf of direct purchasers of transparent tape; In re Buspirone Antitrust Litig. (S.D.N.Y.), in which the plaintiff class alleged that Bristol Myers-Squibb Co. unlawfully excluded generic drug competition, and Mr. Small, as co-lead counsel, helped negotiate a $90 million settlement; and Pease v. Jasper Wyman & Son, et al., (Super. Ct., Knox Cty., Maine), a price-fixing class action on behalf of Maine wild blueberry growers in which Mr. Small successfully tried the case to a jury, obtaining a judgment of nearly $60 million.

Mr. Small has substantial appellate experience, including briefing and arguing Free v. Abbott Laboratories, No. 99-391, in the United States Supreme Court. That case presented the issue of whether a supplemental jurisdiction statute overruled Zahn v. International Paper Co. The Court split 4-4, with Justice O'Connor recusing herself. Additionally, Mr. Small successfully briefed and argued appeals before the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals in In re Brand Name Prescription Drug Antitrust Litig., 123 F.3d 599 (7th Cir. 1997), regarding whether the district court had subject matter jurisdiction, and in Paper Systems, Inc. v. Nippon Paper Industries Co., Ltd. (7th Cir. 2002), arguing that the federal direct purchaser rule does not immunize a defendant from liability for the direct sales of its co-conspirators. Finally, he briefed and argued the appeal in Mack v. Bristol-Myers Squibb Co., 1996-1 Trade Cas. (CCH) ¶¶ 71,401 (Fla. 1st DCA 1996), obtaining the first opinion construing the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act to permit indirect purchasers to sue for damages for antitrust violations.

Mr. Small is a member of the Advisory Board of the American Antitrust Institute and he chairs the committee that selects the annual winner of the Jerry S. Cohen Memorial Writing Award for the best antitrust scholarship. He has been invited to speak on antitrust and class action topics at events organized by the American Bar Association, the District of Columbia Bar, the Conference Board, and the American Antitrust Institute, among others.

Mr. Small is a 1981 graduate of Colgate University, receiving a B.A. (cum laude) in History. He graduated from American University's Washington College of Law in 1986, and joined Cohen Milstein after serving as a law clerk to the Honorable Roger Vinson, United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida (1986-1988). Mr. Small is admitted to practice in Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Christine E. Webber

Christine Webber, a Partner at the Firm and a member of the Civil Rights & Employment practice group, joined Cohen Milstein in 1997. Ms. Webber represents plaintiffs in class action employment discrimination and Fair Labor Standards Act cases. Ms. Webber's current docket includes Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. (N.D. Cal.), challenging Wal-Mart's treatment of women employees with complaints of discrimination in pay and promotion; and In re Tyson Foods FLSA MDL, (M.D. Ga.), a collective action involving FLSA claims at over 40 Tyson chicken processing plants. Ms. Webber was also counsel to the plaintiff class in Keepseagle v. Vilsack, and is currently administering the claims process through which $760 million of relief will be awarded to Native American farmers and ranchers who were denied loans or loan servicing by the USDA. Ms. Webber was part of the team recognized by Public Justice as finalists for their Trial Lawyer of the Year award in 2011 for the work done in Keepseagle.

She represented plaintiffs in Beck v. The Boeing Co. (W.D. Wash.), a class action alleging sex discrimination in compensation and promotions which settled in 2004 for $72.5 million. She was also lead counsel in Hnot v. Willis (S.D.N.Y.), representing a class of women at the vice-president level and above whose challenge to sex discrimination in compensation resulted in a settlement averaging $50,000 per class member in 2008. She was counsel in Trotter v. Perdue (D. Del.), representing plaintiffs who were wrongly denied payment of overtime wages, and obtaining a $10 million settlement.

In 2004 and 2007, Ms. Webber was named one of the Top Lawyers in Washington, D.C. by Washingtonian Magazine and was named one of the 2007 Washington, D.C. Superlawyers in the Civil Rights category. In 2011, Ms. Webber was recognized as one of the Top Women Lawyers in the Northeast in the labor and employment category by Arrive magazine.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Ms. Webber received a Women's Law and Public Policy fellowship and worked for four years at the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights and Urban Affairs in their Equal Employment Opportunity Project. She worked on a variety of employment discrimination cases, and focused in particular on the sexual harassment class action Neal v. Director, D.C. Department of Corrections, et al. Ms. Webber participated in the trial of this ground-breaking sexual harassment class action in 1995. Ms. Webber also tried the race discrimination case Cooper v. Paychex (E.D. Va.), and successfully defended the plaintiffs' verdict before the Fourth Circuit.

Ms. Webber is a member of the National Employment Lawyers' Association (NELA) and co-chair of their Class Action Committee. She is also co-chair of the Class Action Sub-committee of the D.C. Bar Labor and Employment Law Section. She speaks regularly at CLE programs on employment discrimination and class actions, including presentations for NELA.

She graduated from Harvard University with a B.A. in Government (magna cum laude, 1988) and the University of Michigan Law School (J.D., magna cum laude, 1991, Order of the Coif). Following law school, Ms. Webber clerked for the Honorable Hubert L. Will, United States District Judge for the Northern District of Illinois.

Ms. Webber is admitted to practice in Illinois and the District of Columbia.

Richard A. Koffman

Richard Koffman, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2003 and is a member of the Antitrust Practice Group. In both 2011 and 2012, the U.S. Legal 500 listed Mr. Koffman as one of the nation's "leading lawyers" in the field of antitrust class actions.

Mr. Koffman is currently serving as co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in In re Urethane Antitrust Litigation (D. Kan.), in which plaintiffs allege price-fixing of chemicals used in the manufacture of polyurethanes; In re Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ill.), in which plaintiffs allege price-fixing and collusion to reduce the supply of potentially life-saving therapies derived from blood plasma; and Wallach, et al. v. Eaton Corp., et al. (D. Del.), in which plaintiffs allege a conspiracy to monopolize the market for heavy-duty truck transmissions. Mr. Koffman also served as co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in In re Rubber Chemicals Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Cal.), which settled for a total of approximately $320 million; In re Polyester Staple Antitrust Litigation (W.D. N.C.), which settled for a total of $46 million; In re Endosurgical Products Antitrust Litigation (C.D. Cal.), which settled for $13 million in cash, plus structural relief worth more than $26 million; and Coalition for Elders' Independence, Inc., et al. v. Biovail Corp., et al. (Cal. Super. Ct.), which settled for $8.2 million.

Mr. Koffman came to Cohen Milstein after four years with the Antitrust and Civil Rights Divisions of the United States Department of Justice. In the Antitrust Division, Mr. Koffman served as a Senior Trial Attorney with the Computers and Finance Section (now Networks and Technology), which is responsible for antitrust enforcement and competition policy in the areas of information technology, Internet-related businesses, financial services, and the securities industry. In the Civil Rights Division, he served as a Senior Trial Attorney with the Housing and Civil Enforcement Section, where he worked to enforce the Fair Housing Act, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act, and Title II of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Prior to joining the Department of Justice, Mr. Koffman spent seven years in private practice, first with Fine, Kaplan and Black in Philadelphia (working primarily on antitrust class actions and other complex commercial litigation) and then with Bernabei & Katz in Washington, D.C. (handling employment discrimination cases). While at Fine Kaplan, Mr. Koffman was actively involved in litigating several successful antitrust class actions on behalf of plaintiffs and classes, including In re Nasdaq Market-Makers Antitrust Litigation (S.D.N.Y.) (settled for more than $1 billion); In re Polypropylene Carpet Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ga.); In re Commercial Explosives Antitrust Litigation (D. Utah); and In re Drill Bits Antitrust Litigation (S.D. Tex.). He was also co-counsel, along with John G. Roberts, Jr., who was then a Partner at Hogan & Hartson and is now Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, for Respondents in First Options of Chicago, Inc. v. Kaplan, 514 U.S. 938 (1995). In that case, argued by Mr. Roberts with Mr. Koffman assisting on the briefs, Mr. Koffman's clients won a unanimous ruling by the United States Supreme Court.

Immediately after law school, Mr. Koffman served as a judicial clerk for Judge James B. McMillan of the Western District of North Carolina, and for Judge Anthony J. Scirica of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Mr. Koffman is a graduate of Yale Law School (J.D., 1990), where he was a Senior Editor of the Yale Law Journal, and Wesleyan University, from which he received a B.A., with honors, in English (1986).

Mr. Koffman is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia, the United States Supreme Court, and the United States Courts of Appeals for the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Circuits.

Agnieszka M. Fryszman

Agnieszka Fryszman, a Partner at Cohen Milstein, joined the Firm in 1998. She heads Cohen Milstein's International Human Rights and Pro Bono practice.

Ms. Fryszman regularly litigates complex cases against corporate giants. She was a member of the legal team that successfully represented survivors of Nazi-era forced and slave labor against the German and Austrian companies that allegedly profited from their labor. These cases were resolved by international negotiations that resulted in multi-billion dollar settlements. She also represented, pro bono, Holocaust survivors suing Swiss banks that collaborated with the Nazi regime during World War II. This litigation led academics to revise their assessment of Switzerland's relationship with Nazi Germany and exposed the extent of business participation in the Holocaust.

Ms. Fryszman and colleague Matthew Handley earned the National Law Journal's 2011 Pro Bono Award for their efforts on behalf of Nepali laborers injured or killed at U.S. military bases in Iraq and Afghanistan. They obtained several judgments and significant settlements on behalf of the families. She currently represents victims of a human trafficking ring that lured men from Nepal with the promise of employment at luxury hotels, but instead took them against their will to work at a U.S. military facility in Iraq. Ms. Fryszman investigated and initiated suit against military contractors KBR and Daoud & Partners, filing one of the first complaints under the recently passed Trafficking Victims Protection Act. Her work on behalf of the former "comfort women," women and girls trafficked into sexual slavery by the government of Japan during World War II, was recognized with the "Fierce Sister" award from the National Asian Pacific American Women's Forum. She also represents Indonesian villagers in a lawsuit against Exxon Mobil over abuses allegedly committed by the defendant's security force.

In 2010, Ms. Fryszman was recognized as a "Leading Lawyer in America" by Lawdragon and was a finalist for the 2010 Trial Lawyer of the Year Award by the Public Justice Foundation for her work on Wiwa v. Royal Dutch Shell. Ms. Fryszman joined the legal team in that long-running case to prepare it for trial, resulting in a multi-million dollar settlement on the morning of jury selection.

Ms. Fryszman represented, pro bono, a number of victims of the September 11 attack on the Pentagon and obtained one of the highest awards for an injured survivor from the Victim's Compensation Fund. Ms. Fryszman also represented, pro bono, two individuals indefinitely detained without charge by the United States at Guantanamo Bay, work that was recognized with the Frederick Douglass Award from the Southern Center for Human Rights.

In the Antitrust practice group, Ms. Fryszman represents small businesses that have been victims of alleged price-fixing.

Before joining Cohen Milstein, Ms. Fryszman was counsel to the United States House of Representatives Committee on the Judiciary, Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law. She also served as counsel to Representative Henry Waxman, Ranking Member on the House Government Reform and Oversight Committee.

Ms. Fryszman graduated from Brown University with a B.A. in International Relations. She graduated (magna cum laude and Order of the Coif) from Georgetown University Law Center, where she was a Public Interest Law Scholar.

Ms. Fryszman is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and New Jersey.

Julie Goldsmith Reiser

Julie Goldsmith Reiser joined Cohen Milstein in 1999. Ms. Reiser is a member of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection practice group. She has extensive experience with motion practice, developing and implementing discovery strategies, depositions, expert discovery and case resolution. Ms. Reiser focuses much of her practice on enforcement of the federal securities laws on behalf of sophisticated domestic and international institutional investors. She has represented these investors in class action and individual "opt-out" actions as well as in transaction-related litigation in Delaware Chancery Court.

Ms. Reiser currently works on several securities fraud actions seeking to return assets lost due to corporate fraud. She represents the New York State Common Retirement Fund in a securities class action against BP Plc and certain of its former officers and directors. She also represents Iowa, Oregon and Orange County public retirement systems in a class action litigation against Countrywide related to its issuance of mortgage-backed securities. Ms. Reiser acted as co-lead counsel representing investors in the largest fraud in European corporate history, In re Parmalat Sec. Litig. (S.D.N.Y.). She was co-lead counsel in In re SCOR Holding (Switzerland) Securities Litigation (S.D.N.Y.) and was a member of the team representing Pacific Life Insurance Company in an opt-out action against WorldCom.

In the employment area, Ms. Reiser was a member of the legal team working on Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. (N.D. Cal.), representing current and former female employees of Wal-Mart with complaints of discrimination in pay and promotion. Ms. Reiser also represented and settled claims on behalf of African American employees who claimed that Kroger discriminated against them in pay and promotions in Wade v. Kroger (W.D. Ky.). She was involved in the litigation and successful settlement of Beck v. The Boeing Co. (W. D. Wash.), which alleged sex discrimination in compensation and promotions and was resolved for $72.5 million.

Ms. Reiser is the author of "Why Courts Should Favor Certification of MBS Actions," ABA Securities Litigation Journal, Volume 22, Number 1, Fall 2011, and she is the co-author of "The Misapplication of American Pipe Tolling Principles," ABA Securities Litigation Journal, Volume 21, Number 2, Winter 2011. She also co-authored Opt-Outs: Making Private Enforcement of the Securities Laws Even Better, featured in the Winter/Spring 2008 edition of the ABA's Class Action and Derivative Suit Committee Newsletter and Companies in the Cross Hairs: When Plaintiffs Lawyers Choose Their Targets, They Look for These Employment Practices, The Legal Times, February 21, 2005. In 1999, she co-authored Antitrust Introduction for the General Practitioner, a chapter in the Washington Lawyer's Practice Manual.

Ms. Reiser was President of the Board of Directors of Seattle Works and on the Executive Committee for the Board of Directors of the Eastside Domestic Violence Program. She also served a term as a Trustee for the Pacific Northwest Ballet. Ms. Reiser worked as a Legal Intern for U.S. Senator Patty Murray.

Ms. Reiser graduated from Vassar College (B.A. with honors) and the University of Virginia School of Law (J.D.).

Ms. Reiser is admitted to practice in Washington State and the District of Columbia.

Victoria S. Nugent

Victoria Nugent, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2000 and is a member of the Consumer Protection & Unsafe Products practice group.

Ms. Nugent has focused on consumer protection and public health litigation throughout her career. Past cases include In re StarLink Product Liability Litigation, in which she represented farmers suing Aventis Cropscience after an unapproved variety of genetically modified corn was detected in the U.S. corn supply and drove down prices for all U.S. corn exports. More than $100 million was recovered for the class in a landmark settlement. She also represented car owners seeking to enforce product warranties for an extended life coolant in In re General Motors Dex-Cool Products Liability Litigation. The Dex-Cool litigation ended with a settlement under which General Motors reimbursed its customers for repairs. Ms. Nugent has argued cases before the high courts of Georgia, Nebraska and the District of Columbia, as well as the federal D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Ms. Nugent is currently working on cases against Sallie Mae, alleging excessive interest and late fee charges on student loans, and Vonage, alleging deceptive business practices in advertising and administering promotional offers.

Before joining Cohen Milstein, Ms. Nugent worked for seven years at Public Citizen, a national consumer advocacy organization. During that time, she worked on many legislative and regulatory campaigns addressing issues that ranged from automobile safety to international trade policy. In 1998, Ms. Nugent received a two-year fellowship sponsored by the National Association for Public Interest Law (NAPIL). As a NAPIL Fellow, she worked at Trial Lawyers for Public Justice (TLPJ), where she helped develop and prosecute impact litigation in the areas of arbitration, banking, credit and insurance.

Ms. Nugent received her undergraduate degree in History from Wesleyan University in 1991 and graduated from Georgetown University Law Center in 1998.

Ms. Nugent is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and Maryland.

Benjamin D. Brown

Benjamin Brown, a Partner at Cohen Milstein, joined the firm in 2005 and is a member of the Antitrust practice group. He has extensive experience leading complex litigation, particularly class actions.

The Legal 500 has recognized Mr. Brown as one of the nation's leading class action antitrust attorneys and he has been listed as one of Washington D.C.'s "Leading Star" Plaintiffs' Litigators by Benchmark Litigation. He has served as class counsel in numerous successful cases litigated across the country and at all levels of federal appeals, helping to achieve over one hundred million dollars worth of recoveries on behalf of clients.

Mr. Brown is a contributing author of the ABA's Antitrust Class Actions Handbook, and, since 2005, has served as a state editor for the ABA's Survey of State Class Action Law. He has also authored chapters on private antitrust recovery actions for the Global Competition Review's Antitrust Review of the Americas. Most recently, Mr. Brown co-authored with fellow partner Douglas Richards "Predominance of Common Questions – Common Mistakes in Applying the Class Action Standard," 41 Rutgers L.J. 163 (2009). He discussed joint civil and criminal investigations and litigation as a featured panelist on both the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (NACDL) 2009 Summer CLE Program and the 2010 University of Texas Law School's Review of Litigation Symposium. Mr. Brown has been honored by the United States District Court for the District of Columbia for outstanding commitment in pro bono litigation. He has been a repeated guest on CNBC and other networks discussing antitrust news and developments.

Mr. Brown currently serves as co-lead counsel or on steering committees for plaintiffs in, among other cases, In re Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ill.); Allen, et al. v. Dairy Farmers of America, Inc. (D. Vt.); In Re Puerto Rican Cabotage Antitrust Litigation. (S.D. Fla.); and Carlin, et al. v. DairyAmerica, Inc. (E.D. Ca.).

Ms. Gilden is a graduate of the University of Illinois (B.S., Business Administration, 1979). She graduated with honors from Chicago-Kent College of Law (J.D. 1983) where she was a member of the Chicago-Kent Law Review. Ms. Gilden is admitted to practice in Illinois, the federal district court for the Northern District of Illinois, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit and the United States Supreme Court, as well as pro hac before other federal and state courts throughout the country.

Jenny R. Yang

Jenny Yang, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2003 and is a member of the Civil Rights & Employment practice group. Ms. Yang Chairs the Firm's Hiring and Diversity Committee.

Ms. Yang serves as counsel in Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. (N.D. Cal.), the largest civil rights class action certified, in which female employees allege sex discrimination in pay and promotions decisions. Ms. Yang has successfully litigated and resolved In re: Pilgrim's Pride Fair Labor Standards Act Litigation, (W.D. Ark.), a multi-district litigation proceeding on behalf of thousands of workers across the company who obtained redress for unpaid overtime. In addition, Ms. Yang represented the plaintiffs and class in Beck v. The Boeing Company (W.D. Wash.), a class action alleging gender discrimination, in which the plaintiffs obtained a settlement of $72.5 million.

Ms. Yang is a contributing editor of the Fair Labor Standards Act (Kearns, Ed.-in-Chief 2d. ed. 2010), and Employment Discrimination Law, Lindemann & Grossman, (4th ed. 2007). She is a member of the National Employment Lawyers Association (NELA) and has served as a speaker at their National Conventions.

Prior to joining the Firm, Ms. Yang was a Senior Trial Attorney with the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, Employment Litigation Section, where she worked for five years on both pattern or practice and individual federal employment discrimination cases against state and local governments. She has litigated cases involving discrimination based on race, sex, and national origin. Before her work at the Department of Justice, Ms. Yang received a community service fellowship to work at the National Employment Law Project in New York City, a non-profit organization focusing on low-wage workers' rights. While there, she worked on ground-breaking joint-employer liability litigation to hold garment manufacturers liable for unpaid wages owed to garment workers under the Fair Labor Standards Act. After law school, Ms. Yang clerked for the Honorable Edmund Ludwig on the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. In 1992-1993, Ms. Yang worked on the Presidential Transition and at the White House, Office of Presidential Personnel.

Ms. Yang serves as Vice-Chair of Board of Directors of the Asian Pacific American Legal Resource Center. From 2001-2003, she served as a government fellow for the American Bar Association, Labor and Employment Section, Equal Employment Opportunity Committee. She also served as a National Co-Chair and Board Member of the National Asian Pacific American Women's Forum from 1998-

Ms. Yang graduated from Cornell University (B.A., Government, with distinction, 1992) and New York University School of Law (J.D., cum laude, 1996) where she was a Root-Tilden Public Interest Scholar and a Note and Comment Editor of the Law Review.

Ms. Yang is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia, New York, and New Jersey.

Kit A. Pierson

Kit Pierson, a Partner, joined the Firm in 2009 and is co-Chair of Cohen Milstein's Antitrust Practice Group.

Mr. Pierson has spent the last two decades handling civil litigation matters in antitrust cases and other complex litigation. As a Shareholder at Heller Ehrman from 1997-2008, Mr. Pierson represented clients in large antitrust class action litigation and False Claims Act litigation, including significant jury trials. Mr. Pierson also has a longstanding commitment to civil rights matters and pro bono representation and recently was lead counsel for one of the Guantanamo detainees in a successful habeas corpus challenge to the legality of his confinement.

Mr. Pierson has represented clients in class actions and other antitrust cases of national significance. Mr. Pierson represented Microsoft Corporation in antitrust class action litigation and other matters and was one of the trial attorneys representing Microsoft in jury trials in Gordon v. Microsoft (Minnesota) and Comes v. Microsoft (Iowa). Mr. Pierson represented 3M Company in antitrust class actions challenging bundled discounted in federal and state court. He represented the American Booksellers Association in antitrust litigation on behalf of its members (independent bookstores across the country) in American Booksellers Association v. Houghton Mifflin (S.D.N.Y.). These cases resulted in the entry of consent decrees against several of the leading publishers in the United States, and were followed by successful litigation against one of the publishers based on violations of the consent decrees. Mr. Pierson represented dock and trucking companies in Erie Port Authority v. Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad (E.D. Pa.), an antitrust case challenging a conspiracy by large railroad companies to restrain trade in the shipment of iron ore and resulted in a substantial jury verdict for the plaintiffs.

Mr. Pierson has represented parties in a broad range of other complex civil litigation matters, including:

- Representation of a putative class of electronic book purchasers nationwide in litigation challenging a conspiracy involving Apple, Inc. and major book publishers to establish a new pricing model for the industry and substantially raise the price of electronic books in response to the low price point used by Amazon after release of the Kindle.
- Representation of individual farmers and a putative class of thousands of dairy farmers in the Northeast in antitrust litigation challenging a conspiracy to restrain competition and reduce the prices paid to farmers for supplying milk.
- Representation of Greenpeace, Inc. in Greenpeace, Inc. v. Dow Chemical Company, et al. (D.C. Super.), litigation against two large chemical companies, public relations companies and a private investigation firm based on their involvement in a scheme that is alleged to have included surveillance, dumpster diving, trespass and other actions on more than one hundred occasions over a two-year period to secure information about Greenpeace's organization, environmental activities and financial support.

- Representation of the plaintiff in United States ex rel. Loughren v. UnumProvident (D. Mass.), a qui tam action against the largest disability carrier in the United States, alleging that it violated the False Claims Act by causing the submission of false claims for social security disability benefits to the United States.
- Representation of a whistleblower in Funk v. MEP (E.D. Va.), a case alleging that a defense contractor engaged in fraud in providing translators to support the United States' troops in Afghanistan and engaged in retaliation based on the whistleblower's protected activities under the False Claims Act.
- Representation of a hospital and surgeon in their successful defense of claims brought by a physician alleging that they had infringed his patent by performing eye surgery in a method allegedly subject to the patent. Pallin v. Singer (D. Vt.). This case received national media attention, including two pieces on the McNeil-Lehrer News Hour, and following successful defense of the litigation the United States Congress enacted legislation to protect physicians from patent infringement claims based on their method of providing care.
- Representation of health policy researchers at the Urban Institute, a non-profit think tank, after they were sued in Minntech v. Held (D. Minn.), for allegedly defaming the plaintiff-corporation by publishing research relating to the safety of dialysis products used by thousands of dialysis patients nationwide.
- Representation of the nation's leading association of psychologists in various litigation matters, including cases successfully defending the association's decisions to discipline members for unethical conduct.
- Representation of parties in numerous cases involving constitutional issues, including the National Association of Broadcaster's successful defense of the "must carry" provisions in Turner Broadcasting Systems v. FCC (S. Ct).
- Representation of non-profit organizations and individuals in litigation that exposed illegal spying activities by the Maryland state policy against more than thirty organizations and numerous individuals based on lawful and constitutionally protected activities such as opposition to the death penalty or anti-war activities. The exposure of these activities resulted in legislative hearings, appointment of a former Maryland Attorney General to conduct an independent investigation, and implementation of remedial actions by the State of Maryland.

Mr. Pierson is chair of Cohen Milstein's pro bono committee. From 2006-2008, he was the chair of Heller Ehrman's pro bono and community service program for the firm's thirteen offices. Mr. Pierson has been actively involved in pro bono representation, including representation of a habeas corpus petitioner in Ahmed v. Obama (D.D.C.), where a federal court determined that the petitioner was being unlawfully detained at Guantanamo and ordered his release. Mr. Pierson is a Member of the ACLU of Maryland's Committee on Litigation and Legal Priorities and a Member of the Board of Trustees for the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law. Mr. Pierson has also represented the District of Columbia Bar Association in litigation and served on a Committee established by the District of Columbia Bar and the Access to Justice Commission to expand pro bono representation by law firms in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Pierson has been named as a Washington, D.C. "Super Lawyer" in the antitrust field. These designations are based on a high degree of peer recognition and professional achievement.

Mr. Pierson is a 1979 graduate of Macalester College, where he received a B.A. (magna cum laude) in Economics and Political Science. He graduated from the University of Michigan Law School (magna cum laude) in 1983, where he was a Note Editor of the Michigan Law Review and a member of the Order of the Coif. Mr. Pierson served as a Law Clerk for the Honorable Harry T. Edwards, United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, from 1983-1984 and a law clerk for the Honorable Chief Judge John Feikens, United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, from 1984-1985.

J. Douglas Richards

J. Douglas Richards is managing partner of Cohen Milstein's New York office and a partner in its antitrust practice group. Mr. Richards has extensive expertise in class action practice and commercial litigation relating to diverse trade regulation issues, including antitrust and commodity regulation as well as related issues of patent law. Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2009, Mr. Richards served as head of the antitrust practice groups at two other leading class action law firms, and prior to that as Deputy General Counsel of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, where he received a Special Service Award for exemplary accomplishment. His general preeminence in legal practice has been recognized by the leading peer review organizations, including New York Super Lawyers and by receiving the highest available peer ranking from Martindale-Hubbell. He has written extensively about class actions, having twice authored chapters for books edited by the American Antitrust Institute covering complex issues of class action practice, as well as various law reviews and other publications. Leading antitrust organizations frequently recognize his expertise by inviting him to speak on wide-ranging issues of substantive antitrust law, civil procedure and class actions.

- Institute for Consumer Antitrust Studies Member, Board of Advisors
- Antitrust Section, New York State Bar Association Member, Executive Committee

Linda Singer

Linda Singer, a Partner, joined Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC in 2009 as head of the Public Client practice group. Ms. Singer is the former Attorney General for the District of Columbia. Ms. Singer has represented clients in approximately 350 matters during her legal career. Ms. Singer brings her extensive experience to lead the practice in supporting state Attorneys General, who serve as the critical front line in litigation protecting consumers, workers, and public resources.

Ms. Singer currently represents Attorneys General in high stakes and high profile investigations and litigation involving fraudulent mortgage lending and servicing, unsafe and deceptive practices in the sale of prescription drugs, and misclassification of independent contractors in violation of state tax and employment laws. The Public Client Practice focuses on cases with a strong policy dimension that are likely to result in litigation, are especially resource-intensive, or require specialized expertise.

Among other cases, Ms. Singer has:

- Represented a state Attorney General in the landmark proceedings against Countrywide Financial (and its parent, Bank of America), which resulted in mortgage modifications and other relief valued at approximately $8.6 billion. As a result of the settlement, Countrywide agreed to provide loan modifications to 400,000 borrowers nationwide and financial relief to the states and borrowers.
- Represent the States of Arizona and Nevada in consumer fraud lawsuits against Bank of America over the servicing of nearly one half million mortgages.

- Represented attorneys generals in a multi-billion dollar settlement with a major lender over the deceptive marketing of payment option adjustable rate mortgages.
- Represent an attorney general in investigations relating to the securitization of subprime mortgages.
- Represent attorneys general in various antitrust investigations relating to the financial crisis and technology issues.
- Represented an attorney general in a multi-million misclassification case against Fortune 100 company.
- Represented attorney general in the investigation of high profile consumer prescription drug case.

Because many of these matters remain non-public investigations, the specific attorney general's office and target are not listed.

Before entering the private sector, Ms. Singer led the seventh-largest state Attorney General's office in the nation, overseeing the litigation and policy initiatives carried out by her staff of more than 350 lawyers. As the chief law enforcement office for the District of Columbia, she was responsible for overseeing all of the District's litigation, providing legal advice to the Mayor and the Directors of other District agencies, and for representing the interests of District residents through enforcement initiatives focused on consumer protection, public safety, and the environment. During her tenure as Attorney General, Ms. Singer successfully petitioned the Supreme Court to hear its first Second Amendment case in more than 70 years; developed new initiatives to combat gun violence; and expanded enforcement litigation aimed at protecting consumers, children, tenants, and victims of domestic violence.

Prior to serving as Attorney General, Ms. Singer was the Executive Director of the Appleseed Foundation, a national network of public interest law centers. Earlier in her career, Ms. Singer served a staff attorney in the Criminal Defense Division of the Legal Aid Society of New York City. She has spoken extensively before legal and other audiences and is a frequent contributor to numerous legal trade publications.

Ms. Singer is a graduate of the Harvard College (B.A., magna cum laude, 1988) and of Harvard Law School (J.D., magna cum laude, 1991).

Ms. Singer is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and New York.

R. Joseph Barton

Joseph Barton, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2001 and is a member of the Employee Benefits practice group.

Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Barton served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Lenore C. Nesbitt, United States District Judge for Southern District of Florida (2000-2001). Since joining the firm, Mr. Barton has been actively involved in a variety of class action cases involving employee benefits as well as antitrust and securities cases.

Mr. Barton has been actively involved in a diverse number of employee benefit cases. He has litigated or is litigating a number of private ESOP cases. In litigation challenging the sale of stock for $25 million by the family shareholders to the Azon Corporation ESOP, Mr. Barton defeated defendants' summary judgment motions and obtained partial summary judgment and obtained a settlement of $9.25 million for the ESOP participants. In litigation challenging a sale of stock to the Tharaldson Motels Inc. ESOP (one of the largest ESOP's in the country) for $500 million, Mr. Barton obtained a determination that former employees had standing to sue as participants of the plan. Mr. Barton has also been involved in a number of cases alleging breach of fiduciary duty by investing the 401k plan in company stock of publicly traded companies. Additionally, in Simpson v. Fireman's Fund Insurance Company (N.D. Cal.), Mr. Barton represented a class of active and terminated employees alleging that FFIC's policy of terminated persons on disability violated the discrimination provisions of ERISA, and obtained a settlement restoring their right to benefits for a period of years and also reimbursement of past expenses. Finally, Mr. Barton led a trial team in Stoffels et al. v. SBC Communications (W.D. Tex.) that resulted in the determination that AT&T's practice of providing cash payments to certain of its retirees to pay for their telephone expenses via a program known as Telephone Concession constituted a pension plan under ERISA.

Mr. Barton has been active in a number of securities fraud lawsuits including In re Physician Corporation of America Securities Litigation (S.D. Fla.) (settlement of $10.2 million), and In re MCI Securities Litigation (D.D.C.) (settlement of $4.5 million) and also represented a small class of former Sterling shareholders who received Uniroyal stock in a merger in Avery v. Uniroyal Technology Corp., (M.D. Fla.) (settlement of $2.3 million). Mr. Barton represents limited partners of Lipper Convertibles, a now-defunct hedge fund, in an arbitration against the fund's former general partners, Levitt v. Lipper Holdings et al. (AAA), and in litigation against the outside auditor in federal district court, Levitt v. PricewaterhouseCoopers (S.D.N.Y.) in connection with their investments in the Partnership which were allegedly overvalued for over 5 years.

Mr. Barton has also worked on a number of antitrust actions. Mr. Barton was a part of the team that engaged in intensive trial preparations in In re High Fructose Corn Syrup Antitrust Litigation, (C.D. Ill.), a class action alleging price-fixing by the manufacturers of high fructose corn syrup, which settled for more than $500 million shortly before trial. Mr. Barton litigated In re Mercedes-Benz Antitrust Litigation (D.N.J.), a class action alleging price-fixing of new Mercedes -Benz vehicles in the New York Region, which settled for $17.5 million or 50% of Plaintiffs' calculation of actual damages. In connection with the Mercedes-Benz litigation, Mr. Barton briefed and argued and obtained summary judgment on an issue of first impression that established that lessee-plaintiffs had standing to sue as direct purchasers under the federal antitrust laws.

Mr. Barton has also provided pro bono representation. Along with the non-profit law firm Midwest Environmental Advocates, Mr. Barton provided pro bono representation to the grassroots citizens action group Clean Water Action Council of Northeastern Wisconsin, in objecting to a settlement by the United States Department of Justice and the State of Wisconsin concerning natural resource damages in the Fox River area of Wisconsin. Mr. Barton also represented a client in D.C. Superior Court against her former employer who refused to pay her wages and overtime, in which the Judge described Mr. Barton's representation as follows: "everything done on behalf of the Plaintiff has been professional, timely and thorough."

Mr. Barton received his undergraduate degree from the College of William & Mary (B.A. 1991) where he majored in History and minored in Classical Studies, and graduated Order of the Coif from the College of William & Mary, Marshall-Wythe School of Law (J.D. 2000). At law school, he received the Lawrence W. I'Anson Award for outstanding student scholarship, character and leadership, the William B. Spong Award for professionalism and ethics, the Robert R. Kaplan Award for excellence in legal writing and Order of the Barristers. He served on the editorial board of the William & Mary Law Review and was a staff member of the William & Mary Bill of Rights Journal. Mr. Barton was a member of the William & Mary National Trial Team and served as Vice-President of the William & Mary Chapter of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America.

Mr. Barton is the author of Determining the Meaning of "Direct Evidence" in Discrimination Cases Within the Eleventh Circuit: Why Judge Tjoflat was (W)right, 77 Fla. B.J. 42 (2003), Drowning in a Sea of Contract: Application of the Economic Loss Rule to Fraud and Negligent Misrepresentation Claims, 41 Wm. & Mary L. Rev. 1789 (2000), and Utilizing Statistics and Bellwether Plaintiff Trials: What do the Constitution and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Permit?, 8 Wm. & Mary Bill Rts. J. 199 (1999). Each of Mr. Barton's published articles has been cited by both courts and commentators.

Mr. Barton is the current Secretary/Treasurer for the American Association of Justice (AAJ) Employment Rights section, which focuses on all aspects of employment and labor law including Title VII, ADA, ADEA, FMLA and wrongful discharge cases.

Mr. Barton is admitted to practice in the State of California and the District of Columbia and is listed in the Marquis' Who's Who in American and Who's Who in American Law.

Joshua S. Devore

Joshua Devore, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2000 as a member of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection practice group.

He is currently working on several securities fraud class actions (including the litigation on the collapse of the Italian dairy conglomerate Parmalat), and has been heavily involved in litigation regarding Wall Street research analysts. He has actively participated in a number of cases that resulted in substantial recoveries for investors, including In re Lucent Technologies, Inc. Securities Litigation (settlement of approximately $575 million); In re Merrill Lynch Research Reports Securities Litigation (settlement of $125 million); In re VeriSign Corp. Securities Litigation (settlement of $78 million); and Norman v. Salomon Smith Barney (settlement of $51 million on behalf of Guided Portfolio Management Account holders).

Mr. Devore has been the primary author of numerous briefs addressing complex and novel issues of the federal securities laws, leading to notable reported decisions such as In re Parmalat Securities Litigation, 376 F.Supp.2d 472 (S.D.N.Y. 2003), that affirmed claims of "scheme" liability against a corporation's outside investment banks, and Lentell v. Merrill Lynch & Co., 396 F.3d 161 (2d Cir. 2005), that reversed a dismissal on statute of limitations grounds and reset the standards for pleading loss causation. He was also a member of the trial team in In re Globalstar Securities Litigation, which settled for $20 million during trial after Plaintiffs had fully presented their case.

Mr. Devore is actively involved in the representation of the firm's institutional investor clients and personally developed and oversees the analysis of the firm's clients' investments in securities that may have been affected by fraud.

Mr. Devore graduated from Rice University in 1997 with a B.A. in Chemistry, and obtained his law degree from Georgetown University Law Center in 2000. While at Georgetown, Mr. Devore served as an Executive Editor of the Georgetown International Environmental Law Review. Mr. Devore is coauthor of State Court Class Actions: Trends and Issues, in National Institute on Class-Actions, C-1 (ABA CLE 1999).

Mr. Devore is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Christopher J. Cormier, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2003 and is a member of the Antitrust Practice Group. He is actively involved and has obtained considerable experience in all phases of antitrust actions alleging concerted and unilateral anticompetitive conduct.

Mr. Cormier currently represents certified or proposed plaintiff classes in:

- In re Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ill.), where he serves on the plaintiffs' steering committee on behalf of a proposed class of direct purchasers alleging a nationwide output restriction and price-fixing conspiracy. He plays a leading role in managing all day-to-day aspects of the plaintiffs' litigation efforts.
- In re Urethane Antitrust Litigation (D. Kan.), where he serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of a certified class of direct purchasers of several types of chemicals that were overcharged as a result of a nationwide price-fixing and market allocation conspiracy. He plays a leading role in litigating major aspects of the case, and he has helped obtain class settlements with Bayer ($55.3 million), BASF ($51 million), and Huntsman ($33 million).

Mr. Cormier also has served in leadership positions on various other antitrust matters, including:

- In re Endosurgical Products Direct Purchaser Antitrust Litigation (C.D. Cal.), where he served as co-lead counsel on behalf of a proposed class of direct purchasers of medical instruments used in laparoscopic surgery that were overcharged pursuant to alleged monopolistic conduct. In 2009, the Court approved class settlements valued at more than $39 million.
- In re Parcel Tanker Shipping Services Antitrust Litigation (D. Conn.), where he served as colead counsel in an arbitration on behalf of direct purchasers of shipping services who allegedly were overcharged pursuant to the defendants' international customer allocation and price-fixing conspiracy. He was a primary author of the brief opposing defendants' request for Supreme Court review of the lower court's order holding that the relevant arbitration clauses did not preclude class-wide arbitration.
- McIntosh, et al. v. Monsanto Co., et al. (E.D. Mo.), where he served as co-lead counsel on behalf of farmers alleging a price-fixing conspiracy concerning genetically modified soybean seeds. Following the Court's denial of the remaining defendant's motion for summary judgment, the plaintiffs settled with that defendant on confidential terms.
- Nate Pease, et al. v. Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., et al. (Knox County Superior Court, Me.), where he served as co-lead counsel on behalf of a class of Maine wild blueberry growers. In 2004, a Maine state court jury found the processing companies liable for participating in a four-year price-fixing and non-solicitation conspiracy, and ordered the defendants to pay over $56 million in damages.

Mr. Cormier is one of the authors of "Perspectives on the Future Direction of Antitrust," Antitrust, Vol. 22, No. 3, Summer 2008, © 2008 by the American Bar Association. He also is a co-author of "Private Recovery Actions in the United States," The Antitrust Review of the Americas 2010, Global Competition Review, September 2009.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Cormier practiced at a large Baltimore-based law firm, where he focused on commercial and antitrust litigation. After his first year of law school, he served as a judicial intern to the Honorable Deborah K. Chasanow, United States District Court for the District of Maryland. During his second year of law school, he served as a legal intern in the National Criminal Enforcement Section of the United States Department of Justice's Antitrust Division.

Mr. Cormier graduated from the University of Virginia with a B.A. in Government in 1999 and from the American University's Washington College of Law (magna cum laude) in 2002.

Mr. Cormier is admitted to practice in Maryland, the District of Columbia, the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit; the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 10th Circuit; and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Betsy A. Miller

Betsy A. Miller, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2009 and is a member of the Public Client practice group.

Named one of Washington's Top 40 Under 40 Rising Legal Stars by the National Law Journal, Ms. Miller is an experienced labor, employment and commercial litigator. Currently, Ms. Miller represents state Attorneys General in investigations, litigation and enforcement actions involving fraudulent mortgage lending, unsafe and deceptive practices in the sale of prescription drugs, and misclassification of independent contractors in violation of state tax and labor laws. In addition to government clients, Ms. Miller represents other public-sector clients, including non-profit organizations and labor unions, in their efforts to ensure enforcement of laws protecting workers and consumers.

Since 2001, Ms. Miller has served on the adjunct faculty of Georgetown University Law Center, where she teaches courses on mediation strategy and negotiation skills. Ms. Miller's dispute resolution experience also includes serving as a mediator, arbitrator, mediation coach and negotiation skills trainer. She has taught negotiation skills courses at Harvard Law School and for a variety of federal and state government clients, law firms, corporations and non-profit organizations. As a consultant for the Kennedy School of Government, Ms. Miller traveled to Central America to evaluate mediation and arbitration programs in Guatemala, Costa Rica, El Salvador and Nicaragua.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Ms. Miller served as the Chief of Staff and Senior Counsel to Linda Singer, the former Attorney General for the District of Columbia. In that capacity, Ms. Miller managed high-profile legal issues and policy initiatives for the Attorney General and was the Mayor's lead labor and employment lawyer overseeing the transition of the D.C. Public Schools to mayoral control. Ms. Miller also supervised the General Counsels' offices of three District agencies, including the D.C. Public Schools and the Office of the State Superintendent for Education. Her other government experience includes serving as Counsel to the U.S. Senate Committee on the Judiciary, where she worked for Chairman Patrick J. Leahy (VT), and clerking for the Honorable Thomas Penfield Jackson in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. In addition, Ms. Miller spent seven years as a litigator in the private sector, working for Jones Day and Crowell & Moring, LLP.

Ms. Miller's recent publications include "Untapped Potential: Creating a Systematic Model for Mediation Preparation," Dispute Resolution Journal (May-August, 2009) and "WARNings for Firms Facing Layoffs or Bankruptcy," Law360 (January, 2009).

Ms. Miller received her undergraduate degree in Comparative Literature from Dartmouth College, magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa (A.B., 1996). After graduating, Harvard awarded Ms. Miller the Heyman Fellowship for government service and academic excellence and the Kaufman Fellowship for public service.

Ms. Miller is admitted to practice in Massachusetts and the District of Columbia.

Manuel J. Dominguez

A partner in Cohen Milstein's Florida office, Manuel J. ("John") Dominguez focuses his practice on antitrust and consumer protection litigation. Mr. Dominguez plays a leading role in the firm's antitrust group identifying and investigating potential antitrust violations.

Mr. Dominguez is also involved in and helps to manage many of the firm's pending antitrust cases. He is currently representing plaintiffs in antitrust litigation involving alleged price-fixing and other anticompetitive conduct in various industries including truck transmissions, high tech, medical products, building materials, agricultural, entertainment and finance, among others. He recently litigated and resolved cutting-edge litigation against a major internet service provider for allegedly unlawfully collecting the internet search data of millions of users and making their private information available for downloading by the general public.

Mr. Dominguez has been litigating complex antitrust and consumer cases for more than 15 years, and has served as lead counsel and handled numerous high-profile, high-stakes cases during that time. His efforts have enabled aggrieved businesses and consumers to recover hundreds of millions of dollars.

Mr. Dominguez is also nationally recognized for his knowledge of managing the discovery process in today's increasingly technologically complex business environment. He has made presentations on topics such as the impact of the new e-discovery amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and has also participated in The Sedona Conference® Working Group 1 – an organization at the vanguard of developing standards for electronic discovery.

Mr. Dominguez currently serves as the Chair for the Antitrust, Franchise & Trade Regulation Committee of the Florida Bar's Business Law Section. Mr. Dominguez previously served as the Vice Chair of this committee and is also a member of the Executive Council of Florida Bar's Business Law Section. Mr Dominguez also co-authored an article for the Florida Bar Journal, "The Plausibility Standard as a Double Edge Sword: The application of Twombly and Iqbal to Affirmative Defenses" (Volume 84, No 6, June 2010).

Mr. Dominguez began his career as an Assistant Attorney General serving in the Attorney General of the State of Florida's Department of Economic Crimes. As an AAG, he represented the state of Florida in prosecuting corporations and business entities for alleged violations of Florida's RICO, antitrust, and Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practices Act statutes. Following his service as an AAG, Mr. Dominguez entered private practice, litigating and trying numerous cases involving unfair trade practices and other alleged violations of state and federal consumer protection statutes. In 2000 he joined Berman DeValerio as an associate and when he left the firm in 2011 he was one of the partners leading the firm's antitrust and consumer practice groups.

Mr. Dominguez graduated with honors from the Florida State University Law School in 1995, where was a member of the Transnational Journal of Law and Policy. He received his undergraduate degree from Florida International University in 1991.

Mr. Dominguez is admitted to practice law in the State of Florida as well as U.S. District Courts for the Northern, Middle and Southern Districts of Florida. Mr. Dominguez is also admitted to practice in the United States District Court for Northern District of Illinois.

Brent W. Johnson

Brent W. Johnson, a Partner at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2009 and is a member of the Antitrust Practice Group. Mr. Johnson has considerable expertise in complex antitrust litigation and class actions.

Mr. Johnson represents businesses and individuals as plaintiffs in federal and state civil actions with a focus on multi-district class actions. His class action experience spans across multiple industries, such as dairy, processed foods, automotive parts, private equity, adhesives, chemicals and others. His practice encompasses a broad variety of antitrust claims, including Sherman Act Section 2 monopoly and monopsony claims as well as Section 1 restraints of trade. Mr. Johnson also represents state Attorneys General in litigation involving deceptive practices in the sale of prescription drugs.

Mr. Johnson is currently involved in the following matters, among others:

- Allen vs. Dairy Farmers of America (D. Vt.), in which he represents Northeast dairy farmers against Dairy Farmers of America and Dairy Marketing Services who fixed prices, allocated markets and monopolized a level of distribution of raw milk in the Northeast and in which defendant Dean Foods Company settled for $30 million;
- In re Urethane Antitrust Litigation (D. Kan.), in which he serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of a certified class of direct purchasers of several types of chemicals who were overcharged as a result of a nationwide price-fixing and market allocation conspiracy and in which multiple defendants have collectively settled for over $130 million;
- In re Online DVD Rental Antitrust Litigation, (N.D. Cal.), in which he represents direct purchasers of online DVD rentals who were overcharged as a result of a market allocation conspiracy by defendants and in which defendant Wal-Mart settled for more than $27 million; and
- Carlin v. Dairy America, Inc. (E.D. Cal.), in which he serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of a proposed class of dairy farmers paid artificially deflated prices for raw milk due to the negligence of defendants;
- In re Wellpoint, Inc. Out-of-Network "UCR" Rates Litigation, (C.D. Cal.), in which he represents a proposed class of health insurance subscribers who were overcharged for services provided by a doctor or medical provider that was not in their insurer's "network" due to the insurer's use of a faulty database to determine reimbursement rates.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Johnson practiced at Latham & Watkins LLP in its Washington, D.C. and New Jersey offices for six years, where he focused on antitrust litigation. Some of Mr. Johnson's matters included:

- Feesers, Inc. v. Michael Foods, Inc. and Sodexho, Inc. (M.D. Pa.), in which he was a member of the successful trial team that represented Michael Foods, a manufacturer of processed egg products and refrigerated potato products, in a three week trial of a Robinson-Patman Act action brought by a broad-line distributor of food products;
- National Laser Technology, Inc. v. Biolase Technology, Inc. (S.D. Indiana), in which he represented Biolase, the country's largest manufacturer of lasers for dental applications, in a civil action brought by an after-market dental laser support company resulting in a favorable settlement for the client. The plaintiff alleged that Biolase had monopoly power over the hard tissue dental laser market and used that power to coerce dentists into purchasing products from it in violation of Sections 1 and 2 of the Sherman Act;
- Dahl, et al. v. Bain Capital, et al. (D. Mass.), in which he represented The Carlyle Group in a class action where plaintiffs alleged collusion among certain private equity firms and investment banks in specific going-private transactions in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act; and
- In re Aftermarket Filters Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ill.), in which he represented Champion Laboratories, a manufacturer of aftermarket automotive filters, in a class action where plaintiffs alleged a conspiracy among manufacturers to fix prices in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act.

Mr. Johnson also advised clients in the insurance, commodities exchange, chemical and energy industries in obtaining clearance of mergers, acquisitions and joint ventures from the Federal Trade Commission and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice in connection with pre-merger notification proceedings under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act.

Mr. Johnson also has significant experience in other complex civil and criminal litigation and investigations. He has substantial mass torts experience and represented the City of New York and others in multiple federal actions related to the September 11th attacks. He has litigated government contracts matters and was a member of a team handling a GAO administrative hearing concerning a $1.1 billion Air Force procurement contract. He has conducted internal investigations in response to criminal investigations and inquiries by the Department of Justice and U.S. Attorney's office. He has argued before state trial and appellate courts. He has first-chaired hearings before administrative law judges for the Department of Health and Human Services and the District of Columbia.

Mr. Johnson graduated magna cum laude from Duke University in 2000 with a B.A. in Political Science and Spanish. He obtained his law degree from Stanford Law School in 2003.

Mr. Johnson is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia, New York and New Jersey, as well as the U.S. District Courts for the Districts of the District of Columbia and New Jersey. He is a member of the ABA Section of Antitrust Law.

Mr. Johnson currently serves on the firm's Ethics committee.

Gary L. Azorsky

Gary Azorsky, a Partner at Cohen Milstein, is Co-chair of the Firm's Whistleblower/False Claims Act Practice. In his nation-wide practice, Mr. Azorsky has helped to recover more than $1.5 billion for federal and state governments, including hundreds of millions of dollars for whistleblower clients.

Mr. Azorsky is currently co-lead counsel in the qui tam action against the pharmaceutical company Wyeth pending in the District of Massachusetts, in which more states have joined to intervene along with the government of the United States than have ever intervened in a qui tam action in history. (United States of America et al., ex rel. Lauren Kieff, v. Wyeth, No.1:03-CV-12366-DPW (D.Mass.)). He has also represented whistleblowers in False Claims Act cases involving defense contractors, offlabel marketing and misbranding by pharmaceutical companies, and fraud in connection with for-profit colleges and student loan programs. In addition, Mr. Azorsky represents whistleblowers in tax fraud claims against large and small corporations through the IRS Whistleblower Office, as well as whistleblowers alleging violations of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act filed with the SEC Whistleblower Office.

Mr. Azorsky served as co-counsel for the whistleblower on the following representative matters:

- United States of America ex rel. Ven-a-Care of the Florida Keys Inc. v. Dey Laboratories, et al., Civil Action No. 05-11084 (D. Mass) ($280 Million settlement in December 2010)
- United States of America ex rel. Ven-A-Care of the Florida Keys Inc. v. Boehringer Ingelheim Corp, et al., Civil Action No. 07-10248 (D. Mass.) ($280 Million settlement in December, 2010)

- Florida ex rel. Ven-A-Care of the Florida Keys Inc. v. Boehringer Ingelheim Corp, et al., Civil Action No. 98-3-32A (Leon Cty., Fla.) ($8.5 Million settlement with Boehringer Ingelheim in December 2009)
- Texas ex rel. Ven-A-Care of the Florida Keys Inc. v. Roxane Laboratories, Inc., Boehringer Ingelheim Pharmaceuticals, Inc., Ben Venue Laboratories, Inc. and Boehringer Ingelheim Corporation, Civil Action No. GV3-03079 (Travis Cty., Tex.) ($10 Million settlement with Boehringer Ingelheim in November 2005)
- Texas ex rel. Ven-A-Care of the Florida Keys Inc. v. Warrick Pharmaceuticals Corporation, Schering Plough Corporation, Schering Corporation, Civil Action No. GV002327 (Travis Cty., Tex.) ($27 Million settlement with Schering-Plough in May 2004)
- Texas ex rel. Ven-A-Care of the Florida Keys Inc. v. Dey, Inc., Dey, L.P., Civil Action No. GV002327 (Travis Cty., Tex.) ($18.5 Million settlement with Dey Laboratories, Inc. in June 2003)

Mr. Azorsky regularly speaks before professional audiences regarding the federal and state False Claims Acts. He is a member of Taxpayers Against Fraud,,a nonprofit, public interest organization dedicated to combating fraud against the Federal Government through the promotion and use of the Federal False Claims Act and its qui tam provisions.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, in addition to his Whistleblower/False Claims Act practice, Mr. Azorsky was actively involved in groundbreaking civil rights, commercial and intellectual property litigation, including Internet and software industry-related litigation.

Mr. Azorsky is a member of the bars of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey and is admitted to the United States Supreme Court, Third Circuit Court of Appeals, Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the District of New Jersey. He received a B.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania and his J.D. from Cornell University Law School. He is rated AV® Preeminent<sup>TM</sup> 5.0 out of 5 in Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review, representing the highest rating for professional excellence.

Jeanne A. Markey

Jeanne Markey, a Partner at Cohen Milstein, is Co-chair of the Firm's Whistleblower/False Claims Act Practice. She has successfully represented whistleblowers in federal and state cases across the country. Ms. Markey has extensive experience in Qui Tam litigation in the health care, defense and education industries, and has represented whistleblower clients in the public housing sector.

Ms. Markey is co-lead counsel in United States of America et al., ex rel. Lauren Kieff, v. Wyeth, the whistleblower case against pharmaceutical giant Wyeth (recently acquired by Pfizer). The lawsuit alleges that Medicaid, the healthcare program for the poor which is jointly funded by the federal and state governments, was defrauded when Wyeth falsely inflated the price of the acid suppression drug Protonix Oral from 2001 through 2006. Thirty-six states and the District of Columbia have joined with the United States to intervene in the Wyeth case -- more states than have ever intervened in any U.S. Qui Tam case.

She also served as the primary attorney representing the putative class in Benzman v. Whitman, a class action in Manhattan and Brooklyn against the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The claims were based on class members' exposure to contaminants contained in World Trade Center interior dust resulting from the 9/11 attacks.

Ms. Markey is admitted to practice law in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the State of New Jersey, and to the First Circuit Court of Appeals, Second Circuit Court of Appeals and Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals. She is a member of Taxpayers Against Fraud, a nonprofit, public interest organization dedicated to combating fraud against the Federal Government through the promotion and use of the Federal False Claims Act and its qui tam provisions, the Association of Qui Tam Attorneys, and frequently speaks about developments in the Qui Tam field. She received her B.A. (cum laude) from Colgate University and her J.D. from Cornell University Law School.

Suzanne Dugan

Suzanne Dugan joined Cohen Milstein in 2011 as Of Counsel in the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection Practice Group, where she counsels pension funds on fiduciary, ethics, governance and compliance issues. Ms. Dugan's role is to assist public pension funds at critical and challenging times for those funds, and to provide collaborative and creative solutions.

With more than 20 years of legal experience, including service as ethics counsel for the third largest public pension fund in the country, Ms. Dugan's experience includes designing, implementing, managing and assessing a comprehensive ethics program as well as providing guidance on fiduciary issues. She offers deep knowledge and broad coverage for pension funds that need expert guidance on various issues including, but not limited to, fiduciary responsibility, ethical duties, strategic governance, compliance and related organizational mandates. She also assists funds in conducting internal investigations and structuring recommendations, and works in collaboration with Cohen Milstein's securities litigation team to help counsel funds on litigation matters, opt-outs, and lead plaintiff roles.

Previously, Ms. Dugan served as Special Counsel for Ethics for the Office of the New York State Comptroller, having been appointed by Comptroller Thomas P. DiNapoli in 2007. As Special Counsel for Ethics, Ms. Dugan organized and oversaw a vigorous and dynamic ethics program for the 2,500 employees in the Office of the State Comptroller. Ms. Dugan provided advice and counsel to the State Comptroller acting as the state's chief fiscal officer and as sole trustee of the $140 billion state and local pension fund. As Ethics Officer, she provided guidance to senior management and all officers and employees at the Office on aspects of ethics laws, rules and regulations deriving from the State Public Officers Law and Executive Law, the Comptroller's Executive Orders, the Office's policies and procedures, and other relevant sources.

As Special Counsel for Ethics, Ms. Dugan provided training to all officers and employees of OSC, including Comptroller DiNapoli. She initiated a program that provides specific ethics guidance to each division of OSC, focusing on the particular ethics challenges faced in the course of doing business. Ms. Dugan and her staff of five also provided individual advice and counsel on all aspects of ethics issues. These programmatic initiatives were designed to promote a culture of ethics and public integrity at all levels of OSC.

Ms. Dugan previously was the Acting Executive Director and Counsel to the New York State Ethics Commission where she served as an attorney for almost fifteen years. She is a frequent lecturer at conferences and forums on government ethics. Her upcoming and most recent speaking engagements include:

- Invited Panelist, "Trustee Education: Fiduciary Responsibility", Public Funds Summit East, Newport, RI, July 2012.
- Panelist, "Trustee Education: Fiduciary Responsibility", Public Funds Summit, Scottsdale, AZ, January 2012.
- Panelist, "Are Pension Benefits Really Vested? Latest Developments in Fiduciary Duty", SACRS Fall Conference, Costa Mesa, CA, November 2011.

Ms. Dugan has served as an adjunct faculty member at Albany Law School of Union University teaching a class in government ethics.

Ms. Dugan graduated magna cum laude from Siena College in Loudonville, New York, and earned a Juris Doctor cum laude from Albany Law School of Union University. Ms. Dugan began her career as a judicial clerk, serving two years as an Appellate Court Attorney with the Appellate Division, Third

Department, of the New York State Supreme Court. She previously served as an administrator at Albany Law School, as well as the pro bono Legal Director of an Albany, New York, area not-for-profit. She currently serves as a member of the Board of Directors of a local chapter of Planned Parenthood. She is an elected member of the American Law Institute.

Michael Eisenkraft

Ms. Handorf is currently involved in litigation and appeals involving a broad range of employee benefits issues including ESOPs, employer stock, and the termination of benefits. She represented a class of 30,000 Goodyear union retirees in litigation in which Cohen Milstein obtained approval of a class action settlement between the retirees, Goodyear and the United Steel Workers, resulting in the establishment of a $1 billion trust through which retiree healthcare benefits will be provided in the future. Redington v. Goodyear (N.D. Ohio). She has co-authored amicus briefs filed by the firm on behalf of the Pension Rights Center in the U.S. Supreme Court (LaRue v. DeWolff, Boberg & Associates) and in the Third Circuit (In re Schering-Plough Corporation ERISA Litigation). She also played a primary role in drafting the appellate brief in In re Citigroup ERISA Litigation (2d Cir.) (challenging the dismissal of a complaint alleging the imprudent purchase of employer stock) and in Boos v. AT&T (5th Cir.) (involving the issue of whether a program providing cash payments to certain "pension eligible" retirees to reimburse them for their personal telephone expenses during retirement is a pension plan).

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Handorf was an attorney for the U.S. Department of Labor (the "DOL") where she litigated ERISA cases in federal appellate and district courts for twenty five years. She began her ERISA career in 1982 as a trial attorney in the Plan Benefits Security Division (PBSD) where she litigated actions brought by the Secretary of Labor for violations of the fiduciary standards of ERISA and handled a number of appellate matters.

In 1989, she was appointed Counsel for Decentralized and Special Litigation responsible for supervising the DOL's ERISA appellate litigation, district court litigation brought by regional offices of the Solicitor of Labor and administrative litigation involving the civil penalty provisions of ERISA. In that position at the DOL, Ms. Handorf was responsible for establishing and supervising PBSD's amicus brief writing program which addressed a wide range of novel and difficult ERISA issues in both state and federal court. While at the DOL, she also played a major role in formulating the Government's position on ERISA issues expressed in amicus briefs filed by the Solicitor General in the United States Supreme Court.

In 2001, she was appointed Deputy Associate Solicitor of PBSD. As the Deputy Associate Solicitor, she was responsible for overseeing litigation brought by the Secretary of Labor and legal advice provided to the Employee Benefit Security Administration, which administers Title I of ERISA. In 2005, she returned to her position as supervisor of the ERISA appellate and amicus brief writing program, serving as Counsel for Appellate and Special Litigation.

Ms. Handorf is a recipient of the Department of Labor Distinguished Career Service Award, and received Exceptional Achievement Awards for her work on ERISA 401(k) plan remedies, the amicus brief in the Enron litigation, retiree health care, the amicus program in general, the appellate brief in the Department's Tower litigation, termination annuities litigation and multiple employer welfare arrangement (MEWAs) litigation.

Ms. Handorf has been recognized for her expertise by her colleagues in the ERISA bar, who made her a Fellow of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel. She is a frequent speaker on ERISA issues for the ABA, various bar associations and private seminars, and serves as plaintiffs' co-chair of a subcommittee on civil procedure of the Employees Benefits Committee of the ABA's Labor Section.

Ms. Handorf received her law degree from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1975. Prior to law school, she attended the University of Wisconsin-River Falls where she received a B.S. in Speech and History.

Mr. Liles also worked on the North Carolina Journal of International Law and Commercial regulation and is the author of Did Kim Jong-Il Break the Law? A Case Study on How North Korea Highlights the Flaws of the Non-Proliferation Regime, 33 N.C. J. Int'l L. & Com. Reg. 103 (Fall 2007).

Mr. Liles is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and the state of North Carolina.

Mimi Liu

Mimi Liu joined Cohen Milstein as Of Counsel in April 2012. She is a member of the Public Client practice group. Ms. Liu was formerly a senior lawyer at Planned Parenthood Federation of America, where for almost eight years she represented clients in a variety of high-profile constitutional civil rights matters. She successfully briefed and argued cases before numerous federal district and appellate courts and state appellate courts. Ms. Liu brings her robust experience as a civil rights litigator to this practice, where she represents state Attorneys General in investigations, litigation, and enforcement actions aimed at protecting consumers and public resources. Currently, Ms. Liu represents state Attorneys General in actions involving Medicaid fraud, and unfair and deceptive practices in debt collection.

Prior to joining Planned Parenthood, Ms. Liu was a litigator at Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering (now WilmerHale), where she represented clients in civil rights, intellectual property, bankruptcy, and federal securities litigations. In addition, during her time at Wilmer, Cutler, Ms. Liu was part of the trial team that successfully challenged a federal law restricting access to reproductive health services in the Southern District of New York and served as appellate counsel for a brutalized Congolese woman, whose asylum she ultimately secured.

Ms. Liu graduated from Harvard Law School (J.D., cum laude, 1999), where she served as Executive Editor of the Human Rights Journal and co-authored the treatise Gender Asylum Law, which examines decisions and guidelines for filing asylum applications in a variety of international jurisdictions. She received her Bachelor of Commerce from the University of Alberta (1996). Following law school, Ms. Liu, a Canadian, clerked for the Court of Appeals of Alberta and for the Honorable Justice Claire L'Heureux-Dubé of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Ms. Liu is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and New York, the United States Courts of Appeals for the Sixth, Eighth, and Ninth Circuits, and the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

Christopher Lometti

Chris Lometti joined Cohen Milstein in 2009 as Of Counsel. Since joining the firm, he litigated the Leap Wireless case (S.D. Cal) ($13.75 million recovery) and is one of the lead attorneys in many of the firm's ongoing mortgage-backed securities cases, including Lehman; WaMu; Countrywide; Bear Stearns; HEMT (Credit Suisse); Harborview (RBS Greenwich Capital); Rali and Novastar.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, he was a founding member of Schoengold Sporn Laitman & Lometti, P.C. ("SSLL"), where he practiced for more than thirteen years in the area of securities class action litigation.

While at SSLL, Mr. Lometti oversaw the firm's institutional client development efforts. Under his supervision, the firm established relationships with dozens of Taft-Hartley pension and benefit funds which the firm represented in numerous securities class action lawsuits over the years. In addition, Mr. Lometti participated in the successful litigation of these and other cases, including WorldCom ($6.15 billion recovery), Bank One ($50 million), USN Communications ($45 million), Nicor ($39 million), PNC ($47 million), Westar ($30 million), SpectraVision ($28 million) and SPX ($10 million).

In In re WorldCom, Inc. Securities Litigation, 02-CV-3288 (S.D.N.Y.), Mr. Lometti represented a named plaintiff and certified class representative with a significant financial interest in WorldCom bonds. That case was settled in 2005 for over $6.15 billion, the second-largest securities fraud settlement of all time. A majority of the settlement proceeds in the WorldCom case was allocated to the bond claims of Mr. Lometti's client and the class they represented. In addition, in In re Nicor Securities Litigation, 02-CV-5168 (N.D. Ill.), Mr. Lometti represented a Taft-Hartley pension and benefit fund in their capacity as sole lead plaintiff. Despite the fact that the case asserted claims under Section 10b of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 which centered on complex accounting rules governing the financial reporting of natural gas leases, the case was eventually settled for $39 million.

Prior to SSLL, Mr. Lometti was associated with Shea & Gould, a large New York City-based commercial litigation firm, where he practiced in the Litigation Department. While there, he represented an array of clients, including Fortune 500 companies, in a wide variety of commercial litigation disputes, including SEC investigations and enforcement proceedings, securities class actions and ERISA matters.

In addition to serving as a commercial mediator for the New York State Unified Court system for many years, Mr. Lometti has served as an arbitrator for the New York Stock Exchange and the National Association of Securities Dealers since approximately 1991. In 2011, Mr. Lometti was elected to Super Lawyers. Super Lawyers is a rating service of outstanding lawyers from more than 70 practice areas who have attained a high-degree of peer recognition and professional achievement. The selection process is multi-phased and includes independent research, peer nominations and peer evaluations.

Mr. Lometti received a Bachelor of Arts from Fordham College in 1983, and his J.D. from Fordham Law School in 1986. He is a member of the New York State Bar Association, the New York County Lawyers Association and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Douglas J. McNamara

Douglas McNamara, Of Counsel at the Firm, joined Cohen Milstein in 2001 as a member of the Antitrust and Consumer Protection & Unsafe Products practice groups.

Mr. McNamara has worked on numerous cases involving dangerous pharmaceuticals and medical devices, light cigarettes, defective consumer products, and environmental torts.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. McNamara was a litigation associate at Arnold & Porter, specializing in pharmaceutical and product liability cases. He started his career at New York City's Legal Aid Society, defending indigent criminal defendants at trial and on appeal.

He has authored two law review articles: Buckley, Imbler and Stare Decisis: The Present Predicament of Prosecutorial Immunity and An End to Its Absolute Means, 59 Alb. L. Rev. 1135 (1996); and Sexual Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct: Applying New York's Gender-Specific Sexual Misconduct Law to Minors, 14 Touro L. Rev. 477 (Winter 1998). He is presently teaching a course on environmental and toxic torts as an adjunct at George Washington University School of Law.

Mr. McNamara graduated from SUNY Albany with a B.A. in Political Science (summa cum laude, 1992) and New York University School of Law (J.D., 1995).

Mr. McNamara is admitted to practice in New York and the District of Columbia.

Casey M. Preston

Casey Preston, an Associate at Cohen Milstein, is a member of the Firm's Whistleblower/False Claims Act Practice.

Mr. Preston serves as counsel in United States of America et al. ex rel. Lauren Kieff v. Wyeth, the whistleblower case against pharmaceutical giant Wyeth (recently acquired by Pfizer). The lawsuit alleges that states were defrauded when Wyeth falsely inflated the price of the acid suppression drug Protonix Oral from 2001 through 2006. Thirty-six states and the District of Columbia have joined with the United States to intervene in the Wyeth case -- the most states that have ever intervened in any U.S. Qui Tam case.

In addition to helping and serving as counsel for whistleblowers, Mr. Preston has also represented and advised clients in various complex litigations, securities class actions, and commercial disputes.

Mr. Preston received his B.S. degree from The Citadel and his J.D. from Villanova University School of Law (J.D., 2000). He clerked for the Hon. William J. Nealon, U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania (2001-2002) and the Hon. Terrence R. Nealon, Court of Common Pleas Lackawanna County, Pennsylvania (2000-2001).

Mr. Preston is admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar, and to the United States Supreme Court, Eastern District of Pennsylvania and Middle District of Pennsylvania.

He is a member of Taxpayers Against Fraud (TAF) and the Villanova Law J. Willard O'Brien American Inn of Court. And he provides pro bono legal services to the Legal Clinic for the Disabled.

Stefanie M. Ramirez

Stefanie M. Ramirez joined Cohen Milstein as an Associate in 2010. She is a member of the Consumer Protection & Unsafe Products practice group.

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Ramirez was an associate in the litigation departments of Tannenbaum Helpern Syracuse & Hirschtritt LLP and Proskauer Rose LLP, both in New York, NY. Her practice primarily focused on commercial litigation, labor and employment, bankruptcy, securities, intellectual property and class actions. While in law school, Ms. Ramirez worked as a legal intern at the Alabama American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

Ms. Ramirez received her undergraduate degree from the University of Alabama (B.A., summa cum laude, 2004) and her graduate degree in English from the University of Alabama (M.A., 2004). She received her law degree from Columbia University School of Law (J.D., 2007), where she was Membership Chair of the Columbia Law Students for Choice, served on the staff of the Journal of Gender and Law, and was a three-time recipient of the Thomas G. Shearman Scholarship.

Ms. Ramirez is admitted to practice in New York, the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, and the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York. Her admission to the D.C. Bar is pending.

Daniel B. Rehns

Daniel B. Rehns joined Cohen Milstein as an Associate in 2009 and is a member of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection practice group. Prior to that time, Mr. Rehns was an Associate at Schoengold Sporn Laitman & Lometti, P.C. ("SSLL"), where he practiced in the areas of securities fraud and consumer class action litigation since 2007.

While at SSLL, Mr. Rehns devoted his practice to the representation of individual and institutional shareholders who had been injured as the result of corporate fraud or corporate malfeasance. Notably, Mr. Rehns represented numerous Taft-Hartley pension funds in securities class actions suits arising from material misstatements in Registration Statements and Prospectuses issued in connection with purchases of Mortgage-Backed Securities (MBS) collateralized by "toxic loans," including sub-prime, Alt-A and other fraudulently originated mortgages. In addition, Mr. Rehns represented a Taft-Hartley pension fund in a securities fraud class action against SPX Corporation arising from material misrepresentations about SPX's business segments, free cash flow, and $45 million of alleged insider sales in the weeks leading up to SPX's negative disclosure. This matter was successfully litigated and resulted in a $10 million cash settlement.

Mr. Rehns has also represented classes of consumers of both manufactured and banking products who had purchased defective products or had been defrauded by unfair business practices.

Mr. Rehns earned his Juris Doctorate from New York Law School in 2005 as a Dean's List recipient. While in law school, Mr. Rehns participated in Froessel Moot Court and was a member of the New York Law School Corporate & Business Law Society. Notably, Mr. Rehns co-authored the first edition of West's Nutshell on Corporate Financial Law.

Prior to law school, Mr. Rehns received a Bachelor of Arts from Bucknell University in 2002, with a double major in Economics and Finance, and minors in Legal Studies and Philosophy. Mr. Rehns was involved in several school and philanthropic groups, including Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America and the Dean's Student Alumni Association.

Mr. Rehns is a resident of Cohen Milstein's New York office.

Bruce F. Rinaldi

Bruce Rinaldi joined the Firm in 2004 as Of Counsel and is a member of the Employee Benefits practice group.

After clerking for United States District Judge James A. Walsh in Tucson, Arizona, Mr. Rinaldi taught at the University of Arizona School of Law and was in private practice in Tucson before serving as a Special Counsel in the Office of the General Counsel at the Securities and Exchange Commission. In 1979 he joined the Special Litigation Division in the Office of the Solicitor of Labor as Supervisory Trial Attorney, where he ran the litigation of Donovan v. Fitzsimmons (N.D. Ill.), negotiating and drafting a consent decree governing the management of billions of dollars in assets of the Teamsters Central States Pension Fund, which remains in effect today. Mr. Rinaldi also conducted a four month trial of allegations of ERISA fiduciary breaches with respect to the Teamsters Central States Health and Welfare Fund in Brock v. Robbins (D.C. N.D. Ill.).

In 1985 Mr. Rinaldi became the Senior Trial Attorney in the Plan Benefits Security Division of the Department of Labor. Mr. Rinaldi litigated a wide range of major fiduciary breach cases brought by the Secretary of Labor under ERISA including the seminal case of Reich v. Valley National Bank (S.D.N.Y.), concerning fiduciary breaches in the acquisition of employer stock by an ESOP. In 1989 Mr. Rinaldi joined the Office of Thrift Supervision ("OTS") as the Associate Chief Counsel for Litigation and directed investigations and enforcement actions under the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act ("FIRREA") for fiduciary breaches arising out of failures of thrifts and savings and loan organizations. He directed all of the enforcement actions taken by the OTS against officers, directors, accountants, and attorneys associated with Lincoln Savings and Loan Association, the largest thrift failure in history. See In re American Continental Corp./Lincoln Sav. & Loan Securities Litigation (D.C. Ariz.).

In 2000, Mr. Rinaldi left the government for private practice. As the senior litigator at the McTigue Law Firm, Mr. Rinaldi was responsible as co-lead counsel for several cases, including the approved settlement of a case against the fiduciaries of the Morrison Knudson 401(k) plan; In re McKesson HBOC, Inc. ERISA Litigation (N.D. Cal.); and In re CMS Energy ERISA Litigation (E.D. Mich.).

Mr. Rinaldi earned a B.A. in Political Science from the University of California at Berkeley in 1969, after spending three years as a Peace Corps volunteer in Venezuela, and then received his law degree from the University of California at Davis (King Hall) in 1972.

Mr. Rinaldi is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and is an inactive member of the Arizona and California Bars.

Sharon K. Robertson

Sharon K. Robertson joined Cohen Milstein as an Associate in 2007 and is a member of the Antitrust practice group.

Ms. Robertson currently represents Registered Nurses employed by hospitals in Albany, Detroit and Memphis in lawsuits alleging that their employers unlawfully fixed their wages in violation of federal antitrust laws. Ms. Robertson is also working on In re Urethane Antitrust Litigation (Polyether Polyol Cases) (D. Kan.), where she represents a class of direct purchasers of several types of chemicals who allegedly were overcharged as a result of a nationwide price-fixing and market allocation conspiracy. One defendant, Bayer, already has settled for $55.3 million and is providing cooperation pursuant to its obligations under the settlement agreement.

Case No. 1:12-cv-01726 (VM)

ORDER

Having considered the papers filed in support of David Leapard, IMF Finance SA ("IMF Finance"), and Myong Hyon Yoo (collectively, "Movants") for Appointment as Lead Plaintiff and Appointment of Lead Counsel, pursuant to Section 21D(a)(3)(B) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act") as amended by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(a)(3)(B), and for good cause shown, the Court hereby enters the following Order.

I. APPOINTMENT OF LEAD PLAINTIFF AND LEAD COUNSEL

- 1. Movants have moved the Court to be appointed Lead Plaintiffs in this class action and to approve the counsel retained to be Lead Counsel.
- 2. Having considered the provisions of § 21D(a)(3)(B) of the Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(a)(3)(B), the Court hereby determines that Movants are the most adequate plaintiff and satisfies the requirements of the PSLRA. The Court hereby appoints Movants as Lead Plaintiffs to represent the interests of the class in this Action.

- 3. Pursuant to § 21D(a)(3)(B)(v) of the Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(a)(3)(B)(v), Movants have selected and retained the law firm of Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC to serve as Lead Counsel. The Court approves Movants' selection of Lead Counsel for this Action.
- 4. Lead Counsel shall have the following responsibilities and duties, to be carried out either personally or through counsel whom Lead Counsel shall designate:
  - a. to coordinate the briefing and argument of any and all motions;
  - b. to coordinate the conduct of any and all discovery proceedings;
  - c. to coordinate the examination of any and all witnesses in depositions;
  - d. to coordinate the selection of counsel to act as spokesperson at all pretrial conferences;
  - e. to call meetings of the plaintiffs' counsel as they deem necessary and appropriate from time to time;
  - f. to coordinate all settlement negotiations with counsel for defendants;
  - g. to coordinate and direct the pretrial discovery proceedings and the preparation for trial and the trial of this matter and to delegate work responsibilities to selected counsel as may be required;
  - h. to coordinate the preparation and filings of all pleadings; and
  - to supervise all other matters concerning the prosecution or resolution of the Action.

- 5. No motion, discovery request, or other pretrial proceedings shall be initiated or filed by any plaintiffs without the approval of Lead Counsel, so as to prevent duplicative pleadings or discovery by plaintiffs. No settlement negotiations shall be conducted without the approval of Lead Counsel.
- 6. Lead Counsel shall have the responsibility of receiving and disseminating Court orders and notices.
- 7. Lead Counsel shall be the contact between plaintiffs' counsel and defendants' counsel, as well as the spokespersons for all plaintiffs' counsel, and shall direct and coordinate the activities of plaintiffs' counsel. Lead Counsel shall be the contact between the Court and plaintiffs and their counsel.

IV. NEWLY-FILED OR TRANSFERRED ACTIONS

- 8. When a case that arises out of the subject matter of this Consolidated Action is hereinafter filed in this Court or transferred from another Court, the Clerk of this Court shall:
  - a. file a copy of this Order in the separate file for such action;
  - mail a copy of this Order to the attorneys for the plaintiff(s) in the newly filed or transferred case and to any new defendant(s) in the newly filed or transferred case; and
  - c. make the appropriate entry in the docket for this action.
- 9. Each new case which arises out of the subject matter of this Consolidated Action that is filed in this Court or transferred to this Court shall be consolidated with this Consolidated Action and this Order shall apply thereto, unless a party objecting to this Order or any provision of this Order shall, within ten (10) days after the date upon which a copy of this Order is served on counsel for such party, file an application for relief from this Order or any provision herein and this Court deems it appropriate to grant such application.

V. PRESERVATION OF RELEVANT DOCUMENTS

10. During the pendency of this litigation, or until further order of this Court, the parties shall take reasonable steps to preserve all documents within their possession, custody or control, including computer-generated and stored information and materials such as computerized data and electronic mail, containing information that is relevant to or which may lead to the discovery of information relevant to the subject matter of the pending litigation.

IT IS SO ORDERED

AFFIDAVIT OF FRANK C. TORCHIO

I. INTRODUCTION AND SUMMARY OF OPINIONS

- 1. I am the President of Forensic Economics, Inc. and have been retained by Siskinds LLP and Koskie Minsky LLP, Co-Counsel for Plaintiffs in this Action ("Co-Counsel"). I have previously submitted on November 30, 2011 an Affidavit in this matter regarding the number of potentially damaged shares during two proposed class periods (the "Torchio November 2011 Affidavit"). I have also previously submitted on April 2, 2012 an Affidavit in this matter regarding the efficiency of the market for Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest") common stock (the "Torchio April 2012 Affidavit"), I have attached as Exhibit "A" my updated resume since the Torchio April 2012 Affidavit.
- 2. For this Affidavit, I have been asked to provide an opinion as to the number of damaged shares and a measure of the potential aggregate dollar damages under the Ontario Securities Act ("OSA"). The claims alleged are for all investors who purchased shares of the common stock of Sino-Forest between March 19, 2007 and June 2, 2011, inclusive (the "Class Period")<sup>3</sup> that were traded: (i) in Canada on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") and other secondary markets in Canada; (ii) in the United States over-the-counter market; and (iii) in Germany on various German exchanges.<sup>4</sup> I have also been asked to provide an opinion on a

The damages calculated in this Affidavit are based on the statutory formulas 3. contained in Section 138.5(1) of the OSA. Those formulas have been used for both securities purchased in offerings or on the secondary market, although I understand that these statutory formulas only apply to Class Members' secondary market claims. I have also been asked to provide a measure of aggregate damages for Sino-Forest common stock under Section 138.5(3) of the OSA, wherein it is Defendants' burden to demonstrate, in order to reduce damages, that any potential declines in Sino-Forest's stock price are not related to the alleged misrepresentation or failure to make a timely disclosure. For Section 138.5(3) damages, I anticipate that the Defendants may argue that the Plaintiffs are entitled to damages based solely on the price movements on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011. I have been asked by Co-Counsel to assume that Defendants will be unable to demonstrate that any of the excess stock price declines on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011 are not related to the misrepresentations.<sup>5</sup> That is, I have been asked to assume that 100% of the excess stock price declines on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011 were caused by the correction of the alleged misrepresentations and/or disclosure failures. Thus, this aggregate damages measure represents the maximum potential damages based on the two-day event window in response to the alleged corrective disclosure and not necessarily the aggregate damages that might be obtained from a comprehensive loss causation analysis.

and Germany. However, without the actual trading records for these investors, I am unable to ascertain what portion of my damages estimates relate to Canadian investors on the U.S. and German exchanges.

- 4. Damaged shares are calculated using a multi-trader model. I calculate Section 138.5(1) damages of C$3,233.9 million for Sino-Forest common stock purchased during the Class Period (excluding those shares issued in the public offerings in June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009). For shares issued in the public offerings in June 2007, June 2009 and December 2009, I estimate damages, using the Section 138.5(1) formula, to be C$0.7 million, C$33.4 million and C$44.4 million, respectively.
- 5. Using a multi-trader model and 100% of the excess price declines on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011, I calculate Section 138.5(3) damages of C$2,997.5 million for Sino-Forest common stock purchased during the Class Period (excluding those issued in the public offerings in June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009). For shares issued in the public offerings in June 2007, June 2009 and December 2009, I estimate the damages, using the Section 138.5(3) formula, to be C$0.7 million, C$33.1 million, and C$42.9 million, respectively.
- 6. I estimated maximum obtainable damages for the Sino-Forest Notes of US$703.5 million. This measure is based on the difference between the par value and the 10-day average trading price following the two-day event window on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011 in response to the alleged corrective disclosure.
- 7. I also estimated maximum obtainable damages for the Sino-Forest Notes of US$1,281.2 million. This measure is based on the difference between the par value and the value of the Sino-Forest Notes measured as of May 9, 2012, the date of the auction to settle the credit derivative trades for Sino-Forest credit default swaps ("CDSs").
- 8. I have also been asked to provide the additional damages and damaged shares due to an additional damages period that runs from March 31, 2006 to March 16, 2007 (the "Additional Damages Period").<sup>6</sup> I have also been asked to separate the damages for Class Members who purchased Sino-Forest notes between those that purchased in the various Sino-Forest note offerings ("Primary Notes Damages") and those that purchased various Sino-Forest notes in the secondary market ("Secondary Notes Damages").

- 9. Detailed explanations and the bases for these opinions are provided in the sections that follow.
- 10. Counsel has directed my attention to Rule 4.1 of the Ontario Rules of Civil Procedure, which provides as follows:

RULE 4.1 DUTY OF EXPERT

DUTY OF EXPERT

- 4.1.01 (1) It is the duty of every expert engaged by or on behalf of a party to provide evidence in relation to a proceeding under these rules,
- (a) to provide opinion evidence that is fair, objective and non-partisan;
- (b) to provide opinion evidence that is related only to matters that are within the expert's area of expertise; and
- (c) to provide such additional assistance as the court may reasonably require to determine a matter in issue. O. Reg. 438/08, s. 8.

Duty Prevails

- (2) The duty in subrule (1) prevails over any obligation owed by the expert to the party by whom or on whose behalf he or she is engaged. O. Reg. 438/08, s. 8.
- 11. I have prepared this Affidavit having regard to the duty described therein.
- 12. I reserve the right to amend this Affidavit to reflect new information available to me in the discovery process, future rulings from the Court in this Action, and trial proceedings.
- 13. At this time, I have not been asked to offer any opinions related to materiality or loss causation in this Action, and I therefore have not undertaken analyses of these issues. I have not sought to determine what disclosure(s) was(were) in fact corrective of the alleged misrepresentations.<sup>7</sup> I expect to offer opinions on these issues at an appropriate time as requested by Co-Counsel. Other additional materials, beyond those cited in the Torchio November 2011 Affidavit and/or the Torchio April 2012 Affidavit, that I reviewed for this Affidavit are cited in the text of this Affidavit, Appendix A and exhibits.

II. BACKGROUND ON SINO-FOREST

14. According to its 2010 Annual Report, Sino-Forest:

... is a leading commercial forest plantation operator in China. Its principal businesses include the ownership and management of plantation forests, the sale of standing timber and wood logs and the complementary manufacturing of downstream engineered-wood products. The majority of our plantations and operations are located in southern and eastern China, primarily in inland regions suitable for large-scale replanting. Sino-Forest also holds a majority interest in Greenheart Group Limited ("Greenheart Group"), a company listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange (HKSE: 00094) involved in log harvesting, lumber processing, and marketing and sale of logs and lumber products to China and other countries.<sup>8</sup>

15. Sino-Forest described its business strategy as follows:

- 1. Locking in access to tree plantations at capped prices through long-term contractual agreements,
- 2. Selling fibre at attractive margins either as standing timber or logs,
- 3. Increasing plantation yields through advanced scientific research and development and silviculture techniques,

- 4. Developing economies of scale and diversifying revenue with geographically widespread operations, and
- 5. Maximizing the use and value of fibre through our complementary manufacturing operations. <sup>9</sup>
- 16. Sino-Forest common stock has traded on the TSX since 1995 under the symbol "TRE"<sup>10</sup> until trading ceased pursuant to an order from the Ontario Securities Commission before the market opened on August 26, 2011.<sup>11</sup> Sino-Forest also trades on German exchanges under different symbols,<sup>12</sup> as well as over-the-counter in the United States under the symbol "SNOFF."<sup>13,14</sup> According to its various SEDAR filings, Sino-Forest had approximately 138 million common shares outstanding as of December 31, 2006,<sup>15</sup> and had approximately 246 million common shares outstanding as of April 29, 2011.<sup>16</sup>

Since 2008, Sino-Forest has also traded on other Canadian exchanges based on a comparison of Bloomberg volume data for exchange codes "TRE CT" and "TRE CN." CT denotes data for TSX trading and CN denotes Canadian composite trading.

III. ASSUMPTIONS ABOUT THE CORRECTIVE DISCLOSURE

- 18. In the Amended Claim, Plaintiffs allege that the Defendants made misrepresentations throughout the Class Period.<sup>17</sup> The Plaintiffs allege that the misrepresentations relate to:
  - A. Sino's history and fraudulent origins;
  - B. Sino's forestry assets;
  - C. Sino's related party transactions;
  - D. Sino's relationships with forestry bureaus and its purported title to forestry assets in the PRC [People's Republic of China];
  - E. Sino's relationships with its "Authorized Intermediaries;"
  - F. Sino's cash flows;
  - G. Certain risks to which Sino was exposed; and
  - H. Sino's compliance with GAAP and the Auditors' compliance with GAAS. 18
- 19. The Plaintiffs allege that these misrepresentations were corrected when a research firm, Muddy Waters Research ("Muddy Waters"), issued a report on Sino-Forest on June 2, 2011. The June 2, 2011 Muddy Waters report stated:

Sino-Forest Corp (TSE: TRE) is the granddaddy of China RTO [reverse takeover] frauds. It has always been a fraud – reporting excellent results from one of its early joint ventures – even though, because of TRE's default on its investment obligations, the JV never went into operation. TRE just lied.

The foundation of TRE's fraud is a convoluted structure whereby it claims to run most of its revenues through "authorized intermediaries" ("AI"). AIs are supposedly timber trader customers who purportedly pay much of TRE's value added and income taxes. At the same time, these AIs allow TRE a gross margin of 55% on standing timber merely for TRE having speculated on trees. The sole purpose of this structure is to fabricate sales transactions while having an excuse for not having the VAT invoices that are the mainstay of China audit work. If TRE really were processing over one billion dollars in sales through AIs, TRE and the AIs would be in serious legal trouble. No legitimate public company would take such risks – particularly because this structure has zero upside. ...

On the other side of the books, TRE massively exaggerates its assets. TRE significantly falsifies its investments in plantation fiber (trees). It purports to have purchased $2.891 billion in standing timber under master agreements since 2006. We have smoking gun evidence from Yunnan province that it overstated its purchases there by over $800 million. Of the five agents we have been able to identify (TRE does not provide Chinese names), Yunnan appears to have the only legitimate agent. The other agents have histories and connections to TRE that make it obvious they did not purchase billions of dollars in timber for TRE. Further, the other agents appear to be laundering money for TRE – moving large amounts of money to an undisclosed subsidiary of TRE and a trading company that TRE does business with. We also see clear evidence that TRE has falsified its books – Chinese government records make clear that TRE would have had a capital hole of $377 million to $922 million if it were making the investments it claims....

Because TRE has $2.1 billion in debt outstanding, which we believe exceeds the potential recovery, we value its equity at less than $1.00 per share.<sup>20</sup>

20. The Plaintiffs allege that, after the release of the June 2, 2011 Muddy Waters report, the stock price of Sino-Forest dropped on June 2, 2011 before a trading halt, and dropped even

IV. AGGREGATE COMMON STOCK DAMAGES

A. Overview of Methodology for Estimating Common Stock Damages

- 21. Damaged shares are generally characterized as shares purchased during the Class Period that are held by the investor until after the date of a stock price decline caused by a correction of a prior misrepresentation. Trading volume cannot be directly used to compute damaged shares because trading volume will also include the turnover of shares purchased in a class period. For example, 10 shares of stock purchased in a class period may create 25 shares of trading volume because those shares turn over (i.e., are purchased and then sold to another investor) during a class period.<sup>22</sup> But, in this example, only 10 shares would be damaged (using a single corrective disclosure) because that is the total number of shares that were purchased and held by some investor until after the operative price decline. So, regardless of how many times each of the ten shares turned over before that price decline, only ten shares are retained and therefore potentially damaged as defined above.
- 22. Because damages experts generally do not have access to all the trading records of investors during a class period, the number of damaged shares is estimated from total trading volume by use of a mathematical model called a "trading model." The trading model uses certain algorithms and statistical analyses to separate traded volume into shares that were purchased during the Class Period and held through the end of the Class Period (the "retained" volume) from those that were purchased during the Class Period and sold before the end of the Class Period (the "in-and-out" volume).

23. I next provide a brief overview of trading models, followed by the methodology I used to compute aggregate damages.

B. Trading Models

- 24. Trading models are mathematical models that estimate the portion of total trading volume during the relevant period that is retained and the portion of trading volume that represents the turnover of those retained shares.<sup>23</sup>
- 25. The most commonly used trading model has been the proportional trading model, which contains a proportionality assumption about trading turnover or trading propensities.<sup>24</sup> The proportional trading model assumes that the probability of turnover for any traded share is the same as other shares in the float, where float is generally defined as the portion of total shares outstanding that were available to have been traded.
- 26. The proportional trading model can be explained by a simple example of a three-day period for Company A, which has a total float of 1,000 shares. Assume the trading volume equals 100 shares on Day 1, 300 on Day 2, and 200 shares on Day 3. Thus, investors who held before the three-day period sold 100 shares on Day 1. On Day 2, trading volume is 300 shares, which implies that the average probability of any share in the float trading on day 2 is 30 percent (300 divided by the 1,000 share float). Thus, 30 out of the 100 shares sold on Day 1 are traded or turned over on Day 2, leaving 70 shares that did not turn over. Based on trading volume of 200 shares on Day 3, the probability of any share trading is 20 percent. Thus, 14 of the 70 shares (20%) from Day 1 that did not trade on Day 2 are sold on Day 3 and 60 of the 300 shares (20%) from Day 2 turned over on Day 3. Thus, based on the proportional trading model, 104 shares out of the total volume of 600 shares in the three-day period result from the turnover of shares during the period (44 sold on Day 1 and sold again on Days 2 and 3 and 60 shares sold on Day 2 are sold again on Day 3). 496 (600 minus 104) of the volume, therefore, represents the portion of the 1,000 share float that were purchased during the period and still held after the three-day period. Additionally, 504 of the 1,000 share float held at the beginning of the three-day period are still held at the end of the three-day period.

27. Since the 1990s, the proportionality assumption has received criticism. The critics of the proportional trading model have characterized the proportionality assumption as an assumption that all investors have exactly the same propensity to trade or, alternatively, the same turnover rate. To respond to the criticism that the proportional model is not appropriate if there are investors with differing turnover rates, I have used a multi-trader model to compute damaged share volume and turnover volume for Sino-Forest.<sup>25</sup>

28. Multi-trader models are similar to the proportional trading model, except that multi-trader models are not restricted by the proportionality assumption discussed earlier. Rather, multi-trader models allow the specification of differing turnover rates for investors.

i) Volume

29. The first step in developing inputs for a trading model is to determine investor volume. Reported volume may overstate the investor volume by the class because it includes trades by specialists on the NYSE<sup>26</sup> or the TSX,<sup>27</sup> or market makers on NASDAQ, or other middlemen who buy from one investor and sell to another. Therefore, an adjustment to reported

<sup>26</sup> During the Class Period, NYSE switched to a designated market maker system. See "NYSE Completes Rollout of Phase I of the Next-Generation Market Model to all its Securities," NYSE Euronext press release date November 13, 2008; "The Next Generation Model," NYSE Euronext, 2008; and "Designated Market Makers," 2009, NYSE Euronext. Source: www.nyse.com.

<sup>27</sup> In Canada, Sino-Forest common stock traded primarily on the TSX, which uses a market maker system. The TSX describes on its website the role of the market maker (http://www.tmx.com/en/trading/products_services/market_system.html):

The role of the Market Maker on Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) is to augment liquidity, while maintaining the primacy of an order driven continuous auction market based on price-time priority. TSX's Market Maker system maximizes market efficiency and removes the interfering influence of a traditional specialist. In the TSX environment, a Market Maker manages market liquidity through a passive role. Market Makers are visible only when necessary to provide a positive influence when natural market forces cannot provide sufficient liquidity.

volume is used to remove these trades. Published research suggests suitable corrections can be accomplished by reducing NYSE reported volume or reducing NASDAQ volume.<sup>28</sup>

- 30. For Sino-Forest, reported volume on the Canadian exchanges is reduced based on the NYSE monthly average specialist participation rate, which ranged from 2.5% to 10.2% during the Class Period.<sup>29</sup> I have also used the same adjustments for shares traded on various German exchanges. For shares traded over-the-counter in the U.S, I reduced reported volume by 27.4%. The over-the-counter market employs a market maker system similar to NASDAQ,<sup>30</sup> so I used a NASDAQ adjustment.<sup>31</sup>
- 31. Next, to calculate investor purchase volume, I added shares issued by Sino-Forest in various offerings and I subtracted Sino-Forest insider stock purchases from volume (after accounting for market makers and specialists). To calculate investor sales volume, I subtracted Sino-Forest insider stock sales from volume (after accounting for market makers and specialists).<sup>34</sup> Attached as Exhibit "D" is a table of reported and adjusted volume used in the multi-trader model for the Class Period.

32. After adjusting the total reported volume to remove market maker/specialist trades and insider purchases, as well as adding shares issued by Sino-Forest during the Class Period, I calculate that approximately 1.27 billion shares were purchased by investors and approximately 1.19 billion shares were sold by investors during the Class Period.

ii) Float

33. The next step in developing the inputs required for a trading model is to estimate float. Float, which is defined as the number of shares that were available for trading and potentially damaged during the Class Period, was estimated by deducting from total shares outstanding shares that can be independently determined to have not been traded in the Class Period and generally include: (i) shares held by insiders (Directors and Officers)<sup>35</sup> and (ii) shares held by institutional investors determined to have been purchased before the beginning of the Class Period and held throughout the Class Period on a quarterly basis.<sup>36,37</sup> Exhibit "E" shows the daily float for Sino-Forest.

iii) Trading Groups

- 34. I used a multi-trader model to estimate the timing of purchases and sales. A multi-trader model divides the defined float into groups shares held by traders with higher turnover rates ("active traders") and shares held by traders with lower turnover rates ("passive traders"). Daily trading volume is then apportioned across the trader groups. The fraction of daily volume that is attributed to each trader group is determined by the fraction of the float that is owned by traders in each group and their relative propensity to trade. The relative propensity to trade measures how often a share of one investor group will turn over compared to another investor group.
- 35. Given the assumptions about the fraction of total float held by each trader group, and the fraction of total volume attributed to each group, the multi-trader model calculates the number of the retained shares and the in-and-out shares over the Class Period.
- 36. To determine the fraction of the float held by each trader group, and the relative trading turnover, I used annual turnover rates for investors in the float that encompass relative turnovers rates of up to 201.<sup>38</sup> Put another way, the trading model assumes that the most active trader turns over shares 201 times more than the most passive trader. This range encompasses reasonable estimates of relative turnover rates.<sup>39</sup>
- 37. Rather than subjectively assigning amounts of total float to relative turnover rates evenly, I have relied on generally accepted statistical properties of large samples of data.

Specifically, it is reasonable and objective to assume that the statistical distribution for the turnover rates for Sino-Forest retail investors can be described by a bell-shaped normal distribution.<sup>40</sup> This is a common assumption used in mathematics based on the statistical properties of large samples, which applies to the case here in which large amounts of Sino-Forest shares<sup>41</sup> were traded daily by hundreds, if not thousands of investors.<sup>42</sup> I created 51 trader groups.

38. Because of the potential presence of day traders for Sino-Forest during the Class Period, I have estimated that 15% of reported volume is attributable to intraday turnover of Sino-Forest shares.<sup>43</sup> This parameter effectively eliminates from the distribution of investor turnover discussed above those investors who have extremely high turnover, which is generally associated with day traders.

which a sampling distribution approaches the normal form. Many sampling distributions based on large n can be approximated by the normal distribution even though the population distribution itself is definitely not normal. This is the extremely important principle that we will call the central limit theorem. The normal distribution is the limiting form for large n for a very large variety of sampling distributions. This is one of the most remarkable and useful principles to come out of theoretical statistics." Robert L. Winkler and William L. Hays, Statistics Probability, Inference and Decision, Second Edition, Holt Rinehart and Winston, 1975, p. 245. According to the central limit theorem and the law of large numbers, if a finite sample is a random sample from any probability with a finite mean and finite variance, the sample's average approximately follows a normal distribution. #### C. Results

i) Trading Model

39. Exhibit "F" shows sales of total investor purchase volume separated out as in-and-out shares and retained shares (those sold between June 3, 2011 and August 25, 2011, the last trading day in Canada for Sino-Forest common stock before trading ceased pursuant to an order from the Ontario Securities Commission, and those still held at the close of trading on August 25, 2011). Based on the multi-trader model, approximately 1,048.5 million shares were in-and-out and approximately 225.1 million shares were retained (i.e., purchased during the Class Period, and still held after trading was halted on June 2, 2011, the last day of the Class Period).<sup>44</sup>

ii) Damages under OSA Section 138.5(1)

- 40. I calculate damages for Sino-Forest common stock in accordance with the formulas set forth in Section 138.5(1) of the OSA, which requires a calculation of the number of shares purchased during the Class Period and then sold on each day on or after June 2, 2011, the date of the alleged corrective disclosure through August 25, 2011, the last trading day in Canada for Sino-Forest common stock before trading ceased pursuant to an order from the Ontario Securities Commission.
- 41. For shares purchased during the Class Period and sold between June 2, 2011 and June 16, 2011, Section 138.5(1) damages are calculated as the difference between the purchase price and the sale price.<sup>45</sup> For shares purchased during the Class Period and sold after June 16,

2011 (the tenth trading day following the two-day event window of June 2, 2011 to June 3, 2011), Section 138.5(1) damages are calculated as the lesser of: (i) the purchase price minus the sale price; and (ii) the purchase price minus the C$4.49 per share average closing price from June 3, 2011 through June 16, 2011.

- 42. Based on the trading model methodology discussed previously, and the damages methodology described above, I calculate Section 138.5(1) damages of C$3,233.9 million for shares purchased during the Class Period (excluding those issued in public offerings in June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009) and not sold prior to June 2, 2011, the date of the alleged corrective disclosure. Of this C$3,233.9 million, C$3,056.2 million are from shares purchased on various Canadian exchanges, C$174.4 million are for shares purchased over-the-counter in the U.S., and C$3.2 million are for shares purchased on German exchanges. GE Exhibits "G-1" and "G-2" for a summary of Section 138.5(1) damages.
- 43. I have also been asked to estimate damages using the Section 138.5(1) formula to Sino-Forest investors who received shares in various offerings of common shares throughout the Class Period pursuant to Section 130 of the OSA.<sup>48</sup> During the Class Period, Sino-Forest issued for any commissions paid. To the extent that there were any hedging or other risk limitation transactions, they would lower the damages estimate by the gains from the risk limiting transactions common shares in June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009. Using the trading model described above, I estimate how many shares issued in an offering were still held as of the alleged corrective disclosure on June 2, 2011, and therefore damaged. For the shares offered in June 2007, I estimate the damages to be C$0.7 million. For the shares offered in June 2009, I estimate the damages to be C$33.4 million. For the shares issued in December 2009, I estimate the damages to be C$44.4 million. See Exhibit "G-1." Exhibit "F" also shows the damaged shares and the damages under Section 138.5(1) as computed by the multi-trader model.

&lt;sup>46</sup> It is my understanding that only shares purchased in the U.S. and/or Germany by a Canadian investor have recognizable claims in this matter. Because I do not have the individual level transaction data, I cannot estimate what portion of the damages from the U.S. and/or German exchanges have a recognizable claim in this matter.

iii) Damages under OSA Section 138.5(3)

- 44. I have also been asked to calculate damages under Section 138.5(3) wherein "...damages shall not include any amount that the defendant proves is attributable to a change in the market price of securities that is unrelated to the misrepresentation or the failure to make timely disclosure." I anticipate that the Defendants may argue that the Plaintiffs are entitled to damages based solely on the price movements on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011. The following Section 138.5(3) damage estimates would be the result of a successful argument by Defendants that the damages are limited to the price declines on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011.
- 45. In order to estimate Section 138.5(3) damages, I have been asked to assume that the artificial inflation is based on 100% of the excess price movements on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011, the two-day event window following the alleged corrective disclosure. Thus, this aggregate damages measure represents the potential damages based on the two-day event window following the alleged corrective disclosure and not necessarily the aggregate damages that might be obtained from a comprehensive loss causation analysis. Using the market model from the Torchio April 2012 Affidavit, I compute the excess (net of market and industry) price declines on these two dates, which I use to compute Section 138.5(3) damages. The excess price movements in Sino-Forest common stock on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011 are detailed in Exhibit "H."

- 46. I estimate Section 138.5(3) damages based on 100% of the excess stock price declines on June 2, 2011 and June 3, 2011 using the Constant Percentage method of determining artificial inflation. See Appendix A for a description of the Constant Percentage method.
- 47. I estimate damages for the shares purchased during the Class Period and sold on or after June 2, 2011, the first alleged corrective disclosure, as follows. For shares purchased during the Class Period and sold on June 2, 2011, Section 138.5(3) damages are calculated as the lesser of: (i) artificial inflation at purchase less the artificial inflation remaining in Sino-Forest common stock on June 2, 2011; and (ii) the difference between the purchase price and the sale price. For shares purchased during the Class Period (excluding shares acquired in an offering) and sold between June 3, 2011 and June 16, 2011 (the tenth trading day following the two-day event window of June 2, 2011 to June 3, 2011), Section 138.5(3) damages are calculated as the lesser of: (i) the artificial inflation at purchase; and (ii) the difference between the purchase price and the sale price. For shares purchased during the Class Period and sold after June 16, 2011, Section 138.5(3) damages are calculated as the lesser of: (i) the artificial inflation at purchase; (ii) the purchase price minus the sale price; and (iii) the purchase price minus the C$4.49 per share average closing price from June 3, 2011 through June 16, 2011.

&lt;sup>50</sup> Since individual level transaction data are not available to me, my estimate of damages does not account for any hedging or other risk limitation transactions. It also does not account for any commissions paid. To the extent that there were any hedging or other risk limitation transactions, they would lower the damages estimate by the gains from the risk limiting transactions.

- 48. Based on the trading model methodology discussed previously, and the damages methodology described above, I calculate Section 138.5(3) damages of C$2,997.5 million for shares purchased during the Class Period (excluding those issued in public offerings in June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009) and not sold prior to June 2, 2011, the date of the alleged corrective disclosure. Of this C$2,997.5 million, C$2,832.7 million are from shares purchased on various Canadian exchanges, C$161.9 million are for shares purchased over-the-counter in the U.S., and C$3.0 million are for shares purchased on German exchanges. See Exhibits "I-1" and "I-2" for a summary of Section 138.5(3) damages.<sup>51</sup>
- 49. I have also been asked to estimate damages, using the Section 138.5(3) formula, to Sino-Forest investors who received shares in various offerings of common shares throughout the Class Period pursuant to Section 130 of the OSA. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest issued common shares in June 2007, June 2009, and December 2009. Using the trading model described above, I estimate how many shares issued in an offering were still held as of the alleged corrective disclosure on June 2, 2011, and therefore damaged. For the shares offered in June 2007, I estimate the damages to be C$0.7 million. For the shares offered in June 2009, I estimate the damages to be C$33.1 million. For the shares issued in December 2009, I estimate the damages to be C$42.9 million. See Exhibit "I-1."
- 50. Exhibit "J" shows the daily damaged shares and the daily damages under Section 138.5(3) as computed by the multi-trader model.

V. DAMAGES TO SINO-FOREST NOTEHOLDERS

51. During the Class Period, Sino-Forest had five notes outstanding with a total amount issued of US$2.10 billion as detailed in the table below.

|----------------------------------------------|--------------------|----------------------|
| 9.125% Guaranteed Senior Notes <sup>53</sup> | 8/10/2004          | US$300,000,000      |
| 5% Convertible Senior Notes <sup>54</sup>    | 7/17/2008          | US$345,000,000      |
| 10.25% Guaranteed Senior Notes <sup>55</sup> | 7/27/2009          | US$399,517,000      |
| 4.25% Convertible Senior Notes <sup>56</sup> | 12/10/2009         | US$460,000,000      |
| 6.25% Guaranteed Senior Notes <sup>57</sup>  | 10/14/2010         | US$600,000,000      |

52. I computed damages using two different methods for four of the five notes.<sup>58</sup> First, I estimated damages based on a Section 138.5(1) measure of damages. Second, at the request of

&lt;sup>58</sup> For the 9.125% Guaranteed Senior Notes, in the Torchio November 2011 Affidavit, I estimated maximum obtainable damages of US$3.2 million based upon the face amount of US$87.7 million of notes remaining (after the exchange of US$213.3 million for new notes on July 27, 2009) that were sold between the assumed corrective disclosure date of June 2, 2011 and the August 17, 2011 maturity date of the notes. See Torchio November 2011 Affidavit, pp. 17-19 for details on the computation of estimated damages. I have not been asked to update my damages analysis for this note. I note that, without all of the transaction detail in the 9.125% Guaranteed Senior Notes, I am unable to ascertain what notes were purchased before the start of the Class Period compared with those purchased during the Class Period.

Co-Counsel, I estimated damages based on the value of the notes on May 9, 2012, the date of the auction to settle the credit derivative trades for Sino-Forest CDSs.

- 53. For the first method, based on a Section 138.5(1) measure of damages, I assumed that the measure of damages should be the difference between the assumed price paid for the notes (par price) and the 10-day average trading price following the two-day event window of June 2, 2011 to June 3, 2011.<sup>59</sup> Under this method, a measure of total maximum obtainable damages for the four notes currently outstanding is US$703.5 million.<sup>60</sup> See Exhibit "K."
- 54. For the second method, I have been asked by Co-Counsel to use the value of the four outstanding notes as of May 9, 2012, the date of the auction to settle the credit derivative trades for Sino-Forest credit default swaps, <sup>61</sup> to compute total damages for the four notes

... it has reached agreement with an ad hoc committee of its noteholders (the "Ad Hoc Committee") on the material terms of a transaction (the "Transaction") which would involve either a sale of the Company to a third party or a restructuring under which the noteholders would acquire substantially all of the assets of the Company, including the shares of all of its direct subsidiaries which own, directly or indirectly, all of the business operations of the Company. The Ad Hoc Committee represents a significant portion of the holders of the Company's 5% Convertible Senior Notes due 2013, 10.25% Guaranteed Senior Notes due 2014. 4.25% Convertible Senior Notes due 2016 and 6.25% Guaranteed Senior Notes due 2017 (collectively, the "Notes" and holders of Notes, the "Noteholders"). The Company is initiating proceedings today in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (the "Court") under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") seeking approval for a Court supervised restructuring process to implement of the notes on May 9, 2012. The auction to settle the CDSs set a final price of 29% of the face amount for the notes. Therefore, I computed the value of the notes as 29% multiplied by the face amount of each note outstanding.<sup>62</sup> Under this method, a measure of total maximum obtainable damages for the four notes currently outstanding is US$1,281.2 million.<sup>63</sup> See Exhibit "L."

VI. ADDITIONAL DAMAGE CALCULATIONS

A. Additional Damages Period

55. Based on the methodology described above, I have also calculated damages under Sections 138.5(1) and 138.5(3) of the OSA for the Additional Damages Period. Thus, I provide the additional damages for shares purchased from March 31, 2006 through March 16, 2007, the

On April 10, 2012, the International Swap Dealers Association announced that: "... its Asia Ex-Japan Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee resolved that a Bankruptcy Credit Event occurred in respect of Sino-Forest Corporation. The Committee determined that an auction will be held in respect of outstanding CDS transactions." last trading day before the start of the Class Period. I find additional damages of C$644,200 for 194,036 damaged shares under both Section 138.5(1) and Section 138.5(3).

B. Note Purchaser Damages: Primary vs. Secondary Market Damages

Notes of US$703.5 million. This measure is based on the difference between the par value and the 10-day average trading price following the end of the Class Period. Co-Counsel has also asked that I separate the estimated damages of US$703.5 million for Sino-Forest note holders into those note holders that purchased Sino-Forest notes in the initial offerings and those that acquired Sino-Forest notes in the secondary market. In order to separate the estimated damages between the two groups of damaged investors, I use a proportional trading model as described in the Torchio November 2011 Affidavit. I assume that turnover for the notes was 4% per month. Based on a turnover of 4%, I estimate Primary Notes Damages for note holders who purchased notes in the initial offering of Sino-Forest notes to be US$357.1 million, and Secondary Notes Damages for note holders who purchased notes in the secondary market to be US$346.4 million.

Sino-Forest Primary and Secondary Market Bond Damages

|---------------------------------------|---------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 10.25% Guaranteed Senior Notes (144A) | $56,361,979              | $82,000,746                |
| 6.25% Guaranteed Senior Notes (144A)  | $183,824,493             | $70,995,507                |
| 5.00% Convertible Senior Notes (144A) | $31,867,700              | $101,134,113               |
| 4.25% Convertible Senior Notes (144A) | $85,050,817              | $92,284,933                |
| TOTAL                                 | $357,104,988             | $346,415,299               |
