NOTICE OF MOTION (returnable February 4, 2013)

TAKE NOTICE that the Ad Hoc Committee of Purchasers of the Applicant's Securities, including the plaintiffs in the action commenced against Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest") in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, bearing (Toronto) Court File No. CV-11-431153-00CP (the "Ontario Plaintiffs" and the "Ontario Class Action", respectively), will make a motion to a Judge of the Commercial List on February 4, 2013 at 10:00 a.m., 330 University Avenue, 8th Floor, Toronto, Ontario, or at such other time and place as the Court may direct.

PROPOSED METHOD OF HEARING: The motion is to be heard orally.

THE MOTION IS FOR:

- (a) an order, in the form attached as Schedule "A" to this notice of motion,
  - (i) if necessary, validating and abridging the time for service and filing of this motion and motion record, and dispensing with any further service thereof;
  - (ii) appointing the Ontario Plaintiffs as representatives on behalf of the Securities Claimants as defined in the draft order;
  - (iii) declaring that the Ernst & Young Settlement (as defined in the Plan of Compromise and Reorganization of the Applicant under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act dated December 3, 2012 (the "Plan") and as provided for in section 11.1 of the Plan, such Plan having been approved by this Honourable Court by Order dated December 10, 2012) is fair and reasonable in all the circumstances and for the purposes of both proceedings;
  - (iv) approving the Ernst & Young Settlement and the Ernst & Young Release (as defined in the Plan) for all purposes and implementing them in accordance with their terms;

- (v) establishing a settlement trust for the purposes of the Ernst & Young Settlement and irrevocably channeling all Ernst & Young Claims (as defined in the Plan) to the settlement trust in accordance with the terms of the order;
- (vi) directing that the entire Settlement Amount (net of class counsel fees, disbursements and taxes, including, without limitation, notice and administration costs and payments to Claims Funding International) shall be distributed to and for the benefit of the Securities Claimants for their claims against Ernst & Young; and
- (vii) requesting the recognition of the courts and other bodies in Canada or the United States to give effect to the order;
- (b) an order for the preservation and production of certain documents in the power, possession or control of Ernst & Young LLP; and
- (c) Such further and other relief as this Honourable Court deems just.

THE GROUNDS FOR THE MOTION ARE:

- (a) On July 20, 2012, the Ontario Plaintiffs commenced the Ontario Action against Sino-Forest, Ernst & Young LLP and other defendants;
- (b) Guining Liu (the "Quebec Plaintiff") brought a similar class proceeding against Sino-Forest, Ernst & Young LLP and other defendants in Quebec;
- (c) David Leapard and others (the "New York Plaintiffs") have brought a proceeding in the United States New York Southern District Court against Sino-Forest, Ernst & Young LLP and other defendants;
- (d) the Ontario Plaintiffs allege that the defendants made misrepresentations in Sino-Forest's public filings, including its financial statements and offering documents;

- 4 - 11

(e) the Ontario Plaintiffs allege that Ernst & Young LLP misrepresented that (a) Sino-Forest's 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 annual financial statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; and (b) Ernst & Young LLP had conducted its 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 audits of Sino-Forest in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards;

- (f) Ernst & Young LLP denies these allegations;
- (g) On March 30, 2012, Sino-Forest filed for protection from its creditors pursuant to the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA");
- (h) On May 8, 2012, the CCAA Court stayed the class actions against the third party defendants, including Ernst & Young LLP, to allow all stakeholders to focus on Sino-Forest's restructuring;
- (i) On May 14, 2012, the CCAA Court issued a claims procedure order, which required any person with a claim against Sino-Forest Corporation, its directors or officers, or its subsidiaries to file proofs of claim and permitted the Ontario Plaintiffs to file a proof of claim on behalf of the entire class;
- (j) Ernst & Young LLP filed two proofs of claim on June 20, 2012. Its proofs of claims stated that Ernst & Young LLP had claims against Sino-Forest, its directors and officers and 136 subsidiaries. These claims included contractual indemnities from the subsidiaries;
- (k) On July 25, 2012, the CCAA Court ordered that the Parties (as defined in that order) participate in mediation, including the Ontario Plaintiffs and Ernst & Young LLP;
- (l) An early draft of the Plan was first filed with the CCAA court on August 14, 2012. There have been amendments to the Plan since then, but the Plan has always provided for releases for Sino-Forest subsidiaries and certain of Sino-Forest directors and officers, who are third parties to the Plan. The releases of these subsidiaries was considered necessary to the restructuring of Sino-Forest;

- 5 - 12

- (m) The court-ordered mediation amongst all Parties proceeded in September, but did not result in a settlement at that time;
- (n) The Ontario Plaintiffs and Ernst & Young continued settlement discussions, including bi-lateral mediation in late November, 2012;
- (o) Continued discussions to resolve the issues of the various stakeholders was encouraged by the CCAA Court;
- (p) Until late November 2012, Ernst & Young LLP maintained its opposition to releases for the subsidiaries as the subsidiaries were neither debtors in the CCAA proceedings nor resident in Canada. Ernst & Young LLP had claims against the subsidiaries and it would challenge the fairness or legal basis of any Plan that provided for such releases;
- (q) On November 29, 2012, the Ontario Plaintiffs, the Quebec Plaintiff and Ernst & Young LLP, on behalf of itself, Ernst & Young Global Limited and all member firms thereof (collectively "Ernst & Young"), entered into Minutes of Settlement in order to resolve claims against Ernst & Young relating to Sino-Forest, its affiliates and subsidiaries;
- (r) Following the execution of the Minutes of Settlement, Ernst & Young negotiated the inclusion of the mechanics for and framework of the Ernst & Young Settlement and the Ernst & Young Release in the Plan;
- (s) In return, Ernst & Young agreed to abandon all objections to and support the Plan and the CCAA restructuring including the release of the subsidiaries, and agreed to forego any distributions under the Plan;

- 6 - 13

- (t) The Ernst & Young Settlement provided the framework for settlements with other defendant (as set out in Article 11.2 of the Plan), which in part led other stakeholders of Sino-Forest to support the Plan;
- (u) This support meant that the Plan was unopposed by stakeholders who had participated to December 2012 in the CCAA Proceedings and materially contributed to Sino-Forest being able to meet its intended January 15, 2013 Plan Implementation Date (as defined in the Plan);
- (v) On December 3, 2012, the creditors of Sino-Forest, including Ernst & Young, overwhelmingly voted in favour of the Plan, which incorporated a framework for the implementation of the Ernst & Young Settlement;
- (w) On December 10, 2012, the court approved the Plan;
- (x) The Ernst & Young Settlement provides that Ernst & Young shall pay CDN $117 million (the "Settlement Amount") in exchange, among other things, for a comprehensive release of claims against Ernst & Young in respect of Sino-Forest;
- (y) The settlement is fair, reasonable and in the best interests of Securities Claimants, particularly in light of the inherent risks, costs and delay associated with continued litigation;
- (z) The settlement is fair and reasonable in all of the circumstances of these CCAA Proceedings;
- (aa) The Ontario Plaintiffs and the Quebec Plaintiffs support the approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement;
- (bb) Counsel for the Ad Hoc Committee of Purchasers of the Applicant's Securities support the approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement and do so on the basis of
  - (i) extensive investigations in Canada, Hong Kong and China;

- 7 - 14

- (ii) input from accounting experts and legal experts in China;
- (iii) reviews of public documents;
- (iv) the Ontario Securities Commission proceedings against Sino-Forest and Ernst & Young LLP including the allegations in those proceedings;
- (v) reviews of non-public documents provided by Sino-Forest relating to Ernst & Young LLP's audits;
- (vi) Ernst & Young LLP's responsive insurance policies;
- (vii) the risks relating to recovery in the class actions from Ernst & Young LLP, including risks in establishing liability and the severe limits on recoverable damages for statutory claims. In essence, while damages may be in the billions of dollars, recovery against Ernst & Young may be less than the Settlement Amount if certain of Ernst & Young's defences and arguments are successful at trial; and
- (viii) the practical likelihood of recovery from Ernst & Young LLP even if a large judgment were made.
- (cc) Based on information available in the public domain, the Settlement Amount would be the largest settlement paid by a Canadian auditing firm in a securities class action lawsuit;
- (dd) the Class Proceedings Act, 1992, S.O. 1992, c. 6;
- (ee) the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act;
- (ff) the Rules of Civil Procedure; and
- (gg) such further grounds as counsel may advise and this Honourable Court may consider.

- 8 - 15

THE FOLLOWING DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE will be used at the hearing of the motion:

- (a) Affidavit of Charles Wright sworn January 10, 2013;
- (b) Affidavit of Joseph Redshaw sworn January 10, 2013;
- (c) Affidavit of Serge Kolloghlian sworn January 10, 2013;
- (d) Affidavit of Adam Pritchard sworn January 9, 2013;
- (e) Affidavit of Frank Torchio sworn January 11, 2013; and
- (f) such further or other material as counsel may advise and this Honourable Court may permit.

The Monitor shall thereafter file the Monitor's Ernst & Young Settlement Certificate with the Court.
- 12. THIS COURT ORDERS that pursuant to the provisions of section 11.1(b) of the Plan, on the Ernst & Young Settlement Date,
  - a. all Ernst & Young Claims, including but not limited to the claims of the Securities Claimants, shall be fully, finally, irrevocably and forever compromised, released, discharged, cancelled, barred and deemed satisfied and extinguished as against Ernst & Young in accordance with section 11.1(b) of the Plan;

Young in accordance with paragraph 12(a) of this order, regardless of whether the Claims and Distribution Protocol is finalized as at the Ernst & Young Settlement Date;

- e. all Class Actions, as defined in the Plan, including the Ontario Class Action shall be permanently stayed as against Ernst & Young; and

- 13. THIS COURT ORDERS that on the Ernst & Young Settlement Date, any and all claims which Ernst & Young may have had against any other defendant in the Ontario Class Action, or against any other defendant in any Class Actions in a jurisdiction in which this order has been recognized by a court of competent jurisdiction, any other defendant's insurers or any other Persons who may claim over against the other defendants or the other defendants' insurers, in respect of contribution, indemnity or other claims over which relate to the allegations made in the Class Actions, are hereby fully, finally, irrevocably and forever compromised, released, discharged, cancelled, barred and deemed satisfied and extinguished (save and except for those claims in the Ontario Class Action as against Poyry Beijing Consulting Company Limited which were dealt with in the Order of Justice Perell J. dated September 25, 2012 in the Ontario Class Action).
- 14. THIS COURT ORDERS that nothing in this order shall fetter the discretion of any court to determine Ernst & Young's Proportionate Liability at the trial or other disposition of an action for the purposes of paragraph 12(c) above, whether or not Ernst & Young appears at the trial or other disposition (which Ernst & Young has no obligation to do) and Ernst & Young's Proportionate Liability shall be determined as if Ernst & Young were a party to the action and any determination by the court in respect of Ernst & Young's Proportionate Liability shall only apply in that action to the proportionate liability of the remaining defendants in those proceedings and shall not be binding on Ernst & Young for any purpose whatsoever and shall not constitute a finding against Ernst & Young for any purpose in any other proceeding.

- 7 - 24

15. THIS COURT ORDERS that the Ontario Plaintiffs shall incur and pay notice and administration costs that are incurred in advance of the Ernst & Young Settlement Date, as a result of an order of this Honourable Court, up to a maximum of the first $200,000 thereof (the "Initial Plaintiffs' Costs"), which costs are to be immediately reimbursed from the Settlement Fund after the Ernst & Young Settlement Date. Ernst & Young shall incur and pay such notice and administration costs which are incurred in advance of the Ernst & Young Settlement Date, as a result of an order of this Honourable Court, over and above the Initial Plaintiffs' Costs up to a maximum of a further $200,000 (the "Initial Ernst & Young Costs"). Should any costs in excess of the cumulative amount of the Initial Plaintiffs' Costs and the Initial Ernst & Young Costs, being a total of $400,000, in respect of notice and administration as ordered by this Honourable Court be incurred prior to the Ernst & Young Settlement Date, such amounts are to be borne equally between the Ontario Plaintiffs and Ernst & Young. All amounts paid by the Ontario Plaintiffs and Ernst & Young as provided herein are to be deducted from or reimbursed from the Settlement Fund after the Ernst & Young Settlement Date. Should the settlement not proceed, the Ontario Plaintiffs and Ernst & Young shall each bear their respective costs paid to that time.

Establishment of the Settlement Trust

- 16. THIS COURT ORDERS that a trust (the "Settlement Trust") shall be established under which a claims administrator, to be appointed by CCAA Representative Counsel with the consent of the Monitor or with approval of the court, shall be the trustee for the purpose of holding and distributing the Settlement Fund and administering the Settlement Trust.
- 17. THIS COURT ORDERS that after payment of class counsel fees, disbursements and taxes (including, without limitation, notice and administration costs and payments to Claims Funding International) and upon the approval of a Claims and Distribution Protocol, defined below, the entire balance of the Settlement Fund shall, subject to paragraph 18 below, be distributed to or for the benefit of the Securities Claimants for their claims against Ernst & Young, in accordance with a process for allocation and distribution among Securities Claimants, such process to be established by CCAA Representative Counsel and approved by further order of this court (the "Claims and Distribution Protocol").

- 8 - 25

- 18. Notwithstanding paragraph 17 above, the following Securities Claimants shall not be entitled to any allocation or distribution of the Settlement Fund: any Person or entity that is as at the date of this order a named defendant to any of the Class Actions (as defined in the Plan) and their past and present subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors, senior employees, partners, legal representatives, heirs, predecessors, successors and assigns, and any individual who is a member of the immediate family of the following Persons: Allen T.Y, Chan a.k.a. Hung, George Ho and Simon Yeung.
- 19. THIS COURT ORDERS that the fees and costs of the claims administrator and CCAA Representative Counsel shall be paid out of the Settlement Trust, and for such purpose, the claims administrator and the CCAA Representative Counsel may apply to the court to fix such fees and costs in accordance with the laws of Ontario governing the payment of counsel's fees and costs in class proceedings.

Recognition, Enforcement and Further Assistance

- 20. THIS COURT ORDERS that the Court in the CCAA proceedings shall retain an ongoing supervisory role for the purposes of implementing, administering and enforcing the Ernst & Young Settlement and the Ernst & Young Release and matters related to the Settlement Trust including any disputes about the allocation of the Settlement Fund from the Settlement Trust. Any disputes arising with respect to the performance or effect of, or any other aspect of, the Ernst & Young Settlement and the Ernst & Young Release shall be determined by the court, and that, except with leave of the court first obtained, no Person or party shall commence or continue any proceeding or enforcement process in any other court or tribunal, with respect to the performance or effect of, or any other aspect of the Ernst & Young Settlement and the Ernst & Young Release.
- 21. THIS COURT ORDERS that the Ontario Plaintiffs and Ernst & Young with the assistance of the Monitor, shall use all reasonable efforts to obtain all court approvals and orders necessary for the implementation of the Ernst & Young Settlement and the Ernst & Young Release and shall take such additional steps and execute such additional agreements and documents as may be necessary or desirable for the completion of the transactions contemplated by the Ernst & Young Settlement, the Ernst & Young Release and this order.

- 9 - 26

- 22. - 24. THIS COURT ORDERS that the running of time for the purposes of the Ernst & Young Claims asserted in the Ontario Class Action, including statutory claims for which the Ontario Plaintiffs have sought leave pursuant to Part XXIII.1 of the Ontario Securities Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S-5 and the concordant provisions of the securities legislation in all other provinces and territories of Canada, shall be suspended as of the date of this order until further order of this CCAA Court.
- 25. THIS COURT ORDERS that in the event that the Ernst & Young Settlement is not completed in accordance with its terms, the Ernst & Young Settlement and paragraphs 7-14 and 16-19 of this order shall become null and void and are without prejudice to the rights of the parties in the Ontario Class Action or in any proceedings and any agreement between the

AFFIDAVIT OF CHARLES M. WRIGHT

- I, CHARLES M. WRIGHT, of the City of London, in the Province of Ontario, AFFIRM:
- 1. I am a partner at Siskinds LLP, who, along with Koskie Minsky LLP (together, "Class Counsel"), are counsel to the plaintiffs (the "Representative Plaintiffs") in the above-captioned class proceeding (the "Ontario Action").
- 2. Class Counsel have retained Paliare Roland Rosenberg Rothstein LLP for purposes of the above-captioned proceeding (the "Insolvency Proceeding") under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA"), who act for the Ad Hoc Committee of Purchasers of the Applicant's Securities (together with the Representative Plaintiffs, the "Ontario Plaintiffs").
- 3. Siskinds Demeules is counsel to the plaintiffs in the class proceeding in the Province of Quebec Superior Court styled as Guining Liu v. Sino-Forest Corporation, et al., File No. 200-06-000132-111.
- 4. I have knowledge of the matters deposed to below. Where I make statements in this affidavit that are not within my personal knowledge, I have indicated the source of my information, and I believe such information to be true.

NATURE OF THIS MOTION

5. On November 29, 2012, the Ontario Plaintiffs entered into Minutes of Settlement with the defendant, Ernst & Young LLP, in order to resolve all claims against Ernst & Young LLP, Ernst & Young Global Limited and any of its member firms, and any person or entity affiliated with or connected thereto ("Ernst & Young", as more fully defined in the Plan of Compromise and Reorganization of the Applicant under the CCAA dated December 3, 2012 (the "Plan")) including all claims that have been asserted or that could have been asserted against Ernst & Young in these class proceedings (the "Ernst & Young Claims", as more fully defined in the as defined in the Plan). Along with the Minutes of Settlement, the framework of the proposed settlement and release of Ernst & Young is contained in the Plan, and in particular at Article 11.1 and the corresponding definitions (the "Ernst & Young Release" and the "Ernst & Young Settlement"). A copy of the Minutes of Settlement is attached hereto as Exhibit "A." Copies of the draft settlement approval orders are attached hereto as Exhibits "B-1" and "B-2." A copy of the Plan is attached hereto as Exhibit "C" and a copy of the order sanctioning the Plan dated December 10, 2012 (the "Sanction Order") is attached hereto as Exhibit "D." The endorsement and reasons of the Honourable Justice Morawetz sanctioning the Plan are attached hereto as Exhibits "E-1" and "E-2." Where I have used capitalized terms that I have not defined in this affidavit, those terms have the same meanings attributed to them in the draft settlement orders or the Plan.

6. I affirm this affidavit in support of the motion brought by the Ontario Plaintiffs for approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement.

OVERVIEW OF THE SETTLEMENT

- 7. Subject to the terms of the Ernst & Young Settlement, Ernst & Young has agreed to pay CAD$117,000,000.00 (the "Settlement Amount") to a Settlement Trust to be administered in accordance with orders of the court.
- 8. In consideration for the Settlement Amount, it is a condition of the Ernst & Young Settlement that Ernst & Young will receive a full and final release in respect of all claims relating to its relationship with Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino"), its subsidiaries and affiliates, as more fully defined as the Ernst & Young Release in the Plan.

- 9. The Ernst & Young Settlement is also conditional on the approvals by courts in Ontario, Quebec and the United States and certain other conditions contained in the Minutes of Settlement, the Plan and the Sanction Order.
- 10. The draft settlement approval orders provide that the distribution of the net Settlement Amount<sup>1</sup> shall be made to the Securities Claimants.

BACKGROUND OF THE ACTION

- 11. Sino shares were publicly traded at all material times on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX"), on the Berlin exchange, on the over-the-counter market in the United States and on the Tradegate market. Sino shares also traded on alternative trading venues in Canada and elsewhere including, without limitation, AlphaToronto and PureTrading. During the period from March 19, 2007 through June 2, 2011, approximately 93.4% of the aggregate global volume of trade in Sino common shares took place in Canada (82.9% on the TSX and 10.5% on other trading venues in Canada).
- 12. Sino also issued and had various notes outstanding. These notes were offered to investors by way of offering memoranda, and were underwritten by various financial institutions who are defendants in the Ontario Action. In addition to those primary market offerings, these notes traded in the secondary market.
- 13. On June 2, 2011, Muddy Waters Research ("Muddy Waters") released a research report alleging fraud against Sino and alleging that it "massively exaggerates its assets." The release of this report was immediately followed by a dramatic decline in Sino's share price.

<sup>1</sup> The net Settlement Amount is the amount remaining from the Settlement Amount after payment of administration and notice costs, class counsel fees and expenses as approved by the Court and payment to Claims Funding International in accordance with the funding order of Justice Perell dated May 17, 2012, attached hereto as Exhibit "F."

- 14. On June 1, 2011, the day prior to the publication of the Muddy Waters report, Sino's common shares closed at $18.21. After the Muddy Waters report became public, Sino shares fell to $14.46 on the TSX (a decline of 20.6%), at which point trading was halted. When trading resumed the next day, Sino's shares fell to a close of $5.23 (a decline of 71.3% from June 1).
- 15. A copy of the Muddy Waters report is attached hereto as Exhibit "G."
- 16. Sino's notes also fell in value following the Muddy Waters report. On May 9, 2012 an auction was held to settle the credit derivative trades for Sino-Forest credit default swaps ("CDS"). CDS are essentially an insurance contract for debt instruments, and the price set in that auction represents the market's view of the value of the notes as of May 9, 2012. The CDS auction price was 29% of the notes' face values.
- 17. On June 3, 2011, Sino issued and filed on SEDAR a press release titled "Sino-Forest Comments on Share Price Decline," which is attached hereto as Exhibit "H."
- 18. On June 6, 2011, Sino issued and filed on SEDAR a press release titled "Sino-Forest Releases Supporting Evidence against Allegations from Short Seller," and announced that a committee of its Board of Directors (the "Independent Committee") had been established and had retained Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt LLP to conduct an investigation into Muddy Waters' allegations. Attached hereto as Exhibit "I" is a copy of that press release.
- 19. Also on June 6, 2011, Sino issued a press release titled "Sino-Forest Independent Committee Appoints PricewaterhouseCoopers," relating to the Independent Committee's investigation into Muddy Waters' allegations, which is attached hereto as Exhibit "J."
- 20. On June 13, 2011, Muddy Waters issued a document titled "Reaction to TRE Q1 Earnings Call," which is attached hereto as Exhibit "K."

- 21. On June 18, 2011, the Globe and Mail published an article titled "Key partner casts doubt on Sino-Forest claim," which is attached hereto as Exhibit "L."
- 22. On June 19, 2011, the Globe and Mail published an article titled "On the trail of the truth behind Sino-Forest," which is attached hereto as Exhibit "M."
- 23. On June 20, 2011, Sino issued and filed on SEDAR a press release titled "Sino-Forest Responds to the Globe and Mail Article," which is attached hereto as Exhibit "N."
- 24. On June 20, 2011, Muddy Waters issued a document titled "The Ties that Blind, Part 1: Huaihua Yuda," which is attached hereto as Exhibit "O."
- 25. On August 10, 2011, November 15, 2011 and January 31, 2012, the Independent Committee released three reports, reporting its findings.
- 26. On August 26, 2011, the Ontario Securities Commission ("OSC") issued a temporary cease-trade order in respect of Sino's securities, attached hereto as Exhibit "P." The recitals to the cease trade order reflect that Sino appeared to the OSC to have engaged in significant non-arm's length transactions which may have been contrary to Ontario securities laws and the public interest, that Sino and certain of its officers and directors appeared to have misrepresented some of Sino's revenue and exaggerated some of its timber holdings, and that Sino and certain of its officers and directors appeared to be engaging or participating in acts, practices or a course of conduct related to Sino's securities which they (or any of them) knew or ought reasonably to know would perpetuate a fraud.
- 27. On January 10, 2012, Sino issued a press release stating, among other things, that its historical financial statements and related auditors reports should not be relied upon. Attached hereto as Exhibit "Q" is a copy of Sino's press release dated January 10, 2012.

- 28. As discussed further below, on March 30, 2012, Sino filed for protection from its creditors under the CCAA and obtained a stay of proceedings against it, its subsidiaries and directors and officers, including the Ontario Action.
- On May 9, 2012, Sino's shares were delisted from the TSX. The delisting was imposed due to Sino's failure to meet the continued listing requirements of the TSX as a result of the Insolvency Proceeding (discussed below), and for failure to file on a timely basis certain of its interim financial statements and the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2011. Sino has not filed audited financial statements for any period subsequent to 2010. Ernst & Young resigned as Sino's auditors effective April 4, 2012. No new auditors have been appointed. Copies of Sino's press releases announcing the resignation of Ernst & Young and the delisting of Sino shares from the TSX are attached hereto as Exhibits "R" and "S."

ACTIONS AGAINST ERNST & YOUNG RELATING TO SINO

- 30. On July 20, 2011, the Ontario Action was commenced under the Class Proceedings Act, 1992 (the "CPA") against Sino, Ernst & Young LLP and other defendants on behalf of persons who had purchased Sino securities in the period from March 19, 2007 to June 2, 2011. In this action, the Ontario Plaintiffs allege that Sino misstated its financial statements, overstated the value of its assets, and concealed material information about its business and operations from investors in its public filings. As a result, Sino's securities allegedly traded at artificially inflated prices for many years.
- 31. Before commencing the Ontario Action, Class Counsel conducted an investigation into the Muddy Waters allegations with the assistance of the Dacheng law firm, one of China's largest law firms ("Dacheng"). This firm retained Dacheng on the day after the Muddy Waters report was issued. Class Counsel's investigation into the Muddy Waters allegations has continued since that time, and has been aided not only by Dacheng, but also by Hong Kong-based investigators specializing in financial fraud; two separate Toronto-based firms that specialize in forensic accounting, generally accepted accounting principles and generally accepted auditing standards; a lawyer qualified to practice in the Republic of Suriname, where Sino purported to own, through an affiliate, certain timber assets; and a financial economist who specializes in the measurement of damages in securities class actions.

- 32. On June 9, 2011, Siskinds Desmeules, a Quebec City law firm affiliated with Siskinds, commenced a parallel proceeding against Sino, Ernst & Young LLP and certain other defendants in the Quebec Superior Court. Class Counsel in Ontario and Quebec have been working together in a coordinated manner in both of these proceedings.
- 33. There were also two other proposed class proceedings commenced in Ontario relating to Sino. Smith et al. v. Sino Forest Corporation et al., commenced on June 8, 2011 (the "Smith Action") and Northwest & Ethical Investments L.P. et al. v. Sino-Forest Corporation et. al., commenced on September 26, 2011 (the "Northwest Action"). Rochon Genova LLP acted for the plaintiffs in the Smith Action, and Kim Orr LLP acted for the plaintiffs in the Northwest Action.
- 34. A copy of the Statement of Claim issued in the Northwest Action is attached hereto as Exhibit "T."
- 35. In the Northwest Action, the plaintiffs sought a declaration that the misrepresentations alleged were made by the defendants (including Ernst & Young) with knowledge, fraudulently, recklessly or negligently. The Statement of Claim made specific allegations of fraud against each of the defendants (including Ernst & Young) at paragraphs 226-228 and allegations of knowing, reckless or willfully blind misrepresentations elsewhere.

- 36. In December 2011, there was a motion to determine which of the three actions in Ontario should be permitted to proceed and which should be stayed. By order dated January 6, 2012, attached hereto as Exhibit "U," the Honourable Justice Perell granted carriage to the Ontario Plaintiffs. His Honour stayed the Smith Action and the Northwest Action, and appointed Siskinds LLP and Koskie Minsky LLP to prosecute the Ontario Action on behalf of the proposed class. Following that decision, and pursuant to the Court's order, David Grant was added as a proposed representative plaintiff and the scope of the class was expanded to its current scope.
- 37. On January 27, 2012, the Washington, DC-based law firm of Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC ("US Plaintiffs' Counsel") commenced a proposed class action against Sino, Ernst & Young LLP, Ernst & Young Global Limited and other defendants in the New York Supreme Court (the "US Action"). The US Action was transferred from the New York state court to the federal District Court for the Southern District of New York in March 2012.
- 38. United States securities class actions procedure features a process by which the "lead plaintiff" is selected. On October 18, 2012, US Plaintiffs' Counsel issued the press release required by that process. All parties that intended to seek lead plaintiff status were required to move the U.S. Court within 60 days (by December 17, 2012). A review of the electronic database indicates that David Leapard, IMF Finance SA and Myong Hyon Yoo, represented by US Plaintiffs' Counsel, moved for appointment as lead plaintiffs on December 17, 2012. No other parties filed motions for appointment as lead plaintiffs by the December 17, 2012 deadline.

- 39. By way of Order of the United States District Court Southern District of New York dated January 4, 2013, David Leapard, IMF Finance SA and Myong Hyon Yoo were appointed as the lead plaintiffs and US Plaintiffs' Counsel as lead counsel to represent the interests of the proposed class. The US action is presently ongoing, and asserts claims on behalf of a class of:
  - i) all persons or entities who, from March 19, 2007 through August 26, 2011 (the "Class Period") purchased the common stock of Sino-Forest on the Over-the-Counter ("OTC") market and who were damaged thereby; and ii) all persons or entities who, during the Class Period, purchased debt securities issued by Sino-Forest other than in Canada and who were damaged thereby.
- 40. Class Counsel have had numerous interactions with US Plaintiffs' Counsel concerning developments in the Canadian and New York litigation.
- 41. On April 18, 2012, the plaintiffs filed a Fresh as Amended Statement of Claim, a copy of which is attached hereto and marked as Exhibit "V." A Proposed Fresh as Amended Statement of Claim was served on the defendants as part of the Ontario Plaintiffs' motion record in support of their motion seeking leave under Part XXIII.1 of the Securities Act (the "Leave Motion"). Attached and marked as Exhibit "W" is a copy of the Proposed Fresh as Amended Statement of Claim.

PLAINTIFFS' MOTIONS FOR CERTIFICATION AND LEAVE

- 42. In March and April 2012, the Ontario Plaintiffs brought (a) a motion for certification of the Ontario Action as a class action under the CPA; and (b) a motion for leave to proceed with statutory claims under Part XXIII.1 of the Ontario Securities Act (the "OSA").
- 43. The Ontario Plaintiffs filed voluminous motion records in support of their motions, comprising evidence from their investigations and expert reports. The motion records included:
  - (a) an affidavit of Steven Chandler, a former senior law enforcement official from Hong Kong who was involved in investigating Sino in China;

- (b) an affidavit of Alan Mak, an expert in forensic accounting;
- (c) an affidavit of Dennis Deng, a lawyer qualified to practice in the People's Republic of China, and a partner in Dacheng law firm; and
- (d) an affidavit of Carol-Ann Tjon-Pian-Gi, a lawyer qualified to practice in the Republic of Suriname.
- 44. Justice Perell set a schedule for the proceeding by way of Order dated March 26, 2012. The defendants entered into a tolling agreement with the Ontario Plaintiffs and a separate tolling agreement was entered into amongst the defendants to deal with any potential claims over or third party claims. The tolling agreement between the defendants and the Ontario Plaintiffs was made as of March 6, 2012, and suspended the running of time for the purpose of the proposed Part XXIII.1 claims of the Ontario Plaintiffs and members of the putative class until February 28, 2013. Following the CCAA stay of proceedings, a second tolling agreement between these parties was made as of May 8, 2012, wherein the parties agreed that the running of time for the purpose of the proposed Part XXIII.1 claims of the Ontario Plaintiffs and members of the putative class was to be suspended as of March 6, 2012 until the earlier of 12 months following the lifting of the CCAA stay or February 1, 2014. This tolling agreement was a result of the Ontario Plaintiffs agreeing to consent to the stay order.
- 45. The certification and leave motions were scheduled for November 21 to 30, 2012. Those motions were not heard in November 2012 as a result of Sino's insolvency.

SINO'S INSOLVENCY

46. On March 30, 2012, Sino commenced the Insolvency Proceeding and obtained an order for an interim stay of proceedings against the company, its subsidiaries and its directors and officers. Pursuant to an order on May 8, 2012, the stay of proceedings was extended to all other defendants in the action, including Ernst & Young. The Ontario Plaintiffs agreed not to oppose this order on condition that (a) there was an order permitting a settlement approval hearing and certification hearing relating to a settlement with the defendant Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited (described below); and (b) the defendants execute the second tolling agreement reflecting the delay caused by the Insolvency Proceeding. The stay of proceedings is currently extended through to February 1, 2013.

- 47. From the outset, it was apparent to counsel to the Ontario Plaintiffs that the Insolvency Proceeding presented a material risk to the Ontario Plaintiffs. Namely that in order to effect a restructuring that generated as much value as possible for Sino's creditors, there could be a plan of arrangement that had the effect of imposing an unfavourable settlement on the Ontario Plaintiffs.
- 48. Consequently, Class Counsel immediately entered into negotiations with other stakeholders in the Insolvency Proceeding, and took a number of steps to vigorously represent the interests of the purchasers of Sino's securities. The following were among Class Counsel's main objectives:
  - (a) Reserving the Ontario Plaintiffs' rights to object to various features of the Insolvency Proceeding, so as to generate and/or preserve momentum for the Ontario Plaintiffs' claims and positions;
  - (b) Ensuring that a Claims Process was established that identified the universe of stakeholders having an interest in the Insolvency Proceeding while ensuring the recognition of the totality of the representative claim advanced by the Ontario Plaintiffs;
  - (c) Establishing a process for the mediation in the Insolvency Proceeding through which the positions of the various stakeholders would be defined; and

- (d) Obtaining access to information that would permit Class Counsel to make informed recommendations to the Ontario Plaintiffs and the court in connection with the terms of any Plan.
- 49. To further these objectives, Class Counsel took a number of steps in the Insolvency Proceeding, including the following:
  - (a) Bringing or appearing in response to the following motions:
    - (i) March 30, 2012 Attending at the initial application regarding CCAA protection and sales process for Sino and its subsidiaries, including a stay of proceedings against Sino, its subsidiaries and directors and officers;
    - (ii) April 13, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding stay extension;
    - (iii) April 20, 2012 Bringing a motion regarding advice and direction on the CCAA stay and its impact on the pending motions in the Ontario Action;
    - (iv) April 20, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding expansion of the powers of the Monitor;
    - (v) May 8, 2012 Attending and participating actively in the motion regarding a third party stay;
    - (vi) May 8, 2012 Bringing a motion regarding Pöyry settlement leave;
    - (vii) May 14, 2012 Attending and participating in a motion regarding Claims Procedure Order, including granting of leave to the Ontario Plaintiffs to file a Claim in respect of the substance of the matters set out in the Ontario Action on behalf of the proposed Class and the same leave to the Quebec Plaintiffs;
    - (viii) May 14, 2012 Attending a motion brought by Contrarian, one of Sino's noteholders;
      - (ix) May 17, 2012 Bringing a motion in the Ontario Action regarding a thirdparty funding agreement;

- (x) May 17, 2012 Bringing a motion in the Ontario Action regarding Pöyry settlement approval;
- (xi) May 31, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding stay extension;
- (xii) June 26, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding the status of Shareholder Claims and Related Indemnity Claims under the CCAA;
- (xiii) July 25, 2012 Precipitating and attending at a motion regarding mediation in the CCAA proceedings, which included an order that the Ontario Plaintiffs were a party to the mediation;
- (xiv) July 27, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding the status of Shareholder Claims and Related Indemnity Claims under the CCAA;
- (xv) July 30, 2012 Bringing a motion regarding document production and a data room;
- (xvi) August 31, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding plan filing and meeting Order;
- (xvii) August 31, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding adjournment of Ad Hoc Committee's motion (regarding appointment of Representative Plaintiff and leave to vote on Plan of Compromise);
- (xviii) September 28, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding stay extension;
  - (xix) October 9, 2012 Attending and participating in the Company's motion regarding adjournment of the Ad Hoc Committee's motion (regarding lifting of the stay against the Third Parties);
  - (xx) October 9, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding stay extension;
  - (xxi) October 28, 2012 Bringing a motion to limit the scope of stay to exclude to the Third Party Defendants and others;
- (xxii) October 29, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding revised noteholder noticing process;

- (xxiii) November 13, 2012 Attending an appeal regarding Equity Claims decision; and
- (xxiv) November 23, 2012 Attending at the Company's motion regarding stay extension;
- (xxv) December 7, 2012 Attending and participating in the motion to sanction the Plan;
- (b) almost from the inception of the Insolvency Proceeding, engaging in extensive and protracted negotiations with the Ad Hoc Noteholder Group and with Sino with respect to the terms of the Plan of Reorganization;
- (c) bringing a motion early in the proceeding seeking various relief challenging the framework of the Insolvency Proceeding, such as the appointment of a receiver and providing for representation on behalf of the Class Members, and reserving all rights with respect to those issues throughout the Insolvency Proceeding;
- (d) supporting a motion for an order increasing the powers of the Monitor to administer Sino which took away powers from entrenched management and the then-existing board, protecting the assets of the company for all stakeholders and ensuring greater transparency and balance in the proceeding;
- (e) negotiating the claims procedure in the Insolvency Proceeding and obtaining the right to file a representative claim so as to protect the interests of the putative Class;
- (f) obtaining a data room of confidential non-public documents from Sino, which related principally to the audits of Sino's financial statements so as to permit the Ontario Plaintiffs to negotiate with other stakeholders at the Mediation and respond to any plan of arrangement in an informed manner;
- (g) examining all applicable insurance policies and indemnity agreements and assessed the capacity to pay of various defendants, including Ernst & Young;
- (h) compelling the attendance of Sino's CEO at a cross-examination and testing his evidence in the Insolvency Proceeding;

- (i) engaging in multiple formal and informal, group and individual mediation and negotiation sessions with other stakeholders regarding the Class Members' claims, including a court-ordered, 2-day Mediation in September presided over by the Honourable Justice Newbould; and
- (j) bringing a motion, in response to the form of the restructuring plan initially filed with the court, which the Ontario Plaintiffs deemed to be contrary to their interests, challenging various features of the Plan, and seeking the right to vote on the Plan, and expressly reserving all of the Ontario Plaintiffs' rights in connection with that motion pending the presentation of the plan for sanction by the court, to ensure that the plan was in the best interests of the Class Members.

SETTLEMENT WITH PÖYRY (BEIJING)

- The Ontario Plaintiffs engaged in settlement discussions with Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited ("Pöyry (Beijing)"), a defendant in these proceedings, starting in January 2012. Following arm's-length negotiations, the Ontario Plaintiffs entered into a settlement with Pöyry (Beijing) in March 2012. In connection with the motion for court approval of the Pöyry settlement agreement, a notice was disseminated in the form marked and attached hereto as Exhibit "X." No one, including any potential Class Member, objected to the settlement with Pöyry (Beijing) at the motion to approve the settlement.
- 51. On September 25, 2012, this action was certified as a class proceeding as against Pöyry (Beijing) for the purposes of settlement and the Pöyry settlement was approved between the Class (as defined) and Pöyry (Beijing). A copy of the certification and settlement approval order is attached hereto as Exhibit "Y."
- 52. Notice of the certification and Pöyry settlement has been given in accordance with the order of the Honourable Justice Perell, dated September 25, 2012. A copy of this notice is marked and attached hereto as Exhibit "Z."

- 53. The notice states that "IF YOU CHOOSE TO OPT OUT OF THE CLASS, YOU WILL BE OPTING OUT OF THE ENTIRE PROCEEDING. THIS MEANS THAT YOU WILL BE UNABLE TO PARTICIPATE IN ANY FUTURE SETTLEMENT OR JUDGEMENT REACHED WITH OR AGAINST THE REMAINING DEFENDANTS." [emphasis and caps in original]. The opt-out deadline is January 15, 2013.
- 54. As of this date, I am advised by the administrators that only one retail investor who purchased Sino shares during the period of March 19, 2007 through June 2, 2011 has validly opted out. That person had purchased 700 Sino shares during that period and explained that he opted out because he has closed his LIRA accounts and gave up rights to Scotiabank, and does not wish to participate in the class action. There is one other retail investor (who did not submit information of the number of shares owned) that submitted invalid documentation, and it is possible that he or she purchased securities during the class period. This individual gave no reason for the decision to opt-out.

SETTLEMENT APPROVAL

Negotiation Process

- 55. The negotiations leading to the Ernst & Young Settlement were conducted on an adversarial, arm's-length basis.
- 56. On July 25, 2012, this Court ordered the various constituencies in the Insolvency Proceeding to attend a mediation. A copy of that order is attached hereto as Exhibit "AA."
- 57. On September 4 and 5, 2012, the Ontario Plaintiffs attended an all-parties mediation, which included Ernst & Young. The mediation was conducted with the assistance of the Honourable Justice Newbould, acting as mediator. Extensive mediation briefs were filed by all parties. The briefs and the mediation itself set forth the positions of the parties, including Ernst &

Young and the plaintiffs. The mediation did not result in a settlement with any of the parties, including Ernst & Young, at that time.

- 58. It is Class Counsel's opinion that, given the defendants' negotiating stance at the mediation, the Ontario Plaintiffs could not have negotiated a significant all-party settlement at that mediation.
- 59. Following the mediation, settlement discussions continued with the defendants. However, those settlement discussions did not come close to bridging the significant difference between the positions of the parties.
- 60. In mid-October 2012, the Ontario Plaintiffs began bilateral discussions with Ernst & Young. Several offers were exchanged between the Ontario Plaintiffs and Ernst & Young over a number of weeks. Those discussions did not result in a settlement at that time.
- 61. On October 18, 2012, the Honourable Justice Morawetz issued an endorsement scheduling the Company's motion to sanction the Plan for December 7 and 10, 2012. Attached hereto as Exhibit "BB" is a copy of the Endorsement of the Honourable Justice Morawetz dated October 18, 2012.
- 62. The Ontario Plaintiffs brought a motion returnable October 28, 2012 to have the scope of stay limited to exclude the Third Party Defendants, including Ernst & Young, and certain other parties. By way of Endorsement dated November 6, 2012, the Honourable Justice Morawetz denied the relief sought by the Ontario Plaintiffs to allow the parties to focus on the Plan and the CCAA proceedings. Justice Morawetz held that the motion could and should be re-evaluated following the sanction hearing, and in any event no later than December 10, 2012. Attached hereto as Exhibit "CC" is copy of the Endorsement of the Honourable Justice Morawetz dated November 6, 2012.

- 63. In late November Ernst & Young and the Ontario Plaintiffs agreed to further formal mediation.
- On November 27, 2012, Clifford Lax, Q.C. conducted a mediation between Ernst & Young and the Ontario Plaintiffs. The parties exchanged mediation briefs in advance of the mediation which were, in the main, the briefs previously filed for the September mediation. At the conclusion of the day, the parties had made progress, but a resolution had not been reached. The parties reconvened the next day and did reach agreement on quantum, but continued to aggressively negotiate other terms of the Minutes of Settlement until the early morning of November 29. At 4 a.m. on November 29, the parties took a four-hour break, and then came back to discuss the terms of the Minutes of Settlement which were finalized in the evening of November 29. The discussions were protracted and challenging.
- 65. The mediation session resulted in the Ernst & Young Settlement, which conditions include court approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement, and the Ernst & Young Release. Following satisfaction of all conditions precedent as set out in the Minutes of Settlement, Ernst & Young agreed to pay CAD$117,000,000.
- 66. The Minutes of Settlement reflect that Ernst & Young would not have entered into the settlement agreement with the Ontario Plaintiffs (and would not have offered the large Settlement Amount) but for the CCAA proceedings. Paragraph 10 and Schedule B of the Minutes of Settlement make it clear that the parties intend the settlement to be approved in the Sino CCAA proceedings and that it is conditional upon the full and final release of Ernst & Young by order of the CCAA court.

- 67. Paragraph 11 and Schedule B of the Minutes of Settlement make it clear that the settlement is conditional upon obtaining orders in the CCAA proceedings and in the United States Bankruptcy Court resolving all claims against Ernst & Young in relation to Sino.
- 68. The framework of the Ernst & Young Settlement, as contemplated by the Minutes of Settlement, is contained in the Plan at Article 11.1, and includes the framework for the Ernst & Young Release.
- 69. A similar framework for Named Third Party Defendants, including the Underwriters and BDO, is contained at Article 11.2 of the Plan. The Ernst & Young Settlement was the template for the framework for the Named Third Party Defendant settlement provisions.
- 70. Article 11.2 in respect of Named Third Party Defendants provides the Ontario Plaintiffs (and the Underwriters and BDO) with the ability to complete further settlements within the context of the CCAA proceedings, subject to further court approval. Such settlements could have the benefit of a full release for the Underwriters or BDO, if ordered by the Court, and would likely result in those parties paying a premium for settlement to resolve all claims against them, to the benefit of the Class.
- 71. Ernst & Young and the Ontario Plaintiffs supported the Plan on the basis of the inclusion of the framework for the Ernst & Young Settlement and the Ernst & Young Release in the Plan. Ernst & Young, as a creditor of Sino, voted in favour of the Plan. Ernst & Young and the Ontario Plaintiffs supported the Plan at the sanction hearing.

THE ONTARIO PLAINTIFFS SUPPORT THE SETTLEMENT

72. The Ontario Plaintiffs are:

- (a) The trustees of the Labourers' Pension Fund of Central and Eastern Canada ("Labourers Fund"). The Labourers Fund is a multi-employer pension plan providing benefits for employees working in the construction industry. The trustees of the Labourers Fund manage more than $2.5 billion of assets. During the period from March 19, 2007 to June 2, 2011 the Labourers Fund purchased 360,700 Sino common shares. Most of those shares were purchased in the secondary market over the TSX. The Labourers Fund also purchased Sino common shares pursuant to a prospectus that Sino issued during the Class Period. As at the day before the issuance of the Muddy Waters report, the Labourers Fund held a total of 128,700 Sino shares. The Labourers Fund is a long-standing client of Koskie Minsky LLP;
- (b) The trustees of the International Union of Operating Engineers ("OE Fund"). The OE Fund is a multi-employer pension plan providing pension benefits for operating engineers in Ontario. The trustees of the OE Fund manage approximately $1.5 billion of assets. The OE Fund purchased 465,130 Sino common shares over the TSX during the Class Period, and held 436,300 such shares at the day before the issuance of the Muddy Waters report. The OE Fund is a long-standing client of Koskie Minsky LLP;
- (c) Sjunde AP-Fonden ("AP7"), the Swedish National Pension Fund. AP7 manages billions of dollars in assets. AP7 purchased 139,398 common shares over the TSX during the Class Period, and held all of those shares as at the day before the issuance of the Muddy Waters report;
- (d) David Grant, an individual resident in Calgary, Alberta. During the Class Period, he purchased 100 of the Sino 6.25% Guaranteed Senior Notes due 2017 pursuant to an offering memorandum. Mr. Grant continued to hold these notes as at the day before the issuance of the Muddy Waters report; and

- (e) Robert Wong, an individual residing in Kincardine, Ontario. Mr. Wong purchased hundreds of thousands Sino shares from 2002 (when he first became a Sino shareholder) through June 2011. During the Class Period, he purchased 896,400 Sino common shares in the secondary market over the TSX and 30,000 shares pursuant to a prospectus that Sino issued during the Class Period, for a total of 926,400 shares. Mr. Wong continued to hold 518,700 Sino common shares at the day before the issuance of the Muddy Waters report.
- 73. Collectively, the Ontario Plaintiffs owned 1,223,098 Sino common shares at the day before the issuance of the Muddy Waters report, and those shares had a market value immediately prior to the issuance of the Muddy Waters report of approximately $23.3 million.
- 74. I am advised by Jonathan Ptak of Koskie Minsky that the trustees of the Labourers Fund and the OE Fund are extremely pleased with the settlement with Ernst & Young and have instructed Class Counsel to seek approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement. I am advised by Dimitri Lascaris that Robert Wong, David Grant and AP7 are also very pleased with the settlement and have instructed Class Counsel to seek approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement.
- 75. In addition, I am advised by Mr. Lascaris that the proposed settlement with Ernst & Young is supported by the institutions that were the two largest shareholders of Sino, namely, New York-based Paulson & Co. Inc. ("Paulson") and Arizona-based Davis Selected Advisers LP ("Davis"). Paulson and Davis, respectively, owned approximately 14.1 % and 12.6% of Sino's outstanding common shares prior to the issuance of the Muddy Waters report, representing in aggregate a market value of more than $1.1 billion.
- 76. Class Counsel have been retained by Davis. Mr. Lascaris advises me that, since the commencement of the class action, he has had numerous and extensive discussions with responsible officials of both Davis and Paulson in regard to the progress generally of the class action and the Insolvency Proceeding, and in regard in particular to negotiations with Ernst & Young and the terms of and rationale for the settlement.

FACTORS CONSIDERED IN ASSESSING THE FAIRNESS AND REASONABLENESS OF THE SETTLEMENT

Experience of Class Counsel

- 77. Siskinds LLP and Koskie Minsky LLP both have extensive experience litigating and resolving complex class action litigation similar to this case. In addition, Kessler Topaz Meltzer and Check LLP, counsel to AP7, are one of the leading U.S. class action firms with particular expertise in securities class actions.
- 78. Siskinds acted for the plaintiffs in the first action certified as a class proceeding under the CPA, Bendall v McGhan Medical Corp (1993), 14 OR (3d) 734 (Gen Div). Since that time, Siskinds has been lead or co-lead counsel to the plaintiffs in well over 100 class proceedings and has successfully resolved over 60 such proceedings, in areas such as securities, competition (price-fixing), product liability (particularly with respect to pharmaceuticals and medical products), the environment and consumer claims.
- 79. To the date of this affidavit, Siskinds has had approximately 20 securities class actions and 2 derivative proceeding settlements approved by courts, including most recently the SunOpta, CV Technologies, Bear Lake Gold, PetroKazakhstan, Gildan Activewear, Canadian Superior Energy, Redline Communications, Gammon Gold, and Arctic Glacier securities class action settlements.
- 80. Koskie Minsky has prosecuted class actions at all levels of court in Ontario as well as before the Supreme Court of Canada, and has been responsible for shaping class actions law through leading cases including Cloud v The Attorney General of Canada, Pearson v Inco Ltd, Caputo v Imperial Tobacco, and Markson v MBNA Canada Bank. Koskie Minsky has prosecuted actions for securities fraud, pension fund and investment claims, intellectual property violations, environmental damage and residential school abuse, among others.

- 81. Koskie Minsky has acted for shareholders in securities class actions, including Lawrence v Atlas Cold Storage Holdings Inc, Toevs v Yorkton, and Frohlinger v Nortel Networks Corp.
- 82. Paliare Roland has appeared as counsel in many CCAA restructuring proceedings, and has acted for a variety of stakeholders in those proceedings, including stakeholders acting in representative capacities. Past engagements include, among others, advising and appearing on behalf of a number of institutional and other investors including various dissident noteholders in connection with the restructuring of Canada's non-bank asset backed commercial paper market, advising and appearing on behalf of the Superintendent of Financial Services in his capacity as administrator of Ontario's Pension Benefits Guarantee Fund in connection with the restructuring of Nortel Networks Corporation and its global subsidiaries, advising and appearing on behalf of the United Steelworkers in connection with the Stelco restructuring, as well as in connection with the restructuring of a variety of other steel mills, pulp mills, and manufacturing facilities across Ontario, and advising and appearing on behalf of the Air Line Pilots Association in connection with the restructuring of Air Canada. Paliare Roland also appeared as counsel to the committee of non-unionized Quebec employees in the restructuring of Fraser Papers, and, most recently, as counsel to a committee of former employees in the Cinram restructuring.
- 83. As of December 14, 2012, Class Counsel, together with Paliare Roland, in aggregate had more than $5,701,546.50 in time and $950,205.51 in disbursements for a total of $6,651,752.01, exclusive of applicable taxes.

- 84. As a result of Class Counsel's involvement in other cases, we have gained considerable experience in the settlement mechanics and imperatives, damages methodologies, and risks associated with this type of litigation.
- 85. Class Counsel recommend the approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement. In our view, its terms, including the consideration available to the Class, are fair and reasonable in the circumstances. The Ernst & Young Settlement delivers a substantial, immediate benefit to Class Members on claims that faced significant risks.
- 86. I explain below our rationale for recommending to the Ontario Plaintiffs, and to this Court, the compromise of the claims advanced against Ernst & Young in this action.

Information supporting settlement

- 87. In assessing our clients' position and the proposed settlement, we had access to and considered the following sources of information:
  - (a) all of Sino's public disclosure documents and other publicly available information with respect to Sino;
  - (b) the available trading data for Sino's securities;
  - (c) non-public documents uploaded by Sino into the data-room established in the Insolvency Proceeding for purposes of the global mediation, which included the documents listed at Schedule "A" to the July 30, 2012 Order of Justice Morawetz, which is marked and attached hereto as Exhibit "DD";
  - (d) Ernst & Young LLP's responsive insurance policies;
  - (e) the input and opinions of our accounting experts, insolvency law experts, and insurance coverage experts;

- (f) the input and opinion of Frank C. Torchio, the President of Forensic Economics, Inc., who has consulted or given independent damage opinions in securities fraud lawsuits for over 20 years.
- (g) the Statement of Allegations issued against Sino and certain officers and directors by the OSC, dated May 22, 2012, marked and attached hereto as Exhibit "EE";
- (h) the mediation briefs provided by the parties at the global mediation in September, 2012 and by Ernst & Young LLP at the mediation in November, 2012; and
- (i) input from experienced U.S. securities counsel, Kessler Topaz Meltzer & Check, LLP, and discussions with US Plaintiffs' Counsel.
- 88. On December 3, 2012, after the Ontario Plaintiffs had entered into the Ernst & Young Settlement and on the day of the creditors vote on the Plan, the OSC issued a Statement of Allegations against Ernst & Young relating to the matter of Sino, which is marked and attached hereto as Exhibit "FF." Although Class Counsel's recommendation and the Ontario Plaintiffs' approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement were grounded on numerous factors, the OSC Statement of Allegations against Ernst & Young provided further insight about the risks associated with litigating the claims as against Ernst & Young going forward. As explained below, the OSC Statement of Allegation has since become a further factor, alongside the other documents listed above and the considerations explained below, for Class Counsel to now recommend the approval of the Ernst & Young Settlement.
- 89. In our view, Class Counsel had more than adequate information available from which to make an appropriate recommendation concerning the resolution of the claims as against Ernst & Young.
- 90. It has always been Class Counsel's view that the claims against Ernst & Young have merit. However, a number of factors in this case presented a significant risk to the ultimate success and recovery from Ernst & Young. These risks weighed in favour of settlement with Ernst & Young. It is Class Counsel's view that this Ernst & Young Settlement (and the Ernst & Young Release) are fair and reasonable and in the best interests of the Class. Class Counsel's assessment of the Ernst & Young Settlement and our recommendation of it rest primarily on the following factors, in addition to the general risks of proceeding with complex litigation.

Recoverable damages could be far lower than actual damages

- 91. The Class asserts the following causes of action as against Ernst & Young:
  - (a) statutory liability in respect of primary market share purchaser claims pursuant to s 130 of the OSA;
  - (b) statutory liability in respect of secondary market share purchaser and note purchaser claims pursuant to Part XXIII.1 of the OSA; and
  - (c) common law claims for negligent misrepresentation, negligence simpliciter and knowing or willfully blind misrepresentation for all purchasers of Sino securities.
- 92. These claims, if entirely successful, could result in an award for significant damages against all defendants. I have reviewed various expert reports by Mr. Torchio regarding damages in this action. Mr. Torchio is the President of Forensic Economics, Inc., and has consulted or given independent opinions in securities fraud lawsuits for over 20 years.
- 93. We were guided by the advice Mr. Torchio, but were also cognizant that it is common for defendants to produce opinions which make different assumptions and put forth lower damages figures. Indeed, in the course of settlement discussions in this case, Ernst & Young and other defendants insisted that far more conservative damages figures would be appropriate.

- 94. It is also important to recognize that Mr. Torchio opines on the total estimated damages. His opinions are based in large part on trading models and various assumptions, the results of which could vary from the actual trading patterns of the Class Members.
- 95. The damages alleged are for all losses suffered, including those attributable to Sino and the defendant directors and officers. Following the CCAA Proceedings, only the assets of certain of the defendants (Chan, Poon and Horsley) and the Director and Officer insurance proceeds following major draw-downs and hold-backs, are available to the Ontario Plaintiffs in respect of those claims.
- 96. Further, as part of the Plan, the Ontario Plaintiffs negotiated a cap of CAD$150,000,000 for claims by noteholders in the various class actions indemnifiable by the Company, including claims by the Third Party Defendants, including Ernst & Young, for indemnification in respect of any noteholder claims against them (the "Noteholder Class Action Cap"). The Company admitted all claims for indemnification of the Third Party Defendants, including Ernst & Young, for the purposes of the Noteholder Class Action Cap. Ernst & Young waived all distribution to it under the Plan in return for the inclusion of Article 11.1 in the Plan. Therefore, the maximum that may be recovered by all noteholders with regard to indemnifiable claims in all of the class actions against all defendants in the aggregate is CAD$150,000,000.
- 97. Moreover, the actual damages to be paid may only be for claims filed. For a variety of reasons, less than 100% of the Class Members generally file claims. Although claim rates vary from case to case, it is never the case in a matter of this nature that all Class Members file claims. Therefore actual payable damages could be some portion Mr. Torchio's figures if the matter proceeded to trial and the defendants succeeded in establishing that damages should be based only on claims filed.

98. Finally, and most significantly, irrespective of the scale of actual damages, the legal impediments to recovery for the claims against Ernst & Young weigh strongly in our recommendation of the Ernst & Young Settlement. In essence, while the damages alleged are in the billions of dollars, recovery against Ernst & Young may be less than the Settlement Amount if certain of Ernst & Young's defences and arguments are successful at trial.

Statutory claims on behalf of primary market share and note purchasers

- 99. The Ontario Action advances claims against Ernst & Young under s 130 of the OSA. Although no Statements of Defence have been delivered in the Ontario Action, the Ontario Plaintiffs understand that Ernst & Young denies that: (i) its auditors' reports contain the misrepresentation alleged; (ii) Sino's financial statements on which Ernst & Young opined were not GAAP-compliant; and (iii) Ernst & Young's audit work was not GAAS-compliant.
- 100. The Ontario Plaintiffs would be put to the proof that the auditors' reports contained the misrepresentations alleged. The Ontario Plaintiffs also understand that Ernst & Young asserts a due diligence defence under ss130(3) and (4) of the OSA. The Ontario Plaintiffs also understand that Ernst & Young takes issue with the damages calculations by Mr. Torchio. The damages for these claims are limited in the aggregate to approximately $77.8 million.
- 101. However, recovery from Ernst & Young could be smaller. It is very likely that if Ernst & Young is found liable, responsibility would also be borne by Sino, its officers and directors, BDO Limited, and, notably, the Underwriters. Although liability under section 138 of the OSA is joint and several, Ernst & Young would be able to claim contribution from the other codefendants found responsible for the misconduct. Ernst & Young waives this right to contribution as part of the Ernst & Young Settlement. The Settlement Fund provides certainty of the amount to be paid by Ernst & Young to the Class.

102. It should be noted that the Ontario Action advances claims pursuant to s 130.1 of the OSA against Sino for misrepresentations in the offering memoranda that Sino issued during the Class Period. However, the OSA does not provide for a statutory right of action relating to the offering memoranda in respect of any other defendant, including Ernst & Young, a fact that Class Counsel have taken into account in recommending the Ernst & Young Settlement.

Common law claims: auditors' duty and standard of care

- 103. The Ontario Action has asserted common law claims on behalf of secondary market share purchasers against Ernst & Young for negligent misrepresentation, negligence simpliciter and knowing or willfully blind misrepresentation.
- 104. As stated above, the Ontario Plaintiffs understand that Ernst & Young denies these claims.
- 105. A significant hurdle faced by the Class in asserting these claims is establishing that Ernst & Young, as auditor of Sino's financial statements, owed a duty of care to the Class. The Supreme Court of Canada held in Hercules<sup>2</sup> that the auditor in that case owed no duty of care to the shareholders of a corporation that it had audited. While Class Counsel believe that Hercules is distinguishable, a significant risk exists that a court would rely on the reasoning in Hercules and find that Ernst & Young did not owe a duty of care to the Class, thereby defeating the common law claims based on negligence against Ernst & Young.
- 106. Moreover, even if the Class is able to establish that Ernst & Young owed a duty of care to shareholders, there remains the possibility that we will be unable to prove that Ernst & Young breached the standard of care. Within the settlement context and on a privileged basis, Ernst &

Young has provided Class Counsel with the opinion of an auditing expert, who opines that Ernst & Young complied with Generally Accepted Auditing Standards ("GAAS") and was not negligent in the preparation of its 2010 audit report (Ernst & Young's counsel have advised us that, as of the date hereof, it expects to receive similar opinions with respect to audit reports for prior years, if necessary).

- 107. We anticipate that Ernst & Young will argue that it was itself the victim of a fraud by Sino's management, and appropriately relied on other experts during the conduct of its audits, including a major Chinese law firm, and the valuation reports of Pöyry (Beijing) and its affiliate entities. In its Statement of Allegations against Sino and certain of its former senior officers, staff of the OSC allege that Sino's auditors, including Ernst & Young, were not made aware of Sino's alleged falsified contracts.
- 108. Ernst & Young could also argue, and a court could find, that a negligence claim requires a showing of reliance by each individual class member. Depending on the process a court adopts, this may require active participation by Class Members in the litigation. The need to actively participate, and to prove reliance, is likely to reduce the total judgment ultimately rendered against Ernst & Young in this class proceeding and increase the length, complexity and cost of the proceedings.
- 109. Finally, to the extent proof of individual reliance is required as an element of these common law claims, it was by no means certain that a court would grant class certification in respect of these claims. Recent authority has been divided on this issue, and without doubt the certification order would be appealed by the losing party.

Part XXIII.1 liability limits

- 110. The Class asserts statutory secondary market misrepresentation claims against Ernst & Young under Part XXIII.1 of the OSA. The Ontario Plaintiffs understand that Ernst & Young denies these claims. The Ontario Plaintiffs understand that Ernst & Young asserts a reasonable investigation defence pursuant to s 138.4(6) of the OSA. The Ontario Plaintiffs also understand that Ernst & Young takes issue with the quantification of damages. Further, the Ontario Plaintiffs understand that it is Ernst & Young's position that s 138.7(1) of the OSA could limit recoverable damages to the fees that Ernst & Young earned while auditing Sino, being in the range of $4-$8.5 million. In other words, even though the damages of these secondary market purchasers is over $3 billion, the OSA could restrict recovery for the Part XXIII.1 claims to a relatively tiny amount.
- 111. The only exception to this potentially paltry recovery would be for the Ontario Plaintiffs to prove that Ernst & Young knowingly made the alleged misrepresentations. This could be a challenging standard to meet, one which Ernst & Young denies and which Ernst & Young asserts requires proof of fraud.
- 112. Class Counsel's view that establishing knowledge will be challenging is bolstered by the recent Statement of Allegations against Ernst & Young released by the OSC, more than 15 months after the cease-trade order. The OSC's Statement of Allegations does not include any allegations that amount to knowledge of or recklessness with regards to a representation.

Claims on behalf of purchasers of notes

- 113. The Ontario Action also advances common law claims against Ernst & Young on behalf of note purchasers (debt securities purchased pursuant to an offering memorandum).<sup>3</sup> Class Counsel are mindful that there are challenges to the prosecution of these claims in the circumstance of this case.
- 114. Recovery on behalf of noteholders in the class actions is limited, with respect to indemnifiable claims, by virtue of the Plan to a total of CAD$150,000,000, for both primary and secondary market purchasers, and as against all defendants.
- 115. Certification of the common law claims relating to Sino notes remains subject to certain risks, including those described above in respect of common law claims on behalf of shareholders. These claims are also subject to a number of unique defenses. For example, the trust indentures governing Sino notes restrict the right of individual noteholders to assert claims in relation to their notes. As such, the Ontario Plaintiffs understand that Ernst & Young may assert that anyone who is not a current noteholder, even if they sold their notes only recently, has no right of action. The defendants assert that those former noteholders transferred all of their rights in the notes, including any right to sue for misrepresentations. Further, to allow the common law claims may violate the rule against double proof; the claimants cannot sue both for trading losses and under the note covenants.
- 116. Ernst & Young has also raised the argument that the current noteholders have chosen to recover from Sino's assets pursuant to the CCAA Plan of Arrangement, and that any other remedy would amount to double recovery.

<sup>3</sup> As noted, the OSA does not provide for a statutory right of action against Ernst & Young in relation to the alleged misrepresentations in the offering memoranda by way of which the notes were distributed.

117. In assessing the noteholders' common law claims in the context of the settlement, Class Counsel have been cognizant of such risks and uncertainties.

Ernst & Young LLP's Insurance

118. Taking into account the available insurance and annual revenues of the firm, it is the view of plaintiffs' counsel that the amount of damages estimated by the plaintiffs' expert would not reasonably be recoverable against an organization such as Ernst & Young LLP.

Other Auditor Settlements in Securities Class Actions

- 119. Attached as Exhibit "GG" is a list titled "Top 50 Accounting Malpractice Settlements" prepared by Audit Analytics, an independent research provider focused on the accounting, insurance, regulatory, legal and investment communities.
- 120. Based on our assessment of the Audit Analytics document and other information available in the public domain, the Settlement Amount would represent the largest securities class action settlement paid by defendants involving a Canadian issuer, the shares of which were not listed on a U.S. stock exchange. Before this settlement, the largest such settlement was in the YBM Magnex case where the defendants collectively paid $85 million to settle the action, which claimed $875 million in damages, on a global basis.
- 121. Based on our assessment of the Audit Analytics document and other information available in the public domain, the Settlement Amount would also be the largest settlement paid by a Canadian auditing firm in a securities class action lawsuit. Previously, the largest recovery to shareholders by a Canadian auditing firm was a US$50.5 million settlement paid by the Canadian branch of Deloitte & Touche in In Re Philip Services Corp Securities Litigation.

- 122. Based on our assessment of the Audit Analytics document and other information available in the public domain, the Settlement Amount ranks as the fifth largest settlement paid by an auditing firm worldwide in a securities class action.
- 123. The other class action settlements were: i) the $335 million payment to Cendant shareholders in December 1999; ii) the $225 million payment to Tyco shareholders in November 2007; iii) the $210 million payment to Adelphia shareholders in August 2007; and iv) the $125 million payment to Rite Aid shareholders in March 2003.
- 124. The remaining settlements on the Audit Analytics list that rank above the Ernst & Young settlement relate to payments made by auditing firms to government regulators or the auditors' clients, or relate to non-securities litigation.

CONCLUSION

125. In light of all of the above considerations, it is Class Counsel's opinion that the Ernst & Young Settlement and Settlement Amount are fair and reasonable to the Class. Class Counsel have no hesitation in recommending to the Court that it approve this settlement.

APPENDIX "A" PRODUCTION PROTOCOL

This documents production protocol is intended to describe the process for obtaining production of documents from Ernst & Young LLP ("Ernst & Young") in Ontario Superior Court of Justice, Court File No. CV-11-431153CP ("the Action"). The protocol assumes that the Ernst & Young Settlement and Ernst & Young Release will have been approved by the courts, including the bar orders sought, and confirmation to the Monitor in writing by Ernst & Young of the fulfillment of all conditions precedent in the Ernst & Young Settlement and the fulfillment by the Ontario Class Action Plaintiffs of all of their obligations thereunder, and, where necessary, upon the recognition of these matters by appropriate courts in other jurisdictions.

Ernst & Young has confirmed that to the best of its knowledge documents related to Sino-Forest Corporation and its subsidiaries ("Sino-Forest") in its power, possession and control have been preserved in response to a document preservation memorandum dated June 9, 2011 and will continue to be preserved until the Action has been finally resolved.

After the close of pleadings and following production of documents by the parties (not including Ernst & Young) to the Action and following delivery of affidavits of documents by the parties (not including Ernst & Young) to the Action, and in accordance with the timetable set out in the Discovery Plan (referenced in paragraph 3 below):

- 1) Ernst & Young will identify and produce its working papers related to the quarterly and annual audit work performed for and in respect of Sino-Forest Corporation and its subsidiaries relevant to the Action, as determined by reference to the pleadings in the Action, subject to privilege and other confidentiality claims;
- 2) The working papers referred to in paragraph (1) hereof shall be made available for inspection and, if requested, copies shall be produced;
- 3) Ernst & Young shall be consulted about the proposed schedule for production and discovery with respect to productions pursuant to this protocol before the finalization of the Discovery Plan pursuant to Rules 29.1.03(1) of the Rules of Civil Procedure. Any dispute with respect to the schedule as it affects Ernst & Young may be referred to the Ontario Superior Court pursuant to paragraph 9 hereof;

- 4) Ernst & Young shall be provided notice of all motions affecting Ernst & Young, including but not limited to any motion in respect of this Production Protocol;
- 5) The parties to the Action will be permitted to access the aforementioned categories of documents for an agreed duration during which any such party may request copies of them;
- Ernst & Young will arrange for copies of the documents to be made and thereafter provided to, not only the party to the Action requesting copies of the documents, but also every other party to the Action. In the case of documents that are now in electronic form, production of such documents will be by electronic copies;
- Any party to the Action that requests copies of documents pursuant to paragraphs 2 and 5 hereof agrees to pay all reasonable expenses relating to the copying or scanning of the requested documents incurred by the Non-Parties (including the costs incurred as a result of Ernst & Young retaining a third party vendor for such copying or scanning) for both the party requesting the documents and all other parties to the Action who are entitled to receive a duplicate copy, subject to the rights of the parties to the Action to recover the same from the other parties to the Action as costs in the Action. Nothing in this paragraph is intended to prevent the parties to the Action from allocating the costs referred to among themselves in any way they agree is appropriate;

- (b) to effect the distribution of the consideration provided for herein in respect of Proven Claims;
- (c) to transfer ownership of the SFC Business to Newco and then from Newco to Newco II, in each case free and clear of all claims against SFC and certain related claims against the Subsidiaries, so as to enable the SFC Business to continue on a viable, going concern basis; and
- (d) to allow Affected Creditors and Noteholder Class Action Claimants to benefit from contingent value that may be derived from litigation claims to be advanced by the Litigation Trustee.

The Plan is put forward in the expectation that the Persons with an economic interest in SFC, when considered as a whole, will derive a greater benefit from the implementation of the Plan and the continuation of the SFC Business as a going concern than would result from a bankruptcy or liquidation of SFC.

2.2 Claims Affected

The Plan provides for, among other things, the full, final and irrevocable compromise, release, discharge, cancellation and bar of Affected Claims and effectuates the restructuring of SFC. The Plan will become effective at the Effective Time on the Plan Implementation Date, other than such matters occurring on the Equity Cancellation Date (if the Equity Cancellation date does not occur on the Plan Implementation Date) which will occur and be effective on such date, and the Plan shall be binding on and enure to the benefit of SFC, the Subsidiaries, Newco, Newco II, SFC Escrow Co., any Person having an Affected Claim, the Directors and Officers of SFC and all other Persons named or referred to in, or subject to, the Plan, as and to the extent provided for in the Plan.

2.4 Insurance

- (a) Subject to the terms of this section 2.4, nothing in this Plan shall prejudice, compromise, release, discharge, cancel, bar or otherwise affect any right, entitlement or claim of any Person against SFC or any Director or Officer, or any insurer, in respect of an Insurance Policy or the proceeds thereof.

- Notwithstanding anything herein (including section 2.4(b) and the releases and (c) injunctions set forth in Article 7 hereof), but subject to section 2.4(d) hereof, all Insured Claims shall be deemed to remain outstanding and are not released following the Plan Implementation Date, but recovery as against SFC and the Named Directors and Officers is limited only to proceeds of Insurance Policies that are available to pay such Insured Claims, either by way of judgment or settlement. The insurers agree and acknowledge that they shall be obliged to pay any Loss payable pursuant to the terms and conditions of their respective Insurance Policies notwithstanding the releases granted to SFC and the Named Directors and Officers under this Plan. and that they shall not rely on any provisions of the Insurance Policies to argue, or otherwise assert, that such releases excuse them from, or relieve them of, the obligation to pay Loss that otherwise would be payable under the terms of the Insurance Policies. For greater certainty, the insurers agree and consent to a direct right of action against the insurers, or any of them, in favour of any plaintiff who or which has (a) negotiated a settlement of any Claim covered under any of the Insurance Policies, which settlement has been consented to in writing by the insurers or such of them as may be required or (b) obtained a final judgment against one or more of SFC and/or the Directors or Officers which such plaintiff asserts, in whole or in part, represents Loss covered under the Insurance Policies, notwithstanding that such plaintiff is not a named insured under the Insurance Policies and that neither SFC nor the Directors or Officers are parties to such action.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this section 2.4, from and after the Plan Implementation Date, any Person having an Insured Claim shall, as against SFC and the Named Directors and Officers, be irrevocably limited to recovery solely from the proceeds of the Insurance Policies paid or payable on behalf of SFC or its Directors or Officers, and Persons with any Insured Claims shall have no right to, and shall not, directly or indirectly, make any claim or seek any recoveries from SFC, any of the Named Directors and Officers, any of the Subsidiaries, Newco or Newco II, other than enforcing such Person's rights to be paid from the proceeds of an Insurance Policy by the applicable insurer(s), and this section 2.4(d) may be relied upon and raised or pled by SFC, Newco, Newco II, any Subsidiary and any Named Director and Officer in defence or estoppel of or to enjoin any claim, action or proceeding brought in contravention of this section

- 47. THIS COURT ORDERS that, subject to the due performance of its obligations as set forth in the Plan and subject to its compliance with any written directions or instructions of the Monitor and/or directions of the Court in the manner set forth in the Plan, SFC Escrow Co. shall have no liabilities whatsoever arising from the performance of its obligations under the Plan.

ENDORSEMENT

- [1] The Applicant, Sino-Forest Corporation ("SFC"), seeks an order sanctioning the Plan of Compromise and Arrangement dated December 3, 2012, as modified, amended, varied or supplemented in accordance with its terms (the "Plan") pursuant to section 6 of the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA"), and ancillary relief as set out in the proposed sanction order (the "Sanction Order").
- [2] The Plan is supported by:
  - (a) the Monitor;
  - (b) SFC's largest creditors, the Ad Hoc Committee of Noteholders (the "Ad Hoc Committee");
  - (c) Ernst & Young LLP ("E&Y");
  - (d) BDO Limited ("BDO"); and
  - (c) the Underwriters.

The Ad Hoc Committee of Purchasers of the Applicant's Securities (the "Ad Hoc Securities Purchasers Committee" including the "Class Action Plaintiffs") has agreed not to oppose the Plan.

- [3] The Plan was approved by an overwhelming majority of Affected Creditors voting on the Plan in person or by proxy. In total, 99% in number, and greater than 99% in value, of those Affected Creditors voting favoured the Plan.
- [4] Invesco Canada Ltd. ("Invesco"), Northwest & Ethical Investments LP and Comité Syndicale Nationale de Retraite Bâtirente Inc. (collectively, the "Funds") object to the proposed Sanction Order. The Funds request an adjournment of the motion for a period of one month. Alternatively, the Funds request that the Plan be altered so as to remove Article 11 "Settlement of Claims Against Third Party Defendants".

- This endorsement fully addresses the adjournment request of the Funds. In this endorsement, defined terms have been taken from the motion record.
- [6] The Funds are institutional, public and private equity funds that owned 3,085,786 common shares of SFC on June 2, 2011. The Funds alleged that they suffered substantial losses after the market in SFC shares collapsed following a public issuance of a report suggesting that fraud permeated SFC's assets and operations.
- Following the collapse of SFC's share price, class actions were commenced against SFC, [7] certain of its directors and officers, the auditors, the Underwriters and other expert firms.
- On January 6, 2012, Perell J. granted carriage of the class action to Koskie Minsky LLP and Siskinds LLP ("Class Counsel"). The class has not been certified.
- Counsel to the Funds takes the position that Class Counsel does not represent the Funds. [9]
- In his affidavit sworn December 6, 2012, Mr. Eric J. Adelson, Senior Vice President, Secretary and head of Legal of Invesco stated that on December 3, 2012, Class Counsel and E&Y announced that they had entered into a settlement by which E&Y would pay $117 million into a "Trust" formed as part of the CCAA proceedings, in return for releases of all claims that could be brought against E&Y by any person in connection with SFC.
- [11] Mr. Adelson also states that on December 3, 2012, an Amended Plan was issued that, for the first time in the CCAA proceedings, contained provisions for settlement of claims against Third Party Defendants (Article 11), including specific provisions concerning the settlement by and releases for E&Y, and also allowing other Third Party Defendants to avail themselves of similar provisions for unspecified settlements and releases in the future.
- Mr. Adelson acknowledges that on December 5, 2012, counsel for E&Y advised Invesco's counsel that the parties had decided not to request court approval of the proposed E&Y Settlement at the motion scheduled for December 7, 2012. However, Mr. Adelson takes the position that provisions of the Plan, even apart from the E&Y Settlement, appear to affect the legal and practical ability of Invesco and other investors to seek adjudication of their claims against defendants in the SFC litigation on the merits, rendering it vital that sufficient time be provided to fully understand the present matters.
- [13] Mr. Adelson also details "preliminary reasons for objecting to the Plan's release provisions":
  - 15. If the effect of the Plan is to allow a Third Party Defendant (such as E&Y) to settle its liability to investors in connection with Sino-Forest through a settlement agreement with Class Counsel, and to bind the investors to that settlement without giving them the opportunity to opt out and pursue their claims on the merits outside the Class Action, then Invesco would strenuously object and oppose approval of such an arrangement.
  - 16. The Class Action has not been certified, so Invesco does not view Class Counsel, with whom we have no other relationship, as authorized to represent its interests in connection with Sino-Forest. Our views have not been heard and our interests have not been represented in connection with the Plan and the proposed settlement. It is my understanding that Invesco, as an investor with claims against Sino-Forest and the other defendants in the Class Action, is not a "creditor" with respect to the Plan. Invesco accordingly submits that it would be contrary to its rights to bind it to a release or a settlement involving Third Party Defendants unless Invesco directly participated in proceedings or unless in certified class proceedings it was given the opportunity to opt out. We do not understand the CCAA to authorize releases of third parties, that is, parties other than the Applicant and certain officers and directors under certain circumstances, as part of a Sanction Order. Invesco objects to any such provisions or results in this matter.

- Counsel to the Funds made specific reference to Article 11.2 of the Plan which, counsel submits. if approved, establishes an open-ended mechanism for eligible Third Party Defendants, defined to include the 11 Underwriters named as defendants in the class action, BDO and/or E&Y (if its proposed settlement is not already concluded), to enter into a "Named Third Party Defendant Settlement" with "one or more of (i) counsel to the plaintiffs in any of the class actions...".
- Counsel to the Funds further submits that under Articles 11.2 (b) and (c), once a settlement is concluded among the specified parties, the settling defendant will obtain releases and bar orders in the CCAA proceeding, preventing the continued litigation of any SFC-related claims against them. If a settlement is reached in the future, counsel submits that the CCAA release and bar orders will remain available notwithstanding that the CCAA process may have concluded. Accordingly, counsel submits that it appears that these provisions purport to vest authority in the parties as described to enter into settlements that may have the effect of barring any claimants (such as the Funds) from prosecuting SFC-related claims against the Underwriters, BDO and/or E&Y, subject to the approval of this court. This bar, counsel submits, would be imposed without compliance with establishes prerequisites of the Class Proceedings Act ("CPA") - including class certification, a fairness hearing, approval by the court supervising the class action, and provision of opt-out rights - necessary to impose releases or other restrictions on class members who are not named parties before that court.
- Stated more succinctly, counsel submits that the Plan appears designed to unnecessarily fetter the powers of a future court, namely, the class action case management court, by assigning to the CCAA court the power to approve and effectuate class-wide settlements without regard to established statutory and rule-based procedural safeguards found in the CPA.
- The adjournment request was opposed, primarily on the basis that the Funds had misunderstood the terms of the Plan. Oral submissions were made by counsel on behalf of the Monitor, SFC, Ad Hoc Noteholders, SFC Board, Ontario Securities Commission, E&Y and the Class Action Plaintiffs. Specifically, these parties submit there was a misunderstanding on the part of the Funds as to what was before the court for approval and, perhaps more importantly, what was not before the court for approval.
- Counsel to the Monitor also submits that SFC has limited funds and time is critical. [18]

- Page 5 -

- The thrust of the arguments of the combined forces opposing the adjournment request is that the court is not being asked, at this time, to approve the settlement. Rather, what is before the court is a motion to approve the Plan, which includes approval of a framework with respect to a proposed settlement of claims against Third Party Defendants.
- Essentially, if certain conditions are met and further court approvals and orders are obtained, it is conceivable that E&Y will get a release. However, such a release is not being requested at this time. Further, it is not a condition of Plan Implementation that the E&Y matter be settled.
- [21] To support this position, counsel referenced a number of provisions in the Plan including:
  - 1. The defined term "Settlement Trust Order", which means a court order that establishes the Settlement Trust (section 11.1 (a) of the Plan) and approves the E&Y Settlement and the E&Y Release...:
  - 2. Section 8.2, which outlines the effect the Sanction Order and includes a reference in Section 8.2 (z) that the E&Y Release shall become effective on the E&Y Settlement Date in the manner set forth in section 11.1;
  - 3. Section 11.1, which details settlement of claims against Third Party Defendants and specifically E&Y. This provision sets out a number of pre-conditions to the required payment to be made by E&Y as provided for in the E&Y Settlement. These pre-conditions are:
    - (i) the granting of the Sanction Order;
    - (ii) the issuance of the Settlement Trust Order;
    - the granting of an order under Chapter 15 of the United States Bankruptcy (iii) Code recognizing and enforcing the Sanction Order and the Settlement Trust Order in the United States;
    - any other order necessary to give effect to the E&Y Settlement; (iv)
    - the fulfillment of all conditions precedent in the E&Y Settlement and the (v) fulfillment by the Ontario Class Action Plaintiffs of all of their obligations thercunder; and
    - the Sanction Order, the Settlement Trust Order and all E&Y Orders being (vi) final orders and not subject to further appeal or challenge.
- [22] Having reviewed these documents, it is apparent that approval of the E&Y Settlement is not before the court on this motion and no release is being provided to E&Y as a result of this motion. In the event all of the pre-conditions are satisfied and if all of the required court approvals and orders are issued, the position of the Funds could be affected. However, the Funds will have the opportunity to make argument on such hearings.

- [23] I have also reviewed the form of Sanction Order being requested specifically paragraph 40. This provision provides that the E&Y Settlement and the release of the E&Y Claims pursuant to section 11.1 of the Plan shall become effective upon the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent, including court approval of the terms of the E&Y Settlement, the terms and scope of the E&Y Release and the Settlement Trust Order and the granting of the Settlement Trust Order.
- [24] Paragraph 41 of the draft Sanction Order also provides that any Named Third Party Defendant Settlement, Named Third Party Defendant Settlement Order and Named Third Party Defendant Release, the terms and scope of which remain in each case subject to further court approval in accordance with the Plan, shall only become effective after the Plan Implementation Date and upon the satisfaction of the conditions precedent, set forth in section 11.2 of the Plan.
- [25] The requested Sanction Order confirms my view that the arguments put forth by counsel on behalf of the Funds are premature and can be addressed on the return of the motion to approve the specific settlements and releases.
- [26] In the result, I have not been persuaded that the adjournment is necessary. The motion for the adjournment is accordingly denied.

HEARD:

DECEMBER 7, 2012

ENDORSED: DECEMBER 10, 2012

REASONS: DECEMBER 12, 2012

ENDORSEMENT

[1] On December 10, 2012, I released an endorsement granting this motion with reasons to follow. These are those reasons.

Overview

- [2] The Applicant, Sino-Forest Corporation ("SFC"), seeks an order sanctioning (the "Sanction Order") a plan of compromise and reorganization dated December 3, 2012 as modified, amended, varied or supplemented in accordance with its terms (the "Plan") pursuant to section 6 of the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA").
- [3] With the exception of one party, SFC's position is either supported or is not opposed.
- [4] Invesco Canada Ltd., Northwest & Ethical Investments LP and Comité Syndicale Nationale de Retraite Bâtirente Inc. (collectively, the "Funds") object to the proposed Sanction Order. The Funds requested an adjournment for a period of one month. I denied the Funds' adjournment request in a separate endorsement released on December 10, 2012 (Re Sino-Forest Corporation, 2012 ONSC 7041). Alternatively, the Funds requested that the Plan be altered so as to remove Article 11 "Settlement of Claims Against Third Party Defendants".
- [5] The defined terms have been taken from the motion record.
- [6] SFC's counsel submits that the Plan represents a fair and reasonable compromise reached with SFC's creditors following months of negotiation. SFC's counsel submits that the Plan, including its treatment of holders of equity claims, complies with CCAA requirements and is consistent with this court's decision on the equity claims motions (the "Equity Claims Decision") (2012 ONSC 4377, 92 C.B.R. (5th) 99), which was subsequently upheld by the Court of Appeal for Ontario (2012 ONCA 816).

- [7] Counsel submits that the classification of creditors for the purpose of voting on the Plan was proper and consistent with the CCAA, existing law and prior orders of this court, including the Equity Claims Decision and the Plan Filing and Meeting Order.
- [8] The Plan has the support of the following parties:
  - (a) the Monitor;
  - (b) SFC's largest creditors, the Ad Hoc Committee of Noteholders (the "Ad Hoc Noteholders");
  - (c) Ernst & Young LLP ("E&Y");
  - (d) BDO Limited ("BDO"); and
  - (e) the Underwriters.
- [9] The Ad Hoc Committee of Purchasers of the Applicant's Securities (the "Ad Hoc Securities Purchasers Committee", also referred to as the "Class Action Plaintiffs") has agreed not to oppose the Plan. The Monitor has considered possible alternatives to the Plan, including liquidation and bankruptcy, and has concluded that the Plan is the preferable option.
- [10] The Plan was approved by an overwhelming majority of Affected Creditors voting in person or by proxy. In total, 99% in number, and greater than 99% in value, of those Affected Creditors voting favoured the Plan.
- [11] Options and alternatives to the Plan have been explored throughout these proceedings. SFC carried out a court-supervised sales process (the "Sales Process"), pursuant to the sales process order (the "Sales Process Order"), to seek out potential qualified strategic and financial purchasers of SFC's global assets. After a canvassing of the market, SFC determined that there were no qualified purchasers offering to acquire its assets for qualified consideration ("Qualified Consideration"), which was set at 85% of the value of the outstanding amount owing under the notes (the "Notes").
- [12] SFC's counsel submits that the Plan achieves the objective stated at the commencement of the CCAA proceedings (namely, to provide a "clean break" between the business operations of the global SFC enterprise as a whole ("Sino-Forest") and the problems facing SFC, with the aspiration of saving and preserving the value of SFC's underlying business for the benefit of SFC's creditors).

Facts

[13] SFC is an integrated forest plantation operator and forest products company, with most of its assets and the majority of its business operations located in the southern and eastern regions of the People's Republic of China ("PRC"). SFC's registered office is located in Toronto and its principal business office is located in Hong Kong.

- [14] SFC is a holding company with six direct subsidiaries (the "Subsidiaries") and an indirect majority interest in Greenheart Group Limited (Bermuda), a publicly-traded company. Including SFC and the Subsidiaries, there are 137 entities that make up Sino-Forest: 67 companies incorporated in PRC, 58 companies incorporated in British Virgin Islands, 7 companies incorporated in Hong Kong, 2 companies incorporated in Canada and 3 companies incorporated elsewhere.
- [15] On June 2, 2011, Muddy Waters LLC ("Muddy Waters"), a short-seller of SFC's securities, released a report alleging that SFC was a "near total fraud" and a "Ponzi scheme". SFC subsequently became embroiled in multiple class actions across Canada and the United States and was subjected to investigations and regulatory proceedings by the Ontario Securities Commission ("OSC"), Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.
- [16] SFC was unable to file its 2011 third quarter financial statements, resulting in a default under its note indentures.
- [17] Following extensive arm's length negotiations between SFC and the Ad Hoc Noteholders, the parties agreed on a framework for a consensual resolution of SFC's defaults under its note indentures and the restructuring of its business. The parties ultimately entered into a restructuring support agreement (the "Support Agreement") on March 30, 2012, which was initially executed by holders of 40% of the aggregate principal amount of SFC's Notes. Additional consenting noteholders subsequently executed joinder agreements, resulting in noteholders representing a total of more than 72% of aggregate principal amount of the Notes agreeing to support the restructuring.
- [18] The restructuring contemplated by the Support Agreement was commercially designed to separate Sino-Forest's business operations from the problems facing the parent holding company outside of PRC, with the intention of saving and preserving the value of SFC's underlying business. Two possible transactions were contemplated:
  - (a) First, a court-supervised Sales Process to determine if any person or group of persons would purchase SFC's business operations for an amount in excess of the 85% Qualified Consideration;
  - (b) Second, if the Sales Process was not successful, a transfer of six immediate holding companies (that own SFC's operating business) to an acquisition vehicle to be owned by Affected Creditors in compromise of their claims against SFC. Further, the creation of a litigation trust (including funding) (the "Litigation Trust") to enable SFC's litigation claims against any person not otherwise released within the CCAA proceedings, preserved and pursued for the benefit of SFC's stakeholders in accordance with the Support Agreement (concurrently, the "Restructuring Transaction").
- [19] SFC applied and obtained an initial order under the CCAA on March 30, 2012 (the "Initial Order"), pursuant to which a limited stay of proceedings ("Stay of Proceedings") was also granted in respect of the Subsidiaries. The Stay of Proceedings was subsequently extended by orders dated May 31, September 28, October 10, and November 23, 2012, and unless further extended, will expire on February 1, 2013.

- [20] On March 30, 2012, the Sales Process Order was granted. While a number of Letters of Intent were received in respect of this process, none were qualified Letters of Intent, because none of them offered to acquire SFC's assets for the Qualified Consideration. As such, on July 10, 2012, SFC announced the termination of the Sales Process and its intention to proceed with the Restructuring Transaction.
- [21] On May 14, 2012, this court granted an order (the "Claims Procedure Order") which approved the Claims Process that was developed by SFC in consultation with the Monitor.
- [22] As of the date of filing, SFC had approximately $1.8 billion of principal amount of debt owing under the Notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest. As of May 15, 2012, Noteholders holding in aggregate approximately 72% of the principal amount of the Notes, and representing more than 66.67% of the principal amount of each of the four series of Notes, agreed to support the Plan.
- [23] After the Muddy Waters report was released, SFC and certain of its officers, directors and employees, along with SFC's former auditors, technical consultants and Underwriters involved in prior equity and debt offerings, were named as defendants in a number of proposed class action lawsuits. Presently, there are active proposed class actions in four jurisdictions: Ontario, Quebec, Saskatchewan and New York (the "Class Action Claims").
- [24] The Labourers v. Sino-Forest Corporation Class Action (the "Ontario Class Action") was commenced in Ontario by Koskie Minsky LLP and Siskinds LLP. It has the following two components: first, there is a shareholder claim (the "Shareholder Class Action Claims") brought on behalf of current and former shareholders of SFC seeking damages in the amount of $6.5 billion for general damages, $174.8 million in connection with a prospectus issued in June 2007, $330 million in relation to a prospectus issued in June 2009, and $319.2 million in relation to a prospectus issued in December 2009; second, there is a $1.8 billion noteholder claim (the "Noteholder Class Action Claims") brought on behalf of former holders of SFC's Notes. The noteholder component seeks damages for loss of value in the Notes.
- [25] The Quebec Class Action is similar in nature to the Ontario Class Action, and both plaintiffs filed proof of claim in this proceeding. The plaintiffs in the Saskatchewan Class Action did not file a proof of claim in this proceeding, whereas the plaintiffs in the New York Class Action did file a proof of claim in this proceeding. A few shareholders filed proofs of claim separately, but no proof of claim was filed by the Funds.
- [26] In this proceeding, the Ad Hoc Securities Purchasers Committee represented by Siskinds LLP, Koskie Minsky, and Paliare Roland Rosenberg Rothstein LLP has appeared to represent the interests of the shareholders and noteholders who have asserted Class Action Claims against SFC and others.
- [27] Since 2000, SFC has had the following two auditors ("Auditors"): E&Y from 2000 to 2004 and 2007 to 2012 and BDO from 2005 to 2006.

- [28] The Auditors have asserted claims against SFC for contribution and indemnity for any amounts paid or payable in respect of the Shareholder Class Action Claims, with each of the Auditors having asserted claims in excess of $6.5 billion. The Auditors have also asserted indemnification claims in respect the Noteholder Class Action Claims.
- [29] The Underwriters have similarly filed claims against SFC seeking contribution and indemnity for the Shareholder Class Action Claims and Noteholder Class Action Claims.
- [30] The Ontario Securities Commission ("OSC") has also investigated matters relating to SFC. The OSC has advised that they are not seeking any monetary sanctions against SFC and are not seeking monetary sanctions in excess of $100 million against SFC's directors and officers (this amount was later reduced to $84 million).
- [31] SFC has very few trade creditors by virtue of its status as a holding company whose business is substantially carried out through its Subsidiaries in PRC and Hong Kong.
- [32] On June 26, 2012, SFC brought a motion for an order declaring that all claims made against SFC arising in connection with the ownership, purchase or sale of an equity interest in SFC and related indemnity claims to be "equity claims" (as defined in section 2 of the CCAA). These claims encapsulate the commenced Shareholder Class Action Claims asserted against SFC. The Equity Claims Decision did not purport to deal with the Noteholder Class Action Claims.
- [33] In reasons released on July 27, 2012, I granted the relief sought by SFC in the Equity Claims Decision, finding that the "the claims advanced in the shareholder claims are clearly equity claims." The Auditors and Underwriters appealed the decision and on November 23, 2012, the Court of Appeal for Ontario dismissed the appeal.
- [34] On August 31, 2012, an order was issued approving the filing of the Plan (the "Plan Filing and Meeting Order").
- [35] According to SFC's counsel, the Plan endeavours to achieve the following purposes:
  - (a) to effect a full, final and irrevocable compromise, release, discharge, cancellation and bar of all affected claims;
  - (b) to effect the distribution of the consideration provided in the Plan in respect of proven claims;
  - (c) to transfer ownership of the Sino-Forest business to Newco and then to Newco II, in each case free and clear of all claims against SFC and certain related claims against the Subsidiaries so as to enable the Sino-Forest business to continue on a viable, going concern basis for the benefit of the Affected Creditors; and
  - (d) to allow Affected Creditors and Noteholder Class Action Claimants to benefit from contingent value that may be derived from litigation claims to be advanced by the litigation trustee.

- [36] Pursuant to the Plan, the shares of Newco ("Newco Shares") will be distributed to the Affected Creditors. Newco will immediately transfer the acquired assets to Newco II.
- [37] SFC's counsel submits that the Plan represents the best available outcome in the circumstances and those with an economic interest in SFC, when considered as a whole, will derive greater benefit from the implementation of the Plan and the continuation of the business as a going concern than would result from bankruptcy or liquidation of SFC. Counsel further submits that the Plan fairly and equitably considers the interests of the Third Party Defendants, who seek indemnity and contribution from SFC and its Subsidiaries on a contingent basis, in the event that they are found to be liable to SFC's stakeholders. Counsel further notes that the three most significant Third Party Defendants (E&Y, BDO and the Underwriters) support the Plan.
- [38] SFC filed a version of the Plan in August 2012. Subsequent amendments were made over the following months, leading to further revised versions in October and November 2012, and a final version dated December 3, 2012 which was voted on and approved at the meeting. Further amendments were made to obtain the support of E&Y and the Underwriters. BDO availed itself of those terms on December 5, 2012.
- [39] The current form of the Plan does not settle the Class Action Claims. However, the Plan does contain terms that would be engaged if certain conditions are met, including if the class action settlement with E&Y receives court approval.
- [40] Affected Creditors with proven claims are entitled to receive distributions under the Plan of (i) Newco Shares, (ii) Newco notes in the aggregate principal amount of U.S. $300 million that are secured and guaranteed by the subsidiary guarantors (the "Newco Notes"), and (iii) Litigation Trust Interests.
- [41] Affected Creditors with proven claims will be entitled under the Plan to: (a) their pro rata share of 92.5% of the Newco Shares with early consenting noteholders also being entitled to their pro rata share of the remaining 7.5% of the Newco Shares; and (b) their pro rata share of the Newco Notes. Affected Creditors with proven claims will be concurrently entitled to their pro rata share of 75% of the Litigation Trust Interests; the Noteholder Class Action Claimants will be entitled to their pro rata share of the remaining 25% of the Litigation Trust Interests.
- [42] With respect to the indemnified Noteholder Class Action Claims, these relate to claims by former noteholders against third parties who, in turn, have alleged corresponding indemnification claims against SFC. The Class Action Plaintiffs have agreed that the aggregate amount of those former noteholder claims will not exceed the Indemnified Noteholder Class Action Limit of $150 million. In turn, indemnification claims of Third Party Defendants against SFC with respect to indemnified Noteholder Class Action Claims are also limited to the $150 million Indemnified Noteholder Class Action Limit.
- [43] The Plan includes releases for, among others, (a) the subsidiary; (b) the Underwriters' liability for Noteholder Class Action Claims in excess of the Indemnified Noteholder Class Action Limit; (c) E&Y in the event that all of the preconditions to the E&Y settlement with the Ontario Class Action plaintiffs are met; and (d) certain current and former directors and officers of SFC (collectively, the "Named Directors and Officers"). It was emphasized that non-released

D&O Claims (being claims for fraud or criminal conduct), conspiracy claims and section 5.1 (2) D&O Claims are not being released pursuant to the Plan.

- [44] The Plan also contemplates that recovery in respect of claims of the Named Directors and Officers of SFC in respect of any section 5.1 (2) D&O Claims and any conspiracy claims shall be directed and limited to insurance proceeds available from SFC's maintained insurance policies.
- [45] The meeting was carried out in accordance with the provisions of the Plan Filing and Meeting Order and that the meeting materials were sent to stakeholders in the manner required by the Plan Filing and Meeting Order. The Plan supplement was authorized and distributed in accordance with the Plan Filing and Meeting Order.
- [46] The meeting was ultimately held on December 3, 2012 and the results of the meeting were as follows:
  - (a) the number of voting claims that voted on the Plan and their value for and against the Plan;
  - (b) The results of the Meeting were as follows:
    - a. the number of Voting Claims that voted on the Plan and their value for and against the Plan:

|                             | Number of Votes | 1%      | Value of Votes      | %       |

b. the number of votes for and against the Plan in connection with Class Action Indemnity Claims in respect of Indemnified Noteholder Class Action Claims up to the Indemnified Noteholder Limit:

d. the overall impact on the approval of the Plan if the count were to include Total Unresolved Claims (including Defence Costs Claims) and, in order to demonstrate the "worst case scenario" if the entire $150 million of the Indemnified Noteholder Class Action Limit had been voted a "no" vote (even though 4 of 5 votes were "yes" votes and the remaining "no" vote was from BDO, who has now agreed to support the Plan):

|                             | Number of Votes | %       | Value of Votes      | %       |

- [47] E&Y has now entered into a settlement ("E&Y Settlement") with the Ontario plaintiffs and the Quebec plaintiffs, subject to several conditions and approval of the E&Y Settlement itself.
- [48] As noted in the endorsement dated December 10, 2012, which denied the Funds' adjournment request, the E&Y Settlement does not form part of the Sanction Order and no relief is being sought on this motion with respect to the E&Y Settlement. Rather, section 11.1 of the Plan contains provisions that provide a framework pursuant to which a release of the E&Y claims under the Plan will be effective if several conditions are met. That release will only be granted if all conditions are met, including further court approval.
- [49] Further, SFC's counsel acknowledges that any issues relating to the E&Y Settlement, including fairness, continuing discovery rights in the Ontario Class Action or Quebec Class Action, or opt out rights, are to dealt with at a further court-approval hearing.

Law and Argument

- [50] Section 6(1) of the CCAA provides that courts may sanction a plan of compromise if the plan has achieved the support of a majority in number representing two-thirds in value of the creditors.
- [51] To establish the court's approval of a plan of compromise, the debtor company must establish the following:
  - (a) there has been strict compliance with all statutory requirements and adherence to previous orders of the court;
  - (b) nothing has been done or purported to be done that is not authorized by the CCAA; and
  - (c) the plan is fair and reasonable.

(See Re Canadian Airlines Corporation, 2000 ABQB 442, leave to appeal denied, 2000 ABCA 238, aff'd 2001 ABCA 9, leave to appeal to SCC refused July 21, 2001, [2001] S.C.C.A. No. 60 and Re Nelson Financial Group Limited, 2011 ONSC 2750, 79 C.B.R. (5th) 307).

- [52] SFC submits that there has been strict compliance with all statutory requirements.
- [53] On the initial application, I found that SFC was a "debtor company" to which the CCAA applies. SFC is a corporation continued under the Canada Business Corporations Act ("CBCA") and is a "company" as defined in the CCAA. SFC was "reasonably expected to run out of liquidity within a reasonable proximity of time" prior to the Initial Order and, as such, was and continues to be insolvent. SFC has total claims and liabilities against it substantially in excess of the $5 million statutory threshold.

- [54] The Notice of Creditors' Meeting was sent in accordance with the Meeting Order and the revised Noteholder Mailing Process Order and, further, the Plan supplement and the voting procedures were posted on the Monitor's website and emailed to each of the ordinary Affected Creditors. It was also delivered by email to the Trustees and DTC, as well as to Globic who disseminated the information to the Registered Noteholders. The final version of the Plan was emailed to the Affected Creditors, posted on the Monitor's website, and made available for review at the meeting.
- [55] SFC also submits that the creditors were properly classified at the meeting as Affected Creditors constituted a single class for the purposes of considering the voting on the Plan. Further, and consistent with the Equity Claims Decision, equity claimants constituted a single class but were not entitled to vote on the Plan. Unaffected Creditors were not entitled to vote on the Plan.
- [56] Counsel submits that the classification of creditors as a single class in the present case complies with the commonality of interests test. See Re Canadian Airlines Corporation.
- [57] Courts have consistently held that relevant interests to consider are the legal interests of the creditors hold qua creditor in relationship to the debtor prior to and under the plan. Further, the commonality of interests should be considered purposively, bearing in mind the object of the CCAA, namely, to facilitate reorganizations if possible. See Stelco Inc. (2005), 78 O.R. (3d) 241 (Ont. C.A.), Re Canadian Airlines Corporation, and Re Nortel Networks Corporation (2009) O.J. No. 2166 (Ont. S.C.). Further, courts should resist classification approaches that potentially jeopardize viable plans.
- [58] In this case, the Affected Creditors voted in one class, consistent with the commonality of interests among Affected Creditors, considering their legal interests as creditors. The classification was consistent with the Equity Claims Decision.
- [59] I am satisfied that the meeting was properly constituted and the voting was properly carried out. As described above, 99% in number, and more than 99% in value, voting at the meeting favoured the Plan.
- [60] SFC's counsel also submits that SFC has not taken any steps unauthorized by the CCAA or by court orders. SFC has regularly filed affidavits and the Monitor has provided regular reports and has consistently opined that SFC is acting in good faith and with due diligence. The court has so ruled on this issue on every stay extension order that has been granted.
- [61] In Nelson Financial, I articulated relevant factors on the sanction hearing. The following list of factors is similar to those set out in Re Canwest Global Communications Corporation, 2010 ONSC 4209, 70 C.B.R. (5th) 1:

- 1. The claims must have been properly classified, there must be no secret arrangements to give an advantage to a creditor or creditor; the approval of the plan by the requisite majority of creditors is most important;
- 2. It is helpful if the Monitor or some other disinterested person has prepared an analysis of anticipated receipts and liquidation or bankruptcy;
- 3. If other options or alternatives have been explored and rejected as workable, this will be significant;
- 4. Consideration of the oppression rights of certain creditors; and
- 5. Unfairness to shareholders.
- 6. The court will consider the public interest.
- [62] The Monitor has considered the liquidation and bankruptcy alternatives and has determined that it does not believe that liquidation or bankruptcy would be a preferable alternative to the Plan. There have been no other viable alternatives presented that would be acceptable to SFC and to the Affected Creditors. The treatment of shareholder claims and related indemnity claims are, in my view, fair and consistent with CCAA and the Equity Claims Decision.
- [63] In addition, 99% of Affected Creditors voted in favour of the Plan and the Ad Hoc Securities Purchasers Committee have agreed not to oppose the Plan. I agree with SFC's submission to the effect that these are exercises of those parties' business judgment and ought not to be displaced.
- [64] I am satisfied that the Plan provides a fair and reasonable balance among SFC's stakeholders while simultaneously providing the ability for the Sino-Forest business to continue as a going concern for the benefit of all stakeholders.
- [65] The Plan adequately considers the public interest. I accept the submission of counsel that the Plan will remove uncertainty for Sino-Forest's employees, suppliers, customers and other stakeholders and provide a path for recovery of the debt owed to SFC's non-subordinated creditors. In addition, the Plan preserves the rights of aggrieved parties, including SFC through the Litigation Trust, to pursue (in litigation or settlement) those parties that are alleged to share some or all of the responsibility for the problems that led SFC to file for CCAA protection. In addition, releases are not being granted to individuals who have been charged by OSC staff, or to other individuals against whom the Ad Hoc Securities Purchasers Committee wishes to preserve litigation claims.
- [66] In addition to the consideration that is payable to Affected Creditors, Early Consent Noteholders will receive their pro rata share of an additional 7.5% of the Newco Shares ("Early Consent Consideration"). Plans do not need to provide the same recovery to all creditors to be considered fair and reasonable and there are several plans which have been sanctioned by the courts featuring differential treatment for one creditor or one class of creditors. See, for example, Camvest Global and Re Armbro Enterprises Inc. (1993), 22 C.B.R. (3d) 80 (Ont. Gen.

- Div.). A common theme permeating such cases has been that differential treatment does not necessarily result in a finding that the Plan is unfair, as long as there is a sufficient rational explanation.
- [67] In this case, SFC's counsel points out that the Early Consent Consideration has been a feature of the restructuring since its inception. It was made available to any and all noteholders and noteholders who wished to become Early Consent Noteholders were invited and permitted to do so until the early consent deadline of May 15, 2012. I previously determined that SFC made available to the noteholders all information needed to decide whether they should sign a joinder agreement and receive the Early Consent Consideration, and that there was no prejudice to the noteholders in being put to that election early in this proceeding.
- [68] As noted by SFC's counsel, there was a rational purpose for the Early Consent Consideration. The Early Consent Noteholders supported the restructuring through the CCAA proceedings which, in turn, provided increased confidence in the Plan and facilitated the negotiations and approval of the Plan. I am satisfied that this feature of the Plan is fair and reasonable.
- [69] With respect to the Indemnified Noteholder Class Action Limit, I have considered SFC's written submissions and accept that the $150 million agreed-upon amount reflects risks faced by both sides. The selection of a $150 million cap reflects the business judgment of the parties making assessments of the risk associated with the noteholder component of the Ontario Class Action and, in my view, is within the "general range of acceptability on a commercially reasonable basis". See Re Ravelston Corporation, (2005) 14 C.B.R. (5th) 207 (Ont. S.C). Further, as noted by SFC's counsel, while the New York Class Action Plaintiffs filed a proof of claim, they have not appeared in this proceeding and have not stated any opposition to the Plan, which has included this concept since its inception.
- [70] Turning now to the issue of releases of the Subsidiaries, counsel to SFC submits that the unchallenged record demonstrates that there can be no effective restructuring of SFC's business and separation from its Canadian parent if the claims asserted against the Subsidiaries arising out of or connected to claims against SFC remain outstanding. The Monitor has examined all of the releases in the Plan and has stated that it believes that they are fair and reasonable in the circumstances.
- [71] The Court of Appeal in ATB Financial v. Metcalfe & Mansfield Alternative Investments II Corporation, 2008 ONCA 587, 45 C.B.R. (5th) 163 stated that the "court has authority to sanction plans incorporating third party releases that are reasonably related to the proposed restructuring".
- [72] In this case, counsel submits that the release of Subsidiaries is necessary and essential to the restructuring of SFC. The primary purpose of the CCAA proceedings was to extricate the business of Sino-Forest, through the operation of SFC's Subsidiaries (which were protected by the Stay of Proceedings), from the cloud of uncertainty surrounding SFC. Accordingly, counsel submits that there is a clear and rational connection between the release of the Subsidiaries in the Plan. Further, it is difficult to see how any viable plan could be made that does not cleanse the Subsidiaries of the claims made against SFC.

- [73] Counsel points out that the Subsidiaries who are to have claims against them released are contributing in a tangible and realistic way to the Plan. The Subsidiaries are effectively contributing their assets to SFC to satisfy SFC's obligations under their guarantees of SFC's note indebtedness, for the benefit of the Affected Creditors. As such, counsel submits the releases benefit SFC and the creditors generally.
- [74] In my view, the basis for the release falls within the guidelines previously set out by this court in ATB Financial, Re Nortel Networks, 2010 ONSC 1708, and Re Kitchener Frame Limited, 2012 ONSC 234, 86 C.B.R. (5th) 274. Further, it seems to me that the Plan cannot succeed without the releases of the Subsidiaries. I am satisfied that the releases are fair and reasonable and are rationally connected to the overall purpose of the Plan.
- [75] With respect to the Named Directors and Officers release, counsel submits that this release is necessary to effect a greater recovery for SFC's creditors, rather than having those directors and officers assert indemnity claims against SFC. Without these releases, the quantum of the unresolved claims reserve would have to be materially increased and, to the extent that any such indemnity claim was found to be a proven claim, there would have been a corresponding dilution of consideration paid to Affected Creditors.
- [76] It was also pointed out that the release of the Named Directors and Officers is not unlimited; among other things, claims for fraud or criminal conduct, conspiracy claims, and section 5.1 (2) D&O Claims are excluded.
- [77] I am satisfied that there is a reasonable connection between the claims being compromised and the Plan to warrant inclusion of this release.
- [78] Finally, in my view, it is necessary to provide brief comment on the alternative argument of the Funds, namely, the Plan be altered so as to remove Article 11 "Settlement of Claims Against Third Party Defendants". The Plan was presented to the meeting with Article 11 in place. This was the Plan that was subject to the vote and this is the Plan that is the subject of this motion. The alternative proposed by the Funds was not considered at the meeting and, in my view, it is not appropriate to consider such an alternative on this motion.

Disposition

- [79] Having considered the foregoing, I am satisfied that SFC has established that:
  - (i) there has been strict compliance with all statutory requirements and adherence to the previous orders of the court;
  - (ii) nothing has been done or purported to be done that is not authorized by the CCAA; and
  - (iii) the Plan is fair and reasonable.

[80] Accordingly, the motion is granted and the Plan is sanctioned. An order has been signed substantially in the form of the draft Sanction Order.

- Like Madoff, TRE is one of the rare frauds that is committed by an established institution. In TRE's case, its early start as an RTO fraud, luck, and deft navigation enabled it to grow into an institution whose "quality management" consistently delivered on earnings growth.
- TRE, which was probably conceived as another short-lived Canadian-listed resources pump and dump, was aggressively committing fraud since its RTO in 1995.
- The foundation of TRE's fraud is its convoluted structure whereby it runs most of its revenues through "authorized intermediaries" ("AI"). AIs supposedly process TRE's tax payments, which ensures that TRE leaves its auditors far less of a paper trail.
- On the other side of its books, TRE massively exaggerates its assets. We present smoking gun evidence that TRE overstated its Yunnan timber investments by approximately $900 million.
- TRE relies on Jakko Poyry to produce reports that give it legitimacy. TRE provides fraudulent data to Poyry, which produces reports that do nothing to ensure that TRE is legitimate.
- TRE's capital raising is a multi-billion dollar ponzi scheme, and accompanied by substantial theft.

Introduction

As Bernard Madoff reminds us, when an established institution commits fraud, the fraud can become stratospheric in size. Sino-Forest Corp. ("TRE") is such an established institutional fraud, becoming massive due to its early start, luck, and deft navigation. At nearly seven billion dollars in enterprise value, it will now end.

TRE started humbly – as a fraudulent company going public on the Toronto Venture Exchange via reverse takeover ("RTO"). Sixteen years later, Muddy Waters would be exposing its US-listed imitators – companies such as RINO, DGW, ONP, and CCME. It seems impossible that a Chinese RTO coming public in 2010 could ever get to where TRE did. But for many years, TRE sat barely noticed on the Toronto exchange. It was committing fraud from the very beginning; but, there were not enough similar frauds to raise investors' awareness.

Then in 2003, it changed its business model – moving to a level beyond standard capex schemes that most China frauds run. Its new model, purchasing trees, gave it limitless room for growing its fraudulent balance sheet and vacuuming up money from the capital markets. At the same time, China was becoming a major investment theme. TRE became more sophisticated – engaging Jakko Poyry to write valuation reports, all the while giving Poyry manipulated data and restricting its scope of work. Thus more and more investors are drawn into TRE's fraud every year as it falsifies timber investments and manipulates Poyry further. At some point, TRE became an institution – a seasoned stock with "quality management" that consistently grew earnings over more than a decade.

Were Muddy Waters not to have come along, it is likely that this fraud could have continued for a few more years and billions of dollars more. Solving this fraud was not easy. In order to conduct our research, we utilized a team of 10 persons who dedicated most to all of their time over two months to analyzing TRE. The team included professionals who focus on China from the disciplines of accounting, law, finance, and manufacturing. Our team read over 10,000 pages of documents in Chinese pertaining to the company. We deployed professional investigators to five cities. We retained four law firms as outside counsel to assist with our analysis. We are confident that we have brought more expertise, time, and money to bear in analyzing TRE than has any investor or bank — by a substantial margin.

Executive Summary

Sino-Forest Corp (TSE: TRE) is the granddaddy of China RTO frauds. It has always been a fraud – reporting excellent results from one of its early joint ventures – even though, because of TRE's default on its investment obligations, the JV never went into operation. TRE just lied.

The foundation of TRE's fraud is a convoluted structure whereby it claims to run most of its revenues through "authorized intermediaries" ("AI"). Als are supposedly timber trader customers who purportedly pay much of TRE's value added and income taxes. At the same time, these AIs allow TRE a gross margin of 55% on standing timber merely for TRE having speculated on trees. The sole purpose of this structure is to fabricate sales transactions while having an excuse for not having the VAT invoices that are the mainstay of China audit work. If TRE really were processing over one billion dollars in sales through AIs, TRE and the AIs would be in serious legal trouble. No legitimate public company would take such risks – particularly because this structure has zero upside.

TRE avoids disclosing the identities of all but one of its AIs "for competitive reasons." The one AI we know it has disclosed (at a credit analyst event in April 2011) is actually a connected party—to both TRE and one of its agents. Despite TRE's opacity on the revenue side, we have overwhelming evidence that the $231.1 million in Yunnan province timber TRE claimed to sell is largely fabricated. Such amount exceeds TRE's real timber holdings in Yunnan province. It exceeds the applicable harvesting quotas by six times. Transporting the harvested logs would have required over 50,000 trucks driving on two-lane roads winding through the mountains from this remote region, which is far beyond belief (and likely road capacity).

On the other side of the books, TRE massively exaggerates its assets. TRE significantly falsifies its investments in plantation fiber (trees). It purports to have purchased $2.891 billion in standing timber under master agreements since 2006. We have smoking gun evidence from Yunnan province that it overstated its purchases there by over $800 million. Of the five agents we have been able to identify (TRE does not provide Chinese names), Yunnan appears to have the only legitimate agent. The other agents have histories and connections to TRE that make it obvious they did not purchase billions of dollars in timber for TRE. Further, the other agents appear to be laundering money for TRE – moving large amounts of money to an undisclosed subsidiary of TRE and a trading company that TRE does business with. We also see clear evidence that TRE has falsified its books – Chinese government records make clear that TRE would have had a capital hole of $377 million to $922 million if it were making the investments it claims.

TRE then feeds the fraudulent data to Poyry, while allowing Poyry access to only 0.3% of its purported timber holdings. TRE touts the valuation reports as evidence of its credibility. One fresh example occurred at TRE's annual general meeting on May 30, 2011. At the meeting, CFO David Horsley emphasized to the shareholders in attendance that Poyry teams spend "six personal weeks" in the field for the valuations. On a June 1, 2011 telephone call with analysts to discuss the Poyry report, Poyry clarified that four men spent six days in the field, which the Company calculates is approximately six man-weeks. Fortunately, it appears that in 2011 Poyry is becoming somewhat cautious about TRE using its name to bilk investors out of billions of dollars, and it has accordingly restricted how TRE may use the report.

TRE's claims to be "transparent" are interesting. Its offshore structure, which utilizes at least 20 British Virgin Island entities, is an unjustifiable black hole.

Auditors are far less effective in detecting fraud than most investors assume they are. The problem is that fraudsters are willing to forge documents. We show a suspicious letter from HSBC that was written on behalf of one of TRE's main subsidiaries, Sino-Wood Partners. We submitted this document to HSBC's department of fraud risk.

Another issue with auditors detecting fraud is that when the auditors are based in Canada, and the fraud is in China, the auditors are far less versed in the games fraudsters can play in China. As CCME and LFT show, even China offices of "Big Four" auditors have a number of issues detecting fraud. For most of its time as a public company, TRE's auditors have been Ernst & Young out of Canada. In TRE's case, the auditor problem morphs into another significant issue – that of TRE's poor corporate governance. TRE's board of directors appears to be the retirement plan for former Ernst & Young partners, and its audit committee members all fail PRC political, industry, and cultural knowledge tests.<sup>2</sup> A favorite trick of Chinese RTO frauds is to gain credibility by putting Westerners without Chinese skills or background into management or onto the board. TRE probably pioneered the practice.

No fraud is complete without the payoff. Its constant capital raising is a multi-billion dollar ponzi scheme. We see some evidence of how TRE is stealing the hundreds of millions of dollars that have entered the PRC. Its financial tunnels include an undisclosed subsidiary that seems to act as a magnet for payments from many of TRE's disclosed PRC subsidiaries and the agents that purportedly purchase timber for TRE.

Valuation

Because TRE has $2.1 billion in debt outstanding, which we believe exceeds the potential recovery, we value its equity at less than $1.00 per share.

Sino Forest Equity and Debt Estimated Values

Sino-Forest has raised a total $3.05 billion from the capital markets. The capital structure consists of $1.892 Billion of bonds outstanding<sup>3</sup>, Senior Secured Bank Loans of $207 million ($154.0 million from the Dec 31, 2010 financials and a new CNY 350 mil term facility. This makes debt outstanding $2.100 Billion.

In addition, it has raised $989 million of equity in shares sales going back to May 2004. Due to the SAIC filings, we know that a maximum of $1.2 Billion of cash has been injected onshore.

The Company also has a 63% stake in its listed subsidiary Greenheart Group, however, because we have concerns about this company, we do not factor it into our valuation.

The equity/credit analysis valuation analysis is very difficult as a result of the inability to rely on the audited financials and our belief that the company has far fewer assets than it reports. In order to value the equity and the credit, one has to assume one of two scenarios, both of which assume an injection amount of $1.2 Billion into China:

| Sino-Forest Corp | 10.25 | 07/28/14 | 399,517 | USD  | BULLET      |
| Sino-Forest Corp | 4.25  | 12/15/16 | 460,000 | USD  | CONVERTIBLE |
| Sino-Forest Corp | 6.25  | 10/21/17 | 600,000 | USD  | CALLABLE    |

Scenario 1: Assets in China are accessible to creditors and shareholders

If the assets in China were accessible, the first thing that creditors would have to do would be sell the small forestry assets that the company has and attempt to recover any cash balances. Given the propensity for theft, we will be liberal and assume that the recovery from asset sales and cash seizures is 50% of the amount injected – roughly $600 million. $50 million would be used to pay back the onshore RMB denominated debt. The rest would then need to be repatriated via a capital reduction process with SAFE, the Chinese capital account regulator. At an absolute minimum, the cost of offshoring this money would be around 15%, giving us a total recovery bull case of $467 million.

The offshore cash is not simply calculated by subtracted cash raised from cash moved into China. Management has been liberal with cash compensation. As well, they have spent $54 million on their Greenheart stake, $30 million in a consent payment for a bond exchange, and $7 million paying off Ms. Chen on the Homix purchase. If the convoluted BVI structure has yet to be used for theft, then the offshore cash balance could be as high as $1.5 Billion (Non-injected cash minus management compensation minus offshore acquisitions).

This gives us an asset base of $1.967 Billion in the best case, which we believe to be unlikely. Versus the current outstanding offshore debt of $1.893 Billion, the "real" best case net asset value is around $92 million. Divided by the current number of shares outstanding – 245 million - that leaves a share value of approximately C$0.38 at current exchange rates.

Scenario 2: Onshore Recovery of Zero.

Due to the time involved to actually change the legal representatives and liquidate collateral onshore, all the while chasing the cash balances and coordinating with authorities, historical precedent should show that there is little that can be done with onshore assets.

Using the above bull case of offshore assets, we estimate recovery for bondholders would be approximately 80 cents on the dollar, with a value of zero for the stock. Assuming that distressed investors target a 15% IRR (again, this would be extremely generous for a distressed Chinese credit), the absolute maximum an investor should be willing to pay for the credit is around 69 cents on the dollar. The recovery could be higher if less money was put into China.

Our belief is that the true recovery would be far lower, but without the aid of law enforcement, we will never really know how much money is there or where it went.

I. TRE Was Always a Fraud.4

TRE was engaged in aggressive fraud from the time it went public. Between 1994 and 1996, it generated between 65% to 77% of its reported revenues from an equity joint venture<sup>5</sup> with the Leizhou Forestry Bureau. All of these numbers were fabricated. In reality, TRE breached its commitment to contribute equity capital to the EJV. TRE's conduct so incensed the Leizhou

&lt;sup>5</sup> China has two classifications of Sino-Foreign joint ventures: equity joint ventures ('EJV") and cooperating joint ventures ("CJV"). The main difference is that in an EJV, profits and assets (upon winding up) are distributed in proportion to the parties' equity holdings. In a CJV, the parties may contract to divide the economics disproportionately to their equity interests.

Forestry Bureau that it filed with the Zhanjiang City Foreign and Economic Relations and Trade Commission ("COFTEC") a letter containing numerous grievances. We show this letter and a translation in Appendix A5. This letter and the rest of the EJV's SAIC file make clear that the EJV never achieved the any operation remotely close to that envisioned by the partners or described by TRE in its annual reports. Moreover, the Forestry Bureau accuses TRE of misappropriating cash through improper transactions.

In its 1997 annual report, TRE claims that its Heyuan and Guangxi CJV partners took over the (fictitious) wood chip business from the Leizhou EJV – even growing it by 193% that year. Considering the base year (1996) revenue was zero, we believe investors should assume that 1997 results from the CJVs were shy of $16.1 million TRE reported.<sup>6</sup>

TRE's penultimate fraudulent act in Leizhou was to claim that the Leizhou Forestry Bureau reimbursed TRE $12.43 million between 1999 and 2003 through a series of payments consisting of logs. This claim that the Forestry Bureau owed TRE in excess of $10 million dollars was a gross exaggeration of the facts and contradicts the EJV's SAIC file, improperly adding $12.43 to TRE's shareholders' equity. This type of phantom transaction would become the blueprint for TRE's massive fraud.

There was another critical outgrowth from the Leizhou EJV. Upon termination, TRE converted the company to a wholly foreign-owned enterprise ("WFOE"). The WFOE's business scope included "producing and selling wood products." TRE wound this company down in December 2003. This is the same year it began telling investors that it used AIs to handle its sales because it was not licensed to sell woodchips and wood based products domestically. In other words, TRE wound down a business that was licensed to sell wood chips; yet, at the same time was stating that it was forced to use AIs because none of its companies were licensed to sell woodchips in the domestic market. At that time, the Leizhou WFOE could have utilized this business to take over and carry out the proprietary sales of the wood chip and processed wood business. Essentially because TRE learned that it could successfully lie about operating a factory with a party known to shareholders, it went two steps further – lying about operating a trading business with a party unknown to shareholders.

Leizhou EJV - The Ghost of Ventures Past

The Leizhou EJV, the Zhanjiang Leizhou Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd., came into being on January 29th, 1994. TRE subscribed to 53% of the equity, which was to total $10 million, and the total investment was established at $25 million. TRE's obligation was straightforward; it would contribute 53% of the investment in cash ($5.3 million) in phases. It was to inject 15% of the registered capital within three months of incorporation, and its portion of the balance of the registered capital within two years. It paid in one million dollars, which left a balance of $4.3 million. The Forestry Bureau was to contribute forest assets of 3,533 ha (note that this greatly contradicts TRE's Canadian filings, which state 20,000 ha), and other assets. The articles of association show that the newly formed entity was created for the specific purposes of:

"Managing forests, wood processing, the production of wood products and wood chemical products, and establishing a production facility with an annual production capacity of 50,000 m<sup>3</sup> of Micro Density Fiber Board (MDF), managing a base of 120,000 mu (8,000 ha) of which the forest annual utilization would be 8,000 m<sup>3</sup>."<sup>10</sup>

The application included a detailed feasibility study for the MDF board production factory including financial analysis, market studies, and production plans totaling over sixty pages. Leizhou Forestry Bureau's expectation was that the factory would generate profit, provide valueadded manufacturing jobs, and introduce new technology and management knowhow. The articles also reveal a plan for the Leizhou Forest Bureau to make additional land available for harvesting and replanting that would total 8,000 ha (including the original 3,533 ha). This concept formed the basis of TRE's "phasing-in" program and was also utilized to inflate TRE's forest rights claims. However, the EJV never achieved "normal operations", and neither the plans for the manufacturing facility, nor any additional land utilization or forest acquisitions were executed. The signature of TRE's president, K.K. Poon on the amended articles evidences this fact. 11

The EJV's 1995 PRC Capital Verification Report (contained in the SAIC file) showed that the JV lost $1.1 million (RMB 8,709,107). The audit report also shows inventory of only $1,100 (RMB 9,000), which is hardly the level required to support an operation making weekly shipments of woodchips of approximately $400,000, as claimed by TRE. 13 By mid-1995, TRE had still not injected the balance of investment. The Forestry Bureau solicited the local COFTEC<sup>14</sup> to send a formal notification reminding TRE of its obligation. By the time the contribution deadline arrived in January 1996, the TRE management team was incommunicado.<sup>15</sup> After the Jan 29, 1996 deadline lapsed, Allen Chan and Chan Shixing failed to respond to formal letters. They also skipped a Board meeting called to resolve the issues. 16

Source: 1994 ~ 1997 Annual Reports

TRE took a bit of a victory lap in its 1996 Annual Report, when it congratulated itself on the Leizhou EJV completing three years of profitable operations. Moreover, the Company even claimed that the Leizhou EJV carried out $412,000 of research and development that year. According to TRE, it was floating its partner (rather than the other way around) for $15.0 million:

"The $14,992,000 due from the LFB [Leizhou Forestry Bureau] represents cash collected from the sale of wood chips on behalf of the Leizhou EJV. As originally agreed to by Sino-Wood, the cash was being retained by the LFB to fund the ongoing plantation costs of the Leizhou EJV incurred by the LFB." 19

In 1998, the Leizhou Forestry Bureau finally lost its patience and submitted a letter to COFTEC containing numerous grievances, and requesting that the EJV be terminated.<sup>20</sup> In addition to grievances related to the failure to inject capital and develop the MDF board factory as planned, the Forestry Bureau accused TRE of improperly removing money and making payments to a third party with which the EJV had not done business:

"After paying one million dollars, the foreign party not only failed to fully fund the company, but also approved in its own name the gradual withdrawal of funds in the amount of RMB 4,141,045.02 RMB [approximately $500,000], from the paid in capital provided by the company for the Joint Venture, among which $270,000 USD was paid out to the Huadu Baixing Wood Products Factory (花都市百兴木制品厂), which has had no business relationship with the joint venture at all. This amount of money equals 47.6% of the money [TRE's] paid in capital. Although our side has almost entirely paid in the capital to which we subscribed (all but 0.9% of the subscription total), because of the limited contribution from the foreign party, and its withdrawal of a huge amount of money from among those funds it contributed, it is impossible to put into practice the project that the joint venture aimed to construct or set up and the intended production and business operation activities. This is because the funding has been insufficient and the foreign party did not contribute the majority of the equity to which it subscribed. The joint venture therefore is merely a shell, existing in name only." <sup>21</sup>

In additional to phenomenally inflating the sales of woodchips from the EJV, TRE planted the seeds for a new mechanism that would propel its near infinite NAV growth, and enable it to create billion dollar forest accounts out of thin air. In the 1996 Annual Information Form, and that of previous years, TRE claims that the Leizhou JV had already "phased in" 20,000 ha of plantation lands from the Forestry Bureau. <sup>22</sup>

However, the Articles of Association clearly stipulate that if the project requires capitalization beyond $25 million USD total investment, then the foreign partner would contribute additional cash, and the Chinese partner would make additional in-kind contributions in the form of land use rights and forest assets. Since the project was never fully capitalized, there was no need for the Chinese partner to make additional in-kind contributions, and therefore no new forest assets would have been added to the venture. Additionally, the 8,000 ha, were discussed in the Articles only in the section pertaining to the long range planning for the company. Those sections of the Articles defining the parties' respective capital contributions specifically state 3,533 ha (53,000 mu) as the Leizhou Forest Bureau's contribution. In short, no additional contribution under a "phase –in" plan took place.

In addition to deducing that a scorned government EJV partner would not unilaterally contribute additional forest assets to support a manufacturing facility that had never been constructed, there is documentary proof that since inception, no significant increases in assets occurred. The EJV's PRC audit reports from 1995 and 1997 show no change in the intangible assets, under which heading forest assets are classified.<sup>25</sup> Had an additional 16,500 Ha been phased into the EJV, intangible assets would have increased by approximately RMB 86 million.<sup>26</sup>

In 1998, the two parties agreed to wind up the EJV. In the separation agreement, the parties agreed that the Forestry Bureau would receive all of the assets the Forestry Bureau originally contributed, and TRE would keep the entity and look for a new partner.<sup>27</sup>

Interestingly, in its 1997 annual report TRE described the agreement to terminate the EJV as entitling it to $12.4 million worth of assets from the LFB. TRE stated that it would in lieu receive payment over three years in the form of 730,440 m3 of standing timber the Forestry Bureau owned.<sup>28</sup>

Four years later, the 2003 Annual Report includes a claim that the Company completed its recovery of open receivables from the Leizhou Forest Bureau with a final collection in the amount of $10.2 million in the form of standing timber.<sup>29</sup> It is hard enough to collect on a debt

After the exit of the Leizhou Forest Bureau, the Company did not locate a new joint venture partner. In May of 1999, TRE converted the EJV into a Wholly Foreign-Owned Enterprise ("WFOE"). In April of 2000, the WFOE's new scope of business, which included producing and selling wood products, was formally approved.<sup>30</sup>

However, after receiving approval to reduce the size WFOE's remaining required capital contribution to only $1.4 million, <sup>31</sup> TRE still failed to do so for another three years. <sup>32</sup> In October of 2003, TRE finally wound down the Leizhou WFOE (without having contributed the additional capital). The application for deregistration was made on Oct 28, 2003 and approved by the Guangdong Zhanjiang COFTEC on November 4, 2003. <sup>33</sup> The key point to note is that in the 2003 Annual Report, TRE began disclosing that it needed to conduct business through authorized intermediaries due to lack of proper licensing, while failing to disclose that in the fourth quarter of the year, it was winding down an existing WFOE that had the business scope to do the business. <sup>34</sup>

How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying (by Finding AIs)

TRE's initial AI model was that it purported to buy logs, turn them into woodchips, and then sell them to customers. TRE disclosed in 2003 that it had been engaging in this model via its Heyuan and Guangxi CJVs. (TRE makes shameless use of the corporate memory hole.)

This model appears to be a tortured attempt to create an accounting event for TRE even though it risked no capital and moved no physical goods. (TRE would later make this look less tortured by creating a third party to the transactions, the agent, which probably made its auditors feel better.)

According to the description in its 2006 annual information of how these transactions worked, TRE (through the magic of AIs) booked revenue and profit, but

- did not commit capital to purchase the logs,
- did not enter into contracts to purchase the logs from suppliers,
- did not take title to the logs,
- did not at any time store (let alone view) the logs,
- did not commit capital to process the logs into wood chips,
- did not contract to process the logs into wood chips,
- did not market the wood chips,
- did not enter into contracts to sell the wood chips, and
- did not receive cash from the parties purchasing the wood chips.

Instead it "agreed to reimburse the costs of the AI, including the cost of the purchase of raw timber, and to pay both a processing fee and management fee..." However, "...all of [the aforementioned fees] are deducted from the sales proceeds of the wood chips." In other words, TRE would not pay any money because the AI would be "reimbursed" when it sold the chips.

In order to make these transactions into accounting quasi-reality, TRE assumed "all risks and obligations relating to the raw timber once it arrives at the premises of the AI until it is processed into wood chips, except for any loss arising as a result of the AI's default." As the same filing specifies, the AI assumed the risks and obligations of the timber at all other times – from the time it is purchased until title passed to the customer. The below diagram illustrates the purported transactions:

Essentially, TRE's assumed risk was that a meteor would destroy the wood while at the AI's facility (assuming that the contracts lacked force majeure clauses). For this invaluable service, the AI paid TRE a fee on a "net basis after withholding of applicable taxes by the AI." In other words, there was no tax documentation that can be used to confirm whether TRE actually received any money in this way.

Believing that TRE actually generated substantial revenue this way strikes us as akin to believing in the power of diving rods to find precious metals. However, TRE was able to apply the same principles to a model that allowed it to raise billions of dollars more. The model is dealing in standing timber.

II. "AI" Really Means "Artificial Intermediary"

The structure of using anonymous parties that purportedly purchase from TRE without requiring TRE to generate VAT invoices allows TRE to invent sales figures without fear of being exposed by tax bureau records. Given that TRE has mostly been audited by accountants based in Canada, using this structure to commit fraud takes more audacity than skill. If TRE really is using an AI structure, shareholders should demand management be replaced immediately because TRE is running substantial and unnecessary legal risks. We are convinced that this model does not really exist though, so no board meeting to discuss the illegalities of the AI structure is yet necessary. As far as we are aware, TRE has disclosed the identity of only one AI, which happened at a recent credit analyst event in China. However, this purported AI's general manager, Lei Guangyu, is part of a web of shadow players spanning the AI, an agent, TRE, and Greenheart. He and the AI are closely related to TRE.

TRE May be a Great Supplier, but How Much Prison Time Would the AIs be Willing to do for TRE?

In a legitimate public company, management would be summarily dismissed for using TRE's AI structure, if it had not already been arrested. This model would violate fiduciary duties, and because it is so blatantly illegal in the PRC, would probably be beyond the scope of D&O coverage. Furthermore, it would be difficult for TRE to find a counterparty willing to work with it in this model in size. The size of the transactions is so large that the AI management would possibly be committing offenses that could land them lifetime prison sentences.

On the other hand, the cure for the problems is simple. TRE, which already has over 60 wholly-owned companies in the PRC, could buy and sell timber through new or existing WFOEs (wholly foreign-owned enterprises). It could pay its own VAT and enterprise income tax ("EIT"). This is what practically every other foreign investor with at least $100,000 in its pocket does.

It is illegal for foreign companies to engage in domestic (i.e., non-import / export) business in the PRC without having incorporated a local subsidiary to carry out the business. The PRC deems profits generated by foreign companies doing domestic business without a domestic subsidiary to be illegal. The prior two years of illegal profits are subject to confiscation. Therefore, if TRE were really using this structure for its BVI subsidiaries, they would be risking confiscation of the prior two years of their profits.

As foreign enterprises conducting domestic business in China, TRE's BVI entities would still be subject to the PRC corporate income tax. TRE's failure to pay corporate income tax for its profits generated in China would subject TRE to penalties more severe than those disclosed. The penalties (on top of the unpaid tax) would be 50% to 500% of the unpaid tax. There is no statute of limitations that would prevent the tax bureau from recovering all of TRE's unpaid taxes with per day surcharges and penalties.

Because of TRE's disclosed contingent tax liability of $156.9 million, it is clear that TRE's entities conducting a sizable portion of its business (whether foreign or domestic) are not paying taxes themselves under their own tax registration. Nor are the AI acting in a legal manner merely as tax payment agents that pay tax to the tax bureau in TRE's name. While such a situation would be critical for any company with sizable China operations, because TRE is free cash flow negative, such penalty would endanger TRE's solvency. Regardless, this is not what TRE is really doing. It is lying about selling such large volumes of timber to the AIs.

TRE would have numerous problems with the AIs trying to pay TRE's value added tax ("VAT"). Entering names other than the seller of the good on a VAT invoice is a tax crime. The penalty for VAT invoice-related crimes on large VAT amounts can be a lifetime prison sentence for managers of companies engaged in this behavior. We assume that many of these VAT payments would be in excess of the threshold to trigger such penalty; therefore, the managements of the AI would be risking the sentences in these transactions. It is difficult to understand how TRE generates a 55% gross margin from the AI on standing timber sales all the while risking their lives. TRE does not appear to add that much value.

TRE and the AIs' chances of getting away with the scheme would be low. The PRC banking system has controls in place for anti-money laundering purposes. The tax bureau is part of this platform. We consulted an attorney who is an expert in tax, foreign exchange, and banking matters. The attorney advised us that it is highly unlikely that TRE could have such large amounts of RMB sloshing around the banking system without corresponding VAT documentation. Note also as discussed infra in The Capital Hole, TRE's BVI companies would be unable to open up RMB bank accounts.

Because the AIs are not importing this timber, they would not have customs invoices, and would not be able to convert RMB into foreign currency and pay TRE offshore. While it is possible that the AIs could pay TRE offshore from the AIs' existing offshore accounts, with over one billion dollars in payments being made annually, the AIs would likely be left with unmanageable foreign currency / RMB imbalances. Therefore, the banking system and foreign exchange controls would likely have long ago ended TRE's AI business – in an unpleasant way.

Everybody's All-Intermediary: Lei Guangyu

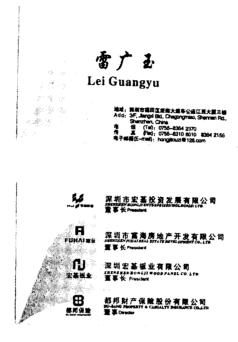

To our knowledge, TRE has only unveiled one AI to investors. In April 2011, TRE introduced credit analysts to Lei Guangyu, who is the president of Shenzhen Hongji Enterprises (Holdings) Ltd. ("Hongji"). Both Lei and Hongji are related to TRE. At the time that TRE sold its 12.73% stake in Greenheart Resources Holdings Ltd. to Omnicorp, Lei Guangyu was the signatory for two BVI entities, Fortune Universe Ltd. and Spirit Land Ltd., which held a combined 7.41% of Greenheart. The 2007 audit report from one of TRE's subsidiaries, Heyuan Jiahe Forestry Development Co. Ltd. ("Jiahe"), lists an account payable to Hongji for approximately $400,000 (RMB 2.7 million) as a related party transaction. According to the audit report, Hongji's relationship to Jiahe is that they are both subsidiaries of the same parent. See Appendix BB1.

Hongji is engaged in irregular transactions with TRE. One of TRE's key PRC subsidiaries, Sino-Forest (China) Investments Co. Ltd. had an account payable of $4.2 million (RMB 35 million) to Hongji at the end of 2005. This is a large amount of money in the context of TRE's onshore transactions that we have been able to see. Further, it shows a flow of funds opposite of what should occur (i.e., AI to TRE).

We sent a field agent to Hongji's headquarters in Shenzhen. It has a subsidiary called Gaoyao Hongji Panel Co. Ltd.. The legal representative of this company Wang You Wang is the signatory on a lease contract for the factory belonging to Guangdong Jiayao Wood Development Co., Ltd., one of TRE's key subsidiaries. Gaoyao Hongji also appears to be the "arms length" purchaser of $30 million in machinery from TRE's Guangdong Jiayao on March 31, 2009. However, the owner of the company that leased the factory from TRE is a TRE and agent executive, Lam Hon Chiu. (We discuss more about Mr. Lam in TRE's Dodgy Timber Agents.) We are not sure what to make of this transaction, but it does not appear to be arms length to us.

As an aside, it appears that Hongji does not buy domestic timber from TRE. According to the person with whom we met at headquarters, Hongji primarily deals in timber imported from Russia and South America.

Below is Lei Guangyu's business card.

III. Gengma, Yunnan: Illegal Logging or Fraud? Timber Sales are Beyond PRC Quota

According to TRE's 2010 Management's Discussion and Analysis, the Company sold $507.9 million of Standing Timber, of which 45.5% ($231.1 million) of the sales were derived from broadleaf trees in Yunnan at an average price of 102 RMB/m³. This equates to 2,265,000 m³ of broad leaf timber in the form of "large logs". In TRE's 2010 Annual Information Form, its claimed yield for broad leaf is between 105 to 210 cubic meters per hectare, which means that approximately between 10,800 ha (hectares) and 21,600 ha would be required for this sale. However, the 2009 Poyry report noted a regulation prohibiting clear cutting of these forests and revised the yield downwards by 50%: 36

Poyry has this year become aware that, under current regulations, this crop type cannot be clear-felled, but must be selectively logged, with only up to 50% of the volume allowed to be removed. Poyry has consequently adjusted the yield table for the broadleaf crop type, from 181 m³/ha to 90 m³/ha to reflect this constraint.<sup>37</sup>

At a maximum of 90 cubic meters per hectare, at least 25,000 ha would be required for this sale. That is the equivalent of approximately 96 square miles, or one and one half the total area of

Washington D.C. The volume required under either yield calculation is enormous and in excess of both TRE's contracted holdings as well as the Lincang region's local quota.

First, as described in detail in section IV of this report, TRE's contracted holdings in Yunnan are in Lincang City and amount to only 20,000 ha (300,000 mu, 15 mu = 1 ha), not the 200,000 ha claimed by the Company. The 25,000 ha equates to 375,000 mu of forest land. This 375,000 mu needed for the transaction is 75,000 mu in excess of its total contracted holdings and also ignores any previous depletions made in the years 2009 or 2008.

Second, the forest area required for harvest exceeds the total area available in the Lincang region under the annual quota of both 2010 and 2011 combined. In China, forest harvests have been strictly controlled through a quota system since 2001, with quotas established in the Five-Year Plans. The Provincial Forestry Bureaus proposes the quotas to the National Forestry Bureau and the State Council, which have approval responsibility. The Provincial Forestry Bureau then allocates quotas to the local forestry bureaus. Using the maximum yield estimated by Poyry of 90m³/ha, the minimum harvest area of 25,000 ha required to complete this sale by far exceeds the permitted logging quota for the Lincang City (which includes Gengma county) where the Company's operations and land holdings are located. Our local field work in Lincang and Gengma, our calls to the Lincang and Gengma Forestry Bureaus, and open source research all confirm that this alleged sale of 2,265,000 m³ of Yunnan broadleaf exceed the full available quota for natural forest (the classification for hardwood broadleaf) of not just the year 2010, or the two years of 2010 and 2011 combined, but all of 2010, 2011, 2012, 2012, 2014, and all of 2015! Our field agents contact the Lincang Forestry Bureau for re-confirmation of this fact, and the section chief there confirmed that the full years quota for each of 2009, 2010, and 2011 was 376,000 m³.

How Much Forest Did Sino-Forest Forest if Sino-Forest Could Forest Forest?

Even if TRE's was able to simultaneous arrange unite a network of provincial traders in five surrounding regions, including from major competitors with both forests and local mills and plants, such as Yunnan Jinggu, Taixing Forestry, and Shanshui Forestry, around the common goal of filling TRE's order, there remain enormous bureaucratic and logistical obstacles. all of which could only be achieved through an miracle of political, labor, and logistics worthy of the last Great Chairman, Chairman Mao.

Assuming for a second, that all of the requisite plantation rights, logging permits, and transportation permits were properly secured, the actual task of logging still would need to be completed. The 2009 Poyry report explained that the typical harvesting practice in China as labor-intensive. This is especially so because of the required selective logging required for Yunnan broad leaf. Poyry states that, "Trees are typically felled by axe or handsaw, cut to length

in the forest and then carried to the roadside by hand."<sup>42</sup> Additionally, Poyry found that logging broadleaf in Yunnan would be more expensive than any other region in China because of the mountainous terrain and the distances required for carriage of logs to a truckable road.<sup>43</sup> In the few of the Company's plots that Poyry visited in Yunnan in 2009, its forest description notes frequently indicate that the plots which had the best trees with "good form" or "higher stocking and standing volume" were either in places that were "remote", "several km from the nearest navigable road," or with "slopes [that are] steep up to 35 degrees" making the harvest all the more arduous.<sup>44</sup>

To understand the sheer magnitude of the task involved, it is important to understand that Yunnan is a remote, rugged, mountain province that rises from the mountainous border areas of Burma and Laos all the way into the Tibetan Himalayas. Lincang itself is 92% mountainous, with two peaks over 3,000 meters (9,000 ft.), Lincang Snow Mountain and Yongde Snow Mountain, and its southern border drops down to the banks of the Lancang river (headwaters of the Mekong) in a progressive sequence of mountains and valleys. In this rugged geography even the less mountainous, or "hilly" areas, would make for a difficult harvest. The prospect of harvesting any sizeable quantity of logs by hand would be daunting, magnifying the inefficiency exponentially. This brings us to another major hard constraint in this supply chain: logistics.

If by some miraculous feat of human labor, the Company's army of farmers was able to selectively harvest the 2.2 million cubic meters of logs, there is the issue of actually transporting all of the wood. The roads through the mountains are dangerous, with switchbacks, steep precipices, and even no guard rails in the more remote mountain sections; roads leading into the agricultural areas are of a lower quality and often unpaved. During the rainy season, which lasts from May to October, travel by road is further complicated by mud and occasional landslides. According to a local wood trader in Gengma city, Yunnan, the typical load for a small truck is about 20m³ and a large truck is 30 m³. Even if TRE was able to load up all of its trucks with 25 m³ and 35 m³ of logs per load, somewhere between 65,000 to 90,000 truckloads would have been required to make the journey to nearest rail station 200 km (120 miles) away, assuming no losses of trucks or logs while navigating the precipices and hairpin turns.

In short, unless this sale of 2.2 million cubic meters of broad leaf timber from Yunnan was fulfilled illegally (in excess of quota and without all of the requisite permits) and accomplished with an army of Chinese farmers and shipped out via a secret under-ground train tunnel running below the mountains, it either never happened or was grossly over-inflated.

IV. TRE's $800 Million Yunnan Scam Shows Timber Holdings are Forged

TRE claims to have purchased, under various master purchase agreements since 2006, timber costing $2.891 billion. Smoking gun evidence shows that TRE overstated purchases from the Yunnan agent, Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Co. Ltd. 48 (also known as Gengma Forestry Co. Ltd. - see Appendix D1), which appears to be a legitimate agent, by approximately $800 million.

The value of purchases made under Yunnan master agreement is overstated by approximately $800 million. TRE announced in March 2007 that it had entered into a master agreement to purchase up to 200,000 hectares of plantation trees in Lincang City, Yunnan Province.<sup>49</sup> (Note that Gengma County is a sub-division of Lincang City.)

The SAIC file for TRE's Yunnan entity, Sino-Panel (Gengma) Co. Ltd. and the Lincang City Forest Bureau's 2008 - 2010 Work Completion Reports contain the following documents, which we used to understand the real terms of the Yunnan master agreement:

- 1) the Approval Letter by the Lincang City Commercial and Business Bureau (临商发 《2007》68号) (Appendix D2)
- 2) the Approval Letter by Lincang City Development and Reform Commission (临发改 经贸发《2007》234号)(Appendix D3)

- 5) the Lincang City Forest Bureau's 2010 Half Year Work Completion Report and Planning for the Second Half. (Appendix D6)

49 See Sino-Forest website.

The approval letters state that TRE has entered into an agreement to acquire 6,667 ha (300,000 mu) of forest plantation in Lincang City. TRE acquired 75,000 mu in 2007 from Gengma Forestry Co. Ltd. The Yunnan agent told us that after TRE completed this purchase, it helped TRE acquire another 13,333 ha (200,000 mu) in the nearby Lincang counties of Mengding and Cangyuan. Below is a photo of the agent's office that our field agent took.

Lest there be any doubt that the approvals omitted the other 160,000 ha that TRE claims is covered under the agreement, information about the local economy and forest industry make it clear that TRE did not enter into agreements to acquire such a large amount of forest, and at such a high per unit price.

The 2008 Work Completion Report states that Lincang City's forest industry output was approximately $380 million (RMB 2.6 billion). The report also states that the forestry business received only $32 million in foreign investment in 2008. TRE would have represented 80% of the forestry GDP for the entire city – let alone county. It would have invested approximately substantially more than the city reports in foreign investment in the industry. (Again, their main operation is in Gengma county, which is a sub-division of the city.) In the 2009 Report, the industry output reached approximately $440 million for the entire city. More interestingly, the report states that the city only issued forest rights concessions of 267 ha (4,000 mu) for the year. The 2010 semi-annual report states that as of 2010, Lincang City had issued forest rights concessions of 45,526 ha, valued at approximately $50 million. From these numbers, we can see that TRE is overstating the per hectare cost by about four times. Below is the calculation based on Lincang City's numbers:

$50 million / 45,526 ha = $1,098 per ha

VS.

TRE's claimed purchase price of $4,865 per ha.

The sheer scale of TRE's claims regarding its Lincang City, Yunnan transaction contradict reality. The Bureau of Statistics of Lincang stated the GDP of Lincang City was $3.1 billion in 2010 (Appendix D7). This contract alone would have caused local GDP to grow to four billion dollars, making Lincang the next Shenzhen in terms of growth rate.

From our fieldwork, we were told that Gengma County's 2010 total GDP was only $475 million. If TRE were to be believed, it would have been the vast majority of the entire economy of the county.

Further, we made calls to a local wood product manufacturer that appears to be one of the larger such companies in the area. He is familiar with TRE, and stated that he believes TRE purchased about 150,000 mu of plantation forest, which is in line with the documents we obtained. We spoke with a local official at the Gengma County Forestry Bureau who stated that TRE purchased 50,000 to 60,000 mu of forest. This range is a decent bit lower than the amount stated in the documents. The constant throughout is that the measurement unit is mu (again 6.7% of a hectare).

By all indications, the Yunnan agent is a legitimate agent. At least it is the only agent with a relevant scope of business. Its scope of business includes "wood and wood product purchasing, processing, and sales; forestry and forestry-related product planting, purchasing, processing, and sales; specialized economic forestry and wood project development and construction…" ("木材及木材制品收购、加工、销售; 林业及林下产品种植、收购、加工、销售; 特种经济林木及制品德基地建设和项目开发…")

V. TRE's Dodgy Timber Agents

Four Other Agents are Highly Unlikely to Have Sold the $2.9 Billion TRE Claims to Have Bought

Four other agents are highly unlikely to have sold anything close to TRE's claim of a combined $2.9 billion. These agents, which would be among the largest private businesses in their locales, generally operated out of apartments while purportedly each doing annual revenue in the hundreds of millions from TRE alone. Two of these agents are managed by a senior TRE executive, Lam Hon Chiu.

TRE does not disclose the Chinese translations of its agents' names. We obtained the Chinese names from PRC audit reports (contained in the SAIC files) of various TRE subsidiaries. We show the various audit report pages with the agents' names in Appendix E1. We did not obtain the Hunan agent's SAIC file in time for this report, and we did not find the Chinese name for the Guizhou agent.

Guangxi agent: Zhanliang Bo Hu Wood Co. Ltd. (湛江博虎木业有限公司)

TRE claims to have entered into a master agreement in December 2007 under which (as of December 31, 2010) it has purchased 150,000 ha of plantation for $646.6 million. We are skeptical for the following reasons:

- Bo Hu was incorporated only one month before TRE entered into this massive contract. See the business license in Appendix E2.
- Bo Hu was thinly capitalized at the time of entering into the agreement its registered capital was only $135,000 (RMB one million) at the time. Obviously Bo Hu was not extending any credit to TRE for the tens of millions of dollars in timber purchases it was likely making at a given time.
- Bo Hu's scope of business does not include anything related to forest agency (unlike the Yunnan agent supra). Its scope of business at the time of purportedly entering into the agreement was "wood products, plywood, glues, paper products, and decoration material (木制品,胶合板,胶水,纸制品,装饰材料). Bo Hu did not add attempt to anything relevant to forest agency until September 23, 2008. See the application to change the scope of business in Appendix E2.
- Bo Hu is incorporated in Guangdong province, and would likely have substantial tax issues operating in Guangxi province (due to incessant competition among tax authorities in China). Further, all companies dealing with wood products must have a wood product permit issued by the forestry bureaus within the provincial jurisdiction. Bo Hu's license is for Guangdong not Guangxi. See Appendix E3.
- While purportedly generating hundreds of millions of dollars in annual revenue, Bo Hu's office was in an apartment building in this apartment complex from August 2008 through sometime in 2009:

How many $200 million companies are in this apartment complex?

Bo Hu's current office is now in a proper office building, but the high level of security is unusual. On the ground floor, our researcher was stopped by security guards who seemed very cautious and alert. They questioned our researcher regarding why he was there. He was only permitted to enter the building after convincing the guards he had an appointment with Bo Hu's vice president of sales, Mr. Xu. There was yet another security guard stationed outside Bo Hu's office door on the second floor. This type of security around an office of this size is highly irregular in China.

- We spoke with a Mr. Xu, who is the vice president of sales for Bo Hu. He is certain that Bo Hu does not deal in Guangxi plantations. Mr. Xu did say however that Bo Hu is a customer of Sino-Panel (one of TRE's subsidiaries), and has been buying plywood from it since summer 2010 in volumes less than $1.5 million annually.
- Bo Hu's audit report shows that it has made substantial payments to TRE entities, including an undisclosed subsidiary. (See Appendix E4 & E5.) As we discuss infra in Glimpses of How TRE Steals the Money, we believe that some of these entities may be tunnels through which TRE steals investor funds.
- Bo Hu's 2008 audit report shows revenue of approximately $37,000 (RMB 250,189) for the sake of clarity, that is thirty-seven thousand dollars. See Appendix E6. It is inconceivable to us that Bo Hu would be able to understate its revenue by over $200 million (or 99.9%) at over $200 million in annual revenue, Bo Hu would be one of the larger privately-owned businesses in Zhanjiang. It would not be able to avoid booking so much revenue, in which case the revenue in the audit report would reflect much larger amounts.

Fujian Agent

- Zhangzhou Lu Sheng Forestry Development Company Limited (漳州绿盛林业发展有限公司) was incorporated on Nov. 19, 2007 (Appendix E7), just nine months before TRE entered an approximately one billion dollar (RMB seven billion) master contract with it.
- The registered capital was only $78,000 (RMB 550,000) (Appendix E7).
- The registered address was at Floor 1, No. 7 Xibian Hongyang New Village (Orchid Garden), Shan Cheng Village, Nanjing County (南靖县山城镇溪边宏洋新村(兰花园) 7号 1层) until November 29, 2010 (Appendix E10). This address is the personal residential address of Mr. Wang Rui Mei (Appendix E8), who is also listed on the SAIC filings to be the legal representative, executive director, supervisor, and manager of the company (Appendix E11).

Image 10 No 7 Orchid Garden

- A copy of the master agreement signed by TRE and Zhangzhou Lusheng was found in the Sino-Panel (Fujian)'s SAIC files (Appendix E9a-E9g). It is a contract with a total of seven pages with no terms regarding liability it seems to be an unlikely billion dollar contract. Interestingly, the contract stated that as of the time signing the contact Lusheng has already been authorized by the owners of 200,000 Ha of the forests in Fujian to act on their behalf. However, Lusheng did not have any wood or forestry related license at the time it entered into the contract.
- We sent a team of field agents to visit Zhangzhou Lusheng in Fujian. Our agents located the new registered address at 5th Floor, Jiamao Honey Industry, No 362 Construction Road, Shancheng Town, Nanjing County (南靖县山城建设路 362 号嘉贸峰业大厦 5楼)。

Field enquiries confirmed that Zhangzhou Lusheng operates at the address on the 5th floor. There are four desks in Zhangzhou Lusheng's office, which appeared to be approximately 180 m2 with 5-6 employees in the office at the time of visit. This implies that Lusheng has an extremely efficient computer system (given that it processes so much money and so many payments with a small staff).

 Our researcher paid a visit to the Nanjing County Forestry Bureau and spoke with the Unit Head Mr. Ma there. Mr. Ma claimed that he has not heard about Zhangzhou Lusheng nor has he heard of Wang Rui Mei.

Jiangxi Zhonggan

- This agent is a related party. The legal representative and President of this company is TRE executive vice president, Lam Hong Chiu.
- Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company Ltd ("Zhonggan")江西中赣实业发展有限公司 was incorporated on January 28, 2009 just five months before TRE entered into an approximately $700 million contract on June 16, 2009. See the business license in Appendix BB2.
  - o Yun County Electronic Paper (云县电子报), an online newspaper operated by the Yun County local government (中共云县委云县人民政府主办), published an article naming Lam Hon Chiu as the general manager of Hong Kong Sino-Panel Company who has visited Yun County with government officials on July 23rd, 2010. http://61.166.10.99:8011/Qnews.asp?ID=5340&QID=1837 (Appendix E12)
  - O Dongkou County Hunan, an online article published on Dongkou County government website stated that on Feburary 5, 2007, the county government met with the top management of Canadian Sino-Forest Group including Chairman Allen Chan (陈德源), VP Ye Han Xiang (叶翰祥) and VP Lam Hon Chiu (林汉 钊)at Changsha discussing the possibility of investment in Dongkou County. http://dongkou.mofcom.gov.cn/column/print.shtml?/zhongyaozt/200707/2007070 4898019 (Appendix E13)
  - o Qiqihaer City Heilongjiang, an online article published on June 20, 2006 on the Qiqihaer city's government website stated that the Qiqihaer government official met with the VP of Sino-wood (Asia) Limited Lam Hon Chiu (林汉钊) on their trip to Hong Kong to discuss investment in Qiqihaer City. http://www.qqhrmofcom.gov.cn/index.php3?file=detail.php3&kdir=2200134&no wdir=2030157&id=830707&detail=1 (Appendix E14)
  - On one of the company listing website http://www.bldg-materials.com.hk/master.php?keyword=1854 listed Lam Hon Chiu as the Senior Manager of Sino-Panel (Asia) Limited. (Appendix E15)
    - Jiangxi Zhonggan is clearly a related party related party.
- Jiangxi Zhonggan is a joint-venture incorporated by Hong Kong China Square Industrial Ltd. 香港中国坊实业有限公司 (China Square) and Nanchang Tongdasheng Industrial Company Ltd. 南昌市通达盛实业有限公司 (Tongdasheng) with a total register capital of USD 5 million with USD 4 million by China Square and USD 1 million by Tongdasheng.

- China Square is a company registered in both Hong Kong and BVI with Lam Hon Chiu as its legal representative, it seems to be a shadow actor on TRE's behalf to setup undisclosed but related subsidiaries in China.
- By looking at the SAIC file of Jiangxi Zhonggan's Chinese partner Nanchang Tongdasheng, we don't see any reason for its existence except that TRE needs a Chinese name to legally register a joint venture as its agent in Jiangxi. Tongdasheng was incorporated November 3rd, 2006, with a registered capital of 500,000 RMB. The registered address is a fishing village near Nanchang city 南昌市西湖区桃花镇渔业村. The business scope is Domestic Trading 国内贸易 (Appendix E16). According to the 2009 Annual Check Report in the SAIC files that the revenue of Tongdasheng for 2009 is USD 14,909.84 (RMB 104,368.93) with a net profit of USD 326.58 (RMB 2,286.07). It is nearly impossible for such a company to invest on its own with USD 1 million to setup Jiangxi Zhonggan with China Square unless someone else is "funding" the amount.

The 2008 and 2009 Jiangxi Zhonggang's audit report shows numerous large transactions between the Company, TRE, and other parties. However, none of these transaction is forestry related.

VI. The Capital Hole

Chinese government records show a capital hole that makes claimed timber Purchases impossible.

China imposes capital controls that ensure there are records of significant movements of foreign currency into China. From TRE's PRC company SAIC files, it is clear that TRE's cash needs in China outstrip the capital it has contributed to its China operations by at least $377 million, and possibly quite more. China's capital controls prevent TRE from funding its operations from outside of the PRC by purchasing trees through payment of foreign currency.

When an existing PRC company wants to bring foreign currency into China as investment in the business, it applies to the Ministry of Commerce, the State Administration of Foreign Exchange, and the State Administration of Industry and Commerce ("SAIC"). Once the authorities approve the application, the company may bring in the approved amount of foreign currency. When an investor forms a new foreign-owned company, it must specify foreign currency it will invest.

The authorities will review the entire establishment application, including the portion requesting the right to bring foreign currency into China.<sup>50</sup>

A given company's SAIC file shows records current within a few months of all applications for injecting equity capital. Further, PRC law requires equity capital injections to be verified by PRC licensed accountants. The amount of debt a company can borrow is limited by law, and SAIC records reflect the amount of money that a company is approved to borrow from offshore. However, debt injections are not recorded in SAIC files. We totaled up all of TRE's actual equity injections and approved debt injections (again, the debt capital is not verified, but we gave TRE the benefit of the doubt), and the amount of capital that went into TRE's PRC operations is only $1.213 billion since 1994. Its investments were $1.7 billion larger than its operating cash flow during this period. (Note that these figures also exclude the need for operating cash.) Therefore, TRE has a capital hole of $377 million to $922 million. It could not have purchased the trees it claims to have.

| (USD millions)                       |       |  |
|--------------------------------------|-------|--|
| OCF                                  | 3,308 |  |
| CapEx - Disposals                    | 5,058 |  |
| Total ST Borrowings incl. Repayments | 160   |  |
| Onshore Capital Need                 | 1,590 |  |
| Capital Contributed - High           | 1,213 |  |
| Capital Contributed - Low            | 668   |  |
| Onshore Cash Hole - Low              | 377   |  |
| Onshore Cash Hole - High             | 922   |  |

Cash flow numbers from Bloomberg. To be conservative, we assumed that all short-term borrowings were onshore.

TRE could not have funded its business with foreign currency. If TRE were going to pay the supplier in foreign currency, it would be illegal unless the goods sold were for export. Because the investments are not for export out of the PRC, the sellers would not be able to obtain customs declarations. Large amounts of foreign currency hitting the sellers' bank accounts without accompanying customs declarations would be quite risky for the sellers just on a one-time basis – such a transaction could lead to inability to convert the currency, and issues with the customs and tax bureaus. We do not believe that TRE found suppliers willing to engage in transactions with such large risks throughout its 16-year reporting history. Therefore TRE could not have made these investments by paying the sellers in foreign currency in the PRC.

TRE's agents under the master purchase agreements are thinly capitalized (see infra TRE's Dodgy Timber Agents). They could not have each funded hundreds of millions of dollars in undocumented currency swaps done through offshore bank accounts.

TRE's only means of funding these investments would have been by injecting investment capital into its own PRC companies, which it did not do in sufficient amounts. Therefore, TRE's claimed investments and revenues are fraudulent.

VII. TRE's Manipulation of Poyry Reports

TRE's abuse of Poyry's name is well-illustrated by a recent statement that TRE CFO David Horsley made at the annual shareholders' meeting on May 30, 2011 that Poyry teams spend "four to six personal weeks" in the field evaluating TRE's holdings. On a June 1, 2011 call the statement was clarified to mean that a team of four people each spends six days in the field, so that the total approximates six man-weeks of work. (Amusingly reminiscent of Bill Clinton's "I did not have sexual relations" comment.)

Since 2003 Poyry (Beijing) and its Shanghai branch have been engaged to conduct reviews of TRE's operations and value its assets; however, Poyry's purpose is only to estimate the market value of the forest assets based on information provided by TRE, and not to perform due diligence or confirm the ownership of the forest areas.<sup>51</sup> In numerous locations throughout the reports, Poyry adds disclaimers, stating:

- Poyry has not viewed any of the contracts relating to forest land-use rights, cutting rights, or forest asset purchases <sup>52</sup>
- It is important to understand that this is not a confirmation of forest ownership, but rather a verification of the mapped and recorded areas of stocker forest. 53

However, despite a generally favorable report, Poyry nevertheless cannot hold back a degree of astonishment at TRE's unusual trading practices, describing in the reports opening paragraphs that TRE's forest holdings are "dynamic" (emphasis provided by Poyry). Poyry states, "Unlike most forest owners and managers, Sino-Forest actively trades in forests. Each year the company both sells and buys forests, and accordingly the composition of the forest estate changes much more than for a business that is simply managing and harvesting a more static resource." This fact greatly complicates its inspection and valuation process as "the composition of Sino-Forest's estate can change quite significantly from one year to the next."

Certainly such dynamic trading complicates inspection and verification activities, as it is tantamount to a giant shell game. With a maximum of only 53% of existing 2008 forest being carried over into 2009,<sup>57</sup> it is easy to disclaim any specific accusation of lack of forest rights ownership in any given plot or region.

In introducing its methodology for assessing risk into the discount rate calculation, 2009 Poyry explains that the valuation of forest crop assets faces challenges, including:

- The reliability of forest descriptions
- The accuracy of yield prediction
- Achieving high growth rates in a consistent manner<sup>58</sup>

The Poyry report explains that its review of forest land holdings consisted of selecting 66 cluster maps that represented only 1,611 ha of forest, or only about 0.3% of TRE's claimed 491,000 ha.<sup>59</sup> During the June 1, 2011 conference call, Poyry revealed that the figure for the 2010 assessment was only 0.1% of estate holdings due to the substantial increases in newly acquired plantations. Poyry further reveals that current yield tables for these forests have not been properly established.<sup>60</sup> Poyry has performed some field studies and collected sample data from various plots, but its statistical analysis comes with the caveat that "in comparison with most other forests, the large Sino-Forest estate is significantly under-sampled for growth and yield purposes."<sup>61</sup> In short, due to the poor quality of data and documentation on the forest plot, until there is an opportunity to both verify the forest's physical characteristics and use satellite imagery on all forest claims, that the sample sizes are too small to establish significance. Poyry and all investors then can only take TRE at its word that the remaining 99.9% of its purported holdings are accurate in terms of their size, yield, and composition.

Do You Think a 2.5% Risk Premium on TRE's Discount Rate for WACC Seems a Little Low?

Poyry's 2009 report includes an appendix detailing the calculation method for the discount rate, WACC, and CAPM; wherein the consultant, Dr. Mardsen, from the University of Auckland's Dept. of Accounting and Finance of the School of Business, provides details on formulas used to value a generic forest asset in the China. Dr. Mardsen repeatedly emphasizes the need to keep in mind the additional risk associated with developing markets, such as capital controls, political instability, corruption, poor accounting and managerial controls, an uncertain legal framework and lack of protection of investor property rights; and factor a premium onto the discount rate of the cost of capital, stating: 62

In China and in emerging markets the level of corporate governance may vary significantly between companies. Corporate governance is important as it provides mechanisms whereby outside investors can protect themselves against expropriation by insiders. Corporate governance can impact on the risks that outside investors may face in respect of any expropriation of assets. These factors together with the size and other market frictions may warrant an adjustment to the cash flow expectations and/or an increment to the cost of capital for the forest if investors' property rights are not clearly defined. Where control is not obtained a minority discount and / or illiquidity discount many apply. <sup>63</sup>

Dr. Marsden calculates the real pre-corporate tax WACC range of between 7.1% to 12.8%. Poyry then selected the current 8.5% to 9.0% discount rates in New Zeeland and adds a 2.5% to 3.0% resulting in a discount rate of 11.5%, providing for the 2006 pre-tax cash flow valuation of TRE's assets at $2,297.5 million USD as of December 31, 2010.<sup>64</sup> But, Dr. Marsden closes with a note and a warning:

If significant corporate governance and agency cost issues between insides and outside investors arise (e.g. from lack of transparency, possible risk of expropriation of assets, restrictions of remittance of profits, or exchange rate control), the use of cost of capital at the upper end of our range may be warranted.<sup>65</sup>

It begs the question; if evidence of systemic and comprehensive fraud and illegal activity is discovered in the Company from inception, throughout its operating history, and into the present, by how much would the discount rate need to be adjusted?

VIII. Egregiously Complex and Opaque Offshore Structure

In TRE's 2010 annual information form, it discloses that it has at least 20 British Virgin Island ("BVI") entities. As a recent South China Morning Post article points out, BVI is the favorite domicile of Chinese seeking opacity. There is no public shareholder registry, and there are no requirements to file tax returns. TRE no longer discloses its organizational chart, but the last one it made available in an annual information statement is from 2007 – see below. This structure is highly opaque, and in our view, unnecessary for legitimate business purposes. It is not a tax-optimized structure either due to direct ownership of PRC entities by BVI subsidiaries. (Dividends remitted to Hong Kong holding companies are taxed at a lower rate than dividends to BVI owners.) We therefore pose the following question to TRE's management (given its emphasis on its transparency): "Why have you structured the business in this way?"

IX. Suspicious Bank Document

Suspicious Bank Document.

The following bank letter appears to be written on behalf of Sino-Wood Partners, Ltd. We found it in incorporation applications in the SAIC files for four of Mandra's entities. TRE, which now owns 100% of Mandra, was a founding shareholder of Mandra with a 15% stake. Sino-Wood was the entity that was reverse merged into the public shell to make TRE a public company. It had been expected to IPO in 2003, but the IPO was unexpectedly canceled.

X. Shoddy Corporate Governance

Internally, TREs fraud was enabled by poor corporate governance. The corporate governance issues include the following:

- TRE's board appears to be the retirement plan for partners of its auditor, Ernst & Young. It currently has five directors on its board from E&Y. We believe that such a clubby atmosphere can dull the auditors' ability to perceive problems.
- We are bothered by senior management's practice of paying its salary via fees to a consulting firm this is inappropriate for a public company with a multi-billion dollar market capitalization. More disturbing is senior management's C$12 million buyout of its own shares in subsidiary with investor funds. (The subsidiary's planned 2003 IPO was unexpectedly canceled.)
- TRE failed to disclose a 2003 petition to wind it up at the listed company level.
- TRE has failed its internal control test. The 2010 failure is due to senior management personally handling settlement of accounts receivable and accounts payable. This is particularly troublesome because the notes to TRE's financial statements appear to state that the majority of TRE's receivables from its accounts receivable are paid by TRE's AIs to TREs agents to pay off timber purchases. If our reading is accurate, then a substantial portion of TRE's purported revenue would not even be expected to hit its bank account, thereby making the fraud substantially easier to carry out.

XI. Glimpses of How TRE Steals the Money

- From reviewing TRE and the "Agent's" annual inspection and audit reports from the SAIC files, it seems that the agents mainly serve as a tunnel to move money for TRE.
- These agents generally report little to no revenue or profit, and pay little to no tax. However, they have balance sheets orders of magnitude the sizes of their revenues. The balance sheets mainly consist of receivables from TRE entities, and disturbingly, payables to TRE entities.
- Both Yunnan and Guangxi agents are sending a large amount of money to TRE's undisclosed subsidiary, Huaihua City Yuda Wood Co. Ltd. This subsidiary is based in Huaihua City, Hunan Province, which we suspect is the nerve center for TRE's illicit activities. We tried mightily to obtain SAIC files for TRE's four subsidiaries and the Hunan agent, but we were only able to obtain minimal information (such as shareholdings) after much effort. This is highly unusual.
- Payments to farmers and collectives for forest are noticeably scarce in the financial statements of the agents.
- The following tables shows the finances of three agents for 2008 and 2009

From the above table, Bohu has made three prepayments to TRE's subsidiaries totaling RMB 105 million. This flow of funds contradicts the disclosed nature of the parties' relationship. Further, with such low registered capital and poor operating results, it is difficult to understand how Bohu's balance sheet is this large.

Bohu has an account payable of RMB 327.8 million to six companies. Four of the six companies are Sino-Panel Subsidiaries. The fifth company Huaihua Yuda is an undisclosed TRE subsidiary that has been receiving massive amounts of money from TRE's subsidiaries. The last company listed is Guangxi Bobai Forestry, which is supposed to be a partner forestry company in Guangxi; however, but the amount owed RMB 2.09 ($0.30) pales in comparison.

Jiangxi Zhonggan (an undisclosed related party) plays the same games. Its 2009 audit report shows that it had received a prepayment of RMB 448.6 million from Sino Panel China (Investment) Company Ltd. In the same year, it made a prepayment of RMB 212.0 million to Harbin Oubangde Economic and Trading Co. Ltd., a trading company in Harbin, whose business has nothing to do with acquiring forests in Jiangxi Province. According to the audit report, Jiangxi Zhonggang has dealt with more trading companies than forestry companies. (Appendix K3 and K4)

The same is true for Gengma Forestry (a mostly legitimate agent). Its revenue has been declining since it entered into the master agreement with TRE. The revenue was RMB 3.6 million in 2007, and declined to RMB 160,000 RMB in 2008 and RMB 455,400 in 2009. The assets and debts are 787 times 2008 revenue, and 266 times 2009 revenue. Although it really does broker forests, it appears to be helping TRE in some way beside acquiring forest.

TRE has a significant undisclosed subsidiary, Huaihua Yuda Wood Company Ltd. (怀化裕达木业有限公司). Huaihua Yuda has taken massive amount from TRE's subsidiaries, but its existence was never disclosed. In 2007, Huaihua Yuda received a prepayment of RMB 92.0 million from Sino Panel (Hezhou) and another payment of RMB 81.0 million from Sino Panel (Gengma). (Appendix K5 and K6) According to our research from two government websites, Huaihua Yuda is a subsidiary of TRE.

XII. The Multi-Billion Dollar Ponzi Scheme

Sino Forest to date has raised over $3.05 billion from the capital markets and has not paid a cent back from free cash flow, nor has it paid a dividend.

Sino-Forest raises capital in increasingly larger amounts, which is effectively a Ponzi scheme. TRE raises cash from the financial markets, purportedly buys forestry assets, which are then valued at a significantly higher level by Poyry (which takes TRE's word on the size and scope of the acquisition at face value), leading to a higher reported net asset value which acts as the support or collateral for an even larger capital raise. The first investor relies upon the new capital to generate the return, thereby fitting a classic Ponzi scheme definition.

It is a fairly standard capital markets transaction to complete a new financing of an asset that has increased in value. In isolation, this conceptually would not be a Ponzi scheme. However, a series of financings almost wholly reliant upon a series of unreliable reports covering the asset values of a company that has been free cash flow negative for 16 straight years should raise some red flags. In order to understand how this cycle has managed to continue for such a long period of time, it is important to understand two key issues: the manipulation of Jakko Poyry's valuation reports, and the way the TRE uses these reports to convince new investors to finance them.

With the exception of an incentive payment of $30 million to exchange an existing bond into a longer dated one, TRE has never returned any capital to shareholders despite so many financings. Because of the nature of the company, TRE must continue to spend in order to survive. Without an acquisition pipeline, TRE cannot justify raising capital from new investors. Without new investors, it cannot repay old investors, and would fall apart.

As expected, TRE is still talking about a large acquisition pipeline for 2011.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SINO-FOREST COMMENTS ON SHARE PRICE DECLINE

TORONTO, CANADA, June 3, 2011 – Sino-Forest Corporation (TSX: TRE) ("Sino-Forest" or the "Company"), a leading commercial forest plantation operator in China, today commented on the share price decline on June 2, 2011 as a result of the allegations made in a 'report' issued on a website by a short seller operating under the name Muddy Waters, LLC. The Company was not contacted by Muddy Waters for comment ahead of publication of its report.

The Board of Directors and management of Sino-Forest wish to state clearly that there is no material change in its business or inaccuracy contained in its corporate reports and filings that needs to be brought to the attention of the market. Further we recommend shareholders take extreme caution in responding to the Muddy Waters report.

As indicated in the report, Muddy Waters has a short position in the Company's shares and therefore stands to realize significant gains from a share price decline that it precipitated. Muddy Waters expressly admits that it makes no representation as to the accuracy, timeliness, or completeness of any information contained in its report. Further, its website discloses no address or ownership information, nor the credentials of any of the authors of the 'report'. Neither the Ontario Securities Commission nor the Securities Exchange Commission website lists Muddy Waters or its author as being registered as an advisor. Nevertheless, due to the substantial impact that the report has had on the prices of the Company's securities and the reputation of the Company, the Board has appointed an independent committee consisting of three of the Company's independent directors. William Ardell (Chair), James Bowland and James Hyde. All three of these directors are financially qualified professionals and two of the three are recent appointees to the Board. The independent committee's mandate is to thoroughly examine and review the allegations contained in Muddy Waters' report, and report back to the Board. The independent committee has appointed Osler Hoskin & Harcourt LLP as independent legal counsel and will retain the services of an independent accounting firm and such other independent advisors as it deems necessary to assist with its examination. During the course of the independent committee's examination, the Company will provide any updates as appropriate. Following conclusion of the report, the key findings of the independent committee will be released to shareholders.

Allen Chan, Chairman and CEO of Sino-Forest commented: "We are committed to a high level of corporate governance and stand by the integrity of our company, our 16-year operational track record and our financial statements. Our company has continuously retained the services of internationally recognized law firms, auditors and expert consultants from Canada, the US, Hong Kong and mainland China."

"It is important that our independent committee thoroughly address Muddy Waters' allegations, and they will have my full support and those of the management team in doing so. However, let me say clearly that the allegations contained in this report are inaccurate and unfounded. Muddy Waters' shock-jock approach is transparently self-interested and we look forward to providing our investors and other stakeholders with additional information to rebut these allegations."

David Horsley, Senior Vice President and CFO of Sino-Forest commented: "I am confident that the independent committee's examination will find these allegations to be demonstrably wrong, as for example:

(a) Muddy Waters fundamentally misunderstands and misrepresents the most basic items in our published Management's Discussion & Analysis with respect to revenue generated from Yunnan Province, which we report as being approximately 45.5% of the Company's standing timber revenue of approximately US$508 million. Muddy Waters alleges that it is impossible that such revenue existed because achieving such levels would greatly exceed allowable cutting quotas and it would be impossible to truck close to that volume in the period. However, that revenue was very clearly disclosed in our MD&A filed for Q1 and Q2 of 2010 as revenue resulting from the sale of the standing timber - there is no cutting or transport involved, as the trees were sold but not harvested and therefore are not considered part of the quota for the region until the harvesting is conducted by the buyers.

(b) Muddy Waters alleges that the Company overstated the assets in Yunnan Province, based on its erroneous and narrow assumption that our only purchases in Yunnan Province consisted of purchases of 20,574 ha of plantations in Gengma county in Yunnan. However, this allegation ignores the fact that in addition to the purchased plantations in Gengma county, (as disclosed in our 2010 annual MD&A of a total of approximately 193,000 ha purchased in Yunnan Province) we have purchased approximately 173,000 ha of plantations in approximately 25 other counties in Yunnan Province as of December 31, 2010."

As at December 31, 2010, the Company had approximately US$1.26 billion in cash, cash equivalents and short term deposits as reported in the audited consolidated balance sheet. As at March 31, 2011, the comparable amount was approximately US$1.09 billion. The Company continues to hold such cash, with the majority of it in banks in Hong Kong and offshore.

As previously announced, the Company intends to file its Q1 2011 results on June 14, 2011.

SINO-FOREST RELEASES SUPPORTING EVIDENCE AGAINST ALLEGATIONS FROM SHORT SELLER

TORONTO, CANADA, June 6, 2011 – Sino-Forest Corporation (TSX: TRE) ("Sino-Forest" or the "Company"), a leading commercial forest plantation operator in China, today provided further response to allegations by short seller, Muddy Waters, LLC.

The Company believes Muddy Waters' report to be inaccurate, spurious and defamatory. Muddy Waters' self-interest is transparent: to make money from the fall in Sino-Forest's share price on the back of a decline that itself precipitated. Since the report's release, the Company has been working to address the allegations. The Company's Board of Directors is wholly sympathetic to stakeholders who are urging the Company to respond forcefully and quickly. However, the Company wants to respond definitively and it is the Board's fiduciary duty to address these allegations with an unrestricted thorough and independent review, through the Independent Committee that was set up late last week. The Independent Committee has appointed independent legal counsel, appointing Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt LLP to support it in Canada and both Mallesons, (a leading international law firm with offices in Beijing, Shanghai and Hong Kong) and Jun He Law Offices a leading Chinese law firm. The Independent Committee is also expected to announce the appointment of an independent international accounting firm later today.

Ownership of trees

The recent events have caused several shareholders to request clear proof of ownership of the Company's timber assets. The Board is anxious to respond to this request and has commenced actions to address this, focusing first on Yunnan Province, where the Company's largest hectarage of purchased plantations are held and where the short seller focused its attacks. Nevertheless, the Company will be posting today the following initial supporting information on the Company's website (www.sinoforest.com):

- A signed copy of the master (framework) agreement (in Chinese) for Lincang City and surrounding areas in the Yunnan Province (together with a version translated to English for ease of reference) pursuant to which individual purchase contracts are then entered into;
- A summary schedule, as at December 31, 2010, showing the 186,700 hectares of purchased plantations in cities of Yunnan province such as Lincang, Lijiang and Pu'er;
- Signed copies of contracts relating to the acquisition of plantations in Gengma county of Lincang City and Ninglang county of Lijiang City, together with examples of the applicable plantation rights certifications or confirmations from the relevant government forestry bureau (as described in the AIF extract below). English translations will be also posted for ease of reference. Such contracts have been made available, at individual contract level with accompanying government confirmations, to the Company's auditors as part of its annual audit process for numerous years; and
- An extract from the Company's annual information form (AIF) for the year ended December 31, 2010 describing the nature of the Company's ownership interests in purchased plantations.

The consent from each relevant local government is necessary for the disclosure of the individual purchase documentation. The Company has made approximately 230 individual purchases under the six master framework agreements it has publicly identified which have occurred in approximately 38 cities (encompassing approximately 99 counties). The Company is seeking the applicable consents on an expedited basis first focusing on consents for its Yunnan purchased plantations. The Independent Committee have advised the Board that it will ask its independent experts to separately examine and review such individual purchase agreements and related government documents.

Cash on hand

As at December 31, 2010, the Company had approximately US$1.26 billion in cash, cash equivalents and short term deposits as reported in the audited consolidated balance sheet. As at March 31, 2011, the comparable amount was US$1.09 billion. The sources and uses of cash for the period ending March 31, 2011 will be further detailed in our quarterly report for the period ending March 31, 2011 expected to be issued on June 14, 2011.

Sino-Forest has released today on its website a summary schedule of cash and cash equivalent and short term deposits along with a detailed listing with copies of its bank statements confirming the cash held within the Company as at that date. The Company has conducted business in the ordinary course since then and made ordinary course expenditures, and its cash remains intact with the majority of it in banks in Hong Kong.

Share buy-back

The Company has heard from many investors encouraging it to buy back shares given the current prices. The Company has been advised by counsel that it and its directors and officers are precluded from purchasing stock in the current circumstances.

Legal recourse

Given the deeply damaging nature of Muddy Waters' self-interested attack on the Company and its shareholders, the Company is considering its legal remedies against Muddy Waters and its principals. Further, the Company intends to ask the securities regulators in Canada and in other jurisdictions to investigate the trading activities conducted by Muddy Waters.

Analyst tour

The Company will be inviting analysts to join management on a tour of the Company's plantations in July 2011, with details to follow. The analysts will be invited to suggest specific locations for the tour, and for each plantation visited, the Company will present GPS references and the ownership documents.

Chairman of Sino-Forest, Mr. Allen Chan, commented:

"I have spent 17 years building Sino-Forest and I can promise investors we are not guilty of the charges levied against us. The Company has grown significantly over the past five years; a period of time in which our financial statements have been audited by Ernst & Young a leading international audit firm, and during which we have been thoroughly scrutinized by several groups of major international underwriters and their well known legal counsel both inside and outside of China in the course of seven public and major private offerings. I stand by our audited financial statements, including the revenue and assets shown therein. All material related party transactions are appropriately disclosed in our financial statements. We do business with the parties identified in the report at arms length. Those parties are not related or connected to the Company or any of its management.

"I very much appreciate the understanding and support so many shareholders have shown us in the past few days. With over a billion dollars in cash, and a clear business strategy and plan, we will continue to focus on executing our business strategy, while we also deal with these allegations.

"It is important people recognize the motivations of Muddy Waters, because it is they who deliberately muddy the waters, not us. This is a company that has taken out a major short position in our company and then issued a report designed to make them money by the decline of our stock. By now they might be out of their short position and in the money. It is the rest of us that lick our wounds, while they lick their lips. I believe their report to be defamatory and I am confident that the Independent Committee's report will demonstrate that."

Reaction to TRE Q1 Earnings Call

The selloff in TRE shares following this morning's call illustrates our overall feelings about management's responses to questions. The highlights are:

- Ernst & Young has been unable to complete its review of TRE's Q1 numbers.
- Chairman / CEO Allen Chan personally guarantees that TRE has disclosed all related party transactions. However at no time did management address TRE's relationship with Lei Guangyu, the only disclosed AI. Mr. Chan stated that Mr. Lei is a major AI.
- TRE's suppliers (agents) and buyers (AIs) are two different parties. As shown by our analysis of five suppliers, none of which were capable of selling nearly the volume of timber TRE claims, TRE had made this point clearly before.
- TRE added an odd twist to its disclosed business model. Als now apparently do not pay TRE directly (see our discussion of the various problems in doing so). Rather they pay TRE indirectly by paying TRE's "designated purchasing agents", which then purchase more parcels. As we wrote in our initial report, a consistent theme of TRE's stated business practices is that they are unnecessary, overly complicated, and risky for a legitimate business.
  - Is the designated purchasing agent an AI-squared? We look forward to more detail on this new facet so that we can analyze the legal and practical issues.
- Mr. Chan explained that the AI model came into being because TRE could not form WFOEs in the 1990s to conduct this business. As we pointed out in our report, after TRE's EJV with the Leizhou Forestry Bureau terminated (due to TRE's failure to contribute its capital), TRE had a WFOE that had a business scope that permitted it to do business directly. Aside from that point, management did not explain why it continues to use an AI model today. Thus the AI model makes no more sense now than it did before this explanation.
- TRE still refuses to disclose its AIs' identities for "competitive reasons." It cited an example from the 1990s when an AI's identity was disclosed, and then smaller competitors undercut TRE's prices and won business. This explanation strikes us once again as TRE relying on everybody in the chain (e.g., the farmers) being ignorant.

We do not dispute that TRE's AIs are overpaying TRE (allowing TRE a 55% gross margin on standing timber). However, TRE's AIs would be among the largest buyers of timber in China – we do not understand how revealing their identities could subject them to any greater information about the extent of this overpayment than they are currently in a position to receive.

- It will apparently take PWC two to three months to complete its investigation. In our experience with much smaller frauds / companies, this is an aggressive timeline.
- CFO David Horsley stated that TRE can not confirm whether the AIs actually make TRE's tax payments. He said they "just don't know" whether the payments are made. Again, the AI model is unnecessary, overly complicated, and risky for a legitimate business.
- Allen Chan did not answer a question about how much replanting TRE did in the quarter, other than to say that TRE is progressing with the program. He later responded to a question about whether TRE is in compliance with PRC replanting regulations by stating that TRE would have heard from the authorities if it were not.

We believe that investors underappreciate the replanting metric (or lack thereof). China has in the past experienced devastating floods due to harvesting without sufficient replanting. If TRE were not fulfilling its obligations to replant, this would complicate the ability of either TRE or its AIs to obtain harvesting permits for the standing timber.

- Management stated something to the effect that it could remit its cash out of China by closing or selling the BVI entities, and then remitting the cash. This was not a confident or clear explanation, and it raises more questions than it answers. Along those lines, when TRE was asked to clarify this statement during the Q&A, nobody answered and the questioner was mysteriously dropped.
- TRE had some notable blocks / drops of other awkward questions. TRE cut off the Nomura analyst Anissa Lee rather than answering her question asking for more details on where the cash balances are kept.

Management also failed to attempt to answer a question about whether its banks are uncomfortable with extending credit. Instead of answering, there was a death ray type of sound toward the end of the question, and the questioner was no longer there. In true memory hole fashion, management moved onto the next questioner without making any statement in response to the question.

• William Ardell stated that PWC is going to check balances in every PRC bank account at the branch level. As LFT, CCME, and other frauds show us, such

- confirmation should also take place at the central level of the banks branches are easily corrupted.
- Regarding the dearth of information in the data room, Allen Chan said that he would have to check with "our people" about putting more information online. We advise investors to take note of this delay.

Key partner casts doubt on Sino-Forest claim

By MARK MacKINNON AND ANDY HOFFMAN From Saturday's Globe and Mail

Globe inquiry finds irregularities in timber company's disclosure; Chinese forestry officials open probe

Embattled Sino-Forest Corp. TRE-T, once Canada's biggest publicly-traded timber company, appears to have substantially overstated the size and value of its forestry holdings in China's Yunnan province, according to figures provided by senior forestry officials and a key business partner there.

During two weeks of on-the-ground reporting that included interviews with Chinese government officials, forestry experts, local business operators and brokers, The Globe and Mail uncovered a number of glaring inconsistencies that raise doubts about the company's public statements regarding the value  $\Box$ of the assets that lie at the centre of the company's core business of buying and selling Chinese timber rights.

Once a stock market favourite, Sino-Forest has had a spectacular fall since a short seller's report, published June 2, alleged that the company engaged in large-scale fraud and is inflating the value of its timber assets. The shares are down 82 per cent since the release of that report, written by Carson Block of Muddy Waters LLC, representing a paper loss of $3.7-billion to investors in little more than two weeks.

The company has denied all wrongdoing and the board of directors formed a committee to probe the allegations raised by Muddy Waters. The investigation is expected to last months and has begun with representatives from PricewaterhouseCoopers checking Sino-Forest's bank accounts to verify the more than $1-billion (U.S.) the company says it holds in cash at Chinese banks and other financial institutions.

The Globe's investigation raises particularly hard questions about a key agreement in March, 2007, that Sino-Forest says gave it the right to buy timber rights for up to 200,000 hectares of forest in Yunnan over a 10-year period for between $700-million (U.S.) and $1.4-billion. The trees were to be bought through a series of agreements with an entity called Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Co. Ltd., also known as Gengma Forestry.

The company says it has fulfilled virtually all of the agreement with Gengma and now owns more than 200,000 hectares in Yunnan.

But officials with Gengma Forestry, including the chairman, dispute the company's account of the deal, telling The Globe and Mail that the actual numbers are much smaller.

Xie Hongting, the chairman of Gengma Forestry, said in an interview that the transactions carried out so far by Sino-Forest amounted to less than 14,000 hectares.

Asked how many deals Gengma had conducted with Sino-Forest, Mr. Xie said: "I've told you that we sold them almost 200,000 mu." (Mu is a Chinese unit of land measurement; 15 mu equals one hectare.)

Mr. Xie's account corroborates the assertions of senior forestry officials in the province. Speaking on condition of anonymity, these officials challenged the company's statements that it controls more than 200,000 hectares of Yunnan trees, and said they are now investigating.

In a written response to questions from The Globe, Sino-Forest said it stands by its public statements regarding its Yunnan holdings. The company said it has purchased about 13,300 hectares of "forestry assets and leased land" directly from Gengma Forestry, and another 180,000 hectares of "forestry assets only" from other sellers, using Gengma as a purchasing agent.

"The agreement has not been yet fulfilled as we have not completed the purchase of 200,000 hectares," the company said.

That statement from Sino-Forest appears to contradict its own publicly filed financial reports. In its first quarter 2011 report, the company said that "under the master agreement entered in March 2007 to acquire 200,000 hectares of plantation trees over a 10-year period in Yunnan, the Company has actually acquired 230,200 hectares of plantation trees for $1,193,459,000 as at March 31, 2011."

The company's 2010 annual information form filed with regulators earlier this year said that as of December 31, 2010, Sino-Forest had "acquired approximately 190,300 hectares of plantation trees for $925.9-million (U.S.) under the terms of the master agreement."

The Globe's investigation of the company's dealings and holdings in Yunnan points to inconsistencies in the company's accounting of its timber rights and raises broader questions about its business practices.

In dispute is just how much the company really controls of the dense oak, pine and birch forests that cover the rippling mountains of southern Yunnan, which is close to China's border with Myanmar.

Sino-Forest's core business consists of buying timber assets in China, holding these plantations for two or three years as they appreciate in value, and then selling them at a profit. Sino-Forest also has a log trading business. Combined, these operations account for about 95 per cent of the company's current revenue. Sino-Forest also plants trees for harvest, but these holdings are not expected to generate revenues for five or six years.

Its corporate structure has opened Sino-Forest up to criticism that it is too opaque. The company has scores of subsidiaries in China and offshore locations such as the British Virgin Islands. It has refused to disclose the names or locations of the customers who buy its standing timber, saying it doesn't want to reveal the identity of its customers for competitive reasons.

Non-state-owned forests in China are usually collectively owned by village councils on behalf of their residents, or in some cases belong to individual households. The trees and their produce can be bought, but the land can only be leased.

As of the end of 2010, the company claimed control of about 800,000 hectares of trees in nine Chinese provinces plus New Zealand. Its operation in Yunnan province, in addition to being its largest, is also the one for which it has made additional disclosures recently in an attempt to defuse the allegations made in the Muddy Waters report.

So far, however, it has disclosed purchase agreements as well as forest and woodland rights certificates for about 7,000 hectares of forest in Yunnan. The company has not disclosed significant documentation regarding its forestry holdings in other provinces.

To find Gengma Forestry, Sino-Forest's local partner in the so-called "Yunnan master agreement" - the 2007 deal said to be worth as much as $1.4-billion - you have to duck down an alleyway behind the drugstore on the main street of this nondescript trading city, then up a dusty cement staircase.

On the landing is the litter-strewn office with an open door and a window protected by metal bars. Despite signing a deal with Sino-Forest that should guarantee a windfall, the company has clearly fallen on hard times. "Our relations with [Sino-Forest] were not totally good. They talked about a lot of things, but in the end it was hard to get money from them," said Zhang Ling, Gengma Forestry's office manager.

Ms. Zhang said the company was approached by Sino-Panel, a Sino-Forest subsidiary, out of the blue in 2006 -

"they said they found us over the Internet" - but that they hadn't heard anything from the company in recent years. She said Gengma Forestry felt it had made a bad deal on the forests it sold. "We sold it for 30 yuan per mu (per year). Now the price is soaring because the hype around timber is very high."

When The Globe asked Sino-Forest why a Gengma official offered a different account of the 2007 deal, the company said it stood by its statements on the transaction and suggested Gengma's chairman should be contacted. "We don't know who you spoke to, but we continue to be in touch and have a good relationship with the Chairman, Xie Hongting," the company said in an e-mail. Mr. Xie's office address and local phone number were both included. When The Globe contacted Mr. Xie, he contradicted Sino-Forest's account that it has bought about 200,000 hectares of forest through the Yunnan master agreement.

With four years of the master agreement deal already elapsed, Mr. Xie said Sino-Forest has followed through on deals that give them long-term leases, which are usually for three or four decades, for timber rights on "almost" 200,000 mu of timber through Gengma, or about 13,300 hectares - not the 200,000 hectares the company claims to have acquired.

At the same time as the company announced the Gengma Forestry deal in 2007, it also announced the sale of \$200-million (U.S.) in new shares to a group of investors led by Temasek Holdings, Singapore's massive sovereign wealth fund, to help  $\Box$  pay for the timber deal - one of a series of equity and debt financings Sino-Forest has completed over the past decade to fund its huge growth.

While Gengma Forestry officials question Sino-Forestry's account of the 2007 deal, local land brokers said it would be difficult to find 200,000 hectares of quality land leases to complete that agreement.

"Most of the land with good trees around Gengma is all sold out. Only lesser land is still available to buyers now," said Zhang Fuyin, a broker who said he sold 10,000 mu of timber in the area to Sino-Panel, a Sino-Forest subsidiary, several years ago. The deal with Gengma Forestry says the timber purchases will take place in "Lincang city and its surrounding areas," a likely reference to Lincang county, of which Gengma is the geographical heart.

Senior forestry officials in the province challenged the company's assertion that it controls about 200,000 hectares of forest in the region. Speaking on condition they not be identified, they said their records showed Sino-Forest manages far less than that and said the Yunnan Forestry Bureau would begin an investigation aimed at determining the company's true holdings.

In addition to the questions about Sino-Forest's disclosures on the size of its holdings, forestry officials, as well as local timber brokers who spoke to The Globe raised questions regarding the value Sino-Forest attributes to its Yunnan assets.

"It's very hard for anyone to say what the value of their property is," said one forestry official, adding that forested land in Yunnan needed to be evaluated by a special body jointly appointed by the Forestry Bureau and the Ministry of Finance. Sino-Forest has not requested such an official valuation of its land, he said. "(The valuation) must have two chops (official seals) and two forestry resource evaluation experts and two licensed evaluators... . Even I can't just go there and give it a value."

In an e-mail response to The Globe and Mail, Sino-Forest replied that because they own the trees, rather than the land, their holdings would not be registered with the provincial forestry bureau.

"As a matter of course, when we purchase trees only, we obtain a confirmation of our ownership from the local county or city Forestry Bureau for the local area in which we purchase, not the provincial Forestry Bureau. Sino Forest's ownership of its forestry assets in the Yunnan province is voluntarily documented in each case by the local or city Forestry Bureaus, not at the provincial Forestry Bureau level. As a result, officials at the provincial Yunnan Forestry Bureau would not have an official record about Sino-Forest's local forestry assets."

Born from a reverse takeover of a shell company trading on the Alberta Stock Exchange in 1994, Sino-Forest grew to a market capitalization of more than $6-billion. Its largest shareholder is Paulson & Co., run by John Paulson, who is among the world's best-known hedge fund managers and whose flagship fund owns 14 per cent of Sino-Forest's shares, according to regulatory filings.

Before the Muddy Waters report was published, seven out of seven Canadian equity analysts who covered Sino-Forest rated the company a buy.

FOREST GROWTH

March 23, 2007: Sino-Forest announces a deal to acquire 200,000 hectares of standing timber in Yunnan province over a 10-year period for $700-million (U.S.) to $1.4-billion. The company says it will acquire the trees through "purchase agreements" with Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Forestry Co. Ltd. (Gengma Forestry).

At the same time, the company says it will sell $200-million in new shares to investors, with most of that going to Temasek Holdings, Singapore's sovereign wealth fund.

Dec. 31, 2007: By this date, Sino-Forest had acquired 10,438 hectares for $88.1-million under the Gengma deal, according to company disclosures.

2008: Sino-Forest acquires 64,562 hectares of Yunnan forest under the Gengma deal, according to company documents, for a total of 75,000 hectares purchased.

2009: Further acquisitions bring Sino-Forest's total purchases under the Gengma deal to 109,100 hectares, at a cost of more than $500-million.

2010: Sino-Forest has its busiest year yet in Yunnan, acquiring another 81,200 hectares through Gengma. As of Dec. 31, 2010, it had bought 190,300 hectares of Yunnan trees via the deal, for $925.9-million.

June 2, 2011: An obscure research firm, Muddy Waters LLC, alleges that Sino-Forest has overstated purchases from the Gengma agreement by $800-million.

On the trail of the truth behind Sino-Forest

By MARK MacKINNON From Monday's Globe and Mail

Two weeks of travelling by car and plane to visit Sino-Forest offices, properties and partners in Yunnan lead to as many new questions as answers

The deepening mystery surrounding Canadian timber company Sino-Forest Corp. TRE-T leads to the regional capital of Kunming in China's Yunnan province and down Huashan West Road - to an address that doesn't exist.

That address, No. 125 - 129 Huashan West Rd., is listed as the office of a forestry company that sold 1,600 hectares of timber in Yunnan province to a Sino-Forest subsidiary in March. But the odd-numbered side of Huashan West Road ends at 81.

Finding the buyer, the Sino-Forest subsidiary, proves almost as elusive. The office is in a white three-storey building with a green Sino-Panel sign on Bai Tai Road on the northern edge of Lincang, the administrative centre of the region's forestry industry. But it's empty.

The curious transactions totalling $6-million and inked on March 7 between a Sino-Forest subsidiary with an empty office and a seller with no address highlight the bigger questions surrounding Sino-Forest's dealings in southern China. Trying to penetrate Sino-Forest's complicated business in Yunnan can be like trying to spot the sun through the thick forests of oak, birch, pine and other timber that carpet the mountains in this sprawling region along China's border with Myanmar.

Sino-Forest, once Canada's biggest publicly-traded timber company, has seen its stock fall by 82 per cent since the June 2 publication of a report by a short seller, Carson Block of Muddy Waters LLC, that alleged large-scale fraud and overstatement of assets by the company.

The Globe and Mail reported on Saturday that Yunnan forestry officials say the company's claim that it controls almost 200,000 hectares in Yunnan province doesn't match their records. A key business partner, the intermediary in a Yunnan "master agreement" under which Sino-Forest says it conducted the bulk of its transactions there, told The Globe it has so far sold less than 14,000 hectares to Sino-Forest. Sino-Forest has said that it has almost completely fulfilled the 10-year master agreement signed in 2007, which gave it the right to purchase up to 200,000 hectares in the region via the intermediary, Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Co. Ltd. (also known as Gengma Forestry).

Senior forestry bureaucrats also told The Globe and Mail that there's no official valuation of Sino-Forest's properties, since the company has never applied to have an evaluation conducted by the local government. The Yunnan Forestry Bureau has since launched an investigation into the company's claims.

In e-mail responses to the Globe, Sino-Forest says it stands by its public statements regarding its holdings in Yunnan, and said it bought some assets from Gengma Forestry, and used Gengma Forestry as a purchasing agent to buy another 180,000 hectares of forest from other sellers. The company has denied all wrongdoing alleged by Muddy Waters and the board of directors has formed a committee to investigate.

Two weeks of travelling by car and plane to visit Sino-Forest offices, properties and partners in Yunnan, Hunan and Beijing - and interviews with forestry officials, industry experts and local residents - led to as many new questions as answers.

In the series of deals inked on March 7, the buyer was named as Sino-Panel (Yunnan) Forestry Co., the local affiliate of Sino-Forest, and the seller was listed as Yunnan Shunxuan Forestry Co. Ltd. of Huashan West Road.

No one on Huashan West Road recalls a forestry company ever having an office in the area. "If there was a company like this on Huashan West Road, I would know about it," said a member of the neighbourhood committee (a hyperlocal and usually omniscient arm of the ruling Communist Party) that is responsible for the street.

At the same time, neighbours say the office of Sino-Panel on Bai Tai Road sat empty until Thursday, June 2 - hours before Muddy Waters released the report that rocked investor confidence in Sino-Forest and sent its share price spiralling downwards. Then a moving van arrived at the long-vacant building and began unloading desks, chairs, power bars and Internet cables.

A week later, however, there was still no evidence of anyone working there, other than a squashed cigarette butt and a caulking gun that lay on the dirty tile floor amid the bare workstations.

"We wouldn't have noticed, but (on June 2) my car was blocking the moving van (and had to be moved). Before that, the building was empty," said Wu Jie, manager of the regional office of Fanhua Forestry Investments Development Co., which sits beside a massage parlour and an English training centre across the street from the deserted Sino-Panel building.

Sino-Forest says its office was empty because they only incorporated their Lincang office at the start of the year. "The signing of the four contracts occurred after the registration of this new office but we haven't yet moved our staff to this location because we have been renovating the office space," the company said in a statement e-mailed to The Globe and Mail.

But other answers did little to shed light on who the company was dealing with in the March 7 transactions. Asked why Yunnan Shunxuan didn't have an office at the location listed on the four purchase certificates for the 1,600 hectares Sino-Forest bought, Sino-Forest gave another address.

This one turned out to be a 60-square-metre room in an apartment hotel, with no sign on the door indicating a business of any kind inside. The woman who answered the phone said she was Chen Xin, the company's sales manager. She confirmed that Shunxuan had indeed done business in the past with Sino-Forest. But she refused to answer any other questions.

A short flight and a long drive away in a remote corner of Hunan, another Chinese province, questions mount around a separate partner, Huaihua Yuda Wood. The company was identified on Chinese websites - including that of the Huaihua City Bureau of Commerce - as a subsidiary of Sino-Forest. Such a relationship with Huaihua Yuda Wood would have been a required disclosure when the Sino-Forest reported a 2007 transaction in which it paid $68-million for just over 7,000 hectares of forest in Yunnan.

Sino-Forest denies that Huaihua is a related party, and has since made public a letter from Huaihua Yuda Wood asking that the website be corrected after apparently going unnoticed for almost five years (an application accepted by the local government, which acknowledged making an "error").

But again, it's a challenge trying to track down the real origins of the Sino-Forest partner. No street address is given for Huaihua Yuda Wood on the documents made available by Sino-Forest, only the name of a tiny township called Anjiang in southern Hunan province. There, locals say a company called Yuda did indeed own a crumbling sawmill in the area that has since changed hands.

Employees who remained behind at the mill after it was sold say they believed that Huaihua Yuda Wood was indeed a subsidiary of Sino-Forest. "There were Canadians here all the time back then," said an office worker who would only give her family name, Yi.

At the offices of Jiading, the Sino-Forest subsidiary in the nearby city of Dongkou, the story gets even more complicated. The factory manager says Huaihua Yuda Wood's operations are indeed in the same building as Jiading's. Yuda is a "cousin company," the factory manager explained.

But his boss, general manager Liu Zhiwei, denies that's the case and says Yuda Wood remains an independent company based in Anjiang, though he says he doesn't know its address or phone number.

An official with the Huaihua City Bureau of Commerce told The Globe and Mail by telephone Wednesday that Huaihua Yuda was no longer a legally registered company and that he could not provide any other information. But that same week, the seemingly defunct company wrote to the same commerce bureau, asking for and receiving a letter clarifying that it was indeed a separate entity from Sino-Forest.

The questions about Sino-Forest, which have made headlines in North America, have barely made a ripple here in the heart of its operations. None of the government officials, business people, forestry industry experts or local residents interviewed by The Globe and Mail in Yunnan and Hunan had heard anything about Muddy Waters or the allegations against Sino-Forest.

At Sino-Forest's real centre of operations in Yunnan, on the fourth floor of a converted hotel in the small but affluent town of Mengding, a harrowing five-hour drive through the mountains south of Lincang, the company's troubles seem to be little more than a rumour. Branch manager Shen Xe "heard something happened at the company, but I'm not certain what it is." Others among the company's 19 staff in Mengding professed complete ignorance.

Or perhaps the questions were just unwelcome. When the interview was over, local police were waiting in the parking lot. They questioned The Globe's reporter, and then attempted to follow his movements for the rest of the day.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SINO-FOREST RESPONDS TO THE GLOBE AND MAIL ARTICLE

TORONTO, CANADA, June 20, 2011 – Sino-Forest Corporation (TSX: TRE) ("Sino-Forest" or the "Company"), a leading commercial forest plantation operator in China, today made the following statement in response to the incorrect portrayal of its business provided by The Globe and Mail in an article published on Saturday, June 18th.

At the heart of The Globe and Mail's article is the assertion that there is a discrepancy between the Company's public disclosure regarding its 2007 Master Agreement with Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous County Forestry Limited ("Gengma Dai and Wa") for the purchase of plantations in the province of Yunnan (the "Master Agreement" - filed in the dataroom on the Company's website), acquisitions made under it, and the description of the Master Agreement and related acquisitions that was apparently provided by Gengma Dai and Wa to The Globe and Mail. There is no discrepancy.

The Chairman of Gengma Dai and Wa, Mr. Xie Hongting, was introduced by Sino-Forest to The Globe and Mail in an open attempt to address some of its many questions. After the interview with Mr. Xie, the Company had its own background interview with The Globe and Mail, during which it became clear there were some factual misunderstandings regarding the Company's ownership of trees in Yunnan. The Company informed The Globe and Mail that Mr. Xie would clarify the relationship between both parties. However, The Globe and Mail chose not to wait for Gengma Dai and Wa's complete description of its relationship with Sino-Forest.

The Company has provided the following status update with respect to its Yunnan tree ownership resulting from the Master Agreement entered into with Gengma Dai and Wa in 2007:

- Sino-Forest entered into the first Yunnan Master Agreement in 2007 (filed in the dataroom on the Company's website). The Master Agreement had a target to acquire 'approximately' 200,000 hectares (3 million mu mu being the common Chinese unit of land measurement that is equivalent to 1/15th of a hectare) of standing timber. The Master Agreement does not specify a maximum amount of standing timber to be acquired under the Agreement (the phrase "up to" in The Globe and Mail article is inaccurate and not a reflection of the Company's public disclosures on this matter). As per Sino-Forest's 2010 Annual Information Form, the Company had acquired 190,300 hectares (2.855 million mu) under the Master Agreement and retained holdings of 186,700 hectares (2.8 million mu) as at December 31, 2010. As per the Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) that accompanied the financial statements for the first quarter 2011, the Company had acquired approximately a total of 230,200 hectares (3.453 million mu) under the Master Agreement as of March 31, 2011.
- In 2007, through its subsidiaries, the Company entered into specific agreements to acquire standing timber and land use rights on 12,667 hectares (190,000 mu) of Gengma Dai and Wa's land in Lincang City, Yunnan Province. A sample of these agreements have previously been published on the Company's website.
- Subsequent to that initial sale, Gengma Dai and Wa has sold approximately 34,667 hectares (520,000 mu) of standing timber located in Lincang City, Yunnan Province to subsidiaries of the Company. Of this amount approximately 12,000 hectares (180,000 mu) was standing timber owned by Gengma Dai and Wa, and approximately 22,667 hectares (340,000 mu) was standing timber sold to the Company by others. Gengma Dai and Wa acted as a purchasing agent in those transactions, by arranging the sales of bundles of standing timber parcels to the Company and its subsidiaries by the owners of such standing timber.

- In addition, Gengma Dai and Wa has acted as the Company's purchasing agent, under the Master Agreement, for the purchase of other standing timber elsewhere in Yunnan Province, beyond Lincang City, totalling approximately 182,867 hectares (2.743 million mu).
- As a result, in total under the Master Agreement, the Company through its subsidiaries has acquired standing timber of 182,867 hectares (2.743 million mu), plus 34,667 hectares (520,000 mu) and 12,667 hectares (190,000 mu), for a total of approximately 230,200 hectares, or approximately 3.453 million mu.
- Gengma Dai and Wa is currently continuing to work with the Company on further purchases in Lincang City, Yunnan Province.

This breakdown is completely consistent with the Company's public disclosure of its total acquisitions of standing timber hectares in Yunnan Province in its first quarter 2011 MD&A of 230,200 hectares (3.453 million mu) acquired pursuant to the Yunnan Master Agreement and is also consistent with the comments of Mr. Xie of Gengma Dai and Wa to The Globe and Mail. When asked in the interview how much he has sold to Sino-Forest, he accurately says he has sold the Company "almost 200,000 mu" (13,333 hectares) which represents land use rights on land provided by Gengma Dai and Wa and is an approximate total of the Company's land lease certificates in Yunnan. In addition, Gengma Dai and Wa has sold standing timber for a total of another 34,667 hectares (520,000 mu) in Lincang City both as owner and as agent, and acted as an agent on another 182,867 hectares (2.743 million mu) elsewhere in Yunnan Province. For further clarity, the Company attaches Gengma Dai and Wa's own statement on this matter which was issued over the weekend, again consistent with what the Company has set out above. This is the clarification that the Company asked The Globe and Mail to wait for prior to publication; however the newspaper chose to publish the article without all of the facts on June 18th.

The Globe and Mail's article is further inaccurate in a critical part of its research. It refers to "Gengma Forestry", with its "litter-strewn" office "up a dusty cement staircase"; and its office manager Zhang Ling. Very poetic, but completely irrelevant, because based on the information that The Globe and Mail provided to the Company, the Company believes that this is the address of a business known as Gengma Dai and Wa Autonomous County Forestry Industrial Co., Ltd. (耿马傣族佤族自治县林产有限责任公司). It is a different organization from Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous County Forestry Limited (耿马傣族佤族自治县林业有限责任公司), with whom Sino-Forest has its Master Agreement, which is based at an entirely different address. Upon becoming aware of this incorrect description, the Company provided the correct address for Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous County Forestry Limited to The Globe and Mail.

In addition, in support of its case The Globe and Mail quotes an unnamed broker who stated that "most of the land with good trees around Gengma is all sold out." The scope of the Master Agreement encompasses the whole of Yunnan Province. For reference, Gengma County represents approximately 16% of the landmass of Lincang City area and less than 1% of Yunnan Province as a whole.

Furthermore, regarding The Globe and Mail's reference to an unnamed Yunnan Provincial forestry bureau official saying that Sino-Forest manages far less than 200,000 hectares, as indicated in the Company's written response to The Globe and Mail, the provincial level bureau records land ownership and land lease transactions, but does not separately record sales of standing timber. As publicly disclosed, the substantial majority of Sino-Forest's purchases are standing timber. The provincial level forestry bureau will therefore not have full details of the total area of timber purchases under Sino-Forest's and its subsidiaries' names.

The Company would like to remind investors that most domestic and multinational companies with significant China exposure, a country with a rapidly evolving business environment, have structures and operations that are complex and significantly different from the North American environment and that can be complex to explain. As, for example, the distinction between ownership of standing timber and leasing the underlying land by plantation operators whereas only the State and farmers-collective "own" the land that exists in China. The Independent Committee has told the Board that the review and examination being undertaken by the Independent Committee with the assistance of PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) and its independent legal advisors will likely take at least two to three months, which is normal for such processes. The Company fully understands that the pressure for answers is significant, but stands by its public disclosure and, as far as possible, asks that investors trust that process, and allow it to be conducted fully and definitively, not over-judging single articles or publications that are not produced by persons necessarily familiar with the forestry business or business practices in China, that might not be fully sourced or accurate. During the course of the Independent Committee's examination, the Board expects it will provide updates from such process as appropriate. That is precisely why the Company and Independent Committee need the time to complete the process.

The Ties that Blind Part 1: Huaihua Yuda

"I personally stand by and guarantee that the audited financial statements in the reports filed are accurate, and any material connected parties' transactions have been disclosed in our management discussions and analysis." – Allen Chan, Sino-Forest Chairman / CEO on TRE's June 14, 2011 conference call.

Contrary to information TRE released on June 17, 2011, Huaihua Yuda, appears to be closely related to TRE.

Background

Sino-Forest investors had not heard of Huaihua Yuda ("Yuda") until Muddy Waters, LLC's June 2nd report on TRE. Our report disclosed the existence of Yuda, and showed that TRE has been moving significant sums of money to Yuda. On June 17th, TRE posted a local government letter in its data room that states Yuda is not a subsidiary of TRE; rather, that it is a subsidiary of Sonic Jita Engineering Ltd.

Summary

Sonic Jita was once owned by Sino-Forest executives, and then by Sino-Forest itself. When TRE owned Sonic Jita, TRE engaged in a major undisclosed related party transaction with Sonic Jita. At present Sonic Jita is nominally owned by parties unrelated to TRE. TRE and Sonic Jita share a senior executive, although it is unclear whether his dual role is concurrent. A recent report by Canada's Globe and Mail presents evidence suggesting that TRE exercises control over Yuda.

Sonic Jita and Sino-Forest

Sino-Forest executives, and then Sino-Forest itself, owned Sonic Jita. At the time TRE owned Sonic Jita, TRE entered into a major transaction with Sonic Jita that TRE did not disclose was a related party transaction. As part of this transaction, TRE was sued for an alleged breach of a contract by Sonic Jita, even though Sonic Jita was not named as a defendant. Sonic Jita and TRE appear to share at least one key executive, although it is currently unclear whether his dual role is concurrent.

Sino-Wood Partners Ltd. and Sino-Wood (Guangdong) Ltd., two of TRE's primary holding companies, previously owned Sonic Jita. At the time TRE (via its subsidiaries) owned Sonic Jita, TRE announced that it had entered into a major equipment purchase contract with Sonic Jita. TRE disclosed the transaction as though it were an unconnected arm's length transaction. In reality, TRE was named the sole defendant in a 1998 lawsuit relating to Sonic Jita's alleged breach of a contract. We are unclear why Sonic Jita was not named as a defendant. Thus, as early as 1997, TRE engaged in an undisclosed related party transactions with Sonic Jita.

TRE acquired its stake in Sonic Jita from TRE co-founder K.K. Poon; ADS Capital Ltd.<sup>2</sup>; and Leslie Chan, who was then a major shareholder and executive vice president of TRE as well as a co-founder of Sino-Wood Partners Ltd. (we are unclear whether there is a familial relationship between Allen Chan and Leslie Chan). Allen Chan was a director of Sonic Jita at the time TRE acquired Sonic Jita. It was never disclosed that TRE's management individually owned and controlled Sonic Jita.

However, Sonic Jita appears to share at least one key executive with TRE, Mr. Ye Han Xiang. It is unclear at this point whether Mr. Ye concurrently holds a position at Sonic Jita. Mr. Ye is the Legal Representative<sup>3</sup> of four TRE entities, including one of TRE's acknowledged Huaihua companies, Sino-Panel (Yuan Ling) Co. Ltd. According to the first website below, Mr. Ye entered into a contract in 2005 with Hong Jiang City, Hunan Province on behalf of Sonic Jita. The second website shows Mr. Ye's status as Sino-Panel Yuan Ling's current Legal Representative.

Yuda and Sino-Forest

Canada's Globe and Mail recently encountered evidence that TRE controls Yuda when it visited Yuda's office.<sup>4</sup> It wrote

"But again, it's a challenge trying to track down the real origins of the Sino-Forest partner. No street address is given for Huaihua Yuda Wood on the documents made available by Sino-Forest, only the name of a tiny township called Anjiang in southern Hunan province. There, locals say a company called Yuda did indeed own a crumbling sawmill in the area that has since changed hands. Employees who remained behind at the mill after it was sold say they believed that Huaihua Yuda Wood was indeed a subsidiary of Sino-Forest. "There were Canadians here all the time back then," said an office worker who would only give her family name, Yi.

At the offices of Jiading, the Sino-Forest subsidiary in the nearby city of Dongkou, the story gets even more complicated. The factory manager says Huaihua Yuda Wood's operations are indeed in the same building as Jiading's. Yuda is a "cousin company," the factory manager explained.

But his boss, general manager Liu Zhiwei, denies that's the case and says Yuda Wood remains an independent company based in Anjiang, though he says he doesn't know its address or phone number.

An official with the Huaihua City Bureau of Commerce told The Globe and Mail by telephone Wednesday that Huaihua Yuda was no longer a legally registered company and that he could not provide any other information. But that same week, the seemingly defunct company wrote to the same commerce bureau, asking for and receiving a letter clarifying that it was indeed a separate entity from Sino-Forest." <sup>5</sup>

- 5. It was a term of the Freight Agreement that Sonic Jita would pay the transhipment costs to the 2nd Plaintiffs within three days of the receipt by the Defendant of the bills of lading issued on transhipment and the transhipment cost invoices.
- 6. The 1st Plaintiff arranged the transhipment of the Cargo at Hong Kong and then arranged onward shipment from Hong Kong to Gaoyao, such services being set out in the 1st Plaintiff's invoices nos.HDS970130 and HDS970135 dated 29th December 1997 totalling HK$397,413.01 and issued to the Defendant on behalf of the 2nd Plaintiff. The amounts of the invoices were calculated by reference to measurements made of the Cargo at Kotka, Finland.
- 7. The Defendant disputed the Cargo measurements and declined to settle the 1st Plaintiff's invoices in full. However, the Defendant acknowledged liability to the 1st Plaintiff for at least part of the transhipment cost on 26th January 1998 and made a part payment of US$100,000 to the 1st Plaintiff.
- 8. In a meeting dated on or around 16th February 1998 between inter alia Mr. Guido Ferrando, a Director of the 1st Plaintiff and Mr. Wilson Kam, a manager of the Defendant, the Defendant produced a schedule entitled "Freight Calculation for Gaoyao Project" setting out the amounts it claimed to owe to the 1st and/or 2nd Plaintiffs in respect of the transhipment. These calculation of these amounts was based on the Defendant's own measurements of the Cargo carried out at Gaoyao in the absence of the 1st and 2nd Plaintiffs. The 1st and/or 2nd Plaintiffs agreed to accept the amount set out in the schedule, US$204,363.70, as an initial payment leaving the balance of the amount owed by the Defendant and/or Sonic Jita to the 1st and/or 2nd Plaintiffs to be resolved in arbitration.

9. Wrongfully and in breach of the agreement set out in paragraph 7 above the Defendant have failed to pay the Plaintiffs the agreed amount or any further amount at all in respect of the transhipment and the 1st and 2nd Plaintiffs have suffered loss and/or damage as a result of the Defendant's breach.

Sino-Forest Provides Update Regarding Note Holder Default Notices and Comments on the Status of its Historic Financial Statements

TORONTO, CANADA – January 10, 2012 - Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest" or the "Company") (TSX:TRE) today provided an update concerning the status of the Company's efforts to obtain waivers of its default from its note holders in respect of its Senior Notes due 2014 and its Senior Notes due 2017, and commented on the status of its historic financial statements.

As disclosed in the Company's December 18, 2011 press release, Sino-Forest received written notices of default dated December 16, 2011 in respect of its Senior Notes due 2014 and its Senior Notes due 2017. The notices reference the Company's previously disclosed failure to release its 2011 third quarter financial results (the "Q3 Results") on a timely basis. An "Event of Default" under the Senior Note Indentures will have occurred if Sino-Forest fails to cure or otherwise fails to address the breach of indenture giving rise to the notices of default within 30 days following receipt of the notices. The Company will not be able to file the Q3 Results and cure the default within the 30 day cure period.

The Company's breach of the Senior Note Indentures relating to the Q3 Results can be waived for a series of Senior Notes by the holders of at least a majority in principal amount of that series.

The Company has been in discussions with an ad hoc committee of note holders that hold a substantial portion of the Company's four series of senior and convertible notes. The Company and the ad hoc committee have negotiated the terms under which the defaults under the Senior Notes will be waived. While there is no assurance that waivers will be obtained, the Company is optimistic that holders of a majority in principal amount of its Senior Notes due 2014 and its Senior Notes due 2017 will agree to waive the breach within the 30 day cure period.

On November 15, 2011, Sino-Forest announced, among other things, that it was deferring the release of the Q3 Results until certain issues could be resolved to the satisfaction of the Board of Directors. The issues included (a) determining the nature and scope of the relationships between Sino-Forest and certain of its authorized intermediaries and suppliers and among certain authorized intermediaries and suppliers, as discussed in the Second Interim Report of the Independent Committee of the Board of Directors publicly released on November 15, 2011, and (b) the satisfactory explanation and resolution of issues raised by certain documents identified by the advisors to the Independent Committee, by counsel to the Company, by the Company's auditor Ernst & Young and by staff of the Ontario Securities Commission.

The Company has worked diligently since November 15, 2011 and believes it has made progress in resolving outstanding issues. As disclosed in the Company's December 12, 2011 press release, there is no assurance that the Company will be able to release the Q3 Results or, if able, as to when such release will occur. For the same reasons, there is also no assurance that the Company will be able to release audited financial statements for its 2011 fiscal year.

As was indicated in the Company's December 12, 2011 press release, the circumstances that could cause the Company to be unable to release the Q3 Results could impact the Company's historic financial statements. For this reason, the Company cautions that the Company's historic financial statements and related audit reports should not be relied upon. The Company continues its efforts to resolve the outstanding issues described above. The Company believes that if it is successful in releasing its Q3 Results and in obtaining an audit opinion for its 2011 fiscal year, those efforts will resolve any issues associated with the reliability of the Company's historic financial statements.

INTRODUCTION

2. Sino-Forest was incorporated in Ontario in 1994 and obtained a listing on the Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) in 1995 using a "reverse merger" (merging its operations and identity into a defunct company that already had securities listed on the exchange). Since 1995 Sino-Forest has been traded on the TSX under the symbol "TRE". Sino-Forest reports itself to be a "leading commercial forest plantation operator" in the People's Republic of China. It describes its business as manufacturing, cultivating, harvesting, and selling timber and timber products. It claims to hold the "plantation rights" to certain forests, meaning the right to harvest existing trees standing on the land and then to replant and cultivate new trees on the same land.

It also claims to hold rights to standing timber, meaning mature trees that are ready for harvesting. Sino-Forest's timber holdings consist primarily of plantation rights and standing timber in China. Its company website states that its registered office and "corporate head office" is in Mississauga, Ontario, and its "executive head office" is in Hong Kong.

- 3. During the first ten years of its operations, the company reported quick expansion of its activities and assets, principally through reported joint venture operations and reinvestment of earnings. It started public equity financing in 1996 and public debt financing in 2004. In its 2003 Annual Report, dated May 20, 2004, the company reported that it had achieved a 33% compound average annual growth rate since 1994, giving it net income of $30.2 million and assets of $418.9 million in 2003. The company was headed by co-founders Allen T.Y. Chan, an entrepreneur, who was chairman and chief executive officer, and Kai Kit Poon, an engineer and former forestry bureau official in Guangdong province in China, who was president. Its auditors were Ernst & Young LLP, who consistently issued "clean" (unqualified) audit reports stating its opinion that Sino-Forest's consolidated financial statements "present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the company as at [the relevant period end-dates] and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles."
- 4. Starting in 2004, Sino-Forest began a program of substantial equity and debt financing. Since August 2004, it has brought three common stock offerings to market, raising about $906 million in equity. The company also raised over $2.1 billion in note offerings since 2004. Sino-Forest was represented by leading Bay Street firms for these financings. Those firms acted as underwriters for the equity offerings and as managers and initial purchasers for the note offerings and accordingly performed due diligence on the company. Equity and credit analysts employed by some of the firms (particularly Richard Kelertas of Dundee and Paul Quinn of RBC) provided generally very favorable coverage to Sino-Forest. Without the imprimatur of these leading financial firms, Sino-Forest could not have brought its share and note offerings to market.

In August 2005, Sino-Forest adopted a series of policies designed to assure public investors of the company's supposed commitment to good corporate governance, transparency, and adherence to international standards of corporate conduct. The policies were written, occasionally updated, and posted on the company's website; they are still in force. In addition to formalizing its board structure and functions, Sino-Forest adopted a Code of Business Conduct dealing with "responsibility and accountability toward employees, business partners, shareholders, competitors, governments, conflicts of interest, reporting violations and other matters." The code provides that company senior managers "are expected to lead according to high standards of ethical conduct in both words and actions. . . . Managers must be diligent in looking for indications that unethical or illegal conduct has occurred." "Honest and accurate recording and reporting of information is essential in order to make responsible business decisions. All financial books, records and accounts of the Corporation must accurately reflect transactions and events, and conform both to the applicable accounting principles as well as to the internal controls of the Corporation." The code states that company officers, directors, and employees must act in the best interests of all shareholders; must not use corporate opportunities for personal gain; must use assets for approved company business purposes and never for illegal purposes; must not trade in company securities based on non-public information; must ensure that all business records and communications are truthful and accurate; must avoid conflicts of interest; must comply with all applicable laws and regulations; and must report any violations of the code, including concerns regarding "accounting, financial statement disclosure, internal accounting or disclosure controls or auditing matters. . . ." At the same time, the company adopted a Disclosure Policy of commitment to "full, true and plain public disclosure of all 'material' information in a timely manner, in order to keep shareholders and all members of the investing public equally informed about the corporation's operations. . . ." The company has also adopted an extensive Corporate Governance Committee Charter concerning implementation of "superior standards of corporate governance practices" and oversight over adherence to corporate policies and board activities; and an Audit Committee Charter governing the composition and activities of the Audit Committee of the board of directors.

- 6. The company brought on BDO McCabe Lo Limited (now known by its successor name, BDO Limited), the Hong Kong member of BDO International Limited, the world's fifth-largest network of public accounting and auditing firms, for its 2005 and 2006 audits; and then reverted to Ernst & Young. BDO issued unqualified Audit Reports for Sino-Forest. The company also made extensive use of reports attesting to the company's valuations of its timber assets, prepared by units of the leading Finnish forestry consultant Pöyry PLC and its Jaakko Pöyry Consulting business. Ernst & Young, BDO, and Pöyry specifically authorized Sino-Forest to use their reports in its public reports and offering documents.
- 7. By 2010, as reported in the 2010 Annual Report issued on May 10, 2011, Sino-Forest had net income of $395.4 million and assets of $5.729 billion. Its year-end market capitalization was approximately $5.7 billion, with approximately 246 million common shares outstanding. It reported a 41% compound average annual growth rate in revenues for the period 1994-2010. In addition to Mr. Chan, who remained as chairman and CEO, the company reported that William (Bill) Ardell had taken over as "Lead Director" from W. Judson Martin; and David J. Horsley served as senior vice president and chief financial officer. Ernst & Young remained as auditor and continued to issue unqualified Audit Reports on the company.

- 8. To outward public appearance, therefore, Sino-Forest was a thriving, growing company operating in the world's hottest economy, with financials that had been blessed by a Big Four auditor and a Hong Kong-based international audit firm, with forestry asset valuations attested to by a leading international consulting firm, with an express commitment to integrity and transparent reporting, and with the support of the Bay Street banking and finance community. Its per-share market price hit a high of $25.30 on March 31, 2011. Reflecting the company's reported success, and based on its reported assets and earnings, its Canadian incorporation, and its TSX listing, Sino-Forest was widely viewed by the investing public as Canada's leading forestry company.
- 9. On Thursday, June 2, 2011, a small Hong Kong investment firm, Muddy Waters LLC, "initiated overage" on Sino-Forest and disseminated a 39-page "research report" containing shocking allegations that the company was vastly overstating its assets and revenues and amounted to a "Ponzi scheme" in operation since its TSX listing in 1995. Sino-Forest's CEO, Mr. Chan, immediately and vehemently denied the accusations, but the market was merciless. On Wednesday, June 1, 2011, the shares had closed at $18.21 on the TSX; by midday Thursday, the price fell to $14.46, at which point trading was halted. When trading resumed on Friday, the share price fell to $5.23 at close, a decline of 71.3% from two days before, representing vanished market capitalization of about $3.2 billion. Market prices of the notes, which were listed on the Singapore Exchange or on TRACE (a system for reporting over-the-counter transactions in fixed-income securities in the U.S.), also fell precipitously.

- 10. The Muddy Waters report provided enough credible content to sustain the devastating effect. For the ten days starting with June 3, the mean closing price of TRE on the TSX was $4.49. The share price had not been that low since before December 1, 2005. Note prices also remained severely depressed.
- 11. The Muddy Waters report's assertions, which caused the meltdown in share and note market prices, included the following:
  - (a) In support of its assertion that Sino-Forest's reported revenue figures were fabricated, the report focused on the company's use of "authorized intermediaries" ("AIs") to effectuate its purchase and sale transactions indirectly, which the company described as necessary in order to process tax payments that could not be handled by a foreign company. The report asserted: "The sole purpose of this structure is to fabricate sales transactions while having an excuse for not having the VAT invoices that are the mainstay of China audit work." The report noted that Sino-Forest refused "for competitive reasons" to disclose the identities of all but one of its AIs, and alleged that the one disclosed AI was in fact a related party to Sino-Forest. The report asserted that a company-reported sale of $231.1 million in timber in Yunnan Province was largely fabricated since the amount exceeded Sino-Forest's actual timber holdings in the province and exceeded harvesting quotas sixfold.
  - (b) On the asset side, the report declared that Muddy Waters had "smoking gun evidence" that Sino-Forest had overstated its standing timber purchases in Yunnan Province since 2006 by over $800 million (out of $2.891 billion reported).
  - (c) The report also noted that Sino-Forest had engaged in substantial transactions with undisclosed related parties, including Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company Ltd ("Zhonggan"), which was incorporated just months before Sino-Forest entered into an approximately $700 million contract with it in June 2009. According to Muddy Waters, Zhonggan's 2008 and 2009 audit report "shows numerous large transactions" among it, Sino-Forest, and other parties,

- none of which is forestry-related. Muddy Waters also identified Huaihua Yuda Wood Company Ltd. as "an undisclosed TRE subsidiary that has been receiving massive amounts of money from TRE's subsidiaries."
- (d) The Muddy Waters report noted the crucial role of expert firms in confirming Sino-Forest's financial and business reporting, particularly Pöyry's Valuation Reports and Ernst & Young's Audit Reports.
- 12. The effect of the Muddy Waters report was to destroy investors' trust in the integrity of Sino-Forest's reports of its business operations and its financial statements. contradicted the fundamental representation made by the company and its directors and officers during the Class Period that Sino-Forest's overall reporting of its business operations and financial statements was fair, complete, accurate, and in conformity with international standards and the requirements of the Securities Act and National Instrument 51-102, and that its accounts of its growth and success could be trusted (herein referred to as the "Integrity Representation"). The effect of participation in Sino-Forest's financings and business and financial reporting by the company's auditors, forestry experts, and financial firms handling the share and note offerings amounted to those parties' confirmation of, or at least their failure to disclose the material falsity of, the Integrity Representation. The Muddy Waters report also contradicted representations during the Class Period that Sino-Forest's financial reporting - including its reported assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and disclosures of related-party transactions -- was true, fair, accurate, and presented without material overstatement, and that the company's financial statements conformed to GAAP and its outside audits had been performed in accordance with GAAS.
- 13. To try to substantiate CEO Chan's denials of the Muddy Waters allegations, Sino-Forest promised to disclose exculpatory information, including signed copies of contracts and master framework agreements evidencing its timber holdings. However, the company has disclosed documents concerning only Yunnan Province (although it claims to have timber holdings in nine provinces in China), and the Muddy Waters allegations have not been viewed as significantly refuted by the documents.

- 14. On June 6, 2011, Sino-Forest announced the appointment of an "Independent Committee" of directors to investigate the Muddy Waters allegations. The Independent Committee in turn retained legal counsel, and then retained the international accounting firm PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) to assist, with an interim report by the Committee expected within six to eight weeks. Also on June 6, the company invited analysts to tour its operations in China in the near future as a means of establishing that its timber holdings were in accordance with its representations.
- 15. On June 18 and 20, 2011, the Globe and Mail published articles based on a two-week investigative trip its East Asia correspondent had taken to visit Sino-Forest offices, properties, and partners in southeast China. The articles reported, among other things, statements by Yunnan Province forestry officials that the company's claim that it controls almost 200,000 hectares there did not match their records.
- 16. On the evening of June 20, 2011, the large New York hedge fund Paulson & Co., whose affiliates had comprised Sino-Forest's largest shareholder, revealed that it had liquidated its positions; analysts estimated that Paulson's mark-to-market losses exceeded US $560 million.
- 17. On July 6, 2011, Sino-Forest canceled the proposed tour for analysts, supposedly because many analysts had "been precluded from resuming coverage" of the company. On August 15, Sino-Forest announced that the results of the Independent Committee and PricewaterhouseCoopers investigation would be delayed and could be expected only "prior to the Company's year end" due to the lengthy time "required for gathering and commencing analysis of vast amounts" of data and documents.

- 18. On August 26, 2011, the Ontario Securities Commission (OSC) suspended trading in Sino-Forest's securities and issued an order stating in pertinent part:
  - 11. The Independent Committee of Sino-Forest has also been conducting an investigation into the activities and business of Sino-Forest and its subsidiaries and their management. As a result, Sino-Forest has recently suspended Ho, Hung and Yeung temporarily and curtailed Ip's duties.
  - 12. Sino-Forest, through its subsidiaries, appears to have engaged in significant nonarm's length transactions which may have been contrary to Ontario securities laws and public interest;
  - 13. Sino-Forest and certain of its officers and directors appear to have misrepresented some of its revenue and/or exaggerated some of its timber holdings by providing information to the public in documents required to be filed or furnished under Ontario securities laws which may have been false or misleading in a material respect contrary to section 122 or 126.2 of the Act and contrary to the public interest;
  - 14. Sino-Forest and certain of its officers and directors including Chan appear to be engaging or participating in acts, practices or a course of conduct related to its securities which it and/or they know or reasonably ought to know perpetuate a fraud on any person or company contrary to section 126.1 of the Act and contrary to the public interest. . . .

The OSC also ordered that Messrs. Chan, Ip, Hung, Ho, and Yeung cease all trading in securities.

19. Regulatory documents filed by the company that day revealed that company insiders had sold $83 million of company stock since 2006. On Sunday, August 28, 2011, Mr. Chan resigned and three other employees took leaves after "certain information was uncovered" by the Independent Committee. Following previous downgrades, Standard & Poor's withdrew its credit rating on Sino-Forest entirely, and Moody's reduced its rating to a junk level indicating "very high credit risk."

- 20. On September 3, 2011, the Globe and Mail published a follow-up to its earlier investigative articles, based on further visits and interviews by its correspondents in China. The September 3 article reported: (a) Sino-Forest reported more than $60 million in sales of fibre board in 1994-1997 from a joint venture with Leizhou Forestry Bureau, but a former company executive insisted that the sales never occurred, stating: "We didn't produce a log. There was no warehouse or factory" - before asking to retract his statements a week later after receiving irate calls from company officials; (b) Mandra Forestry Holdings Limited, a company acquired by Sino-Forest in February 2010 for $9 million for stock and assumption of $187 million of debt, was losing money and had missed an interest payment on its bonds in May 2009; and (c) Homix Limited, which was acquired by Sino-Forest in January 2010 for $7.1 million, reportedly due to the value of its research and development capabilities and patent rights, was losing money; its patents appeared to be of marginal value; and Hua Chen, Sino-Forest's senior vice president of administration and finance, was an officer and had a 30 percent ownership interest in a major Homix subsidiary, but that relationship had not been disclosed despite Sino-Forest's policy against related-party transactions. Mr. Chan refused to be interviewed for the article despite repeated requests.
- 21. On September 8, 2011, after a hearing, the OSC continued its cease-trading order until January 25, 2012. The OSC order issued that day observed that OSC staff had "presented evidence of conduct that may be harmful to investors and the public interest."
- 22. As of mid-September 2011, the full truth about Sino-Forest remains shrouded. No one has yet been able to reliably verify or refute the substance of the Muddy Waters allegations. At this juncture, however, there exists ample basis to allege that the Defendants named in this lawsuit have, at least since 2004, made material Misrepresentations concerning Sino-Forest, including the Integrity Representation; reports of the company's financial position and results, including its assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions; and the information reflected in the expert forestry reports, securities offering due diligence, and audit reports about the company.

- 23. The Plaintiffs' basis for their claims herein includes the following facts:
  - (a) Sino-Forest's inability to produce credible evidence refuting major portions of the Muddy Waters report, even though the report was issued months ago;
  - (b) Discrepancies in Sino-Forest's reported business and operations as disclosed in the Globe and Mail articles in June 2011 and the follow-up article in September 2011, and Sino-Forest's inability to produce credible evidence refuting those allegations.;
  - (c) The dramatic adverse effect of the disclosures in the Muddy Waters report on the market prices of Sino-Forest's shares and notes.;
  - (d) Sino-Forest's largest shareholder's liquidation of its entire equity position within one month after the Muddy Waters report was issued;
  - (e) Conclusions reached by the OSC, including the cease-trade order and the statements concerning fraud at the company, apparently based on preliminary disclosures to the OSC by the Sino-Forest board's Independent Committee and other investigations by OSC staff.;
  - (f) The Independent Committee's delay in reporting, and its apparent inability immediately to refute the Muddy Waters allegations;
  - (g) Reported insider sales by Sino-Forest senior managers and officers;
  - (h) The resignation by CEO Chan and leaves taken by the three other executives;
  - (i) Withdrawal of ratings or downgrades by credit rating agencies;
  - (j) Inconsistencies in the company's business and financial reporting concerning its use of Authorized Intermediaries for a large part of its business operations, and the prevalence of undisclosed related-party transactions at the company, as further described herein; and

- (k) The company's acknowledgement in its 2010 Annual Report that the design and effectiveness of its disclosure controls and procedures and its internal controls over financial reporting were "ineffective" due to specified weaknesses, as further described below.
- 24. The Plaintiffs have instituted this class proceeding on behalf of purchasers of shares or notes of Sino-Forest during the period from August 17, 2004, through June 2, 2011 (the Class Period), except Excluded Persons. The starting date of the Class Period is the date Sino-Forest closed on its offering of US$300,000,000 guaranteed senior notes, pursuant to an Offering Memorandum dated August 10, 2004. Those were the earliest Sino-Forest notes outstanding when the Muddy Waters report was issued on June 2, 2011 (the notes matured and were paid on August 17, 2011). Any holder of those notes as of June 2, 2011 who sold them prior to maturity suffered a loss on the sale. Holders of later-issued notes as of June 2, 2011 have suffered losses as well, putting aside any value that may be realized from the notes at maturity or default.
- 25. This Statement of Claim asserts claims under Part XXIII of the Securities Act, and if necessary under comparable provisions of the securities legislation in other provinces and territories in Canada; and claims for common law fraud, negligence (simpliciter), and negligent misrepresentation. The Plaintiffs intend to seek leave to commence a claim under Part XXIII.1 of the Securities Act, and if necessary under comparable provisions of the securities legislation in other provinces and territories in Canada.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

88. Sino-Forest describes itself as "a leading commercial forest plantation operator in China."

According to the company's 2010 Annual Report, its "principal businesses include the ownership and management of plantation forests, the sale of standing timber and wood logs and the complementary manufacturing of downstream engineered-wood products." In selling and acquiring timber assets (both timber plantation rights and standing timber), Sino-Forest claimed, beginning in 2003, to utilize a number of "authorized intermediaries" (AIs) to act on its behalf, purportedly because these authorized intermediaries were licensed by the appropriate Chinese authorities to purchase trees and timber assets in China. Sino-Forest has disclosed the identity of only one AI.

- 89. Sino-Forest claims that between 2004 and the present, acting on its behalf, the AIs have purchased plantation rights and standing timber from the company and then subsequently sold those timber assets to the ultimate customers. According to Sino-Forest, the AIs then owe the company the balance of the sale proceeds after deducting all expenses and fees (including the costs of the raw material, processing and management fees, and applicable taxes). Instead of remitting the sale proceeds to Sino-Forest, the AIs, at Sino-Forest's direction, purportedly provide the proceeds to a third-party "purchasing agent" to buy additional timber assets for the company.
- 90. The use of AIs in the manner described by the company, if true, would have the effect of camouflaging both the cash flows associated with the alleged operations of the company (revenues and expenses resulting from the purchase and sale of timber assets) and the timber assets allegedly acquired (which were held by purchasing agents, not the company). Sino-Forest also reported that it used AIs for payment of all taxes due to Chinese authorities in connection with its operations, thus removing company tax records as a means for auditing, confirming, or measuring its activities.
- 91. Therefore, Sino-Forest's assertions that it used AIs in the manner described gave it virtually free rein to claim that it engaged in substantial business activity, without requiring it to show on its own books and in its own accounts the cash flows associated with that activity. This meant that only company insiders, and those auditors, experts, and due diligence examiners who were required and in a position to insist on obtaining access to records sufficient to verify Sino-Forest's claimed activities, operations, and financial results, were able to review and (if appropriate) confirm the integrity and accuracy of the company's reports.

92. In the 2011 First Quarter Earnings Release Conference Call on June 14, 2011, the Defendant Chan explained the use of AIs in some detail, including the following steps:

Fourth, the AI pay the proceeds from the timber sales to the end users to a Sino-Forest designated purchasing agent rather than direct back to the BVI company [a Sino-Forest Subsidiary]. The AI pays under the terms of the contract, but since the BVI Subsidiary cannot hold a bank account in China, cash is not exchanged.

In the fifth step, the purchasing agent utilizing the money from the AI, purchases more parcels whose ownership is transferred to the BVI company. Sino-Forest directs the AI to use the proceeds from the sales, which is receivable to Sino-Forest, to purchase new plantation assets through an agent on behalf of Sino-Forest that had already been identified by Sino-Forest.

- 93. According to that account, Sino-Forest does not itself recognize any cash flow from these transactions, because all transactions occur at the AI level. Nevertheless, according to its financial statements, Sino-Forest generated $4.3 billion in revenues from its standing timber business during the period 2003-2010, and it reported approximately $4 billion in corresponding operating cash flows. Based on the Defendant Chan's description of the company's use of AIs, the majority of those cash flows never occurred, or at least were materially overstated.
- 94. Sino-Forest claimed it was required to use the AIs because Chinese laws and regulations prohibited non-Chinese entities from holding Chinese currency bank accounts and conducting certain wood business in connection with Sino-Forest's activities. However, belying those claims, for the (at least) six years prior to Sino-Forest's reported use of AIs, one of its subsidiaries did obtain the requisite licensing and approval from Chinese regulators to produce and sell wood products. For reasons the company did not explain, in 1993 it stopped using the subsidiary (which ceased operations) in favor of its extensive reported reliance on AIs for all phases of its business.

- 95. The Defendant Chan, in the 2011 First Quarter Earnings Release Conference Call, also claimed the AIs are necessary because "the BVI Subsidiary cannot hold [a bank account] in China" (brackets in original). That statement is false: since 2003 Chinese regulations have enabled foreign companies, like the Sino-Forest BVI Subsidiaries, to maintain bank accounts in China.
- 96. The only AI whose identity Sino-Forest has disclosed to the public is Shenzhen Hongji Enterprises (Holdings) Ltd. ("Shenzhen"). Sino-Forest introduced Shenzen's President, Lei Guangyu, to analysts in April 2011. Shenzen is a related entity to Sino-Forest (the 2007 audit report for a Sino-Forest Subsidiary stated that Shenzen is also a subsidiary of Sino-Forest). Lei Guangyu has been a counter-party to numerous transactions with Sino-Forest that did not involve Shenzhen (Lei Guangyu has acted as a signatory for two Sino-Forest Subsidiaries, Fortune Universe Ltd. and Spirit Land Ltd).
- 97. Even in the face of the recent widespread allegations of fraud involving its use of Als, Sino-Forest has not disclosed the identity of any other Al.
- 98. Sino-Forest's claim that it used AIs purportedly to comply with Chinese tax laws is also suspect. Under both the pre-2008 and 2008 income tax regimes in China, foreign companies could pay required income tax by registering with tax authorities or by withholding by clients of the foreign companies. According to Sino-Forest's financial statements, during 2003-2010, the company's standing timber business generated $4.316 billion in revenues and approximately $1.930 billion in net income, resulting in corresponding income tax liabilities (using the lowest possible tax rates) of $426 million, plus $85 million in interest and penalties ranging from $136 million to over $1 billion if the taxes had not been paid.

- 99. The response of the Defendant Horsley to an analyst inquiry concerning income taxes during the June 14, 2011 First Quarter Earnings Release Conference Call made clear that the company did not have appropriate controls in place to assure compliance with Chinese tax obligations, and was unclear as to the status of those obligations:
  - <Q Richard Kelertas>: Final question, then, is, Dave, on the tax liabilities and the provisions that you've made in your annual report, can you discuss how that works with the AI's and how that is recorded?
  - <A David J. Horsley>: Sure. As Allen said in the previous section of the conference call, under the agreement, the AI's are responsible for paying all of the tax income back and other taxes. From an accounting point of view, Sino-Forest provides a contingency in the event that those taxes have not been paid. Since we can't confirm one way or another, we take a conservative approach and we provide for income tax contingency in our balance sheet. Currently we have a liability of about $190 million accrued on our financial statements in the event that those taxes were[n't] paid and Sino-Forest has to pay them.
  - <Q Richard Kelertas>: And that would amount to, on a percentage basis for these AIs, approximately what per year?
  - <A David J. Horsley>: Well, we provide for 100% of the income taxes that are earned by Sino-Forest, but should have been paid tax by the AI for three years plus the current year.
- 100. Moreover, in its 2010 Annual Report, Sino-Forest offered this admission that its internal controls were ineffective:

[T]he design and effectiveness of internal controls over financial reporting was assessed as of December 31, 2010. Based on that evaluation, the company concluded that the design and effectiveness of the company's DC&P [Disclosure Controls and Procedures] and ICFR [Internal Controls over Financial Reporting] were ineffective due to the weakness discussed below with respect to ICFR.

The success of the company's vision and strategy of acquiring and selling forestry plantations and access to a long-term supply of wood fibre in the PRC is dependent on senior management. As such, senior management plays a significant role in maintaining customer relationships, negotiating and finalizing the purchase and sale of plantations fibre contracts and the settlement of accounts receivable and accounts payable associated

- with plantations fibre contracts. This concentration of authority, or lack of segregation of duties, creates risk in terms of measurement and completeness of transactions as well as the possibility of non-compliance with existing controls, either of which may lead to the possibility of inaccurate financial reporting. (Emphasis added.)
- 101. This supports the allegations in the Muddy Waters report that Sino-Forest's reporting of its assets and revenues is unreliable, and that its Integrity Representation is false.
- 102. In its 2010 annual information form, Sino-Forest claimed to own at least 190,000 hectares of plantation rights through agreements with Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Co Ltd. ("Gengma Forestry"), in Yunnan Province. However, in its investigative article on Sino-Forest published on June 20, 2011, the Globe and Mail reported: "Senior forestry officials in the province ... said their records showed Sino-Forest manages far less than that..." Xie Hongting, the Chairman of Gengma Forestry, told the Globe and Mail correspondent that the "transactions carried out so far by Sino-Forest amounted to less than 14,000 hectares." According to Gengma Forestry, Sino-Forest's registered forestry area in Gengma Dai Autonomous Region is just 13,333 hectares only about 7% of the holdings Sino-Forest claims to have.
- 103. Sino-Forest also has claimed in its public documents that it has purchased $2.891 billion in timber assets since 2006, supposedly through 230 individual purchases made under six master framework agreements. The details of only one of the master framework agreements have been publicly disclosed. As to that agreement, the Muddy Waters report alleged that the value of the asset purchases was overstated by $800 million; and Sino-Forest has not offered any refutation of that assertion.
- 104. Sino-Forest has also consistently claimed that its master agreements for the acquisition of plantation rights give it the right to replant, cultivate, and harvest timber on the plantation land after it harvests existing standing trees. Land use regulations require Sino-Forest to register any acquisitions of plantation rights with the forest transfer centre of each Chinese county forestry bureau. Sino-Forest has not produced any records of its claimed acquisitions of plantation rights owned by its BVI Subsidiaries that have sold standing timber through AIs and bought plantations through purchase agents. These disparities call into question all of Sino-Forest's plantation right valuations.

- 105. Sino-Forest has also claimed that it did not enter into undisclosed related-party transactions as part of its business. However:
  - (a) In June 2009, Sino-Forest entered into a $700 million agreement purportedly to purchase forestry plantations from Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company ("Jiangxi Zhonggan"), which had been incorporated just a few months earlier in January 2009. The President of Jiangxi Zhonggan, Lam Hon Chiu, was also a senior executive officer of the Sino-Forest subsidiary Sino-Wood (Asia) Limited. Jiangxi Zhonggan is a related party to Sino-Forest. Sino-Forest did not disclose that the acquisition agreement was a related-party transaction.
  - (b) In January 2010, Sino-Forest acquired Homix Limited ("Homix"), a purported wood-products research and development and engineering company, for $7.1 million. The Defendant Chen, a senior executive officer of Sino-Forest, had an indirect 30 per cent shareholding in Homix. Accordingly, the acquisition was also a related-party transaction. At no time did Sino-Forest disclose that the acquisition of Homix was a related-party transaction.
  - (c) Another undisclosed Sino-Forest subsidiary, Huaihua Yuda Wood Company

    Ltd., has received substantial amounts of money from other Sino-Forest subsidiaries. In 2007, Huaihua Yuda received a prepayment of RMB 92.0 million from Sino Panel (Hezhou) and another payment of RMB 81.0 million from Sino Panel (Gengma).

106. Based upon the irregularities and discrepancies stated above, the Plaintiffs allege that all figures reporting and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions during the Class Period were unreliable and were materially overstated.

PARTICULARIZATION OF THE MISREPRESENTATIONS IN COMPANY REPORTS, EXPERT REPORTS, AND SECURITIES OFFERING DOCUMENTS

OFFERING DOCUMENTS

107. Each of the Prospectuses and Offering Memorandums is a document that would reasonably be expected to affect the value of Sino-Forest Securities (both the Securities covered by the Prospectus or Offering Memorandum and the other Securities being traded at the time).

The August 2004 Note Offering

- 108. On August 17, 2004, Sino-Forest closed an offering (the "2004 Note Offering") of US$300,000,000 9.125% guaranteed senior notes maturing on August 17, 2011 (the "2011 Notes"). The 2004 Note Offering was made pursuant to a confidential Offering Memorandum dated August 10, 2004 (the "2004 Note Offering Memorandum"). The 2004 Note Offering Memorandum was filed with SEDAR as a Material Change Report on August 19, 2004. The notes matured and were paid on or about August 17, 2011. The 2011 Notes were listed on the Singapore Exchange and TRACE.
- 109. All statements in the 2004 Note Offering Memorandum were representations by Sino-Forest. Sino-Forest told prospective purchasers of the 2011 Notes: "We are providing it solely for the purpose of enabling you to consider a purchase of the Notes and for the listing of the

- 110. The 2004 Note Offering Memorandum contained the Integrity Representation, which was materially false.
- 111. The 2004 Note Offering Memorandum contained Sino-Forest financial statements for the years ended 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003. The financial statements contained figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions, among other things. It also stated:

As of October 31, 2003, our purchased tree plantations and planted tree plantations consisted of approximately 113,000 hectares and 34,000 hectares, respectively. We have rights under our agreements with our joint venture partners and other parties to increase our plantations to a maximum of approximately 616,000 hectares of planted tree plantations.

The figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions were materially overstated or misstated.

112. The 2004 Note Offering Memorandum incorporated a Valuation Report issued by JP Management (one of the Pöyry Defendants) entitled "Review of Sino-Wood Partners Limited & Sino-Panel Holdings Limited," dated June 30, 2004 (the "2004 Pöyry Valuation Report"). The 2004 Pöyry Valuation Report stated:

Jaakko Pöyry Consulting has completed a valuation of the Sino-Wood forest assets as at October 31, 2003 and determined the value of the resources to be USD 344.5 million using a 13% discount rate applied to real, pre-tax cash flows. Jaakko Pöyry Consulting has not valued the 7,400 hectares of Sino-Panel forest assets.

Jaakko Pöyry Consulting has also prepared a forest valuation that includes the revenues and costs of re-establishing and maintaining the total existing plantation forest area of 152,917 hectares for a 50-year period (perpetual valuation). Jaakko Pöyry Consulting has determined the valuation of the Sino-Wood forest assets based on a perpetual rotation to be USD 436.0 million using a real pre-tax discount rate of 13%.

Those statements were materially false.

- 113. Pöyry Forest knew the 2004 Pöyry Valuation Report would be used in Sino-Forest's 2004 Note Offering Memorandum. The 2004 Note Offering Memorandum states the 2004 Valuation Report "has been included herein with the consent of and in reliance of the authority of the firm [JP Management] as experts in valuing forest assets."
- 114. The 2004 Note Offering Memorandum contained Ernst & Young's unqualified Audit Reports on the 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003 financial statements. The Audit Reports stated that Ernst & Young had performed its audit in accordance with GAAS, and that Sino-Forest's consolidated balance sheets and consolidated statements of income and retained earnings and cash flows (financial statements), in Ernst & Young's opinion, "present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company" at year-end of those years "and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles." The reports were materially false in that Ernst & Young's audits were not performed in accordance with GAAS, the financial statements were not presented in accordance with GAAP, and the figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions were materially overstated or misstated.
- 115. Ernst & Young consented to the inclusion of its Audit Reports in the 2004 Note Offering Memorandum, and made the following statement therein:

We have read the offering Memorandum of Sino-Forest (the "Company") dated August 10, 2004 relating to the issue and sale of 9 1/8% guaranteed senior notes due 2011 of the Company. We have complied with Canadian generally accepted standards for an auditor's involvement with offering documents.

We consent to the use in the above-mentioned offering memorandum of our reports to the directors and shareholders of the Company on the consolidated balance sheets of the Company as at December 31, 2003, 2002, 2001 and 2000 and the consolidated statements of income, retained earnings and cash flows for each of the years in the four-years period ended December 31, 2003. Our reports are dated April 8, 2004 for the consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, dated April 30 2003 for the consolidated financial statements as at the and for the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001 and dated April 5, 2002 for the consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively through incorporation by reference in the Prospectus, of our report dated March 13, 2009 to the shareholders of the Company on the following financial statements"

- 116. The Defendant Morgan Stanley was the initial purchaser of the 2011 Notes in the 2004 Note Offering.
- 117. The 2004 Note Offering would not have proceeded, securities regulators likely would not have allowed the offering, and the 2011 Notes would not have been purchased by investors, if the material falsity of the Integrity Representation, the financial statements, the Valuation Report, and the Audit Reports, as described above, had been publicly disclosed.

The June 2007 Share Offering

- 118. On June 5, 2007, Sino-Forest commenced an offering of 13,900,000 common shares of Sino-Forest at $12.65 per share (the "June 2007 Share Offering"). The shares were offered for sale pursuant to a short form prospectus (the "June 2007 Prospectus"), which was filed with SEDAR. The June 2007 Share Offering closed on June 12, 2007.
- 119. The June 2007 Prospectus was issued for the specific purpose of guiding individual investors in deciding whether to purchase the shares.
- 120. The June 2007 Prospectus contained the Integrity Representation, which was materially false.
- 121. The June 2007 Prospectus contained Sino-Forest financial statements for the years ended 2003, 2004, 2005, and 2006. The financial statements contained figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions, among other things. It also stated:

As of December 31, 2006, the Corporation had approximately 58,000 hectares of planted tree plantations. As of December 31, 2006, the Corporation also had approximately 294,000 hectares of purchased tree plantations and it expects additional purchased tree plantations in the future. Under the Corporation's agreements for its purchased tree plantations, it has an option to require the transfer of the plantation land use rights through a long term lease for a maximum period of up to 30 to 50 years, subject to negotiation of a price for the transfer of the plantation land use rights and receipt of relevant government approvals, and satisfaction of registration requirements.

The figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions were materially overstated or misstated.

- 122. The Defendant Chan as Chief Executive Officer, the Defendant Horsley as Chief Financial Officer, and the Defendants Hyde and Mak on behalf of the entire Board of Directors signed a certificate required by s. 58(1) of the Securities Act and thereby certified that the June 2007 Prospectus, and the documents incorporated therein, constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the securities offered thereby.
- 123. The Underwriter Defendants Merrill Lynch Canada, UBS, Haywood, Credit Suisse, Dundee Securities, and CIBC also signed a certificate required by s. 59(1) of the Securities Act and thereby certified that, to the best of their knowledge, information and belief, the June 2007 Prospectus, together with the documents incorporated therein by reference, constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the securities offered thereby.
- 124. The June 2007 Prospectus incorporated by reference a Valuation Report prepared by Pöyry Forest (one of the Pöyry Defendants), entitled "Valuation of China Forest Assets As at 31 December 2006," and dated March 15, 2007 (the "2006 Pöyry Valuation Report"). The Pöyry 2006 Valuation Report stated:

Pöyry has also prepared an existing forest valuation that includes the revenues and costs of re-establishing and maintaining the plantation forests for a 50 – year period (perpetual valuation). However, to date Sino-Forest only has an option to lease the land under the purchased trees for future rotations, the terms of which have yet to be agreed. Sino-Forest is embarking on a 400 000 ha expansion of its estate in Hunan. Pöyry has determined the valuation of the Sino-Forest forest assets based on a perpetual rotation (including the planned expansion in Hunan) using a real pre-tax discount rate of 11.5% to be $1,427.6 million as at 31 December 2006.

125. Pöyry Forest knew its 2006 Pöyry Valuation Report would be used in the June 2007 Prospectus. It issued a letter to regulators stating:

We consent to the incorporation by reference in the Prospectus of our report, entitled "Valuation of China Forest Assets as at 31 December 2006" dated March 15, 2007 (the "Report"). We further consent to the use of our name in the Prospectus under the heading "Interest of Experts" and elsewhere in the Prospectus.

We report that we have read the Prospectus and have no reason to believe that there are any misrepresentations in the information contained therein that are derived from the Report which we have prepared or that is within our knowledge as a result of the services we performed in connection with the Report.

126. The 2007 Prospectus contained BDO's unqualified Audit Reports on the 2005 and 2006 financial statements. The Audit Reports stated that BDO had performed its audit in accordance with GAAS, and that Sino-Forest's consolidated balance sheets and consolidated statements of income and retained earnings and cash flows (financial statements), in BDO's opinion, "present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company" at year-end of those years "and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles." The reports were materially false in that BDO's audit were not performed in accordance with GAAS, the financial statements were not presented in accordance with GAAP, and figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions were materially overstated or misstated.

127. In a letter dated June 5, 2007 to the OSC and other provincial regulators, BDO consented to the inclusion of its Audit Report in the Prospectus and stated:

We report that we have read the short form prospectus and all information specifically incorporated by reference therein and have no reason to believe that there are any misrepresentations in the information contained therein that are derived from the financial statements upon which we have reported or that are within our knowledge as a result of our audits of such financial statements.

128. The June 2007 Share Offering would not have proceeded, securities regulators likely would not have issued a receipt for the 2007 Prospectus, and the shares would not have been purchased by investors, if the material falsity of the Integrity Representation, the financial statements, the Valuation Report, and the Audit Reports, as described above, had been publicly disclosed.

The July 2008 Note Offering

- 129. On July 23, 2008, Sino-Forest closed an offering (the "2008 Note Offering") of US$300,000,000 (and an additional $45,000,000 in over allotments) 5% senior convertible notes maturing on August 1, 2013 (the "2013 Notes"). The 2008 Note Offering was made pursuant to a confidential Offering Memorandum dated July 17, 2008 (the "2008 Note Offering Memorandum"). The 2013 Notes were listed on TRACE.
- 130. All statements in the 2008 Note Offering Memorandum were representations by Sino-Forest. Sino-Forest told prospective purchasers of the 2013 Notes: "You should rely only on the information contained in this Offering Memorandum" and "We are providing it solely for the purpose of enabling you to consider a purchase of the Notes."

- 131. The 2008 Note Offering Memorandum contained the Integrity Representation, which was materially false.
- 132. The 2008 Note Offering Memorandum contained Sino-Forest financial statements for the years ended 2004, 2005, 2006, and 2007. The financial statements contained figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions, among other things. It also stated:

As of March 31, 2008, we had approximately 328,000 hectares of tree plantations under management located in six provinces of the PRC and we have entered into long-term agreements that give us the right to acquire, subject to contractual conditions and other factors, up to approximately 653,000 additional hectares of plantation trees.

The figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions were materially overstated or misstated.

133. The 2008 Note Offering Memorandum incorporated by reference a Valuation Report prepared by Pöyry Forest, entitled "Sino Forest Corporation Valuation of China Forest Assets as of 31 December 2007," and dated March 14, 2008 (the "2007 Pöyry Valuation Report"). The 2007 Pöyry Valuation Report stated:

Poyry has determined the valuation of the Sino-Forest assets as at 31 December 2007 to be USD 1 245.3 million. This is the result of a valuation of the existing planted area and uses an 11.5% discount rate applied to real, pre-tax cash flows.

Pöyry has also prepared an existing forest valuation that includes the revenues and costs of re-establishing and maintaining the plantation forests for a 60 – year period (perpetual valuation). However, to date Sino-Forest only has an option to lease the land under the purchased trees for future rotations, the terms of which have yet to be agreed. Sino-Forest is embarking on a 750 000 ha expansion of its estate in Hunan, Yunnan and Guangxi Provinces. Pöyry has determined the valuation of the Sino-Forest forest assets based on a perpetual rotation (including the planned expansion in Hunan, Yunnan and Guangxi) using a real pre-tax discount rate of 11.5% to be USD3 205.2 million as at 31 December 2007.

134. Pöyry Forest knew the 2007 Pöyry Valuation Report would be used in Sino-Forest's 2008 Note Offering Memorandum. In a letter to Sino Forest dated March 14, 2008, Pöyry Forest consented to: "The inclusion of the [2007 Pöyry Valuation] Report and/or a summary thereof (explicitly or by incorporation by reference) in, and/or any reference to the Report at any time by the Corporation or any subsidiaries thereof in, . . . [a]ny document pursuant to which any securities of the Corporation or any subsidiary are offered for sale."

- 135. The 2008 Note Offering Memorandum contained BDO's unqualified Audit Reports on the 2005 and 2006 financial statements and Ernst & Young's unqualified Audit Report on the 2007 financial statements. The Audit Reports stated that the respective Auditor Defendants had performed their audits in accordance with GAAS, and that Sino-Forest's consolidated balance sheets and consolidated statements of income and retained earnings and cash flows (financial statements), in the Auditor Defendants' opinions, "present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company" at year-end of those years "and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles." The reports were materially false in that the Auditor Defendants' respective audits were not performed in accordance with GAAS, the financial statements were not presented in accordance with GAAP, and figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions were materially overstated or misstated.
- 136. The 2008 Note Offering Memorandum states the audited financial statements "have been included herein with the consent of and in reliance upon the reports of BDO McCabe Lo Limited and Ernst & Young LLP, as applicable."
- 137. The Defendants Merrill Lynch and Credit Suisse USA were the dealer managers and initial purchasers of the 2013 Notes in the 2008 Note Offering.

138. The 2008 Note Offering would not have proceeded, securities regulators likely would not have allowed the offering, and the 2013 Notes would not have been purchased by investors, if the material falsity of the Integrity Representation, the financial statements, the Valuation Report, and the Audit Reports, as described above, had been publicly disclosed.

The June 2009 Share Offering

- 139. On June 1, 2009 Sino-Forest commenced an offering of 30,000,000 common shares of Sino-Forest at $11.00 per share (the "June 2009 Share Offering"). The June 2009 Prospectus incorporated by reference a Valuation Report prepared by Pöyry Forest entitled "Valuation of China Forest Crop Assets As at 31 December 2008," dated April 1, 2009 (the "2008 Pöyry Valuation Report"). The 2008 Valuation Report stated: "Pöyry has estimated the market value of Sino-Forest's tree crop assets, as at 31 December 2008, to be USD 1,644.6 million." That statement was materially false.
- 145. Pöyry Forest knew the 2008 Pöyry Valuation Report would be used in the June 2009 Prospectus. In a letter to regulators it stated:

We consent to the incorporation by reference in the Prospectus of our report, entitled "Valuation of China Forest Crop Assets as at 31 December 2008" dated 01 April 2009 (the "Report"). We have read the short form prospectus ('Prospectus') of the Company dated June 1, 2009 relating to the issue and sale of 30,000,000 common Shares of the Company.

We consent to the use through incorporation by reference in the Prospectus, of our report dated March 13, 2009 to the shareholders of the Company on the following financial statements:

Consolidated balance sheets as at December 31, 2008 and 2007;

Consolidated statements of income and retained earnings, comprehensive income and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007.

We report that we have read the Prospectus and all information specifically incorporated by reference therein and have no reason to believe that there are any misrepresentations in the information contained therein that are derived from the financial statements upon which we have reported or that are within our knowledge as a result of our audit of such financial statements.

The July 2009 Exchange Note Offering

- 149. On July 27, 2009, Sino-Forest closed an offering (the "2009 Exchange Note Offering") to exchange any and all outstanding 2011 Notes, referred to above in connection with the 2004 Note Offering, for the same principal amount of newly issued Sino-Forest 10.25% guaranteed senior notes maturing on August 1, 2014 (the "2014 Exchange Notes"). The 2009 Exchange Note Offering was made pursuant to a confidential Offering Memorandum dated June 24, 2009, as amended by a supplementary Offering Memorandum dated July 9, 2009 (the "Exchange Offering Memorandum"). The Exchange Offering Memorandum was filed on SEDAR in a material change report dated June 25, 2009. The 2009 Exchange Note Offering closed on July 22, 2009. 5.1. 1 1 196. According to each such document issued during or relating to the Class Period, signed by the Defendant Chan as Chief Executive Officer and the Defendant Horsley or the Defendant Mak as Chief Financial Officer:

The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The financial information contained elsewhere in the Annual Report is consistent with the consolidated financial statements.

Management maintains a system of internal accounting and administrative controls to provide reasonable assurance as to the reliability of the financial records and the safeguarding of the Company's assets.

See, e.g., 2008 Annual Report. In truth, the company's financial statements were not reliable and had not been prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP, but instead contained material overstatements or misstatements of figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions.

- 197. Each such Sino-Forest document contained the Integrity Representation, which was materially false.
- 198. Each such Sino-Forest document would reasonably be expected to affect the value of Sino-Forest Securities.

PÖYRY VALUATION REPORTS

199. Sino-Forest engaged JP Management, for substantial fees, to prepare Valuation Reports for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2004, and 2005. The 2003, 2004, and 2005 Valuation Reports included statements of Sino-Forest's timber asset holdings that were material overstatements. The Valuation Reports prepared by JP Management were incorporated by reference in Core Documents relating to the years ended December 31, 2003, 2004, and 2005. The 2003, 2004, and 2005 Valuation Reports also were posted on the company website at www.sinoforest.com under "Investor Relations, Filings" and also were filed on SEDAR. JP Management knew of and consented to Sino-Forest's use of the 2003, 2004, 2005 Valuation Reports in its Core Documents during the Class Period.

- 200. Sino-Forest engaged Pöyry Forest, for substantial fees, to prepare Valuation Reports for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2007, and 2008. The 2006, 2007, and 2008 Valuation Reports included statements of Sino-Forest's timber asset holdings that were material overstatements. The Valuation Reports prepared by Pöyry Forest were incorporated by reference in Core Documents relating to the years ended December 31, 2006, 2007, and 2008. The 2006, 2007, and 2008 Valuation Reports also were posted on the company website at www.sinoforest.com under "Investor Relations, Filings" and also were filed on SEDAR. Pöyry Forest knew of and consented to Sino-Forest's use of the 2006, 2007, and 2008 Valuation Reports in its Core Documents during the Class Period.
- 201. Sino-Forest engaged Pöyry Beijing, for substantial fees, to prepare Valuation Reports for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2010. The 2009 and 2010 Valuation Reports included statements of Sino-Forest's timber asset holdings that were material overstatements. The Valuation Reports prepared by Pöyry Beijing were incorporated by reference in Core Documents relating to the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2010. The 2009 and 2010 Valuation Reports also were posted on the company website at www.sinoforest.com under "Investor Relations, Filings" and also were filed on SEDAR. Pöyry Beijing knew of and consented to Sino-Forest's use of the 2009 and 2010 Valuation Reports in its Core Documents during the Class Period.
- 202. The Valuation Reports are also Core Documents and would reasonably be expected to affect the market price of Sino-Forest Securities.

203. In early 2011, recognizing the impact the Pöyry Defendants' flawed Valuation Reports were having on the market, Pöyry belatedly sought to restrict the public disclosure of the Valuation Reports. The 2010 Fourth Quarter Earnings Release dated March 15, 2011 revealed:

Sino-Forest has engaged Pöyry Consulting, an international forestry firm with forestry expertise, to provide an annual independent valuation of our forest plantation assets. Pöyry is currently in the process of completing the 2010 year end valuation report which is expected to be finalized by the end of April 2011.

However, Pöyry has changed its disclosure policy so as to no longer allow its clients to make its detailed valuation reports publicly available.

In correspondence, received from Pöyry, Doug Parsonson, Vice-President, Asia-Pacific Management Consulting said, "An internal risk assessment has been conducted throughout Pöyry's Management Consulting Business Group in 2010. On the basis of this risk assessment, it has inter alia been resolved throughout the business group that Pöyry's valuation reports (and similar) may no longer be made available in the public domain for certain markets. Specific markets identified in the initial assessment include North America (USA and Canada), Australia, and Mainland China. In accordance with this group internal assessment, the reports covering the valuation services performed by Pöyry for Sino-Forest Corporation may no longer be posted on the internet as had been the practice, or in any other manner be made publicly available."

Pöyry and Sino-Forest have separately agreed upon the manner in which parts of Pöyry's valuation report may, on a non-reliance basis, be communicated to Sino-Forest's stakeholders.

(Emphasis added).

204. The Valuation Reports each contained the Integrity Representation, which was materially false.

AUDIT REPORTS

205. The Core Documents also included, incorporated by reference, or referred to the Audit Reports. During the Class Period, Ernst & Young issued Audit Reports for 2004, 2007, 2008, 2009, and 2010; and BDO issued Audit Reports for 2005 and 2006. The Audit Reports stated that for each year the respective Auditor Defendant had "audited the consolidated balance sheets of Sino-Forest Corporation as at [year-end] . . . and the consolidated statements of income and retained earnings, comprehensive income and cash flows for the years then ended. . . ." The Auditor Defendants represented:

We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained in our audits is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion ....

206. Each year the respective Auditor Defendant issued an unqualified Audit Report for Sino-Forest, assuring investors:

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the company as at [year end] . . . and results of its operations and its cash flows for the years ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

207. In fact, Sino-Forest's financial statements did not comply with GAAP. The financial statements were not "free of material misstatements," but rather they materially overstated Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, and net income, and contained inadequate disclosures of related-party transactions. GAAP deficiencies included (without limitation): incomplete note disclosure of related-party transactions; overstatements of cash flows and revenues from operations; failures to make clear separations among operating activities, investing activities, and financing activities in consolidated statements of cash flows; and misclassifications of assets, particularly with respect to separation of current and non-current assets.

208. In auditing Sino-Forest's financial statements and issuing clean Audit Reports, the Auditor Defendants did not comply with GAAS. The Auditor Defendants failed to exercise due care and appropriate professional skepticism in their audits of Sino-Forest's financial statements; failed to obtain sufficient and appropriate evidence on which to base their audit opinions; failed to obtain a proper understanding of Sino-Forest and its internal controls; failed to properly identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error; and failed to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence relating to related-party transactions and ownership of assets. Had the Auditor Defendants exercised due care and complied with the GAAS, they would not have issued unqualified Audit Reports or consented to their use in documents disseminated to the investing public by Sino-Forest.

209. The Audit Reports each contained the Integrity Representation, which was materially false.

THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE MISREPRESENTATIONS AND THE PRICE OF SINO-FOREST'S SECURITIES

- 210. Throughout the Class Period, Sino-Forest shares were publicly traded on the TSX, which is a highly efficient and automated market. Any and all public information regarding Sino-Forest was promptly incorporated into and had a direct effect upon the price of the shares. As such, the price of the shares was directly and promptly affected by the Prospectuses, Offering Memorandums, press releases, conference calls, quarterly reports, annual reports, MD&A, the Auditors' Reports, the Valuation Reports, and other public statements and documents discussed herein.
- 211. The documents and statements referenced above, and all the information contained therein, including the Misrepresentations, were promptly disseminated to the investing public, including Class Members, financial analysts, and the financial press. The Defendants knew:
  - (a) the documents were filed with SEDAR and the TSX and were accessible immediately by the public;

- (b) Sino-Forest provided copies of the documents, or links to them, on its public website;
- (c) The Defendants regularly communicated with the investing public and financial analysts, and the media, through press releases on newswire services and other established market communication mechanisms; and
- (d) pursuant to the Securities Act, purchasers of company's shares and notes in the various offerings referred to herein were provided, prior to their purchases, with the respective Prospectus or Offering Memorandum.
- 212. Therefore, the Misrepresentations caused the price of the shares and notes to be artificially inflated during the Class Period.

CERTAIN INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS' PROFITS FROM THE MISREPRESENTATIONS

CLAIMS

VIOLATIONS OF PART XXIII OF THE SECURITIES ACT

- 214. With respect to each of the June 2009 Prospectus and the December 2009 Prospectus, on behalf of those Class Members who, during the period of distribution, purchased shares to which the Prospectus related, the Plaintiff asserts the right of action for damages provided for in s. 130 of the Securities Act and, if necessary, the comparable provisions of the securities legislation in other provinces and territories in Canada, against Sino-Forest; each Underwriter Defendant who was required to sign the certificate required by s. 59, as alleged above; every Individual Defendant who was a director of Sino-Forest at the time the Prospectus was filed, as alleged above; every Defendant who consented to the disclosure of information in the Prospectus; and every other Defendant who signed the Prospectus, as alleged above.
- 215. As particularized herein, each of the June 2009 Prospectus and the December 2009 Prospectus contained material Misrepresentations concerning Sino-Forest.
- 216. With respect to each of the offering memorandums issued by Sino-Forest, including the 2008 Note Offering Memorandum, the Exchange Offering Memorandum, the 2009 Note Offering Memorandum, and the 2010 Note Offering Memorandum, the Plaintiffs assert the right of action for damages provided for in s. 130.1 of the Securities Act and, if necessary, the comparable provisions of the securities legislation in other provinces and territories in Canada, on behalf of those Class Members who, during the period of distribution, purchased Securities to which the Offering Memorandum related, against Sino-Forest.

- 217. As particularized herein, each of the 2008 Note Offering Memorandum, the Exchange Offering Memorandum, the 2009 Note Offering Memorandum, the February 2010 Exchange Offering Memorandum, and the 2010 Note Offering Memorandum contained material Misrepresentations concerning Sino-Forest.
- 218. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members suffered substantial damages in connection with their purchase of Sino-Forest Securities during the Period as a result of the Defendants' wrongful conduct.

VIOLATIONS OF PART XXIII.1 OF THE SECURITIES ACT, SUBJECT TO LEAVE OF COURT

- 219. The Plaintiffs intend to deliver a notice of motion seeking, among other things, leave to commence the statutory claim under Part XXIII.1 of the Securities Act and, if necessary, the comparable provisions of the securities legislation in other provinces and territories in Canada, and, if leave is granted, to so amend this Statement of Claim.
- 220. Sino-Forest is the "responsible issuer" within the meaning of s. 138.3 of the Securities Act.
- 221. Each of the Individual Defendants was a director and/or an officer of Sino-Forest at the time one or more material Misrepresentations complained of herein was made. Each of the Individual Defendants authorized, permitted, or acquiesced in the release of some or all of such Misrepresentations.

- 222. Each of the Auditor Defendants and the Pöyry Defendants is an expert within the meaning of s. 138.1 of the Securities Act. Those Defendants consented to the use of their reports, statements, and opinions in documents disseminated to the public during the Class Period, as particularized herein.
- 223. As particularized herein, during the Class Period, Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, the Auditor Defendants, and the Pöyry Defendants released and disseminated documents that contained material Misrepresentations.
- 224. With respect to any documents that might be determined to be Non-Core Documents, those Defendants knew, at the time the document was released, that the document contained Misrepresentations; deliberately avoided acquiring knowledge that the document contained Misrepresentations; or were, through action or failure to act, guilty of gross misconduct in connection with the release of the document.
- 225. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members suffered damages in connection with their purchases of Sino-Forest Securities during the Class Period as a result of those Defendants' Misrepresentations.

FRAUD

226. Acting knowingly and deliberately or with reckless disregard for the truth, each of the Defendants misrepresented material facts concerning Sino-Forest in documents, statements, financial statements, prospectuses, offering memoranda, and filings they issued and disseminated to the investing public during the Class Period, as particularized herein. Defendants' fraudulent Misrepresentations had the purpose and effect of enabling Sino-Forest and the respective Underwriter and Note Distributor Defendants to sell over $3 billion of Sino-Forest Securities to the public, allowing certain Individual Defendants to sell almost $80 million of Sino-Forest shares from their personal holdings, supporting the secondary market for Sino-Forest Securities, and artificially inflating the trading price of Sino-Forest Securities during the Class Period.

- 227. In purchasing Sino-Forest Securities during the Class Period, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members relied on such publicly disseminated documents, statements, financial statements, prospectuses, offering memoranda, and filings, directly or indirectly or through the operation of the markets on which the Securities traded.
- 228. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members suffered substantial damages in connection with their purchase of Sino-Forest Securities during the Class Period as a result of the Defendants' wrongful conduct. But for the Defendants' wrongful conduct, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members would not have purchased Sino-Forest Securities or paid the artificially inflated prices they paid.

NEGLIGENCE (SIMPLICITER)

- 229. All the Defendants owed the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members a duty of care to ensure that Sino-Forest implemented and maintained adequate internal controls, procedures, and policies to ensure that the company's assets were protected and its activities conformed to all legal requirements. In addition, the Underwriter and Note Distributor Defendants, the Auditor Defendants, and the Pöyry Defendants owed the purchasers of Sino-Forest shares and notes a duty to perform their professional responsibilities in connection with Sino-Forest with appropriate care and diligence.
- 230. The Auditor Defendants and the Pöyry Defendants owed the purchasers of Sino-Forest shares and notes a duty of care, based in part on their consents to the inclusion of their reports and information provided by them in the share and note offering documents. Sino-Forest, the Individual Defendants, and the Underwriter Defendants owed the purchasers of shares a duty of care based in part on their issuing and signing the certificates required, respectively, by ss. 58 and 59 of the Securities Act. The Underwriter Defendants and the Note Distributor Defendants owed the purchasers of shares and notes, respectively, a duty of care based in part on their allowing the imprimatur of their association with the offerings and on their due diligence in connection with their underwriting of shares and their distribution and resale of notes.

- 231. The Defendants were negligent and violated the standard of care owed to the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members, including the purchasers of Sino-Forest shares and notes pursuant to the various offerings during the Class Period. It was reasonably foreseeable to the Defendants that their negligence and breach of their duty of care would cause damage to such persons.
- 232. With respect to each offering of Sino-Forest Securities during the Class Period, but for the Defendants' negligent acts and omissions and failures to exercise due care, the offering would not have proceeded, and the Securities would not have been issued and traded in the primary or secondary markets.
- 233. In connection with their purchase of Sino-Forest shares and notes, whether on an offering or on the secondary market, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members sustained substantial damages caused by the Defendants' negligent acts and omissions and breach of their duty of care.

NEGLIGENT MISREPRESENTATION

234. It was reasonably foreseeable to the Defendants that the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members would rely on the publicly disseminated documents and statements complained of herein, which contained and reflected the statements and imprimature of the Defendants, in making decisions with respect to the purchase of Sino-Forest Securities, whether through an offering or on the secondary market. The Defendants owed a duty to the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members to exercise appropriate care and diligence to ensure that the documents and statements disseminated to the public about Sino-Forest were complete, truthful, and accurate.

- 235. The Defendants knew that the Prospectuses and Offering Memorandums referred to herein were prepared and issued for the specific purpose of inducing members of the investing public to purchase Sino-Forest Securities. The Defendants also knew that the information contained in the documents and statements disseminated to the investing public would promptly be incorporated into, and have a direct effect upon, the trading price of Sino-Forest Securities.
- 236. As detailed herein, each of the Prospectuses and Offering Memorandums released during the Class Period contained material Misrepresentations concerning Sino-Forest. As further detailed herein, various other documents and statements the Defendants released during the Class Period contained material Misrepresentations about Sino-Forest.
- 237. All such Prospectuses, Offering Memorandums, and other documents and statements contained substantially the same Misrepresentations concerning Sino-Forest, including the Integrity Representation and the overstatement or misstatement of figures for and descriptions of Sino-Forest's assets, revenues, cash flows, equity, net income, and related-party transactions.
- 238. Such material Misrepresentations were the result of the Defendants' negligence and breach of their duty to exercise due care.
- 239. In connection with their purchase of Sino-Forest Securities during the Class Period, whether through an offering or on the secondary market, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members reasonably relied on such Misrepresentations, directly or indirectly or through the operation of the markets in which Sino-Forest Securities traded.
- 240. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members sustained substantial damages caused by the Defendants' negligence and breach of their duty to exercise due care.

DAMAGES

- 241. During the Class Period, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members purchased Sino-Forest Securities (shares and notes) at inflated prices relying upon the Misrepresentations, directly or indirectly or through the operation of the markets in which Sino-Forest traded. They continued to hold the Securities at inflated prices until the correction of the Misrepresentations, at which time the market adjusted the price of the Securities downward to reflect the true value of the Securities.
- 242. As a result of the facts pleaded above, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members have suffered damages equivalent to the loss in market value that occurred when the truth emerged, correcting the Misrepresentations.
- 243. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members are also entitled to recover, as damages or costs, in accordance with the Class Proceedings Act, the costs of administering the plan to distribute the recovery in this action.
- 244. The Defendants' misconduct was deliberate, intentional, high-handed, reckless, wanton, and entirely without care, and that the Defendants were motivated by economic self-interest. Such conduct renders the Defendants liable to pay pumitive damages.

REAL AND SUBSTANTIAL CONNECTION TO ONTARIO

- 245. This action has a real and substantial connection to Ontario because, among other things:
  - (a) Sino-Forest is a reporting issuer in Ontario and has its registered office in Ontario;
  - (b) the shares of Sino-Forest trade on the TSX, which is located in Toronto;
  - (c) the Misrepresentations were disseminated in Ontario; and

III. OVERVIEW

3. From the time of its establishment in 1994, Sino has claimed to be a legitimate business operating in the commercial forestry industry in the PRC and elsewhere. Throughout that period, Sino has also claimed to have experienced breathtaking growth.

4. Beguiled by Sino's reported results, and by Sino's constant refrain that China constituted an extraordinary growth opportunity, investors drove Sino's stock price dramatically higher, as appears from the following chart:

5. The Defendants profited handsomely from the market's appetite for Sino's securities. Certain of the Individual Defendants sold Sino shares at lofty prices, and thereby reaped millions of dollars of gains. Sino's senior management also used Sino's illusory success to justify their lavish salaries, bonuses and other perks. For certain of the Individual Defendants, these outsized gains were not enough. Sino stock options granted to Chan, Horsley and other insiders were backdated or otherwise mispriced, prior to and during the Class Period, in violation of the TSX Rules, GAAP and the Securities Legislation.

- 6. Sino itself raised in excess of $2.7 billion<sup>1</sup> in the capital markets during this period. Meanwhile, the Underwriters were paid lucrative underwriting commissions, and BDO, E&Y and Pöyry garnered millions of dollars in fees to bless Sino's reported results and assets. To their great detriment, the Class Members relied upon these supposed gatekeepers.
- 7. As a reporting issuer in Ontario and elsewhere, Sino was required at all material times to comply with GAAP. Indeed, Sino, BDO and E&Y, Sino's auditors during the Class Period and previously, repeatedly misrepresented that Sino's financial statements complied with GAAP. This was false.
- 8. On June 2, 2011, Muddy Waters, a short seller and research firm with extensive PRC experience, issued its first research report in relation to Sino, and unveiled the scale of the deception that had been worked upon the Class Members. Muddy Waters' initial report effectively revealed, among other things, that Sino had materially misstated its financial results, had falsely claimed to have acquired trees that it did not own, had reported sales that had not been made, or that had been made in a manner that did not permit Sino to book those sales as revenue under GAAP, and had concealed numerous related party transactions. These revelations had a catastrophic effect on Sino's stock price.
- 9. On June 1, 2011, prior to the publication of Muddy Waters' report, Sino's common shares closed at $18.21. After the Muddy Waters report became public, Sino shares fell to $14.46 on the TSX (a decline of 20.6%), at which point trading was halted. When trading resumed the next day, Sino's shares fell to a close of $5.23 (a decline of 71.3% from June 1).
- 10. On June 3, 2011, Sino announced that, in response to the allegations of Muddy Waters, its board had formed a committee, which Sino then falsely characterized as "independent" (the

"Independent Committee" or "IC"), to examine and review the allegations contained in the Muddy Waters' report of June 2, 2011. The initial members of the IC were the Defendants Ardell, Bowland and Hyde. The IC subsequently retained legal, accounting and other advisers to assist it in the fulfillment of its mandate.

- 11. On August 26, 2011, the OSC issued a cease-trade order in respect of Sino's securities, alleging that Sino appeared to have engaged in significant non-arm's length transactions which may have been contrary to Ontario securities laws and the public interest, that Sino and certain of its officers and directors appeared to have misrepresented some of Sino's revenue and/or exaggerated some of its timber holdings, and that Sino and certain of its officers and directors, including Chan, appeared to be engaging or participating in acts, practices or a course of conduct related to Sino's securities which they (or any of them) knew or ought reasonably know would perpetuate a fraud.
- 12. On November 13, 2011, the IC released the Second Report. Therein, the IC revealed, inter alia, that: (1) Sino's management had failed to cooperate in numerous important respects with the IC's investigation; (2) "there is a risk" that certain of Sino's operations "taken as a whole" were in violation of PRC law; (3) Sino adopted processes that "avoid[] Chinese foreign exchange controls which must be complied with in a normal cross-border sale and purchase transaction, and [which] could present an obstacle to future repatriation of sales proceeds, and could have tax implications as well"; (4) the IC "has not been able to verify that any relevant income taxes and VAT have been paid by or on behalf of the BVIs in China"; (5) Sino lacked proof of title to the vast majority of its purported holdings of standing timber; (6) Sino's "transaction volumes with a number of AI and Suppliers do not match the revenue reported by such Suppliers in their SAIC filing"; (7) "[n]one of the BVI timber purchase contracts have as attachments either (i) Plantation Rights Certificates from either the Counterparty or original owner or (ii) villager resolutions, both of which are contemplated as attachments by the standard form of BVI timber purchase contract employed by the Company; and (8) "[t]here are indications in emails and in interviews with Suppliers that gifts or cash payments are made to forestry bureaus and forestry bureau officials."

13. On January 31, 2012, the IC released its Final Report. Therein, the IC effectively revealed that, despite having conducted an investigation over nearly eight months, and despite the expenditure of US$50 million on that investigation, it had failed to refute, or even to provide plausible answers to, key allegations made by Muddy Waters:

This Final Report of the IC sets out the activities undertaken by the IC since mid-November, the findings from such activities and the IC's conclusions regarding its examination and review. The IC's activities during this period have been limited as a result of Canadian and Chinese holidays (Christmas, New Year and Chinese New Year) and the extensive involvement of IC members in the Company's Restructuring and Audit Committees, both of which are advised by different advisors than those retained by the IC. The IC believes that, notwithstanding there remain issues which have not been fully answered, the work of the IC is now at the point of diminishing returns because much of the information which it is seeking lies with non-compellable third parties, may not exist or is apparently not retrievable from the records of the Company.

Given the circumstances described above, the IC understands that, with the delivery of this Final Report, its review and examination activities are terminated. The IC does not expect to undertake further work other than assisting with responses to regulators and the RCMP as required and engaging in such further specific activities as the IC may deem advisable or the Board may instruct. The IC has asked the IC Advisors to remain available to assist and advise the IC upon its instructions

14. Sino failed to meet the standards required of a public company in Canada. Aided by its auditors and the Underwriters, Sino raised billions of dollars from investors on the false premise that they were investing in a well managed, ethical and GAAP-compliant corporation. They were not. Accordingly, this action is brought to recover the Class Members' losses from those who caused them: the Defendants.

- 52. BDO consented to the inclusion in each of the June 2007 and December 2009 Prospectuses and the July 2008, June 2009 and December 2009 Offering Memoranda, of its audit reports on Sino's Annual Financial Statements for 2005 and 2006.
- 53. E&Y and BDO's annual Auditors' Report was made "to the shareholders of Sino-Forest corporation," which included the Class Members. Indeed, s. 1000.11 of the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants states that "the objective of financial statements for profit-oriented enterprises focuses primarily on the information needs of investors and creditors" [emphasis added].

- 54. Sino's shareholders, including numerous Class Members, appointed E&Y as auditors of Sino-Forest by shareholder resolutions passed on various dates, including on June 21, 2004, May 26, 2008, May 25, 2009, May 31, 2010 and May 30, 2011.
- 55. Sino's shareholders, including numerous Class Members, appointed BDO as auditors of Sino-Forest by resolutions passed on May 16, 2005, June 5, 2006 and May 28, 2007.
- During the Class Period, with the knowledge and consent of BDO or E&Y (as the case may be), Sino's audited annual financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, together with the report of BDO or E&Y thereon (as the case may be), were presented to the shareholders of Sino (including numerous Class Members) at annual meetings of such shareholders held in Toronto, Canada on, respectively, May 28, 2007, May 26, 2008, May 25, 2009, May 31, 2010 and May 30, 2011. As alleged elsewhere herein, all such financial statements constituted Impugned Documents.
- 57. Pöyry is an international forestry consulting firm which purported to provide certain forestry consultation services to Sino. Pöyry is an expert of Sino within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 58. Pöyry, in providing what it purported to be "forestry consulting" services to Sino, made statements that it knowingly intended to be, and which were, disseminated to Sino's current and prospective security holders. At all material times, Pöyry was aware of that class of persons, intended to and did communicate with them, and intended that that class of persons would rely on Pöyry's statements relating to Sino, which they did to their detriment.

- 59. Pöyry consented to the inclusion in the June 2007, June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, as well as the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009 and October 2010 Offering Memoranda, of its various reports, as detailed below in paragraph ●.
- 60. The Underwriters are various financial institutions who served as underwriters in one or more of the Offerings.
- In connection with the distributions conducted pursuant to the June 2007, June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, the Underwriters who underwrote those distributions were paid, respectively, an aggregate of approximately $7.5 million, $14.0 million and $14.4 million in underwriting commissions. In connection with the offerings of Sino's notes in July 2008, December 2009, and October 2010, the Underwriters who underwrote those offerings were paid, respectively, an aggregate of approximately US$2.2 million, US$8.5 million and $US6 million. Those commissions were paid in substantial part as consideration for the Underwriters' purported due diligence examination of Sino's business and affairs.
- 62. None of the Underwriters conducted a reasonable investigation into Sino in connection with any of the Offerings. None of the Underwriters had reasonable grounds to believe that there was no misrepresentation in any of the Impugned Documents. In the circumstances of this case, including the facts that Sino operated in an emerging economy, Sino had entered Canada's capital markets by means of a reverse merger, and Sino had reported extraordinary results over an extended period of time that far surpassed those reported by Sino's peers, the Underwriters all ought to have exercised heightened vigilance and caution in the course of discharging their duties to investors, which they did not do. Had they done so, they would have uncovered Sino's true nature, and the Class Members to whom they owed their duties would not have sustained the losses that they sustained on their Sino investments.

On February 11, 2010, Sino exchanged the new 2014 Senior Notes for an additional issue of USD$187,187,000 in aggregate principal amount of Sino's existing 2014 Senior Notes, issued pursuant to the June 2009 Offering Memorandum; and

- 64. The offering documents referenced in the preceding paragraph included, or incorporated other documents by reference that included, the Representation and the other misrepresentations in such documents that are particularized elsewhere herein. Had the truth in regard to Sino's management, business and affairs been timely disclosed, securities regulators likely would not have receipted the Prospectuses, nor would any of the Offerings have occurred.

VI. THE MISREPRESENTATIONS

- 70. During the Class Period, Sino made the misrepresentations particularized below. These misrepresentations related to:
  - A. Sino's history and fraudulent origins;
  - B. Sino's forestry assets;
  - C. Sino's related party transactions;

- D. Sino's relationships with forestry bureaus and its purported title to forestry assets in the PRC;
- E. Sino's relationships with its "Authorized Intermediaries;"
- F. Sino's cash flows;
- G. Certain risks to which Sino was exposed; and
- H. Sino's compliance with GAAP and the Auditors' compliance with GAAS.

A. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's History and Fraudulent Origins

- (i) Sino Overstates the Value of, and the Revenues Generated by, the Leizhou Joint Venture
- 71. At the time of its founding by way of reverse merger in 1994, Sino's business was conducted primarily through an equity joint venture between Sino's Hong Kong subsidiary, Sino-Wood Partners, Limited ("Sino-Wood"), and the Leizhou Forestry Bureau, which was situated in Guangdong Province in the south of the PRC. The name of the venture was Zhanjiang Leizhou Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd. ("Leizhou"). The stated purpose of Leizhou, established in 1994, was:

Managing forests, wood processing, the production of wood products and wood chemical products, and establishing a production facility with an annual production capacity of  $50,000~\text{m}^3$  of Micro Density Fiber Board (MDF), managing a base of 120,000~mu (8,000~ha) of which the forest annual utilization would be  $8,000~\text{m}^3$ .

72. There are two types of joint ventures in the PRC relevant to Sino: equity joint ventures ("EJV") and cooperating joint ventures ("CJV"). In an EJV, profits and assets are distributed in proportion to the parties' equity holdings upon winding up. In a CJV, the parties may contract to divide profits and assets disproportionately to their equity interests.

- 73. According to a Sino prospectus issued in January 1997, Leizhou, an EJV, was responsible for 20,000 hectares of the 30,000 hectares that Sino claimed to have "phased-in." Leizhou was the key driver of Sino's purported early growth.
- 74. Sino claimed to hold 53% of the equity in Leizhou, which was to total US$10 million, and Sino further claimed that the Leizhou Forestry Bureau was to contribute 20,000 ha of forestry land. In reality, however, the terms of the EJV required the Leizhou Forestry Bureau to contribute a mere 3,533 ha.
- 75. What was also unknown to investors was that Leizhou did not generate the sales claimed by Sino. More particularly, in 1994, 1995 and 1996, respectively, Sino claimed to have generated US$11.3 million, US$23.9 million and US$23.1 million in sales from Leizhou. In reality, however, these sales did not occur, or were materially overstated.
- 76. Indeed, in an undisclosed letter from Leizhou Forestry Bureau to Zhanjiang City Foreign and Economic Relations and Trade Commission, dated February 27, 1998, the Bureau complained:

To: Zhanjiang Municipal Foreign Economic Relations & Trade Commission

Through mutual consultation between Leizhou Forestry Administration (hereinafter referred to as our side) and Sino-Wood Partners Limited (hereinafter referred to as the foreign party), and, with the approval document ZJMPZ No.021 [1994] issued by your commission on 28th January 1994 for approving the contracts and articles of association entered into by both parties, and, with the approval certificate WJMZHZZZ No.065 [1994] issued by your commission, both parties jointly established Zhanjiang Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Joint Venture) whose incorporate number is 162622-0012 and duly registered the same with Zhanjiang Administration for Industry and Commerce and obtained the business license GSQHYZ No.00604 on 29th January in the same year. It has been 4 years since the registration and we set out the situation as follows:

I. Information of the investment of both sides

- A. The investment of our side: according to the contract and articles of association signed by both sides and approved by your commission, our side has paid in RMB95,481,503.29 (equivalent to USD11,640,000.00) to the Joint Venture on 20th June 1995 through an in-kind contribution. The payment was made in accordance with the prescribed procedures and confirmed by signatures of the legal representatives of both parties. According to the Capital Verification Report from Yuexi (粤西) Accounting Firm, this payment accounts for 99.1% of the agreed capital contribution from our side, which is USD11,750,000, and accounts for 46.56% of the total investment.
- B. The investment of the foreign party: the foreign party has paid in USD1,000,000 on 16th March 1994, which was in the starting period of the Joint Venture. According to the Capital Verification Report from Yuexi (粤西) Accounting Firm, this payment only accounts for 7.55% of the contribution from the foreign party totaling USD13,250,000, and accounts for 4% of the total investment. Then, in the prescribed investment period, the foreign party did not further pay capital into the Joint Venture. In view of this, your commission sent a "Notice on Time for Capital Contribution" to the foreign party on 30th January 1996. In accordance with the notice, the foreign party then on 10th April sent a letter to your commission, requesting for postponing the deadline for capital contribution to 20th December the same year. On 14th May 1996. your commission replied to Allen Chan (陈德源), the Chairman of the Joint Venture, stating that "postponement of the deadline for capital contribution is subject to the consent of our side and requires amendment of the term on the capital contribution time in the original contract, and both parties shall sign a bilateral supplementary contract; after the application has been approved, the postponed deadline will become effective.". Based on the spirit of the letter dated 14th May from your commission and for the purpose of achieving mutual communication and dealing with the issues of the Joint Venture actively and appropriately, on 11th June 1996, Chan Shixing (陈识兴) and two other Directors from our side sent a joint letter to Allen Chan (陈德源), the Chairman of the Joint Venture, to propose a meeting of the board to be convened before 30th June 1996 in Zhanjiang, in order to discuss how to deal with the issues of the Joint Venture in accordance with the relevant State provisions. Unfortunately, the foreign party neither had discussion with our side pursuant to your commission's letter, nor replied to the proposal of our side, and furthermore failed to make payment to the Joint Venture. Now, it has been two years beyond the deadline for capital contribution (29th January 1996), and more than one year beyond the date prescribed by the Notice on Time for Capital Contribution issued by your commission (30th April 1996). However, the foreign party has been evading the discussion of the capital contribution issue, and moreover has taken no further action.

II. The Joint Venture is not capable of attaining substantial operation

According to the contract and articles of association, the main purposes of setting up the Joint Venture are, on the one hand, to invest and construct a project producing 50,000 cubic meter Medium Density Fiberboard (MDF) a year; and on the other hand, to create a forest base of 120,000 mu, with which to produce 80,000 cubic meter of timber as raw material for the production of medium density fiberboard. The contract and articles of association also prescribed that the whole funding required for the MDF board project should be paid by the foreign party in cash; our side should pay in-kind the proportion of the fund prescribed by the contract. After contributing capital of USD1,000,000 in the early stage, the foreign party not only failed to make subsequent capital contributions, but also in their own name successively withdrew a total amount of RMB4,141,045.02, from the funds they contributed, of which USD270,000 was paid to Huadu Baixing Wood Products Factory (花都市百兴木制品厂), which has no business relationship with the Joint Venture. This amount of money equals 47.6% of [the foreign party's paid in capital. Although our side has almost paid off the agreed capital contribution (only short 0.9% of the total committed), due to the limited contribution from the foreign party and the fact that they withdrew a huge amount of money from those funds originally contributed by them, it is impossible for the Joint Venture to construct or set up production projects and to commence production operation while the funds have been insufficient and the foreign party did not pay in the majority of the subscribed capital. In fact, the Joint Venture therefore is merely a shell, existing in name only.

Additionally, after the establishment of the Joint Venture, its internal operations have been extremely abnormal, for example, annual board meetings have not been held as scheduled; annual reports on the status and the results of the annual financial audit are missing; the withdrawal of the huge amount of funds by the foreign party was not discussed in the board meetings, etc. It is hard to list all here.

In light of the present state of contributions by both sides and the status of the Joint Venture from its establishment till now, our side now applies to your commission for:

1. The cancellation of the approval certificate for "Zhanjiang Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd.", i.e. WJMZHZZZ No. 065[1994], based on the relevant provisions of Certain Regulations on the Subscription of Capital by the Parties to Sino-Foreign Joint Equity Enterprises,

- 2. Direct the Joint Venture to complete the deregistration procedures for "Zhanjiang Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd." at the local Administration for Industry and Commerce, and for the return of its business license.
- 3. Coordination with both parties to resolve the relevant remaining issues.

Please let us have your reply on whether the above is in order.

The Seal of the Leizhou Forestry Bureau

1998, February 27

[Translation; emphasis added.]

77. In its 1996 Annual Financial Statements, Sino stated:

The $14,992,000 due from the LFB represents cash collected from the sale of wood chips on behalf of the Leizhou EJV. As originally agreed to by Sino-Wood, the cash was being retained by the LFB to fund the ongoing plantation costs of the Leizhou EJV incurred by the LFB. Sino-Wood and LFB have agreed that the amount due to the Leizhou EJV, after reduction for plantation costs incurred, will be settled in 1997 concurrent with the settlement of capital contributions due to the Leizhou EJV by Sino-Wood.

- 78. These statements were false, inasmuch as Leizhou never generated such sales. Leizhou was wound-up in 1998.
- 79. At all material times, Sino's founders, Chan and Poon, were fully aware of the reality relating to Leizhou, and knowingly misrepresented the true status of Leizhou, as well as its true revenues and profits.
  - (ii) Sino's Fictitious Investment in SJXT
- 80. In Sino's audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 1997, filed on SEDAR on May 20, 1998 (the "1997 Financial Statements"), Sino stated that, in order to establish strategic partnerships with key local wood product suppliers and to build a strong distribution for the wood-based product and contract supply businesses, it had acquired a 20% equity interest in "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd." ("SJXT"). Sino then described SJXT as an

EJV that had been formed in 1997 by the Ministry of Forestry in China, and declared that its function was to organize and manage the first and only official market for timber and log trading in Eastern China. It further stated that the investment in SJXT was expected to provide the Company with good accessibility to a large base of potential customers and companies in the timber and log businesses in Eastern China.

- 81. There is, in fact, no entity known as "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd." While an entity called "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Wholesale Market" does exist, Sino did not have, as claimed in its disclosure documents, an equity stake in that venture.
- 82. According to the 1997 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the total investment of SJXT was estimated to be US$9.7 million, of which Sino would be required to contribute approximately US$1.9 million for a 20% equity interest. The 1997 Audited Annual Financial Statements stated that, as at December 31, 1997, Sino had made capital contributions to SJXT in the amount of US$1.0 million. In Sino's balance sheet as at December 31, 1997, the SXJT investment was shown as an asset of $1.0 million.
- 83. In October 1998, Sino announced an Agency Agreement with SJXT. At that time, Sino stated that it would provide 130,000 m<sup>3</sup> of various wood products to SJXT over an 18 month period, and that, based on then-current market prices, it expected this contract to generate "significant revenue" for Sino-Forest amounting to approximately $40 million. The revenues that were purportedly anticipated from the SJXT contract were highly material to Sino. Indeed, Sino's total reported revenues in 1998 were $92.7 million.
- 84. In Sino's Audited Annual Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 1998, which statements were filed on SEDAR on May 18, 1999 (the "1998 Financial Statements"), Sino again stated that, in 1997, it had acquired a 20% equity interest in SJXT, that the total investment in SJXT was estimated to be US$9.7 million, of which Sino would be required to contribute approximately $1.9 million, representing 20% of the registered capital, and that, as at December 31, 1997 and 1998, Sino had made contributions in the amount of US$1.0 million to SJXT. In Sino's balance sheet as at December 31, 1998, the SXJT investment was again shown as an asset of US$1.0 million.

- 85. Sino also stated in the 1998 Audited Annual Financial Statements that, during 1998, the sale of logs and lumber to SJXT amounted to approximately US$537,000. These sales were identified in the notes to the 1998 Financial Statements as related party transactions.
- 86. In Sino's Annual Report for 1998, Chan stated that lumber and wood products trading constituted a "promising new opportunity." Chan explained that:

SJXT represents a very significant development for our lumber and wood products trading business. The market is prospering and continues to look very promising. Phase I, consisting of 100 shops, is completed. Phases II and III are expected to be completed by the year 2000. This expansion would triple the size of the Shanghai Timber Market.

The Shanghai Timber Market is important to Sino-Forest as a generator of significant new revenue. In addition to supplying various forest products to the market from our own operations, our direct participation in SJXT increases our activities in sourcing a wide range of other wood products both from inside China and internationally.

The Shanghai Timber Market is also very beneficial to the development of the forest products industry in China because it is the first forest products national sub-market in the eastern region of the country.

The market also greatly facilitates Sino-Forest's networking activities, enabling us to build new industry relationships and add to our market intelligence, all of which increasingly leverage our ability to act as principal in our dealings.

[Emphasis added.]

- 87. Chan also stated in the 1998 Annual Report that the "Agency Agreement with SJXT [is] expected to generate approximately $40 million over 18 months."
- 88. In Sino's Annual Report for 1999, Sino stated:

There are also promising growth opportunities as Sino-Forest's investment in Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. (SJXT or the Shanghai Timber Market), develops. The Company also continues to explore opportunities to establish and reinforce ties with other international forestry companies and to bring our ecommerce technology into operation.

Sino-Forest's investment in the Shanghai Timber Market — the first national forest products submarket in eastern China — has provided a strong foundation for the Company's lumber and wood products trading business.

89. In Sino's MD&A for the year ended December 31, 1999, Sino also stated that:

Sales from lumber and wood products trading increased 264% to $34.2 million compared to $9.4 million in 1998. The increase in lumber and wood products trading is attributable largely to the increase in new business generated from our investment in Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. (SJXT) and a larger sales force in 1999. Lumber and wood products trading on an agency basis has increased 35% from $2.3 million in 1998 to $3.1 million in 1999. The increase in commission income on lumber and wood products trading is attributable to approximately $1.8 million of fees earned from a new customer.

[Emphasis added.]

- 90. That same MD&A, however, also states that "The investment in SJXT has contributed to the significant growth of the lumber and wood products trading business, which has recorded an increase in sales of 219% from $11.7 million in 1998 to $37.2 million in 1999" (emphasis added).
- 91. In Sino's Audited Annual Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 1999, which statements were filed on SEDAR on May 18, 2000 (the "1999 Financial Statements"), Sino stated:

During the year, Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. ["SJXT"] applied to increase the original total capital contributions of $868,000 [Chinese renminbi 7.2 million] to $1,509,000 [Chinese renminbi 12.5 million]. Sino-Wood is required to make an additional contribution of $278,000 as a result of the increase in total capital contributions. The additional capital contribution of $278,000 was made in 1999 increasing its equity interest in SJXT from 27.8% to 34.4%. The principal activity of SJXT is to organize trading of timber and logs in the PRC market.

- 92. The statements made in the 1999 Financial Statements contradicted Sino's prior representations in relation to SJXT. Among other things, Sino previously claimed to have made a capital contribution of $1,037,000 for a 20% equity interest in SJXT.
- 93. In addition, note 2(b) to the 1999 Financial Statements stated that, "[a]s at December 31, 1999, $796,000...advances to SJXT remained outstanding. The advances to SJXT were unsecured, non-interest bearing and without a fixed repayment date." Thus, assuming that Sino's contributions to SJXT were actually made, then Sino's prior statements in relation to SJXT were materially misleading, and violated GAAP, inasmuch as those statements failed to disclose that Sino had made to SJXT, a related party, a non-interest bearing loan of $796,000.
- 94. In Sino's Audited Annual Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 2000, which statements were filed on SEDAR on May 18, 2000 (the "2000 Financial Statements"), Sino stated:

In 1999, Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. ("SJXT") applied to increase the original total capital contributions of $868,000 [Chinese renminbi 7.2 million] to $1,509,000 [Chinese renminbi 12.5 million]. Sino-Wood is required to make an additional contribution of $278,000 as a result of the increase in total capital contributions. The additional capital contribution of $278,000 was made in 1999 increasing its equity interest in SJXT from 27.8% to 34.4%. The principal activity of SJXT is to organize the trading of timber and logs in the PRC market. During the year, advances to SJXT of $796,000 were repaid.

- 95. In Sino's balance sheet as at December 31, 2000, the SJXT investment was shown as an asset of $519,000, being the sum of Sino's purported SJXT investment of $1,315,000 as at December 31, 1999, and the $796,000 of "advances" purportedly repaid to Sino by SJXT during the year ended December 31, 2000.
- 96. In Sino's Annual Reports (including the audited annual financial statements contained therein) for the years 2001 and beyond, there is no discussion whatsoever of SJXT. Indeed, Sino's "promising" and "very significant" investment in SJXT simply evaporated, without explanation, from Sino's disclosure documents. In fact, and unbeknownst to the public, Sino never invested in a company called "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd." Chan and Poon knew, or were reckless in not knowing of, that fact.
- 97. At all material times, Sino's founders, Chan and Poon, were fully aware of the reality relating to SJXT, and knowingly misrepresented the true status of SJXT and Sino's interested therein.
  - (iii) Sino's Materially Deficient and Misleading Class Period Disclosures regarding Sino's History
- 98. During the Class Period, the Sino disclosure documents identified below purported to provide investors with an overview of Sino's history. However, those disclosure documents, and indeed all of the Impugned Documents, failed to disclose the material fact that, from its very founding, Sino was a fraud, inasmuch as its purportedly key investments in Leizhou and SJXT were either grossly inflated or fictitious.
- 99. Accordingly, the statements particularized in paragraphs 100 to 104 below were misrepresentations. The misleading nature of such statements was exacerbated by the fact that, throughout the Class Period, Sino's senior management and Board purported to be governed by the Code, which touted the "high standards of ethical conduct, in both words and actions", of Sino's senior management and Board.

100. In the Prospectuses, Sino described its history, but did not disclose that the SJXT investment was fictitious, or that the revenues generated by Leizhou were non-existent or grossly overstated.

101. In particular, the June 2007 Prospectus stated merely that:

The Corporation was formed under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) upon the amalgamation of Mt. Kearsarge Minerals Inc. and 1028412 Ontario Inc. pursuant to articles of amalgamation dated March 14, 1994. The articles of amalgamation were amended by articles of amendment filed on July 20, 1995 and May 20, 1999 to effect certain changes in the provisions attaching to the Corporation's class A subordinate-voting shares and class B multiple-voting shares. On June 25, 2002, the Corporation filed articles of continuance to continue under the Canada Business Corporations Act. On June 22, 2004, the Corporation filed articles of amendment whereby its class A subordinate-voting shares were reclassified as Common Shares and its class B multiple-voting shares were eliminated.

102. Similarly, the June 2009 Prospectus stated only that:

The Corporation was formed under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) upon the amalgamation of Mt. Kearsarge Minerals Inc. and 1028412 Ontario Inc. pursuant to articles of amalgamation dated March 14, 1994. The articles of amalgamation were amended by articles of amendment filed on July 20, 1995 and May 20, 1999 to effect certain changes in the provisions attaching to the Corporation's class A subordinate-voting shares and class B multiple-voting shares. On June 25, 2002, the Corporation filed articles of continuance to continue under the Canada Business Corporations Act. On June 22, 2004, the Corporation filed articles of amendment whereby its class A subordinate-voting shares were reclassified as Common Shares and its class B multiple-voting shares were eliminated.

103. Finally, the December 2009 Prospectus stated only that:

The Corporation was formed under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) upon the amalgamation of Mt. Kearsarge Minerals Inc. and 1028412 Ontario Inc. pursuant to articles of amalgamation dated March 14, 1994. The articles of amalgamation were amended by articles of amendment filed on July 20, 1995 and May 20, 1999 to effect certain changes in the provisions attaching to the Corporation's class A subordinate-voting shares and class B multiple-voting shares. On June 25, 2002, the Corporation filed articles of continuance to continue under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA"). On June 22, 2004, the Corporation filed articles of amendment whereby its class A subordinate-voting shares were reclassified as Common Shares and its class B multiple-voting shares were eliminated.

104. The failure to disclose the true nature of, and/or Sino's revenues and profits from, SJXT and Leizhou in the historical narrative in the Prospectuses rendered those Prospectuses materially false and misleading. Those historical facts would have alerted persons who purchased Sino shares under the Prospectuses, and/or in the secondary markets, to the highly elevated risk of investing in a company that continued to be controlled by Chan and Poon, both of whom were founders of Sino, and both of whom had knowingly misrepresented the true nature of Leizhou and SJXT from the time of Sino's creation. Thus, Sino was required to disclose those historical facts to the Class Members during the Class Period, but failed to do so, either in the Prospectuses or in any other Impugned Document.

B. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Forestry Assets

- (i) Sino Overstates its Yunnan Forestry Assets
- 105. In a press release issued by Sino and filed on SEDAR on March 23, 2007, Sino announced that it had entered into an agreement to sell 26 million shares to several institutional investors for gross proceeds of US$200 million, and that the proceeds would be used for the acquisition of standing timber, including pursuant to a new agreement to purchase standing timber in Yunnan Province. It further stated in that press release that Sino-Panel (Asia) Inc. ("Sino-Panel"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sino, had entered on that same day into an agreement with Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Company Ltd., ("Gengma Forestry") established in Lincang City, Yunnan Province in the PRC, and that, under that Agreement, Sino-Panel would acquire approximately 200,000 hectares of non-state owned commercial standing timber in Lincang City and surrounding cities in Yunnan for US$700 million to US$1.4 billion over a 10-year period.

- 106. These same terms of Sino's Agreement with Gengma Forestry were disclosed in Sino's Q1 2007 MD&A. Moreover, throughout the Class Period, Sino discussed its purported Yunnan acquisitions in the Impugned Documents, and Pöyry repeatedly made statements regarding said holdings, as particularized below.
- 107. The reported acquisitions did not take place. Sino overstated to a material degree the size and value of its forestry holdings in Yunnan Province. It simply does not own all of the trees it claims to own in Yunnan. Sino's overstatement of the Yunnan forestry assets violated GAAP.
- 108. The misrepresentations about Sino's acquisition and holdings of the Yunnan forestry assets were made in all of the Impugned Documents that were MD&As, financial statements, AIFs, Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda, except for the 2005 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the Q1 2006 interim financial statements, the 2006 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the 2006 Annual MD&A.
  - (ii) Sino Overstates its Suriname Forestry Assets; Alternatively, Sino fails to Disclose the Material Fact that its Suriname Forestry Assets are contrary to the Laws of Suriname
- 109. In mid-2010, Sino became a majority shareholder of Greenheart Group Ltd., a Bermuda corporation having its headquarters in Hong Kong, China and a listing on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange ("Greenheart").
- 110. In August 2010, Greenheart issued an aggregate principal amount of US$25,000,000 convertible notes for gross proceeds of US$24,750,000. The sole subscriber of these convertible notes was Greater Sino Holdings Limited, an entity in which Murray has an indirect interest. In addition, Chan and Murray then became members of Greenheart's Board, Chan became the Board's Chairman, and Martin became the CEO of Greenheart and a member of its Board.

- 111. On August 24, 2010 and December 28, 2010, Greenheart granted to Chan, Martin and Murray options to purchase, respectively, approximately 6.8 million, 6.8 million and 1.1 million Greenheart shares. The options are exercisable for a five-year term.
- 112. As at March 31, 2011, General Enterprise Management Services International Limited, a company in which Murray has an indirect interest, held 7,000,000 shares of Greenheart, being 0.9% of the total issued and outstanding shares of Greenheart.
- 113. As a result of the aforesaid transactions and interests, Sino, Chan, Martin and Murray stood to profit handsomely from any inflation in the market price of Greenheart's shares.
- 114. At all material times, Greenheart purported to have forestry assets in New Zealand and Suriname. On March 1, 2011, Greenheart issued a press release in which it announced that:

Greenheart acquires certain rights to additional 128,000 hectare concession in Suriname

312,000 hectares now under Greenheart management

Hong Kong, March 1, 2011 – Greenheart Group Limited ("Greenheart" or "the Company") (HKSE: 00094), an investment holding company with forestry assets in Suriname and New Zealand (subject to certain closing conditions) today announced that the Company has acquired 60% of Vista Marine Services N.V. ("Vista"), a private company based in Suriname, South America that controls certain harvesting rights to a 128,000 hectares hardwood concession. Vista will be rebranded as part of the Greenheart Group. This transaction will increase Greenheart's concessions under management in Suriname to approximately 312,000 hectares. The cost of this acquisition is not material to the Company as a whole but the Company is optimistic about the prospects of Vista and the positive impact that it will bring. The concession is located in the Sipalawini district of Suriname, South America, bordering Lake Brokopondo and has an estimated annual allowable cut of approximately 100,000 cubic meters.

Mr. Judson Martin, Chief Executive Officer of Greenheart and Vice-Chairman of Sino-Forest Corporation, the Company's controlling shareholder said, "This acquisition is in line with our growth strategy to expand our footprint in Suriname. In addition to increased harvestable area, this acquisition will bring synergies in sales, marketing, administration, financial reporting and control, logistics and overall management. I am pleased to welcome Mr. Ty Wilkinson to Greenheart as our minority partner. Mr. Wilkinson shares our respect for the people of Suriname and the land and will be appointed Chief Executive Officer of this joint venture and be responsible for operating in a sustainable and responsible manner. This acquisition further advances Greenheart's strategy of becoming a global agri-forestry company. We will continue to actively seek well-priced and sustainable concessions in Suriname and neighboring regions in the coming months."

115. In its 2010 AIF, filed on SEDAR on March 31, 2011, Sino stated:

We hold a majority interest in Greenheart Group which, together with its subsidiaries, owns certain rights and manages approximately 312,000 hectares of hardwood forest concessions in the Republic of Suriname, South America ("Suriname") and 11,000 hectares of a radiata pine plantation on 13,000 hectares of freehold land in New Zealand as at March 31, 2011. We believe that our ownership in Greenheart Group will strengthen our global sourcing network in supplying wood fibre for China in a sustainable and responsible manner.

[Emphasis added.]

- 116. The statements reproduced in the preceding paragraph were false and/or materially misleading when made. Under the Suriname Forest Management Act, it is prohibited for one company or a group of companies in which one person or company has a majority interest to control more than 150,000 hectares of land under concession. Therefore, either Greenheart's concessions under management in Suriname did not exceed 150,000 hectares, or Greenheart's concessions under management in Suriname violated the laws of Suriname, which was a material fact not disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents.
- 117. In each of the October 2010 Offering Memorandum, the 2010 Annual MD&A, the 2010 AIF, Sino represented that Greenheart had well in excess of 150,000 hectares of concession under management in Suriname without however disclosing that Suriname law imposed a limit of 150,000 hectares on Greenheart and its subsidiaries.

- 118. Finally, Vista's forestry concessions are located in a region of Suriname populated by the Saramaka, an indigenous people. Pursuant to the American Convention on Human Rights and a decision of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, the Saramaka people must have effective control over their land, including the management of their reserves, and must be effectively consulted by the State of Suriname. Sino has not disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents where it has discussed Greenheart and/or Suriname assets that Vista's purported concessions in Suriname, if they exist at all, are impaired due to the unfulfilled rights of the indigenous people of Suriname, in violation of GAAP. The Impugned Documents that omitted that disclosure were the 2010 Annual MD&A, the 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, and the 2010 AIF.
  - (iii) Sino overstates its Jiangxi Forestry Assets
- 119. On June 11, 2009, Sino issued a press release in which it stated:

Sino-Forest Corporation (TSX: TRE), a leading commercial forest plantation operator in China, announced today that its wholly-owned subsidiary, Sino-Panel (China) Investments Limited ("Sino-Panel"), has entered into a Master Agreement for the Purchase of Pine and Chinese Fir Plantation Forests (the "Jiangxi Master Agreement") with Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company Limited ("Jiangxi Zhonggan"), which will act as the authorized agent for the original plantation rights holders.

Under the Jiangxi Master Agreement, Sino-Panel will, through PRC subsidiaries of Sino-Forest, acquire between 15 million and 18 million cubic metres (m<sub>3</sub>) of wood fibre located in plantations in Jiangxi Province over a three-year period with a price not to exceed RMB300 per m<sub>3</sub>, to the extent permitted under the relevant PRC laws and regulations. The plantations in which such amount of wood fibre to acquire is between 150,000 and 300,000 hectares to achieve an estimated average wood fibre yield of approximately 100 m<sub>3</sub> per hectare, and include tree species such as pine, Chinese fir and others. Jiangxi Zhonggan will ensure plantation forests sold to Sino-Panel and its PRC subsidiaries are non-state-owned, non-natural, commercial plantation forest trees.

In addition to securing the maximum tree acquisition price, Sino-Panel has pre-emptive rights to lease the underlying plantation land at a price, permitted under the relevant PRC laws and regulations, not to exceed RMB450 per hectare per annum for 30 years from the time of harvest. The land lease can also be extended to 50 years as permitted under PRC laws and regulations. The specific terms and conditions of purchasing or leasing are to be determined upon the execution of definitive agreements between the PRC subsidiaries of Sino-Panel and Jiangxi Zhonggan upon the authorisation of original plantation rights holders, and subject to the requisite governmental approval and in compliance with the relevant PRC laws and regulations.

Sino-Forest Chairman and CEO Allen Chan said, "We are fortunate to have been able to capture and support investment opportunities in China's developing forestry sector by locking up a large amount of fibre at competitive prices. The Jiangxi Master Agreement is Sino-Forest's fifth, long-term, fibre purchase agreement during the past two years. These five agreements cover a total plantation area of over one million hectares in five of China's most densely forested provinces."

- 120. According to Sino's 2010 Annual MD&A, as of December 31, 2010, Sino had acquired 59,700 ha of plantation trees from Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company Limited ("Zhonggan") for US$269.1 million under the terms of the master agreement. (In its interim report for the second quarter of 2011, which was issued after the Class Period, Sino claims that, as at June 30, 2011, this number had increased to 69,100 ha, for a purchase price of US$309.6 million).
- 121. However, as was known to Sino, Chan, Poon and Horsley, and as ought to have been known to the remaining Individual Defendants, BDO, E&Y and Pöyry, Sino's plantation acquisitions through Zhonggan are materially smaller than Sino has claimed.
  - (iv) Poyry makes Misrepresentations in relation to Sino's Forestry Assets
- 122. As particularized above, Sino overstated its forestry assets in Yunnan and Jiangxi Provinces in the PRC and in Suriname. Accordingly, Sino's total assets are overstated to a material degree in all of the Impugned Documents, in violation of GAAP, and each such statement of Sino's total assets constitutes a misrepresentation.

- 123. In addition, during the Class Period, Pöyry and entities affiliated with it made statements that are misrepresentations in regard to Sino's Yunnan Province "assets," namely:
  - (a) In a report dated March 14, 2008, filed on SEDAR on March 31, 2008 (the "2008 Valuations"), Pöyry: (a) stated that it had determined the valuation of the Sino forest assets to be US$3.2 billion as at 31 December 2007; (b) provided tables and figures regarding Yunnan; (c) stated that "Stands in Yunnan range from 20 ha to 1000 ha," that "In 2007 Sino-Forest purchased an area of mixed broadleaf forest in Yunnan Province," that "Broadleaf forests already acquired in Yunnan are all mature," and that "Sino-Forest is embarking on a series of forest acquisitions/expansion efforts in Hunan, Yunnan and Guangxi;" and (d) provided a detailed discussion of Sino's Yunnan "holdings" at Appendixes 3 and 5. Pöyry's 2008 Valuations were incorporated in Sino's 2007 Annual MD&A, amended 2007 Annual MD&A, amended Annual 2008 MD&A, each of the Q1, Q2, and Q3 2008 MD&As, Annual 2008 MD&A, amended Annual 2008 MD&A, each of the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2009, annual 2009 MD&A, and July 2008 and December 2009 Offering Memoranda;
  - (b) In a report dated April 1, 2009 and filed on SEDAR on April 2, 2009 (the "2009 Valuations"), Pöyry stated that "[t]he area of forest owned in Yunnan has quadrupled from around 10 000 ha to almost 40 000 ha over the past year," provided figures and tables regarding Yunnan, and stated that "Sino-Forest has increased its holding of broadleaf crops in Yunnan during 2008, with this province containing nearly 99% of its broadleaf resource." Pöyry's 2009 Valuations were incorporated in Sino's 2008 AIF, each of the Q1, Q2, Q3 2009 MD&As, Annual 2009 MD&A, June 2009 Offering Memorandum, and June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses;
  - (c) In a "Final Report" dated April 23, 2010, filed on SEDAR on April 30, 2010 (the "2010 Valuations"), Pöyry stated that "Guangxi, Hunan and Yunnan are the three largest provinces in terms of Sino-Forest's holdings. The largest change in area by province, both in absolute and relative terms [sic] has been Yunnan, where the area of forest owned has almost tripled, from around 39 000 ha to almost 106 000 ha over the past year," provided figures and tables regarding Yunnan, stated that "Yunnan contains 106 000 ha, including 85 000 ha or 99% of the total broadleaf forest," stated that "the three provinces of Guangxi, Hunan and Yunnan together contain 391 000 ha or about 80% of the total forest area of 491 000 ha" and that "[a]lmost 97% of the broadleaf forest is in Yunnan," and provided a detailed discussion of Sino's Yunnan "holdings" at Appendixes 3 and 4. Pöyry's 2010 Valuations were incorporated in Sino's 2009 AIF, the annual 2009 MD&A, each of the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2010 MD&As, and the October 2010 Offering Memorandum;

- (d) In a "Summary Valuation Report" regarding "Valuation of Purchased Forest Crops as at 31 December 2010" and dated May 27, 2011, Pöyry provided tables and figures regarding Yunnan, stated that "[t]he major changes in area by species from December 2009 to 2010 has been in Yunnan pine, with acquisitions in Yunnan and Sichuan provinces" and that "[a]nalysis of [Sino's] inventory data for broadleaf forest in Yunnan, and comparisons with an inventory that Pöyry undertook there in 2008 supported the upwards revision of prices applied to the Yunnan broadleaf large size log," and stated that "[t]he yield table for Yunnan pine in Yunnan and Sichuan provinces was derived from data collected in this species in these provinces by Pöyry during other work;" and
- (e) In a press release titled "Summary of Sino-Forest's China Forest Asset 2010 Valuation Reports" and which was "jointly prepared by Sino-Forest and Pöyry to highlight key findings and outcomes from the 2010 valuation reports," Pöyry reported on Sino's "holdings" and estimated the market value of Sino's forest assets on the 754,816 ha to be approximately US$3.1 billion as at December 31, 2010.

C. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Related Party Transactions

- (i) Related Party Transactions Generally
- 124. Under GAAP and GAAS, a "related party" exists "when one party has the ability to exercise directly or indirectly, control, joint control or significant influence over the other." (CICA Handbook 3840.03) Examples include a parent-subsidiary relationship or an entity that is economically dependent upon another.
- 125. Related parties raise the concern that transactions may not be conducted at arm's length, and pricing or other terms may not be determined at fair market values. For example, when a subsidiary "sells" an asset to its parent at a given price, it may not be appropriate that that asset be reported on the balance sheet or charged against the earnings of the parent at that price. Where transactions are conducted between arm's length parties, this concern is generally not present.
- 126. The existence of related party transactions is important to investors irrespective of the reported dollar values of the transactions because the transactions may be controlled, manipulated and/or concealed by management (for example, for corporate purposes or because fraudulent activity is involved), and because such transactions may be used to benefit management or persons close to management at the expense of the company, and therefore its shareholders.
  - (ii) Sino fails to disclose that Zhonggan was a Related Party
- 127. Irrespective of the true extent of Zhonggan's transactions in Jiangxi forestry plantations, Sino failed to disclose, in violation of GAAP, that Zhonggan was a related party of Sino. More particularly, according to AIC records, the legal representative of Zhonggan is Lam Hong Chiu, who is an executive vice president of Sino. Lam Hong Chiu is also a director and a 50%

shareholder of China Square Industrial Limited, a BVI corporation which, according to AIC records, owns 80% of the equity of Zhonggan.

- 128. The Impugned Documents that omitted that disclosure were the Q2 2009 MD&A, the Q2 2009 interim financial statements, the Q3 2009 MD&A, the Q3 2009 interim financial statements, the December 2009 Prospectus, the 2009 Annual MD&A, the 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the 2009 AIF, the Q1 2010 MD&A, the Q1 2010 interim financial statements, the Q2 2010 MD&A, the Q2 2010 interim financial statements, the Q3 2010 MD&A, the Q3 2010 interim financial statements, the 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, and the 2010 AIF.
  - (iii) Sino fails to disclose that Homix was a Related Party
- 129. On January 12, 2010, Sino issued a press release in which it announced the acquisition by one of its wholly-owned subsidiaries of Homix Limited ("Homix"), which it described as a company engaged in research and development and manufacturing of engineered-wood products in China, for an aggregate amount of US$7.1 million. That press release stated:

HOMIX has an R&D laboratory and two engineered-wood production operations based in Guangzhou and Jiangsu Provinces, covering eastern and southern China wood product markets. The company has developed a number of new technologies with patent rights, specifically suitable for domestic plantation logs including poplar and eucalyptus species. HOMIX specializes in curing, drying and dyeing methods for engineered wood and has the know-how to produce recomposed wood products and laminated veneer lumber. Recomposed wood technology is considered to be environment-friendly and versatile as it uses fibre from forest plantations, recycled wood and/or wood residue. This reduces the traditional use of large-diameter trees from natural forests. There is growing demand for recomposed wood technology as it reduces cost for raw material while increases the utilization and sustainable use of plantation fibre for the production of furniture and interior/exterior building materials.

Mr. Allen Chan, Sino-Forest's Chairman & CEO, said, "As we continue to ramp up our replanting programme with improved eucalyptus species, it is important for Sino-Forest to continue investing in the research and development that maximizes all aspects of the forest product supply chain. Modernization and improved productivity of the wood processing industry in China is also necessary given the country's chronic wood fibre deficit. Increased use of technology improves operation efficiency, and maximizes and broadens the use of domestic plantation wood, which reduces the need for logging domestic natural forests and for importing logs from strained tropical forests. HOMIX has significant technological capabilities in engineered-wood processing."

Mr. Chan added, "By acquiring HOMIX, we intend to use six-year eucalyptus fibre instead of 30-year tree fibre from other species to produce quality lumber using recomposed technology. We believe that this will help preserve natural forests as well as improve the demand for and pricing of our planted eucalyptus trees."

- 130. Sino's 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements, Q1/2010 Unaudited Interim Financial Statements, 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the MD&As related to each of the aforementioned financial statements, and Sino's AIFs for 2009 and 2010, each discussed the acquisition of Homix, but nowhere disclosed that Homix was in fact a related party of Sino.
- 131. More particularly, Hua Chen, a Senior Vice President, Administration & Finance, of Sino in the PRC, and who joined Sino in 2002, is a 30% shareholder of an operating subsidiary of Homix, Jiangsu Dayang Wood Co., Ltd. ("Jiangsu")
- 132. In order to persuade current and prospective Sino shareholders that there was a commercial justification for the Homix acquisition, Sino misrepresented Homix's patent designs registered with the PRC State Intellectual Property Office. In particular, in its 2009 Annual Report, Sino stated:

HOMIX acquisition

In accordance with our strategy to focus on research and development and to improve the end-use of our wood fibre, we acquired HOMIX Ltd. in January 2010 for $7.1 million. This corporate acquisition is small but strategically important adding valuable intellectual property rights and two engineered-wood processing facilities located in Guangdong and Jiangsu Provinces to our operations. Homix has developed environment-friendly technology, an efficient process using recomposed technology to convert small-diameter plantation logs into building materials and furniture. Since we plan to grow high volumes of eucalypt and other FGHY species, this acquisition will help us achieve our long-term objectives of maximizing the use of our fibre, supplying a variety of downstream customers and enhancing economic rural development. [Emphasis added]

- 133. However, Homix itself then had no patent designs registered with the PRC State Intellectual Property Office. At that time, Homix had two subsidiaries, Jiangsu and Guangzhou Pany Dacheng Wood Co. The latter then had no patent designs registered with the PRC State Intellectual Property Office, while Jiangsu had two patent designs. However, each such design was for wood dyeing, and not for the conversion of small-diameter plantation logs into building materials and furniture.
  - (iv) Sino fails to disclose that Yunan Shunxuan was a Related Party
- 134. In addition, during the Class Period, Sino purportedly purchased approximately 1,600 hectares of timber in Yunnan province from Yunnan Shunxuan Forestry Co. Ltd. Yunnan Shunxuan was part of Sino, acting under a separate label. Accordingly, it was considered a related party for the purposes of the GAAP disclosure requirements, a fact that Sino failed to disclose.
- 135. The Impugned Documents that omitted that disclosure were the 2009 Annual MD&A, the 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the 2009 AIF, the Q1 2010 MD&A, the Q1 2010 interim financial statements, the Q2 2010 MD&A, the Q2 2010 interim financial statements, the Q3 2010 MD&A, the Q3 2010 interim financial statements, the 2010 Annual MD&A, the 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, and the 2010 AIF.
- 136. Sino's failure to disclose that Yunnan Shunxuan was a related party was a violation of GAAP, and a misrepresentation.
  - (v) Sino fails to disclose that Yuda Wood was a Related Party
- 137. Huaihua City Yuda Wood Co. Ltd., based in Huaihua City, Hunan Province ("YudaWood"), was a major supplier of Sino at material times. Yuda Wood was founded in April 2006 and, from 2007 until 2010, its business with Sino totalled approximately 152,164 Ha and RMB 4.94 billion.

- 138. During that period, Yuda Wood was a related party of Sino. Indeed, in the Second Report, the IC acknowledged that "there is evidence suggesting close cooperation [between Sino and Yuda Wood] (including administrative assistance, possible payment of capital at the time of establishment, joint control of certain of Yuda Wood's RMB bank accounts and the numerous emails indicating coordination of funding and other business activities)" [emphasis added.]
- 139. The fact that Yuda Wood was a related party of Sino during the Class Period was a material fact and was required to be disclosed under GAAP, but, during the Class Period, that fact was not disclosed by Sino in any of the Impugned Documents, or otherwise.
  - (vi) Sino fails to Disclose that Major Suppliers were Related Parties
- 140. At material times, Sino had at least thirteen suppliers where former Sino employees, consultants or secondees are or were directors, officers and/or shareholders of one or more such suppliers. Due to these and other connections between these suppliers and Sino, some or all of such suppliers were in fact undisclosed related parties of Sino.
- 141. Including Yuda Wood, the thirteen suppliers referenced above accounted for 43% of Sino's purported plantation purchases between 2006 and the first quarter of 2011.
- 142. In none of the Impugned Documents did Sino disclose that any of these suppliers were related parties, nor did it disclose sufficient particulars of its relations with such suppliers as would have enabled the investing public to ascertain that those suppliers were related parties.

D. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Relations with Forestry Bureaus and its Purported Title to Forestry Assets in the PRC

- 143. In at least two instances during the Class Period, PRC forestry bureau officials were either concurrently or subsequently employees of, or consultants to, Sino. One forestry bureau assigned employees to Sino and other companies to assist in the development of the forestry industry in its jurisdiction.
- 144. In addition, a vice-chief of the forestry bureau was assigned to work closely with Sino, and while that vice chief still drew a basic salary from the forestry bureau, he also acted as a consultant to Sino in the conduct of Sino's business. This arrangement was in place for several years. That vice-chief appeared on Sino's payroll from January 2007 with a monthly payment of RMB 15,000, which was significant compared with his forestry bureau salary.
- 145. In addition, at material times, Sino and/or its subsidiaries and/or its suppliers made cash payments and gave "gifts" to forestry bureau officals, which potentially constituted a serious criminal offence under the laws of the PRC. At least some of these payments and gifts were made or given in order to induce the recipients to issue "confirmation letters" in relation to Sino's purported holdings in the PRC of standing timber. These practices utterly compromised the integrity of the process whereby those "confirmation letters" were obtained.
- 146. Further, a chief of a forestry bureau who had authorized the issuance of confirmations to Sino was arrested due to corruption charges. That forestry bureau had issued confirmations only to Sino and to no other companies. Subsequent to the termination of that forestry bureau chief, that forestry bureau did not issue confirmations to any company.
- 147. The foregoing facts were material because: (1) they undermined the reliability (if any) of the documentation upon which Sino relied and continues to rely to establish its ownership of standing timber; and (2) the corruption in which Sino was engaged exposed Sino to potential criminal penalties, including substantial fines, as well as a risk of severe reputational damage in Sino's most important market, the PRC.

148. However, none of these facts was disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents. On the contrary, Sino only made the following disclosure regarding former government officials in its 2007 Annual Report (and in no other Impugned Document), which was materially incomplete, and a misrepresentation:

To ensure successful growth, we have trained and promoted staff from within our organization, and hired knowledgeable people with relevant working experience and industry expertise – some joined us from forestry bureaus in various regions and provinces and/or state-owned tree farms. [...] 4. Based in Heyuan, Guangdong, Deputy GM responsible for Heyuan plantations, previously with forestry bureau; studied at Yangdongxian Dangxiao [Mr. Liang] 5. Based in Hunan, Plantation controller, graduated from Hunan Agricultural University, previously Assistant Manager of state-owned farm trees in Hunan [Mr. Xie].

- 149. In respect of Sino's purported title to standing timber in the PRC, Sino possessed Plantation Rights Certificates, or registered title, only in respect of 18% of its purported holdings of standing timber as at December 31, 2010, a fact nowhere disclosed by Sino during the Class Period. This fact was highly material to Sino, inasmuch as standing timber comprised a large proportion of Sino's assets throughout the Class Period, and in the absence of Plantation Rights Certificates, Sino could not establish its title to that standing timber.
- 150. Rather than disclose this highly material fact, Sino made the following misrepresentations in the following Impugned Documents:
  - (a) In the 2008 AIF: "We have obtained the plantation rights certificates or requisite approvals for acquiring the relevant plantation rights for most of the purchased tree plantations and planted tree plantations currently under our management, and we are in the process of applying for the plantation rights

- certificates for those plantations for which we have not obtained such certificates" [emphasis added];
- (b) In the 2009 AIF: "We have obtained the plantation rights certificates or requisite approvals for acquiring the relevant plantation rights for most of the purchased plantations and planted plantations currently under our management, and we are in the process of applying for the plantation rights certificates for those plantations for which we have not obtained such certificates" [emphasis added]; and
- (c) In the 2010 AIF: "We have obtained the plantation rights certificates or requisite approvals for acquiring the relevant plantation rights for most of the purchased plantations and planted plantations currently under our management, and we are in the process of applying for the plantation rights certificates for those plantations for which we have not obtained such certificates" [emphasis added].
- 151. In the absence of Plantation Rights Certificates, Sino relies principally on the purchase contracts entered into by its BVI subsidiaries ("BVIs") in order to demonstrate its ownership of standing timber.
- 152. However, under PRC law, those contracts are void and unenforceable.
- 153. In the alternative, if those contracts are valid and enforceable, they are enforceable only as against the counterparties through which Sino purported to acquire the standing timber, and not against the party who has registered title (if any) to the standing timber. Because some or all of those counterparties were or became insolvent, corporate shells or thinly capitalized, then any claims that Sino would have against those counterparties under PRC law, whether for unjust enrichment or otherwise, were of little to no value, and certainly constituted no substitute for registered title to the standing timber which Sino purported to own.

- 154. Sino never disclosed these material facts during the Class Period, whether in the Impugned Documents or otherwise. On the contrary, Sino made the following misrepresentations in relation to its purported title to standing timber:
  - (a) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
  - (b) In the June 2009 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
  - (c) In the October 2010 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
  - (d) In the 2006 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the supplemental purchase contracts and the plantation rights certificates issued by the relevant forestry departments, we have the legal right to own our purchased tree plantations";
  - (e) In the 2007 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry departments, we have the legal right to own our purchased tree plantations";
  - (f) In the 2008 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased tree plantations";

- (g) In the 2009 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the local forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
- (h) In the December 2009 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the local forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations"; and
- (i) In the 2010 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations."
- 155. In addition, during the Class Period, Sino never disclosed the material fact, belatedly revealed in the Second Report, that "in practice it is not able to obtain Plantation Rights Certificates for standing timber purchases when no land transfer rights are transferred" [emphasis added].
- 156. On the contrary, during the Class Period, Sino made the following misrepresentation in each of the 2006 and 2007 AIFs:

Since 2000, the PRC has been improving its system of registering plantation land ownership, plantation land use rights and plantation ownership rights and its system of issuing certificates to the persons having plantation land use rights, to owners owning the plantation trees and to owners of the plantation land. In April 2000, the PRC State Forestry Bureau announced the "Notice on the Implementation of Nationwide Uniform Plantation Right Certificates" (Lin Zi Fa [2000] No. 159) on April 19, 2000 (the "Notice"). Under the Notice, a new uniform form of plantation rights certificate is to be used commencing from the date of the Notice. The same type of new form plantation rights certificate will be issued to the persons having the right to use the plantation land, to persons who own the plantation land and plantation trees, and to persons having the right to use plantation trees.

[Emphasis added]

- 157. Under PRC law, county and provincial forestry bureaus have no authority to issue confirmation letters. Such letters cannot be relied upon in a court of law to resolve a dispute and are not a guarantee of title. Notwithstanding this, during the Class Period, Sino made the following misrepresentations:
  - (a) In the 2006 AIF: "In addition, for the purchased tree plantations, we have obtained confirmations from the relevant forestry bureaus that we have the legal right to own the purchased tree plantations for which we have not received certificates" [emphasis added]; and
  - (b) In the 2007 AIF: "For our Purchased Tree Plantations, we have applied for the relevant Plantation Rights Certificates with the competent local forestry departments. As the relevant locations where we purchased our Purchased Tree Plantations have not fully implemented the new form Plantation Rights Certificate, we are not able to obtain all the corresponding Plantation Rights Certificates for our Purchased Tree Plantations. In this connection, we obtained confirmation on our ownership of our Purchased Tree Plantations from the relevant forestry departments." [emphasis added]

E. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Relationships with its AIs

- 158. In addition to the misrepresentations alleged above in relation to Sino's AIs, including those alleged in Section VI.C hereof (Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Related Party Transactions), Sino made the following misrepresentations during the Class Period in relation to its relationships with it AIs.
- (i) Sino Misrepresents the Degree of its Reliance on its AIs
- 159. On March 30, 2007, Sino issued and filed on SEDAR its 2006 AIF. In that AIF, Sino stated:

...PRC laws and regulations require foreign companies to obtain licenses to engage in any business activities in the PRC. As a result of these requirements, we currently engage in our trading activities through PRC authorized intermediaries that have the requisite business licenses. There is no assurance that the PRC government will not take action to restrict our ability to engage in trading activities through our authorized intermediaries. In order to reduce our reliance on the authorized intermediaries, we intend to use a WFOE in the PRC to enter into contracts directly with suppliers of raw timber, and then process the raw timber, or engage others to process raw timber on its behalf, and sell logs, wood chips and wood-based products to customers, although it would not be able to engage in pure trading activities.

- 160. In its 2007 AIF, which Sino filed on March 28, 2008, Sino again declared its intention to reduce its reliance upon AIs.
- 161. These statements were false and/or materially misleading when made, inasmuch as Sino had no intention to reduce materially its reliance on AIs, because its AIs were critical to Sino's ability to inflate its revenue and net income. Rather, these statements had the effect of mitigating any investor concern arising from Sino's extensive reliance upon AIs.
- 162. Throughout the Class Period, Sino continued to depend heavily upon AIs for its purported sales of standing timber. In fact, contrary to Sino's purported intention to reduce its reliance on its AIs, Sino's reliance on its AIs in fact increased during the Class Period.

- (ii) Sino Misrepresents the Tax-related Risks Arising from its use of AIs
- 163. Throughout the Class Period, Sino materially understated the tax-related risks arising from its use of AIs.
- 164. Tax evasion penalties in the PRC are severe. Depending on whether the PRC authorities seek recovery of unpaid taxes by means of a civil or criminal proceeding, its claims for unpaid tax are subject to either a five- or ten-year limitation period. The unintentional failure to pay taxes is subject to a 0.05% per day interest penalty, while an intentional failure to pay taxes is punishable with fines of up to five times the unpaid taxes, and confiscation of part or all of the criminal's personal properties maybe also imposed.
- 165. Therefore, because Sino professed to be unable to determine whether its AIs have paid required taxes, the tax-related risks arising from Sino's use of AIs were potentially devastating. Sino failed, however, to disclose these aspects of the PRC tax regime in its Class Period disclosure documents, as alleged more particularly below.
- 166. Based upon Sino's reported results, Sino's tax accruals in all of its Impugned Documents that were interim and annual financial statements were materially deficient. For example, depending on whether the PRC tax authorities would assess interest at the rate of 18.75% per annum, or would assess no interest, on the unpaid income taxes of Sino's BVI subsidiaries, and depending also on whether one assumes that Sino's AIs have paid no income taxes or have paid 50% of the income taxes due to the PRC, then Sino's tax accruals in its 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements were understated by, respectively, US$10 million to US$150 million, US$50 million to US$260 million, US$81 million to US$371 million, and US$83 million to US$493 million. Importantly, were one to consider the impact of unpaid taxes other than unpaid income taxes (for example, unpaid value-added taxes), then the amounts by which Sino's tax accruals were understated in these financial statements would be substantially larger.

- 167. The aforementioned estimates of the amounts by which Sino's tax accruals were understated also assume that the PRC tax authorities only impose interest charges on Sino's BVI Subsidiaries and impose no other penalties for unpaid taxes, and assume further that the PRC authorities seek back taxes only for the preceding five years. As indicated above, each of these assumptions is likely to be unduly optimistic. In any case, Sino's inadequate tax accruals violated GAAP, and constituted misrepresentations.
- 168. Sino also violated GAAP in its 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements by failing to apply to its 2009 financial results the PRC tax guidance that was issued in February 2010. Although that guidance was issued after year-end 2009, GAAP required that Sino apply that guidance to its 2009 financial results, because that guidance was issued in the subsequent events period.
- 169. Based upon Sino's reported profit margins on its dealings with AIs, which margins are extraordinary both in relation to the profit margins of Sino's peers, and in relation to the limited risks that Sino purports to assume in its transactions with its AIs, Sino's AIs are not satisfying their tax obligations, a fact that was either known to the Defendants or ought to have been known. If Sino's extraordinary profit margins are real, then Sino and its AIs must be dividing the gains from non-payment of taxes to the PRC.
- 170. During the Class Period, Sino never disclosed the true nature of the tax-related risks to which it was exposed. This omission, in violation of GAAP, rendered each of the following statements a misrepresentation:

- (a) In the 2006 Annual Financial Statements, note 11 [b] "Provision for tax related liabilities" and associated text;
- (b) In the 2006 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (c) In the AIF dated March 30, 2007, the section "Estimation of the Company's provision for income and related taxes," and associated text;
- (d) In the Q1 and Q2 2007 Financial Statements, note 5 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (e) In the Q3 2007 Financial Statements, note 6 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (f) In the 2007 Annual Financial Statements, note 13 [b] "Provision for tax related liabilities," and associated text;
- (g) In the 2007 Annual MD&A and Amended 2007 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (h) In the AIF dated March 28, 2008, the section "Estimation of the Corporation's provision for income and related taxes," and associated text;
- (i) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2008 Financial Statements, note 12 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (j) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2008 MD&As, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (k) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum, the subsection "Taxation" in the section "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," and associated text;

- (l) In the 2008 Annual Financial Statements, note 13 [d] "Provision for tax related liabilities," and associated text;
- (m) In the 2008 Annual MD&A and Amended 2008 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (n) In the AIF dated March 31, 2009, the section "We may be liable for income and related taxes to our business and operations, particularly our BVI Subsidiaries, in amounts greater than the amounts we have estimated and for which we have provisioned," and associated text;
- (o) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2009 Financial Statements, note 13 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (p) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2009 MD&As, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (q) In the 2009 Annual Financial Statements, note 15 [d] "Provision for tax related liabilities," and associated text;
- (r) In the 2009 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (s) In the AIF dated March 31, 2010, the section "We may be liable for income and related taxes to our business and operations, particularly our BVI Subsidiaries, in amounts greater than the amounts we have estimated and for which we have provisioned," and associated text;
- (t) In the Q1 and Q2 2010 Financial Statements, note 14 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (u) In the Q1 and Q2 2010 MD&As, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;

- (v) In the Q3 2010 Financial Statements, note 14 "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text; and
- (w) In the Q3 2010 MD&As, the subsection "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (x) In the October 2010 Offering Memorandum, the subsection "Taxation" in the section "Selected Financial Information," and associated text;
- (y) In the 2010 Annual Financial Statements, note 18 "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (z) In the 2010 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text; and
- (aa) In the AIF dated March 31, 2011, the section "We may be liable for income and related taxes to our business and operations, particularly our BVI Subsidiaries, in amounts greater than the amounts we have estimated and for which we have provisioned," and associated text.
- 171. In every Impugned Document that is a financial statement, the line item "Accounts payable and accrued liabilities" and associated figures on the Consolidated Balance Sheets fails to properly account for Sino's tax accruals and is a misrepresentation, and a violation of GAAP.
- 172. During the Class Period, Sino also failed to disclose in any of the Impugned Documents that were AIFs, MD&As, financial statements, Prospectuses or Offering Memoranda, the risks relating to the repatriation of its earnings from the PRC. In 2010, Sino added two new sections to its AIF regarding the risk that it would not be able to repatriate earnings from its BVI subsidiaries (which deal with the AIs). The amount of retained earnings that may not be able to be repatriated is stated therein to be US$1.4 billion. Notwithstanding this disclosure, Sino did not disclose in these Impugned Documents that it would be unable to repatriate any earnings absent proof of payment of PRC taxes, which it has admitted that it lacks.

- (iii) Sino Misrepresents its Accounting Treatment of its AIs
- 173. In addition, there are material discrepancies in Sino's descriptions of its accounting treatment of its AIs. Beginning in the 2003 AIF, Sino described its AIs as follows:

Because of the provisions in the Operational Procedures that specify when we and the authorized intermediary assume the risks and obligations relating to the raw timber or wood chips, as the case may be, we treat these transactions for accounting purposes as providing that we take title to the raw timber when it is delivered to the authorized intermediary. Title then passes to the authorized intermediary once the timber is processed into wood chips. Accordingly, we treat the authorized intermediaries for accounting purposes as being both our suppliers and customers in these transactions.

[Emphasis added.]

174. Sino's disclosures were consistent in that regard up to and including Sino's first AIF issued in the Class Period (the 2006 AIF), which states:

Because of the provisions in the Operational Procedures that specify when we and the AI assume the risks and obligations relating to the raw timber or wood chips, as the case may be, we treat these transactions for accounting purposes as providing that we take title to the raw timber when it is delivered to the AI. Title then passes to the AI once the timber is processed into wood chips. Accordingly, we treat the AI for accounting purposes as being both our supplier and customer in these transactions.

- 175. In subsequent AIFs, Sino ceased without explanation to disclose whether it treated AIs for accounting purposes as being both the supplier and the customer.
- 176. Following the issuance of Muddy Waters' report on the last day of the Class Period, however, Sino declared publicly that Muddy Waters was "wrong" in its assertion that, for accounting purposes, Sino treated its AIs as being both supplier and customer in transactions. This claim by Sino implies either that Sino misrepresented its accounting treatment of AIs in its 2006 AIF (and in its AIFs for prior years), or that Sino changed its accounting treatment of its AIs after the issuance of its 2006 AIF. If the latter is true, then Sino was obliged by GAAP to disclose its change in its accounting treatment of its AIs. It failed to do so.

F. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Cash Flow Statements

- 177. Given the nature of Sino's operations, that of a frequent trader of standing timber, Sino improperly accounted for its purchases of timber assets as "Investments" in its Consolidated Statements Of Cash Flow. In fact, such purchases are "Inventory" within the meaning of GAAP, given the nature of Sino's business.
- 178. Additionally, Sino violated the GAAP 'matching' principle in treating timber asset purchases as "Investments" and the sale of timber assets as "Inventory": cash flow that came into the company was treated as cash flow from operations, but cash flow that was spent by Sino was treated as cash flow for investments. As a result, "Additions to timber holding" was improperly treated as a "Cash Flows Used In Investing Activities" instead of "Cash Flows From Operating Activities" and the item "Depletion of timber holdings included in cost of sales" should not be included in "Cash Flows From Operating Activities," because it is not a cash item.
- 179. The effect of these misstatements is that Sino's Cash Flows From Operating Activities were materially overstated throughout the Class Period, which created the impression that Sino was a far more successful cash generator than it was. Such mismatching and misclassification is a violation of GAAP.
- 180. Cash Flows From Operating Activities are one of the crucial metrics used by the financial analysts who followed Sino's performance. These misstatements were designed to, and did, have the effect of causing such analysts to materially overstate the value of Sino. This material overstatement was incorporated into various research reports made available to the Class Members, the market and the public at large.

- 181. Matching is a foundational requirement of GAAP reporting. E&Y and BDO were aware, at all material times, that Sino was required to adhere to the matching principle. If E&Y and BDO had conducted GAAS-complaint audits, they would have been aware that Sino's reporting was not GAAP compliant with regard to the matching principle. Accordingly, if they had conducted GAAS-compliant audits, the statements by E&Y and BDO that Sino's reporting was GAAP-compliant were not only false, but were made, at a minimum, recklessly.
- 182. Further, at all material times, E&Y and BDO were aware that misstatements in Cash Flows From Operating Activities would materially impact the market's valuation of Sino.
- 183. Accordingly, in every Impugned Document that is a financial statement, the Consolidated Statements Of Cash Flow are a misrepresentation and, particularly, the Cash Flows From Operating Activities item and associated figures is materially overstated, the "additions to timber holdings" item and figures is required to be listed as Cash Flows From Operating Activities, and the "depletion of timber holdings included in cost of sales" item and figures should not have been included.

G. Misrepresentations relating to Certain Risks to which Sino was exposed

- (i) Sino is conducting "business activities" in China
- 184. At material times, PRC law required foreign entities engaging in "business activities" in the PRC to register to obtain and maintain a license. Violation of this requirement could have resulted in both administrative sanctions and criminal punishment, including banning the unlicensed business activities, confiscating illegal income and properties used exclusively therefor, and/or an administrative fines of no more than RMB 500,000. Possible criminal punishment included a criminal fine from 1 to 5 times the amount of the profits gained.
- 185. Consequently, were Sino's BVI subsidiaries to have been engaged in unlicensed in "business activities" in the PRC during the Class Period, they would have been exposed to risks that were highly material to Sino.
- 186. Under PRC law, the term "business activities" generally encompasses any for-profit activities, and Sino's BVI subsidiaries were in fact engaged in unlicensed "business activities" in the PRC during the Class Period. However, Sino did not disclose this fact in any of the Impugned Documents, including in its AIFs for 2008-2010, which purported to make full disclosure of the material risks to which Sino was then exposed.
  - (ii) Sino fails to disclose that no proceeds were paid to it by its AIs
- 187. In the Second Report, Sino belatedly revealed that:

In practice, proceeds from the Entrusted Sale Agreements are not paid to SF but are held by the AIs as instructed by SF and subsequently used to pay for further purchases of standing timber by the same or other BVIs. The AIs will continue to hold these proceeds until the Company instructs the AIs to use these proceeds to pay for new BVI standing timber purchases. No proceeds are directly paid to the Company, either onshore or offshore.

[Emphasis added]

- 188. This material fact was never disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents during the Class Period. On the contrary, Sino made the following statements during the Class Period in relation to the proceeds paid to it by its AIs, each of which was materially misleading and therefore a misrepresentation:
  - (a) In the 2005 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of wood chips and standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other PRC liabilities" [emphasis added];
  - (b) In the 2006 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
  - (c) In the 2006 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of wood chips and standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added];
  - (d) In the 2007 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi;"
  - (e) In the 2008 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added];
  - (f) In the 2009 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added]; and

(g) In the 2010 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added].

H. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's GAAP Compliance and the Auditors' GAAS Compliance

- (i) Sino, Chan and Horsley misrepresent that Sino complied with GAAP
- 189. In each of its Class Period financial statements, Sino represented that its financial reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 190. In particular, Sino misrepresented in those financial statements that it was GAAP-compliant as follows:
  - (a) In the annual statements filed on March 19, 2007, at Note 1: "These consolidated financial statements Sino-Forest Corporation (the "Company") have been prepared in United States dollars in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";

- 191. In each of its Class Period MD&As, Sino represented that its reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 192. In particular, Sino misrepresented in those MD&As that it was GAAP-compliant as follows:

- 193. In the Offerings, Sino represented that its reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 194. In particular, Sino misrepresented in the Offerings that it was GAAP-compliant as follows:
  - (a) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada" and "Each of the foregoing reports or financial statements will be prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles other than for reports prepared for financial periods commencing on or after January 1, 2011 [...]";

- (b) In the June 2009 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada," "The audited and unaudited consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP," "Our audited and consolidated financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2007 and 2008 and our unaudited interim consolidated financial statements for the three-month periods ended March 31, 2008 and 2009 have been prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP";
- (c) In the June 2009 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada" and "The audited and unaudited consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP"; and
- (d) In the October 2010 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada," "The audited and unaudited consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP," "Our audited and consolidated financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2007, 2008 and 2009 and our unaudited interim consolidated financial statements for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2009 and 2010 have been prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP."

- 195. In the Class Period Management's Reports, Chan and Horsley represented that Sino's reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 196. In particular, Chan and Horsley misrepresented in those Management's Reports that Sino's financial statements were GAAP-compliant as follows:
  - (a) In the annual statements filed on March 19, 2007 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (b) In the annual financial statements filed on March 18, 2008 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (c) In the annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2009 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (d) In the annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2010 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles"; and
  - (e) In the annual financial statements filed on March 15, 2011 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles."

- (ii) E&Y and BDO misrepresent that Sino complied with GAAP and that they complied with GAAS
- 197. In each of Sino's Class Period annual financial statements, E&Y or BDO, as the case may be, represented that Sino's reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein. In addition, in each such annual financial statement, E&Y and BDO, as the case may be, represented that they had conducted their audit in compliance with GAAS, which was a misrepresentation because they did not in fact conduct their audits in accordance with GAAS.
- 198. In particular, E&Y and BDO misrepresented that Sino's financial statements were GAAP-compliant and that they had conducted their audits in compliance with GAAS as follows:
  - (a) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 19, 2007, BDO stated: "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (b) In the June 2007 Prospectus, BDO stated: "We have complied with Canadian generally accepted standards for an auditor's involvement with offering documents";
  - (c) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 18, 2008, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The financial statements as at December 31, 2006 and for the year then ended were audited by other auditors who expressed an opinion without reservation on those statements in their report dated March 19, 2007";

- (d) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum, BDO stated: "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles" and E&Y stated "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
- (e) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2009, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2008 and 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
- (f) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2010, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2009 and 2008 and the results of its operations and its cash flows

- for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles"; and
- (g) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 15, 2011, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards." and "In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sino-Forest corporation as at December 31, 2010 and 2009 and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles."
- (iii) The Market Relied on Sino's Purported GAAP-compliance and E&Y's and BDO's purported GAAS-compliance in Sino's Financial Reporting
- 199. As a public company, Sino communicated the results it claimed to have achieved to the Class Members via quarterly and annual financial results, among other disclosure documents. Sino's auditors, E&Y and BDO, as the case may be, were instrumental in the communication of Sino's financial information to the Class Members. The auditors certified that the financial statements were compliant with GAAP and that they had performed their audits in compliance with GAAS. Neither was true.
- 200. The Class Members invested in Sino's securities on the critical premise that Sino's financial statements were in fact GAAP-compliant, and that Sino's auditors had in fact conducted their audits in compliance with GAAS. Sino's reported financial results were also followed by analysts at numerous financial institutions. These analysts promptly reported to the market at large when Sino made earnings announcements, and incorporated into their Sino-related analyses and reports Sino's purportedly GAAP-compliant financial results. These analyses and reports, in turn, significantly affected the market price for Sino's securities.

201. The market, including the Class Members, would not have relied on Sino's financial reporting had the auditors disclosed that Sino's financial statements were not reliable or that they had not followed the processes that would have amply revealed that those statements were reliable.

VII. CHAN'S AND HORSLEY'S FALSE CERTIFICATIONS

- 202. Pursuant to National Instrument 52-109, the defendants Chan, as CEO, and Horsley, as CFO, were required at the material times to certify Sino's annual and quarterly MD&As and Financial Statements as well as the AIFs (and all documents incorporated into the AIFs). Such certifications included statements that the filings "do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances under which it was made" and that the reports "fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the issuer."
- 203. As particularized elsewhere herein, however, the Impugned Documents contained the Representation, which was false, as well as the other misrepresentations alleged above. Accordingly, the certifications given by Chan and Horsley were false and were themselves misrepresentations. Chan and Horsley made such false certifications knowingly or, at a minimum, recklessly.

VIII. THE TRUTH IS REVEALED

204. On June 2, 2011, Muddy Waters issued its initial report on Sino, and stated in part therein:

Sino-Forest Corp (TSE: TRE) is the granddaddy of China RTO frauds. It has always been a fraud – reporting excellent results from one of its early joint ventures – even though, because of TRE's default on its investment obligations, the JV never went into operation. TRE just lied.

The foundation of TRE's fraud is a convoluted structure whereby it claims to run most of its revenues through "authorized intermediaries" ("AI"). Als are supposedly timber trader customers who purportedly pay much of TRE's value added and income taxes. At the same time, these AIs allow TRE a gross margin of 55% on standing timber merely for TRE having speculated on trees.

The sole purpose of this structure is to fabricate sales transactions while having an excuse for not having the VAT invoices that are the mainstay of China audit work. If TRE really were processing over one billion dollars in sales through AIs, TRE and the AIs would be in serious legal trouble. No legitimate public company would take such risks – particularly because this structure has zero upside.

On the other side of the books, TRE massively exaggerates its assets. TRE significantly falsifies its investments in plantation fiber (trees). It purports to have purchased $2.891 billion in standing timber under master agreements since 2006 [...]

Valuation

Because TRE has $2.1 billion in debt outstanding, which we believe exceeds the potential recovery, we value its equity at less than $1.00 per share.

- 205. Muddy Waters' report also disclosed that (a) Sino's business is a fraudulent scheme; (b) Sino systemically overstated the value of its assets; (c) Sino failed to disclose various related party transactions; (d) Sino misstated that it had enforced high standards of governance; (e) Sino misstated that its reliance on the AIs had decreased; (f) Sino misrepresented the tax risk associated with the use of AIs; and (g) Sino failed to disclose the risks relating to repatriation of earnings from PRC.
- 206. After Muddy Waters' initial report became public, Sino shares fell to $14.46, at which point trading was halted (a decline of 20.6% from the pre-disclosure close of $18.21). When trading was allowed to resume the next day, Sino's shares fell to a close of $5.23 (a decline of 71.3% from June 1).

207. On November 13, 2011 Sino released the Second Report in redacted form. Therein, the Committee summarized its findings:

B. Overview of Principal Findings

The following sets out a very high level overview of the IC's principal findings and should be read in conjunction with the balance of this report.

Timber Ownership

The Company does not obtain registered title to BVI purchased plantations. In the case of the BVIs' plantations, the IC has visited forestry bureaus, Suppliers and AIs to seek independent evidence to establish a chain of title or payment transactions to verify such acquisitions. The purchase contracts, set-off arrangement documentation and forestry bureau confirmations constitute the documentary evidence as to the Company's contractual or other rights. The IC has been advised that the Company's rights to such plantations could be open to challenge. However, Management has advised that, to date, it is unaware of any such challenges that have not been resolved with the Suppliers in a manner satisfactory to the Company.

Forestry Bureau Confirmations and Plantation Rights Certificates

Registered title, through Plantation Rights Certificates is not available in the jurisdictions (i.e. cities and counties) examined by the IC Advisors for standing timber that is held without land use/lease rights. Therefore the Company was not able to obtain Plantation Rights Certificates for its BVIs standing timber assets in those areas. In these circumstances, the Company sought confirmations from the relevant local forestry bureau acknowledging its rights to the standing timber.

The IC Advisors reviewed forestry bureau confirmations for virtually all BVIs assets and non-Mandra WFOE purchased plantations held as at December 31, 2010. The IC Advisors, in meetings organized by Management, met with a sample of forestry bureaus with a view to obtaining verification of the Company's rights to standing timber in those jurisdictions. The result of such meetings to date have concluded with the forestry bureaus or related entities having issued new confirmations as to the Company's contractual rights to the Company in respect of 111,177 Ha. as of December 31, 2010 and 133,040 Ha. as of March 31, 2011, and have acknowledged the issuance of existing confirmations issued to the Company as to certain rights, among other things, in respect of 113,058 Ha. as of December 31, 2010.

Forestry bureau confirmations are not officially recognized documents and are not issued pursuant to a legislative mandate or, to the knowledge of the IC, a published policy. It appears they were issued at the request of the Company or its Suppliers. The confirmations are not title documents, in the Western sense of that term, although the IC believes they should be viewed as comfort indicating the relevant forestry bureau does not dispute SF's claims to the standing timber to which they relate and might provide comfort in case of disputes. The purchase contracts are the primary evidence of the Company's interest in timber assets.

In the meetings with forestry bureaus, the IC Advisors did not obtain significant insight into the internal authorization or diligence processes undertaken by the forestry bureaus in issuing confirmations and, as reflected elsewhere in this report, the IC did not have visibility into or complete comfort regarding the methods by which those confirmations were obtained. It should be noted that several Suppliers observed that SF was more demanding than other buyers in requiring forestry bureau confirmations.

Book Value of Timber

Based on its review to date, the IC is satisfied that the book value of the BVIs timber assets of $2.476 billion reflected on its 2010 Financial Statements and of SP WFOE standing timber assets of $298.6 million reflected in its 2010 Financial Statements reflects the purchase prices for such assets as set out in the BVIs and WFOE standing timber purchase contracts reviewed by the IC Advisors. Further, the purchase prices for such BVIs timber assets have been reconciled to the Company's financial statements based on set-off documentation relating to such contracts that were reviewed by the IC. However, these comments are also subject to the conclusions set out above under "Timber Ownership" on title and other rights to plantation assets.

The IC Advisors reviewed documentation acknowledging the execution of the set-off arrangements between Suppliers, the Company and AIs for the 2006-2010 period. However, the IC Advisors were unable to review any documentation of AIs or Suppliers which independently verified movements of cash in connection with such set-off arrangements between Suppliers, the Company and the AIs used to settle purchase prices paid to Suppliers by AIs on behalf of SF. We note also that the independent valuation referred to in Part VIII below has not yet been completed.

Revenue Reconciliation

As reported in its First Interim Report, the IC has reconciled reported 2010 total revenue to the sales prices in BVIs timber sales contracts, together with macro customer level data from other businesses. However, the IC was unable to review any documentation of AIs or Suppliers which independently verified movements of cash in connection with set-off arrangements used to settle purchase prices paid, or sale proceeds received by, or on behalf of SF.

Relationships

- Yuda Wood: The IC is satisfied that Mr. Huang Ran is not currently an employee of the Company and that Yuda Wood is not a subsidiary of the Company. However, there is evidence suggesting close cooperation (including administrative assistance, possible payment of capital at the time of establishment, joint control of certain of Yuda Wood's RMB bank accounts and the numerous emails indicating coordination of funding and other business activities). Management has explained these arrangements were mechanisms that allowed the Company to monitor its interest in the timber transactions. Further, Huang Ran (a Yuda Wood employee) has an ownership and/or directorship in a number of Suppliers (See Section VI.B). The IC Advisors have been introduced to persons identified as influential backers of Yuda Wood but were unable to determine the relationships, if any, of such persons with Yuda Wood, the Company or other Suppliers or AIs. Management explanations of a number of Yuda Wood-related emails and answers to E&Y's questions are being reviewed by the IC and may not be capable of independent verification.
- Other: The IC's review has identified other situations which require further review. These situations suggest that the Company may have close relationships with certain Suppliers, and certain Suppliers and AIs may have crossownership and other relationships with each other. The IC notes that in the interviews conducted by the IC with selected AIs and Suppliers, all such parties represented that they were independent of SF. Management has very recently provided information and analysis intended to explain these situations. The IC is reviewing this material from Management and intends to report its findings in this regard in its final report to the Board. Some of such information and explanations may not be capable of independent verification.
- Accounting Considerations: To the extent that any of SF's purchase and sale transactions are with related parties for accounting purposes, the value of these transactions as recorded on the books and records of the Company may be impacted.

BVI Structure

The BVI structure used by SF to purchase and sell standing timber assets could be challenged by the relevant Chinese authorities as the undertaking of "business activities" within China by foreign companies, which may only be undertaken by entities established within China with the requisite approvals. However, there is no clear definition of what constitutes "business activities" under Chinese law and there are different views among the IC's Chinese counsel and the Company's Chinese counsel as to whether the purchase and sale of timber in China as undertaken by the BVIs could be considered to constitute "business activities" within China. In the event that the relevant Chinese authorities consider the BVIs to be undertaking "business activities" within China, they may be required to cease such activities and could be subject to other regulatory action. As regularization of foreign businesses in China is an ongoing process, the government has in the past tended to allow foreign companies time to restructure their operations in accordance with regulatory requirements (the cost of which is uncertain), rather than enforcing the laws strictly and imposing penalties without notice. See Section II.B.2

C. Challenges

Throughout its process, the IC has encountered numerous challenges in its attempts to implement a robust independent process which would yield reliable results. Among those challenges are the following:

- (a) Chinese Legal Regime for Forestry:
- national laws and policies appear not yet to be implemented at all local levels;
- in practice, none of the local jurisdictions tested in which BVIs hold standing timber appears to have instituted a government registry and documentation system for the ownership of standing timber as distinct from a government registry system for the ownership of plantation land use rights;
- the registration of plantation land use rights, the issue of Plantation Rights Certificates and the establishment of registries, is incomplete in some jurisdictions based on the information available to the IC;
- as a result, title to standing timber, when not held in conjunction with a land use right, cannot be definitively proven by reference to a government maintained register; and
- Sino-Forest has requested confirmations from forestry bureaus of its acquisition of timber holdings (excluding land leases) as additional evidence of ownership. Certain forestry bureaus and Suppliers have indicated the confirmation was beyond the typical diligence practice in China for acquisition of timber holdings.
- (b) Obtaining Information from Third Parties: For a variety of reasons, all of them outside the control of the IC, it is very difficult to obtain information from third parties in China. These reasons include the following:
- many of the third parties from whom the IC wanted information (e.g., AIs, Suppliers and forestry bureaus) are not compellable by the Company or Canadian legal processes;
- third parties appeared to have concerns relating to disclosure of information regarding their operations that could become public or fall into the hands of

Chinese government authorities: many third parties explained their reluctance to provide requested documentation and information as being "for tax reasons" but declined to elaborate; and

• awareness of MW allegations, investigations and information gathering by the OSC and other parties, and court proceedings; while not often explicitly articulated, third parties had an awareness of the controversy surrounding SF and a reluctance to be associated with any of these allegations or drawn into any of these processes.

- (e) Corporate Governance/Operational Weaknesses: Management has asserted that business in China is based upon relationships. The IC and the IC Advisors have observed this through their efforts to obtain meetings with forestry bureaus, Suppliers and AIs and their other experience in China. The importance of relationships appears to have resulted in dependence on a relatively small group of Management who are integral to maintaining customer relationships, negotiating and finalizing the purchase and sale of plantation fibre contracts and the settlement of accounts receivable and accounts payable associated with plantation fibre contracts. This concentration of authority or lack of segregation of duties has been previously disclosed by the Company as a control weakness. As a result and as disclosed in the 2010 MD&A, senior Management in their ongoing evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures and internal controls over financial reporting, recognizing the disclosed weakness, determined that the design and controls were ineffective. The Chairman and Chief Financial Officer provided annual and quarterly certifications of their regulatory filings. Related to this weakness the following challenges presented themselves in the examination by the IC and the IC Advisors:
- operational and administration systems that are generally not sophisticated having regard to the size and complexity of the Company's business and in relation to North American practices; including:
  - incomplete or inadequate record creation and retention practices;
  - contracts not maintained in a central location:
  - significant volumes of data maintained across multiple locations on decentralized servers;
  - data on some servers in China appearing to have been deleted on an irregular basis, and there is no back-up system;
  - no integrated accounting system: accounting data is not maintained on a single, consolidated application, which can require extensive manual procedures to produce reports; and

- a treasury function that was centralized for certain major financial accounts, but was not actively involved in the control or management of numerous local operations bank accounts;
- no internal audit function although there is evidence the Company has undertaken and continues to assess its disclosure controls and procedures and internal controls over financial reporting using senior Management and independent control consultants;
- SF employees conduct Company affairs from time to time using personal devices and non-corporate email addresses which have been observed to be shared across groups of staff and changed on a periodic and organized basis; this complicated and delayed the examination of email data by the IC Advisors; and
- lack of full cooperation/openness in the ICs examination from certain members of Management.
- (f) Complexity, Lack of Visibility into, and Limitations of BVIs Model: The use of AIs and Suppliers as an essential feature of the BVIs standing timber business model contributes to the lack of visibility into title documentation, cash movements and tax liability since cash settlement in respect of the BVIs standing timber transactions takes place outside of the Company's books.
- (g) Cooperation and openness of the Company's executives throughout the process: From the outset, the IC Advisors sought the full cooperation and support of Allen Chan and the executive management team. Initially, the executive management team appeared ill-prepared to address the IC's concerns in an organized fashion and there was perhaps a degree of culture shock as Management adjusted to the IC Advisors' examination. In any event, significant amounts of material information, particularly with respect to the relationship with Yuda Wood, interrelationships between Als and/or Suppliers, were not provided to the IC Advisors as requested. In late August 2011 on the instructions of the IC, interviews of Management were conducted by the IC Advisors in which documents evidencing these connections were put to the Management for explanation. As a result of these interviews (which were also attended by BJ) the Company placed certain members of Management on administrative leave upon the advice of Company counsel. At the same time the OSC made allegations in the CTO of Management misconduct.

(h) Independence of the IC Process: The cooperation and collaboration of the IC with Management (operating under the direction of the new Chief Executive Officer) and with Company counsel in completing certain aspects of the IC's mandate has been noted by the OSC and by E&Y. Both have questioned the degree of independence of the IC from Management as a result of this interaction. The IC has explained the practical impediments to its work in the context of the distinct business culture (and associated issues of privacy) in the forestry sector in China in which the Company operates. Cooperation of third parties in Hong Kong and China, including employees, depends heavily on relationships and trust. As noted above, the Company's placing certain members of Management on administrative leave, as well as the OSC's allegations in the CTO, further hampered the IC's ability to conduct its process. As a result, the work of the IC was frequently done with the assistance of, or in reliance on, the new Chief Executive Officer and his Management team and Company counsel. Given that Mr. Martin was, in effect, selected by the IC and BJ was appointed in late June 2011, the IC concluded that, while not ideal, this was a practical and appropriate way to proceed in the circumstances. As evidenced by the increased number of scheduled meetings with forestry bureaus, Suppliers and AIs, and, very recently, the delivery to the IC of information regarding AIs and Suppliers and relationships among the Company and such parties, it is acknowledged that Mr. Martin's involvement in the process has been beneficial. It is also acknowledged that in executing his role and assisting the IC he has had to rely on certain of the members of Management who had been placed on administrative leave.

208. On January 31, 2012, Sino released the Final Report. In material part, it read:

This Final Report of the IC sets out the activities undertaken by the IC since mid-November, the findings from such activities and the IC's conclusions regarding its examination and review. The IC's activities during this period have been limited as a result of Canadian and Chinese holidays (Christmas, New Year and Chinese New Year) and the extensive involvement of IC members in the Company's Restructuring and Audit Committees, both of which are advised by different advisors than those retained by the IC. The IC believes that, notwithstanding there remain issues which have not been fully answered, the work of the IC is now at the point of diminishing returns because much of the information which it is seeking lies with non-compellable third parties, may not exist or is apparently not retrievable from the records of the Company.

In December 2011, the Company defaulted under the indentures relating to its outstanding bonds with the result that its resources are now more focused on dealing with its bondholders. This process is being overseen by the Restructuring Committee appointed by the Board. Pursuant to the Waiver Agreement dated January 18, 2012 between the Company and the holders of a majority of the principal amount of its 2014 Notes, the Company agreed, among other things, that the final report of the IC to the Board would be made public by January 31, 2012.

Given the circumstances described above, the IC understands that, with the delivery of this Final Report, its review and examination activities are terminated. the IC does not expect to undertake further work other than assisting with responses to regulators and the RCMP as required and engaging in such further specific activities as the IC may deem advisable or the Board may instruct. The IC has asked the IC Advisors to remain available to assist and advise the IC upon its instructions.

II. RELATIONSHIPS

The objectives of the IC's examination of the Company's relationships with its Als and Suppliers were to determine, in light of the MW allegations, if such relationships are arm's length and to obtain, if possible, independent verification of the cash flows underlying the set-off transactions described in Section II.A of the Second Interim Report. That the Company's relationships with its Als and Suppliers be arm's length is relevant to SF's ability under GAAP to:

- book its timber assets at cost in its 2011 and prior years' financial statements, both audited and unaudited
- recognize revenue from standing timber sales as currently reflected in its 2011 and prior years' financial statements, both audited and unaudited.

A. Yuda Wood

Yuda Wood was founded in April 2006 and was until 2010 a Supplier of SF. Its business with SF from 2007 to 2010 totalled approximately 152,164 Ha and RMB 4.94 billion. Section VI.A and Schedule VI.A.2(a) of the Second Interim Report described the MW allegations relating to Yuda Wood, the review conducted by the IC and its findings to date. The IC concluded that Huang Ran is not currently an employee, and that Yuda Wood is not a subsidiary, of the Company. However, there is evidence suggesting a close cooperation between SF and Yuda Wood which the IC had asked Management to explain. At the time the Second Interim Report was issued, the IC was continuing to review Management's explanations of a number of Yuda Wood-related emails and certain questions arising therefrom.

Subsequent to the issuance of its Second Interim Report in mid-November, the IC, with the assistance of the IC Advisors, has reviewed the Management responses provided to date relating to Yuda Wood and has sought further explanations and documentary support for such explanations. This was supplementary to the activities of the Audit Committee of SF and its advisors who have had during this period primary carriage of examining Management's responses on the interactions of SF and Yuda Wood. While many answers and explanations have been obtained, the IC believes that they are not yet sufficient to allow it to fully understand the nature and scope of the relationship between SF and Yuda Wood. Accordingly, based on the information it has obtained, the IC is still unable to independently verify that the relationship of Yuda Wood is at arm's length to SF. It is to be noted that Management is of the view that Yuda Wood is unrelated to SF for accounting purposes. The IC remains satisfied that Yuda is not a subsidiary of SF. Management continues to undertake work related to Yuda

Wood, including seeking documentation from third parties and responding to emails where the responses are not yet complete or prepared. Management has provided certain banking records to the Audit Committee that the Audit Committee advises support Management's position that SF did not capitalize Yuda Wood (but that review is not yet completed). The IC anticipates that Management will continue to work with the Audit Committee, Company counsel and E&Y on these issues.

B. Other Relationships

Section VI.B.1 of the Second Interim Report described certain other relationships which had been identified in the course of the IC's preparation for certain interviews with AIs and Suppliers. These relationships include (i) thirteen Suppliers where former SF employees, consultants or secondees are or have been directors, officers and/or shareholders (including Yuda Wood); (ii) an AI with a former SF employee in a senior position; (iii) potential relationships between AIs and Suppliers; (iv) set-off payments for BVI standing timber purchases being made by companies that are not AIs and other setoff arrangements involving non-AI entities; (v) payments by AIs to potentially connected Suppliers; and (vi) sale of standing timber to an AI potentially connected to a Supplier of that timber. Unless expressly addressed herein, the IC has no further update of a material nature on the items raised above.

On the instructions of the IC, the IC Advisors gave the details of these possible relationships to Management for further follow up and explanation. Just prior to the Second Interim Report, Management provided information regarding AIs and Suppliers relationships among the Company and such parties.

This information was in the form of a report dated November 10, 2011, subsequently updated on November 21, 2011 and January 20, 2012 (the latest version being the "Kaitong Report") prepared by Kaitong Law Firm ("Kaitong"), a Chinese law firm which advises the Company. The Kaitong Report has been separately delivered to the Board. Kaitong has advised that much of the information in the Kaitong Report was provided by Management and has not been independently verified by such law firm or the IC.

The Kaitong Report generally describes certain relationships amongst AIs and Suppliers and certain relationships between their personnel and Sino-Forest, either identified by Management or through SAIC and other searches. The Kaitong Report also specifically addresses certain relationships identified in the Second Interim Report. The four main areas of information in the Kaitong Report are as follows and are discussed in more detail below:

(i) Backers to Suppliers and AIs: The Kaitong Report explains the concept of "backers" to both Suppliers and AIs. The Kaitong Report suggests that backers are individuals with considerable influence in political, social or business circles, or all three. The Kaitong Report also states that such backers or their identified main business entities do not generally appear in SAIC filings by the Suppliers or Als as shareholders thereof and, in most instances, in any other capacity.

- (ii) Suppliers and AIs with Former SF Personnel: The appendices to the Kaitong Report list certain Suppliers that have former SF personnel as current shareholders.
- (iii) Common Shareholders Between Suppliers and AIs: The Kaitong Report states that there are 5 Suppliers and 3 AIs with current common shareholders but there is no cross majority ownership positions between Suppliers and AIs.
- (iv) Transactions Involving Suppliers and AIs that have Shareholders in common: The Kaitong Report states that, where SF has had transactions with Suppliers and AIs that have certain current shareholders in common as noted above, the subject timber in those transactions is not the same; that is, the timber which SF buys from such Suppliers and the timber which SF sells to such AIs are located in different counties or provinces.

The IC Advisors have reviewed the Kaitong Report on behalf of the IC. The IC Advisors liaised with Kaitong and met with Kaitong and current and former Management. A description of the Kaitong Report and the IC's findings and comments are summarized below. By way of summary, the Kaitong Report provides considerable information regarding relationships among Suppliers and AIs, and between them and SF, but much of this information related to the relationship of each backer with the associated Suppliers and AIs is not supported by any documentary or other independent evidence. As such, some of the information provided is unverified and, particularly as it relates to the nature of the relationships with the backers, is viewed by the IC to be likely unverifiable by it.

Given the general lack of information on the backers or the nature and scope of the relationships between the Suppliers or AIs and their respective backers and the absence of any documentary support or independent evidence of such relationships, the IC has been unable to reach any conclusion as to the existence, nature or importance of such relationships. As a result, the IC is unable to assess the implications, if any, of these backers with respect to SF's relationships with its Suppliers or AIs. Based on its experience to date, including interviews with Suppliers and AIs involving persons who have now been identified as backers in the Kaitong Report, the IC believes that it would be very difficult for the IC Advisors to arrange interviews with either the AIs or Suppliers or their respective backers and, if arranged, that such interviews would yield very little, if any, verifiable information to such advisors. The IC understands Management is continuing to seek meetings with its AIs and Suppliers with the objective of obtaining information, to the extent such is available, that will provide further background to the relationships to the Audit Committee.

2. Suppliers and AIs with Former SF Personnel

The Appendices to the Kaitong Report list the Suppliers with former SF personnel as current shareholders. According to the information previously obtained by the IC Advisors, the identification of former SF personnel indicated in the Kaitong Report to be current shareholders of past or current Suppliers is correct.

(a) Suppliers with former SF personnel

The Kaitong Report, which is limited to examining Suppliers where ex-SF employees are current shareholders as shown in SAIC filings, does not provide material new information concerning Suppliers where former SF employees were identified by the IC in the Second Interim Report as having various past or present connections to current or former Suppliers except that the Kaitong Report provides an explanation of two transactions identified in the Second Interim Report. These involved purchases of standing timber by SF from Suppliers controlled by persons who were employees of SF at the time of these transactions. Neither of the Suppliers have been related to an identified backer in the Kaitong Report. The explanations are similar indicating that neither of the SF employees was an officer in charge of plantation purchases or one of SF's senior management at the time of the transactions. The employees in question were Shareholder #14 in relation to a RMB 49 million purchase from Supplier #18 in December 2007 (shown in SAIC filings to be 100% owned by him) and Shareholder #20 in relation to a RMB 3.3 million purchase from Supplier #23 (shown in SAIC filings to be 70% owned by him) in October 2007. The Kaitong Report indicates Shareholder #20 is a current employee of SF who then had responsibilities in SF's wood board production business.

The IC is not aware that the employees' ownership positions were brought to the attention of the Board at the time of the transactions or, subsequently, until the publication of the Second Interim Report and understands the Audit Committee will consider such information.

(b) AIs with former SF personnel

The Kaitong Report indicates that no SF employees are listed in SAIC filing reports as current shareholders of AIs. Except as noted herein, the IC agrees with this statement. The Kaitong Report does not address the apparent role of an exemployee Officer #3 who was introduced to the IC as the person in charge of AI #2 by Backer #5 of AI Conglomerate #1. Backer #5 is identified in the Kaitong Report as a backer of two AIs, including AI#2. (The Kaitong Report properly does not include AI #14. as an AI for this purpose, whose 100% shareholder is former SF employee Officer #3. However, the IC is satisfied that the activities of this entity primarily relate to certain onshoring transactions that facilitated the transfer of SF BVI timber assets to SF WFOE subsidiaries.)

There was one other instance where a past shareholding relationship has been identified between an AI #10 and persons who were previously or are still shown on the SF human resources records, Shareholder #26 and Shareholder #27. Management has explained that such entity sold wood board processing and other assets to SF and that the persons associated with that company consulted with SF after such sale in relation to the purchased wood board processing assets. Such entity subsequently also undertook material timber purchases as an AI of SF in 2007-2008 over a time period in which such persons are shown as shareholders of such AI in the SAIC filing reviewed (as to 47.5% for Shareholder #26 and as to 52.5% for Shareholder #27). That time period also intersects the time that Shareholder #26 is shown in such human resources records and partially intersects the time that Shareholder #27 is shown on such records. Management has also explained that Shareholder #26 subsequent to the time of such AI sales became an employee of a SF wood board processing subsidiary. Management has provided certain documentary evidence of its explanations. The IC understands that the Audit Committee will consider this matter.

3. Common Shareholders between Supplier and AIs

The Kaitong Report states that there are 5 Suppliers and 3 Als that respectively have certain common current shareholders but also states that there is no cross control by those current shareholders of such Suppliers or AIs based on SAIC filings. The Kaitong Report correctly addresses current cross shareholdings in Suppliers and AIs based on SAIC filings but does not address certain other shareholdings. With the exception of one situation of cross control in the past, the IC has not identified a circumstance in the SAIC filings reviewed where the same person controlled a Supplier at the time it controlled a different AI. The one exception is that from April 2002 to February 2006, AI #13 is shown in SAIC filings as the 90% shareholder of Supplier/AI #14. AI #13 did business with SF BVIs from 2005 through 2007 and Supplier/AI #14 supplied SF BVIs from 2004 through 2006. However, the IC to date has only identified one contract involving timber bought from Supplier/AI #14 that was subsequently sold to AI #13. It involved a parcel of 2,379 Ha. timber sold to AI #13 in December 2005 that originated from a larger timber purchase contract with Supplier/AI #14 Management has provided an explanation for this earlier that vear. transaction. The IC understands that the Audit Committee will consider this matter.

4. Transactions involving Suppliers and AIs with Current Shareholders in Common

The Kaitong Report states that where SF has had transactions with 5 Suppliers and 3 AIs that have current shareholders in common (but no one controlling shareholder) as shown in SAIC filings, the subject timber in the transactions they each undertook with SF is not the same; that is, the timber which SF buys from the Suppliers and the timber which SF sells to the AIs where the Supplier and AI have a current common shareholder were located in different areas and do not involve the same plots of timber. The Kaitong Report further states that where SF has had transactions with 5 Suppliers and 3 AIs with current shareholders in common as shown in SAIC filings, SF had transactions with those AIs prior to having transactions with those Suppliers, thus SF was not overstating its transactions by buying and selling to the same counterparties.

The Kaitong Report does not specifically address historical situations involving common shareholders and potential other interconnections between Als and Suppliers that may appear as a result of the identification of backers. There is generally no ownership connection shown in SAIC filings between backers and the Suppliers and Als associated with such backers in the Kaitong Report.

VI. OUTSTANDING MATTERS

As noted in Section I above, the IC understands that with the delivery of this report, its examination and review activities are terminated. The IC would expect its next steps may include only:

- (a) assisting in responses to regulators and RCMP as required; and
- (b) such other specific activities as it may deem advisable or the Board may instruct.

IX. SINO REWARDS ITS EXPERTS

209. Bowland, Hyde and West are former E&Y partners and employees. They served on Sino's Audit Committee but purported to exercise oversight of their former E&Y colleagues. In addition, Sino's Vice-President, Finance (Corporate), Thomas M. Maradin, is a former E&Y employee.

- 210. The charter of Sino's Audit Committee required that Ardell, Bowland, Hyde and West "review and take action to eliminate all factors that might impair, or be perceived to impair, the independence of the Auditor." Sino's practice of appointing E&Y personnel to its board and paying them handsomely (for example, Hyde was paid $163,623 by Sino in 2010, $115,962 in 2009, $57,000 in 2008 and $55,875 in 2007, plus options and other compensation) undermined the Audit Committee's oversight of E&Y.
- 211. E&Y's independence was impaired by the significant non-audit fees it was paid during 2008-2010, which total $712,000 in 2008, $1,225,000 in 2009 and $992,000 in 2010.
- 212. Further, Andrew Fyfe, the former Asia-Pacific President for Pöyry Forestry Industry Ltd, was appointed Chief Operating Officer of Greenheart, and is the director of several Sino subsidiaries. Fyfe signed the Pöyry valuation report dated June 30, 2004, March 22, 2005, March 23, 2006, March 14, 2008 and April 1, 2009.
- 213. George Ho, Sino's Vice President, Finance (China), is a former Senior Manager of the BDO.

X. THE DEFENDANTS' RELATIONSHIP TO THE CLASS

- 214. By virtue of their purported accounting, financial and/or managerial acumen and qualifications, and by virtue of their having assumed, voluntarily and for profit, the role of gatekeepers, the Defendants had a duty at common law, informed by the Securities Legislation and/or the CBCA, to exercise care and diligence to ensure that the Impugned Documents fairly and accurately disclosed Sino's financial condition and performance in accordance with GAAP.
- 215. Sino is a reporting issuer and had an obligation to make timely, full, true and accurate disclosure of material facts and changes with respect to its business and affairs.

- 216. The Individual Defendants, by virtue of their positions as senior officers and/or directors of Sino, owed a duty to the Class Members to ensure that public statements on behalf of Sino were not untrue, inaccurate or misleading. The continuous disclosure requirements in Canadian securities law mandated that Sino provide the Impugned Documents, including quarterly and annual financial statements. These documents were meant to be read by Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the secondary market and to be relied on by them in making investment decisions. This public disclosure was prepared to attract investment, and Sino and the Individual Defendants intended that Class Members would rely on public disclosure for that purpose. With respect to Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda, these documents were prepared for primary market purchasers. They include detailed content as mandated under Canadian securities legislation, national instruments and OSC rules. They were meant to be read by the Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the primary market, and to be relied on by them in making decisions about whether to purchase the shares or notes under the Offerings to which these Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda related.
- 217. Chan and Horsley had statutory obligations under Canadian securities law to ensure the accuracy of disclosure documents and provided certifications in respect of the annual reports, financial statements and Prospectuses during the Class Period. The other Individual Defendants were directors of Sino during the Class Period and each had a statutory obligation as a director under the CBCA to manage or supervise the management of the business and affairs of Sino. These Individual Defendants also owed a statutory duty of care to shareholders under section 122 of the CBCA. In addition, Poon, along with Chan, co-founded Sino and has been its president since 1994. He is intimately aware of Sino's operations and as a long-standing senior officer, he had an obligation to ensure proper disclosure. Poon authorized, permitted or acquiesced in the release of the Impugned Documents.

- 218. BDO and E&Y acted as Sino's auditors and provided audit reports in Sino's annual financial statements that were directed to shareholders. These audit reports specified that BDO and E&Y had conducted an audit in accordance with GAAS, which was untrue, and included their opinions that the financial statements presented fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sino, the results of operations and Sino's cash flows, in accordance with GAAP. BDO and E&Y knew and intended that Class Members would rely on the audit reports and assurances about the material accuracy of the financial statements.
- 219. Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD each signed one or more of the Prospectuses and certified that, to the best of its knowledge, information and belief, the particular prospectus, together with the documents incorporated therein by reference, constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the securities offered thereby. These defendants knew that the Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the primary market would rely on these assurances and the trustworthiness that would be credited to the Prospectuses because of their involvement. Further, those Class Members that purchased shares under these Prospectuses purchased their shares from these defendants as principals.
- 220. Credit Suisse USA, TD and Banc of America acted as initial purchasers or dealer managers for one or more of the note Offerings. These defendants knew that persons purchasing these notes would rely on the trustworthiness that would be credited to the Offering Memoranda because of their involvement.

XI. THE PLAINTIFFS' CAUSES OF ACTION

A. Negligent Misrepresentation

- 221. As against all Defendants except Pöyry and the Underwriters, and on behalf of all Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the secondary market, the Plaintiffs plead negligent misrepresentation for all of the Impugned Documents except the Offering Memoranda.
- Labourers and Wong, on behalf of Class Members who purchased Sino Securities in one of the distributions to which a Prospectus related, plead negligent misrepresentation as against Sino, Chan, Horsley, Poon, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, BDO, E&Y, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD for the Prospectuses.
- 223. Grant, on behalf of Class Members who purchased Sino Securities in one of the distributions to which an Offering Memorandum related, pleads negligent misrepresentation as against Sino, BDO and E&Y for the Offering Memoranda.
- 224. In support of these claims, the sole misrepresentation that the Plaintiffs plead is the Representation. The Representation is contained in the language relating to GAAP particularized above, and was untrue for the reasons particularized elsewhere herein.
- 225. The Impugned Documents were prepared for the purpose of attracting investment and inducing members of the investing public to purchase Sino securities. The Defendants knew and intended at all material times that those documents had been prepared for that purpose, and that the Class Members would rely reasonably and to their detriment upon such documents in making the decision to purchase Sino securities.
- 226. The Defendants further knew and intended that the information contained in the Impugned Documents would be incorporated into the price of Sino's publicly traded securities such that the trading price of those securities would at all times reflect the information contained in the Impugned Documents.

- 227. As set out elsewhere herein, the Defendants, other than Pöyry, Credit Suisse USA and Banc of America, had a duty at common law to exercise care and diligence to ensure that the Impugned Documents fairly and accurately disclosed Sino's financial condition and performance in accordance with GAAP.
- 228. These Defendants breached that duty by making the Representation as particularized above.
- 229. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members directly or indirectly relied upon the Representation in making a decision to purchase the securities of Sino, and suffered damages when the falsity of the Representation was revealed on June 2, 2011.
- 230. Alternatively, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members relied upon the Representation by the act of purchasing Sino securities in an efficient market that promptly incorporated into the price of those securities all publicly available material information regarding the securities of Sino. As a result, the repeated publication of the Representation in these Impugned Documents caused the price of Sino's shares to trade at inflated prices during the Class Period, thus directly resulting in damage to the Plaintiffs and Class Members.

B. Statutory Claims, Negligence, Oppression, Unjust Enrichment and Conspiracy

- (i) Statutory Liability-Secondary Market under the Securities Legislation
- 231. The Plaintiffs plead the claim found in Part XXIII.1 of the OSA, and, if required, the equivalent sections of the Securities Legislation other than the OSA, against all Defendants except the Underwriters.

- 232. Each of the Impugned Documents except for the December 2009 and October 2010 Offering Memoranda is a "Core Document" within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 233. Each of these Impugned Documents contained one or more misrepresentations as particularized above. Such misrepresentations and the Representation are misrepresentations for the purposes of the Securities Legislation.
- 234. Each of the Individual Defendants was an officer and/or director of Sino at material times. Each of the Individual Defendants authorized, permitted or acquiesced in the release of some or all of these Impugned Documents.
- 235. Sino is a reporting issuer within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 236. E&Y is an expert within the meaning of the Securities Legislation. E&Y consented to the use of its statements particularized above in these Impugned Documents.
- 237. BDO is an expert within the meaning of the Securities Legislation. BDO consented to the use of its statements particularize above in these Impugned Documents.
- 238. Pöyry is an expert within the meaning of the Securities Legislation. Pöyry consented to the use of its statements particularized above in these Impugned Documents.
- 239. At all material times, each of Sino, Chan, Poon and Horsley, BDO and E&Y knew or, in the alternative, was wilfully blind to the fact, that the Impugned Documents contained the Representation and that the Representation was false, and that the Impugned Documents contained other of the misrepresentations that are alleged above to have been contained therein.
  - (ii) Statutory Liability Primary Market for Sino's Shares under the Securities Legislation
- 240. As against Sino, Chan, Horsley, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, Pöyry, BDO, E&Y, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased Sino shares in one of the distributions to which the June 2009 or December 2009 Prospectuses related, Labourers and Wong assert the cause of action set forth in s. 130 of the OSA and, if necessary, the equivalent provisions of the Securities Legislation other than the OSA.

- 241. Sino issued the June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, which contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations that are alleged above to have been contained in those Prospectuses or in the Sino disclosure documents incorporated therein by reference.
  - (iii) Statutory Liability Primary Market for Sino's Notes under the Securities Legislation
- As against Sino, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased or otherwise acquired Sino's notes in one of the offerings to which the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009, and October 2010 Offering Memoranda related, Grant asserts the cause of action set forth in s. 130.1 of the OSA and, if necessary, the equivalent provisions of the Securities Legislation other than the OSA.
- 243. Sino issued the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009 and October 2010 Offering Memoranda, which contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations that are alleged above to have been contained in those Offering Memoranda or in the Sino disclosure documents incorporated therein by reference.
- (iv) Negligence Simpliciter Primary Market for Sino's Securities

  244. Sino, Chan, Poon, Horsley, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, BDO, E&Y, Pöyry and the Underwriters (collectively, the "Primary Market Defendants") acted negligently in connection with one or more of the Offerings.
- 245. As against Sino, Chan, Horsley, Poon, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, BDO, E&Y, Pöyry, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in one of the distributions to which those Prospectuses related, Labourers and Wong assert negligence simpliciter.

- 246. As against Sino, BDO, E&Y, Pöyry, Credit Suisse USA, Banc of America and TD, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in one of the distributions to which the Offering Memoranda related, Grant asserts negligence simpliciter.
- 247. The Primary Market Defendants owed a duty of care to ensure that the Prospectuses and/or the Offering Memoranda they issued, or authorized to be issued, or in respect of which they acted as an underwriter, initial purchaser or dealer manager, made full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Securities offered thereby, or to ensure that their opinions or reports contained in such Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda did not contain a misrepresentation.
- 248. At all times material to the matters complained of herein, the Primary Market Defendants ought to have known that such Prospectuses or Offering Memoranda and the documents incorporated therein by reference were materially misleading in that they contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above.
- 249. Chan, Poon, Horsley, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray and Hyde were senior officers and/or directors at the time the Offerings to which the Prospectuses related. These Prospectuses were created for the purposes of obtaining financing for Sino's operations. Chan, Horsley, Martin and Hyde signed each of the Prospectuses and certified that they made full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the shares offered. Wang, Mak and Murray were directors during one or more of these Offerings and each had a statutory obligation to manage or supervise the management of the business and affairs of Sino. Poon was a director for the June 2007 share Offering and was president of Sino at the time of the June 2009 and December 2009 Offering.

Poon, along with Chan, co-founded Sino and has been the president since 1994. He is intimately aware of Sino's business and affairs.

- 250. The Underwriters acted as underwriters, initial purchasers or dealer managers for the Offerings to which the Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda related. They had an obligation to conduct due diligence in respect of those Offerings and ensure that those Securities were offering at a price that reflected their true value or that such distributions did not proceed if inappropriate. In addition, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD signed one or more of the Prospectuses and certified that to the best of their knowledge, information and belief, the Prospectuses constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the shares offered.
- 251. E&Y and BDO acted as Sino's auditors and had a duty to maintain or to ensure that Sino maintained appropriate internal controls to ensure that Sino's disclosure documents adequately and fairly presented the business and affairs of Sino on a timely basis.
- 252. Pöyry had a duty to ensure that its opinions and reports reflected the true nature and value of Sino's assets. Pöyry, at the time it produced each of the 2008 Valuations, 2009 Valuations, and 2010 Valuations, specifically consented to the inclusion of those valuations or a summary at any time that Sino or its subsidiaries filed any documents on SEDAR or issued any documents pursuant to which any securities of Sino or any subsidiary were offered for sale.
- 253. The Primary Market Defendants have violated their duties to those Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in the distributions to which a Prospectus or an Offering Memorandum related.

- 254. The reasonable standard of care expected in the circumstances required the Primary Market Defendants to prevent the distributions to which the Prospectuses or the Offering Memoranda related from occurring prior to the correction of the Representation and the other misrepresentations alleged above to have been contained in the Prospectuses or the Offering Memoranda, or in the documents incorporated therein by reference. Those Defendants failed to meet the standard of care required by causing the Offerings to occur before the correction of such misrepresentations.
- 255. In addition, by failing to attend and participate in Sino board and board committee meetings to a reasonable degree, Murray and Poon effectively abdicated their duties to the Class Members and as directors of Sino.
- 256. Sino, E&Y, BDO and the Individual Defendants further breached their duty of care as they failed to maintain or to ensure that Sino maintained appropriate internal controls to ensure that Sino's disclosure documents adequately and fairly presented the business and affairs of Sino on a timely basis.
- 257. Had the Primary Market Defendants exercised reasonable care and diligence in connection with the distributions to which the Prospectuses related, then securities regulators likely would not have issued a receipt for any of the Prospectuses, and those distributions would not have occurred, or would have occurred at prices that reflected the true value of Sino's shares.
- 258. Had the Primary Market Defendants exercised reasonable care and diligence in connection with the distributions to which the Offering Memoranda related, then those distributions would not have occurred, or would have occurred at prices that reflected the true value of Sino's notes.

- 259. The Primary Market Defendants' negligence in relation to the Prospectuses and the Offering Memoranda resulted in damage to Labourers, Grant and Wong, and to the other Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in the related distributions. Had those Defendants satisfied their duty of care to such Class Members, then those Class Members would not have purchased the Securities that they acquired under the Prospectuses or the Offering Memoranda, or they would have purchased them at a much lower price that reflected their true value.
- (v) Unjust Enrichment of Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray
  260. As a result of the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above, Sino's shares traded, and were sold by Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray, at artificially inflated prices during the Class Period.
- 261. Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray were enriched by their wrongful acts and omissions during the Class Period, and the Class Members who purchased Sino shares from such Defendants suffered a corresponding deprivation.
- 262. There was no juristic reason for the resulting enrichment of Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray.
- 263. The Class Members who purchased Sino shares from Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray during the Class Period are entitled to the difference between the price they paid to such Defendants for such shares, and the price that they would have paid had the Defendants not made the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above, and had not committed the wrongful acts and omissions particularized above.

- (vi) Unjust Enrichment of Sino
- 264. Throughout the Class Period, Sino made the Offerings. Such Offerings were made via various documents, particularized above, that contained the Representation and the misrepresentations particularized above.
- 265. The Securities sold by Sino via the Offerings were sold at artificially inflated prices as a result of the Representation and the others misrepresentations particularized above.
- 266. Sino was enriched by, and those Class Members who purchased the Securities via the Offerings were deprived of, an amount equivalent to the difference between the amount for which the Securities offered were actually sold, and the amount for which such securities would have been sold had the Offerings not included the Representation and the misrepresentations particularized above.
- 267. The Offerings violated Sino's disclosure obligations under the Securities Legislation and the various instruments promulgated by the securities regulators of the Provinces in which such Offerings were made. There was no juristic reason for the enrichment of Sino.
  - (vi) Unjust Enrichment of the Underwriters
- 268. Throughout the Class Period, Sino made the Offerings. Such Offerings were made via the Prospectuses and the Offering Memoranda, which contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above. Each of the Underwriters underwrote one or more of the Offerings.
- 269. The Securities sold by Sino via the Offerings were sold at artificially inflated prices as a result of the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above. The Underwriters earned fees from the Class, whether directly or indirectly, for work that they never performed, or that they performed with gross negligence, in connection with the Offerings, or some of them.

- 270. The Underwriters were enriched by, and those Class Members who purchased securities via the Offerings were deprived of, an amount equivalent to the fees the Underwriters earned in connection with the Offerings.
- 271. The Offerings violated Sino's disclosure obligations under the Securities Legislation and the various instruments promulgated by the securities regulators of the Provinces in which such Offerings were made. There was no juristic reason for the enrichment of the Underwriters.
- 272. In addition, some or all of the Underwriters also acted as brokers in secondary market transactions relating to Sino securities, and earned trading commissions from the Class Members in those secondary market transactions in Sino's Securities. Those Underwriters were enriched by, and those Class Members who purchased Sino securities through those Underwriters in their capacity as brokers were deprived of, an amount equivalent to the commissions the Underwriters earned on such secondary market trades.
- 273. Had those Underwriters who also acted as brokers in secondary market transactions exercised reasonable diligence in connection with the Offerings in which they acted as Underwriters, then Sino's securities likely would not have traded at all in the secondary market, and the Underwriters would not have been paid the aforesaid trading commissions by the Class Members. There was no juristic reason for that enrichment of those Underwriters through their receipt of trading commissions from the Class Members.

(vii) Oppression

274. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members had a reasonable and legitimate expectation that Sino and the Individual Defendants would use their powers to direct the company for Sino's best interests and, in turn, in the interests of its security holders. More specifically, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members had a reasonable expectation that:

- (a) Sino and the Individual Defendants would comply with GAAP, and/or cause Sino to comply with GAAP;
- (b) Sino and the Individual Defendants would take reasonable steps to ensure that the Class Members were made aware on a timely basis of material developments in Sino's business and affairs;
- (c) Sino and the Individual Defendants would implement adequate corporate governance procedures and internal controls to ensure that Sino disclosed material facts and material changes in the company's business and affairs on a timely basis;
- (d) Sino and the Individual Defendants would not make the misrepresentations particularized above;
- (e) Sino stock options would not be backdated or otherwise mispriced; and
- (f) the Individual Defendants would adhere to the Code.

275. Such reasonable expectations were not met as:

- (a) Sino did not comply with GAAP;
- (b) the Class Members were not made aware on a timely basis of material developments in Sino's business and affairs;
- (c) Sino's corporate governance procedures and internal controls were inadequate;
- (d) the misrepresentations particularized above were made;
- (e) stock options were backdated and/or otherwise mispriced; and
- (f) the Individual Defendants did not adhere to the Code.

- 276. Sino's and the Individual Defendants' conduct was oppressive and unfairly prejudicial to the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members and unfairly disregarded their interests. These defendants were charged with the operation of Sino for the benefit of all of its shareholders. The value of the shareholders' investments was based on, among other things:
  - (a) the profitability of Sino;
  - (b) the integrity of Sino's management and its ability to run the company in the interests of all shareholders;
  - (c) Sino's compliance with its disclosure obligations;
  - (d) Sino's ongoing representation that its corporate governance procedures met with reasonable standards, and that the business of the company was subjected to reasonable scrutiny; and
  - (e) Sino's ongoing representation that its affairs and financial reporting were being conducted in accordance with GAAP.
- 277. This oppressive conduct impaired the ability of the Plaintiffs and other Class Members to make informed investment decisions about Sino's securities. But for that conduct, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members would not have suffered the damages alleged herein.
  - (viii) Conspiracy
- 278. Sino, Chan, Poon and Horsley conspired with each other and with persons unknown (collectively, the "Conspirators") to inflate the price of Sino's securities. During the Class Period, the Conspirators unlawfully, maliciously and lacking bona fides, agreed together to, among other things, make the Representation and other misrepresentations particularized above, and to profit from such misrepresentations by, among other things, issuing stock options in respect of which the strike price was impermissibly low.

- 279. The Conspirators' predominant purposes in so conspiring were to:
  - (a) inflate the price of Sino's securities, or alternatively, maintain an artificially high trading price for Sino's securities;
  - (b) artificially increase the value of the securities they held; and
  - (c) inflate the portion of their compensation that was dependent in whole or in part upon the performance of Sino and its securities.
- 280. In furtherance of the conspiracy, the following are some, but not all, of the acts carried out or caused to be carried out by the Conspirators:
  - (a) they agreed to, and did, make the Representation, which they knew was false;
  - (b) they agreed to, and did, make the other misrepresentations particularized above, which they knew were false;
  - (c) they caused Sino to issue the Impugned Documents which they knew to be materially misleading;
  - (d) as alleged more particularly below, they caused to be issued stock options in respect of which the strike price was impermissibly low; and
  - (e) they authorized the sale of securities pursuant to Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda that they knew to be materially false and misleading.
- 281. Stock options are a form of compensation used by companies to incentivize the performance of directors, officers and employees. Options are granted on a certain date (the 'grant date') at a certain price (the 'exercise' or 'strike' price). At some point in the future, typically following a vesting period, an options-holder may, by paying the strike price, exercise the option and convert the option into a share in the company. The option-holder will make money as long as the option's strike price is lower than the market price of the security at the moment that the option is exercised. This enhances the incentive of the option recipient to work to raise the stock price of the company.

- 282. There are three types of option grants:
  - (a) 'in-the-money' grants are options granted where the strike price is lower than the market price of the security on the date of the grant; such options are not permissible under the TSX Rules and have been prohibited by the TSX Rules at all material times;
  - (b) 'at-the-money' grants are options granted where the strike price is equal to the market price of the security on the date of the grant or the closing price the day prior to the grant; and
  - (c) 'out-of-the-money' grants are options granted where the strike price is higher than the market price of the security on the date of the grant.
- 283. Both at-the-money and out-of-the-money options are permissible under the TSX Rules and have been at all material times.
- 284. The purpose of both at-the-money and out-of-the-money options is to create incentives for option recipients to work to raise the share price of the company. Such options have limited value at the time of the grant, because they entitle the recipient to acquire the company's shares at or above the price at which the recipient could acquire the company's shares in the open market. Options that are in-the-money, however, have substantial value at the time of the grant irrespective of whether the company's stock price rises subsequent to the grant date.
- 285. At all material times, the Sino Option Plan (the "Plan") prohibited in-the-money options.
- 286. The Conspirators backdated and/or otherwise mispriced Sino stock options, or caused the backdating and/or mispricing of Sino stock options, in violation of, inter alia: (a) the OSA and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; (b) the Plan; (c) GAAP; (d) the Code; (e) the TSX

Rules; and (f) the Conspirators' statutory, common law and contractual fiduciary duties and duties of care to Sino and its shareholders, including the Class Members.

287. The Sino stock options that were backdated or otherwise mispriced included those issued on June 26, 1996 to Chan, January 21, 2005 to Horsley, September 14, 2005 to Horsley, June 4, 2007 to Horsley and Chan, August 21, 2007 to Sino insiders other than the Conspirators, November 23, 2007 to George Ho and other Sino insiders, and March 31, 2009 to Sino insiders other than the Conspirators.

288. The graph below shows the average stock price returns for fifteen trading days prior and subsequent to the dates as of which Sino priced its stock options to its insiders. As appears therefrom, on average the dates as of which Sino's stock options were priced were preceded by a substantial decline in Sino's stock price, and were followed by a dramatic increase in Sino's stock price. This pattern could not plausibly be the result of chance.

- 289. The conspiracy was unlawful because the Conspirators knowingly and intentionally committed the foregoing acts when they knew such conduct was in violation of, inter alia, the OSA, the Securities Legislation other than the OSA, the Code, the rules and requirements of the TSX (the "TSX Rules") and the CBCA. The Conspirators intended to, and did, harm the Class by causing artificial inflation in the price of Sino's securities.
- 290. The Conspirators directed the conspiracy toward the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members. The Conspirators knew in the circumstances that the conspiracy would, and did, cause loss to the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members. The Plaintiffs and the Class Members suffered damages when the falsity of the Representation and other misrepresentations were revealed on June 2, 2011.

XII. THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN SINO'S DISCLOSURES AND THE PRICE OF SINO'S SECURITIES

- 291. The price of Sino's securities was directly affected during the Class Period by the issuance of the Impugned Documents. The Defendants were aware at all material times of the effect of Sino's disclosure documents upon the price of its Sino's securities.
- 292. The Impugned Documents were filed, among other places, with SEDAR and the TSX, and thereby became immediately available to, and were reproduced for inspection by, the Class Members, other members of the investing public, financial analysts and the financial press.
- 293. Sino routinely transmitted the documents referred to above to the financial press, financial analysts and certain prospective and actual holders of Sino securities. Sino provided either copies of the above referenced documents or links thereto on its website.

- 294. Sino regularly communicated with the public investors and financial analysts via established market communication mechanisms, including through regular disseminations of their disclosure documents, including press releases on newswire services in Canada, the United States and elsewhere. Each time Sino communicated that new material information about Sino financial results to the public the price of Sino securities was directly affected.
- 295. Sino was the subject of analysts' reports that incorporated certain of the material information contained in the Impugned Documents, with the effect that any recommendations to purchase Sino securities in such reports during the Class Period were based, in whole or in part, upon that information.
- 296. Sino's securities were and are traded, among other places, on the TSX, which is an efficient and automated market. The price at which Sino's securities traded promptly incorporated material information from Sino's disclosure documents about Sino's business and affairs, including the Representation, which was disseminated to the public through the documents referred to above and distributed by Sino, as well as by other means.

III. OVERVIEW

3. From the time of its establishment in 1994, Sino has claimed to be a legitimate business operating in the commercial forestry industry in the PRC and elsewhere. Throughout that period, Sino has also claimed to have experienced breathtaking growth.

4. Beguiled by Sino's reported results, and by Sino's constant refrain that China constituted an extraordinary growth opportunity, investors drove Sino's stock price dramatically higher, as appears from the following chart:

5. The Defendants profited handsomely from the market's appetite for Sino's securities. Certain of the Individual Defendants sold Sino shares at lofty prices, and thereby reaped millions of dollars of gains. Sino's senior management also used Sino's illusory success to justify their lavish salaries, bonuses and other perks. For certain of the Individual Defendants, these outsized gains were not enough. Sino stock options granted to Chan, Horsley and other insiders were backdated or otherwise mispriced, prior to and during the Class Period, in violation of the TSX Rules, GAAP and the Securities Legislation.

- 6. Sino itself raised in excess of $2.7 billion<sup>1</sup> in the capital markets during this period. Meanwhile, the Underwriters were paid lucrative underwriting commissions, and BDO, E&Y and Pöyry garnered millions of dollars in fees to bless Sino's reported results and assets. To their great detriment, the Class Members relied upon these supposed gatekeepers.
- 7. As a reporting issuer in Ontario and elsewhere, Sino was required at all material times to comply with GAAP. Indeed, Sino, BDO and E&Y, Sino's auditors during the Class Period and previously, repeatedly misrepresented that Sino's financial statements complied with GAAP. This was false.
- 8. On June 2, 2011, Muddy Waters, a short seller and research firm with extensive PRC experience, issued its first research report in relation to Sino, and unveiled the scale of the deception that had been worked upon the Class Members. Muddy Waters' initial report effectively revealed, among other things, that Sino had materially misstated its financial results, had falsely claimed to have acquired trees that it did not own, had reported sales that had not been made, or that had been made in a manner that did not permit Sino to book those sales as revenue under GAAP, and had concealed numerous related party transactions. These revelations had a catastrophic effect on Sino's stock price.
- 9. On June 1, 2011, prior to the publication of Muddy Waters' report, Sino's common shares closed at $18.21. After the Muddy Waters report became public, Sino shares fell to $14.46 on the TSX (a decline of 20.6%), at which point trading was halted. When trading resumed the next day, Sino's shares fell to a close of $5.23 (a decline of 71.3% from June 1).
- 10. On June 3, 2011, Sino announced that, in response to the allegations of Muddy Waters, its board had formed a committee, which Sino then falsely characterized as "independent" (the

"Independent Committee" or "IC"), to examine and review the allegations contained in the Muddy Waters' report of June 2, 2011. The initial members of the IC were the Defendants Ardell, Bowland and Hyde. The IC subsequently retained legal, accounting and other advisers to assist it in the fulfillment of its mandate.

- 11. On August 26, 2011, the OSC issued a cease-trade order in respect of Sino's securities, alleging that Sino appeared to have engaged in significant non-arm's length transactions which may have been contrary to Ontario securities laws and the public interest, that Sino and certain of its officers and directors appeared to have misrepresented some of Sino's revenue and/or exaggerated some of its timber holdings, and that Sino and certain of its officers and directors, including Chan, appeared to be engaging or participating in acts, practices or a course of conduct related to Sino's securities which they (or any of them) knew or ought reasonably know would perpetuate a fraud.
- 12. On November 13, 2011, the IC released the Second Report. Therein, the IC revealed, inter alia, that: (1) Sino's management had failed to cooperate in numerous important respects with the IC's investigation; (2) "there is a risk" that certain of Sino's operations "taken as a whole" were in violation of PRC law; (3) Sino adopted processes that "avoid[] Chinese foreign exchange controls which must be complied with in a normal cross-border sale and purchase transaction, and [which] could present an obstacle to future repatriation of sales proceeds, and could have tax implications as well"; (4) the IC "has not been able to verify that any relevant income taxes and VAT have been paid by or on behalf of the BVIs in China"; (5) Sino lacked proof of title to the vast majority of its purported holdings of standing timber; (6) Sino's "transaction volumes with a number of AI and Suppliers do not match the revenue reported by such Suppliers in their SAIC filing"; (7) "[n]one of the BVI timber purchase contracts have as attachments either (i) Plantation Rights Certificates from either the Counterparty or original owner or (ii) villager resolutions, both of which are contemplated as attachments by the standard form of BVI timber purchase contract employed by the Company; and (8) "[t]here are indications in emails and in interviews with Suppliers that gifts or cash payments are made to forestry bureaus and forestry bureau officials."

13. On January 31, 2012, the IC released its Final Report. Therein, the IC effectively revealed that, despite having conducted an investigation over nearly eight months, and despite the expenditure of US$50 million on that investigation, it had failed to refute, or even to provide plausible answers to, key allegations made by Muddy Waters:

This Final Report of the IC sets out the activities undertaken by the IC since mid-November, the findings from such activities and the IC's conclusions regarding its examination and review. The IC's activities during this period have been limited as a result of Canadian and Chinese holidays (Christmas, New Year and Chinese New Year) and the extensive involvement of IC members in the Company's Restructuring and Audit Committees, both of which are advised by different advisors than those retained by the IC. The IC believes that, notwithstanding there remain issues which have not been fully answered, the work of the IC is now at the point of diminishing returns because much of the information which it is seeking lies with non-compellable third parties, may not exist or is apparently not retrievable from the records of the Company.

Given the circumstances described above, the IC understands that, with the delivery of this Final Report, its review and examination activities are terminated. The IC does not expect to undertake further work other than assisting with responses to regulators and the RCMP as required and engaging in such further specific activities as the IC may deem advisable or the Board may instruct. The IC has asked the IC Advisors to remain available to assist and advise the IC upon its instructions

14. Sino failed to meet the standards required of a public company in Canada. Aided by its auditors and the Underwriters, Sino raised billions of dollars from investors on the false premise that they were investing in a well managed, ethical and GAAP-compliant corporation. They were not. Accordingly, this action is brought to recover the Class Members' losses from those who caused them: the Defendants.

Mak and Murray were unjustly enriched in the manner and to the extent particularized below while they were acting in their capacity as fiduciaries, and in violation of their fiduciary duties.

The Code further required that Sino representatives act in the best interests of shareholders, corporate opportunities not be used for personal gain, no one trade in Sino securities based on undisclosed knowledge stemming from their position or employment with Sino, the company's books and records be honest and accurate, conflicts of interest be avoided, and any violations or suspected violations of the Code, and any concerns regarding accounting, financial statement disclosure, internal accounting or disclosure controls or auditing matters, be reported.
- 47. E&Y has been engaged as Sino's auditor since August 13, 2007. E&Y was also engaged as Sino's auditor from Sino's creation through February 19, 1999, when E&Y abruptly resigned during audit season and was replaced by the now-defunct Arthur Andersen LLP. E&Y was also Sino's auditor from 2000 to 2004, when it was replaced by BDO. E&Y is an expert of Sino within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 48. E&Y, in providing what it purported to be "audit" services to Sino, made statements that it knowingly intended to be, and which were, disseminated to Sino's current and prospective security holders. At all material times, E&Y was aware of that class of persons, intended to and did communicate with them, and intended that that class of persons would rely on E&Y's statements relating to Sino, which they did to their detriment.

- 49. E&Y consented to the inclusion in the June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, as well as the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009 and October 2010 Offering Memoranda, of its audit reports on Sino's Annual Financial Statements for various years, as alleged more particularly below.
- 50. BDO is the successor of BDO McCabe Lo Limited, the Hong Kong, China based auditing firm that was engaged as Sino's auditor during the period of March 21, 2005 through August 12, 2007, when they resigned at Sino's request, and were replaced by E&Y. BDO is an expert of Sino within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 51. During the term of its service as Sino's auditor, BDO provided what it purported to be "audit" services to Sino, and in the course thereof made statements that it knowingly intended to be, and which were, disseminated to Sino's current and prospective security holders. At all material times, BDO was aware of that class of persons, intended to and did communicate with them, and intended that that class of persons rely on BDO's statements relating to Sino, which they did to their detriment.
- 52. BDO consented to the inclusion in each of the June 2007 and December 2009 Prospectuses and the July 2008, June 2009 and December 2009 Offering Memoranda, of its audit reports on Sino's Annual Financial Statements for 2005 and 2006.
- 53. E&Y and BDO's annual Auditors' Report was made "to the shareholders of Sino-Forest corporation," which included the Class Members. Indeed, s. 1000.11 of the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants states that "the objective of financial statements for profit-oriented enterprises focuses primarily on the information needs of investors and creditors" [emphasis added].

- 54. Sino's shareholders, including numerous Class Members, appointed E&Y as auditors of Sino-Forest by shareholder resolutions passed on various dates, including on June 21, 2004, May 26, 2008, May 25, 2009, May 31, 2010 and May 30, 2011.
- 55. Sino's shareholders, including numerous Class Members, appointed BDO as auditors of Sino-Forest by resolutions passed on May 16, 2005, June 5, 2006 and May 28, 2007.
- During the Class Period, with the knowledge and consent of BDO or E&Y (as the case may be), Sino's audited annual financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, together with the report of BDO or E&Y thereon (as the case may be), were presented to the shareholders of Sino (including numerous Class Members) at annual meetings of such shareholders held in Toronto, Canada on, respectively, May 28, 2007, May 26, 2008, May 25, 2009, May 31, 2010 and May 30, 2011. As alleged elsewhere herein, all such financial statements constituted Impugned Documents.
- 57. Pöyry is an international forestry consulting firm which purported to provide certain forestry consultation services to Sino. Pöyry is an expert of Sino within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 58. Pöyry, in providing what it purported to be "forestry consulting" services to Sino, made statements that it knowingly intended to be, and which were, disseminated to Sino's current and prospective security holders. At all material times, Pöyry was aware of that class of persons, intended to and did communicate with them, and intended that that class of persons would rely on Pöyry's statements relating to Sino, which they did to their detriment.

- 59. Pöyry consented to the inclusion in the June 2007, June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, as well as the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009 and October 2010 Offering Memoranda, of its various reports, as detailed below in paragraph ●.
- 60. The Underwriters are various financial institutions who served as underwriters in one or more of the Offerings.
- In connection with the distributions conducted pursuant to the June 2007, June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, the Underwriters who underwrote those distributions were paid, respectively, an aggregate of approximately $7.5 million, $14.0 million and $14.4 million in underwriting commissions. In connection with the offerings of Sino's notes in July 2008, December 2009, and October 2010, the Underwriters who underwrote those offerings were paid, respectively, an aggregate of approximately US$2.2 million, US$8.5 million and $US6 million. Those commissions were paid in substantial part as consideration for the Underwriters' purported due diligence examination of Sino's business and affairs.
- 62. None of the Underwriters conducted a reasonable investigation into Sino in connection with any of the Offerings. None of the Underwriters had reasonable grounds to believe that there was no misrepresentation in any of the Impugned Documents. In the circumstances of this case, including the facts that Sino operated in an emerging economy, Sino had entered Canada's capital markets by means of a reverse merger, and Sino had reported extraordinary results over an extended period of time that far surpassed those reported by Sino's peers, the Underwriters all ought to have exercised heightened vigilance and caution in the course of discharging their duties to investors, which they did not do. Had they done so, they would have uncovered Sino's true nature, and the Class Members to whom they owed their duties would not have sustained the losses that they sustained on their Sino investments.

V. THE OFFERINGS

- 63. Through the Offerings, Sino raised in aggregate in excess of $2.7 billion from investors during the Class Period. In particular:
  - (a) On June 5, 2007, Sino issued and filed with SEDAR the June 2007 Prospectus pursuant to which Sino distributed to the public 15,900,000 common shares at a price of $12.65 per share for gross proceeds of $201,135,000. ### VI. THE MISREPRESENTATIONS

- 70. During the Class Period, Sino made the misrepresentations particularized below. These misrepresentations related to:
  - A. Sino's history and fraudulent origins;
  - B. Sino's forestry assets;
  - C. Sino's related party transactions;

- D. Sino's relationships with forestry bureaus and its purported title to forestry assets in the PRC;
- E. Sino's relationships with its "Authorized Intermediaries;"
- F. Sino's cash flows;
- G. Certain risks to which Sino was exposed; and
- H. Sino's compliance with GAAP and the Auditors' compliance with GAAS.

A. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's History and Fraudulent Origins

- (i) Sino Overstates the Value of, and the Revenues Generated by, the Leizhou Joint Venture
- 71. At the time of its founding by way of reverse merger in 1994, Sino's business was conducted primarily through an equity joint venture between Sino's Hong Kong subsidiary, Sino-Wood Partners, Limited ("Sino-Wood"), and the Leizhou Forestry Bureau, which was situated in Guangdong Province in the south of the PRC. The name of the venture was Zhanjiang Leizhou Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd. ("Leizhou"). The stated purpose of Leizhou, established in 1994, was:

Managing forests, wood processing, the production of wood products and wood chemical products, and establishing a production facility with an annual production capacity of 50,000 m³ of Micro Density Fiber Board (MDF), managing a base of 120,000 mu (8,000 ha) of which the forest annual utilization would be 8,000 m³.

72. There are two types of joint ventures in the PRC relevant to Sino: equity joint ventures ("EJV") and cooperating joint ventures ("CJV"). In an EJV, profits and assets are distributed in proportion to the parties' equity holdings upon winding up. In a CJV, the parties may contract to divide profits and assets disproportionately to their equity interests.

- 73. According to a Sino prospectus issued in January 1997, Leizhou, an EJV, was responsible for 20,000 hectares of the 30,000 hectares that Sino claimed to have "phased-in." Leizhou was the key driver of Sino's purported early growth.
- 74. Sino claimed to hold 53% of the equity in Leizhou, which was to total US$10 million, and Sino further claimed that the Leizhou Forestry Bureau was to contribute 20,000 ha of forestry land. In reality, however, the terms of the EJV required the Leizhou Forestry Bureau to contribute a mere 3,533 ha.
- 75. What was also unknown to investors was that Leizhou did not generate the sales claimed by Sino. More particularly, in 1994, 1995 and 1996, respectively, Sino claimed to have generated US$11.3 million, US$23.9 million and US$23.1 million in sales from Leizhou. In reality, however, these sales did not occur, or were materially overstated.
- 76. Indeed, in an undisclosed letter from Leizhou Forestry Bureau to Zhanjiang City Foreign and Economic Relations and Trade Commission, dated February 27, 1998, the Bureau complained:

To: Zhanjiang Municipal Foreign Economic Relations & Trade Commission

Through mutual consultation between Leizhou Forestry Administration (hereinafter referred to as our side) and Sino-Wood Partners Limited (hereinafter referred to as the foreign party), and, with the approval document ZJMPZ No.021 [1994] issued by your commission on 28th January 1994 for approving the contracts and articles of association entered into by both parties, and, with the approval certificate WJMZHZZZ No.065 [1994] issued by your commission, both parties jointly established Zhanjiang Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Joint Venture) whose incorporate number is 162622-0012 and duly registered the same with Zhanjiang Administration for Industry and Commerce and obtained the business license GSQHYZ No.00604 on 29th January in the same year. It has been 4 years since the registration and we set out the situation as follows:

I. Information of the investment of both sides

- A. The investment of our side: according to the contract and articles of association signed by both sides and approved by your commission, our side has paid in RMB95,481,503.29 (equivalent to USD11,640,000.00) to the Joint Venture on 20th June 1995 through an in-kind contribution. The payment was made in accordance with the prescribed procedures and confirmed by signatures of the legal representatives of both parties. According to the Capital Verification Report from Yuexi (粤西) Accounting Firm, this payment accounts for 99.1% of the agreed capital contribution from our side, which is USD11,750,000, and accounts for 46.56% of the total investment.
- The investment of the foreign party: the foreign party has paid in B. USD1,000,000 on 16th March 1994, which was in the starting period of the Joint Venture. According to the Capital Verification Report from Yuexi (粤西) Accounting Firm, this payment only accounts for 7.55% of the capital contribution from the foreign party totaling USD13,250,000, and accounts for 4% of the total investment. Then, in the prescribed investment period, the foreign party did not further pay capital into the Joint Venture. In view of this, your commission sent a "Notice on Time for Capital Contribution" to the foreign party on 30th January 1996. In accordance with the notice, the foreign party then on 10th April sent a letter to your commission, requesting for postponing the deadline for capital contribution to 20th December the same year. On 14th May 1996, your commission replied to Allen Chan (陈德源), the Chairman of the Joint Venture, stating that "postponement of the deadline for capital contribution is subject to the consent of our side and requires amendment of the term on the capital contribution time in the original contract, and both parties shall sign a bilateral supplementary contract; after the application has been approved, the postponed deadline will become effective.". Based on the spirit of the letter dated 14th May from your commission and for the purpose of achieving mutual communication and dealing with the issues of the Joint Venture actively and appropriately, on 11th June 1996, Chan Shixing (陈识兴) and two other Directors from our side sent a joint letter to Allen Chan (陈德源), the Chairman of the Joint Venture, to propose a meeting of the board to be convened before 30th June 1996 in Zhanjiang, in order to discuss how to deal with the issues of the Joint Venture in accordance with the relevant State provisions. Unfortunately, the foreign party neither had discussion with our side pursuant to your commission's letter, nor replied to the proposal of our side, and furthermore failed to make payment to the Joint Venture. Now, it has been two years beyond the deadline for capital contribution (29th January 1996), and more than one year beyond the date prescribed by the Notice on Time for Capital Contribution issued by your commission (30th April 1996). However, the foreign party has been evading the discussion of the capital contribution issue, and moreover has taken no further action.

II. The Joint Venture is not capable of attaining substantial operation

According to the contract and articles of association, the main purposes of setting up the Joint Venture are, on the one hand, to invest and construct a project producing 50,000 cubic meter Medium Density Fiberboard (MDF) a year; and on the other hand, to create a forest base of 120,000 mu, with which to produce 80,000 cubic meter of timber as raw material for the production of medium density fiberboard. The contract and articles of association also prescribed that the whole funding required for the MDF board project should be paid by the foreign party in cash; our side should pay in-kind the proportion of the fund prescribed by the contract. After contributing capital of USD1,000,000 in the early stage, the foreign party not only failed to make subsequent capital contributions, but also in their own name successively withdrew a total amount of RMB4,141,045.02, from the funds they contributed, of which USD270,000 was paid to Huadu Baixing Wood Products Factory (花都市百兴木制品厂), which has no business relationship with the Joint Venture. This amount of money equals 47.6% of [the foreign party's | paid in capital. Although our side has almost paid off the agreed capital contribution (only short 0.9% of the total committed), due to the limited contribution from the foreign party and the fact that they withdrew a huge amount of money from those funds originally contributed by them, it is impossible for the Joint Venture to construct or set up production projects and to commence production operation while the funds have been insufficient and the foreign party did not pay in the majority of the subscribed capital. In fact, the Joint Venture therefore is merely a shell, existing in name only.

Additionally, after the establishment of the Joint Venture, its internal operations have been extremely abnormal, for example, annual board meetings have not been held as scheduled; annual reports on the status and the results of the annual financial audit are missing; the withdrawal of the huge amount of funds by the foreign party was not discussed in the board meetings, etc. It is hard to list all here.

In light of the present state of contributions by both sides and the status of the Joint Venture from its establishment till now, our side now applies to your commission for:

1. The cancellation of the approval certificate for "Zhanjiang Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd.", i.e. WJMZHZZZ No. 065[1994], based on the relevant provisions of Certain Regulations on the Subscription of Capital by the Parties to Sino-Foreign Joint Equity Enterprises,

- 2. Direct the Joint Venture to complete the deregistration procedures for "Zhanjiang Eucalyptus Resources Development Co. Ltd." at the local Administration for Industry and Commerce, and for the return of its business license.
- 3. Coordination with both parties to resolve the relevant remaining issues.

Please let us have your reply on whether the above is in order.

The Seal of the Leizhou Forestry Bureau

1998, February 27

[Translation; emphasis added.]

77. In its 1996 Annual Financial Statements, Sino stated:

The $14,992,000 due from the LFB represents cash collected from the sale of wood chips on behalf of the Leizhou EJV. As originally agreed to by Sino-Wood, the cash was being retained by the LFB to fund the ongoing plantation costs of the Leizhou EJV incurred by the LFB. Sino-Wood and LFB have agreed that the amount due to the Leizhou EJV, after reduction for plantation costs incurred, will be settled in 1997 concurrent with the settlement of capital contributions due to the Leizhou EJV by Sino-Wood.

- 78. These statements were false, inasmuch as Leizhou never generated such sales. Leizhou was wound-up in 1998.
- 79. At all material times, Sino's founders, Chan and Poon, were fully aware of the reality relating to Leizhou, and knowingly misrepresented the true status of Leizhou, as well as its true revenues and profits.
  - (ii) Sino's Fictitious Investment in SJXT
- 80. In Sino's audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 1997, filed on SEDAR on May 20, 1998 (the "1997 Financial Statements"), Sino stated that, in order to establish strategic partnerships with key local wood product suppliers and to build a strong distribution for the wood-based product and contract supply businesses, it had acquired a 20% equity interest in "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd." ("SJXT"). Sino then described SJXT as an

EJV that had been formed in 1997 by the Ministry of Forestry in China, and declared that its function was to organize and manage the first and only official market for timber and log trading in Eastern China. It further stated that the investment in SJXT was expected to provide the Company with good accessibility to a large base of potential customers and companies in the timber and log businesses in Eastern China.

- 81. There is, in fact, no entity known as "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd." While an entity called "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Wholesale Market" does exist, Sino did not have, as claimed in its disclosure documents, an equity stake in that venture.
- 82. According to the 1997 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the total investment of SJXT was estimated to be US$9.7 million, of which Sino would be required to contribute approximately US$1.9 million for a 20% equity interest. The 1997 Audited Annual Financial Statements stated that, as at December 31, 1997, Sino had made capital contributions to SJXT in the amount of US$1.0 million. In Sino's balance sheet as at December 31, 1997, the SXJT investment was shown as an asset of $1.0 million.
- 83. In October 1998, Sino announced an Agency Agreement with SJXT. At that time, Sino stated that it would provide 130,000 m<sup>3</sup> of various wood products to SJXT over an 18 month period, and that, based on then-current market prices, it expected this contract to generate "significant revenue" for Sino-Forest amounting to approximately $40 million. The revenues that were purportedly anticipated from the SJXT contract were highly material to Sino. Indeed, Sino's total reported revenues in 1998 were $92.7 million.
- 84. In Sino's Audited Annual Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 1998, which statements were filed on SEDAR on May 18, 1999 (the "1998 Financial Statements"), Sino again stated that, in 1997, it had acquired a 20% equity interest in SJXT, that the total investment in SJXT was estimated to be US$9.7 million, of which Sino would be required to contribute approximately $1.9 million, representing 20% of the registered capital, and that, as at December 31, 1997 and 1998, Sino had made contributions in the amount of US$1.0 million to SJXT. In Sino's balance sheet as at December 31, 1998, the SXJT investment was again shown as an asset of US$1.0 million.

- 85. Sino also stated in the 1998 Audited Annual Financial Statements that, during 1998, the sale of logs and lumber to SJXT amounted to approximately US$537,000. These sales were identified in the notes to the 1998 Financial Statements as related party transactions.
- 86. In Sino's Annual Report for 1998, Chan stated that lumber and wood products trading constituted a "promising new opportunity." Chan explained that:

SJXT represents a very significant development for our lumber and wood products trading business. The market is prospering and continues to look very promising. Phase I, consisting of 100 shops, is completed. Phases II and III are expected to be completed by the year 2000. This expansion would triple the size of the Shanghai Timber Market.

The Shanghai Timber Market is important to Sino-Forest as a generator of significant new revenue. In addition to supplying various forest products to the market from our own operations, our direct participation in SJXT increases our activities in sourcing a wide range of other wood products both from inside China and internationally.

The Shanghai Timber Market is also very beneficial to the development of the forest products industry in China because it is the first forest products national sub-market in the eastern region of the country.

The market also greatly facilitates Sino-Forest's networking activities, enabling us to build new industry relationships and add to our market intelligence, all of which increasingly leverage our ability to act as principal in our dealings.

[Emphasis added.]

- 87. Chan also stated in the 1998 Annual Report that the "Agency Agreement with SJXT [is] expected to generate approximately $40 million over 18 months."
- 88. In Sino's Annual Report for 1999, Sino stated:

There are also promising growth opportunities as Sino-Forest's investment in Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. (SJXT or the Shanghai Timber Market), develops. The Company also continues to explore opportunities to establish and reinforce ties with other international forestry companies and to bring our ecommerce technology into operation.

Sino-Forest's investment in the Shanghai Timber Market — the first national forest products submarket in eastern China — has provided a strong foundation for the Company's lumber and wood products trading business.

89. In Sino's MD&A for the year ended December 31, 1999, Sino also stated that:

Sales from lumber and wood products trading increased 264% to $34.2 million compared to $9.4 million in 1998. The increase in lumber and wood products trading is attributable largely to the increase in new business generated from our investment in Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. (SJXT) and a larger sales force in 1999. Lumber and wood products trading on an agency basis has increased 35% from $2.3 million in 1998 to $3.1 million in 1999. The increase in commission income on lumber and wood products trading is attributable to approximately $1.8 million of fees earned from a new customer.

[Emphasis added.]

- 90. That same MD&A, however, also states that "The investment in SJXT has contributed to the significant growth of the lumber and wood products trading business, which has recorded an increase in sales of 219% from $11.7 million in 1998 to $37.2 million in 1999" (emphasis added).
- 91. In Sino's Audited Annual Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 1999, which statements were filed on SEDAR on May 18, 2000 (the "1999 Financial Statements"), Sino stated:

During the year, Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. ["SJXT"] applied to increase the original total capital contributions of $868,000 [Chinese renminbi 7.2 million] to $1,509,000 [Chinese renminbi 12.5 million]. Sino-Wood is required to make an additional contribution of $278,000 as a result of the increase in total capital contributions. The additional capital contribution of $278,000 was made in 1999 increasing its equity interest in SJXT from 27.8% to 34.4%. The principal activity of SJXT is to organize trading of timber and logs in the PRC market.

- 92. The statements made in the 1999 Financial Statements contradicted Sino's prior representations in relation to SJXT. Among other things, Sino previously claimed to have made a capital contribution of $1,037,000 for a 20% equity interest in SJXT.
- 93. In addition, note 2(b) to the 1999 Financial Statements stated that, "[a]s at December 31, 1999, $796,000...advances to SJXT remained outstanding. The advances to SJXT were unsecured, non-interest bearing and without a fixed repayment date." Thus, assuming that Sino's contributions to SJXT were actually made, then Sino's prior statements in relation to SJXT were materially misleading, and violated GAAP, inasmuch as those statements failed to disclose that Sino had made to SJXT, a related party, a non-interest bearing loan of $796,000.
- 94. In Sino's Audited Annual Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 2000, which statements were filed on SEDAR on May 18, 2000 (the "2000 Financial Statements"), Sino stated:

In 1999, Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd. ("SJXT") applied to increase the original total capital contributions of $868,000 [Chinese renminbi 7.2 million] to $1,509,000 [Chinese renminbi 12.5 million]. Sino-Wood is required to make an additional contribution of $278,000 as a result of the increase in total capital contributions. The additional capital contribution of $278,000 was made in 1999 increasing its equity interest in SJXT from 27.8% to 34.4%. The principal activity of SJXT is to organize the trading of timber and logs in the PRC market. During the year, advances to SJXT of $796,000 were repaid.

- 95. In Sino's balance sheet as at December 31, 2000, the SJXT investment was shown as an asset of $519,000, being the sum of Sino's purported SJXT investment of $1,315,000 as at December 31, 1999, and the $796,000 of "advances" purportedly repaid to Sino by SJXT during the year ended December 31, 2000.
- 96. In Sino's Annual Reports (including the audited annual financial statements contained therein) for the years 2001 and beyond, there is no discussion whatsoever of SJXT. Indeed, Sino's "promising" and "very significant" investment in SJXT simply evaporated, without explanation, from Sino's disclosure documents. In fact, and unbeknownst to the public, Sino never invested in a company called "Shanghai Jin Xiang Timber Ltd." Chan and Poon knew, or were reckless in not knowing of, that fact.
- 97. At all material times, Sino's founders, Chan and Poon, were fully aware of the reality relating to SJXT, and knowingly misrepresented the true status of SJXT and Sino's interested therein.
  - (iii) Sino's Materially Deficient and Misleading Class Period Disclosures regarding Sino's History
- 98. During the Class Period, the Sino disclosure documents identified below purported to provide investors with an overview of Sino's history. However, those disclosure documents, and indeed all of the Impugned Documents, failed to disclose the material fact that, from its very founding, Sino was a fraud, inasmuch as its purportedly key investments in Leizhou and SJXT were either grossly inflated or fictitious.
- 99. Accordingly, the statements particularized in paragraphs 100 to 104 below were misrepresentations. The misleading nature of such statements was exacerbated by the fact that, throughout the Class Period, Sino's senior management and Board purported to be governed by the Code, which touted the "high standards of ethical conduct, in both words and actions", of Sino's senior management and Board.

100. In the Prospectuses, Sino described its history, but did not disclose that the SJXT investment was fictitious, or that the revenues generated by Leizhou were non-existent or grossly overstated.

101. In particular, the June 2007 Prospectus stated merely that:

The Corporation was formed under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) upon the amalgamation of Mt. Kearsarge Minerals Inc. and 1028412 Ontario Inc. pursuant to articles of amalgamation dated March 14, 1994. The articles of amalgamation were amended by articles of amendment filed on July 20, 1995 and May 20, 1999 to effect certain changes in the provisions attaching to the Corporation's class A subordinate-voting shares and class B multiple-voting shares. On June 25, 2002, the Corporation filed articles of continuance to continue under the Canada Business Corporations Act. On June 22, 2004, the Corporation filed articles of amendment whereby its class A subordinate-voting shares were reclassified as Common Shares and its class B multiple-voting shares were eliminated.

102. Similarly, the June 2009 Prospectus stated only that:

The Corporation was formed under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) upon the amalgamation of Mt. Kearsarge Minerals Inc. and 1028412 Ontario Inc. pursuant to articles of amalgamation dated March 14, 1994. The articles of amalgamation were amended by articles of amendment filed on July 20, 1995 and May 20, 1999 to effect certain changes in the provisions attaching to the Corporation's class A subordinate-voting shares and class B multiple-voting shares. On June 25, 2002, the Corporation filed articles of continuance to continue under the Canada Business Corporations Act. On June 22, 2004, the Corporation filed articles of amendment whereby its class A subordinate-voting shares were reclassified as Common Shares and its class B multiple-voting shares were eliminated.

103. Finally, the December 2009 Prospectus stated only that:

The Corporation was formed under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) upon the amalgamation of Mt. Kearsarge Minerals Inc. and 1028412 Ontario Inc. pursuant to articles of amalgamation dated March 14, 1994. The articles of amalgamation were amended by articles of amendment filed on July 20, 1995 and May 20, 1999 to effect certain changes in the provisions attaching to the Corporation's class A subordinate-voting shares and class B multiple-voting shares. On June 25, 2002, the Corporation filed articles of continuance to continue under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA"). On June 22, 2004, the Corporation filed articles of amendment whereby its class A subordinate-voting shares were reclassified as Common Shares and its class B multiple-voting shares were eliminated.

104. The failure to disclose the true nature of, and/or Sino's revenues and profits from, SJXT and Leizhou in the historical narrative in the Prospectuses rendered those Prospectuses materially false and misleading. Those historical facts would have alerted persons who purchased Sino shares under the Prospectuses, and/or in the secondary markets, to the highly elevated risk of investing in a company that continued to be controlled by Chan and Poon, both of whom were founders of Sino, and both of whom had knowingly misrepresented the true nature of Leizhou and SJXT from the time of Sino's creation. Thus, Sino was required to disclose those historical facts to the Class Members during the Class Period, but failed to do so, either in the Prospectuses or in any other Impugned Document.

B. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Forestry Assets

(i) Sino Overstates its Yunnan Forestry Assets

105. In a press release issued by Sino and filed on SEDAR on March 23, 2007, Sino announced that it had entered into an agreement to sell 26 million shares to several institutional investors for gross proceeds of US$200 million, and that the proceeds would be used for the acquisition of standing timber, including pursuant to a new agreement to purchase standing timber in Yunnan Province. It further stated in that press release that Sino-Panel (Asia) Inc. ("Sino-Panel"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sino, had entered on that same day into an agreement with Gengma Dai and Wa Tribes Autonomous Region Forestry Company Ltd., ("Gengma Forestry") established in Lincang City, Yunnan Province in the PRC, and that, under that Agreement, Sino-Panel would acquire approximately 200,000 hectares of non-state owned commercial standing timber in Lincang City and surrounding cities in Yunnan for US$700 million to US$1.4 billion over a 10-year period.

- 106. These same terms of Sino's Agreement with Gengma Forestry were disclosed in Sino's Q1 2007 MD&A. Moreover, throughout the Class Period, Sino discussed its purported Yunnan acquisitions in the Impugned Documents, and Pöyry repeatedly made statements regarding said holdings, as particularized below.
- 107. The reported acquisitions did not take place. Sino overstated to a material degree the size and value of its forestry holdings in Yunnan Province. It simply does not own all of the trees it claims to own in Yunnan. Sino's overstatement of the Yunnan forestry assets violated GAAP.
- 108. The misrepresentations about Sino's acquisition and holdings of the Yunnan forestry assets were made in all of the Impugned Documents that were MD&As, financial statements, AIFs, Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda, except for the 2005 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the Q1 2006 interim financial statements, the 2006 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the 2006 Annual MD&A.
  - (ii) Sino Overstates its Suriname Forestry Assets; Alternatively, Sino fails to Disclose the Material Fact that its Suriname Forestry Assets are contrary to the Laws of Suriname
- 109. In mid-2010, Sino became a majority shareholder of Greenheart Group Ltd., a Bermuda corporation having its headquarters in Hong Kong, China and a listing on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange ("Greenheart").
- 110. In August 2010, Greenheart issued an aggregate principal amount of US$25,000,000 convertible notes for gross proceeds of US$24,750,000. The sole subscriber of these convertible notes was Greater Sino Holdings Limited, an entity in which Murray has an indirect interest. In addition, Chan and Murray then became members of Greenheart's Board, Chan became the Board's Chairman, and Martin became the CEO of Greenheart and a member of its Board.

- 111. On August 24, 2010 and December 28, 2010, Greenheart granted to Chan, Martin and Murray options to purchase, respectively, approximately 6.8 million, 6.8 million and 1.1 million Greenheart shares. The options are exercisable for a five-year term.
- 112. As at March 31, 2011, General Enterprise Management Services International Limited, a company in which Murray has an indirect interest, held 7,000,000 shares of Greenheart, being 0.9% of the total issued and outstanding shares of Greenheart.
- 113. As a result of the aforesaid transactions and interests, Sino, Chan, Martin and Murray stood to profit handsomely from any inflation in the market price of Greenheart's shares.
- 114. At all material times, Greenheart purported to have forestry assets in New Zealand and Suriname. On March 1, 2011, Greenheart issued a press release in which it announced that:

Greenheart acquires certain rights to additional 128,000 hectare concession in Suriname

312,000 hectares now under Greenheart management

Hong Kong, March 1, 2011 – Greenheart Group Limited ("Greenheart" or "the Company") (HKSE: 00094), an investment holding company with forestry assets in Suriname and New Zealand (subject to certain closing conditions) today announced that the Company has acquired 60% of Vista Marine Services N.V. ("Vista"), a private company based in Suriname, South America that controls certain harvesting rights to a 128,000 hectares hardwood concession. Vista will be rebranded as part of the Greenheart Group. This transaction will increase Greenheart's concessions under management in Suriname to approximately 312,000 hectares. The cost of this acquisition is not material to the Company as a whole but the Company is optimistic about the prospects of Vista and the positive impact that it will bring. The concession is located in the Sipalawini district of Suriname, South America, bordering Lake Brokopondo and has an estimated annual allowable cut of approximately 100,000 cubic meters.

Mr. Judson Martin, Chief Executive Officer of Greenheart and Vice-Chairman of Sino-Forest Corporation, the Company's controlling shareholder said, "This acquisition is in line with our growth strategy to expand our footprint in Suriname. In addition to increased harvestable area, this acquisition will bring synergies in sales, marketing, administration, financial reporting and control, logistics and overall management. I am pleased to welcome Mr. Ty Wilkinson to Greenheart as our minority partner. Mr. Wilkinson shares our respect for the people of Suriname and the land and will be appointed Chief Executive Officer of this joint venture and be responsible for operating in a sustainable and responsible manner. This acquisition further advances Greenheart's strategy of becoming a global agri-forestry company. We will continue to actively seek well-priced and sustainable concessions in Suriname and neighboring regions in the coming months."

115. In its 2010 AIF, filed on SEDAR on March 31, 2011, Sino stated:

We hold a majority interest in Greenheart Group which, together with its subsidiaries, owns certain rights and manages approximately 312,000 hectares of hardwood forest concessions in the Republic of Suriname, South America ("Suriname") and 11,000 hectares of a radiata pine plantation on 13,000 hectares of freehold land in New Zealand as at March 31, 2011. We believe that our ownership in Greenheart Group will strengthen our global sourcing network in supplying wood fibre for China in a sustainable and responsible manner.

[Emphasis added.]

- 116. The statements reproduced in the preceding paragraph were false and/or materially misleading when made. Under the Suriname Forest Management Act, it is prohibited for one company or a group of companies in which one person or company has a majority interest to control more than 150,000 hectares of land under concession. Therefore, either Greenheart's concessions under management in Suriname did not exceed 150,000 hectares, or Greenheart's concessions under management in Suriname violated the laws of Suriname, which was a material fact not disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents.
- 117. In each of the October 2010 Offering Memorandum, the 2010 Annual MD&A, the 2010 AIF. Sino represented that Greenheart had well in excess of 150,000 hectares of concession under management in Suriname without however disclosing that Suriname law imposed a limit of 150,000 hectares on Greenheart and its subsidiaries.

- 118. Finally, Vista's forestry concessions are located in a region of Suriname populated by the Saramaka, an indigenous people. Pursuant to the American Convention on Human Rights and a decision of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, the Saramaka people must have effective control over their land, including the management of their reserves, and must be effectively consulted by the State of Suriname. Sino has not disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents where it has discussed Greenheart and/or Suriname assets that Vista's purported concessions in Suriname, if they exist at all, are impaired due to the unfulfilled rights of the indigenous people of Suriname, in violation of GAAP. The Impugned Documents that omitted that disclosure were the 2010 Annual MD&A, the 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, and the 2010 AIF.
  - (iii) Sino overstates its Jiangxi Forestry Assets
- 119. On June 11, 2009, Sino issued a press release in which it stated:

Sino-Forest Corporation (TSX: TRE), a leading commercial forest plantation operator in China, announced today that its wholly-owned subsidiary, Sino-Panel (China) Investments Limited ("Sino-Panel"), has entered into a Master Agreement for the Purchase of Pine and Chinese Fir Plantation Forests (the "Jiangxi Master Agreement") with Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company Limited ("Jiangxi Zhonggan"), which will act as the authorized agent for the original plantation rights holders.

Under the Jiangxi Master Agreement, Sino-Panel will, through PRC subsidiaries of Sino-Forest, acquire between 15 million and 18 million cubic metres (m<sub>3</sub>) of wood fibre located in plantations in Jiangxi Province over a three-year period with a price not to exceed RMB300 per m<sub>3</sub>, to the extent permitted under the relevant PRC laws and regulations. The plantations in which such amount of wood fibre to acquire is between 150,000 and 300,000 hectares to achieve an estimated average wood fibre yield of approximately 100 m<sub>3</sub> per hectare, and include tree species such as pine, Chinese fir and others. Jiangxi Zhonggan will ensure plantation forests sold to Sino-Panel and its PRC subsidiaries are non-state-owned, non-natural, commercial plantation forest trees.

In addition to securing the maximum tree acquisition price, Sino-Panel has pre-emptive rights to lease the underlying plantation land at a price, permitted under the relevant PRC laws and regulations, not to exceed RMB450 per hectare per annum for 30 years from the time of harvest. The land lease can also be extended to 50 years as permitted under PRC laws and regulations. The specific terms and conditions of purchasing or leasing are to be determined upon the execution of definitive agreements between the PRC subsidiaries of Sino-Panel and Jiangxi Zhonggan upon the authorisation of original plantation rights holders, and subject to the requisite governmental approval and in compliance with the relevant PRC laws and regulations.

Sino-Forest Chairman and CEO Allen Chan said, "We are fortunate to have been able to capture and support investment opportunities in China's developing forestry sector by locking up a large amount of fibre at competitive prices. The Jiangxi Master Agreement is Sino-Forest's fifth, long-term, fibre purchase agreement during the past two years. These five agreements cover a total plantation area of over one million hectares in five of China's most densely forested provinces."

[Emphasis added.]

- 120. According to Sino's 2010 Annual MD&A, as of December 31, 2010, Sino had acquired 59,700 ha of plantation trees from Jiangxi Zhonggan Industrial Development Company Limited ("Zhonggan") for US$269.1 million under the terms of the master agreement. (In its interim report for the second quarter of 2011, which was issued after the Class Period, Sino claims that, as at June 30, 2011, this number had increased to 69,100 ha, for a purchase price of US$309.6 million).
- 121. However, as was known to Sino, Chan, Poon and Horsley, and as ought to have been known to the remaining Individual Defendants, BDO, E&Y and Pöyry, Sino's plantation acquisitions through Zhonggan are materially smaller than Sino has claimed.
- (iv) Poyry makes Misrepresentations in relation to Sino's Forestry Assets

  122. As particularized above, Sino overstated its forestry assets in Yunnan and Jiangxi

  Provinces in the PRC and in Suriname. Accordingly, Sino's total assets are overstated to a material degree in all of the Impugned Documents, in violation of GAAP, and each such statement of Sino's total assets constitutes a misrepresentation.

- 123. In addition, during the Class Period, Pöyry and entities affiliated with it made statements that are misrepresentations in regard to Sino's Yunnan Province "assets." namely:
  - (a) In a report dated March 14, 2008, filed on SEDAR on March 31, 2008 (the "2008 Valuations"), Pöyry: (a) stated that it had determined the valuation of the Sino forest assets to be US$3.2 billion as at 31 December 2007; (b) provided tables and figures regarding Yunnan; (c) stated that "Stands in Yunnan range from 20 ha to 1000 ha," that "In 2007 Sino-Forest purchased an area of mixed broadleaf forest in Yunnan Province," that "Broadleaf forests already acquired in Yunnan are all mature," and that "Sino-Forest is embarking on a series of forest acquisitions/expansion efforts in Hunan, Yunnan and Guangxi;" and (d) provided a detailed discussion of Sino's Yunnan "holdings" at Appendixes 3 and 5. Pöyry's 2008 Valuations were incorporated in Sino's 2007 Annual MD&A, amended 2007 Annual MD&A, 2007 AIF, each of the Q1, Q2, and Q3 2008 MD&As, Annual 2008 MD&A, amended Annual 2008 MD&A, each of the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2009, annual 2009 MD&A, and July 2008 and December 2009 Offering Memoranda;
  - (b) In a report dated April 1, 2009 and filed on SEDAR on April 2, 2009 (the "2009 Valuations"), Pöyry stated that "[t]he area of forest owned in Yunnan has quadrupled from around 10 000 ha to almost 40 000 ha over the past year," provided figures and tables regarding Yunnan, and stated that "Sino-Forest has increased its holding of broadleaf crops in Yunnan during 2008, with this province containing nearly 99% of its broadleaf resource." Pöyry's 2009 Valuations were incorporated in Sino's 2008 AIF, each of the Q1, Q2, Q3 2009 MD&As, Annual 2009 MD&A, June 2009 Offering Memorandum, and June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses;
  - (c) In a "Final Report" dated April 23, 2010, filed on SEDAR on April 30, 2010 (the "2010 Valuations"), Pöyry stated that "Guangxi, Hunan and Yunnan are the three largest provinces in terms of Sino-Forest's holdings. The largest change in area by province, both in absolute and relative terms [sic] has been Yunnan, where the area of forest owned has almost tripled, from around 39 000 ha to almost 106 000 ha over the past year," provided figures and tables regarding Yunnan, stated that "Yunnan contains 106 000 ha, including 85 000 ha or 99% of the total broadleaf forest," stated that "the three provinces of Guangxi, Hunan and Yunnan together contain 391 000 ha or about 80% of the total forest area of 491 000 ha" and that "[a]lmost 97% of the broadleaf forest is in Yunnan," and provided a detailed discussion of Sino's Yunnan "holdings" at Appendixes 3 and 4. Pöyry's 2010 Valuations were incorporated in Sino's 2009 AIF, the annual 2009 MD&A, each of the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2010 MD&As, and the October 2010 Offering Memorandum;

- (d) In a "Summary Valuation Report" regarding "Valuation of Purchased Forest Crops as at 31 December 2010" and dated May 27, 2011, Pöyry provided tables and figures regarding Yunnan, stated that "[t]he major changes in area by species from December 2009 to 2010 has been in Yunnan pine, with acquisitions in Yunnan and Sichuan provinces" and that "[a]nalysis of [Sino's] inventory data for broadleaf forest in Yunnan, and comparisons with an inventory that Pöyry undertook there in 2008 supported the upwards revision of prices applied to the Yunnan broadleaf large size log," and stated that "[t]he yield table for Yunnan pine in Yunnan and Sichuan provinces was derived from data collected in this species in these provinces by Pöyry during other work;" and
- (e) In a press release titled "Summary of Sino-Forest's China Forest Asset 2010 Valuation Reports" and which was "jointly prepared by Sino-Forest and Pöyry to highlight key findings and outcomes from the 2010 valuation reports," Pöyry reported on Sino's "holdings" and estimated the market value of Sino's forest assets on the 754,816 ha to be approximately US$3.1 billion as at December 31, 2010.

C. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Related Party Transactions

- 124. Under GAAP and GAAS, a "related party" exists "when one party has the ability to exercise directly or indirectly, control, joint control or significant influence over the other." (CICA Handbook 3840.03) Examples include a parent-subsidiary relationship or an entity that is economically dependent upon another.
- 125. Related parties raise the concern that transactions may not be conducted at arm's length, and pricing or other terms may not be determined at fair market values. For example, when a subsidiary "sells" an asset to its parent at a given price, it may not be appropriate that that asset be reported on the balance sheet or charged against the earnings of the parent at that price. Where transactions are conducted between arm's length parties, this concern is generally not present.
- 126. The existence of related party transactions is important to investors irrespective of the reported dollar values of the transactions because the transactions may be controlled, manipulated and/or concealed by management (for example, for corporate purposes or because fraudulent activity is involved), and because such transactions may be used to benefit management or persons close to management at the expense of the company, and therefore its shareholders.
  - (ii) Sino fails to disclose that Zhonggan was a Related Party
- 127. Irrespective of the true extent of Zhonggan's transactions in Jiangxi forestry plantations, Sino failed to disclose, in violation of GAAP, that Zhonggan was a related party of Sino. More particularly, according to AIC records, the legal representative of Zhonggan is Lam Hong Chiu, who is an executive vice president of Sino. Lam Hong Chiu is also a director and a 50%

shareholder of China Square Industrial Limited, a BVI corporation which, according to AIC records, owns 80% of the equity of Zhonggan.

128. The Impugned Documents that omitted that disclosure were the Q2 2009 MD&A, the Q2 2009 interim financial statements, the Q3 2009 MD&A, the Q3 2009 interim financial statements, the December 2009 Prospectus, the 2009 Annual MD&A, the 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the 2009 AIF, the Q1 2010 MD&A, the Q1 2010 interim financial statements, the Q2 2010 MD&A, the Q2 2010 interim financial statements, the Q3 2010 MD&A, the Q3 2010 interim financial statements, the Q3 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, and the 2010 AIF.

(iii) Sino fails to disclose that Homix was a Related Party

129. On January 12, 2010, Sino issued a press release in which it announced the acquisition by one of its wholly-owned subsidiaries of Homix Limited ("Homix"), which it described as a company engaged in research and development and manufacturing of engineered-wood products in China, for an aggregate amount of US$7.1 million. That press release stated:

HOMIX has an R&D laboratory and two engineered-wood production operations based in Guangzhou and Jiangsu Provinces, covering eastern and southern China wood product markets. The company has developed a number of new technologies with patent rights, specifically suitable for domestic plantation logs including poplar and eucalyptus species. HOMIX specializes in curing, drying and dyeing methods for engineered wood and has the know-how to produce recomposed wood products and laminated veneer lumber. Recomposed wood technology is considered to be environment-friendly and versatile as it uses fibre from forest plantations, recycled wood and/or wood residue. This reduces the traditional use of large-diameter trees from natural forests. There is growing demand for recomposed wood technology as it reduces cost for raw material while increases the utilization and sustainable use of plantation fibre for the production of furniture and interior/exterior building materials.

Mr. Allen Chan, Sino-Forest's Chairman & CEO, said, "As we continue to ramp up our replanting programme with improved eucalyptus species, it is important for Sino-Forest to continue investing in the research and development that maximizes all aspects of the forest product supply chain. Modernization and improved productivity of the wood processing industry in China is also necessary given the country's chronic wood fibre deficit. Increased use of technology improves operation efficiency, and maximizes and broadens the use of domestic plantation wood, which reduces the need for logging domestic natural forests and for importing logs from strained tropical forests. HOMIX has significant technological capabilities in engineered-wood processing."

Mr. Chan added, "By acquiring HOMIX, we intend to use six-year eucalyptus fibre instead of 30-year tree fibre from other species to produce quality lumber using recomposed technology. We believe that this will help preserve natural forests as well as improve the demand for and pricing of our planted eucalyptus trees."

- 130. Sino's 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements, Q1/2010 Unaudited Interim Financial Statements, 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the MD&As related to each of the aforementioned financial statements, and Sino's AIFs for 2009 and 2010, each discussed the acquisition of Homix, but nowhere disclosed that Homix was in fact a related party of Sino.
- 131. More particularly, Hua Chen, a Senior Vice President, Administration & Finance, of Sino in the PRC, and who joined Sino in 2002, is a 30% shareholder of an operating subsidiary of Homix, Jiangsu Dayang Wood Co., Ltd. ("Jiangsu")
- 132. In order to persuade current and prospective Sino shareholders that there was a commercial justification for the Homix acquisition, Sino misrepresented Homix's patent designs registered with the PRC State Intellectual Property Office. In particular, in its 2009 Annual Report, Sino stated:

HOMIX acquisition

In accordance with our strategy to focus on research and development and to improve the end-use of our wood fibre, we acquired HOMIX Ltd. in January 2010 for $7.1 million. This corporate acquisition is small but strategically important adding valuable intellectual property rights and two engineered-wood processing facilities located in Guangdong and Jiangsu Provinces to our operations. Homix has developed environment-friendly technology, an efficient process using recomposed technology to convert small-diameter plantation logs into building materials and furniture. Since we plan to grow high volumes of eucalypt and other FGHY species, this acquisition will help us achieve our long-term objectives of maximizing the use of our fibre, supplying a variety of downstream customers and enhancing economic rural development. [Emphasis added]

- 133. However, Homix itself then had no patent designs registered with the PRC State Intellectual Property Office. At that time, Homix had two subsidiaries, Jiangsu and Guangzhou Pany Dacheng Wood Co. The latter then had no patent designs registered with the PRC State Intellectual Property Office, while Jiangsu had two patent designs. However, each such design was for wood dyeing, and not for the conversion of small-diameter plantation logs into building materials and furniture.
  - (iv) Sino fails to disclose that Yunan Shunxuan was a Related Party
- 134. In addition, during the Class Period, Sino purportedly purchased approximately 1,600 hectares of timber in Yunnan province from Yunnan Shunxuan Forestry Co. Ltd. Yunnan Shunxuan was part of Sino, acting under a separate label. Accordingly, it was considered a related party for the purposes of the GAAP disclosure requirements, a fact that Sino failed to disclose.
- 135. The Impugned Documents that omitted that disclosure were the 2009 Annual MD&A, the 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements, the 2009 AIF, the Q1 2010 MD&A, the Q1 2010 interim financial statements, the Q2 2010 MD&A, the Q2 2010 interim financial statements, the Q3 2010 MD&A, the Q3 2010 interim financial statements, the 2010 Annual MD&A, the 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements, and the 2010 AIF.
- 136. Sino's failure to disclose that Yunnan Shunxuan was a related party was a violation of GAAP, and a misrepresentation.
  - (v) Sino fails to disclose that Yuda Wood was a Related Party
- 137. Huaihua City Yuda Wood Co. Ltd., based in Huaihua City, Hunan Province ("Yuda Wood"), was a major supplier of Sino at material times. Yuda Wood was founded in April 2006 and, from 2007 until 2010, its business with Sino totalled approximately 152,164 Ha and RMB 4.94 billion.

- 138. During that period, Yuda Wood was a related party of Sino. Indeed, in the Second Report, the IC acknowledged that "there is evidence suggesting close cooperation [between Sino and Yuda Wood] (including administrative assistance, possible payment of capital at the time of establishment, joint control of certain of Yuda Wood's RMB bank accounts and the numerous emails indicating coordination of funding and other business activities)" [emphasis added.]
- 139. The fact that Yuda Wood was a related party of Sino during the Class Period was a material fact and was required to be disclosed under GAAP, but, during the Class Period, that fact was not disclosed by Sino in any of the Impugned Documents, or otherwise.
  - (vi) Sino fails to Disclose that Major Suppliers were Related Parties
- 140. At material times, Sino had at least thirteen suppliers where former Sino employees, consultants or secondees are or were directors, officers and/or shareholders of one or more such suppliers. Due to these and other connections between these suppliers and Sino, some or all of such suppliers were in fact undisclosed related parties of Sino.
- 141. Including Yuda Wood, the thirteen suppliers referenced above accounted for 43% of Sino's purported plantation purchases between 2006 and the first quarter of 2011.
- 142. In none of the Impugned Documents did Sino disclose that any of these suppliers were related parties, nor did it disclose sufficient particulars of its relations with such suppliers as would have enabled the investing public to ascertain that those suppliers were related parties.

- D. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Relations with Forestry Bureaus and its Purported Title to Forestry Assets in the PRC
- 143. In at least two instances during the Class Period, PRC forestry bureau officials were either concurrently or subsequently employees of, or consultants to, Sino. One forestry bureau assigned employees to Sino and other companies to assist in the development of the forestry industry in its jurisdiction.
- 144. In addition, a vice-chief of the forestry bureau was assigned to work closely with Sino, and while that vice chief still drew a basic salary from the forestry bureau, he also acted as a consultant to Sino in the conduct of Sino's business. This arrangement was in place for several years. That vice-chief appeared on Sino's payroll from January 2007 with a monthly payment of RMB 15,000, which was significant compared with his forestry bureau salary.
- 145. In addition, at material times, Sino and/or its subsidiaries and/or its suppliers made cash payments and gave "gifts" to forestry bureau officals, which potentially constituted a serious criminal offence under the laws of the PRC. At least some of these payments and gifts were made or given in order to induce the recipients to issue "confirmation letters" in relation to Sino's purported holdings in the PRC of standing timber. These practices utterly compromised the integrity of the process whereby those "confirmation letters" were obtained.
- 146. Further, a chief of a forestry bureau who had authorized the issuance of confirmations to Sino was arrested due to corruption charges. That forestry bureau had issued confirmations only to Sino and to no other companies. Subsequent to the termination of that forestry bureau chief, that forestry bureau did not issue confirmations to any company.
- 147. The foregoing facts were material because: (1) they undermined the reliability (if any) of the documentation upon which Sino relied and continues to rely to establish its ownership of standing timber; and (2) the corruption in which Sino was engaged exposed Sino to potential criminal penalties, including substantial fines, as well as a risk of severe reputational damage in Sino's most important market, the PRC.

148. However, none of these facts was disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents. On the contrary, Sino only made the following disclosure regarding former government officials in its 2007 Annual Report (and in no other Impugned Document), which was materially incomplete, and a misrepresentation:

To ensure successful growth, we have trained and promoted staff from within our organization, and hired knowledgeable people with relevant working experience and industry expertise – some joined us from forestry bureaus in various regions and provinces and/or state-owned tree farms. [...] 4. Based in Heyuan, Guangdong, Deputy GM responsible for Heyuan plantations, previously with forestry bureau; studied at Yangdongxian Dangxiao [Mr. Liang] 5. Based in Hunan, Plantation controller, graduated from Hunan Agricultural University, previously Assistant Manager of state-owned farm trees in Hunan [Mr. Xie].

- 149. In respect of Sino's purported title to standing timber in the PRC, Sino possessed Plantation Rights Certificates, or registered title, only in respect of 18% of its purported holdings of standing timber as at December 31, 2010, a fact nowhere disclosed by Sino during the Class Period. This fact was highly material to Sino, inasmuch as standing timber comprised a large proportion of Sino's assets throughout the Class Period, and in the absence of Plantation Rights Certificates, Sino could not establish its title to that standing timber.
- 150. Rather than disclose this highly material fact, Sino made the following misrepresentations in the following Impugned Documents:
  - (a) In the 2008 AIF: "We have obtained the plantation rights certificates or requisite approvals for acquiring the relevant plantation rights for most of the purchased tree plantations and planted tree plantations currently under our management, and we are in the process of applying for the plantation rights

- certificates for those plantations for which we have not obtained such certificates" [emphasis added];
- (b) In the 2009 AIF: "We have obtained the plantation rights certificates or requisite approvals for acquiring the relevant plantation rights for most of the purchased plantations and planted plantations currently under our management, and we are in the process of applying for the plantation rights certificates for those plantations for which we have not obtained such certificates" [emphasis added]; and
- (c) In the 2010 AIF: "We have obtained the plantation rights certificates or requisite approvals for acquiring the relevant plantation rights for most of the purchased plantations and planted plantations currently under our management, and we are in the process of applying for the plantation rights certificates for those plantations for which we have not obtained such certificates" [emphasis added].
- 151. In the absence of Plantation Rights Certificates, Sino relies principally on the purchase contracts entered into by its BVI subsidiaries ("BVIs") in order to demonstrate its ownership of standing timber.
- 152. However, under PRC law, those contracts are void and unenforceable.
- 153. In the alternative, if those contracts are valid and enforceable, they are enforceable only as against the counterparties through which Sino purported to acquire the standing timber, and not against the party who has registered title (if any) to the standing timber. Because some or all of those counterparties were or became insolvent, corporate shells or thinly capitalized, then any claims that Sino would have against those counterparties under PRC law, whether for unjust enrichment or otherwise, were of little to no value, and certainly constituted no substitute for registered title to the standing timber which Sino purported to own.

- 154. Sino never disclosed these material facts during the Class Period, whether in the Impugned Documents or otherwise. On the contrary, Sino made the following misrepresentations in relation to its purported title to standing timber:
  - (a) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
  - (b) In the June 2009 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
  - (c) In the October 2010 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
  - (d) In the 2006 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the supplemental purchase contracts and the plantation rights certificates issued by the relevant forestry departments, we have the legal right to own our purchased tree plantations";
  - (e) In the 2007 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry departments, we have the legal right to own our purchased tree plantations";
  - (f) In the 2008 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased tree plantations";

- (g) In the 2009 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the local forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations";
- (h) In the December 2009 Offering Memorandum, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the local forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations"; and
- (i) In the 2010 AIF, Sino stated "Based on the relevant purchase contracts and the approvals issued by the relevant forestry bureaus, we legally own our purchased plantations."
- 155. In addition, during the Class Period, Sino never disclosed the material fact, belatedly revealed in the Second Report, that "in practice it is not able to obtain Plantation Rights Certificates for standing timber purchases when no land transfer rights are transferred" [emphasis added].
- 156. On the contrary, during the Class Period, Sino made the following misrepresentation in each of the 2006 and 2007 AIFs:

Since 2000, the PRC has been improving its system of registering plantation land ownership, plantation land use rights and plantation ownership rights and its system of issuing certificates to the persons having plantation land use rights, to owners owning the plantation trees and to owners of the plantation land. In April 2000, the PRC State Forestry Bureau announced the "Notice on the Implementation of Nationwide Uniform Plantation Right Certificates" (Lin Zi Fa [2000] No. 159) on April 19, 2000 (the "Notice"). Under the Notice, a new uniform form of plantation rights certificate is to be used commencing from the date of the Notice. The same type of new form plantation rights certificate will be issued to the persons having the right to use the plantation land, to persons who own the plantation land and plantation trees, and to persons having the right to use plantation trees.

[Emphasis added]

- 157. Under PRC law, county and provincial forestry bureaus have no authority to issue confirmation letters. Such letters cannot be relied upon in a court of law to resolve a dispute and are not a guarantee of title. Notwithstanding this, during the Class Period, Sino made the following misrepresentations:
  - (a) In the 2006 AIF: "In addition, for the purchased tree plantations, we have obtained confirmations from the relevant forestry bureaus that we have the legal right to own the purchased tree plantations for which we have not received certificates" [emphasis added]; and
  - (b) In the 2007 AIF: "For our Purchased Tree Plantations, we have applied for the relevant Plantation Rights Certificates with the competent local forestry departments. As the relevant locations where we purchased our Purchased Tree Plantations have not fully implemented the new form Plantation Rights Certificate, we are not able to obtain all the corresponding Plantation Rights Certificates for our Purchased Tree Plantations. In this connection, we obtained confirmation on our ownership of our Purchased Tree Plantations from the relevant forestry departments." [emphasis added]

E. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Relationships with its AIs

- 158. In addition to the misrepresentations alleged above in relation to Sino's AIs, including those alleged in Section VI.C hereof (Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Related Party Transactions), Sino made the following misrepresentations during the Class Period in relation to its relationships with it AIs.
- (i) Sino Misrepresents the Degree of its Reliance on its AIs159. On March 30, 2007, Sino issued and filed on SEDAR its 2006 AIF. In that AIF, Sino
  - ...PRC laws and regulations require foreign companies to obtain licenses to engage in any business activities in the PRC. As a result of these requirements, we currently engage in our trading activities through PRC authorized intermediaries that have the requisite business licenses. There is no assurance that the PRC government will not take action to restrict our ability to engage in trading activities through our authorized intermediaries. In order to reduce our reliance on the authorized intermediaries, we intend to use a WFOE in the PRC to enter into contracts directly with suppliers of raw timber, and then process the raw timber, or engage others to process raw timber on its behalf, and sell logs, wood chips and wood-based products to customers, although it would not be able to engage in pure trading activities.

stated:

- 160. In its 2007 AIF, which Sino filed on March 28, 2008, Sino again declared its intention to reduce its reliance upon AIs.
- 161. These statements were false and/or materially misleading when made, inasmuch as Sino had no intention to reduce materially its reliance on AIs, because its AIs were critical to Sino's ability to inflate its revenue and net income. Rather, these statements had the effect of mitigating any investor concern arising from Sino's extensive reliance upon AIs.
- 162. Throughout the Class Period, Sino continued to depend heavily upon AIs for its purported sales of standing timber. In fact, contrary to Sino's purported intention to reduce its reliance on its AIs, Sino's reliance on its AIs in fact increased during the Class Period.

- (ii) Sino Misrepresents the Tax-related Risks Arising from its use of AIs
- 163. Throughout the Class Period, Sino materially understated the tax-related risks arising from its use of Als.
- 164. Tax evasion penalties in the PRC are severe. Depending on whether the PRC authorities seek recovery of unpaid taxes by means of a civil or criminal proceeding, its claims for unpaid tax are subject to either a five- or ten-year limitation period. The unintentional failure to pay taxes is subject to a 0.05% per day interest penalty, while an intentional failure to pay taxes is punishable with fines of up to five times the unpaid taxes, and confiscation of part or all of the criminal's personal properties maybe also imposed.
- 165. Therefore, because Sino professed to be unable to determine whether its AIs have paid required taxes, the tax-related risks arising from Sino's use of AIs were potentially devastating. Sino failed, however, to disclose these aspects of the PRC tax regime in its Class Period disclosure documents, as alleged more particularly below.
- 166. Based upon Sino's reported results, Sino's tax accruals in all of its Impugned Documents that were interim and annual financial statements were materially deficient. For example, depending on whether the PRC tax authorities would assess interest at the rate of 18.75% per annum, or would assess no interest, on the unpaid income taxes of Sino's BVI subsidiaries, and depending also on whether one assumes that Sino's AIs have paid no income taxes or have paid 50% of the income taxes due to the PRC, then Sino's tax accruals in its 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 Audited Annual Financial Statements were understated by, respectively, US$10 million to US$150 million, US$50 million to US$260 million, US$81 million to US$371 million, and US$83 million to US$493 million. Importantly, were one to consider the impact of unpaid taxes other than unpaid income taxes (for example, unpaid value-added taxes), then the amounts by which Sino's tax accruals were understated in these financial statements would be substantially larger.

- 167. The aforementioned estimates of the amounts by which Sino's tax accruals were understated also assume that the PRC tax authorities only impose interest charges on Sino's BVI Subsidiaries and impose no other penalties for unpaid taxes, and assume further that the PRC authorities seek back taxes only for the preceding five years. As indicated above, each of these assumptions is likely to be unduly optimistic. In any case, Sino's inadequate tax accruals violated GAAP, and constituted misrepresentations.
- 168. Sino also violated GAAP in its 2009 Audited Annual Financial Statements by failing to apply to its 2009 financial results the PRC tax guidance that was issued in February 2010. Although that guidance was issued after year-end 2009, GAAP required that Sino apply that guidance to its 2009 financial results, because that guidance was issued in the subsequent events period.
- 169. Based upon Sino's reported profit margins on its dealings with AIs, which margins are extraordinary both in relation to the profit margins of Sino's peers, and in relation to the limited risks that Sino purports to assume in its transactions with its AIs, Sino's AIs are not satisfying their tax obligations, a fact that was either known to the Defendants or ought to have been known. If Sino's extraordinary profit margins are real, then Sino and its AIs must be dividing the gains from non-payment of taxes to the PRC.
- 170. During the Class Period, Sino never disclosed the true nature of the tax-related risks to which it was exposed. This omission, in violation of GAAP, rendered each of the following statements a misrepresentation:

- (a) In the 2006 Annual Financial Statements, note 11 [b] "Provision for tax related liabilities" and associated text;
- (b) In the 2006 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (c) In the AIF dated March 30, 2007, the section "Estimation of the Company's provision for income and related taxes," and associated text;
- (d) In the Q1 and Q2 2007 Financial Statements, note 5 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (e) In the Q3 2007 Financial Statements, note 6 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (f) In the 2007 Annual Financial Statements, note 13 [b] "Provision for tax related liabilities," and associated text;
- (g) In the 2007 Annual MD&A and Amended 2007 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (h) In the AIF dated March 28, 2008, the section "Estimation of the Corporation's provision for income and related taxes," and associated text;
- (i) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2008 Financial Statements, note 12 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (j) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2008 MD&As, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (k) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum, the subsection "Taxation" in the section "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," and associated text;

- (l) In the 2008 Annual Financial Statements, note 13 [d] "Provision for tax related liabilities," and associated text;
- (m) In the 2008 Annual MD&A and Amended 2008 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (n) In the AIF dated March 31, 2009, the section "We may be liable for income and related taxes to our business and operations, particularly our BVI Subsidiaries, in amounts greater than the amounts we have estimated and for which we have provisioned," and associated text;
- (o) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2009 Financial Statements, note 13 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (p) In the Q1, Q2 and Q3 2009 MD&As, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (q) In the 2009 Annual Financial Statements, note 15 [d] "Provision for tax related liabilities," and associated text;
- (r) In the 2009 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (s) In the AIF dated March 31, 2010, the section "We may be liable for income and related taxes to our business and operations, particularly our BVI Subsidiaries, in amounts greater than the amounts we have estimated and for which we have provisioned," and associated text;
- (t) In the Q1 and Q2 2010 Financial Statements, note 14 "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (u) In the Q1 and Q2 2010 MD&As, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;

- (v) In the Q3 2010 Financial Statements, note 14 "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text; and
- (w) In the Q3 2010 MD&As, the subsection "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
- (x) In the October 2010 Offering Memorandum, the subsection "Taxation" in the section "Selected Financial Information," and associated text;
- (y) In the 2010 Annual Financial Statements, note 18 "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities," and associated text;
- (z) In the 2010 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision and Contingencies for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text; and
- (aa) In the AIF dated March 31, 2011, the section "We may be liable for income and related taxes to our business and operations, particularly our BVI Subsidiaries, in amounts greater than the amounts we have estimated and for which we have provisioned," and associated text.
- 171. In every Impugned Document that is a financial statement, the line item "Accounts payable and accrued liabilities" and associated figures on the Consolidated Balance Sheets fails to properly account for Sino's tax accruals and is a misrepresentation, and a violation of GAAP.
- 172. During the Class Period, Sino also failed to disclose in any of the Impugned Documents that were AIFs, MD&As, financial statements, Prospectuses or Offering Memoranda, the risks relating to the repatriation of its earnings from the PRC. In 2010, Sino added two new sections to its AIF regarding the risk that it would not be able to repatriate earnings from its BVI subsidiaries (which deal with the AIs). The amount of retained earnings that may not be able to be repatriated is stated therein to be US$1.4 billion. Notwithstanding this disclosure, Sino did not disclose in these Impugned Documents that it would be unable to repatriate any earnings absent proof of payment of PRC taxes, which it has admitted that it lacks.

- (iii) Sino Misrepresents its Accounting Treatment of its Als
- 173. In addition, there are material discrepancies in Sino's descriptions of its accounting treatment of its AIs. Beginning in the 2003 AIF, Sino described its AIs as follows:

Because of the provisions in the Operational Procedures that specify when we and the authorized intermediary assume the risks and obligations relating to the raw timber or wood chips, as the case may be, we treat these transactions for accounting purposes as providing that we take title to the raw timber when it is delivered to the authorized intermediary. Title then passes to the authorized intermediary once the timber is processed into wood chips. Accordingly, we treat the authorized intermediaries for accounting purposes as being both our suppliers and customers in these transactions.

[Emphasis added.]

174. Sino's disclosures were consistent in that regard up to and including Sino's first AIF issued in the Class Period (the 2006 AIF), which states:

Because of the provisions in the Operational Procedures that specify when we and the AI assume the risks and obligations relating to the raw timber or wood chips, as the case may be, we treat these transactions for accounting purposes as providing that we take title to the raw timber when it is delivered to the AI. Title then passes to the AI once the timber is processed into wood chips. Accordingly, we treat the AI for accounting purposes as being both our supplier and customer in these transactions.

[Emphasis added.]

- 175. In subsequent AIFs, Sino ceased without explanation to disclose whether it treated AIs for accounting purposes as being both the supplier and the customer.
- 176. Following the issuance of Muddy Waters' report on the last day of the Class Period, however, Sino declared publicly that Muddy Waters was "wrong" in its assertion that, for accounting purposes, Sino treated its AIs as being both supplier and customer in transactions. This claim by Sino implies either that Sino misrepresented its accounting treatment of AIs in its 2006 AIF (and in its AIFs for prior years), or that Sino changed its accounting treatment of its AIs after the issuance of its 2006 AIF. If the latter is true, then Sino was obliged by GAAP to disclose its change in its accounting treatment of its AIs. It failed to do so.

F. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's Cash Flow Statements

- 177. Given the nature of Sino's operations, that of a frequent trader of standing timber, Sino improperly accounted for its purchases of timber assets as "Investments" in its Consolidated Statements Of Cash Flow. In fact, such purchases are "Inventory" within the meaning of GAAP, given the nature of Sino's business.
- 178. Additionally, Sino violated the GAAP 'matching' principle in treating timber asset purchases as "Investments" and the sale of timber assets as "Inventory": cash flow that came into the company was treated as cash flow from operations, but cash flow that was spent by Sino was treated as cash flow for investments. As a result, "Additions to timber holding" was improperly treated as a "Cash Flows Used In Investing Activities" instead of "Cash Flows From Operating Activities" and the item "Depletion of timber holdings included in cost of sales" should not be included in "Cash Flows From Operating Activities," because it is not a cash item.
- 179. The effect of these misstatements is that Sino's Cash Flows From Operating Activities were materially overstated throughout the Class Period, which created the impression that Sino was a far more successful cash generator than it was. Such mismatching and misclassification is a violation of GAAP.
- 180. Cash Flows From Operating Activities are one of the crucial metrics used by the financial analysts who followed Sino's performance. These misstatements were designed to, and did, have the effect of causing such analysts to materially overstate the value of Sino. This material overstatement was incorporated into various research reports made available to the Class Members, the market and the public at large.

- 181. Matching is a foundational requirement of GAAP reporting. E&Y and BDO were aware, at all material times, that Sino was required to adhere to the matching principle. If E&Y and BDO had conducted GAAS-complaint audits, they would have been aware that Sino's reporting was not GAAP compliant with regard to the matching principle. Accordingly, if they had conducted GAAS-compliant audits, the statements by E&Y and BDO that Sino's reporting was GAAP-compliant were not only false, but were made, at a minimum, recklessly.
- 182. Further, at all material times, E&Y and BDO were aware that misstatements in Cash Flows From Operating Activities would materially impact the market's valuation of Sino.
- 183. Accordingly, in every Impugned Document that is a financial statement, the Consolidated Statements Of Cash Flow are a misrepresentation and, particularly, the Cash Flows From Operating Activities item and associated figures is materially overstated, the "additions to timber holdings" item and figures is required to be listed as Cash Flows From Operating Activities, and the "depletion of timber holdings included in cost of sales" item and figures should not have been included.

G. Misrepresentations relating to Certain Risks to which Sino was exposed

- (i) Sino is conducting "business activities" in China
- 184. At material times, PRC law required foreign entities engaging in "business activities" in the PRC to register to obtain and maintain a license. Violation of this requirement could have resulted in both administrative sanctions and criminal punishment, including banning the unlicensed business activities, confiscating illegal income and properties used exclusively therefor, and/or an administrative fines of no more than RMB 500,000. Possible criminal punishment included a criminal fine from 1 to 5 times the amount of the profits gained.
- 185. Consequently, were Sino's BVI subsidiaries to have been engaged in unlicensed in "business activities" in the PRC during the Class Period, they would have been exposed to risks that were highly material to Sino.
- 186. Under PRC law, the term "business activities" generally encompasses any for-profit activities, and Sino's BVI subsidiaries were in fact engaged in unlicensed "business activities" in the PRC during the Class Period. However, Sino did not disclose this fact in any of the Impugned Documents, including in its AIFs for 2008-2010, which purported to make full disclosure of the material risks to which Sino was then exposed.
  - (ii) Sino fails to disclose that no proceeds were paid to it by its AIs
- 187. In the Second Report, Sino belatedly revealed that:

In practice, proceeds from the Entrusted Sale Agreements are not paid to SF but are held by the AIs as instructed by SF and subsequently used to pay for further purchases of standing timber by the same or other BVIs. The AIs will continue to hold these proceeds until the Company instructs the AIs to use these proceeds to pay for new BVI standing timber purchases. No proceeds are directly paid to the Company, either onshore or offshore.

[Emphasis added]

- 188. This material fact was never disclosed in any of the Impugned Documents during the Class Period. On the contrary, Sino made the following statements during the Class Period in relation to the proceeds paid to it by its AIs, each of which was materially misleading and therefore a misrepresentation:
  - (a) In the 2005 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of wood chips and standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other PRC liabilities" [emphasis added];
  - (b) In the 2006 Annual MD&A, the subsection "Provision for Tax Related Liabilities" in the section "Critical Accounting Estimates," and associated text;
  - (c) In the 2006 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of wood chips and standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added];
  - (d) In the 2007 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi;"
  - (e) In the 2008 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added];
  - (f) In the 2009 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added]; and

(g) In the 2010 financial statements, Sino stated: "As a result, the majority of the accounts receivable arising from sales of standing timber are realized through instructing the debtors to settle the amounts payable on standing timber and other liabilities denominated in Renminbi" [emphasis added].

H. Misrepresentations relating to Sino's GAAP Compliance and the Auditors' GAAS Compliance

- (i) Sino, Chan and Horsley misrepresent that Sino complied with GAAP
- 189. In each of its Class Period financial statements, Sino represented that its financial reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 190. In particular, Sino misrepresented in those financial statements that it was GAAP-compliant as follows:
  - (a) In the annual statements filed on March 19, 2007, at Note 1: "These consolidated financial statements Sino-Forest Corporation (the "Company") have been prepared in United States dollars in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (b) In the annual financial statements filed on March 18, 2008, at Note 1: "The consolidated financial statements of Sino-Forest Corporation (the "Company") have been prepared in United States dollars and in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (c) In the annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2009, at note 1: "The consolidated financial statements of Sino-Forest Corporation (the "Company") have been prepared in United States dollars and in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";

- (d) In the annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2010, at note 1: "The consolidated financial statements of Sino-Forest Corporation (the "Company") have been prepared in United States dollars and in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles"; and
- (e) In the annual financial statements filed on March 15, 2011, at note 1: "The consolidated financial statements of Sino-Forest Corporation (the "Company") have been prepared in United States dollars and in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles".
- 191. In each of its Class Period MD&As, Sino represented that its reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 192. In particular, Sino misrepresented in those MD&As that it was GAAP-compliant as follows:
  - (a) In the annual MD&A filed on March 19, 2007: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)";
  - (b) In the quarterly MD&A filed on May 14, 2007: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP")";
  - (c) In the quarterly MD&A filed on August 13, 2007: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP")";
  - (d) In the quarterly MD&A filed on November 12, 2007: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP")";

- (e) In the annual MD&A filed on March 18, 2008: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)";
- (f) In the amended annual MD&A filed on March 28, 2008: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)";
- (g) In the quarterly MD&A filed on May 13, 2008: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP")";
- (h) In the quarterly MD&A filed on August 12, 2008: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP")";
- (i) In the quarterly MD&A filed on November 13, 2008: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP")";
- (j) In the annual MD&A filed on March 16, 2009: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)";
- (k) In the amended annual MD&A filed on March 17, 2009: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)";
- (l) In the quarterly MD&A filed on May 11, 2009: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)";
- (m) In the quarterly MD&A filed on August 10, 2009: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)";

- (n) In the quarterly MD&A filed on November 12, 2009: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP")";
- (o) In the annual MD&A files on March 16, 2010: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP")";
- (p) In the quarterly MD&A filed on May 12, 2010: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP")";
- (q) In the quarterly MD&A filed on August 10, 2010: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP")";
- (r) In the quarterly MD&A filed on November 10, 2010: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP")"; and
- (s) In the annual MD&A filed on March 15, 2011: "Except where otherwise indicated, all financial information reflected herein is determined on the basis of Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP")."
- 193. In the Offerings, Sino represented that its reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 194. In particular, Sino misrepresented in the Offerings that it was GAAP-compliant as follows:
  - (a) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada" and "Each of the foregoing reports or financial statements will be prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles other than for reports prepared for financial periods commencing on or after January 1, 2011 [...]";

- (b) In the June 2009 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada," "The audited and unaudited consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP," "Our audited and consolidated financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2007 and 2008 and our unaudited interim consolidated financial statements for the three-month periods ended March 31, 2008 and 2009 have been prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP";
- (c) In the June 2009 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada" and "The audited and unaudited consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP"; and
- (d) In the October 2010 Offering Memorandum: "We prepare our financial statements on a consolidated basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP")[...]," "Our auditors conduct their audit of our financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada," "The audited and unaudited consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP," "Our audited and consolidated financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2007, 2008 and 2009 and our unaudited interim consolidated financial statements for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2009 and 2010 have been prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP."

- 195. In the Class Period Management's Reports, Chan and Horsley represented that Sino's reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein.
- 196. In particular, Chan and Horsley misrepresented in those Management's Reports that Sino's financial statements were GAAP-compliant as follows:
  - (a) In the annual statements filed on March 19, 2007 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (b) In the annual financial statements filed on March 18, 2008 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (c) In the annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2009 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (d) In the annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2010 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles"; and
  - (e) In the annual financial statements filed on March 15, 2011 Chan and Horlsey stated: "The consolidated financial statements contained in this Annual Report

have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles."

- (ii) E&Y and BDO misrepresent that Sino complied with GAAP and that they complied with GAAS
- 197. In each of Sino's Class Period annual financial statements, E&Y or BDO, as the case may be, represented that Sino's reporting was GAAP-compliant, which was a misrepresentation for the reasons set out elsewhere herein. In addition, in each such annual financial statement, E&Y and BDO, as the case may be, represented that they had conducted their audit in compliance with GAAS, which was a misrepresentation because they did not in fact conduct their audits in accordance with GAAS.
- 198. In particular, E&Y and BDO misrepresented that Sino's financial statements were GAAP-compliant and that they had conducted their audits in compliance with GAAS as follows:
  - (a) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 19, 2007, BDO stated: "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
  - (b) In the June 2007 Prospectus, BDO stated: "We have complied with Canadian generally accepted standards for an auditor's involvement with offering documents";
  - (c) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 18, 2008, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The financial statements as at December 31, 2006 and for the year then ended were audited by other auditors who expressed an opinion without reservation on those statements in their report dated March 19, 2007";

- (d) In the July 2008 Offering Memorandum, BDO stated: "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles" and E&Y stated "We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
- (e) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2009, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2008 and 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles";
- (f) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 16, 2010, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards" and "In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2009 and 2008 and the results of its operations and its cash flows

- for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles"; and
- (g) In Sino's annual financial statements filed on March 15, 2011, E&Y stated: "We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards." and "In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sino-Forest corporation as at December 31, 2010 and 2009 and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles."
- (iii) The Market Relied on Sino's Purported GAAP-compliance and E&Y's and BDO's purported GAAS-compliance in Sino's Financial Reporting
- 199. As a public company, Sino communicated the results it claimed to have achieved to the Class Members via quarterly and annual financial results, among other disclosure documents. Sino's auditors, E&Y and BDO, as the case may be, were instrumental in the communication of Sino's financial information to the Class Members. The auditors certified that the financial statements were compliant with GAAP and that they had performed their audits in compliance with GAAS. Neither was true.
- 200. The Class Members invested in Sino's securities on the critical premise that Sino's financial statements were in fact GAAP-compliant, and that Sino's auditors had in fact conducted their audits in compliance with GAAS. Sino's reported financial results were also followed by analysts at numerous financial institutions. These analysts promptly reported to the market at large when Sino made earnings announcements, and incorporated into their Sino-related analyses and reports Sino's purportedly GAAP-compliant financial results. These analyses and reports, in turn, significantly affected the market price for Sino's securities.

201. The market, including the Class Members, would not have relied on Sino's financial reporting had the auditors disclosed that Sino's financial statements were not reliable or that they had not followed the processes that would have amply revealed that those statements were reliable.

VII. CHAN'S AND HORSLEY'S FALSE CERTIFICATIONS

- 202. Pursuant to National Instrument 52-109, the defendants Chan, as CEO, and Horsley, as CFO, were required at the material times to certify Sino's annual and quarterly MD&As and Financial Statements as well as the AIFs (and all documents incorporated into the AIFs). Such certifications included statements that the filings "do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances under which it was made" and that the reports "fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the issuer."
- 203. As particularized elsewhere herein, however, the Impugned Documents contained the Representation, which was false, as well as the other misrepresentations alleged above. Accordingly, the certifications given by Chan and Horsley were false and were themselves misrepresentations. Chan and Horsley made such false certifications knowingly or, at a minimum, recklessly.

VIII. THE TRUTH IS REVEALED

204. On June 2, 2011, Muddy Waters issued its initial report on Sino, and stated in part therein:

Sino-Forest Corp (TSE: TRE) is the granddaddy of China RTO frauds. It has always been a fraud – reporting excellent results from one of its early joint ventures – even though, because of TRE's default on its investment obligations, the JV never went into operation. TRE just lied.

The foundation of TRE's fraud is a convoluted structure whereby it claims to run most of its revenues through "authorized intermediaries" ("AI"). AIs are supposedly timber trader customers who purportedly pay much of TRE's value added and income taxes. At the same time, these AIs allow TRE a gross margin of 55% on standing timber merely for TRE having speculated on trees.

The sole purpose of this structure is to fabricate sales transactions while having an excuse for not having the VAT invoices that are the mainstay of China audit work. If TRE really were processing over one billion dollars in sales through AIs, TRE and the AIs would be in serious legal trouble. No legitimate public company would take such risks – particularly because this structure has zero upside.

On the other side of the books, TRE massively exaggerates its assets. TRE significantly falsifies its investments in plantation fiber (trees). It purports to have purchased $2.891 billion in standing timber under master agreements since 2006 [...]

[...]

Valuation

Because TRE has $2.1 billion in debt outstanding, which we believe exceeds the potential recovery, we value its equity at less than $1.00 per share.

205. Muddy Waters' report also disclosed that (a) Sino's business is a fraudulent scheme; (b) Sino systemically overstated the value of its assets; (c) Sino failed to disclose various related party transactions; (d) Sino misstated that it had enforced high standards of governance; (e) Sino misstated that its reliance on the AIs had decreased; (f) Sino misrepresented the tax risk associated with the use of AIs; and (g) Sino failed to disclose the risks relating to repatriation of earnings from PRC.

206. After Muddy Waters' initial report became public, Sino shares fell to $14.46, at which point trading was halted (a decline of 20.6% from the pre-disclosure close of $18.21). When trading was allowed to resume the next day, Sino's shares fell to a close of $5.23 (a decline of 71.3% from June 1).

207. On November 13, 2011 Sino released the Second Report in redacted form. Therein, the Committee summarized its findings:

B. Overview of Principal Findings

The following sets out a very high level overview of the IC's principal findings and should be read in conjunction with the balance of this report.

The Company does not obtain registered title to BVI purchased plantations. In the case of the BVIs' plantations, the IC has visited forestry bureaus, Suppliers and AIs to seek independent evidence to establish a chain of title or payment transactions to verify such acquisitions. The purchase contracts, set-off arrangement documentation and forestry bureau confirmations constitute the documentary evidence as to the Company's contractual or other rights. The IC has been advised that the Company's rights to such plantations could be open to challenge. However, Management has advised that, to date, it is unaware of any such challenges that have not been resolved with the Suppliers in a manner satisfactory to the Company.

Forestry Bureau Confirmations and Plantation Rights Certificates

Registered title, through Plantation Rights Certificates is not available in the jurisdictions (i.e. cities and counties) examined by the IC Advisors for standing timber that is held without land use/lease rights. Therefore the Company was not able to obtain Plantation Rights Certificates for its BVIs standing timber assets in those areas. In these circumstances, the Company sought confirmations from the relevant local forestry bureau acknowledging its rights to the standing timber.

The IC Advisors reviewed forestry bureau confirmations for virtually all BVIs assets and non-Mandra WFOE purchased plantations held as at December 31, 2010. The IC Advisors, in meetings organized by Management, met with a sample of forestry bureaus with a view to obtaining verification of the Company's rights to standing timber in those jurisdictions. The result of such meetings to date have concluded with the forestry bureaus or related entities having issued new confirmations as to the Company's contractual rights to the Company in respect of 111,177 Ha. as of December 31, 2010 and 133,040 Ha. as of March 31, 2011, and have acknowledged the issuance of existing confirmations issued to the Company as to certain rights, among other things, in respect of 113,058 Ha. as of December 31, 2010.

Forestry bureau confirmations are not officially recognized documents and are not issued pursuant to a legislative mandate or, to the knowledge of the IC, a published policy. It appears they were issued at the request of the Company or its Suppliers. The confirmations are not title documents, in the Western sense of that term, although the IC believes they should be viewed as comfort indicating the relevant forestry bureau does not dispute SF's claims to the standing timber to which they relate and might provide comfort in case of disputes. The purchase contracts are the primary evidence of the Company's interest in timber assets.

In the meetings with forestry bureaus, the IC Advisors did not obtain significant insight into the internal authorization or diligence processes undertaken by the forestry bureaus in issuing confirmations and, as reflected elsewhere in this report, the IC did not have visibility into or complete comfort regarding the methods by which those confirmations were obtained. It should be noted that several Suppliers observed that SF was more demanding than other buyers in requiring forestry bureau confirmations.

Book Value of Timber

Based on its review to date, the IC is satisfied that the book value of the BVIs timber assets of $2.476 billion reflected on its 2010 Financial Statements and of SP WFOE standing timber assets of $298.6 million reflected in its 2010 Financial Statements reflects the purchase prices for such assets as set out in the BVIs and WFOE standing timber purchase contracts reviewed by the IC Advisors. Further, the purchase prices for such BVIs timber assets have been reconciled to the Company's financial statements based on set-off documentation relating to such contracts that were reviewed by the IC. However, these comments are also subject to the conclusions set out above under "Timber Ownership" on title and other rights to plantation assets.

The IC Advisors reviewed documentation acknowledging the execution of the set-off arrangements between Suppliers, the Company and AIs for the 2006-2010 period. However, the IC Advisors were unable to review any documentation of AIs or Suppliers which independently verified movements of cash in connection with such set-off arrangements between Suppliers, the Company and the AIs used to settle purchase prices paid to Suppliers by AIs on behalf of SF. We note also that the independent valuation referred to in Part VIII below has not yet been completed.

Revenue Reconciliation

As reported in its First Interim Report, the IC has reconciled reported 2010 total revenue to the sales prices in BVIs timber sales contracts, together with macro customer level data from other businesses. However, the IC was unable to review any documentation of AIs or Suppliers which independently verified movements of cash in connection with set-off arrangements used to settle purchase prices paid, or sale proceeds received by, or on behalf of SF.

Relationships

- Yuda Wood: The IC is satisfied that Mr. Huang Ran is not currently an employee of the Company and that Yuda Wood is not a subsidiary of the Company. However, there is evidence suggesting close cooperation (including administrative assistance, possible payment of capital at the time of establishment, joint control of certain of Yuda Wood's RMB bank accounts and the numerous emails indicating coordination of funding and other business activities). Management has explained these arrangements were mechanisms that allowed the Company to monitor its interest in the timber transactions. Further, Huang Ran (a Yuda Wood employee) has an ownership and/or directorship in a number of Suppliers (See Section VI.B). The IC Advisors have been introduced to persons identified as influential backers of Yuda Wood but were unable to determine the relationships, if any, of such persons with Yuda Wood, the Company or other Suppliers or AIs. Management explanations of a number of Yuda Wood-related emails and answers to E&Y's questions are being reviewed by the IC and may not be capable of independent verification.
- Other: The IC's review has identified other situations which require further review. These situations suggest that the Company may have close relationships with certain Suppliers, and certain Suppliers and AIs may have crossownership and other relationships with each other. The IC notes that in the interviews conducted by the IC with selected AIs and Suppliers, all such parties represented that they were independent of SF. Management has very recently provided information and analysis intended to explain these situations. The IC is reviewing this material from Management and intends to report its findings in this regard in its final report to the Board. Some of such information and explanations may not be capable of independent verification.
- Accounting Considerations: To the extent that any of SF's purchase and sale transactions are with related parties for accounting purposes, the value of these transactions as recorded on the books and records of the Company may be impacted.

BVI Structure

The BVI structure used by SF to purchase and sell standing timber assets could be challenged by the relevant Chinese authorities as the undertaking of "business activities" within China by foreign companies, which may only be undertaken by entities established within China with the requisite approvals. However, there is no clear definition of what constitutes "business activities" under Chinese law and there are different views among the IC's Chinese counsel and the Company's Chinese counsel as to whether the purchase and sale of timber in China as undertaken by the BVIs could be considered to constitute "business activities" within China. In the event that the relevant Chinese authorities consider the BVIs to be undertaking "business activities" within China, they may be required to cease such activities and could be subject to other regulatory action. As regularization of foreign businesses in China is an ongoing process, the government has in the past tended to allow foreign companies time to restructure their operations in accordance with regulatory requirements (the cost of which is uncertain), rather than enforcing the laws strictly and imposing penalties without notice. See Section II.B.2

C. Challenges

Throughout its process, the IC has encountered numerous challenges in its attempts to implement a robust independent process which would yield reliable results. Among those challenges are the following:

- (a) Chinese Legal Regime for Forestry:
- national laws and policies appear not yet to be implemented at all local levels;
- in practice, none of the local jurisdictions tested in which BVIs hold standing timber appears to have instituted a government registry and documentation system for the ownership of standing timber as distinct from a government registry system for the ownership of plantation land use rights;
- the registration of plantation land use rights, the issue of Plantation Rights Certificates and the establishment of registries, is incomplete in some jurisdictions based on the information available to the IC;
- as a result, title to standing timber, when not held in conjunction with a land use right, cannot be definitively proven by reference to a government maintained register; and
- Sino-Forest has requested confirmations from forestry bureaus of its acquisition of timber holdings (excluding land leases) as additional evidence of ownership. Certain forestry bureaus and Suppliers have indicated the confirmation was beyond the typical diligence practice in China for acquisition of timber holdings.
- (b) Obtaining Information from Third Parties: For a variety of reasons, all of them outside the control of the IC, it is very difficult to obtain information from third parties in China. These reasons include the following:
- many of the third parties from whom the IC wanted information (e.g., AIs, Suppliers and forestry bureaus) are not compellable by the Company or Canadian legal processes;
- third parties appeared to have concerns relating to disclosure of information regarding their operations that could become public or fall into the hands of

Chinese government authorities: many third parties explained their reluctance to provide requested documentation and information as being "for tax reasons" but declined to elaborate; and

• awareness of MW allegations, investigations and information gathering by the OSC and other parties, and court proceedings; while not often explicitly articulated, third parties had an awareness of the controversy surrounding SF and a reluctance to be associated with any of these allegations or drawn into any of these processes.

- (e) Corporate Governance/Operational Weaknesses: Management has asserted that business in China is based upon relationships. The IC and the IC Advisors have observed this through their efforts to obtain meetings with forestry bureaus, Suppliers and AIs and their other experience in China. The importance of relationships appears to have resulted in dependence on a relatively small group of Management who are integral to maintaining customer relationships, negotiating and finalizing the purchase and sale of plantation fibre contracts and the settlement of accounts receivable and accounts payable associated with plantation fibre contracts. This concentration of authority or lack of segregation of duties has been previously disclosed by the Company as a control weakness. As a result and as disclosed in the 2010 MD&A, senior Management in their ongoing evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures and internal controls over financial reporting, recognizing the disclosed weakness, determined that the design and controls were ineffective. The Chairman and Chief Financial Officer provided annual and quarterly certifications of their regulatory filings. Related to this weakness the following challenges presented themselves in the examination by the IC and the IC Advisors:
- operational and administration systems that are generally not sophisticated having regard to the size and complexity of the Company's business and in relation to North American practices; including:
  - incomplete or inadequate record creation and retention practices;
  - contracts not maintained in a central location;
  - significant volumes of data maintained across multiple locations on decentralized servers;
  - data on some servers in China appearing to have been deleted on an irregular basis, and there is no back-up system;
  - no integrated accounting system: accounting data is not maintained on a single, consolidated application, which can require extensive manual procedures to produce reports; and

- a treasury function that was centralized for certain major financial accounts, but was not actively involved in the control or management of numerous local operations bank accounts;
- no internal audit function although there is evidence the Company has undertaken and continues to assess its disclosure controls and procedures and internal controls over financial reporting using senior Management and independent control consultants;
- SF employees conduct Company affairs from time to time using personal devices and non-corporate email addresses which have been observed to be shared across groups of staff and changed on a periodic and organized basis; this complicated and delayed the examination of email data by the IC Advisors; and
- lack of full cooperation/openness in the ICs examination from certain members of Management.
- (f) Complexity, Lack of Visibility into, and Limitations of BVIs Model: The use of AIs and Suppliers as an essential feature of the BVIs standing timber business model contributes to the lack of visibility into title documentation, cash movements and tax liability since cash settlement in respect of the BVIs standing timber transactions takes place outside of the Company's books.
- (g) Cooperation and openness of the Company's executives throughout the process: From the outset, the IC Advisors sought the full cooperation and support of Allen Chan and the executive management team. Initially, the executive management team appeared ill-prepared to address the IC's concerns in an organized fashion and there was perhaps a degree of culture shock as Management adjusted to the IC Advisors' examination. In any event, significant amounts of material information, particularly with respect to the relationship with Yuda Wood, interrelationships between AIs and/or Suppliers, were not provided to the IC Advisors as requested. In late August 2011 on the instructions of the IC, interviews of Management were conducted by the IC Advisors in which documents evidencing these connections were put to the Management for explanation. As a result of these interviews (which were also attended by BJ) the Company placed certain members of Management on administrative leave upon the advice of Company counsel. At the same time the OSC made allegations in the CTO of Management misconduct.

(h) Independence of the IC Process: The cooperation and collaboration of the IC with Management (operating under the direction of the new Chief Executive Officer) and with Company counsel in completing certain aspects of the IC's mandate has been noted by the OSC and by E&Y. Both have questioned the degree of independence of the IC from Management as a result of this interaction. The IC has explained the practical impediments to its work in the context of the distinct business culture (and associated issues of privacy) in the forestry sector in China in which the Company operates. Cooperation of third parties in Hong Kong and China, including employees, depends heavily on relationships and trust. As noted above, the Company's placing certain members of Management on administrative leave, as well as the OSC's allegations in the CTO, further hampered the IC's ability to conduct its process. As a result, the work of the IC was frequently done with the assistance of, or in reliance on, the new Chief Executive Officer and his Management team and Company counsel. Given that Mr. Martin was, in effect, selected by the IC and BJ was appointed in late June 2011, the IC concluded that, while not ideal, this was a practical and appropriate way to proceed in the circumstances. As evidenced by the increased number of scheduled meetings with forestry bureaus, Suppliers and AIs, and, very recently, the delivery to the IC of information regarding AIs and Suppliers and relationships among the Company and such parties, it is acknowledged that Mr. Martin's involvement in the process has been beneficial. It is also acknowledged that in executing his role and assisting the IC he has had to rely on certain of the members of Management who had been placed on administrative leave.

[Emphasis added]

208. On January 31, 2012, Sino released the Final Report. In material part, it read:

This Final Report of the IC sets out the activities undertaken by the IC since mid-November, the findings from such activities and the IC's conclusions regarding its examination and review. The IC's activities during this period have been limited as a result of Canadian and Chinese holidays (Christmas, New Year and Chinese New Year) and the extensive involvement of IC members in the Company's Restructuring and Audit Committees, both of which are advised by different advisors than those retained by the IC. The IC believes that, notwithstanding there remain issues which have not been fully answered, the work of the IC is now at the point of diminishing returns because much of the information which it is seeking lies with non-compellable third parties, may not exist or is apparently not retrievable from the records of the Company.

In December 2011, the Company defaulted under the indentures relating to its outstanding bonds with the result that its resources are now more focused on dealing with its bondholders. This process is being overseen by the Restructuring Committee appointed by the Board. Pursuant to the Waiver Agreement dated January 18, 2012 between the Company and the holders of a majority of the principal amount of its 2014 Notes, the Company agreed, among other things, that the final report of the IC to the Board would be made public by January 31, 2012.

Given the circumstances described above, the IC understands that, with the delivery of this Final Report, its review and examination activities are terminated. the IC does not expect to undertake further work other than assisting with responses to regulators and the RCMP as required and engaging in such further specific activities as the IC may deem advisable or the Board may instruct. The IC has asked the IC Advisors to remain available to assist and advise the IC upon its instructions.

II. RELATIONSHIPS

The objectives of the IC's examination of the Company's relationships with its AIs and Suppliers were to determine, in light of the MW allegations, if such relationships are arm's length and to obtain, if possible, independent verification of the cash flows underlying the set-off transactions described in Section II.A of the Second Interim Report. That the Company's relationships with its AIs and Suppliers be arm's length is relevant to SF's ability under GAAP to:

- book its timber assets at cost in its 2011 and prior years' financial statements, both audited and unaudited
- recognize revenue from standing timber sales as currently reflected in its 2011 and prior years' financial statements, both audited and unaudited.

A. Yuda Wood

Yuda Wood was founded in April 2006 and was until 2010 a Supplier of SF. Its business with SF from 2007 to 2010 totalled approximately 152,164 Ha and RMB 4.94 billion. Section VI.A and Schedule VI.A.2(a) of the Second Interim Report described the MW allegations relating to Yuda Wood, the review conducted by the IC and its findings to date. The IC concluded that Huang Ran is not currently an employee, and that Yuda Wood is not a subsidiary, of the Company. However, there is evidence suggesting a close cooperation between SF and Yuda Wood which the IC had asked Management to explain. At the time the Second Interim Report was issued, the IC was continuing to review Management's explanations of a number of Yuda Wood-related emails and certain questions arising therefrom.

Subsequent to the issuance of its Second Interim Report in mid-November, the IC, with the assistance of the IC Advisors, has reviewed the Management responses provided to date relating to Yuda Wood and has sought further explanations and documentary support for such explanations. This was supplementary to the activities of the Audit Committee of SF and its advisors who have had during this period primary carriage of examining Management's responses on the interactions of SF and Yuda Wood. While many answers and explanations have been obtained, the IC believes that they are not yet sufficient to allow it to fully understand the nature and scope of the relationship between SF and Yuda Wood. Accordingly, based on the information it has obtained, the IC is still unable to independently verify that the relationship of Yuda Wood is at arm's length to SF. It is to be noted that Management is of the view that Yuda Wood is unrelated to SF for accounting purposes. The IC remains satisfied that Yuda is not a subsidiary of SF. Management continues to undertake work related to Yuda

Wood, including seeking documentation from third parties and responding to e-mails where the responses are not yet complete or prepared. Management has provided certain banking records to the Audit Committee that the Audit Committee advises support Management's position that SF did not capitalize Yuda Wood (but that review is not yet completed). The IC anticipates that Management will continue to work with the Audit Committee, Company counsel and E&Y on these issues.

B. Other Relationships

Section VI.B.1 of the Second Interim Report described certain other relationships which had been identified in the course of the IC's preparation for certain interviews with AIs and Suppliers. These relationships include (i) thirteen Suppliers where former SF employees, consultants or secondees are or have been directors, officers and/or shareholders (including Yuda Wood); (ii) an AI with a former SF employee in a senior position; (iii) potential relationships between AIs and Suppliers; (iv) set-off payments for BVI standing timber purchases being made by companies that are not AIs and other setoff arrangements involving non-AI entities; (v) payments by AIs to potentially connected Suppliers; and (vi) sale of standing timber to an AI potentially connected to a Supplier of that timber. Unless expressly addressed herein, the IC has no further update of a material nature on the items raised above.

On the instructions of the IC, the IC Advisors gave the details of these possible relationships to Management for further follow up and explanation. Just prior to the Second Interim Report, Management provided information regarding AIs and Suppliers relationships among the Company and such parties.

This information was in the form of a report dated November 10, 2011, subsequently updated on November 21, 2011 and January 20, 2012 (the latest version being the "Kaitong Report") prepared by Kaitong Law Firm ("Kaitong"), a Chinese law firm which advises the Company. The Kaitong Report has been separately delivered to the Board. Kaitong has advised that much of the information in the Kaitong Report was provided by Management and has not been independently verified by such law firm or the IC.

The Kaitong Report generally describes certain relationships amongst AIs and Suppliers and certain relationships between their personnel and Sino-Forest, either identified by Management or through SAIC and other searches. The Kaitong Report also specifically addresses certain relationships identified in the Second Interim Report. The four main areas of information in the Kaitong Report are as follows and are discussed in more detail below:

(i) Backers to Suppliers and AIs: The Kaitong Report explains the concept of "backers" to both Suppliers and AIs. The Kaitong Report suggests that backers are individuals with considerable influence in political, social or business circles, or all three. The Kaitong Report also states that such backers or their identified main business entities do not generally appear in SAIC filings by the Suppliers or AIs as shareholders thereof and, in most instances, in any other capacity.

- (ii) Suppliers and AIs with Former SF Personnel: The appendices to the Kaitong Report list certain Suppliers that have former SF personnel as current shareholders.
- (iii) Common Shareholders Between Suppliers and AIs: The Kaitong Report states that there are 5 Suppliers and 3 AIs with current common shareholders but there is no cross majority ownership positions between Suppliers and AIs.
- (iv) Transactions Involving Suppliers and AIs that have Shareholders in common: The Kaitong Report states that, where SF has had transactions with Suppliers and AIs that have certain current shareholders in common as noted above, the subject timber in those transactions is not the same; that is, the timber which SF buys from such Suppliers and the timber which SF sells to such AIs are located in different counties or provinces.

The IC Advisors have reviewed the Kaitong Report on behalf of the IC. The IC Advisors liaised with Kaitong and met with Kaitong and current and former Management. A description of the Kaitong Report and the IC's findings and comments are summarized below. By way of summary, the Kaitong Report provides considerable information regarding relationships among Suppliers and AIs, and between them and SF, but much of this information related to the relationship of each backer with the associated Suppliers and AIs is not supported by any documentary or other independent evidence. As such, some of the information provided is unverified and, particularly as it relates to the nature of the relationships with the backers, is viewed by the IC to be likely unverifiable by it.

Given the general lack of information on the backers or the nature and scope of the relationships between the Suppliers or AIs and their respective backers and the absence of any documentary support or independent evidence of such relationships, the IC has been unable to reach any conclusion as to the existence, nature or importance of such relationships. As a result, the IC is unable to assess the implications, if any, of these backers with respect to SF's relationships with its Suppliers or AIs. Based on its experience to date, including interviews with Suppliers and AIs involving persons who have now been identified as backers in the Kaitong Report, the IC believes that it would be very difficult for the IC Advisors to arrange interviews with either the AIs or Suppliers or their respective backers and, if arranged, that such interviews would yield very little, if any, verifiable information to such advisors. The IC understands Management is continuing to seek meetings with its AIs and Suppliers with the objective of obtaining information, to the extent such is available, that will provide further background to the relationships to the Audit Committee.

2. Suppliers and AIs with Former SF Personnel

The Appendices to the Kaitong Report list the Suppliers with former SF personnel as current shareholders. According to the information previously obtained by the IC Advisors, the identification of former SF personnel indicated in the Kaitong Report to be current shareholders of past or current Suppliers is correct.

(a) Suppliers with former SF personnel

The Kaitong Report, which is limited to examining Suppliers where ex-SF employees are current shareholders as shown in SAIC filings, does not provide material new information concerning Suppliers where former SF employees were identified by the IC in the Second Interim Report as having various past or present connections to current or former Suppliers except that the Kaitong Report provides an explanation of two transactions identified in the Second Interim Report. These involved purchases of standing timber by SF from Suppliers controlled by persons who were employees of SF at the time of these transactions. Neither of the Suppliers have been related to an identified backer in the Kaitong Report. The explanations are similar indicating that neither of the SF employees was an officer in charge of plantation purchases or one of SF's senior management at the time of the transactions. The employees in question were Shareholder #14 in relation to a RMB 49 million purchase from Supplier #18 in December 2007 (shown in SAIC filings to be 100% owned by him) and Shareholder #20 in relation to a RMB 3.3 million purchase from Supplier #23 (shown in SAIC filings to be 70% owned by him) in October 2007. The Kaitong Report indicates Shareholder #20 is a current employee of SF who then had responsibilities in SF's wood board production business.

The IC is not aware that the employees' ownership positions were brought to the attention of the Board at the time of the transactions or, subsequently, until the publication of the Second Interim Report and understands the Audit Committee will consider such information.

(b) AIs with former SF personnel

The Kaitong Report indicates that no SF employees are listed in SAIC filing reports as current shareholders of AIs. Except as noted herein, the IC agrees with this statement. The Kaitong Report does not address the apparent role of an exemployee Officer #3 who was introduced to the IC as the person in charge of AI #2 by Backer #5 of AI Conglomerate #1. Backer #5 is identified in the Kaitong Report as a backer of two AIs, including AI#2. (The Kaitong Report properly does not include AI #14. as an AI for this purpose, whose 100% shareholder is former SF employee Officer #3. However, the IC is satisfied that the activities of this entity primarily relate to certain onshoring transactions that facilitated the transfer of SF BVI timber assets to SF WFOE subsidiaries.)

There was one other instance where a past shareholding relationship has been identified between an AI #10 and persons who were previously or are still shown on the SF human resources records, Shareholder #26 and Shareholder #27. Management has explained that such entity sold wood board processing and other assets to SF and that the persons associated with that company consulted with SF after such sale in relation to the purchased wood board processing assets. Such entity subsequently also undertook material timber purchases as an AI of SF in 2007-2008 over a time period in which such persons are shown as shareholders of such AI in the SAIC filing reviewed (as to 47.5% for Shareholder #26 and as to 52.5% for Shareholder #27). That time period also intersects the time that Shareholder #26 is shown in such human resources records and partially intersects the time that Shareholder #27 is shown on such records. Management has also explained that Shareholder #26 subsequent to the time of such AI sales became an employee of a SF wood board processing subsidiary. Management has provided certain documentary evidence of its explanations. The IC understands that the Audit Committee will consider this matter.

3. Common Shareholders between Supplier and AIs

The Kaitong Report states that there are 5 Suppliers and 3 Als that respectively have certain common current shareholders but also states that there is no cross control by those current shareholders of such Suppliers or AIs based on SAIC filings. The Kaitong Report correctly addresses current cross shareholdings in Suppliers and AIs based on SAIC filings but does not address certain other shareholdings. With the exception of one situation of cross control in the past, the IC has not identified a circumstance in the SAIC filings reviewed where the same person controlled a Supplier at the time it controlled a different AI. The one exception is that from April 2002 to February 2006, AI #13 is shown in SAIC filings as the 90% shareholder of Supplier/AI #14. AI #13 did business with SF BVIs from 2005 through 2007 and Supplier/AI #14 supplied SF BVIs from 2004 through 2006. However, the IC to date has only identified one contract involving timber bought from Supplier/AI #14 that was subsequently sold to AI #13. It involved a parcel of 2,379 Ha. timber sold to AI #13 in December 2005 that originated from a larger timber purchase contract with Supplier/AI #14 earlier that year. Management has provided an explanation for this transaction. The IC understands that the Audit Committee will consider this matter.

4. Transactions involving Suppliers and AIs with Current Shareholders in Common

The Kaitong Report states that where SF has had transactions with 5 Suppliers and 3 AIs that have current shareholders in common (but no one controlling shareholder) as shown in SAIC filings, the subject timber in the transactions they each undertook with SF is not the same; that is, the timber which SF buys from the Suppliers and the timber which SF sells to the AIs where the Supplier and AI have a current common shareholder were located in different areas and do not involve the same plots of timber. The Kaitong Report further states that where SF has had transactions with 5 Suppliers and 3 AIs with current shareholders in common as shown in SAIC filings, SF had transactions with those AIs prior to having transactions with those Suppliers, thus SF was not overstating its transactions by buying and selling to the same counterparties.

The Kaitong Report does not specifically address historical situations involving common shareholders and potential other interconnections between AIs and Suppliers that may appear as a result of the identification of backers. There is generally no ownership connection shown in SAIC filings between backers and the Suppliers and AIs associated with such backers in the Kaitong Report.

VI. OUTSTANDING MATTERS

As noted in Section I above, the IC understands that with the delivery of this report, its examination and review activities are terminated. The IC would expect its next steps may include only:

- (a) assisting in responses to regulators and RCMP as required; and
- (b) such other specific activities as it may deem advisable or the Board may instruct.

IX. SINO REWARDS ITS EXPERTS

209. Bowland, Hyde and West are former E&Y partners and employees. They served on Sino's Audit Committee but purported to exercise oversight of their former E&Y colleagues. In addition, Sino's Vice-President, Finance (Corporate), Thomas M. Maradin, is a former E&Y employee.

- 210. The charter of Sino's Audit Committee required that Ardell, Bowland, Hyde and West "review and take action to eliminate all factors that might impair, or be perceived to impair, the independence of the Auditor." Sino's practice of appointing E&Y personnel to its board and paying them handsomely (for example, Hyde was paid $163,623 by Sino in 2010, $115,962 in 2009, $57,000 in 2008 and $55,875 in 2007, plus options and other compensation) undermined the Audit Committee's oversight of E&Y.
- 211. E&Y's independence was impaired by the significant non-audit fees it was paid during 2008-2010, which total $712,000 in 2008, $1,225,000 in 2009 and $992,000 in 2010.
- 212. Further, Andrew Fyfe, the former Asia-Pacific President for Pöyry Forestry Industry Ltd, was appointed Chief Operating Officer of Greenheart, and is the director of several Sino subsidiaries. Fyfe signed the Pöyry valuation report dated June 30, 2004, March 22, 2005, March 23, 2006, March 14, 2008 and April 1, 2009.
- 213. George Ho, Sino's Vice President, Finance (China), is a former Senior Manager of the BDO.

X. THE DEFENDANTS' RELATIONSHIP TO THE CLASS

- 214. By virtue of their purported accounting, financial and/or managerial acumen and qualifications, and by virtue of their having assumed, voluntarily and for profit, the role of gatekeepers, the Defendants had a duty at common law, informed by the Securities Legislation and/or the CBCA, to exercise care and diligence to ensure that the Impugned Documents fairly and accurately disclosed Sino's financial condition and performance in accordance with GAAP.
- 215. Sino is a reporting issuer and had an obligation to make timely, full, true and accurate disclosure of material facts and changes with respect to its business and affairs.

- 216. The Individual Defendants, by virtue of their positions as senior officers and/or directors of Sino, owed a duty to the Class Members to ensure that public statements on behalf of Sino were not untrue, inaccurate or misleading. The continuous disclosure requirements in Canadian securities law mandated that Sino provide the Impugned Documents, including quarterly and annual financial statements. These documents were meant to be read by Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the secondary market and to be relied on by them in making investment decisions. This public disclosure was prepared to attract investment, and Sino and the Individual Defendants intended that Class Members would rely on public disclosure for that purpose. With respect to Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda, these documents were prepared for primary market purchasers. They include detailed content as mandated under Canadian securities legislation, national instruments and OSC rules. They were meant to be read by the Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the primary market, and to be relied on by them in making decisions about whether to purchase the shares or notes under the Offerings to which these Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda related.
- 217. Chan and Horsley had statutory obligations under Canadian securities law to ensure the accuracy of disclosure documents and provided certifications in respect of the annual reports, financial statements and Prospectuses during the Class Period. The other Individual Defendants were directors of Sino during the Class Period and each had a statutory obligation as a director under the CBCA to manage or supervise the management of the business and affairs of Sino. These Individual Defendants also owed a statutory duty of care to shareholders under section 122 of the CBCA. In addition, Poon, along with Chan, co-founded Sino and has been its president since 1994. He is intimately aware of Sino's operations and as a long-standing senior officer, he had an obligation to ensure proper disclosure. Poon authorized, permitted or acquiesced in the release of the Impugned Documents.

- 218. BDO and E&Y acted as Sino's auditors and provided audit reports in Sino's annual financial statements that were directed to shareholders. These audit reports specified that BDO and E&Y had conducted an audit in accordance with GAAS, which was untrue, and included their opinions that the financial statements presented fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sino, the results of operations and Sino's cash flows, in accordance with GAAP. BDO and E&Y knew and intended that Class Members would rely on the audit reports and assurances about the material accuracy of the financial statements.
- 219. Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD each signed one or more of the Prospectuses and certified that, to the best of its knowledge, information and belief, the particular prospectus, together with the documents incorporated therein by reference, constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the securities offered thereby. These defendants knew that the Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the primary market would rely on these assurances and the trustworthiness that would be credited to the Prospectuses because of their involvement. Further, those Class Members that purchased shares under these Prospectuses purchased their shares from these defendants as principals.
- 220. Credit Suisse USA, TD and Banc of America acted as initial purchasers or dealer managers for one or more of the note Offerings. These defendants knew that persons purchasing these notes would rely on the trustworthiness that would be credited to the Offering Memoranda because of their involvement.

A. Negligent Misrepresentation

- 221. As against all Defendants except Pöyry and the Underwriters, and on behalf of all Class Members who acquired Sino's Securities in the secondary market, the Plaintiffs plead negligent misrepresentation for all of the Impugned Documents except the Offering Memoranda.
- 222. Labourers and Wong, on behalf of Class Members who purchased Sino Securities in one of the distributions to which a Prospectus related, plead negligent misrepresentation as against Sino, Chan, Horsley, Poon, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, BDO, E&Y, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD for the Prospectuses.
- 223. Grant, on behalf of Class Members who purchased Sino Securities in one of the distributions to which an Offering Memorandum related, pleads negligent misrepresentation as against Sino, BDO and E&Y for the Offering Memoranda.
- 224. In support of these claims, the sole misrepresentation that the Plaintiffs plead is the Representation. The Representation is contained in the language relating to GAAP particularized above, and was untrue for the reasons particularized elsewhere herein.
- 225. The Impugned Documents were prepared for the purpose of attracting investment and inducing members of the investing public to purchase Sino securities. The Defendants knew and intended at all material times that those documents had been prepared for that purpose, and that the Class Members would rely reasonably and to their detriment upon such documents in making the decision to purchase Sino securities.
- 226. The Defendants further knew and intended that the information contained in the Impugned Documents would be incorporated into the price of Sino's publicly traded securities such that the trading price of those securities would at all times reflect the information contained in the Impugned Documents.

- 227. As set out elsewhere herein, the Defendants, other than Pöyry, Credit Suisse USA and Banc of America, had a duty at common law to exercise care and diligence to ensure that the Impugned Documents fairly and accurately disclosed Sino's financial condition and performance in accordance with GAAP.
- 228. These Defendants breached that duty by making the Representation as particularized above.
- 229. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members directly or indirectly relied upon the Representation in making a decision to purchase the securities of Sino, and suffered damages when the falsity of the Representation was revealed on June 2, 2011.
- 230. Alternatively, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members relied upon the Representation by the act of purchasing Sino securities in an efficient market that promptly incorporated into the price of those securities all publicly available material information regarding the securities of Sino. As a result, the repeated publication of the Representation in these Impugned Documents caused the price of Sino's shares to trade at inflated prices during the Class Period, thus directly resulting in damage to the Plaintiffs and Class Members.

B. Statutory Claims, Negligence, Oppression, Unjust Enrichment and Conspiracy

- (i) Statutory Liability-Secondary Market under the Securities Legislation
- 231. The Plaintiffs plead the claim found in Part XXIII.1 of the OSA, and, if required, the equivalent sections of the Securities Legislation other than the OSA, against all Defendants except the Underwriters.

- 232. Each of the Impugned Documents except for the December 2009 and October 2010 Offering Memoranda is a "Core Document" within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 233. Each of these Impugned Documents contained one or more misrepresentations as particularized above. Such misrepresentations and the Representation are misrepresentations for the purposes of the Securities Legislation.
- 234. Each of the Individual Defendants was an officer and/or director of Sino at material times. Each of the Individual Defendants authorized, permitted or acquiesced in the release of some or all of these Impugned Documents.
- 235. Sino is a reporting issuer within the meaning of the Securities Legislation.
- 236. E&Y is an expert within the meaning of the Securities Legislation. E&Y consented to the use of its statements particularized above in these Impugned Documents.
- 237. BDO is an expert within the meaning of the Securities Legislation. BDO consented to the use of its statements particularize above in these Impugned Documents.
- 238. Pöyry is an expert within the meaning of the Securities Legislation. Pöyry consented to the use of its statements particularized above in these Impugned Documents.
- 239. At all material times, each of Sino, Chan, Poon and Horsley, BDO and E&Y knew or, in the alternative, was wilfully blind to the fact, that the Impugned Documents contained the Representation and that the Representation was false, and that the Impugned Documents contained other of the misrepresentations that are alleged above to have been contained therein.
  - (ii) Statutory Liability Primary Market for Sino's Shares under the Securities Legislation
- 240. As against Sino, Chan, Horsley, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, Pöyry, BDO, E&Y, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased Sino shares in one of the distributions to which the June 2009 or December 2009 Prospectuses related, Labourers and Wong assert the cause of action set forth in s. 130 of the OSA and, if necessary, the equivalent provisions of the Securities Legislation other than the OSA.

- 241. Sino issued the June 2009 and December 2009 Prospectuses, which contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations that are alleged above to have been contained in those Prospectuses or in the Sino disclosure documents incorporated therein by reference.
  - (iii) Statutory Liability Primary Market for Sino's Notes under the Securities Legislation
- 242. As against Sino, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased or otherwise acquired Sino's notes in one of the offerings to which the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009, and October 2010 Offering Memoranda related, Grant asserts the cause of action set forth in s. 130.1 of the OSA and, if necessary, the equivalent provisions of the Securities Legislation other than the OSA.
- 243. Sino issued the July 2008, June 2009, December 2009 and October 2010 Offering Memoranda, which contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations that are alleged above to have been contained in those Offering Memoranda or in the Sino disclosure documents incorporated therein by reference.
- (iv) Negligence Simpliciter Primary Market for Sino's Securities

  244. Sino, Chan, Poon, Horsley, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, BDO, E&Y, Pöyry and the Underwriters (collectively, the "Primary Market Defendants") acted negligently in connection with one or more of the Offerings.
- 245. As against Sino, Chan, Horsley, Poon, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray, Hyde, BDO, E&Y, Pöyry, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in one of the distributions to which those Prospectuses related, Labourers and Wong assert negligence simpliciter.

- 246. As against Sino, BDO, E&Y, Pöyry, Credit Suisse USA, Banc of America and TD, and on behalf of those Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in one of the distributions to which the Offering Memoranda related, Grant asserts negligence simpliciter.
- 247. The Primary Market Defendants owed a duty of care to ensure that the Prospectuses and/or the Offering Memoranda they issued, or authorized to be issued, or in respect of which they acted as an underwriter, initial purchaser or dealer manager, made full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Securities offered thereby, or to ensure that their opinions or reports contained in such Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda did not contain a misrepresentation.
- 248. At all times material to the matters complained of herein, the Primary Market Defendants ought to have known that such Prospectuses or Offering Memoranda and the documents incorporated therein by reference were materially misleading in that they contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above.
- 249. Chan, Poon, Horsley, Wang, Martin, Mak, Murray and Hyde were senior officers and/or directors at the time the Offerings to which the Prospectuses related. These Prospectuses were created for the purposes of obtaining financing for Sino's operations. Chan, Horsley, Martin and Hyde signed each of the Prospectuses and certified that they made full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the shares offered. Wang, Mak and Murray were directors during one or more of these Offerings and each had a statutory obligation to manage or supervise the management of the business and affairs of Sino. Poon was a director for the June 2007 share Offering and was president of Sino at the time of the June 2009 and December 2009 Offering.

Poon, along with Chan, co-founded Sino and has been the president since 1994. He is intimately aware of Sino's business and affairs.

- 250. The Underwriters acted as underwriters, initial purchasers or dealer managers for the Offerings to which the Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda related. They had an obligation to conduct due diligence in respect of those Offerings and ensure that those Securities were offering at a price that reflected their true value or that such distributions did not proceed if inappropriate. In addition, Dundee, Merrill, Credit Suisse, Scotia, CIBC, RBC, Maison, Canaccord and TD signed one or more of the Prospectuses and certified that to the best of their knowledge, information and belief, the Prospectuses constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the shares offered.
- 251. E&Y and BDO acted as Sino's auditors and had a duty to maintain or to ensure that Sino maintained appropriate internal controls to ensure that Sino's disclosure documents adequately and fairly presented the business and affairs of Sino on a timely basis.
- 252. Pöyry had a duty to ensure that its opinions and reports reflected the true nature and value of Sino's assets. Pöyry, at the time it produced each of the 2008 Valuations, 2009 Valuations, and 2010 Valuations, specifically consented to the inclusion of those valuations or a summary at any time that Sino or its subsidiaries filed any documents on SEDAR or issued any documents pursuant to which any securities of Sino or any subsidiary were offered for sale.
- 253. The Primary Market Defendants have violated their duties to those Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in the distributions to which a Prospectus or an Offering Memorandum related.

- 254. The reasonable standard of care expected in the circumstances required the Primary Market Defendants to prevent the distributions to which the Prospectuses or the Offering Memoranda related from occurring prior to the correction of the Representation and the other misrepresentations alleged above to have been contained in the Prospectuses or the Offering Memoranda, or in the documents incorporated therein by reference. Those Defendants failed to meet the standard of care required by causing the Offerings to occur before the correction of such misrepresentations.
- 255. In addition, by failing to attend and participate in Sino board and board committee meetings to a reasonable degree, Murray and Poon effectively abdicated their duties to the Class Members and as directors of Sino.
- 256. Sino, E&Y, BDO and the Individual Defendants further breached their duty of care as they failed to maintain or to ensure that Sino maintained appropriate internal controls to ensure that Sino's disclosure documents adequately and fairly presented the business and affairs of Sino on a timely basis.
- 257. Had the Primary Market Defendants exercised reasonable care and diligence in connection with the distributions to which the Prospectuses related, then securities regulators likely would not have issued a receipt for any of the Prospectuses, and those distributions would not have occurred, or would have occurred at prices that reflected the true value of Sino's shares.
- 258. Had the Primary Market Defendants exercised reasonable care and diligence in connection with the distributions to which the Offering Memoranda related, then those distributions would not have occurred, or would have occurred at prices that reflected the true value of Sino's notes.

- 259. The Primary Market Defendants' negligence in relation to the Prospectuses and the Offering Memoranda resulted in damage to Labourers, Grant and Wong, and to the other Class Members who purchased Sino's Securities in the related distributions. Had those Defendants satisfied their duty of care to such Class Members, then those Class Members would not have purchased the Securities that they acquired under the Prospectuses or the Offering Memoranda, or they would have purchased them at a much lower price that reflected their true value.
- (v) Unjust Enrichment of Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray

  260. As a result of the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above,

  Sino's shares traded, and were sold by Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray, at artificially inflated prices during the Class Period.

- 261. Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray were enriched by their wrongful acts and omissions during the Class Period, and the Class Members who purchased Sino shares from such Defendants suffered a corresponding deprivation.
- 262. There was no juristic reason for the resulting enrichment of Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray.
- 263. The Class Members who purchased Sino shares from Chan, Martin, Poon, Horsley, Mak and Murray during the Class Period are entitled to the difference between the price they paid to such Defendants for such shares, and the price that they would have paid had the Defendants not made the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above, and had not committed the wrongful acts and omissions particularized above.

- (vi) Unjust Enrichment of Sino
- 264. Throughout the Class Period, Sino made the Offerings. Such Offerings were made via various documents, particularized above, that contained the Representation and the misrepresentations particularized above.
- 265. The Securities sold by Sino via the Offerings were sold at artificially inflated prices as a result of the Representation and the others misrepresentations particularized above.
- 266. Sino was enriched by, and those Class Members who purchased the Securities via the Offerings were deprived of, an amount equivalent to the difference between the amount for which the Securities offered were actually sold, and the amount for which such securities would have been sold had the Offerings not included the Representation and the misrepresentations particularized above.
- 267. The Offerings violated Sino's disclosure obligations under the Securities Legislation and the various instruments promulgated by the securities regulators of the Provinces in which such Offerings were made. There was no juristic reason for the enrichment of Sino.
  - (vi) Unjust Enrichment of the Underwriters
- 268. Throughout the Class Period, Sino made the Offerings. Such Offerings were made via the Prospectuses and the Offering Memoranda, which contained the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above. Each of the Underwriters underwrote one or more of the Offerings.
- 269. The Securities sold by Sino via the Offerings were sold at artificially inflated prices as a result of the Representation and the other misrepresentations particularized above. The Underwriters earned fees from the Class, whether directly or indirectly, for work that they never performed, or that they performed with gross negligence, in connection with the Offerings, or some of them.

- 270. The Underwriters were enriched by, and those Class Members who purchased securities via the Offerings were deprived of, an amount equivalent to the fees the Underwriters earned in connection with the Offerings.
- 271. The Offerings violated Sino's disclosure obligations under the Securities Legislation and the various instruments promulgated by the securities regulators of the Provinces in which such Offerings were made. There was no juristic reason for the enrichment of the Underwriters.
- 272. In addition, some or all of the Underwriters also acted as brokers in secondary market transactions relating to Sino securities, and earned trading commissions from the Class Members in those secondary market transactions in Sino's Securities. Those Underwriters were enriched by, and those Class Members who purchased Sino securities through those Underwriters in their capacity as brokers were deprived of, an amount equivalent to the commissions the Underwriters earned on such secondary market trades.
- 273. Had those Underwriters who also acted as brokers in secondary market transactions exercised reasonable diligence in connection with the Offerings in which they acted as Underwriters, then Sino's securities likely would not have traded at all in the secondary market, and the Underwriters would not have been paid the aforesaid trading commissions by the Class Members. There was no juristic reason for that enrichment of those Underwriters through their receipt of trading commissions from the Class Members.

(vii) Oppression

274. The Plaintiffs and the other Class Members had a reasonable and legitimate expectation that Sino and the Individual Defendants would use their powers to direct the company for Sino's best interests and, in turn, in the interests of its security holders. More specifically, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members had a reasonable expectation that:

- (a) Sino and the Individual Defendants would comply with GAAP, and/or cause Sino to comply with GAAP;
- (b) Sino and the Individual Defendants would take reasonable steps to ensure that the Class Members were made aware on a timely basis of material developments in Sino's business and affairs;
- (c) Sino and the Individual Defendants would implement adequate corporate governance procedures and internal controls to ensure that Sino disclosed material facts and material changes in the company's business and affairs on a timely basis;
- (d) Sino and the Individual Defendants would not make the misrepresentations particularized above;
- (e) Sino stock options would not be backdated or otherwise mispriced; and
- (f) the Individual Defendants would adhere to the Code.

275. Such reasonable expectations were not met as:

- (a) Sino did not comply with GAAP;
- (b) the Class Members were not made aware on a timely basis of material developments in Sino's business and affairs;
- (c) Sino's corporate governance procedures and internal controls were inadequate;
- (d) the misrepresentations particularized above were made;
- (e) stock options were backdated and/or otherwise mispriced; and
- (f) the Individual Defendants did not adhere to the Code.

- 276. Sino's and the Individual Defendants' conduct was oppressive and unfairly prejudicial to the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members and unfairly disregarded their interests. These defendants were charged with the operation of Sino for the benefit of all of its shareholders. The value of the shareholders' investments was based on, among other things:
  - (a) the profitability of Sino;
  - (b) the integrity of Sino's management and its ability to run the company in the interests of all shareholders;
  - (c) Sino's compliance with its disclosure obligations;
  - (d) Sino's ongoing representation that its corporate governance procedures met with reasonable standards, and that the business of the company was subjected to reasonable scrutiny; and
  - (e) Sino's ongoing representation that its affairs and financial reporting were being conducted in accordance with GAAP.
- 277. This oppressive conduct impaired the ability of the Plaintiffs and other Class Members to make informed investment decisions about Sino's securities. But for that conduct, the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members would not have suffered the damages alleged herein.
  - (viii) Conspiracy
- 278. Sino, Chan, Poon and Horsley conspired with each other and with persons unknown (collectively, the "Conspirators") to inflate the price of Sino's securities. During the Class Period, the Conspirators unlawfully, maliciously and lacking bona fides, agreed together to, among other things, make the Representation and other misrepresentations particularized above, and to profit from such misrepresentations by, among other things, issuing stock options in respect of which the strike price was impermissibly low.

- 279. The Conspirators' predominant purposes in so conspiring were to:
  - (a) inflate the price of Sino's securities, or alternatively, maintain an artificially high trading price for Sino's securities;
  - (b) artificially increase the value of the securities they held; and
  - (c) inflate the portion of their compensation that was dependent in whole or in part upon the performance of Sino and its securities.
- 280. In furtherance of the conspiracy, the following are some, but not all, of the acts carried out or caused to be carried out by the Conspirators:
  - (a) they agreed to, and did, make the Representation, which they knew was false;
  - (b) they agreed to, and did, make the other misrepresentations particularized above, which they knew were false;
  - (c) they caused Sino to issue the Impugned Documents which they knew to be materially misleading;
  - (d) as alleged more particularly below, they caused to be issued stock options in respect of which the strike price was impermissibly low; and
  - (e) they authorized the sale of securities pursuant to Prospectuses and Offering Memoranda that they knew to be materially false and misleading.
- 281. Stock options are a form of compensation used by companies to incentivize the performance of directors, officers and employees. Options are granted on a certain date (the 'grant date') at a certain price (the 'exercise' or 'strike' price). At some point in the future, typically following a vesting period, an options-holder may, by paying the strike price, exercise the option and convert the option into a share in the company. The option-holder will make money as long as the option's strike price is lower than the market price of the security at the moment that the option is exercised. This enhances the incentive of the option recipient to work to raise the stock price of the company.

- 282. There are three types of option grants:
  - (a) 'in-the-money' grants are options granted where the strike price is lower than the market price of the security on the date of the grant; such options are not permissible under the TSX Rules and have been prohibited by the TSX Rules at all material times;
  - (b) 'at-the-money' grants are options granted where the strike price is equal to the market price of the security on the date of the grant or the closing price the day prior to the grant; and
  - (c) 'out-of-the-money' grants are options granted where the strike price is higher than the market price of the security on the date of the grant.
- 283. Both at-the-money and out-of-the-money options are permissible under the TSX Rules and have been at all material times.
- 284. The purpose of both at-the-money and out-of-the-money options is to create incentives for option recipients to work to raise the share price of the company. Such options have limited value at the time of the grant, because they entitle the recipient to acquire the company's shares at or above the price at which the recipient could acquire the company's shares in the open market. Options that are in-the-money, however, have substantial value at the time of the grant irrespective of whether the company's stock price rises subsequent to the grant date.
- 285. At all material times, the Sino Option Plan (the "Plan") prohibited in-the-money options.
- 286. The Conspirators backdated and/or otherwise mispriced Sino stock options, or caused the backdating and/or mispricing of Sino stock options, in violation of, inter alia: (a) the OSA and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; (b) the Plan; (c) GAAP; (d) the Code; (e) the TSX

Rules; and (f) the Conspirators' statutory, common law and contractual fiduciary duties and duties of care to Sino and its shareholders, including the Class Members.

287. The Sino stock options that were backdated or otherwise mispriced included those issued on June 26, 1996 to Chan, January 21, 2005 to Horsley, September 14, 2005 to Horsley, June 4, 2007 to Horsley and Chan, August 21, 2007 to Sino insiders other than the Conspirators, November 23, 2007 to George Ho and other Sino insiders, and March 31, 2009 to Sino insiders other than the Conspirators.

288. The graph below shows the average stock price returns for fifteen trading days prior and subsequent to the dates as of which Sino priced its stock options to its insiders. As appears therefrom, on average the dates as of which Sino's stock options were priced were preceded by a substantial decline in Sino's stock price, and were followed by a dramatic increase in Sino's stock price. This pattern could not plausibly be the result of chance.

- 289. The conspiracy was unlawful because the Conspirators knowingly and intentionally committed the foregoing acts when they knew such conduct was in violation of, inter alia, the OSA, the Securities Legislation other than the OSA, the Code, the rules and requirements of the TSX (the "TSX Rules") and the CBCA. The Conspirators intended to, and did, harm the Class by causing artificial inflation in the price of Sino's securities.
- 290. The Conspirators directed the conspiracy toward the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members. The Conspirators knew in the circumstances that the conspiracy would, and did, cause loss to the Plaintiffs and the other Class Members. The Plaintiffs and the Class Members suffered damages when the falsity of the Representation and other misrepresentations were revealed on June 2, 2011.

XII. THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN SINO'S DISCLOSURES AND THE PRICE OF SINO'S SECURITIES

- 291. The price of Sino's securities was directly affected during the Class Period by the issuance of the Impugned Documents. The Defendants were aware at all material times of the effect of Sino's disclosure documents upon the price of its Sino's securities.
- 292. The Impugned Documents were filed, among other places, with SEDAR and the TSX, and thereby became immediately available to, and were reproduced for inspection by, the Class Members, other members of the investing public, financial analysts and the financial press.
- 293. Sino routinely transmitted the documents referred to above to the financial press, financial analysts and certain prospective and actual holders of Sino securities. Sino provided either copies of the above referenced documents or links thereto on its website.

- 294. Sino regularly communicated with the public investors and financial analysts via established market communication mechanisms, including through regular disseminations of their disclosure documents, including press releases on newswire services in Canada, the United States and elsewhere. Each time Sino communicated that new material information about Sino financial results to the public the price of Sino securities was directly affected.
- 295. Sino was the subject of analysts' reports that incorporated certain of the material information contained in the Impugned Documents, with the effect that any recommendations to purchase Sino securities in such reports during the Class Period were based, in whole or in part, upon that information.
- 296. Sino's securities were and are traded, among other places, on the TSX, which is an efficient and automated market. The price at which Sino's securities traded promptly incorporated material information from Sino's disclosure documents about Sino's business and affairs, including the Representation, which was disseminated to the public through the documents referred to above and distributed by Sino, as well as by other means.

SINO-FOREST CLASS ACTION

TO CURRENT AND FORMER SINO SHAREHOLDERS AND NOTEHOLDERS

Notice of Tentative Settlement with Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited

This notice is for any person, including non-Canadians, who acquired Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest") securities in Canada or in a Canadian market between March 19, 2007 and June 2, 2011.

Background of Sino-Forest Class Action

In June and July of 2011, class actions were commenced in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (the "Ontario Proceeding") and the Québec Superior Court (the "Québec Proceeding") against Sino-Forest, its senior officers and directors, its auditors, its underwriters and a consulting company, Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited ("Pöyry (Beijing)"). It is alleged that the public filings of Sino-Forest contained false and misleading statements about Sino-Forest's business and affairs.

Who Is Included In This Class Action

The proposed classes encompass the following individuals and entities:

All persons and entities, wherever they may reside, who acquired Sino-Forest Corporation common shares, notes or other securities, as defined in the Ontario Securities Act, during the period from and including March 19, 2007 to and including June 2, 2011:

- (a) by distribution in Canada or on the Toronto Stock Exchange or other secondary market in Canada, which includes securities acquired over-the-counter or
- (b) who are resident of Canada or were resident of Canada at the time of acquisition and who acquired Sino-Forest Corporation's securities outside of Canada.

excluding the defendants, their past and present subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors, senior employees, partners, legal representatives, heirs, predecessors, successors and assigns, and any individual who is a member of the immediate family of an individual defendant.

Who Acts For The Proposed Class

Koskie Minsky LLP, Siskinds LLP, and Siskinds Desmeules, sencrl ("Class Counsel") jointly represent the proposed classes in this case. If you want to be represented by another lawyer, you may hire one to appear in court for you at your own expense.

You will not have to pay any fees and expenses to Class Counsel. However, if this action succeeds or there is a monetary settlement, Class Counsel may seek to have their fees and expenses paid from any money obtained for the class or paid separately by the defendants.

Tentative Settlement with Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited

There is a tentative settlement with one of the defendants, Pöyry (Beijing). The tentative settlement only settles the claims against Pöyry (Beijing) in both the Ontario and Québec proceedings. Pöyry (Beijing) does not admit to any wrongdoing or liability. The settlement does not involve the resolution of any claims against Sino-Forest Corporation or any of the other defendants.

The Pöyry (Beijing) settlement provides that Pöyry (Beijing) will initially provide cooperation to the Plaintiffs in the form of information and, if the Pöyry (Beijing) settlement is approved by the Ontario and Québec Courts, documents and other evidence, which the Plaintiffs believe will assist them in the continued litigation. Pöyry (Beijing) will contribute to the cost of providing notice, but will not otherwise provide monetary compensation to the Plaintiffs. In return for this assistance, the action will be dismissed against Pöyry (Beijing) and there will be an order barring claims against it and other persons or entities related to Pöyry (Beijing) as described in the settlement agreement that are not named as parties in the Ontario or Québec proceedings.

The settlement agreement with Pöyry (Beijing) is subject to court approval, as discussed below.

Stay of Proceedings Against Sino-Forest and Partial Lifting of the Stay

On March 30, 2012, Sino-Forest obtained creditor protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA"). The initial order provided for an interim stay of proceedings against Sino-Forest. This and other materials can be found at the CCAA Monitor's website at http://cfcanada.fticonsulting.com/sfc/. The parties to this action have agreed to, and the Court has ordered, a partial lifting of the stay of proceedings for, among other things, the purpose of allowing the Court to consider the fairness of the settlement between the Plaintiffs and Pöyry (Beijing).

Hearings to Approve Settlement on September 21, 2012 in Toronto and on October 30 and 31, 2012 in Québec City, Canada

On September 21, 2012 at 10:00 a.m., there will be a settlement approval hearing before the Ontario Superior Court of Justice. The courthouse is located at Osgoode Hall, 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

On October 30 and 31, 2012 at 9:30 a.m., there will be a settlement approval hearing before the Québec Superior Court. The courthouse is located at 300 Boulevard Jean-Lesage, Québec City, Québec, Canada.

On these dates, the courts will decide whether to approve the Pöyry (Beijing) settlement. Also on these dates, the Plaintiffs will seek orders certifying or authorizing the class proceeding for settlement purposes only as against Pöyry (Beijing).

Former or current security holders may attend the hearings and ask to make submissions regarding the proposed settlement. Any person who wishes to object to the Pöyry (Beijing) settlement must provide written notice to Class Counsel at the addresses below by August 21, 2012.

SINO-FOREST CORPORATION CLASS ACTION TO CURRENT AND FORMER SINO-FOREST SHAREHOLDERS AND NOTEHOLDERS

Notice of Settlement with Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited

This notice is to everyone, including non-Canadians, who acquired Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest") securities in Canada or in a Canadian market between March 19, 2007 and June 2, 2011.

IMPORTANT DEADLINE:

Opt-Out Deadline (for individuals and entities that wish to exclude themselves from the Class Action. See page 3 for more details.):

Opt-Out Forms will not be accepted after this deadline. As a result, it is necessary that you act without delay.

COURT APPROVAL OF THE CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENT

In June and July of 2011, class actions were commenced in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (the "Ontario Proceeding") and the Québec Superior Court (the "Québec Proceeding") (collectively, the "Proceedings") against Sino-Forest, its senior officers and directors, its auditors, its underwriters and a consulting company, Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited ("Pöyry (Beijing)"). The actions alleged that the public filings of Sino-Forest contained false and misleading statements about Sino-Forest's assets, business, and transactions.

Since that time, the litigation has been vigorously contested. On March 30, 2012, Sino-Forest obtained creditor protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA"), which allowed an interim stay of proceedings against the company. Orders and other materials relevant to the CCAA proceeding can be found at the CCAA Monitor's website at http://cfcanada.fticonsulting.com/sfc/. Ten days before the stay of proceedings was ordered, on March 20, 2012, the plaintiffs entered into a settlement agreement with Pöyry (Beijing) that sought to settle the claims against this defendant alone in the Proceedings (the "Settlement Agreement"). The parties to the Proceedings agreed to, and the Courts have since ordered, a partial lifting of the stay of proceedings for, among other things, the purpose of allowing the Courts to consider the fairness of the Settlement Agreement.

The Settlement Agreement stipulates that Pöyry (Beijing) will cooperate with the plaintiffs through the provision of information, documents, and other evidence that the plaintiffs believe will assist them in the continued litigation against the remaining defendants. Pöyry (Beijing) will not provide monetary compensation to the plaintiffs. In return, the Proceedings will be dismissed against Pöyry (Beijing) and future claims against Pöyry (Beijing) in relation to these Proceedings will be barred.

Pöyry (Beijing) does not admit to any wrongdoing or liability. The Settlement Agreement does not resolve any claims against Sino-Forest, its senior officers and directors, its auditors, or its underwriters. A complete copy of the Settlement Agreement is available at: www.kmlaw.ca/sinoforestclassaction and www.classaction.ca.

On September 21, 2012, the Ontario Superior Court certified the Ontario Proceeding as a class action for settlement purposes and approved the Settlement Agreement. On October 31, 2012 the Québec Proceeding was authorized as a class action for settlement purposes and the Settlement Agreement was approved by the Québec Superior Court (the "Québec Court"). Both Courts declared that the Settlement Agreement is fair, reasonable, and in the best interest of those affected by it.

WHO IS INCLUDED IN THIS CLASS ACTION AND BOUND BY THE SETTLEMENT?

The Courts have certified the Proceedings and approved the Settlement Agreement on behalf of classes which encompass the following individuals and entities (the "Class" or "Class Members"):

SINO-FOREST CORPORATION CLASS ACTION TO CURRENT AND FORMER SINO-FOREST SHAREHOLDERS AND NOTEHOLDERS

Notice of Settlement with Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited

This notice is to everyone, including non-Canadians, who acquired Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest") securities in Canada or in a Canadian market between March 19, 2007 and June 2, 2011.

IMPORTANT DEADLINE:

Opt-Out Deadline (for individuals and entities that wish to exclude themselves from the Class Action. See pages 2-3 for more details.):

January 15, 2013

Opt-Out Forms will not be accepted after this deadline. As a result, it is necessary that you act without delay.

COURT APPROVAL OF THE CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENT

In June and July of 2011, class actions were commenced in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (the "Ontario Proceeding") and the Québec Superior Court (the "Québec Proceeding") (collectively, the "Proceedings") against Sino-Forest, its senior officers and directors, its auditors, its underwriters and a consulting company, Pöyry (Beijing) Consulting Company Limited ("Pöyry (Beijing)"). The actions alleged that the public filings of Sino-Forest contained false and misleading statements about Sino-Forest's assets, business, and transactions.

Since that time, the litigation has been vigorously contested. On March 30, 2012, Sino-Forest obtained creditor protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA"), which allowed an interim stay of proceedings against the company. Orders and other materials relevant to the CCAA proceeding can be found at the CCAA Monitor's website at http://cfcanada.fticonsulting.com/sfc/. Ten days before the stay of proceedings was ordered, on March 20, 2012, the plaintiffs entered into a settlement agreement with Pöyry (Beijing) that sought to settle the claims against this defendant alone in the Proceedings (the "Settlement Agreement"). The parties to the Proceedings agreed to, and the Courts have since ordered, a partial lifting of the stay of proceedings for, among other things, the purpose of allowing the Courts to consider the fairness of the Settlement Agreement.

The Settlement Agreement stipulates that Pöyry (Beijing) will cooperate with the plaintiffs through the provision of information, documents, and other evidence that the plaintiffs believe will assist them in the continued litigation against the remaining defendants. Pöyry (Beijing) will not provide monetary compensation to the plaintiffs. In return, the Proceedings will be dismissed against Pöyry (Beijing) and future claims against Pöyry (Beijing) in relation to these Proceedings will be barred.

Pöyry (Beijing) does not admit to any wrongdoing or liability. The Settlement Agreement does not resolve any claims against Sino-Forest, its senior officers and directors, its auditors, or its underwriters. A complete copy of the Settlement Agreement is available at: www.kmlaw.ca/sinoforestclassaction and www.classaction.ca.

On September 25, 2012, the Ontario Superior Court certified the Ontario Proceeding as a class action for settlement purposes and approved the Settlement Agreement. On November 9, 2012 the Québec Proceeding was authorized as a class action for settlement purposes and the Settlement Agreement was approved by the Québec Superior Court (the "Québec Court"). Both Courts declared that the Settlement Agreement is fair, reasonable, and in the best interest of those affected by it.

WHO IS INCLUDED IN THIS CLASS ACTION AND BOUND BY THE SETTLEMENT?

The Courts have certified the Proceedings and approved the Settlement Agreement on behalf of classes which encompass the following individuals and entities (the "Class" or "Class Members"):

All persons and entities, wherever they may reside, who acquired Sino-Forest Corporation common shares, notes, or other securities, as defined in the Ontario Securities Act, during the period from and including March 19, 2007 to and including June 2, 2011:

- a) by distribution in Canada or on the Toronto Stock Exchange or other secondary market in Canada, which includes securities acquired over-the-counter or excluding the defendants, their past and present subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors, senior employees, partners, legal representatives, heirs, predecessors, successors and assigns, and any individual who is a member of the immediate family of an individual defendant.

REQUESTING EXCLUSION FROM THE CLASS

All persons and entities that fall within the definition of the Class are Class Members unless and until they exclude themselves from the Class ("opt out"). Class Members that do not opt out of the Class will not be able to make or maintain any other claims or legal proceeding in relation to the matters alleged in the Proceedings against Pöyry (Beijing) or any other person released by the Settlement Agreement.

If you are a Class Member and you do not want to be bound by the Settlement Agreement you must opt out. If you wish to opt out, you may do so by completing an "Opt-Out Form".

IF YOU CHOOSE TO OPT OUT OF THE CLASS, YOU WILL BE OPTING OUT OF THE ENTIRE PROCEEDING. THIS MEANS THAT YOU WILL BE UNABLE TO PARTICIPATE IN ANY FUTURE SETTLEMENT OR JUDGMENT REACHED WITH OR AGAINST THE REMAINING DEFENDANTS.

ENDORSEMENT

- [1] This motion was brought by the Ad Hoc Committee of Purchasers of the Applicant's Securities, including the Representative Plaintiffs in the Ontario Class Action (the "Class Action Plaintiffs") for an order limiting the scope of the stay of proceedings (the "Stay") imposed by the Initial Order dated March 30, 2012 and extended from time to time (the "Initial Order"), such that the Stay should not apply to Ernst & Young LLP, BDO Limited, the underwriters, and former directors Messrs. Allen T. Y. Chan, David Horsley and Kai Kit Poon, with respect to the following motions or petitions (the "Class Action Motions"):
  - (a) a motion certifying the action styled Trustees of the Labourers' Pension Fund of Central and Eastern Canada v. Sino-Forest Corporation et al (Toronto), Court File No. CV-11-431153-00CP (the "Ontario Class Action") as a class proceeding under the Class Proceedings Act, 1992 S.O. 1992, C. 6 ("CPA") (the "Ontario Certification Motion");
  - (b) a petition for authorization to commence a class proceeding (the "Quebec Class Action" and, together with the Ontario Class Action, the "Class Actions") under the Quebec Code of Civil Procedure, R.S.Q. C. c-25;
  - (c) a motion for leave to proceed with statutory secondary market claims in the Ontario Class Action pursuant to s. 138.3 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1990, C.S.5;
  - (d) a motion for leave to proceed with the statutory secondary market claims in the Quebec Class Action pursuant to Article 225.4 of the Securities Act, R.S.Q. C.V-1-1, to be filed; and
  - (e) a motion for leave to add CONDEX Wattoo Inc. as a plaintiff in the Quebec Class Action and with Ilan Toledano as its representative, to be filed, and a motion to amend the pleading in the Quebec Class Action to plead the Securities Act, R.S.Q. C.V-1-1 and add BDO Limited as a party.
- [2] The original motion sought wider relief. In its restructured form, the motion was not opposed by the Applicant.
- [3] The relief was, however, opposed by Ernst & Young, BDO, the Underwriters and the three former directors.
- [4] Broadly speaking, the Class Actions allege that Sino-Forest, certain of its officers and directors, its auditors and its underwriters made material misrepresentations regarding the operations and assets of Sino-Forest. The claims seeks $9.18 billion in damages.
- [5] Sino-Forest obtained protection from its creditors pursuant to the Initial Order on March 30, 2012. The Class Actions have been stayed since that time.
- [6] A Sales Process was undertaken by the Applicant following the Initial Order but it failed to attract any significant interest.

- [7] Following the unsuccessful Sales Process, the Applicant and the Monitor, in cooperation with the Ad Hoc Committee of Noteholders, engaged in developing a Plan of Arrangement (the "Plan").
- [8] The Applicant intends to call a meeting of creditors to consider the Plan.
- [9] During the development of the Plan, the Applicant brought a motion to determine the status of certain claims against it, including the claims of the shareholder plaintiffs in the Ontario Class Action and the claims of the third party defendants based on indemnities arising as a result of these shareholder claims.
- [10] On July 27, 2012, I rendered a decision finding that, among other things, the shareholder claims and indemnity claims were "equity claims" as defined in section 2 of the CCAA (the "Equity Claims Decision").
- [11] The third party defendants have since obtained leave to appeal the Equity Claims Decision to the Court of Appeal for Ontario, which appeal I understand is scheduled to be heard in mid-November 2012.
- [12] The parties to the Ontario Class Action have entered into a tolling agreement in respect of the limitation period in Part XXIII.1 of the Securities Act (Ontario), which suspends the operation of those limitation periods until February 28, 2013.
- [13] I can well understand the basis of the motion. The Class Action Plaintiffs want the Class Actions to move forward. I have no doubt that, failing resolution, the Class Actions will have to proceed. The only issue is when should the Class Actions proceed.
- [14] However, at this point in time, the auditors and the underwriters are active participants in the upcoming appeal of the Equity Claims Decision. It is conceivable that the decision of the Court of Appeal for Ontario will have an impact on the auditors and underwriters with respect to the upcoming meeting of creditors to consider the Plan and any potential motion to sanction the Plan.
- [15] It seems to me that the auditors and underwriters, in the short term, should focus their attention on the appeal and the upcoming meeting. It could very well be that, within a short period of time, the situation affecting the auditors and the underwriters will be clarified such that these groups will be in a position to focus their attention on the Class Actions.
- [16] As I stated in Timminco Limited (Re) 2012 ONSC 215 at [17]: Courts will consider a number of factors in assessing whether it is appropriate to lift a stay, but these factors can generally be grouped under three headings: (a) the relative prejudice to parties; (b) the balance of convenience; and (c) where relevant, the merits (i.e. if the matter has little chance, there may not be sound reasons for lifting the stay). See Canwest Global Communication (Re), [2011] O.J. No. 1590 (S.C.J.).
- [17] In the circumstances of this case, I see little prejudice to the Class Action Plaintiffs if the stay were to be maintained for a short period of time which could result in clarity being brought to the proceedings. Although there is a concern that memories of key witnesses will fade with the passage of time, I have not been persuaded that maintaining the stay for a short period of time will be detrimental to the Class Action Plaintiffs on that account.

- [18] On the issue of the limitation period, clearly this is an issue that has to be kept in mind, but maintaining the stay for a short period of time would not appear to negatively impact the Class Action Plaintiffs.
- [19] On the other hand, the concerns raised by counsel on behalf of the auditors and the underwriters have persuaded me that, the balance of convenience favours these parties, and at this time, they need to focus on issues arising out of the appeal of the Equity Claims Decision as well to focus on the Plan itself.
- [20] Accordingly, it seems to me that, having taken into account the relative prejudice to the parties and the balance of convenience, it is reasonable and appropriate to maintain the stay at this time, on the basis that the issue can and should be re-evaluated shortly after the scheduled meeting of creditors to consider the Plan, but in any event, no later than December 10, 2012.
- [21] Further, although the appeal of the Equity Claims Decision and the upcoming meeting of creditors and possible sanction hearing does not have any direct impact on the three former directors, I am of the view that it is appropriate to also maintain the stay with respect to these individuals so that the Class Actions can ultimately proceed in a more organized fashion.
- [22] On a secondary issue, the Class Action Plaintiffs requested, if necessary, leave to amend the pleading in the Quebec Class Action to plead the Securities Act, R.S.Q. C.V.-1-1 to add BDO Limited as a party.
- [23] This telief was opposed by the auditors on the basis that the Quebec Class Action plaintiffs ignored the Stay as they were never given leave to seek to add parties to any class proceedings especially without notice.
- [24] The Quebec Class Action plaintiffs countered with the submission that there was no intent to violate the Stay, but rather, there was a degree of confusion arising as a result of different procedures in the Quebec proceedings.
- [25] In keeping with the direction of the main aspect of this endorsement, it is my view that this secondary issue can be considered at the time that the main issue is being revisited in early December. However, the parties should be mindful of the comments I made at [13] above, to the effect that failing resolution, the Class Actions will have to proceed. The only issue is when.
- [26] In the result, the motion is dismissed, without prejudice to the right of the Class Action Plaintiffs to renew their request in accordance with the terms of this endorsement.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.5, AS AMENDED

- AND -

IN THE MATTER OF SINO-FOREST CORPORATION, ALLEN CHAN, ALBERT IP, ALFRED C.T. HUNG, GEORGE HO, SIMON YEUNG and DAVID HORSLEY

STATEMENT OF ALLEGATIONS

Further to a Notice of Hearing dated May 22, 2012, Staff ("Staff") of the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") make the following allegations:

PART I. OVERVIEW AND SUMMARY OF ALLEGATIONS

A. Sino-Forest

- 1. Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest" or the "Company")<sup>1</sup> is a reporting issuer in the province of Ontario as that term is defined in subsection 1(1) of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.5, as amended (the "Act"). Until recently, the common shares of Sino-Forest were listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX").
- 2. Sino-Forest purportedly engaged primarily in the purchase and sale of Standing Timber in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC").

- 3. From February of 2003 until October of 2010, Sino-Forest raised approximately $3.0 billion (US)<sup>2</sup> in cash from the issuance of equity and debt securities to investors (the "Investors")<sup>3</sup>.
- 4. From June 30, 2006 to March 31, 2011, Sino-Forest's share price grew from $5.75 (Can) to $25.30 (Can), an increase of 340%.<sup>4</sup> By March 31, 2011 Sino-Forest's market capitalization was well over $6 billion.
- 5. In early June of 2011, the share price of Sino-Forest plummeted after a private analyst made allegations of fraud against Sino-Forest.
- 6. On November 15, 2011, Sino-Forest announced that it was deferring the release of its interim financial report for the third quarter of 2011.<sup>5</sup> Sino-Forest has never filed this interim financial report with the Commission.
- 7. On January 10, 2012, Sino-Forest issued a news release cautioning that its historic financial statements and related audit reports should not be relied upon.
- 8. Sino-Forest was required to file its 2011 audited annual financial statements with the Commission by March 30, 2012. That very day, Sino-Forest initiated proceedings in front of the Superior Court of Justice (Ontario) requesting protection from its creditors. Sino-Forest has never filed its 2011 audited annual financial statements with the Commission.
- 9. On April 4, 2012, the auditors of Sino-Forest resigned.
- 10. On May 9, 2012, the TSX delisted the shares of Sino-Forest.

- 11. As set out below, Sino-Forest and its former senior executives, including Allen Chan ("Chan"), Albert Ip ("Ip"), Alfred C.T. Hung ("Hung"), George Ho ("Ho") and Simon Yeung ("Yeung"), engaged in a complex fraudulent scheme to inflate the assets and revenue of Sino-Forest and made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's public disclosure record related to its primary business.
- 12. Chan, former Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") of Sino-Forest until August 28, 2011, also committed fraud in relation to Sino-Forest's purchase of a controlling interest in a company now known as Greenheart Group Limited ("Greenheart"). By concealing Chan's substantial interest in this transaction, Chan and Sino-Forest made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's public disclosure record.
- 13. Chan, Ip, Hung, Ho and Yeung (together, "Overseas Management") all materially misled Staff during the investigation of this matter.
- 14. David Horsley ("Horsley"), former Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") of Sino-Forest, did not comply with Ontario securities law and acted contrary to the public interest.

B. The Standing Timber Fraud

- 15. From June 30, 2006 until January 11, 2012 (the "Material Time"), Sino-Forest and Overseas Management engaged in numerous deceitful and dishonest courses of conduct (the "Standing Timber Fraud") that ultimately caused the assets and revenue derived from the purchase and sale of Standing Timber (that constituted the majority of Sino-Forest's business) to be fraudulently overstated, putting the pecuniary interests of Investors at risk contrary to Ontario securities law and contrary to the public interest.
- 16. The Standing Timber Fraud was primarily comprised of three elements:
  - i) Sino-Forest dishonestly concealed its control over Suppliers, AIs and other nominee companies in the BVI Network. Sino-Forest established a collection of "nominee"/"peripheral" companies that were controlled, on

- its behalf, by various "caretakers". Sino-Forest conducted a significant level of its business with these companies, the true economic substance of which was misstated in Sino-Forest's financial disclosure;
- sii) Sino-Forest falsified the evidence of ownership for the vast majority of its timber holdings by engaging in a deceitful documentation process. This dishonest process included the fraudulent creation of deceitful Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts, including key attachments and other supplemental documentation. Sino-Forest then relied upon these documents to evidence the purported purchase, ownership and sale of Standing Timber in the BVI Model; and
- siii) Sino-Forest dishonestly concealed internal control weaknesses/failures that obscured the true nature of transactions conducted within the BVI Network and prevented the detection of the deceitful documentation process. Sino-Forest's statements in its public disclosure record regarding the extent of its internal control weaknesses were wholly inadequate and misleading.
- 17. Each of the above dishonest and deceitful courses of conduct by Sino-Forest and Overseas Management put the pecuniary interests of Investors at risk, constituting fraud. Together, these courses of conduct made the public disclosure record of Sino-Forest so misleading that it was fraudulent.
- 18. As set out in paragraph 47, the vast majority of the Sino-Forest's Standing Timber assets were held in the BVI Model. The available underlying documentation for these Standing Timber assets did not provide sufficient evidence of legal ownership of these assets. As of this date, Sino-Forest has not been able to confirm full legal ownership of the Standing Timber assets that it claims to hold in the BVI Model.
- 19. During the Material Time, Sino-Forest's auditors were not made aware of Sino-Forest's systematic practice of creating deceitful Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts, including key attachments to these contracts.
- 20. The following are four illustrative examples of the fraudulent courses of conduct that Sino-Forest and Overseas Management perpetrated within the Standing Timber Fraud. These four examples, described in detail below, illustrate how Sino-Forest and Overseas Management materially inflated assets and revenue in Sino-Forest's public disclosure record:

- i) the Dacheng Fraud;
- ii) the 450,000 Fraud;
- iii) Gengma Fraud #1; and
- iv) Gengma Fraud #2.
- 21. Schedule C illustrates the primary elements of the Standing Timber Fraud as introduced in paragraph 16 and the fraudulently overstated revenue arising from the four illustrative examples introduced in the previous paragraph.
- 22. The allegations regarding the Standing Timber Fraud are set out in paragraphs 53 to 119 below.

C. Materially Misleading Statements Related to the Standing Timber Fraud

- 23. Given the three elements of the Standing Timber Fraud introduced in paragraph 16, the public disclosure record of Sino-Forest required by Ontario securities law was materially misleading, contrary to Ontario securities law and contrary to the public interest.
- 24. The assets and revenue recorded as a result of the Standing Timber Fraud caused Sino-Forest's public disclosure record, including its audited annual financial statements, annual information forms ("AIFs") and management's discussion and analysis ("MD&A"), to be materially misleading during the Material Time.
- 25. Sino-Forest's statements in its public disclosure, including its AIFs and its MD&A filed with the Commission during the Material Time, regarding the extent of its internal control weaknesses and deficiencies were wholly inadequate and misleading.
- 26. The allegations regarding these materially misleading statements related to the Standing Timber Fraud are set out in paragraphs 120 to 141 below.

D. The Greenheart Transaction - Fraud by Chan and Materially Misleading Statements by Chan and Sino-Forest

- 27. In 2010, following a complex series of transactions, Sino-Forest completed the purchase of a controlling interest in Greenheart, a public company listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange (the "Greenheart Transaction"). Greenheart holds natural forest concessions, mostly in Suriname.
- 28. Chan secretly controlled companies that received over $22 million as a result of the purchase by Sino-Forest of this controlling interest in Greenheart. The Greenheart Transaction was significant to Sino-Forest's business and cost the Company approximately $120 million.
- 29. Chan fraudulently concealed his involvement in the Greenheart Transaction and the substantial benefit he secretly received. Chan and Sino-Forest misled the public through Sino-Forest's continuous disclosure. Chan falsely certified the accuracy of Sino-Forest's AIFs for 2008, 2009 and 2010 as these documents did not disclose his interest in the Greenheart Transaction.
- 30. Chan's course of conduct relating to the Greenheart Transaction constituted fraud and the making of misleading statements, contrary to Ontario securities law and contrary to the public interest. Chan and Sino-Forest made materially misleading statements related to the Greenheart Transaction, contrary to Ontario securities law and contrary to the public interest.
- 31. The allegations regarding fraud and materially misleading statements related to the Greenheart Transaction are set out in paragraphs 142 to 154 below.

E. Overseas Management of Sino-Forest Misled Staff during the Investigation

32. During the investigation by Staff, numerous members of Sino-Forest's management were interviewed by Staff. Overseas Management materially misled Staff in their interviews, contrary to Ontario securities law and contrary to the public interest.

33. The allegations that Overseas Management materially misled Staff are set out in paragraphs 155 to 167 below.

PART II. THE RESPONDENTS

- 34. Sino-Forest is a Canadian company with its principal executive office located in Hong Kong and its registered office located in Mississauga, Ontario.
- 35. During the Material Time, as set out above, Chan was Chairman of the Board of Directors and CEO of Sino-Forest.
- 36. During the Material Time, Ip was Senior Vice President, Development and Operations North-east and South-west China of Sino-Forest.
- 37. During the Material Time, Hung was Vice-President, Corporate Planning and Banking of Sino-Forest.
- 38. During the Material Time, Ho was Vice-President, Finance (China) of Sino-Forest.
- 39. During the Material Time, Yeung was Vice President Operation within the Operation /Project Management group of Sino-Panel (Asia) Inc. ("Sino-Panel"), a subsidiary of Sino-Forest.
- 40. During the Material Time, Horsley was Senior Vice President and CFO of Sino-Forest.

PART III. STANDING TIMBER - THE PRIMARY BUSINESS OF SINO-FOREST

A. Introduction

41. In its AIF for 2010, Sino-Forest stated that its operations were comprised of two core business segments which it titled "Wood Fibre Operations" and "Manufacturing and Other Operations". Wood Fibre Operations had two subcomponents entitled "Plantation Fibre" and "Trading of Wood Logs".

42. According to Sino-Forest, the Plantation Fibre subcomponent of its business was derived from the purported acquisition, cultivation and sale of either "standing timber" or "logs" in the PRC. For the purpose of this Statement of Allegations, the Plantation Fibre subcomponent of Sino-Forest's business will be referred to as "Standing Timber" as most, if not all, of the revenue from the sale of Plantation Fibre was derived from the sale of "standing timber".

B. Standing Timber - Sino-Forest's Main Source of Revenue

43. From 2007 to 2010, Sino-Forest reported Standing Timber revenue totalling approximately $3.56 billion, representing about 75% of its total revenue of $4.77 billion. The following table provides a summary of Sino-Forest's stated revenue for the period from 2007 to 2010 and illustrates the importance of the revenue derived from the sale of Standing Timber:

|                                                      | $ (millions) |             |             |             |              |
|------------------------------------------------------|---------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|--------------|
|                                                      | 2007   | 2008 | 2009 | 2010 | Total |

| Trading of Wood Logs                                 | 154.0         | 153.5       | 237.9       | 454.0       | 999.4        |
| Wood Fibre Operations                                | 675.5         | 838.9       | 1,192.1     | 1,855.2     | 4,561.7      |
| Manufacturing and Other Operations                   | 38.4          | 57.1        | 46.1        | 68.3 | 209.9        |
| Total Revenue                                        | 713.9         | 896.0       | 1,238.2     | 1,923.5     | 4,771.6      |

C. The BVI and WFOE Models - Revenue and Holdings

- 44. Standing Timber was purchased, held and sold by Sino-Forest in two distinct legal structures or models: the "BVI Model" and the "WFOE Model".
- 45. In the BVI Model, Sino-Forest's purchases and sales of Standing Timber in the PRC were conducted using wholly owned subsidiaries of Sino-Forest incorporated in the British Virgin Islands (the "BVI Subs"). The BVI Subs purported to enter into written purchase contracts ("Purchase Contracts") with suppliers in the PRC ("Suppliers") and then purported to enter into written sales contracts ("Sales Contracts") with customers called "authorized intermediaries" in the PRC ("AIs").
- 46. In the WFOE Model, Sino-Forest used subsidiaries incorporated in the PRC called Wholly Foreign Owned Enterprises ("WFOEs") to acquire, cultivate and sell the Standing Timber. The Sino-Forest WFOEs also entered into Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts with other parties in the PRC.
- 47. At December 31, 2010, Sino-Forest reported total timber holdings of $3.1 billion comprising 799,700 hectares. About $2.5 billion or approximately 80% of the total timber holdings (by value) was held in the BVI Model, comprising approximately 467,000 hectares of Standing Timber. The WFOE Model purportedly held approximately 97,000 hectares of Standing Timber valued at $295.6 million or approximately 10% of the total timber holdings (by value). The timber holdings in the BVI Model and the WFOE Model comprised approximately 90% of the total timber holdings (by value) of Sino-Forest as at December 31, 2010.
- 48. The cash-flows associated with the purchase and sale of Standing Timber executed in the BVI Model took place "off-book" pursuant to a payables/receivables offsetting arrangement (the "Offsetting Arrangement"), whereby the BVI Subs would not directly receive the proceeds on the sale of Standing Timber from the purchasing AI. Rather, Sino-Forest disclosed that it would direct the AI that purchased the timber to pay the sales proceeds to a new Supplier in order to buy additional Standing Timber. Consequently, Sino-Forest also did not make payment directly to Suppliers for purchases of Standing Timber.

- 49. Sino-Forest did not possess the bank records to confirm that these "off-book" cash-flows in the Offsetting Arrangement actually took place. This lack of transparency within the BVI Model meant that independent confirmation of these "off-book" cash-flows was reliant on the good faith and independence of Suppliers and AIs.
- 50. Further, pursuant to the terms of Sales Contracts entered into between a BVI Sub and an AI, the AI assumed responsibility for paying any PRC taxes associated with the sale that were owed by the BVI Sub. This obligation purportedly included paying the income tax and valued added tax on behalf of Sino-Forest.
- 51. Sino-Forest dealt with relatively few Suppliers and AIs in the BVI Model. For example, in 2010, six Suppliers accounted for 100% of the Standing Timber purchased in the BVI Model and five AIs accounted for 100% of Sino-Forest's revenue generated in the BVI Model.
- 52. From 2007 to 2010, revenue from the BVI Model totalled $3.35 billion, representing 94% of Sino-Forest's reported Standing Timber revenue and 70% of Sino-Forest's total revenue. The importance of the revenue from the BVI Model is demonstrated in the following table:

PART IV. THE STANDING TIMBER FRAUD

- 53. As introduced in paragraph 16, the Standing Timber Fraud was primarily comprised of three elements:
  - i) Undisclosed control over parties within the BVI Network;

- ii) The undisclosed dishonest process of creating deceitful Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts and their key attachments used in both the BVI Model and the WFOE Model to inflate Standing Timber assets and revenue; and
- iii) Undisclosed internal control weaknesses/deficiencies that facilitated and concealed the fraudulent conduct within the BVI Network, and the dishonest creation of Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts, including their key attachments.
- 54. On this basis, Sino-Forest then created transactions to fraudulently inflate assets and revenue in its public disclosure record.

A. Undisclosed Control over Parties within the BVI Network

- 55. Almost all of the buying and selling of Standing Timber in the BVI Model was generated through transactions between BVI Subs and a small number of Suppliers and AIs. Sino-Forest also conducted a significant level of this buying and selling with companies that are described in various Sino-Forest documents and correspondence as "peripheral" companies. Sino-Forest established a network of "nominee" companies that were controlled, on its behalf, by various so-called "caretakers".
- 56. For the purpose of this Statement of Allegations, the BVI Subs, Suppliers, AIs, "nominee" companies and "peripheral" companies involved in the buying and selling of Standing Timber in the BVI Model are collectively referred to as the "BVI Network". Some of the companies within the BVI Network were also involved in the buying and selling of Standing Timber within the WFOE Model.
- 57. One Sino-Forest document (the "Caretaker Company List") lists more than 120 "peripheral" (nominee) companies that are controlled by 10 "caretakers" on behalf of Sino-Forest. The "caretakers" include Person #1 (legal representative of Huaihua City Yuda Wood Ltd. ("Yuda Wood"), described in greater detail in paragraphs 61 to 65 below), Person #2 (a relative of Chan), Person #3 (a former Sino-Forest employee), Person #4 (an acquaintance of Chan and Chan's nominee in the Greenheart Transaction as outlined in paragraphs 145 to 147

- below), Person #5 (a former shareholder of Greenheart Resources Holdings Limited ("GRHL") and a shareholder of Greenheart) and Person #6 (an individual associated with some of Sino-Forest's Suppliers).
- 58. The control and influence that Sino-Forest exerted over certain Suppliers, AIs and peripheral companies within the BVI Network brings the bona fides of numerous contracts entered into in the BVI Model into question, thereby placing the pecuniary interests of Investors at risk. Sino-Forest wielded this control and influence through Overseas Management. As well, certain transactions recorded in the BVI Model do not reflect the true economic substance of the underlying transactions. Sino-Forest's control of, or influence over, certain parties within the BVI Network was not disclosed to Investors.
- 59. Some of the counterparties to the Dacheng Fraud, the 450,000 Fraud, Gengma Fraud #1 and Gengma Fraud #2 are companies that are included in the Caretaker Company List, as outlined in more detail in paragraphs 90 to 115 below.
- 60. Sino-Forest did not disclose the true nature of the relationship between itself and the following two key companies in the BVI Network: Yuda Wood and Dongkou Shuanglian Wood Company Limited ("Dongkou"). This was dishonest.
- 1) Sino-Forest Controlled Yuda Wood, a Major Supplier
- 61. Yuda Wood was a Supplier secretly controlled by Sino-Forest during a portion of the Material Time.
- 62. From 2007 to 2010, Yuda Wood was purportedly Sino-Forest's largest Supplier, accounting for 18% of all purchases in the BVI Model. Sino-Forest claimed to have paid Yuda Wood approximately $650 million during that time.
- 63. Yuda Wood was registered and capitalized by members of Overseas Management, who also controlled bank accounts of Yuda Wood and key elements of its business.

- 64. The legal representative of Yuda Wood is Person #1, a former employee of Sino-Forest and also a shareholder and director of Hong Kong Sonic Jita Engineering Co., Ltd. ("Sonic Jita"), the sole shareholder of Yuda Wood. In addition, Person #1 had significant interests in other Suppliers of Sino-Forest and was identified as the "caretaker" of several nominee/peripheral companies.
- 65. Yuda Wood and other companies controlled by Sino-Forest through Person #1 were used to perpetrate portions of the Standing Timber Fraud including the Dacheng Fraud, the 450,000 Fraud, Gengma Fraud #1 and Gengma Fraud #2.

2) Sino-Forest Controlled Dongkou, a Major AI

- 66. Dongkou was an AI secretly controlled by Sino-Forest during a portion of the Material Time.
- 67. In 2008, Dongkou was Sino-Forest's most significant AI, purportedly purchasing approximately $125 million in Standing Timber from Sino-Forest, constituting about 18% of Sino-Forest's Standing Timber revenue for that year.
- 68. Sino-Forest controlled Dongkou through one of its WFOE subsidiaries Shaoyang Jiading Wood Products Co. Ltd. ("Shaoyang Jiading"). Correspondence indicates that, according to an agreement dated November 18, 2006, Shaoyang Jiading purchased Dongkou for RMB<sup>7</sup> 1.38 million (approximately $200,000).
- 69. By November 2006, the six original shareholders of Dongkou had been replaced with two Sino-Forest employees: Person #7 and Person #8. These two persons became the sole Dongkou shareholders, with Person #7 holding 47.5% and Person #8 holding 52.5%.

- 70. Also, in 2007, at the direction of Ip and others, employees of Sino-Forest drafted purchase contracts to be entered into by Dongkou and its suppliers (other than Sino-Forest). Essentially, Sino-Forest, through Overseas Management, controlled Dongkou's business with certain counterparties.
- B. Dishonest Process to Create Deceitful Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts in the BVI Model Concealment of this Dishonest Process
- 1) Purchase Contracts in the BVI Model
- 71. As set out in paragraph 47, approximately 80% (by value) of Sino-Forest's timber assets were held in the BVI Model as of December 31, 2010.
- 72. Sino-Forest used the Purchase Contracts to acquire and evidence ownership of Standing Timber in the BVI Model. The Purchase Contracts purported to have three attachments:
  - i) Plantation Rights Certificates ("Certificates") or other ownership documents;
  - ii) Farmers' Authorization Letters ("Farmers' Authorizations"); and
  - iii) Timber Survey Reports ("Survey Reports").
- 73. The Purchase Contracts and their attachments were fundamentally flawed in at least four ways, making the public disclosure record of Sino-Forest materially misleading, thus placing the pecuniary interests of Investors at risk.
- 74. First, Sino-Forest did not hold Certificates to evidence ownership of the Standing Timber allegedly purchased by the BVI Subs. Instead, Sino-Forest claimed that, since the BVI Subs could not obtain Certificates from the PRC government to evidence ownership, it purported to rely on confirmations issued by the forestry bureaus in the PRC as evidence of ownership ("Confirmations"). However, Confirmations are not legally recognized documents evidencing ownership of timber assets in the PRC. These Confirmations were purportedly granted to Sino-Forest as favours by the PRC forestry bureaus. According to Sino-Forest, the PRC forestry bureaus did not intend that these Confirmations would be disclosed to third parties. Also, certain PRC forestry bureau employees obtained gifts and cash payments from Suppliers of Sino-Forest, further undermining the value of the Confirmations as evidence of ownership.

- 75. Second, during the Material Time, Sino-Forest employed a deceitful systematic quarterly documentation process in the BVI Model whereby the purported Purchase Contacts were not drafted and executed until the quarter after the date on which the purchase allegedly occurred and was included in the public financial disclosure.
- 76. Like the Purchase Contracts, the Confirmations were also created by Sino-Forest and deceitfully dated to the previous quarter. These Confirmations were created contemporaneously with the creation of the corresponding Purchase Contracts. These Confirmations were then allegedly provided to the relevant PRC forestry bureau for verification and execution.
- 77. Third, the Purchase Contracts referred to Farmers' Authorizations. However, none were attached. In the absence of Farmers' Authorizations, there is no evidence that ownership to the Standing Timber was properly transferred to Sino-Forest or to the Supplier prior to the purported transfer of ownership to Sino-Forest. Ownership of the Standing Timber would have remained with the original Certificate holder.
- 78. Fourth, the Survey Reports, which purported to identify the general location of the purchased timber, were all prepared by a single firm during the Material Time. A 10% shareholder of this survey firm was also an employee of Sino-Forest. Drafts of certain Survey Reports purportedly prepared by this independent survey company were located on the computer of another employee of Sino-Forest. Like the Purchase Contracts and Confirmations, these drafts of the Survey Reports were deceitfully dated to the quarter prior to their creation.
- 79. In the absence of both Certificates and Farmers' Authorizations, Sino-Forest relies on the validity of the Purchase Contracts and the Confirmations as proof of ownership of the Standing Timber it held in the BVI Model. However, the Purchase Contracts and available attachments, including Confirmations, were prepared using the deceitful documentation process outlined above, and do not constitute proof of ownership of the trees purported to have been bought by Sino-Forest in the BVI Model.

- 80. Moreover, the Purchase Contracts and readily available attachments, including the Confirmations, did not identify the precise location of the Standing Timber being purchased such that the existence of this Standing Timber could not be readily verified and valued independently.
- 81. Sino-Forest, Overseas Management and Horsley knew or ought to have known that their auditors during the Material Time relied on the validity of the Purchase Contracts and their attached Confirmations as proof of ownership of Sino-Forest's Standing Timber assets.

2) Sales Contracts in the BVI Model

- 82. Like the Purchase Contracts, all of the Sales Contracts purportedly entered into by the BVI Subs in the BVI Model were not actually created and executed until the quarter after the date of the alleged transaction.
- 83. Accordingly, the revenue from the Sales Contracts in the BVI Model was recognized in the quarter prior to the creation of the Sales Contracts. Therefore, the public disclosure of Sino-Forest regarding its revenue from Standing Timber was materially misleading and deceitful. During the Material Time, in its correspondence to Staff, Sino-Forest misled the Commission about its revenue recognition practice.

C. Undisclosed Internal Control Weaknesses/Failures

84. In its MD&A for 2010 dated March 15, 2011, Sino-Forest stated the following on page 27 regarding its "Disclosure Control and Procedures and Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting":

The success of the Company's vision and strategy of acquiring and selling forestry plantations and access to a long-term supply of wood fibre in the PRC is dependent on senior management. As such, senior management plays a significant role in maintaining customer relationships, negotiating and finalizing the purchase and sale of plantation fibre contracts and the settlement of accounts receivable and accounts payable associated with plantation fibre contracts. This concentration of authority, or lack of segregation of duties, creates risk in terms of measurement and completeness of transactions as well as the possibility of non-compliance with existing controls, either of which may lead to the possibility of inaccurate financial reporting. By taking additional steps in 2011 to address this deficiency, management will continue to monitor and work on mitigating this weakness. [Emphasis added]

- 85. Sino-Forest made similar disclosure in its annual MD&A from 2006 to 2009 regarding this concentration of authority or lack of segregation and the risk resulting from these weaknesses. These material weaknesses were not remedied during the Material Time by Sino-Forest, Overseas Management or Horsley.
- 86. Sino-Forest failed to disclose the extent of the concentration of duties in Overseas Management. It did not disclose that Overseas Management and their nominees had complete control over the operation of the BVI Model including the fraudulent creation and execution of the Purchase Contracts and Sales Contracts described in paragraphs 71 to 81 and the extent of the "off-book" cash flow set out in paragraphs 48 to 49. This concentration of control in the hands of Overseas Management facilitated the fraudulent course of conduct perpetrated in the BVI Model.

D. Four Examples of Fraudulent Transactions within the Standing Timber Fraud

- 87. During the Material Time, Sino-Forest and Overseas Management engaged in significant fraudulent transactions related to its purchase and sale of Standing Timber. These fraudulent transactions had the effect of overstating Sino-Forest's assets and revenue during the Material Time.
- 88. By way of example, four series of fraudulent transactions are detailed below: (i) the Dacheng Fraud; (ii) the 450,000 Fraud; (iii) Gengma Fraud #1, and (iv) Gengma Fraud #2.

89. In these transactions, Sino-Forest used certain Suppliers, AIs and other nominee companies that it controlled to falsify the financial disclosure of Sino-Forest, including the value of its Standing Timber assets and revenue.

1) The Dacheng Fraud

- 90. Sino-Forest and members of Overseas Management committed fraud (the "Dacheng Fraud") in a series of purported transactions commencing in 2008, related to purchases of timber plantations (the "Dacheng Plantations") from a Supplier called Guangxi Dacheng Timber Co. Ltd. ("Dacheng"). Companies controlled by Sino-Forest through Person #1 were used in the Dacheng Fraud.
- 91. The Dacheng Fraud involved duplicating the same Standing Timber assets within the Dacheng Plantations in the records of two Sino-Forest subsidiaries. Sino-Forest recorded the same assets once in the WFOE Model and again in the BVI Model.
- 92. In 2008, these Standing Timber assets were recorded at a value of RMB 47 million (approximately $6.3 million) in the WFOE Model and this amount was paid to Dacheng. These funds were then funnelled through Dacheng back to other subsidiaries of Sino-Forest, as the purported collection of receivables.
- 93. At the same time, Sino-Forest recorded these Standing Timber assets in the BVI Model at a value of approximately RMB 205 million (approximately $30 million). In 2009, Sino-Forest purported to sell the Standing Timber assets from the Dacheng Plantations held in the BVI Model for approximately RMB 326 million (approximately $48 million). This revenue was recorded in Q3 of 2009.
- 94. As a result of the Dacheng Fraud, in 2008, Sino-Forest overstated the value of certain Standing Timber assets by approximately $30 million and, in 2009, Sino-Forest overstated its revenue by approximately $48 million. The effect of this revenue overstatement on the public disclosure record of Sino-Forest is illustrated in paragraph 127 below.

2) The 450,000 Fraud

- 95. Sino-Forest and members of Overseas Management committed fraud (the "450,000 Fraud") in a complex series of transactions involving the purchase and sale of 450,000 cubic meters of timber in Q4 of 2009, again utilizing companies controlled by Sino-Forest through Person #1. In an email, Yeung described this purchase and sale of timber as "a pure accounting arrangement".
- 96. Three subsidiaries of Sino-Panel (the "Sino-Panel Companies") purported to purchase 450,000 cubic meters of Standing Timber at a cost of RMB 183 million (approximately $26 million) from Guangxi Hezhou City Yuangao Forestry Development Co. Ltd ("Yuangao") during October 2009.
- 97. In Q4 of 2009, the Sino-Panel Companies purportedly sold this Standing Timber to the following three customers:
  - i) Gaoyao City Xinqi Forestry Development Co., Ltd. ("Xinqi");
  - ii) Guangxi Rongshui Meishan Wood Products Factory ("Meishan"); and
  - iii) Guangxi Pingle Haosen Forestry Development Co., Ltd. ("Haosen").
- 98. The sale price for this Standing Timber was RMB 233 million (approximately $33 million), for an apparent profit of RMB 50 million (approximately $7.1 million).
- 99. The purported supplier (Yuangao) and the purported customers (Xinqi, Meishan and Haosen) are all so-called "peripheral" companies of Sino-Forest, i.e., they are nominee companies controlled by Person #1 on behalf of Sino-Forest. Xinqi, Meishan and Haosen are also companies included in the Caretaker Company List, and Person #1 is identified as the "caretaker" of each company.
- 100. This RMB 233 million sale of Standing Timber was recorded in Sino-Forest's WFOE Model, as opposed to its BVI Model. As noted in paragraph 48, the BVI Model employs the Offsetting Arrangement where payables and receivables are made and collected "off-book". However, in the WFOE Model, Sino-Forest takes receipt of the sales proceeds directly or "on-book".

- 101. By July 2010, none of the sales proceeds had been collected and the receivable was long overdue. In order to evidence the "collection" of the RMB 233 million in sales proceeds, Sino-Forest devised two separate "on-book" payables/receivables offsetting arrangements, one in 2010 and one in 2011, whereby Sino-Forest made payments to various companies, including Yuangao and at least two other Sino-Forest nominee companies.<sup>8</sup>
- 102. To account for the purported profit of RMB 50 million, Sino-Forest had to "collect" more (RMB 233 million) than just the purchase price (RMB 183 million). Consequently, Sino-Forest created additional "payables" to complete the circular flow of funds needed to collect the sales proceeds of RMB 233 million. These "on-book" offsetting arrangements, therefore, included the purported settlement of various accounts payable, not just the Yuangao payable arising from the 450,000 Fraud.
- 103. The companies referred to paragraph 101 then funnelled the money to Xinqi, Meishan and Haosen who, in turn, repaid the money to the Sino-Panel Companies to achieve the purported collection of the RMB 233 million in revenue.
- 104. The "on-book" offsetting arrangements required that Suppliers and customers have bank accounts through which the funds could flow. In July and August 2010, Sino-Forest set up bank accounts for the suppliers and customers associated with the 450,000 Fraud to facilitate the circular cash flows. These bank accounts were overseen by Ip, Ho, Person #1 and/or Person #9 (a former Sino-Forest employee and associate of Person #1).
- 105. These circular cash-flows commenced in July 2010 and were finally concluded in February 2011.

106. The circular flow of funds underlying the 450,000 Fraud demonstrates that the sales contracts purportedly entered into between the Sino-Panel Companies and Xinqi, Meishan and Haosen are fraudulent and have no true economic substance. As a result of the 450,000 Fraud, Sino-Forest overstated the value of its revenue by approximately $30 million for Q4 of 2009. The effect of this revenue overstatement on the public disclosure record of Sino-Forest is illustrated in paragraph 129 below.

3) Gengma Fraud # 1

- 107. Sino-Forest and members of Overseas Management committed fraud ("Gengma Fraud #1") in 2007 related to Standing Timber assets purchased from Gengma Dai and Wa Tribe Autonomous Region Forestry Co., Ltd. ("Gengma Forestry") by Sino-Panel (Gengma) Co., Ltd. ("Sino-Panel Gengma"), a Sino-Forest subsidiary.
- 108. In 2007, Sino-Panel Gengma purchased certain land use rights and Standing Timber for RMB 102 million (approximately $14 million) from Gengma Forestry. These contracts were signed by Chan. However, this transaction between Sino-Panel Gengma and Gengma Forestry was not recorded. Instead, Sino-Forest purported to purchase the same assets from Yuda Wood, allegedly paying RMB 509 million (approximately $68 million) for the Standing Timber in 2007 and RMB 111 million (approximately $15 million) for certain land use rights during the period from June 2007 to March 2009. This purchase was recorded and these Standing Timber assets remained on the books of Sino-Forest until 2010.
- 109. Gengma Fraud #1 resulted in an overstatement of Sino-Forest's timber holdings for 2007, 2008 and 2009.
- 110. In 2010, this Standing Timber was then purportedly sold for RMB 1,579 million (approximately $231 million). However, these same Standing Timber assets were offered as collateral for a bank loan by Sino-Forest in 2011 so the sale of these assets in 2010 could not have taken place and been recorded as revenue in that year.

111. The effect of the revenue overstatement from Gengma Fraud #1 on the public disclosure record of Sino-Forest is illustrated in paragraph 131 below.

4) Gengma Fraud # 2

- 112. In 2007, Sino-Forest and members of Overseas Management committed fraud ("Gengma Fraud #2") in another series of transactions to artificially inflate its assets and revenue from the purchase and sale of Standing Timber.
- 113. In September 2007, Sino-Forest recorded the acquisition of Standing Timber from Yuda Wood at a cost of RMB 161 million (approximately $21.5 million) related to Standing Timber in Yunnan Province (the "Yunnan Plantation"). However, Yuda Wood did not actually acquire these assets in the Yunnan Plantation until September 2008.
- 114. In 2007, Sino-Forest had also purportedly purchased the land use rights to the Yunnan Plantation from Yuda Wood at a cost of RMB 53.4 million (approximately $7 million), RMB 52.9 million of which was paid to Yuda Wood during the period from January 2009 to April 2009. Sino-Forest then fabricated the sale of the land use rights to Guangxi Hezhou City Kun'an Forestry Co., Ltd. ("Kun'an") pursuant to a contract dated November 23, 2009. Kun'an was controlled by Sino-Forest through Person #1 and is a company included in the Caretaker Company List referred to in paragraph 57 above.
- 115. Sino-Forest then purported to sell the Standing Timber in the Yunnan Plantation in a series of transactions between March 2008 and November 2009 for RMB 338 million (approximately $49 million). As Yuda Wood did not own this Standing Timber asset until September 2008, Sino-Forest could not have recorded the sale of this Standing Timber prior to that time. The effect of this revenue overstatement on the public disclosure record of Sino-Forest is illustrated in paragraph 133 below.

D. Conclusion Regarding the Standing Timber Fraud

- 116. The effect of the above conduct is that Sino-Forest and Overseas Management engaged in deceitful or dishonest conduct related to Sino-Forest's Standing Timber assets and revenue that they knew or ought to have known constituted fraud, contrary to subsection 126.1(b) of the Act and the public interest.
- 117. Due to the chronic and pervasive nature of the systemic conduct set out above, neither the magnitude of the Standing Timber Fraud by Sino-Forest and Overseas Management nor the magnitude of the risk to the pecuniary interests of Investors can be quantified with certainty.
- 118. Given their positions as officers of Sino-Forest and/or Sino-Panel, Overseas Management authorized, permitted or acquiesced in the non-compliance with Ontario securities law by Sino-Forest and are deemed to have not complied with Ontario securities law pursuant to section 129.2 of the Act. This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.
- 119. As CFO of Sino-Forest, Horsley authorized, permitted or acquiesced in Sino-Forest's and Overseas Management's commission of the Standing Timber Fraud and therefore is deemed under section 129.2 of the Act to have not complied with Ontario securities law. This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.

PART V. MATERIALLY MISLEADING STATEMENTS RELATED TO THE STANDING TIMBER FRAUD

- 120. On January 10, 2012, Sino-Forest issued a news release which cautioned that its historic financial statements and related audit reports should not be relied upon.
- 121. By failing to properly disclose the elements of the Standing Timber Fraud set out above, Sino-Forest made statements in its filings to the Commission during the Material Time which were, in a material respect and at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, misleading or untrue or did not state facts that were required to be stated or that were necessary to make the statements not misleading. Overseas Management participated in the conduct that made these statements materially misleading.

- 122. The misleading, untrue or incomplete statements related to Sino-Forest's description of its primary business were contained in (or absent from) Sino-Forest's continuous disclosure, including its audited annual financial statements, AIFs and MD&A filed with the Commission during the Material Time as required by Ontario securities law. These misleading, untrue or incomplete statements related to Sino-Forest's description of its primary business were contained in (or absent from) Sino-Forest's short form prospectuses filed with the Commission during the Material Time, which incorporated by reference the relevant audited annual financial statements, AIFs and MD&A as required by Ontario securities law.
- 123. These misleading statements were related to Sino-Forest's primary business in the BVI Model and the WFOE Model, representing approximately 90% of Sino-Forest's stated timber assets as of December 31, 2010 and 75% of its stated revenue from 2007 to 2010.

A. Materially Misleading Statements Regarding Ownership of Assets and Revenue Recognition

- 124. Members of Overseas Management created and executed the Purchase Contracts in the BVI Model in the quarters after the assets related to those transactions were recognized. This made Sino-Forest's audited annual financial statements, AIFs and MD&A for the years 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 materially misleading.
- Further, given that Sino-Forest did not have sufficient proof of ownership of the majority of its Standing Timber assets due to the courses of conduct set out above, the information regarding Sino-Forest's timber holdings in its audited annual financial statements, AIFs and MD&A for the years 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 was materially misleading. For the same reasons, the information regarding Sino-Forest's timber holdings in its short form prospectuses filed in 2007 and 2009 (which incorporated by reference the relevant audited annual financial statements, AIFs and MD&A as required by Ontario securities law) was materially misleading.

126. Sino-Forest and members of Overseas Management created and executed the Sales Contracts in the BVI Model in the quarter after the revenue related to those transactions was recognized. This was contrary to the revenue recognition process set out in Sino-Forest's continuous disclosure, including its MD&A and the notes to its audited annual financial statements.

C. Materially Misleading Statements Regarding Internal Controls

- 135. Sino-Forest's disclosure in its AIFs and annual MD&A for 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 relating to the material weaknesses in its internal controls was misleading, untrue or incomplete. This disclosure was also contained in Sino-Forest's short form prospectuses filed in 2007 and 2009 (which incorporated by reference the relevant AIFs and MD&A as required by Ontario securities law).
- 136. Sino-Forest did disclose that the concentration of authority in Overseas Management and lack of segregation of duties created a risk in terms of measurement and completeness of transactions, as well as the possibility of non-compliance with existing controls.
- 137. However, as set out in paragraphs 84 to 86, this disclosure by Sino-Forest was wholly inadequate, failing to reveal the extent of the weaknesses in Sino-Forest's internal controls.

D. Conclusion Regarding Materially Misleading Statements Related to the Standing Timber Fraud

- 138. During the Material Time, given the Standing Timber Fraud, Sino-Forest consistently misled the public in the disclosure required to be made under Ontario securities law. The conduct of Sino-Forest, Chan, Ip, Hung and Ho was contrary to subsection 122(1)(b) of the Act and contrary to the public interest.
- 139. Further, due to the above conduct, Sino-Forest's audited annual financial statements did not comply with Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles.
- 140. Given their positions as officers of Sino-Forest, Chan, Ip, Ho and Hung authorized, permitted or acquiesced in Sino-Forest's making of materially misleading statements and thereby committed an offence under subsection 122(3) of the Act This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.
- 141. As CFO of Sino-Forest, Horsley authorized, permitted or acquiesced in Sino-Forest's and Overseas Management's making of materially misleading statements and therefore is deemed under section 129.2 of the Act to have not complied with Ontario securities law. This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.

PART VI. THE GREENHEART TRANSACTION - FRAUD BY CHAN AND MATERIALLY MISLEADING STATEMENTS BY CHAN AND SINOFOREST

- 142. Chan committed fraud in relation to Chan's undisclosed interest and substantial financial benefit in the Greenheart Transaction described below.
- 143. Chan and Sino Forest made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's AIFs for 2008, 2009 and 2010 by not disclosing Chan's interest in the Greenheart Transaction. These misleading statements were also contained in Sino-Forest's short form prospectuses filed in 2009 (which incorporated by reference the relevant AIFs and MD&A as required by Ontario securities law).

- 144. In 2010, through a complex series of transactions, Sino-Forest completed the purchase of a controlling interest in Greenheart, a public company listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. In 2005, the primary assets of Greenheart's key subsidiary at the time, GRHL, were previously acquired by the original owners of GRHL for approximately $2 million. These assets consisted of natural forest concessions and operations located in Suriname. The total cost of the Greenheart Transaction to Sino-Forest was approximately $120 million, composed of a combination of cash and securities of Sino-Forest.
- 145. Two of the companies holding shares of GRHL, thus benefitting from the Greenheart Transaction, were Fortune Universe Ltd. ("Fortune Universe") and Montsford Ltd. ("Montsford"). Both Fortune Universe and Montsford were BVI shelf companies incorporated in 2004 and subsequently acquired by, or for the benefit of, Chan in 2005.
- 146. Person #10 was the sole director and shareholder of Fortune Universe and Person #4 was the sole director and shareholder of Montsford. However, Chan arranged for Person #10 and Person #4 to act as Chan's nominees. Chan was the true beneficial owner of Fortune Universe and Montsford.
- 147. Person #10 was the legal representative and director of one of Sino-Forest's largest Suppliers during the Material Time. Person #4 was an acquaintance of Chan based in the PRC.
- 148. As a result of the Greenheart Transaction, Fortune Universe and Montsford received over $22.1 million, comprised of approximately $3.7 million in cash and approximately $18.4 million in securities of Sino-Forest. The securities of Sino-Forest received by Fortune Universe and Montsford appreciated in value and were subsequently sold for a total of approximately $35 million. With the help of Person #11 (Chan's assistant), these securities were sold through brokerage accounts of Fortune Universe and Montsford which were opened at her direction, on the instructions of Chan.

- 149. While Sino-Forest disclosed that another director of Sino-Forest had an interest in the Greenheart Transaction in its AIFs for 2008, 2009 and 2010, it did not disclose that Chan benefitted directly or indirectly from the Greenheart Transaction through Fortune Universe and Montsford. Chan certified the AIFs for 2008, 2009 and 2010.
- 150. Chan knew that he was engaging in deceitful or dishonest conduct in relation to the Greenheart Transaction and knew that he was making deceitful or dishonest statements to Investors in Sino-Forest's continuous disclosure.
- 151. Chan placed the pecuniary interests of Investors at risk and committed fraud, contrary to subsection 126.1(b) of the Act and made materially misleading statements contrary to subsection 122(1)(b) of the Act. This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.
- 152. Through Chan, Sino-Forest made materially misleading statements contrary to subsection 122(1)(b) of the Act. This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.
- 153. Given his position as Chairman of the Board and CEO of Sino-Forest, Chan, authorized, permitted or acquiesced in Sino-Forest's making of materially misleading statements and thereby committed an offence under subsection 122(3) of the Act. This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.
- 154. As Chairman of the Board and CEO of Sino-Forest, Chan authorized, permitted or acquiesced in Sino-Forest's commission of fraud and therefore is deemed under section 129.2 of the Act to have not complied with Ontario securities law. This conduct was also contrary to the public interest.

PART VII. CHAN, IP, HUNG, HO AND YEUNG MATERIALLY MISLED STAFF

A. Chan Materially Misled Staff

155. During his examination by Staff, Chan made statements that, in a material respect and at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, were misleading or untrue or did not state a fact that was required to be stated or that was necessary to make the statements not misleading, contrary to subsection 122(1)(a) of the Act and the public interest.

156. Chan was asked whether Sino-Forest had any control over certain Suppliers or whether these Suppliers were independent. Chan misled Staff, responding that they were independent companies. Chan repeatedly confirmed that Yuda Wood was an independent company and that it was not controlled by any employee of Sino-Forest. This information was false and misleading.

B. Ip Materially Misled Staff

- 157. During his examination by Staff, Ip made statements that, in a material respect and at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, were misleading or untrue or did not state a fact that was required to be stated or that was necessary to make the statements not misleading, contrary to subsection 122(1)(a) of the Act and the public interest.
- 158. Ip misled Staff regarding the creation of Confirmations by Sino-Forest. Ip falsely informed Staff as to nature of the interaction between the PRC forestry bureaus and Sino-Forest personnel surrounding the issuance of the Confirmations. Ip also misled Staff about the timing of purported payments made by Sino-Forest to Suppliers. Ip stated that payments were only made once the Purchase Contracts were signed. This information was false and misleading.

C. Hung Materially Misled Staff

- 159. During his examination by Staff, Hung made statements that, in a material respect and at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, were misleading or untrue or did not state a fact that was required to be stated or that was necessary to make the statements not misleading, contrary to subsection 122(1)(a) of the Act and the public interest.
- 160. Hung falsely described the creation of the Purchase Contracts, Sales Contracts and their attachments, including Confirmations, to Staff. Hung informed Staff that he confirmed the accuracy of all the information in the Purchase Contracts. Hung also stated that he ensured that the attachments to the Purchase Contracts, including Confirmations and Survey Reports, would be "in place". This information was false and misleading.

161. Hung also misled Staff as to the timing of alleged payments made pursuant to the Purchase Contracts.

D. Ho Materially Misled Staff

- 162. During his examination by Staff, Ho made statements that, in a material respect and at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, were misleading or untrue or did not state a fact that was required to be stated or that was necessary to make the statements not misleading, contrary to subsection 122(1)(a) of the Act and the public interest.
- 163. Ho was specifically asked about what role he took "in the whole BVI process." Ho replied, "None whatsoever", further stating, "No, I'm not at all involved in the BVI whatsoever." This information was false and misleading.
- 164. Ho also denied that he was copied on any emails or communications involving the BVI Model. This information was false and misleading.
- 165. Ho also asserted that Yuda Wood was independent of Sino-Forest and that he had no control over any aspect of its business. This information was false and misleading.

E. Yeung Materially Misled Staff

166. During his examination by Staff, Yeung made statements that, in a material respect and at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, were misleading or untrue or did not state a fact that was required to be stated or that was necessary to make the statements not misleading, contrary to subsection 122(1)(a) of the Act and the public interest.

167. Yeung was specifically asked about his involvement in the creation of Yuda Wood. Yeung stated that he assisted with the application process as a favour to his friend, Person #1. He denied that Sino-Forest supplied the registration capital for Yuda Wood. Yeung also denied any knowledge of Sino-Forest creating fraudulent transactions involving the purchase and sale of Standing Timber. This information was false and misleading.

168. Staff reserve the right to make such other allegations as Staff may advise and the Commission may permit.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.5, AS AMENDED

- AND -

IN THE MATTER OF ERNST & YOUNG LLP

STATEMENT OF ALLEGATIONS

Further to a Notice of Hearing dated December 3, 2012, Staff of the Ontario Securities Commission ("Staff") make the following allegations:

Overview

- 1. Ernst & Young LLP ("Ernst & Young") were the auditors of Sino-Forest Corporation ("Sino-Forest") between August 2007 and April 2012. During that time, they audited the annual consolidated financial statements of Sino-Forest and represented to its shareholders that they had performed their audits in accordance with relevant industry standards. Shareholders invested significant sums in Sino-Forest in reliance on these financial statements.
- 2. Ernst & Young, however, failed to conduct their audits in accordance with relevant industry standards. In particular, as outlined further below, Ernst & Young:
  - (a) failed to perform sufficient audit work to verify Sino-Forest's ownership of its most significant assets;
  - (b) failed to perform sufficient audit work to verify the existence of Sino-Forest's most significant assets; and
  - (c) failed to undertake their audit work on the Sino-Forest engagement with a sufficient level of professional skepticism.

- 3. As the auditors of a publicly traded company, Ernst & Young were required to conduct their audits of Sino-Forest's financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards ("GAAS"). Each of Ernst & Young's failures to comply with GAAS in the course of its audits of these financial statements constitutes a breach of section 78 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S-5, as amended (the "Securities Act").
- 4. In addition, Sino-Forest filed a number of documents with the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") which contained Ernst & Young's representation that they had conducted their audits in accordance with GAAS. Each of these filings constitutes a breach of section 122 of the Securities Act by Ernst & Young.

Background

- 5. Sino-Forest is a reporting issuer in the province of Ontario as that term is defined in subsection 1(1) of the Securities Act. Sino-Forest represented that it engaged primarily in the purchase and sale of timber located in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC"). Until May 9, 2012, the common shares of Sino-Forest were listed and posted for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange.
- 6. Ernst & Young is a firm of chartered accountants with a head office located in Toronto, Ontario. It has offices located across Canada, and it is a member firm of Ernst & Young Global Limited, a global accounting organization.
- 7. Ernst & Young was appointed as the auditor of Sino-Forest on August 16, 2007. Ernst & Young audited the consolidated financial statements of Sino-Forest as at and for its fiscal years ended December 31, 2007, December 31, 2008, December 31, 2009 and December 31, 2010 (respectively, the "2007 Financial Statements", the "2008 Financial Statements", the "2009 Financial Statements" and the "2010 Financial Statements" and collectively the "Material Financial Statements").

- 8. Between February 2003 and October 2010, Sino-Forest raised approximately US $3.0 billion through the issuance of equity and debt securities to investors. From 2008 onwards, investors relied on the Material Financial Statements in making the decision to purchase Sino-Forest's shares and debt securities in both the primary and secondary markets.
- 9. Between June 30, 2006 and March 31, 2011, Sino-Forest's share price increased from CDN $5.75 to CDN $25.30, an increase of 340%. By March 31, 2011 Sino-Forest's market capitalization was well over CDN $6.0 billion.
- 10. On June 2, 2011, the share price of Sino-Forest plummeted after a private analyst made public allegations of fraud against Sino-Forest. On the same day, the Board of Directors of Sino-Forest established an Independent Committee (the "IC") "to independently examine and review the serious and wide-ranging allegations" made in the analyst's report.
- 11. The IC identified a number of areas of Sino-Forest's business for investigation, including its ownership of trees and the existence of those trees. The IC prepared and released three reports concerning its findings, dated August 10, 2011, November 13, 2011 and January 31, 2012 (the "IC Reports").
- 12. In the IC Reports, the IC presented its findings regarding the issues of tree ownership and tree existence. The IC Reports concluded that there was uncertainty surrounding the legal certainty of Sino-Forest's claims to a significant proportion of its reported timber assets. In addition, the IC Reports noted significant obstacles to verifying the actual existence of the reported timber assets, including an inability to identify the precise location of the trees which had purportedly been purchased by Sino-Forest.

- 13. On November 15, 2011, Sino-Forest announced that it would defer the release of its interim filings for the third quarter of 2011. Sino-Forest has not filed these interim filings with the Commission.
- 14. On January 10, 2012, Sino-Forest took the unusual step of issuing a press release cautioning that its historic financial statements and related audit reports should not be relied upon.
- 15. Sino-Forest was required to file its consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2011 (the "2011 Financial Statements") with the Commission by March 30, 2012. On that day, Sino-Forest initiated proceedings in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice requesting protection from its creditors. Sino-Forest has not filed the 2011 Financial Statements with the Commission.
- 16. On April 4, 2012, Ernst & Young resigned as the auditor of Sino-Forest. In the Change of Auditor Notice dated April 13, 2012, Sino-Forest repeated the caution that its historic financial statements and related audit reports should not be relied upon. The Change of Auditor Notice did not name a successor auditor.
- 17. On May 22, 2012, Staff issued a Statement of Allegations naming Sino-Forest and six members of its executive management team (the "Sino-Forest SOA"). The Sino-Forest SOA alleged that five of the named members of Sino-Forest's executive management team, including the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer "engaged in a complex fraudulent scheme to inflate the assets and revenue of Sino-Forest and made materially misleading statements in Sino-Forest's public disclosure record related to its primary business".

The Purported Business of Sino-Forest

18. The majority of Sino-Forest's reported business involved the purchase and sale of trees which were categorized on its balance sheet as "Timber Holdings" and commonly referred to as "Standing Timber".

- 19. Standing Timber was purportedly purchased, held and sold by Sino-Forest through two distinct legal structures or models: the British Virgin Islands Model (the "BVI Model") and the Wholly Foreign-Owned Enterprises Model (the "WFOE Model").
- 20. In the BVI Model, Sino-Forest's purported purchases and sales of Standing Timber were conducted using wholly owned subsidiaries of Sino-Forest incorporated in the British Virgin Islands (the "BVI Subsidiaries"). The BVI Subsidiaries purported to enter into written purchase contracts with suppliers located in the PRC (the "Purchase Contracts") and then purported to enter into written sales contracts with customers called "authorized intermediaries" also located in the PRC (the "Sales Contracts").
- 21. In the WFOE Model, Sino-Forest used subsidiaries incorporated in the PRC called Wholly Foreign-Owned Enterprises ("WFOEs") to acquire, cultivate and sell the Standing Timber. The Sino-Forest WFOEs also entered into purchase contracts and sales contracts with other parties in the PRC.
- 22. Sino-Forest purported to conduct the majority of its business through the BVI Model. At December 31, 2010, Sino-Forest reported total Timber Holdings of US $3.1 billion comprising 799,700 hectares. Approximately US $2.5 billion or approximately 80% of the total value of the Timber Holdings were purportedly held in the BVI Model, comprising approximately 467,000 hectares of Standing Timber.

23. Between 2007 and 2010, reported revenue from the BVI Model totalled US $3.35 billion, representing 94% of Sino-Forest's reported Standing Timber revenue and 70% of Sino-Forest's total revenue. The significance of the revenue from the BVI Model is demonstrated in the following table:

|                                 | US $ (millions) |             |             |             |              |

Ernst & Young's Obligations as Auditor

- As a reporting issuer, Sino-Forest was required by section 78(1) of the Securities Act to file its annual consolidated financial statements with the Commission. Sino-Forest filed its 2007 Financial Statements on March 18, 2008, its 2008 Financial Statements on March 16, 2009, its 2009 Financial Statements on March 16, 2010 and its 2010 Financial Statements on March 15, 2011.
- 25. As the auditor of a reporting issuer, Ernst & Young was required by section 3 of National Instrument 52-107 Acceptable Accounting Principles and Auditing Standards, and by sections 78(2) and 78(3) of the Securities Act to audit the Material Financial Statements in accordance with GAAS and to prepare an auditors' report to accompany the financial statements.
- 26. Each of the Material Financial Statements was accompanied by an auditors' report, prepared by Ernst & Young, addressed to the shareholders of Sino-Forest (the "Auditors' Report"). In each Auditors' Report, Ernst & Young represented that it had conducted its audits in accordance with GAAS. The Auditors' Reports relating to the Material Financial Statements were dated March 12, 2008, March 13, 2009, March 15, 2010 and March 14, 2011 and were filed with the Commission along with the Material Financial Statements.

27. In addition, Sino-Forest filed two short form prospectuses with the Commission dated June 1, 2009 and December 10, 2009 (the "Short Form Prospectuses"). The Short Form Prospectuses incorporated by reference the 2008 Financial Statements accompanied by the relevant Auditors' Report. In addition, in letters addressed to and filed with the Commission along with the Short Form Prospectuses (the "Prospectus Consent Letters"), Ernst & Young consented to use of their Auditors' Report by Sino-Forest and further stated that they had "no reason to believe that there are any misrepresentations" contained in the relevant Auditors' Report.

Generally Accepted Auditing Standards

28. As set out in GAAS, an auditor's objective is to identify and assess the risks of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, in an entity's financial statements. An auditor can achieve this objective by understanding the entity and its environment, including the entity's internal controls. This understanding provides the auditor with a basis for designing and implementing responses to the assessed risks.

(a) Sufficient Audit Evidence Required

- 29. GAAS requires auditors to obtain reasonable assurance that the entity's financial statements are free from material misstatements. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance. It is achieved when the auditor has obtained sufficient appropriate audit evidence to reduce audit risk to a low level and to provide a reasonable basis to support the content of the audit report. The sufficiency of the audit evidence gathered by the auditor is influenced by the level of materiality set for the audit and the level of risk associated with the audit.
- 30. The sufficiency and the appropriateness of the audit evidence gathered by the auditor are interrelated. Sufficiency is the measure of the quantity of the audit evidence.

The quantity of the audit evidence needed is affected by the auditor's assessment of the risks of misstatement. That is, the higher the assessed risks, the more audit evidence is likely to be required. The quantity of audit evidence needed is also affected by the quality of the audit evidence. That is, the higher the quality of the audit evidence, the less audit evidence may be required.

31. Obtaining more audit evidence, however, may not compensate for its poor quality. Appropriateness is the measure of the quality of the audit evidence; that is its relevance and its reliability in providing support for the conclusions on which the auditor's opinion is based. The reliability of the audit evidence is influenced by its source and by its nature, and is dependent on the circumstances in which it is obtained.

(b) Professional Skepticism Required

- 32. GAAS requires auditors to plan and perform their audits using professional skepticism, recognizing that circumstances may exist that cause the financial statements to be materially misstated. Professional skepticism requires a questioning attitude which is alert to conditions which may indicate possible misstatement due to error or fraud. Professional skepticism requires an auditor to conduct a critical assessment of the audit evidence.
- 33. Professional skepticism requires the auditor to be alert to, amongst other things:
  - (a) audit evidence that contradicts other audit evidence obtained;
  - (b) information that brings into question the reliability of documents and responses to inquiries;
  - (c) conditions that may indicate possible fraud; and
  - (d) circumstances that suggest the need for additional audit procedures in addition to those required by minimum written professional standards.

Ernst & Young's Failures to Meet Generally Accepted Auditing Standards

- 34. Ernst & Young failed to comply with GAAS by failing to obtain reasonable assurance that the Material Financial Statements were not materially misstated.
- 35. In particular, Ernst & Young failed to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence with respect to the ownership and existence of the Standing Timber that Sino-Forest purported to hold through the BVI Model (the "Purported Assets").
- 36. In addition, Ernst & Young failed to exercise sufficient professional skepticism when conducting the audits of the Material Financial Statements. This contributed to the failure to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence with respect to the ownership and existence of the Purported Assets.

A. Failure to Adequately Address Ownership of Timber

37. The audit procedures performed by, and the audit evidence obtained by Ernst & Young with respect to Sino-Forest's ownership of the Purported Assets, were deficient in a number of respects.

(i) Flawed Purchase Contracts

- 38. One of the audit procedures that Ernst & Young performed relating to the ownership of the Purported Assets was a review of all of the Purchase Contracts entered into by Sino-Forest for each fiscal year that it audited. Ernst & Young understood that all of Sino-Forest's Purchase Contracts had been prepared by Sino-Forest from a common template. The Purchase Contracts, however, had two significant deficiencies.
- 39. To begin, the Purchase Contracts referred to four appendices, titled Stock Volume Report, Resources-Quality Survey Report (the "Survey Report"), Villagers' Letter of Authorization and Decision (the "Villagers' Letters") and Certificate of Forest Proprietorship (the "Certificates").

- 40. The Villagers' Letters authorized the seller to sell the timber rights set out in the Purchase Contract. The Certificates reflected the contents of the official PRC government registers concerning ownership of the rights to the relevant timber. Ernst & Young never obtained either the Villagers' Letters or the Certificates.
- 41. The second deficiency was that the specific location of the Purported Assets was not clearly delineated in either the Purchase Contract or any of its available appendices.
- 42. Both of these deficiencies should have prompted Ernst & Young to make further inquiries of Sino-Forest management and to perform further audit procedures relating to Sino-Forest's ownership of the Purported Assets. In particular, Ernst & Young failed to make further inquiries concerning the two missing appendices, and failed to take steps to understand the process used by Sino-Forest management to precisely identify the location of the Purported Assets.
- 43. In addition, Ernst &Young failed to consider that all of the Survey Reports had been prepared by the same survey firm, even though the areas purportedly surveyed were widely scattered throughout the PRC. This unusual circumstance should have prompted Ernst & Young to perform further procedures regarding the source and reliability of the surveys.

(ii) Flawed Legal Opinion

44. Ernst & Young failed to obtain a sufficient understanding of the legal basis of Sino-Forest's claim to the Purported Assets. During the audit of the 2007 Financial Statements, Ernst & Young asked Sino-Forest to obtain a legal opinion prepared by Jingtian & Gongchen Attorneys at Law ("Jingtian"). Jingtian were Sino-Forest's corporate counsel located in the PRC. Jingtian prepared an opinion dated March 10, 2008 addressed to Sino-Forest (the "Jingtian Opinion") which was provided to Ernst & Young for its review.

- 45. The Jingtian Opinion discussed the legal regime relating to forestry assets located in the PRC and evaluated the nature and status of Sino-Forest's legal claim to ownership of the Purported Assets. Ernst & Young had selected the representative Purchase Contract that was sent to Jingtian for its review in preparing the Jingtian Opinion.
- 46. Ernst & Young failed to appreciate and respond to the limitations of the Jingtian Opinion. In particular:
  - (a) Ernst & Young failed to consider the fact that it had never obtained copies of the Villagers' Letters or the Certificates for any Purchase Contract; and
  - (b) Ernst & Young failed to consider the implications of, or make further inquiries concerning, the disclaimer contained in the Jingtian Opinion that the Villagers' Letters and the Certificates had not been reviewed by Jingtian.
- 47. The Jingtian Opinion did discuss the status of the Certificates in the PRC legal regime. It noted that the PRC forestry authorities were reporting significant delays and backlogs in the production of the new form of these Certificates. The Jingtian Opinion went on to report, however, that back in 2002 the PRC authorities had predicted that such Certificates would become available beginning in approximately 2004. Ernst & Young failed to follow up on this statement and failed to inquire why the new Certificates were not available by the time the Jingtian Opinion was produced in 2008.
- 48. Ernst & Young failed to make further inquiries of Sino-Forest management concerning the absence of both the Villagers' Letters and the Certificates from the Purchase Contracts and failed to perform appropriate additional audit procedures relating to Sino-Forest's ownership of the Purported Assets. In particular, and given that Ernst & Young had reviewed copies of Certificates that had been issued for timber acquisitions made through the WFOE Model, Ernst & Young failed to question the absence of Certificates relating to the Purported Assets and failed to obtain independent audit evidence to support the absence of the Certificates.

49. Further, given that the Jingtian Opinion had described anticipated changes in the PRC's legal regime relating to timber assets, Ernst & Young failed to obtain an updated independent legal opinion for the audits of the 2008, 2009 and 2010 Financial Statements specifically addressing Sino-Forest's ownership of the Purported Assets and the current status of the Certificates in the PRC legal system.

B. Failure to Adequately Address Existence of Timber

- 50. Ernst & Young failed to perform sufficient appropriate audit procedures to verify the existence of the Purported Assets. Ernst & Young recognized that several aspects of Sino-Forest's business resulted in higher inherent risks relating to the existence of the Purported Assets, but they failed to adequately respond to these risks.
- 51. In particular, Sino-Forest did not make direct cash payments for the acquisition of the Purported Assets. Rather, the payments that Sino-Forest should have received from its customers were immediately applied towards the purported purchase of further timber assets. This increased the risks surrounding the audit of the Purchase Contracts as there were no cash transfers that could be traced and verified.

(i) Limited Site Visits

52. Ernst & Young performed only very limited site visits to inspect the Purported Assets, which were represented to be widely scattered throughout the PRC. The audit procedures that Ernst & Young performed in connection with these site visits were both insufficient and inappropriate to respond to the identified risks relating to the existence of the Purported Assets.

(ii) Inappropriate Reliance on Valuations

- 53. Sino-Forest engaged Pöyry Forest Industry Ltd. ("Poyry") to prepare periodic valuations of its Timber Holdings. Ernst & Young inappropriately relied on Poyry's valuation work in obtaining assurance of the existence of the Purported Assets.
- 54. GAAS sets out explicit requirements to be met when an auditor places reliance on work performed by another entity in the course of an audit. Ernst & Young failed to meet these requirements in placing reliance on Poyry's valuation work when assessing the existence of the Purported Assets, as set out below.
- 55. Ernst & Young was not involved in Poyry's process of selecting the plantations to sample, the determination of the location of the sampled plantations or in the counting or measuring of the trees. Ernst & Young did attend with Poyry staff during a small number of Poyry's plantation site visits. During these visits, Ernst & Young staff observed Poyry staff's activities.
- 56. Ernst & Young failed, however, to perform any independent audit procedures to ensure that the plantations visited by Poyry were owned by Sino-Forest or that the location and dimensions of the sites visited corresponded with the extent of the Purported Assets reported by Sino-Forest.
- 57. Further, the valuation reports produced by Poyry contained a clear disclaimer that they should only be relied on by Sino-Forest for its own valuation purposes. Ernst & Young, therefore, placed inappropriate reliance on Poyry's work in its attempt to verify the existence of the Purported Assets.
- 58. Some of these limitations were acknowledged by Ernst & Young staff in the course of performing their audits of the Material Financial Statements but were never adequately addressed. For example, in an e-mail exchange between the members of Ernst & Young's audit team, one auditor posed the question "[h]ow do we know that the trees that Poyry is inspecting (where we attend) are actually trees owned by the company? E.g. could they show us trees anywhere and we would not know the difference?" Another auditor answered "I believe they could show us trees anywhere and we would not know the difference...".

C. Insufficient Skepticism

- 59. Finally, Ernst & Young failed to conduct its audits of the Material Financial Statements with a sufficient level of professional skepticism.
- 60. As outlined above, Ernst & Young failed to adequately respond to a number of unusual facts and findings that came to its attention in the course of conducting the audits of the Material Financial Statements. These facts and findings should have caused Ernst & Young to treat the representations of Sino-Forest management with greater caution and to perform additional audit procedures and to obtain additional evidence from independent sources.

D. Failure to Properly Structure the Audit Team

- 61. The failures outlined above were facilitated by Ernst & Young's failure to properly structure its Sino-Forest engagement team. Many Sino-Forest source documents were produced only in Chinese, including the Purchase Contracts, the Sales Contracts and the Jingtian Opinion. Ernst & Young, however, failed to have these and other key documents translated into English.
- 62. Ernst & Young's audit team comprised both Chinese speaking and non-Chinese speaking staff. Several of the senior partners involved in the audits of the Material Financial Statements, however, were unable to read or speak Chinese.
- 63. Ernst & Young's non-Chinese speaking staff relied on its Chinese speaking staff to provide informal translations of important source documents. As a result, the non-Chinese speaking staff were often not aware that important information was missing from some of Sino-Forest's key documents.

Consequences of Ernst & Young's Failures

64. Ernst & Young's failures to comply with GAAS, as outlined above, led them to overlook or discount significant flaws in Sino-Forest's assertions relating to the ownership and existence of the Purported Assets. The Purported Assets constituted the vast majority of Sino-Forest's assets and produced nearly all of its reported revenue. Ernst & Young's lack of diligence in these areas therefore resulted in significant negative consequences for Sino-Forest's shareholders.

Breaches of Ontario Securities Law

- 65. Each of Ernst & Young's failures to meet GAAS in the course of its audits of each of the Material Financial Statements constitutes a breach of sections 78(2) and 78(3) of the Securities Act.
- 66. Each of Ernst & Young's representations contained in each of the Auditors' Reports, which were repeated in each of the Prospectus Consent Letters, that the audits of the Material Financial Statements had been conducted in accordance with GAAS, constitutes a materially misleading a statement contrary to section 122(1)(b) of the Securities Act.
- 67. In addition, the audit failures of Ernst & Young outlined above were contrary to the public interest.
- 68. Staff reserve the right to make such other allegations as Staff may advise and the Commission may permit.
